Chemical Added To Sonora Water As Safety Measure

State Health Department Finds Evidence of Contamination in Two Recent Tests

Chlorination, since last Friday, of the Sonora water supply is expected to make safe the water consumers here use, according to a statement made in the NEWS office Wednesday by a representative of the state health department at Austin.

Dr. Charles D. Reece, epidemiologist, and his associate, Dr. A. M. Dashiell, chief, bureau of communicable diseases, were here Tuesday and Wednesday doing investigatory work and conferring with Dr. J. Franklin Howell, county health officer.

"Bad" Tests Recently

Dr. Reece said that the last two of the water tests, made regularly of a city's water supply, had shown the Sonora water to be "bad."

STATE DEPARTMENT MEN MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS

The two men here Tuesday and Wednesday from the state health department made these two recommendations:

- That citizens take injections of typhoid vaccine;
 - That water and milk used by infants and children be boiled before they are used.
- The latter of these recommendations, Dr. Reece explained, is a wise precaution always.

Questioned as to the meaning of his term "bad," Dr. Reece said: "I mean by 'bad' what we call 'showing fecal contamination' which, in turn, means contamination by body waste, either that of man or animals."

"The water is being chlorinated now—in fact, it has been since last Thursday, and that should take care of the matter. Mr. Eaton, your water company manager, cooperates with us nicely and today is making examinations of residual chlorine in the mains at various places over town.

Care A Wise Thing

"It will be wise for your people to protect food supplies carefully with proper refrigeration and to use extreme care that body waste matter is disposed of in a sanitary manner. This is particularly wise where dysentery and other diseases of the type are existent."

Dr. Reece's reference to dysentery was probably occasioned by the fact that in recent weeks quite a number of Sonora people have reported illness of that type.

The fear was expressed by Dr. Reece and his associate that the strata from which Sonora water is secured may be contaminated. Heavy rains and "faults" might occasion such infection.

Water Taken To Austin

Samples of water were secured by the two men from a number of wells owned by individual citizens and from each of the wells of the city water system, owned by the Interstate Public Service Co. and operated as the Central West Water and Power Co.

The men stated that within about five days, which would be about next Wednesday, the state department will have examined these samples and be able to make a report on them.

Dr. Reece and Dr. Dashiell stated that when evidence of fecal contamination was found that a fear was justified that disease such as dysentery might be the forerunner of others as serious as typhoid fever.

New Minister Arrived Thursday

Services both morning and evening are to be held at the Methodist Church Sunday by the Rev. R. F. Davis who came here, with Mrs. Davis, from Alpine, Thursday afternoon. The Rev. and Mrs. Rorie and daughter, Alice, left yesterday for St. Joseph, Mo. They were to meet Glen Rorie, a Southwestern University student, who will accompany them to Missouri.

Three Games Won By Station A Sonora Team This Week

Lowake Drops Two Here Sunday and Iraan Falls By 9 to 8 Score Wednesday

Featured by the Sonora team's base running and the playing of Eddie McMillan, player "borrowed" from the Texon team of the Permian Basin League, the Station A Sonora team Wednesday defeated Iraan in the Pecos county town by a 9 to 8 score.

McMillan, playing right field for Sonora, made the first and last runs for the Sonora team, which scored in the second, fifth and sixth innings. The first time at bat McMillan knocked a 3-base hit which was of material aid to Sonora team in winning the game. He has been the leading hitter of the Permian league for several years and is now batting .480.

Two McLeods Bat Well

W. McLeod and Marvin McLeod were leading Sonora batters, each being credited with two hits.

Mitchell's bunt, followed by an overthrow by an Iraan player, was "stretched" into a home run for himself with two other Sonora players romping over the home plate ahead of him.

The Sonora Line-up was:

White, p; P. McLeod, c; Mitchell, 1b; Archer, 2b; Ratliff, 3b; Brown, ss; W. McLeod, lf; M. McLeod, cf; McMillan, rf.

Inning-by-inning record of the scoring was:

Sonora	040	004	10x
Iraan	100	070	000

O. L. Richardson Business Place Gets State Merit Emblem

"Most attractive service station in Sutton county" was the distinction accorded the business place operated by O. L. Richardson near the railroad tracks in Sonora by a group of three judges the latter part of last week.

The contest, sponsored by the state highway department, through its landscape division, has been under way for several months. An emblem signifying the honor will be given Mr. Richardson by the state department. Winning of the emblem three years in succession will make it his permanently—or so long as his business place maintains the standards by which it was won.

Texas Songs, By 16 Sonora Pupils and 49,984 Others, "On the Air" June 13th

Sixteen Sonora school children, members of the Junior Choral Club directed by Miss Rena McQuary, will blend their voices with many other Texas school pupils in an All-Texas chorus in the stadium at the Centennial grounds in Dallas Saturday, June 13.

Miss McQuary will return from Abilene to go with the children and the five adults who will accompany them. The party will leave Sonora Thursday or Friday and will return the first of next week.

Both of the national radio systems will broadcast the singing of the 50,000 Texas children who are expected to take part. The singers will be in the western two-thirds of the stadium. Younger children will be seated in the southern half of the oval and older ones in the northern. The Sonora group will be considered in the younger division.

An announcement made this week by Miss McQuary was to the effect that the sixteen pupils who are to go to Dallas will sing in the high school auditorium here at 8:15 Wednesday night.

The program will consist principally of the songs the children will sing in Dallas.

A small admission charge will be made and the money used to aid in defraying the children's expenses on their trip.

Buzze and His Men To Play Two Nights

Camp Allison Barbecue Plans Completed This Week

Barbecue arrangements completed, excellent orchestra music contracted for and a day's work planned for the erection of the dance platform, Alfred Schwiening this week was completing his work of preparing for the Camp Allison Barbecue Tuesday and Wednesday on the Llano river.

