Budget Estimate of $13,384 For City and Water System

New Water Rate Schedule Likely Not To Be in Effect Until Next Month

Operation of the business known as "the City of Sonora" was estimated by the city officials this week as likely to cost $4,974.20 for the 12-month period ending October 1, 1938, the end of the fiscal year which begins October 1. Actual cost this year was $5,379.55.

Apart from this estimate is one of $8,410 for the operation of the water system recently acquired.

More Revenues Estimated

The budget was finally approved by the mayor, W. C. Gilmore, commissioners, V. F. Hamilton and Alfred Schwiening, and the city manager, George E. Smith, Monday. Filing procedure in compliance with the state law, was completed this week.

The General Fund budget estimates revenues as likely to be $8,729.50, not quite $200 more than for the year which is ending. Licenses and permits are expected to be about $86 greater, rents received $162 rather than $81 and miscellaneous revenue as $30.

The estimate of operating costs includes $1,800 for salaries of mayor, commissioners and city manager, as opposed to $1,712 actually spent this year.

Saving in "Flood Control"

Largest item of reduction is that for "flood control." An estimate of $100 is made with $795.86 the actual expenditure this year.

Taxes are expected to produce $8,000 of the expected revenue, licenses and permits $537.50, rent $162 and miscellaneous $30.

The tax rate of 80 cents per $100 valuation is the same as that for 1936.

Revenue from the sale of water to Sonora people is expected to be $12,350, according to the separate budget for that department of the city's operation as a business unit. Turning on fees, deposits and miscellaneous revenue is included in the figure.

Sewer rentals of $2,300 and sewer taxes collected of $2,600 are added to the $12,350 amount to make a grand total revenue of $17,250.

Water System—$700 Month

The estimate of the cost of operating the plant and system for twelve months is $8,410 with salaries and labor accounting for $3,580 of that amount. Pumps, motors and well upkeep will likely cost $1,200. Bond retirement and

Adjourned Term of Court September 24

Jury Dismissed When Attorney Called To Junction

Detailed questioning of possible jurors by state and defense attorneys Monday went for naught that evening when Judge Joe Montague dismissed the twelve who were selected from a special and regular panel of eighty-one men.

Those chosen were to hear the case of the state against Morris Coleman, negro charged with the murder of his wife June 12 in the backyard of the L. E. Johnson residence.

Cause of the judge's dismissal was the serious illness of Mrs. Weaver Baker, wife of the district attorney. Mr. Baker left for Junction late in the afternoon after the jurors had been chosen.

Court will be re-convened Friday, September 24, when the Coleman case will be heard. Both members of the regular jury panel and those of the special venire will be required to report at that time.

Early in the day the judge had continued until next term the case of Thomas John Elsmore charged with the murder of Bynum Shaw in Sheffield. When the case was called a number of witnesses were not in the courtroom.

Three cases wherein the defendants are charged with driving a car while intoxicated were not called for trial.

Divorces were granted Mrs. Izadora Sanders from James B. Sanders with the plaintiff being given custody of a child, and Mrs. Violet Mae Bishop from W. K. Bishop.

MRS. WARREN HONOR PUPIL AT OKLAHOMA A. AND M.

One of five Greer county, Oklahoma, students to make the Dean's List of Distinguished Students for the 1937 spring semester at Oklahoma A. and M. College was Mrs. W. C. Warren of Sonora.

The list of honor students was published recently. Only those who make "B" average or better in at least fifteen hours of work are included on the list. Only about fifteen per cent of the college's 4,200 students attain the distinction of being included in the group.

New Trial Motion Denied Plaintiff in Damage Suit

Jury's Award of $6,000 Cancelled When Men Find "Contributory Negligence"

After hearing arguments of counsel for a new trial in the $50,000 damage suit of H. H. Tanneberger, McCamey, against Field Bros., contracting firm, Judge Joe Montague shortly before noon Wednesday overruled the plaintiff's motion for a second hearing of the case.

Appeal from the judge's decision may be taken in the court of civil appeals.

An award of $6,000 made early Saturday morning by the jury which heard the case Thursday and Friday was, nullified by that group's action in indicating a belief that the plaintiff was also negligent. Contributory negligence indicated in portions of the charge in such a case cancels any award to which the jury may feel that the plaintiff is entitled.

In the hearing before Judge Montague Wednesday morning, one of the jurors, James Caldwell, was placed on the stand to testify regarding his qualifications as a member of the jury which heard the Tanneberger case.

Neither a freeholder in the state nor a householder in the county, Caldwell, it was developed, was not eligible to have been a juror. He stated he had not known at the time he was accepted that he was not qualified. The fact of Caldwell's ineligibility for jury service became known this week when he was declared so by the judge in a criminal case.

Each of the plaintiff's counsel—Louis D. Gayer and Lloyd Kerr of San Angelo, L. W. Elliott, and George Wynn—was placed on the stand to testify regarding knowledge last week of whether or not Caldwell was qualified to be a juror in the case.

The plaintiff's motion for a new trial was based on what was described in the hearing as "the misconduct of the jurors and the disqualification of one of the jurors."

