Resignation of L. W. Elliott As School Trustee Tendered

Affiliation With Bank Prevents Further Service; Bryan Hunt New Member

A member of the board of trustees of Sonora Independent School District all but two of the last nineteen and one-half years, L. W. Elliott, Sonora attorney, has tendered his resignation as board member and president of the group. The resignation was made necessary by the fact that the district's depository of funds, the First National Bank, in making bond this year had to certify that "no officer, director or stockholder of this bank is a member of the Board of Trustees." Mr. Elliott is a stockholder.

First Served in 1918

Although the board has not officially accepted the resignation it is mandatory upon it to do so in view of the circumstances. A new president has not been elected by the board.

BRYAN HUNT SWORN IN AS NEW MEMBER OF BOARD

A Sutton county ranchman, Bryan Hunt, is now a member of the Board of Trustees of Sonora Independent School District. He succeeds W. E. Caldwell who resigned recently. No appointment has been made of someone to serve on the board in the place of L. W. Elliott who resigned last week.

Mr. Elliott became a member of the board in April, 1918, and has served continuously since that time except for a period of about two years, December, 1920, to January, 1, 1923, when he was county judge. He became president shortly after going into office in 1918 and was elected to that office again when he became a board member in 1923.

In 1935 the trustees recognized his service to the community as a school board member by naming the new school for Mexican children the "L. W. Elliott School." It was built by means of a $12,000 bond issue and Public Works Administration assistance of slightly more than $8,000.

Tribute Paid By Member

In speaking of the service of Mr. Elliott to the Sonora school system, R. D. Trainer, board secretary, and a member of the group about ten years, said Wednesday:

"Judge Elliott has saved the district many dollars in fees by his handling of legal procedure in bond issues and other matters...."

"Through his efforts the high school has become affiliated and its work recognized by institutions of higher learning. He has worked for the schools and has always thought of saving money where possible while at the same time building toward a substantial development of the system."

During the period of service of Mr. Elliott he handled all details in connection with the issuing of $125,000 in bonds for the high school building and $10,000 in bonds for the building of the home economics cottage and the Owensville School. The Pecan Springs School was built by money from the general fund.

Details of the handling of the $21,000 bond issue for the school for Mexican children as well as the large amount of legal work necessary in securing the PWA assistance in the building of the school was handled by Mr. Elliott.

Praises Associates

The portion of the letter written by Mr. Elliott, regarding his term of service on the school board is as follows:

"...I have been a member of the Board of Trustees for a long time, probably longer than one should have served, and have served with many different board members, each and all of whom, past and present, have at all times been faithful and zealous workers for the best interests of our schools. They have shown an earnest desire for the building of a school system in the town of Sonora that would give our children the benefit of educational advantages equal to any of the first-class schools of the state.

"It has been a pleasure to me to have had a part with you in that work."

LESS THAN 100 ENROLLED IN RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Ninety Sutton county people have paid $1 each and enrolled as members of the American Red Cross for the coming year.

That number was reported Wednesday by Mrs. Maysie Brown, treasurer, Sutton county chapter. A number of solicitors have not reported and a report from Station A was not available at that time.

Mrs. Brown said that it is likely that a number who have been members this year have not been given the opportunity of joining in the 1937 Roll Call. For that reason the Roll Call work will continue until December 1 in order to secure the greatest possible number of members. A number who have worked in previous Roll Call campaigns have not been able to work this year.

Broncho Players at Pep Squad Dinner

Miniature Leather Chaps Favors When Girls Hostesses at Annual Event

Cleverly planned and well carried out was the banquet Friday evening marking "the last roundup" of 1937 high school football squad members when they were guests of the Pep Squad.

Saddles, blankets, ropes and other paraphernalia of the ranch section were used to form the setting for the event. A chuck box was on the stage and ten waitresses were dressed as cowgirls. They were: Audrey Rankhorn, Muriel Simmons, Ruth Freeman, Zella Lee Thorp, Pat Reiley, Billy Partin, Lillie Owens, Doris Meckel, Edith Faught, Elizabeth Wallace.

The three tables were graced by red tapers at each end and bronze chrysanthemums were centerpiece. Leather chaps, in miniature form, were favors, silhouette cowboy figures were gathered around synthetic campfires on the tables and placecards were cardboard megaphones and football players.

"Fiddlers from S. H. S. Headquarters Ranch" who played before the dinner were Robert Allen Simmons, A. W. Awalt, Patsy Gilmore and Mrs. Robert W. Jacobs. Master of ceremonies was Miss Johnnie Allison, Pep Squad sponsor, who was presented with a spur pin with megaphone inset in the center.

Short talks and responses were indicative of the general roundup theme of the banquet. Pupils who were on the program were: Robby Jo Wyatt, Kathryn Brown, Ina Ar-

NORTON'S AGGIES TO BATTLE FOR .500 STANDING

When the Aggies of Coach Homer Norton, pictured above, battle the Longhorns today (Thursday) they will be trying to maintain a tradition—namely, that Texas must not win on the College Station gridiron.