Mr. Schwiening Saturday night came to agreement with Joe Buzze and his orchestra to play both nights of the celebration. The first night the musicians will play four hours, probably from 9:30 to 1:30, and the second night they will play from nine to four.

Gene Parker of Roosevelt will be in charge of the barbecuing of the goats, Mr. Schwiening says. He believes that about ninety will have

Each child will have an identification tag to show the particular section in which he or she will sit with fellow students from his home town. Local directors will sit with their pupils. About 15,000 visitors, other than children, may be accommodated in the stadium.

Complimentary tickets will be given the children which will give them free admission to the Centennial grounds. Two adults will be given tickets for each group of thirty—or less—children. Special police, regular army men, Centennial police and public health nurses will be assigned to the work of handling properly 50,000 children.

Texas songs will be sung that the children have been practicing. The program in the stadium will begin at ten o'clock in the morning.

"Grown-ups" who will be in charge of the Sonora children, with Miss McQuary, are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Richardson, Mrs. Henry Wyatt, Mrs. Hub Hale and Mrs. W. C. Gilmore.

Children who are expecting to make the trip are:

Dannie Friess, Peggy Reming, Edith May Babcock, Mary Gwendolyn Wyatt, Jamie Trainer, Wayne White, Glen Richardson, O. L. Richardson, Elizabeth Taylor, Ray Wallis Stephenson, Katherine Cartwright, Billy Cartwright, Patsy Gilmore, Peggy Gilmore, Willie Nell Hae, Wilford Berger.

to be barbecued for the crowd which will be fed free the second day—Wednesday, June 10.

The first few days of this week Mr. Schwiening distributed placards in nearby West Texas towns. Thursday he was in San Angelo and while there combined business with pleasure by telling of the Camp Allison Barbecue.

MAY POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS GAIN A BIT DURING MONTH

Postoffice receipts in Sonora in May were $26.31 better than in the same month last year, T. C. Murray, postmaster, said this week but were slightly less than in April, 1936.

People did business to the extent of $552.37 at the Sonora office last month. In May, 1935, the volume of business was $526.06.

Oil Company Group To Do "Exploring" in Sutton Section

Geophysical Crew of Nine Adds To Housing Problem Bessetting Town of Sonora

Sonora's population was increased this week by the coming of ten adults who will live here for an indefinite length of time while men of the party are doing geophysical work in this section for Magnolia Petroleum Co.

W. B. Raper, whose home is in Houston, is in charge of the party. Others are:

C. P. Rainey, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Granbury, J. Simpkins, Bob Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Inman and son, Jerry.

Johnnie Frankie, another member of the party, has not come here but will do so soon, Mr. Raper said. Chester Minnick and Jodie Trainer of Sonora have also been employed to work with the group.

Geophysics, from which the adverb "geophysical" is derived, one authority describes as being—

"The physics of the earth, or the science treating of the agencies which modify the earth, including dynamical geology and physical geography; especially, the causes which bring about the movements and warpings of the surface of the lithosphere (the solid part of the earth)."

The influx of the oil company workers added to the housing problem which has existed in the Sonora community for many months, in fact, ever since school began last fall and the road construction workers came here to work.

The letting of the contract in Austin this week for additional work on the Ozona highway will mean that even more people will come here to make their homes temporarily. Very few, if any, apartments, housekeeping rooms or houses are available in Sonora to take care of the newcomers.

LUBBOCK FIRM WILL WORK ON THE OZONA HIGHWAY

The contracting firm of Field Bros., Lubbock, Tuesday secured the contract for 9.9 miles caliche base and triple asphalt course road work on the Ozona highway beginning at the Sonora city limit.

The firm's bid of $85,545 for the work was one of nine submitted to the highway commission.

E. E. Pittman, resident engineer, Sonora, attended the letting. He said upon his return that it was not known when Field Bros. would begin work. A month is allowed for bonding and then another length of time may occur before actual work order is issued.

Marvin Smith returned yesterday from Austin, where he attended the University of Texas.

Lions Club Reviews Children's Work in Schools Last Year

More Than 2,500 Luncheons Bought at School Cafeteria at Cost of More Than $600

Body-building food, hot and palatable, was given children in 2,567 luncheons during the school year just ended, according to a report given the Lions Club Tuesday noon by J. M. Puckett, the club's representative in its humanitarian work for the boys and girls.

More than $600 was expended by the club during the school year in the welfare work. The treasurer paid to the Sutton County Welfare Board, directing agency, $215 directly from the Lions Club. This amount was a portion of that earned by the club with its production "Three Wise Fools" a few months ago. The remainder of the money was made up of receipts from the Stunt Night program last fall in which the Lions Club, Parent-Teacher Association and other organizations cooperated.

Many Fed in February

In February more luncheons were given the children than in any other school month. Four hundred and sixteen was the number of plates of food given in the school cafeteria that month. Mrs. M. O. Britt prepared the report read by Mr. Puckett. Mrs. B. W. Hutcherson is treasurer of the Sutton County Welfare Board, agency executing the work in the school made possible by the Lions Club and cooperating organizations.

John Eaton, president, expressed the club's appreciation of the work of Mr. Puckett in handling the matter of the luncheon work done this last year for the school children. Mr. Puckett told of his pleasure in doing the work and suggested that whoever is in charge next year should use diligence in selecting children who should be given the hot luncheons. He told of the difficult task that it was and that extreme care in selection of those to be given food is essential.

Several To Go To New England

When delegates from Lions Clubs the world over meet in Providence, Rhode Island, July 21-24 the Sonora club will be represented by three men and two ladies. Those from here who will go are W. R. Cusenbary, president-elect, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cauthorn.

