Orders Are Out for Full C. M. T. C. Quota

1398 Students from Throughout State Will Go to Camp Bullis

Orders were in the mail last week for attendance at camp of the full Citizens' Military Training Camp quota for Camp Bullis and Fort Bliss, Texas, and Fort Logan, Colo. Students from 279 towns of Texas, making a total of 1398, were to receive orders to Camp Bullis.

Only those receiving definite acceptances for camp were expected to report, with those who received a "tentative acceptance" remaining at home for a later notice.

A ten per cent over the camp quota has been ordered to camp, so that there is little likelihood of tentatively-accepted persons being ordered to camp this year.

Accepted men were to report at the respective camps not prior to their specially-set dates, which were: Camp Bullis, June 15; Fort Bliss, June 10; Fort Logan, June 13. No preparations were to be made for their care prior to announced dates.

Pioneer Cowboys Headed for Annual Stamford Round-up

Typical Men Under 55 and Over 55 Will Both Get Fine Saddles at Big Pow Wow

Stamford, June 16. — Pioneer Texas cowboys, who "won and ruled an empire from the saddle" will hold their annual round-up in Stamford in connection with the Texas Cowboy Reunion July 4, 5 and 6. The oldtimers have their own organization known as the Texas Pioneer Cowboy Reunion Association.

The pioneers will hold their convention and elect officer on the morning of July 4. However, they will be guests of the Texas Cowboy Reunion throughout the three days of the gathering. Membership badges of the pioneer association will admit the veteran cowhands to all rodeo performances, to the chuck wagon dinner each day and the oldtime square dance each night.

Men who were actively employed on the range or trail 35 years ago are entitled to membership. Widows of men who would be entitled to membership also are eligible. Col. R. L. Penick of Stamford, president of the pioneer's association, is mailing out invitations to some 600 members and prospective members.

The assembling of the pioneer cowboys and cattlemen to renew acquaintances, swap stories and revive memories of the old West, is one of the outstanding features of the Cowboy Reunion each year.

As a part of the rodeo program, a contest in calf-roping will be held for cowboys over 55 years of age, with a handsome $150 saddle as first prize. The oldtimers also will be presented in the selection of the two most typical cowboys, one of the selections to be over 55 years of age and the other under 55.

Besides President Penick, the officers of the Pioneer Cowboy Reunion Association are Clyde Burnett, Benjamin, chairman of the board; Chas. E. Coombs, Stamford, secretary; Starks Daugherty, Anson, treasurer; Frank Rhoades, Throckmorton, range boss, and Walter Cousins, Dallas, historian.

HEALTH NOTES

TUBERCULOSIS IS NOT HEREDITARY, CLAIMED

A bereaved mother was telling a consoling friend how it happened. "Yes," she said, "I lost my poor boy from tuberculosis. You see, it's in the family. My mother died from it but all her children were quite healthy and all of us are married and have families. But that's the way the disease runs; it skips a generation and comes out in the next and that's how I lost my poor boy."

It wasn't, of course. Tuberculosis is not something in the nature of an unwelcome family heirloom descending, with an occasional lapse from one generation to another. Whatever may have been the theories held by merical science before the discovery of the tubercle bacillus by Koch in 1882, it has long been definitely established that tuberculosis is not a hereditary disease. The fact that several members of a family may succumb to tuberculosis is not proof that it runs in families but proof that the member of the family suffering from the disease in active or infective form passes it on to the others. It is easy for a healthy boy sleeping in the same room or bed with his tuberculous brother to develop the disease from repeated infections. And we still have families who, through poverty or ignorance, use the common face towel, a proven dangerous carrier of infection.

But who would be so stupid, it might be asked, as to sleep with a person suffering from infectious disease, or who would want to use his face towel? Nobody, of course. But here's where the rub comes in. Tuberculosis isn't spread by those who know they are suffering from it because such people are usually well instructed in the rules of prevention. It is spread by people suffering from the disease but who have not yet reached the stage which compels them to consult a physician for diagnosis of their ailment and who therefore go blithely on infecting people right and left until their strength gives out completely and the nature of their illness becomes known.

Periodical health examinations are excellent things for everybody but they are an absolute necessity for families in which there is or has been a case of tuberculous disease.—Tranquillian.