Only once in eleven games played on Kyle Field have the Longhorns defeated the Aggies. That was in 1923.

If A. and M. wins their season percentage in the Southwest Conference in the Southwest Conference will be .500, with two victories, two defeats and two losses. If they lose the University of Texas and A. and M. College will end the season in a tie in conference standing.

Will Army Get Navy's Angora?

B. M. Halbert doesn't think so but whether he's right or not remains to be seen when the final play has been run Saturday afternoon in Philadelphia.

Goatkeepers in the picture are midshipmen of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. The young man on the left is D. K. Sloan, midshipman from South Williamsport, Pa. His

The picture was sent the NEWS by F. A. Todd, Captain, U. S. Navy, Commandant in charge of midshipmen at the academy and was supplied other Texas papers by the NEWS.

Wool Buyer Gives $25 As Show Prize

Eight of Ten Sutton 4-H Boys at Work Handling Sheep

Twenty-five dollars in cash will be divided among three 4-H Club boys next June whose wool in the 4-H Club Wool Show is adjudged to be "the best put-up" of any entered in the competition.

Tom Richey, wool buyer for A. W. Hilliard and Son, is giving the cash prize, according to H. C. Atchison, county agent. Mr. Hilliard's offer of an award to encourage the boys is one of the first to be made.

All but two of the Sutton county 4-H Club boys have had their sheep demonstrations inspected by county agents stationed near Sutton county and are now engaged in carrying on their sheep work as they look forward to the June show.

W. G. Godwin, Schleicher county agent, Friday inspected the animals being handled by Harrell Turney Espy, R. W. Johnson and Eugene Shurley. Dick Homann, Kimble county agent, Saturday inspected the animals being handled by Robert Kelley, Jack Shurley, Dock Simmons, Robert Allen Simmons and S. H. Stokes.

Approval was given all of the demonstrations inspected. Record books for the boys' work have not been received from College Station but are expected soon. The flocks of Billy Shurley and Elward Glasscock are the only ones not inspected.

Last week pictures of the boys and their adult leader, M. G. Shurley, Sutton county ranchman, were taken. They are to be sent to Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, Extension Service editor, who may use them in one of the publications of the Service.

MEN WANTED

If you're an able-bodied man and out of a job you are wanted.

The Sonora gymnasium construction work is being delayed, according to F. T. Jones, superintendent of schools, because of a lack of eligible men on the Works Progress Administration roll in Sutton county. The building is to be constructed by WPA authority.

Thirty men, eligible for WPA employment, are required before the project may be undertaken. For that reason Mr. Jones is requesting that all men out of work who believe they may be eligible for WPA employment on the building, get in touch with him or with Alvis Johnson, county judge, at once.

Telephone Call To Mexico First One Through Sunday

Telephone Users Lax in Use of New Directories, Thereby Hampering Service

A telephone message between a Mexican ranch worker in Sutton county and Gabriel Mata in Villa Acuna early Sunday morning was the first call over the new Sonora telephone system.

The call, linking the two in the sister republics, was placed by an employee of Miss Clara Allison.

Sonora people this week have been adjusting themselves to the novelty of their new type of telephones, first use of which was shortly after midnight Saturday. W. R. Barnes, manager, said this week that quite a few people were continuing to use the old telephone directory rather than the new one.

The new numbers, which several subscribers have, must be found in the new directory and used by each subscriber before service may become what it should be. The busy operator cannot spare the time to look up the called person's correct number; the one making the call must do that.

Over the signature of John Y. Rust, president, San Angelo Telephone Co., this week went twenty letters to as many advertisers in the NEWS last week when a 10-page telephone company opening edition was issued. The letter read:

"The employees of our Sonora office and the other officials of this company join me in a sincere expression of thanks for your generous participation in advertising through the Devil's River News of November 19, 1937, at the time of the installation of our new telephone system in Sonora."

Oklahoma City Firm Lowest Bidder For City Water Work

Construction Work Tentatively Set For Beginning Early Next Month

With representatives of eight companies submitting bids Monday for the city water system extension and improvement program, it is likely that construction work will begin Thursday, December 9, W. C. Gilmore, mayor, said Tuesday morning.

Low bidder was Sherman Machine and Iron Works of Oklahoma City which submitted a price of $54,811.80 for the work. The firm was represented by Erie Sherman of the company. Other companies submitting bids were:

Vedder Construction Co., Childress, $58,424.40; Kelly Construction Co., San Antonio, $59,351.68; Dallone Construction Co., Dallas, $60,194.90;

Ben Sira & Co., Dallas, $61,125; Walsh & Burney, San Antonio, $62,185.80; P. C. Sorenson Co., Dallas, $64,379.60; McKenzie Construction Co., Dallas, $65,600.

The three low bids were taken by the PWA representative, A. E. Firmen of Eagle Pass, here for the meeting, to the state office for final approval of awarding of the contract to the Oklahoma City company.

Construction company representatives as well as those working for equipment supply companies were much in evidence in Sonora over the week-end. Bids were received until two o'clock when they were opened and tabulated in the office of L. W. Elliott. Announcement of the eight bids was at five o'clock at the city hall.

