Economy Possible By His Election, Pat Murphy Says

His Capital Training Would Save For People

U. S. LAW-RIDDEN

Texas Should Have More Federal Jobs

"I believe a congressman should go to work at once," declared E. E. (Pat) Murphy Tuesday afternoon in Sonora, "and my knowledge of Washington will permit me to do this. A congressman gets $10,000 a year. It takes him, ordinarily, two years to learn 'his way about.' I can save you people $20,000 by my knowledge of Washington."

Mr. Murphy was introduced by George Wynn, attorney, who declared he had known Mr. Murphy since they were boys together in San Angelo and that he believed he "knew the ropes in Washington."

A discussion of the nation's problems with the voters was Mr. Murphy's summary of the address he would make. He expressed the thought that this was not a time for organization controversy but one in which Americans should seek solutions to their problems.

"There are two yardsticks by which you people may measure a candidate," Mr. Murphy declared. "He should know the district's needs and he should have Washington training to expedite his work there."

"I spent six years in Washington studying this country's government. I have spent more time studying government than all of my opponents. Fifty per cent of a congressman's work consists of handling details there for people of his district."

CAN YOU CALCULATE GALLONS OF WATER?

Several school boys and girls have turned in answers to the problem in last week's NEWS. Briefly, the problem is:

An acre-foot of water is an acre of land covered by one foot of water—43,560 cubic feet in one acre-foot. Not quite two years ago Sutton county had 18 inches of rain in a 10-day period. There are 1500 sections in the county. How many gallons of water fell in Sutton county during the ten days?

A ranchman is offering an attractive prize to the first school boy or girl who turns in the correct answer at the NEWS office. All answers must be in by Monday, July 30, at 6 o'clock.

Independents and Highway Men in Tie for Lead

Independents Show Flashes of Good Form; Tuesday Game Is Batting Event

TODAY'S GAME

Independents vs. Highway

LEAGUE STANDING

	W.	L.	PTC.
Independents	3	2	.600
Highway	3	2	.600
Counter Hoppers	3	3	.500
Lions	2	4	.333

(Including Wednesday, July 25)

Sharing the top rung of the league ladder the Independents and Highway softball teams are in the lead with the Counter Hoppers and Lions bringing up the rear.

Eight runs piled up by the Independents while their pitcher, S. Allison, was holding the Highway men to two hits and no runs, accounted for the 8 to 0 victory of Independents Thursday of last week. Fourteen errors by the Highway group, five of which were in the first inning, contributed much to their defeat.

Station B People Prove Superb Hosts

Barbecue for Guests Follows Ball Games in Afternoon

Capable and pleasing hosts were the families that live at Humble Station B, 47 miles from Sonora, last Friday afternoon and evening when they invited residents at Humble Station A and citizens of Junction and Sonora to their community for baseball games and a barbecue supper.

The various events which were in charge of Archie Lee, chief engineer at the station, were enjoyed by several hundred people. A number of county candidates were among those in attendance. After the ball games the visitors inspected the equipment and grounds of the station.

A menu consisting of barbecued goat, potato salad, pickles, son-of-a-gun, several kinds of cake, and iced tea was served "cafeteria fashion" as the guests passed thru the schoolhouse which is on the station property. The food was furnished and prepared by the ladies who live at the station.

In the ball games Station B defeated its guests, the team of Station A, by a score of 7 to 3. In a softball game Station B defeated Junction players.

Puckett's Return from Nocona

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Puckett returned Sunday night from Nocona, Texas, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Puckett's sister, Mrs. E. Payne, 71, who died there Monday, July 16. Burial was in St. Jo, Texas.

Carney Wyatt, C. D. Wyatt and Dr. A. G. Blanton were in San Angelo Tuesday.

Sutton to Select County Officials at Polls Saturday

Heightened Interest in Congressional Race as Lawyers and Business Man Campaign

Qualified Sutton county voters will mark ballots tomorrow that will aid in determining their county officers for the next two years as well as those who will guide the destinies of the state from now until 1936.

In the county, contests for the office of sheriff-tax collector and for county judge are attracting most attention.

B. W. Hutcherson, sheriff, completing his eighth term, is opposed by J. K. Lancaster who was also his opponent two years ago. At that time Mr. Hutcherson defeated Mr. Lancaster by a small margin.

Alvis Johnson, county judge at present, is contesting to retain his office with Harvey Walker, farmer-ranchman who is well known in Sonora. Mr. Walker was formerly a county judge in McCulloch county.

H. M. Thiers, service station operator at Camp Allison, is running against C. W. Adams, present commissioner in precinct three. T. B. Davis, wool buyer, and C. C. Smith, one of the owners of Sutton Motor Co., seek the office of constable in precinct one.

Unopposed candidates are: Mrs. A. J. Smith, county treasurer; J. D. Lowrey, county clerk; C. T. (Cleve) Jones, commissioner, precinct four.

Congressional Race Close

The new twenty-first congressional district has brought out three lawyers and one business man who want to represent voters of the district in Washington. They are: Culberson Deal, formerly with the Angelo Furniture Co., San Angelo, but more recently manager of the Board of City Development there; E. E. (Pat) Murphy, San Angelo attorney, candidate in 1930 for the same office; Carl Runge, Mason, former district judge; Chas. L. South, Coleman, district attorney.

All except Mr. South have spoken in Sonora recently. The consensus of opinion is that either of the four is capable of representing the district properly. Friendships, influence of friends who favor one or the other, and now and then the expression of belief in some particular principle of a candidate are most often heard as cause for favoring some particular one of the four.

