

Open House For Bank Bldg. Saturday

The New Friona State Bank Building

PUBLIC WELCOME

Friona State Bank Displays Its Ultra-Modern Facilities

Friona State Bank's ultra-modern new building at 11th and Cleveland will be shown to the public at a special open house this Saturday between the hours of 1:30 and 5:30 p.m.

The bank, designed by architect Marvin Knedler of Denver, and decorated by Don Alvarado, also of that city, is a beautiful facility, and will feature the latest concepts in banking practices and facilities.

The main part of the bank measures 90 x 90 feet, and the adjoining community room measures 40 x 50 feet. This gives Friona State Bank a total of 10,100 square feet, compared to its previous area of 5500 square feet.

Parking lots are located to the north and east of the building, with space for over 60 cars, giving a spacious atmosphere to the location.

Walls of the bank building are of concrete containing marble chips. A strip of anodized aluminum circles the bottom portion of the building, about a yard high.

Grounds have been landscaped with trees and shrubs, and a large area will be devoted to grass.

The officers and directors extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend the open house on Saturday.

Bank Gets Rare Flags

Friona State Bank will have flags for its flagpole at the new building which have been properly christened.

The Stars and Stripes have flown over the nation's capitol. The Texas flag has flown over the state capitol in Austin.

Bank officials say they appreciate the efforts of Representative Bill Clayton, and George Mahon in securing the flags.

See additional articles and pictures in second section.

Friona State Bank is one of only four known banks in the United States which will use "sit down" tellers. Both the tellers and the customers are seated for bank transactions.

Interior of the bank building is carpeted throughout. Each officer has a spacious private office, giving customers the ultimate in privacy for their transactions.

The bank has almost tripled the number of safety deposit boxes, now having 1400 boxes, and is more than able to take care of customers for this special service.

The bank's drive-in facilities feature a relatively new concept, in that the second drive-in window will be operated by means of a "pneumatic tube."

Under this set-up, the bank will operate two lanes at first, but two additional lanes have been constructed in case they are needed in the future.

The new building features a coffee room and a community room which will seat up to 100 people for meetings. There is a 24 x 90 foot basement which houses mechanical equipment and gives additional storage space.

Friona Lions Join Project

The two Lions Clubs in Friona are joining with those throughout District 2-T in asking for support for their "Girls-town Christmas Fund."

The Lions' objective is to raise $30.00 for each girl at Whiteface and Borger campuses, which will buy a pair of shoes and a new coat for Christmas.

Residents of Friona can help by sending their contributions to Girlstown, U.S.A., Box 2733, Amarillo, Texas, 79105.

Open House

Open house for Crow's Meat Company's new facility south on Highway 214 has been scheduled for Sunday, December 13.

The new facility will host the public between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. that day.

Further details will be announced in next week's edition

REMINDER, . . . Mrs. H.K. Kendrick displays one of the many signs promoting Project Christmas Card which went up around town this week. Deadline for joining isn't too far away--December 17.

New Twist Announced For Club Project

Modern Study Club kicked off its annual "Project Christmas Card" this week, and for the first time has set a goal, and has a singular objective for this year's drive.

The proceeds from this year's drive have been tagged to go toward the purchase of a "heart monitor" device, which doctors say could effect 30 per cent greater survival in coronary cases.

The machine will cost roughly $5,000, and the hospital board has voted to use $2,000 which is in the memorial fund toward purchase of the unit, leaving another $3,000 to be raised.

"This is considerably more than the drive usually gets, but we are confident we can do it if the people get behind the project," says Mrs. H.K. Kendrick, chairman of the 1970 drive.

The coronary care unit monitors heart beats, and notifies doctors in the event of a coronary.

Dr. Paul Spring says that 40 per cent of all coronary patients die within the first hour, so that if he has a patient suspected of being in danger of a coronary, the machine could be a real life-saver.

Deadline for contributing to the fund is December 17. Residents are asked to spend the amount usually spent on Christmas cards, postage (and then double it), and deposit this at Friona State Bank.

A list of donors will be published in a giant Christmas greeting in the December 24 edition of the Star.

School Tells New Free Lunch Policy

The Friona School Board adopted a new policy for free and reduced price lunches effective January 1, 1971 in the November meeting. This replaces the policy adopted February 1, 1969 and is in line with the new Federal Policy recently announced through the Texas Education Agency.

Following is the newly adopted Board Policy for free and reduced price lunches:

"The Friona School recognizes the need for helping meet the nutritional needs of children and serves a well-balanced nutritious lunch each school day. The charge for lunches is 40¢ for Elementary and Junior High pupils and 45¢ for High School pupils. Letters will be sent to all families in the School District advising them of the new policy. Since some families may find it difficult to pay the full price for their children's lunches, we will provide these lunches free or at a reduced price.

"In deciding if your children are eligible for either a free or a reduced price lunch, we will also take into consideration any unusual circumstances such as prolonged illness in the family, unexpected expenses due to fire or any other disaster of this nature, or seasonal unemployment and similar emergency situations.

"Parents who feel that their children may be eligible for free or reduced price lunches may apply any school day at the principal's office where their children are in attendance. Applications will be reviewed by the principal and parents will be notified within five days of the decision. If an application is turned down and the parent desires to appeal, he may appeal in person or in writing to Superintendent Alton Farr for a final decision.

"All applications will be handled privately and information will be kept strictly confidential. Children who receive free or reduced price lunches will be treated in the same manner as those who pay the full price for the lunch. Parents of children who now receive free or reduced price lunches must apply again before December 22, 1970 to comply with the new policy."

Lack Of Moisture Is Becoming A Problem

The Friona area is beginning to be in need of moisture, as official reports logged only .06 inch of moisture during the month of November.

Although the past couple of months have been ideal for harvest operations, the situation is getting serious.

Last rainfall of any proportions was a recording of .75 inch on October 15 and 16. November's rainfall was the lowest month for the calendar year, according to records tabulated by the City of Friona. May ran it a close second, with only .07 inch recorded that month; and February rang up a .20 inch total.

Truitt Edges Clark For Contest Title

"Always the bridesmaid but never the bride," was the way Jack Clark summed up his finish in the Friona Star's annual Cotton Bowl football contest, which wound up last week. Frank Truitt edged out Clark for the title, with 122 points to 121.

It marked the second year in a row for Clark to claim the runner-up spot, and the third time overall.

Truitt is the winner of two tickets to the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl Game, along with $30 in cash. Clark will receive two tickets to the Sun Bowl Game, and $25 in cash.

