A Japanese Catcher for the Harvard Nine.

ANOTHER FEATHER IN KENYON'S BONNET

Company No. 2 of the Smith Stock Company Score Twice in the Towns of Spring Lake and Muleshoe.

The play, "All a Mistake," was presented to the people of the above towns last week, and like other plays directed by Friend Kenyon, this one played to two packed houses of people that were doubly pleased with the work of the players, orchestra, Mr. Smith and Mrs. E. R. Hart, who assisted Mr. Kenyon in no small way in bringing to the able cast that labored many hours to perfect the respective parts.

BOBBED HAIR BANDIT CAUGHT

Young Woman Who Has Robbed Extensively in New York Lands in Hands of Officers.

Celia Coney, who has staged many holdups in New York City and made fun of the police department of that city, lost her first legal battle in less than an hour after she was half led, half carried, by detectives through dense throngs at the Pennsylvania terminal from the train which brought her from Jacksonville, Fla., where she was captured.

Following close behind, his cap pulled down over his face, to escape a battery of newspaper cameras, came her "tall companion" and husband, Edward S. Coney.

Several thousand persons who but a few minutes before had cheered President Coolidge on his departure for Washington, after his address at the annual luncheon of the Associated-Press, jammed the corridors for a glimpse of the bandit couple.

Mrs. Coney, big eyed, cheerful and smiling on the train, had "dolled up" for the homecoming. With her husband she admitted twelve robberies which netted them $1,100.

Writs of habeas corpus issued by Supreme Court Justice Levy were served on detective escorts and dumfounded the police. Whatever glimmer of hope it might have kindled in the couple, whose baby died only eleven days ago, was soon dispelled when Supreme Court Justice Glerich dismissed the writs and remanded both the girl and her husband to custody.

TEXAS PLANTS 30,400 ACRES IN MELONS

In watermelon production, Texas will be second to Georgia this year, if favorable weather attends present plantings in the South, according to a report of acreage to truck and fruit crops released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics through the cooperative state-federal market news service at Austin.

Plantings of 30,400 acres are listed for this state, compared with 30,750 in Florida, 28,830 for Florida, 8,340 for North Carolina and 8,340 for Imperial Valley of California.

STOCK LOSS HEAVY IN FOOT-MOUTH DISEASE

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—A total of 48,796 animals have been destroyed since the outbreak of the foot and mouth epidemic in California, and an estimated appraisal of $2,034,437 has been placed upon these animals and property condemned during the process of disinfection of infected premises, according to figures compiled here by W. H. Levers, chief accountant of the state department of agriculture.

TO DUMP

and Filthy Dump Clean

In the 200 tons of debris carted to the dump in one day were found women legs, a wheel chair, an abandoned bath-tub and a scrapped fliwver.

Seventy-five men and thirty-five wagons were used to gather the trash.

BARTON IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, Texas, April 23.—Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton Thursday filed his application with Joseph W. Hale, secretary of the democratic state executive committee at Waco, to have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate for governor. The primaries are July 26. He gave his age as 49 and accompanied the application with a check for $100, the filing fee.

A BUSY DAY IN JUSTICE COURT.

Judge C. D. Gupton's court was the scene of a very busy day Thursday, there being five cases tried and disposed of during the day, three of which were tried before a jury. Judge Gupton reports that this was the biggest day in his court during his administration as Justice of the Peace.

Miss Reita Lee Dodson returned home Wednesday morning from Lubbock, where she has been for the past two weeks in a hospital. She is reported to be recovering rapidly from an operation she underwent while there.

The croquet season for 1924 opened Sunday evening with a hard contested game, all players claiming the victory. L. S. Barron complains of not being able to make more than three wickets at one shot, his excuse being that he is out of practice.

A TRAVELING WORKSHOP ON WHEELS.

Joseph Millington, disabled British soldier, who conceived the idea of packing a workshop on a bicycle. The workshop is complete with lathe and drilling tools, and in this way Millington is able to make all kinds of repairs.

HILLSBORO MAN KILLED MONDAY

HILLSBORO, April 23.—Ben Freeman was shot to death at 10 o'clock Monday in front of the city water works plant, and immediately following the shooting W. S. Niles surrendered himself to the sheriff and was placed in the Hill County jail.

