NOTICE—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any individual, firm or corporation, which may appear in the columns of The Texas Spur will gladly be corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

Porter Day was here Monday and subscribed for the Texas Spur to go to him in care of the Three Rivers Ranch, Three Rivers, N. M. for which we thank him. He said he had to have the Spur. "Just couldn't get along out there without the paper," he said. And that made this editor happy, because there is nothing we like better than subscribing customers, unless it is advertising ones, and we have a lot of both. If the Lord lets us have health and the "elbow grease" holds out, we hope to produce a better paper, one that Spur and all the surrounding country can be proud of. We realize that we haven't been able to do much yet, for moving, getting set up and going, without sufficient help has been a great handicap, but we will get organized in time, and we will finally get some printers if we have to grow up a grandson to do it.

H. E. Davis is an old Sulphur Springs boy, down where Carnation milk is produced from contented cows and put up in an ultra-modern plant, and where the farmers have been made very prosperous from selling milk. The farmers here have the same opportunity with the Spur Creamery here to furnish a good market for milk, and many of them are prospering from the sale of milk. Davis is an expert tailor with the City Cleaners, and is a fine fellow with it. In fact H. E. is among the best, and has been mighty fine in welcoming us to Spur. He made that welcome stick with the cash for subscription to The Spur, and that was OK too.

J. B. Kimmel has his paper changed from Alton to Spur and we were glad to have him drop in. Come again.

Duck Creek Soil Conservation District NEWS NOTES

RILEY WOOTEN, Chm. OSCAR MCGINTY, Sec.
WILL WRIGHT TOM MURDOCK (A. A. FK)

Judging from the amount of soil and moisture conservation work planned to be done another year by the co-operators of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, extra equipment will be badly needed. The Supervisors have hopes of obtaining additional equipment from the Government to do this type of work. Eynum Britton, along with many others, wants to rebuild his terrace system.

Charlie Kimmel, in a meeting with Conservation Groups 28 and 44, told of his plan to compare adjoining plots of land in crop production. The difference in treatment will be only in the method of crop residue management. One terrace interval will be prepared by turning all of the trash and crop residue under. The adjoining terrace interval will be prepared by leaving all of the crop residue on the surface of the soil. The group decided to inspect this experiment during the following year, checking the growth of crops, amount of work required, and the moisture content of the soils. W. K. Walker has been using a method in crop production whereby he has a year-long temporary pasture on the same piece of land. Two rows of sudan are planted in the spring, leaving two rows blank. The following fall these two blank rows are planted to small grain. Sudan is replanted in the same place the next spring. Walker is well pleased with the results. He advises having several small fields of temporary pastures. He explains that temporary pastures as well

H. G. Hull, former publisher of this paper, has taken over the Sudan News at Sudan and we feel sure he will prosper there. He is no stranger to the Sudan field and people, and thus has a chance to start right out with success, which we feel sure he will do. He worked faithfully to help us get started in our new field of work here and we appreciate his very much. He has had much experience and knows the printing game, thus we give him our best wishes.

Will Watson on route 2 came in and paid up for The Texas Spur and we were made happy again. And Will was made happy too, for he wants the county paper and puts down the cash to get it. We hope to get acquainted with these good people in future where we will know something about them, what they do, and how much of it, and how many boys and cows each one has. Until then we will have to mark time in a general way. Thanks Mr. Watson. Come back to see us.

H. C. Keith of route 1 is a new subscriber to the Texas Spur and we thank him very much. We know he is a good man for he subscribed for the county paper. When a good man moves to a community and gets his cooking stove up, and the mattresses placed, he usually goes after the local paper to get the news. Thanks, Mr. Keith.

Miss May Bell Thornton, city, has our thanks for payment on subscription to The Spur. We appreciate the many who are coming in to get acquainted and to see about their paper. She also paid up for the Lubbock Avalanche which gives her more good reading material. Thanks very much.

H. E. Bennett has his paper changed to Crosbyton from Artesia, N. M.

Foreman Family Has Reunion at Foreman Chappel

A family reunion with all members of the family present with the exception of "Sonny" Foreman, who is in Honolulu, was enjoyed last weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Foreman in the Foreman Chappel community.

This was the first time in five years that those present had all been together including: L. D. Foreman, discharged last week after serving three years in the Pacific; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tapp of Carlsbad, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. John Wiles of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Foreman and children of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Foreman and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Foreman of Spur; Thurman Spivey, brother of Mrs. Merle Foreman, who was enroute to Fort Sam Houston to receive release from the Army.

The natives dig underground tunnels to carry the water from the source to the people. The tunnels are dug by hand and take many months.

Enter into His gates with Thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: be thankful unto Him and bless His name. Ps. 100:4.