CITY'S ENGINEER TO NEW WORK IN LOWER VALLEY

Appointment of a new engineer to serve the city in its improvements to the water system may be necessary because of the appointment Wednesday of H. R. F. Helland of San Antonio to a position as manager and consulting engineer for a $5,000,000 South Texas irrigation project.

Mr. Helland, employed by the city since it began negotiations for the water system property, has been approved as the city's engineer in the work which will be done by means of a WPA grant received recently.

Few Veterans on Squad

Running has been a part of the Nineteen boys make up Mr. Adams' array of candidates for the team, he said Wednesday. The boys range in weight from A. W. Awalt's 205 pounds to the diminutive Odell Odum who tips the scales at only 83. Only two of the squad—F. Archer and Jim Taylor—have had three years experience.

Robert Allen Simmons, Claude Thomas Driskell, Edward Archer and Web Elliott have each had two years experience with Sonora teams.

Four Home Games Scheduled

Running has been a part of the conditioning work handed the boys by their coach since school opened. The boys and Mr. Adams have run in the vicinity of the schools and the Sonora Wool and Mohair Co. Rudiments of football as well as playing strategy have been a part of the coaching given the Sonora players in getting them ready for

Play-off Series in Ozona Sunday at 3

Station A Wins First Game With Iraan By 10-9 Score

Rain Saturday afternoon brightened both Sutton county pasture land and the chances of Station A Sonora baseball players to win the play-off series with Iraan for the Permian League championship.

Iraan players were on second and third in the fifth inning and their team had a 5-run lead when rain fell hard enough that the game had to be called. Finger was on the mound for Station A Sonora and Gray was pitching for the Iraan team he manages.

The game counted for neither team.

Sunday afternoon in Iraan Crostwaite and White pitched the Sonora players to a 10 to 9 victory, giving them the first game of the 5-game play-off. Ten innings were played, Iraan managing for 13 hits and Station A Sonora for 10. Two errors were made by the Station A Sonora team and three by Iraan.

Saturday the series will be continued with play in Iraan and Sunday afternoon the two teams will resume hostilities on the Ozona diamond.

Saturday Rainfall of Material Value To Many Ranches

More Than Inch at Station, About Half Inch in Town; Fall Varies Elsewhere

Rain Saturday afternoon did much toward restoring a green appearance to range in some parts of the county.

In town, according to the Sonora Wool and Mohair Co., the rainfall was .47 of an inch.

The Ranch Experiment Station reported 1.06 inches the same day. At the Ben Cusenbary home, on an adjoining ranch, 1 1/4 inches fell in twenty minutes. Mr. Cusenbary said in town this week that about 1 1/2 inches fell near the house and that the fall over the ranch was probably about one inch.

H. West Evans said Sunday that the Fort Terrett Ranch, east of town, got only one-fourth of an inch.

Two and one-half inches of rain fell on the Theo Savell home place but about 1 1/2 inches on the Savell ranch which Miers Savell operates. G. P. Hill said Tuesday that the Crockett county ranch got about 3 inches and that the rainfall at the headquarters place was 2 to 2 1/2 inches.

At the Fred Simmons home there was about 1 3/4 inches. Over the ranch, Mr. Simmons estimated, the rainfall was somewhat lighter.

During the last three or four weeks, the C. T. Jones place, north-east of town, has gotten about 4 inches, Mr. Jones said Monday.

The Aldwell Bros. ranch, southwest, got about 2 inches of rain with practically the whole place receiving the same amount of moisture.

The T-Half Circle and Bryden places of Sol Mayer and Son, west of town, got a varied fall with no rain at all on some parts and 1/2-inch to 2 and 3 inches on other parts.

Many at St. John's Two Services Sunday

St. John's Episcopal Church members and guests for the day from other Sonora churches filled the new building Sunday morning when the first service was held in the recently improved building.

The Rt. Rev. William T. Capers of San Antonio accepted from Roy E. Aldwell, a church leader, a certificate attesting that the building was not encumbered by a mortgage.

The bishop and the church rector, the Rev. Frederic M. Brasier, conducted the service in the morning and again in the evening. Communion was offered in the morning and a confirmation class composed of Mrs. Sol Kelly, Mrs. John Hamby and Winnie Lee Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Williams of San Antonio was accepted.

Memorial windows as well as church appointments were accepted by the bishop on behalf of the West Texas diocese which he directs. An offertory solo was sung by Miss Marie Watkins at the morning service.

He was hunting near San Angelo. The boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Green. Funeral services are to be held today. Mr. Owens went to San Angelo Thursday morning to be with the young man's parents.

Lions Hosts at Annual Ladies' Night With Number of Out-of-Town Guests

From the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" to the last note of "My Wild Irish Rose," sung as a concluding number, Sonora teachers Wednesday night were made to realize the Sonora Lions Club is ready to work hand in hand with them in school and community work.

Guests each year of the civic club, the teaching staff was well represented at the 1937 dinner in the Methodist Church basement. Tables decorated with queen's wreath were arranged around a card table on which a lion model reposed in a "forest." Decorations were arranged by Mrs. W. J. Fields, Jr., Mrs. Marion Stokes, Miss Alice Sawyer, Mrs. Robert W. Jacobs. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church prepared the dinner.

