GRAIN FUTURES ACT CONSTITUTIONAL SAYS U. S. SUPREME COURT

BILL SPONSORED BY GOVERNOR IS AGAIN INTRODUCED

"QUO WARRANTO" MEASURE IS ONE OF FIRST BEFORE THE HOUSE.

CAUSED MUCH DEBATE DURING REGULAR TERM

Concur in Resolution to Attend Celebration at Houston, April 21.

AUSTIN, April 16.—Eight bills were introduced in the house today, after the governor's message, proposing eight tax measures, had been read.

They included the so-called "quo warranto" bill, sponsored by Governor Neff, and seeking the removal of county officers who fail to perform duties and prescribed by their oath.

The other measures were a bill by Melson, seeking to repeal the act of the regular session of the 33rd legislature appropriating $60,000 for a topographic and hydrographic survey for flood control and reclamation; by Simpson, providing for an occupation tax on automobiles, automobiles and motor bus lines; by Melson and Greer, appropriating $1,000,000, and by Henderson and Moore, appropriating $4,000,000 for school aid; by Quinn, appropriating $2,218,498 for support of the judiciary department; by the speaker, appropriating $1,000,000 for the state treasury; by the speaker, appropriating $1,000,000 for the state treasury; by the speaker, appropriating $1,000,000 for the state treasury.

After the senate measures providing for per diem and mileage, and contingent expenses were read, the house recessed until 3 o'clock this afternoon to allow the judiciary appropriations and revenue and taxation committee time for meetings.

The house concurred in the senate resolution accepting the invitation to visit Houston April 21. Governor E. Lee Trinkle of Virginia was invited to address the legislators at the San Jacinto battle field.

AUSTIN MURDER CASE CONTINUED UNTIL JUNE

AUSTIN, April 16.—Cases against Bassett R. Miles, former Texas assistant prohibition director, Lefe Young, J. L. McKee, Austin police officer, and W. E. Mayberry, state ranger, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Peeler Clayton, a taxicab driver here December 21, 1921, were continued until June term of the federal court today by order of Judge Duval West. Continuance was on motion of District Attorney John D. Hartman on grounds that cases involving similar questions are now pending before the United States supreme court.

START EXAMINATION SPECIAL VENIEMEN IN TOUSSAINT TRIAL

H. C. Ellis, aged 46 years, farmer, residing north of Electra was the first juror selected in the Toussaint murder case begun at 1:30 p. m. before Mr. Ellis took the stand.

Examination of special veniemen summoned in the Henry J. Toussaint murder case began at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon after Judge P. A. Martin had overruled a motion for continuance presented by the defense.

Statements that they had formed an opinion as to the defendant's guilt of innocence caused five out of the first six called to be excused on challenge for cause. The state exercised its first peremptory challenge on the second venieman named.

The death penalty will be asked for by the state. The defendant entered the court room at 1:45 o'clock accompanied by the court bailiff. Mrs. Toussaint arrived at 1:30 and was awaiting court to proceed when her husband entered. She greeted her husband affectionately.

Toussaint is on trial for the murder of his father which occurred on February 6, 1921. This is his second trial, the first one having ended in a verdict of conviction and the death penalty assessed but the judgment did not stand as the case was reversed and remanded for new trial by the court of criminal appeals.

As in the former trial the defendant's defense will be insanity. It is the contention of the defense that at the time the defendant killed his father he was insane.

FRENCH FEAR OF GERMANY BLOCKS PEACE IN EUROPE

PARIS FRIGHTENED BY THE THREAT OF RECONSTRUCTED TEUTON FOE.

REALIZE IMPORTANCE OF SOME PROTECTION

Can't Secure It From U. S. and Great Britain So Will Make It For Self.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

DUSSELDORF, April 16.—The one big stumbling block in the way of peace in the Ruhr—and in Europe—is France's fear of a reconstructed Germany, again powerful and capable of annihilating France if left to herself alone.

President Wilson saw this when he agreed with Britain to stand by France in the event of unprovoked aggression on the part of Germany. Nothing short of some kind of guarantee against such a fate will ever bridge France from astride the Rhine.

If Great Britain will not give it to her, nor America, no, the two together, then France will follow out its policy all her own—a "safety first" policy—namely, nothing short of superior force can turn her.

That is my outstanding impression after visits to Paris, London, Berlin and the cluster of German cities which merge, one city into another here in the Ruhr.

Washington Busy. I have means of knowing the government at Washington as well as that in London is constantly putting out feelers both in Paris and Berlin.

Berlin I know, is anxious to reach a settlement. And so in Paris. The hitch is not over the actual question of reparations, for Premier Poincare is still willing to accept $6,000,000,000 marks in addition to what Germany has already paid on account.

The problem which the United States and Britain have to solve, if they are to act as guarantors of the Ruhr dispute, is how France may be secured against another German invasion.

What were her objections Premier Poincare may have to Secretary Hughes' plan to have a commission of experts ascertain how much Germany can pay are not because he fears they would fix upon a too small sum but because the plan does not take into consideration France's national security.

One Solution. A combination of the Hughes plan to determine the question of reparations and Lord Robert Cecil's suggestion that the League of Nations work out a scheme which would satisfy France's anxiety for her own safety is an impossibility.

But one thing is certain, France, left by her two strongest allies—America and Britain—to face Germany alone, has leaped astride the Rhine.

She is in the Ruhr. Germany's one big industrial center, without which Germany would find it very difficult to wage a successful war.

Add there France will stay until either she can get the life insurance she is after or until she hammers out a guarantee for herself and her own way, let anyone object who may.

Thirty Days in Jail For Former Governor State of Mississippi

MANAGEMENT OF ROADS CRITICISED BY U. S. SENATOR

GREAT INCREASE IN BAD ORDER CARS AND LOCOMOTIVES.

EITHER CUT WAGES OR INCREASE FREIGHT RATES

Should Find Other Means of Cutting Costs Declares Senator

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Reiterating charges that the condition of railroad equipment showed incompetent management, Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, in a statement today, quoted figures to show that the 1922 traffic was approximately 19 per cent less than in 1920 and that there had been a great increase in bad order cars and engines.

In a previous statement Senator Couzens said he had asserted that the general practice of "railroad management" was to cut wages or raise rates, instead of endeavoring to find other means of cutting costs. The railroads replied, he said, that they had reduced expenses in 1922 over a billion dollars and that they averaged only 1,647,321 employees in 1922 as against 2,012,600 in 1920, although traffic was not greatly below the volume of 1920.

"Now let us see," said the Michigan senator, "how deceptive this statement is. The interstate commerce commission's figures showed that the 1922 traffic was approximately 19 per cent less than in 1920, and you will observe that the difference in the number of employees was approximately 19 per cent, so where is this touted efficiency?"

The bureau of railway economics, Senator Couzens said, had shown that the 1922 traffic was a considerable decrease in the number of miles traveled by each car carried by each car, a decrease in net tons per train, an increase in bad order cars of 52 per cent and an increase of bad order locomotives of nearly five per cent.

The recommendations of the committee include $1,568,269 annually for the University of Texas, and $1,517,284 for the national periodicals for Texas A. and M. College, including all its branches and activities.

GOVERNOR URGES ADDITIONAL TAX ON OIL INDUSTRY

WOULD INCLUDE PRODUCERS, REFINERIES AND PIPE LINES.

EIGHT TAX MEASURES SUBMITTED IN MESSAGE

Franchise, Inheritance and Income Taxes Are Included in List.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 16.—The special session of the legislature was called upon to enact eight revenue raising measures by Governor Neff in his first message submitted today. The measures proposed by the governor include, increased gross oil production tax, franchise tax, inheritance tax, delinquent tax and income tax. The chief executive also called upon the session to give revenue measures first consideration.

The state today is facing a deficiency in its general revenue fund of $10,000,000, the governor's message declared. Considering appropriations already made for the present fiscal year, the state will have a deficiency of approximately $2,000,000 by the close of the year, it said.

"It is obvious that the legislature must either enact laws providing additional revenues or materially reduce the operating expenses of the government," the message stated. "The state should be placed upon a 'pay as you go' basis. Conservative thought and action will go far toward solving our present financial problems."

