DISTRICT FARM BUREAU MEETING TO BE HELD AT LUBBOCK AUGUST 8

ON PROGRAM

W. R. Tilson, Terry county farmer and director of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation for this district, will be in charge of the Farm Bureau meeting at Lubbock, August 8, 10 a. m., at the Lubbock Hotel.

"Farmers of this area may well thank the Farm Bureau for the great increase in prices of cotton and wheat above last year," Tilson states. "Without the strength of Farm Bureau members in 41 states and the leadership of Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, and other state leaders testifying before congressional committees, the 85 percent parity loans for cotton and wheat would not have been provided. Congress was made to realize that farmers deserved better prices."

Application Made For Defense Work Shop In Muleshoe

Application has been made to the government for a Defense Work Shop, to be located at the high school and to be ready for operation by the time school opens.

In these shops, the government furnishes the necessary tools, as well as competent instructors. The shop training is primarily for those of 17 years of age and up, but the equipment can also be used by boys of high school age.

To complete a course, the boys must attend school at least three hours a day, five days a week. Each course requires ten weeks and includes electric training, auto mechanics, carpentry and welding.

Boys wishing to attend this school should contact either Prof. W. C. Cox or the Vocational Agriculture teacher, Mr. Jones.

Mr. Cox stated that the equipment would likely be installed in the old gymnasium for the present, at least. There has been a demand for some time for a course of training where boys could learn something of a trade, and one that would be useful at all times. The present opportunity should be taken advantage of to the fullest extent.

NEW AGENT

O. M. "Mark" OLIVER assumes new official position with the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway, in this territory, as assistant general passenger agent. He is a member of a pioneer Texas family and one of the youngest officials in the country to hold such an important position. His headquarters are in Amarillo.

LAMB COUNTY DISTRICT COURT CONVENES

The August term of the 64th district court opened Monday of this week at Olton with Judge C. D. Russell of Plainview presiding. Prosecution is being handled by Herbert C. Martin, Littlefield, district attorney.

Grand jurors convened Monday morning to begin investigation of cases on this term's docket.

POTATO CROP STARTS MOVING AS PLANT OPENS OPERATIONS HERE

Final Official List Of Selectees Is Announced

The potato washing plant, located in the old Johnson warehouse, started operations the latter part of last week, with the Neil Rocky crop being handled first.

The plant, operated by Towns & Korte of Hereford, Tex., has one of the latest model machines, capable of putting out from two to three cars of potatoes per day.

Mr. Towns stated that the quality of potatoes received to date is far better than expected, considering the amount of rain during the past two months. Rain has contributed to the shortage in yield more than any other factor, potato men say.

Government inspectors are at the plant and sacks are branded with the Muleshoe trade mark and stamped "U. S. No. 1," for those passed by the inspectors.

Mr. Towns stated that the percentage of No. 2's, or culls, was very small, and that to date there has been less dirt on the potatoes grown here than those raised in other sections of the county.

Following is the final revised list of selectees, and that integration must be carried out so that the recent registrants will consider their classification only in a fair and equitable ratio to those official list of Bailey county selectees as registered July 1, with the proper order and serial numbers:

- S-28 S-1 Libburn Oliver Arnold, Star Rt., Sudan.
- S-27 S-2 James Dale Temple, Muleshoe.
- S-33 S-3 Joseph Brune Young, Jr., Preston.
- S-31 S-4 Ovel Preston Billingsley, Maple.
- S-29 S-5 Claude V. Riley, Muleshoe.
- S-26 S-6 Randall Irvin Scott, Star Rt. 2, Muleshoe.
- S-12 S-7 S. L. Rollins, Jr., Rt. 1, Muleshoe.
- S-36 S-8 Robert Joe Starkey, Muleshoe.
- S-3 S-9 William Mareau Norris, Rt. 1, Muleshoe.
- S-14 S-10 J. B. Head, Rt. 1, Muleshoe.
- S-4 S-11 Clifton Carlos Griffith, Muleshoe.
- S-17 S-12 Joe Bill Alsup, Muleshoe.
- S-16 S-13 J. D. Sullivan, Star Rt., Sudan.
- S-20 S-14 Elton Odell Henderson, Star Rt., Baileyboro.
- S-30 S-15 Frank Lee York, Muleshoe.

Bailey County Defense Board Is Organized

"Since agriculture is being called upon to increase production in dairy products, poultry, pork and various kinds of vegetables, it is an important thing to have adequate farm labor supply," according to Lonnie Arnold, chairman of the Bailey County United States Department of Agriculture Defense Board.

