

Duck Creek Soil Conservation District NEWS NOTES

RILEY WOOTEN, Chm. OSCAR McGINTY, Sec.
WILL WRIGHT TOM MURDOCK A. A. FRY

Interesting discussions have been held at the meeting of co-operators of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

In the meeting of Conservation Groups 29 and 48 last Thursday night, Horace Woods gave some valuable information on seeding alfalfa. He was of the opinion that each of the farms represented had suitable soils for raising alfalfa.

L. A. Welborn said he has used a tandem disc in preparing wheat land for seeding, and is well satisfied with the results.

When Cal Martin made a remark about the number of cattle he has been carrying on his creek pasture and said the pasture is in good condition and the cattle are fat, the group decided they would meet at a future date to inspect his grass land. Martin jokingly promised to barbecue one of the yearlings if each one present would help him with his work.

Fred Jennings was interested in the completion of his terrace system.

Everett Roberson said one good way to get the water into the soil is through the use of a subsoiler to break up the hard pan that usually exists in cultivated fields.

J. W. Pickens suggested planting two rows of cotton, leaving two rows blank, planting two rows of peas or grain sorghums, leaving another two rows blank, followed by another two rows of cotton etc. He believes this method of strip cropping will control wind erosion, and that one can produce just as much following this method as having the field planted solid.

Horace Gibson, along with others of the group, plans to establish some alfalfa.

J. O. Morris said he plans to control wind erosion by leaving a large portion of the crop residue on the surface of the ground during critical wind erosion periods.

J. C. Dopson, in a meeting with Conservation Group 27, told the group about the following experiences he had seeding alfalfa. He prepared his land by using a one-way plow, going over it several times. It was free of weeds and was clear of any dead vegetation. He got it planted before the rains of last month and it came up to a good stand. However, the norther, along with the sand, killed practically all of the alfalfa. He plans to try again another year but intends to have something on the ground in the way of dead vegetation to protect the young plants from the wind.

These meetings are being held to determine the amount of conservation work that is to be done next year. From these estimates the District Supervisors will be in a better position to guide the activities of the District.

The cooperators will be notified of the time and place of the next meeting in their group.

Now... telephone factories are working for you

More than 246,000 people in the Southwest have had to wait for telephone service for one reason: Telephone factories were working for war.

Now those factories are turning from war to peace. All the facilities and know-how that did the war job are beginning to produce the mountains of telephone equipment—switchboards, dial apparatus, cable, wire, and instruments—needed here at home.

The task ahead is not easy. In the next 12 months we expect to be able to add one telephone for every 10 now in service. They will serve most of those who are waiting. For others, in localities where heavy construction and installation is necessary, it may take longer.

But we've made a start; we're on our way. Now all our efforts are aimed at making the wait just as short as possible—to provide telephone service to all who want it, when they want it.

County Delegates Inspect Amherst Co-Op Hospital

A delegation from Dickens county went to Amherst last Tuesday to investigate and get information about the South Plains Co-Op hospital there.

Organized in 1941, it has grown from 500 members to 1,750 members. From $25,000 to $140,000. Employees: three doctors and 27 nurses.

An institution like this would be a real asset to any community in rendering one of the greatest services to humanity.

Soon after the organization of the Co-Op hospital at Amherst, a law was passed prohibiting the building of other sub institutions.

Seeing the need for more rural health facilities, a bill was sponsored by Farm Bureau, Texas Grange, The Co-Op and womens organizations and introduced by Senator Moffitt of Chillicothe.

The State legislature passed a law in 1945 whereby communities of less than 2,500 could cooperatively build and operate community health centers.

It will take real community cooperation to build and operate a Co-Op hospital. If you are interested and willing to work for such institutions, contact Floy Watson, Dickens County Farm Bureau President.

A tough spot for John Wayne in this scene from "Back to Bataan," a story of the men who took the Philippines!

'BACK TO BATAAN' PHILIPPINE EPIC

Guerrilla warfare in the Philippines is the basis of Hollywood's latest thrill film, "Back to Bataan," which stars John Wayne in a striking dramatic role.