Benny Pryor, with a good finish, captured third place, and was awarded $17.50 in cash, the equivalent of two season tickets to the Friona Chieftain games.

Clark was actually happy with his second place finish, since he wanted to see the Texas Tech

Red Raiders meet Georgia Tech in that classic.

"But I was shooting for the top spot--and then I'd have asked Frank if he wanted to trade tickets," Clark said. In the final week, Clark trimmed one point off Truitt's lead, which was two points previously.

In last year's contest, Norman Mohr, a senior in Friona High School, edged out Clark, 128-127 for the title.

Last year, Clark was unable to attend the Sun Bowl game, and chose the cash equivalent instead of the tickets.

In this year's contest, three contestants tied with scores of 118, just out of the select top three. Two were students, Phillip Duggins and Trip Horton. The third was Ronald Dean Smiley.

The final weekly contest was won by W.R. Mabry, who iron-

SCHOOL STREET

Board Considers Paving Proposal

The Friona school board, at its last regular meeting, heard a parent committee which presented a request to consider paving a one-block area on Cleveland Street West of the Junior High Gymnasium.

The street is heavily traveled before and after school, and whenever it rains, tends to become a quagmire.

The board is now in the process of getting quotes as to what this would cost the school district. It also is looking into the possibility of running some sidewalk along the area.

In another item of business, the trustees discussed additional lighting for the high school, particularly the parking lot area, which is a dark area for after-school functions.

The annual school audit was presented and approved. Bernard Gowers, accountant, made the audit and report.

Tax assessor-collector Porter Roberts reported that collections on current taxes were running slightly behind the pace of a year ago. However, the total delinquent roll was reported to stand at only $10,027. This is considered good in light of the size of the school tax roll.

A new policy for additional free lunches was approved (see separate story elsewhere in this issue.) The school will be reimbursed an additional 30 cents from the state for the students who qualify for these free lunches.

Superintendent Alton Farr presented a schedule for the drug abuse laboratory, which the school will conduct for students in grades 8-12 and the community at large on a three-day planned schedule early in January.

Star Announces Two "Bonus" Grid Contests

By special arrangement with contest sponsors, the Friona Star is adding two "bonus" football contests during the month of December, with $30.00 in cash to be offered in each of the two contests.

The first contest appears in this week's edition, featuring the high school playoff games, the "big shoot out" between Texas and Arkansas and the four professional games considered most crucial of the stretch drive.

Prizes of $15 for first place, $10 for second, and $5 for third will be offered. No points will be tabulated since the results have no bearing on the Cotton Bowl contest which ended last week.

As usual, in case of ties, the tie-breaker scores will be used to break ties.

In the December 14 edition of the star, the second "bonus" contest will appear, and will feature all of the major bowl games. This will be a "first" for the local fans, and will tax their predicting prowess, and perhaps make the bowl season even more interesting.

The same prize structure will prevail in this second contest. Football fans are urged to take advantage of these extra contests, and perhaps win some Christmas shopping money.

Pause and Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

The following letter is being mailed to twenty-two people who, in one capacity or another, represent influential organizations.

Politicians, newspaper editors, museum directors, librarians, all have been invited to share the Prairie Prowler's dream.

Here is the letter—

The construction of dams along Running Water Draw is of prime importance to industrialists, agriculturists and conservationists.

I am in complete agreement with plans as outlined in recent news releases.

Running Water Draw is one of the few remaining "drainage ditches" of the last Ice Age and must be considered a treasure house of archaeological wealth.

Since time immemorial animals and early man traversed its length. In recent ages Indians used it as a highway to New Mexico: Coronado, the Texas-Santa Fe expedition, and modern pioneers and cattlemen found it to be a source of grass and water.

This letter is an earnest plea to you to use your influence in the preservation of the fossils and artifacts that will be exposed during the construction of the dams.

I have absolute proof that much important material has been excavated in this general area but never brought to the attention of those who would have delayed construction in the cause of science.

Please confirm the receipt of this letter and indicate your willingness to impose the necessary restrictions upon the contractors chosen to perform this work.

Yours for a better informed America,
Nelson Lewis

Not everyone will recognize the reasoning behind the broadcasting of such an epistle and for that reason let me refresh the memory of the casual reader.

To add the weight of authority, I will quote from the 1940 edition of the Panhandle Plains Historical Review: specifically mentioning an article by Mr. Frank Bryan of Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Bryan, a graduate of the university of Arkansas, chief geologist for Gulf Oil Company in Mexico, Captain in the A.E.F. in France and a founder of the Central Texas Archaeological Society.

As a writer he contributed to "American Antiquities" and "Texas Folklore Publications." Our old friend J. Frank Dobie calls him "one of the best story tellers in Texas."

Referring to our part of Texas Mr. Bryan states: "We learn many things from the Llano because it is a fixed land, an eternal land, a page from the past, a record reaching back into remote antiquity it reckoned from the time since our continent took on its present shape."

It is a library in which is recorded all that has happened since the beginning of the Ice Age, which came and went in a cloud of dust—and possibly eras before.

It is a book not yet read."

Those of us who have taken the time to prow the prairie know that our country is not flat: the western edge of our plain is about two thousand feet higher than the eastern edge, a slope of about 10 feet per mile.

Stated very simply the torrents generated by the melting of the last Ice Age coursed downhill scouring out deep canyons toward the Gulf of Mexico.

The Canadian River basin is one, the Pecos River in New Mexico is another, and in between Running Water Draw is the silted in remains of yet another.

A rushing stream picks up and carries along its course, rocks, trees, bones and other loose articles.

This rushing stream reaches flatter country and the debris sinks and remains in a more or less stable location, to be covered with dirt by the gentler rains to follow.

These are the articles that will be found underground along Running Water Draw.

In my amateurish way I hope I have presented a good case for using the utmost care in excavations along this ancient river.

How can we know where we are going if we don't know where we have been?

QUAKERTOWN, PA., FREE PRESS: "In all the dissension today between young and old, liberal and conservative, black and white, it is reassuring to some degree to take a long look back to our nation's beginnings. At the time of the American Revolution it is estimated by many historians that about one third of the colonists were against a split with England, about one third were for such a division, and the other third didn't really care which way the fledgling nation went. And in some ways, things haven't changed a great deal."

TORRINGTON, WYO., TELEGRAM: "A bill which passed the United States House of Representatives earlier this year is being given closer scrutiny by the Senate Finance Committee and well it should. Known as the Guaranteed Income Plan, the bill, if passed, will more than double the welfare recipients throughout the country. . . ."