Family trouble is alleged to have caused the killing. Both men were married and have children.

Freeman was an employe of the Hillsboro Mills. Niles was a former employe of the Hillsboro mills, but had moved to Waco and was connected with the mills there.

Niles and his father are alleged to have been passing the water plant in an automobile when Freeman came to the car. No words are said to have passed between the men, when Niles drew a forty-five and shot, the bullet taking effect in Freeman's breast.

Freeman took a few steps and dropped dead.

STOCK LOSS HEAVY IN FOOT-MOUTH DISEASE

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—A total of 48,796 animals have been destroyed since the outbreak of the foot and mouth epidemic in California, and an estimated appraisal of $2,034,437 has been placed upon these animals and property condemned during the process of disinfection of infected premises, according to figures compiled here by W. H. Levers, chief accountant of the state department of agriculture.

The report, which included cases up to and including April 17, estimated that 378 herds had been destroyed. Of the animals killed 25,447 were cattle, 10,204 hogs, 12,635 sheep and 310 goats.

MULESHOE BAPTISTS TO BUILD NEW CHURCH BUILDING

At a business meeting of the members of the Muleshoe Baptist Church Sunday night a committee of two was appointed to canvass the membership and all others who would contribute to a building fund for the purpose of building a new church building. Rev. E. J. Barb and C. D. Gupton were appointed on the committee and they report about $1400 subscribed. The building as agreed upon will cost about $2500.00. The committee hopes to be ready to start the building in the next 60 days and have it completed by about the middle of July, in order to hold a revival meeting by that time. A committee was also appointed for the purpose of securing the services of an evangelist to hold the meeting. The building committee asks that those who haven't been solicited and desire to help in the building of the church to see Mr. C. D. Gupton.

NEW ADDITION TO MULESHOE.

A. P. Stone and Levi Pressly closed a deal Tuesday night with Charles K. Warren, of Three Oaks, Michigan, to put on sale the Warren Addition to the town of Muleshoe. This addition is composed of nine blocks lying just west of the school building and is made up of the best building sites in all Muleshoe. The addition as platted and surveyed is 84 lots, 50 by 140 feet, with 80 feet streets and 20 foot alleys. These lots are now being sold for building sites. Twelve of the lots have already been sold and preparations are being made for at least two new residences in the addition, to be built within the next few days.

TEXAS RANCHER IS MURDERED

Doc Windham of Tahoka, Prominent Cattleman, Is Shot Six Times.

Brownfield, April 23.—S. H. (Doc) Windham, prominent cattleman and rancher of Tahoka, was found shot to death near his car early Tuesday night within a mile of his ranch house, which is twelve miles south of Brownfield. Six bullets had been fired into his body, which was lying near the automobile. The car was standing on the highway, engine running and lights burning, when employees went to investigate the standing machine.

Windham was on his way from his home in Tahoka to his ranch and was driving alone in his automobile.

He was shot through the heart, once through the neck and five times in the head and face with a small caliber rifle or pistol, some of the shots apparently being fired after he had fallen.

R. L. Faulkner recently moved into his new home located in the southwest part of town. Like the Lawrence place, Mr. Faulkner has a home that is worth your while looking over. A large garage on the west of the place affords shelter for one of the classiest Buicks to be purchased any place, a new car recently purchased by Mr. Faulkner and driven very little. As we understand it, Mr. Faulkner is taking lessons from K. K. Smith. Both parties are good friends of the writer and it would be a sad blow to all Muleshoe if friend Bob allowed K. K. to teach him to drive the car as he, K. K., spins around in the famous Old Yaller.

HOGS SHIPPED TO NEBRASKA

C. L. Hanegan shipped 150 head of hogs last week to Nebraska. Mr. Hanegan is in the hog business on a large scale. His big hog ranch is located on the Dempster farm northeast of Muleshoe. ARIZONA BARS GO UP AGAIN

Situation at the State Line As It Was Week Ago.

YUMA, Ariz., April 23.—The Arizona foot and mouth disease blockade on the Arizona-California line was established again today.

