WT Sectors Draw Sites For Ventures

Exploratory tests have been planned for Howard, Schleicher and Sutton counties.

Gulf Oil Corp. plans to drill No. 1-A J. G. Wilkinson, an 8,300-foot wildcat, in Howard County, 13 miles northwest of Big Spring.

It spots 660 feet from north and west lines of section 33, block A, Bauer & Cocker survey, abstract 582, 1 1/2 miles southwest of the depleted Schienschner (Spraberry) field.

Schleicher Wildcat
Remuda Oil & Gas Co. of Midland, accounted for a scheduled 6,500-foot venture in Schleicher, 13 miles southeast of Eldorado and 3 1/2 miles southwest of the depleted Page, South (Strawn) oil field. It is No. 1 Pope.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,320 feet from west lines of section 81, block K, GH&SA survey, abstract 1194, and 1/2 mile east of a 6,000-foot failure.

Sutton Project
The Sutton try is Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 1-A Keene, a planned 10,200-foot test, 20 miles southwest of Sonora.

Stated as a wildcat, it also is a 1/2-mile northeast offset to the one-well Jo Nell (Canyon "D") gas field.

It is 1,520 feet from south and 1,320 feet from west lines of section 32, GC&SF survey, certificate 41781, abstract 1502.

The Jo Nell discovery, Gas Development Corp. No. 1 Jo Nell Johnson, was finished May 22, 1974, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1.575 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 8,334-9,074 feet.

Wildcats Set In Eddy, Lea

Wildcat locations have been staked in Lea and Eddy counties, in Southeast New Mexico.

Atlantic Richfield Co. will drill No. 1 Young-Federal, a 13,500-foot wildcat in Lea, nine miles south of Maljamar.

Location is 1,900 feet from north and east lines of section 20-18-32e, surrounded by production in the Young (Queen) oil field.

Eddy Prospector
American Quasar Petroleum Co. of New Mexico plans No. 1 Tippin ranch Unit, a 10,300-foot Morrow searcher in Eddy, 18 miles northwest of White City.

Drill site is 1,900 feet from north and east lines of section 9-23a-23e, one mile northwest of a 9,800-foot failure and 3 1/2 miles northwest of the Bandana Point (Morrow) gas field.

Sutton Prospector Flows Strawn Gas

Randex, Abilene, No. 1 Margaret Schweining, Sutton County re-entry operation, 27 miles east of Sonora, flowed gas at the estimated, daily rate of 700,000 cubic feet, from the Strawn sand.

Flow was through a 2 1/2" unreported choke and perforated section at 3,331-3,356 feet, which had been acidized with 500 gallons. Testing continued.

MIDLAND TO GET OLD POST OFFICE PROPERTY City Gets Go-Ahead For New Park

By GEORGE MASSEY
Midland has received the go-ahead for a downtown park after several months of study by the federal Bureau of Recreation on the disposition of the old post office property on Loraine Street.

It was revealed today by Jerry Tschauner, planning director of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, that "for all practical purposes" the old post office property will be given to the city free.

Tschauner said the regional planning commission received word of the park plan approval through a telephone conversation with the Board of Outdoor Recreation at Albuquerque, N.M.

In mid-September, city councilmen filed a formal application with the Bureau of Recreation, seeking to raze the old post office building and convert the site into a park.

The decision came after a session with county commissioners in which Midland County Judge Barbara Culver said the county would support the city application for acquisition of the property.

At the time of the initial application, Joe Nuessle, city attorney, told the council that fair market value payment for the building on the property might be required by the General Services Administration.

However, Tschauner indicated today that "no mention" of any payment for the property was made during the conversation with the recreation board and said, "It is generally believed that none will be required. During the September council session, Bob Thompson of the Midland Parks and Recreation Department said annual maintenance for the proposed facility could run as high as $17,000 per year. At that time the city asked that a fair share of the upkeep cost be supplied by the county."

It was previously revealed that appraised value of the property ranged from $50,000 to $100,000 by GSA valuations and $200,000 and higher by private valuations.

The city's legal department has also noted that with the property gift, the GSA will retain a recapture clause. Under that provision, the property will revert to the federal government if the property is ever used for anything other than a park.

Mild Weather Will Continue

Mild winter weather was in prospect for the Midland area today and Thursday, with highs reaching into the 60s or beyond both days.

According to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal, today's maximum is expected to be in the mid to high 60s, and Thursday's high will be near 70. The overnight low tonight is expected to be no lower than about 40 degrees.

Today's mild weather is a continuation of Tuesday's, when the mercury climbed to a high of 69 degrees. The low early today was 36.

According to the weather service, two weather systems are vying for dominance in the state today - a weak cold front coursing through North Texas and a warm front stretching down the state's east side. Officials observers picked the warm front to win out. They forecast sunny and mild weather throughout the state.

A few showers fell after midnight in the northeast corner of the Panhandle, but skies quickly cleared in that section behind the puny norther.

Near dawn the warm front stretched southward from Texarkana to College Station, and behind its skies were overcast. (See WEATHER Page 10A)

Gold Mine Riots Kill Four Men

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - Four men were killed and eight injured in more rioting at the Vaal Reefs gold mines early today, a company spokesman reported.

A spokesman for Anglo-American Corp., the operator of the mines, said fighting broke out Tuesday night between miners of the Basotho and Xhosa tribes. He said police restored order after four Basothos were killed, but the situation was still tense.

About half the 21,500 black workers at the mine were reported idle.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

GRESHAM, Wis. (AP) - Twenty-five armed Indians attempted to carry a day's supply of food into a captured religious estate today, but National Guard officials said the supply party was turned back peacefully.

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today ordered John W. Dean III, Jeb Stuart Magruder and Herbert W. Kalmbach released from prison. All three men had been serving sentences as a result of guilty pleas in Watergate-related crimes.

Boston High School Reopens Quietly As Police Stand By

BOSTON (AP) - Classes resumed at the South Boston High school complex without incident today as hundreds of police stood by to ensure the safety of children.

An estimated 300 to 400 white pupils and between 50 and 75 black children entered the schools for classes under the protection of about 400 state, metropolitan and local police officers.

Pupils passed through a metal detector before entering the schools. Only pupils and newsmen were allowed in the vicinity of the school by police, who stood watch at or along approach routes to the educational complex.

All four schools in the complex had been closed since an outbreak of racial violence Dec. 11.

The extra police were called out by the state's Public Safety Department in an effort to ensure the safety of children bused to class.

Most of the 400 state, metropolitan and local officers were assigned to South Boston High or routes leading to the school.

South Boston High and three companion buildings were closed Dec. 11 after a white student was stabbed, allegedly by a black. The incident led to an angry confrontation between white parents and police.

The schools have been plagued by sporadic outbreaks of violence since they opened for the fall term under a partial desegregation order that requires the busing of about 18,000 of the city's 87,000 students.

South Boston High is in a white neighborhood. The complex includes two annexes and Roxbury High School, which is in a black area.

Authorities said 100 state troopers would be on duty inside South Boston High, accompanied by local police support units.

U.S. District Court Judge W. Arthur Garrity Jr., at the same time, prepared to review a new integration resolution passed Tuesday by the Boston School Committee.

The resolution calls for the prompt submission to Garrity of an integration plan which would exclude forced busing of what their statutory rights and powers are.

In 1973, the staff estimated, of 400-500 rate increase requests, about 8-10 per cent of the cities hired consultants, 25 per cent bargained with the company and at least 60 per cent "simply approved the natural gas in the Railroad Commission in 1970.

But the report says, "Utility regulation in Texas covers only a fraction of the state's geographical area, and probably no more than half its population. The vast majority of cities get no advice from any source; they accept the companies' proposals for rate increases or negotiate for a 'better deal' with little knowledge of what their statutory rights and powers are."

In 1973, the staff estimated,

FIRST CROSSING—The new overpass located immediately to the west of Midland Regional Air Terminal's U.S. Highway 80 entrance had its first passage today. The E. C. Trice and Son House Moving Co. towed a two-story barracks building, previously located at Air Terminal, over the structure. The tow-truck was driven by 72-year-old E. C. Trice of Midland.

INCIDENT OCCURS NEAR LUBBOCK—

Train Kills Accused Man

Richard Templeton Prigmore, a Midland attorney who faced two federal charges here, died

Tuesday in a Lubbock hospital apparently from injuries received when he walked into the side of a Santa Fe Railway freight train near Shallowater.

Prigmore was freed after posting $20,000 in bonds after he had been charged with interstate transportation of stolen property and with assaulting a federal officer.

Prigmore had been arrested Monday at Odessa in connection with the transport of a painting stolen from Mrs. Bennie Sue Thomas of Midland last April 14.

Lubbock Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy said he would make a ruling in Prigmore's death after he sees results of an autopsy. "The autopsy probably won't show us much, though," LeCroy said.

Prigmore died about 7:15 p.m. in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital.

LeCroy said Prigmore suffered massive injuries.

In addition to the autopsy, LeCroy said he has ordered chemical tests of samples of Prigmore's blood, urine and brain before making a ruling in "trying to establish why he (Prigmore) did this, what he was doing at Shallowater."

Shallowater is a community of about 1,150 population 15 miles northwest of Lubbock.

Prigmore, practicing Midland attorney since 1969, was charged Monday on Federal Bureau of Investigation complaint of interstate transportation of stolen property, specifically a water color painting by Charles Russell, and with assaulting a federal officer. The assault charge stems from his scuffle with FBI special agent David Schrimp at time of the arrest

Abilene Architect Says Bell Not Involved In Contribution

Daniel Boone, a member of the Midland for a bond election. "I want to assure you that in Pope at Abilene, this morning no way was this out of the ordinary. The Reporter-Telegram firm made a $2,500 contribution to the education campaign in said.

"And, I also want to assure you that Southwestern Bell was not even mentioned at any time and had absolutely nothing to do with our contribution."

Boone also said that according to his recollection, the ally closing in question in Midland had already been approved "sometime before we made the contribution."

His firm did the architectural work for Southwestern Bell on a building in Midland at a time when Bell wanted an alley near their new building closed, according to a transcript on file in federal court here.

The transcript is of a telephone conversation between James Ashley, former Bell commercial manager for two-thirds of Texas, and John Whitcomb, currently Bell division manager in Lubbock. In it, Whitcomb and Ashley discuss how they said Bell used inflated architects fees as a conduit for an illegal contribution to the bond drive.

"We made a $2,500 contribution to an outfit called The Better Midland Association which (See ARCHITECT Page 10A)

Vote Slated On Utility Commission Issue

AUSTIN (AP) - A Senate subcommittee scheduled a vote today on a staff recommendation to create a state agency to regulate electric, telephone, gas, private water and sewer utilities.

The preliminary report noted that the "presumption that business should operate without any restraint remains an article of near-religious faith in many parts of Texas."

It questioned, in regard to utilities, whether Texas prohibitions against monopolies "are presently being observed."

The legislature delegated the regulation of public utilities to the cities in 1907 and established an appeals procedure for company's request without question."

"Only three cities in Texas—Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston—have utility professionals who can evaluate company finances and services," the report said, adding, "City councilmen are not likely to be able to comprehend the complexities and technicalities of a 'rate case.' The same is true of the typical city attorney, city manager, and city finance director."

In six subcommittee hearings between April and November 1974, the staff said, almost every consumer who testified "complained that the company lacked sensitivity to the plight of the individual consumer."

The staff recommended that the proposed commission's jurisdiction "exclude only municipally owned utility systems."

As proposed in the preliminary report, it would be a three-member commission elected on a statewide basis, with cities given the option of handling their own utility regulation "provided they do so within an established rate-making procedure."

Other recommendations include giving the commission power to approve plant sites and to review the companies' financial structures.

The cost of the commission would be apportioned among the companies, on a percentage of gross revenues.

OCAW Refuses To OK Walkout At Three Plants

PORT ARTHUR (AP) - Workers struck today at two Port Arthur refineries and an asphalt plant at near-by Port Neches despite a refusal by their international union to sanction the walkout.

Local units of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers (OCAW) began the strike against Gulf and Texaco refineries at midnight when OCAW contracts with oil companies expired across the nation.

Other picket lines went up at 4 p.m. at the Texaco asphalt plant at Port Neches after negotiations broke down at 2 a.m.

The plants are in Southeast Texas' "Golden Triangle" which is studded with refineries, petrochemical plants and tanker terminals.

Latest figures show 4,500 Texaco refinery workers here and 2,700 at the Gulf refinery. About 250 struck at the Port Neches asphalt plant.

Spokesmen said OCAW picket lines would be honored by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the International Association of Machinists.

Court Order Obtained
Officials of Texaco had obtained a federal court order Tuesday for an orderly shutdown by OCAW operating personnel.

Major refining companies had supervisors and executive personnel standing by Tuesday night to take over operations of highly automated refineries in event of a strike by a total of about 23,000 OCAW members on the Texas coast.

Plant To Operate
In common with other management spokesmen, Bill Lafield said Shell Oil Co. was prepared to keep its Houston Ship Channel plant operating indefinitely with supervisory personnel.

Shell and other major refiners in this area along the Upper Texas Coast—also including Beaumont, Houston and Texas City—have a combined daily capacity of about two million barrels, or one-seventh of the nation's total. The others are Atlantic Richfield, Mobil and American Oil.

Pattern To Be Set
While many chemical plants and smaller Texas refineries also could be affected, attention centered on the majors because in the past any agreement with one of them sets an industry pattern.

The dispute has no effect on a 400,000-barrel-a-day Baytown refinery, also in this vicinity, which Exxon Co. USA operates. Its only plant figuring in the current negotiations is at Billings, Mont. Independent unions represent workers at other Exxon facilities.

Former Houston Fire Chief Files Suit In Police Dossier Issue

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal court suit has been filed by former Houston fire chief C. D. (Jake) Cook asking that Police Chief Control Lynn be enjoined from destroying any private file on Cook kept by the police criminal intelligence division.

Police officials said there was no file on Cook.

U.S. District Court Judge Carl O. Bue was scheduled to review the request for a temporary restraining order today. Sherman Ross, Cook's lawyer said.

Dossiers Uncovered
Lynn said Tuesday a six-week investigation of the police criminal division uncovered dossiers on local political and business leaders unrelated to criminal investigations.

Lynn said the files were compiled before he and Mayor Fred Hofheinz took office last January.

Ross said Cook was told by reliable sources within the police department that a file consisting of surveillance reports, transcripts of taped conversations and pictures were kept on Cook.

Capt. B. G. "Pappy" Bond said he checked the criminal intelligence Tuesday in response to the suit and there was no file on Cook.

"Why should there be?" he asked.

Cook was fire chief under former Mayor Louie Welch.

Files Checked
Lynn said Bond checked the files several ways and there was no information on Cook.

Cook is seeking to have the alleged file turned over to his lawyer for review.

"It is no secret that former police chief Herman Short and R. L. Singleton (former CID head) did not like Cook. . . . That's reason alone to believe the file exists," Ross said.

Short said there never was such a file, adding, "Has the world gone crazy? Hell, Jake Cook is a friend of mine."

Wind, Rain, Heavy Snow Hit Western Half Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Wind, rain and heavy snow spread over much of the western half of the nation today as a pair of winter storms churned eastward from the Pacific Northwest to the Great Lakes.

Thirteen inches of snow covered Huron, S.D.; 8 inches blanketed Spokane, Wash.; 7 inches hit Watertown, S.D., and 6-inch falls were common elsewhere in the northern Plains and Northwest interior.

Travel advisories were in effect for most of the country from Washington and Oregon to Minnesota. Gale warnings flew along the West Coast from central California through Washington. A winter storm watch was out for the central portion of the Great Basin.

Freezing rain glazed a narrow band from eastern Iowa into southern Wisconsin. Rain fell over much of the coastal Far West, the Midwest, the southern Plains and the Gulf Coastal states. Almost 2 inches of rain drenched Baton Rouge, La. One-inch soakings were common in parts of Mississippi.

Clear skies were scarce, confined mostly to the Eastern Seaboard.

Unseasonably mild weather held temperatures in the 30s and 40s overnight through a large part of the midcontinent. Temperatures in the 50s reached north to the Ohio Valley and middle Mississippi Valley.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 2 at Gunnison, Colo., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

Some other reports: Anchorage 14 clear, Atlanta 46 cloudy, Boston 36 clear, Buffalo 35 cloudy, Chicago 44 rain, Cincinnati 48 cloudy, Dallas 57 mostly cloudy, Detroit 38 rain, Honolulu 71 mostly clear, Indianapolis 48 cloudy, Kansas City 32 cloudy, Los Angeles 55 cloudy, Louisville 52 cloudy, Miami 72 mostly clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 24 snow, Nashville 56 cloudy, New York 37 clear, Philadelphia 33 clear, Pittsburgh 36 clear, St. Louis 54 mostly cloudy, San Francisco 54 rain, Seattle 44 cloudy, Washington 37 clear.

House Democrats Preparing Their Own Economy Package

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with the responsibilities of being in an overwhelming majority, House Democrats are preparing an economic package which includes a tax cut as an antidote to one of the nation's deepest postwar economic recessions.

A 10-member task force appointed by Speaker Carl Albert last month to develop recession remedies has tentatively decided on a sizeable tax cut for low- and middle-income taxpayers, credit allocation, interest rate reductions and more public services jobs for the unemployed.