A publication of the Oklahoma Gas & Electric Company noted that, "Out of every dollar of revenue received by investor-owned electric power companies, 22 cents is for Federal, state and local taxes, compared to 3.5 cents in taxes out of each dollar received by government-owned or financed power agencies."

In one recent year, some 1,600,000 persons were under care in public and private mental institutions, according to the National Association for Mental Health. Why not utilize your spare time by volunteering to help hospital personnel in their care?

Longhorn Stampede

By Mike Casey

The stampeding Longhorns of Lazbuddie brought their 1970 season to a close last Friday by trouncing the Turkey Turks, 56-6. The season mark for the 'Horns is 9 wins against one loss. That defeat came at the hands of the Matador Matadors by a 14-8 count. The Turks finished with a 2-8 mark.

Ricky Seaton started things off for the 'Horns by plunging one yard in the first stanza. In the second quarter Seaton once again found the end zone this time on a 22 yard overland jaunt. The Longhorns struck for another touchdown late in the second quarter when Roy Flores deflected an attempted Turkey aerial into the arms of Thomas Kirvin. Kirvin promptly returned the ball 30 yards for the score.

As the third quarter opened, the 'Horns wasted little time in finding paydirt. Arthur Graves ran 23 yards for a touchdown on the fourth play from scrimmage. Graves again was credited with a tally in the third period of play on a 50 yard sprint through a maze of Turkey defenders.

As the last quarter got underway the Turks turned desperately to go to the air. Mark Barnes alertly picked off an aerial and returned it 48 yards for a touchdown. Lazbuddie scored twice more in the fourth quarter. Arthur Graves was credited with a 68 yard scamper and Mike Casey grabbed a 20 yard pass from Ricky Seaton.

The 'Horns racked up 523 yards. They gained 458 yards on the overland route and 65 through the air. Turkey was credited with 108 yards rushing and 32 through the air. Arthur Graves rushed for 217 yards to lead Longhorn rushers. Mark Barnes picked up 122 yards, Ricky Seaton 76 yards and Mike Casey, 43 yards.

Xmas Mailing Tips

Given By Postmaster

Christmas mail is starting to move says postmaster Wright Williams and some more tips on mailing that should be brought to the attention of mailers are: Wrap and tie packages securely, address plainly and include ZIP CODE in both your return and to the office to which mailed. You are allowed to enclose a list of articles that are in your package and an address inside also, so that if package becomes damaged in shipping it can still be forwarded on to the right party. Be sure that labels are attached firmly and will not come loose when used as addresses. Address only one side of the package.

On greeting cards the postage is .06¢ per ounce and please seal them as the postage is the same on sealed and unsealed greeting cards and whether out of town or local the postage is still .06¢ per ounce and .10¢ per ounce airmail. Be sure to have your return address on these cards so that if they are not delivered as addressed they will be returned to you.

A big help to us locally is to mail early in the day so that we will not have a large volume of mail late in the afternoon as our time is limited in getting the mail ready before our truck gets here. Please assort your mail to local or out-of-town and a rubber band around the letters is a great help to us also.

Our song this year is TRY TO REMEMBER THESE DATES IN DECEMBER:

December 1--Mail parcels to distant areas. December 10--mail greeting cards to distant areas. December 15--mail greeting cards to local addresses.

Do all these things and I will assure you that we will do our very best in the postal department to get all Christmas parcels and mail delivered by Christmas Day states postmaster Williams.

Smith Issues Decree For Big Game

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith issued a proclamation today declaring a special red hog quarantine zone to cover the entire Texas as end of the gridiron for Saturday's game with Arkansas.

"During that (afternoon) it shall be strictly prohibited for red mountain hogs to run, pass or kick at large within the confines of said quarantine zone as herein described, under penalties of the law and this proclamation; and it is so ordered," Smith said.

The governor noted that "the bite of an angry red hog will incapacitate its victim until after New Year's Day." An Arkansas victory would put the Razorbacks in the Cotton Bowl instead of Texas.

Smith handed the proclamation to UT Coach Darrell Royal and captains Bobby Wuensch, Bill Zapalao and Scott Henderson. The other captain, Steve Worster, had to attend class, Wuensch said.

The UT coaches and players were designated in the proclamation as special hog wardens for the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Ministers Announce Offering Amount

It was announced this week that the offering received by the Friona Ministerial Alliance at last week's community Thanksgiving Service came to $158.60.

"This will be used in the program of assistance of those who are in need of help as they pass through the community, and in some instances to assist some who are in need within our community," said Rev. Albert Lindley, spokesman for the alliance. He urged that residents contact any minister in Friona when they want to help someone get needed assistance.

"The Friona Ministerial Alliance would like to express its gratefulness to the community for the very fine expression of care and concern that was made evident by this offering," concluded Rev. Lindley.

Rev. Albert Lindley, pastor of Friona United Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker at the Thursday afternoon meeting of Friona Young Home-makers.

His theme will be "The True Meaning of Christmas." His talk will be followed by vocal selections by The Trebelaires under direction of Mrs. Roy V. Miller Sr.

The meeting which will begin at 4 p.m. in the Friona School Cafeteria, will be open to the public.

Mrs. Roy O'Brian, president, cordially invites anyone in the area to attend.

RECORD REVERSED

Chiefs Rebound With Pair Of Cage Wins

The Friona Chieftains bounced back for a pair of wins after an opening game loss to post a 2-1 basketball record prior to Tuesday's game at Farwell.

The Chiefs rallied for a hair-raising 59-57 win at Springlake last Tuesday, and then upended highly-regarded Adrian, 36-33 in a game here Monday.

In the Springlake game, Friona came back from a 33-21 deficit to pull the game out of the fire. Sophomore Johnny Bandy's jump shot with 15 seconds gave the Chiefs their winning points.

Bandy led the scoring with 22 points. Springlake led 17-14 after a quarter, and had the 33-21 half-time edge before Friona scored 23 points in the third quarter to pull even at 44-all.

In the game here Monday, the Chiefs played steady basketball in downing the perennially tough Adrian team by three points. Friona again got off to a shaky start, trailing 9-4 after one quarter, and 19-15 at the half. Again a good third quarter rallied the Chiefs into a 28-27 lead entering the final eight minutes.

Bandy's 15 points paced the team in scoring.

7th Grade Tops Tulia

The Seventh grade boys won their first basketball game of the season by downing Tulia 30-21.

Tulia got on the board first and led 5-0 before Davy Carthel hit for Friona with 2:36 left in the first quarter.