H. R. F. Helland of San Antonio, engineer for the city in the negotiations this year for the purchase of the water system and for the work to be done, was in charge of the tabulating of the bids.

Thirty-four fire hydrants were purchased from Iowa Valve Co., the valves from Ludlow Valve and Hydrant Co. and 150 water meters from Badger Meter Co. Equipment on which prices were submitted had to be approved by the Public Works Administration or the city's engineer.

By terms of the PWA authority those employed on the work must, as far as possible, be from the roll of those on the National Reemployment Service, federal agency listing those who are in need of employment.

The Homemaking Club met in the auditorium Wednesday morning and sang "Smiles" and "We're the Future Momemakers." Then Miss Duncan talked on the "Origin of Thanksgiving." She told us that the Pilgrims had their first Thanksgiving in 1631, inviting about eighty Indians to their feast and sermons. After that other colonies took up the custom, but they did not have a regular day set aside for it, neither did they have it each year.

During the Revolutionary War all the colonies observed some day in each year as Thanksgiving, except in 1777. After that time different presidents designated certain days in the year for Thanksgiving but they were not the same each year until 1864 when Abraham Lincoln set aside the last Thursday of each November as a day for giving thanks. Mrs. Hale, who had worked for twenty years to accomplish this end, is called the "Mother of Thanksgiving."

After Miss Duncan's talk more songs were sung.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day, in the United States, is an annual festival of thanksgiving for the mercies of the closing year. The day is fixed by proclamation of the President and the governors of the states. The President's proclamation makes the day a legal holiday in the District of Columbia and the territories. Since 1863 the Presidents have always issued proclamations setting the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

We boys and girls of today should be very thankful and should not waste the day but should use it in giving thanks. We should be thankful that we have our parents, our health, food, clothing and a good place to live—no matter how meager they may be.

We should be thankful that there is peace in our country; that war is not raging throughout our country as it is in foreign countries, rendering boys and girls of our age homeless and destitute. There are ever so many things that we should be thankful for besides these mentioned. So on Thanksgiving let us give thanks instead of wasting the day.

CHAPTER II.

Gail made inquiries every place imaginable, but she could find no trace of her father. He had never gone anywhere without first letting his family know where he was going and when he expected to return. Furthermore, he always went to his office the first thing in order to straighten out his day's work.

As the youngest daughter of the Morrison house walked toward the large house in which she lived, she could detect the turmoil that was taking place inside. As quickly as Gail found out that something unusual had happened to her father, she notified her mother, who immediately called police headquarters and related the story demanding help. Even though Mrs. Morrison was horror stricken at the thought that something had happened to her husband, she was very eager to do all she could in finding his whereabouts.

"I just know that something terrible has happened to father," wailed Normie, who was on the verge of a nervous collapse. "He would never keep us in suspense, and worry us, if he could possibly find a way to let us know why he isn't where he should be." Mrs.

Morrison and Norman were trying to console Normie, but Gail was preparing to return to the police station to await news, if there were any, of her father.

Just as she started down the stairs, Gail remembered that she had not even glanced over the morning's mail and papers. The house, servants, butlers, maids and all, had been so upset, they had not even noticed the postman as he delivered the mail to their door. Gail hurriedly picked up the numerous envelopes, cards, papers, etc. and glanced through them. "Now, I wonder," she mused to herself, "what this could be? addressed to Miss Gail D. Morrison. I can't imagine who this comes from."

The handwriting was not familiar, even though it was neatly written in a masculine hand. Breaking the seal of this envelope and, staring at her from the front page of the brief note, was a startling piece of news! Something that put words into action—and quick action, at that.

(What news does this note reveal? Read it in the next issue of The Broncho.)

Californian Compliments Sutton On Condition of Cemetery

Praise for the manner in which the Sutton County Burial Park is kept was expressed last week by Mrs. W. F. McClelland who lived in Sutton county a number of years before 1897.

"I have a baby buried there," Mrs. McClelland said. "When I went there to see the grave I was well pleased with the excellent way in which the grave, and the cemetery in general, looked."

Mrs. McClelland, now a resident of Pasadena, Cal., was Mrs. Jack Goodwin when she lived in Sonora in the early days of this town's history. Her husband operated a barber shop and beer saloon, Mrs. McClelland told a NEWS representative.

When she came to Sonora last week she registered at Hotel McDonald and had dinner there. In a conversation with Mrs. McDonald later she mentioned that she had lived here before 1900. Mrs. McDonald recalled her as Mrs. Jack Goodwin but had not known her by her present name.

Mrs. McClelland told the NEWS Friday that the only ones she knew here now were Mrs. McDonald, E. F. Vander Stucken and W. A. Miers. She has been visiting in Fort Worth with her sister. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McConnell, Jr. took her to San Angelo Saturday night from where she went to Snyder to visit a relative, Mrs. W. R. Johnson. Eden Men Charged With Violation of State Regulation

"Not guilty" was the verdict late Monday in the case of the State vs. A. C. Sanders and Coy Williams,, Eden men, charged in justice court with operating a truck on Highway 27 without a railroad commission permit.

