BE SURE IT COSTS MONEY!

Engine wear is something in an automobile that happens in some degree every time you run your motor, even though it is for a few blocks only. Wear necessitates replacement parts and replacement parts cost money. If you have the mistaken idea that it costs more to operate a V-8 than any conventional six, consider this:

There are only six moving parts per cylinder in the Ford V-8 and in the conventional six cylinder motor there are 18 of them. Practically without exception all parts cost more than the same corresponding parts of a Ford V-8! Also consider this:

There is no car on the market today using less oil than the Ford V-8, and most of them 50 to 100 per cent more. Sure it costs money—and unless you drive a Ford V-8 it costs you more for practically everything you do, and you are still with V-8 performance.

PROVED BY THE PAST—IMPROVED FOR THE FUTURE

Sermon Topics Are Given By Minister For M. E. Revival

Spring revival services began at the Methodist church, this city, last Sunday morning with the special Easter services, the pastor, Rev. R. S. Watkins, preaching upon the subject of "Immortality." The church was filled to capacity with worshippers at the morning hour. There was special music for the occasion and three infants baptized by the pastor.

Rev. Watkins, who will be the principal speaker during the evangelistic services, is being assisted by Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones, of LaFors, and services will be held twice daily, in the morning at 10 o'clock and in the evening beginning at 8:15 o'clock, special services beginning 45 minutes earlier.

A list of the contemplated sermon subjects to be used by Rev. Watkins during the coming two weeks, beginning with Thursday of this week, the first named subject being for the morning hour and the second for the evening service, are as follows:

Thursday evening—Being A Man.
Friday—The Prevailing Soul; The Acid Test.

Saturday—No morning service; What To Do To Be Saved.
Sunday—Personal Salvation; Speculation.

Monday—The Light of the World; Gospel Urgency.

Tuesday—The Way To A Crown; A Glimpse of The Other World.

Wednesday—The Merchant Man; High School Night, at which time all high school pupils will be invited to attend in a body, occupying special reserved seats and accompanied by the teachers.

Thursday—And old fashioned service, including singing without piano, lining the hymns, etc. At this service a Bible will be given away to some one present; The Rich Fool.

Friday—A Successful Service; Ways of Escape.

Saturday—No morning service; The Inner Room.

Sunday—Value of the Gospel; The Trial of Jesus.

The above subjects are subject to change.

Spider's Thread Strong

An ordinary spider's thread will support the weight of three grains, while it is calculated that a steel thread of the same size would support rather less than two grains. A bar of steel one inch in diameter would support about fifty tons. A spider's web of that thickness, could it exist, would be capable of supporting seventy-four tons. The strength of a spider's web is thus one and a half times that of steel, and nearly three times that of wrought iron.

Hundreds Dollars Offered In Purse At Amarillo Meet

AMARILLO, April 14—The dull thud of horses' flying feet will sound on a brand new track next month when the spring race meeting of the Tri-State Fair association will bring once more thoroughbred horse racing to the Panhandle. The dates are May 8-16.

A gradual increase in interest among stable owners and trainers has made the Tri-State track one of the country's leading minor plants. To meet the demand for more stables and better equipment, officials this spring have started a re-modelling program at the historic plant.

Although 50 new stalls have been added to the plant, the demand for stable space has been so great that Ted Taylor, fair manager, predicts an overflow of horses. During the spring meeting, the overflow will be taken care of in the fair's stock barns.

Officials who were in charge of the races last fall when a new record for minor tracks in Texas was set will be in charge this spring. The feature of the meeting will be a distance derby race for three-year-olds. It will carry a purse of $500 and will be called the Chamber of Commerce handicap.

Is any oil any different?
Is any oil any different?
Is any oil any different?