First Air Mail Pilot Here; Believes All Mail Should Go by Plane; Develop U.S. Aviation

"Long ago all United States mail should have been consigned to airplane carriers and commercial aviation in this country would have developed as a result," declared Earle Ovington, first United States air mail pilot who passed through here recently on his way to Santa Barbara, Cal., where he owns the airport of that city. "What is your opinion of the plan tried recently of the army flying the mail?" asked the NEWS representative.

"It was bound to turn out as it did," flyers were all right, they just neither had the the equipment nor the ground knowledge necessary to do the job that is known as 'flying the mail.' They made a brave stab at it. The commercial planes have the proper instruments, and that's an important angle to be considered."

First Air Mail Folwn 8 Miles
Frank Hitchcock, now publisher of the Daily Citizen, Tucson, Ariz., was postmaster-general in September, 1911, when Mr. Ovington carried the mail in a lighter-than-air machine.

It was only a pouch and the distance was only eight miles, from Nassau Boulevard, N. Y., to Mincola, N. Y., but it was the start of the present air mail system on which individuals and business firms depend. Mr. Hitchcock formally appointed Mr. Ovington as a U. S. air mail pilot—the first one!

Fred Berger, 69, Pioneer Resident Died Yesterday

Came Here from San Antonio Before County Was Organized; Funeral Today

Death at noon Thursday claimed Fred Berger, pioneer Sutton county citizen who has lived in this section since before the county was organized in the latter part of 1889. He had been in ill health four years.

A native of Heinzendorf, Austria, Mr. Berger who would have been seventy years old August 13, emigrated to this country when he was 22 years old. He spent a few months in St. Louis and then came to Schulenberg, Texas, and later to San Antonio.

The next year (1887) he came, with Jim Barton, who lived here for many years, to what was soon to be Sutton county. Mrs. J. W. Mayfield who lives here now recalls that she and her husband ate their first meal in this section at Mr. Berger's tent. At that time there were not many houses and no fences. Grease was not available and beans, cooked with a leg of mutton, constituted the meal.

For many years he was employed on ranches owned by John Reiley, George S. Allison, J. N. Taylor and Jim Barton. He worked on the Fort Terrett Ranch for E. E. Sawyer for nine years and in about 1903 went into the boot making business in Sonora. He worked at this trade for fifteen years.

Sonora people recalled yesterday his industry and his pride in the work turned out. His shop was located in a one-room building between the J. W. Trainer store and the Craddock Building. So adept was he that he conversed with visitors without missing a stroke of his hammer or a stitch of his needle.

SONORA PLAYERS SPLIT SUNDAY GAMES IN S. A.

By scores of 10 to 8 and 5 to 0 the Sonora All Stars split a twin bill with the San Angelo All Stars in San Angelo.

In the first game which Sonora took by the 10 to 8 score William Fields secured four hits in four times at bat. In the second game San Angelo allowed the Sonora team only six scattered hits which accounted largely for their defeat by the 5 to 0 score.

Box scores of the games were not secured by the Sonora team.

Mr. Ovington, who is a lieutenant-commander in the U. S. Naval Air Reserve, was taught to fly by Louis Bleriot, the first man to cross the English Channel by air. Bleriot's famous flight was 25 years ago this week. Mr. Ovington has a transport license and is a member of the Aero Club de France.

DeLuxe House Cars Interest, Too
Traveling in a house car that is the "last word" in comfort for the automobile traveler who takes his rest at nightfall by the side of the road or in some convenient grove of trees, Mr. Ovington and his friend, Burton R. Herring, also of Santa Barbara were taking two of the trailer cars from Coral Gables, Fla., to the coast city.

Leaning cushions, window screens that disappear as curtains, complete kitchen facilities, and lavatory are features of the trailers. As the NEWS representative talked to Mr. Ovington, shortly after luncheon, the first U. S. mail pilot, erstwhile house car and airport owner, was partaking of a "sensible lunch," a bottle of milk and dish of cereal.

The two men had come from San Antonio that day and left after a couple of hours rest stop and for luncheon to go on to Fort Stockton where they were to spend the night. They had come this far, at a leisurely pace, by way of New Orleans.

Drought, Spiritual Dearth Compared

The Rev. E. P. Neal Believes Great Spiritual Revival Essential

"Drought and spiritual dearth are closely related," declared the Rev. E. P. Neal Sunday in his morning sermon on the subject of "The Breaking of the Drought."

The Rev. Mr. Neal compared physical drought conditions with those of the spirit. A revival of spiritual fervor, he said, would break the spiritual drought.

"We hear so often, 'what we need is a general rain, not just little, local showers,'" he said. "It is the only thing probably that will relieve our economic stress. Similarly we need a general revival, not just a small local awakening. We need a mighty wave of God's sweeping grace to break the great spiritual drought."

"There was a spiritual dearth in the time of John Wesley. He and his followers prayed and worked and a great revival, spiritually, spread over all England and into the United States."

"We have had great revivals here. They were several years ago. Who can go around town now and see the effects of those meetings?"

Praying for rain, the Rev. Mr. Neal declared, would be of no avail while people were in the grip of a spiritual dearth. He pointed to the scripture as likening drought to spiritual poverty. "Plenteous rains," he declared, were noted in the Bible as having come at a time when there was a great awakening of spiritual blessedness.