Hearing was before George Barrow, justice of the peace, in the courtroom at the courthouse. Jurors were Frank Bond, Henry Decker, Miers Savell, Andrew Moore, Sam Allison, Terry Baker. The defendants were represented by J. K. Baker, Coleman, and the state commission by George Wynn, county attorney, and J. H. Monroe of Houston, inspector and attorney for the commission.

Information in the case was filed by Bert Kincaid, state inspector.

It was alleged that hauling of sheep had been done between two incorporated towns July 13, 1937. The livestock was said to have belonged to Pot Beasley of Junction and was transported to the Ozona section. A case against Beasley was dismissed on account of lack of evidence.

Sanders is a partner of Jess Pyles of Eden in the trucking business. A similar case against Pyles, W. J. (Jack) Hayhurst and Sanders was set for January 4. Another against Pyles and Ervin Hale has not been set for hearing.

Conviction in such a case is punishable by a fine of $25 to $200.

College Station — Cattle numbers and the purchasing power of cattle follow cycles varying from 14 to 16 years in length, according to W. E. Morgan, economist of the Extension Service division of Texas A. and M. College

When the purchasing power of cattle is high, production is stimulated, and cattle numbers increase, Morgan points out. On the other hand, when purchasing power is low, production is curtailed.

In 1920, there were about 49 million head of cattle in the United States, Morgan says. In that year a steer was worth, in terms of what the ranchman could buy with the proceeds of the sale, 79 per cent as much as it was in the years 1910 to 1914. In 1930, ten years later, there were 38 million head of cattle in the country and a steer was worth 34 per cent more in buying power than it was in 1910-14.

City's Construction Program Described

Lions Club Voices Appreciation of Company's Improvements

Lions Club members Tuesday noon vote to express appreciation to John Y. Rust, president, San Angelo Telephone Co., and his associates, for the telephone system improvements in Sonora and the new exchange-residence building.

W. C. Gilmore outlined the construction work that is to be done as a result of the contract letting Monday for improvements to and expansion of the Sonora water system. A reduction in insurance key rate, better fire protection for all residents and improved sanitary measures for the system are to be accomplished by the work, he said.

The entertainment program, arranged by H. V. Stokes, consisted of solos by Mrs. Preston C. Lightfoot, Margaret Ada Martin and Lavelle Meckel. Mrs. Lightfoot sang "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," Margaret Ada sang "Serenade," by Tosselli, and Mr. Meckel, "Play Fiddle Play."

Announcement was made by Boyd Caffey of the football game that afternoon between the L. W. Elliott and elementary school elevens. The Rev. R. C. Brinkley urged all to attend the Men's Bible Class at La Vista Theater Sunday morning at 9:30.

Jack Hunnicut of Fort Worth was a guest of the president, W. J. Fields, Jr., and Maurice G. Wogan of Houston the guest of H. V. Stokes.

Failures Falling in Texas Denton, Nov. 23.—Back in '31 and '32 hopes fell as Texas business failures mounted to almost a thousand each year. Still farther back, in 1921, the disheartening tabulation had reached between 100 and 200 a month. But in 1936, despite pessimistic predictions and morose calculations, the figures show that there was the lowest average of failures on record in this state. With a total of 178 for the year, the monthly average was less than fifteen.

MEN'S GROUP PRESIDENT DESCRIBES YEAR'S PLANS

A short talk outlining opportunities of the organization for the year were made last week by R. D. Trainer, new president of the Men's Brotherhood, at the regular meeting of the all-community men's group last week.

Mr. Trainer was elected at the previous meeting. He succeeds H. V. Stokes, president the first year. Other new officers are Boyd Caffey, vice-president, and Preston Prater, secretary. First year officers other than Mr. Stokes were Alvis Johnson, vice-president, and J. T. Shurley, secretary.

Boy Scouts of the Sonora troop, with their Scoutmaster, A. W. Awalt, were special guests for the evening which was spent in playing games and singing.

Brinkleys On Week-end Visit

BEVANS, WILKINSON LEASE SCHLEICHER RANCH LAND

B. M. Boyd of Ohio has leased ranch holdings in Schleicher county, comprised of 27,000 acres to Edgar Wilkinson and Harold Bevans of Menard. Wilkinson has leased the 20,000-acre Rocking-chair Ranch and Bevans, the 7000-acre Harry Jackson place. Possession was given on November 10.

The Rocking-chair Ranch has been operated by Mrs. J. W. Kemp since the death of her husband last spring. The new leaseholders purchased Mrs. Kemp's livestock, including 1200 sheep, 1500 goats and 100 head of cattle.

Ace Ellis and Houston Stokes who have been operating the Jackson Ranch the past few years, took over the lease of the old Wheelless Ranch southeast of Menard during the summer. They sold the sheep on the Schleicher county ranch and moved a bunch of cattle to feed pens on the South Plains.

Wilkinson expects to run mostly cattle and goats on the Rocking-chair Ranch. Bevans will utilize the farm land on the Jackson place and feed his sheep through the bitterweed season—The Menard Messenger.