A summary of the tax measures submitted by the governor follows: A law by which crude oil producers, refiners and pipe line companies will pay a tax commensurate with their accumulating profits.

Law by which corporate franchise privileges will be taxed upon basis of value of such rights.

Law amending present gross receipts tax schedule so as to conform to the federal law.

Law providing for more comprehensive system of taxing inherited property.

Ad valorem tax amendment to include property now escaping such tax.

Measure by which delinquent taxes may be impartially collected.

Law to equalize for purposes of state tax law, property valuations.

Income tax law, designed to reach persons who have little or no physical property yet prosper far beyond the average citizen who is regularly taxed.

The bill presented was the educational budget bill, carrying appropriations of $5,000,000 for the second year. The measure covers all the educational institutions in the state.

Senator Dudley, who will resign as a member of the senate in May, to become mayor of Houston today resigned as chairman of the senate finance committee and asked that Vice-Chairman Wood replace him.

Approval measures which had been prepared by the finance committee before convening of the session today and the annual session morning, were immediately reported favorably.

TRIBUTE PAID TO PRINCIPLES OF A. R. BY THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Paying tribute to the principles of the Daughters of the American Revolution, President Harding in an address delivered at the annual congress of the organization here today applied for an open mind in the approach to the problems confronting the nation.

"Never has mankind faced difficulties of such varied character or on so huge a scale," the president said.

"The very destiny of race, the future of civilization, seem to depend on our finding answer and an outlet for the forces which are driving us to the edge of a precipice."

"We shall not find an answer which will be completely satisfactory to any state or race or people but if we shall pursue our quest with open minds and with purpose of achievement, we shall find the greatest number, I believe we shall in the end discover that we have attained also a large advance for those who seemed to be making something of sacrifice to the common welfare."

The president further advised that pending the solution of the manifold problems that "American people 'held secure' to those paths made by the fathers of the republic. In this connection the executive spoke of the founding of the republic and pointed out that at that time "no group arrogated to itself all the political righteousness of the young republic."

PRESS INDIGNANT OVER CONSPIRACY AGAINST MINISTRY

RETIREMENT EXPECTED AS RESULT 'BAD HEALTH' OF PREMIER.

ATTRIBUTE CONSPIRACY TO LORD BIRKENHEAD

Also Implicate David Lloyd George, Former Premier, and Coalition Supporters.

By Associated Press.—The staunch supporters of Prime Minister Bonar Law among the morning newspapers are indignant at what they call the "conspiracy to weaken the ministry," launched in the Sunday press, which reported that he was about to resign because of ill health.

The Morning Post, the leading conservative paper, asserts, with the greatest emphasis that there is nothing in the condition of Mr. Bonar Law's health to compel his retirement.

The Post and the other papers which share its views attribute the "conspiracy" to Lord Birkenhead and other conservatives who refused to participate in the government. They also implicate David Lloyd-George and his supporters whom they say, desire the restoration of the coalition.

Elsewhere there is equally firm support for Sunday's rumors. One writer referring to last evening's official denial of the report, says: "It may be true that Mr. Bonar Law has no intention of resigning, but it must be equally true that he has no intention of not resigning."

Most noteworthy among the newspapers confirming Sunday's reports is the Daily Telegraph, which usually expresses moderate conservative views although it was a strong supporter of Mr. Lloyd-George. This newspaper's parliamentary expert says there are solid grounds for the rumor and asserts that if Mr. Bonar Law had thought himself safe to go he would have retired before now. The premier, the paper adds, had come now to the conclusion, with profound regret, that he cannot hope to prolong his ministry in the event of his present post.

The Telegraph, however, in company with some other newspapers, says that the prime minister's high sense of duty and his determination to continue in office until plans for the future can be made.

BELIEVE IRELAND ON THRESHOLD OF PEACE AND ORDER

LONDON, April 16.—Events of the past few weeks, including the arrest of Kilduff and some of the rebellion's ringleaders, the decrease of insurrection, restoration of rail traffic almost to normal and a general relief in the tension among the people, both north and south, have encouraged the friends of Ireland to believe that at last she is on the threshold of peace and order.

Nothing has been the opponents of de Valera and his Republican supporters so much as the admission by the irregular chief, that he is in a position to carry the struggle through a wall of glass, powerless to intervene effectively. The irregulars have also admitted their inability to continue operations on a large scale.

Another hopeful sign of the return to normal is the fact that public opinion in the Free State shows distinct diminution in Ulster, so, conditions have improved amazingly, so that life is now normal.

BREW STRONGER AND STRONGER

After 7 Years of Suffering She Got Well by Taking Cardui Which She Found "The Right Medicine."

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—"I am in a state of best health," writes Mrs. Helen Jacobs, of 2223 Marais street, this city. But some time ago, Mrs. Jacobs found herself in a condition which she described as follows: "When my baby was about five weeks old, I caught cold, and was a very sick woman from that time. I was unable to do my work. I did not know what it was to feel well a day. I spent money, I tried everything, and to think I suffered and offered for seven long years, just a shadow of a woman hanging on. It fit to do anything, just a bunch of nerves, aches and pains. I had awful hiccups in my back and sides. I could not rest at night. I would hear of something, take it, and feel better for a little while. Then back to my old aches, someone was doing my work."

"Someone told me of Cardui, and I had tried so many things that I failed. I tried it with little faith. I soon found it was helping to ease my nerves, then I began to gain strength. I knew then I had found the right medicine. I took it faithfully, and I grew well and strong—the nice part of it, I stayed at my work and grew stronger and stronger."

PREMIER DECLARES FRANCE CONVINCED GERMANY CAN PAY

By Associated Press.—Reaffirming France's intention to withdraw from the newly occupied territory only as Germany makes her reparations payments, Premier Poincare, in his Dunkirk speech yesterday asserted that three months in the Ruhr had convinced France of Germany's ability to meet her coal deliveries.

The address, delivered at the dedication of a monument to the fifteen hundred war dead, contained a vigorous renewal of France's determination to "carry on" to win "the peace" as she had bent every effort to win the war. Three months in the Ruhr, the premier said, had convinced France that Germany had made the coal deliveries required of her, for it was evident that the Ruhr was being run as if it were a coal field.

"We have proof that she could have paid us in foreign exchange," he added, "as she now spends large sums abroad."

The occupation had also brought to light, the premier asserted, "the military machine which the reich concealed, as in Upper Silesia under the inoffensive name of security police."

By Associated Press.—BERLIN, April 16.—Premier Poincare's remarks at Dunkirk were intended primarily for English consumption, the Berlin newspapers think, yet they can not understand why such a new ultimatum was regarded as necessary. In view of the fact that Louis Loucheur was reported to have found British sentiment toward the Ruhr question swinging toward France.

If, however, the French premier's speech was intended to furnish a case for the German government and the reichstag in this week's debate on the foreign policy, says the Local Anzeiger, "then the reply which is to be immediately given will spell a new disappointment for him."

The newspaper adds that Germany is determined and is in a position to continue her passive resistance campaign for a long time to come if necessary.

PROGRESSIVES PAVE WAY TO PUT BRAKE ON SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Prolegislation in the next congress will demand legislation for constitutional amendments depriving the United States supreme court of its power to declare unconstitutional acts of congress by a five to four vote.

This will pave the way to enactment of child labor, minimum wage, stock dividend tax and other laws which the court has knocked out.

Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, leader of the progressive group, and Senator Norris, Nebraska, a member of the conservative group, introduced this legislation. LaFollette has prepared a measure giving the congress the veto power over supreme court decisions. The proposal is to be passed by the congress by repassing a law after the court has held it unconstitutional. Senator Norris would provide that the court, in deciding legislation question must show a majority of at least two voted before the law could be declared unconstitutional.

HAVE CANCELLED "JAP" AGREEMENT SAYS STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Cancellation of the celebrated Lansing-Ishii agreement between the United States and Japan was formally announced by the state department yesterday in a statement making public an exchange of notes between Secretary Hughes and Masamune Hanihara, the Japanese ambassador. The communications, dated April 14, and formally cancelling the accord reached to cancel the agreement, were made public simultaneously, the department explained, in an identical statement issued by the Japanese foreign office in Tokyo.