TWO SUCCESSIVE NIGHTS ENOUGH, FRANK DECIDES

"No, sah, Mr. Jesse, I won't go back there to sleep. There's sompin' after me. Two times straight, two times straight....."

Frank Mitchell washes cars at Sonora Motor Co. and sleeps (or did sleep) in the large workshop. When Frank came running to Jesse Powell, night man, the other night he was wild-eyed. After he had settled down a bit his story came out. A hand had reached through a window and the long beam of a flashlight had "investigated" all parts of the room—including Frank's cot.

"Yes, sah, Mr. Jesse, I knows for I saw it myself. I ain't foolin'. I knows what I'm talking about."

But next night was another night and Frank tried his bed again. This time another negro had seen fit to make a "stowaway" in the room for the night. He got seriously ill during the early morning hours, was discovered and Frank had to witness a part, a very small part it was, of his misery.

"No, sah, Mr. Jesse, two times straight, two times straight. I'm gonna sleep closer up here to the front."

Francis J. Wood left Saturday on a ten-day trip to Mexico City. He was accompanied by Adolph Flores.

Candidate Outlines His Fitness for Position

REVIEWS RECORD

Says Oratory Not To Be So Important In Future

"I am not a lawyer but I contend that it is not necessary to be an attorney capable of interpreting the law—rather I maintain that it is far more important for me to be able to interpret and know the things that most concern the well being of the people of my district."

In this manner Culberson Deal, candidate for congress, answered in Sonora Monday afternoon criticism he stated an opponent had made that "Deal is not a lawyer." Mr. Deal spoke in front of the Club Cafe at 5 o'clock. From here he went to Junction for a night address to the people of Kimble county.

Mr. Deal was introduced by H. V. (Buzzy) Stokes who declared that whether or not Mr. Deal was elected he would continue to be a good friend and neighbor of the people of this section.

At the beginning of his address Mr. Deal outlined three major points on which he based his belief in his ability to represent the district. These were: a) familiarity with the section, its needs and desires; b) ability to effectively present this section and needs; c) willingness to be an humble servant of all.

Tells of Washington Work

Mr. Deal declared that he had discovered in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation bill an amendment regarding the Production Credit Association. As a member of a committee that went to the capital, he declared, he worked for the location of the office in the livestock country. Because he was employed by Sam Angelo he particularly wanted it there but he emphasized that all of his argument had been for location somewhere in the livestock country rather than in a metropolitan center. His efforts to make the government financing agency a permanent thing were outlined. He recognized, he said, the need for some agency which could loan either $50 to the tenant-farmer-producer or $100,000 to the ranchman-producer.

"It is my belief," Mr. Deal stated, "that in the next few years the ability to appear before bureaus and commissions in Washington will be of much more value than ability to make a flowery speech in the halls of congress and have it printed later in the Congressional Record."

"I went to Washington, too, with a committee, when the matter of discrimination in oil prices was considered. All of this section is interested in that because of land leases for oil. A fair price clause which the committee of which I was a member wanted was secured."

Producers' Welfare Essential

"In the twenty-first district of twenty-seven counties," Mr. Deal continued, "the well being of all depends on the well being of the producer, and by producer I mean both the ranchman and the farmer. I shall try to get connected with is known as the marketing system, by which foreign commodities are unloaded in New York under a mere bond and held there with the prime purpose of hammering down domestic prices."

"The producer can be saved only by the government's continuing a plan of long term financing for both ranchman and home owner."

Among other principles which he advocates, Mr. Deal outlined: better aid for school system, particularly vocational agriculture.

British Graveyard Inn
Sells Beer Near Church

London.—Beer can be bought—and drunk—in a British graveyard. The only inn in the country, which has this unique location, will be 600 years old this year. It is the Mug house at Chines near Worcester.

Ancient, gray tombstones come within a few feet of the front door of the tavern, and the church itself is only 30 yards away.

When a villager calls for his evening pint, he must pass through the graveyard. There is no other entrance to the "pub."

At one time the church held its vestry meetings in the tap-room of the tavern, and some centuries back the church received a portion of the profits from the sale of ale in return for granting a license.

The inn was established to "provide refreshment for lords and ladies after the church service."

Budapest Policemen
Must Grow Mustaches

Budapest.—Budapest is going to have romantic mustachioed policemen. An order has been issued that all mounted policemen from now on wear mustaches. It is considered not only conducive to military appearance and bearing but in line with the national tradition of dashing Magyar horsemen.

Whether the new hirsute glories of the mounted policemen will increase their efficiency is doubtful, but the men will certainly become doubly irresistible to the Budapest housemaids.

Home Town Boys Have Failed to Make Good

Budapest.—In Besence, Hungary, the women have gone on a marriage strike.

For some subtle feminine reason they refuse to marry the men of the village, though they're overwhelmed with offers, there being five times as many men as women in the town.

Through sheer contrariness from the masculine point of view they have all proceeded to get "crushes" on the gentlemen of a neighboring village, where the women are in the majority.

The unfortunate Besence males have set up a law whereby no outsider contemplating marriage with a Besence girl may enter the town, nor may the native lasses leave to marry anybody in the neighboring town.

But the problem is far from being solved. The girls are locked up. The men are still lonely. And everybody is very, very unhappy.

DISCOVER FOSSILS IN ASPHALT BEDS

Furnish Valuable Clues to Past Geological Ages.

