FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR

Parking Pattern Altered On Main

Twenty-three degree angular parking has come to the downtown section of Cross Plains. Texas Highway personnel began striping pavement Tuesday to facilitate the new plan. Merchants and business people are particularly pleased with the arrangement. It had been first rumored that parallel parking would be required here as State Highway 206 was completed through the city.

The "flat angle" pattern — the same as is employed in the business section of Abilene — makes parking easy and presents no problem with high curbs. Cost of original pavement painting is borne by the Texas Highway Department. Maintenance of the lines, however, will become a city function.

Kin Of Local Man Falls To His Death

Earl Ashley, 60, of Salem, Ore., a brother-in-law of R. B. Belyeu, was instantly killed Thursday when he fell from a two-story building on which he was a construction worker. Mr. Ashley married the former Evelyn Belyeu of Cross Plains. He was a native of Brownwood. The couple left this area, going to the West Coast about 25 years ago.

City Streets Getting Maintenance Work

Doyle Cowan is now working part-time for the city, operating a maintainer and distributing caliche on city streets. Street Commissioner Darwin Anderson has negotiated a deal whereby the city is getting surfacing material for 30 cents per load. Plans are to utilize several hundred loads. Anderson also plans to give attention to paved streets within the city, many of which are reported eroding at the edges.

City Making New 7 Year Gas Contract

Cross Plains City Council voted in special session Monday night to re-contract with W. B. Evans of Lubbock for natural gas to supply the municipally-owned distributing system. The agreement reached is to run seven years from July 1 and calls for an increase from 20 to 22 cents per thousand cubic feet for gas. Gaston Swafford, Clyde attorney, met with the Council and was instructed to prepare a contract. It will call for Evans to lay another transmission line to the north city limits, add baffle type drips on existing lines and to maintain gas of adequate heat content in sufficient supply at all times. Failure to do any of these will give the city authority to invalidate the contract any time prior to termination date.

The new agreement also gives the Council supervision of the three supply wells and lines leading into the city. Councilmen point out that a main line entering the city limits from the north will provide better pressure throughout the distributing system. Evans is to begin laying new lines immediately and the Council authorized Gas Commissioner Roy Cox to check the equipment prior to official signing of the new contract. "We have negotiated with every known source of possible supply," said Mayor Ted Souder yesterday, "and the Evans offer seems to be the best." The city's present 10-year contract with Evans is due to expire May 1, 1964.

School Bandsmen Shoot For First UIL Sweepstakes Title

Cross Plains High School band will end this year's competition Saturday with contests in concert playing and sight reading at San Angelo. Both events are sponsored by the University Interscholastic League. The local musical group garnered top laurels in marching at UIL contests in November, and if superior ratings can be added in the two San Angelo contests, Director Wayne McDonald will bring home to Cross Plains the first UIL sweepstake award ever claimed by the band. Heretofore, the top honor in concert playing has always eluded the local musicians. "We're shooting high and hoping for the best," McDonald said. Competing in the class with Cross Plains will be Eldorado, Ozona, Santa Anna, Baird, Rotan, Merkel, Jim Ned, Goldthwaite, Roscoe, Ranger, Albany and Eastland. Sixty-nine bands and orchestras from UIL Region II will perform Friday and Saturday.

5 Directors To Be Elected For Conservation District May 11

An election has been called for May 11, to name five directors for Turkey Creek Water Conservation District. Voting will take place in the City Hall here and all freeholders residing within the district are eligible to ballot. Present directors who will stand for reelection are: Mark Adair, A. L. Breeding, Damon

D. Jones and Earl Pyle. Other candidate will be Rev. C. R. Myrick, who will run for the unexpired term of the late C. W. (Charley) Coats. Hold-over directors are Eugene Wilcoxon and Tommie Conley, who were elected along with Coats in May of last year. Directors are elected for two-year terms.

