Telephone service reaches a milestone in Friona on Saturday morning, when Direct Distance Dialing will go into operation.

This additional service will mean an improvement for long distance service. No waiting for operators. Just pick up the telephone and dial.

We salute General Telephone Company on the addition of this service to Friona. This should put Friona telephone service on a par with many cities a great deal larger than Friona.

Many agricultural leaders are opposed to the appointment of Earl Butz as Secretary of Agriculture. It seems they fear that because of Butz' background, he would appear to favor such things as corporate farming, at the expense of the smaller, "family farm."

It now appears that Butz will have a hard time securing the senate's nomination. Agricultural leaders from both parties have voiced opposition to his appointment.

We realize that it is difficult to secure nominees for any office that will appeal to everyone, but it would seem that someone could be found who would appeal to a broader segment of Agriculture.

Weather is continuing to plague the farmers of the area. Adverse weather has cost Friona area farmers millions of dollars this fall—just how much, it would be hard to tell.

Because of the fickle weather, the grain crop turned out to be disappointing in many instances. Some few individuals made close to their expectation, but many did not.

But the maize came closer to making a crop, at that, than did cotton.

From prospects for a "bumper" crop, cotton, again because of adverse weather, has been severely hurt. Some cotton farmers will not even bother to strip their cotton this year.

However, perhaps because of the Aggie and Red Raider influence, this part of the country has always been known as pretty good "next year" country—and perhaps farmers will be able to recoup their losses another year.

We only hope that the instances of the small farmer having to throw in the towel will be at a minimum.

That would be another case of the "family farm" being threatened. Maybe the money lenders will make allowances for the fact that crops turned out short, and finance these farmers for another year, which surely will give them a better break.

Earlier we mentioned the subject of telephones, and direct dialing. However, an old ad that we ran across shows that in 1904 the public had to be sold on the usefulness of the telephone, just like they did on the early automobiles.

An ad from a 1904 Seattle city directory claimed the following interesting reasons why a phone should be used:

...Makes engagements; invites your friends; friends can call you; does your shopping; reserves theatre tickets; orders your groceries; corrects mistakes; calls the plumber; hastens the delivery of goods; saves letter writing; calls your husband; saves time and steps; runs your errands; calls the doctor; calls the fire department; calls the police.

Ordinarily we would have expected to have fixxed Laverne Mabry, by mentioning his big gain last week in our column. But this didn't bother our football contestant, and he came right back for another good week to win the contest's grand prize.

Our congratulations to Laverne, the other winner, and all who took part in the 1971 contest. It was undoubtedly the closest one we've ever conducted, from start to finish.

The teacher wrote on the blackboard: "I ain't had no fun all summer." Then she asked a youngster in the front row, "Harry, what should I do to correct that?"

"Mebbe—get a boyfriend!" he suggested hopefully.

CONTEST WINNERS. . . Laverne Mabry, standing, center, holds the first place envelope for winning the Friona Star's annual football contest. Jim Johnston, left, was runnerup, and Dean Blackburn was third. The trio did a come-from-behind act to finish ahead of many who had led them during the 12-week event.

JOHNSTON TIES

Laverne Mabry Is Contest Champion

Laverne Mabry and Jim Johnston—two entrants who stayed among the contenders but never at the top—came from behind to claim the top two grand prizes in the Friona Star's football contest, on the contest's last week.

The two contestants tied for the top spot, each with 115 points, with Mabry getting the nod for the Cotton Bowl tickets and the accompanying $30.00 in expense money on the basis of his tie-breaker scores for the season. Johnston claimed the runner-up grand prize of two tickets to the Sun Bowl game plus $25.00 cash.

A three-way tie developed for third place, between Dean Blackburn, Jerry Loflin and Thelma Watkins, all with 114 points. Tie-breaker scores were again consulted, and Blackburn emerged as the third-place winner.

F.G. Crofford, who was at or near the top most of the way, and entered the final week tied with Loflin for first place, had a score of seven for the final week and finished three points off the pace at 112. Both of the top two winners scored a ten for the final week, and both got all three of the Thanksgiving bonus games correct, to overtake the previous leaders.

Mabry did the most gaining. Prior to the contest's final two weeks, he had been 16 names from the top of the list. He had a big week the next-to-last week, however, and went into the last week trailing the leaders by only one point.

A tally of the tie-breaker scores for the top two contestants found that Mabry was 12 points closer to the tie-breakers for the entire season, as he edged out Johnston. The Cotton Bowl winner missed the 12 annual game scores by a combined 227 points, to 239 for Johnston. Among the third-place scramble, Blackburn's tie-breaker aggregate was 21 points; Loflin's was 232 points, and Mrs. Watkins missed by a total of 274 points.

Bill Bailey claimed first place money for the final week of the contest, picking all of the games correctly with the exception of the Canyon-Andrews tie game. Winner of second prize money of $3.00 was Hal Blackburn, who had a score of 12.

Ray D. Fleming, who was second the previous week, won third place on his tie-breaker guess of Hereford 21, Coronado 14. Fleming was one of eight contestants correctly picking 11 games. Others were Charles Waggoner, Mary Pryor, Frank Truitt, Peggy Bryant, Dean Blackburn, Gene Ezell and Cammie Waggoner.

The annual contest is co-sponsored with the Star by 14 Friona firms. They are Ethridge-Spring Insurance Agency, Production Credit Association, Bi-Wize Drug, Friona Motors, Friona Parts and Service, Farmer County Implement Co., Hub Grain-Fleming & Son Gin, Reeve Chevrolet-Olds, West Friona Grain, Friona Farmers Co-op Gin, Ag-Chem Farm Services (Red Barn), Chester Gin, Hi-Pro Feeds and Hi-Plains Feed Yard.

PROJECT KICKED OFF. . . Mrs. H.K. Kendrick displays a poster that indicates that Modern Study Club's annual "Project Christmas Card" is underway. Deadline for joining will be Saturday, December 18. See accompanying story for the goal, etc.

CONDITIONS NOTED

Pheasant Season Here Dec. 11-19

The 1971 pheasant season in Parmer County will be December 11-19, a nine-day period which includes two weekends.

Announcement of the dates of the season was made this week by Jack Patterson, president of Parmer County Game Management Association. The nine-day season in December has been in effect for the past several years in the county.