Houston Stokes, former Sonoran, is a son of Mrs. Theresa Friend who formerly lived here.

Be Thankful Today

The resident in Sutton county can well take stock this Thanksgiving Day and count the many blessings that have come his way since the last day of thanksgiving designated by the President.

True, not all of the products of this great section have sold. Nor have certain products of this section sold at as high prices as we would like. That's unfortunate but many factors tending to overabundance those may be pointed out.

Few are out of work in Sutton county. Projects requiring labor are being delayed because of a lack of man power.

Construction projects have been numerous in the last twelve or twenty-four months. New homes, new business property, remodeling, alterations, repairing—all testify to the well being of a people.

Disease, fire, catastrophes, accidents and a host of other tribulations have not taken their toll in the Sutton community to the extent that some have been affected.

Yes, people of "The Stockman's Paradise" can well point with a feeling of satisfaction to the good fortune that has come its way during the last twelve-month and look forward with confidence and anticipation to the year that is coming.

Brothers Far Apart Converse Each Day

Short Wave Radio Links Teacher at University and Kin

Austin, Nov. 23.—Short wave radio is used by two former students of the University of Texas, one of whom is now an instructor at that institution, to keep in daily communication with each other. Dr. F. Burton Jones, University instructor in pure mathematics, and his brother, Wayne Jones, a graduate fellow in physics at Harvard University, talk to each other at least once every day by means of "home-made" short wave broadcasting sets.

Dr. Jones also has weekly communication with another University of Texas ex-student, Frederick Biesele, who is attending Brown University. These two contacts are the only ones he makes regularly, but he frequently establishes contact with other amateurs in the United States. While many of these are professionally connected with the radio industry in some way, there is a large number who, like Dr. Jones, have developed a hobby to a high degree of proficiency. Among them are doctors, dentists, members of the coast guard, business men of all kinds, and representatives of innumerable other occupations.

There is little to differentiate the two sets these "Texas-exes" have built from other amateur sets, Dr. Jones said. The one his brother has in Boston is perhaps the more unusual, since he is able to transmit in any frequency in the amateur band. So interested in the experiment were Harvard officials that they not only gave him permission to install the set in one of the university buildings, four stories high, but assigned a university "roof man" to aid him in setting up his aerials.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

MAKE THE GOOD ONES BIG

Enlarging enables you to vary your print size. When you get a good shot like this, have it enlarged

SUMMER is about over and by now you should have a drawer full of prints—pictures of week-end outings and the vacation tour, sunsets and maybe seashores, the family's younger generation in sunsuits or bathing suits, capering about the lawn spray or digging furiously in a sandpile; all sorts of pictures rich with memories of a grand season.

The question now is—what are you going to do about them? Let them lie loose in the drawer where nobody will see them? Or, will you fix them up to be seen as pictures should be?

The least you can do is mount them in an album so they won't be lost. And if you have some really good ones, you might try your hand at a "summer book," edited just as the modern picture magazines are.

Have you ever studied these magazines and wondered why their pages are so interesting? Have you wondered why your own snapshots do not have the same snap and flash? It's really very simple—a matter of size as much as anything else. When an art editor gets a picture that is especially good, he trims it down to include just the part he wants. Then he has it enlarged and "splashes" it over a whole magazine page, maybe two pages. Other pictures, not as good, are used in smaller size and the big "splash" picture carries them along.

Start separating your pictures into related groups. One group, for instance, could be the baby at the sandpile. There is that grand shot of him, intent on pouring sand out of a bucket half as big as he is, with the sun making a golden halo about his head and his little mouth pursed in utter concentration. Don't keep it small, for then you can barely see the details that are so dear. "Splash" it over a whole album page. If you don't do your own enlarging, your photofinisher can do the work for you. Then take your other pictures of baby and sandpile and arrange them informally on the opposite album page.

With this method, you can produce layouts that have the real professional touch. Be hard-boiled in your editing. Don't be afraid to trim away parts of a picture. Use four strips of white card in planning the "trim" and shift them about like a frame over the picture until it is limited to just the part you want. Then have just that part enlarged. Nearly all good pictures are better for such trimming and it has brought many a dull photograph to life.

Chocolate Fruit Cake Real Find For 1937 Housewife Seeking Unusual for Holidays

Denton, Nov. 23.—"Visions of plum pudding danced in her head," not to mention the holiday fruit cake and other steamed pudding delicacies. For perfectly blended flavor combinations, early preparation followed by several weeks storage is necessary.

Fruit cakes and puddings for the Thanksgiving festivities should be put away at once, while it is not too early to begin Christmas preparations.

Chocolate Fruit Cake (about 12 pounds)

Mix three pounds raisins, two pounds currants, one pound figs (sliced into four or five pieces), one pound watermelon rind preserves (drained and thinly sliced), one pound pecan meats (chopped), one tablespoon grated orange rind, one tablespoon grated lemon rind. Mix one-half cup dark molasses, one cup tart jelly, one-half cup sweet peach pickle juice, one-half cup juice from watermelon rind preserves, one-half cup orange juice and one-fourth cup lemon juice.

