Independents Win 4 to 3 But Lions Fail to "Click" in Sunday Afternoon Game

With many of the same men playing that were here the Sunday before a group of San Angelo "All-Stars" was defeated by the Independents on the Sonora diamond Sunday by a score of 4 to 3 but in a second game, with the Lions Club team, they fared better and took the long end of an 11 to 9 score.

In the second game base lines were only 45 feet rather than the 60-foot distance to which Sonora players are accustomed. Too, only the catcher and first baseman were permitted to use gloves.

San Angelo, however, in both games played excellent ball. In their half of the sixth inning of the second game the Lions made a spurt that bid fair to alter the final count. The score was 11 to 5 at the time but two runs were made and in the next inning two more were added bringing their total to 9.

In the first game, with Gene Bailey doing the pitching, the visitors were able to garner seven hits. His team-mates secured four hits and managed to make four runs while San Angelo could secure only three. The deciding run was made by Sonora, with one other, in the last half of the sixth inning.

The box score of the two games was:

tion in foreign countries and explained that our standards of living and stable government, as opposed to conditions in other countries, demanded a high protective tariff.

Others who spoke were: Harvey Walker, candidate for county judge; Judge Joe Montague, Fort Stockton, representing Walter Woodward, candidate for attorney-general; Weaver Baker, district attorney, who spoke for Walter Woodward and Len Smith, a candidate for railroad commissioner. Lon Smith told of his work on the railroad commission and of the importance of the work because of the handling of oil matters. As two of the commission have been absent much of the time Mr. Smith pointed out that he had secured valuable experience in the increased duties he had undertaken.

Dances Attract Many

A negro orchestra from San Angelo and a "blues-singing" negro girl entertained both nights on the dance platform. Dancing continued the first night until about 3:30. Yesterday dancers continued their fun until sun-up.

Station B played a group representing Sonora Wednesday afternoon. The score was 7 to 3 in favor of the oil company employees. Batteries: Station B—Gardner and Ard; Sonora—Holmig and Taylor.

Labor and Material Specifications

All provisions set forth for contractors and sub-contractors for work on non-federal projects, public or private, by the Federal Administration of Public Works will be observed. Included in these provisions are:

"...no individual directly employed on the project shall be permitted to work more than 30 hours in any one week...."

"...The contractor and all sub-contractors shall pay not less than the minimum hourly wage rates for skilled and unskilled labor prescribed by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works... viz...skilled labor, $1 per hour, unskilled labor, 40 cents per hour...."

"...Labor preferences— Preference shall be given, where they are qualified, to ex-service men with dependents, and then in the following order: (1) to the citizens of the United States and aliens who have declared their intention of becoming citizens, who are bona fide residents of the political divisions and/or county in which work is to be performed"

Decorations inside and out of the boys' camp were made by various boys. Bobby Nisbet and Lloyd McGhee were leaders in this work. Badges and "Welcome" signs were made of pebbles sunk in black earth. A briar clothes line served the boys rather than the conventional wire or rope. Split sticks served as clothes pins. A fish pond with water lilies and water cress added to the beauty and neat effect of the camp. A leathercraft display was made one day and on another a collection of fossils secured by Lloyd McGhee and Kenneth Babcock on a ten-mile hike.

The working together of "every blooming soul" rather than the inplayed a combined group from Station A and Station B. The stations won by a 12 to 3 score. Batteries: Stations—Strong, Bud Smith, McCloud; Mensard—Randolph and Haney.

dividual efforts of each boy accounted for the praise secured by the troop and the award it attained. However, each boy learned scoutcraft lore which was valuable to him.

Louis Davis and Bobby Nisbet advanced from first-class to Star Scouts as a result of securing their fifth merit badge while in camp. Louis Davis completed work for a reptile study badge. Several secured merit badges in swimming. Jack Shurley was in this group.

Navy Officer Praises

The direction of 600 men in the United States Navy should give an officer the right to speak with authority regarding neatness.

When Capt. Frank Shield, U. S. N. retired, was a visitor Dr. A. E. Arnfield, a camp executive, insisted that he see the Sonora boys' camp. He did and commended the boys highly for their ingenuity and thoroughness. Dr. Arnfield expressed his satisfaction to A. W. Awalt, who was in charge of the boys, regarding their conduct. Their camp was close to that of the camp executives.

Points secured in tent peg making, water boiling, cot folding contest and an egg race Thursday night gave Troop 19 first place in events of the evening.