Change to the different oil... alloyed and be kind to your wallet

We'd rather see you change to any fresh oil, before we'd have you risk waterly Winter dregs in your crankcase any longer. Any fresh oil is better for you than that. But when you change to Germ Processed, don't do it just to change your brand of oil; do it to change your whole brand of lubrication! That's how different this alloyed oil is. And here's why: the patented Germ Process of alloying oil gives it an "affinity" for metals... not only for steels and iron, but for every type of bearing metal now in use, no matter how carefully it must be lubricated. With alloyed oil actually merging into every inner engine surface, and with the high-durability Germ Processed oil-film also in between the moving parts, your engine is doubly summer-safe. You can streak along on days that shimmy with heat. But your heat indicator needn't jump, and your oil level needn't slump. Not with this different, alloyed oil... High time for you to say "Drain," but be selfish—say Conoco Germ Processed. Continental Oil Company.

CANDLE IS BLOWN OUT AS THE FIRST "WISH MISS STEWART MAY NOT MARRY" H. D. ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED HERE

Wishing the Bailey county home demonstration agent may not get married for at least another year, the flame of the lone candle on the birthday cake was blown out last Monday as the first anniversary of home demonstration work in this county was celebrated in the office of County Judge J. E. Adams.

THREE MONTHS' SERVICE

Following is a summary of the work of Miss Alma Stewart, Bailey county home demonstration agent, during the first three months of her second year of service in this county:

Days spent in field	50
Days spent in office	25
Days on work out of county	2
Days of 4-H club work	21
Days of adult club work	56
Office calls	10
Letters written	223
Farm or home visits	110
Demonstrations visited	38
Various meetings attended	65
News stories written	58
Demonstrations of new canning, tiling, hoked making, clothing for girls and women, and other demonstrations	54
Number of people attending such demonstrations	710

The birthday party was in charge of Mrs. Wm. G. Kennedy, chairman of the County Council of charming and beautiful coquettes (the appellation being made advisedly and with certain reservations), who presided in her usual efficient and happy manner. The occasion was dignified by the august presence of the County Judge and members of the Commissioners' court, also, J. B. Waide, county farm agent, Connie Gupton, president, Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Grace Snider and Mrs. Jodie Bright, West Camp, the Journal editor, and the honoree, Miss Alma Stewart.

Mrs. Kennedy reviewing the work of the county home demonstration for the past three months produced an impressive array of facts and figures showing the activities of Miss Stewart and revealing an extraordinary amount of work having been accomplished.

Mrs. Snider and Mrs. Bright put on a little dialog of exceptional interest wherein one told the other how to "keep the liver in order" by following the teachings of the demonstration agent in the matter of balanced diet.

Incidentally dropping the hint that many a divorce was kept from the courts by husband and wife "keeping the bile down" the dark taste out of their mouths, mind, soul and body clean by varied diet of the proper kind to keep the human machinery functioning efficiently.

The climax of the party came when the women demonstrated they knew that the way to men's hearts was through their stomachs by serving delicious ice cream and cake to those present, at the same time revealing their political skill in serving members of the Commissioners' court with bowls holding about four times the quantity as that served other guests. The secondary guests took no offense in the matter however, for when the judge and the commissioners were about half through with their refreshments, Mrs. Kennedy very adroitly suggested that she "hoped the Court was as favorably impressed with the services of the home demonstration agent as were the women throughout the county."

Judge Adams, looking over the personnel of his court, seeing they were all enjoying themselves at that moment, took opportunity to express in behalf of himself and the other officials the fact that the Court was well pleased with the services rendered, the results obtained, and the work would go on blithely thereafter.

One guest present stated the women of this county were becoming quite coquettish since they had been getting the benefit of home economic training for the past year, and numerous instances could be pointed out wherein husbands had fallen in love with their wives with greater fervor than when they first were married.

Another guest declared, many of the marriages of this county had been caused by young ladies demonstrating to their boy friends their ability as culinary artists, while information was given that at least six contemplated divorces had been withdrawn in District Court, because the economic conditions of family life had so greatly improved under the tutorage of the home demonstration agent.

