Whoa, Now!

By Greedy Lacey

One of the plagues of weekly newspapers of our calibre is the old press. Ours would be more appropriate in a museum somewhere. When it's running pretty good, we look at it and say that it may be old, but it's still a good old press.

But last night about nine the report came back from Henry Simmons (one of the best guys you'll find with a welding torch) that maybe this time the old thing had busted once too often.

If you get your paper on time you'll know he fixed it - if you get it one day late you'll know it took a good while to fix it - if you don't get it at all, you'll know it couldn't be fixed.

There may not be too many printers in town, but a lot of people belong on our courtesy staff. Simmons is in charge of our welding. Cal Ramsey handles our machine shop work, John King is foreman of belting and belt lacing. James Wright is electrical advisor. Alfred Walker is the legal eagle, and preachers Cal Wright and Tommie Allen care for our moral and spiritual needs. And then of course, there are our critics, but they are too numerous to list.

A few weeks ago we spent a most enjoyable evening over at the fire house eating oysters with the fireboys and the city commission and employees. These are truly a fine bunch of men and it was truly an honor to be invited to eat with them.

Often we fail to duly recognize and commend those who have volunteered to risk their necks and sacrifice their time for the protection of our property and loved ones. (Just to prove this point, we're a couple of weeks mentioning the fire meal we ate with them!)

The only recompense these firemen get is the satisfaction of serving their fellowman. We can better assure them of this satisfaction by showing them our true appreciation.

Thanks to the oysters and fellowship, fellows - and especially for being the finest volunteer fire department in the country.

Charlie Nickels and the other officials of the Dickens County Farm Bureau have been working long and hard to do all within their power to stave off the impending injustices in the 1954 cotton acreage allotment setup.

They have informed our congressmen, the chairman of the house agriculture committee and others in Washington of the local situation in a very thorough and, we hope, effective way. A recent draft of recommendations from this organization was received and acknowledged favorably by Congressman Mahon, Congressman O. C. Fisher, Senator Lyndon Johnson, and Congressman Clifford Hope, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee.

The general gist of these acknowledgements is that the plight of Dickens County and other drought-stricken areas will be duly considered.

We believe that Nickels and his staff are being a definite service both to the farmer and the businessman in their untiring work on this project.

Chamber of Commerce Doings... Buzbee, Vernon, Steele, Bragg Named To Chamber Board of Directors

By Norton Barrett, Mgr.
Lynn Buzbee, F. F. Vernon, Mac Steele and Mansel Bragg were recently elected to the board of directors of the Spur Chamber of Commerce.

The ballot tally was canvassed and approved at the regular meeting of the board Wednesday.

We feel personally that the membership has chosen wisely and that these new directors will serve to the best of their ability for the betterment of our community.

Keep in mind March 16. This is the date of the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

This is going to be a come-as-you-are affair with everything comfortably informal. We're expecting a large turnout, so plan now to attend.

It's really a thrill to us to be able to announce the new paved road from here down to Clairmont.

Individuals, committees, delegations and organizations have sought such a road for years, and now it is to soon be a reality. Our persistence and patience are to soon pay off.

Let's listen in on a conversation between Pete Progress and the Dreamy Philosopher.

"Hey, Homer, watch where you're walking!" warned Pete Progress.

"Thanks, Pete," said Homer. "I was thinking about something else."

"Seems like you are thinking overtime. What's on your mind?"

"Well, I've been sorta dreaming about living someplace where everything is perfect and everyone is happy."

"Kid of Utopia, you might say," mused Pete. "Anything wrong with this place?"

"Not bad, but not perfect. There are a few changes that could be made. For instance--"

"Hold up, Homer. I suggest you go down and join the chamber of commerce."

"What's that - a philosophical society?"

"Nope, more like a grist mill. You insert an idea in one end and a deed comes out the other end. Chambers of commerce all over the country work to make their communities more attractive to live and work in. And speaking of philosophical societies, the fellows who belong to the chamber have a pretty fine one. They believe that it is more rewarding to give than to take. That's why they are constantly working to improve our school system, promote safety measures, solve traffic problems, beautify the town, provide recreational facilities."

"So long, Pete."