Opening with memorable scenes of the daring rescues of the American prisoners in Cabanatuan, the picture goes on to reveal the way in which our heroic "little brown brothers" formed bands of fighting men to harass the Japs conquerors after the fall of Manila, and how their efforts materially aided in the recent recapture of the Islands.

Wayne portrays an American colonel assigned to the perilous task of organizing the guerrilla bands and of keeping in touch with American headquarters in Australia. Using escaped soldiers, Filipino Scouts and R.O.T.C. youths as the nucleus of his "command," the colonel builds up an efficient and elusive army of jungle fighters who keep the Japs continually off balance with their surprise attacks.

Anthony Quinn as a Filipino officer and Fely Franquelli as Filipina screen star have the romantic leads. Re-creation of the notorious "March of Death" and scenes of the dramatic landing on Leyte are highlights of the drama.

SIDELIGHTS FROM WASHINGTON

By GEORGE MAHON

By law Congress has given war veterans priority rights in the purchase of surplus government property. But the veteran has not been having much luck in actually getting a chance to buy this surplus property. Some time ago I joined with other interested members of Congress in urging and demanding that the Surplus Property Board make available to the veteran his legal preference to acquire surplus property.

Effective October 15, a new procedure was put into operation whereby a veteran who desires to secure surplus property makes application to the nearest District Office of the Smaller War Plants Corporation for the items he wishes to buy. The SWPC offices which are nearest western Texas are located at the Mercantile Bank Building, Dallas; The Caples Building, El Paso; and the Key Building in Oklahoma City. The SWPC grants a priority certificate to the veteran and seek to help locate the property for him.

Effective November 5, surplus property in Texas is actually disposed of by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Surplus Property Division, Neil P. Anderson Building Fort Worth, Texas.

Heavy machinery and industrial equipment are disposed of by the Regional RFC office, Cotton Exchange Building, Dallas. But the Fort Worth office handles all consumer type goods—the items in which veterans and people generally are interested.

The articles in which veterans have expressed the greatest interest are as follows, and in the order named: automobiles, trucks, radios, photographic equipment.

One stumbling block in the way of veterans who have sought to buy surplus property is the fact that federal agencies, the states and subdivisions thereof, have a prior right to buy the property. The veteran will now have priority over the general public but not over governmental agencies.

During the period from October 23 to November 6, 9100 surplus jeeps were offered for sale to the federal agencies, states and sub-divisions. All of them probably be sold in this period, but if any remain, they will be offered to the veterans. The general public will be next in line. This will be the general procedure This will be the general procedure followed in future sales of various types of surplus property.

The rate of disposal of surplus property is increasing rapidly. There are billions of dollars worth of surplus property to be sold, and the amount sold thus far is only a drop in the bucket. Veterans will soon have much better opportunities to acquire property in which they are interested and which many of them have sought in vain to secure.

I have asked the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to have a man specially assigned to each large disposal office whose duty it would be to eliminate red tape and facilitate sale of surplus property to interested veterans. However, for the present the veteran will have to secure his preference certificates through the District offices of the Smaller War Plants Corporation.

Obie O. Lee Gets Army Discharge

Publishers' Families Arrive in Spur, With Usual Move Difficulty

The families of the publishers of The Texas Spur arrived in the Metropolis of Dickens county early Tuesday morning. At 1:30 a.m. to be exact.