Patterson commented this week that the pheasant population is again considered good, but that hunting is apt to be harder than usual this year.

Reason for the "harder" hunting is expected to be that the grain sorghum crop was late in being harvested, and only a small percentage of the stalks have been shredded. Thus, there will be much more stubble area for the birds to hide in than in a normal year.

"I think we have a good batch of birds this year, but I expect them to be harder to find than usual, because of the amount of milt stalks still standing," Patterson said.

The limit will be the same as it has been in years past, two cocks per day and four in possession. Heads and feet of the birds must be left with the carcasses. Hens are not legal game.

Pheasant season has become a popular time of the year for hunters. Many out-of-county hunters annually make an appearance to join in the hunt.

Patterson said that details of the tail feather contests in the county haven't yet been worked out, but he expects them to be similar to last year.

Cash prizes of $30.00 were given for the longest tail feathers at Bovins, Farwell and Friona. Three places are paid—$15.00, $10.00 and $5.00 in each community with a plaque then being presented to the overall county winner.

Friona Consumers will again serve as official entry station for the tailfeather contest in Friona.

FIRST SNOW. . . Many Frionans woke up on Wednesday to find the first snow of the season falling. Waleah Beck shows the accumulation on a windshield, which had reached a half-inch by 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Business Sets Auction Sale

Cummings Farm Store, long-time Friona business, will sell out its complete stock and equipment next Tuesday at 10 a.m., according to Doyle Cummings, owner.

Everything is to sell, including the property and buildings, according to Cummings. Complete list of equipment, and description of property is included in advertisements inside this issue.

NEW SERVICE

DDD Ready To Start In Friona Saturday

Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) will go into effect in Friona at 6 a.m. Saturday, December 4. It has been announced by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Friona telephone patrons will thus join those in the large metropolitan centers in being able to dial their own long distance telephone calls, without having to consult the operator.

Direct Distance Dialing, a new concept in long distance service, was pioneered by General Telephone Co. DDD permits the telephone user to dial their own station-to-station long distance calls to points in the continental United States and Canada.

The new convenience will not raise long distance rates from their present levels. In fact, customer-dialed long distance calls are always the lowest long distance rates available—usually costing less than operator-handled calls to the same point.

In order to dial their own long distance calls, patrons dial "1," plus the area code, then the full seven-digit number. If the call is within Friona's area code (806) they dial "1," and then, dial the party's seven-digit number, without dialing the area code.

If a person reaches a wrong number through the use of DDD, they need only dial "0" and report it immediately to the long distance operator, and they will not be charged with the call.

Patrons can also find numbers in distant cities through the use of DDD. They need only to dial "1," then the area code, if outside this area, then the "Universal Directory Assistance Number," which is 555-1212. There is no charge for calling this number.

Area code maps are included inside the telephone directory for the convenience of telephone patrons.

Instruction cards have been mailed this week to all those on the General System.

The conversion of Friona telephones to DDD will make the service available to all telephone users in the immediate Friona area.

Chamber Offers $125 In Lighting Contest

The Friona Chamber of Commerce this week announced its annual Christmas Lighting Contest, with three cash prizes totaling $125.00.

The contest will be open to all residents of the Friona trade territory, and will not be limited to city residents, states Ralph Shirley, Chamber president.

First prize in the contest will be $60.00 cash. Second prize will be $40.00, and third prize will be $25.00.

All entries must be ready by

Santa Claus Sets Two Friona Dates

Ralph Shirley, Friona Chamber of Commerce president, announced this week that arrangements have been made to have Santa Claus appear in Friona during two Saturdays in December.

Old Saint Nick will take time out of his busy schedule for a visit here on December 11 and 18.

Santa will mingle in local stores both afternoons, between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m. He will take time to visit with all of the small fry, and get their wishes for Christmas. He also will be provided with a bag of candy by the Chamber of Commerce, to distribute to his young friends.

Local mothers are asked to circle the above dates, and remember to bring their children to town to see Santa. It will not be necessary for them to take their children out of town to see Santa Claus, as has been the case a time or two in recent years.

Santa Claus is a pretty busy person, especially this time of year, and the local Chamber of Commerce is to be commended upon being able to bring him to Friona during the busy month of December.

Project Xmas Card Again Has Objective

Modern Study Club of Friona this week kicked off its annual "Project Christmas Card," and for the second straight year, has adopted an objective to work toward in the drive.

The club was made aware of the need for a new heating and air conditioning unit for the operating, emergency and delivery rooms at the hospital, and has adopted this as the project's goal for the 1971 drive.

Mrs. H.K. Kendrick, chairman of the project, says so far the estimate for replacing the unit is in the neighborhood of $2700 to $2800.

Last year, the club's project raised over $3600 to purchase a "heart monitor" device for the hospital's cardiac ward. "We feel certain that the residents of the Friona area will respond once again, and help us achieve the goal," Mrs. Kendrick said.

Elda Hart, acting administrator of the hospital, said the unit currently in use to heat and cool the operating room has not functioned properly for the past year or two. "It takes one nurse working full time to keep the doctors dried off while they are operating," she said.

It was the hospital's original plan to repair the unit, Miss Hart said, but upon having it checked, the recommendation

December 15, as judging will take place following that date. Those wishing to enter the contest should fill in the entry blank on Page 2 of this issue and mail to the Chamber of Commerce, Box 905. If they wish, residents may call the Chamber office at 247-3491 with their entries.

The Chamber points out that all decorated homes will be considered as entries, but residents are urged to either fill out a form or call the Chamber office in order to make sure their home is entered. This is particularly important for rural residents, or those on the fringe of the city, off the beaten path.

This is the third straight year for the Chamber to actively push a local lighting contest. The Chamber of Commerce officials feel that the contest has added to the number and quality of Christmas decorations in past years.

Entries in the contest will be judged on their theme, appearance, and the work involved. These three points will be equal in value as the decorations are judged.

Out of town judges will judge the entries, as they have done in the past.

From Around The Country

The Oregon Motorist magazine asks drivers, should the best tires go on the front or on the rear of your automobile? The magazine then goes on to say: "This question has caused considerable controversy in recent years as experts strive to decide which is truly the better procedure. Now comes the National Bureau of Standards to report that the best tires should be used on the rear wheels. Failure of rear tires is a more important cause of accidents than failure of front tires, says the Bureau after exhaustive tests."