"Where are you headed?"

"Down to the chamber. I've got a couple of ideas to grind out."

Your chamber of commerce is working for you. Why don't you help?

SPUR-TO-CLAIREMONT ROAD IS SCHEDULED AS SECONDARY HIWAY

Dickens and Keet counties have been working on for a long time when Dickens County gets to the Crosby County line and Garza County gets to the Crosby County line on the south, there will be a gap of approximately 6 miles that will not be paved from Spur to Post.

Garza County voted bonds not long ago to make a four-lane highway coming east on Highway 380 approximately 10 miles out of Post and at the same time voted bonds to purchase the right-of-way for the farm-to-market road going to Kalgary.

It looks like that the ones who have been working on these roads for the last 20 years will get to see their dreams come true," states Barrett.

County Commissioner Arner Watson states that the road to Kalgary will be built in the very near future. This is one road that the people around here

MOVE OF P. M. A. OFFICE BACK TO DICKENS IS POSTPONED BY STATE COMMITTEE; HEARING PENDING

Plans to move the Dickens County PMA office back to Dickens were at least temporarily postponed this week when the office, now located here in Spur, was instructed by the state PMA committee in College Station not to move until a hearing on the matter can be held.

The county committee composed of Coy Dopsis of Dry Lake, Ben Overstreet of Dickens and Joe Rose of Afton made a trip to College Station Thursday of last week to discuss the county cotton acreage allotment situation and the movement of the office back to Dickens.

It is reported that the state committee told the county committee the office could be moved if they so desired. The move was originally scheduled for yesterday morning.

However, Elmer Shugart and others interested in having the office left in Spur contacted the state office by telephone Monday of this week seeking at least a postponement of the move pending an investigation. Although nothing was done definitely during the telephone conversation, Shugart reports that the local office received a telegram instructing the office not to move before a hearing could be held. The wire was reportedly received Tuesday of this week.

The PMA office was moved from Dickens to Spur two years ago when Bob Hahn of Spur, L. L. Delisle of Dickens and Rose composed the county committee. Although no definite date has yet been set for the hearing, it is reported by Shugart that it will probably be within the next two weeks.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

Present congressional session may slash White House powers.

Bricker amendment limiting presidential treaty-making powers is just example of trend.

Personalities are not issue.

Rather, there is belief U. S. Presidency has become too big a job.

When American government was relatively small, power to make many appointments almost demands Congress confirm any appointment.

But now with government so many fields it is hard for any man to know nearly about many important appointments.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark's recent ceremonial address over now dead Harry Dexter White revealed White House actually doesn't know how much about whom it appoints.

Many say appointment of Edward Hoover as Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, is another case in point. Although confirmation of his appointment was considered in hearing because many Congressmen had misgivings, the tradition that appointments from the White House are akin to sacred was prevailed.

These hearings revealed Hoover, as an attorney, often fought important FTC decisions. As attorney for several corporations involved in anti-monopoly cases, he did brilliant work in constructing action on anti-trust laws.

One of his former clients is the Automatic Canteen Company.

against whom the FTC opened a case in 1943 which is still pending. Reappointing government in this case was a very able FTC attorney, Austin Fickner.

It is very interesting to note that when FTC cut Hoover, Fickner was among the first to walk the plank.

Robert Parrish, executive director for FTC, states in effect, this was "just one of those things." The FTC, he claims, had to adopt an involved formula for staff pruning based on "rank" of service, veteran's status, seniority in grade, et cetera, et cetera.

Many of the oldest staff members were also dismissed, regardless of the importance of cases they were working on.

Parrish claims that as the biggest of many bureaus under FTC, the Hoover's division was panned the hardest.

Some bureaus confine most of their time to reading radio and TV commercials and newspaper and magazine ads, or otherwise shuffling papers. But none were whacked so drastically as the anti-trust staff.

It may be that the dismissal of Fickner and others who have spent a great deal of time on important pending cases could be justified on some sort of a job seniority schedule. But the staff and field officers of an army are never dismissed during the middle of an important battle.

Often bureaucratic blundering is accused as stupidity but Hoover is known to be brilliant.