Cut in University
Leases Is Favored

Ranchmen Say Majority Grazing
Worth Less Than Fee Lands

Ranchmen are favoring a recent agitation for a reduction of grazing lease in several West Texas counties, though whether or not this can be brought about is problematical.

Ranchmen who have university grazing leases cannot afford to pay higher rentals and declare that a reduction of the former lease price should be made. Many say that the majority of university lands for grazing purposes are not worth as much as fee lands.

It has also been learned that if the higher leases contemplated by the university are not paid the ranchmen will not be reimbursed for money they have spent in improving the lands for ranching purposes. Under a new ruling, the original lessor's contract is violated when he sub-leases university land. The ranchman is thus allowed nothing for his expenses, since the improvements he has put on the lands are taken by the university.

It has been rumored that the university will increase leases to 30 cents. It is doubtful if the board of regents will make a cut, it is said, due to the fact that fee leases have not come down much.

S. G. R. A. Board
Discusses Wool
Market at Meet

Speakers Urge Sales in Texas;
Blame Over-Production; Laud
Ranch Experiment Station

The meeting of the executive committee of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, held Thursday last week in Uvalde, was marked by a general discussion of depression in the livestock industry and suggestions for meeting conditions.

Mayor Andrew Smythe, of Uvalde, opened the meeting, with J. A. Whitten, Eldorado, chairman of the Texas livestock sanitary commission, responding. Other speakers were T. A. Kincaid, Ozona, president of the association; V. A. Brown, Rocksprings; Dolph Briscoe, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association; and Supt. W. H. Dameron of the Ranch Experiment Station.

It was urged that Texas wool be sold in Texas, rather than through consignment of fleeces to Boston. Speakers asserted that in better times loan companies with easy money placed many misfits in the ranch business, and that when these misfits are forced out of business the legitimate ranchmen may be expected to weather the storm.

Mr. Briscoe, head of the cattle raisers' association, declared that the sheep and goat men had accomplished more in the short time since organization than had the cattle raisers.

He suggested a plan of controlled production, and requested that every livestock association in the United States name its president and two members to attend a joint meeting at some central location in the near future to work on this plan for recovery of the industry. Mr. Briscoe named over-production as the problem to be solved.

Committee members and their wives were guests of the Uvalde Lions Club at luncheon with Mr. Briscoe presiding. Brief addresses were made by Mr. Kincaid and W. C. Bryson, Nat Parkes, E. K. Fawcett, and R. H. ("Bob") Martin, all of Uvalde.

The next meeting of the committee will be held in Eldorado on September 3.

Resolutions adopted by the executive committee were as follows:

Confidence in the leadership of T. A. Kincaid, president.

To request Governor Ross Sterling to appoint two Rangers to serve as inspectors for the association.

A resolution presented by Mr. Whitten complimented the ranch experiment station on experiments leading to eradication of sore mouth, and expressing the belief this work was worth more than the costs of all experiments since establishment of the station. The resolution instructed the secretary to write all members of the association at once, asking them to advise the station how many lambs they will have next spring, by January 1, so that the station can prepare serum to vaccinate their lambs against sore mouth.

A resolution was passed thanking citizens of Uvalde, the Lions Club and Dolph Briscoe for the hospitality extended the committee.

W. H. Dameron, superintendent of the experiment station, discussed the station's progress on bitter weed eradication.

Among those present were: T. A. Whitten, E. K. Fawcett, W. H. Dameron, Dr. W. W. Nipper, T. A. Kincaid, Judge James Cornell, W.

C. Bryson, Oscar Appelt, E. A. Baggett, V. A. Brown, W. E. Blanton, Dolph Briscoe, R. H. ("Bob") Martin, Tom Bond and Rector and Ben Cusenbary.

Construction resumed on highway from Matamoros, across Rio Grande from Brownsville to Victoria, Mexico.

THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS
MUST DECIDE THE FATE OF TEXAS RAILROADS

● THE WELFARE of Texas and Texans has gone and will always go hand in hand with the welfare of Texas railroads. Their dependency upon each other is absolute.

In 1929 Texas railroads gave employment to 82,956 employes, to whom they paid annually $126,674,543 in salaries and wages. In 1930 this number decreased to 70,739 while the payroll declined to $109,892,226. In 1931 the number of employes fell to 57,098 and the payroll to $89,505,918.