David Barnett hit a free throw and Carthel hit two more field goals to put Friona in the lead at the end of the quarter, 7-5. Tulia made the first point in the second quarter on a free throw to make it 7-6, but that was all for them in the half, while Friona made nine more to make it 16-6 at the half.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 25-15. Tulia pulled within 7, 26-19 with 2:46 left in the game, but Friona hung onto their lead and won, 30-21.

Friona went ahead in the second overtime but went behind 40-34 with 44 seconds left. This was the longest lead either team ever had in the game.

Bill Fallwell made a basket with 35 seconds left but that was all we could get and the game ended with Tulia ahead, 40-36.

Eighth Grade Wins Opener

The eighth grade boys kept up their winning ways by beating Tulia in their first basketball game of the season 48-18.

Kevin Welch started the scoring with five seconds gone in the game, on a field goal. Dale Cleveland made the second one and Welch made two more and a free throw before Tulia got on the board on a free throw with 2:42 left in the first quarter.

Friona hit three more field goals and two free throws while Tulia made one more free throw. Score at the end of the first quarter was 15-2.

Friona scored 14 points to Tulia's 10 in the second quarter and 12 to Tulia's one in the third quarter.

Friona only scored seven in the fourth quarter but still beat Tulia as they only scored five. Friona's longest lead was 34 points with 2:37 left in the game at 48-14.

Are You Running Low On Wheat Pasture? Hi-Plains Feed Yard offers many important advantages!

Some of the outstanding features of our custom feeding facilities and services are typical of top-flight modern yards. Some, we think, are unique. We'll be happy to visit with you personally, explaining in complete detail why your cattle are so well-off being fed at Hi-Plains. Here are a few big reasons:

Hi-Plains Feed Yard is equipped with the finest, most modern milling and feeding machinery available. Extensive use of electronic controls, gauges and scales assures extreme precision in weighing, mixing, and dispensing all rations, which are analyzed twice weekly for complete certainty that protein level, moisture content, and percentages of minerals, fats and carbohydrates are exactly correct. Raw materials are constantly checked to meet our high standards; any failing to do so are returned to the supplier. Flaked milo is checked throughout the day for consistency. And rations are formulated by one of the world's foremost nutritionists, Harvey Richardson.

All cattle coming into our yards receive our personal attention from arrival throughout the fattening period and right onto the trucks when they're sold. Pens, water troughs, bunks and alleys are designed for one purpose: to fatten cattle as rapidly, efficiently, profitably as possible. Men in charge of your cattle have been in the business most or all of their adult lives. They know what they're doing and are actively concerned with keeping your cattle in optimum condition for best feedlot performance. Pens are fitted with sprinklers to reduce dust and heat stress; they are sprayed frequently to keep down flies; and good men are inspecting them every day. Fresh arrivals are given what we think is a uniquely protective, effective introduction to the feeding regimen. Our death loss is extremely light.

Ration costs at Hi-Plains are kept at a minimum not only because we're surrounded by the biggest milo producing region in the world, not to mention vast local production of other feedstuffs, but also by virtue of our purchasing and warehousing procedures and facilities. Again we'd like to emphasize: Rations are precisely mixed and fed according to formulations by a renowned authority on animal nutrition.

Hi-Plains Feed Yard is favorably located not only with regard to feedstuff supplies, climate, and transportation advantages, but also with respect to market outlets. The world's biggest packing houses have major plants almost in the shadow of our mill. Examples:

- Swift & Company — 35 miles
- Missouri Beef Packers, Inc. — 3 miles
- Wilson & Company — 23 miles

We'd like to visit with you personally about our feeding program. In lieu of that, we take this means of giving you some idea of our splendid operation, meanwhile extending a cordial invitation to visit us whenever you can.

Wheat Producers Set Convention

The Twentieth Annual Convention of the Texas Wheat Producers Association has been set for December 12, in Amarillo. Leo Witkowski, Hereford, President of the statewide farmer organization, said that all sessions will be held at the Holiday Inn West beginning at 10:00 a.m. and are scheduled to end by 3:00 p.m.

Parmer County is the sixth largest wheat producing county in the state.

Frank Zinzer is president of the Deaf Smith County unit, and a director to the Texas Wheat Producers Assn. There is no county organization in Parmer County.

FRANK ZINZER

Witkowski said that the theme of the meeting is "Signposts to the Seventies" and that Texas wheat's future will get a close look by an array of state, national and international wheat leaders speaking to the group. He pointed out that wheat is a $100 million cash grain crop in Texas and that its use for cattle grazing and backgrounding adds about that much more to its economic value in a twenty-five county Panhandle and Rolling Plains area.

Possible opportunities for wheat producers through use of the "Texas Agricultural Commodity Act of 1969" will be outlined by Dr. William Black, Texas A & M University. Through use of provisions of the act, producers of peanuts, turkeys, grain sorghum and soybeans have initiated stepped-up research and promotion programs for their commodities.

Future legislation and government administrative policies that may affect wheat and wheat producers will be reviewed from a good advantage point by Jerry Rees, Executive Vice President of NAWGA, Washington, D.C. Rees is the national representative for wheat producers and their organizations from across the country.

After a business session and election of officers for 1971, the one day convention will adjourn. The Texas Wheat Producers Association was founded in 1950 and has made continuing contribution to producers income by exercising influence in State, National and International public and organizational policies on wheat matters. New Markets search and insect and weed control research programs have been other areas of association work on behalf of growers.

Wheat policies developed by Texas producers at the December 12 meeting will be taken to the annual meeting of the National Association Wheat Growers meeting in Portland, Oregon, January 5-9, by the TWPA officers.

Sugarbeet Hearing Is Set For December 14

One of a series of public hearings on wage rates and prices for 1971 crop sugarbeets will be held at San Antonio, Texas at John F. Kennedy High School Auditorium on December 14, 1970, beginning at 9:00 a.m., according to Louis Welch, Chairman Parmer County ASCS.

Any person who wishes to may present his views on sugarbeet wages and prices for the 1971 crop, Mr. Welch said. "This definitely includes farm workers, as well as producers, processors, and any other interested persons," he said.

To be heard on the matters under consideration, a person need only appear at the time the hearing opens and say that he wants to testify.

Sincerely Yours
BY REV. ALBERT LINDLEY

Probably most of us made it through Thanksgiving without too many extra pounds (7) and now we need to start thinking about the next great "day" in our lives.

Some of you may have some special "days" between now and then, via births, weddings, days of new realizations--etc., but many others are thinking about Christmas already . . . and well they might since this past Sunday was the first Sunday in Advent.

But don't let us forget Thanksgiving too quickly--nor forget it at all.

