Chinese Hint They Would Like To Send Delegation To U.S.

PEKING, China (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today toured the palace museum in the Forbidden City, then got down to the business of diplomatic talks with Chinese officials.

"We always progress in our relationship with each exchange," Kissinger told Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping across a long table in the Great Hall of the People.

Light Freeze Due In Area

Midland will likely experience a light freeze tonight, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal. Tonight's low should dip near 30, the weatherman said.

Monday's high was 61, followed by an overnight low of 36. The high mercury mark this afternoon was expected to climb near 70, and Wednesday's high should be in the middle 50s.

Ventures Set In WT Areas

Charles E. Jones Jr. of Odessa will attempt to re-open Wolfcamp production in the Goldsmith, West field of Ector County with the re-entry and plugging back to 7,600 feet, at No. 1-W-A TXL, former deep other, nine miles northwest of Goldsmith.

It was completed by Jones in 1969 as the Devonian opener of the Goldsmith, Northwest field, as No. 1-X-A TXL. It flowed 221 barrels of 41-gravity oil daily, through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,744-7,764 feet.

Most Businesses, Offices To Close Thanksgiving Day

Midland's banks and savings and loan institutions, along with many retail businesses, state and federal offices will be closed Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

City and county offices, and many oil company offices will close Thursday and Friday, giving their employees a four-day holiday.

Senate Study Urges No Expansion Of Offshore Oil, Gas Leasing Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate study urged today that the Interior Department keep oil and gas development out of untouched offshore areas unless it can prove their development would be both necessary and safe.

The study of offshore oil leasing was the first report by the staff of the Senate's National Ocean Policy Study whose chairman, Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., issued it to news media.

Ford Briefs Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford briefed congressional leaders today on his hopes for an arms accord with the Soviets and Sen. J. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., indicated he thinks the projected agreement would win Senate approval.

Thurmond, a frequent critic of U.S. negotiations with the Soviet Union, said that if a final agreement emerges that mirrors Ford's description of it, the Senate probably would vote to approve it.

Senate Study Urges No Expansion Of Offshore Oil, Gas Leasing Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — A single year the acreage leased during the past 20 years.

The staff study concluded that Interior has too little information to justify or manage such a vast leasing program and said it should be scaled down to "a more realistic target based on sound management practices for publicly-owned resources."

Most Businesses, Offices To Close Thanksgiving Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee dealt probably fatal blows today to major bills calling for $2 billion in federally-backed loans for railroads and making comprehensive changes in securities-business law.

COSTUMES HELP SELL CARS — New car salesman Jim Nelson of Detroit may look a bit odd to customers who come into his showroom, but he says he'll do anything to sell a car. This month, he's dressing as a pilgrim to commemorate Thanksgiving. Last month he almost ruined a $100 suit carrying a pumpkin around. And in January he's thinking of wearing diapers to celebrate the New Year. Despite slumping auto sales nationwide, Nelson is only about 14 cars behind his pace of last November. (AP Wirephoto.)

Senate Study Urges No Expansion Of Offshore Oil, Gas Leasing Now

The report suggested that the federal government itself should explore its new offshore areas and find out where oil and gas are located, rather than leasing new unexplored areas to oil companies at what may later turn out to be bargain-basement prices.

The Interior Department agreed Monday to postpone for 60 days the public hearings it had scheduled for December on the environmental impacts of its planned 10-million-acre leasing program for 1975.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big increase in foreign purchases of U.S. machinery and transport equipment helped give the nation its first trade surplus in six months, the Commerce Department reported today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford told congressional leaders today he has decided to veto the 22.7 per cent increase in veterans' benefits because he finds two other provisions of the veterans aid bill inflationary.

Soviets Won't Take Troops From Chinese Border

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev today rejected a Chinese proposal that troops be withdrawn from the disputed Soviet-Chinese border as a basis for normalizing relations between the two countries.

In a speech in Mongolia, Brezhnev said the Chinese precondition was "absolutely unacceptable, and we reject it."

Simon: U.S. May Be Facing Longest, Worst Recession Since World War II

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon says the United States may be facing the longest recession since World War II and does not rule out that it also could be the worst.

"It might be longer than any of the recessions we've experienced since World War II, but it's way too early to tell whether it will be more severe," Simon said in an interview Monday.

Simon: U.S. May Be Facing Longest, Worst Recession Since World War II

The nation's worst unemployment in the postwar period was 7.9 per cent during the recession of late 1948 and 1949.

"Forecasting is a precarious business, but that isn't presently in our forecast," Simon said when asked if the jobless rate might go as high as 7.9 per cent in the current recession. Some private economic forecasts have been predicting an 8 per cent jobless rate.

Simon: U.S. May Be Facing Longest, Worst Recession Since World War II

He said the economy, which has been declining all year, will continue to decline through the first quarter of 1975, and then level off.

"We still forecast that by the summer of 1975 there will be an upturn," he said.

The over-all decline in the value of the nation's economic output, as measured by the gross national product, will exceed the decline of 1.5 per cent during the 1969-1970 recession, Simon said.

Simon: U.S. May Be Facing Longest, Worst Recession Since World War II

He said it would be "too early to tell" whether it will plunge below 3.9 per cent, which was the record postwar economic decline in the recession of 1953 and 1954.

But Simon argued that the current recession is not much worse than the administration had anticipated at the time it drew up its economic program in October, although he said the outlook is being complicated by the coal strike.

Simon: U.S. May Be Facing Longest, Worst Recession Since World War II

He said the coal strike will "show a sharper slowdown" in the economy.

In pointing out that the economic decline was anticipated, Simon was arguing that the Ford economic program is adequate to deal with recession as well as inflation and does not need to be changed.

Keep Those Calls Coming In, Folks

By LARRY LOVELACE

FRANK LOKEY'S PLIGHT has piqued the curiosity of quite a few West Texans. "I've been flooded with phone calls," the Odessa businessman said of his experience after advertising in Sunday's Reporter-Telegram for 175 feet of railroad track.

HE NEEDS THE RAILS for his two railway missile launchers. They are just two of the unlikely items he has acquired through his hobby of buying government surplus equipment.

WHEN WORD OF HIS UNUSUAL PASTIME got out, his phone began ringing and it has scarcely stopped yet.

Unfortunately, none of the callers has had a spur to spare.

TO DATE, HE HAS HEARD from friends who wanted to rib him, a radio firm interested in his communications equipment and people who are just plain curious about the whole affair.

AND LOKEY HAS STORIES ENOUGH to satisfy the most insatiable curiosity-seeker. He can tell tales of speedy Border Patrol cars, Jesse James-era baggage carriers, ritzy coffins, mail trucks that convert into reviewing stands and the battleship that got away (it slept 125).

THEN THERE'S THE YARN about the Navy computer and the operating table.

Police Official Says Illegal Wiretaps Almost Routine In Bell Phone System

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The official, who asked not to be named, said illegal wiretaps have been used to convict scores of persons. He said the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has conducted illegal wiretaps on an almost routine basis for years, a police official said Monday.

He said the Bell security officers and their relationships with law enforcement agencies. "It just became a way of life," said the police official. The statement here followed revelations from Houston that even the telephones of the Houston police chief and the Harris County district attorney have been tapped.

Houston Police Chief Carroll M. Lynn revealed Monday that electronic listening devices were discovered on his private office line and on the private office line of Harris County District Attorney Carol Vance and two of his assistants. The taps were discovered by a private electronics expert hired by Lynn during an internal departmental investigation he initiated just after taking office last January.

Today In History

Today in History
By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Nov. 26, the 330th day of 1974. There are 35 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1949, India adopted a constitution as a federal republic within the British Commonwealth.
On this date: In 1764, the Jesuit religious order was suppressed in France.
In 1857, the first Australian parliament opened in Melbourne.
In 1925, Germany ratified the Locarno Treaty, pledging to guarantee the French frontier.
In 1940, the half million

Jews in Warsaw, Poland, were forced by the Nazis to live within a walled ghetto.
In 1943, President Franklin Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek ended a wartime conference in Cairo.
In 1970, a Bolivian disguised as a priest tried to kill Pope Paul the Sixth in the Philippine capital of Manila, but the Pope escaped injury.
Ten years ago: 19 crewmen of the Norwegian tanker, "Soflot Dagali," were killed when the ship was cut in two in a collision with the Israeli cruise ship, "Shalom," off New Jersey.
Five years ago: A White House spokesman described the My Lai massacre in South Vietnam as abhorrent and pledged strict justice for any persons involved.
One year ago: President Nixon's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, testified in federal court in Washington that she had pushed the wrong button on a tape recorder, causing an 18-minute gap on a White House tape.
Today's birthdays: Television commentator Eric Sevareid is 62. Actor-singer Robert Goulet is 41.
Thought for today: We ought never to do wrong when people are looking — Mark Twain, American humorist, 1835-1910.

Another source familiar with the Bell System's operation said Bell's security forces were "beefed up" following the 1968 passage of the Omnibus Crime Law which put strict limits on wiretapping by law enforcement agencies. Wiretapping provisions of the law, he said, were usually ignored.

It's been customary to have a gentleman's agreement with local and federal government agencies and to let them have what they wanted," he said. Bell security officers, he said, establish close relationships with law enforcement agencies, even to the extent of supporting and attending police conventions.
A high police official and a former Bell system employee confirmed this observation.
A federal grand jury in Houston is investigating the use of wiretapping by law enforcement agencies. An earlier grand jury there indicted seven Houston police officers and two former officers on charges that included illegal wiretaps.
Houston Police Chief Lynn started his internal investigation as a result of those earlier indictments.
Suspecting his own line was tapped, Lynn hired a civilian electronics expert, J. L. Patterson, to check the line.
Patterson found electronic listening devices both on Lynn's line and the private office phone of Vance. Vance had no comment on the revelation Monday.
Patterson also checked the lines of Houston Mayor Fred Hofheinz, but found them clean. Lynn announced last week that members of his force had engaged in illegal wiretaps as late as last year. He said fewer than a dozen officers were involved.

Carpenter Indicted In Alger Slaying

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Lee Patton, a 65-year-old carpenter, was indicted Monday in the death of Lucille Lynn Alger, ex-wife of former Dallas Congressman Bruce Alger, and Kenneth Ray Steele.
Patton was charged with the Oct. 27 shooting of Mrs. Alger, 52, and Steele, 40, at Steele's residence.
Police said the former Mrs. Alger was shot three times in the face and neck with a .25-caliber automatic pistol. Steele was shot in the forehead and shoulder.
Police were told that the victims were in the Steele living room watching television about midnight when the suspect and a friend were admitted to the home. An argument ensued about some jewelry the suspect had loaned Mrs. Alger, police said, after which Patton allegedly pulled the pistol from his pants pocket and shot the pair.
Patton surrendered to sheriff's deputies several hours after the incident.
Mrs. Alger was granted an uncontested divorce from then-Congressman Bruce Alger in January 1961, after the couple had been separated for a year and a half.

National New Car Sales Suffer Another Setback

DETROIT (AP) — Thirteen months into its longest slump since World War II, the spitting auto industry posted a sharp 35 per cent sales decline in mid-November amid predictions of worse times to come. "I don't see any sign of it getting better," said a concerned Henry Ford II as the industry was reporting its second worst performance for a Nov. 11-20 period in 14 years. "We've got a period we've got to live through, but it can get worse. I don't think it's bottomed out yet," the chairman of Ford Motor Co. said Monday.