This represents a decrease of more than $37,000,000 in purchasing power in Texas communities. There has been a corresponding decrease in purchase of materials and supplies by Texas railroads. The ability to have maintained railroad payrolls and purchases would have been a very important factor in overcoming the present trying economic condition.

The decline in railroad payrolls and purchases is due only in part to economic conditions. The revenues of the railroads have been affected not only by business conditions but to a very large extent by loss of traffic to trucks and buses using the public highways in competition with the railroads.

● The time has come when the people of Texas must decide whether the traffic of this state can best be carried by the railroads, using facilities which they built and maintain at their own expense, or by trucks and buses using the highways built and maintained at the taxpayers' expense.

Mrs. Stella Locklin entertained a group of boy friends of her little son, Kelso, in honor of his birthday, Wednesday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sam Stokes. The party was a surprise to the boy, who was eight years old this week.

The boys enjoyed various games and contests, receiving favors of balloons and all-day suckers.

The little Misses Peggy Reming, Jamie Trainer, and Louise Briscoe, neighbor girls, joined the boys and little Ramye Joe Locklin for refreshments of ice cream and angel food cake, though they did not participate in the party proper, which was a "stag" affair.

Boys attending were Ray Wallace Stephenson, Wayne White, J. M. and Gerald Huling, J. C. Norris, jr., Mankin Stokes, Glen Crowel, Sidney Awalt, Danny Friess, and Harold Briscoe.

Roberts-Lomax Dawn Wedding Described

Newly-wed Couple Arrives From Trip to El Paso, Carlsbad

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lomax, whose marriage occurred Wednesday of last week in Del Rio, returned Wednesday night from a wedding trip to El Paso, Carlsbad, and other points west, and will make their home here, where Mr. Lomax is manager of the Piggly Wiggly store.

Concerning the wedding, the following account was carried in the Del Rio Evening News:

"As the sun peeked over the horizon Wednesday, Miss Lois Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roberts, became the bride of Earl Lomax at a wedding ceremony beautiful in its simplicity at the church of Christ, the Rev. James F. Black performing the ring ceremony in the presence of many friends of the couple.

"The altar, before which Rev. Black awaited the wedding party, was beautiful with its background of potted plants, ferns and vases of shasta daisies.

Miss Bessie Boykin and Miss Eloise Slater sang 'At Dawning' as the groom and his best man, Roy Roberts, brother of the bride, walked slowly up the aisle toward the altar, preceding the maid of honor, Miss Mildred Watts, who was attractively gowned in a yellow model of imported swiss made on straight lines with a gored skirt. Three tiny rows of ruffles stood up at the sleeves. A green sash, yellow straw hat, accessories and a bouquet of talisman roses completed the costume.

"The bride, entering last on the arm of her father, was lovely in a creation of Luxemborg rose, embroidered on the bodice and skirt, made on straight lines, the skirt flaring from the hips to instep length. Her hat was a wide brim model in shell pink and her bouquet was of pink columbia roses.

"For the recessional, Miss Boykin and Miss Slater sang the chorus 'At Dawning.'

"Mrs. Lomax has resided in Del Rio since 1913, attending school here and graduating in 1925. After finishing high school, she attended the following schools and universities: University of Texas; Abilene Christian College, Abilene; Sul Ross State Teachers' College, Alpine; University of California, Berkeley; Armstrong College, Berkeley. For the past two years she has taught school near Rocksprings.

"The groom is the son of Mrs. F. E. Lomax, Rocksprings, where he was reared."

The young guests enjoyed bridge and parches, played progressively, until 8:30, when refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Elliott, assisted by Mrs. W. C.

Gilmore, who also filled in at bridge.

Ozona Has Prospect Natural Gas System

Grand Falls Man Investigating Massie Gasser for Supply

Ozona has prospects for a natural gas piping system, with possibilities brightening last week with the visit of Clyde Bradford, manager of the gas company at Grand Falls, Texas, who arrived there to gather data with a view to bringing gas into the city and establishing a local distributing company.

Mr. Bradford's visit was prompted by the bringing in of an 18-million-foot gas well on the Massie ranch 13 miles from Ozona. The Grand Falls manager is investigating the possibilities of utilizing this supply in the event it is found suitable for commercial use.