There are now 17 women and girls clubs in Bailey county, all doing active work under direction of Miss Stewart. Last fall and winter several heaves, hogs, chicks, and calves were slaughtered and the refuse while multiplied thousands of cans of vegetables, fruits and meats were canned for future consumption. Perhaps no other county in West Texas has responded so readily to this type of work as has been the case in Bailey County. Interest in the work throughout the entire county is rapidly growing, numerous honors at fairs and shows of different kinds, have already been won, important leadership is being developed among women in every community—and the second year has just started.

It was the remark of one present at the birthday party that instead of there being any question of keeping a home demonstration agent in Bailey county, it would really be a question of getting along without one. Bailey county citizens both men and women, are fully sold on the value of this type of work and would not again be without it.

Miss Stewart has won a lasting place in the hearts of all women with whom she has worked, and a place of high respect and appreciation among the men for the fine accomplishments already accrued. Truly, with all due appreciation of the ways of a man with a maid or of a maid with a man, it is the wish of club members throughout this county that Miss Stewart may continue her work here for several years yet to come—for the Extension Department does not permit married women to continue work as home demonstration agents.

Baileyboro News

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Duty Jr., of Matador spent Easter Sunday with his parents and his brother, Claud Duty.

Mrs. T. A. Peel and Miss Hudson spent the weekend in Lubbock, returning Monday.

Ordination of deacons was held at the Baptist church here Sunday afternoon, Rev. Moore officiated. Those receiving the office were Roger Harvey, Lee Bell and Claud Duty. Visiting pastors were Clyde Coffman, of Plainview, and Vernie Phillips, of Sudan.

Beginning next Sunday, April 19, Rev. Kent of Cotton Center will conduct a revival meeting here.

H. D. Club News

The club met with Mrs. Lee Bell on April 7. Mrs. G. L. Blackhear called the meeting to order and most of the time was spent on period arrangements for the Sand Queen carnival. Several members worked on the piece quilt which Bailey county H. D. clubs are planning. Visitors present were: Mrs. Claud Coffman and Mrs. E. Ruffin Moore. R. C. Anderson, Ruth Clements, Faye Starkey, Fay Renfrow, L. P. Bynum, W. S. Roeder, Roy Pugh, Ruby Love, Hester Arnold, L. E. Ragdale, Ruby Gallagher, D. L. Arnold, Lee Bell, J. E. Potew, W. O. McCrary, C. B. Wallis, G. L. Blackhear, J. W. Malone, and Mrs. M. J. Starks.

The next H. D. club meeting will be held April 21 at the home of Mrs. G. L. Blackhear, the Pioneer program.

B. H. D. club gave an entertainment last Friday night, April 10 at the school house. Mr. Harvey was called on and recalled so many interesting incidents. Mrs. G. L. Blackhear also told of her pioneer days out here, giving the history of this community.

Jess Mitchell, editor, gave a most interesting talk covering early history and leading up to the present, stressing the many ways of Texas pioneers.

The colorful little play, "Crowning of the Sand King and Queen," was most unusual. Mrs. Faye Starkey and Mrs. Wallace won the king and queen honors. Those taking part were club women and 4-H girls. $15.75 being taken in.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pugh were called on to the bedside of her mother in Oklahoma early Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Malone and children spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Starkey—reporter.

Kept Carrots and Parsnips in Ground

"We have enjoyed our pasnips and carrots a lot," said Mrs. W. H. Kistler, cooperator of the Muleshoe home demonstration club. "We planted the pasnips last June and left them in the garden all the winter. We left the carrots in the ground, too," she added.

Will Sub-irrigate 800 Feet

"We plan to subirrigate 800 feet of our garden," said Mrs. George Dameron, F. F. S. demonstrator of the Circleback home demonstration club. "We are making our rows of tile four feet apart, and it works fine, for we have already turned the water in to try it. We plan to make 400 feet of tile and 400 feet of rock sub-irrigation," she said.