I was a part of a community worship service the night before Thanksgiving, right here in Friona, that thrilled me to the heights. (Now for a preacher to say that when he didn't do the preaching is really something!) But if you were there, you know what I mean. Not only the service was something but we were all together (St. Teresa's almost filled) and we were joining in a community expression of Thanksgiving. It was great!

Now for Christmas.

Now is the proper time--at least for the merchants, family plans, demands and all that are so quickly upon us--but you know, Christmas isn't something one can observe by waiting until Christmas day. To approach it with that attitude is to miss the whole point.

There is preparation that must point toward the magnificent act of God's concern for mankind. Boy, with something this great it simply can't be forced into one single day . . .

So much of our preparation is absorbed with our plans and problems. . . what to get for Aunt Mary and who gets the cards this year? (You should alternate your list so that this year you will send them to those who sent to you last year and you forgot. . .)

.. Shall we change our usual decoration pattern or should we do something else? . . .

See, we can easily get caught up into the real complexity of the "Yuletide Season" and forget its real purpose and meaning.

This is a time of benevolent thinking and action and I wish that the spirit of Christmas might some times linger a little longer than the usual time for the New Year's hang over. . .

Can you imagine how it would be if we sought to live the whole year with the same affection that is so dominant during this month?

May I make a suggestion? During the days and weeks ahead, try to be conscious of your personal approach to everyone. See if it doesn't soften, somewhat. See if maybe you are not just a little more forgiving and more understanding than you were last month. Be honest with yourself and check this out. . .

Probably there are many of us who would not want to agree to this and would say, "I'm my sweet, lovable, patient self, year 'round." Really? Do you know that there are more benevolent programs and askings at this time of the year simply because it is the nature of people to be more benevolent with their giving?

And believe you me, this is great and I'm glad that it is that way and can be counted upon--but my contention is that we not stop what we have going for us but that the true Spirit of Christmas, the real purpose that it expresses for us is something that would also be meaningful for the whole year.

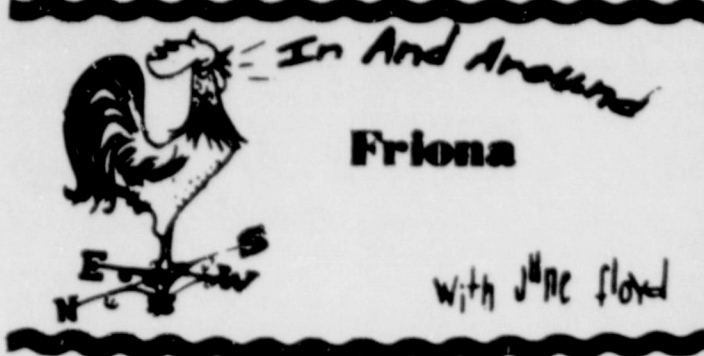

Joan of Arc in Bernard Shaw's play cries out, "O God, if only the beginning of your kingdom would come. . . if only we could see the dawn of your kingdom beginning to break."

But, for us, the birth of Jesus IS the dawn of that new day coming and now we are able to live in response to it and what it can say to us today.

Now back to the main thought and final statement. . . May your days of preparation be fulfilling, rewarding, and may they have proper moments of spiritual enrichment through your searching. . . then indeed, for you this will be a MERRY CHRIST-DAY!

Recently we had an interesting item concerning a farmer's wife and, now, someone comes up with a definition of a farmer. I like it very much. It goes like this:

DEFINITION OF A FARMER

A farmer is a paradox. He is an over all executive with his home as his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old straw hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa, amino acids and antibiotics; a production expert with a surplus and a business manager caught in a price-cost squeeze.

He manages more capital than most business men in town. He likes sunshine, good food, State Fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his neighbors, his shirt collar unbuttoned, and above all, good soaking rains at certain times of the year.

A farmer is usually found in his fields. His wife often helps him there. Little boys follow him. The USDA confuses him. City relatives visit him. Salesmen detain him. But, it takes Heaven to stop him.

He's your friend, your source of food, fiber and self reliant young citizens to help replenish your cities. He is your countryman-deni dressed, business-wise, fast growing statesman of stature.

And, when he comes in at noon after having spent the energy of his hopes and dreams, he can be recharged anew with the magic words, "The Market's Up."

Next week none of us really need to clean house nor to bake delicacies for the weekend. We can just let the Rainbow Girls do our house cleaning for reasonable fees and go to the Rebekah Bake Sale for our cakes, pies, cookies or whatever we want in that line.

Kathy McLean will be taking calls for workers for any kind of house work you need to have done.

Some of Friona's best cooks are members of the Rebekah Lodge and you can have special orders baked by calling 247-3264. The sale will be Wednesday, December 9, at Bi-Wize Drug. Proceeds of the sale will go into the fund for heating equipment for Oddfellows Hall.

Divorce statistics are frightening to most of us. Most experts who are really supposed to know about such things are of the opinion that "so goes the home, so goes the nation." Based upon that saying the statistics are even more frightening.

A few years ago a Chicago judge named Joseph Sabath compiled a list of ten commandments for a successful marriage. Maybe if each of us would make a serious study of them, try to apply them to our own lives then teach our children to do likewise, we might be able to change the statistics.

- Here are the judge's commandments.
1. Bear and forbear.
 2. Work together--grow up together.
 3. Avoid little quarrels--the big ones will take care of themselves.
 4. Compromise (give and take)--it is the anti-toxin for divorce.
 5. Practice sympathy, good humor and mutual understanding.
 6. Don't grouch before breakfast--or after it.
 7. Respect your "in-laws" but don't criticize them or take criticism from them.
 8. Establish your own home--even in a one room flat.
 9. Fight for each other--but not with each other.
 10. Build your home on religious faith, with love and forgiveness as the watchword.

Let's all attend the formal opening of Friona State Bank's new building between one-thirty and five-thirty Saturday afternoon.

Would you be surprised to know that the television industry is of the opinion that for each letter received 1,000 people are represented? I was. I'm wondering if that rule would apply to the newspaper business. We would like to think that for each complimentary letter we get we have 1,000 satisfied readers, but wouldn't like to think of that ratio when we receive letters of complaint.

Unhappiness is not knowing what we want and killing ourselves to get it.

HISTORY TRACED

Friona State Bank Opened In 1908

NEW BUILDING. . . This is the exterior view of Friona State Bank's modern new building, which combines the very latest in banking styles and techniques. Open house will be held on Saturday, from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

ENDS AN ERA. . . The location for Friona State Bank for the past 20 years, at Seventh and Main, is shown above. In the photo are Friona city manager A.L. Outland, bank board chairman A.L. Black, Mayor R.L. Fleming and president Frank A. Spring. The bank has deeded the building to the City of Friona for use as a City Hall upon their moving.