So feeling great Congress should take over many appointment making powers and thus relieve White House of an intolerable burden, and also more effectively preserve democratic processes, Congress was never intended to be a rubber stamp.

THE AMERICAN WAY

spent the past week with her brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and son, Weldon, took her back to Waco Friday.

Bobbie Morgan entertained a group of young people with a party in his home Friday night. Those attending were Kenneth Harris, Billie Watson, Ted Hindman, Dorothy Powell, Charles Thurmond, Walter Stanley and Anne Putman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stanley and family spent Saturday with Miss Katherine Stanley in Lubbock and they went on to Hale Center and spent the night with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Wells.

Miss Katherine Stanley of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stanley, had a very painful accident while skating last Thursday night. She injured her leg and the doctor put it in a cast.

Walter Stanley went to Pampa Tuesday on a cattle judging trip with his FFA Chapter.

"Christ's Cross-Man's Cross" was the lesson Bro. Loyd Womack taught Sunday. His daughter, Patsy, was a visitor at the church.

Those attending the men's domino party at the community house Wednesday night were Forrest Martin, M. E. Tree, Jimmie Hahn, Kelsey Putman, Tom Williams, and son Joe D., and Leon Greer.

M. E. Tree and Forest Martin built a new table to play dominoes on last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Hahn moved last Friday into the house formerly occupied by his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey Putman, which they moved.

To manufacture steel and iron required for a diesel-electric locomotive calls for consumption of 130 tons of coal.

Escheat Statutes Explained

Made your will? If not, the State of Texas may wind up as owner of your estate upon your death. Under our statutes, the estate of persons having no heirs who die intestate revert, or "escheat", to the State.

Such provisions have been carried over from the English common law. There, under such circumstances, the estate escheated to the British crown. The theory of the process is that the sovereign (or State), having been the original owner of all lands before they were parceled out to individuals, is entitled to a return of such lands where the possibilities of legal inheritance have been exhausted.

This idea has been expanded to include personal property as well as real estate. It also applies in the case of a person absent for a term of seven years and not known to exist who leaves no heirs and no will.

Presumably, there is hardly a person who does not have some individual or charity that he would prefer to have his estate, rather than have it go to the State by default, so to speak. Yet, surprisingly, estates worth many thousands of dollars do escheat to the various states from time to time.

Now, before you shrug the matter off with the idea that these statutory provisions could not possibly apply to you, better think a minute. Suppose you and your spouse have no heirs besides each other and your children. Many people do fall into this category.

In event of a catastrophe resulting in death for you and your entire immediate family, no legal heirs would remain. Therefore if you had no will, your property would go to the State. In preparing a will, it is possible to provide for such an eventuality.

In this hypothetical case, you would probably want to designate some friend as executor, to take care of all necessary arrangements and then distribute the estate according to your wishes.

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And, even if you wish your property to be distributed entirely in accordance with our statutes of descent and distribution as explained in previous columns, a will can perform useful functions. Among other uses, a will could provide for an orderly and economical portion of your property, preventing any waste of the assets by heirs impatient for a settlement.

What happens to property which escheats to the State? Following certain required legal formalities and court proceedings, all escheated lands are set apart to the Permanent Free School Fund of the State, and may be leased and sold by the Land Commissioner under certain regulations. Escheated personal property is sold by the local sheriff under a court writ and the money received therefrom paid into the State Treasury.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on wills and related matters has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, merely print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Miss Fern Hodge, District Three HD Agent of Vernon, was in Dickens County January 27 to confer with Mrs. Lou Jeffers on 4-H Club work.

Brighten A Corner At No Cost

Do you know of a spot that could be improved with a planting of roses or geraniums? The entrance to your church . . . the front of a public building, your club or a private home . . . you can brighten it with necessary planting material at no cost and very little effort under a novel club plan offered by one of the oldest and most respected nurseries in the nursery field.

This club plan is open to any established club or even a club formed for the purpose by an individual. Sponsored by the Jackson & Perkins Company of Newark, N. Y., the world's largest rose growers, the program allows any club to order for its members guaranteed roses, perennials or fruit trees.