Will Plant 725 Feet of Vegetables

"I plan to plant 145 feet of leafy green or yellow vegetables for each member of our family," said Helen Arnold garden demonstrator for the Baileyboro 4-H club. "Since we have five in the family, I will plant 725 feet of leafy greens, beans, cabbage, yellow squash, pumpkin, turnip greens, spinach, tendergreens, Swiss chard, English peas and carrots," added Helen.

Is Making Clothes Closet

"My clothes closet did not cost anything," said Mrs. Paul Fowler, cooperator of the Maple home demonstration club. She used the walls for two sides and made the other two of pasteboard reinforced with scrap lumber. "I cut three shelves in the east end and for cup towels, towels and overalls. I plan to make a shoe rack and some hat racks as soon as possible. I want to paint or paper the inside white to keep the moths out," she added.

Uses Ceiling Paper for Inside of Closet

"My new clothes closet is three and one-half feet long, two feet wide and seven and one-half feet high," said Mrs. Roy Taylor, cooperator of the Maple home demonstration club. Mrs. Taylor used some old quilting frames and made the walls of heavy pasteboard. She papered the outside like the room and used the ceiling paper of the inside to make it as light as possible so moths would not ruin her clothes. She used a broom handle for the rod for hangers. "I plan to make my shoe racks later," she said.

4-H Club Sponsors' School

"It takes one-third as much water to sub-irrigate as to surface irrigate," said Miss Alma Stewart, home demonstration agent, to the 4-H club sponsors school held at the Muleshoe court house last Saturday afternoon.

In making tile it takes four parts of sand to one of cement, and one-half as much water as cement. Mix sand and cement, then add water, stirring often. When the mixture will hold its shape it has enough water and is put in the form and packed with a brick. After packing well, take out the pipe and remove the form. The secret of making good tile is to keep it wet several days after it is completed. One form may be used to make several hundred garden tiles. The tile is placed approximately 12 inches below the surface so the plow will not disturb it. The use of subirrigation is found to be of less cost and much more value to the plant as the water comes from underneath.

Those attending were: Mrs. Roy Pugh, sponsor, Baileyboro 4-H girls club; Mrs. J. B. Waide, Jr., and Mrs. A. W. Coker, sponsors Muleshoe 4-H girls club; Mrs. Lilla Needham, sponsor Jesko 4-H girls club.

Reporters for 4-H clubs over the county present were: Betty Lou Jenko, Jenko; Wehna Smith, and Pauline Adair, West Camp; Mildred Carter, Longview; Alice DeBord, Muleshoe.—Reporter.

NOT ALL DUST IS HERE

Not all the dust storms of the south west sweep across the Panhandle area as is proven by one that swept east and central Texas Friday of last week. At Dallas, the dust curtain is said to have rolled over 400 miles wide stretch, being from 600 to 16,000 feet high. It reached as far east as Shreveport, La., traveling in a southeasterly direction.

LOCAL DEALER WINS HONORS

The Valley Motor Co., local Chevrolet dealer, ranked sixth in percentage selling the largest number of trucks of any dealers in the Oklahoma division during the past two months, according to information received the first of this week by K. K. Smith.

The Chevrolet automobile company sold 126,119 distinct units of automobiles during the month of March, which breaks the record of any automobile manufacturing company sale, Smith said.

Lord—FOR ECONOMY

"The Ford V-8 uses less fuel and oil for the power it gives than any other car we have ever made AND ITS UP-KEEP COST IS THE LOWEST"

ENTHUSIASTIC sales talk often begins and ends with gasoline mileage. Some salesmen would like you to believe it is the whole story of automobile economy. But drivers ought to know better. For, the fact is, it's way down the list.

The big items of car economy are low first cost, low up-keep cost and low depreciation. Savings here can make a great deal of difference in cost per mile. Gasoline mileage is more of a talking point than an economy factor.