If the Massie gasser proves suitable, Mr. Bradford said, he will start at once on preliminary work looking to establishing the local system and supplying the city with gas.

The Ozona Lions Club has pledged its support to Mr. Bradford in making any necessary preliminary surveys or gathering any data, since the club has had as one of its major projects the bringing of natural gas to Ozona.

Real Witness

While they made a big-to-do at Conroe, Texas, at the murder trial of Durrell Kendall for the killing of two show people, about a parrot which was supposed to have witnessed the murders, they discovered the real parrot witness in Houston, Texas. Here he is. The district attorney brought a parrot to court and locked him in an adjacent room, where he squawked all day, but the bird was not "put on the stand," and Kendall was acquitted of the murders, which occurred at New Caney.

Pecos County Once Extensive Domain

Great Dimensions Reached Border, According to Old Clipping

From Fort Stockton comes the following quotation of a write-up of Pecos county that appeared in the November-December, 1880, issue of the "Texas Sun" published at San Antonio by Gafford and Newcomb, which was re-printed in the Fort Stockton Pioneer through the courtesy of Herman H. Butz, who owned a copy of the Sun:

"Pecos county is situated between longitude 24 and 27 west, and latitude 30 and 32 south from Washington, is bounded on the northwest by El Paso county, on the northeast by Tom Green and Crockett counties, on the west by Presidio county and on the south by Mexico. It has a population of 3,000, ninety per cent Mexican, polling a vote of 400.

"It has an area of about 12,000 square miles, or 7,680,000 acres, with a surface of beautiful valleys and rolling prairies, interspersed with foothills, with a rough range of mountains in the southern portion on the Rio Grande and Pecos rivers, and a few mountain spurs in the northwestern portion

Embach Brings Record of Experience to Wool Co-op

New Head Works on Own Knowledge of Ranching

Lieutenant Colonel Harry B. Embach, newly elected general manager of the National Wool Marketing Corporation, was born forty-four years ago in Detroit. While yet a youngster he was taken by his parents to the Indian Territory, now part of the state of Oklahoma, where he remained during early boyhood, and then removed to Arizona, where he grew to manhood, and where he has since made his home.

With a natural love for livestock and the freedom of outdoors, it was not strange that in this pioneer settlement he should be attracted to the livestock business, and for a number of years was in the cattle business and later on connected with the pioneer firm of Babbit Brothers, Flagstaff, Ariz., in livestock banking.

In 1923 Col Embach was called to manage the affairs of the Arizona Wool Growers Association as its secretary. From a small beginning, he developed this association into a strong and useful organization of which the big men of that state were proud to be members. Col. Embach is a well-known authority on grazing matters, taxation, freight rates, and has managed large sheep outfits as well as cattle outfits. He also served in the seventh state legislature of Arizona. In 1930 he was appointed a director of the Federal Land Bank and the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Berkeley, Calif., which institution served the agricultural and livestock interests in the states of Arizona, California, Nevada and Utah.

When the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was created, Harry was drafted. He responded and gave to that huge undertaking the benefit of his wide experience with livestock management and finance.

From that position he was unexpectedly called to manage the affairs of the National Wool Marketing Corporation. At considerable personal sacrifice, he accepted the call and is now devoting his full time to these new duties. With such a background, the wool growers of the United States may well feel that they have a friend at court, and that the affairs of the National Wool Marketing Corporation under his management will be conducted along the lines of sound business principles may be taken for granted.

Mr. Embach served in the army during the World War. After the termination of the war, he became executive officer of the National Guard of Arizona with the title of lieutenant colonel, and is now in the Field Artillery Reserve Corps. He is married, has two children, and will make his home in Boston.

Texas Wild Flowers Desired Elsewhere

Constantly Increasing Demand Is Noted in East and North

Austin, June 16.—A constantly increasing demand in the Northern and Eastern states for native flowers, shrubs and plants of Texas to be used for ornamental and landscaping purposes is noted in the number of reports of inspections for exportation filed with J. M. Del Curto, chief of the division of horticultural inspection and quarantines of the department of agriculture.

The most popular of Texas native plants that are becoming more in demand in other states as ornamental flowers is the cactus, according to Del Curto. Inspection reports indicate that exports of this plant last year netted Texans more than $100,000 and that this year's exports will be as large. Many nurserymen have specialized in the cross-breeding of various species of cacti to create types suitable to various localities.