In return for each $50 worth of club receives at no cost a catalog valued at $12.50. There is no limit to this offer. For instance, orders totaling $100 provide for the club's favorite planting project material worth $25, or for orders amounting to $200 the club is entitled to select $50 worth of plant material. Anything illustrated in the Jackson & Perkins catalog may be ordered by the cooperating group or the individual who organizes a club.

To make it even easier, club members may pay their orders through their club secretary in weekly installments. When the payments are completed the plants will be shipped at the proper planting season to any part of the country east of the Rocky Mountains.

Anyone can start a club. All that is needed is a catalog and some order blanks, both mailed on request. For further details, write: Club Plan, Jackson & Perkins Company, 5 Rose Lane, Newark, New York.

Report of House Ag Committee Meet

Three delegates represented the people of this area and gave testimony in their behalf before the powerful House Agricultural Committee at Waco on Wednesday, January 13. The trip was sponsored by the Commissioner's Court of Motley County.

The Farmers Union of Dickens and Motley Counties was represented by Billy Hand of Roaring Springs, who presented to the committee a set of resolutions adopted by a meeting of the farmers at Roaring Springs on January 11.

These resolutions covered seven major points and briefly they are: (1) a continuation of H. E. A., including both electricity and telephones, (2) a fixed price support of 90 per cent on all basic farm commodities and in addition a proposal to also include cattle, (3) an increased acreage allotment for drought stricken counties, (4) a program of refinancing farmers and ranchers, (5) the resumption of drought relief feeds, (6) that the soil conservation program be placed again under the 3-man committee of farmers, and (7) a proposal to purchase hay from farmers who have a surplus in the immediate vicinity.

The United Livestock Producers Association was represented by D. I. W. Birnie, who again pleaded for price support on cattle. His testimony covered a request for a referendum of all ranchers who depend principally upon cattle for a living. He states that if all industry received subsidies and farmers received price supports, that it was a discrimination against the true cattleman to be refused a living wage for his investments and labor.

The Commissioners Court of Motley County was represented by Judge Vance Gilbreath, who pleaded in behalf of those drought stricken farmers and ranchers who after three years of almost complete crop failure have mortgaged all their collateral and have no one else to turn to but their government. He asked for a program of finances that would cover the obligation of the agricultural people and enough to make another crop with from 5 to 7 years to repay it. He stated that already over 100 families had left the County of Motley and more leaving every day. He asked for a full-time representative of the F. H. A. to be stationed at Matador and a speed-up of the processing of the loans when made.

Judge Gilbreath also had a special meeting with the State F. H. A. Committee headed by Mr. Cappleman and presented the problems of the people to them. Mr. Cappleman promised that everything possible was being done by the State Committee, and the principal difficulty was the lack of necessary funds. This, Mr. Cappleman hoped, would be taken care of by a bill introduced by a member of Congress, being Mr. Mahon from Lubbock, in which Mr. Mahon asked for $100,000,000 to finance such a program.

It is this program of Finance for the farmers and ranchers who have been plagued with a disastrous drought, which we feel is so important. It is going to take the combined efforts of the entire Southwest to get a satisfactory program. Our needs will be satisfied only by continued and effective program of lobbying in Congress.

Everyone is urged to be at the next meeting of the Dry Lake Neighborhood meeting in February. That will be the time to elect new officers.

"So Big" based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by Edna Ferber, comes to the screen of the Palace Theatre on Sunday, February 7.

It is the dramatic story of a woman, played by Jane Wyman, who leaves her wealthy girlhood home to start teaching in a remote community. How she falls in love with and marries a husky young farmer, forms the backbone for the important events in the story of Selma DeJong.

Directed by Warner Bros. with a starring cast that includes Academy Award winner Jane Wyman, Sterling Hayden and Nancy Olson, "So Big" as a book has become a perennial best-seller. Now as a motion picture the beloved story of Selma DeJong is destined to enjoy greater popularity.

Miss Wyman, whose Academy Award was won by her poignant portrayal in "Johnny Belinda," will be seen in the role of Selma DeJong, who has been called one of Edna Ferber's greatest literary characters.