Check up and you will find that the difference between 17 and 19 miles a gallon is less than $10 for a whole year's average driving (8400 miles at 18 cents a gallon). Here are the big items that make the Ford the most economical car:

- More value for every dollar you pay.
- Lower cost for repairs and service.
- Long life. Slow depreciation.
- Quality means economy and the 1936 Ford V-8 gives you more real quality than any other low-price car. No other car under $1645 has a V-8 engine. No other low-price car has Center-Poise Riding, safe, sure mechanical brakes and Safety Glass all around at no extra cost.

NUDE ART IN TEXAS

By JESS MITCHELL

Human nature remains about the same the world over, and the passage of thousands of years makes little change in its ideas and manifestations. Recent proof of this statement is the nude statuary whittled out by a New York sculptor and selected to adorn the campus of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, supposedly as a tribute to Texas pioneer womanhood; but in reality merely another manifestation of perverted idealism.

The Hon. Walter Woodrill, of Houston, Texas, strapping lieutenant governor, strenuously and vociferously protests against erection of this unclothed group of supposedly westerners on the grounds that the effete East doesn't know a darned thing about western conditions to begin with; never saw a real pioneer and wouldn't recognize one if they did; is entirely unfamiliar with western modes and expressions of life and living; that the concocted thing is ghastly and indecent; is not suitable to the occasion sought to be portrayed; and a bunch of other negative reasons, all of which are thoroughly relevant, competent and material.

Gov. Woodrill is ordinarily a mild-mannered gentleman, except when lambasting a political opponent or riding the hair from off a West Texas newspaper editor who has criticized the Centennial Board of Controls a little too strongly for not giving this western area of Texas a little better break on little tin gods, brass road markers, cement museums and rusty museums for the 43 cent of the taxes it is to pay for the big show to be held at Dallas.

In this particular instance, he rears upon his hind legs, turns green about the gills and spits tobacco juice into the figurative countenances of the committee personnel that made the selection, declaring if the exposition takes it, it ought to be displayed on the midway pleasure, relegated to the horsehoebooi show, sunk in the nickelodeum, or forgotten in a dark spot of some back alley; "but those naked figures are not going to be put on display before the innocent young girls of the Denton college."

The Journal doesn't know the exact degree of innocence possessed by young college girls. Ordinarily young women of today are said to be quite well informed on an anatomic and natural history subjects; but it does agree with this genial goggle-eyed statesman that such innocence as they do possess should be conserved and preserved.

In his protests the lieutenant-governor suggests a distinction of human nature not quite in keeping with that possessed by the average sapient hominid. Perhaps some one pulled a big "bone" and formulated this selection committee of naturalized Texans who came here from some of the eastern states and seated upon this opportunity to illustrate to the citizens of this Empire state just how barbaric they were in not being able to fathom the beauty of the nude body as expressed in stone. At any rate, this inanimate object of supposed art has become quite a lively subject of recent discussion.

Years ago, when this writer was but a lad, he attended the World's Fair at Chicago, and distinctly recalls that many of the great buildings there were adorned liberally with figure, of nude men and women, done in heroic size and not a single detail of the resplendent anatomies escaped the loving care of the fin de siècle sculptors. Western wives and husbands aghast and young ladies left the buildings with faces ablaze with shame and indignation, while the East wondered uninforming why the West was so shocked.

Journal readers who know this editor never think of accusing him of prudery, knowing he is quite willing to concede special privileges to art, whose special province is the portrayal of the beautiful, and he unhesitatingly asserts that the most beautiful thing we know of on earth is the perfect female form of the genus homo. While the painter or sculptor may be within his legal rights in reproducing even in modest pose a naked female figure, yet we insist that consistency should be used in locating such a picture or piece of statuary so that its attention is not forced upon a mixed multitude of some of that concourse does not desire it.