Enactment Urged
Rep. Richard H. Fulton, D-Tenn., a member of the task force, said he hoped Congress would enact the program within 90 days.

The panel is expected to complete its work Thursday and next Monday and present the package to Albert before Congress begins its new session Tuesday.

The Democratic task force is trying to speed up its work because the White House indicated Tuesday that President Ford may move up his scheduled Jan. 20 State of the Union address, when he is expected to announce the administration's entire recession program.

Weighting Proposal
The Ford administration also is weighing a tax reduction proposal.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., chairman of the Democratic task force, said Albert most likely would release his group's proposals before Ford's address to Congress but denied there was any race to beat the President to the punch.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen denied that Ford's accelerated schedule was related to a poll showing public confidence in his economic management has plunged to 11 per cent.

Another measure of the economic slump came Tuesday when Commerce Department officials said the economy may have declined by 2 per cent last year, the largest calendar year drop in the gross national product since 1945 and a bigger decline than the last two recessions of 1969-70 and 1980-81.

There have been declines larger than 2 per cent within 12-month periods, notably a 3.9 per cent slide during the period of the 1968 recession.

In the last two recessions, there was an over-all drop of 1.5 per cent in 1969-70 and a 1.6 per cent decline in 1980-81.

1974 Wildcat Oil Count Up; Gasser Total Down Slightly

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Wildcat oil drilling picked up in Texas in 1974, the Railroad Commission reported Tuesday.

Seven wildcat oil wells were drilled in the final two weeks of 1974 for a yearly total of 268, or 42 more than the previous year.

Eleven wildcat gas wells were drilled in the two-week period for a yearly total of 338, or 20 fewer than in 1973.

The new oil wildcats included three in the Abilene district, two in the Houston district and one each in the Corpus Christi and San Angelo districts.

The new gas wildcats included six in the San Antonio No. 2 district, two in the Corpus Christi district and one each in the San Antonio No. 1 district and the Houston and San Angelo districts.

A total of 187 oil wells were completed in the final half of December for a yearly total of 5,073, or 728 more than in 1973. Eighty-nine gas wells were completed for a yearly total of 2,519, or 124 more than a year ago.

The commission said 389 wells were plugged during the two weeks, including 116 dry holes.

Kidnaped Child's Story Leads Police To Discovery Of Murder Victim's Body

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities found the body of an elderly retired high school teacher Tuesday night after they said a child that had been kidnaped told of seeing a body stuffed into a closet during her captivity.

Juvenile Sgt. Paul Hastings said the body of Bernice Hartsfield, about 80, was discovered in a hall closet at her home after Roberta Dodd, 6, talked with officers.

Hastings said the body of Mrs. Hartsfield was wrapped in a quilt and blanket and tied with an electric cord. He said heavy pieces of pipe lay on the floor of two bedrooms and blood was on the dining room floor.

Police said Roberta was kidnaped last week near her home. She was returned to Houston Tuesday from San Antonio after police arrested a man demanding $1,000 ransom.

Officers charged Gerald Lee Bodde, 27, a former boy friend of Jean Dodd, 27, mother of the child, with aggravated kidnaping, indecency with a child and carrying a pistol. He was held under bonds totaling more than $25,000.

Police quoted the mother as saying that Bodde called her and demanded $1,000 for the safe return of the child.

Police arrested Bodde here Monday night. They said he led officers to a San Antonio apartment house where the child was found safe.

Hastings said the child told them she witnessed a scuffle in the house here where Mrs. Hartsfield had rented a room to Bodde, and the child told officers she saw a woman wrapped in a quilt and dragged into a closet.

Juvenile officers checked the license plates on Bodde's car and found they belonged on a car owned by Mrs. Hartsfield, Hastings said.

He and two other officers went to the house and found the body of Mrs. Hartsfield, he said.

The dead woman was a former teacher in Houston high schools. Her late husband, Victor Hartsfield, was an elementary school principal.

U.S. Officials Trying To Calm Storm Provoked By Trade Bill

By SHIRLEY CHRISTIAN Associated Press Writer

The Ford administration finds itself in a ballooning squabble with Latin America over provisions Congress put into the new trade law preventing the manufactured goods of nations in the oil cartel from entering the United States duty-free.

Two top officials are trying to calm the storm.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said he doesn't like that section of the law and will ask Congress to liberalize it in regard to Latin America. White House sources said Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller also is looking for a solution.

The disputed section gives preferential trade terms to developing countries by allowing many of their manufactured products to enter the United States without paying duty. However, over State Department objections, Congress excluded all members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC). It also authorized President Ford to suspend tariff preferences to countries that form other trade restricting cartels or that nationalize American holdings without compensation.

Venezuela and Ecuador, the two Latin American members of OPEC, say they will demonstrate their opposition to the law by boycotting the meeting Kissinger plans with Latin American foreign ministers in Buenos Aires in March to launch a "new dialogue" between the United States and the southern nations of the hemisphere.

Peru, which hopes to start exporting oil within two years, pledged its full support to Venezuela and Ecuador. Colombia, trying to form an OPEC of coffee countries, said the Latin Americans should consider a general boycott of Kissinger's meeting.

The State Department tried in vain to get Congress to exempt Venezuela and Ecuador from the OPEC provision since they did not take part in the oil boycott which grew out of the 1973 Arab-Israeli war.

Most other Latin American nations are potentially vulnerable to the law because they are trying to raise their income from their basic exports by getting together with other producers or are forcing out the foreign companies that have been exploiting them.

"There are a few professionals who are baiting people for false arrest," Joseph Fernandes, board chairman of a chain of 42 supermarkets, told Massachusetts' special legislative Commission on Shoplifting Tuesday.

"What they do is take the stuff and dispose of it and then you pick them up and they're clean and they say, 'I'll settle for $200.' If they do that every day they're making a pretty good living."

Fernandes, a member of the commission, said his stores pick up 75 to 100 shoplifters a week, some of them very young children stealing candy.

False Arrest Claims Hurling Merchants

BOSTON (AP) — Shoplifters who claim false arrest are creating problems for merchants, a legislative committee has been told.

"There are a few professionals who are baiting people for false arrest," Joseph Fernandes, board chairman of a chain of 42 supermarkets, told Massachusetts' special legislative Commission on Shoplifting Tuesday.

"What they do is take the stuff and dispose of it and then you pick them up and they're clean and they say, 'I'll settle for $200.' If they do that every day they're making a pretty good living."

Fernandes, a member of the commission, said his stores pick up 75 to 100 shoplifters a week, some of them very young children stealing candy.

Packing Firm To Close Some Operations

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—American Beef Packers, which employs workers in Texas and three other states, filed for reorganization Tuesday under the federal Bankruptcy Act.

A spokesman said "certain unprofitable operations" would be closed. He said no decision had been made on which operations would be shut down or when.

American Beef Packers is one of the nation's largest meat packing companies.

The firm and a wholly owned subsidiary, Beefland International of Council Bluffs, Iowa, filed a petition for reorganization and arrangement for payment of debts under Chapter 11 of the bankruptcy act.

The spokesman said Chapter 11 does not involve a straight bankruptcy action, allowing a company to work out a plan of payment of debts while it continues to operate.

American Beef employs about 4,000 persons in Texas, Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado.

In addition to the Council Bluffs plant, the firm has operations in Dumas, Tex.; Harlan and Oakland, Iowa; Omaha, Nebraska City and Minatare in Nebraska, and Fort Morgan, Colo.

Frank West, board chairman and president, said the decision to file under Chapter 11 was made when it became apparent that further financial negotiations were impossible.

Kissinger Expected To Be Among First To Appear Before Panel On CIA Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is expected to be among the first to discuss CIA activities before a presidential panel headed by his friend Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Also expected to answer questions Monday in the probe of alleged CIA domestic spying are CIA Director William E. Colby and former directors Richard M. Helms and James R. Schlesinger.

Rockefeller, named by President Ford to head the panel, announced the opening hearing in a public telegram to commission members.

One administration source said the telegram's description of the meeting had been left "purposely vague." The telegram, released Tuesday, said only that Colby "and others will join us during the course of the day."

"He didn't want to call Kissinger a witness because Kissinger is his friend," the source added.

In addition to hearing from the witnesses, the panel is expected to use its first day to decide whether to seek subpoenas power and whether to question witnesses under oath.

Aides to Rockefeller said he has not yet chosen a staff director and commission counsel.

Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., a frequent agency critic, said the panel named by Ford "offers little hope for effective reform of the intelligence community."

Harrington said Rockefeller's prior service on the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board would make it difficult for the vice president to "objectively review CIA operations."

Other congressional critics have questioned whether Rockefeller should not be disqualified because of his close 20-year association with Kissinger, who, as head of the National Security Council, is privy to many CIA activities.

Yugoslavs Active In Tourist Trade

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia has had active tourism for 130 years. Opatija, the northern Adriatic resort, was the first Yugoslav tourist resort. The first foreign tourists, on an organized tour in 1848, came in addition to Opatija, to Dubrovnik, the South Adriatic walled city, aboard an Austrian ship carrying 153 tourists.

Hotel Kvarner, opened in 1884, is the first hotel on the Yugoslav Adriatic, in Opatija. That year 1,412 tourists came, starting a permanently upward climb, except in times of war.

In 1899, 14,865 tourists came to Opatija spending 333,000 marks there, in 1912 there were 54,696, and in 1913 as many as 865,001 tourists.

In 1962, Yugoslavia began actively encouraging foreign tourists to visit the country.

In 1972 there were 37.8 million nights spent by foreign tourists along the Adriatic coast, and 56.2 million in all of Yugoslavia. In 1973 there were 44.4 million nights spent on the Adriatic and 64.05 million in all of Yugoslavia.

Dentures Save Victim's Life

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Ezell Hodge Jr., 24, escaped serious injury in a shooting incident with two robbers. He has his dentures to thank for the good fortune.

Police said a .32-caliber bullet was deflected by his upper and lower plates Tuesday after he was shot in the mouth at point blank range during a robbery at his home.

"The tall one grabbed the front of my shirt and shot me," Hodge recalled. "I thought it was all over."

Police said the bullet shattered six front teeth on the upper and lower plates, then deflected.

Hodge was hospitalized for oral surgery.

Sound Eating Program Can Aid Tolerance To Flu Bug

By SHIRLEY BRIGHT BOODY
Registered Dietician
Copley News Service

This time of the year opens the flu and cold season. No one has been able to come up with a sure way to avoid the misery and inconvenience of the "bug," — and despite every precaution, people are often subjected to its effects.

There is evidence to suggest that overweight people get more colds and suffer more frequently from the flu. This may be caused by diet and activity level.

A sound eating program based on proper nutrition will result in a stronger, healthier body with greater stamina to fight infections.

Overweight people often neglect good nutrition.

An active, energetic body seems to be able to avoid respiratory diseases more ably than a sedentary person. Overweight people often are more sedentary.

If you are trying to lose weight during the period of infection, you may find the scales are not cooperating. There is a mistaken belief that all illnesses will result in a weight loss, but this is not true in some instances.

Some people gain during a battle with the flu because of inactivity and preoccupation with food.

Bed rest, or at least a decrease in normal activity, is highly advisable to give your body a greater chance to concentrate on fighting the infection. Rest will direct your energy toward making you well.

This inactivity will result in fewer calories being used and a weight gain may result. Do not limit your fluid intake in the mistaken belief that you will help prevent a weight gain.

You need great quantities of fluids during the infection, not only to help reduce the fever and because dehydration occurs, but also to help rid your body of the infection itself.

When the first signs of a cold or flu become evident, don't try to be brave by ignoring it. This early stage is when the infection is most communicable and by going about business as usual you can spread it among those with whom one is in contact.

By trying to ignore your condition, you're also aiding the infection to gain strength. Go to bed and stay there. If at all possible, for a day or two.

Begin forcing fluids at the first signs—1 to 2 quarts daily.

These can include water, tea, fruit juice and clear soups. Aspirin and simple cold remedies may help, but if the symptoms persist, by all means see your doctor.

If your doctor starts you on antibiotics, I strongly suggest that you include a cultured milk product while on the medication. The reason for this is because the antibiotics may destroy some of the good bacteria in the intestinal tract—along with your flu bug.

Yogurt, cottage cheese (low-fat, of course) and buttermilk should be taken to reestablish a favorable intestinal tract environment for the existence of the very necessary good bacteria. Take a half-cup serving 2 or 3 times a day.

During your illness you body requires less food—not more. Increase fluids to a maximum.

Search Turns Up Real Mother

NORWICH, Conn. (AP)—Barbara Faulkner found her past in the phone book.

After a 12-year search she stumbled upon her natural mother and her brothers and sisters right in her own town.

Barbara grew up in New Haven, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ives Sr. She found out she was adopted at the age of 9 when she ran home and asked: "Mommy, what's an adoption? The kids were talking about it." Her mother explained it to her after dinner.

Not until she was 19 did she see papers with her original name, Sharon Lynn. "But what stunned me was that there were five other children. I wondered what they looked like. I wondered how many were brothers, how many were sisters. I wondered if they looked like me or had feelings like I had."

Although she knew she was born in a car on a California highway, she knew her natural mother had returned to New Haven. She concentrated her search there and continued it after her marriage to Leroy Faulkner. But it was in vain until the couple and their four children moved to Norwich to be closer to Leroy's job.

Unusual Name
While visiting with new neighbors Mrs. Faulkner flipped through a telephone directory. "We were just getting acquainted, and as I joked that I was born on a California highway this name popped right out at me." It was her mother's unusual first name and middle initial.

She thought, "What will I do with this name? Shall I call and say 'Hi. This is Sharon. You left me on a highway in California. Are you coming back for me? Should I joke about it? Should I cry?'"

With the aid of her husband, they tracked down one of her natural brothers living in the Norwich area. Ten minutes later he was knocking at Mrs. Faulkner's door.

"It had been almost 30 years and he said he didn't want to wait another day. I showed him the papers I had and he showed me a picture of his mother."

Both brothers visited her the next night and explained that whenever they had asked about a "little girl" their mother put them off.

Had To Work
After meeting with her natural mother, Barbara learned that she was put up for adoption because her mother had to work. Two of her brothers had also been placed in an adoption center, but had been taken out when the mother could afford to care for them, she said.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Over-Waxing Yellows
Antique White Items

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY — My antique white furniture has yellowed. I would like to know how to restore it to its natural beauty.

— MARIE

DEAR MARIE — If you have been waxing your furniture perhaps the yellowing is caused by a buildup of the wax once or twice a year is sufficient if one feels that waxing is necessary. Daily dusting should do the job. If it is a wax buildup this could be removed (synthetic turpentine is a suggested remover) but this is a tricky job. I would only try a small inconspicuous spot first. Perhaps some reader who has antique white furniture and has solved this problem will share her experience with us.

— POLLY

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve concerns boxed cereal. As a diabetic I cannot have sugar or honey. Among the many cereals that line the grocer's shelves I have only found three that do not contain this sweetener. With the high price of sugar it seems omitting some would be a great saving to the makers. I know I am not the only one in this plight.

— MRS. A.F.K.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Jane who wants to clean her wooden exercise sandals that I first wash mine with soap and water, dry them and then use a wood paneling cleaner. This gives the wood a real shine.

— FAYE

DEAR POLLY — When the gift wrapping is all finished roll all leftover paper small enough to fit INSIDE one of the long cardboard tubes it came rolled on. Roll the different colors of leftover ribbon around the outside of the tube and fasten the ends securely with cellophane tape.

— MARY O.

DEAR POLLY — I read Mary Ann's Pointer about her children making a "bead" curtain with plastic medicine vials. I do want to compliment them and all the others who are so ingenious and creative. Hats off to those parents who encourage their children to do such things. This is a Pet Please and I would enjoy reading letters from others concerning the things that please them — Sort of a counter-balance to their Peeves.

Tech Research Associate Designs Special Clothing

By MARGUERITE SULLIVAN
Copley News Service
LUBBOCK, Tex. — There's one line of fashion that has yet to make a fashion magazine or style show. But it's due soon for some of the biggest fashion changes.

It is clothing for the mentally and physically handicapped. Kay Caddel, a research associate at the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech University, became so concerned with the often unwieldy clothes for the handicapped she decided to do something about it.

Her research has resulted in a variety of clothing, ranging from blue jeans the wheel-chair-ridden person can put on in seconds to dresses the person confined to a bed easily can don.

Some of Mrs. Caddel's clothes, while easily manageable, are also functional. They are designed to teach the mentally retarded while they wear them.

"Clothes the handicapped have to wear, on the whole, are very dull, very drab and very hard to manipulate," said Mrs. Caddel in an interview.

Special Problems
For the handicapped, regular attire creates all sorts of problems, she says. The bedridden woman has great difficulty putting on the zipper-in-the-back dress. The man confined to a wheel chair can't easily slip into long pants.

As a result the handicapped often end up wearing drab institutional robes.

Mrs. Caddel's solution was to design a variety of styles that can pull open at almost every seam and then can be held back together by the strongly adhesive Velcro tape.

One shirtwaist-style dress Mrs. Caddel designed, for example, not only opens in the front but also at the shoulders. The dress can be laid out flat on a hospital bed, the patient laid on top of it, and the dress then reattached at shoulders and down the front.