Washington.—The asphalt beds of California have been found to be "veritable necropolises" of animal fossils and give many discernible facts about plants, animals, and men of past geologic ages, according to reports of a study made for Carnegie Institution by Robert W. Wilson.

These deposits, now for the most part of bituminous hardness, once were gummy pools of tar which, the report states, engulfed unwary birds and animals quickly once they became entangled and preserved their skeletal remains for all time.

The Carpentaria deposit, around which the recent study centered, has yielded enough material to enable the drawing of definite conclusions concerning conditions extant in the region during the geologic eras represented by the animals entombed.

The occurrence of bones of shrews, for example, according to Wilson, suggests moist places with abundant vegetation, such as are to be found along bank streams, in meadows, and in damp woods, especially of coniferous trees—an environment which these insectivorous mammals today find particularly agreeable.

Again the presence of fossil remains of chipmunks, and of tree squirrels points strongly, Wilson thinks, to a region that was at least partly forested. On the other hand, the presence of many fossils of kangaroo-rats indicates that the forest cover in the region of this asphalt deposit was either broken by areas of sparser vegetation or that there may have been fluctuations in climatic conditions during the period of accumulation.

Moreover, presence of larger mammals of extinct species belonging to the horse, bison, and camels also suggests an open, semi-arid country.

It is to be noted, the report further states, that Mr. Wilson's conclusions regarding the region, based upon the study of skeletal remains of animals, are in general harmony with those reached through study of the plant fossils also to be found in great abundance in the asphalt deposit.

Chinese Personal Card Miniature "Who's Who"

Peiping.—Chinese social etiquette usually is far more elaborate than customarily observed by Occidentals, and in their use of name cards the Chinese of the upper classes have developed a system representing no mean improvement on Emily Post.

Western etiquette calls for the austere simplicity of a single, unadorned name on a bit of pasteboard. Perhaps a degree, or a title, or a single designation of some kind is permissible. But on the whole the average card offers singularly little information concerning his antecedents and his connections.

On introduction two Chinese will bow and on the upswing pull out their card cases and meet with hands in midair, two little, or sometimes large bits of white cardboard being exchanged.

A typical card will most prominently feature the family and given names. In small ideographs alongside will be the holder's one courtesy name, which it always is necessary to use if one wishes to be exceedingly polite. The card also will tell of the province and district from which the new acquaintance hails. This is regarded by the Chinese as vitally important information. Acquaintances happening to come from the same province or district are entitled to special consideration and unusual courtesy. This information also furnishes the clue as to what dialect should be used.

Station Research Shows Prickly Pear Gain on Pastures

Spraying, Carefully Done, Effective in Removing Costly Pest from Texas Range

Thirty-one prickly-pear plants per acre is the average on the Ranch Experiment Station near Sonora, according to a bulletin of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station recently issued.

The Station has 4500 acres and the survey showed that if all of the pear were in one block 110 acres would be completely covered. It is said that there is not as much pear on Station lands as on other ranches in that locality.

Many ranchmen believe that prickly-pear has increased 100 per cent in some areas during the last five years. One ranchman, near Ozona, says that the pear on his ranch increased six times during the 5-year period. Prickly-pear, a species of cactus, rather comprising several species of the common cactus, grows over most of southwest Texas and well into central and West Texas.

On the Whole—Objectionable
 Some uses have been found for the plant but not many. When fed to cattle it must be singed. Even then it is not very nutritious and cattle beginning on burned or singed pear may continue eating pear not singed. The spines cause lip and tongue sores and make the animal susceptible to screw worm infestations. Sheep and goats suffer even more than do cattle from eating the spiney pear.

A few spineless strains of cactus have been found and propagated. These may be substituted for the spiney varieties. Plantings of spineless varieties at the Station have been found useful as roughage.

Experiments were started at the Station in January, 1933, to learn the best methods of control and eradication of the prickly-pear which is encroaching on grass lands and causing damage to livestock to the extent that ranchmen are interested in eradicating it from their pastures.

The poison that is recommended, as a result of research, consists of 3 pounds of arsenic pentoxide, 1/2-pint of sulphuric acid and one gallon of water. It should be applied during the period from the middle of May to the middle of October with a special sprayer. Twenty cents per acre is a fair estimate of the cost. As arsenic is a deadly poison, cattle should be removed from the pasture where pear is being poisoned and kept out for two or three weeks.

Caution should be practiced at all times by men using the poison. If it gets on the body severe burns are likely to result unless it is washed off at once. Goggles should be worn over the eyes and care taken not to breathe the mist created by the sprayer.

Endorse Lattimore for Supreme Bench

Associate Judge, Civil Appeals Court Aspires to High Office

The Tarrant County Bar, the Cook County Bar and members of the Shelby County Bar Association have issued statements commending H. S. Lattimore, candidate for associate justice of the supreme court.

Mr. Lattimore, who is now associate justice of the court of civil appeals, second district, is a native Texan.

His early years followed the usual course of Texas youth in public schools and at Baylor and Texas universities, interspersed with labor on the farm, delivering newspapers, etc. Following two years as public school instructor, he took up the practice of law and followed it vigorously and without interruption, other than military service during the war, until he was elevated to the district bench in 1923. He was twice elected to that office by increasing majorities, and at the conclusion of those terms was promoted to the court of civil appeals.

What the voters of the latter district thought of his merit is shown by his majority of nearly two to one over a strong opponent. He is not yet fifty years old, is vigorous and active physically and mentally. During his nine years as district judge he stood out year after year in the number of jury cases tried, and since being in the appellate court the number of appeals disposed of has been materially increased.