Glenn Day and Warren Reeves who live at Station B were with the troop as were Maurice and Howard Lemmons of Ozona. Reeves became a second-class Scout while in camp. The Lemmons boys became tenderfoot Scouts.

Visitors at the camp the latter part of the week included Houston Harte, San Angelo publisher who is chairman of the executive board of the area, and both the Lions and Knights of the Round Table civic clubs of San Angelo.

Lights of New York
By L. L. STEVENSON

Naturally, many things get lost in New York. It is entirely possible and in fact quite easy, for a human being to lose himself from the millions so effectively that even the police can't find him. But when it comes to five tons of statuary that's something else again. Still two statues, of granite and eight feet in height, were lost and it took quite a lot of searching to find them. The statues used to stand in Bryant park. They were moved in 1932 to make room for the George Washington bicentennial exhibit which, as is well known, ended in the red and left Bryant park a mess of mud flats. Recently, citizens interested in the statues made inquiries about them. It was supposed they were stored in the library. But they weren't. So the park department looked into the matter. The statues couldn't be found. At last they were discovered over in Brooklyn.

The statues that got lost—and were found out in the open all wrapped up in canvas—are those of Washington Irving, who made Sleepy Hollow known to the world and who was New York's first park commissioner. When he is in his place, he looks down on Sixth avenue and Fortieth street. The other is that of Dr. James M. Sims who founded the first hospital for women in New York. His statue is the work of Ferdinand von Miller and Irving's is the work of Frederick Beer. The two statues were placed in the park in 1894. Having been found, the next question is, how to get them back where they belong. The cost is estimated at $500 and just at the moment, though this city spends $2,000,000 a day, there isn't any $200,000 available. Also the new plan for the park doesn't seem to provide a place for them.

A group, sipping cocktails in the Park Central tropical room, was discussing the origin of the word hooch, which isn't used so much now as it was a little while ago. One member declared that it came from the chemical symbols of tannic acid. He was hooted down because those symbols spell CHOCHO when the numerals are omitted. Finally a gentleman strolled over and remarked that everybody, including the chemical adherent, was quite wrong. Hooch, he said, came from hoochinoc, which is Alaskan Indian bootleg. He knew because he used to live in Alaska. Instead of accepting an invitation to sit in, he excused himself and strolled away and that's all that was learned from or about him.

John E. Andrus, who used to be known as the "millionaire strap hanger" because he rode from his home in Yonkers down to Wall street every morning, recently celebrated his ninety-third birthday. He gave up riding in the subway several years ago but still attends to business. He is the owner of the Arlington Chemical company in Yonkers and is in his office each day. Mr. Andrus has one hobby—helping needy children. He established a home for them in Yonkers some time ago, and several years ago set up a foundation for the home.

A friend just back from a business trip to Cleveland told me a story that gave me a chuckle. The Press of that city runs a comic strip, "Dolly Duck." For promotional purposes, one morning before the city was awake, 50 white ducks were turned loose in the streets. Each duck wore a card which read: "Be kind to Dolly Duck. Return me to my home with the Cleveland Press and you will receive $1 and can take me home." And by night, 65 ducks were delivered to the Press office.

Fifth avenue street scene: An imported limousine driven by a frozen-faced chauffeur in an expensive uniform. On the rear seat, a woman of the dowager type with a sable wrap, a lorgnette and a haughty expression. Beside her, a laundered and beribboned Pom with what nose it had, in the air. And behind on the bumper two ragged urchins gleefully thumbing their noses at pedestrians as the car glided up town.

Cat Treks 39 Miles to Catch Its Ship
New York.—Capt. W. J. Close of the liner Pastores has a prize cat tale to tell.

As his steamer docked after a stormy voyage from West Indian ports, he related that the ship pet, "Lord Haggis," a female despite the name, was accidentally left at Port Morant, Jamaica, when the vessel put in to take on a cargo of bananas.

When the vessel arrived at Kingston, Jamaica, 39 miles from Port Morant, on its next voyage, the feline was on the dock awaiting it and calmly walked aboard as soon as the gangplank was let down.

Now the captain is trying to figure out how "Lord Haggis" knew where to catch the ship.

Fiddlers in Tune For Stamford Event

Break-Down Tunes Only to Be Allowed on July 3

Stamford, June 14.—Tunes popular at cowboy square dances in West Texas in early days will resound from a score of violins in the old fiddlers' contest here July 3, the second day of the Texas Cowboy Reunion. The contest is one of the features of free entertainment provided for cowhands and other visitors attending the annual round-up.