A pair of jeans opens at both seams down the legs and at the outer seam up to the waist. They are simple to put on.

Velcro tape is so strong it holds together until purposely pulled apart.

Comfort Design

In other cases, Mrs. Caddel's design problem was comfort. Many handicapped, particularly children who are mentally and physically deficient, must be held into their wheel chairs by restraining belts.

To increase the patient's comfort, and produce a style that would serve as a harness, Mrs. Caddel designed a triangular-shaped vest with six straps.

The vest fits over the patient's chest. Two of the straps go over the shoulders to the back of the chair. Two others go under the chair and attach to top straps. Two others go around the patient's waist and also attach at the back of the chair. All are held together by Velcro.

Mrs. Caddel made designs for learning as well as wearing. She found that many mentally retarded children cannot tie shoes, unbutton buttons, snap hooks, tell time or use pockets.

So she designed teaching blankets that not only cover the patient's knees while he sits in his wheel chair but teach at the same time.

On the center of one blanket, she sewed a large felt clock with movable numbers. On the front of another she put a doll's dress with buttons, so the patient can button and unbutton as he sits. Other blankets have cloth shoes with shoe strings so he can learn how to tie shoes; snaps and hooks, and pockets sewn on the outside rather than the inside because they are more easy to manage.

Celery Seasoning

Crush dried celery leaves very fine and put in an empty salt shaker. Handy for seasoning.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Was Abby Too Easy On 'Proud Mother'?

DEAR ABBY: You were much too easy on "Proud Mother" who was proud of the fact that "God" had given her 13 children. (Why blame God alone? Surely she had a husband.)

Proud Mother resented being criticized for the size of her family, saying she didn't ask anyone else to raise or feed them. If she is so proud of 13, perhaps she would be twice as proud with 26. Even if she quit with 13, consider the possibilities (and you will need a calculator) if each of her children multiplies at the same rate. In two generations she will have been responsible for 162 people!!! This number becomes significant when one considers the amount of food they will consume and the amount of gasoline they will use in their lifetimes.

While the good lady has been busy making use of God's gift of procreation, she's ignored God's additional gifts of reason based on accumulated knowledge.

Overpopulation and the exhausting of unrenewable natural resources is everybody's business.

CONCERNED IN CALIF.

DEAR CONCERNED: You are not the only one who expressed concern over Proud Mother's attitude.

Briefly, since the world's resources are limited, we can't continue to provide for a population that daily produces 185,000 new mouths to feed. Obviously, we must either decrease our birthrate or increase our deathrate. The choice is up to us.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who lives in Utah, came to visit

Mrs. Paul V. Shelburne

Marsha Cherry, Paul Shelburne Wed At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Marsha Marie Cherry and Paul Vernon Shelburne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shelburne, Jr. of 2708 Michigan St., Midland, were married Saturday in Ford Memorial Chapel of the First Baptist Church here. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cherry of this city.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Kenneth James, pastor of Midland's Crestview Baptist Church. Mrs. Ralph Reaser was the organist, and Jana Kubitzka was soloist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a chapel-length gown of white polyester satin designed with a stand-up collar and double width cuffs complemented with satin covered buttons. The veil was chapel length. The bride wore ornate flowers in her hair and carried white rosebuds and baby's breath.

The maid of honor was Karen Cherry of Lubbock. Mrs. Ron Murff of Waco was matron of honor. Kay Hinton of Abilene was bridesmaid and Mrs. Jerry Swindler of San Antonio was bridesmatron. Flower girl was Lisa Swindler of San Antonio.

Kenneth Hummcutt served as best man. Ushers were Jerry Swindler of San Antonio, Bill Coats of Dallas and Gregg Erwin of Waco. Serving as groomsmen were Richard Shelburne and Kevin Shelburne, both of Midland, and Wade Turner of Abilene.

A reception was held at the Lubbock Woman's Club.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Baylor University where she was a member of the Athenaeon Social Club. She is employed by the Waco Independent School District. Her husband is a senior biology major at Baylor. He is a member of Kappa Omega Tau fraternity.

Following a wedding trip to San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Shelburne will reside at 1331 Riverside St., Waco.

My husband and me for two weeks.

We live in a small apartment with only a double bed in the bedroom and a sofa in the living room.

My husband is 6 feet, 5 inches and weighs 130, and he couldn't sleep on the sofa. My mother is 72, and has a bad back, so she couldn't sleep on the sofa either.

We didn't want to go to the expense of renting a bed, and we didn't know anyone who could lend us one, so I slept on the sofa and my husband and my mother slept in the double bed. (My mother slept in all her clothes plus my husband's raincoat.)

We have had nothing but criticism from the relatives since this story got around. Do you see anything wrong with this setup?

NEW YORKER

DEAR N.Y.'er: No. What was their beef?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old woman who feels as though she has been reborn.

It took me 13 months, but I lost 94 pounds. It has changed my life, Abby. I still consider myself ugly, but at least I'm not fat anymore and I can talk to people without feeling ashamed.

Everybody tells me how great I look, except this one person at work. She keeps saying, "You look so sickly and frail. I liked you better the other way. You don't look like yourself. You are TOO thin now." Abby, I burn up like a match when she talks that way. I worked so hard to lose that weight, and for her to put me down just about kills me.

I can't ignore her because we work together and I see her every day.

What makes a person so mean?

THIN AND LOVING IT

DEAR THIN: Your co-worker is either incredibly insensitive, or she's not playing with a full deck. (Maybe she's jealous.) Tune her out.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Business Meet Held By Chapter

The Midland Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons met Monday in the First Christian Church for a business session.

Buster Steger, president, presided. The chapter voted to participate in the Bicentennial celebration.

Mrs. August Wenck announced a trip is being planned by the National Association of Retired Teachers and the AARP to Juarez, Mexico.

Guests attending were Eunice McDuffey, Ruby Taylor, Willie Lee Corder, Clarence Alther, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Key.

Bishops Invited To Discuss Needs Of Migrant Workers

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — All Roman Catholic bishops in the United States have been invited to attend a meeting to discuss the needs of Mexican-American migrant workers, Bishop John J. Fitzpatrick of the Brownsville diocese said Tuesday.

The bishop said he asked the bishops to attend the meeting because there is a need to understand and appreciate the Mexican-American people in order to minister to them.

Bishop Fitzpatrick and 30 leaders of the Brownsville diocese have returned from their annual trip north to minister to the estimated 100,000 migrant workers from the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The meeting is to be held for four days at the San Juan retreat house, starting Feb. 10.

Cindy Braden, M. B. Collins Marry In Rankin Church

RANKIN — The First United Methodist Church here was the scene of the Saturday evening marriage of Cindy Jean Braden and Michael Barton Collins. The Rev. Herb Fredericks officiated for the double ring ceremony, and Mrs. Nolan Corder was the organist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James P. Braden of Midkiff and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Collins, who reside at the Union Texas Benedict Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Braden presented their daughter in marriage. She wore a traditional wedding gown of pearl de sole overlaid with sheer silk organza styled with an Empire waistline and sheer, long sleeves accented with re-embroidered lace, seed pearls and sequins and a V-neckline with silk organza ruffles. The chapel-length train also was enhanced with deep ruffles, re-embroidered lace, seed pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was of white carnations, red roses and holly leaves accented with white ribbon. Her headpiece was two layers of tulle with seed pearls and clear crystals which fell to elbow length.

Cecilia Braden of Midland attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cecelia Goodenough of Midland, cousin of the bride, and Penny Braden of Midkiff, sister of the bride. Colette Lane of Midkiff was the flower girl.

Best man was Brent Collins of the Union Texas Benedict Camp, brother of the bridegroom. Ronnie Johnson of Rankin and Billy Eggenmeyer of Midkiff acted as the groomsmen. Groomsman were Randy Braden, brother of the bride, and Donnie Deal, both of Rankin. Grady Lane of Midkiff carried the rings.

A reception was held at the Rankin Country Club. After a wedding trip to Odessa, the couple is residing on Star Route, Midkiff.

The bride attended Odessa College and is employed at the Rankin Hospital. Collins attended Angelo State University and is employed with Phillips Petroleum Co.

Christopher Lee Gratified He's Breaking From Stereotype

By WAKA TSUNODA NEW YORK (AP) — After 18 years and 125 films, Christopher Lee, the most famous screen Dracula since Bela Lugosi, believes his career is taking a different turn, and he's delighted about it.

"First of all, I look like myself. People will recognize me. I don't always look like myself in some films," he explained. "Secondly, it's a major part in a major picture. Thirdly, the character of Scaramanga, the man with the golden gun, is not a conventional heavy. He's the world's highest paid assassin, a vicious and dangerous man. But he's also amusing, entertaining and has a sense of humor. Much like myself," he added with a laugh.

about his being the "right man." A couple of years ago he went to Romania to make a TV documentary on Dracula and saw an ancient portrait of Vlad the Impaler, the real life Romanian prince on whom the vampire legend is said to be based. "He looks exactly like me," Lee said with a laugh. "A lot of people commented on it."

Anthropologist Claims Hyenas Not Villains They're Portrayed

By BOB THOMAS LOS ANGELES (AP) — Is the hyena a victim of bad public relations? Author-scientist Jane Goodall thinks so, and she will plead her case on a television special.

The show is "The Hyena Story," and it will appear on ABC-TV this spring. Miss Goodall was here for a lecture at the California Institute of Technology and she paused over coffee to explain her interest in the hyena: "When my son was very young, it was necessary for me to leave my studies with the chimpanzees because they have been known to prey on small children. So we moved from Gombe to the Serengeti Plain and that's where I was attracted to hyenas.

"They are much more individualistic than the antelope, for instance. Antelopes need only to smell, hear and run fast. Carnivores have a much more complex brain, since hunters need other faculties to stalk their prey as well as avoid being preyed upon.

"Hyenas have this reputation for being cowardly, skulking creatures who steal other animals' kills. Indeed they do scavenge, but they are also excellent hunters. They will attack animals as large as zebras and even harass a mother rhino to get at her baby. That doesn't seem fair, since the rhino is such an unwieldy creature.

that there are few experts on the beasts. They are hard to study, since most of their hunting and other activity takes place at night. Then how could they be photographed for the TV special? "With floodlights," she explained. "Hyenas, like lions, have a peculiar ability to look through lights; the glare doesn't seem to bother them. Perhaps that is a faculty of carnivores. I have observed hyenas by moonlight, and I find that they behave no differently from how they act under the floodlights."

Resolutions Rooted In Old Customs

CHICAGO (AP) — The New Year's resolution — that promise to correct faults and bad habits — is rooted in ancient traditions.

It may have originated in ancient Persia (Iran), report researchers for World Book Encyclopedia. The Persians, they note, followed the custom of giving eggs to their friends on the new year. Since an egg hatches into life, the gift signified beginning again.

In England, cleaning the chimney on the first of the year was supposed to bring good luck to the household during the coming year. "Cleaning the slate" at the New Year, says World Book, is today's version of "cleaning the chimney."

The Jewish New Year, which is celebrated in late September, also has a tradition of cleaning or "starting over." At that time the religious symbolically cast away their sins in rivers.

I wondered too, but obviously there had never been a part for me. But on this occasion, the producers thought there was one."

As happy as he is about the new role, the 52-year-old Londoner is in no way slighting his achievement in the annals of the horrors. After all, it brings him some 15,000 fan letters a year from all over the world.

"The horrors, which I prefer to call the thrillers, are part of basic human emotions," Lee said. "They represent our dark side, secret side, fearful side. 'Emotional Safety Valve' "If you take a statistical survey of world audiences, I think you'll find the thrillers are No. 1 or 2 in popularity — the reason being they are fantasy, they are escapist and they are not harmful. "We are all prey to fears," he continued. "I think to see these fears released on the screen while you're sitting in comfortable surroundings can be a very good way of letting off your emotional steam. It's an emotional safety valve. There's no doubt about it."

26 Texas Ethnic, National Groups Listed In Publications

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

It may come as a shock to the distinguished Greeks residing in Texas that the first one to reach these shores was a pirate.

That is one of the strange facts contained in a new publication issued by the Institute of Texan Cultures, a part of The University of Texas. It is titled, "The Greek Texans."

The institute has identified 26 ethnic or national groups in Texas and is producing publications about each.

This first Greek who can be identified as such in Texas was known only as Captain Nicholas.

He told his story in 1881 to Dr. J.O. Dyer. Captain Nicholas said he joined the forces of pirate Jean Lafitte at Savannah, Ga., and came to Galveston Island with him.

He said he went with Lafitte to Yucatan and Sinal when the pirate colony broke up in 1829.

He returned to Galveston in 1842 and died in the terrible Galveston storm of 1900.

A good many Greeks came to Texas in the meantime, but they mostly were fishermen and sailors and not permanent residents.

Eight of them came along as nursemaids to the camels which Secretary of War Jefferson Davis, later president of the Confederacy, brought to Texas as an experiment in transportation.

Yet the 1860 census, says the institute, showed only two Greeks residing in Texas.

A century later, there were an estimated 10,000, mostly concentrated in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

"The Greek Texans" relates the story of Col. Francisco Garay who became something of a hero in reverse in Texas' war of independence in 1836.

Garay was a Greek serving with the Mexican Army. At the Goliad massacre, he hid about a dozen Texas doctors and carpenters in his tent and saved their lives.

The major rush of immigration, if it can be called a rush, came in a 30-year period following 1890.

They came to America and to Texas for the same reasons most U.S. citizens did—to avoid political persecution, depression and overpopulation. By 1922, Greek colonies in Turkey were expelled and many of those refugees also came to America.

Greeks by legend have names which are notoriously hard to pronounce although, this isn't always the case.

It was the truth in the case of Savva Paraskivopoulos.

Paraskivopoulos was a sheep and goat herder when he decided to emigrate to the United States in 1903.

He worked on railroads for a couple of years for 37 cents a day and probably decided this wasn't such a land of opportunity after all.

Paraskivopoulos had a railroad gang boss with a short-temper. He said Paraskivopoulos had to change his name to one he could pronounce or be fired.

Paraskivopoulos said all that, and he stole the gang boss' name.

Thus all Aggies are spared the trauma of pronouncing Paraskivopoulos Campus of the Texas Maritime Academy of A.M. The Mitchell Campus was established on Pelican Island on land donated by Miles Mitchell.

Mitchell opened a shoe shine parlor in Galveston and invested in real estate and became wealthy.

This man who never spent a day in school sent his sons,

George and Johnny, to A.M.

Since World War II, George and Johnny have drilled more than 2,000 oil and gas wells and have discovered more than 100 fields.

The book is filled with such success stories of 30 or so Greek-Texas families.

Newspapermen and other late night workers probably would be suffering now from malnutrition were it not for the Lucas B&B all-night restaurant.

Patron Lucas was shoveling coal on a vessel which docked at New York City. He jumped ship with 75 cents in his pocket and got a job washing dishes.

He worked his way up to manager of several restaurants, and bought into a Dallas cafe.

When a Ku Klux Klansman called him a "damn foreigner," Lucas calmly replied, "Friend,

I am ashamed that I was not born here, but I came as quickly as I could. . . I am just as ashamed as your granddaddy was when he arrived."

As everyone knows a large number of Greeks went into the restaurant business. This is perhaps because they followed relatives into that line when they reached America. Too, it was something they could start with tiny capital.

But they also went into other professions and business known to man.

A part of the American legend is the account of the Greek restaurant owner.

Yet generations of Texans have learned to speak better because of Thomas A. Rousseau who was born in Greece in 1901. He became a member of The University of Texas speech department and was active in a University International League speech activities.

Greeks are fortunate because they celebrate two Independence Days.

The second is March 25 when they stage quite a party to celebrate the 1821 Greek overthrow of Ottoman rule.

They are very dedicated to the Greek Orthodox Church and have built handsome churches and cathedrals.

They have even brought a charming ritual from their native country to these shores, the blessing of the First which takes place in Corpus Christi, Galveston and Fort Arthur.

This has become inter-denominational.

But pity the poor Greek bride and bridegroom. Where others can get hitched in five or ten minutes, their ceremony takes a tiring hour.

SECURITY RECOMMENDATIONS GIVEN HOMEOWNERS— Palm Springs, Calif., Has Locked Out Burglars

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A year ago the police in this plush desert resort city decided to lock out burglars.

It's working. At a time when inflation is driving everything up, the crime rate here is going down.

Palm Springs is a monied mecca that attracts burglars and hotel thieves.

It's a favorite watering hole for Hollywood celebrities. Such stars as Frank Sinatra and Bob Hope have homes here. It's the playground for the rich and famous. Dwight D. Eisenhower played golf here when he was President. So did former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Financed by a $32,000 federal grant, Palm Springs' crime prevention program is deceptively simple.

"It's nothing that's overly new," said Police Chief Robert White. "Last January we started inspecting homes so that we could recommend better security against burglars."

Homeowners are shown how to means as dead bolt locks and window guards. In some areas, block captains work with the police to keep people informed.

In order to test the program's effectiveness, police set up two middle-class areas for comparison.

In the White Water Country Club area, every home was inspected personally by a member of the Crime Prevention Bureau. In the Racquet Club area, the homes were not inspected.