Special Guests Introduced

Master of ceremonies was Dr. Joel Shelton, vice-president, who introduced the president, W. J. Fields, Jr., who briefly welcomed the club's guests. F. T. Jones, superintendent of schools, introduced the teachers, Joe F. Logan, school board member, introduced members of that group and the master of ceremonies introduced representatives of various civic organizations. Among those who made short talks were:

Ready for That Long Dry Spell With--

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram recently used this picture, taken by H. C. Atchison, Sutton county agent, with the following information about it:

When Fred Simmons, Sutton County ranchman, completed a dirt tank recently under provisions of the range conservation program he hoped it would be filled "some of these days." The night after it was completed rain fell and the next morning the picture above was taken. Simmons has built two tanks. Five hundred and eighty cubic yards of dirt were removed for the one shown. The AAA payment of 15 cents a cubic yard paid for it in full. The tank pictured here is 255 feet long and varies from two feet to seven feet in depth.

Tons of Honey Produced in Texas
Denton, Sept. 15.—First in size and second in sweetness—that's Texas' place, since it ranks second in the United States in the production of honey. In the section around Uvalde from one to two million pounds of honey are brought to market annually. One reason for the successful production of honey in this state is that the climate, with a long summer season, is particularly well adapted. Another factor is the abundance of cotton blossoms, which are better than any other flowers in making honey.

Common Clay Widely Used
Texas clays are used in everything from pottery-making to road-building. Commercial refractory clays are sold for the manufacture of fibre brick, terra cotta, floor tiles and art pottery. Coarser clays yield the common red-pressed brick, drain tile and earthenware. Two other products are kaolin, utilized in the making of fine pottery, and earth for the deodorizing of oils. Any of the ordinary clays are used extensively for road-building.

Shearing of Goats From West Completed

Oregon Animals From Breeder There Doing Well

An average clip of about seven pounds from the billies was received recently when Joe B. Ross, Sutton county ranchman, sheared the sixty-seven goats which he bought in June from U. S. Grant, nationally known breeder who lives in Dallas, Oregon.

About eight pounds of hair was taken from a three-year-old stud billy of the Oregon animals which were received in Sutton county in July. All of the goats were sheared by Mr. Grant about five and one-half months ago.

Mr. Ross says the goats have become acclimated to the West Texas country and are doing well after their long journey by train from the Pacific Coast state. Fifteen billies, three kids and forty-nine nannies were included in the lot bought by Mr. Ross at the time Mr. Grant retired from the goat business after more than forty-five years of successful work in the industry.

Many Expected at Wednesday Selling

Sheep Sale in Eldorado Will Attract Buyers

When buyers from many places and sheep raisers of Schleicher county mingle at the stock pens in Eldorado Wednesday the Schleicher County Sheep Sales Service will be promoting its first sale.

J. Forrest Runge, Schleicher ranchman and president of the service, told the NEWS this week that there are six purposes of the organization. They are, in brief:

1. To give Schleicher sheep raisers selling opportunity.
2. To give small operators "better breaks" by classifying and pooling small lots.
3. To stimulate interest in producing a better quality product.
4. To give Schleicher youth experience in handling stock commercially and to acquaint them with feeder-buyer requirements.
5. To enable boys to earn money for annual lamb show.
6. To provide means for letting buyers supply needs with less wasted effort.