The statement was given out here without comment on the negotiations which it was learned some weeks ago had resulted in the cancellation agreement.

The cancellation agreement now gives clear effect to the nine power treaty negotiated by the armistice conference in restoring a parity of interest between the Japanese and American governments in China.

'Hearts Aflame' At the Strand Full of Thrills

Reginald Barker, director of big screen photodramas, has given photoplay fans something new to enthrall over in his latest production, "Hearts Aflame," a Metro picture which is featured at the Strand the first three days of this week.

The staging of the magnificent forest fire scene was realistic to the extreme, and it supplies a big thrill. Nothing as vivid and intense as this forest fire has yet been presented in photoplay form. The scene has been remarkably photographed; one can actually see the flames lick at the trees which rapidly give way before the conflagration. Wolves and bears, frightened from their hiding places, leap madly before the camera in an attempt to escape the devastating flames. And through the blazing forest, an old locomotive driven by a young girl, slowly makes its way in an attempt to reach a power magazine.

Director Barker has not been satisfied to provide just this one big thrill in the picture. There are several others which, in other photoplays, would by themselves merit unusual attention. In this case they simply add to the tense excitement which prevails in the picture. One of the "minor" thrillers is the blowing up of a dam, releasing thousands of logs which go floating down a river. Another is the dynamiting of a country hillside, preventing the spread of the fire. The story is that of Harold Titus' novel, "Timber," an engaging tale of the Michigan woods. There is a love romance which is like the rest of the picture, real; and the participants are a strong-willed young miss of the Michigan woods and a millionaire's son who at-

Here's Hiram and Lucindy in Town, In Their Flivver

Hiram and Lucindy are in town again. Every rodeo finds them here as members of the advance party, and this year is no exception. They have substituted a ramshackle Ford for old Dobbin and the antiquated buggy, due to the fact, according to Uncle Hiram, that Dobbin succumbed to the bots. Hiram and Lucindy have an audience wherever they appear. Their "act" consists usually of Hiram making up with somebody in skirts after he has left Lucindy in the car. Lucindy gets jealous and peevish, there is a public reconciliation, and they drive away happy. Hiram's rule for women in general and wives in particular is "tell 'em nothing." He gets by with it, too—in public. In real life they are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Davis. Their home is at Safety Harbor, Florida. They visit a good many fairs and such attractions as part of the publicity work.

LOCAL SHRINE TO BE REPRESENTED AT WASHINGTON

RESERVATION HAS BEEN MADE AT HOTEL FOR PARTY.

NINE OTHER TEMPLES FROM TEXAS INCLUDED

Vanguard Will Begin Arriving At National Capital About May 15.

By CHAS. S. HAYDEN

Washington Correspondent Wichita Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Texas will be well represented at the Imperial Council of the Mystical Shrine which is to assemble in Washington during the first week in June.

A reservation has been made at one of the hotels for Market Temple, Wichita Falls, and among the others for which hotel space has been reserved are: Hella, Dallas; Karom, Waco; Arabia, Houston; Ben Hur, Austin; Mosiah, Fort Worth; Kiva, Amarillo; Alafar, San Antonio; El Mina, Galveston; and El Malda, El Paso.

The entertainment committee of Almas Temple, Washington, estimates there will be between 100,000 and 500,000 in the city for this meeting.

It is anticipated that the vanguard of this giant host will begin arriving in Washington by May 15 and consist of automobilists from all parts of the country who have taken a month or more for a tour which will include attendance on the Shrine Council.

In preparing to receive and entertain the multitude the committees early last night of the purely fraternal features and the endeavor will be made to make this a general gathering of Americans from the four quarters of the globe.

Washington, the historic seat of government, providing the setting and the utmost cooperation has been assured on the part of President Harding, the heads of the army and navy departments as well as other dignitaries of the government.

Plan Historic Pageant.

Pennsylvania avenue is to be the scene of another historic pageant. This is the street down which Washington rode to lay the cornerstone of the national capitol.

The returning veterans of the Mexican war paraded down this thoroughfare as did those of 1865, the veterans of the Spanish-American war and the World war, with General Pershing at their head.

The funeral corteges of Lincoln, Garfield, Dewey and the unknown soldier passed down Pennsylvania avenue, and that wide street is to be made as bright as day, hung on both sides with gaily colored flags and bunting.

It will be the scene of the culminating feature of the convention Thursday night when, following the singing of the national anthem, the brightly thronged, illuminated, close to 200,000, will be invited to participate in a dance, the music being provided by a band and a big white house and the strains will be carried by radio amplifiers to all parts of the avenue.

This will be known as the "White House" and the entire week will be one of almost continual celebrating.

Saturday, when most of the special trains are due to arrive, will be an Indian exposition which will include all the far west features, roping contests and the like. For this event there will be 100 Indian representatives of various tribes, as well as cowboys and cowgirls, characteristic of the west.

Sunday there will be concerts by visiting bands and glee clubs and a song service at Temple Heights which is expected to attract no less than 100,000 people.

To Visit Mount Vernon.

Monday the Imperial Potentate and fifteen will visit Mount Vernon, the home of Washington, and where his tomb is located.

On this day also it is anticipated that the caravan from the Pacific coast will arrive and the travelers will participate in the dedication of the zero milestone, just back of the white house, which will be unveiled by President Harding.

MAY TRY GOV. SMALL AGAIN FOR STATE MAY REVIVE OLD CHARGES SEEK RULING ON JEOPARDY PLEA

By ROY GIBBONS

Waukegan, Ill., April 14.—Governor Len Small, acquitted here last summer on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state of interest on public funds, may be compelled to face trial again under the same charges despite the constitutional provision which forbids placing anyone in jeopardy more than once for the same offense.

This is the opinion of State's Attorney A. V. Smith, now pushing a grand-jury probe into the alleged plot to bribe members of the panel which returned a "not guilty" verdict for Small after months of trial which cost taxpayers thousands of dollars.

Smith bases his statement, he says, on the probable outcome of a case now before the supreme court which will decide once and for all whether any defendant may be twice tried for the same crime provided the existence of fraud at his first hearing can be proved.

If charges.

So far the investigation has resulted in indictment of three men. Each is specifically accused in voluminous true bills on 17 counts including:

Conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Conspiracy to bribe a juror.

Conspiracy to do an unlawful act.

Conspiracy to have a juror answer questions.

Conspiracy to have a juror qualified.

Those indicted are: John Birney Field, a juror in the Small trial and Antioch (Ill.) village hero and baseball player, who was appointed deputy state game warden following the governor's acquittal.

Eddie Courtney, alleged by Chicago police to have a court record.

Jimmie Kaufman, Chicagoan, recently arrested while allegedly heading a convoy of beer runners and now under federal indictment.

to Field and held out on the balance.

The indictments charge that Courtney and Kaufman did the "fixing" and that Field accepted the bribe.

Kaufman is the only defendant who has been taken into custody up to date. His $5000 bail was signed by Russell E. Edwards, a brother of Judge Claire C. Edwards, who presided over Governor Small's trial.

One excerpt of the lengthy indictments charges:

"That on John B. Field was, by corrupt agreement and corrupt promise to pay a bribe in money and promise of remunerative employment, made to him and agreed upon by him, corruptly biased and partial to said Len Small, and did qualify to serve as a fair and impartial juror in this cause and proceeding."

"That Edward Kaufman, known as E. Morrison, and Edward Courtney, known as E. Morgan, did conspire to obstruct and impede the course of justice and did unlawfully and feloniously conspire with divers persons whose names are under cover in this grand jury, did knowingly conceal from the court and the counsel in said trial the corruption and bias of the said John B. Field, and did knowingly bring about a verdict not guilty of the said Len Small without regard to the evidence, and did bribe a juror in the proceedings to be paid thereafter $500."

Small Calls It Plot.

Governor Small brands the probe as a "further wicked attempt to besmirch my reputation for political reasons."