Civil Libertarians, Conservatives Hit Anti-IRA Proposals

LONDON (AP) — Proposed emergency legislation to deal with Irish terrorism in Britain was attacked by Conservatives and civil libertarians. Terrorists showed their disapproval with bombs. Home Secretary Roy Jenkins described the plan he presented in Parliament Monday as "unprecedented in peacetime Britain." He proposed it after a public clamor arose over the bombs that killed 19 people in two Birmingham taverns last week.

Two Men Charged In Fort Worth Extortion Attempt

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two Dallas men have been charged with aggravated kidnaping and armed robbery in connection with an alleged extortion attempt last week at the First National Bank.

Charged and ordered held on $15,000 bond each were Paul Johnson Jr., 19, and Larry Neal Wesley, 22.

The incident occurred Friday when John Morrow, a Bell Helicopter employe, and his family were abducted from their home at gunpoint.

Morrow's wife, Dorothy, and their child were left in a house while Morrow and another man went to the bank, police said.

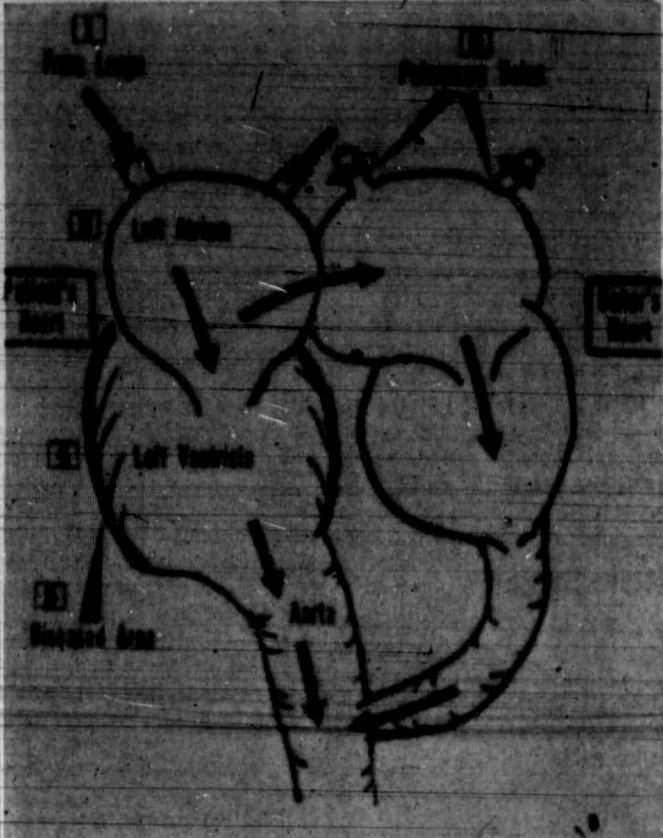

At the bank, the man with Morrow demanded that he withdraw about $2,000 from a savings account. Morrow bolted into the teller's cage and the abductor fled.

Investigators arrested three men and a woman. Morrow's wife and child were released unharmed.

South African Woman Says She Would Donate Daughter's Heart Again

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A South African mother says she wasn't certain of the meaning of the paper she signed that gave her daughter's heart for Dr. Christiaan Barnard's latest historic heart transplant.

Nevertheless, Janette Schrikker said she would do it again. "When I signed the paper to give Jennifer's heart, I was still in a state of shock and did not quite realize what I had done," she said. "But thinking about it now, I would have done the same thing every time."

Sorrowful, But Proud
After reflecting on the death of 10-year-old Jennifer, Mrs. Schrikker told the Rand Daily Mail she is overcome with sorrow but is proud.

"It is good to know that even in death, Jennifer was able to save another life," said Mrs. Schrikker, who lives in a small flat in the Kowtown area of Cape Town, a district for people of mixed race.

Mrs. Schrikker said Jennifer was struck by a car and died in Grootte Schuur hospital, where Barnard made medical history Monday morning by implanting the girl's heart in a man while

Ford Due To Sign Transit Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $11.8 billion mass transit subsidy bill, described by supporters as necessary to prevent some subway systems and commuter lines from going bankrupt, is awaiting President Ford's signature.

Ford, who supported the measure, is expected to sign it into law today.

The bill marks the first time that federal funds have been used to finance transit operations, as opposed to buying equipment or building transit systems.

The bill authorizes $3.9 billion in operating subsidies over the period 1975-80.

This aid also could be used by cities for capital improvements to transit systems,

Five Countries Offer To Host Chess World Championship In '75

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five countries have already offered to host the world chess championship match in 1975 and the bidding may produce prize money in excess of $3 million, an American chess official says.

The official, who wished to remain anonymous, said Monday the Shah of Iran is also reportedly interested in hosting the match and might offer "an amazing amount."

In any case, the official believes Bobby Fischer will compete in the title match, despite rumors to the contrary.

Fischer, 31, resigned his title earlier this year in a rules dispute with the International Chess Federation. The official said, however, that he expects Fischer to play the challenger, 22-year-old Anatoly Karpov of Russia, who won the right to play Fischer earlier this month.

The official said Sweden, the Philippines, Mexico, Puerto Rico and Italy "are prepared to offer huge sums as prize money for the right to hold the match" and that Venezuela is also interested in making a bid. He said the largest offer was reportedly more than $3 million.

He said the bids won't be revealed until Jan. 2, 1975, by Dr. Max Euwe, president of the Federation Internationale des Echecs, the International Chess Federation, in Amsterdam.

"If Fischer doesn't accept the terms of the match by April 1, then Karpov automatically becomes champion," the official said. "The Russians are hoping this will happen because they'd love to steal it (the title) back without playing a game."

The world title match is to start June 1. Fischer won the title in 1972 from Russia's Boris Spassky.

A surgeon explained that an aneurysm, which frequently results in death or a severe stroke, is a rupture of a blood vessel.

Arms Limitation Approval Likely

Returning from a week-long overseas trip that included a meeting in Vladivostok with Brezhnev, Ford and his aides expressed optimism over the arms agreement.

But congressional and Pentagon sources showed some skepticism as they awaited more specifics on the agreement, which Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger called a breakthrough in strategic arms limitation (SALT) negotiations.

Ford's briefing with Democratic and Republican members of the House and Senate also included key members from both parties on the congressional Foreign Affairs, Armed Services and Appropriations committees. But it did not include the prime administration critic on nuclear weapons policy, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

Jackson has been demanding that any SALT II agreement with the Soviets provide balance in both the numbers and force of missiles.

Among the worries expressed by some members of Congress and Pentagon staff aides was whether the ceilings in the new agreement will take into account the payload of missiles. The Russians have missiles much bigger than does the United States; with three times the payload.

And there have been questions of whether Ford was in too much of a hurry during the two-day summit meeting and "grabbed at the first agreement he could get."

The community-wide service is sponsored by the Midland Association of Churches and the Midland Ministerial Association.

Regional Bosses Eye Coal Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regional leaders of the United Mine Workers gathered to act on a fattened contract proposal as the national coal strike entered its third week today.

UMW officials said if the 36-member bargaining council of regional leaders approves the pact, the 8-to-10-day ratification process may be shortened so the mines can be reopened early next month. The council met here today.

The council rejected the first industry proposal last week. The new one was hammered out by union and industry negotiators over the weekend under the prodding of federal mediators.

Details were not announced, but union sources said the tentative agreement provides a 10 per cent wage increase the first year, 4 per cent more in the second year, and 3 per cent in the third. Miners now make between $42 and $50 a day.

The earlier proposal would have provided a 9 per cent raise the first year and 3 per cent increases the next two years.

There's no change in the cost-of-living formula that guarantees an additional 1 cent an hour increase for every 0.4 per cent boost in the government's Consumer Price Index, sources said.

Former Burmese U.N. Leader U Thant Dies; Services Pend

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant of Burma, former United Nations secretary-general who died of cancer at 65, will be the first person to lie in state at U.N. Headquarters. It is among unprecedented international honors planned for the third U.N. secretary-general.

His body will be on view Wednesday for the U.N. delegates, employees and correspondents. The 138-nation General Assembly will hold a special meeting for eulogies to Thant after his successor, Kurt Waldheim, returns from a peace mission in the Middle East.

After Thant's death was announced Monday, the assembly stood for a moment of silence in his memory, devoted half an hour to tributes from Waldheim and regional group chairmen, and put off to today a debate on whether to switch Cambodia's U.N. seat from Lon Nol's to Norodom Sihanouk's representatives.

Thant died at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York. He had suffered from cancer of the cheek for years. The cancer spread to the jaw and became complicated with pneumonia. For months he lived in Harrison, N.Y., writing his memoirs until he became ill.

Tributes began when word of his death reached U.N. offices here. A close British co-worker, Undersecretary-General Brian Urquhart, said: "He was a very — in the true sense of the word — good man, courageous and very serious."

Waldheim credited Thant with "total dedication to the United Nations" and said, "His wisdom and his calm but resolute personality were vital factors in many critical situations." He relayed the statement by telephone from Damascus and had an aide read it to the assembly in his name.

He also gave orders that Thant's body lie in state at the U.N. Headquarters building.

Speaking for the African group, junior Foreign Minister Isaac A. Sepetu of Tanzania said Thant "belonged to all mankind." For Eastern Europe, Ladislav Smid, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia, called Thant "a man of the highest intellectual caliber."

U.S. Ambassador John A. Scali said: "Today we have lost one of the great men of our WASHINGTON (AP) — Gary E. Everhardt, a career employee of the National Park Service, may be named its new director, an administration source says.

had been fed through a tube because he could not swallow.

The funeral has not been arranged.

Thant followed Trygve Lie of Norway and Dag Hammarskjold of Sweden as U.N.'s chief administrative officer. He served 10 years, the longest tenure of all, through the organization's stormiest period ending in 1971.

Since retirement, Thant had

Haldeman, Mitchell Open Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mitchell's lawyer, William G. Hundley, told the jury Monday that Mitchell was a fall man's lawyer today to understand "his reliance on the integrity and guidance of Richard Nixon" in weighing the "obstruction of justice" charges would show clearly the loyalty against the former White House chief of staff.

As the lawyer for former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell did before him, Haldeman's attorney, John J. Wilson, painted Haldeman as an innocent man who had "no intention of obstructing justice in the Watergate affair."

Delivering his opening statement, Wilson outlined for the jury what he called "chapters" in the Watergate story. Beginning with the break-in, planning, the immediate Watergate aftermath, the defendant's need for money and the $350,000 in Haldeman's control that eventually went to the "Watergate defendants."

But, said Wilson, "Mr. Haldeman recalls seeing nothing even hinting at this situation."

He said Haldeman never saw any such memoranda "if they existed on the break-in" and "his testimony will be that he knew nothing of an illegal nature."

Of the meetings a week after the June 17, 1972, break-in which suggestions were made that the CIA should tell the FBI to discontinue looking into the source of $114,000 in laundered campaign money, Wilson said there "was a genuine concern that CIA operations might be impeded."

Wilson said that was not an unreasonable theory at the time, although it was abandoned later.