"The Bailey County Defense Board designed along lines similar to the Texas USDA Defense Board is composed of the following members:

- Lonnie Arnold, chairman AAA committee, chairman.
- R. L. Ritchie, vice chairman AAA committee, member.
- W. R. Carter, member AAA committee, member.
- J. C. Smith, administrative officer, AAA, member.
- Sam Logan, county agent, Extension Service, member.
- Lillie Gentry, home demonstration agent, member.
- J. W. McDermott, Farm Security supervisor, member.
- Howard Hughes, Farm Security assistant supervisor, member.
- Eunice Florence, home supervisor, FSA, member.
- J. W. Green, emergency loan superintendent, Farm Credit Administration, member.
- W. M. Pool, Production Credit, Farm Credit Administration, member.
- Noel Woodley, secretary-treasurer, National Farm Loan, Farm Credit Administration, member.
- Cecil McLaughry, superintendent, REA, member.

Through a questionnaire which has been sent to all chairmen of the County Defense Boards in Texas, the State AAA office, College Station is submitting to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard a report showing the increased progress made in Texas in the production of pork, dairy and other products, and in the production of tomatoes and beans for canning, Arnold said.

In assuring Bailey county farmers of a labor supply adequate for the production of essential farm goods, the Director of the Selective Service has asked all local draft boards to give special consideration to deferment of men needed in agricultural production. In addition, the WPA is making special effort to supply demand for labor.

"Agriculture is not asking treatment that is not warranted," Arnold said, "but it is in the national interest that cases affecting production of vital products be studied carefully. The Selective Service has recognized this and a substantial portion of the occupational deferments has been made for agriculture."

Mayor Returns From Vacation

For the past few weeks, the City of Muleshoe has been just getting to get along the best way it could, due to the fact that Mayor R. L. Brown has been in Hot Springs, N. M., enjoying a fishing trip. For several days he spent on the banks of the big body of water at Elephant Butte Dam and cast his line into the deep blue to watch the fish bite. He reports a fine trip.

Returning to Muleshoe Friday, Mr. Brown has again taken up the duties of mayor, and has resumed his business at his real estate office here.

ON TRIP TO ATHENS, TEX.

Ross Smith, secretary of the Bailey County Selective Service Draft Board, accompanied by Mrs. George Johnson, and daughters, Nora Faye and Margaret Ann, left Muleshoe Sunday afternoon on a vacation trip to Athens, Dallas and other points, where they will visit relatives and friends for several days. They will return by Tyler to make arrangements for Nora Faye to attend school.

Labor Shortage Main Problem As Harvest Truck Crops Begins

July Rainfall Helps Hang Up A New Record

"Jupiter Pluvius," the "God of Rain," showered down during July with such vim and determination that he hung up a new record for the year, with a total official measurement of 30.30 inches.

July, 1924, still holds the record with 31.13 inches, but July, 1941, didn't do so bad. The government station shows that 6.77 inches fell during the month this year, and that, added to the June and May precipitation, brought the water level in this territory just about up to par. In fact, there are lakes full of water in Bailey County which have been dry for the past ten years. Many old timers say that they have no memory of a year like this for rain.

Pastures are rich with grass and all forms of vegetation common to the Plains, and this, for the first time in many years. Cattle, horses and sheep are sleek and fat, with plenty of grass to carry through the winter. If there ever was a time when stockmen were suffering with satisfaction, it is now.

With fat cattle, hogs, sheep and other livestock, a good feed crop coming on top of a crop of vegetables and fruit — Ah! West Texas ain't so bad, fellers!

Group Medical Care Program Proves Worth

More than five thousand low-income farm families comprising 27,281 persons working with the Farm Security Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in New Mexico and parts of Texas, Kansas, Colorado and Oklahoma, are participating in a Group Medical Care Program.

This information was received from J. W. McDermott, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA in Bailey county, from Wilson Cowen, regional director of this federal agency at Amarillo.

The information, McDermott said, was taken from a report for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The Group Medical Care Program, sponsored by the FSA in cooperation with local physicians, makes medical attention more readily available to low-income rural people at a cost they can afford. The plan operates on a voluntary basis.

The Group Medical Care Program makes it possible for 1,500 counties served by the regional FSA office at Amarillo.