Judge Irby Dunklin, chief justice, court of civil appeals, second supreme judicial district, says of Judge Lattimore:

"Judge Hal S. Lattimore possesses one of the clearest minds and keenest intellects that I have observed during my entire career as an appellate judge. On the bench and in the consultation rooms of the court of civil appeals for the 2nd supreme judicial district he has proven himself to be a brilliant jurist of rare attainments. His unusual vigor of mind and body enables him to handle an immense volume of work with dispatch and accuracy, and his never failing kindness and courtesy has rendered our association on the bench most agreeable."—(Political Advertisement).

As much confidence is shown by Mr. Borah as if he were expecting to be a managing editor of some of the publicity in the next presidential campaign. — Washington Evening Star.

Election—

Yes, You Can Vote If—

L. W. Elliott, chairman of the Democratic county committee, outlined clearly for the NEWS this week who can vote in tomorrow's election.

Poll tax payment is required. Residence in the county for six months—at election time—and in Texas for a year are other requirements. A vote may be cast if the elector has paid a tax elsewhere in the state and has lived in the state for one year and in the county for six months.

A man or woman who has become 21 since Jan. 1, 1933, can vote without a poll tax.

Poll tax payment is always for the preceding calendar year. Exemptions from poll tax payment are made for people over sixty years of age, those having only one leg or one arm, deaf and dumb persons and those permanently disabled.

Property ownership is not a necessary qualification in a general election.

Polls to Open at Eight

A. C. Elliott, presiding judge, voting box number one, at the courthouse, urges that an early vote be cast. More votes are cast here than at any other place in the county. Often very few are cast in the morning and confusion and inconvenience result for both judges and voters when the large number vote in the afternoon. Voting may be done until 7 at night.

Judges at the various polling places are:

Box one, courthouse: A. C. Elliott and Fred Simmons; box two, Mrs. Velma Shurley Ranch: Mrs. Velma Shurley and W. R. Cusenberry; box three, Camp Allison School: A. I. Davidson and Aldie Garrett; box four, Owensville School: J. P. Reiley and Gladys Reiley; box five, Ross Ranch: A. T. Stuart and Joe B. Ross.

CONSIDER WELL BEFORE YOU CHECK YOUR BALLOT

Sutton County residents as well as all Texans will go to their respective voting boxes Saturday and exercise their American privilege of indicating their choice for the men to direct their government.

It is the duty of every voter not to cast his ballot aimlessly but to know something, at least, of those who are seeking office. Many believe "platforms" mean little. However, they can be considered somewhat as a guide-post pointing to the type of man they present.

Three of four candidates for Congress have spoken in Sonora. Many have heard them and have been aided in their decision.

The accurate knowledge available about both county and district and state candidates should be weighed carefully before the citizen who is sincere in his belief in the power of government is properly qualified to mark his ballot.

Pat Murphy—

Mentions 1930 Campaign

Mr. Murphy reviewed the results of the 1930 campaign in which he stated he carried 37 of the 38 counties. Tom Green county gave a 3 to 1 vote for him. In Mason county, Mr. Murphy stated, one of his present opponents was active in the previous campaign and yet he carried it by a large vote.

"I don't want to go to Washington to help pass more laws. We are the most law-ridden and lawless nation now. We have enough. I want to go three to serve you.

"In Washington I would pay more attention to getting Texans federal jobs. The state is not getting its share. States centered around the District of Columbia are getting many."

Would End Depressions

Mr. Murphy went into detail in describing the cause of the depression and suggesting his views on ending this one and making future ones impossible. Support of Franklin D. Roosevelt's program for recovery was pledged. "Politicians" and "red tape," he stated, should be "kicked" out of Washington. Relief agencies he stated, should not be bound with "red tape."

Among the various principles he said he favored were: a) a department of education rather than a bureau; b) funds enabling the Federal Reserve System to cash school teachers' checks; c) redistribution of wealth; d) a recovery program that includes both the farmer and the ranchman; e) expansion of PWA projects to aid the small farmer and the small ranchman; f) proper care of disabled soldiers, their widows and orphans.

"Six hundred tenant farmers in Tom Green county have been driven from farms and are now on the relief rolls," Mr. Murphy declared as he suggested that the recovery programs should be more inclusive.

"We'll come out of the depression not with the aid of the 'big shot' politician but with the help of the 'forgotten men', common people from all walks of life.

"If I'm elected I still want to be called Pat. All I ask is that you let me serve you in Washington. To put it simply: stand pat for Pat and I'll stand pat for you in congress."

WELL-DIRECTED BULLET ENDS ALL FOR MARAUDER

"I've got you. You've been bothering me long enough and I'm going to fix you now."

As a Sonora man walked into his home the other night he heard his neighbor using those words in said neighbor's back yard. Certainly something was wrong. There hadn't been complaints of sneak thieves. Well, anyway, he was a good neighbor and might need some help.

Flashlighted-armed Citizen A. went to help. Neighbor B. appreciated that and sent him back for his gun. The intruder would be put out of the way once and for all. "Due process of law" was well and good but this was different. Neighbor A. would rid himself and his neighborhood of this "menace to society." A bullet did the work and Citizen A. and Neighbor B. proceeded to their beds well satisfied that a skunk had been shot to death in a hen house.