WHICH IS MORE IMPORTANT?
In every direction we are faced with the seeming inevitability of increased government control, although we talk of less control. We resemble a person looking back at something he wants as he walks away from it. The answer to such a paradox must be that we want less government control badly but not as badly as we want other things.

For example, while we dislike the drift toward autocratic government, we dislike the danger of inflation more, and resort to government control in the hope of averting it. Again, while we dislike the same trend evident in compulsory arbitration of labor disputes, we dislike the disputes more than we dislike to be governed by decree.

Thinking people realize how far toward dictatorial government we have retrogressed. We dislike it, but we dislike even more keeping ourselves well enough informed that we can speak and act authoritatively. "Ma'nny a man," said Somers Maugham, "will sacrifice his very life to escape learning the multiplication table." We think, and we have qualms, but we must do more than hastily brush aside the qualms we do have while centering our attention upon things about which we feel better informed. It is the duty of each of us to accept nothing apathetically, to seek the truth, to clamor for the truth, for knowledge carries decision and power. Knowledge can decide what is important and power can do something about it.

Until we feel that stopping the drift toward dictatorial government is more important than anything else, the drift will not be stopped, either will inflation nor labor trouble.

LT. SIMMONS ARRIVES IN STATES FROM OVERSEAS

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Simmons received a telegram a few days ago from Lt. Woodrow Simmons saying he had arrived in the States and he and Mrs. Simmons and daughter, Chary Ann, would visit them soon.

O. L. McShan of Brady, was in Spur for several days this week on his annual visit to inspect his property here. He dropped into the Texas Spur office and praised very highly our town and surrounding territory.

Mrs. Will Watson of Route 2 is a woman after our own heart. She pays up this week for two years renewal subscription to the Texas Spur. We like sending our paper to those who do not want to miss a single issue.

Cecil Fox Asks Hunters to Report All Banded Birds

Cecil Fox, State game warden of Spur, has reported that a mourning dove banded in Blue Rapids, Kansas, was killed here recently by W. F. Gilbert. It was ascertained from the number on the dove's band that Miss Edna Stevens of Blue Rapids banded the bird, date of banding not given.

Mr. Fox states that by means of these numbered bands on the birds, important investigations relative to the migration and other facts in the life histories of North American birds are being advanced. Success in the bird banding work is therefore dependent upon the reports of persons all over the country on such banded birds as come to their attention. Anyone who kills or captures ducks, geese, doves, or quail, or other birds with bands are asked to report them to Mr. Fox or to the Texas Spur.

Mr. Gibson, the shoe man at Swarz store is a former Fort Worth man. He said when he was first approached about coming to Spur he didn't think it would suit him, but since he has been here four months and has bought a home, he says he likes Spur a lot. "In fact this is the best small town I have ever seen, and it has such a large territory it has excellent business," he remarked. "And I like to work at this store, it is a pleasure and I find the owners fine people to work for."

Raul English is a busy man, with a big grocery store to operate, he has a right to be in these days of shortages but we like him a lot because he never passes us on the street that he does not speak and say hello. That is a thing that anyone appreciates and especially a rank stranger in the town. Raul, put 'er there.

Each candidate had a campaign manager. Charles Lewis campaigned for Charles Lee and made some lengthy speeches in praise of his candidate. Jimmy Smith campaigned for Robbie Gibson and it was thought by some that he needed a zipper on his mouth. Joan Hagins was campaign manager for Carolyn Hays and Donnie Smith for Bobbie Joe Walsworth.

Election results were: Charles Lee, 121 votes; Carolyn Hays 110; Bobbie Joe Walsworth 88, and Bobbie Gibson, 79.

7-L LITERATURE AND NATURE CLUB

The Literature and Nature Club met Friday at Mrs. Kelley's English class.

Carole Deavers, leader for the day was introduced by the president, and announced the following program:

"The Life of Handel" by Joyce Daugherty; "The Life of Mozart" by T. F. Baze; "The Life of Beethoven" by Dean Henderson; "Selections by Beethoven," by Annette Lee; "Narcissus" played by Lucy Nell Boothe. The club members decided that every Friday they would have certain pupils play well-known musical compositions.

What is happening between B. J. Whitner and Bobbie Walsworth?

Mr. Williams And Mr. Hays Pay Us Visit

Mr. Williams visited 8th grade English class and urged us to read good books, not just for pleasure, but to learn. He recommended several books about Nature, one he especially liked being "The Handbook for Nature." He also encouraged us to read biographies because he believes reading the lives of great men will inspire us to do better. He recited the last verse of "The Psalm of Life" by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow to inspire us to read the lives of great men.

The 8th grade English class had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. Hays Tuesday. He talked to the class about the number of books one should read. He said that Theodore Roosevelt, who had many duties, took time to read 50 books a year, and that we should read one book a week. We enjoyed his visit very much.