Fresh air is wonderful--it's healthful and invigorating--but in the winter, it can cost you money, warns the American Gas Association. If you open a window to let fresh, but cold, air into your house, be sure that the cold air isn't cooling your thermostat. If it is, the thermostat will automatically tell your furnace that the house is cold, and the furnace will turn itself on. You may find that the rest of your house, which was very comfortably heated before, is now being heated more than you want. The AGA suggests that you "air out your house" one room at a time. That way, you'll enjoy the benefit of fresh air, and you'll also keep a check on fuel costs this winter.

The National Association of Manufacturers reports public education is big business. It employs close to three million people, and nearly one fourth of the population currently is enrolled in the public education system. Its 1969 budget of more than $68 billion is a 1000 percent increase over that of 1947. The gross national product increased only 400 percent in this same period.

Pause and Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

Our Constitution and Bill of Rights are so plainly written as to make one wonder at the great controversy as to their exact meaning.

Amendment 1--declared to be in force December 15, 1791--"Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of a religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

The opening phrase--"no law etc."--is the basis of our policy of the separation of church and state, a fundamental belief that is accepted without argument.

How about the second phrase? "Prohibiting the free exercise thereof?" Does not the existence of a governmental mandate or decree denying public prayer to groups of citizens constitute an "abridgement of freedom?"

It's a big problem as we face subjugation by Godless adversaries.

The destruction of spiritual values is another part of the overall plot to destroy personal dignity.

In the early days of our nation we had some experience with a combined church and state, the results of which were largely responsible for the addition of the first amendment.

The early settlers on the Atlantic coast were for the most part members of the established Church of England but as early as 1755 a petition was filed with the court in Chesterfield County, Virginia, for the organization of a Presbyterian Church. At that time there were no Baptist or Methodist churches in the county although they had been licensed in other parts of the colony.

Those favoring these new doctrines were called "dissenters" and anyone preaching or teaching these contrary faiths must obtain a permit from the authorities.

Years of turmoil followed in the wake of a people speaking out for what they considered a "right of freedom."

Several preachers were imprisoned at Chesterfield's old rock jail and these "realers" spoke through the barred windows to the faithful gathered on the court house grounds; however the government caused a high board fence to be built around the jail to discourage the meetings.

The degree of severity shown toward the orthodox form of worship is demonstrated by the trial of a full-fledged minister of the established church.

The Rev. Archibald McRoberts was brought into court for having used "divers hymns and poems" that were not taken from the Psalms of David.

One cannot help but wonder what the verdict would have been had Madeline Murray O'Hair been brought before that tribunal?

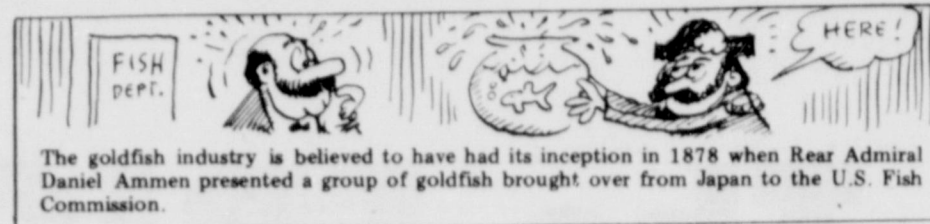

We must remind our legislators that the Constitution requires that the Church be separated from the State--not abandoned by the federal government!

Salem Baptist Church--near place where the ministers were jailed. Est. 1797 services held continuously to this day.

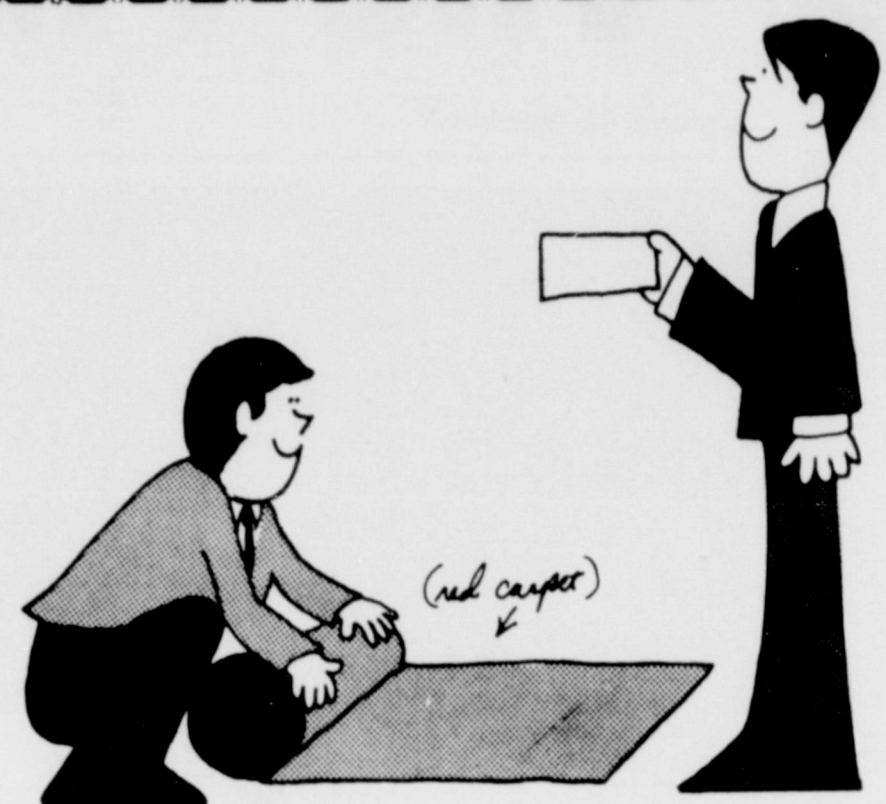

Monument--The Prairie Prowler of 31 years ago at the monument honoring the Baptist preachers imprisoned at Chesterfield, Virginia.

The goldfish industry is believed to have had its inception in 1878 when Rear Admiral Daniel Ammen presented a group of goldfish brought over from Japan to the U.S. Fish Commission.

Cranberries Make Meal

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Tart-sweet flavor and a bright red color make cranberries an excellent choice for homemade Christmas gifts. Relishes always are appreciated and cranberries go well in Spiced Cranberry Conserve, Cranberry Chutney or Cranberry Date Relish. Put aside a few jars for the family when preparing a batch of holiday food gifts.