H. F. Jackson, who manages the contest each year, has announced that only break-down tunes can be used in the 1934 contest. Each contestant is allowed to select the two tunes he plays. To be eligible for the contest, fiddlers must be not less than 50 years of age. Professionals are barred. Fiddlers may play alone or choose their own seconds, but only one accompanist is allowed for each player.

First prize will be $15, second $10, third $5 and fourth $2.50. The contest will be held in the municipal auditorium. No entry fee is required and there is no charge for admission to the hall. Crowds in the past have packed the auditorium, which seats 1,500 people. Twenty contestants entered last year and Mr. Jackson expects as many as 25 entries this year.

Another feature of the Texas Cowboy Reunion which revives memories of the old West is the cowboy square dance for cowhands and others which will be held each night of the reunion. These dances this year will be held in the new Pioneer Cowboys' headquarters building just erected at the reunion grounds. A small charge is made for admission to the hall and there is no additional charge for dancing. Judge Chas. E. Coombs, a former cowhand, has charge of this part of the reunion entertainment.

Pecos Planning Its Annual Rodeo Show

Wild Cow Milking and Girl Calf-Roping Champion Present

Pecos, June 14.—By far the largest rodeo ever held in this country is scheduled for July 3 and 4 here, when the fifth annual American Legion Rodeo will be held. The event, started five years ago has grown in size and popularity every year and the 1934 show promises to surpass by a wide margin anything of the kind held before.

Two full days of bronc riding, bulldogging, horse racing, steer roping and other events will draw a large crowd from all over the country. Expert rodeo performers from far and near will compete for the purses, which are larger than any in the past and far greater than any others offered in rodeos on the same date anywhere in West Texas.

Already possessing the reputation of the finest show in West Texas, the Pecos rodeo will again be the high spot of Fourth of July entertainment in this section.

Operates for less— THAN ANY FORD EVER BUILT

THE SMART FORD V8

THE smartest car that Ford has ever built is the smartest buy your budget has ever seen: The new Ford V-8 is the most economical car that Ford has yet produced.

That big Ford V-8 engine, which is capable of a generous 80 per, is miserly when it comes to fuel. It consumes less gasoline than many engines with less cylinders and less power.

Aluminum-alloy pistons minimize carbon formation. Tungsten steel valve seat inserts virtually let you say "good-bye forever" to valve grinding.

The Ford V-8's dependable springs—which give you free action on all four wheels—have shackles that require no lubrication. And the whole car is so reliably built that you will never be plagued with repair bills.

Before you buy any car at any price, drive the Ford V-8.

SONORA SHOULD HAVE THE CITY HALL-FIRE STATION

Tomorrow citizens will go to the courthouse to "say" whether or not they want their town to have a building for city offices and fire equipment.

The NEWS believes the bonds should be voted. The government grant supplementing the bond money may be considered one of the "smiles" the government has seen fit to bestow on its people in recent years. The money, not exceeding 30 per cent of materials and construction, can be "handed" to the city without its obligating itself except that it be used as stipulated.

The bonds (20-year, 4 per cent) can be retired with the expenditure of little more than now paid out in rent. Citizens have the word of city commissioners, sane business men who KNOW the facts in the case, that this can be done. The very small excess, they declare, will come from the general revenues of the city and not from increased taxes.

In our opinion Sonora people should express themselves as favoring a plan which will result in an attractive city asset, secured in a practical, most economical manner.

English People Greatest Dog Lovers in World

It is generally accepted that the English are the greatest nation of dog lovers on earth.

One of the strongest proofs of this lies in the fact that in almost all of the paintings of rulers and great men of bygone times a dog is depicted somewhere.

In practically all the paintings of King Charles I a King Charles spaniel is found. Who has not heard of the devotion of a greyhound to King Richard II? Mary Queen of Scots is shown in a picture with a Skye terrier. This terrier was missing on the morning of Mary's execution, and when the blood-stained body was taken up, the animal was found crouching beneath her robes. He "could not be gotten forth but with force, and afterwards would not depart from the corpse, but came and laid between her head and shoulders." A lady took charge of him, but the poor thing refused all further connection with human beings and pined away.