Friona State Bank traces its beginning to June 1, 1908, when George C. Wright, owner of the George G. Wright Land Company, opened the first bank in Friona.

The bank, which opened as First State Bank, was first located in a wooden frame building at the corner of Sixth and Main Streets, at the same location where Friona Federal Credit Union is located today.

D.W. McMillan managed the bank for Wright, who served as bank president, although he did not live in Friona.

The land developer sold the bank to A.W. Henschel, who was working for the George G. Wright Land Company as early as 1908. Henschel had been in the Goodwine home in Indiana before they moved to Texas.

Henschel went to work for the bank in Friona around 1910 or 1911. He bought it from Wright in 1919, and became its second president.

Construction on the red brick building at Fifth and Main had begun in 1909, and it was occupied during 1910. This building became the bank's second home, and housed the operation for the next 40 years of its history.

Henschel was killed in an automobile wreck on September 22, 1926, the day after the bank suffered its first armed robbery. On January 31, 1927, Margaret M. Henschel, his widow, became the bank's third president.

On July 22, 1930, Bruce McLean bought out Mrs. Henschel, thus effecting the third ownership, and he became the bank's fourth president. E. B. (Es) Nobles was cashier and ran the bank for McLean. He is not connected with the bank at Dimmitt.

McLean's sons, Charlie and Bob also worked for the bank. Charlie was in charge following Nobles. Bob is now president of the bank at Dimmitt.

Other bank officers during the 1930s got their start in the banking business here, and later made their claim to fame in other cities. Jesse Osborn worked for the bank as cashier for a time, until the McLeans bought the bank.

Osborn had moved to the Friona area as a farmer. When he went to work for the bank, he turned the farming operation over to his brother Claude. Jesse Osborn later was to become president of the Muleshoe State Bank, and also served several terms as state representative for the 72nd Legislative District.

G.D. (Gabe) Anderson, who today is president of the Security State Bank at Farwell, also worked as cashier at Friona State Bank. He had known Osborn when they both lived in Arkansas. They first bought stock in the bank in 1925.

After the McLeans owned and operated the bank for 14 years, Sloan H. Osborn bought controlling interest on April 4, 1944. He served as inactive president, the company's fifth president.

In 1949, forty years after the bank's first brick building was begun, work was started on the building which today stands at Seventh and Main. The bank moved into this building, and held open house

ORIGINAL BUILDING. . . The above building, which was located at Sixth and Main Streets, where Friona Credit Union is located today, was the first location of Friona State Bank, which opened its doors as First State Bank on June 1, 1908. SPRING ONCE WAS "SUSPECT"

Friona Bank Robbed On Three Occasions

Bank robbery is a crime which has been dramatized all the way from the old western movies to the more up-to-date "cops and robbers" flicks.

And, in reality, most banks of any age have experienced at least an attempt at the illicit removal of their cash.

Friona State Bank has experienced three robberies in its history, but the last one was over 34 years ago. The amount of money taken in the robberies ranged from only $95 to $3,713. Robbers were apprehended in two of the hold-ups, and convicted of their crimes.

The bank was first robbed early in the morning of Monday, September 21, 1926. A.W. Henschel, president; G. D. Anderson, cashier; and Jesse M. Osborn, assistant cashier, were the only ones in the bank when three armed men entered the building (at Fifth and Main) at about 9:20 a.m.

One robber took charge of the door and the other two covered the bank officials. Anderson and Osborn each responded to the admonition to "Put 'em up" but Henschel failed to act until a third admonition with a gun placed in front of him, convinced him that the intruders were serious.

During this time, three customers arrived in the bank—A. B. Cole, a farmer living at the edge of town; Roy C. Cox, a garage operator, and Mrs. R.O. Sampley.

The robbers tied up Osborn and Anderson with their hands behind their backs, and ordered Henschel to open the safe, or they'd "blow his head off." Henschel told them to "blow away," for he could not open the safe, as the time lock was on.

The robber then ordered Henschel into the vault and closed the door. The men took what money was in sight, which amounted to about $95 being only what had been taken in after closing time Saturday evening and earlier that Monday morning.

After the robbers left, the bank officials pushed open the vault door, which had not been securely fastened, and spread the alarm. Within a few minutes, high-powered cars filled with armed men went out in all directions, in pursuit of the bandits. However, they were unable to sight them, or to even be certain they were on their trail, according to an account in the Friona Star.

On Wednesday of the following week, Henschel, Anderson and Roy Cox went to Amarillo in an effort to identify two men whom Amarillo officials thought might have been implemented in the robbery.

Upon their return from Amarillo, the car driven by Mr. Henschel overturned near Sumnerfield and he was killed.

Nine months later, on Friday, June 3, 1927, the bank was robbed again. This time the robbery happened during the noon hour. Mrs. Carl (Luella) Maurer recalls that two men were inside the bank, and one was outside. The Maurers lived across the street south of the bank.

Mrs. Maurer said she noticed a fellow out front, sitting on the bicycles of her children. She inquired what he wanted, and he said he was "just looking around."

The two men who entered the bank found Jesse M. Osborn, assistant cashier, alone in the building. They forced Osborn to open the safe, removed $3,713.30 in cash and escaped.

One of the bandits wore a mask, and it was he who forced Osborn to the rear of the bank at the point of a gun. Two customers, Floyd T. Schlenker, and a second man who was unidentified, entered the bank during the robbery, and they, with Osborn, were locked in the vault where they were found about thirty minutes later by G.D. Anderson, when he returned from lunch.

Following the robbery, Carl

Maurer and others gave chase in their cars. They followed the bandits northwest of town, following the tracks in the dirt, to the breaks west of Vega, at a place known as "Mohair Canyon."

They were unable to locate the men, but did find money sacks and wrappers, where the bandits evidently divided the money. It was later learned that one of the bandits had a gun pointed at Maurer, and would have shot him had he come any closer to his hiding place behind a rock.

Red Cummings was arrested within three weeks in El Paso. He was tried and convicted of taking part in the robbery, and sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary.

Jim Bryant was also arrested, tried, and received 14 years in jail.

Many years later, E.G. Gonsler of Friona was on a hunting trip to New Mexico and was directed to a stable in Santa Fe when he needed to leave his horses overnight.

The man running the stable, and leather goods store, upon finding out Gonsler was from Friona, is said to have told him "I robbed the bank in Friona once." He said he learned leather work while in prison, and had gone into business in Santa Fe.