Parade Tuesday Opens LL Season

A parade, pre-game ceremonies and a double-header will officially open Little League baseball in Cross Plains Tuesday. Festivities will begin with a street parade at 5 p.m. Tuesday. The old ice-house on South Main Street will be the forming point, and the procession will march up Main Street north to the baseball park. Deputy Sheriff N. L. Long, Jr. will lead the parade followed by the Cross Plains Buffalo marching band. Cross Plains fire department will have two trucks in the pageantry, and, of course, the Little League teams and managers will join in the celebration.

According to LL President J. T. Myers, the Cross Plains Riding Club might have a representative unit of that organization in the procession. The riders were to meet Thursday, tonight, to make the decision. Opening Ceremonies Just prior to the start of the first game of the season, at approximately 6:15, introduction of individual players, managers and officials will be held at the local diamond in Edgewood addition. Myers said yesterday that Mayor Ted Souder would toss out the first ball of the new season.

Mrs. Johnny Adair, head concessionaire, invites the public to support the concession stand on the Little League grounds. She said that a complete line of tempting treats will be featured all season, and added that the merchandise was donated by LL mothers and all profits go into the LL treasury. Chief umpire James Hickman has released his list of men-in-blue for the upcoming season. Behind the plate will be Hickman, O. B. Edmondson, J. H. Balkum, Pete Golson, Mac Coppinger and Bill Button. Eighteen other local men will call bases at the various games. A team of four officials will work each game. Edmondson and Balkum will work as head umpires in the first two tilts.

Double-Header Two games are on tap for the first night. The twilight tilt will feature the Citizens State Bank-Higginbothams Cats and the West Texas Utilities Co. Kilowatts, beginning at 6:30. In the nightcap Roy Arwood's Buffs and Johnston Truck & Supply's Scouts swap hits at approximately 8 o'clock.

LL Schedule Schedule for both rounds of play have also been released. A nine-week plan is called for, four and one-half week rounds. The first game of each night will begin at 6:30 and the second will start about 8. Playing nights are each Tuesday and Thursday.

An entirely new script has been written for this year's production. Dr. M. E. Roth will serve as interlocutor again this year and returning as end men are Bob Latson, Don Wiggins, Harry Dodds and O. B. Edmondson.

The minstrel chorus will be composed of: Cliff Gilmore, McAfee, Don F. McCall, Tony Dodds, Scot Edington, Jerry Payne, Darrel Wyatt, Doyle Burchfield, J. P. McCord, Harrell Kelley, Joe Hanke, Jr., McGowan, Paul Conn, Dan Johnston, Greenwood, Ted Souder, Danny Wilkinson, O. B. Byrd, Mac Coppinger, Hollis Kellar, Roth and the four end men.

Juniors Will Offer Home-Talent Play

"Inquire Within," a three-act comedy drama, will be presented in Cross Plains school auditorium Thursday night, beginning at 7:30. Members of the cast — all CPHS juniors — include: Donny Miller, Susan Albrecht, Jay Hutchins, Mickey Freeman, Linda Whitton, Martha Foster, Cynthia Hickman, Gary Odum, Kathleen Cowan, James Goble, Edde Elliott, Kenneth Sowell, Charles Barr, Kathy Huddleston and Tommy Ramey. Proceeds from an admission charge of 25 and 50 cents will be used by members of the junior class to fete seniors at the annual banquet in May. The production is being directed by Wayne Ford and Miss Mary Helen Strong, sponsors of the junior class. Those who have peeped in on rehearsals say an interesting time is in store for all who see the play.

STAMFORD COUPLE BUY TAYLOR HOME

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Webb of Stamford have bought the Tobe Taylor place here, directly across the street from Worthy's Grocery and Station on West Highway 36. The couple, together with their small granddaughter, will move here soon and he plans to operate a fruit stand.