WORD ORIGINS

A Little Jumping Goat Gives Its Name to

TAXICAB

Taxicab is an abbreviation of taximeter-cabriolet—a vehicle carrying an instrument for automatically registering the fare. The name cabriolet is the diminutive of the French cabriolet, meaning "a leap" like that of a goat, and was applied to this type of carriage because of its light, bouncing motion. Cabriole came from the Italian capriola meaning "a somersault," from Latin caper "a he-goat," capra "a she-goat."

SOFT DRINK BUSINESS OPERATED BY FIREMEN

Plans for strengthening the department's treasury were discussed at the meeting of firemen Wednesday night of last week.

Final action was taken on the plan of securing the soft drink concession at the Camp Allison celebration and operating it with W. P. McConnell, jr. Details of the bond election Saturday were discussed. The building would provide quarters for fire equipment as well as for city offices.

A called meeting of the organization was announced for Wednesday night to transact business which could not be attended to at the meeting last week. After the business meeting the group went to the lawn of the West Texas Utilities Co. where a Dutch lunch was served.

The Junction organization, Mr. Lehmann says, is a semi-governmental agency and makes loans in six other counties besides Sutton. They are: Mason, Menard, Gillespie, Kimble, Kerr. Although the association at present is sponsored by the government it is expected eventually to become a commercial enterprise owned by stockholders to whom loans have been made.

Keep Cool With Quick Meat Dishes

Inez S. Wilson, Home Economist, Suggests Several Ways

It is a splendid idea to plan the summer menus around meat dishes which may be quickly and easily cooked or which may be prepared ahead of time. This is an advantage when everyone likes to be out-of-doors as much as possible. A minimum of time is required in the kitchen for dishes of this sort.

Meats which are quickly cooked include the steaks and chops and ground meat, either beef, pork or lamb. Ground meat is classed in this group because the long tissues which ordinarily must be softened in cooking are broken in the grinding process, and so very little cooking is needed to make it tender. Inez S. Wilson, home economist, suggests ways of preparing ground meat in a hurry.

Planked Ground Beef

Season 2 pounds of ground beef with salt, pepper, minced onion and sauce; bind all together with 1 egg beaten into 1/2 cup of milk. Form into a thick steak and cook for 15 minutes in a hot frying-pan, turning once during cooking. When nicely browned remove steak carefully, to avoid breaking, to the center of a hot plank. Pipe a border of mashed potatoes around the edge of the plank. Arrange around the steak small cooked carrots and small white onions which have been boiled until tender and a little of the center scooped out and filled with buttered crumbs. Season all with salt, pepper and butter and put in the oven for 10 or 15 min-

(Cut points in top edge of bacon slices, if desired.) Place on a broiler rack about 3 inches from the flame and have the regulator set for 350 degrees F. Broil about 10 minutes. Dip the slices of pineapple into flour and brown in butter until a golden brown.

Ready-to-Serve Meats

On days when the mercury in the thermometer mounts higher and higher and threatens to push itself out at the top, cool foods which require little or no preparation are always given a hearty welcome.

Citizens of Many Occupations Unite to Promote Candidacy

That Culberson Deal, candidate for congress from the new 21st district, has the support of San Angelo, his home town, is indicated by the organization there last week of a "Tom Green County Deal-For-Congress Club" with an initial membership of 1000 which grew to 2000 the first of this week.

Robert T. Neill, prominent West Texas attorney, was elected president. Deal is a business man.

The executive committee of 150 is, perhaps, as cosmopolitan a group as ever backed a candidate. All walks of life are represented.

"There is no 'ranking' to this committee," Mr. Neill said. "It is representative of the San Angelenos who are backing Mr. Deal. On it are found ranchmen, farmers, business leaders, laborers, both union and non-union members, unemployed, professional men and, in fact, all types of citizens."

Deal has been making an intensive campaign in the 27-county district and was not in San Angelo when final organization of the club was completed. He is rapidly shaping up a definite platform by

Dairy Cows May Be

Texas Relief Commission May Get 100,000 From Northwest

It is believed that 100,000 dairy cows will come into Texas for the Texas Relief Commission to use in its work throughout the state. This is the information received in the office of R. E. Taylor, chairman of the county relief commission, in a bulleting issued by the state agency.

The cows will be bought by the Surplus Relief Corporation in drought-stricken areas of the northwest. All of the cattle will be tested and approved by the animal husbandry division of the Department of Agriculture before being shipped.

It is planned to sell the cows at very reasonable prices to those receiving relief. Others who are not on relief rolls but are deserving and have proper facilities for caring for the animals may buy them. Still others will be given cows without cash payments and allowed two years to pay for them. Payments may be made in cash or in dairy products which can be used in relief work.