SPICED CRANBERRY CONSERVE
2 cups fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
1/2 cup sugar
4 dried figs, coarsely chopped
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 stick cinnamon
1 can (8 ounces) pineapple tidbits
1-3 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Combine cranberries, sugar, figs, dates, cloves, cinnamon, pineapple and water in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and cook, stirring frequently, for 10 to 12 minutes. Add lemon juice and remove cinnamon stick. Spoon into hot sterilized jars. Seal at once. Makes 3 cups.

CRANBERRY CHUTNEY
2 cups fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1/2 cup tarragon or cider vinegar
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped dried mixed fruit.
Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer, stirring frequently, for 10 minutes. Cool and chill. Or, spoon while hot into sterilized jars and seal. Makes about 3 cups.

CRANBERRY DATE RELISH
1 lemon
4 cups (1 pound) fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
1 cup pitted dates
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Cut lemon into lengthwise wedges and remove seeds. Put cranberries, lemon and dates through food chopper, using medium blade. Blend in sugar and salt. Chill 1 hour or longer before serving. Makes about 4 cups.

Donations may be left at Friona State Bank. Residents of the area sometimes donate to the fund, and have their names listed on the giant greeting, rather than mailing individual cards to their friends.

Cicero, a century or so before Christ, said: "Some common mistakes made by humans seem to be: 1) the delusion that your own advancement is made by belittling others; 2) worrying over things cannot be changed; 3) insisting something is impossible because YOU cannot do it; 4) expecting wisdom of maturity in youth; 5) Neglecting the refinement and development of the mind; 6) attempting to compel others to believe just as you do. How many of these still apply?"

THE CENTER OF THEIR UNIVERSE

Brick by brick, peoples of many lands are building themselves new lives with their own hands.

This social center in Brazil, for instance, is nearing completion under the guidance of a lady architect, shown here as she takes time to explain construction features to some of the youngsters who will benefit from the project.

Sponsored by Catholic Relief Services, such centers are spreading throughout 70 underdeveloped countries. A focus of community life, they provide space for sewing classes and act as distribution points for gift food and clothing.

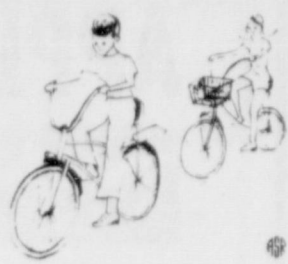

The clothing contributions come from Americans who participate each year in Catholic Relief Services' Thanksgiving campaign by taking usable surplus wearing apparel and bedding to their nearest Catholic church. This year's 23rd annual drive will

Health Hints

FROM BLUE SHIELD

Bike Riding

While bike riding this summer, follow these simple safety precautions: observe all traffic regulations, keep to the right and ride single file, have a headlight on front and a danger light on the rear of your bicycle, wear light-colored clothing at night, have a bell or a horn, give pedestrians the right of way, use proper hand signals, slow down at intersections, and never carry other riders.

Summer Sports

If you're an inactive adult, don't bypass some preparation before participating in summer sports. To safeguard your health, avoid eating for about two hours before you workout. Alcohol will blunt your reflexes, make you more accident-prone and tempt you to try what you're not up to. A proper warmup is essential. Remember, it takes four to seven sessions with a sport before your body can take the extra heat generated by the game and the sun. Start gradually, and you'll accomplish much more.

Hay Fever

Hay fever, an allergic reaction to some ordinarily harmless substance in the air, affects more than 10 million Americans. Sniffing, sneezing, running eyes and breathing problems are caused by an allergic sensitivity to ragweed pollens which become airborne during the summer months when pollination is occurring. Your physician can often identify the cause of your discomfort and provide you with temporary relief. Since approximately one-third of untreated hay fever cases develop into asthma, physicians warn against doctoring yourself with non-prescription remedies.

Business & Professional Review

Emma Lou Stewart Allen Stewart

JEWELRY STORE
Growth Of Allen's On Parallel With Friona

Allen's Jewelry opened its doors in Friona in May of 1948. At that time, Friona was a small (about 1,000 population) town, with hardly any pavement except for Main Street and Highway 60. There were very few street lights, and no modern sewer system such as the town has today.

The business, owned and operated by Allen Stewart and his wife Emma Lou, has grown right along with Friona.

At the time Stewart opened his business here, he owned just one show-case, without any light ("I couldn't afford it"), his watchmaker's desk and equipment.

Two years later, the company moved to somewhat more spacious quarters in the then new Friona State Bank building at Sixth and Main. Stewart occupied the office currently housing the Friona Chamber of Commerce. At that time, it was a 17x60-foot space. It had been built specifically for the jewelry store.

With the additional space, the Stewarts began building their merchandise line, and installed their bridal service, which has served countless brides in the Friona area in the 21 years it has operated.

Outgrowing that location, Stewart in 1958 built his own building, at the jewelry store's present location, at 609 Main Street.

Stewart was born in Childress. He moved with his family to a farm in the Big Square Community east of Lathuille in 1930. As a young man, he assisted his father in farming.

"I probably did some irrigating earlier than most of the farmers in the Friona area," Stewart says.

With the outbreak of World War II, Stewart went into the Army, where he saw duty in the anti-aircraft section, and later in the infantry.

Stewart saw action in the European battles, and had a narrow escape in a mission in which some 40 members of his group were killed. Stewart and a handful of others were cut off from their group for five days in bitter cold weather. As a result, his feet froze, and Stewart thought at the time he might lose both feet.

Following eight months of hospitalization, Stewart received a medical discharge in 1945. He was married on June 1 of that year, to Emma Lou Smith in Hereford. Later that year, Stewart entered watchmaking school, and set out on his career.

Stewart has a Graduate of Gemology degree from the Gemological Institute of America. He is now the oldest graduate gemologist in the Panhandle area.

The jewelry store owner worked as a watchmaker for a jeweler in Hereford for a year before he moved to Friona.

The Stewarts have seen several changes in their business in the 23 years it has been in operation.

For one thing, stainless steel flatware has almost taken over the place formerly held by silver. This is due, they point out, to the modern and ornate designs that stainless patterns now have.

"When stainless first came on the market, it had no design at all. These new patterns are a far cry from those earlier ones," says Mrs. Stewart.