Fox And Coon Dog Fanciers Plan Conclave Here May 11

H. H. Harrelson of Cisco, president of Star Fox Hunters Association, which is to hold its annual convention at the City Park in Cross Plains May 11, was here over the week end making arrangements for the gathering. He predicted 1,000 dog fanciers would be in Cross Plains for the event. Plans call for a coon dog show, with field trials and bench exposition, in the afternoon, beginning at two o'clock. Barbecue supper will be served at six and bench show for fox hounds in the evening, starting at eight. Bob Fuller of Fort Worth will judge the fox dogs. "There has been some conflict about the date of this year's convention," Harrelson said, "however, our secretary, Mrs. Buck Maples of Rising Star, is mailing out postal cards to members over the entire state. The date is definitely May 11."

Bill Button, local WTU manager, has sent in necessary work orders and equipment is now being assembled in Abilene. Present plans call for converting all lights from T. Y. Woody's service station on South Main Street to the First Baptist Church, four blocks north. Additional mercury-vapor lights may be added later, Mayor Ted Souder said yesterday. The nine lights to be converted will give Main Street an additional 99,000 lumens. Present type fixtures yield 10,000 lumens, whereas the newer ones measure 21,000. Additional cost to the city amounts to only $1.50 per light per month, making the additional expense only $13.50 per month or $162 annually.

Brighter Street Lights Due For Downtown Main Street Soon

Main Street will be brightened.

Need For Building Site May Deny Cross Plains County Stock Show

Lack of a suitable site for an exposition building may prevent Cross Plains from becoming permanent home for Callahan County Junior Livestock Show. Directors of the annual event met in the courthouse at Baird Thursday night and unanimously endorsed building facilities here. To launch a public subscription for funds, they made available to Cross Plains $2,500 which was previously raised for the project, mainly by a former Baird restaurant owner. Estimates are that the building would cost around $12,000. Type of construction favored is colored sheet metal, similar to that on the West Texas Fair Grounds in Abilene. While a major portion of funds to construct the exposition building would necessarily have to be raised in the Cross Plains area, a number of stock show boosters in all sections of the county have proffered financial assistance. Effort Being Made Efforts were being made yesterday to set up a meeting between local business and professional men and school trustees to be held in the City Hall to see if something can be worked out regarding a location for the facility. Callahan County Junior Livestock Show has become one of the finest expositions of its kind in this section of Texas. Champions in various classes have gone on to greater laurels at big shows throughout the state the past several years. In the beginning the show was alternately held in Baird and Cross Plains. For the past five years, however, it has been in the county seat. Lack of shelter from January weather has proved an inconvenience to both exhibitors and visitors and has often resulted in curtailed crowds.

News Of Former Residents

Mrs. George Baum is now in a hospital at Wolfe City and would appreciate hearing from old friends around Dressy and in Cross Plains. She may be addressed: Mrs. F. V. Baum, Wolfe City Hospital, Wolfe City, Texas. Until recently she had been staying in the home of her son, Leo Baum, and family at Greenville.

In a letter to her parents at Baird, Miss Estelle Freeland, who was born and reared north of Cross Plains, tells of a recent experience in Nigeria, West Africa, where she is a missionary.

An excerpt from the letter follows:

"Last Sunday week as I was coming with the students from our village services we were waved down by a number of men. It is not unusual for people to beg for rides, so I just waved back to them, but then as I got even with them, I saw they were carrying someone. The body was swinging in a large piece of cloth which was tied at the corners to two poles which were carried by two men.

"At first I thought it was a dead body, but the students said they would not carry a dead person that way. And I realized, too, that they always carry them on their heads.

"I felt that I should help them. Since we were near the dorm, I took the students on to the dorm and let all of them out except two. Then I went back down the road where the dozen men were walking.

"We told them for three of them to get in the back of the bus with their patient. I learned, or a least they told us, that the woman was ready to deliver. I drove her on to the hospital. One of the Nigerian nurses came out to the bus, looked at the woman, then turned to me and said she has delivered and passed the placenta. At first I thought she had delivered in the short time she was in the bus. I asked where the baby was. And the father told me that it was in the village. They took the woman on into hospital, and we were ready to leave when one of the men said there goes the baby. Another man called an older woman to come. She was carrying the baby on her back and they wanted me to see it. Evidently she had walked with it from the village.