Mr. Taylor is informing the commission that a carload of 25 or 30 cows can be used in Sutton county.

Electricity in Body, but No Electric Organ

There is no special electric organ in the human body as there is in certain types of fishes—the electric eel, etc. Electric sparks and discharges from the hair and skin are usually symptoms of frictional electricity. For example, the friction of the leather soles of shoes on the woolen rugs in a heated house may produce enough electricity to cause sparks to jump from the person's fingers to a lamp fixture or metal hinge. Atmospheric conditions and differences in the conditions of muscular, nervous and general health may account for individual differences with regard to these electric sparks.

According to textbooks of physiology, every contraction of a muscle, the secretion of a gland, and probably also nutritional changes in the tissues, are associated with electrical phenomena, which may be demonstrated by a sensitive galvanometer and suitable methods. Before any muscular contraction there is a change in the electrical condition of the muscle, and even the heart beats are said to be associated with electrical phenomena. Similar electrical changes are also found in the living nerves.—Detroit News.

Soldier Bonus Demands Traced to Indian Wars

The bonus for former warriors is as old as the Indian wars of the early settlers, according to an authority, who revisits the fight between the English settlers in Connecticut with the Pequots, which occurred in 1637.

The Pequots, most feared tribe in Connecticut, had subjugated the other Indians and the determination of the white settlers on a war, though they were inexperienced in Indian fighting, was a "remarkable action to take," the writer says.

The general court decided on the war at Hartford, May 1, 1637, and by July 13, the same year, the Indian power had been broken. The white men struck quickly, killing men, women and children as they drove the Indians from the state. Then came the aftermath, just as it has in modern days.

The Indian fighters demanded bonuses, and were given lands in the former country of the Pequots, now New London county. Taxes were increased and increased interest in preparation for other wars was noted. The leaders, then fighting wrote their memoirs, and altercations arose as to who won the war.

Roll Call in Congress

There is no requirement that the roll be called at the beginning of each day's session of congress. It is called at the opening of the term to ascertain whether all the states are represented, and a roll call is directed by the speaker of the house or the president of the senate before an action which requires a two-thirds vote. For the rest of the time, a roll call may be had whenever any member cares to raise the point of a quorum, if a substantial minority supports his request. It requires 35 minutes to call the roll in the house; in the senate, considerably less time. When a part of one of the bodies desires to delay proceedings for one reason or another, frequent and repeated roll calls help to accomplish the purpose.

Public Executions

In the early days of Ohio execution by hanging was public and no step was omitted which might by publicity tend to deter persons from committing capital offenses. Before the condemned man was hanged his funeral was "preached," whilst other means were taken to show the consequences of homicide. For example, in 1825 in Newark a murderer was condemned to be hanged, the gallows was erected, the grave dug, the coffin made, the shroud procured, and the condemned man vested in it. He was then placed within the coffin, while the sermon was "preached" to a large audience, assembled to listen to the services which were then to be followed by the execution.

Abyssinians Dance in Churches

In Abyssinia are strangely preserved many forgotten rites of the ancient Hebrews and the first Christians. After the Queen of Sheba's visit to King Solomon, it is said 12,000 Hebrews of the best families in Jerusalem settled in the land. The descendants of these people today form the aristocracy of Abyssinia and are Christian. On the other hand, another contingent of Hebrews came to Abyssinia after the destruction of the Temple at Jerusalem, and have remained faithful to the original Jewish religion. It is an interesting fact that the Abyssinians still dance in their churches, as the Israelites did before the Ark.

Remarkable Descendants

From Jonathan Edwards, president of Princeton university who married Sarah Pierrepont in 1727 have descended—12 college presidents, 65 college professors, 60 physicians, 90 authors, 30 judges, 80 state governors, 100 lawyers, 100 clergymen, 205 college graduates, 3 congressmen, 2 United States senators and 1 United States Vice President.

LONG HERDING JOB TO END THIS YEAR

Canada Moving Herd of 2,500 Deer to Feed Eskimos.

Ottawa.—The longest and toughest "herding" job in history, a "drive" of 2,500 reindeer along the Arctic coast from Alaska to new grazing grounds at the mouth of the Mackenzie river, is to be completed by Christmas, the Department of the Interior has just been advised.

A dozen herders undertook the task at Christmas time of 1929, and expected to complete it in two years. At Christmas of this year, the time now set for the completion of the icy journey, the time spent will have been a full five years. The trek began from the Buckland river valley, Alaska.