Burglaries in the White Water area — which was inspected — dropped 89 per cent in 1974 over 1973. Break-ins went from 23 to just seven.

In the Racquet Club area, burglaries jumped 100 per cent. The area had 54 burglaries last year, compared to 27 in 1973.

Palm Springs' success in bringing down residential and commercial burglaries is attracting attention elsewhere in vast Riverside County.

The sheriff's department and police in Banning and Indio are considering adopting the program.

Complete figures for 1974 were not available, but Detective Bob Alvis said by last October commercial burglaries, including hotel thefts, were down 22 per cent and home burglaries were down 63 per cent compared to the similar period in 1973. We recommend a grill for louvered windows."

Alvis said everything in a person's home should be marked with the owner's driver's license number. The police also recommend photographing every room and all paintings and jewelry.

Finally, police give out stickers for windows that read "All items of value contained within have been marked for ready identification by law enforcement agencies."

Woman To Take Oath As Governor Of Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Ella T. Grasso takes her oath today as Connecticut's first woman governor. She is the first woman to win a governorship without following her husband in the office.

The 55-year-old Democrat's inaugural speech is expected to emphasize the need for fiscal austerity in the face of projected money problems for the state.

Mrs. Grasso defeated Republican Rep. Robert H. Steele in last November's election.

Liza Minelli Takes 'Cabaret' To Berlin Friday

BERLIN (AP) — Liza Minelli takes her European tour to Berlin Friday for a performance in the city that was the scene for her hit musical "Cabaret."

A tour spokesman said Miss Minelli will take a roundabout route from East Berlin to West Berlin.

Because air corridor links between the two locations are limited to U.S., British and French planes, the tour will make an end run through Copenhagen, the spokesman said.

Head Of Ford's Economic Advisers Not Likely To Be Overly Optimistic

NEW YORK (AP) — Alan Greenspan isn't likely to make the same error as his predecessor in the job of chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. He is not going to be overly optimistic.

Herbert Stein, chairman under President Richard M. Nixon, dug himself into a deeper hole each month by contrasting the terrible economic news with what he claimed was an imminent improvement. He lost credibility.

Greenspan told the Joint Economic Committee that the outlook wasn't pleasant, wasn't reassuring and wasn't certain. Unemployment might reach 8 per cent, he said, and he suggested the second-half recovery wouldn't be sudden.

What Greenspan learned in watching the Washington scene from his desk at Townsend-Greenspan, a consulting firm, was that economic conditions today are all but unpredictable.

This might seem so elemental as to be obvious, but the fact is that hundreds of economists are following up their abysmal forecasts of a year ago by again attempting to look a full year into the future.

Last year they missed on prices, interest rates, unemployment and a dozen other forecast areas. Their counterparts on Wall Street forecast Dow Jones industrial average anywhere from 400 to 1,000.

This year the consensus seems to be for a gradual recovery by summer, with interest rates falling a bit and the rate of inflation — but note, not prices — falling sharply.

Last year the economists complained that they were forced to evaluate too many factors beyond their comprehension: the impact of an oil embargo, drought and other meteorological phenomena, political maneuvers.

But this year, as Greenspan noted, there are factors involved about which economists are equally in the dark, the most important being the likelihood of substantial governmental moves against recession.

All forecasts made today are, therefore, accompanied by a substantial amount of ignorance and a considerable lack of information. And last year's results proved that either is sufficient to make a forecast almost useless.

Many economists concede that even when the facts are known, a forecast of beyond three months can plunge the forecaster into a dark void.

Jaycees Also To Honor Boss Of Year For 1974

In addition to honoring the Outstanding Young Men of 1974, Midland Jaycees will honor one of their employers during Tuesday night's Distinguished Service Award-Bosses Night Banquet. The affair, scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. at the Midland Country Club, will feature Dr. W. Phillip Gramm, professor of economics at Texas A&M University, as guest speaker.

Nomination forms for both the Distinguished Service Award and Jaycees' Boss must be in the mail by midnight Friday. DSA entries should be submitted to the DSA Selection Committee, P. O. Box 870, Midland 79701, and Jaycees' Boss of the Year nominations should be mailed to Midland Jaycees, P. O. Box 135.

Persons needing nomination forms should contact Larry Bell, project chairman (682-5201), the Jaycees office (682-9952), or forms may be picked up at the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The Boss of the Year award is presented annually to the employer of a Jaycee who is deemed to have given outstanding service to his community, church and business, and for meritorious support and encouragement of the Jaycees and their program.

Houston Firemen Request Election

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Professional Firefighters Association, Local 341, has asked city councilmen to call an election on collective bargaining.

The association suggested March 1 as the date. Lester Tyra, union president, said March 1, a Saturday, is a date when people who support the election will be available to work at the polls.

Jim McConn is the only council member who so far has voiced opposition to giving firefighters the right to bargain collectively with the city on wages and working conditions.

Jackie Onassis Writes Article

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has written an anonymous article for the New Yorker magazine about the new International Center for Photography here.

"We treated it like any other contribution," said editor-in-chief William Shawn. "She has a right to contribute if she wants to. We paid her the same rate as our other contributors."

He would say only that the pay was "in the hundreds."

The 1,500-word article describes a visit Mrs. Onassis made to the center on its opening day.

J. S. Abercrombie Dies At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — James S. Abercrombie, prominent oilman and civic leader, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was 84.

Abercrombie, who discovered oil fields in Texas and Louisiana and developed the Ocean Field in Brazoria County, also was a founder of Cameron Iron Works in Houston and was its board chairman.

Prigmore Hit, Killed By Train

near Odessa's downtown post office.

FBI agents and Midland police had the post office under surveillance for about a month when Prigmore was arrested. He had a .38-caliber revolver and a canister of a chemical irritant in his overcoat pockets. He was subsequently released that afternoon following his posting of two $10,000 bonds before U.S. Magistrate Woodrow "Woody" Weir of Midland. Prigmore was identified as the man "hit" by the train about five hours after the 4:40 p.m. Tuesday mishap. Peace Justice LeCroy said the man had no identification on him, but that the man's body was identified as that of Prigmore by a Midland friend of Prigmore's family. LeCroy said Prigmore was first taken to Lubbock's St. Mary's Hospital before being transferred to Methodist Hospital where he died. One unconfirmed account of the mishap says that the engineer of the 80-car freight train saw the man walk into the path of the train, then reportedly traveling about 35 miles an hour en route to Clovis, N.M., from Lubbock. LeCroy said an unidentified motorist saw a man apparently working on the engine of a 1970 Ford Maverick about 10 feet from the railway tracks. The hood was up and the lid to the air filter had been removed, LeCroy said. Department of Public Safety troopers later reported. The car was registered in Prigmore's name, he said. Another motorist found Prigmore beside the tracks, but neither witnessed the apparent accident.

Architect Says Bell Not Involved In 'Gift'

got money from everyone in Midland," Boone told The Associated Press.

Boone acknowledged Bell official Tom Davis of San Antonio discussed a contribution with him.

He said an alley is closed in a large city such as Midland when it involves a big company such as Bell if the city fathers feel it would be a benefit to the city.

Whitcomb, 59, has announced his retirement from Bell effective March 1.

my part on the tape conversation to trap John Whitcomb or any other personnel. It was merely the intent to set the record straight on transactions that had occurred.

Fusion Research Center Director Will Speak Here

Dr. William E. Drummond, director of the fusion research center at The University of Texas-Austin, will be the speaker Thursday noon at the meeting of the Midland Downtown Rotary Club in the American Legion Hall.

When the transcript was first read to him Tuesday, Boone replied, "This conversation was a couple of executives playing wheeler-dealer."

"Alleys get closed if there is no opposition from downtown interests," the architect said.

Ashley, dismissed for misconduct, has joined the family of the late Bell executive T. O. Gravitt in a $29 million lawsuit against the telephone company.

Whitcomb resisted bitterly any lack of integrity in Bell's approach of rate making and political contributions. In fact, he refused to file for a rate increase during his term as chamber of commerce president in spite of tremendous pressure by high Bell officials because he felt it would be a conflict of interest," Ashley said.

Boone also said the firm's fee for the Bell building was the "standard fee for this type of work. It is the standard fee Bell pays any architect for such a building."

A transcript of the telephone conversation is sealed in federal court here in an anti-trust suit brought against Southwestern Bell by the former San Antonio Telephone Co. and several other defunct telephone service companies.

Ashley told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Tuesday night that Whitcomb "was not personally involved in the negotiation for the alley closing or subsequent political contributions but rather was forced into the periphery by higher Bell management."

There was no attempt on

"I don't think this (the transcript) was any reflection at all of what happened in Midland," he said.

John Faselino, system director of employe relations, will go to the Odessa campus Monday to investigate "several questions which have been raised concerning the participation of university employes in Faculty patches of thick fog lowered visibility and the weather was unseasonably warm in East and Southeast Texas. Occasional showers moved from around Beaumont into Louisiana. The Associated Press reported.

Mr. Blackwell announces choices for 'worst dressed'

Waldon A. Harrison, 66, died early today in his home at 3310 Park Lane.

He was listed in guarded condition.

W. A. Harrison Dies; Rites Pend

Funeral services are pending at the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel. Harrison was born Feb. 8, 1908, at Greenville, Tenn., and was reared at Colbert, Okla. He moved to Midland in 1935 from Colbert.

Performer Injured In 30-Foot Fall

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Philippe Petit, the French circus acrobat who walked a wire last summer between the 1,350-foot towers of New York's World Trade Center, is hospitalized here after falling about 30 feet to a concrete floor.

Services Set For Prigmore

Services for Richard T. Prigmore, 40, of 2522 Culpeper, will be at 4 p.m. Thursday in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church with Dr. L. L. Morriss, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Resthaven Memorial Park directed by Newnie W. Ellis Chapel. He died Tuesday near Shallowater.

Weather—

In West Texas the temperatures near dawn sagged to 25 degrees at Marfa, 27 at Dalhart, 28 at Amarillo and 29 at El Paso. Readings in East Texas stayed as high as 67 at Lufkin and 68 at Houston.

Morriss Clears First Hurdle

Prospects for Dr. L. L. Morriss' selection as director of evangelism for the Baptist General Convention of Texas appeared stronger than ever following his approval for the post by the BGCT's State Missions Commission in Dallas Monday night.

Final approval of Dr. Morriss, longtime pastor of Midland's First Baptist Church, for the state post must come from the BGCT's Executive Board which will vote next Monday during a meeting at Fort Worth.

resign his post here at the end of this month. A pulpit committee will be elected by the Midland congregation to select ministers to visit the local church with a view toward a possible call as pastor. Final vote on a new pastor will come from the congregation itself. Until a permanent pastor is chosen, an interim minister probably will fill the pulpit, spokesmen explained.

Common Market Rejects Petrodollar Fund Proposal

LONDON (AP) — The European Common Market has rejected Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's proposal for a petrodollar fund controlled by the industrialized nations and agreed instead on a fund in which the oil countries would have a say.

Finance ministers of the nine West European nations agreed at a meeting Tuesday to support creation of a $6-12 billion pool in the International Monetary Fund that would lend to countries in financial trouble because of higher oil prices.

A 44-year-old breach of contract suit that originated in Stonewall County was dismissed Tuesday by 142nd Dist. Judge Perry D. Pickett here when he granted an instructed verdict motion by the defendant, Skelly Oil Corp.

Mr. Pearson, 73, Dies In Hospital

The Rev. George M. Pearson, 73, of Midland died Tuesday in a Midland hospital. Services will be at 4 p.m. Friday in the Coker-Peters Funeral Home Chapel at Greenville. Interment will be in Merritt Cemetery. Local arrangements were made by Newnie W. Ellis Chapel.

Plainview Road Bond Issue Fails

PLAINVIEW — A $1 million bond issue to widen U.S. 70 west of Plainview has been turned down by Hale County voters by 26 votes. The vote was 1,551 to 1,525. Tuesday marked the third time voters had considered the project.

Judge Dismisses Breach Of Contract Suit Against Skelly

Hunter D. Gaither, 62, of Asperment, a former pumper for Skelly, was seeking a $49,000 judgment in the district's first jury trial of the year. Gaither had alleged that he was pressured into quitting his job of 19 years with Skelly at age 58. Depositions indicated that he had options of transferring to Kermit as a roustabout or to Sweetwater as a pumper but rejected both offers.

Price Of Gold Going Back Up

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold seered back up on European exchanges today as the market apparently shrugged off the lack of American interest.

Helen Reddy Heads 'Worst-Dressed' List

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Helen Reddy heads the list of 10 worst dressed women of 1974. Mr. Blackwell, the designer who has been making the selections annually for 15 years, also unveiled Tuesday his list of the 10 best dressed women of the year.

don't have a good soul or that they aren't great entertainers," the designer said of his choice of Miss Reddy for the dubious distinction. Mr. Blackwell picked actress Elizabeth Taylor as the worst of the worst dressed in the 15 years he has been making his selections public.

On the designer's top 10 of the worst dressed were Miss Reddy; Princess Elizabeth of Yugoslavia, fiancée of actor Richard Burton; Fanne Foxe, stripper friend of Rep. Wilbur Mills; Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., described as dressing for the 1940s; Cher Bono, who Mr. Blackwell said looks like a "Hawaiian bar mitzvah"; singer Charo, described as "Carmen Miranda with cleavage"; the Pointer sisters; Raquel Welch; Karen Valentine and Sonia Rykiel, the first fashion designer to make the list. Mr. Blackwell's best dressed list includes actresses Ann-Margret, Faye Dunaway and Natalie Wood; Rose Kennedy; Princess Grace of Monaco, and Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the former California governor.

Top State Leaders Want To Save Something From Constitution Meet

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The failure of the 1974 Constitutional Convention will carry over into the 1975 legislature with a determined effort by some to do something about the much-amended 1975 constitution or call another constitutional convention. Here are some of the highlights of the proposals in another of a series of pre-legislative stories.)

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' three top officeholders believe the debris of last year's Constitutional Convention contains salvageable material that can be used to replace the state's antiquated charter.

They will provide leadership for 149 constitutional experts—the veterans of the 181-member convention who return as legislators.

And most of those are expected to be willing workers in that effort. They had to do a lot of explaining to voters about the seven months and nearly $4 million spent on a document that failed by three votes on the convention's final night.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe several times during his gubernatorial campaign said the legislature should submit a new constitution to the voters article by article.

He did not say the articles should be the same as those in the convention's final draft, but neither did he object to those articles.

U. S. Gov. Bill Hobby has said a proposal to call another convention made up of citizen-delegates deserves "further study." It might be possible for the legislature to call for such a convention, then ask the voters to approve the product, he said. Or, the voters could be asked to authorize a convention of separately elected delegates.

The latter alternative is what New Jersey did in the 1940s after voters had rejected a document written by a convention of legislator-delegates, Hobby said. The second New Jersey convention wrote a constitution similar to the one adopted by the first convention, and the voters accepted it.

Speaker-apparent Bill Clayton says he hopes the legislature will reorganize the present constitution, eliminating the deadwood.

While he doubts the legislature will approve a major rewrite of the constitution, Clayton says some of the articles in the 1974 convention's product might be sent to the voters as separate propositions.

Outgoing Speaker Price Daniel Jr., who was president of the 1974 convention, has proposed a bill calling for a convention of 72 citizen delegates to be elected Jan. 27, 1976 to meet on April 6, 1976.

Daniel says several legislators have agreed to introduce a bill calling for the Jan. 27, 1976 election.

Unlike the 1974 convention, the one in 1976 would vote by simple majority rather than a two-thirds majority.

Sen. Bill Patman, D-Ganado, wants to submit the product of the 1974 convention to the voters. He says the people deserve the right to vote on what they have already paid for.

Perhaps the most pressing need for constitutional revision is in the area of judicial reform, and it was on this subject that the 1974 convention made its sharpest departure from the present document.

The main features of the proposed judicial article have been endorsed by the State Bar of Texas, Merger of the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals is the keystone of that proposal.

Courts of civil appeals would be given criminal case jurisdiction as well, providing an appellate level below the top court for those cases. This would solve the state's most urgent judicial problem: a Court of Criminal Appeals caseload so staggering as to guarantee a scandalous miscarriage of justice sooner or later, according to the court's own judges.

The proposed article also provides for unified judicial administration and replacement of the myriad of specialized local courts with a new system of county-level trial courts.

Major problems remain on judicial reform. Should appellate judges be appointed by the governor from a list of jurists approved by a commission of persons best equipped to evaluate judicial performance?

Should the state have the right of appeal in criminal cases on questions of law prior to the determination of guilt or innocence?

These issues probably will be debated early in the legislative session.

Today In History

By The Associated Press Today is Wednesday, of Jan. 3, the eighth day of 1975. There are 357 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: In 1815, U.S. forces under General Andrew Jackson defeated the British in the Battle of New Orleans. The battle was the closing engagement in the War of 1812.

On this date — In 1642, the Italian astronomer, Galileo, died.

In 1679, the French explorer, La Salle, reached Niagara Falls.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson outlined 14 points for peace after World War I.

In 1923, France began the military occupation of the Ruhr Valley in Germany.

In 1959, Premier Charles de Gaulle became President of France.