Nineteen Sonora Lions Club members were named by W. E. James, secretary, as having excellent attendance records for the months of September to April, inclusive: The are:

O. P. Adams, I. B. Boughton, W. E. Caldwell, John Eaton, W. C. Gilmore, J. Franklin Howell, Robert W. Jacobs, W. E. James, C. H. Jennings, Preston C. Lightfoot, E. S. Long, J. D. Lowrey, George H. Neill, Joel Shelton, George E. Smith, H. V. Stokes, J. W. Trainer. (Continued on page 2)

WORLD-WIDE FANFARE FOR EXPOSITION OPENING IN DALLAS SATURDAY

The presidents of France and of Spain have been invited to participate in the opening of the Texas Centennial Central Exposition in Dallas tomorrow.

As Daniel C. Roper, U. S. secretary of commerce, Governor James V. Allred and other dignitaries arrive at the main entrance at twelve noon at the head of a mammoth parade, words declaring the $25,000,000 World's Fair open will flash around the world. Nine seconds after they are spoken in Dallas, those words, after jumping to New York, London, Tokyo, San Francisco and back to Dallas, will set up an electric impulse which will throw open the gates.

The world radio audience will be taken on a tour of the grounds while Mr. Roper and the parade pass down the Esplanade of State, past the Court of Honor and into the Cotton Bowl. Then the broadcast will shift to Madrid, Spain, where the President of Spain, if he accepts the invitation, will tell of Spain's discovery of Texas in 1519, and the years the flag of Castile and Aragon flew over it.

Thus will begin a dramatization of Texas' history under six flags. Next the broadcast shifts to Paris, where the President of France, if he accepts, will tell of LaSalle's wanderings over Texas, and his death on Texas soil. The

TITANTIC TASK HIS DURING LAST FEW MONTHS

Accustomed to big jobs, William A. Webb, general manager of the Texas Centennial Central Exposition, was appointed to that post after two others had been "in the saddle." Mr. Webb, pictured above, is a veteran railroader and once was in charge of a $70,000,000 railroad rebuilding job in Australia. He announced a few days ago that the exposition would open Saturday "virtually complete."

broadcast then will shift for a Mexico City program and thence to Houston and Richmond. From Houston, General Andrew Jackson Houston, grandson of Sam Houston, the father of Texas Independence, will speak for the Republic of Texas and the Lone Star flag, and from Richmond, Dr. George Bolling Lee, of New York, a descendant of Gen. Robert E. Lee, will speak for the Confederacy.

The broadcast then will return to Dallas, and President Roosevelt will speak for the United States and the Stars and Stripes, sixth and last flag to fly over Texas.

The parade preceding the opening ceremonies will be like nothing that has ever been staged before in the United States.

The only thing which can be compared to it is the Pasadena Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day, where the floats are made of flowers. The ones in the Texas parade will be of solid construction. This Centennial parade is being produced at a cost of more than $100,000.

More than 750,000 people are expected to see the parade. Hundreds of National Guardsmen, State Highway Patrol officers and secret service men will help Dallas police handle the traffic. Traffic flow will be directed from airplanes circling above the line of march.

ABLE PUBLICITY CHIEF FOR TEXAS EXPOSITION

Many and varied have been the publicity means directed by Frank N. Watson, pictured, director of promotion and publicity, to publicize the Texas Centennial Central Exposition, Dallas. Charles Roster, brother of Ben Roster of the San Angelo Standard-Times, is directing the activities of the state publicity department of the Texas Centennial Celebrations, held at many Texas points.

C. W. Adams First of Precinct Candidates

Camp Allison Man Resident of Sutton Since 1884

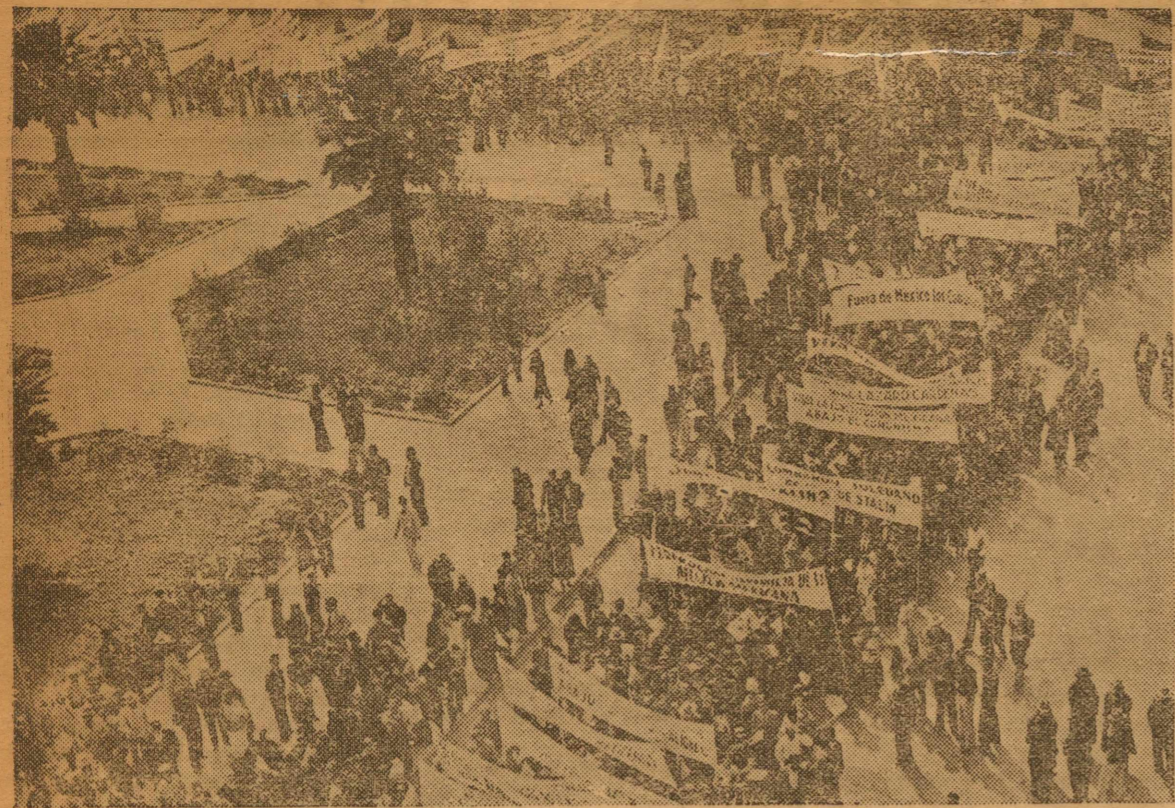

First precinct office-holder in Sutton county to ask the voters to re-elect him this year was C. W. Adams, of Camp Allison, representing precinct three as a commissioner, who authorized the NEWS this week to announce his candidacy.