"I don't want you to think for one moment that the defense contemplates CIA involvement in the break-in," Wilson said. "On the matter of raising money for the original Watergate defendants, Wilson said it was represented to Haldeman by Dean. That the money was for attorney fees, family support or bail money and if you believe Mr. Haldeman on that, he is not a conspirator to obstruct justice."

Wilson said, "Haldeman's position on the money is that he never knew it to be used for improper purposes."

He said Haldeman ordered several times that the $350,000 be had reserved for polling and advertising to be turned back to the re-election committee after the election and that its ultimate use as hush money was "wholly without the consent or knowledge of Mr. Haldeman."

In his opening statement, Mitchell's lawyer mentioned White House tapes that showed "how certain people started to set him up" and "the role they had planned out for the Big Enchilada."

The Forbidden City, so named because common people during the dynasties could not enter, is a large complex of pagoda-topped buildings. Kissinger said the Chinese have shown him a new area on each of his seven visits.

Kissinger visited with Premier Chou En-lai at a rest home on Monday. He later said the ailing 76-year-old leader was "bright and alert."

Commissioners Court Hears Report Of Child Abuse Cases

A Midland child welfare supervisor told county commissioners Monday that five cases of physical child abuse have been reported to the welfare office during the last year.

The supervisor, Mrs. Beverly Acker, said a state program for the prevention of child abuse is being incorporated into the Midland County child welfare system.

Midland County Judge Barbara Culver asked Mrs. Acker if any of the reported cases of child abuse had been prosecuted. Mrs. Acker replied none of the five cases ever came before a court.

Mrs. Acker said later in response to a reporter's question that the cases involved one family that moved before criminal action could be taken and one in which the parent sought help through welfare counseling. The other cases involved parents who were aware of what happened and, after welfare office investigations, were determined to be capable of handling their children in a proper manner.

The child welfare supervisor presented a narrated film production to the commissioners which outlined the Texas Department of Public Welfare's program on child abuse.

Theme of the film presentation "Lift A Finger To Save A Life" urges citizens to report all suspected cases of child abuse to local authorities.

The film, with a featured introduction by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, showed that more than 2,000 cases of child abuse were reported in the state during 1973, and at present, child abuse results in the deaths of two children each week in Texas.

The film showed several examples of abused children, and made the point that most children who receive the brunt of abuse are under the age of 3.

MC Trustees To Talk Campus Opening Plans

Opening ceremonies for the new Midland College campus — the first building is scheduled to be completed within a month — will be discussed tonight when the board of trustees meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Midland Room of The Midland National Bank.

In addition to hearing construction progress reports and making plans to open the facility, trustees also will open bids for paving of the site and hear a report for the landscape architect.

Other agenda items include an audit report, budget amendments, tax office litigation, tax office error and correction list and employment of a geology instructor.

Midland Drive U.S. 80 Entry To Be Closed Permanently

A crossover between U.S. Highway 80 and the service road in Midland, studied the past year because of a high accident rate, will be closed permanently on or after Dec. 2.

The crossover to both the east and west lanes of U.S. 80 is located at the Midland Drive intersection. The intersection of Midland Drive and the service road will remain open but traffic will not be allowed to enter or leave U.S. 80 at the crossover.

Twenty-four accidents occurred here between 1969 and 1973. In November 1973, the crossover to the lanes of U.S. 80 was temporarily closed for a year to see what effect this would have on the accident rate.

Since the temporary closing, there have been no accidents at this location. And in addition, there has not been an increase in the number of accidents at the crossovers adjacent to this location.

"The Highway Department's study of the closed crossover for the last year has accomplished what we hoped it would — accidents in this immediate area have been reduced," according to District Engineer Paul H. Coleman of Odessa. Coleman said 15 persons were injured as a result of 24 accidents at the intersection between 1969 and 1973. No fatalities, however, were recorded.

Sugar Refiners Deny Costs Blame

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's sugar refiners say they are not to blame for the spiraling cost of sugar, but a government study points to "very large windfall gains" through the sugar industry.

The differing points of view came Monday at a hearing of the Council on Wage and Price Stability. The council is investigating the causes of the four-fold increase in the price of sugar in the last year.

"If you are looking for the cause of the high price of sugar, either household or industrial, it is not to be found in the refiners' margins," said Edward D. Hollander, senior vice president of the accounting firm of Robert R. Nathan Associates, representing sugar refiners.

However, Bruce Walter, who presented the council's staff study of profits, said all segments of the industry reaped windfall gains when increasing prices raised the value of their sugar inventories. He said grocers also shared in the windfall.

Hollander contended the refiners' profits amount to just enough to keep ever-costlier raw sugar moving through their mills.

In other economic developments: —The Agriculture Department said the retail cost of a year's supply of farm-produced groceries rose $4 in October, another record high. But the figures also showed that the increase would have been greater if middlemen had not trimmed their margins for some food items.

—House Speaker Carl Albert said Democratic congressional leaders will seek a meeting with President Ford soon to review the state of the economy and possible economic legislation.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Scratches Mar Colorful Fridge

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — Does any reader know how to remove scratches from a copper-tone refrigerator? I made the mistake of removing some paint spots from the refrigerator with a scouring pad. The cleaners and waxes I have used seem to make the scratches show even more. — BETTY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with those newspapers that put crossword puzzles in the fold of the paper instead of at the top or bottom of a page. — A.S.

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. B.G. who wants to wrap her head in toilet tissue to save her hairdo has only to tear off enough tissue to go around her head twice. Pin tissue to the side of the head with a bobby pin, take it around to the back and pin to the other side of the head and then raise the paper a bit higher and take back around again pinning when necessary. This covers any part of the hair that touches the pillow. The tissue also absorbs perspiration as you sleep. The first time I did this my husband took one look and in amazement said, "Where do you think you are going?" Now he is used to it. I have been doing this over 20 years and my hair stays in great shape from one set to another. Tell Mrs. B.G. the tissue works better when doubled. — M.E.G.

DEAR POLLY — and Mrs. B.G. — To wrap one's head in toilet tissue to hold the set use at least 1 1/2 to two yards of tissue put on turban style. Start at the hairline and wrap toward the crown, pin in place with bobby pins and then put a night net over all. Waves should be pinned before putting on the tissue and one should be gentle with a bouffant style. I have heard that a satin pillowcase helps keep one's hair style but have never tried it. — LILLIAN.

DEAR READERS — I find a rayon satin pillowcase alone works beautifully and keeps one's hairdo (at least mine) for a full week. One or two clips placed at strategic places help, too. When on a trip and I have forgotten to pack such a pillowcase a satin or nylon tricot half slip pulled over the pillow works just as well. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is a way to have a smart new rug at little cost. Usually carpet dealers have old display samples of carpet for sale and often for as little as 15 to 20 cents each. Select coordinating colors all the same size and buy carpet tape at the hardware store. On your floor arrange the squares to your satisfaction, turn squares over and tape wrong sides together. You will have an individual rug of quality that has no relation to the price paid for the samples. — J.S.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Daughter-In-Law Makes Her See Red

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law (I'll call her Mary) hates red hair. I have red hair and so do my mother and my brother. My son, who is married to this red-hair hater, has brownish hair with a slight reddish cast, but Mary insists that she is blond. Mary says she has hated red hair all her life—especially on girls. She is expecting her first child any day now and she says she has had nightmares about having a baby girl with fiery red hair. (She tells me this right to my face, mind you, when I'm sitting there with red hair.)

Abby, what does a red-headed mother-in-law say to a daughter-in-law who says, "If I have a red-headed baby girl, I'll drown her."

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: She can't be serious. But don't take any chances. Be right there with a pink butterfly net for Mary in case she gives birth to a red-headed baby girl.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 16-year-old girl who has been going with dudes since I was 12. They hang around my house and take me for a ride to park and make out, but when it comes to school dances or movie dates, they ask another girl.

I read in your column that boys like to be seen in public with girls they respect. Then I realized they just didn't respect me. That shook me up, and now I am trying to improve my reputation. But how can I refuse to park and make out with a guy once I've said okay? Or am I hopeless?

HAS-BEEN AT 16

DEAR HAS: You are not hopeless. You've already conquered the first two steps in self-improvement. (1) Knowing you need it. (2) Being determined to improve. Now, flatly refuse to park. If the boy asks, "How come all of a sudden?" tell him that you've changed your way of living.

It may take a while to build a better reputation, but it can be done. Be consistent. You're on the right track.

DEAR ABBY: To "Little Me in Hartford," who finds people in amazement to think a man as handsome, brilliant and witty as her husband would marry a dolt like her! No, you are not alone.

I, too, am married to a handsome, witty, charming professional man. I am rather plain. When our engagement was announced (we worked together) the amazement on the part of many was apparent. However, 18 years and three children later, we are still married.

PLAIN JANE IN MASS.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SAME FIGHT EVERY YEAR": Same answer from here. Compromise. Go to your mother's for Thanksgiving and to his mother's for Christmas.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Thanks to all the loyal Midlanders, the east stands were full of REBS at Wichita Falls last Saturday. We appreciate everyone's support. Special thanks go to all the radio and tv stations, The Midland Reporter-Telegram, and the businesses and individuals who backed the spirit drives throughout the last week. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neal transported the helium tanks so that Key Club members could pass out balloons at the game.

The cheerleaders and Rebeltes should be commended for their efforts to get everyone involved with the spirit drives. In fact, one of the referees and several Rider and Rebel fans felt that they were a credit to Lee. Special thanks go to Assistant Principal Glenn Woods who worked around strikes, deadlines, and students to get everyone to Wichita Falls to support our mighty Maroon Platoon. The band had a fantastic half-time show; so great that they got several standing ovations from both Rider and Rebel fans. Way to go Rebs, one and all!

The 5-AAAA grid team showed how great our team was by placing David Sledge on the All-District offensive squad and Junior Miller, Keith Bishop, and Blaine Murray on the defensive squad. We also had Steve Degenfelder, Gary Bowman, Buster Mathis and Greg Rendall on the honorable mention list. Our great leader, Coach Jim Acree, is the 1974 Coach of the Year. Way to go, District 5-AAAA Champ!

Come see the District Bell, it's ours to enjoy! Cathy Messer, Robin Malone, Jane Kauffman, Jamie Bates and Slava Seay are the members of our new bell squad. They will be in charge of our district bell this year. In case you haven't seen it, they've already painted it maroon and white.

With the conclusion of a great football season, our defending district basketball champs have launched another winning season of basketball. Friday night our mighty roundballers rolled over Lubbock Coronado at 4 and 6:15, and finally the varsity at 8, with a score of 58-47. Next is Andrews here at 6:15 p.m. today (J.V.) and Varsity at 8. Then this weekend, Friday and Saturday, our Roundballers will host the Tall City Tournament. The schedules for play will be announced soon.

Our speech team did a great job last weekend. The members left Thursday afternoon and went to WTSU in Canyon to compete in a state qualifying speech tournament. They received a 2nd place overall rating in the entire tournament. Tanya Jones and Berry Spears received a 3rd place rating in debate; Tony Scardino and Jeff Sapato received a 2nd place in standard debate; Susan Tomlinson placed 3rd in girls persuasive speaking; Kevin Clark placed 1st in boys informative speaking. Brad Robertson and Rica Mitcussion placed 3rd in their event. Congratulations!

