Ha Worked In Sardou.

It may not be generally known that M. Sardou, the famous dramatist, once figured in a photograph as a member of the chamber of deputies. It happened in this way: A certain photographer was very anxious to produce the portraits of the 363 deputies constituting the Republican majority in the chamber of gloomy fellow, at first rebelled, but, 1877, which defeated the endeavor finally falling in with the idea, to overthrow the republic. He ob- adopted the course recommended tained the likeness of all of them and was in the end restored to except a certain Rouge, who was shy and refused to sit. The photographer in despair asked the advice of Gambetta. "Nothing is simpler," Gambetta said. "You have Sardou's portrait? Then use that. He and Rouge are as much alike as mind and body and sending a two peas. No one will ever know healthy vibration through one's systhe difference." The advice was the difference." The advice was tem. Here is a remarkable story about an experience of a Texan in getting rid of the woives on his ranch.

The story is well told, but the Denver Field and Farm made the mistake in locating the scene in Texas for the reason that this state has no mange among its dogs, sheep or coyotos. Anyway that publication says: "Clement Bon-terant, an Englishman, purchased a ranch in Texas a few years ago.

He soon found that the coyotes were carrying off most of his calves and lambs. He employed Mexicans to capture half a dozen coyotes alive. He placed a sheep bell on each of these coyotes and turned them loose upon his ranch on the theory that the belled coyotes would frighten away all the others of the tribe off the place. Instead the belled varmints attracted other coyotes to them and in a few days each belled one had a big flock of followers, playing worse havoc than ever before. After many efforts the belied coyotee were recaptured and the bells removed from their necks. Mr. Bonterant then made the experiment of capturing a number of coyotes alive and placeing them in a pen with mangy dogs. The coyotes soon contracted the mange and were turned loose. Nearly every coyote in that country is now afflicted with the mange, but this is too slow a

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 29 -Pat Garrett, known the continent over as the man who killed "Billie the Kid" the notorious outlaw and one of the most prominent gun men of frontier days, was shot and killed today by J. Wayne Brazle, a youthful ranchman, near Las Oruces, New Mexico. in a dispute oyer a ranch lease. Garrett had been on a visit to one of his ranches near the New Mexico town in a buckboard with a friend and was returning to Las Cruces when they were overtaken by Brazle. A quarrel between the principals followed, and Garrett is said to have reached for his shot gun. Brazle fired twice, both shots taking effect and Garrett fels dead. The sole eyewitness to the killing. Carl Adamson, told the story of the shooting in which Brezle was threatened by Garrett. Brazle declared the shooting was in self defense, but made no further state-

A BLACK EYE.

The Proper Way to Treat This Unsightly Disfigurement.

A black eye is simply a bruise, a black and blue spot, of the eyelids and the parts underneath the orbit. All these tissues being very loose and spongelike in texture, the blood which escapes beneath the skin in all cases of bruising and constitutes the black and blue mark spreads blood beneath the membrane covering the eyeball, but the eyeball itself usually escapes serious damage, owing to its elasticity and to age, owing to its elasticity and to the efficient protection afforded by the bony ring forming the edges of

The first thing to do, and that as soon as possible, is to apply cooling lotions to the part. A good way to do this is to keep two small handkerchiefs in a bowl of ice water and apply them alternately, squeezed dry and folded four ply. As soon as one handkerchief grows warm it should be replaced by the other.

By the end of the first day the cold applications will have done all the good they can, and then handkerchiefs wrung out of very hot water, in which borax or boric acid has been dissolved, should be applied and changed every minute or two. Think Success.

The oftener one gives exercise to any faculty-uses, not abuses, itthe stronger and more flexible it becomes. A Frenchman said once on a time that whenever he wanted a book on a certain subject and could not find it he wrote one. There is a tremendous lesson in that. It means that each of us can find out as much about anything we wish to be informed upon as any other human being in the world if we will only determine to planation was very simple. He had do so. We can achieve and conquer anything another can if we make up our minds to the performance of it and make the determination the law of our life. Success has its laws, the basic principle of which is. It will be readily seen that

"Slain by 'cruel' enemies," as the original inscription implied, bears a very different moning from the perverted reading, which may be "No, he won't, mamma," pleaded translated, "Slain by 'uninjured' enemies."