Mr. Adams has represented the people of his precinct for eight years. He is seeking election for his fifth term of office.

While in the NEWS office Mr. Adams recalled that his father, Dave Adams, early day Sutton resident, gave the first barbecue for candidates—and their constituents—"back in '92." This, according to Mr. Adams, was the forerunner of the Camp Allison Barbecue. The elder Adams died in 1900.

C. W. Adams came to Sutton county in 1884 from London, Texas, where his father settled in 1881. The father was born in Kentucky, migrated to Missouri and came to Texas in 1875. There were thirteen children in the family, six of whom were born in Kentucky, three were born in Missouri and four in Texas.

W. C. Warren, Richard Vehle. New Pastor Lion in Alpine. It was voted that the club should send a letter to the St. Joseph, Mo., Lions Club recommending the Rev. T. O. Rorie, Sonora pastor who will soon become pastor of a Methodist church there. The Reverend Mr. Rorie talked at the Tuesday luncheon. He expressed his pleasure in knowing of the work accomplished by the Sonora organization.

Letters were read from the Galveston club which wants the 1937 state convention and from the Alpine club which told of the work in that club of the Rev. R. F. Davis, new pastor of the Methodist Church here.

Folders published recently about the Old Spanish Trail will be printed with material about Sonora and sent to thirteen "points of entry" to Texas where they will be distributed, upon request, by the state highway department. The club, it was voted, will bear the expense of printing the material about Sonora.

All of the automotive stations and business places in the county were inspected at intervals by the three judges—the Rev. T. O. Rorie, Mrs. Earl Lomax and Mrs. J. A. Ward, Jr.—it was stated. Points were given on seven appearance features.

Mr. Richardson's station was built by him in 1931 for the sale of Gulf products. Mr. Richardson, a native of Junction, came here in 1921 and worked for several years at Sonora Mercantile Co., City Garage and for T. L. Benson, before establishing his own business. Henry Greenhill, Jack Rape and L. M. Roueche are employed at the station.

Three Games Won By which brought him to the home plate on an overthrow to third the Station A Sonora team Sunday out-classed the Lowake team in two games here by scores of 13 to 2 and 6 to 0.

Sonora Players Make Many Runs In the first game Sonora made five runs in the first inning, two in the third, one in the fifth and another in the sixth. Not satisfied with that the Station A players made two more in the seventh and another pair in the eighth.

Gardner made a home run in the first, Marvin McLeod knocked the ball into the S. H. Allison yard for a base circuit in the fifth and also hit for two bases in the eighth to score Gardner from third. Mitchell scored M. McLeod in the third with a 3-base hit.

"Lefty" White pitched seven innings of the first game and was relieved by Ratliff who "completed the job."

Smith On Mound in Second Smith pitched the second game, adding another scoreless one to his string of victories.

In the third inning, second game, Brown, Sonora shortstop, laid down an excellent bunt, making first himself and advancing Nobles to second. A 2-base hit by M. McLeod later in the inning helped bring Brown and Gardner to the home plate.

Sunday afternoon in Miles the Station A team tangles with nine players representing that town in the Concho Basin League. The Ellis Parts, San Angelo, team comes here for two games the following Sunday—June 14.

Operation of the Speed Laundry was assumed this week by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilson who bought it from Mrs. Ardena Speed, owner for several years.

The business will be managed by Mrs. Wilson. Mr. Wilson, an employee of the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway for six years, is working for J. T. McClelland.

Mrs. Speed, who was in the dairy business before she began operating the laundry, has not announced her plans for the future. At present she is living with her son, Beamon, who lives on the R. D. Trainer ranch, east of town.

MARGARET BROWN of Newgulf, Texas, only co-ed in The University of Texas who is seeking the degree of chemical engineering. Unless she follows the footsteps of her predecessors and marries before graduation, she will be the first girl ever to receive that degree from that institution.

FAVOR LIP-READING OVER FINGER TALK

Hard of Hearing Find Method More Efficient.

Denver.—The sign language and symmetry of its movements when spoken by an expert, is rapidly giving way to the more efficient method of communication by lip reading.

Rev. Eugene J. Gehl of Kenosha, Wis., who speaks in both silent mediums as well as through the spoken word, explained the advantage of lip reading while in Denver recently conducting a mission.

Father Gehl is a missionary for St. John's Institute for the Deaf in St. Francis, Wis., who has become a master orator in sign language, voice and lips during 25 years of work among the deaf.

Beautiful Gestures.

"The sign language of deaf mutes is no longer so important as it once was," he said, "but it is beautiful. Those experienced with its symbolism and mechanics can produce every oratorical effect the voice can achieve.

"Deaf persons will not 'listen' to a speech by a man whose gestures are clumsy and jerky. Through many years the sign language has reached a high point of systematic development, although it is being replaced by the more scientific lip reading."

Words Seldom Spelled.

More than 1,400 accredited symbols for words and ideas, in addition to a complete alphabet, make up the sign language, he revealed.

"But the expert seldom has to spell out his words," he remarked. "The test of eloquence in the sign language is the speaker's ability to make smooth transitions between his gestures and group symbols into the units required by the thought. A change of pace in the manipulation of the hands is every bit as effective as a change of pace in speaking.