He charges that Attorney General Brundage, with whom he has long been at loggerheads, as being one of the many forces behind the investigation.

State's Attorney Smith says that the probe has "only begun," and that by the time all the evidence in "this sensational" bombshell will be exploited by the testimony to be taken around the last of April when the grand jury is scheduled to resume its hearings in the case.

APPLICATION FOR "TECH" COLLEGE IS FILED BY SEYMOUR

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, April 14.—Formal application for the location at Seymour of the Texas Technological College was presented to the state locating committee at Austin today by Hon. Isaac O. Newton, who is chairman of the local committee.

The application set forth the very high advantages of this locality for the school, stressing climatic conditions, fertility and productiveness of the soils, rail and highway connections which provide abundant accessibility and Seymour's inexhaustible supply of good water.

Twenty-two hundred acres of fine farming lands are under contract for purchase for use of the "Tech" school and extend from the corporate limits of the city in an east and north easterly direction.

Flood of Orders Forcing Wheels Of Motor Industry to Revolve At Rate for New Production Record

By ROY C. HAYES

Universal Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, April 15.—With the wheels of the motor industry turning at a record clip, floods of orders are forcing production to new levels.

April production will surpass the record breaking output of 26,000 cars in March by 10 per cent if the current demand continues.

Forecasts of price increases are dominant notes in the call for immediate deliveries. Orders are being taken in several plants with the understanding that if the price is increased between the time the order is placed and the car shipped the purchaser will stand the increase.

"Are prices going up?" Manufacturers disagree. The trend of opinion in motor circles seems to be changing in this regard. Four weeks ago possibility of price increases loomed in earnest. It was a matter of wide discussion and common fear.

A few advances resulted. In the mean time, labor and materials grew more scarce and costly as a result. Many manufacturers preferred to wait and see what the other fellow was going to do.

"The other fellow" was the most part didn't do anything and the threatened increases didn't eventuate. It is my opinion that there will be very low price increases in the next 60 days with all due regard to the rising costs of manufacturing.

Manufacturers are aware that the buying public is more motor wise than ever and as long as it is possible to put the greatest high standard of quality into cars and maintain the present price as much longer as the unusually fine business continues.

There is not a suggestion of a cloud on the automobile makers' horizon now that navigation has opened and fine weather seems to have come to stay.

Embargoes on shipments exist in but a very few points in the country and railroad conditions are much improved.

Andre Citroen, French auto manufacturer and known as "the Henry Ford of France" is in Detroit with plans looking toward the erection of a plant here. He is here primarily to study labor conditions and American methods of manufacturing.

During the first three months of this year Buick shipped from the Detroit and Flint plants more than 100 solid trainloads of Buicks. The trains averaged 35 freight cars.

Ford production figures for one week were again smashed when the company made 37,752 cars and trucks during the week ending

CITY PROSECUTOR MAY BE NAMED AT COUNCIL MEETING

Some action will be taken on the several applications that have been received by the council for the place of special prosecutor in the city court at the Monday night meeting.

John Davenport who has been acting as prosecutor for the past month has asked the council to re-nominate him. It is rumored that the delegation of plumbers whose complaint was held over from several weeks ago will come before the council Monday night to lay their objections to the plumbing ordinance before the new sanitary commissioner. An special meeting of the council is called for Wednesday to hold the public hearing on paving.

MRS. J. S. ROBERTSON IS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. J. S. Robertson of Wichita Falls was injured Sunday afternoon when a Ford car in which she was riding turned over in the ditch near Iowa Park. According to witnesses another car driven by a boy went around the Robertson car but turned in too quickly and caught the front wheels of the Robertson automobile and threw it over in the ditch. Mr. Robertson, who was with his wife at the time was not injured. Mrs. Robertson's injuries were not serious and were confined to several cuts on her lower limbs.

Beautiful Bridge-Luncheon Is Feature of Saturday's Social Events; Two Birthday Parties

A beautifully planned bridge-luncheon, complete in every lovely detail of decoration and entertainment, was a special feature of Saturday which took its place with the most delightful events of the whole spring season.

Mrs. Everett Jones was hostess, entertaining in the ball room of Kemp hotel, and Mesdames Joseph Huckins and Joe Kell were complimented by the beautiful party.

The color theme of the flowers was carried out throughout the whole entertainment wherever it was artistically possible; the bridge table markers were Persian dancers in colorful costumes, the graceful poses of whose slender figures suggested the various numbers; the tally cards and score pads were in the same pretty tint.

Luncheon was served in a screened-off section of the ballroom at 1 o'clock, and the beautifully appointed dining table carried out the spring colors again. Three baskets, at intervals down the length of the table, overflowed gracefully with spreading masses of roses, jonquils, daisies, sweet peas, and tined candy tuft running the whole gamut of bright color.

The luncheon, in five delightful courses, was served to the accompaniment of the beautiful music of the orchestra. The place cards, which also were plate favors, were Venetian glass paper flowers in the fashion of miniature flower pots, with trailing flowering plants following the color theme.

Letter from Sally Atherton to Her Friend, Beatrice Grimsbaw Dear Be: Your letter containing description of Leslie's wedding reached me on the day of Sam's and my first quarrel.

I had a horrible day at the office and the newspaper accounts of the grand doings at Leslie's wedding got on my nerves. I do not know whether it was from envy, jealousy or bodily fatigue, dear, but I could not finish that sappy description in the Dispatch.

When I saw I tried Sam's advice at the office. Told Mr. Ward that I could not work after 5:00 and got snubbed for my pains. Was given the intimation that there were other typists in the world. Started home very late expecting sympathy and found a note from Sam saying he had gone out to the restaurant for dinner, not finding me at home.

I am telling you all this because I want to explain to you in just what mood I began to read your letter about Leslie's wedding. You know I love beautiful things and it almost seem to me as I began that description as though I had voluntarily done myself out of something every girl should have when I decided upon a quiet wedding.

Sam did not understand when I spluttered over the fact that he had gone out for dinner. He was not at all pleased when I told him that he might have started dinner and then waited for me to come.

King Tut Struts on Broadway and Debutante Slouch Slinks off

By MARIAN HALE NEW YORK, April 16.—King Tut has finally brought the Tut Strut to Broadway!

It has completely ousted the debutante slouch, not only as a terpsichorean novelty but as a real body-builder and health giver. It is scheduled to restore beauty of figure and carriage to the American woman.

"The Tut Strut," Dolly Connolly explains—and Dolly is a noted herald of new dances—"raises the shoulders, pulls the old spine back on the job and keeps it going straight."

"It is a revival of the old Egyptian walk of Cleopatra's day." In those ancient times, music was used only for marching of soldiers and to make the walk of the Egyptian women more graceful.

"Now the Tut Strut takes a course midway between the two. The shoulders are erect and square, but the stomach is held in." The idea is to present a silhouette of lines and angles. Elbows are to be held sinking at all times. For further details consult any old Egyptian frieze and the new mode will be revealed to you.

To aid this we are going to carry high canes, fastened to the hand, much longer than those carried by men, so we can have our angles always with us.

Old Times Help Miss Connolly has made an intensive study of Egyptian music. "Every tone," she says, "affects some different part of a body. Some make us want to tap our feet—martial airs; others make us want to shake our heads—dancelike; but the Egyptians aim right for the shoulders."

"The music of King Tut's day was practically the same as the negro spirituals of our southern states. In fact, these airs have been handed down from generation to generation by the earliest slaves. It has finally been corrupted to the jazz of our day."

"We may find it hard to forgive old King Tut some of the styles and the music he is responsible for reviving, but we owe him a great deal if he makes us walk and stand correctly again," she concluded.

Mrs. Connolly is demonstrating the Tut Strut in a new jazz song, "Shakes' Hips," in which she struts instead of dances.

DON'T MAKE OUTLYING DISTRICTS DUMP GROUND ASK HEIGHTS LEAGUERS

"Please don't make the outlying districts a dumping ground," is the tenor of a plea from the women of the Highland Heights Civic League, which, in cooperation with the Central Civic League, has been conducting a splendidly successful cleanup the past few weeks.