In 1971, the United States apologized for a bomb explosion outside a Soviet cultural building in Washington.

Ten years ago: The Star of India sapphire and 23 other gems stolen from the American Museum of Natural History were returned to New York after being recovered from a bus station locker in Miami.

Five years ago: The United States and Mainland China agreed to resume diplomatic talks in Warsaw after a lapse of two years.

One year ago: Communist-led insurgents in Cambodia intensified their pressure on Phnom Penh with strikes north and south of the capital. Today's birthdays: Former White House aide Sherman Adams is 77 years old. Business executive Thomas Watson Jr. is 61.

Thought for today: You only grow when you are alone — Hindu proverb.

RECESSION GAINS FAST— Forecasters Busy Revising Projections Made Only Recently

NEW YORK (AP) — So fast is the recession overtaking the once extravagant economy that forecasters today are busily revising the projections they made only a matter of weeks ago.

The revisions come as the indicators of economic activity suggest that the recession will be deeper and more prolonged than many of them had anticipated.

Unemployment, for example, was forecast by most economists as staying below 7 per cent at least until the end of 1974, but the biggest monthly increase in 14 years pushed it beyond that mark in December.

Factory output is sagging, loan delinquencies are rising, many blue chip stocks can't attract a glance and interest rates are falling — all indicative of an economy from which all forward momentum has drained away.

A vital characteristic of the economy's health is the mood of the people, and that mood is increasingly somber, as judged by the many surveys of consumer attitudes now circulating.

Some observers maintain that the wild expectations of some gold merchants were tamed by this mood, which consists of foreboding, fear, suspicion and a variety of other negative attitudes that foreclose new commitments.

At any rate, the public didn't buy gold, and neither are they buying automobiles. Car production fell 24 per cent to 7.54 million units in calendar 1974, and it isn't difficult to find forecasts of another 10 per cent drop in 1975.

In Washington, where a tax increase was talked about not many weeks ago, there seems to be a growing consensus for a tax cut instead, the theory being that a cut would stimulate more spending.

It was only six months ago or less that government, corporate and academic economists were wondering how in the world they could cut the extreme buying demands of the public. Now, it appears, the public has provided the answer, and the economists now are wondering how in the world they can incite, provoke or encourage the public to embark on new spending ventures.

But with 5.5 million Americans out of work, almost everyone knows somebody who was cut and there is nothing more depressing to economic activity than that. Saving rather than spending becomes the goal.

The most optimistic view of things now is that a recession is also a renewal. It forces people to work harder, forego frivolous purchases and otherwise return to stable virtues.

On a corporate level it forces a weeding out of unhealthy practices. Efficiency improves and a greater premium is placed on innovation, which in a sense is a preparation for the next upturn.

Bullock Gearing Up For Statewide Property Tax Monitoring System

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN (AP) — Comptroller Bob Bullock says he already is gearing up a statewide property tax monitoring system in case the legislature passes a school finance reform bill.
 "That's one of the reasons I got Lynn Moak over here," Bullock said Tuesday.
 Bullock hired Moak, an expert on public school finance, from the Texas Education Agency shortly before he was sworn in as comptroller Jan. 1.
 Virtually all plans to revise the school finance system include the use of market value of real estate as the sole measurement of a district's entitlement to state aid.
 "None of them explain who is going to determine market value," Bullock said in an interview. He said Moak had been assigned to making recommendations on determining market value.
Overseer Needed
 "There is a need for somebody to oversee the collection process over the state and have a check and balance on market value," Bullock said.
 The comptroller's office already audits county tax assessor-collectors' records to assure that state property taxes are paid.
 Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, chairman of the House Education Committee, said the comptroller always has had the power to "reject any county tax roll submitted to him."
 Mauzy's committee sponsored a seminar Tuesday, attended by only six of the 31 senators, on various proposals for reforming the school finance system, which has been widely criticized as inequitable.
 Dr. Richard Hooker, the governor's educational research director, said Gov. Dolph Briscoe's "weighted pupil" plan is designed to lift all school districts to the level of the 42 best.
Attempts Recalled
 Some senators wryly recalled earlier unsuccessful attempts to reform school finances.
 Hooker said state spending would increase by $600 million and required local expenditures would jump by $500 million over the next two years if Briscoe's plan is approved by the legislature.
 "What are we buying? We are lifting the floor of the Founation School Program to guarantee the quality of programming identified in the 42-district sample," Hooker said.

Tax Hike Likely
 While Briscoe has not publicly stated how he thinks state and local shares of the Foundation School Program should be determined, Hooker said market value of taxable property would have to be the index. Some districts would have to increase taxes, he said.
 "That's the booger," Sen. Tom Creighton, D-Mineral Wells, whispered to Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, chairman of the Senate Education Committee.
 Sen.-elect Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, asked Hooker if the plan would require consolidation of rural school districts. A public school reform plan requiring countywide districts failed in the 1969 legislature.
 Hooker said the plan would not require consolidation and, in fact, contained extra funds for sparsely settled rural districts. But, he said, small districts in areas with fairly dense populations would find it to their advantage to consolidate.

 "Seduced consolidation," remarked Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin.
 Hooker said it would be unfair to the state's taxpayers to pump $150 million in funds each year into inefficient small districts.
To Weight Programs
 Briscoe's plan would weight various programs according to their costs per 30 pupil hours of instruction, ranging from a value of 7.00 for grades 4-6 to 4.86 for special education for crippled children. The total weight factors would be multiplied by $650 in 1975-76 and $700 in 1976-77 to determine a district's foundation school program cost.
 The Foundation School Program now costs $1.3 billion a year in state funds and $300 million in local funds. Local enrichment—often spent on such basics as janitorial service and other operating costs supposedly covered by the foundation program—adds another $700 million.

Hooker said the governor's proposal would require $1.6 billion in state funds and $800 million in local money for the foundation program in 1975-76. The following year the local contribution would remain the same but the state's share would jump to $1.9 billion. The state share would be $600 million higher for the next two years than the present program.
 "School districts which have enjoyed the present inequitable system would, over a five-year period, have to step up their tax effort until they reach the average of the state," Hooker said.

Boston Paper Says Brezhnev Will Enter Hospital; Officials Won't Comment

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Globe said today that Leonid Brezhnev would enter the Sidney Farber Cancer Center here today, but in Moscow authorities said the Soviet leader was there for the funeral of his mother.
 Newsmen in the Soviet capital saw Brezhnev's limousine in his mother's funeral procession although they did not see the 68-year-old Soviet Communist party chief himself. However, Soviet officials at the scene told them he was present.
 A spokesman at the Soviet Foreign Ministry said he had no comment on the Boston Globe's report. Top-ranking officials at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow said they had no information on the report.
 The Globe in a front-page story said a police source told it that the Soviet leader would enter the cancer center at the Children's Hospital complex sometime today.

 However, the Boston office of the FBI, the state police, the cancer center and airport officials all told The Associated Press they knew nothing of the reported visit.
It's Good Idea
LONDON (AP) — For weeks many British newspapers had been cutting the number of pages in the face of a growing newsprint shortage. But a Cheshire newspaper unwittingly took the economy campaign a step further with an announcement to readers that its layout "has been altered to permit more news to be printed on each page."

Initial inquiries to the State Department and the Secret Service in Washington drew no comment.
 Last Friday, syndicated columnist Charles Bartlett reported that while Soviet spokesmen were saying Brezhnev canceled a scheduled trip to Cairo next week because he had the flu, he actually was suffering from leukemia.
 The Soviet news agency Tass had announced on Dec. 30 that the trip was postponed indefinitely. No reason was given. Later, an Egyptian newspaper said "health reasons" forced cancellation of the trip.
 The Globe said White House and State Department officials it questioned about the visit said they had "no information on which to base confirmation or denial of the reports" of a Boston trip.

Health Maintenance Organizations Get Support From LBJ Public Affairs School

AUSTIN (AP) — The Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs has issued a 400-page report concluding that Health Maintenance Organizations should be permitted in Texas.
 Chairman Joe Christie of the State Insurance Board, which requested the report, released its conclusions.
 While agreeing with the conclusions that HMOs should be allowed to operate in Texas, Christie said he was reserving judgment on the report's detailed recommendations.
 HMOs provide specified medical services, often ranging from routine checkups to surgery, for a fixed periodic payment.
 Last year, the insurance board laid down guidelines for HMOs which would use insurance companies as financial intermediaries. But Atty. Gen. John Hill struck down the guidelines and said only the State Board of Medical Examiners had the power to regulate health organizations.

The legislature that convenes next Tuesday is expected to consider bills authorizing creation of HMOs, including organizations controlled at least in part by the consumer-patients they serve. Such a bill failed in the 1973 session under pressure from the Texas Medical Association, which believes only doctors should control medical services.
 Federal legislation was passed last year encouraging formation of HMOs.
 "The classic HMO is not currently permitted under Texas laws. But I believe they should be permitted... We have the finest quality of medical care in the history of the world, but the way we deliver that care to those who need it is most often a throw-back to the days of buggy whips and pot-bellied stoves," Christie said.

Coaches Nix One Platoon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association takes up today a proposal to return to one-platoon football—an issue that has generated only lukewarm sentiment and is overwhelmingly opposed by the nation's coaches.

The NCAA continues the business meeting of its 69th convention, which began Monday afternoon with votes taken on only one-fifth of the 151 proposals. Most measures discussed Monday were of a technical nature.

Diane and Alan Roberts shot a low ball 59 to win the Ranchland Hill Country Club Mixed Foursome Golf Tournament Sunday.

In second were Golda and Arlene Morgan, 62, followed by Orene and Claude Mitchell, 64, Jackie and Jerry Willenberger, 66, and Bernice and Dave Lage, 66. Brenda Cunningham won a special prize and Jack Huntcut won a gift certificate.

one-platoon football, the convention delegates also will vote on a resolution indicating whether they want the NCAA committee on women's intercollegiate sports to develop the program in time for this spring's men's championships in track and field and tennis.

The committee also will study the feasibility of holding national championships in 10 other sports over the next three school years.

David Swank of Oklahoma University, committee chairman, said there was some sentiment among the delegates that a vote be taken on a resolution to see if the convention as a whole approves the idea.

The one-platoon proposal was made by the University of Oregon in an effort to cut down on the rising costs of collegiate athletics because of inflation.

Most delegates, however, believe that other methods such as trimming coaching staffs would be more effective than abolishing the two-platoon system now in use and return to the rules that prevailed prior to 1963.

Lee Extends Streak To 12 Straight

By BOB DILLON
Coach Paul Stueckler's Midland Lee Rebels opened defense of their District 5-4A basketball crown Tuesday night with an easy 63-46 victory over the outmanned Odessa Bronchos in the Lee Gymnasium.

Lee shot out to a first period lead of 25-8 and led at halftime, 46-21, and Stueckler then unloaded his bench, playing all 15 players that suited out. The victory was the Lee's 12th straight and gives it a 17-1 season record going into Friday's game with San Angelo in the Lee Gym.

Although the Rebel starting five barely played half of the game, four of the starters scored in the double figures with Junior Miller paving the way with 14 points. He was followed by Jeff Jackson with 13 while Brett Blackwell added 11 and Gary Parson 10. Ron Parish, the fifth starter, picked up three quick fouls and wound up logging about one quarter of playing time.

The hustling Bronchos did manage to get two players in the double figures with Ricky Hayes pumping in 16 points before fouling out of the game

15—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1975

Lee hit 13 of 19 free throws while Odessa connected on eight of 15 charity attempts.

The spark that gave Lee the surge it needed after posting a 9-4 lead in the early going was a technical foul on Odessa Coach Curt Chatham. On the play, Ron Parish was fouled. The 62 senior hit the one-and-one and Blackwell stepped up to the free throw line and calmly sank the technical shot, making it 12-4. The Rebels brought the ball in, worked it to Miller underneath and the 6-5 junior dumped it in for a 14-4 lead.

ODESSA — Leading by a paper thin 53-52 with 3:35 left, Midland High's Bulldogs pulled away in the stretch to notch a 62-52 victory over Odessa Pyrmian in a District 5-4A basketball opener Tuesday night at the Permian gym.

day night at the Permian gym.

Before the game Coach James Cagle said, "We'll have to hit from outside to beat their zone. They play good position basketball and this is probably the best coached Permian team we've faced in several years."

Cagle presumed Greg Smith would be one of the keys to Midland's victory, but it didn't turn out that way. "Greg has been our best outside shooter all year," Cagle said after the game.

"But they just wouldn't give him a shot."

Luckily for the Purple Pack, reserve guard Bill Kerr and Bobby Chinn were deadly from the 18 to 22 foot range and it was Kerr's three baskets at the start of the second half that enabled Midland to break out of a 33-32 intermission tie and take the lead for good.

Kerr and Chinn had teamed up in the second period to score all seven of Midland's baskets as Midland rallied from a 20-12 deficit early in the quarter against the hot-shooting Panthers.

five of six free throw efforts as Midland fought back to tie it at 30 on a Kerr longie with 30 seconds left in the half. Chinn and Kris Howard swapped 20-footers to leave it 32-32 at half.

The Bulldogs showed a torrid 13 of 22 from the floor to Permian's 13 of 26.

Donnie Roberts swished from the post and then Kerr popped in two outside shots for a 38-32 Midland lead. Permian cut it to 38-35 on a free throw by Van Cleav and a fast break bucket by Craig Johnson, but Kerr hit his fifth in a row to make it 40-35.

Permian battled back to trail 49-48, 51-50 and 53-52 in the last period, but could never reclaim the lead. Nelson zeroed in on two long shots, twice found Cobb open on back door passes and converted a couple of free throws in the final quarter.

The Bulldogs were leading 53-52 and in a stall when Cobb got loose behind the Permian defense and Nelson found him with a pass. Chinn hit a free throw with 2:06 left for a

ROOKIE SPARKS RARE VICTORY—

Hawks Defeat Cavs

By The Associated Press
Cotton Fitzsimmons likes finishing on top.

The Atlanta Hawks haven't been doing enough of it lately, but Tuesday night was another matter.

"I sure did enjoy winning," said Fitzsimmons, coach of the Hawks, who trimmed the Cleveland Cavaliers 113-112 in overtime behind a career-high 30 points by rookie Tom Henderson.

The first-year backcourtman from Hawaii sank a 15-foot jumper at the buzzer to send the game into overtime, then scored four points in the extra session to help Atlanta to only its third victory in the last 10 National Basketball Association games.

"It was a great lift for our morale," said Fitzsimmons of the victory. "Before the game I told them to take a stand and play the best you can, but I didn't tell them to win. I know my guys are trying, but sometimes they play a little scared."

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Golden State Warriors routed the New Orleans Jazz 136-94, the Chicago Bulls beat the Houston Rockets 106-97, the Buffalo Braves defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 115-107, the Kansas City-Omaha Kings topped the Milwaukee Bucks 108-99 and the Portland Trail Blazers downed the New York Knicks 106-92.

In the only game in the American Basketball Association, the Memphis Sounds beat the Spirits of St. Louis 118-110. Warriors 136, Jazz 94. Rick Barry scored 29 points to head nine Golden State players who scored in double figures in the rout. The Warriors led by 30 points at one stage.

Kings 108, Bucks 99. Nate Archibald hit 23 points for the Kings, offsetting a 30-point outburst by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of Milwaukee. KC-Omaha snapped a five-game losing streak of its own as well as Milwaukee's five-game winning streak.

Blazers 106, Knicks 92. Lloyd Neal scored 22 points, including 15 in the final period, to spark Portland, which tied the game at 82-82 late in the third quarter on a basket by Neal, then broke it open with nine unanswered points in the fourth quarter, six by Neal.

Sounds 118, Spirits 110. Tom Owens scored 10 points in the last quarter for the Sounds, who overcame a 44-point third period by St. Louis. Owens finished with 25 points and 15 rebounds, while Spirits rookie Marvin Barnes had 21 points and 21 rebounds.

YENNIS. SAN FRANCISCO — Billie Jean King, playing her first singles match since last October, won a first-round match from Betty Ann Grubb-Stuart of Los Angeles 6-3, 6-4 in a $75,000 women's tennis tournament.

Pecos Downs Andrews In 2-AAA Tilt

PECOS — Pecos opened District 2-AAA play here Tuesday night with a flourish as the Eagles downed defending champion Andrews, 78-65.

Andrews is now 9-13 for the year and 1-1 in hoop play while Pecos is 6-10 and 1-4.

The Mustangs got a 23-point performance from junior Doug Shumaker but the Eagles were too much to handle on this night. Maurice Bolton led Pecos with 18 points.

In other 2-AAA game action, Seminole upset Monahans by a narrow 71-70 margin and Kernell swamped Fort Stockton 68-29. Odessa Ector beat Artesia, N.M., 79-69, in a non-conference game.

Andrews draws the open date Friday in hoop play, but will meet Levelland Thursday in Levelland in a non-conference game.

Cards Trump Bearcats

3rd-Ranked Louisville Survives Bad Night

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

It was an important game for the Cincinnati Bearcats, but just another game for the Louisville Cardinals.

As a result, the Bearcats played like tigers and the Cardinals were for the birds.

"I wouldn't call this our worst game but I wouldn't say it's our best," said Denny Crum after his lackluster Cardinals got by Cincinnati with just enough effort Tuesday night, 62-74.