"The space through which the gesture moves corresponds to voice volume. Where the ordinary speaker would shout, the sign orator moves his hands and arms in a wider sphere."

Famous Amsterdam Palace Is Sold to Government

Amsterdam.—The Seventeenth century Palace of Amsterdam, built during the "golden age" when Holland was among the most powerful nations in the world, has been sold by Amsterdam to the Dutch government.

The palace, built about 1655 by the famous Jacob van Campen, is regarded as a masterpiece of Seventeenth century architecture. At the time of its construction Holland had just beaten Spain—greatest power in the world at that time—after 80 years of war.

When the royal palace was new, Holland had a population of only 1,500,000 or 2,000,000. Now it has 8,000,000 inhabitants and colonies in scattered parts of the world.

Because the merchant city of Amsterdam had a lion's share in the commercial development of the Netherlands in those days the burgomaster and his aldermen, as well as the municipal council, wanted a palace befitting their position. The architect Van Campen was called and told to build a palace of unsurpassing beauty.

The structure, although built on sober lines, has the rich contour of the old show places of Venice, Florence, and Rome. The sculptor Quellinus made hundreds of fine statues to ornament it. Another famous artisan of the time, Heemony, built a carillon of 35 bells.

The room of greatest splendor was the burghers hall, fitted with heavy chandeliers of fine crystal, beautiful statues, paintings, and rich draperies.

One of Rembrandt's greatest paintings—if not his greatest—originally was an ornament of decoration. The work, "The Night-watch," is now the star piece of the state museum here.

Figures on Fires Form Hobby of Antique Dealer

Des Moines, Iowa.—The clang of the fire bell means another entry in his notebook to Earle L. Robinson, fifty-four years old, an antique dealer, whose hobby is compiling and interpreting statistics of fire losses.

The diminutive storekeeper is so intensely interested in his long columns of figures that what to others may seem a dull job is to Robinson an exciting pastime.

His favorite company is Des Moines' No. 11, and he appears before the city council to urge new equipment, armed with tables and statistics. Besides his continual amassing of figures, his hobby has designated him as a sort of traffic policeman in his district when the fire alarm sounds.

Robinson binds his charts into book form. They include the number of alarms, where they are given, the size of water mains in the district, the fire hazards, and the number of hospitals and schools in the neighborhood.

He has never been a member of a fire department. "I've never had a fire and I've never been burnt," he says.

MANY WILD TURKEYS IN SIGHT FOR FALL HUNTING

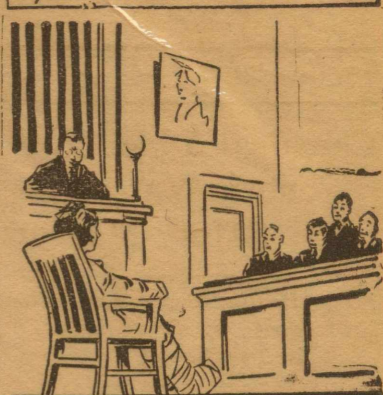

Sutton sportsmen and their friends—who somehow seem to increase during the fall hunting season—are due to have an unusual amount of sport during the coming season, according to C. H. Jennings, game warden.

Mr. Jennings says that from all reports there are more wild turkeys in this section than for several years. He has heard of several flocks of as many as fifteen. Eight is the average. Doug Cravey told Mr. Jennings recently that he had seen one hen with eighteen "young ones."

Deer are in good shape, Mr. Jennings says, and although it is too early to say anything definitely about the matter it is believed that there will be plenty of the fleet-footed animals to serve as targets for hunters' high-powered rifles this fall.

FAKE INJURIES

It is well known that many personal injury claims are based on figments of imagination. They say time heals all wounds but they always seem to grow worse when a damage suit hangs fire.

Usually just before the statute of limitations expires the plaintiff "cracks down" alleging that as a result of injuries, long since sustained, he has suffered the gamut of ailments from apoplexy to zymosis. When nothing definite can be alleged they plead the "shattered nervous system," a tear jerker, that is always much easier to claim than disprove.

There are deserving cases, of course, which merit damages but the phoney ones are much too common. So, if you must crash, pick out an inanimate object without a nervous system.

Juries are sympathetic and too often the melody played on the heart strings by a clever attorney, completely tunes out the facts.

The spectre of litigation always lurks in the background when an accident occurs. Which is just one more reason why it pays to drive carefully. The accident that never happens can never reach a jury.

Ill Mexican Taken To Del Rio Illness diagnosed as appendicitis was suffered late Tuesday afternoon by Jesus Quioiz, young Mexican ranch worker for Howard Espy on the Espy and Vander Stucken ranch. He was taken to Del Rio by Mr. Espy that night.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS

CONTENTED MAN, WATCHMAN OF HIGH BRIDGE, GETS GROCERIES AND NEWS FROM 800 FEET ABOVE HOME

Written By THE TENDERFOOT (in The Del Rio News)

At the foot of the Pecos River High Bridge, 321 feet below the level of hurrying humanity, I found a contented man

For there under the shadow of the highest commercial bridge in America, there is a 4-room frame cottage accessible only to the stoutest climbers, lives J. R. Hutchins, a famous United States marshal in the days when Oklahoma was still the Cimarron, who "got sick of the very sight of his fellow man."

"I wanted to get off somewhere where I wouldn't have to see or talk to a living soul," he explains.

Away From "Life's Troubles"

So twelve years ago J. R. Hutchins became watchman for the Southern Pacific Railway's lofty bridge over the Pecos River some forty miles west of Del Rio, and became apart from the "troubles of life that pass, like the trains, over the bridge."

His furniture was lowered from the bridge to the bottom of the 800-foot canyon piece by piece; his groceries, his mail, his newspapers are brought to him the same way. To reach his frame cottage on the banks of the blue Pecos one must scramble down a half-mile of rocky bluff interspersed here and there by 252 iron steps—a dangerous, tortuous climb that is the only means of communication between his residence and the top of that rock wall that marks the end of his world and the beginning of ours.