"The district has had to endure, as well as other districts, the miscellaneous dumping of trash in its vicinity, and the league asks the cooperation of every law-abiding citizen in preventing this. We are trying to keep our district as clean as humanly possible, and as the city has provided a city dumping ground at the incinerator north of the new negro school on the Petrolia road, the league feels that citizens would rather take advantage of this than be able to do the fine which the law provides for promiscuous scattering of trash."

The Highland Heights League has made wonderful progress in its cleanup, in cooperation with the Central League and the city health department, and it is planned to put this general sanitation work on a continuous and permanent basis. We will do our part, but ask other citizens to do theirs. Find out who hauls your trash and where they are hauling it to."

The Transfer

Letter from Sally Atherton to Her Friend, Beatrice Grimsbaw Dear Be: Your letter containing description of Leslie's wedding reached me on the day of Sam's and my first quarrel.

I had a horrible day at the office and the newspaper accounts of the grand doings at Leslie's wedding got on my nerves. I do not know whether it was from envy, jealousy or bodily fatigue, dear, but I could not finish that sappy description in the Dispatch.

When I saw I tried Sam's advice at the office. Told Mr. Ward that I could not work after 5:00 and got snubbed for my pains. Was given the intimation that there were other typists in the world. Started home very late expecting sympathy and found a note from Sam saying he had gone out to the restaurant for dinner, not finding me at home.

I am telling you all this because I want to explain to you in just what mood I began to read your letter about Leslie's wedding. You know I love beautiful things and it almost seem to me as I began that description as though I had voluntarily done myself out of something every girl should have when I decided upon a quiet wedding.

Sam did not understand when I spluttered over the fact that he had gone out for dinner. He was not at all pleased when I told him that he might have started dinner and then waited for me to come.

He said with a dignified air, "In my mothers house I am told that the best of the family were not called upon to do anything. We came home after a hard days work to rest, and immediately, by some magic, the food was set before us. We ate and by the same magic the dishes were whisked outside."

"Do you remember just what time your mother made her appearance after dinner?" I asked hotly. "Sam wrinkled his forehead in an effort to remember. "Just about the time I was ready for bed if I had not gone out somewhere," he answered.

better tell Leslie and he answered no. He didn't think she would understand.

He assured me, however, that he would do his best to be absolutely devoted and true to his daughter after marriage, and he affirmed somewhat profanely that he didn't care for me or my feelings in the matter, but he would not have his daughter mad unhappy.

"Precisely," he said, "I have never made Leslie unhappy, and I will not do so now. I am going to play the game straight from now on."

FIFTY LITTLE CHILDREN ENJOY BIRTHDAY PARTY Half a hundred little folks were invited to the home of Master Woodrow McCracken Saturday afternoon to help that young gentleman celebrate his eighth birthday.

The children enjoyed games on the lawn for awhile, and afterward marched into the beautifully decorated dining room, where guests found Miss Juanita McCracken, assisted by Miss Ona Cotton, ready to serve fruit punch, candy and fruit.

And where a big birthday cake with eight pretty candies was the feature of attraction. Ice cream was served with the cake, after the candies were blown out with good wishes, and then Master Woodrow and his guests enjoyed the opening of a great mound of birthday gifts.

Find Mammoth Equipment Underneath Barn Piled Full of Baled Hay.

Guy Roberts, a juror who helped Henry J. Toussaint at the first trial when a verdict of guilty was returned and the death penalty assessed was arrested early Sunday along with Ed Mitchell and placed in the county jail on a liquor charge.

Sergeant J. W. McCormick, Texas Ranger and Deputies Sheriff W. P. and W. W. Belcher and Frank Watkins made a raid on a hay barn located five miles east of the city on the Byers road. They confiscated a 150-gallon still, 17 barrels of mash and 15 gallons of whiskey. The officers stated that they found the still was justly located by the Roberts and Mitchell. They said the still was in operation when they made their appearance. Both men were lodged in jail at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Having obtained the information that there was a still located in this neighborhood, the officers repaired to that point Saturday night at 10 o'clock. After three and a half hours of walking and looking for the still, they were pushed aside each time that the men went into the room below.

The officers stated that the underground room was perfectly camouflaged and it was a difficult matter to find the entrance. No resistance was encountered by the officers when they fell down into the room where the still was working in full blast.

HOUSTON GIRL IS CELEBRATING HER DANCING VICTORY

TWENTY YEARS OLD AND HAPPIEST BIRTHDAY OF LIFE, SHE SAYS.

REGULATED MARATHON IS PLANNED IN CHICAGO

New York Party Dances Out of Reach of Law Forbidding Contest.

HOUSTON, April 16.—Miss Magdalene Williams, champion long distance endurance dancer of the world since completing a dance at 2:08 Sunday afternoon that lasted 65 hours and 53 minutes, is today celebrating her 20th birthday by receiving congratulations on her recent victory.

"It is the happiest birthday of my life," she said.

TERPSICHOEAN MARATHON SCHEDULED FOR CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 16.—A terpsichoean marathon, acclaimed the first in the United States under proper guidance, will be held here April 22 under the auspices of the Chicago chapter of the national and international dancing master's association. The contest will be made to shatter the present record.

Herman Bundesen, health commissioner, said his department would not interfere with the tournament. "Chicago health authorities," Mr. Bundesen said, "will look into the matter with anyone who wishes to dance himself to death. That is a matter of personal liberty."

MARATHON DANCERS STEP OUT OF REACH OF LAW

NEW YORK, April 16.—Eight marathon dancers stepped out of the reach of the law last night when they literally fox trotted their way from New York to New Jersey to escape a police ruling that might have prohibited any further attempts on their part to set a new record for non-stop dancing.

The five youths and three girls, along with two extra girls who were filling as partners for the tireless dancers, who thus prevented their ambitions from being thwarted danced their way out of an upper Broadway hall, where they were waiting motor buses when they kept on fox trotting while the vehicles trundled to the Fort Lee ferry across the Hudson river. They danced on to the ferry boat, danced while it chugged its way to Fort Lee, N. J., then danced back into the bus and danced all the way to a Fort Lee dance hall.

In comparative comfort the fox trotters settled down to their grind on the upper floor of the Jersey hall, and at the end of about 20 hours continuous stepping said they would have danced a great deal more, enough to make it 100 hours.

TWENTY-EIGHT DANCERS ENTERED IN MARATHON

CLEVELAND, OHIO, April 16.—Twenty-eight dancers, all but six of them women, were entered in two endurance contests here today determined to break the record established at Houston yesterday by Miss Magdalene Williams.

One of the marathons, conducted by a local club, is being held in the city's new auditorium, where it started Saturday morning. Five women and four men are still dancing in a privately conducted affair, started this morning in a dancing academy. One took with 17 girls and 2 men entered.

Russell Brady, the first to enter the club's contest, who had been shuffling along since 8 o'clock Saturday morning, bent on setting a male endurance record, was forced to drop out at 3:28 a. m. today when he was taken to the hospital by a strained leg ligament.

Speedometers attached to their ankles indicated most of the dancers covered about a mile an hour.

Garland at Last Tells Why He Gave Away His Fortune

By HOWARD THERRY
Nea Service Staff Writer
MIDDLEBURY, MASS., April 16.—Charles Garland, hermit millionaire, has broken his silence. For the first time he has told why he gave away his fortune.

"Do you think it justifiable to live on unearned or inherited income?" Garland's answers are made public for the first time exclusively through Nea Service. They come simultaneously with an attack on the Garland fund by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, charging that the money is being used for the "revolutionary movement in America," and publication of the first six months' activities of the fund established last July.

Here is the personally written and will be one of the most attractive new homes in this part of Haskell when finished.

T. E. Ballard, a pioneer resident of Haskell has purchased the home of H. H. Langford in the 12th block North Clark street and is now building one of the most handsome as well as expensive and attractive homes in North Haskell.

During the latter part of the ginning season the Farmers' Gin Company buildings burned down and they are now constructing one of the most modern gin houses in west Texas and will soon be installing all new machinery preparatory to meeting the cotton season of this year as the crop out look at this time is the most promising for large production.