Re-outraging spectacles of art are to be expected in art galleries; but not on campuses, in places of business, in machinery halls, agricultural buildings, etc. In other words people who visit art galleries do there expecting to see reproductions of a more or less surprise type and no embarrassing surprise is anticipated. A man may take his wife, his mother, perhaps his sweetheart, to gaze esthetically upon works of art and return a better, nobler, purer man for having worshipped at such shrine of beauty; but to compel them to come upon such reproductions unexpectedly or to have to stand before them in a mixed crowd of the sexes and gaze upon them in the grossest sensuality and a brutal crime against modesty, even in this twentieth century.

What gentlemen of consideration and refinement would want to take a woman near and dear to him to look upon a nude male statue or painting, wherein no detail of his masculine anatomy had been overlooked by the "correct and skilled" artist. Perhaps they do that sort of thing in New York where William Zorach, the originator of this questionable statue, lives; but very few Southern and Western gentlemen have any desire for such art. Worship of the beautiful may react as a pardon for the nude female; but never for the nude male, for he is a homely thing at best. Few men have any physique of which to be proud, and there was nothing more to the average man to attract the opposite sex but his physical corporeity, most women would remain unwed and polyandry would never have any place in history.

No outrage upon divine modesty ever cultivated and refined decent people. "We honor Lieutenant-Governor Woodrill for registering his strong protest, and all the other recalcitrants, all so, trusting they will continue their negotiations until this and any other suggestive or avowedly unclean statue is relegated to oblivion and beyond the stretch of human gaze.

True, some of the pioneers had a hard time to keep from going naked in the early days of western settlement; but they did keep from it and none of them would appreciate parading or apothosizing their unfortunate condition of life fifty or a hundred years after the founding of this great State tion, declaring if the exposition takes it, it ought to be displayed on the midway pleasure, relegated to the horsehoebooi show, sunk in the nickelodeum, or forgotten in a dark spot of some back alley; "but those naked figures are not going to be put on display before the innocent young girls of the Denton college."

The Journal doesn't know the exact degree of innocence possessed by young college girls. Ordinarily young women of today are said to be quite well informed on an anatomic and natural history subjects; but it does agree with this genial goggle-eyed statesman that such innocence as they do possess should be conserved and preserved.

In his protests the lieutenant-governor suggests a distinction of human nature not quite in keeping with that possessed by the average sapient hominid. Perhaps some one pulled a big "bone" and formulated this selection committee of naturalized Texans who came here from some of the eastern states and seated upon this opportunity to illustrate to the citizens of this Empire state just how barbaric they were in not being able to fathom the beauty of the nude body as expressed in stone. At any rate, this inanimate object of supposed art has become quite a lively subject of recent discussion.

Years ago, when this writer was but a lad, he attended the World's Fair at Chicago, and distinctly recalls that many of the great buildings there were adorned liberally with figure, of nude men and women, done in heroic size and not a single detail of the resplendent anatomies escaped the loving care of the fin de siècle sculptors. Western wives and husbands aghast and young ladies left the buildings with faces ablaze with shame and indignation, while the East wondered uninforming why the West was so shocked.

Journal readers who know this editor never think of accusing him of prudery, knowing he is quite willing to concede special privileges to art, whose special province is the portrayal of the beautiful, and he unhesitatingly asserts that the most beautiful thing we know of on earth is the perfect female form of the genus homo. WHEAT CROP UP SAYS FORECAST ISSUED FRIDAY

Crop Of 493,166,000 Bushels For 1936 Is Federal Guess.

The Agricultural Department announced Friday of last week this year's winter wheat crop will be 493,166,000 bushels, as indicated by conditions April 1. Last year 433,447,000 bushels were produced. The 1928-32, five-year average production was 618,136,000 bushels.

The area sown to winter wheat last fall was 47,520,000 acres, or 6.7 per cent more than the previous year, and 5.7 per cent more than the five-year average. All important winter wheat states except Washington showed increased acreage.

63.5 Per Cent Normal.
The condition of winter wheat April 1 was 68.5 per cent of normal compared with 78.2 per cent on December 1 last year, 69.8 on April 1 last year, and 78.9 the average 1923-32.