The Independents were unable to come back Friday with the same type of ball playing and lost to the Counter Hoppers 7 to 5. At the end of the sixth the score was tied. The hitting of Hale and W. Caldwell of the Counter Hoppers brought in two runs necessary to defeat the Independent aggregation.

In the Monday game the Highway "took the measure" of the Lions when they beat them by a score of 7 to 2. Ten hits were made by the Highway and only five by the Lions. Errors, too, were costly to the Lions who failed six times at critical points in the contest. Two errors were chalked against the Highway.

Home runs, 3-base hits and 2-base hits were the order of the day Monday. Star performers with the stick included: Prather and Blanton, home runs; 3-base hit, Prather; 2-base hits, Ory, Bud Smith, Dukes, W. Caldwell. The final score was: Highway 6, Counter Hoppers 6. Four errors were made by the Highway and 5 by the Counter Hoppers.

Bud Smith struck out one man and walked none, B. Lancaster fanned six and walked none.

The Independents defeated the Lions Wednesday 8 to 6. Allison of the Independents struck out three men and walked one. Carroll of the Lions did not so well and struck out three men and walked three. A two-base hit and a 3-base wallop were by W. Fields.

county agent and home demonstration work; securing of gainful employment for all rather than "a public relief trough"; recognition of both organized and unorganized labor; equitable highway assistance for Texas as compared with other states; less red tape in the recovery program.

Officers and Soldiers Alike

Mr. Deal expressed himself as favoring compensation for the disabled veteran, his widow or children if the case is a deserving one. He opposed, he declared, the giving of anything merely because a uniform was worn. Too, he stated that he is unalterably opposed to any discrimination between the compensation allowed an officer and the enlisted man in the ranks. As Mr. Deal said it, "it costs as much for the buck private to live as it does for the former officer."

In conclusion he said:

"If elected I will spend twelve months a year at the job—counseling with you and working for you. I will support the principles I believe fair, just and equitable for the people of my district.

"I come to you as a business man working for the principles in which I believe. If you believe in me on that basis and on the principles I have described I urge you to go to the polls Saturday and vote for Culberson Deal."

CAR TAKES WILD COURSE BUT DAMAGE VERY LITTLE

The blowing out of the left rear tire was given by Mrs. W. B. Spell of McAllen as the cause of her car leaving the road and careening through the barbed wire fence on the Harold Evans Ranch, 20 miles from Sonora, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Spell and her year-old daughter were accompanied by a negro maid. The car went off the road, into a deep bar pit and continued its course through a wolf-proof fence and stopped only when it struck a rock in the pasture. C. H. Jennings and another motorist helped Mrs. Spell get the car back on the road. None of the occupants of the car was hurt.

A small hole in the crankcase and scratches on the car body, caused by the barbed wire of the fence, was the only damage to the Spell car.

When the negro maid was asked if she was "scared white," she replied:

"Yes, sah, I sure was and I sure did pray, too."

Centennial City
To Be Selected
On September 1

Secondary Centennial Cities Will Be Historical Points, Co-operating Completely

On September 1 the city in which will be held the major celebration of the Texas Centennial will be selected. That city offering the highest financial bid will be chosen.

It has been estimated that $15,000,000 will be required to properly finance this gigantic review of economic, historical and cultural Texas. It is probable the successful bidder will offer as much as one-third of this sum, likely more.

By September 1 the stage will be set. The finance committee will have worked out its plans. It is expected these will prove the state's part of the financing will be accomplished without raising taxes one penny.

The planning committee will have completed its work. It will be ready to announce the kind and nature of celebration to be held. The publicity department will have sold the state the idea. Every Texan will be "Centennial minded." This alone represents a potential attendance of some 6,000,000.

The successful bidder will find a state afire for the celebration. The only thing it will have to do is provide facilities for the great show. By then the fact that people will attend will already have been proven.

Pick Other Cities in November
Almost every small city, town and hamlet in Texas has the opportunity to be chosen a secondary Centennial city. These selections will be made by the commission on November 1. No financial guarantee is required. The only requirement is the full and complete co-operation the community.

Scattered throughout Texas are the ruins of numerous old forts, such as old Fort Griffin in West Texas, old Fort Concho at San Angelo, old Fort McKavett in Menard county, old Fort Chadbourne, Coke county. Numerous ruins of old missions are scattered through the state, historical and pioneer cemeteries; the graves of the unfortunate of the Muir expedition overlooking the Colorado river at LaGrange; the routes of old cattle trails across the broad plains of West Texas and the Old Spanish Trail. A survey will reveal but few communities, and these only recently developed, which will have nothing to show visitors from all sections during 1936.

The commission is securing the co-operation of the State Highway Commission and those points of interest throughout Texas will be easily located by the traveler. Markers at convenient spots will direct attention to these old landmarks.

The pledge that has been adopted by the commission is as follows:

"I will think, talk, write Texas Centennial in 1936. This is to be my celebration. In its achievements I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' historic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be."

Boy Scouts to Have
Own Camp on Llano

Troop 19 to Leave August 9 for Two Days on River

The second annual camp for Sonora Boy Scouts of America is being planned for August 9 to 11. Arrangements were discussed Monday night at a dinner meeting of the committee which supervises the Scout work here.

C. H. Jennings will be in charge of the camp which will have a definite program of activities for the two nights and two days. Although the location has not been determined definitely it is believed that it will be held at Camp Aldwell on the Llano river. The cost to each boy will not exceed $1.50.

Scouts from Station B, Roosevelt and Junction will be invited to go with the local boys if they can provide their own adult leader.