8TH GRADE LITERATURE CLUB

The Good Literature Club was called to order by President Pinie Lou Dupree. Duane Durham was leader. The roll call was newspaper names, and each member showed samples of newspapers. "The Dummy," was discussed by Mrs. Kelley.

A committee of Charles Lee, Charles Lewis and Carolyn Hays was appointed to see Mr. Williams about a publication for Junior High.

Many Visit Our School on Day So Designated

The English classes of Spur Junior High school were opened to parents and partons of the school during Book Week. Results were most gratifying. Some twenty parents visited during the week. We feel that parents learn to know better the child's and the teachers' problems if they take enough time to come and see their child working with his or her group. It encourages both the child and the teacher.

The following visited Jr. High during the week:

Mr. Robert Williams, principal Junior High; Mr. A. Z. Hays, High school principal; Miss Rena Noack, English teacher; Miss Florence Noack, English teacher in High school; Mrs. Homer Boothe, Mrs. Richardson Gibson, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Walsworth, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Bob George, Mrs. Slack, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Emma Lee, Mrs. H. E. Berry, Mrs. Edith Durham, principal of East Ward; Mrs. L. D. Ratliff, Mrs. Wade Scott, and son, Michael Wade, Mrs. Pullis and her fifth grade, Mrs. Clemmons and her fifth grade. Our 21st visitor was Mr. FoFster Cook, Supt. of schools. We appreciate his interest in us.

Our Teacher

A FEATURE STORY BY NEIL LOVE

Our Eighth grade English class is getting to put Junior High news in the paper. Mrs. Kelley, our English teacher, is helping us. She helps us in many ways to make our English classes interesting as well as informative.

She has the most interesting pictures all around the room and tells us all about songs and poems and a lot about our flag.

The color scheme for the English room is gold and brown which was chosen because it carries out the theme of "autumn time." Our pot plants are covered in gold and Thanksgiving turkeys lurk about. On one bulletin board, one may see book lists and leaflets to tell about interesting books for boys and girls.

On another board there are charts on the Parts of speech. These charts help us to see what we are talking about.

In our room is also a display of our flag, and the flags of the United Nations.

A statue of Longfellow sits over our library shelves. We like our English room.

7TH GRADE 4-11 CLUB

The 7th grade 4-11 club met and discussed "Production of Clean Milk," and how to insure cleanliness of milk sold to customers. Virginia Thomason was elected Christmas program chairman.—Dorothy Williams, Reporter

8TH GRADE HOBBY NEWS

The club was called to order by president, Charles Ray Watson, and had the following program on "Rabbits." Leader, Don Childress; "How to Catch Rabbits," Billy McClure; "The Australian White Rabbits," Dortha Alexander. An exhibit and error box was conducted. In room 6-J the following program was given: "Some Old Dishes," Eloise Fitzgerald; "Pictures of Dishes," Joyce Hammand.

Education Week Observed Nov. 11-17 By School

BY ANNETTE LEE
The twenty-fifth observance of American Education Week covered the period from Nov. 11 to Nov. 17.

At San Francisco representatives from different nations have met and made studies and reports on national cultural and educational matters.

For a quarter of a century different organizations have tried to emphasize the importance of education in a democracy. The results have been highly satisfactory.

During the past four years interest in winning the war has been so intense that the observance of American Education Week seems to have received less attention than in the years immediately preceding the war. There ought to be a revival in the interest of this special week. This week the question comes to our minds, "What is education and how may it be used?" Education is the culture of the mind. The object of education is nothing else than human happiness. It has great power. If used in the right way it will help make a better world rise from the ashes of the old.

The future of the United States rests with its children. So, not only this week but all weeks must we be concerned with education.

7-K CLUB MEETS

The 7-K English class met and was called to order by the president, Margie Campbell. The program was on "Conversation" and it was directed by Kenneth Watson. A conversation on Armistice was given by Douglas McArthur and Floyd Arnold. Wayne Alexander gave "America" by Sidney Lanier. Sara Oachoa told why "America" was written, and quoted Francis Smith's "America." The error box was opened and read. Patriotic singing concluded the program.

Ada Lou Chambliss and Robt. Ensey have been said to like each other.

"BOOKS"
BY JAMES KUYKENDALL
Books, books, seem to be every where.
Books at home,
Books at school,
Books somewhere, somewhere,
Books of adventure and of travel.
Books of dust and gravel,
Books of thrill,
Books of real,
Books of life,
Books of strife,
Books are fine,
But let's forget them for the time.