This week will be a short one. We get out Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays. Everyone be careful and have a good time. See you Monday.

See you around, Linda, Tanya and Becky. P.S. Marlynn Dwyer has been named AAUW's outstanding girl. Congratulations, Marlynn! P.S.S. Belated birthday greeting to "Bubba" Sledge, and Linda Riggan, also Happy Birthday to Roger Linton and Chris Cain.

San Antonio Bus Strike Continues

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The growing stalemate between transit officials and bus drivers Monday appeared likely to keep buses off city streets for the remainder of the week.

Union bus drivers and maintenance men have a meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Thursday and Friday are considered to be holidays because of Thanksgiving Day, said Tom Fuller, assistant general manager for the transit system.

WE ARE THE MOUSEKETEERS—Millions of Americans now in their 20s and 30s recognize this group, the Mouseketeers of television's Mickey Mouse Club. The club once was a daily feature show for children, starting in 1955. The shows will be rerun daily, starting Jan. 20, for a new generation of children. (AP Wirephoto.)

Children's Feature Of Years Ago To Return As Daily Show

By BOB THOMAS

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — "Mouseketeers roll call ... Sharon ... Karen ... Bobbie ... Annette ..."

For millions of American youngsters it was a daily ritual, watching the mouse-eared entertainers of the Mickey Mouse Club identify themselves on television.

Now, 15 years later, the children of those millions will be watching the same rollcall on tv.

Beginning Jan. 20, the Mickey Mouse Club will appear daily on KTTV, Los Angeles, and other television channels throughout the country.

The half-hour, black-and-white shows are scheduled for 5 p.m. The same starting time for the show when it first appeared on the ABC network in 1955.

The series lasted two seasons as an hour program, another as a syndicated show in 1962-63. Most Americans in their 20s and 30s remember with fondness the spell-out theme song, the "Spin and Marty" and "Hardy Boys" series, and "Fun with Music Days," plus the talented troupe that answered the daily rollcall.

A few of them gathered at the old alma mater to celebrate Mickey Mouse's 46th birthday and the return of his television club. Obviously the Mouseketeers have changed more than Mickey has. All had mellow memories about the years they spent in the spotlight.

Darlene Gillespie is 32 and mother of a son, 15, and a daughter, 3. After the Club folded, she studied to be a surgical nurse and married Phil Gammon, an independent gasoline retailer.

He has also invested in a record company and Darlene lately has been making country-and-western records.

Eileen Diamond is now 30, married to conductor-producer Roy Rogosin, mother of a 4-year-old daughter.

After the Club disbanded, she made four or five movies and danced in theater musicals.

Lacking the urge to perform, she made the transition to producing, and she and her husband are staging "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg" on Broadway next year.

Tiny Sharon Baird, 32 and divorced, toured night-clubs and now plays animal characters in Sid and Marty Kroff's television series for children.

Wayne Osmond of the singing Osmond-Brothers will be married in Salt Lake City on Dec. 13 to the reigning Miss Utah, Kathryn White.

It will be the third wedding for an Osmond in the past 16 months. Alan, the oldest brother in the group, married Suzanne Pinegar last summer, and Merrill married Mary Carlson in September 1973.

The ceremony will be in the Salt Lake Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), a spokesman for the Osmond family said.

Miss White, 21, is a senior at Brigham Young University in Provo. She met Wayne, 23, last January when she sang at a church meeting and he was in the congregation.

Among the other alumni of the Mickey Mouse Club: Paul Peterson, 31, who was a regular on "The Donna Reed Show"; Don Grady, 30, of "My Three Sons"; Bobbie Burgess, 33, dancer on "The Lawrence Welk Show"; Johnny Crawford, 28, star of "The Rifleman"; Cheryl Holdridge, 30 and guested in variety segments.

The youngest of the Club, he stayed on to appear in Walt Disney features, later free-lanced. Now 25 he has returned to the studio as a producer's assistant.

The most famous of the Mouseketeers, Annette Funicello, 32 and married to agent Jack Gilardi, recently gave birth to her third child and couldn't attend the party.

Comanche Peak Nuclear Plant Has New Foe, Watchdog Body

GLEN ROSE, Tex. (AP) — The proposed Comanche Peak nuclear power plant has picked up another opposition group and another watchdog body as the federal nuclear safety hearing on the plant opened here.

The new watchdog role was initiated Monday by the state attorney general's office, represented by attorney Robert Pendergraft.

Pendergraft filed a motion with the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board to grant the state the status of an intervenor as the board opened its hearing on whether the plant is safe enough to build.

It is from the evidence presented to the hearing that the board will decide upon issuance of a construction permit allowing Texas Utilities Co. to build the 2,300-megawatt nuclear fission plant near here.

Pendergraft's motion drew objections from Atomic Energy Commission attorney Gregory Fess, who said that the state had not developed grounds for intervention.

Pendergraft said the state was seeking to intervene "in an

Actress May Miss Her Part Of Drug Antitrust Refund

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Up to a million persons in six states will divide $25 million by next spring in an antitrust settlement from five major drug companies, according to directors in charge of refunding the money. But one claimant who may run into difficulty is Eva Gabor.

A clerk said Monday that the actress submitted a form requesting a refund but didn't list her age. The form was sent back, the clerk said. She didn't know if Miss Gabor had returned it.

The refunds are for persons who bought medicines containing the drug tetracycline from 1964 to 1966. A class action suit accused the companies — American Cyanamid, Bristol-Myers, Pfizer, Olin and Upjohn — of overpricing the drugs. The firms settled the suit for $39 million, of which about $14 million will go to various state agencies.

Robert M. Lazo said the board had on Sept. 30 granted the State of Texas the right to participate in the hearings as an "interested state," a status which gives the state the right to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses without the obligation of filing positions on each issue presented.

No representative of the state cross-examined witnesses at the previous nuclear hearing in Glen Rose Aug. 1.

The new opponent group is the Democratic Women's Club of Tarrant County, which was represented Monday by Nancy Jacobson of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Jacobson testified that the women's club had recently passed a resolution opposing the building of the nuclear plant on grounds that the plant would be unsafe.

DIDN'T BOTHER HIM—Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback Terry Bradshaw gets his eye treated on the sidelines after scampering for an 18-yard touchdown against the New Orleans Saints Monday. He returned to the game and led the Steelers to a 28-7 victory by passing for two scores and running for another. (AP Wirephoto.)

Bradshaw Guides Steelers, 28-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "If I'd been O. J. Simpson, I'd have scored a couple more," said Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw after he led the Steelers to a 28-7 runaway victory over the New Orleans Saints in Monday night's National Football League game.

Simpson, star running back of the Buffalo Bills, has had better nights than the blond quarterback had against the Saints Monday. But Bradshaw's performance was "more than sufficient, getting 99 yards rushing — including a touchdown — and 80 yards and two more touchdowns through the air.

The fourth Steeler touchdown came on a 64-yard punt return, and I wasn't about to disturb a good thing."

Bradshaw hit eight of 19 with two interceptions.

Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll said in the noisy, steamy dressing room. "You saw it. You could have run for a hundred yards yourself.

"I would have liked to have thrown the ball a little better, but our running game was going, and I wasn't about to disturb a good thing."

Bradshaw played a heck of a fine game," Noll said.

Noll has rotated quarterback chores among Bradshaw, Joe Gilliam and Terry Hanratty, saying he was waiting for a leader to emerge and "take the bull by the horns."

Bradshaw threw 31 yards to Frank Lewis for a first-quarter score, ran 18 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter and tossed one yard to Larry Brown for a third-period marker.

Swann's 64-yard scamper also came in the third period.

Between Brown's touchdown and the one by Swann, the Saints notched their single score of the night — a 10-yard pass from reserve quarterback Bobby Scott to rookie tight end Paul Seal.

Scott stepped in late in the first half, after starting quarterback Archie Manning had gone 2-10-3 in passing. Scott hit eight of 22 without being picked off.

Joe Greene and Steve Furness sacked Manning twice. They got to Scott for two more sacks, and Dwight White nailed Scott to add a fifth sack to the Steeler defensive statistics. They came into the game with 40 sacks in 10 games and the NFL's third-ranked defense. The Saints were ranked fourth.

The Steeler defense held the Saints to a total of 178 yards from scrimmage, while the Pittsburgh offense was garnering 334 — 272 of it ground yardage.

Franco Harris again went over 100 yards for the night, picking up 114 on 19 carries. It was the sixth straight time he passed the century mark in rushing.

The nationally televised victory left Pittsburgh at 8-2-1 for the season and dropped the Saints to 4-7.

HITS .323 IN AMERICAN LEAGUE—

Ranger Mike Hargrove Named Rookie Of Year

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Six years ago, the odds probably were greater that Mike Hargrove would be a star in the National Football League or the National Basketball Association than the American League Rookie of the Year.

It wasn't that he was such a promising football or basketball player, but more that his baseball background wasn't in the mold of a major league star.

His college football career lasted one year and he played basketball for two years, but Hargrove kept hitting baseballs for four years.

His college baseball performance was good but not eye-opening and he was picked by the Rangers in the 25th round of the 1972 baseball draft after some 500 other players were chosen.

Hargrove opened some eyes in 1973 when he hit .351 at Gastonia in the Class A Carolina League, but few players make the jump from there to the big leagues.

"I wasn't invited to spring training until about two weeks before it started," he said. "I had no idea that I would be invited and it never entered my mind that I would make the team. I thought Billy Martin just wanted to see what he had in the minor leagues."

Spencer as a springboard to playing time in the early going, but it was a smooth batting stroke and a bundle of line drives that kept him in the lineup.

Big Average

His average stayed in the .300 range for much of the summer before "tailing off" to the .320 level at the end.

Hargrove said he couldn't argue with manager Martin's strategy of playing him only against right-handed pitching.

"We were winning with the platoon system, so I can't complain," he says. "As for next year, of course, every player wants in there all the time, but Billy hasn't said a word about his plans."

The 25-year-old lefthander says he has no fear of the so-called "sophomore jinx," because "I believe it happens when a rookie has a good year and gets complacent and I'm not gonna let that happen."

Hargrove's exploits with the Rangers here given respectability to baseball back in his hometown in Perryton.

For most of last season, Ranger games were carried on one radio station in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

to some 20 games a year.

When he went to North-eastern State College in Oklahoma, his plans were to play only basketball and football, but his father persuaded him to go out for baseball, too.

His college football career lasted one year and he played basketball for two years, but Hargrove kept hitting baseballs for four years.

He said his main hope was to make Triple A in 1974 and reach the majors two years later. "To say I was shocked to make the team last spring would be more than an understatement," he said.

Oklahoma On Top

Alabama Still Running Second

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — No one should know more about the Oklahoma Sooners than Barry Switzer, but the Sooners coach says that even he was surprised by his team's offensive output in Saturday's 28-14 victory over Nebraska.

Although the top-ranked Sooners had to score 21 points in the final 20 minutes for the margin of victory, they moved the ball consistently against a fine Nebraska defense, gaining 482 yards on the ground.

The showing kept the mighty Sooners in the No. 1 position in this week's Associated Press rankings, released Monday.

Oklahoma will seek to extend college football's longest winning streak to 20 games this Saturday against arch-rival Oklahoma State. The game will end the season for the Sooners, since they are barred from bowl play because of an NCAA probation.