Crum pointed out that his third-ranked basketball team was not especially keyed up for the game, which had no bearing on the Missouri Valley Conference race.

"We didn't play too well," said Crum. "But I don't try to get them up for non-league games. The fact that we can win by eight points and play poorly says something—we're not that bad."

"They're an independent and this was a big game for them. You always have a tendency to play better against a highly-ranked team. If they could play that well against the rest of the teams they play, they probably would win them all."

While Louisville was looking ahead to the Missouri Valley Conference race, Cincinnati was looking at Louisville.

"We've been thinking about Louisville for a long time," said Cincinnati Coach Gale Catlett. "Louisville is a fine basketball team. It's hard to say that this is our best game because we lost. When you get satisfied with defeat in this business, you'd better get out. But I wasn't worried about getting the team up."

The contest was the only one involving a ranked team Tuesday night. In other games, Wichita State stunned Long Beach State 75-46; Ohio State beat Missouri 78-65; Florida State trimmed the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee 104-82; Columbia beat Kings Point 89-71; Lafayette upset Princeton 75-67; Hardin-Simmons nipped Texas Christian 75-74; Brown whipped Rhode Island 75-66; Centenary beat Arkansas 74-72; Baylor defeated Lamar 79-78 in over time; Bucknell routed Rochester 105-64; Towson State trimmed Delaware 83-71 and Cleveland State turned back Buffalo 75-63.

In tournament play, Stetson beat American University 71-66 in overtime to win the Hatter Classic in Deland, Fla., and Texas beat South Alabama 89-75 to win the Senior Bowl in Mobile, Ala.

Texas Gains Cage Title

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Ed Johnson scored 18 points to lead a balanced Texas scoring attack Tuesday night as the Longhorns unseated defending champ South Alabama 80-75 in the Senior Bowl basketball tournament. Texas took a 41-36 halftime lead and then fought off a South Alabama rally that pushed the Jaguars ahead by one point about midway through the second half.

Tommy Delatoro hit 16 points to back up Johnson for Texas, and Dan Krueger and Bruce Baker chipped in with 13 and 10.

Jack Chapman came off the bench to lead South Alabama with 18 points on nine field goals. Albert Gardner had 14, Dave Davis 11 and Glenn Seiph 10 for the Jaguars.

The victory still leaves Texas below the break-even mark for the season with a 4-7 record. The loss dropped South Alabama to 8-4.

About 2,200 fans watched the championship game. Earlier in the evening Mike McConathy and Elliot Lawrence combined for 51 points to lead Louisiana Tech to an 85-73 victory over Virginia Military Institute for consolation.

Super Bowl Dull? Not If You Enjoy Defense

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Don't try to tell Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll that past Super Bowl games have tended to be conservative and—perish the thought—even dull. He just won't buy that stuff.

"Beauty is in the eye of the beholder," Noll said today. "I've seen films of past Super Bowls and read accounts of the same games. To me, they were completely different."

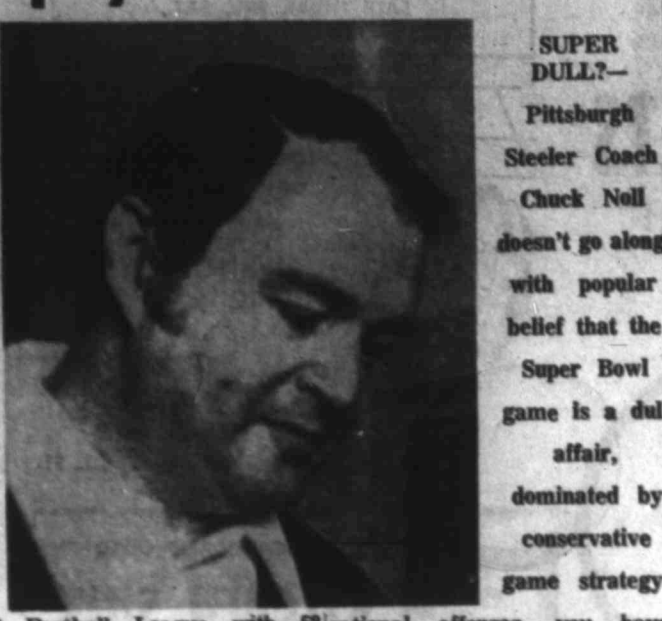

A football coach can appreciate technique and execution and that's just what Noll is talking about. "I don't think the Super Bowls have been conservative in nature," he said. "The hitting in the games I've seen has been fantastic."

Hitting, of course, is what defensive football is all about and defensive football is what Noll's Steelers and their opponents, the Minnesota Vikings, are all about.

The Steelers had the best defense in the American Football Conference and led the National Football League with 58 quarterback sacks. Those two facts, as much as anything else, explain why they're in the Super Bowl.

"Look, in order to get to the Super Bowl, you need a good defense," said Noll. "Offensively, you are limited by what the other people's defense lets you do."

So what Noll is saying is that if you haven't seen exactly sen-

SUPER DULL? Pittsburgh Steeler Coach Chuck Noll doesn't go along with popular belief that the Super Bowl game is a dull affair, dominated by conservative game strategy.

Terrible Caps Embarrass Bruins

By The Associated Press The big, bad Boston Bruins were in a big, bad mood Tuesday night. And no wonder—they were tied by the little, bad Washington Capitals.

"They just feel very bad," said Coach Don Cherry, who wouldn't let reporters into his dressing room after the 3-3 National Hockey League game. "They don't want to see anyone."

It was understandable. The Capitals, with their 3-35 record, are recognized as the worst team in the NHL. The Bruins, with their remarkable tradition and 22-10-6 record this year, are recognized as one of the best.

The tie was especially a shock to the Bruins, since they had punished the Capitals 10-4 and 12-1 in their last two meetings.

In night's other NHL games, the California Golden Seals whipped the St. Louis Blues 3-2 and the New York Islanders beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3.

Rookie Mike Marson scored two goals and assisted on a third as the Capitals ended a nine-game losing streak. Marson had his second two-goal night of the season.

Boston led three times, only to fall victim to rallies by the expansion Caps. Pete LaRamble, who assisted on the two Marson goals, scored the game's tying goal at 3:51 of the third period.

Seals 3, Blues 2. Rookie Fred Abern scored his second goal in as many games with 4:51 remaining to lift California over St. Louis. The triumph was only the Seals' second over the Blues on St. Louis ice in eight seasons.

Rebs Win

Coach Jack Stephenson's Lee sophomore and junior varsity teams took easy victories to give the Rebs a clean sweep for the evening.

The Lee sophomores won, 74-33 while the junior varsity stormed to an 89-68 win over OHS.

NOTICE TO TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

Faced with the same inflationary problems as you... We are requesting changes in interstate Long Distance rates

- Most calls will be higher. Some calls will be cheaper. But all customers can save.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has filed a new rate schedule with the Federal Communications Commission which will increase charges for most out-of-state Long Distance calls.

A new, lower minimum price and uniform discounts of 35 and 60 per cent will also be introduced for many dial-direct calls placed without an operator.

About 30 per cent of all interstate Long Distance calls will cost customers less. About 70 per cent will cost more. The new rates, which must be fully justified to the FCC, are intended to produce an increase in interstate revenues of 7.2 per cent.

The new rates are filed to become effective on March 4, 1975.

Here are the specific provisions in the new rates:

- 1. On dial-direct calls (those dialed without an operator) the initial rate period any time of the day or night will now be one minute, rather than three minutes. Since more than one third of all interstate Long Distance dial-direct calls are now two minutes or less, this will represent a significant saving for many telephone customers. 2. The number of rate periods will be reduced from four to three. "Weekday" rates will apply from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. "Evening" rates will apply from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. Sunday through Friday. "Night & Weekend" rates will apply from 11 p.m. to 8 a.m. every night all day and night Saturday, and all day and night Sunday, except 5 to 11 p.m. 3. The new rates feature a uniform 35 per cent discount during the "Evening" time period on the first minute and each additional minute for calls dialed direct without an operator. There will be a uniform 60 per cent discount during the "Night & Weekend" time period on the first minute and each additional minute for calls dialed direct without an operator. (See rate box at right.) 4. The initial period for all calls placed with an operator will remain at three minutes. The initial period charge for these calls will be the same 24 hours a day, seven days a week. (Calls placed with an operator include person-to-person, credit card, collect, coin, hotel-guest, or calls billed to a third number.) 5. All additional minutes will be charged at the same low dial-direct rate, and will include the discount applicable to the time period when you call. This means that the higher initial rate for operator-assisted station-to-station and person-to-person calls will apply only to the first three minutes of these calls. 6. Charges for certain Private Line services and Wide Area Telecommunications Service will be increased. 7. Charges on most Long Distance calls to Canada and Mexico will be increased, effective March 29, 1975.

Despite a steady increase in the cost of living over the past two decades, this is only the second request for a general interstate rate increase by AT&T in the last 21 years. During that same period interstate Long Distance rates have been reduced nine times. Even with the proposed increases, many Long Distance calls will cost less than they did in 1953. In the same period, the Consumer Price Index has risen 91.3 per cent.

These rate increases are the result of the enormous inflationary pressures that are besetting the economy.

Last August, the Bell System signed an employee wage settlement amounting to well over $3 billion during the next three years. The level of construction expenditures that provides the plant and equipment required for good quality service to the consumer has also risen significantly, reaching $10 billion in 1974. And there has been a dramatic upsurge in the cost of capital that must be attracted in order to finance this construction program.

Although there will be an increase in total revenues, the proposed rates have been designed so telephone customers can take advantage of discounts by dialing their own calls when Long Distance circuits are less busy. By shifting calls to off-peak hours, Bell System operating expenses and capital expenditures, which have been so heavily influenced by inflation, can be held to an absolute minimum. The savings which result will benefit all Bell System customers.

PROPOSED RATES FOR COAST-TO-COAST INTERSTATE CALLS

(Lower rates apply on shorter distances.)

DIAL-AND-SAVE ONE MINUTE RATES: FULL RATE WEEKDAY Monday-Friday 8 a.m.-5 p.m. 60c; 35% DISCOUNT EVENING Sunday-Friday 5 p.m.-11 p.m. 39c; 60% DISCOUNT NIGHT & WEEKEND Every night 11 p.m.-8 a.m. Saturday-Sunday day and night except 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. 24c

Additional minutes cost less than the first minute. Dial-direct rates apply on all interstate calls (excluding Alaska) completed from a residence or business phone without operator assistance. They also apply on calls placed with an operator from a residence or business phone where dial-direct facilities are not available. For dial-direct rates to Hawaii, check your operator. Dial-direct rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit card or collect calls or to calls charged to another number because an operator must assist on such calls.

OPERATOR-ASSISTED THREE MINUTE RATES

STATION-TO-STATION Full rates apply at all times First 3 minutes $1.95; PERSON-TO-PERSON Full rates apply at all times First 3 minutes $3.55

Additional minutes same as dial rate. Applicable discounts apply to additional minutes during Evening and Night & Weekend periods.

NOTE: Rates quoted do not include tax.

Pruitt's 37 Paces Rangers

BIG LAKE — Junior Danny Pruitt flipped in 37 points here Tuesday night as the Class B Greenwood Rangers shocked the AA Reagan County Owls in a non-conference basketball game, 56-55, in three overtimes.

The victory lifted the Greenwood season mark to 15-9 while the Owls slipped to 12-8.

Pruitt was the only Ranger to hit in double figures, but his outside shooting was enough at the final gun. Sophomore Jennings Teel paced the Owls with 18 points while Mark Edwards and George Thompson added 10 each.

The Ranger girls also produced two victories over the AA Reagan County Owls in a non-conference basketball game, 56-55, in three overtimes.

The victory lifted the Greenwood season mark to 15-9 while the Owls slipped to 12-8.

Pruitt was the only Ranger to hit in double figures, but his outside shooting was enough at the final gun. Sophomore Jennings Teel paced the Owls with 18 points while Mark Edwards and George Thompson added 10 each.

Tors Stretch String To 19

BROWNFIELD — The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes ran their unbeaten winning streak to 19 games here Tuesday with a scorching 67-37 victory over the Brownfield Cubs to open District 3-AAA play.

The Tors are now 1-0 in loop warfare and own the best record in West Texas with the 19-0 season mark. Brownfield fell to 10-8 on the year and 0-2 in loop play.

The Golden Tors were never in trouble in this one as they raced to an early lead and skated to victory unchallenged. Guard Eddie Spencer hit 21 points for the Tornadoes and center Brian Meeks followed with 14 points. Scott Jackson led the Cubs with 14 points.

Lamesa will host Lubbock Estacado, a 77-51 loser to Snyder Tuesday, in their next district outing Friday.

COOPER TRIUMPHS—Steers Surprise Eagle Quint, 68-60

The Big Spring Steers stunned the Abilene Eagles, 68-60, and Abilene Cooper's Cougars pulled out a 53-50 victory over the San Angelo Bobcats in District 5-4A basketball opens Tuesday night.

James Zapp gunned in 21 points to pace the big Steer upset win while teammate Robert Aldridge added 15 more. Abilene was led by Mike Little and Ricky Calloway with 16 and 13 points, respectively.

In junior varsity games, Big Spring posted a 65-58 victory while Cooper gunned down San Angelo 92-51.

Friday Friday's action finds San Angelo at Midland Lee; Midland at Big Spring; Permian at Abilene and Cooper at OHS.

WOODS NAMED TOP ROOKIE

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two running backs, Don Woods of the San Diego Chargers and Wilbur Jackson of the San Francisco 49ers, have been named National Football League Rookies of the Year by the Sporting News.

Results of voting by correspondents for the weekly publication from each NFL city were announced Tuesday.

Woods, who rushed for 1,162 yards on 227 carries last fall, was named the top rookie in the American Conference. Jackson, ran for 765 yards on 178 carries.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A YEAR MAKES—

Garvey Wears NL Fame Lightly

By JACK MURPHY
Copley News Service

These are the best of times for Steven Patrick Garvey, a sudden celebrity who is so comfortable with himself he is able to enjoy his new circumstances.

A year ago he was playing winter baseball for Tommy Lasorda in Santo Domingo, polishing his skills as a ballplayer and attracting very little notice.

Now he's so much in demand he requires secretarial help to bring order to a schedule jammed with jet travel, banquets and personal appearances. And he loves it.

"Is this your first supermarket opening?" Garvey was asked when he showed up in Rancho Bernardo, Calif., for ceremonies relating to Von's at the major league ball parks.

He laughed. "No, and it won't be the last."

That's status. When your presence gives prestige to a supermarket opening, when baseball banquet chairmen scheduled their events for your convenience, you have earned at least a glimpse of the American dream.

It came so quickly to Steve Garvey that he went to the All-Star game last summer as a write-in candidate. His name wasn't on the ballot distributed at the major league ball parks.

The public responded to Garvey for obvious reasons. He's handsome, personable, modest and bright—the ideal of the Pepsi Generation.

Of course, this is not wasted on the Pepsi soft drink people who have hired him to speak favorably of their product.

Most important, he can execute. Garvey was appointed as the National League's most valuable player for the season of 1974, an honor richly earned. His bat produced an average of .312, he hit 21 homers, and he drove in 111 runs.

That was one of many reasons the Los Angeles Dodgers won a pennant for the first time since 1966. Everybody rejoiced except Lou Brock when Garvey sprouted wings and went into a holding pattern over Cooperstown.

Brock sounded bitter and angry. He had stolen 118 bases, more than any other ballplayer in history, more than Maury Wills and Ty Cobb, and he had done it in his 35th year.

"I guess I can understand his reaction," says Garvey, who feels no compulsion to return the award. "He expected to win it. I understand he had even scheduled a press conference. He was speaking out of frustration."

When Archie Griffin won the Heisman Award his competition, Anthony Davis, responded with congratulations and praise.

Medical Students Off To Good Start

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Medical students at the University of Missouri at Kansas City see patients — not professors — on their first day of school.

The innovative six-year UMKC medical school is one of the few in the United States that takes students directly from high school to doctor training, says Dr. E. Grey Diamond, school provost.

Dr. Diamond said the school breaks with tradition and offers first and second-year medical students only 75 per cent of their studies in the arts and sciences — with the remaining time spent in realistic medical studies at Kansas City hospitals. In the final four years, he added, the percentage of student-study time is reversed.

A sophisticated network computerized and audio-visual information is available to students 24 hours a day in the "offices" in the school's $13.2-million medical building, Dr. Diamond explained.

The new medical building and the nearby $35-million Dr. Truman Medical Center are both being built under the city's $3.5-billion urban assistance program.

Inflation Cause Tourism Decline

LONDON (AP) — A worldwide inflation caused about a 25 per cent drop in European tourism this past summer. As resort staffs were cut 50 per cent, some resorts shut down completely.

Some of the able was blamed on the hike in airplane jet fuel cost averaging about $60 or more per person with future hikes in the offing.

Girls Fake Suicide Tries In England

LONDON (AP) — Bored teen-age girls are faking suicide attempts in an effort to dodge staying at school until they are 16, says a British doctor. "These gestures could lead to a real tragedy," he warned.