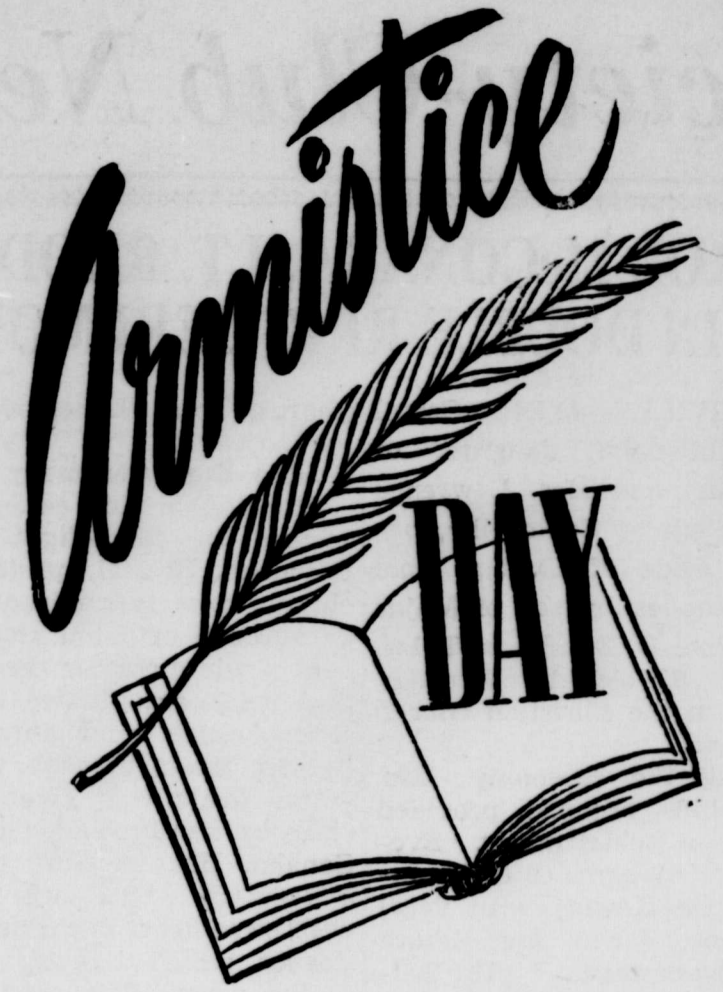

Included were Mrs. Wade Scott and two sons, Joe 11, and Michael, age 5, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wed Reid. Leaving Italy, Texas, as 5 p.m. Monday after having a van load out their household goods that day, they drove to Spur Monday night. And as per usual moving experiences, the truck broke down. The moving van, apparently in tip top condition, broke down at Jayton, just a few miles short of the ultimate goal, and late Tuesday night was waiting on another truck to come from Dallas to bring the van on into Spur. Thus the entire home equipment of the Reids, including wearing apparel and other items, were just almost in reach but not quite.

But the Junior partner, Mr. Scott, is most happy to have them here.

ADVERTISING PAYS

Mrs. Katie Buchanan came in Tuesday to pay for a classified ad in The Spur, and said she had sold the farm advertised "The ad really got results, as I have sold the place," she said. Although she sold the place advertised at $60 per acre, she has another ad on another place at $25 per acre. She also has an apartment house in Spur and is re-decorating one of the apartments this week.

WAR PLANTS TURNED TO MAKING ELECTRONIC TOYS

If pop is more intrigued with kid's playthings this Christmas than with that polka dot tie, credit the manufacturers who have turned from war work to electronic toys—to keep plants open and workers drawing pay and to delight fun-loving Americans.

One new game consists of a metal ball swinging over a board of tenpins. Control buttons utilize electronic force, located underneath, to direct the ball.

There's also a black light kit for painting pictures with fluorescent paints.

Let's tear your electric bill to pieces

GO AHEAD, lady—tear your electric bill apart and see what it's made up of.

This little piece lights all your lamps. This one plays your radios. This cools and keeps your food. This washes your clothes. This takes care of the cooking and ironing and cleaning. And so on.

That's a lot of different jobs to be covered by one small bill. And—hold on! You've paid for more than just electricity. About 25c of every dollar you pay for electric service goes in turn for taxes which benefit your community and help carry our heavy federal government expenditures.

Taxes UP... General cost of living UP... You'd think the cost of electric service would be up, too. But it isn't. The overall rate has even come down a little since the war began. Actually—

The average family gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did fifteen years ago!

This welcome fact comes from the careful planning and progressive spirit of America's business-managed, self-supporting, tax-paying electric companies.

Armistice Day

"Lest We Forget..."

On this Armistice Day we honor the dead of two wars—the valiant heroes of World War I who gave their lives to win a Peace that wavered—their valiant sons who gave their lives in World War II that the Peace for which their fathers died might be saved and embrace the world forever. For these men who shall never return, we bow our heads in prayer—to these men we pay tribute this Armistice Day.