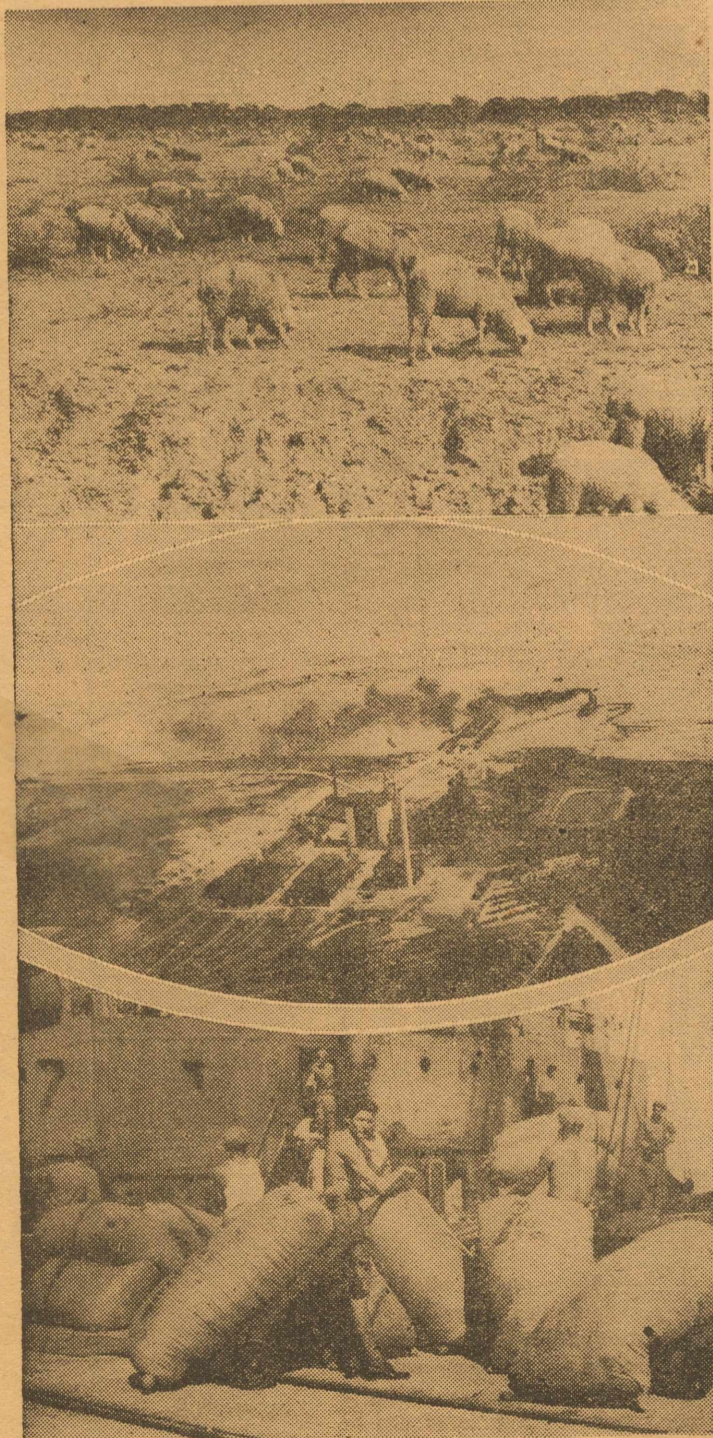

Five to ten thousand lambs are expected to be in the pens ready for sale. Carlots of 300 to 320 head, approximating 20,000 pounds, will be shown. Sheep to be sold by weight, delivered on railroad cars in Eldorado. Each consignor to be charged a commission fee of ten cents per sheep for weighing, auctioneer's fee and other expenses.

The sale, which begins at 10 o'clock, is sponsored by Schleicher County 4-H Clubs, endorsed by the Eldorado Lions Club, promoted by the county agent, W. G. Godwin, and supported by the Texas Extension Service.

Officers of the organization other than Mr. Runge are: John Rae, vice-president; Ed Hill, vice-president and treasurer; W. G. Godwin, secretary.

A friend of a man jailed in Conway, S. C., phoned the mayor, pleading, "I must get him out." When the mayor inquired the reason, the reply was: "He hasn't any pajamas with him."

Salt for West Texas Wool

Salt is a mineral essential to the production of West Texas wool, so in order that wool growers may have a "return load" for trucks bringing their products to the Port of Corpus Christi, the Southern Alkali Corporation (shown in center) is erecting a plant for salt manufacture, raw materials to come from the Palangana dome in Duval County. A substantial volume of West Texas wool has moved through the lower Gulf Coast port, a loading scene being shown below. The new manufacturing activity is expected to stimulate interest in highways connecting the two areas of the state.

Buildings of Aid

The Sutton county community is to be congratulated on the church buildings that serve its people.

Members of St. John's Episcopal Church, re-opened Sunday, and of the Church of Christ, which recently used for the first time its attractive new building, are to be commended for their initiative and enthusiasm. The building of a church structure is a long drawn out process and one which requires a great deal of fortitude on the part of those who worship there.

It is often said that a town may be judged by its churches. If that be true, the newcomer, or stranger passing through, will certainly be impressed by Sonora with its Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal and Church of Christ buildings. Not one has been built more than twelve years.

The work that a church does is not dependent upon the buildings in which worship is held. Granted that, it is nevertheless true that an attractive, efficient church plant will be of aid in carrying on the work each church purposes to do.

Teacher's Worth in—

J. Fields, Jr.

Principal addresses were made by E. L. Nunnally, registrar, San Angelo College, and R. S. Covey, of Sweetwater, former superintendent of schools here.

Mr. Nunnally told of the teacher's responsibility in the training of children and the need of the instilling of love of country and right principles of living in school children. During his address Mr. Nunnally said:

"Isms" May Not Bother

"Today Communism, Fascism, Nazism and a host of other things of that sort worry us. I say that if you take care of your children, instilling in them right ideals, you need not worry about any 'ism' which, after all, is really nothing more nor less than something 'stinking' in the nation's health."

Teller of humorous stories par excellence, R. S. Covey blended humor and reasoning in his words to the extent that he amused his listeners as well as he impressed them with the logic of his thought.

A former district governor, Mr. Covey told of how worth while in an inspirational way that office had been to him. He stated that he turned over the responsibility to another with the resolve that he would attempt to do even more of the work that Lions Clubs have as their objective.

Three Points of Judgment

The analysis and measurement of a man was described by Mr. Covey in concluding his address. He said:

"I would judge a man not by his clothes, his looks, his wealth, his age. The three components by which a genuinely worth while man should be judged are the length of his vision, the breadth of his mind and the depth of his soul.