The disinfecting station was closed and on orders from the state quarantine office, motorists are barred from entering the state from the west.

The situation here is as it was a week ago, when eastbound motor cars began to pile up behind the blockade.

Disinfecting and fumigating went on all day at Knob Siding. Occupants of the first cars to cross the bridge quarantine line early today recorded their passage with a series of whoops denoting their joy at moving once more homeward.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED.

"I believe in the United States of America and the principles of freedom, justice, equality and humanity upon which it was founded and for which American patriots have given their lives and fortunes."

OUR NATIONAL FIRE LOSS.

Opportunity for the practice of genuine thrift, absolutely apart from parcimony, is pointed to by the fire loss statistics.

It is a national maxim of China that that which is burned up is lost forever.

It is shown that in one year there was a fire loss of $500,000,000 of property in the United States.

Half a billion of perfectly good dollars is a handsome enough sum to command somebody's attention, and it is a deplorable thing to think of its being wasted in fire loss.

Nor is the situation made better by the reflection that property losses are so frequently accompanied by greivous and costly loss of life; as well as suffering caused by inevitable accidents and burns that stop short or taking life outright.

What is happening every day in the fire menace and waste, shows clearly that we are still a long way from indulgence in over cautiousness against fire.

There are opportunities in the situation for all to contribute towards reducing these calamitous losses; and practicing a kind of thrift that is indeed worth while.

That half billion could be put to infinitely better use—but not to worse.

THE IMPROVING COUNTY PRESS.

Chas. Moreau Harger, in the April Scribner, discussed the powerful influence which the rural press has exerted in the making of a nation, "coming as it does close to the hearts of its readers, the old home paper—even if its policy be not always commended—commands respect and confidence."

He shows that to the family in the country town or on the farmstead, the weekly visit of the country paper or the small city daily is an event enjoyed by all.

Cartoonists in the metropolitan press have visualized for the public a ridiculous and peculiar type as representing the country editor's personality, but this writer shows that his readers know him and are not disillusioned.

"He is close to his constituency. Further, it is a constituency with more leisure than any other, more time for reading the news and opinions of the day." This makes the country paper a vehicle of opinion and a more of political leadership.

The country paper is loyal to the government and continues to take a large part in earnest discussion of public affairs from a disinterested standpoint. It is the country weekly and small city daily that makes the path of radical and demagogue difficult, standing, as it generally does, for prosperous, independent American homes.

The trouble that some people take to make trouble is almost past belief.

NEW ENGLAND'S MOST BEAUTIFUL FEET.

Miss Berthe Braggiotti, Boston society girl and well known dancer, has the most beautiful feet in New England, even prettier than those of her two sisters, Gloria and Francesca. Dr. William School, Chicago specialist so declares. He added that homely feet spoil many a love affair and that bad feet cause bad temper.

MAKES MORE NOISE AUDIBLE.
Electric Ultra-Audible Microphone Is a Sound Microscope.

There is so much noise in the world already that lovers of peace and quiet may regard with suspicion the news of an invention which in one sense threatens to add to the clamor. It does not actually make new noises, but it promises to render audible those which were unheard before. What the microscope does for the human eye an "electric ultra-audible microphone" can now do, we are told, for the human ear.

A dog, for instance, can hear noises which escape a human being, but this invention would presumably redress the balance. Some insects, again, are conjectured to have their own way of calling to each other, and perhaps the naturalist will now be able to hear them doing it. In fact, if the new instrument is sufficiently sensitive, there seems no end to the possible wonders. There will be no difficulty about hearing a pin drop; it will fall with the thunder of a steel girder. Perhaps someone will at last "listen in" to that famous conception of the music of the spheres in their orbits. The butterfly, suddenly become vocal, will salute his mate like deep calling unto deep.—From the Manchester Weekly Guardian.

French theater managers will allow critics to have their say only after theater patrons have manifested their sentiment, instead of inviting the critics to the first night's performance. The critics will receive their invitations for the third or fourth performance.