Bowl and the press — you people produced a national championship game on New Year's Day. It was an extravaganza. It happened that team that won that was going to be the national champion.

Alabama and once-beaten and fifth-ranked Notre Dame will be meeting in the Orange Bowl. But the Irish still must play Southern California and Alabama has a Nov. 29 date with Auburn.

Switzer said Monday he thinks the victory over Nebraska, plus Michigan's 14-12 loss to Ohio State, bolsters the Sooners' national title hopes.

"If 50 million people could have seen us play Nebraska, I would feel like they would have been impressed with our football team," Switzer said. "I certainly impressed because I have tremendous respect for Nebraska. I know what kind of football team they are."

The Sooners retained their top ranking by garnering 49 first-place votes and 1,134 points to lead Alabama, 10-0-0, which had 10 first place votes and 1,037 points.

Ohio State held third with 968 points, Michigan was fourth with 795 and Notre Dame fifth with 641.

The remainder of the rankings showed Maryland, Miami of Ohio, North Carolina State, Michigan State, Houston, Baylor, Texas, Pitt, Wisconsin and Brigham Young.

Switzer said Oklahoma was in a better shape now than last year when it was ranked second at the end of the regular season, but fell to third after the bowl games. Notre Dame won the championship after a Sugar Bowl victory over Alabama.

"We were in a different situation last year," Switzer said. "We were the second team at that time. And ABC, the Sugar and the press — you people produced a national championship game on New Year's Day. It was an extravaganza. It happened that team that won that was going to be the national champion.

Alabama and once-beaten and fifth-ranked Notre Dame will be meeting in the Orange Bowl. But the Irish still must play Southern California and Alabama has a Nov. 29 date with Auburn.

Mentioning Alabama's close call with Florida State and Notre Dame's trouble with Navy, Switzer said, "I don't see anyway they can make the Orange Bowl into a national championship affair."

"When we have played a close game, it's been against a team that can win a national championship — a Texas, a Nebraska. I feel like in the big bowl games we've won and played well."

"But you don't know what's liable to happen. A lot of people may forget us by the time Jan. 2 rolls around. We'll try not to allow that to happen."

Platoon Grid Revival Getting New Interest

By The Associated Press

The inflationary pressures which hit every person's pocketbook have struck sports as well, and an Associated Press survey shows some sentiment among college football authorities for returning to the days when an athlete played both offense and defense.

There were two main objections by the coaches to a return to one-platoon: the sport would not have as much scoring because there would be fewer specialists, and not as many young men would get scholarships and a chance to play.

"College football has the best product around, and two-platoon football is one of the reasons for it," said Alabama Coach Bear Bryant. "We went the other way for awhile and when we went back to two-platoon football the crowds started coming back and they get better every year."

Penn State Coach Joe Paterno said Vermont's decision to drop football convinced him it may be time to adopt a one-platoon system as a means of saving money. He said traveling squads have increased from about 35 to 60 since colleges adopted two platoons.

"We have specialty teams for kickoffs, specialty teams for punts, kick return people, because we've got to keep up with the Joneses."

Notre Dame's Ara Parseghian said defense would dominate in single-platoon football, and "if someone's going to tell me that the same number of people are going to come out to watch a game that's 38-24... than to watch those 3-0 games... they better be more realistic about their evaluation of the fan's interest."

"I think the simple thing to do is to be realistic about your program — let water seek its own level. If you can't compete in big-time football, then you don't belong there. Drop to the next division. But don't try to change the game to hold them."

While the majority of the football coaches contacted by The AP did not favor returning to one-platoon, it should be noted that it is the athletic directors, who must find ways to make budgets fit inflationary times, who will make the decisions.

About 65 per cent of the 50 major college football coaches surveyed by The AP last weekend said they would oppose abolishing the current system in which there are offensive and defensive units — as well as special kicking teams. But there was also considerable sentiment for a return to one-platoon football.

A proposal that would return college football to the one-platoon system — and thus reduce the number of scholarship players on each team — will be presented to the National Collegiate Athletic Association in January.

Norval Ritchey, University of Oregon athletic director, said officials at seven of the eight schools in the Pacific 8 Conference favor adopting a system which would limit substitutions during a game, forcing many players to perform on both offense and defense.

"The only panacea I can see for this galloping inflation is a return to one-platoon football," said Jim Barratt, athletic director at Oregon State. "I'm going to fight for this at my own university, at the Pac-8 level in December and at the NCAA in January."

Texas Vs. A&M

SWC Quarterbacks View The Game

Now that the Southwest Conference mob scene is heading toward its last gasp, the whole thing could boil down to 60 minutes Friday on the Astroturf at Austin's Memorial Stadium. Among the millions viewing the ABC-TV national telecast will be a dozen young men who should have as good an idea of the outcome as anyone — the six SWC quarterbacks who went against the A&M and Texas defenses and six defensive players who met their offensive challenges. And they are unanimous in their predictions: It will definitely be a close game. Who will win? They're not so definite — five like the Aggies by a narrow margin, five think Texas will win in a squeaker, and two can't decide. Here's what they have to say.

Q — Quarterbacks, rate the A&M and Texas defenses for us.

Lee Cook, TCU — The A&M defense is a little better. They're about the same size, but A&M came at us harder and their defensive backs are better. Doug English (Texas tackle) is probably the best defensive player I've ever faced. Warren Trahan (A&M tackle) is almost the same. Both defenses will be tough to move on. The offenses will have to establish a running game quick. I look for the defenses to stifle the offenses. Unless A&M can throw the ball — and they won't be able to throw unless they get a running game going, A&M has a better pass rush. They both play basically the same defense. I'll go with A&M, partly because of their defensive edge and partly because they're up there for the first time in a long time and they might be more ready.

Tommy Kramer, Rice — A&M is stronger defensively than Texas; their secondary is much stronger and their overall defense is quicker and more aggressive. But Texas is better offensively. I don't think Warren Trahan is as quick as Doug English, but he might be a little stronger. English puts on a real good pass rush; they're about equal against the run. I don't expect a lot of scoring. To me, A&M has a better team overall, but Texas has the tradition and they've been there before. So I'd have to say it's a toss-up.

Mark Miller, Arkansas — We had more trouble with the Texas defense than we did with A&M. They're both very physical, the Aggies probably a little more so than Texas. A&M's two tackles (Warren Trahan and Ted Lamp) are big and strong and that linebacker Simonini was all over the field. Texas gave us a few more "looks," a few more alignments that we hadn't seen, and our linemen weren't able to get off the ball as quick. I think Texas will have the edge because the Texas defense will be able to stop the A&M offense a little better. I thought they had the two best defenses we went against this year. Ricky Wesson, SMU — We ran the ball pretty good on both of them. If the line blocks for either team, they'll be able to move the ball. A&M should be able to throw on Texas because the Texas defensive backs are inexperienced — but Texas does put on a pretty good pass rush. It ought to be a real tough game, a real good defensive game.

Tommy Dunives, Texas Tech — A&M had a more aggressive defense, but Texas has had a lot of personnel changes since we played them so it would be hard for me to compare the two defenses. I don't look for a high scoring game. Texas will be playing at home and trying to protect that long winning streak, but A&M is bigger and more physical and will be up for the game, too. I know they want to go to the Cotton Bowl by the way they played against us. They convinced me. Neal Jeffrey, Baylor — A&M is a super defensive team — especially on pass defense because they've got such a strong pass rush that you don't get any time to throw. The Aggies are big up front and they have lots of talent in their outside linebackers and cornerbacks. Texas isn't as big and they're inexperienced in the secondary, but they're probably just as tough up front. English got to me more times than Trahan did but they're both big and strong and quick — they both ought to be outlaid. I expect it to be a real close game. They'll both score some points, but it won't be a real high-scoring game. Of course, I'm hoping Texas will win. And I kind of think they will because they're playing in Austin and because Texas has made fewer mistakes than A&M the last few games.

NO LESS THAN 18 TV GAMES— Thanksgiving Weekend For Football Masochists

NEW YORK (AP) — Pilgrims, so the story goes, celebrated the first Thanksgiving shortly after landing at Plymouth Rock in 1620, and invited neighboring Indians to dinner as a gesture of goodwill. This year many Americans will also be spending their Thanksgiving with Redskins, Browns, Panthers, and two sets of Lions.

Barnes Back With Spirits?

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Marvin Barnes, the $2.1 million rookie center for the Spirits of St. Louis was back in St. Louis today, but it was still unknown whether he would be in uniform for the team's American Baseball Association game against the Denver Nuggets tonight.

"We know he's in town, but there haven't been any meetings with team officials so far," a team spokesman said late Monday night. "And right now we can't say what will happen."

Barnes, who has expressed discontent with his contract with the Spirits, failed to show up at a game last Wednesday against the New York Nets, apparently on the advice of agent Marshall Boyer.

Another agent, Irwin Weiner, has apparently been retained by Barnes to negotiate with the team concerning what Barnes has called deficiencies in his contract.

"I hope the people in St. Louis realize that he (Barnes) is a young person and didn't want to hurt anyone," Weiner said. "He just got some wrong advice. It isn't in his nature to be a deserter."

Barnes, reached late Monday night, said, "I'm really glad to be back in St. Louis. I never wanted to leave, but I was irked at some of the things that were going on."

"My whole argument is that there are some things I should have in my contract in case I get hurt — not security for me."

Thanksgiving Menu

It's all part of a massive Thanksgiving week tv football schedule brought to you courtesy of the National Football League, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the World Football League, several shaving cream firms and your neighborhood Joe Namath electric popcorn machine dealer.

And if one or two of the games turn out to be turkeys, well there will be plenty more where they came from.

10-Day Period

The 10-day period which began last Saturday and ends next Monday features no fewer than 18 nationally televised football games. And grid buffs who want to spend a little time with their families had better do it today and Wednesday because starting Thursday, it'll be third and long for any housewives hoping to get a word in edgewise.

From Thursday through Monday there will be seven NFL games, five college games and one WFL contest — a total of 13 grid extravaganzas — on the tube. Add in pre-game shows, post-game shows, interviews, highlights, lowlights and scoreboard updates, and even the

Some Discomfort

Discomfort due to overeating and indigestion, common Thanksgiving night occurrences, will be accompanied by the Penn State-Pittsburgh game, a less common practice.

Friday it'll be Texas and Texas A&M, followed by Auburn-Alabama, followed by a deep breath, followed by the Florida Blazers against the Memphis Southmen in a World Football League playoff game.

Saturday it's the colleges again, with Army meeting Navy and Notre Dame taking on Southern California. Sunday the pros take over with four NFL games and — don't touch the dial — it all ends Monday night when masochists can watch the Cincinnati Bengals play the Miami Dolphins.

It's enough to make a Pilgrum get back on the boat.

Phelps Says Notre Dame Built Cage Power Without Cheating

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame has proven that a quality major college basketball program can be built in less than three years — without cheating — says Coach Digger Phelps.

"People have got to admit it can be done; we've proven it here," Phelps said of the resurgent Irish cage program. "I don't know if anybody has ever done it as quickly as we have."

When Phelps took over at Notre Dame in 1971, he had to find football players to fill out the roster. The team could manage only a 6-20 record, including a 94-29 embarrassment by Indiana.