The various plants cannot move out of Texas into other states without first having been inspected and declared free of root rot or other soil disease. That is given by the horticultural inspection and quarantine division of the department of agriculture.

Other native Texas flowers gaining ground in demand in Northern and Eastern states, and in some instances, California, include the wild clematis, chinesa, huisache, yucca, Spanish dagger and bluebonnet seed. With careful supervision, bluebonnets can be made to bloom for one season, however, in northern and eastern climates not adaptable to the bluebonnet, it will not reproduce as it does in the bluebonnet zones in Texas, Del Curto pointed out.

In some portions of the state, especially southward, native plants are being cultivated along highways for beautification purposes, which is a further utilization of Texas' natural resources, according to Del Curto.

Hail Damage Paid Is Nearly $100,000

Over 600 Claims Adjusted and Paid in Del Rio Area

Val Verde county residents have collected upwards of $100,000 in hail damage insurance within recent weeks, it was estimated lately at Del Rio.

Insurance company adjusters and local agents approximated an estimate that more than 600 claims had been adjusted in the county, with the average damage per claim amounting to between $150 to $200. While some claims were as low as $4, others were nearly $2,000.

It was announced that the payment of practically all of the insurance claims has brought considerable new money to the Del Rio district.

Though some damage was done in the country, the greater portion of the policies were held in Del Rio.

Here's Simplified Cooking

Actually, cooking consists of only three fundamental operations: preparing the foods . . . putting them in the oven . . . and placing the meal on the table.

But so many more are required by old-fashioned methods! So much pecking, tasting and testing is necessary! So much time is wasted on these unnecessary, tiresome tasks!

With a modern Electric Range, cooking is reduced to its three fundamentals. You merely prepare your meal, place it in the oven, set the Time and Heat Controls, and forget the actual cooking! All the work is done automatically . . . requiring none of your time or attention—and leaving you free to enjoy happy leisure hours!

And this Freedom is only one advantage of modern Electric Cookery! Foods look better, taste better and are more healthful. In fact, there are so many advantages you'll wonder how you managed with old-fashioned, inefficient methods!

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric service, to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.

Here are the eight District Judges of Dallas county as they assembled to accept unanimously the resignation of County Auditor Charles E. Gross, under whose supervision grocery bills on which items like "one head of lettuce, 60c; 12 loaves of bread, $7.20," and others, were allowed to pass. The judges, left to right: Charles A. South Hemisphere Wool Supply Large

Apparent Available Amount 8 Per Cent Greater Than in 1931

Supplies of wool apparently available on May 1 in Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, and Uruguay are estimated as 8 per cent greater than supplies on the same date a year ago, but 15 per cent less than supplies on May 1, 1930, when stocks were unusually high, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in its current report on world wool prospects.

Exports from these four countries of the Southern Hemisphere up to May 1 in the current season are placed at 1,246,000,000 pounds, a decrease of 4 per cent compared with the corresponding period of 1930-31, but 16 per cent greater than exports in that period of 1929-30. Australia and New Zealand have shipped more wool so far this season than last, but exports from the South American countries have decreased.

Fleece from sheep shorn on western ranges in the United States are reported as being generally lighter than last year's, and on May 1 sheep and range conditions were considerably below normal. The bureau says that Russia has more sheep than any other country of the world, but the larger proportion are of the unimproved type. The clip to be shorn in Australia the latter part of this year will be "unusually good both in quality and average weight per fleece," it is expected. Weather conditions have improved in New Zealand, and the bureau says "there is now a fair chance of ewes entering the winter in average condition."

FOUNDLING LEFT IN CAR OF TEXICO CITY MARSHAL

When Sam Hoffman, former Muleshoe officer and now city marshal at Texico, returned to his car in Clovis, N. M. after attending to business in that city recently, he found a several-weeks-old baby, scantily clad, in the rear seat. A bottle of milk and some clothing were also found.

No trace of the baby's parents could be found, and Hoffman and his wife have decided to keep the infant. However, they want some information as to its parentage if possible, it was said.