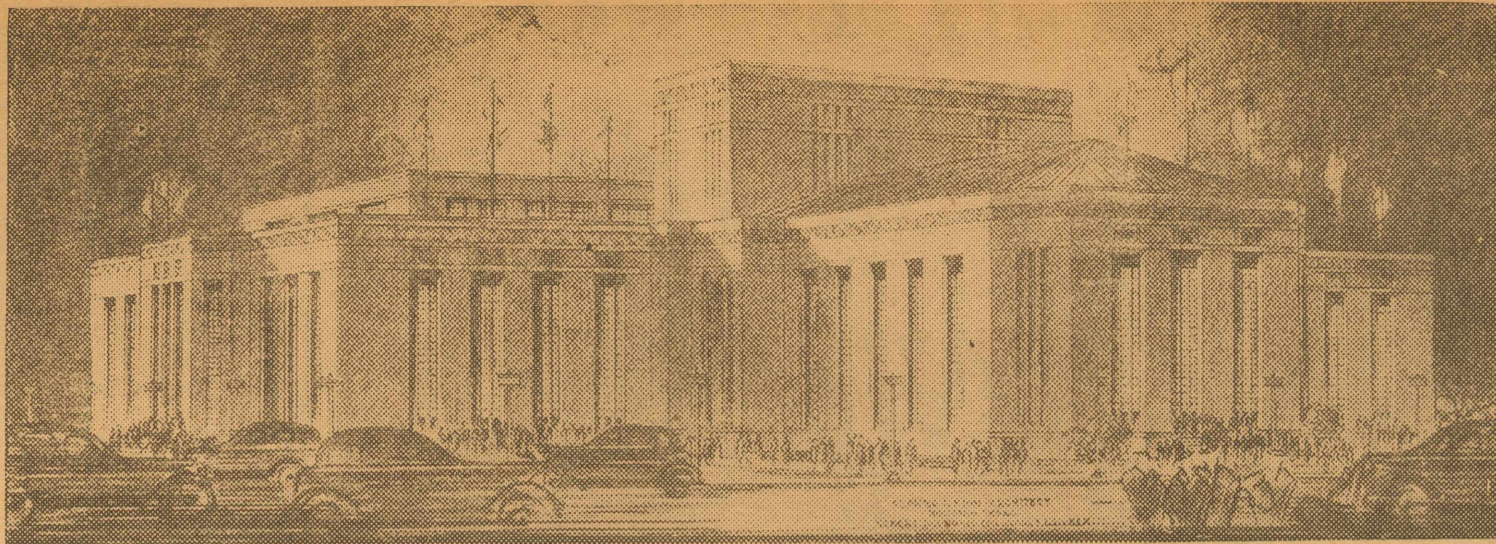

"Those three points will determine accurately the service a man can render to his fellow man."

Sonora Music Club members presented the following program:

Dinner music, Mrs. Joel Shelton, Mrs. Robert W. Jacobs; Alyce Claire Shelton, two vocal solos; Miss Marie Watkins, vocal solo, "My Heart Is a Silent Violin"; Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, piano solo, Chopin; Miss Edythe Carson, vocal solo, "Mighty Lak a Rose," accompanied by Miss Marie Watkins; Mrs. E. D. Shurley and Miss Thelma Rees, two-piano number — "Country Gardens."

Fun features during the evening included a "dissertation" on eggs by Preston C. Lightfoot, completed by the hurling of the empty eggs into the diners, a mock trial in which Boyd Caffey was charged with shooting game birds out of season, and the calling on various members for pseudo reports of their activities as Lions in recent months.

HOUSTON PEOPLE PROUD OF NEW COLISEUM AND MUSIC HALL

Directed at a cost of $2,000,000, the coliseum and music hall in Houston has been completed. A city of many state and national gatherings of various sorts, Houston expects to be even more attractive as a convention center since the completion of the large building in which sessions may be held. If Rooms Are Small and Dark These Suggestions May Be Helpful

Faced with the task of decorating small dark rooms, whose furnishings have become problems to them, many women have been much puzzled. Perhaps some suggestions here may give them encouragement to meet such cases satisfactorily.

Light colors have a way of making things seem larger than they actually are, so light walls for a small room are preferable. A tint of yellow is doubly desirable, for light as well as size.

Light May Be Created

Pinkish yellow, peach, pale apricot, pinkish beige or creamy white will create a sense of slight artificial sunlight in a north room; white will give about the same effect of space as pale yellow. If the walls are papered, small patterns or scenic designs will have a tendency to push out the walls, giving the effect of greater size.

Painting the doors and trim to match the walls, or the ground of the wallpaper, is advisable. Contrasting woodwork has a tendency to cut up a small room, making it seem smaller than it is actually.

Applying the same idea to the floor, it should be covered entirely with a plain color.

Furniture should be small in scale and rather low, to aid the general effect.

Use Care in Choosing Covering
Coverings in sharply contrasting colors make furniture seem more conspicuous, and therefore larger. So if a chair or couch is rather cumbersome, it is often wise to cover it in a color which will fade into either the floor or wall color. The same idea applies to the selection of bed covers in small rooms.

Small-patterned drapery or upholstery fabrics are necessary considerations in decorating small rooms, for the same reasons wallpaper of like character are best.

Sheer curtains which will admit as much outside light as possible should be chosen. Some decorators prefer the glass curtains, preferably pale yellow, to give the effect of sunshine, and simple window treatments in small rooms. Tied-back glass, or sheer curtains, and no drapery, is often most satisfactory. Draperies matching the color of the walls are sometimes a wise choice, if one simply must have draperies, since they are least noticeable in a room of this sort.