Officer Many Years

Crippled in body from a dozen or more gun fights with desperadoes in the Indian territory—"they used to shoot me down every week or so just for the practice," he says—Hutchins looks back over a 35-year career as a peace officer in Oklahoma and Texas and has no desire to scale the 300-foot bluff and become a part of the world again.

"I'm happy here," he states, shifting his bare feet—and when J. R. Hutchins is without his shoes then bare feet are the fashion in his country—from the floor to the cot and gazing out over the river. "I make enough to buy a couple of batches of groceries a month and pay for having the missus' kodak films developed; I can read and sleep and fish—say, sometimes the fish get so thick around the piers of the bridge that I have to go out in a boat and stir 'em up with a stick."

"Battle Wages" Continually

The "missus" is, of course, Mrs. Hutchins, to whom he has been married 25 years. "Married 25 years and just one fight," he declares. "It started on our wedding day."

Neither does she find the four-room home isolated from civilization lonesome. "Oh, we have visitors every now and then," she explains. "The trouble with them they want to stay too long."

Hutchins holds the distinction of not only being the youngest United States deputy marshal ever to enter the service, but also having served the longest. He got his badge in 1887. He was only sixteen years old but, he states, his mustache was "just as long then as now and I wasn't any spring chicken by any means."

He was on duty on the banks of the Cimarron that April 2, 1889, when the shot was fired that sent hundreds of land-grabbers into the Indian territory; his commission was renewed year after year until 1916, when Wilson decided that "a Democrat could shoot straighter."

Once Oklahoma Police Chief

Twenty-nine years as a deputy United States marshal—he is one of four living men who have served twenty-five consecutive years—wasn't his only experience as a peace officer; he was chief of police of Ardmore, Okla., from 1917 until 1921, "the first Republican ever to win an election there," he says.

Then he became night watchman for the Southern Pacific yards at El Paso, where he received an honorary commission as special narcotic agent from President Carranza of Mexico. That honor, more than the bitterness of "being shot at day after day in the Cimarron" caused him to become disgusted with human nature.

No Gossip For Mrs. Hutchins

"People found out I had a pull with Mexican officials," he explains, "and they hounded me to death asking me to get friends and relatives out of scrapes over there or else help them out in a crooked deal they wanted to pull. Finally, I just pulled up and came out here, where if people want to see me they've got to risk breaking their necks climbing down that bluff."

Although Mrs. Hutchins has lived twelve years at the bottom of a practically inaccessible canyon, she has no old-fashioned illusions. She smokes—cigarettes, not a pipe—and can cuss "not as good as Hutch," she admits, "but better than the average man." She believes in young people having a good time, even if they are married. She doesn't play bridge. "Hub, I'd as soon twiddle my thumbs."

"But I'm one woman," she adds, "who doesn't talk about her neighbors."

SONORA HOUSING PROBLEM BECOMING ONE OF IMPORTANCE

A community has some sort of "moral obligation," although that isn't quite the correct term, to provide living quarters for the people who want to make it their home.

Good will and friendship isn't built easily on a basis wherein a newcomer must search and search and search for a place to live. There is a feeling born when such is the case that isn't exactly a pleasant one to contemplate.

The matter of "taking care" of people who come to Sonora to live either a short time or permanently is one that should be "tackled" by some organization. Certainly, even though immediate action isn't secured, study of the problem would not be wasted effort. And it might encourage someone to action.

Capital invested in a number of small homes or in a building containing a number of small apartments, it seems to the NEWS, would be a wise procedure for some Sutton citizen who sees his community's need and is able to plan such investment of his capital as will aid his town and also bring him a fair return on his investment.

Miss Lee Bride of Canadian in Early Ceremony Tuesday

A wedding ceremony in Weatherford Tuesday morning at eight o'clock united Miss Madeline Lee, Sonora school teacher this last year, and Tom Matheson of Vancouver, British Columbia.

Miss Lee's engagement was announced recently at a party in Sonora. She was married at the home of her mother, Mrs. O. Olson. Judge W. R. Hawkins, a neighbor and friend of Miss Lee and her mother for many years, performed the ceremony.

Attending the couple was Miss Lee's twin sister, Margaret, who has been teaching in Mertzon, and Monte Roberts, a newspaper man of Vancouver. Only a few immediate friends attended the wedding which was followed by a breakfast.

By Auto To Vancouver Mr. and Mrs. Matheson, Mr. Roberts and Miss Margaret Lee left by automobile the same day for Vancouver. Miss Margaret Lee will return the latter part of this month.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram Tuesday carried the following story regarding Miss Lee's marriage and the romance leading to it:

"The sweetest, prettiest girls in Texas and the cutest twins in the United States" were on their way to Canada Tuesday morning, one of them a bride of a few hours.

At Vancouver, British Columbia, they will be Texas Centennial representatives at a Golden Jubilee celebration and will invite the people of the province to the Frontier Centennial in Fort Worth.

The bride is the former Miss Madeline Lee of Weatherford, whose marriage to Tom Matheson of Vancouver took place at 8 a. m. Tuesday. Accompanying the couple to Canada was Mrs. Matheson's bridesmaid and twin sister, Miss Margaret Lee, and the best man, Monte Roberts, Vancouver newspaperman.

Matheson met the twins when they were students at the University of Mexico in 1933, sang their praises all through Canada, saw them again at the San Diego Exposition last summer and decided to marry Madeline. It was he who termed the twins "the sweetest, prettiest girls in Texas and the cutest twins in the United States."

He arrived at Weatherford last Saturday with a wedding ring and a six-foot scroll asking the twins to represent Texas at the Vancouver Jubilee.

Monday the two young women came to Fort Worth, obtained Mayor Jarvis' greetings for Vancouver and official invitation for British Columbians to come to the Centennial.

The twins are the daughters of Mrs. O. Olson of Weatherford, at whose home the wedding took place.