Pour liquid mixture into fruit mixture. Mix thoroughly and let stand over night.

Cream two cups butter and add two cups brown sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Stir in four ounces unsweetened chocolate (melted and cooled) and twelve eggs (well beaten). Add gradually five cups flour, sifted with four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons cinnamon, and one teaspoon each allspice, mace and nutmeg.

Add fruit mixture and mix thoroughly. Pour into pans which have been greased, lined with heavy paper and greased again. Bake in slow oven (250 F.) until done. A better product is obtained if the cakes are steamed and then dried in a slow oven. When cold, wrap in wax paper and store in covered container.

Note: The time of baking depends mainly upon the size of the loaf.

One-pound fruit cakes should be baked two and one-half to three hours; two-pound fruit cakes, about three and one-half hours; three pound cakes, about four hours. The time for steaming is about the same as for baking. If the cakes are to be steamed, at least two layers of heavy wax paper should be tied over the top of the pans to protect the cake from the moisture. After the cakes have steamed, the paper over the tops of the pans should be removed and the cakes dried in a slow oven for thirty to forty-five minutes according to size.

W. E. CALDWELL, Manager

By L. L. STEVENSON

Every New Yorker should go away for an extended stay at least once a year. The reason is that on his return he'll find a different city. Just what that mutation really amounts to is hard to say. New York, despite the constant tearing down and building up, is always much the same city in its physical aspects. Nevertheless, familiar localities and even familiar structures seem much different after an absence as short as several weeks. The sidewalk throngs, the shop windows, the traffic streams, the eternal hurly-burly and hurry give a sensation of being more intense, more vital. Thus the wonder city becomes even more of a wonder city when viewed on the return. At least, I've found that so. But maybe I'm not a New Yorker—just a middle-westerner prowling around the big town and having a wonderful time. Then going away on a vacation, returning—and being glad to be back on this $24 island.

The New Yorker—and many of us who do not regard ourselves as New Yorkers but merely as importations—tends to fall into a rut. In the routine of daily existence, the wonders of the wonder city are not for him unless cousins come in from the sticks. Then he has to show them around. Not infrequently, that gets him into trouble. He doesn't know where to go. In mind is a gentleman who has been living here for many years. When a California relative came along and wanted to see the Aquarium, he had to ask a cop how to get there. He'd heard about the Aquarium, of course, and had a misty idea it was downtown. But business hadn't taken him in that section so he was nonplussed, as the saying goes.

Many New Yorkers see nothing whatever of the city. They take a subway in the vicinity of their homes, ride downtown underground and leave the train at stations in basements of buildings in which they have their offices or in which they are employed. Evenings they may go to some neighborhood movie theater. Even if they visit friends in another part of the city, they ride underground and the subways are far from being scenic routes. Sundays, if they go out at all, they seek the country. A New York friend knows Westchester better than he does the city itself. Happened to say something about Prospect park and he replied he didn't know anything about the Bronx. As a matter of fact, Prospect is Brooklyn's biggest and best known park.

Former New Yorkers have their troubles too when they return to their native town on a visit. In mind is John Straub, of Plymouth, Mich. He was born and raised where the Pennsylvania terminal now stands. He used to run a street car out of the old Seventh avenue barns at Fiftieth street. His knowledge of New York of the past is vast. But when here on vacation with his wife and daughter last month, he wanted to go to the Battery, he took a surface car on Broadway—and found himself away over near the East river. Broadway street cars no longer run down to the Battery. As a matter of fact, the tracks have been torn up for months.

If a New Yorker does actually get away, even for a considerable length of time, his ego is apt to be deflated on his return. Life here is so complex and the town so big one human unit doesn't count for much except among closest friends and they too are apt to overlook absence. I've been back from the West Coast long enough now to do a lot of prowling but have encountered few acquaintances who knew I'd been away. On the other hand, I made inquiries about a friend only to learn he'd moved to Chicago a year ago.

Town's Main Street Offers Good Fishing
Watoma, Wis.—Joseph Cislak has found a fisherman's paradise. Cislak said hundreds of trout lie in the cool cave beneath the streets.

GIANT SEA LIZARDS ONCE ROAMED WEST

Fossils 50 Million Years Old Are Unearthed.

Fresno, Calif.—Valuable fossil finds which prove that giant sea lizards roamed the Pacific slope in the Cretaceous geologic period about 50,000,000 years ago are attracting scientific attention to the barren hillsides of the coast range, between the San Joaquin valley and the coast strip bordering the Pacific.

Led by geologists from Fresno State college, excavators have unearthed two rare specimens of a mosasaurus and plesiosaurus, both resembling sea lizards, and in a remarkable state of preservation.

The plesiosaurus is believed to be the most valuable from a geologic standpoint. Nearly thirty feet of vertebrae and three large flippers have been removed from a hillside fifty miles east of Fresno. The skeleton had been cut in half by a rock fault, but the head, most prized part of the fossil, was found nearby later.

First Found in Far West.

The plesiosaurus is believed to be the first found west of the Rocky mountains, although they have been located in Kansas and midwestern chalk beds.