"As we drove home, we met a number of the villagers. They all waved and thanked us as we drove by them. I asked where all the women were and why they did not come along with the woman who had delivered. They said the women will be weeping and wailing. (She had delivered at 2 p.m. and had not passed the placenta, so that was why they brought her in. It was 6 p.m. by the time she reached the hospital.

"Just as we were talking about the women we met a group of them. They had been walking along behind the men.

"Dupe, one of the students, said, 'Next Sunday we will go to their village to preach, and they will listen to us.' We had not been to that place before, so did not how far back into the bush it was. Last Sunday we went as far as we could in the bus, then started walking. It took us 30 minutes to reach the place, walking as fast as we could all the way. (I was pooped when we got back home.) It must have been about two miles to the place.

"The people were surprised to see us, but were so very happy. The mother had come back from the hospital, and the baby seemed to be doing all right.

"The people gathered around in the shade of one of the houses for a service. And practically everyone in the village came. I usually just listen to the students preach, but this time I wanted to talk, so I had Dupe to interpret for me, and I talked some in Yoruba.

told the story. It was a thrill for me to talk with Dupe will continue to go to the village to witness to them.

"It was the first time, I'm sure, that many of them had heard the story of Jesus. I just wish you could have heard them and seen their expressions as I

Settlers Knew Hospitality Meaning

Black of Clyde, an early settler in the Atwell area, thinks hospitality in this locality a half century ago was without parallel. He cites incidents to prove his point.

He writes as follows:

About 60 years ago a young man named Cochran — from — got off the train in — and told Yancey Orr he was sick and needed a doctor to spend the winter. The doctor was sent to the John Orr ranch, where he was for until his critical illness became fatal.

Cochran's brother, a dentist, for the body and it was sent to Iowa for burial.

The families of Bucky Housh and Parson Hightower also had their homes to sick people and nursed them through many critical illnesses.

His unbeatable hospitality. Low-fever, pneumonia, chills, biliousness were some of the diseases common to that time.

Others were measles, whooping-cough and the dread-tuberculosis.

Most commonly used medicines among the pioneers were quinine, castor oil, calomel, Castoria, bismuth and chill salt and whiskey were used to cure consumption. Then a famous tonic Peruna. It was supposed to be a panacea for all ailments, including the cholera.

His hospitality has ever survived that of the frontier in this section. The latches were always hung outside and a stranger in need of help was never turned away.

LOOK WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU BUY FROM THE...

"WHOLESALE" CATALOGUE

You may pay more...

- A wholesale firm is one which sells in quantities to a retailer who intends to re-sell the merchandise to his individual customers.
- The reason the wholesaler can sell at wholesale is because he does sell in quantities — and does not have to deal directly with each individual retail customer.
- A good question to ask then is: How can a wholesaler print and distribute thousands of catalogues to individual consumers, stand the cost of each sales transaction and still sell at "wholesale" prices?
- The answer is: He can't. He is mis-using the word "wholesale."
- By actual comparison, the cost of some merchandise listed in such catalogues is even higher than that charged for comparable items by the retailer.

CAUTION - CHECK THE PRICES IN THE "Wholesale" Catalog
J MAY SAVE MONEY!

"There is no such thing as 'Wholesale' prices to the buying public, because..."

...no merchant can stay in business consistently selling merchandise at the same price he pays for it."

Money Spent At Home HELPS Our Community Grow

Just as it takes a lot of little flakes to make a snowman grow — so it takes a lot of people spending a little money to make up the big tax contributions merchants make to a city.

Complete selections of finest merchandise at the LOWEST prices are right here in Cross Plains!

And you benefit in so many ways by shopping in your own community. Shops are only minutes from your home. There's plenty of free parking. Lots of courteous, neighborly clerks to serve you. Mobil Opens CPBC Lead To 4 Games

George Hutchins Mobil bowling team opened up a four-game lead over the nearest opponent in Cross Plains Bowling Club with two weeks left.