There were two wedding cakes at the reception, each with a figure of one of the twins on top.

Might the figure of the unmarried twin atop the second wedding cake be an indication of a romance between her and the newspaperman best man?

A three-day acquaintance, they contend, hardly can be regarded as a suitable foundation for an engagement.

GEOLOGY TEACHER 46 YEARS TO BE RETIRED SOON

Austin, June 4.—When Dr. Frederic William Simonds became a member of the faculty of the University of Texas forty-six years ago as head of the school of geology, as the present department was then called, comparatively little was known of the underground resources of Texas. Since then wonderful discoveries and development of them have taken place. Dr. Simonds' long period of active service in the class room and other work of a scientific nature connected with his profession at the university will come to a close at the end of the current semester. Under a retirement plan of the teaching staff, Dr. Simonds will hereafter give only part of his time to duties in the geology department as professor emeritus.

SONORANS RETURN AFTER VISIT TO LEON COUNTY

Waterbound for several days last week at McGregor, McLennan county, were O. W. Kennedy, his sister, Mrs. Harvey Walker, and Miss Robbie Morris, teacher at the Ranch Experiment Station. The Sonora group, which returned here Friday of last week, visited in Leon county and at Valley Mills and McGregor. Mr. Kennedy lived in Leon county from 1871 to 1881. Mr. Kennedy said that it rained each day while they were visiting. So heavy has been the rainfall, he said, that many farmers will probably have to plow again and replant. The terraced sections especially were hard hit by the rains.

Lights of New York
By L. L. STEVENSON

Continually, the new New York swallows up the old. Now the Murray Hill hotel, just about the last inn that remains a link with the past, is to be modernized. For years, it has been a Park avenue fastness of old days and old traditions despite the ever-changing pattern of the city. With its ornamental furniture, mirrors, gilt, high-ceilinged rooms and red brick, towered exterior, it was once the wonder of the hotel world. Built in 1884, one year after the Metropolitan opera house, at a cost of $1,000,000, it was the gathering place of youth, beauty, fashion and distinction of the time. In the days of its glory, the hansom cab trade from its doors ran as high as $700 a week. Included among its residents were Mark Twain, J. P. Morgan, Sr., Richard Croker, the former Tammany leader, and P. T. Barnum. The late President William McKinley had a suite there, whenever he was in New York. The Philadelphia Biddies and Drexels made annual Christmas week reservations there.

In comparison with present day prices, despite its reputation, rates in the old days at the Murray Hill were modest. Four meals and a room cost $4. They were real meals, too. An old menu lists 73 dishes from which to choose. In season, American plan guests were served with shad roe for supper every night. The inaugural dinner of former President Grover Cleveland was cooked by the hotel's chef and sent to Washington by special train. Many of the prominent guests kept private stocks of wine there. The original bar, at which cocktails were sold at two for a quarter until the World war, is still in use.

The hotel was purchased by Benjamin L. M. Bates in 1910 and for years he ran it as a sentimental venture without regard to profits. The red brick exterior was cleaned entirely by hand in 1925 and a new kitchen installed at a cost of $175,000. Mr. Bates died in December and now with the settlement of his estate, the old hotel is to change from the days of leisure to those of hustle and bustle.

Seldom indeed does beauty thwart ambition, especially in the case of a young girl. Yet there is Miss Imogene Carpenter. Her great ambition was to become a concert pianist, so she perfected herself in the works of the masters and then tried for engagements. Agents merely laughed at her—she was too pretty for concert work. So she turned from Beethoven and Liszt to hot numbers and swing music and is now pianist in the Rainbow Grill. But she is longing to get back to Bach.

This and that department: Earl Thomas, a bit of a statistician, has figured it out that the average New Yorker is five feet, seven inches in height, wears a size eight and a half shoe, prefers roast beef and hashed brown potatoes and says "Yes, dear," to his wife six times a day. . . . Alderman Peter H. Ruvolo, of Brooklyn, is reported to want to change the names of certain streets to such glistening titles as Emerald, Amber, Sapphire, and Ruby. . . . Ray Perkins reports that in an antique shop on Sixth avenue, a crystal radio set with earphones is offered for sale—an indication that radio has finally come of age.

Gilbert Miller has one of those memories that retain certain things indefinitely and allow others to leak out quickly. Names are his bane. So one time while he was in London and his wife in Paris, he called her by long distance phone to obtain the name of his secretary who was in New York and whom he desired to cable.

Subway eavesdropping: "He's a lucky stiff. His mother-in-law comes to visit; she hates the sight of him so, his wife don't want him hanging 'round the house. So he gets out every night now without having to invent no alibis."

Farmful of Snakes
Bennington, Mich. — St. Patrick would have found a much more fertile field here in pioneer days for his labors against snakes than in Ireland, according to a record left by S. B. Bugbee. Splinter in Throat Years; Coughed Up

Death For Painter at Work Last Friday

Joe Yanish, Native of Austria, Buried Here Saturday

A heart attack Friday afternoon brought sudden death to Joe Yanish, 50, native of Austria and a resident of Sonora nearly all of the time since the Del Rio road work was undertaken a number of years ago.

Mr. Yanish, a painter by trade, was at work at the new service station being built by R. L. Hallum near the Lowrey Draw bridge. Others working about the place heard a commotion in one of the rooms. When they reached him he was gasping for breath. A physician was called who pronounced him dead.

He came to the United States from Austria when a young man and lived for a short time in Philadelphia, Pa., before coming to Dallas and finally to Sonora. He is believed to have a brother and a sister living in this country, probably in Pennsylvania. Until recently Mr. Yanish has made his home at the O. S. T. Camp on the Ozona road.

Mr. Yanish was known to his friends about Sonora and, in fact, by nearly everyone who knew him at all as "Shorty" or "Dutch."