Grain on Farms.
The condition of pasture on April 1 was 74.6 per cent of normal, compared with 68.7 a year ago, and 80.8, the nine-year average for 1924-32.

Stocks of grain on farms April 1 was reported as follows:
Corn, 776,112,000 bushels, or 40.3 per cent of the previous year's crop, compared with 436,337,000 bushels, or 39.5 per cent, a year ago, and 757,030,000 bushels or 35.6 per cent, two years ago.

Wheat, 97,053,000 bushels, or 16.1 per cent of the previous year's crop, or 18.8 per cent, a year ago, and 127,335,000 bushels, or 14.3 per cent, two years ago.
Oats, 494,666,000 bushels, or 41.4 per cent of the previous year's crop, compared with 296,341,000 bushels, or 32.9 per cent, a year ago, and 389,052,000 bushels, or 32.7 per cent, two years ago.

Benefit Payments
An agricultural department forecast of a winter wheat crop this year of 493,166,000 bushels, was closely followed by an AAA announcement that farmers who complied with adjustment contracts in planting wheat who would receive benefit payments of 2 1/2 cents a bushel on their domestic allotments.

The 493,166,000 bushel figures was an increase of about 60,000,000 over last year.

The domestic allotments, used as a basis for wheat payments under the old crop control contracts, are equal to 84 per cent of the farmers average production.

$296,000,000 Appropriated.
The AAA said the wheat payments, totaling $40,000,000, will be full settlement of the moral obligation owed to farmers who signed and began compliance with the 1936 wheat contracts before the adjustment act was invalidated by the Supreme Court on January 6.

Congress in February appropriated $26,000,000 to liquidate old obligations of the AAA. Wheat contracts for 1934-35 were signed last fall and many farmers had planted winter wheat with the live per cent acreage reduction required by the old contracts.

It was estimated that the payments would be made on farms upon which the total base acreage of wheat from 1928 to 1932 was about 25,950,000 acres.

The AAA emphasized that the old benefit payments had no connection with the new soil conservation program.

Fair and Equitable.
The full wheat payment for 1936 had the adjustment program been continued in effect, would have been about 40 cents a bushel, the AAA said, adding that the 2 1/2 cents payment was judged fair and equitable settlement.

To obtain the benefit payments, farmers must have signed and filed adjustment contracts before January 6 and must have planted no more than 95 per cent of their base acreage in winter wheat. The base of compliance will be the acreage of wheat actually planted on January 5, 1936.

Of Texas, Pioneers didn't dress in the height of prescribed fashion during the early days; but they did have exalted ideas of noble manhood and pure womanhood, which didn't include exposing their nakedness to promiscuous gaze.

A statue depicting a man on horseback, a woman by his side stooping over to pick up "cow-chips," with a lad standing by holding a rifle or a fishing rod, would have been much more appropriate. There are innumerable other suggestions that could be made much more desirable and much more true to the real life of these early settlers than the nude expression now in controversy.

Indeed, long ago we decided that much of the liberty accorded art has degenerated into license; the bizarre rather than the beautiful is now sought. It is not the massive shoulders of Hercules, the beautiful bust of Hebe, the shapely limb of Aphrodite, the sphinx-like form of Venus de Milo that the painter and sculptor seek to reproduce; but rather an effect similar to Gapho, Manhausen or Boccaccio he would foster. Texas is not against true art; but it does rebel against the vulgar!

HOW ABOUT CHANGING ...HUSBANDS?...

—Lots of people do change their husbands. In fact, divorce seems to have become quite a modern fad. However—

IT ISN'T NECESSARY

In most instances if dispositions of husbands could be changed there would be less changing of the husbands themselves.

Good, wholesome food has much to do with husbands' dispositions—and that's the kind in which we specialize. Most women don't really want to change their husbands—it's just their dispositions that worry them—otherwise they would be O. K.

The old saying, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," still holds good in this day in time. Try our Quality Foods and see if they do not work a satisfactory improvement, not only on Friend Hubby—but also the rest of the family.