TALENTS OF MADAME RAJANAH AVAILABLE TO JOURNAL READERS

Madame Rajanah arrived in Muleshoe today to conduct a question and answer column for the Muleshoe Journal and meet her many friends and listeners personally. While in town she may be seen at the Elite Hotel.

"My profession," says Madame Rajanah, "is to use psychology and astrology to give people information and help them out of trouble, or aid them in solving many perplexing problems."

Madame holds degrees from American colleges as well as being a graduate of the Yogi schools of mystic philosophy. She has a well-filled book showing marked success as lecturer, seer, radio advisor and counselor. She has appeared in many of the larger cities and is well known for her splendid work.

She declares that she uses only psychology and astrology in her deductions and answers, to question and asserts that she can give any person a satisfactory answer to a question if the petition is logical and sincere. She also uses the crystal which she states is a class by itself because it concentrates the thoughts between two persons and its power is cumulative, enabling the trained psychologist to secure helpful information.

Madame Rajanah calls attention to the fact that astrology is the oldest of the sciences and while all other sciences are undergoing changes daily, astrology is always enduring, but the essential facts remain unchanged. Madame prepares horoscope for those desiring complete guidance for every day life.

Send in your question without delay to Madame Rajanah, care of The Journal, Enclose 15c and exact postage. Sign initials only. Watch for your answer in the columns of this paper.

For personal reply to your three questions, send $1.00 for your Astrological Forecast and Daily Guide for the next 12 months, and Madame will answer your three questions free by your Forecast — unless you separate cover." (Allow ten days for it to reach you.) In sending for this service, write plainly and in your own handwriting. Give address quickly to Madame Rajanah, in care of The Journal, Muleshoe, Texas.

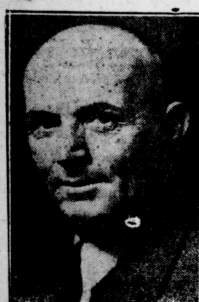

She may be seen personally at the Elite Hotel, Telephone 82.

Gospel Meeting At Church Of Christ

The local Church of Christ announced this week that a meeting would begin at next Sunday night services. The preaching is to be done by John L. Norris, minister for the congregation, and the song service will be directed by Elmer Corneliusson. Night sessions will begin at 8:30, while announcement is yet to be made concerning morning services.

The public is cordially invited to attend this series of meetings, to enjoy the good singing, plain preaching and fellowship of the local church.

FOOD AND DEFENSE PROGRAM AT HIGH SCHOOL GYM ALL DAY FRIDAY

Farm men, women and children, business men and families are all reminded to attend the Food and Defense program Friday at the High School gym. S. T. Logan, county agent, stated today. This is the first opportunity Bailey county citizens have had to attend a short course of the highlights of the current problems. We believe that it can and will be repaid if our citizens will help make it a success, Logan said.

All of the program is in keeping with present day problems and will be of interest to the entire family.

In brief, the program will be food, preparation and serving, a vegetable and truck crop growing, storage of foods, insect

Farmers Warned Against Cotton Leaf Worms

Farmers are urged to watch for infestation of cotton leaf worms and be prepared to spray for the control of this insect, which will destroy a crop in three days. In a small infested area has already shown up in the south part of Bailey county in numbers large enough to cause alarm, County Agent S. T. Logan said today.

The most common formulas for control of the insects are either two pounds of lead arsenate to 50 gallons of water, or two pounds of calcium arsenate and nine pounds of hydrated lime to 50 gallons of water. As early as the insect has shown up, it is likely that severe damage will be done over the county.

For the noon hour, W. A. King, supervisor of Defense Program, O. S. U., and O. T. Ryan, supervisor of Area 1, Vocational Agriculture, will be here for a first hand discussion of the new defense school to start at Muleshoe in the near future.

The Chamber of Commerce, Lion's Club, Study Club and all other ladies' organizations are urged to bring a basket lunch, spread it with their neighbors, and enjoy a day of relaxation and education.

Oven Insulation - Keeps Cook Cool

INSULATION, wonder fabric of today which will keep heat or cold in or out as desired, is the medium used to blanket the oven area of the modern gas range; and it has succeeded in making the task of baking cool, comfortable and entirely pleasant for the housewife.

Proving the positive value of insulation in a range is the trick baking test you see illustrated. Four ice cubes were placed between two layers of the same thickness insulation used to blanket the oven of the range. The oven was preheated to the high temperature of 450 degrees F. necessary for baking the biscuits 20 minutes (and that is a long time). At the end of the period, the biscuits were browned, while the ice cubes remained firm and were 75% of their original size.