The city water works has been at work for some 20 days with the new water well on block 15. Meador's addition and while they are not yet down to the required depth the well is now pumping according to Manager Hayes Hamilton some 250,000 gallons per day. This well is 12 feet in diameter and will stand 10 feet deep in water. The water rises to about 25 feet of the top of the ground.

At this time there are two contracts that no doubt will be let in the next few days for the construction of two new business houses, one adjoining the Haskell National Bank building on the north and to be occupied by mercantile company and the other to be constructed on southeast corner of the public square and to be occupied as filling station and sales room.

If these contracts are let then the amount of new building to the first of May will easily go over the $100,000 mark.

Dingy Office of London Registrar Scene of Marriage of Heiress of Two of World's Richest Families

LONDON, April 14.—The dingy office of the registry of Lewisham, an obscure suburb of London, formed the setting for the marriage of the heiress of two of the richest families in the world, Mathilde McCormick, to Major William Max (nee, Swiss riding master, April 12).

On the official registry book Major Max's age was given as 43 and his profession as "soldier." Miss McCormick was 18 years of age at the time and is designated in the records as "spinster of independent means."

The daughter of Harold McCormick, head of the International Harvester Company, and granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, the world's wealthiest man on a bench with her hand in that of her middle-aged fiance in the dingy office for half an hour, waiting their turn while a number of couples, sons-and daughters of shopkeepers and artisans of the neighborhood were married.

Then the ceremony was performed by two registrars, Frank Belcham and W. H. Owen, with E. L. Cowham, as witness.

The only music was the rattle of carts in the street, the crack of drunks and the chanting of street-vendors on the nearby docks, and the steady tune of rain upon the roof of the registry. It was a strange wedding march for a bride who is heiress to two of the world's greatest fortunes.

Where the couple now are spending their honeymoon is not known. The little flat that once rented in Hither Green, to establish a residence in Lewisham, is closed up.

There is nothing that stands in the way of her husband's expenditure of money so much as does the possession of too much money. And the longer you have it the harder it is to see straight.

Where Garland Money Goes
By NEA Service.
NEW YORK, April 16.—Gifts totaling $24,982 and loans aggregating $19,420 of which $25,000 was repaid by Jan. 1) were made during the first six months out of the $150,000 placed by Charles Garland in the hands of the American fund for public service.

The report made by Secretary Roger N. Baldwin, discloses that Garland's other resources "were also put to rest for social uses, even including the little farm on which he lives, so that he has now literally nothing of his own."

Secretary Baldwin denies Samuel Gompers' charges that the fund corporation is allied with revolutionary groups. Beneficiaries are described as "pioneering enterprises in labor and radical movements" loans being made to 49 organizations out of 167 which applied, other rejections including 145 requests for personal aid, chiefly from farmers and inventors. Money used was as follows:

American Room Is Dedicated at Invalides the New Hall in Paris In Honor of the Allied Armies

PARIS, April 16.—An exchange of telegrams between President Harding and President Millerand was a feature today of one of the most moving ceremonies here since the great war when at the Invalides the new "Hall of Honor of the Allied Armies" was formally thrown open.

No discourse marked the ceremony of dedication. It was only a silent tribute to the memory of the dead. President Millerand, on his arrival reviewed the guard of honor and then greeted Ambassador Herriot, Colonel T. Bentley Mott, the military attaché at the American embassy, and the other members of the diplomatic corps. Then, followed by numerous company of diplomats and military attaches and many American civilians, the president passed through the commemorative halls, including those devoted to the United States, England, Portugal, Belgium, Japan, Italy, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia and Poland.

Many French officers were present but Marshal Foch, in simple attire, seemed to embody the dominating note of the ceremony—France at peace solemnly commemorating the memories of unity in the common cause.

President Harding's message was communicated to President Millerand by Ambassador Herriot during the ceremony. The ambassador declared the president of the United States was impressed by the thought that the dedication of memories of the world war would not only be the most interesting of its kind in the world's history, but would also constitute a powerful appeal to the sentiments which among all the nations, inspired the splendid cooperation witnessed during the war.

The American room at the famous Invalides, built by Louis XIV and used by Napoleon, houses his invalided soldiers, which was dedicated today, represents an effort to have in France an enduring record of the contributions of the United States to the great war.

The writer has been asked by a number of people at different times, based upon his irrigation experience, just how water is handled on a large irrigation project. SECOND ALLEGED RADICAL LEADER WILL FACE TRIAL

SECOND OF 36 MICHIGAN CASES IS CALLED AT ST. JOSEPH.

FOSTER WAS TRIED BUT JURY FAILED TO AGREE

Ruthenberg Served Term in Ohio For Obstructing the Draft Law.

ST. JOSEPH, MICH., April 14.—Selection of a jury to try Chas. E. Ruthenberg of Cleveland, charged with criminal syndicalism began in Berrien county circuit court shortly before noon today.

By Associated Press. ST. JOSEPH, MICH., April 14.—Charles E. Ruthenberg of Cleveland, nationally known liberal, the second person to face prosecution under Michigan's anti-syndicalism law, was ordered to trial today, a little less than two weeks after a jury failed to convict William Z. Foster of Chicago, the first defendant tried under the law.

The act was passed as a war time measure. And the indictments against Foster, Ruthenberg and 24 others awaiting trial, resulted from their attendance on the national convention of the communist party near here last August.

At the trial of Foster, the defendant as well as Ruthenberg, a defense witness, asserted that the communist party had been disbanded. The state of Michigan maintained that the party still is in existence. On April 7, the day after Foster's trial ended with a deadlock jury after almost two days of deliberation, it has been learned here, 25 leaders of the communist party met in New York to vote to disband that organization and make the workers party the communist organization in America whenever the party leaders decide to make the change.

Ruthenberg, while on the stand for Foster, testified to his liberal activities. He said he had been a socialist organizer for a number of years, had been the party's candidate for mayor of Cleveland on several occasions and had run for congressman and United States senator from Ohio, and also for governor.

When the socialist party was disbanded by the withdrawal of the radical left wing Ruthenberg said he joined that group, finally becoming national committeeman.

When that organization disbanded and was formed into the workers party he said he became the new party's executive secretary.

Ruthenberg served a term in the Ohio workhouse for obstructing the draft.

During Foster's trial he qualified as an expert on liberal thought and gave a history of the growth of liberalism from the time of Karl Marx until the present day.

TRIAL AT TAYLOR IN FLOGGING CASE SET FOR JULY 16

GEORGETOWN, TEXAS, April 14.—Trial of R. A. Hewitt, chief of police of Taylor, Texas, and four others charged with carrying pistols, in connection with the recent flogging of R. W. Burleson, sales manager, was continued today by agreement of counsel. The case against Tom Cooper of Georgetown, charged with being growing out of remarks alleged to have been made about a woman with whom Burleson was automobile riding at the time of the whipping, also was continued. All the cases were set for trial July 16.

Deceased Chief Hewitt, defendants in the pistol carrying case are Dewey Hall, Sam Threadgill, Jr., Olin Gossett and Murray Jackson. Burleson was removed from an automobile on the night of April 1, severely flogged and his body covered with crosses and tar. He then was taken to the city hall square at Taylor and chained to a tree.

OUT OUR WAY

Diary of Member Florida Party Gives Experiences and Hardships of Pathfinders in 'Everglades'

Universal Service herewith presents the first complete story of the party of 24 autoists who became stranded in the Florida Everglades in the first attempt ever made to penetrate the swamps in motor cars. It is the diary of P. S. Lewis, a member of the party, and was procured by a Universal Service correspondent who visited the autoists in an airplane today.

This document is one of the most thrilling in the annals of American adventure. It details the perils and hardships of thirteen men and five women who set out from Fort Myers a week ago Wednesday and expected to reach Miami last Sunday.

Thursday—We expected to be on the road only a few days, but the roads are getting rougher. Several cars stuck in the heavy sands as we near the end of this road. It is necessary to stop to fix washed out places and construct several bridges.

Friday—Heavy rain last night soaked everything and everybody and turned the flat plains into gigantic ponds of water. Our machines are standing several inches in water. Everyone is wet, cranky and not enjoying this phase of the trip.