JOKES AND JEERS

Watch out Annette you're going to lose Billy!
What's a matter B. J.? Losing your talent?
Reading glass is an ideal place for Donnie Smith and Joe B. Whitner to make eyes.
Ben Black doesn't know it but he's in danger. (Jean Karr).
Red hair and brown hair go together. Ella Mae Copeland and Jackie Cloud).
Nell Hopkins and Lawrence Cook may be tall and short but they make a cute couple.
Bertha Jean Whitner can't seem to make up her mind what boy she likes best.
Darven Callahan won the last struggle over Margie Campbell.
Billy McDaniels is still downhearted since his girl friend left. (Mary Stark) Poor Billy!
Has Jane Karr split up with Don Condon? I don't see them together any more.

Do you remember that cute boy, Roy Knowles that used to go to school here? Patsy Hopkins has been hearing from him regularly.
Elbert Hurst sometimes gets fresh. Don't you Elbert?
Donald Ray Hill seems to be going with some mysterious cutie. Who is she Donald Ray?
Gale Reese is just about to lose her hearthrob, Hershel Wade.
Peggy Reid and Lorell Hargrove seem to like each other.
Beverly, who is that black haired boy I saw you with? Or what color was his hair? I thought it was Franklyn Gabriel.
Morris Collett seems to be having fun lately. (Toby, have you still the same girl friends).
Bill Fry went to stay all night with his grandmother. He slept with his granddad. The next morning he went in the kitchen where grandmother was cooking breakfast. Grandmother said: "Did you sleep well?" Bill said: "Not very well, granddad purred too loudly."

Jimmie Nell Bowman's boy friend is said to be Joe Bell. Can it be so?
Waynell Macarty seems to be trying to keep her boyfriend a secret. Isn't it Orville Cloud?
Dwane really does make love with the girls behind him.
Pinie Dupree really has been having fun in the show lately.
How have Mary Hightower and Elbert Hurst been getting around lately?
Beanpole and Gracie really do have fun these nights.

Elbert: Did you hear of the great tragedy?
Lanoy: No, what it?
Elbert: Charles Lewis ate his mother and father so he could go to the orphan picnic.
Darvin and Morris were talking. Darvin remarked: "I'm hungry."
Morris: "I am too. Where do you want to eat?"
"Let's go eat up the street."
Morris: "I don't like asphalt."

MRS WALKER'S ROOM
Each pupil in Mrs. Walker's 6th grade took the part of one of the persons in his history book and told about it.—"Skippy" Reporter.

Showing at The Palace Theatre

James Cagney as a hard-hitting reporter and Sylvia Sydney as a seductive Oriental beauty, match wits in the exciting, "Blood On The Sun."

Jap "Mien Kampf" Is Exposed in Film Showing at Palace

The Japs have their "Mein Kampf" too! And it antedates the Hitler version. While the world knew all about the Nazi "handbook of crime" almost from the moment it was finished, little was known of the Jap plan-for-death.
Labeled the "Tanaka Memorial" it was smuggled out of Japan and presented by the Chinese to the League of Nations. The Japs promptly denounced it as a forgery and few people, perusing its bald-faced assertions of world conquest, were disposed to take it seriously.
The Memorial received little publicity. However, time bore out its grisly schedule. The Manchurian Grab, the Shanghai Incident, the Pearl Harbor sneak-raid and other brutal acts of aggression wrote "check" on the bloody margin of the "Tanaka Memorial" to prove that the Tokyo plan-for-death was no mere poet's dream—and no forgery!
How the Memorial was smuggled out of Japan remains a mystery. The motion picture "Blood on the Sun," produced by William Cagney for United Artists release and co-starring the redoubtable James Cagney and Sylvia Sidney, shows how it might have happened. "Blood on the Sun" will be shown at the Palace in Spur on Sunday and Monday.
James plays a hard-hitting American newspaper editor in Tokyo who learns of the Memorial and determines to divulge its startling contents to the world. He succeeds in this objective after a series of hair breadth escapes that make for one of the most exciting films of James' career. However, the picture is more than a slambang story of action and heroics. It provides a serious and documented portrait of the Japanese leaders in infamy including Tojo; Admiral Yamamoto who promised to "dictate peace terms in the White House"; Mitsuru Toyama, head of the notorious Black Dragon Society and Baron Giichi Tanaka, author of the Memorial.

Tanaka died in 1929 but his sinister and evil personality lives on in the Memorial which charted the path of Jap savagery and murder, long before the world suspected the land of cherry blossoms and lotus was planning treachery behind its polished and courteous smiles and death behind its delicate tracery of Japanese prints.

Carriers help speed Long Distance

A big help in our job of providing urgently needed long distance circuits is a device called a "carrier."

Resembling somewhat the equipment inside your radio, carriers send or "carry" several long distance calls over one pair of wires at the same time.

By installing carriers as fast as they're available, we're trying to provide as many new circuits as we can, as quickly as we can, to handle today's heavy load of long distance calls. Meanwhile, if any of your calls are delayed, we know you'll understand why.