After starting the 1972 season with six losses in seven games, the Irish won 14 of their next 19. They lost by one point in overtime in the National Invitation Tournament finals, ending the season at 18-12.

In 1973 Notre Dame, ranked No. 1 for a time after defeating UCLA, finally rolled to a 26-3 mark.

The Irish were ranked 12th in this year's preseason Associated Press poll.

"To be 6-20 one year, then No. 1 in the country two years later is quite a jump," Phelps said in an interview. "And we didn't break any rules; we weren't on probation."

"We're playing a rugged schedule, probably one of the most testing schedules in the country. It just shows you that it can be done honestly," Phelps shifted all the credit.

MHS Sophs Win

The Midland High sophomore basketball team opened the 1974-75 season Monday in the MHS Gym with an easy 46-21 victory over the Andrews sophomores.

Rusty Maroney led the MHS attack with 10 points while Thrasher was high for Andrews with 12.

from himself, saying, "Everybody here has played a part — from the assistant coaches right on down to the secretary in the office."

He conceded having Notre Dame to "sell" to prospective players helps, but he emphasized it's a well-rounded program that helps keep the quality players coming here.

"Obviously the players are happy here. They're satisfied with what they are getting out of here academically. And I think they are also satisfied with what this place can do for them athletically."

Leafs, Blues Tie, 2-2

TORONTO (AP) — It was only a 2-2 tie but to hear the Toronto Maple Leafs tell it, it sounded like a victory.

The slumping Leafs, after four straight National Hockey League losses, had a 2-1 lead going into the third period Monday night, but Garry Unger's second goal of the game for St. Louis earned the Blues the tie.

"But we got a point tonight and we're set to go now," said Eddie Shack, who was just as enthusiastic on the ice, throwing his weight around and de-lighting the 16,338 fans in the only NHL game played Monday.

"It's been a long slump, but I think we're out of it now," said Leaf Coach Red Kelly, also sounding optimistic although he saw defenseman Ian Turnbull pulled for six weeks with swollen knee ligaments in a collision with the St. Louis goal post. Toronto already had defenseman Borje Salming sidelined with a foot injury.

"I thought we looked much better tonight," said Kelly.

"One point is a big point for us the way we were going. It's been a long time since we've given up only two goals."

Lee, MHS Meet Cage Foes Tonight

The Midland Bulldogs travel to Pecos where the Midland Lee Rebels entertain the Andrews Mustangs in basketball action tonight.

Both the Pack and Rebels stand 1-4 after opening victories last week and they face a pair of District 2-AAA teams in the Eagles and Ponies.

Midland polished off Andrews last week, 83-62, with Bobby Chinn, 6-2 senior, paving the way with 20 points followed by 6-2 senior Greg Smith's 17 and 16 by 6-5 senior Donnie Roberts.

Coach James Cagle hopes to have 6-5 senior Michael Cobb, a second team all-district player last year, in the lineup some tonight for limited action. Cobb missed the opener with an illness.

The junior varsity game is set for 6:15 p.m. with the varsity contest set for 8 p.m.

Coach Paul Stueckler's Rebels have three games with Andrews starting with the sophomore game at 4:15 p.m. followed by the 6:15 junior varsity battle and the varsity tilt at 8 p.m.

Lee defeated Lubbock Coronado 59-48 last Friday with Brett Blackwell scoring 18 points to pace the Rebel attack.

Joining Blackwell in the starting lineup tonight against Andrews will be 6-3 Kent Carpenter, 6-2 Ronnie Farish, 6-0 Gary Parson and 6-4 Jeffrey Jackson.

Cagle will most likely start Terry Nelson, 5-9 senior; Chinn, Smith, Roberts and either Cobb or 6-3 junior Ernest Modkins.

Stanton Splits With Greenwood

GREENWOOD — The Stanton Buffaloes won their second cage game of the year here Monday night with an 85-69 victory over the Greenwood Rangers while the Rangerettes romped to a 90-43 victory in the girls contest.

Bobby Richardson led the Stanton charge with 21 points while Tim Glynn pumping in 16. Brothers Vernon and Elvin Brown had 14 and 10 points respectively. Danny Pruitt led the Rangers with 25 points while Glen Cox and Gil Pyle had 15 and 12 points respectively.

Terressa Smith led the Rangerettes with 25 points while Becky Cranford dumped in 20 markers. Capri Kimbrow had 19. Vickie Christon led Stanton with 22 points while Connie Christon had 11.

Blalock Narrows Money Lead

ATLANTA (AP) — Jane Blalock's $5,000 first prize in last weekend's tournament has moved her to within $3,430 of leading money winner Jo Anne Carner with one tournament left to play on the 1974 women's golf tour.

Her win Sunday at Apopka, Fla., boosted Miss Blalock's winnings for the year to $86,442 — all earned in events in the United States.

Mrs. Carner, who won $115 in Sunday's event, has won $89,872, including $87,894 on the U.S. tour.

Sandra Haynie was third among the money winners with $74,569. Joann Prentice was fourth with $67,227, followed by Sandra Palmer, $54,873; Kathy Whitworth, $52,024; Carol Mann, $47,720; Carole Jo Skala, $47,691; Judy Rankin $45,882, and Donna Young, $38,076.

Planning On Golf? Need Tee Time

If you're planning a round of golf during the Thanksgiving holidays at Hogan Park, you will need a tee time.

The Hogan Park pro shop will be taking tee times for Thursday and Friday during Wednesday only.

Lee Boosters Meet

The Midland Lee Booster Club will have a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Lee High cafeteria and the game film of Lee's 35-8 bi-district loss to Wichita Falls Rider will be shown. The Lee coaching staff will also be present at the meeting.

Madalyn Back In News

Madalyn Murray O'Hair, Austin atheist leader, failed to report for jury duty in Austin's 147th District Court recently, but court officials didn't seem to mind in the least.

It is doubtful, however, if this was to Mrs. O'Hair's liking.

She had boasted publicly that she would not report for jury duty, "though I am fully qualified to serve," terming her planned action "an act of defiance."

She said court employees are required to affirm the existence of a Supreme Being, and jurors are sworn in with an oath which includes the words "So help you God."

She had hoped to test the legality of the constitutional provision, but court officials apparently were not at all cooperative.

Mrs. O'Hair plans to request an attorney general's opinion on the constitutionality of the provision in question (Art. I, Sec. 4) because she believes the U.S. Constitution forbids the requirement (belief in a Supreme Being as a prerequisite for participation in the judicial system) under freedom of religion statutes.

She contends constitutionally guaranteed "freedom of religion" should be interpreted to read "freedom from religion."

By not reporting for jury duty, she had said she intended to force the state to do something.

The Daily Texan, University of Texas student newspaper, quotes Mrs. O'Hair as saying, "That court is a religious court from top to bottom. I'm the only atheist with guts enough to stand up and try to correct this preposterous situation in the Texas judicial system."

She apparently doesn't even try to get along with her fellow atheists, characterizing most of them as "gutless people who refuse to come out of the closet."

"I'm forever giving them (other atheists) hell because of their inability to stand up for their beliefs," she added.

She said further that the group has "no representation" in the governing process and she wants to see atheists elected to state political offices.

But she didn't quit there either. She said her organization, the Society of Separatists, Inc., plans to "pay no taxes whatsoever for 1974. This includes everything—state and federal."

Mrs. O'Hair is doing her best to get back in the public eye, one way or another. That tax bit may do it.

The Cupboard Is Getting More Bare

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—At the State Department, the only celebrities who get more ruffles and flourishes than a visiting pasha or ranking commissar are senators and representatives intent on globetrotting at public expense.

A call from Capitol Hill electrifies State's $585,000 a year staff of 25 congressional liaison experts, all trained to pacify and pamper the legislators who control the department's huge annual budget.

The cable and memo files at Foggy Bottom overflow with tale after tale of the diligence with which the State Department coddles congressmen. Now after a two-month Freedom of Information battle, my associate Bob Owens has gained access to some of the files' finest tidbits.

About a year ago, for example, the State Department indiscreetly alerted too many agencies about a congressional junket to Europe for a NATO parliamentary meeting. This infuriated Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, whose subcommittee writes the State Department's budget.

Hays, who is called "The terrible Tempered Mr. Bang," by battle-scarred diplomats, furiously threatened to "break off diplomatic relations with the Department of State," according to one internal memo.

Moreover, he fumed, he was going to wreak his revenge by taking a bite out of State's budget.

In a memo "for the record," Assistant Secretary of State Marshall Wright wrote, "At 2 p.m. . . Wayne Hays called me. He was furious . . . State had undiplomatically sent out 114 copies of a cable concerning the NATO junket. 'Not more than two would have been needed,'" Hays roared.

Beside himself, Hays told Wright that he "was not going to put up with this (expensive deleted) any longer." A s retribution, Hays intoned, he was going to "reduce the amount of money available (to State) for paper by about three quarters."

That, declared Hays, "would keep (State) from sending copies of cables all over the damn town." As it turned out, Hays did not make good on his threat.

Indeed, Hays told us that his call "did the trick" and forced State to end some of the paper proliferation. The mercurial Hays added amiably that he "didn't hold (the incident) against them."

Another thick file of cables shows how powerful Rep. Leonor Sullivan, D-Mo., requested and got a special transformer in her luxurious Swiss hotel lodgings so she could plug in her hair dryer.

Apparently State feared Mrs. Sullivan's hair dryer might short-circuit and cause an international incident. They sent six copies of their cables on the subject to the National Security Council.

"Rep. Sullivan requests transformer be placed in hotel room large enough to be used for hair dryer," the State Department cabled its mission in Geneva. "Transformer will be placed in Rep. Sullivan's Hotel du Rhone room as re-to the State Department said, "Please inform Mrs. Montoya (wife of Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M.) that carpet has been delivered and is being forwarded via Northwest Flight 4."

When Sen. and Mrs. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., visited London, the U.S. embassy cabled them "a recommended theater list" with such fare as "Private Lives," comedy starring Maggie Smith; "Crown Matrimonial," drama about the abdication of Edward VIII; "Applause," musical with Lauren Bacall. . . Ordinary visitors would stand in line for such hits. The Scotts were told by State to select "ASAP (as soon as possible) . . . so seats may be booked while available."

House Clerk Pat Jennings, a former congressman who has done much to hush up the indiscretions of his ex-colleagues, wangled a junket for himself and his wife to the Paris Air Show. State's files show they went with the House Science Committee at the invitation of its chairman, Olin Teague, D-Tex. Teague disguised the local Jennings as a "special consultant."

"I single rooms are approximately 11 by 12 feet by 18 feet. 2. Double rooms are approximately 15 feet by 18 feet." Mrs. Sullivan took the larger, costlier choice, spending $59.67 a day for single occupancy of a double room.

She told us she was abashed that copies of the cables "went to every Tom, Dick and Harry and were sent 'Priority.'"

Although envoys' hours might better be spent gathering intelligence on hijackers or foreign economics, they are often forced to perform such flunky chores as these:

— Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., a Louisiana parish commissioner, U.S. District Judge Dan Russell and some business cronies used the State Department to help them with a private trip to the Balkans. State was obliged, among other services, to help locate a large yacht on the sunny Adriatic. The trip was billed as "pleasure combined with group's interest in farming and agriculture."