Said Dr. Richard Baines, a member of the local council at Walsall, Staffordshire, "In the last six weeks I have been called to three 15-year-old girls who have made suicidal gestures. They're absolutely fed up with not being allowed to leave school until the end of the summer term."

Two of the three girls had taken overdoses of aspirin, Dr. Baines said, and needed hospitalization.

Decorator Items Can Brighten Home, Office Or Clubhouse

Carmen's Mexican Imports, 306 E. Illinois, sells many Mexican decorator and useful items for home, office or clubs.

Roy Caron, owner, says Carmen's supply of gifts are constantly changing as he makes several trips a year to Mexico to shop.

Caron has a large supply of wall plaques with three color or light holders that will brighten an entrance hall, den, office or club.

Decorating the home with majesty, wrought iron or rope free-in-one ceiling hangers for both live and artificial flowers are very popular. Carmen's has a good selection of pottery, large or small, for inside the home or office or on the patio.

Buy a magnificent set of four planters, Spanish pottery, or large buildings, small poodles in all colors for that hard to decorate spot.

Carmen's has wrought iron knights in armor, large Buddha incense burners and over 1,000 decorator and gift items. These include velvet paintings in all sizes with wooden carved frames. He also has a good supply of tortilla makers and chili grinders.

Among sale items through January are horns that sold at 6.95, now 2.95. Tree candelabra now selling for 3.95. Hand-carved unfinished wooden plaques, size 6 inches by 6 inches, selling for $10 a dozen while large plaques, 11 by 14 inches, sell for $30 a dozen. As they are unfinished they are excellent to stain or paint to match or contrast with doors.

Carmen's Mexican Imports also has the largest selection of good used sewing machines in Midland. Mr. Hearon says his is the only place that gives a year warranty on used sewing machines. He can do this because he repairs the machines himself and knows they are in excellent condition before he puts them on the floor.

In addition Carmen's Mexican Imports carries a good selection of American made stereos and components. For the unusual, visit Carmen's Mexican Imports, 306 E. Illinois.

Protection Biggest Celebration Problem

CONCORD (LENS) — The Joint Military Liaison Committee has been meeting at Hanscom Air Force Base for three years.

The National Guard has been asked to help with rope, barrels, ambulances, walkietalkies and equipment for emergency evacuation.

The Red Cross is ready to man first aid stations. The firefighters will be spotted strategically about the area.

An emergency operations center will be headquarters for communications. Help has been requested from two Senators, the governor, the state commissioner of public safety and the Defense Department.

Is it war?

No — celebration!

Thus the Massachusetts towns of Concord and Lexington are preparing anxiously to receive the crowds they expect to come pouring in on them on April 19, 1775, the 200th anniversary of the start of the American Revolution: "the shot heard 'round the world."

Two of the most picturesque spots in all New England, Lexington and Concord still argue amiably over which deserves first honors for the opening gun (the first colonial were killed at dawn on Lexington Green; the first redcoats at Concord's North Bridge later the same day).

But both towns are as one in their passionate preoccupation with preserving the historical relics they have inherited, free from commercialization.

In addition to the ceremonies that take place every year at the North Bridge and at Lexington Green, the residents of Concord and Lexington are increasing their traditional activities of restoration and, from a poster contest in Lexington to a memorial chorale for Concord, they aim at a thoughtful recollection of the ideals their ancestors fought for.

Virtually every activity is voluntary, and of necessity. Retired Lt. Col. Robert Farlin, the veteran of World War II and Korea who is coordinating Lexington's celebration, says: "The town has appropriated $125,000 for the Bicentennial, and 90 per cent of that is for protection: our biggest problem will be police."

His fears are not unfounded, given the precedent of the 1875 centennial celebration. Vying for attention, Lexington and Concord both invited President Ulysses S. Grant, as well as a bewildering array of dignitaries, and despite the most elaborate preparations they were all but swamped in the crowds. An anticipated 20,000 visitors quickly grew to 50,000.

The presidential railway car could not move from Concord to Lexington. Those who got into the towns could not depart. And the hungry hordes converged on the grand dinner tent and stripped the plates of food before the guests could arrive. The Boston Daily News of April 21, 1875, concluded: "There is no difficulty now in understanding the early and hurried retreat of the British from Concord and Lexington to Boston. They were level headed."

Once again, Concord and Lexington have invited the President and, although they have grown eight and 10 times respectively in the ensuing century, they are still little better equipped to handle large numbers of visitors than they were 100 years ago; there are traffic jams in their narrow, winding streets for the simplest occasion, such as viewing the autumn foliage.

With all the help they can muster from surrounding towns, they hope to be able to accommodate something over 100,000 spectators for the bicentennial ceremonies, but no more. "The rest will have to just keep on going," says Mr. Flynn, the town manager of Concord. "We are discouraging people from coming."

Life Very Different For Dallas Children

DALLAS (AP)—For one hundred children in East Dallas, life is so different from other children that their lifestyle is difficult for most people to comprehend.

They are the children of Hare Krishna followers and have been sent to Dallas by their parents to attend the Gurukula, a commune school for the children of Lord Krishna.

Ranging in age from 3 to 11, the children are taught from the Bhagavadgita, a Hindu spiritual text, and live cut off from the outside world in a monkish atmosphere colored by Eastern mysticism.

The school, located in an old church building in Dallas, is funded by the Los Angeles-based International Society for Krishna Consciousness, founded in 1965 by a retired Indian businessman, A. C. Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabhupada. The movement's members have become a familiar sight in most large U.S. cities. They wear saffron robes, dab their foreheads with paste and lop up and down chanting "Hare Krishna."

The young boys' heads are shaved, except for a top knot, so Krishna can yank them into heaven at the proper time. The boys wear dhotis, the orange wrap-around. The single goal of the Gurukula is to make priests of the boys. At age 10, most of them go to a farm in West Virginia.

Girls in the school are encouraged to be submissive. They wear ankle length saris and keep their heads covered to discourage men. Many of the girls wear rings in their noses, the holes made with sewing needles, as a mark of chastity.

The children's day begins at 4 a.m. and ends at 7 p.m. when, segregated by sex and age, they go to sleep on mats in a damp church basement. The typical day in the school includes two or three showers during the day, numerous religious services and six daily offerings of food to Krishna.

Goddess Destroyed
Semele, daughter of Cadmus, mother by Zeus of Dionysus, demanded Zeus appear before her in all his splendor and was destroyed by his lightning.

And Be Inspired

Every now and then a really "touching" letter hits the editor's desk . . . and the one following falls in this category.

It was received a few days before Christmas, written by Mrs. Frank Hoelscher, Star Route B, Midland. "About four or five days ago," the letter began, "I lost a baby, our first, in miscarriage. I suffered a great deal of pain and discomfort, and was admitted to the hospital for four days.

"My husband, who had been looking forward to fatherhood, also suffered a great deal. Through this ordeal, though, he has been strong and brave to the point where I had to write you, in hopes someone might read this letter and be inspired and not lose hope in the younger generation. (He is 20, I will soon be 19.)

"We have been married a year this January. During this year, we have struggled to begin for ourselves a farm. My husband is a hard-working man, and through the loss of our baby and my hospitalization, has carried on in his business. (As you no doubt know, this is harvest season and farmers in this and surrounding counties are quite busy.)

"He was always here when I needed him most, his smile and squeeze of my hand never failing. He has comforted me when I was upset, sat with me while I was in pain. His strength and love have helped me to be strong; helped me to never lose faith.

"I thank God for this most loving, generous and strong man . . . and I hope someone will see this and take inspiration from his example.

"Love and generosity are noticed, are good for the soul and never end."

Isn't it great to have young folks like this right here in Midland County!

We do not know Mr. and Mrs. Hoelscher, but they surely must be a mighty fine young couple.

The young lady lauds her husband for his many fine and considerate qualities, but her letter shows that she also must be imbued with many fine characteristics.

Yes, a letter like this, relating to a couple like this undoubtedly will serve as an inspiration to readers, while at the same time strengthening their faith — and their hope — in the younger generation.

And, to the almost 19-year-old letter writer, don't ever lose faith in yourself, your husband or your fellowman.

Best wishes always to you both in 1975 and beyond.

'I'll Cover The Front Door, You Get The Back!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON — With the United States opening its gold vaults to speculators, intelligence reports warn that international rings are dealing in counterfeit gold.

The reports tell of counterfeiting-smuggling operations out of Beirut and Marseilles, with connections reaching deep into South America.

Gold bullion has been counterfeited, according to the reports, by drilling out the centers of 24-karat bars and filling them with lower-grade, 14-karat gold or with even cheaper tungsten.

In South America, official Swiss markings have been cleverly forged on the counterfeit bars. Some of these phony bars, it is believed, have been smuggled into the United States.

But the main smuggling center is Beirut, an airline hub with loose controls over gold shipments. The smugglers reportedly have been able to sneak the counterfeit bullion aboard planes flying to destinations all over the world.

Beirut gold dealers also are doing a big business in counterfeit coins. Valuable coins no longer in circulation are counterfeited by clever craftsmen who, under Lebanese law, don't even risk prosecution if the coins contain the proper amount of gold.

Some of these counterfeit gold coins, according to our sources, already have started moving into the United States. Americans buying coins and bullion, meanwhile, may learn the hard way that all that glitters isn't 24-karat gold.

Footnote: Swiss refineries are close to perfecting an electronic device, which can assess the gold purity of bullion. The bars are carefully weighed, meanwhile, on digital read-out scales. These quickly would detect gold-plated tungsten bars. But the bars filled with cheaper gold are more difficult to detect. After the low-grade gold is poured into the bar, it hardens and sometimes leaves an indentation at the opening. Gold bars with dents, therefore, may be rejected.

Following up our October 2 story, the State Department called in Customs agents who now are ready to seek grand jury action against ITT for failure to get federal approval to export the electronic gear.

Ragan told us he thought ITT had cleared the bugging equipment for export. ITT denied that its handling of the bugging devices was a criminal offense. At Customs, a spokesman confirmed the probe was proceeding actively but refused to discuss the details.

Footnote: While the State Department has been pushing the investigation at lower levels, we have been told the case is being sent to Secretary Henry Kissinger's office for review. He may decide for diplomatic reasons to soft-pedal it. The Commerce Department, according to our sources, would also prefer a slap-on-the-wrist rather than criminal action. A spokesman strongly denied, however, that anyone at Commerce had sent out orders "to take it easy on ITT."

HAPPY ENDING: In mid-December, we wrote about Moira, a little Vietnamese orphan who died a month before Christmas because there was no measles vaccine to save her. The vaccine was sitting in warehouses in the United States. Government regulations and red tape were keeping it from being shipped.

Now we have received word that Friends of Children, Inc., has been granted an additional $10,000 by the Agency for International Development to help get the supplies to the children.

"I consider this to be the direct result of your column," Mrs. Constance Boll, the executive director, wrote us. "This additional procurement alleviates some immediate shipping problems. Let us now hope that we see even more dramatic results through the granting of military airlifts for orphanage supplies for Vietnam."

CASE AGAINST ITT: On October 2, we reported that International Telephone and Telegraph had managed, incredibly, to get a bugging expert into the palaces of its late nemesis, the martyred Marxist president of Chile, Salvador Allende.

Now U.S. customs officials have prepared original accusations against ITT for transporting the expert's bugging gear out of the country

RAY CROMLEY Baloney Dominates Food Price Hearings

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Congressional hearings on high food prices are a sham, little more than a publicity stunt. At least six have been carried out with infare these last two years — by the House Agriculture Committee in October 1974; the Senate Select Committee on Small Business in December 1974; the Senate select Committee on Small Business in December 1973; the House Judiciary Committee in June and July 1973; the Joint Economic Committee, twice in April 1973 and once in December, 1974.

All have come to naught, for one simple reason: The data does not exist to determine which supermarkets and other retailers are overcharging, or if any are. There is no concrete information on whether markups are too great at one or more of the stages in the movement of food from farm to consumer. Are profits exorbitant? Is inefficiency the problem?

We do not have either the necessary statistical data on the effects of competition or of semimonopolies on food prices. In 84 of 158 metropolitan areas analyzed by the Census Bureau, the four largest grocery retailers control 50 per cent or more of the market. In the absence of relevant research, no one knows whether this concentration of business has tended to keep prices up or hold them down. There are theories, colored by which side of the fence the expert works. There have been no thorough, impartially researched studies.

With these facts in mind, the test of congressional sincerity is simple. If the senators and congressmen involved had really wanted to achieve results for the consumer, they would have written legislation ordering that the requisite data be collected regularly and that there be sustained research on food prices. Two years have passed since this assortment of hearings began. But, so far as can be determined, no serious bills on the subject have been introduced.

Eight years ago, the National Commission on Food Marketing asked Congress to charge the Federal Trade Commission with a continuing study of structure and competition in the food industries. The Senate and House ignored that recommendation. They continue to ignore it to this day.

"By any reasonable measure," one witness before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress complained, "a country which is into a second year of double-digit food price inflation, should be well aware of how food prices are determined, and of what profits are being made and by whom at each step in the food production and distribution chain. And it should be reaching social, political and economic solutions from that information base instead of still groping for the basic information."

If Congress runs true to form, this absence of data will not prevent the Joint Economic Committee from coming up with a detailed analysis of what is wrong with food prices, supermarkets, the middlemen and anyone else involved. Typical is the case of a 152-page volume on price stability recently issued by this same body. Rep. Clarence Brown, (D-Ohio) expressed the view of many of us when he remarked: "I realize there has been considerable time pressure. Nonetheless, with a report as lengthy and as heavily laden with recommendations, some of them quite controversial, a period of less than one week is hardly adequate time for the committee members to review the report, confer with one another and reach conclusions regarding it in a reasoned and deliberate manner." We are getting propaganda, not facts.

DON OAKLEY Jumping The Seniority Gun — 'Clever End Run'

WASHINGTON (NEA) — We have waited a few more days. There is certainly nothing illegal about the resignation of Ohio Democratic Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum — and the appointment by Gov. John J. Gilligan of Senator-elect John Glenn to replace him, thus giving Glenn a week or so of seniority over the other incoming freshmen senators.

Nor in the similar case of Sen. Paul Laxalt, newly elected Nevada Republican, who actually beat Glenn by a few days by virtue of being appointed to fill the seat of resigned Sen. Alan Bible.

The prerogative of governors to fill congressional vacancies created by death or resignation is clearly stated in the Constitution. Metzenbaum himself had been appointed by Gilligan earlier this year to finish the term of Sen. William B. Saxbe, who resigned to become attorney general, and many Democrats had begun urging Metzenbaum's resignation in favor of Glenn almost the day after the latter's overwhelming election victory in November.

Indeed, some of them immediately began talking about Glenn as vice presidential and even presidential timber in 1976. Yet there is something slightly extraneous about the tactic. It is a clever end run around the Constitution, in the spirit if not in the letter.

Glenn and Laxalt were elected by the people of Ohio and Nevada to begin serving in the 94th Congress, which convenes in January, 1975, not in the last days of the 93rd. About the only advantages he will gain by his "seniority" will be in the selection of offices in Washington and perhaps a better chance at the committee assignments of his choice.

Unfair To Others Metzenbaum initially had resisted the urging that he resign, arguing that it would be unfair to other newly elected senators. It is just that, and it is to be hoped that the Glenn and Laxalt cases will not become the practice, with state parties scrambling and dickered after every election to get their boys down to Congress ahead of the pack.

Perhaps it won't. If anything is difficult to pry loose from Washington it is our lame-duck congressman, who is wont to savor every moment remaining in his term. Perhaps these are special cases.

But it has been over 10 years since John Glenn first tried for the Senate. That's a lot of seniority that might have been. If the vote of confidence given him by Ohioans in November is an indication of the future, he will be in public office for a lot longer than that. It's too bad, he, as well Laxalt, couldn't

The Country Parson By Frank A. Clark

"Old age gives folks a chance to be themselves — with no worry about what they will become."

ISRAELI PRIME MINISTER Rabin has rejected as absurd the suggestion by Egyptian President Anwar Sadat that in the interests of peace in the Middle East Israel restrict its immigration for 50 years. The response was predictable and not without reason.

The understandable Israeli reason is that in any other case would be a gratuitous insult to a sovereign nation has observed what may well be a significant development.

The tabs are no closer than they ever were to acknowledging Israel's right to nationhood, much as any national sovereignty. But unless Sadat was just playfully lighting another match in an explosive situation, the fact that he can even contemplate the existence of Israel's another 50 years marks a momentous change in Arab attitudes.

No doubt of course, Sadat is confident that some kind of "final solution" to the problem of Israel will be achieved long before then, in all that those words imply — the future of Jews. The solution need not be military. Without immigration to Israel, the statistics of population weigh heavily in favor of the Arabs and will weigh more heavily with each passing year.

But if an Arab leader can begin thinking of living with Israel in terms of centuries, maybe other Arabas someday begin thinking of in terms of permanence — maybe even eventually in peace instead of at armed loggerheads.

It's a slender reed of hope, but there are so many others to grasp at in that part of the world.

Powerful U.S. Navy Force Sails Toward Indian Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) — A powerful Navy carrier task force sailed toward the Indian Ocean today as rumblings persist over Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's implied warning of possible U.S. military action in a grave oil emergency.