Purchased by the Canadian government from the Lomer Bros. corporation in Alaska, the herd is being moved to its new home to supply food and skins for the Eskimo population which numbers about 4,600. Native game is becoming scarce.

The reindeer herders, according to departmental accounts, have put in four and one-half exacting and exciting years in marshaling their charges. They have had to fight off wolves, which constantly have attacked the herd; they have had to contend with sickness and accidents among their own numbers as well as in the deer herd; they have had to foot it through icy wilderness and tangled scrub, over glare ice and treacherous snowy hummocks. And, most provoking perhaps of all handicaps, they have had to contend with the homing instincts of the animals, and their repeated tactics of doubling back on their tracks.

The first year's efforts demonstrated that progress had to be discontinued from March to November because of the fawning season and the impossibility of the youngsters navigating swollen rivers. This year the herd and herders got within 70 miles of their goal, when it was planned to push ahead day and night and put an end to the job. Blizzards, however, swept the ice bare of snow and the animals could not get footing; finally the whole herd stampeded back to Shingle Point after a score of miles of progress.

So the herders and their proteges are going to summer at Shingle Point and about December 1 commence the final dash to their objective. If things go well all will eat their Christmas dinner at their new home.

Yankee Colony in Paris Drops Off to Only 7,000

Paris.—Hard times have caused the "American City of Paris" to repatriate its "citizens" to the United States in such vast numbers that its size has decreased in the last four years from 20,000 to 7,000.

The remaining Americans are divided into three groups: Hardened long-timers and wealthy expatriates who have practically become French except for their passports; the "big chiefs" of American business houses still maintaining Paris offices (banks, importing firms, news agencies, purchasing branches, etc.); and Americans who, in A. E. F. veteran parlance, have a "life sentence"—or a French wife. This class is probably the greatest of all, numbering 3,000 (including husband, wife and children).

The American colony in Paris is down to its pre-war size and shrinking further.

Student Drinking Drops With Dry Law Repeal

Milwaukee.—With the advent of repeal, student drinking has decreased noticeably, in the opinion of Charles Cobben, manager of the student union at Marquette university. His reason is that most students find the new liquor system a bit beyond their means.

Farmer Drives Cow

Porterville, Calif. — Henry H. Rose owns a "double-threat" cow. After milking her each day he hitches her up and drives her to town with his produce. Traffic usually stops.

Feeds Six Ducks; Brings Thousands

Winnipeg.—Raids of swarms of wild ducks, estimated to number at least 3,000, are causing great trouble to farmers in the vicinity of Rocky Mountain House, Alberta.

Lacking sufficient natural feed, owing to unusual conditions in the five-mile area of spring-fed marsh at the heads of Raven and Clear creeks, they are ravaging farmers' barnyards and stealing food laid out for cattle and poultry.

This situation is confirmation of the Biblical prophecy that bread cast upon the waters shall come back several-fold. Seven years ago a farmer, one Budden, fed three pairs of wild ducks over winter. Next year a large flock came to the vicinity and the number has increased each year, indicating that news has a way of getting around in birdland.

Building Panama Canal Originated With Spain

The thought of building a canal across the isthmus connecting North and South America originated with Spain in 1521, and some surveys were made at that time under the Spanish government, says the Indianapolis News. The serious business of building the canal, however, took shape in 1876 with the organization of a company in Paris which was to make the requisite surveys and investigations. Following an international scientific congress, in 1879, composed of 135 delegates from various nations, most of whom were French, which determined the site of the canal, a French company was formed which took up the work of construction on a large scale in 1883. Work on the canal was vigorously prosecuted until 1889, when the company became bankrupt under circumstances which produced charges of fraudulent transactions and of corruption upon a colossal scale. Suits were brought against canal officials, including the president, contractors and others, who, it was charged, had benefited illegally in connection with the canal work. The property of the canal company was put in charge of a liquidator, and remained in his hands until 1894, when the new Panama Canal company was organized and took over the assets of the old company. From 1894 until the property was acquired by the United States government, in May, 1904, the new Panama Canal company prosecuted the work of construction with a small force located almost entirely in the great Culebra cut.