TOM TIEDE The Politics Of World Starvation Discussed

LANCASTER, Pa. (NEA)—The farmer a few miles outside of town sits in the bed of a pickup truck eating an apple. When he is finished, he tosses the core into his fields where it disappears into the healthy shoots of winter wheat. "I've got 300 acres of wheat this season," he says, "but nobody gets it but my dairy cows. That's fine by me. Damn, man, if I thought the grain of it would go to some savage in Africa I'd burn the fields today."

The opinion is coarse, but not uncommon in America today. Though there are many citizens contributing time, money and thought toward minimizing the reality of famine in the world, other citizens are less disposed. Some, as the Lancaster farmer, are racists who believe as Sen. Peter Dominick (R-Col.) observed, that food gifts to areas such as Africa are unnecessary "because some of those people over there eat each other."

Others, many more, are merely tired of paying for what they perceive as handouts to ingrates.

The question of course is which side predominates in the land? The answer may decide the fate of many millions of hungry human beings.

There is no doubt that America has the capability to minimize, if not totally eliminate, world starvation. As the prodigiously blessed fields of Pennsylvania's Lancaster County visually assure, the Republic has extravagant food resources.

The amount of food New York City throws away could save all the famished in Chad. Some experts believe that a mere 3 per cent drop in U.S. grain consumption (five million tons) would be enough to make up for the shortage over the remainder of the planet.

James Grant, president of the Overseas Development Council, believes, in fact, that world starvation could be conquered in a few months with a single stroke of President Ford's pen: "Existing authority under Food for Peace program empowers Mr. Ford to announce — tomorrow, if he chooses — a doubling, to nine million tons, of American food grants." This is almost exactly the estimated world shortage expected for the easily foreseeable future.

Yet as the unsympathetic Lancaster farmer suggests, neither Ford nor America can do much without public reinforcement. Says Grant: "It's clear there are a great many people who are soured by government's handling of food in general. If we did double our grain grants it would naturally aggravate high prices here, probably costing consumers about $1 billion. So naturally, being realistic, you can't expect people to be pleased with the prospect."

Nonetheless, Grant does not rule out this kind of American generosity. He says the people have met similar crisis with similar sacrifice in the past. "Remember what Truman did in 1946. Right after the war it became evident that unless America made giant grain gifts to Europe, many there would starve."

"Well, after five years of war, it was hardly the time to ask Americans for more sacrifices. But Truman did. Asking voluntary compliance, he called for meatless Tuesdays and poultryless Thursdays; he even asked the distilleries to close down. The goal, gigantic at that time, was for millions of bushels of saved grain over a 90-day period."

As it happened, says Grant, Truman's leadership resulted in a saving of three million tons of gift grain. "And I have no doubt that some kind of leadership, used today, would accomplish the same results."

Perhaps. Perhaps the Lancaster farmer speaks only for a callous few. Then again, one wonders. Some time ago this column carried an observation that in time of world famine it may be interperate for Americans to use 10 per cent

The Country Parson By Frank A. Clark

"A fellow's mistakes are more easily forgiven than his lying about them."

DON OAKLEY Yes, It's Our History, Not The President's

NEW YORK (NEA)—Having had second thoughts, President Ford has revoked the agreement which would have given former President Nixon eventual possession of his administration's documents, including those notorious White House tapes.

The action still leaves unresolved, however, a question that goes back long before Watergate: Just who owns the materials generated by a president during his term of office?

The question was raised as early as the time of George Washington, writes John Berry in an editorial in the Library Journal. The first president's papers were given over to "the less than meticulous custody" of Harvard historian Mason Weems, who treated the treasure as his own and took it upon himself to censor and bowdlerize Washington's sometimes salty language.

The setting up of special presidential libraries apparently began with Herbert Hoover and has increased in magnitude since then. The documentation from John Kennedy's truncated term, for instance, is housed in a memorial at Harvard. LBJ's opulent library sits on a commanding knoll overlooking The University of Texas. Richard Nixon's admirers say they still intend to build one for him.

The wide dispersion of these documents makes research difficult for scholars, says Berry, as well as giving rise to occasional charges of "favoritism" by those in possession of them.

Other Costs In addition to paying for the tax subsidies and the upkeep and staffing of these edifices, the public often is asked to pay again when an "authorized" history is marketed to libraries.

It is difficult to determine just when a man's public career, his letters, his phone calls or his intimate conversations with his aides become public property, Berry acknowledges. No one would require public ownership of truly personal and private materials which normally remain in the hands of the official or his family.

"But when he's doing our work, in high office to which we've elected him," he asks, "is there any reason why we, the public, should not own the documentation that remains?"

We have a national library in the Library of Congress and a National Archives, he points out. Surely these are the appropriate, safe and responsible repositories for the records of our public officials.

The public and its scholars should have access to this public information, Berry maintains. And they ought not to have to travel to a dozen different corners of America to get it, face restrictions on its use or live in fear that it will be improperly cared for by private institutions.

We need a national program to insure the collection and preservation of the record, and access to it, says Berry. After all, it's our history, not the president's.

DESPITE INFLATION AND unemployment and a shaky economy, one American tradition — the Christmas Club — has continued and even thrived in 1974.

More than 19 million individuals opened Christmas Club accounts this year. This is a 6 per cent increase over 1973, according to figures tabulated by Christmas Club a Corporation, creators of special savings programs for banks and other financial institutions since 1910.

Deposits in the more than 12,500 Christmas Clubs across the country climbed to over $3.75 billion in 1974, says John H. Guinan, president of Christmas Club Corporation, even though the accounts often do not pay interest. This was a 12 per cent jump in deposits over 1973.

The average depositor will have saved an estimated $205 this year, compared with $182 last year.

The North Pole will not be a depressed area this Christmas.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Then he ruffed a heart; returned to his hand with a second club and tried to ruff another heart. Unfortunately for him, that mean old East overruled and the grand slam had left permanently for never-never land.

How did South misplay the hand? He was right in trying to ruff two hearts; he was wrong in how he went about doing it.

South should cash just one high heart and ruff the second one. Then back to his hand to ruff another. Then he would cash dummy's queen of trumps; get back to his hand by ruffing a club or diamond. Either suit would go through. Then he could draw trumps and claim.

Couple Has High, Scenic Wedding

ALBUQUERQUE, (AP) — Janet McNutt and Dave E. Roberts wanted their marriage to be unusual. It was.

The couple was married in a private aircraft as it flew over the Albuquerque area one recent night. The wedding was performed by Dist. Court Judge William F. Riordan.

"It was a scenic ride," said Denny Brandt, the best man. "The lights (of Albuquerque) were shining. It was very romantic."

"This was most unusual," said Judge Riordan, who was decked out in a blue flight jacket. "I don't specialize in this kind of work."

Panel Seems Ready To Act Fast On Zarb's Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Interior Committee appears ready to act quickly and favorably on President Ford's nomination of Frank G. Zarb to head the Federal Energy Administration.

"We've had good relations up here with Zarb," chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said Monday. "There's no question about his professional ability."

Jackson added that "unless something unforeseen happens," Zarb would be confirmed by the Senate before the end of the year.

Andrew E. Gibson, Ford's first choice for the job, was forced to withdraw after disclosure of an $880,000 salary settlement from an oil shipping firm he once headed. Zarb also comes from a petroleum background. He formerly worked for Cities Service.

In announcing Zarb's nomination, the White House said Zarb had passed all his FBI checks and security clearances as well as conflict-of-interest probes.

Sen. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, the committee's second ranking Republican, called the 39-year-old Zarb "an excellent nomination," although he said he has never had any personal dealings with Zarb.

The nominee currently is the associate director of the Office of Management and Budget.

Other committee members, including Sens. J. Bennett Johnston, Jr., D-La., and James Abourezk, D-S.D., declined comment, saying they didn't know enough about the nominee.

The staff member added that hearings probably would be held next week and would take only one day to complete.

Zarb, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., came to Washington in 1971 to join the Nixon administration as an assistant secretary of labor.

If confirmed, Zarb would succeed John C. Sawhill, who resigned under pressure in a dispute over energy policy. Sawhill had been the chief administration proponent of energy conservation and reportedly had angered the President with his statements favoring a tax increase on gasoline.

Sawhill has been continuing to serve as head of FEA until a successor can be confirmed.

After his work for Cities Service, Zarb entered Wall Street and was executive vice president and chairman of the executive committee of Hayden Stone, Inc., a New York brokerage firm, before joining the Nixon administration in 1971.

Judge Rejects Connally Motion For Venue Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally has been ordered to stand trial here March 19 on charges of accepting a $10,000 bribe in a milk fund case.

U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr. refused Connally's request Monday to have the case shifted to a court in Texas. But Hart agreed to sever the bribery charge from other accusations in a five-count federal indictment against the former Texas governor.

The second trial would deal with accusations that Connally conspired to obstruct justice and committed perjury before a federal grand jury that investigated the case.

Prosecutors estimated that each of the two trials may last from two to three weeks, with basically the same evidence.

Edward Bennett Williams, Connally's attorney, suggested that if the former governor is acquitted on the bribery charge, the prosecutors may decide to drop the remaining accusations.

Williams had asked Hart to move the trial to Texas as a matter of convenience to the Texas witnesses and to escape what he said has been a deluge of publicity about Connally's case and other Watergate-related trials.

In denying the motion Hart said it may be impossible to empanel an impartial jury but, "I do feel that if you can get one anywhere you can get it here... I think we can do it as well here as any place in the country, and perhaps better."

Price Of Diet Sodas Down

By LOUISE COOK, Associated Press Writer

The soaring price of sugar actually may save money for consumers who prefer diet soda.

An Associated Press spot check shows some wholesalers and retailers are abandoning the traditional practice of pricing all soft drinks at the same level — regardless of the sugar content.

A spokesman for Farmer Jack Supermarkets in Detroit said the Midwest chain, which is operated by Borman's Inc., is lowering the price of all sugar-free soft drinks to reflect the fact that they cost less. He said the decreases ranged from 6 to 9 per cent.

"The manufacturers' pricing and promotional allowances have created real cost differentials between regular and diet varieties," said Paul Borman, president of the company.

"We believe the consumer is entitled to have these differentials passed on to them in the form of lower prices."

Soft drink bottlers who set prices at local or regional levels traditionally charged the same amount for regular and diet soda, arguing that the cost differential wasn't very great. All that is changing now.

The price of sugar has soared over the past year as worldwide demand grew faster than production. A five-pound sack of granulated sugar that used to sell for about 70 cents now is near $3 and the government opened hearings in Washington on Monday to investigate the increases.

Supermarkets have been urging customers not to buy sugar. Nutrition experts suggest artificial sweeteners and point out that most people don't really need the sugar they're eating. Some stores have been offering discounts on sugar-free items like fruit, yogurt and unsweetened cereal.

John Cott, president of the store.

Cott Corp., a soda maker based in New Haven, Conn., said his company's recommended selling price for regular soda is 99 cents for two 32-ounce bottles. For diet soft drinks, the recommended selling price is 79 cents for two 32-ounce bottles.

Cott said the company, which does an annual business of $78 million in New England and along the East Coast, has been featuring diet soda in its advertising and reported sales of the sugar-free drinks up 20 to 25 per cent from last year.

The situation varies from bottler to bottler and from store to store.