ELECTRIC-OPERATED CUPS OIL AUTO AT TOUCH OF BUTTON

Oiling an automobile chassis at the touch of a button on the instrument board is possible with cups that contain a small piston, or ejector, worked by current from the battery. A measured quantity of oil is forced into the spring shackles and bearings every time the button is pressed. About sixty charges of oil, sufficient for 5,000 miles of travel, are contained in each cup. Only a single wire is used to connect them with the switch.

OLD WAYS GROW LESS PROFITABLE

First Problem of Farmers is Farming. Improved Methods Must be Used to be Successful.

Farmers we think, are well aware by now how foolish it is to look for help except from themselves. The cure for the ills of farming is to be found within farming, not elsewhere. This is a valuable piece of knowledge to have, because it will save farming from some of the greater disasters that have befallen other fields of labor.

The common error everywhere has been to look to the financial field for the cure of whatever distress there is. This has grown to be a habit in the world, but it is gradually being brought into question because there is no magic in money to supply a lack of experience or judgment. Railway problems are problems in railroading, not in banking and all the bank loans in the world will not produce railroad wisdom. Yet what has been commoner in our country than to see railroads bow to money, as if that could take the place of Mismanagement?

This pitiable mistake is at the back of Europe's failure to make a better showing than it does. Materially, Europe is just about what it was. The processes of Nature have been continuous, natural resources are as ready to hand, all the elements necessary to production are present, and yet because of a habitual reliance on money as the main requisite for production, there is no production to speak of. People talk about loans as if loans had magic, as if indeed they ever reached farther than the banking class. The belief that the earth was flat and if one traveled too far he would fall off, the superstition that demons caused eclipses, were no heavier burdens on the mind, no stronger hindrances to human progress, than is the superstition that it is money that is being handed this sum of large quantities just now.

One would think that the farmer plowed with money, sowed money in his furrows, cultivated with money and harvested money, to hear some of the counsel being given him. There have been proposals of loans to sink him farther in debt. There have been proposals of great funds to fight off the parasites that jeopardize his crops. Not to mention those who tell him that the problem of farming is marketing, which is not a problem of farming at all, but of merchandising. Insofar as a farmer is a merchant, buying and selling, purchase problems and merchandising problems are legitimately his to consider and wisely act upon. But they are not the central problems of farming, by which we mean the working of the land for grain, fruit, vegetable or dairy products. The central problem of farming is the care, cultivation and collection of the fruit of the land.

How can any number of financial or merchandising plans make up for a lack of agricultural ability? So it stands to reason that the first problem of the farmer is farming.

While the fundamental principles of agriculture remain always the same, methods and management are constantly improving. Even the periods of distress through which farmers have passed have contributed to their progress. Failures in one crop have influenced the movement to a diversity of crops, so that the farmer's whole fortune need not always be in one basket. The overproduction of wheat is directly responsible for the increased attention that is now being given to the dairy side of the business. The "great freeze" in Florida many years ago was directly responsible for Florida farmers discovering the large possibilities in garden farming in that state, and anyone who has seen the vegetable farms of Florida and the endless systems of irrigation exist in some sections cannot think that though the early loss was the resultant gain has made it a little better than it was. No one has seen a "movie" show, according to reports from county agents in these remote districts.

admit this. The boll weevil, disastrous as its invasion of the cotton country has been, will also leave an unforeseen advantage in its wake. And—still speaking of the South—the influx of Negroes to the northern industrial centers will have the effect of replacing slower methods of human labor with modern methods of power-farming; the shortage of men will make an opening through which farmers will see the advantages and profits of the machine.

But, regardless of these problems, there is one matter which should receive more and more attention everywhere, and that is better methods of Farm Management. Farming is both a profession and a business, an art and a science. Haphazard practices, blind following of the old ways, grow less profitable year by year. We are no longer in the rich, lush periods of virgin soils, where fields merely tickled, laugh in overflowing harvests. The farmer is adding to his duties that of Manager. It is the man who looks at his business as a whole and is constantly on the alert to apply right principles that finds himself unaffected by the troubles which overtake his fellows in the same line of business.