Mobil padded its lead by two games last week with a 4-0 win over Mayes Flower Shop, coupled with a 2-2 split of second place teams Johnston Truck & Supply and D. C. Lee Gulf.

In other action, Higginbothams jumped in fourth, heading the second division, with a 4-0 shutout of Sisters Cafe.

This week, Thursday, Mobil can do no worse than to share the lead when they tangle with Gulf, four tilts back, and Johnston, also four games off the pace, has a battle set with Sisters. Higginbothams will tangle with Mayes.

Last week Wayne Graves, Higginbothams, rolled a 191 second game to take high-game honors. Dale Mitchell's, Mobil, 185 was second and Benny Glover's, Gulf, 178 was third.

Mitchell collected the most pins in the three games. He toppled 492 maples for an average of 164.

Graves ran second with 387, and an average of 162, and Ray Plumlee, bowling as a substitute for JT&S, took third with 475 pins, averaging 158.

Higginbothams' team rolled the top team series gathering 2,134 pins. Mobil got 2,023 and Gulf 2,005.

Gulf took the high single team game with 557 in the second 10 frames, and Higginbothams was second and third with 743 and 704.

LIVESTOCK OWNERS HAVE ODD PROBLEMS

Odd things happen with livestock, as any farmer or rancher knows.

Loyd Gary, who lives north of Cottonwood, encountered a new problem last week. He was digging a pit for a new cess pool and left it uncovered over night. The next morning he went outside to find his paint saddle pony had fallen in and was unable to get out. Loose dirt was thrown in the bottom, a rope placed around the pony's neck, and with a few encouraging words he leaped out like an English Jumper clearing a barrier.

Higginbotham's

Through this cable flows power for progress

A literal web of cables strung on highlines tie together all the communities we serve. Through these cables flow the electricity to light the darkness, to relieve housewives of home-making drudgery, to turn the wheels of industry, and to perform countless other tasks economically and continuously.

Because our service area is the center of one of the Nation's fastest growing regions, we are engaged in a long-range program of expansion. Generating and distribution facilities are being enlarged to serve more people, more businesses, more industry.

That is why our product — electricity — is not only the power FOR progress, it is a symbol OF progress here in the Center of the Southwest.

Historians Banquet Saturday At Clyde

Story of Callahan County's only legal execution will be retold by B. C. Chrisman of Baird, when Callahan County Historical Society meets at the Community Center in Clyde Saturday night at 7:30.

W. R. Ely of Abilene, originally scheduled to deliver the principal address, will be unable to attend. The meeting will, therefore, be completely devoted to history, legends and lore of this county.

Dinner will be served by ladies of Clyde at $1.50 per plate and the public is invited, says John Berry of Clyde, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Chrisman will relate interesting sidelights on the hanging of Alberto Vargas, 18-year-old Mexican youth, on the courthouse lawn at Baird Jan. 4, 1907.

Vargas was convicted of stabbing a young waitress, Emma Blakley, at the Sigal Hotel, on the south end of Main Street fronting the railroad at Baird. The murder occurred Oct. 19, 1906, and the death sentence was carried out 77 days later.

The murder was witnessed by diners at the hotel and public sentiment ran high for lynching T. A. (Al) Irvin, Callahan County Sheriff, immediately moved the Mexican youth to an Abilene jail for safe-keeping. Plea for a change of venue was made by two Clyde citizens on the grounds that a fair trial could not be had locally. The plea, however, was denied and Vargas went to trial Nov. 20, 1906.

Attorney for the defense was Dallas Scarborough, who was later to become one of the state's outstanding criminal lawyers. It was his first capital case and he lost.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. VOLLIE McDONOUGH the past week were: Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ray and children of Fort Worth; Mrs. Frank Ray, Mrs. P. D. Miller and Mrs. Albert Stevens of Brownwood.