Saturday—It is very hot and the air is full of steam and moisture. We are pushing on very slowly, hindered by the mud, and now and then clumps of shrubbery hinder us. We are just on the edge of the glades proper. It is looking bad. While using an axe George Dunham cut his hand, but we wrapped it up and hope there is no infection.

Editor's Note—Here Mr. Lewis ceased to date his entries. He writes: An electric storm came up in the early evening and it was beautiful. We are sleeping on the ground despite the wetness, because the supplies must be kept in the cars. The scouts have returned, the Indian Abraham Lincoln, being in charge, and they report we are headed northwest and travel will be slow.

Killed several big moose and innumerable smaller ones. While cutting down the vegetation we were startled by a giant water bug. He had been sleeping and our noise angered him. We all started on the run and he gave chase. Charlie Hunt tracked the bug of the cars first and brought his sixteen gauge shot gun into play. Several of us had forty-fives and we were used them.

The fellow was punctured plenty and measured 14 feet. We are taking out his teeth and intend to use them as souvenirs. The Indians think it was an ill luck omen and wonder how we escaped alive.

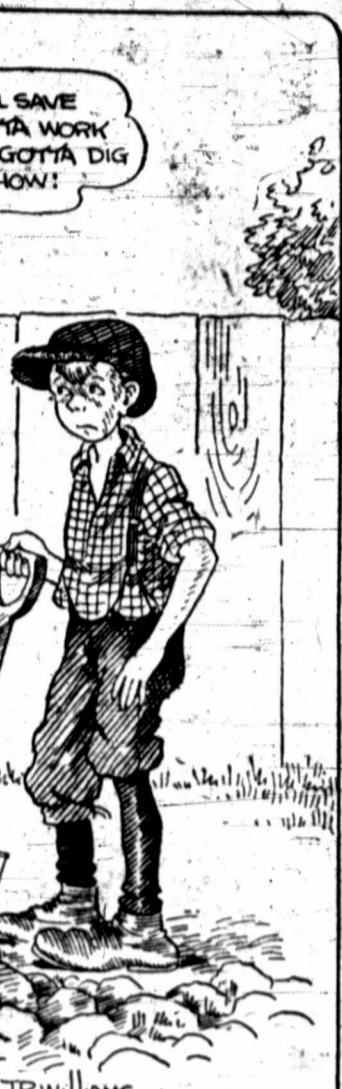

Editor's Note—Mr. Lewis as each day progressed detailed how they forged ahead, accomplishing almost miraculous things: how they worked from dawn to dark, divided into squads, hiked across the water, and tried to plan the course. He said they would first swing north and then south and weave in an out, sometimes going back and coming out a different way. He continues: Indians reported tonight that panthers had been tracking them for hours, and from their prints they were large ones. There were two and then another one, making three.

It looks like we are hopelessly lost, with food completely out, except some coffee grounds that have been already boiled more than the customary times. Our cars are separated and that makes matters worse.

The Indians, all except one, deserted us today, because they fear ghosts in the swamps. We are now about 105 miles from Fort Myers. The day has been a trying one. The cars are all stuck out for miles, all stuck and we have worked like Trojans. My hands are blistered. My feet are a solid mass of them. Insects of all kinds have bitten me until I believe there is not a square inch of skin untouched. My clothes are in rags. It takes more than a heavy canvas to protect a body in this terrific heat. Surely God forgot this country when He created the earth.

The food is out. We had mouldy bread-crusts and hot water for breakfast. There were coffee grounds in it, but the coffee flavor has been boiled out. No lunch at noon, and if the Indians (some of whom have returned) come in with a deer, we will be lucky. We have stopped and are waiting for the scouts to determine where we are. Lost in the Everglades even with Indians is possible in this country, which has never been traversed before by human life. The government survey stopped miles back. White men never made it this far before.

By WILLIAMS

Heiress to Wed

Engagement of Miss Cathleen Vanderbilt, considered the most beautiful of all Vanderbilts, to Harry C. Cushing III, has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Sydney Z. Colford, former wife of Reginald C. Vanderbilt.

At last, we have come upon an Indian camp. The Indians received us cordially and gave us food and presents. We returned the presents and asked for fresh guides. The chief detailed five of his braves to help us.

We are pushing on slowly, but surely, keeping up our road work. Lifting automobile bodily out of the mud using sticks to first make sure there are no snakes or gators in the pools of water and killing them if found.

Every few miles we dig holes in the ground and obtain a fresh supply of water. Billy Kimpatchie, a sub-chief and one of our new guides, says in the sign language that they are going to be a storm again. He says we have passed his country and as he does not know the territory any further he and his men are going back tomorrow. Billy says there are plenty of bear signs and points out tracks, some almost two feet long. We have been wondering what they were.

There was not water in camp today and we dug several wells but the water was salt. I walked 10 miles looking for a spring and we filled at the direction of Kimpatchie, who found a spring while out scouting. It was precious and I spilled not a drop.

Just as I write this some wild cats are howling and we have seen glowing eyes staring at us from the darkness. I'll bet it is the first time they have ever seen white men and we certainly are not much to look at.

The most pitiful sight of us all after the weary Hazzard Post Myra. Woolly worms, called Eochearnes by the Indians have turned his skin into a living red and the sun has aggravated this until pus is flowing from countless stings of these bugs.

J. W. Hill, an automobile dealer in Fort Myers, and his chief mechanic, Milton Thomas, are complaining of fever. They say they feel light headed and their bodies are red and their skin swollen. They are very weak and can assist only in a small way with the work.

We owe a great deal to L. J. Van Duzi, a German by birth, whom we have voted the comedian of the party. He keeps the morale of the party up and keeps us laughing most of the time with his stories and songs.

Frank Whitesman, a magazine editor of Tampa, has given out completely and has been forced to rest the past two days. We all vow we will never enter the God-forsaken country again, but we are going to push on to the finish as soon as airplanes bring supplies.

GERMAN MINISTER SAYS RUHR BATTLE IS NOT FOR COAL

FIGHT TO DETERMINE IF RIGHT AND PEACE WILL PREVAIL.

VOICES APPROVAL OF SUGGESTION BY HUGHES

Declares Germany Will Not Sacrifice Future to End Complications.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, April 15.—Foreign Minister Von Rosenberg, addressing the Reichstag this afternoon, declared the battle now in progress on the banks of the Rhine and in the Ruhr was not one for coal or wood, but a fight which would determine whether the idea of right and peace would progress or lose ground.

The foreign minister voiced approval of the suggestion of Secretary of State Hughes that the reparations problems be referred to a body of authoritative experts and endorsed the conclusions on this subject reached by the commission adopted by the international chamber of commerce at its recent congress in Rome.

In view of the economic devastation wrought by the invasion of the Ruhr and at what he characterized as France's avowed purpose to paralyze German economic productivity, any attempt at present to appraise Germany's capacity for payment or to establish the exact amount would be wholly futile, the foreign minister declared.

The German government, said the foreign minister, had in the past foreign minister had in the past tried to help put an end to the daily increasing tension and economic chaos under which Europe was suffering. Germany's efforts in these directions, he said, were designed to facilitate the release of all possible forces for reconstruction in which process Germany wishes to cooperate.

Secretary of State Hughes' suggestion of a body of authoritative experts and endorsed the conclusions on this subject reached by the commission adopted by the international chamber of commerce at its recent congress in Rome.

At Quirk's, the foreign minister declared, was "a preaching of might which rendered poor service toward the needed attainment of international understanding and reconciliation."

The foreign minister declared the German government would not sacrifice or jeopardize Germany's future merely for the purpose of overcoming or eliminating present complications.

GRAIN FUTURES ACT IS CONSTITUTIONAL

ally relied upon by the government to sustain the grain futures act, although the decision of the supreme court in the first case was quoted liberally in support of the contention that congress had the right to regulate interstate commerce and that the act was a burden to it.

The "beneficial aspects" of the grain futures act justified the exercise of the congressional power beyond anything contained in the Packers' and Stockyards' Act, the government asserted.