The mosasaurus fossil was found within 100 yards of the plesiosaurus. Frank Paiva, gypsum mine operator who discovered the first prehistoric remains, chanced to see a small vertebrae in a dry creek bottom, where it had washed down when the skeleton was exposed by sliding shale. William M. Tucker, head of the Fresno State college geology department, made the skeleton discovery and supervised its excavation.

Charles L. Camp, noted curator of the University of California museum, and S. P. Welles, his assistant, came here to view the specimens. Welles remained to help with the removal of the bones in plaster casts.

Lizards 20 Feet Long.

The first mosasaurus found in the West was uncovered near Gustine, west of Fresno, which also is being excavated. The sea lizards were about twenty feet long, with a long, slender neck and head about three feet long. The tail bones were uncovered first by the geologists.

Many other valuable fossils have been found in this region. Big sea cow skeletons were found near Dos Palos, while innumerable shark's teeth, elephant bones and remains of mastodons have come unearthed. The leg bone of a buffalo also was found.

The expensive process of cleaning, restoring and mounting the plesiosaurus and mosasaurus fossils is expected to take more than a year.

Isolated Eskimos Found Free of Tooth Trouble

Rockport, Ind.—Most primitive Eskimos have little tooth trouble if isolated from traders and white men's food, according to Dr. Taylor Pyle, bureau of Indian affairs supervising dentist for Alaska, who visited here recently.

He said that dental cavities were rare among tribes isolated in Alaska while the Indian who has been in contact with the white men since the coming of the Russians is constantly developing a toothache.

As wards of the government, Eskimos and Indians receive free dental attention, Dr. Pyle said. There are about thirty-five practicing dentists in Alaska and Eskimo and Indian work is distributed among fifteen in widely separated districts. In addition, Dr. Pyle personally attends the more isolated communities, reaching them by plane, boat and dog team.

During four seasons in the Far North, Dr. Pyle has made a study of Eskimo teeth, diet and living conditions in the isolated regions.

Dr. Pyle said that when twins are born the Eskimo believes that there will not be enough brains for both, so only one is permitted to live.

More Men Are Teaching in Schools, Survey Shows

Madison, Wis.—Men more and more are turning to school teaching in Wisconsin, a survey by the state education association reveals.

An increased number of men in the teaching profession during the last seven years applies in rural, village grade, city and high schools.

In 1930, there were 3,000 male teachers in the state's elementary and high schools. The number had grown to 4,500 in 1936. During the same period the number of women teachers in the same schools decreased 600.

Rural schools, strongholds of women teachers some years ago, had more than 1,000 male teachers in 1936 compared to 631 in 1930.

TEXAS' EARLY NEWSPAPERS OUTLINE STATE HISTORY

Denton, Nov. 23.—Among the titles of early newspapers can be found an indirect history of Texas.

First comes "El Mejicano" in 1813 at Nacogdoches, and after several other papers with a Mexican touch "The Constitutional Advocate and Public Advertiser" was issued in Brazoria in 1833. "Advocate of the People's Rights" was another step up and in 1834 the "Texas Republican" appeared.

Another Brazoria paper, "The Single Star," reflects the period of statehood, and in 1839 one finds the annexation mirrored in the title, "National Intelligencer," a Houston paper. A still later publication, begun in Austin in 1846, looks to the future as the "New Era."

TEXANS' SEALS HELP IN TUBERCULOSIS BATTLE

Austin, Nov. 23. — Dorothy Thompson, political columnist of the New York Herald-Tribune, commenting on the annual Christmas Seal Sale says:

"What pleases me about the Christmas Seal idea is its extreme simplicity. Everybody wants to fight tuberculosis, and everyone is bound to be interested—as an egoist and an altruist.

"The Christmas Seal campaign wins support because there are no solicitors to pester the life out of one. I like both the cause and the technique!"

This month people throughout the United States will have an opportunity to contribute by mail to the campaign against tuberculosis supported by the sale of Christmas Seals.

Letters enclosing consignments of Seals, to be sent on approval to thousands of Texas citizens, are now being prepared in the offices of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated local organizations. The recipient is privileged either to mail his contribution in the return envelope which is enclosed or to return the Seals.

Thanks to Electric Servants

Thanksgiving
is now a Woman's

If our service to you during this last year has been instrumental in providing more leisure, more pleasure, and greater happiness, then this Thanksgiving Day is occasion for us to give sincere thanks. Like many of you, we have "grown up" right here in West Texas. This is our twenty-sixth Thanksgiving. So we can remember when the turkey season meant a holiday for every one except Mother. The Thanksgiving dinner was a long, tedious task for her... many hours in the kitchen before a hot, odorous stove. And there were scads of dishes to wash when it was over. This burden on her is no longer necessary, we're happy to recall. The trend toward the all-electric kitchen means complete emancipation for women. Out of this freedom is born the Neoelectress—a modern home maker alert to this new electric age. The vista of a more glamorous future than pots and pans has become a reality, whether it be Thanksgiving or just another day. If you have not yet electrified your kitchen, we suggest that you investigate the economy of Electric Servants ere another holiday rolls around. They have made Thanksgiving a vastly happier day for many of your neighbors... and we are glad!