Other new products also have come on the market, such as Corning Ware, which is guaranteed against breakage.

Some stones, such as pearls, rise and fall in popularity. They will hit a period when they are "in," and then after a time, their popularity may fall off just as suddenly as it rose.

"Ear clips were popular in the early 1950s. Today, pierced ears are in style," says Mrs. Stewart, pointing out another change in styles.

In connection with the store's bridal service, the Stewarts point out that the biggest change here is that this has become more of a year-around business, rather than seasonal. Formerly, everyone wanted to be married in June. Not so these days.

The Stewarts still carry at least one line that they inaugurated with the beginning of their merchandising. This is Fostoria crystal.

Some of the store's original lines are no longer being manufactured, another indication of the changing of styles. These include Cambridge crystal and Syracuse china.

Another facet of the business is the engraving work done by Mrs. Stewart, on items ranging from charms, I.D. bracelets, and silver trays to plaques. The company has a sizeable investment in the engraving equipment.

Stewart has been an avid supporter and member of the Friona Chamber of Commerce since he has been in business here. He always takes part in retail promotion.

The Stewarts have two children, Robert A. Stewart, who will complete his degree requirements at West Texas State University next August, and Margie Stowers. They also have a grand-daughter, Donna Lou, who belongs to Robert.

The annual Friona Invitation- al Tournament begins Thurs- day, with eight teams in both a boys and girls division.

Three titles will be offered in each division of the tourna- ment, with a champion, consol- ation, and third place winner in each tournament.

Both boys and girls' teams are entered from Springlake, Covina, Farwell, Hale Center, Spearman and Friona. In ad- dition, both teams from Naza- reth and Morton complete the bracket, with girls teams from Dimmitt and Tulla.

In the first round, Friona's girls host Springlake, in a 7 p.m. game Thursday. This game will be followed by the Friona-Nazareth boys tilt, at 8:30 Thursday.

Eight games are on tap both Thursday and Friday. The Squaws will meet either the winner or loser between Bovina and Nazareth in their second game. The Chiefs will face either Spearman or Springlake. The complete tournament bracket is presented elsewhere in this issue.

The Spearman girls, who have been in the state finals in class AA for several years, are ex- pected to once again be the fa- vored team in the girls' divi- sion. Morton and Spearman are expected to be the strongest teams in the boys' division. Also strong are the Farwell and Hale Center boys.

A copy of the complete tourna- ment bracket, for both boys and girls, is printed on Page 9 of this issue.

Toymaker's Tips For Parents

Christmas Shopping With The Experts

Shopping for Christmas toys may seem almost as much of a problem today as buying a new family automobile.

Thanks to the ingenuity of the toy industry, Dad and Mom now can choose from literally thousands of different toys, priced from a fraction of a dollar to ten or more times that amount. But when they start on their annual Santa Claus expedition, they needn't be confused by the tremendous variety on toy department shelves, says Gordon E. Batdorf, father of five children who range in age from 5 to 18.

Gordon Batdorf has unique qualifications for guiding parents on their annual big tour through the toy stores. Besides being an experienced father, he is president of Tonka Toys, a leading manufacturer whose steel toy trucks and construction vehicles are known to a generation of Americans.

What does he look for when he's shopping for Christmas? —

- Try to match the toy to the child's physical and mental development. Preschool girls and boys can be thrilled with the same playthings, whether they're dolls or dump trucks. Older children require toys tailored to their age and sex. Even if it's fun for the parents to participate, don't buy a toy that the child can't fully enjoy without grown-up help.

- Make sure you understand how a toy — or game — works. If it needs batteries, have a supply of fresh ones. If it's a game, study the rules in advance. There's nothing more frustrating for youngsters than a Christmas present they can't immediately enjoy.

- For younger children — under ten — try to select toys they have to work with. These should challenge their interest and participation, not toys that work automatically while they watch. Just as in grown-up life, it's better to play and participate than simply sit in the stands and look on.

- Good design and construction are important, not only because they guarantee the parent's money is well spent but because they help teach the child the value of fine workmanship. Inspect the quality of the materials used if you want to be sure the toy will outlive Christmas day. High-grade materials, well finished and accurately assembled mean your toy investment is good for years rather than days.

- Safety is always a prime consideration. While the American toy industry has made great strides in guaranteeing the safety of the young toy user, we have many imported toys on the market. Always check a toy for dangerously sharp edges or points. If a toy uses electricity, make sure it has the "underwriter-approved" label.

- When even one special toy for each child seems to stretch the Christmas budget, you can round out your Christmas giving with inexpensive but fun-filled packages. Understandably, more expensive toys get much advertising space, but any good toy department will have a selection of good quality toys for boys and girls at reasonable prices.

- Your safest choice in toys for all but the very youngest are things that enable the child to imitate the grown-up world of his parents. By the same token, these are often the most educational because they incorporate exercise in physical dexterity, as well as imaginative play.

- And as a last caution, buy toys with appeal for the children, not for yourself. The toy that intrigues an adult is often likely to bore a child.

RED DAMASK

To provide a colorful entry way for your Christmas entertaining, why not try a brilliant red damask wallcovering? The United Wallpaper Company suggest a new vinyl-coated paper will transform the duller foyer and will be as practical as it is beautiful since it is completely washable.

How To Simplify Christmas Shopping

One way to simplify Christmas shopping is to buy items — in different styles, sizes, and colors — appropriate for everyone on your shopping list.

Sleepwear, for example, is a gift that will please any member of the family.

Give mother and daughter — or big and little sister — a matched set of pajamas or sleep culottes in soft and comfortable cotton.

A bright idea for teen-agers or younger girls is a pajama set plus. Along with colorful p.j.'s, the set has a matching sleeping bag and pillow packed in a carry-all tote that makes it ideal for slumber parties. And for the very young, there's even a doll dressed in identical culottes.

A style practical for young boys and girls from three to eight are cotton knit pajamas that eliminate the need for bedroom slippers. Feet with vinyl soles and toe caps are knitted into the pajamas. The styles come in a cheerful array of bright colors and appealing appliques. Also new in children's sleepwear are cotton flannel pajamas and gowns with a flame-retardant finish. The built-in safety measure is a non-toxic finish that's said to be effective for up to 50 washings.

Ski-style pajamas in cotton knit are favorites for teen-age boys and their dads.