The six-ship task force, led by the $5,000-ton nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, was expected to enter the Indian Ocean within a few days after a voyage from the U.S. 7th Fleet base in Subic Bay, the Philippines.

Sailing Acknowledged

The Pentagon acknowledged the Enterprise's sailing but declined to identify its destination. However, sources said the carrier, the nuclear-propelled guided missile cruiser Long Beach, two destroyers, a supply ship and an oiler were bound for the Indian Ocean.

Pentagon spokesman William Beecher said Tuesday the task force was on an operational mission but he denied reports it was bound for waters off South Vietnam, where government troops have been reeling under Communist attack.

The White House affirmed the Pentagon statement. At the same time, President Ford was described as watching developments in South Vietnam closely.

Bombing Banned

Congress has banned any U.S. bombing or other military action in Indochina. Any such move would require prior congressional approval, officials agreed.

In Honolulu, Adm. Noel Gayler, commander of U.S. military forces in the Pacific, said it was "difficult to imagine" any circumstances under which American troops would be sent back to Vietnam.

Speaking on the NBC-TV "Today Show" to be broadcast Thursday, Gayler said the possible fall of the Thieu regime—or any regime in South Vietnam—would not be circumstances for intervention by U.S. troops.

Defense sources insisted no show of force was intended in the voyage of the Enterprise group through the South China Sea. These sources indicated the task force would come no closer than about 350 miles from the South Vietnamese coast.

Pentagon officials said the impending month-long Indian Ocean cruise of the Enterprise with its 50 warplanes had been planned for weeks. The six ships will replace another task force headed by the carrier Coral Sea, which left the Indian Ocean about a month ago.

The United States has been rotating naval groups in and out of the Indian Ocean on a fairly regular basis since late 1975, following the Midwest war. A major aim is to demonstrate that the United States intends to secure its oil shipping routes to and from the Persian Gulf.

There were reports that senior defense officials pondered in recent days whether to delay the Enterprise's entrance into the Indian Ocean because its appearance there now might agitate Arab and other nations already aroused by Kissinger's carefully hedged remarks about possible U.S. military action.

British Police Seize Hijacker, Free Crew And Recover Ransom

LONDON (AP) — Police at an airport north of London overpowered the hijacker of a British airliner, freed the five members of the plane crew unharmed and recovered $200,000 in ransom.

The only casualty Tuesday night was a steward who was bitten by a police dog.

The hijacker was to appear in court today. The police did not announce his identity but said he had "Arabic" features, was about 27 and had a mustache. The pilot said the gunman was an Arab student.

It was the first hijacking of a domestic British flight.

The young man commanded the British Airways BAC111 as it was preparing to land at London's Heathrow Airport after a flight from Manchester.

Stewardess Held

He held stewardess Barbara Brindley at gunpoint and demanded: "Tell the captain I have nothing to live for and we must go there."

The pilot, Capt. Harry Lea, 53, radioed the hijacker was armed with a .33 caliber revolver and a canister filled with explosives. Police said later the gun was a realistic-looking toy and the canister contained no bomb.

When the plane landed at Heathrow, the hijacker allowed the 45 passengers to get off and demanded the money and a parachute. Troops and police ringed the plane.

Lea Seemingly Angry

The hijacker held the crew for seven hours while Lea, seemingly angry, tried to talk security officials in the control tower into producing the ransom. He said the man was "obviously deranged" and was threatening to shoot the crew and blow up the plane.

Finally officials handed over a parachute and the ransom. But French authorities refused to let the plane land in France. Security chiefs decided to have Lea fly over England for more than an hour, then land at Stansted, an airport for charter craft north of London, where they would try to make the hijacker believe he was in France.

Troops Rushed In

Two planeloads of troops and police were rushed to Stansted, and all signs and billboards there were covered, but the ruse did not work. Police said the hijacker realized he was not in France and demanded a car to take him to Dover, on the English Channel. When that was refused, he tried to make a break, taking stewardess Allan Bond, 35, as a hostage.

A police dog handler grabbed the hijacker a few yards from the plane, and in the melee the handler's dog bit Bond. His wound was minor.

Gambling Scheme Bared In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Cards would be used, according to information disclosed in the criminal information charge filed by the U.S. Attorney's office.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Clark refused to say whether Abdo had been granted immunity for his testimony and if a major grand jury investigation was underway.

The U.S. attorney's office in Las Vegas would neither confirm nor deny an investigation was under way by them concerning free "junkies" for private poker parties.

Third Largest

Nevada City in Nevada County, Calif., was once the third largest city in the state.

A swindle which may have bilked South Texans out of thousands of dollars has been revealed in federal court here.

Real estate developer Solomon Abdo Jr., 38, pleaded guilty Tuesday to a count of interstate travel to aid racketeering enterprises.

Although details of the scheme and the plea bargaining agreement were ordered sealed, by U.S. District Court Judge D. W. Suttle, the plan revealed in court involved taking wealthy businessmen to Las Vegas to gamble.

Once there, the selected clients would be taken to plush hotels for a "private game" of poker where a crooked deck of cards would be used, according to information disclosed in the criminal information charge filed by the U.S. Attorney's office.

DETERGENT AT WORK IN HUGE OIL TANKER SPILL — Salvage crews spray detergent around Japanese supertanker Showa Maru in port of Singapore Tuesday after huge oil spill. The 237,698-ton tanker ran aground Monday in Singapore Strait and spilled almost a million gallons of crude oil. Detergent was sprayed around ship in attempt to clear water prior to trying to refloat vessel which was carrying about 66 million gallons of crude oil. (AP Wirephoto.)

RATIONING, RESTRICTIONS REJECTED—

President Reportedly Decides On Plan To Increase Gas Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has decided on an energy policy that deliberately increases gasoline prices to discourage demand but rejects direct fuel restrictions or rationing, an informed administration source says.

This source also said Tuesday that Ford has won the voluntary agreement of auto makers to improve gasoline mileage, but that he would not propose federal mileage standards or a horsepower tax.

Tax Credits Likely

However, Ford was expected to propose standards or tax credits to improve building insulation.

The administration's energy policy is to be made public later this month. Many of Ford's expected proposals would require congressional action, especially in imposing or easing taxes.

Ford was expected to stick to his goal of reducing oil demand by one million barrels a day by the end of this year and to select a target for limiting oil imports by 1985 to something between 10 and 20 per cent of U.S. demand, compared with the present 36 per cent.

But his energy policy was not expected to include a decision on stockpiling oil against the threat of sudden shortages, a subject to be studied further in the next several months.

Decision Made

The administration source said Ford has decided the outlines of the energy policy to be proposed in his State of the Union report and probably in a separate energy message. But his advisers were still debating how best to deal with the economic impact of the energy decisions.

The source said Ford was expected to propose: —A tariff of $3 per barrel on imported oil and a $3 excise tax on domestic oil, costing consumers some $18.6 billion a year at present demand levels. Such increases could raise the price of gasoline about 7½ cents a gallon and other petroleum products by various amounts.

—General tax reductions to send the money back to the public for spending on other goods or services.

—Removal of price controls from "old" oil brought into production by 1972, allowing its price to rise from $5.25 a barrel to prevailing levels, now around $11.

Gas Deregulation

—The end of federal regulation over interstate prices of natural gas.

—A voluntary agreement by auto makers to improve gasoline mileage 40 per cent by 1979, bringing the average performance of 1980 models close to 30 miles a gallon, but not a federal mileage standard or a tax on vehicle weight or horsepower.

—Federal standards or tax credits for improving the insulation of buildings, with some sort of financial aid for insulating the homes of the poor.

—Stimulation of coal production, either through leasing of additional federal land or by enforcement of clauses in existing leases which require "due diligence" in mining the land. The administration would seek the easing of certain clean air standards to allow increased burning of coal.

Gasoline Dealers' Schemes Eliminated, Lawyers Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department lawyers believe they have eliminated schemes by gasoline dealers for violating federal price regulations.

But if another fuel shortage develops, the lawyers fear a new wave of illegal overcharges, tie-in sales and other violations.

"If the shortage develops again, this will start up again, people being what they are," said Stanley Rose, chief of the department's economic litigation section.

In an interview, Rose and staff lawyer Allen Hatusman discussed results of scores of civil and criminal cases filed during last year's shortage.

The department brought 98 civil suits accusing gas station operators of overcharging their customers either directly or through such tactics as requiring them to buy tires or other equipment as a condition for purchasing gasoline.

About 40 cases still are pending, but the department has won all the others, the attorneys said.

Fines as high as $5,000 have been imposed in 34 cases, they said. In all of the settled cases, the dealers have been required to make restitution to customers, they added.

That means that a dealer who has overcharged customers by a total of $10,000, for example, was required to lower his prices enough to return $10,000 to his customers. The courts have not attempted to require dealers to return money to the same consumers who were victimized.

Even without a fine, the restitution requirement "takes away the incentive to overcharge," because it forces the violator to give up ill-gotten gains, Hatusman said.

Both men said the department has received few complaints of illegal overcharges since the shortage subsided last spring.

Rose noted, however, that the same regulations still apply and that dealers who violate them remain subject to civil and criminal charges.

The rules provide that retail dealers may charge gasoline prices no higher than they were charging on May 15, 1973, plus three cents a gallon and adjustments to compensate for their own increase in expenses.

Other U.S. Car Makers May Follow Chrysler On Price Rebates Offer

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry analysts believe other U.S. car makers may have to follow Chrysler Corporation's lead in granting major price rebates of up to $400 on specific models to boost sales.

But spokesmen for General Motors and Ford Motor Co. said that their firms had no immediate plans to discount their models.

Chrysler, saddled with 320,000 unsold 1975 models, is launching the auto industry's first big price discounts since domestic car sales began plummeting more than a year ago.

Rebates Offered

Chrysler will offer the rebates to buyers of new cars and light trucks beginning Monday in an unprecedented five-week campaign which it hopes will stimulate sales.

The industry has been under heavy pressure from dealers to roll back prices since record increases averaging $450 a car went into effect last September. Sales are off more than 25 per cent since the increases went into effect.

One New York analyst said Tuesday that Chrysler's price discounts indicate the company's "recognition that cars were overpriced."

"It's now inevitable that others will follow the move," said Harry Laubscher of Blyth Eastman Dillon & Co. He predicted the discounts will result in increased sales.

Another New York analyst, Arvid Jouppi, added, "Obviously the campaign will boost sales. There has been considerable price resistance."

Jouppi said Ford and American Motors might adopt similar consumer incentives because they too have very high supplies of unsold cars. But he said GM probably would not be cause of a smaller inventory.

The Chrysler campaign, scheduled to end Feb. 16, offers rebates of $200 to $300 on a specific model each week. Another $100 will be rebated on specific trade-in models that include both Chrysler and competitors' cars.

Five-Vehicle Collision Kills One Woman

MARSHALL (AP) — A five-vehicle smashup on a fog-shrouded East Texas bridge south of here Tuesday resulted in the death of one woman and a fire that fireman from two counties fought for two hours.

State police said the wreck occurred after two trucks, one towing a mobile home and the other an oil tanker, stopped on the bridge when the drivers determined they couldn't pass each other in opposite directions.

Meanwhile, another truck loaded with logs slammed into the mobile home, police said. Following behind the log truck, a car driven by Ernestine Andrews of Jefferson, Tex., was crushed by tons of logs, killing her and injuring two female passengers.

On the other side of the bridge, another automobile smashed into the oil tank truck. About 10 minutes after the accident, spilled oil erupted into flames, consuming all the vehicles involved except the car that had been following the oil tanker.

Firemen from Panola County battled the blaze for four hours at one end of the bridge while Harrison County firemen worked at the opposite end.

Media Blitz Set

The plan will be backed up by a media blitz that will cost an estimated $5 million.

Under the discount plan, the first of its kind in automotive history, rebates will be given to buyers directly by the company and not by the dealers.

The auto companies have offered discounts in the past, but only in the form of discounts to dealers who are free to negotiate lower-than-sticker prices without cutting into their own profits.

Old Massachusetts Still Offers Shivery Possibilities

By RAYMOND A. LAJOIE
Copley News Service

Witches and potions, amulets and good luck charms, hexes and curses and coven meetings at midnight in the light of a full moon.

No other section of America can claim a greater sense of mystery and the occult than old Massachusetts. With its haunting dunes and rocky cliffs, the special chill of autumn Yankee weather, the infamous heritage of Salem witchcraft hysteria and the eerie beckoning of its dark green forests and the ancient rock walls in meadows everywhere, the commonwealth offers a number of deliciously shivery possibilities.

For each new generation of New Englanders, a traditional but nonetheless fascinating jaunt is a drive to Salem, Mass. (The name is derived from shalom, meaning peace), and 54 Turner St. to the House of the Seven Gables. Probably the most mysterious and romantic structure in America, this well-known historical site originally contained a pure water spring—something seldom found on land so close to the sea. It was owned by Matthew Maule who lived in a humble dwelling near it.

A covetous neighbor named Capt. Pyncheon became obsessed with the desire to own it.

In order to acquire it, Pyncheon arranged to have Maule charged with witchcraft, which was not a crime taken lightly in Salem.

In his effort, Pyncheon was successful. A tour of Salem is not complete without a visit to the Witch House built in 1642, the restored home of Jonathan Corwin, the judge of the witchcraft court. Here were held the preliminary examinations of persons accused of witchcraft in league with the devil. It is at the corner of North and Essex streets.

Not far away is the Witch Museum, opened two years ago, at 19 1/2 Washington Square, housed—ironically—in an old Unitarian Church building.

The aura of mystery about the house which Nathaniel Hawthorne immortalized in his works is compounded by the fact that he was descended from one of those strange, merciless judges upon whom a curse was hurled by one of the Salem persecuted. His writings show a morbid sense of guilt by which he was inescapably haunted.

There's also a witch shop, owned by Laurie Cabot (the "unofficial" witch of Salem) in which you will find such necessities as bat's blood, scrying stones, crystal balls, witch lessons, amulets, good luck pieces, hexes, herbs and ceremonies bric-a-brac—even witch brooms and witch grass.

Danvers, once known as Salem Village, is where the witchcraft scene started and then got out of control. At 149 Pine St. is the house of Rebecca Nurse, who though 71 years old, deaf and ailing, was still the gentle and beloved mother of eight children. Pious though she supposedly was, she was selected by the "afflicted" girls as one of those who caused their misery and was accused with others of having signed a pact with the devil.

Nevertheless, at her trial the jury was overcome with pity for Rebecca and brought back a verdict of not guilty.

Immediately the courtroom turned into bedlam. The girls, furious that clemency should be extended to one of their "tormentors," flung themselves into fits, howling and rolling in convulsions on the floor as though they themselves were possessed of demons. The shocking display so disturbed the jury that it reversed its decision and on July 19, 1692, gentle Rebecca Nurse was hanged at Gallows Hill.

For the real thing, take Route 9 west out of Boston or east from Worcester, Mass., to Westboro, which will bring you to a little black cottage out of "Hansel and Gretel," on Bowman Street near a quiet reservoir and many pine trees. Here lives 41-year-old Ted Rabouin, high priest of New England witchcraft. He publicly announced himself 10 years ago in order to dispel the countless myths about witches through history.

At the time he applied is what were "good faith claimants" who had located the unsurveyed state land within an area they thought they owned. Under the law, they were entitled to buy it at the board's full appraised price of $60 an acre. In this case, since the two tracts are within five miles of oil production, the state reserves a one-eighth royalty.

The two Sugg vacancies are located 25 miles northwest of Merton in Irion County.

When White filed the application in January 1973, there was no oil or gas production within five miles, so the state Permanent School Fund gets only a free royalty of one-sixteenth. Since the filing was made, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong held a hearing and found the land to be vacant. The School Land Board Tuesday accepted the appraisal by the General Land Office staff of $30 per acre.

Midlander Allowed To Buy Land

Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — E. B. White Jr. of Midland got the right to buy 524.57 acres of "vacant" school land Tuesday at $30 per acre.

White located the vacant land in Crockett County and filed for the right to buy it at the value of surface, without improvements or minerals. The School Land Board Tuesday accepted the appraisal by the General Land Office staff of $30 per acre.

The Patriot Years

Copley News Service
From the Pennsylvania Packet, Philadelphia, 200 years ago:

IN PROVINCIAL CONGRESS—WHEREAS it is of the utmost importance that the salutary association of the Continental Congress be effectually executed; and the plans of foes to America defeated, who, aided by TYRANNICAL POWER, intend to import goods, wares and merchandise prohibited by the association, which may clandestinely be vended as goods imported before the first of December instant, by assistance of such merchants and traders as to this intent shall basely prostitute themselves; and it will be extremely difficult to distinguish between goods imported before the said first day of December, and such as after said day shall in violation of the association, be imported and secretly dispersed throughout the colony.

RESOLVED, that it will be indispensably necessary that all goods, wares and merchandise, directly or indirectly imported from Great-Britain or Ireland, molasses, syrups, paneles (sugar), coffee or pimento from the British plantations, or from Dominica; wines from Madeira or the Western Islands, and foreign digo, should cease to be sold or purchased in this colony, notwithstanding they shall have been imported before the first day of December aforesaid, unless the acts of the British Parliament shall be then repealed.

Signed by order of the Provincial Congress,
JOHN HANCOCK, President