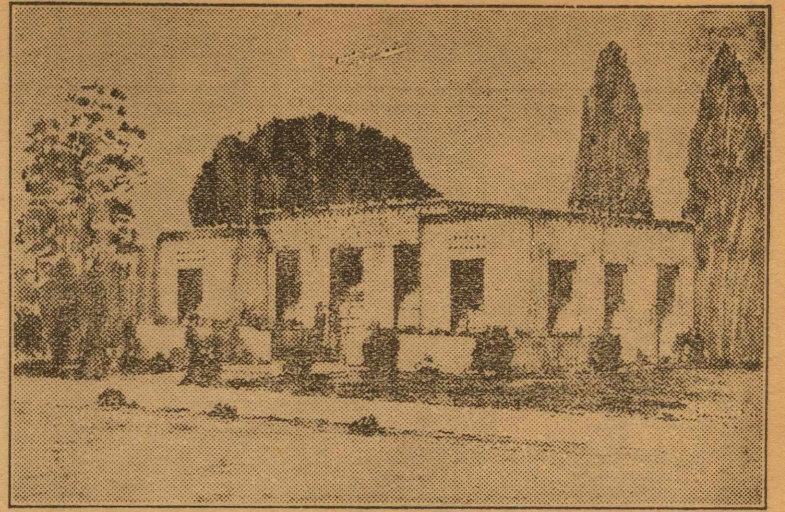

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. T. O. Rorie Saturday morning and burial was in the Sonora cemetery. Pallbearers were Frank Smith, G. B. Rankhorn, James R. Caldwell and Sam Ory.

DEVICE WOULD WARN MINERS OF DANGERS

Instrument Being Developed by College Professor.

State College, Pa.—Coal miners, working thousands of feet beneath the earth's surface, would be warned far in advance of cave-ins if an instrument, resembling in many respects the seismograph, measures up to expectations of research workers at Pennsylvania State college.

Dr. Helmut Landsburg, professor of geophysics, is directing work on the highly sensitive instrument, expected to be one of the most useful of its kind developed for the mining industry in recent years.

The instrument, although not completed, has been tested successfully in a number of mine operations throughout the state. It records even the most minute earth movements and predicts slides and cave-ins as long as ten days in advance, research workers say.

Prof. Harry Northrup, director of the extension service at the college, outlined briefly how, when perfected, the instrument works. He said:

"Placed in the mine with immovable end on the floor and the other end against the ceiling, the instrument, unbelievably simple in operation, records the rate of subsidence.

"When the rate speeds up suddenly, a needle pencils this movement of the earth's crust on a 24-hour revolving cylinder, and examination shows a fall or cave-in will occur in a short time."

The device consists chiefly of two "telescopic" pipes mounted with a spring and an automatic recorder which detects the unnatural earth movements, warning the underground workers of an approaching disaster.

Cave-ins have been responsible for a number of major disasters throughout the Keystone state's mine areas, trapping miners without a chance to escape. The cave-ins give little warning other than a rumble about a half minute before the slide comes. Then it usually is too late for men working in the area to rush to an opening.

Tree Produces Fruit Blend of Orange-Lemon

San Diego, Calif.—Instead of mixing orange and lemon juice for drinks in the future, it may be possible to squeeze an orange-lemon blend out of a single fruit if trees perfected by a Chula Vista rancher are adopted commercially.

James M. Ater, nicknamed the "Chula Vista Burbank" for his numerous experiments in plant breeding, has perfected what he calls a "lemor" which he says combines the flavor of the orange and the lemon into a delicious blend.

Ater has gone to the unusual length of patenting his new fruit, and is now considering crossing it with the lime to produce a still more complex product.

Explaining his method, Ater said he obtained wild orange trees and budded them with lemons.

Taking a cue from certain industrial machinery manufacturers, Ater plans to lease his trees rather than sell them if they prove feasible commercially and collect a royalty as well.

The new fruit is superior to either the orange or the lemon in keeping properties, Ater said, and will remain in good condition 18 months after being picked.

Drouth Period Forecast to Continue Until 1939

San Marino, Calif.—The disastrous drouths of the last few years may be expected to continue until about 1929, if the "weather cycle" theory holds true. After that, for a period of ten to twenty years, they will become less frequent and less severe.

Finally, with the return of a normal cycle of moisture, American farmers can hope to have complete relief from drouth for a period of 150 years or more.

These are the conclusions of Halbert P. Gillette, who, after years of scientific study of the "weather cycle," has presented his findings to the American Meteorological society.

Gillette's belief of the existence of weather cycles is based upon studies of the tree-ring thickness of the giant sequoia in California and the Arizona pine. Other contributing elements were found in the study of the annual silt layers of ancient glacial lakes, and the time intervals between recessional moraines deposited in the last Ice age.

Letterheads Have "Time Table" For Travelers' Aid

Four-page letterheads bearing printed material relative to the Old Spanish Trail were received here the latter part of last week by Sam Hull, for many years an enthusiastic "booster" for the cross-country road through Sonora.

Recently $25 was paid R. L. Rammel under whose direction the letterhead was produced. The money came from an Old Spanish Trail promotion fund collected several years ago.

The first page of the letterhead has a small space for writing as well as a map of the route from St. Augustine, Fla., to San Diego, Cal. At the top is a heading "OLD SPANISH TRAIL" superimposed over Confederate, Spanish, Mexican, French and American flags. On either side is a group of four flags of four of the eight states through which the Old Spanish Trail passes.

Page two carries historical information about the states. Page four contains a great deal of history of "Spanish splendor and achievement following the discovery of America."

Page three gives mileage information, in railway time table fashion between towns in each state through which the Old Spanish Trail passes. It also has the elevation of each town, the distance the town is from St. Augustine and the number of miles distant that town is from San Diego.

Mr. Rammel, who was here Saturday night on his way to Van Horn, said that since the map was published enthusiasts for the "Broadway of America" had begun to make plans for retaining tourist traffic over that route across the United States.