Friona State Bank was robbed the third time on Monday, June 29, 1936, at about 3:30 in the afternoon. Two armed men entered the bank. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McLean, Orma White (Filippin) bookkeeper, and Hugh P. Lee, a customer.

Orma was in the back, doing her posting work, and did not know what was going on at first.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean, Lee and Orma were forced to the back and asked to lie down. Having corralled the employees into the back, the intruder announced, "This is a hold-up." He then proceeded to rifle the cash drawer of its contents, and asked McLean to go into the vault and get all the money it contained.

McLean did as he was told, but not knowing where all the money had been placed that morning, missed some of it. There was in the vault what the bank called its "dummy" bag, filled with packages of worthless papers, and this bag was handed over to the stick-up man.

The men then left, having with them $964 in actual money.

Less than a week later, Fort Worth police arrested two escaped convicts after a high-speed chase and an accident in which one of the men was hurt. When captured, the two had with them over $600 in cash and practically all the travelers checks which had been taken from Friona State Bank.

One of the men, Herbert Alvin Stanley, had been serving a 99-year sentence in Huntsville for a 1930 murder in Fort Worth. The other man was T. C. Britton. He also had a criminal record.

The two men were tried and sentenced to prison terms in Alcatraz by a Federal court in Amarillo.

By co-incidence, Frank A. Spring, the current bank president, had quit his job at the bank four days prior to the robbery, for another job. F.B.I. men investigating the robbery asked Spring about the "circumstances of his leaving."

Spring said he was a relieved man when the bank robbers were caught.

1950 STAFF. . . This was the entire staff of Friona State Bank on March 3, 1950, when open house was held for the company's building at Seventh and Main. From the left are Frank A. Spring, Charles E. Allen, Lola Goodwine, Mrs. John Terry, Jane Williams and Eva Lou Rector.

Deposits Show Growth Of Bank In 60 Years

An idea of how Friona State Bank has grown in its 62-year history can be seen by a comparison of deposit figures picked at ten-year intervals, beginning at 1910.

Sixty years ago this week, on November 30, 1910, deposits at the bank stood at $10,811.44.

On the same date ten years later, November 30, 1920, the amount of money on deposit had increased to $88,772.02.

By November 30, 1930, this figure had grown by over $100,000 to $188,986.85.

Date	Amount On Dep.
November 30, 1910	$ 10,811.44
November 30, 1920	88,772.02
November 30, 1930	188,986.85
November 30, 1940	248,559.05
November 30, 1950	2,025,231.61
November 30, 1960	4,464,896.55
November 30, 1970	12,004,856.59

After another decade, on November 30, 1940, the amount on deposit at Friona State Bank was $248,559.05.

On November 30, 1950, just eight months after the bank moved to its Seventh and Main Street location, deposits had grown to a more respectable $2,025,231.61.

This steady growth continued during the decade of the 1950s, until on November 30, 1960, there was on deposit at the bank $4,464,896.55.

PAST DIRECTORS. . . Directors and their wives were photographed on March 3, 1950 at the open house of Friona State Bank's location it is about to vacate. From the left are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spring, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Osborn.

Spring Has Been Associated With Friona Bank Since 1931

Frank A. Spring, president of Friona State Bank, has been associated with the bank since 1931, with eight years away from the bank while pursuing other business interests.

Spring, who grew up in Parmer County, holds the distinction of having the first registered birth certificate in Parmer County. He received his BA degree from Texas Tech in 1930.

"They started me out at $60 per month. Although this doesn't sound like much, they said it was $10 more than any previous new employee had started at. I suppose this was because of my college degree," chuckles Spring in remembering his early employment.

At the time Spring went to work for the bank, there were only three employees. E.B. "Es" Nobles was the lending officer and manager, Orma (White) Filippin was teller, and Spring was bookkeeper.

"I worked most days until dark, posting the accounts after bank closing hours. I could tell most people their balance without much trouble," Spring says.

The bank president recalls the working conditions in those early days with the bank, at the old red brick building at Fifth and Main. "When we'd have one of those bad sand storms, the dust would sift in the doors and windows and it would be so dusty in the back where I worked that you could hardly see," he states.

It also was recalled that there was only one electrical outlet in the back part of the building. An extension line laid on the floor, and as expected, often was kicked or stepped on. One day it wore through, and the sparks fairly flew, but damage to the building was minor.

After working five years at the bank and advancing to assistant cashier and number two man in the organization, Spring resigned in 1936 to accept a position with International Harvester Company as a collector.

Spring's resignation turned out to be ill-timed, as four days after he left, the bank experienced a holdup, in which $3,713 was taken.

"FBI representatives questioned me closely as to the circumstances of my leaving the bank," says Spring. The holdup men were caught within a month, and Spring says he was never more relieved in his life.

After three years with the L-H Company and a year as manager of the Chevrolet Agency in Muleshoe, Spring returned to Friona to buy out Dan Ethridge's insurance agency in 1940. When Ethridge returned to the city as a partner, Spring came back to the bank, in 1944.

Spring returned as cashier after Sloan Osborn purchased the interests of the McLeans in the bank. Spring also ran the bank, as Osborn did not take an active part in the management.

Within time, Spring was elevated to vice-president of the institution, and then on January 16, 1959, became the bank's sixth president, with Osborn continuing as chairman of the board.

Spring has been active in community affairs. He is a past president of both the Chamber of Commerce and Friona Lions Club. He was honored as "Man of the Year" by the Chamber in 1965. Spring has served as local United Fund drive chairman.

The bank president was appointed to the State Finance Commission by former Governor Allan Shivers, and served for seven years. He was on the Independent Bankers Association's Rural America committee for five years.

The likable bank executive has seen the local bank grow from the staff of three when he first went to work to one of 21 at the present time.

And, when he moves into his plush office in the beautiful new building, those days of the dust hampering his work should be all but forgotten.

MARVIN KNEDLER

Architect's Designs Are Award-Winners

When Friona State Bank selected architect Marvin E. Knedler of Denver to design its new building, the bank officials knew that its new building facility would be one of modern, functional design.

The Denver architect has won several awards on his building designs from national professional organizations.

Among the buildings Knedler has designed in the immediate area are the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building and the Citizens National Bank Building, both in Clovis.

Friona's bank building is the first to be designed by the architect in Texas.

Along with interior designer Don Alvarado of Denver, who designed the interior of the new bank, Knedler designed the first

"sit-down" teller bank in the United States a few years ago. (Continued on Page 7)

EX-PILOT

Allen Logs 24 Years With Friona Bank

Charles Allen, vice president, has been with Friona State Bank for the past 24 years.