It seems simple enough to say it, and far too simple for many farmers to take it seriously, but a fundamental principle to follow is that of a Clean Farm. Successful industrial managers know the value of a clean factory, but there are still too many farmers who have not given enough thought to the Clean Farm. Cleanliness of the ground is much more important than of a factory, because the ground is living and because many of the farmer's most troublesome enemies arise from the neglected corners of his land. A well-kept farm should provide no covert for the propagation of insects. There should be no hole or corner for insect or plant thieves of the farmer's labor. The ill-kept farm becomes a home and breeding place for the very elements which the farmers cannot permit without loss.

This is not merely a plea for neatness. The trouble has been, perhaps, that too many have viewed it in that light. Men who are naturally neat and orderly have looked after their farms merely to satisfy their instinct for neatness, and in so doing they have reaped other benefits of which it may be they were not aware. Still, it is evident to the ordinary observer that it is the neat farm that is usually the well-to-do farm.

People often reason about such farms this way: "That man has made money and is therefore able to keep his farm looking neat." But is it not possible that they mistake cause and effect in this matter? Is it money, after all, that keeps a farm clean and neat? Is it not rather labor and a respect for cleanliness, a desire for orderliness? It is not money, it is the man, who produces neatness. The truer way to reason is this: "That man kept his farm neat and clean, therefore he made money." Cleanliness is one of the causes of prosperity, not the effect of it. In such matters we must guard against putting the cart before the horse.

Suppose a farmer cannot see this as an argument: Is he willing to adopt it as an experiment? Neatness is something he cannot buy, he must create it. What will happen? The spots where farm pests breed will disappear. The sour, festering spots will be made wholesome. The holes where rodents take their heavy toll will be stopped. Implements will be protected against the weather. Buildings will be cared for. Fences will be whole and stout. Lanes will be straight and trimmed. Dead stuff, the home of next year's pests, will be used up. The pleasure of it will build the element of orderly management into the farmer's mind and the practical and profitable effects of it will become apparent in the increased value of his property and products. He will become recognized for what he has become—A Master Farmer.—Dearborn Independent.

There are boys and girls in certain sections of Ohio, and even men and women, who have never seen a "movie" show, according to reports from county agents in these remote districts.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or Any Constable of
Bailey County, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. D. Berry, W. L. Thayer, G. W. McMillion, Mrs. G. W. McMillion, L. B. Minor, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of each of such named persons, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks, previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper, published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Bailey County, Texas, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in the town of Muleshoe on the Second Monday in June, A. D. 1924, the same being the 9th day of June, A. D. 1924, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 19th day of April, A. D. 1924, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court Number 73, wherein M. E. Thrasher is plaintiff and J. D. Berry, W. L. Thayer, G. W. McMillion, Mrs. G. W. McMillion, L. B. Minor and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of each of such named persons are defendants; said petition alleging that on April 1, 1924, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described lot, tract and parcel of land, situated in Bailey County, Texas, and particularly described as Sub-divisions 14 and 15 of League No. 193 of the Foard County School Lands, located in said county, according to the sub-division made by said County and recorded in Vol. 5 at page 191, of the Deed Records of Bailey County, Texas. That on said date defendants and each of them entered upon the said lands and ejected plaintiff therefrom and now withhold the possession thereof. Plaintiff further alleges a chain of title from the State of Texas to himself, through various deeds and that he is the owner and entitled to the possession of said land.

Plaintiff further pleads that he has had and held possession of said tract of land, under color of title from the State of Texas, with peaceable, continuous and adverse possession for a period of more than three years, and that he has likewise held such possession for a period of more than five years, paying taxes thereon and that he has likewise had such peaceable, and adverse possession for more than ten years, enjoying and using the same so as to mature title under the three, five and ten years statutes of limitations.

Plaintiff prays for title and possession of said lands, that his title be quieted and that any and all claims, interest or estate in said lands had or claimed by defendants be divested out of them and invested in plaintiff.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said court this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness C. C. Mardis, Clerk of the District Court of Bailey County, Texas. Given under my hand and the Seal of said court in the town of Muleshoe, this 19th day of April, A. D. 1924. (SEAL) C. C. MARDIS, Clerk of the District Court of Bailey County, Texas.