In the role of Purves DeJong, Sterling Hayden enters a strong bid to harvest critical acclaim, according to Hollywood reports. The six-foot, four and a half-inch blond giant is teamed with Miss Wyman for the first time in "So Big." One of the most colorful, as well as popular, of the screen's male stars, Hayden which has been punctuated by an absence during the war when he served with the Marines.

Nancy Olson is one of the key characters in "So Big." She plays the fabulous Dallas O'Mara, the girl who thought of life as a broad canvas upon which she wanted to leave her mark.

Two young and budding stars are provided an opportunity in "So Big" to gain a higher rung on the ladder of cinema success.

They are Steve Forrest and Martha Hyer. Forrest plays the son of Selma and Purves DeJong. It is his entanglement with the racy Paula Hoppel, played by Miss Hyer, which reportedly provides some of the most explosive scenes in the film.

Mrs. Jewel Lawrence and children of Matador and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Duff Green, drove to Post Tuesday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Quah Maxey.

CHEAPER FUEL..

LONGER ENGINE LIFE..

FEWER LUBE CHANGES..

Save three-fifths of your fuel bill! You get the same amount of Butane for $40.00 as you've been getting for $100.00 using gasoline... Actually over 9c per gal. Saving!

Actual field tests have proven longer - 3 times longer-engine life when the fuel is Butane... Why? Because there is no carbon, sludge and other harmful residues to increase friction and cause wear...

Because of the cleaner operation with Butane, it is necessary to change the crankcase lube only twice a year...

PAY ONLY ONE FOURTH DOWN.. PAY BALANCE WITH FUEL SAVINGS!

Here's how this new, easy plan works... We will convert your Tractor to Butane, sell you a storage tank, tractor tank, and, if desired, a tank trailer. You pay 25% of the total cost as down payment. Then, as you use Butane fuel, you pay 16c per gal. 8c of this is applied on the balance due and the other 8c pays for the Butane...

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR ABOUT BUTANE TRACTOR FUEL!

We have converted over 300 tractors in this area, including several of your neighbors... Ask them about it! Most of them have paid for their complete change-over the first year!

"I start where the last man left off"

—Thomas A. Edison

Edison, to explain his incessant and tireless reading of scientific journals, technical papers, patents and books, said that he read to avoid useless repetition of old experiments. "I start where the last man left off."

What Edison knew, and perhaps said in an unquoted moment, is that thousands of men would be needed to "start where he left off."

"Just wait a little while," prophesied Edison, "and we'll make electric light so cheap that only the wealthy can afford to burn candles." Edison lived to see lamps that gave four times as much light and cost one-fifth as much to buy. And electric lighting has progressed far beyond that.

He recognized that an invention does not end a search. It begins a search.

The lamp was a beginning in forcing not only its own evolution but the evolution of meters, fuses, sockets, wiring, power distribution systems, transformers and generating stations.

He lived to see the company that was formed to carry on development of electric light and power evolve into one of the world's most important industrial research centers. Today General Electric laboratories employ several thousand men and women who are seeking new things on widely different fronts.

It is seventy-five years since Edison lit the first successful carbon lamp. He will be remembered for inventions that changed the world. But let him be remembered, too, for inspiring so many men to start where he left off.

You can put your confidence in...

TROOP VIII
Two members of Troop VII were not present at the regular meeting on Monday, February 1. Rita Dean was ill and we hope she is able to meet with us at the next meeting. No report was made for the absence of Barbara Murray.

After roll call and other routine business was considered, valentine surprises were made. The figurines passed a final check and were taken home for future use. Reports were made on current secrets and a new secret was chosen by each Brownie. One guest, Melveta Floyd, was present.

Betty Ledbetter, acting reporter.

TROOP X
The new Brownies of Troop X are almost ready to close their troop. If other second grade girls wish to join the troop arrangements should be made right away.

The troop members met on Wednesday, January 27 with Mrs. Hagins. Patsy Johnson was ill, but will soon be able to return to the Scout meeting. Games were played and the Brownie story was discussed. Plans were made for secrets to be selected soon.

TROOP XI

New Styling, Power Highlight 1954 Kaiser

NEW STYLING, inside and out and super-charged "power-on-demand" performance are key features of the Kaiser Manhattan, style leader of the Kaiser line for 1954. A new jet-scoop grille and a functional air-scoop hood ornament dominate front styling. A three-piece wrap-around rear window and "safety-glow" tail lights, which extend along the crown of the rear fenders, are other new features.