A Naval aviator during World War II, Allen was released to inactive duty from the U.S. Marine Corps in January of 1946 with the rank of captain.

He began work at Friona State Bank in March of 1946 as a bookkeeper. He was elected assistant cashier in 1948; moved up to cashier in January of 1951, and was made a director in the bank in January of 1957.

BANK EXECUTIVES, . . . Frank A. Spring, seated, and Charles Allen, who between them have been with Friona State Bank over 55 years, are shown going over an item of business during the course of a day's activities. Spring, president, and Allen, vice president, have seen the bank grow tremendously in their tenure with the local institution.

Allen was named vice president and cashier in January of 1959, and was elected as vice president in January of this year.

The bank vice president has been very active in church and civic work.

He was elected mayor of Friona on April 2, 1952, and served two terms. He was the youngest man to ever serve as mayor here, being 32 when he was elected.

Allen is past president, and also served as secretary and treasurer at various times, of Friona Lions Club. He served as zone chairman for Lions District 21-1 in 1954-55, and that same year was Master of Friona Lodge #1332.

He has served two separate terms as a director to the Friona Chamber of Commerce, and served as its president in 1968.

A member of the First Baptist Church, Allen has served as music director for the church since 1948, except for the times when the church has had a full-time director.

He completed two American Institute of Banking courses, and graduated from the School of Banking, University of Wisconsin, in 1957.

Bank Pioneering Sit-Down Tellers

At the time, over a year ago, when Friona State Bank made the decision to use the "sit down" teller system, there were only three banks in the entire United States that were using this banking approach.

Thus, Friona State Bank is getting in on the "ground floor" of this innovation, which early tests proved to be popular with customers.

Another new innovation which the bank will use is the Tel-Air system for drive-up customers. This system uses pneumatic tubes, a refinement of the system pioneered by the J.C. Penney Company. The bank is the first in this general area to install this type of drive-up service.

(For further details on the drive-up system, see separate story.)

NEW FEATURE. . . Viewed from the exit side, the new drive-up department at Friona State Bank reveals a new concept in drive-in banking--the use of a kiosk (pneumatic tube) type of service, without having a teller window for the second lane. A third and fourth lane could be added later, should business ever demand.

View of the Tel-Air teller control station. Conveniently located between the carrier receiving rack, dispatch ports, and audio control console. Notice the clear, unobstructed view the tellers have of customers banking in the drive-up area.

Drive-Up System Is New Concept

Motor banking will assume a new dimension when Friona State Bank officially opens for business on Monday, December 7. The bank will use a new Tel-Air system for drive-up customers.

The building, which is designed to accommodate drive-up or walk-up customers, is located on a spacious site affording customers ample parking plus convenient access to the drive-up area.

Customers banking by car can select one of two lanes at the present time. The drive-up department is constructed so that an additional lane can be opened at a later date if necessary.

Customer kiosk units in each lane place deposits in the carriers and drop them into the kiosk dispatch ports for transport to the tellers.

Tellers are seated in an elevated control station which enables them to have a complete view of all drive-up stations. Kiosks are so located that the customers can be seen from both teller positions when cars are at either station. The kiosk is low enough so that the driver has a perfect view of the control station and the tellers inside.

With Tel-Air, transactions are handled more readily than in a conventional teller operation. There is no leaning or stretching to count out change and currency to the customer. Everything is at the teller's fingertips.

Each teller has an audio console which enables her to switch the inter-communications system to any customer's kiosk. The teller simply removes the carrier from the receiving rack between the tellers, processes the transaction, then drops it into a sending port for return to the customer.

The carriers and dispatch units are color coded to prevent dispatching to the wrong customer. Under this arrangement, one teller can operate two lanes, rather than taking two tellers as under the previous arrangement.

Also, the drive-up banking department is at the rear of the bank and the lot, which should eliminate any traffic hazard which might otherwise develop on Highway 60, such as occasionally happens at the bank's present drive-up location off Seventh Street.

Also located in the sheltered drive-up area is an after-hours depository. The unit, which will accept both envelope and bag deposits, is lighted at night for the convenience and safety of the customers.

We are happy to have had the opportunity to design, color scheme and supply the complete interior of the new Friona State Bank building. We wish the best of future success to this fine firm.

INSIDE OLD BANK. . . This photograph shows the lobby of the old Friona State Bank building at Fifth and Main, contrasting the high cage-type teller windows, both with those which the bank has used at its location for the past 20 years, and the new, modern sit-down system which will be featured at the new bank.

CHARLIE McLEAN ran the bank in Friona for many years for his father Bruce, the owner. The McLean family is still prominent in the banking business, at the Dimmitt bank.

BANK PRESIDENTS. . . Shown above are three men who have served as president of Friona State Bank during the past 40 years of its 62-year history. Bruce McLean was president from 1930 to 1944; Sloan Osborn from 1944 to 1959; and Frank Spring has held the office since 1959.

Bank History . . .

on March 4, 1950. Frank A. Spring, who ran the bank for Osborn from the time he bought into the business, became its sixth president on January 16, 1959.

In 1968, a group bought out Osborn's interest in the bank, with Spring continuing as president.

A contract for a modern, new bank building was awarded to High Plains Building Company in February of this year, and groundbreaking ceremonies for the new facility was held on February 7.

The fourth home for Friona State Bank, and one of the most beautiful and modern facilities to be found in any city of any size, will be occupied and shown to the public for the first time on December 5, 1970.

in California. Friona State Bank was only the fourth bank in the country to adopt this unique style.

The new bank is a combination of Spanish and western styles, and features a design which should be "modern" for years to come.

The interior, which includes carpet throughout the business area, features desks and furniture which were custom made for the bank by Alvarado.

Visitors to the new facility are expected to agree that the pair have combined to give Friona a banking facility that will become a showplace for this area.

EARLY FRIONA. . . This picture, made about 1901 looking north from the Santa Fe Depot, shows a group of people at the depot, probably a group from the Midwest on one of the George G. Wright tour trains. Wright was the early development leader for the Friona area, and also established the first bank. Prospective land buyers were brought to Friona twice monthly in special trains by Wright, and whisked off in

ON YOUR NEW BUILDING

We are pleased to have done the heating and cooling work on the new Bank building. We congratulate Friona State Bank on choosing Trane equipment, the newest and most modern equipment for heating and cooling. The new bank building's heating and cooling system is fully automatic, and is controlled pneumatically by Johnson controls. It is so arranged that one department of the bank can have cool air, while another receives heat. The temperature will not vary more than two degrees throughout the building.