For any man or boy, classic button-down models in smooth cotton broadcloths or warm flannellets are safe buys if you're in doubt about style preferences.

And for hardy souls who go for knee-length nightshirts, you'll find bright cotton knits decked out in bold blazer stripes that are as classy as any cat's pajamas.

Sincerely Yours

By Rev. Albert Lindley

Well, we got through the "Thanksgiving" week very well, possibly a little more pounce than we would like but still and all, we made it.

You do remember that we are going to maintain the thanks-giving spirit as a stable factor all year round, tho, don't you?

We had a very fine time out for the Annual Community Thanksgiving service at the First Baptist Church last week and I would like to repeat a statement that was made that night by one of our "yours" truly. "We have such a good fellowship with our community worship service, it's a shame that we only do it once a year." Wasn't that profound? I do think we will be hearing more about this and would surely welcome any suggestion that you might have.

Now we are setting our sail for Christmas. . . . Possibly you have already started thinking about Uncle Charlie and Cousin Mary and I do hope you won't forget the great opportunity of making a donation to the Hospital Fund in lieu of Christmas cards sent locally this year. That is a great way to upgrade the facilities that are so needed in the community.

You know, of course, that this past Sunday was the 1st Sunday in Advent and we are now making our all-out preparations for Christmas.

With the spirit of preparation, Advent seeks to keep ever before us the necessity of spiritual preparation as well as any other "Xmas" list before Christmas.

Our City Boys are getting up our Christmas street lights and we are already noticing the benevolent spirit that just seems to surround us at this very special time. Have you ever wondered just why that is true?

I like the little story I used the other day but you may have missed it. Dr. David A. MacLennan told it first: "Not long ago while standing on the street gazing into a store window that had a display of the manger scene, a young girl came up to the window and her eyes began to dance with delight as she examined every minute detail of the Creche.

"Those are the wise men, you know and that's one of their camels outside the door. Look at the sleepy donkey and that sweet little lamb. Those are the Shepherds. And the mother, Mary isn't her blue cloak lovely? And Joseph—he looks like a carpenter, doesn't he? And look at the dear baby Jesus. Isn't he sweet and chubby?"

Dr. MacLennan, not wishing to appear woefully ignorant, added his word, "Yes, and there's the star, too, up there above the roof. Do you suppose the starlight shines into the stable?"

"Of course it does," replied his little Christmas guide, pointing to holes in the roof. "That's why it's so lovely and bright inside. You can't see how the light comes in unless you get down and look up." . . .

And I think that is the whole issue, right there. "You can't see how it is unless you kneel down and look up."

No wonder Christmas is such a lovely time of year with stories like that being told. I honestly believe that it all pulls together and everything adds to the whole and "Peace, good will to all," becomes more of a reality than at any other time.

In your wildest imagination have you ever just wondered what it would all be like if we spent the whole year with the same attitude we engender for these few weeks? Think it over! Simply fantastic!

I don't really suppose I have a great deal to leave with you for this week—except I do hope that you are making your pilgrimage toward Christmas, a spiritual affair. After all that is what Christmas is all about. . . .

Parents Reminded Of Immunization Rules

Superintendent of Schools Alton Farr this week reminded parents of school-age children of the new vaccination requirements for children that must have been instigated by January 1, 1972, and all completed as soon as medically feasible.

"Many of the children—especially the older ones—have not turned in forms indicating they have complied with the new provision," Farr stated. He urged those who had not secured the additional shots to do so soon, "so as not to have sore arms at Christmas."

Under the Texas immunization laws for students, current vaccinations are required for polio, Diphtheria, tetanus, measles and Rubella.

Letters are being sent to all parents, explaining the requirements. Parents having questions about the new requirements are invited to call either their doctor, or the superintendent's office.

PERENNIAL POSIES—A cheerful gift that gives year 'round pleasure is a bouquet of multi-colored flowers made from cotton calicoes, ginghams, and solids. Fabric petals are formed from two layers of fabric glued together with household cement for added stiffness. Buds are squares of fabric gathered over a loop of florist's wire.

Posies From Fabrics

For perennial posies that bloom all year long, try your hand at making flowers from colorful cotton fabrics.

One of the simplest designs is a tulip. For a striking effect, use striped black and white pique for the outer petals and solid white pique for the inside.

To form the basic seven-petaled flower, start by cutting a 5x10-inch rectangle from each fabric. These are to be glued together—print side out—with household cement.

However, to make the petals flexible, place strips of florist's wire—allowing one strip for each petal—between the fabric layers at 1 1/2-inch intervals before gluing. Make the wire strips about seven inches long so they will overhang the rectangle and can be used to attach the flower to the stem.

Next glue the 5-inch sides of the rectangle together to form a cylinder. Then snip out petal shapes, cutting so that each wire strip is in the center of a petal.

Make flower centers from cotton ball fringe pompons and fabric-covered wires twisted in curlieue shapes to resemble tulip stamens.

Tape the completed center to a stem made from heavy florist's wire or a coathanger and insert through the petal-shaped cylinder. Then twist wires at bottom of cylinder gathering fabric around the stem. Wrap the entire stem with florist's tape.

Cold Weather Pick-Me-Up

When the weather starts turning cold again, it's time to prepare chill-chasing hot drinks for the entire family. If you are one of the many busy homemakers whose active community life often keeps you away from your home when the children return from school, here's a suggestion that will make sure they get something warming and nourishing. Prepare a thermos with a hearty hot drink and some tasty sandwiches kept fresh in plastic bags, and leave them on the kitchen table with a note. For both taste and convenience, make the hot drink old-fashioned beef broth prepared from real beef concentrate. It is rich and hearty, and just hits the spot for everyone, young and old.

Old-fashioned beef broth is quick and easy to make. Just take 3/4 teaspoon of Bovril real beef concentrate right from the jar and stir into a cup of hot water. Presto, a natural flavor pick-me-up. And, a great change of pace from the usual hot cocoa, tea or coffee. If you're filling a quart thermos, you will need three teaspoons of Bovril and four cups of hot water.

When you prepare the sandwiches, don't put away the Bovril. Here's another suggestion: Butter the bread, then spread it with Bovril beef concentrate, add a slice or two of American or Swiss cheese. Makes a plain sandwich a gourmet treat.