Membership Limited. Contending that the law would compel the exchanges to admit membership farmers' cooperative associations on terms not extended to other members, the grain exchange argued that their incorporation rules and bylaws compel them not only to limit membership, but also to retain a censorship control over members on the matter of settlements and other features of grain trading.

The United States District Court at Chicago denied the Chicago Board of Trade an injunction to restrain the enforcement of the act, but the supreme court suspended its operations pending its decision on the validity of the law.

Communication through the mails or by interstate telegraph or telephone in grain future trades not made upon a "contract" market is prohibited under the grain futures act, which contains other provisions described by the exchanges as aimed to defer persons from reporting to exchanges, which are not "contract" markets, the effect being, it was asserted, to compel the exchanges either to close their doors or become "contract" markets.

Approximately six-sevenths of all trading in grain for future delivery is conducted upon the Chicago Board of Trade. It was stated, and the government was estopped, that the exchange insisted, from asserting jurisdiction over those transactions by the ruling of the courts that the act would not be enforced against hedging operations, did not constitute interstate commerce.

Replying to the government's claim that the law would stop manipulation of grain for the purpose of controlling or depressing prices, the Chicago Board of Trade asserted that there had been no corners in grain futures on that or any other exchange during the last 15 years. It was denied by the exchange that the government's charge of fluctuations frequently occurred or that the fluctuations which do occur are detrimental to the producer or consumer, or to persons handling grain in interstate com-

TEMPLARS HOPE TO START WEDNESDAY ON NEW DRILL TEAM

At a recent informal meeting of Wichita Falls Commandery No. 55 Knights Templar, it was the consensus of opinion that everything possible should be done for the re-organization of the Templar drill team. Eminent Commander Stehlik brought back glowing reports of the work which other Templar drill teams are doing throughout Texas. Sir Knight Naylor, a member of the San Antonio drill team, which has won the drill cup for the past two years, was present at that meeting and gave an interesting account of drill work and what is required to work up an efficient team. It was agreed that but one thing was necessary, a desire on the part of members to join the drill team, and their loyalty to the team.

The local Commandery plans to send a team to the triennial at Seattle, Washington in 1935, and now is the time for the permanent organization that would be a credit to the local Commandery and bring credit and reflection upon the community in general at that meeting.

A meeting has been called for Wednesday evening of this week to start the ball rolling in the permanent organization. A large attendance present of all who are interested in seeing a creditable drill team put over. L. R. Stringer, who has efficiently worked up a team last year, has been unflinching in his time and effort in seeing it put over, and also asks the cooperation of the fraternal.

The Wednesday evening meeting will in all probability be given over to drill work in preparation for the big meeting of Thursday when several candidates will be given the Red Cross and Malta degree in full form. The Commandery intends to do everything it can to bring credit upon the organization in its work and impression upon the candidates. The Malta degree, so aptly put on by Sir Eminent George, has made a distinct hit and impression upon all who have seen it, and to those Sir Knights who have not seen it put on in full form, come up on Thursday. The degree will be conferred after the supper hour.

If a number of good things are in store for the members of Wichita Falls Commandery this year.

The Liver Is the Road to Health

If the liver is right the whole system is right. Carter's Little Liver Pills will gently awaken your sluggish, clogged liver and relieve constipation, stomach trouble, inactive bowels, loss of appetite, sick headaches and dizziness. Purely vegetable. You need them.

Some things you should know about your heart

THIS first thing a physician examines, when summoned, is the heart pulse. A normal heart will beat one hundred and three thousand times each day. You depend on it to beat every second of your life. You realize the heart should not have to overwork constantly to throw off blood impurities. It is impurities which increase the heart beat. More red-cells mean cleaner, purer, richer blood. They mean nerve-power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. This means freedom from pimples, from blackheads, tie today!

Mr. Arthur A. Smith, 2008 S. Ada Street, Chicago, Ill., writes: "After suffering with bad heart, I commenced using S.S.S. I wish to say that it did me up to an extraordinary degree, and relieved me of all heart trouble. I wish to express my appreciation for what S.S.S. did for me."

Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical. Get a bottle today!

Being a Rodeo Producer Brings Many Freak Proposition and Queer To Tom Burnett and His Ranch

There is possibly no person in the United States or at least in this portion of the states who for the past six months has received as many calls for assistance or who has been propositioned with as many fake schemes as Tom Burnett. Since the publicity for the annual round-up and rodeo, of which Mr. Burnett is the producer, was started, his daily mail has been literally crammed with letters of this kind from every section of the country.

Few of the letters come from Texas or any of the adjoining states; for the most part they are from the eastern states and foreign countries. Any number of letters are from young fellows "back east" who have heard of the elaborate plans for the round-up to be staged April 19-20-21-22. Many of them have written making application for places on the ranch, asking for a job, or for a horse, or for a cow; still others have sent a blank request for funds to attend the rodeo. Most of them have the idea that a man of Burnett's means would surely be considerate enough to comply with any request they might make for funds.

Many of the letters are from women; some with one proposition and some another. A woman from New Orleans writes that she has composed a song and so far has been unable to sell it. She requests a man of Burnett's wealth would be interested in purchasing the song for the very reasonable sum of $2,000. She requests an early reply and check, with the information that she is in financial straits.

Another woman writes from Bridgeport, Connecticut, who is much more considerate in her demands and requests, sent the following letter:

"Pardon me for taking the liberty to write to you; it is a business proposition and you may consider my plea. I was ill in bed at the time I saw your great designs for the rodeo in the Post and saw your plans and said there is a man who likes a good time and knows how to have it. I wish I could be there and dance at your party. No it is impossible but I would like to interest you in a great place in our country. Business men with great minds and ideas are what we need. Mr. Burnett, we need you in our glorious little city of Melbourne, Florida; that is my home. I am in Bridgeport trying to sell a few lots as I need the money to build in Florida. You are not far, take a run down and see what we need. We need a lot of money. I am in Bridgeport and would pay you well for your investment."

Another letter from one of the eastern states suggests a plan for the fireworks for the rodeo. The plan as far as she is concerned would net her at least $140 and according to her own statement she is the last of April I looked in the Post and saw your plans and said there is a man who likes a good time and knows how to have it. I wish I could be there and dance at your party. No it is impossible but I would like to interest you in a great place in our country. Business men with great minds and ideas are what we need. Mr. Burnett, we need you in our glorious little city of Melbourne, Florida; that is my home. I am in Bridgeport trying to sell a few lots as I need the money to build in Florida. You are not far, take a run down and see what we need. We need a lot of money. I am in Bridgeport and would pay you well for your investment."

STRAW HAT SEASON OPENS AS MERCURY HITS 81 DEGREES

The early bird with the straw lid huddled out Sunday afternoon and brought with him a good sized flock. Here and there on the streets, at church and at the baseball game one could be picked out. The mercury mounted to the 81 degree point Sunday afternoon and viewed from all angles the day was a most pleasant one as far as weather was concerned. The south-west wind, however, had a little cool touch in it but the sun was hot.

During the night the thermometer fell to the 67 degree point for the minimum temperature. The general wind direction for the district touched by railroads was west with partly clouded skies included in the reports of station agents.

New Touches Being Added as Shrine Circus Plans Progress; Many Gifts for Bride and Groom

By FRANK S. REID, Publicity Chairman

As the minutes go by, new touches are added to Maskat's Shrine Circus. The merchants of Wichita Falls have entered heartily into the movement to make April 23 to 28 a week of fun, as evidenced by the advertising they are displaying on the circus ground fence. Sign painters are busy working up attractive ads.

Not alone have they given freely to the Shrine, but have donated useful articles to the bride and groom to be married Wednesday, April 25th.

Dave Paul has announced his gift to the bride of one of his lucky wedding rings now on display in his window. Martin Printing & Stationery Company, a box of stationery; the Frear Furniture Co. has donated a library table; the North Texas Furniture Co., an Axminster rug; F. B. M. have donated sheets and pillow cases; Harry Baum has donated a spring coat to the groom; J. Wilkie Talbert a three month's paid up 1930 building and loan policy; Wichita Falls Electric Co., an electric iron; the Owl Drug Co., a set of aluminum ware.