Refracting Telescopes Are Difficult to Make

Most people think of a telescope as a long tube with a lens in one end and an eyepiece in the other, says Literary Digest. In instruments of this kind, known as refracting telescopes, the light is gathered by a large lens and focused in an eyepiece. Very large astronomical telescopes make use of another principle, that of reflection, because of the difficulty of making successful large refracting telescopes. In reflecting telescopes the light from distant objects is collected by a huge concave mirror, called the spectrum, and focused on a smaller mirror, which in turn transmits the light to an eyepiece. When used for taking photographs the eyepiece is replaced by a camera.

Since the light-gathering power of a telescope mirror is proportional to its area, the bigger the mirror the more useful it will be—within certain limits. Thus, a 100-inch mirror should theoretically be able to "see" four times as much as a 50-inch one. The 100-inch telescope at Mount Wilson sees about as far as light can travel in 300,000,000 years.

Ancient British Village

The village of Cuddington, Surrey, England, is more than 1,250 years old, and history records the existence of the place in the year 675, with the passing of Athelstan and Edward the Confessor. The neighborhood was famous from the reign of Henry VIII to that of Charles II as a center of royal festivities. In the sixteenth century Henry VIII fenced in some 1,600 acres of park and built Nonsuch palace, where for nearly two centuries the revels of the court were held. Later Queen Mary sold Nonsuch to the earl of Arundel. Afterwards it was possessed by Queen Elizabeth, and it was here that the ill-fated earl of Essex was arrested prior to his removal to the Tower of London. In 1670 King Charles gave the palace to Barbara Villiers, who dismantled the castle and sold the contents.

National Trees

According to the secretary of the British forestry commission, "there is no 'national tree' for Great Britain." But judging from the crests of the Royal English Forestry society and the Royal Scottish Forestry society, the oak tree has been adopted as an emblem by Great Britain, and the pine tree by Scotland. The Canadian legation at Washington states "no tree has been officially designated as a 'national tree.' However, the maple leaf is regarded as Canada's national emblem, and appears in the arms and ensigns armorial assigned to the Dominion by the royal proclamation of November 21, 1921. The particular variety of maple leaf is not therein described." "However, the variety which appears in the arms is the Acer saccharinum, commonly known as the silver maple."

West Point Requirements

It is not required that an applicant for admission to West Point be a high school graduate. But the entrance examination is such that unless he has had a first-class high school education or its equivalent, he will not be able to make an entering grade. The course of study is four years during which the cadets are under strict military discipline. Summers are spent in camp. Upon graduation cadets are commissioned second lieutenants in the United States army, and are assigned wherever they may be needed. Upon entrance to the academy a student binds himself to the government for eight years.

Louisiana Lottery Was Last, Greatest of Kind

The Louisiana lottery was founded in 1868 and it was said it sold $28,000,000 worth of tickets annually and paid out approximately half that amount each year.

The main offices of the "Louisiana," as it was called, were in the center of the city of New Orleans, in a pretentious looking building with opaque windows.

The monthly drawing of the "Louisiana" was described as highly picturesque. Streets were crowded with ticket vendors, brokers and interested investors.

Animals and Birds Feel and Act as Human Beings

Instances to show that animals have largely the same feelings and emotions as human beings were cited by the director of the Taranga Park zoo, when he told how several members of a herd of elephants in Africa had been observed to go to the aid of a wounded comrade, and a wallaby to give assistance to another wallaby that was blind.

Birds, such as Sarus cranes, dance as we do for the fun of the thing, and they exhibit great thought in their gyrations. Cockatoos employ the sentry system, posting one bird as a lookout while others feed on the ground.

The variations in behavior encountered among different kinds of animals are attributed largely to environment. Animals act generally in the same way in given circumstances.

Cause of Tides

Tides are caused by the gravitational attraction, or pull, of the sun and moon on the water and on the earth itself. The close relation that the tides of high water bear to the times of the moon's meridian passage shows that the moon's influence on tides is much greater than that of the sun.

Santo Domingo Quaint City

Most ancient of existing settlements of white men in the western hemisphere is the quaint city of Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. Christopher Columbus founded the city and claimed for Spain the island of Haiti, of which the Dominican Republic occupies about two-thirds.

Genesis of a Stogie

When the Argonauts drove their large, white canvas-covered wagons across the desert, their drivers needed something to keep their minds off the dust and death around them. They carried long cigars, bought in Pittsburgh at the start of their trip, around the top of their boots.

Supposed "Impossible" Not Always Impossible

That the commonplaces of today were the "impossibles" of yesterday is most graphically shown when bits of information like the following are brought to light:

The telephone was first thought of as a very marvelous laboratory experiment, nothing more. Chaucey Depew was asked to invest $5,000 in the invention, but an expert electrician of his day warned him against it.