And, if yours is an outdoor sports family — players or spectators — be sure to pack a thermos of hot Bovril beef broth to take with them. Their team may not always win, but you can be sure that they will come home in good spirits and in good health.

Hints to help tree buying go better

Christmas trees will soon be on the market, and you will want to make your selection wisely.

A few simple procedures can assure you of selecting and keeping that perfect tree this season, says Bill Smith, Extension forester at Texas A&M University.

First determine where the tree is to be displayed in your home. With this in mind you will be able to determine the most suitable size and shape. Trees generally appear smaller than they really are. Buying the tree early will enable you to be selective in your choice of a fresh tree. Smith suggests checking for signs of needle shedding and brittleness to indicate excessive drying.

Tree limbs should be strong enough to hold ornaments and strings of electric lights. The tree should have a strong fragrance and good green color for the species.

Texas imports over three million trees annually with some coming from as far away as western Canada, points out

Smith. The most popular trees in Texas are the Scotch pine and the Douglas fir. Trees are stored in boxcars and undergo extreme temperature changes during their journey southward. "Those undergoing warm temperatures for a period of several weeks may already have dried out by the time they're on Texas markets," says Smith.

Once you purchase your tree, store it outdoors in the shade until you are ready to use it. Spray it frequently with water. When moving the tree indoors, cut the butt end at a diagonal about one inch from the bottom and place it in water. This opens the tree's pores and aids in the absorption of water. Keep the butt end of the tree in water during the entire time it is in the home, advises Smith.

For aid in selecting your Christmas tree, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has prepared a pamphlet, "How To Buy A Christmas Tree," G-187. For a free copy write the Office of Information, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Wheat Producers Set Meeting December 9

"Strengthening Wheat Producers Income" is the theme chosen for the 21st Annual Meeting of the Texas Wheat Producers Association Thursday, December 9, according to Leo Witkowski, association president of Hereford. The one-day session will be held in Amarillo at the Holiday Inn West with attendance expected from throughout the wheat producing areas of the state. The speakers roster resembles a "Who's Who" in national wheat leadership, with participants coming from Washington state to Washington, D.C., and from South Dakota to Texas.

After a 9:00 a.m. registration, a film, "Go Power" the story of wheat production, marketing and utilization will be shown at 9:45. The Morning Chairman, is Dwight Hamilton, TWPA Vice President of Olney. "Managing Resources on the Farm" for more producers income will be discussed by Ed Garnett, Texas A&M Extension Farm Management Specialist.

"Administration of Government Programs" for more producers income is the topic to be presented by Claude B. Freeman, Acting Director, Grain Division, ASCS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.

Dean Parsons, a Wall, South Dakota wheat producer who just returned from a wheat market expansion search in several Asian countries will discuss the potential for strengthening wheat producer income through "Foreign Market Expansion". Parsons is serving the first of a two year term as President of Great Plains Wheat, Inc., which is the foreign market development arm of wheat producers nationally and is supported through state wheat commissions.

Joe Halow, Executive Vice-President of GPW, headquartered in Washington, D.C. will assist Parsons in the foreign marketing discussion. Halow, earlier this month was a member of a five-man U.S. mission to study the potential for future wheat, corn, milo, soybean sales to Eastern European countries.

C.L. Edwards, Secretary-Treasurer of TWP will chair the afternoon session. Edwards is a Carson county wheat producer from Panhandle. He will introduce Gene Moos of Edwall, Washington and Jerry Rees, Washington, D.C. who will explain activities that are under way to strengthen wheat producers income through the National Association of Wheat Growers. Moos and Rees are President and Executive Vice-President, respectively of the Association which is the growers liaison in administrative and legislative matters in government policies affecting producers.

The closing highlight of the convention, which is usually attended by 250 wheat leaders is expected to be a series of organizational progress reports on strengthening producers income presented by officers of several farm organizations and commodity groups, including Farmers Union, Farm Bureau, The Grange, NFO, the Wheat Producers Board and TWP.

The convention will adjourn after a business session and administrative reports at 3:00 p.m. The fifteen-man Board of Directors will meet following the general session.

Fall application of fertilizers for next year's crop has advantages over waiting until next spring. Anhydrous ammonia and other nitrogen carriers can be applied anytime after the soil temperature falls below 50 degrees Fahrenheit with little worry about nitrogen loss through leaching.

This is because of a drastic slowdown in soil microbial activity that is necessary for changing the immobile ammonium to the highly-mobile nitrate form of nitrogen. This slowdown begins at 50 degrees and the action slows entirely about the freezing point.

Most irrigated grain sorghum fields have soil moisture conditions that are favorable for ammonia application right after harvest. This means that less power is required and that retention of the material is not a problem.

Another distinct advantage of fall application is the availability of equipment and better weather conditions. The fertilizer often costs less in the fall. Also, less soil moisture is lost if the applications are made right after harvest rather than waiting until the next spring.

Phosphorus can also be applied in the fall. The main point to remember with phosphorus is that it should be incorporated into the soil before planting.

The Extension Service's Soil Testing Laboratory in Lubbock offers West Texas producers a complete soil testing program. In addition to the routine analyses for soil reaction and the major elements, tests are also made for salt, sodium and the micronutrients.

The final report also includes fertilization suggestions for the yield goal the producer specifies for the individual fields that were sampled.

My office can supply information on soil sample collection and mailing.

Fall care of shrubs is very important if you want them to survive the winter in healthy condition and be ready to grow next spring. Thus, several jobs must be performed to have a beautiful landscape planing.

Shrubs should be well watered ahead of a predicted cold, windy northern. This is very critical for evergreens and for new plantings which may not be well established. If the weather is dry during the fall and winter, apply water to shrubs about once every week to ten days.

Why do shrubs need water during the winter when they are dormant? Actually, they do not stay inactive all winter. This is especially true with evergreens. Whenever the temperature gets above 40 degrees F., growth may start. They lose water constantly through transpiration especially if they are in a windy location.