Suggestions Very Adaptable

Mirrors, mirrors everywhere, seems to be the general taste today. Even in one small room they may be used satisfactorily, but only one or two. Preferably they would hang on a wall opposite the windows—these also to give additional light and illusion of size. Few pictures and small accessories should be allowed. Too many tend to give a crowded appearance.

All these suggestions lead to effects of more space and light, which naturally counteract smallness and darkness. They may be applied anywhere, whether in the living room, dining room or bedrooms. — From the Christian Science Monitor.

Railroad Runs Special for One Lone Passenger

Fenelon Falls, Ont.—Because the railroad advertised rates of 1 cent per mile from Toronto, Haliburton, and then decided lack of passengers would cause the special train to go only as far as Fenelon Falls, 40 miles short of Haliburton, a Toronto woman had the experience of riding in a "private train" from here to the latter town.

When the train stopped at Fenelon Falls and the conductor advised his Toronto passenger that the train would go no farther, she produced a ticket stamped "from Toronto to Haliburton" and advised him she expected to have the journey completed.

Argument of the conductor failed, so the train went on the additional 40 miles carrying its lone passenger, seated in triumph in the last coach.

Floods Stock With Fish the Lakes They Create

Clarksdale, Miss.—Floods which swept over North Mississippi and Yazoo basin counties during the first months of the year developed new fishing waters that are filled with fish.

Fish were turned into backwater areas in schools and were distributed by the high waters in several new lakes, bayous and ponds.

Negroes have been living almost exclusively on fish caught from these lakes. In some instances men, women and children have gathered at the lakes for fish fries and hundreds of fish have been removed during the day.

Some Line!

Bristol, Maine.—Levi W. Steward went to haul in his rigging while ice-fishing on Biscay pond, when suddenly it disappeared in a hole. Later Steward hauled in another line 100 feet from the first. He yanked out his first rigging—with a four-pound pickerel on it.

Young Triplets Play on Same Ball Team

Concord, Mass.—"Sablone to Sablone to Sablone" is a possible description of a triple play by the Peter Bulkeley grammar school base ball team.

For three of the nine players are the twelve-year-old triplet brothers, Primo, Secundo and Terzo Sablone. The brothers are altar boys at St. Bernard's church.

PROPOSED TEXAS BUILDING AT TWO WORLD'S FAIRS

Austin, Sept. 8.—The thrilling story of Texas will be carried to New York and San Francisco world's fairs in sound and color films if the Legislature adopts plans of the Texas Planning Board. The cost of the exhibits at both fairs will not exceed $225,000.

The sound and color film, depicting the industrial, agricultural, recreational, cultural and economic life of the state, would be shown in an air conditioned replica of the Alamo, as illustrated above.

The planners discarded the old type of fair and exposition exhibit as being too costly and wholly inadequate to show the 50,000,000 visitors expected at New York, and the 20,000,000 the San Francisco fairmen expect to attend the Golden Gate International Exposition, just what Texas is today.

The Board chose the historic Alamo as best illustrating the spirit of Texas. As submitted by the architects the building plans call for an exact replica of the Alamo at New York and a slightly smaller replica at San Francisco.

In each the chapel of the Alamo will be used as a lounging salon where Texans visiting the fairs may meet and rest in air conditioned comfort.

The auditorium will seat 500 persons at New York and about 350 at San Francisco. Each auditorium is modeled after the lines of the museum now nearing completion on the Alamo grounds in San Antonio.

Sonorans' Relative Given Mills College (California) Scholarship

Intending to specialize in library science, Miss Marjorie Moody of Oklahoma City, a cousin of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. James, will be a student this year in Mills College in Oakland, Cal.

Miss Moody, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moody, will receive a scholarship in the California institute as "America's outstanding Camp Fire girl." The recognition was given her because of her unusually active high school life when she was especially interested in Camp Fire activities.

After Miss Moody returned from a Washington, D. C., national Camp Fire gathering she obliged by telling of her trip before thirty-seven Oklahoma City organizations. One appearance was made before members of the Downtown Baptist Church.

The Oklahoma News recently carried a page one feature story about Miss Moody, describing her in this manner:

"Marjorie is the kind of young lady who doesn't give a continental ouch if she never sees Robert Taylor, and she promises to get in and out of California without flipping her pretty skirts at Hollywood.

"She has a 17-year-old high school grin, laughs loud and often, acts a little and calls Ludwig's biography of Von Hindenburg her favorite book.

"Marjorie, always in danger of being called wholesome by the impressed stranger, plans to spend two years at exclusive Mills

(Mills says it ranks second only to Vassar), then take her degree in library science at the University of Oklahoma.

"Marjorie will make an ideal librarian, she just hates folks who write on the margin of books."

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL BY Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND

When Does Education Click? Education will click, I say, When children's questions and problems constitute the central theme of the daily lessons;

When the burden of teaching is shifted from the teacher to the pupils; And this corollary—When the teacher talks less, but guides the pupils more in their discussions;

When activity, learning by doing, is employed to the maximum degree;

When learning proceeds for its own sake, rather than for a mark or promotion;

When more self-government is permitted the pupils;

When everyone concerned learns the difference between schooling and education;

When opportunities are provided through which children may deduce for themselves the difference between right and wrong in social conduct;

When "education is life" becomes the primary principle in teaching;

When praise and kindness replace sarcasm and ridicule in teaching methods;

When health is recognized as the foundation upon which all ambitions and achievements depend, and when children truly appreciate the value of proper food—especially milk, fruits and vegetables;

When school authorities succeed in arousing in parents a vital interest in and an understanding of education's purposes and methods;

When children are prepared adequately for leisure time as well as for work.