In 1806, a decade before Bell, one Joshua Coppersmith was arrested in New York for attempting to extort funds from "ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he claimed would convey the human voice any distance over metallic wires, so that it could be heard by the listener at the other end."

A Boston newspaper at the time (incidentally, Boston is where Bell later perfected his telephone), editorialized about the arrest thus: "Well-informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over wires as may be done with dots and dashes and signals of the Morse code and that, were it possible to do so, the thing would be of no practical value."

Field of Cloth of Gold Story of 15th Century

In June, 1530, two kings met in the fields near the small town of Andres in France. These two kings were Henry VIII of England and Francis I of France. The meeting was held by special request of Francis, according to a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, who wished to gain the friendship of the English king to aid him in his ambitious projects for curbing the power of his great rival, Charles V of Germany.

In consideration of the fact that Henry had crossed the channel to grant the interview, the meeting was held on land that still belonged to the English crown. Many of the nobility of both France and England were present, and endeavored to outdo one another in the magnificence and gorgeous decoration of themselves, their banners and tents, and their retinues of followers.

Crater Mystery Settled

The Arizona meteor crater has been a subject of controversy among geologists, physicists and mining engineers. The crater, which is situated in the plains near Winslow, Ariz., is an elliptical pit about three-quarters of a mile long and some 600 feet deep.

Bees as Thinkers

Having proved that bees are blind to red colors but are able to distinguish between different designs or markings, the American Museum of Natural History goes a step further and proves that they possess intelligence and use it. A little trapdoor was used in the entrance to their hive which would open out but not in.

Our War With Mexico

The crisis which brought about the war with Mexico was precipitated by the annexation of Texas. Mexico had never recognized or accepted the independence of Texas. An argument arose over a boundary question between Mexico and Texas.

Ivory Nut Beetle

In the Panama Canal zone there is a small beetle which bores into the ivory nut, one of Panama's largest exports. These nuts are used to make buttons. This beetle is no larger than a grain of wheat, but it can penetrate the tough fiber of the ivory nut which is so hard as to turn the edge of a sharp knife.

New Library Books Pleasing Both Old and Young Readers

Mystery and Detective Stories As Well As Sinclair Lewis' "Work of Art" Received

The most recent novel Sinclair Lewis has written is included in the eleven books for adults and fourteen for children received last week at the library conducted by Sonora Woman's Club in the clubhouse. It was published in 1934.

Mr. Lewis' book is "Work of Art." The story takes place in the latter part of the 90's and in the early part of the twentieth century. The description of the novel as given on the "jacket" of the book is:

"... It is the story of Myron Weagle and of America. Myron wanted to create the perfect hotel—a work of art. He worked and dreamed his way from bell boy in the American House in Black Thread Center, where Pa and Ma Weagle kept the brassbound register on a swivel to head one of the six largest hotels in the world. His progress is a great panorama of America, done with sympathy and vitriol."

Those who are entranced by a mystery or detective story will be interested in the new books. Jeeves, famous Wodehouse character, now "performs" in a full length novel—the first in which he has been portrayed. The book, "Thank You, Jeeves," was received in the same shipment. Its "jacket" says:

"The Wooster blood was up. You know how the Woosters are. Speak to them softly, enlist their aid and all that they have is yours. Cross them, and really, you know there is a limit. So when Jeeves came out firmly that either he or the banjolele must go, a fellow had to do what he had to do. Jeeves went."

Adults' books which were received were:

"Roaring River," Raine; "Thank You, Jeeves," Wodehouse; "Bachelor Bounty," Richmond; "Second Violin," Richmond; "Stolen Idols," Oppenheim; "Man from Sing Sing," Oppenheim; "Little Girl Lost," Bailey.

"Week-end Marriage," Faith Baldwin; "State vs. Elinor Norton," Rinehart; "Come Out of the Pantry," Miller; "Work of Art," Lewis; "Book of Poetry," Markham; "Tutt for Tutt," Train; "Cappy Ricks Comes Back," Kyne.

The books which have an especial appeal to children included:

"Jo's Boys," Alcott; "Anything Can Happen on the River," Brink; "Bird's Christmas Carol," Wiggins; "Robin," Coon; "Tim Tadpole and the Great Bullfrog," Flack; "Connie Morgan Hits the Trail" and "Connie Morgan with the Forest Rangers," both by Hendryx.