Bob Billington, executive area officer, was here for the meeting with the "Scouters."

Rains of Week in County Helpful

Thursday Moisture Only .15 But Brings Heat Relief

Rains that have been of some value to Sutton county's parched land fell Saturday night and early Thursday morning. Some sections of West Texas received good rains during the week and the previous week-end. Ozona received a good rain the first part of the week.

Rain which fell Saturday evening was .31 of an inch. A dust storm and lightning preceded it.

The Thursday rain, accompanied by considerable wind, was helpful in cooling the atmosphere although the total that fell here was only .15 of an inch. At the Ranch Experiment Station the fall was .38. Eldorado, set for a barbecue and rodeo celebration, received only a sprinkle according to reports secured by Mrs. Earl Duncan of the Sonora office of San Angelo Telephone Co.

Other towns from which reports had been received at 8 o'clock Thursday morning were: Rock-springs, .9; Spefford, 1.7; Uvalde, 2; Camp Wood, 1; Del Rio, 1; Sanderson, 1; Eagle Pass, 2; Brackettville, 1/2; Menard, good rain; Fort McKavett, good shower; Carter Valley, 1; Loma Alta, 1.4; San Angelo, no rain.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Simon Lagree cracks his whip, a black man prays for the souls of white men who misuse him, and little Eva ascends to heaven under city auspices. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is playing a season right here in New York. The players are real troupers though they will not travel in a private car, or maybe two private cars, as Tom shows—so the old Clipper called them—used to do in my boyhood. They ride in the subway. The theaters are different than those of other times. They are trailers, which are towed here and there by motor trucks. Each is a complete theater. On reaching the desired spot in one of the public parks, a dressing tent will be erected, the trailer unfolded and a plug inserted in a convenient electric outlet. That's all the preparation necessary. Since there are to be no parades, the troupers won't have to double in brass. But business is assured—all tickets are free.

There are five of the trailer-theaters, each complete in itself. Thirty feet long, they are 8 feet wide and 13 feet high—the dimensions being governed by the city ordinance covering that kind of vehicle. When unfolded, there is a stage 30 by 20 feet with footlights, back-drops, borders, scenery, properties and everything else necessary. A switchboard in front controls the lighting. The stage crew consists of an electrician, a property man, a fly man and a carpenter. The idea of a municipal moving theater came from the brain of George Junkin, head of the drama department of the city public works division. Cleon Throckmorton designed the trailers, donated the idea to the city and supervised the building in his Greenwich Village workshop. The actors have been selected from among the many unemployed Thespians. Their salaries come from welfare funds. So do those of the stage crews, and the other costs. Twelve performances a week is the schedule for each theater.

Looking back, I discover I have overlooked the dressing tent. To protect the theater from the elements, each trailer is covered with a canvas. When that canvas is taken off, it is set up as a dressing tent. The Tom shows won't compete with theaters and movies since tickets will be distributed by welfare agencies among families who have no money for amusements.

By no means is "Uncle Tom's Cabin" the only throwback to the gas-light era. For quite some time, "The Drunkard," first presented here many years ago by P. T. Barnum, has been flourishing in an old church on East Fifty-fifth street, the patrons drinking beer while witnessing the performances. Then, too, Mr. Throckmorton is directing a restoration of the Peoples theater down on the Bowery for a revival of "The Black Crook." There will be bars and tables so that patrons may have their beer along with art, and Nita Naldi, star of the old silent screen, will appear in black tights and Ann Pennington will show her knees. In addition, there is revival of the old Bowery amateur night at the Casino de Patee. "You furnish the vegetables and we furnish the actors," say the ads. That has stirred up the Actors' Protective association so there may be a change.

Will have to go down and see "The Black Crook." The night it played in our town, I wasn't in my regular seat at Dickson's Grand opera house—there was a home order that I dare not disobey. "The Black Crook" was a leg show, and leg shows weren't for young male eyes. A friend—he looked older than his years—sneaked into the gallery and rendered a lurid report. So, after all these years, I have an opportunity to check up on him.

Turtle is one of the Broadway delicacies that has no season. Restaurant owners buy them, ranging from 20 to 200 pounds, and some use four or five of the larger ones each week. The cost ranges from 20 to 40 cents a pound. There is said to be only one source of supply for diamond-back terrapin, and that's away downtown, with prices running into real money.

Hen's Egg Measures Six by Eight Inches

Big Rapids, Mich.—C. E. Modrow and his White Leghorn hen are crowing over an egg measuring 6 inches the short way and 8 the other, which, Modrow points out, is bigger than an egg laid recently at Bridgman, which did not measure more than 6 inches either way. Modrow, who lives in the Woodville district, doesn't want to boast, it is explained, but merely wants to egg on other poultry men to see what their hens can do.

News Man Writes of Early Sonora

Austin Callan Says Courage and Hard Days in Saddle Won

In a communication to the NEWS Austin Callan of Calvert, Texas, West Texas Newspaper man known to many in Sonora, states that he is supporting Lon Smith for chairman of the state railroad commission.

"I don't know who is at the helm of that publication which my good Irish friend, Steve Murphy, conducted in the by-gone years. But I did know Sonora when it was a child in swaddling clothes, when Charley Adams sort o' presided around as 'father' of the town and Perry McConnell was sheriff, and Felix Vander Stucken was selling provisions to the boys out over the Stockman's Paradise.