Some of us have difficulty applying eye shadow. Fashion models have overcome this problem by using a lipstick brush - the fine point helps prevent using too much. Don't forget to blend the color with your finger tip till it's barely perceptible.

Here's news you homemakers will be delighted to hear! A new carpet is being introduced with unbelievable qualities - fire resistant, completely outproof, washable and quick-drying that makes dry cleaning entirely unnecessary! It's the new Candalon "Sans Stain" 100% DuPont nylon carpet which comes in 54-inch widths, coated back and is taped so that no seams show. We women have long known the blessing of nylon products so we'll welcome with open arms a carpet that is practically impossible to wear out - and if Junior should have an accident it will present no problem for cleaning. Isn't this world a nice place for us ladies! This inexpensive nylon carpet comes in five fashion colors and will be available soon in cities throughout the country. It will be well worth waiting for if you're in the market for a new carpet!

SHEER NYLONS, so flattering to the legs, need not be a strain on a lady's budget. Stockings will stay lovely, longer, if you heed the following rules:

1. Wear the right size. Shortness in foot or length puts undue strain on fibers.
2. Handle with care. Avoid snags from rough hands by using your Trushay hand lotion regularly. Other danger spots—rough heels and legs—yield to Trushay, too. When dressing, do not pull stockings, but ease them on, gently.
3. Wash new stockings before wearing, and never wear the same pair twice without rinsing. Wash by hand, and use a mild soap or detergent. Do not wring, and keep hose away from artificial heat while drying.

New back-swept windshield on all 1954 Buicks is the latest note in modern styling, and a big step-up in your view of the road ahead.

Even the price is sensational!

As you look at it, you can see a lot of what makes this new 1954 Buick SPECIAL so sensational.

You can see the long, low, sleek and ultra-glamorous lines that add up to the biggest automotive styling change in years.

You can see the remarkable new windshield with the back-swept corners—greatest visibility improvement since closed cars came on the market.

But what you can't see—till you drop by for a visit—is the sensationally low price of this car—a local delivered price that's just a few dollars more than those of America's "low-priced three."

And you can't see—sitting where you are now—the rest of the great automobile that's yours for so low a figure.

The spectacular power of this SPECIAL's brand-new V8 engine. The honest six-passenger roominess. The truly modern interior luxury. The superb new handling ease. The sublime comfort of Buick's famed Million Dollar Ride—now steadied even more by a newly developed front-end geometry.

Fact is, there's so much that's terrific about this new glamor car, you ought to drop in and give it a really thorough study and sampling.

That way you'll prove to yourself that the buy—and the thrill—of the year is Buick. Come in this week, won't you?

This BUICK V8

On-Farm Storage Now Paying Off

Alfred Gale of Monango, N. Dak. (top photo) is among farmers who solve marketing problems and make money every year by putting grain under storage facility loans and holding it for the high price. But like many others, the Ohio farmers seen in the lower picture waited last year in a four-mile-long line to sell their grain, and could get from 10 to 50 cents a bushel more for that same wheat today—a big enough difference in price to pay for a grain storage building the first year.

Drought and unusually wide-spread participation in farm price support programs have combined to reduce the worry about farm surpluses, and now farmers who stored their 1953 crops have profited, or are in a position to profit, more than those who sold at harvest time.

On the other hand, those who sold at harvest time are now beginning to realize the cost of their haste to sell.

Clark L. Baker, Indiana PMA state committeeman, has taken farmers to task for paying too much attention to production and not enough to marketing. He points out that farmers frequently can make as much money by selling a crop at the right time as they can by producing that crop.

Writing in the current issue of the Farmstead News, a magazine circulated by Quonset dealers,

Baker says: "No farmer can ever solve his marketing problems until he can store his own crops on his own farm, for sale at the favorable price during the coming year."

Baker pointed out that the difference between the harvest-time price of soybeans and the price at the end of the year was more than enough to have paid for on-the-farm storage for the beans. Wheat prices also have risen steadily and there are strong indications that both corn and wheat will sell at loan levels or above before next year's crops are harvested—well above harvest-time prices.