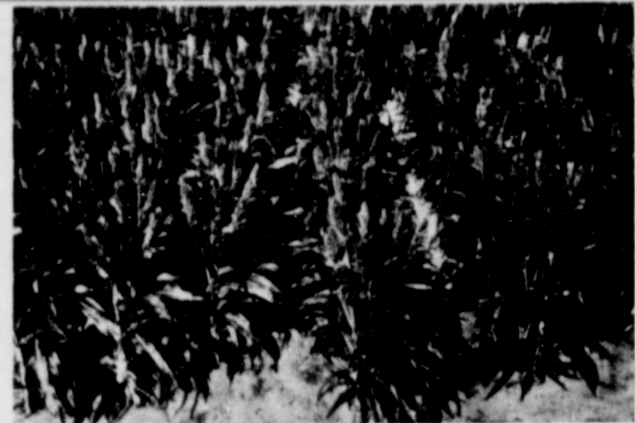

Sunburn and windburn are primarily caused by loss of water. Thus, a good supply of soil moisture is as important in winter as in summer.

Evergreen shrubs in windy locations and those which have been recently transplanted may need extra protection during the winter. A screen of burlap around such plants may be helpful. Unfortunately, such protection devices are not attractive landscape features. A good substitute is to use an anti-desiccant or anti-wilt spray. Apply in late fall about a month after the first frost, and again in mid-winter, when air temperatures are above 50 degrees F.

The mulch around shrubs should be renewed each fall to help conserve soil moisture, providing at least a two-inch layer. This also helps control weed growth next summer and will gradually increase the organic matter content of the soil.

Several types of mulch may be used including sawdust, wood chips, peat moss, ground bark, pine needles, chopped sugar cane or sterilized peanut hulls. Straw is undesirable because it contains weed seeds which may cause a control problem next year. Ground corn cobs may be used but should not contain grain which would attract mice, that might chew the bark from the shrubs.

Don't prune shrubs in the fall just before cold weather. Early pruning removes reserve food materials and weakens the plant. If a sharp drop in temperature occurs, the shrub may be damaged or killed by winter injury.

Narrow rows can boost your sorghum yields significantly while adding very little to your production costs. According to tests conducted by DeKalb AgResearch, Inc., 20 inch rows have increased yields by as much as 30% over 40 inch rows. As seen in this picture, the narrow rows, on the left, tend to shade out weeds and retain moisture. These are two factors which encourage the higher yields. A switch to narrow rows can usually be done with a very modest investment in equipment.

The expression "love me, love my dog" is at least 1,000 years old.

What Does The Bible Say?

True religion has always demanded obedience of those who would please God. Doing the things of God in the ways appointed by him is a vital matter to all who would have his blessings. And there are blessings given to those who are obedient which will be withheld from all others.

Specifically, Christ saves only those who will obey him. "And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him" (Heb. 5:9). And what of those who fail to obey? At his second coming, Christ will render "vengeance to them that know not God and to them that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his power" (II Thess. 1:8-9).

Only those who are obedient to Christ will be loved of the Father. "If a man love me, he will keep my words and my Father will love him. . ." (John 14:23a). Those who separate themselves from the love of God by their refusal to obey Christ are sentencing themselves to eternal condemnation.

Certain foods are traditional for certain holidays—ham for Easter, turkey and cranberries for Thanksgiving. Christmas, of course, also has turkey and cranberries as well as oranges, tangerines, apples, fruitcake and a few other foods.

It's interesting to watch the prices of these traditional foods during the holiday period.

Invariably, they seem to go against economic principles, with the lowest prices for the year right at the time of greatest demand.

Take turkey for example. Most of our home turkey eating takes place during the two holidays, Thanksgiving and Christmas. It would appear marketers would say, "There's a heavy demand for turkeys at this time. Why not have higher prices now?"

Yet, you can pretty well depend on just the opposite happening. Normally, both Thanksgiving and Christmas turkey prices are about as low as they get during the year. In fact, some persons buy extra turkeys if they have the necessary cash and freezer space.

Why do these lower prices on holiday foods show up after year? Why are they usually such bargains at their time of least demand?

It's pretty much the result of rovers' merchandising philosophy. Since these foods are traditional at holidays and demand is so heavy, they tend to look at them as traffic-builders.

In other words, holiday foods are featured at attractive prices, sometimes below cost, to get shoppers into the store. Thanksgiving turkey, Easter hams and the other holiday foods become advertising and promotion devices rather than a normal food item.

How well this works is debatable. If only one store could do it, it probably would be very effective. When all do it, the effectiveness is doubtful.

But from the homemaker's standpoint, it's great! She gets traditional holiday foods at budget pleasing prices.

And a holiday baking idea from Mrs. Ruth Drager-Rhea Home Demonstration Club.

Which Name First On Greeting Cards

Whose name comes first if you use a card with your names printed or engraved on it? Here the wife's name is courteously used first: "Mary and Tom" (or "Mary and Tom Green").

When signing the card, whose name is written first — the husband's or wife's?

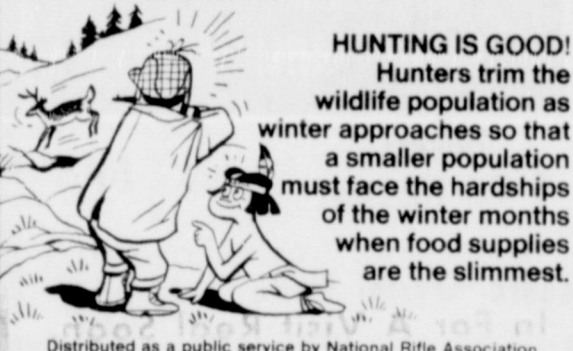

It is courteous for the person signing the card to write the other's name first. For example, if you sign the card for you and your husband, it should read: "Tom and Mary."

If a Christmas card is engraved with the senders names, with "Mr. and Mrs.," should these be at the top or bottom of the card? Always at the top. Otherwise, they might seem like a signature.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

The best way to plan a party is with pencil and paper. No matter how good your memory is—be sure to write down... what has to be done.

First Snow Of Year Falls Here Wednesday

The first snow of the 1971-72 season began falling in Friana early Wednesday morning. The moisture, which began as a cold drizzle on Tuesday, again halted farming operations. This year's harvest season has been one of the most frustrating on record for area farmers, who still have some milo, and a great deal of cotton, still in the fields. Farmers had a respite during the Thanksgiving weekend, with several days of clear weather, and many were able to wind up their grain harvest, and begin to make an inroad on cotton stripping. However, as Tuesday dawned cloudy and with a light drizzle, the harvest operations again were stopped. Then the snow began falling at an early hour, giving harvest operations a further setback. A nice accumulation was evident by mid-morning Wednesday.