LIONS HEAR JOKES ON MONDAY; JAMES WINNER

The Sonora Lions Club heard jokes and more jokes Monday as each member responded to the roll call with a joke—that being the feature of the entertainment for the day. First prize, an assortment of choice, fresh vegetables, was presented W. E. James after his entry had been acclaimed the best by the club membership. R. S. Covey was chairman of entertainment for the day and inaugurated the unusual plan.

Little business was transacted. A report on the Dallas state convention was made very brief, because of lack of time. President-elect Bill Gilmore announced plans for a detailed report at next Monday's luncheon.

Guests were Tom Archer and R. N. O'Hara, contractors here for the beginning of highway work west of Sonora.

PECOS PASTOR MARRIED EVERYONE ON A PICNIC

A "marrying pastor" was reported in the following story seen recently in the El Paso Times:

"Rev. J. B. Cole had married every married person present at a picnic in honor of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lily Wylie Cole, Pecos, it was discovered when the party had reached McKelligon canyon.

"Rev. Cole married his son, Rev. J. Fred Cole, pastor of the Grandview Baptist church in Llano, Texas, in 1919. The widow of his son, Wylie, Mrs. Lily Cole, attended the picnic. She and her husband had been married by Rev. Cole in Floresville, Texas, in 1906. Their daughter was married three years ago to Perry Stigler, both of whom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barclay were married by Rev. Cole in Lubbock 12 years ago."

Lavish living and adventures in

Quality of Milk Is More Important

A. & M. Expert Says 1932 Conditions Necessitate Caution

"The quality of our milk supply should be watched more closely this year than it has been at any time in a generation," J. I. Keith of the dairy department at the Oklahoma A. & M. College, cautions. "The quality of the milk supply is very important at any time, for it is well known that a good product can not be made from poor raw material, and, considering the status of the milk business, there is likely to be trouble this summer.

"Consumption of milk has fallen off, the same as in many other lines. In addition, many producers are distributing their own milk. With consumption of milk falling and with new competitors in the field, the price of milk has been lowered. To the consumer this may seem a good thing, but more than the price will be affected.

"If the price of milk is forced so low that the legitimate dairyman, who is honestly striving to give us the best milk he can, is forced out of business, or is forced to meet competition by cutting corners, the consumer will be the one who will suffer most because of lower-quality milk. Farmers should receive at least the cost of production for their milk. If the price goes below this, there will of necessity be a lowering in the quality of the milk.

"Your city health officer, your milk and dairy inspector, or your doctor will tell you what to look for when deciding what is the best milk to buy. The best may not always be the cheapest, but that which appears to be cheapest may not always turn out the cheapest in the long run," Mr. Keith concludes.

matrimony of Mary, daughter of Me-Ti-An-Kah, attracted public attention for a decade, it was said.

Food and drink for the deceased on her way to the Happy Hunting Grounds was provided, as usual, by the Osages, whose oil holdings made them the richest of the Indians. An interesting point of note was that modern thermos jugs filled with water as well as culinary delicacies went into the grave, though the custom itself is very ancient.

The fullbloods feasted, following the services, at the home of Mike Watson, whose yard was filled Sunday with drying meats.

Lambs for Easter May Prove Good

Early Crop Paid Best of All in 1932 Season, Jones Says

College Station, June 16.—There may be an opportunity for skillful farm feeders of lambs to breed and feed early lambs for the Easter lamb trade another year, it is implied by John H. Jones, agent in animal husbandry at Texas A. & M. College in a letter recently sent to Texas county agents. "The present marked situation is not particularly encouraging," he says, "with fat wethers at $1.25, old crop shorn lambs mostly grass fat from $3.25 to $3.50, and with good spring lambs at $4.50, but there is still a good margin between genuine spring lambs and old crop lambs. When prices are as low as at present a little means a whole lot. A margin of a dollar with lambs at four cents a pound means about the same as a three-dollar margin when lambs are 12 cents a pound.

"Two weeks before last Easter, spring lambs reached a top of $8.75. That meant money this year. County agent demonstration records bear this out. There are plenty of yearling or two-year-old ewes for sale but the experienced producer of early spring lambs desires old ewes that have raised lambs for at least two seasons because they are surer for early breeding. There are plenty of these but they are hard to buy, because, perhaps, they are mostly mortgaged.

"To produce lambs for the Easter trade ewes are bred in July and August and the lambs furnished winter pasture and supplementary feed in creeps while nursing their dams."