SUTTON DEALER RECEIVES NEW MODELS OF POPULAR MOTOR CAR

Four models of the 1938 Chevrolet have been received by B & J Motor Co. and are being seen by Sutton county people and others who visit that place of business in the Clarkson building.

The cars received recently were: Master De Luxe Coupe, Master De Luxe Sport Sedan, Master De Luxe Town Sedan, Master Town Sedan.

Noteworthy advances in performance, economy, safety, durability and style, gained through systematic refinement of features

The top of the hood sweeps forward from the cowl in a graceful curve, to cap the almost vertical flat-topped radiator and grille. The latter, a radical improvement over previous design, consists of chromium-plated horizontal bars, flowing back from the center line of the grille to blend into the radiator shell. Accentuating these lines, every fifth bar is of double width, pin striped down the center with vermilion enamel. The new Chevrolet emblem, in cream letters on blue, embossed in a die-cast winged already thoroughly proved in the hands of the public, mark the two passenger car series which Chevrolet is introducing for 1938. Both lines embody an improvement destined to rank as outstanding in the industry this year—the revolutionary new "Tiptoe-matic" clutch combining more positive action with greater operating ease, and adding importantly to the safety, comfort and durability of the car.

The 1938 line, Chevrolet engineers assert, represents important advances over even the highly successful 1937 models.

Refinements extend to bodies, both interiors and exteriors, and to shield, is centered at the top. The speedline which introduced a new style note is continued in 1938.

Other important changes extend to louvers, headlamps and their mountings hood side panels, running boards, and body hardware, interior and exterior. Outside door handles are incurved at their ends for greater safety, and embody the vermilion enameled pin stripe found on the grille. The overall effect of the many refinements in the hood and body is one of greater length and racier, more graceful lines—an impression of fleetness which is confirmed when one takes to the road.

Engine advances for 1938 are numerous units of the chassis, whose design, however, remains fundamentally unchanged. The power plant in both series is the 85-horsepower high-compression valve-in-head six-cylinder engine whose power, smoothness, economy and freedom from service interruptions are already familiar to millions of owners throughout the world.

Outwardly, the most notable change in the new Chevrolet is their advanced styling, which is especially evident at the front end.

mainly in the nature of refinements, although a new and lighter flywheel, in conjunction with the new clutch, affords greater flexibility and quicker response to the controls, and valve-springs, valves, and certain portions of the cooling system have been re-designed rather than simply refined. There is faster transfer of heat from the combustion chambers, especially in the vicinity of the valves, in spite of the fact that the cooling system in 1937 was outstanding for efficiency.

--after all who authorizes a bank to do business

EVERY incorporated bank in the United States conducts its business under a charter issued either by its state government or by the federal government. Before a bank charter is issued specific requirements must be met such as minimum paid in capital and in many cases, paid in surplus.

A charter is the bank's authority from the government, state or federal, to carry on a banking business under the regulation of banking laws and supervision of government authorities. For this reason, it is much more accurate to say that the United States has a "chartered banking system," rather than a "private banking system."

cher, Claude Thomas Driskell, Robert Allen Simmons, Katha Lea Keene (football sweetheart), Mattie Mae Friess, Rena Glen Shurley, Margaret Ada Martin, Serena Trainer.

L. W. Elliott, school board president, spoke briefly of the group's interest in the pupils and reminded that the school likely will soon have a gymnasium.

"Thoroughbreds" was the subject of a talk by John Eaton who described nine types of football players not wanted on any football team if that team is to accomplish things. "The boy who fights hard in every game with a smile on his face" was his description of the opposite of the undesirable types named.

F. T. Jones, superintendent of schools, acknowledged with "The Last Roundup" the tribute of Rena Glen Shurley to "An Old Cowhand."

Libby Jo Wallace presented the school with a silk, red and black banner given by herself, R. W. Wallace, George D. Wallace, and Eugene Wallace. A figure of a charging broncho was sewed in the middle of a brilliant field of red. The banner is to be displayed at the school and used at games.

O. P. Adams, coach, contributed "Brands and Ear-Marks," consisting of introduction of each of the following football players with a few words about the work of each: Herbert Andrews, James D. Trainer, Edward Archer, Basil Taylor, Noble Poindexter (student manager), Hollis Bricker, Ramon Virgen, Pedro Cerbantes, Albert Tjerina, Leon Muckleroy, Harold Briscoe.

O. L. Richardson, Paschail Odom, Claude Thomas Driskell, Thomas Thorp, Odell Odom, Vernon Morris, A. W. Awalt, Robert Allen Simmons, Francis Archer, Jim Taylor, Web Elliott.

The dessert was a broncho figure molded of ice cream. After the banquet a dance was held at the Scout Hall.

Pep Squad mothers who prepared the dinner were Mrs. M. G. Shurley, Mrs. Richard Vehle, Mrs. J. S. Glasscock, Mrs. R. D. Trainer. They were assisted by a number of mothers of students.