With Black Favored Silhouette This Fall To Replace the Flounces of 1936 Autumn

Denton, Sept. 15.—"Sunday-go-to-meetin'" dresses this fall rival formal evening gowns in the number of smart touches and flattering new lines they employ. A much sleeker silhouette is favored than the flounces of last year would allow, but skirts are still full enough for easy walking.

Typical of the dresses which will be worn for dates, picture shows, informal parties and the like is a little black silk crepe with the skirt fitting like snake skin save for a bit of shirred fullness in front. Long, clinging sleeves are tucked slightly at the shoulder, and the simple Vee-neckline is fashionably low.

Although Lady Style has turned her most approving smile upon black as high color this season, girls at Texas State College for Women with experimental ideas find that varied colors and materials can still be used advantageously. For instance, heliotrope-blue satin-back crepe forms a smart-looking draped number with the shapely new corset-fitting look around the waist.

Powdery blue velveteen is used for another dress in the modern mode, with a shirred ring extending from the waist to the hipline, thus holding the fullness of the skirt into straight lines.

Daring color combinations carry on the fight with conservatism that they started several years ago, and one sees rust and lavender, rust and turquoise, blue and fuchsia, blue and brown and gray and beige. Pink, so long in disfavor, is being reclaimed and put with certain tones of browns and grays.

As for materials, luxurious is the word. Those leading so far in Paris and other style centers are velveteen, satin-back crepe, sheer wool, moire and the easily-drapable jersey.

Baptist Ladies Entertained at Hi Eastland Home

Mrs. T. L. Harrison read the devotional, and Mrs. G. G. Stephenson was program leader.

Those taking part on the program were:

Mesdames Lee Holland, L. H. McGhee, T. L. Harrison, G. G. Stephenson, Joe H. Brasher, H. V. Morris, O. C. Ogden.

Others present were: Mesdames J. A. Cauthorn, R. C. Brinkley, H. T. Largent, C. S. James, W. D. Martin. Mrs. Eastland presented Mrs. T. L. Harrison, out-going president, and Mrs. Morris, outgoing secretary-treasurer, each a lovely hand-painted cookie jar.

After the program, a social hour followed and refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches, cookies and punch were served.

Mrs. Rees Entertains Club Monday Afternoon

Members and guests of the Blue Monday Club spent an enjoyable afternoon recently when Mrs. Robert Rees was hostess.

An artistically arranged salad plate, carrying out colors of yellow and green was served at the refreshment hour.

Daisies were used for floral decorations. Mrs. A. W. Awalt, who won high, and Mrs. T. L. Harrison were club guests.

Club members were: Mesdames J. W. Trainer, R. K. Muckleroy, C. E. Stites, W. E. Caldwell, H. V. Morris. Mrs. Stites won club high score.

Flooring in House
An Important Detail
Care of Stock Used and Weather Must Be Considered

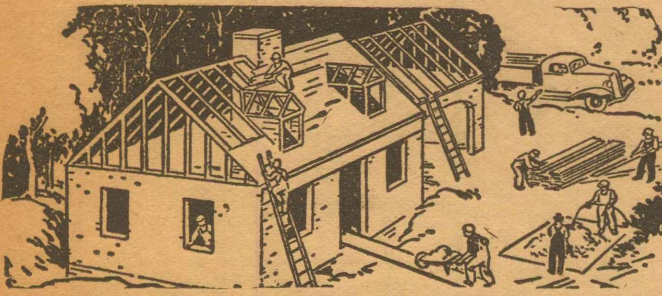

A house with bad floors shows depreciation. Even though a building may be soundly constructed, floors that have developed cracks or other irregularities look dowdy and lower the value of the property for resale purposes.

When a home is financed under the Insured Mortgage System of the Federal Housing Administration its construction has been thoroughly inspected, and the grade of flooring must meet the specifications. However, care when a floor is being laid is necessary to prevent cracks.

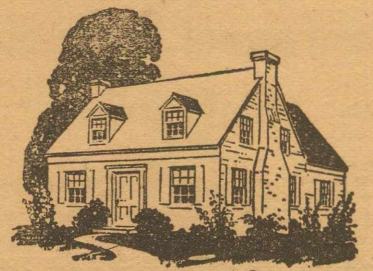

The lumber dealer must have properly protected the stock while it was in his hands. It should not be delivered on a damp or rainy day, and it must be kept dry after delivery. The plaster or masonry walls should be thoroughly dry before the flooring is delivered.

As an added precaution, if necessary, heat should be maintained in the house from the time the flooring is delivered until finished by the painter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

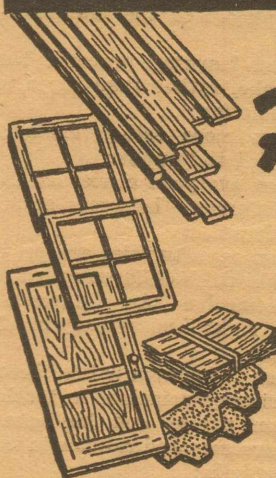

Q. Is plywood suitable for recovering a plaster wall that has become badly cracked?

A. Yes. This material can be left in its natural finish, or oiled, waxed or painted. If it is painted it is well to size it with shellac to keep the grain from rising.