Presenting the 1954 CADILLAC

Styled to be Copied for Years to Come...

...and as Thrilling to Drive as to See!

The new "Standard of the World" is now on display in our showroom. It is not just a new model, but a wholly restyled and re-engineered Cadillac—new from its more massive grille to its more distinctive rear deck.

It is lower and longer in silhouette... more modern and graceful in its body lines... and with greater majesty and dignity in every detail. Beyond question, it is destined to influence the design of motor cars for years to come.

Matching this greater exterior beauty are Cadillac's luxurious new interiors—more generously proportioned and more beautifully appointed than ever before... and executed in a dazzling array of gorgeous new fabrics and leathers.

And, what is even more remarkable, this wonderful new Cadillac is as thrilling to drive as it is to see!

A great new 230-horsepower engine has added new power and responsiveness. A vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive provides even greater smoothness and flexibility. Advanced Cadillac Power Steering, now standard equipment on every model, brings with it a whole new concept of steering and handling ease. And new Cadillac Power Braking* has introduced wonderful new motoring safety and convenience.

This greater Cadillac beauty—and this finer Cadillac performance—are available for 1954 in three brilliant new series of motor cars... the remarkable Series 62, the distinguished Fleetwood Series 60 Special and the magnificent Fleetwood Series 75. And, of course, there is also the supremely beautiful Cadillac Eldorado.

These inspiring creations are in our showroom now—awaiting your critical inspection. We cordially invite you to see and drive them at your earliest opportunity.

Farmers, Ranchers Can Now Get Three Types Loans

Three types of loans made by the Farmers Home Administration are particularly adapted to help farmers and stockmen meet their credit needs for feed, seed, livestock, equipment and other operating necessities. L. J. Cappelman, State Director of the Agency said. In his Dallas office Cappelman pointed out highlights of the 1954 lending program of FHA. Total lendings up to this time have amounted to $31 million dollars, he said, and county offices in many parts of the State are overrun with applicants. Mr. Cappelman listed the regular farm operating loan program, the special livestock loans, and in designated disaster areas, the disaster loan program.

Through the operating loan program, farmers may borrow to acquire farming equipment and buy any kind of available feed and pay production expenses. Loans are made through local county Farmers Home Administration offices to farmers and stockmen whose proposed operations are of a sound basis. The funds supplement but do not compete with other local credit. Operating loans made for all purposes this year, between July 1 and January 15 in Texas, amounted to $11,415,000. Cappelman added that no more funds are available on this type of loan.

The special livestock loans were made available late last summer. The January 15 report of Mr. Cappelman to Administrator R. B. McLeish of the Farmers Home Administration showed more than 650 farmers and stockmen had borrowed more than $9,267,000 in special livestock loans to buy feed and hay, obtain pasture facilities, replace livestock to normal levels, and to handle other needs brought on by drought conditions. These loans, restricted to established producers of cattle, sheep, and goats, help farmers carry on normal livestock production rather than expansion of operations.

Most of the demand is coming from drought-stricken Southwest Texas, although the loans are available throughout the State, under designation of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson. Disaster loans also made in areas designated by Secretary Benson as a disaster loan area, where severe weather or other conditions have caused substantial production losses or where unfavorable local economic and credit conditions have made emergency credit necessary for continued operations. More than 5,500 disaster loans totaling $11,000,000.00 has been obtained by farmers between July 1 and January 15, this year.

Other types of loans handled by Farmers Home Administration provide credit for buying and improving efficient farms and farm buildings.

Mr. Cappelman pointed out that the loan demand this year is greater than in the history of the Farmers Home Administration and heavier in Texas than in any other state.

The Methodist Church, in the United States, own and operates 130 homes for children and the aged. Three of those homes are in Texas, located at Waco, San Antonio, and Dallas. It owns 72 hospitals valued at $261 million, and four of those are located in Texas, at Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, and Lubbock. It owns 12 publishing houses, and one of these is located at Dallas. It owns more than 100 colleges and universities, and five of those are located in Texas, at Dallas, Fort Worth, Jacksonville, Abilene, and Georgetown.