"I remember 'Froggy' Mbris, and Sol Mayer, and Lige Bryant in those great old days when a cowman was king of the range and didn't have to have any processing fees to be successful. The West was full of romance then and men depended on their own courage and hard days in the saddle to win out."

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals for the construction of City Hall and Fire Station in accordance with plans and specifications and instructions to bidders, prepared by John G. Becker, Architect and Engineer of San Angelo, Texas, will be received at the office of the City of Sonora, W. C. Gilmore, mayor, Sonora, Texas, until 4 p. m. August 10th, 1934.

Gilmore, mayor, Sonora, Texas, which will contain provisions conforming with the requirements of the Federal Administration of Public Works as set out in its bulletin No. 2, revised March 3, 1934, and the construction provisions of the Loan and/or Grant agreement.

A certified check, or acceptable bid bond in amount equal to five (5) per cent of the total bid must accompany each bid as a guarantee that, if awarded the contract, the bidder will promptly enter into a contract with the City of Sonora, W. C. Gilmore, mayor, Sonora, Texas, as outlined in the specifications and instructions to bidders. A performance bond in an amount of one hundred (100) per cent of the contract price, and a separate and distinct labor bond, in an amount equal to the estimated largest aggregate payroll in any one month, will be required.

Contract will be awarded subject to the approval of the state engineer, PWA, and also subject to the execution of the Loan and/or Grant agreement by the government.

(a) "Pursuant to the Executive Order 6646, dated March 14, 1934, no bid will be considered unless it includes or is accompanied by a certificate (worded in accordance with PWA 61 Revised March 19, 1934) duly executed by the bidder stating that the bidder is complying with and will continue to comply with each approved code of fair competition to which he is subject, and if engaged in any trade or industry for which there is no approval code of fair competition, then stating that as to such trade or industry he has become a part to and is complying with and will continue to comply with an agreement with the President (President's Reemployment Agreement) under section 4, (a) of the National Industrial Recovery Act."

Plans and specifications may be purchased from John G. Becker, Architect and Engineer, San Angelo, Texas, upon deposit of $10.00 as a guarantee of the safe return of same. 39-2tc

NEW POWER LINE WILL HELP RADIO LISTENERS

A crew of men in charge of W. A. Hale is completing for West Texas Utilities Co. a 6600-volt transmission line from here to the Ranch Experiment Station.

Heretofore the utility company has had a 66,000-volt line to the station as an interconnecting one with Rocksprings. Exchange of courtesies between the utility companies in the two towns permitted either to help the other in time of emergency. The 6600 one is ample for service ordinarily.

The line between here and the station is now a double one and the improvement it is believed, will eliminate power loss on the line as well as reduce radio interference. The agreement with the Rocksprings company is still in force and if either should need power it may still be transmitted in 66,000-volt capacity.

Efforts for Military Co. Progressing

Lions Hear Eldorado Visitors and of Plans for Stock Lane

More than sixty men have signed as willing to join a national guard company if one can be secured for Sonora.

That was the information given the Lions Club Tuesday noon by Alton Coburn who presented the matter to the club last week and worked with Hix Hall and C. H. Jennings, club members, in further investigation of the matter during the last week.

Mr. Coburn declared that only one other town, Ranger, as far as he could determine, was seeking the company. That town has one national guard unit at present and it is believed that a second one will not be placed there if one may be located in a town of this section which at present has none.

The Lions Club, Mr. Coburn explained, would be responsible, if the unit is secured, in only two respects, namely, to enter into correspondence with military officials, state officers, and others who have influence in selecting the town for the military company, and to recommend three officers to be in charge of the company.

Nolan Kennedy, Frank Williams and W. E. Caldwell were named as a committee to proceed with efforts to secure the company for Sonora.

Eldorado Rodeo Boosters Here
Four members of the Eldorado Lions Club—C. E. Knight, W. B. McCutcheon, F. B. Alexander, and A. M. Morgan—told of the rodeo and celebration which was given there yesterday and urged that all attend.

W. E. Caldwell presented, on behalf of the club, a key to Nolan Kennedy for securing two new members. Mr. Caldwell in a short talk commended Mr. Kennedy for his spirit in securing for the organization two new members who would add to the work the club would be able to do.

The Rev. Frank Nixon, who recently came here as pastor of the Baptist Church, was extended membership in the Lions Club. He told of his pleasure in being a member and his happiness in his new work.

A report was made by a committee, made up of Bud Smith, J. M. Puckett and Haynie Davis, regarding its efforts to secure a stock lane through the edge of the city.

Champion Fiddler Balks at Modern Jazz Music

Macon, Mo.—Henry Taylor, sixty-nine-year-old champion old-time fiddler of Missouri, with a silver loving cup to prove it, will not play jazz.

When he used to furnish music for countryside affairs they were old-fashioned square dances and the like. One night he was asked to play for a jazz dance. He didn't know exactly what it was, but he went in and tuned up. Then he saw that "jazz dance was hugging and set to music" and he walked out.

"I'll never play for another affair to which I can't take my wife and daughters," said the veteran fiddler, "and I sure wouldn't take 'em to a place like that."

Come see why Our Best Salesmen are the Users of the NEW "G-3"

Yes sir—people who got the new G-3 All-Weather before it was advertised and have driven this marvelous tire many thousands of miles, are singing its praises louder than our advertising does! Particularly do they insist that the new G-3 gives better than the "43% more non-skid mileage" we advertise! All we ask is, before you buy tires give us a chance to show you why G-3 users boost it even stronger than we do!