When taking pictures of children snap them in a natural pose—doing something.

"STAND up straight now and look at me." "Put your hands down, darling, and smile. I want to get a good picture to send to Aunt Minnie."

Haven't you heard these two and many similar expressions on the part of parents when they are taking snapshots of their children? Let's hope you are not numbered among them for unless your child is quite apt at posing the result will be a rather uninteresting snapshot which does not do the child justice.

First of all, as you know, youngsters are the cutest when they are perfectly natural. If a lot of fuss is made to get them to stand just so, or an effort is made to get them to do a certain thing, the chances are they will look too posed in the finished print.

There are two types of child pictures, I might say; just plain record pictures and the other kind you should strive to get—story-telling pictures. A little tot standing straight as an arrow with arms stiffened against the sides of the body and staring at the camera is a good example of a record picture, but snap a picture of that same little rascal making mud pies, or playing traffic policeman, and you have a story-telling picture with real human interest appeal.

Children's pictures should always be taken fairly close up, rarely more than ten feet from the camera. If you have an ordinary box camera don't get closer than six or eight feet unless a portrait attachment is placed over the lens. With a portrait attachment you can get as close as three and a half feet to your subject and get sharp, distinct pictures that will show every curl and dimple. By moving a lever on the newer type box cameras, however, you can shoot as close as five feet to your subject without a portrait attachment.

With a folding camera of focusing type, the closer the subject is to the lens the more care is required in estimating the distance. Set the pointer on the distance scale at the number of feet between the lens and the child. If you change your position for succeeding pictures, be sure to change the pointer to the proper distance mark.

And watch your backgrounds. A nice, attractive background adds so much to your pictures. Telephone poles, wires, unattractive fences, garages, and what have you, often spoil an otherwise artistic, fascinating human interest picture. In fact, any prominent off-side object in the picture will detract from the interest in what the child is doing.

Here's another tip. Try to avoid having the sun shining directly in the child's eyes, for the poor little fellow can't help squinting under such conditions and neither could you. Let the sun come from the side. This gives an interesting lighting and what professionals call "roundness."

Follow these "tips" and you'll get real joy out of your snapshots.

Texas Consumption of Lamb Next To Lowest in Nation

People of West and Northeast Heaviest Eaters of Meat Produced in South

Texans raise their sheep and do a good job of it but they just don't care very much about serving "leg o' lamb" and other portions of the animals on their dinner tables. And that goes for times when just the family is at home and when there are guests.

B. M. Halbert, Sutton ranchman, has given the NEWS an interesting map showing the consumption

National Lamb Event Sept. 20--Oct. 19

A month's campaign, on a nation-wide scale, to encourage Americans in the eating of lamb will be inaugurated Monday. It is a cooperative movement fostered by those especially interested in the meat industry. During the thirty-day period unusual emphasis will be placed on the qualities of lamb as a sustaining food which should be partaken of more often by people everywhere.

of lamb in various regions of the United States last year.

Texas, one of the West South Central States along with Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, consumed only two per cent of the country's total.

Greatest proportion of the United States total consumption is in the states of the Pacific Coast, those of the Middle Atlantic region (Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey), the East North Central section and the New England district. Their consumption percentages are: Pacific Coast—13; Middle Atlantic—46; New England—12; East North Central—13.

Lamb consumption per capita in the various regions was:

New England, 11.5 pounds; Middle Atlantic, 14.1; South Atlantic, 3; East North Central, 4.5; West North Central, 2; East South Central, .9; West South Central, 1.3; Mountain, 8.9; Pacific, 12.9; (United States as a whole, 6.6).

The estimates are based on commercial lamb consumption from reports received by the Institute of American Meat Packers from sales records of meat packing companies, supplemented by the United States Department of Agriculture estimate of production from farm and local retail sheep and lamb slaughter.

Patriot

For an hour the commanding officer had been lecturing the squad of new recruits about the glories of being a soldier.

Having emphasized their duties as soldiers of King and country, the officer called to one of the recruits—McGlinty—and questioned him.

"Now then, Private McGlinty," he said, "I just want to see whether you have been listening. Tell me, why should a man lay down his life for his King and country?"

McGlinty scratched his head for a moment. Then his face lit up. "Faith, captain," he cried, "you're right—why should he?"—Answers.

Something for the Record

The president of Super-Colossal Pictures entered the main office. "Get out!" he howled at a young man sitting there. "While I'm boss I'll not tolerate any loafing around here."

"I beg your pardon," said the young man, "but I don't work here. I just came in looking for a position."

"Then you're hired," growled the president.

"Oh thank you, sir," beamed the young man.

The president pointed to the door again. "And now get out," he roared. "You're fired!"

The young man picked up his hat and turned to the president. "Do you mind," he inquired, "if I ask one question?"

"Well," barked the executive, "what is it?"

"Tell me, what kind of a job did I hold before I was fired?"—Christian Science Monitor.