Eight Americans Among Mexican Jail Escapees

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mexico (AP) — Eight Americans, including some Texans, were among 24 prisoners who escaped from prison here after digging a 22-foot tunnel from their jail cells, police reported.

Piedras Negras is across the border from Eagle Pass, Tex.

Authorities asked for American assistance and federal reinforcements to help hunt and recapture the escapees.

Although the prisoners escaped Sunday morning, their absence was not detected until guard shifts changed at midday. Most had been held on drug charges.

Police Chief Jesus Guerrero, who called the escapees "very dangerous," said they used pieces of iron from their cots to dig the tunnel. He quoted two prisoners who because of the short time they were held preferred not to escape.

Guerrero said the pair did not divulge the escape plan to prison authorities because they feared reprisals.

The eight U.S. escapees were identified as William Chandler of Dallas; Paul Carr Chamberlain, Wichita, Kan.; David Mike Whitley, Winnsboro, Tex.; Dan Allan Wobach, Dallas; Charl Hillard, Austin; Daniel Long Philip, Indianapolis; and Keynon Wallace Liseby of an unspecified Arkansas address.

Police denied today a published report that three of the 24 fugitives drowned in the Rio Grande while trying to cross into the United States.

"It's totally false," a police spokesman said of the report published Monday by the Mexico evening newspaper Ultimas Noticias, which said two of the three were Americans.

The reported drowning victims were not identified. The newspaper said the bodies were fished out of the river Monday.

Happy Given Excellent Chance Of Full Recovery After Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — A tired but relieved Happy Rockefeller is given an excellent chance of fully recovering from her second operation in five weeks for removal of a cancerous breast.

Doctors at Memorial Hospital Monday gave the wife of Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller a 90 per cent chance of long-term survival after her 2½-hour operation. She was expected to go home by Friday.

"I'm greatly relieved," Rockefeller said later when he arrived to visit his wife.

During his visit of almost two hours, she tried unsuccessfully to eat dinner, Rockefeller said.

But the former New York governor said she was in "very good spirits," and watched some television with him.

The former New York governor said his 46-year-old wife was "very sleepy, but happy." But he appeared gaunt and tired himself.

About 11 hours earlier, Dr. Jerome A. Urban removed Mrs. Rockefeller's right breast and about eight lymph nodes in a simple mastectomy. He said he found a cancerous tumor about the size of a pencil lead, but preliminary examination indicated the nodes were benign.

Urban said he was "about 100 per cent sure we will not have to operate again," and that the cancer had not spread to other parts of the body.

The excised cancer was discovered by a biopsy taken five weeks ago, after Mrs. Rockefeller's left breast and lymph nodes in her armpit were removed by Urban in a radical mastectomy.

Doctors said the new tumor was caught at a "very early stage," and apparently developed independent of the much larger one in the left breast.

Ford Continues To Delay Decision On Veterans Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has until midnight Friday to decide what to do about a bill to increase GI education benefits, a measure he has said repeatedly is too costly.

But White House officials say this is not a veto threat, as most veterans organizations and some members of Congress have interpreted his words.

The bill would increase most monthly payments by 23 per cent. Ford has said several times that 18.2 per cent would be more in line with cost-of-living increases.

Ford also objects to a new program of loans in the bill for veterans who can't get federal educational loans elsewhere.

And he objects to a provision to allow veterans 45 months of undergraduate education instead of the current 36 maximum.

Congress passed the bill before its election-time adjournment but did not send it to the White House until after the adjournment to avoid a pocket veto that Congress would have no chance to override.

Tanaka Is Resigning Post In Shame, Embarrassment

TOKYO (AP) — Hailed two years ago as Japan's man of the future, Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka today announced he is resigning in shame and embarrassment over "misunderstandings" in Japanese politics said he would remain as prime minister until the ruling Liberal Democratic party can find a successor. This could take two weeks.

The leading contenders are former Finance Minister Takeo Fukuda, 69, Tanaka's chief political foe, and Finance Minister Masayoshi Ohira, 64, a powerful Tanaka supporter.

The resignation plunged the conservative government party into turmoil. The Fukuda group insisted that a prime minister be chosen through consultation among party leaders. The Ohira faction was holding out for a full-scale party vote.

Fukuda has the backing of former Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and former Deputy Prime Minister Takeo Miki, but this is regarded as insufficient. He is seeking a concensus because he feels he cannot defeat the combined Tanaka-Ohira forces in a straight vote among the dozen or so factions within the party.

A combination of factions led by Tanaka, Ohira and Yasuhiro Nakasone — Tanaka's minister of international trade and industry — defeated Fukuda in four top LDP executives at his official residence next to the Diet, or parliament building.

In a resignation statement, he said: "I deeply feel political and moral responsibility for the current political confusion which has resulted from my personal problems."

Cold, Snow Sting Northeast

By The Associated Press
Cold and snow stung most of the northeastern quarter of the nation today and sent a sharp chill into a large part of the Deep South as well.

A frosty morning greeted residents of much of the Deep South, where temperatures in the low 30s reached as far as northern Florida.

Some other reports: Anchorage 20 cloudy, Atlanta 31 clear, Boston 31 light snow, Buffalo 19 light snow, Chicago 24 clear, Cincinnati 27 clear, Cleveland 25 light snow, Dallas 44 clear, Denver 44 clear, Detroit 17 clear, Honolulu 72 partly cloudy, Indianapolis 31 clear, Kansas City 40 clear, Los Angeles 53 clear, Louisville 22 clear, Miami 69 cloudy, Minneapolis-St. Paul 25 cloudy, Nashville 32 clear, New York 31 clear, Philadelphia 31 clear, Phoenix 51 clear, Pittsburgh 25 clear, St. Louis 26 clear, San Francisco 48 clear, Seattle 39 clear, Washington 35 clear.

One to 3 inches of snow coated a wide area from Pennsylvania through upstate New York and New England. Travel advisories were out in sections of New York, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Fresh snow sifted into Northwest-Montana as a new storm system moved into the northern Plains. With the snow came more arctic cold and powerful winds.

High wind warnings remained in effect for parts of Colorado. Boulder was rocked by gusts up to 55 miles per hour Monday night.

Temperatures skidded into the teens from Wisconsin and northern Illinois to western New York as the coldest weather of the season spread over most of the eastern third of the country. The low 20s ranged south across the Ohio Valley.

Clear skies dominated most of the country outside the Northeast, the northern Plains and Florida.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 7 at Kincheloe Air Force Base, Mich., to 70 at Key West, Fla.

Hearing Won't Delay Offshore Leasing Timetable, Government Official Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leasing program next year to include areas of the Atlantic, Gulf of Alaska and Pacific not open to drilling now.

The new drilling has drawn widespread opposition among environmentalists, local officials and governors whose states would be affected.

The proposed leasing is tentatively scheduled to begin next summer, and a department spokesman said Monday it plans to stick by that schedule. The department had proposed leasing at least 10 million acres, or triple the current annual leasing rate.

Reversals Upset Three Truck Cases

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has reversed three decisions of U.S. District Court Judge John H. Wood Jr. after the San Antonio-based judge ruled against Mexican-American truck drivers.

The drivers accused trucking companies or the Teamsters union of job discrimination.

The lead case was a class action suit filed by Jesse Rodriguez and two other drivers against East Texas Motor Freight (ETMF) and the Teamsters' Southern Conference. Clear Discrimination Pattern

The 5th circuit, in remanding the cases, told the lower court Monday to open up road jobs to city drivers and deal with transfer seniority standards to make sure they are neutral.

A clear pattern of discrimination, the appeals court said, was reflected in numerous discrimination suits in recent years, the higher court said, adding:

"Throughout much of the industry, trucking companies and the unions representing drivers have erected barriers to the movement of non-white, non-Anglo workers from pickup and delivery jobs to the coveted driver positions."

Three Suits Similar
The employment practices attached to this suit—the no-transfer and seniority policies—are prevalent in the trucking industry.

All 180 of ETMF's road drivers were white Anglos before the Rodriguez suit. Of 575 city drivers, 111 were Spanish surnamed, 95 were black and 369 were Anglo.

The other two suits had similar complaints. Patrick Rendis and five others sued Lee Way Motor Freight, Inc., and Ernest Herrera and others sued Yellow Freight System, Inc.

Sugar Firm Fights Hunt Bid

DALLAS (AP) — Great Western United Corp. (GWU) officers filed suit to keep control from Nelson Bunker Hunt and W. Herbert Hunt because the officers feared for their jobs, the Hunt's lawyer says.

Ivan Erwin told U.S. District Judge William Taylor that GWU's management was "unbelievably chaotic." He said certain company officers brought the suit to maintain their jobs "under the guise of protecting stockholders."

Robert Sweet, GWU lawyer, accused the Hunts of violating federal securities regulations in making a tender offer to purchase 910,000 shares of GWU common stock at $27.50 per share.

The Hunts, sons of oil billionaire H. L. Hunt, failed to disclose their true purpose in buying GWU stock, Sweet argued, adding the Hunts wanted to acquire control.

The company said the Hunts tender offer would give them 51 per cent of the common stock. They already own 25 per cent, adequate because soaring sugar prices could push up profits from last year's $1.95 per share to $32 per share.

GWU wants the tender offer stopped until a full trial can be held and wants all stock purchases made so far under the offer rescinded.

The company's board has

Former Texas Student Sentenced In Shooting

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A former Texas college student convicted last August in the 1973 fatal shooting of University of Missouri basketball player Calvin Patterson was sentenced Monday to eight years in prison.

Larry Nathaniel Smith, 25, at the time of the shooting May 24, 1973, was convicted last August of manslaughter by a Boone County Circuit Court jury. A previous conviction of second-degree murder had been overturned because of a procedural error.

Patterson, 23, from Miami Fla., played in five basketball games as a junior in 1971-72 and saw action in only two games in his senior year before being declared scholastically ineligible. He had transferred from Navarro Junior College in Corsicana, Tex.

Patterson was shot four times. Testimony at Smith's trial indicated the two were arguing in front of the Black Culture House near the campus, where Patterson lived, because Patterson wanted to borrow a dollar.

Smith, who dropped out of MU in February 1973, formerly lived in St. Louis.

Interior Rebuilt
From November 1948 to March 1952, the interior of the White House was rebuilt and the outer walls strengthened.

CARPET TALK
by MOFFATT CARPETS

With Thanksgiving turkey time coming near, a big bird tells us this would be a good time for you to think about new carpet for your living, dining and bedrooms, to brighten up your rooms, to create that spark of beauty and elegance that will do you proud for your holiday entertaining.

And if gracious living and entertaining is your thing, you'll want to look into the new ways with wool today's fine carpet manufacturers have found. It used to be said that the only thing that can beat wool carpet is a carpet beater and many of today's homeowners and interior designers still agree.

The natural fibers of quality wool carpeting have a wonderful affinity for color, especially those rich earth colors that are so much in vogue today. And wool's superior resistance to normal soiling and stains make it a practical choice, too, when you have entertaining in mind.

Then there is the resilience for which wool carpet is famed, and the elegance of appearance and touch that is sought after in many man-made fibers. They all make wool a gracious choice.

You'll find beautiful wool shags and plushes, in many lengths and textures and lavish colors, when you look over our great new carpet collection. We'll install it handsomely in time for your holiday pleasures. Come in or call now!