When insulation envelops the oven area of a gas range it keeps the heat within where it belongs, for it directs the heat from the oven walls back into the oven interior. This produces uniform heat distribution which makes baking results far better; the kitchen and the cook are cool, and there is less fuel used because none is wasted.

Methodist Church Revival News

It takes courage to break with tradition. But the three ministers leading the revival at the Methodist church are probably doing this. They say they are striving to lead the church in doing the things which are most needed at this time.

A church supper and fellowship meeting and community sing-songs of songs not used in worship services is a very great departure from the traditional revival of religion. But these ministers believe that a "get acquainted" fellowship supper and sing-song can help materially in building the kind of brotherhood Christ came to establish among men.

They quote from the experience of the Spirit-filled church at Jerusalem: "And they (the early Christians after Pentecost), continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart." In modern times this means "they worshipped together in a spirit of gladness and brotherly love."

The guests of honor for Thursday night are the members who have been received during the last eighteen or twenty months. Brother Watson will preach Sunday morning while the local pastor goes to fill his appointment at Morton.

Friday night, the local pastor will lead in the impressive service for the reception of new members into the church.

Young People

Rev. Herbert Hamilton has often been asked to take charge of recreational activities in young people's assemblies. He was dean of the encampment at Ceta Canyon last week. He is to meet Muleshoe young people each evening.

Does the church need to change its methods? Look at the happenings of the day for an answer. What are our personal needs in religious living and growth? All church workers of the community invited to be with Brother Watson in above discussion at 8 p. m. today.

Watson's Sayings
Brother Watson is challenging the church of Muleshoe in a manner which should shock us out of our indifference and...
"Is the church still driving an ox cart while everything else in the world is changing? Are church people striving to adapt themselves to the changing events of our time?"

"Not one thing in our public schools today is done as it was forty years ago. But many churches are not taking advantage of the educational opportunities of the hour."

"A young man must spend four years in high school and four years in college before he is allowed to teach in our public schools, but just anybody can deal with immortal souls in the church school."

LLEWELLYN-OWENS

Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Miss Valine Llewellyn to Dick Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Owens. Valine has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Julian Lenau for the past several years. The couple left last week for San Diego, Calif., where Dick will work for the Douglas Aircraft Corp. Their many friends wish for them much success and happiness.

Draft To Call No Man From More Useful Job

The State Selective Service Director, today again urged Texas' local boards to make certain that no man is called for direct military training who is more useful to the national defense program in his civilian occupation.

Stressing the need for this careful selection and the necessity for maintaining an adequate reservoir of professional and technical specialists, the director said:

"While the selection of men for service in the armed forces is essential to the national defense, it is equally important that there be no interference with the production of defense supplies and materials. We must feed and clothe the military forces, as well as preserve the morale of the civilian population by protecting public health and general welfare.

"There are hundreds of places where the hand of man is needed to produce arms, munitions, tanks, trucks and airplanes. Vitality important is the fact that from our mines we must produce the minerals from which a mechanical army fashions its weapons. According to a recent survey made by the Office of Production Management, the supply of manpower in the field of engineering, including trained technicians and specialists in mining and metallurgy, is at a 'dangerously low' level.

"We must make a careful and intelligent investigation of every registrant to be sure in each case that a call to military training will not interfere with equally important civilian work for national defense. Local boards must give full weight to the provisions of the Selective Service regulations dealing with the claims for occupational deferment of 'necessary men' engaged in activities necessary to the national defense, including those necessary to defense production."

Five thousand army tents which had sheltered soldiers in India, were shipped to the United Kingdom for similar duty.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

She was a pretty little woman, brown eyed and brown haired and she wore a sheer blue dress with a string of white beads around her neck. Not at all the costume I had expected to find an expert factory fore-woman wearing. But then I found that the floor where she and a group of young women assemble precision instruments for tanks and planes and ships was as spotless as a well-kept kitchen, and as cool as a breeze-swept living room. The girls themselves were gaily dressed too and as well manicured and waved as girls in offices or in schools.

"Why not?" she asked me when I expressed surprise: "Working in a factory doesn't make a girl different, you know. She is just as fond of pretty things and good times as any other girl is."

Then to my astonishment, I found that this older woman, who has become a supervisor and holds a position of responsibility and trust in a famous manufacturing plant is pretty much like the rest of us too, just as eager to "do something useful" in this emergency as those of us who are simply housekeepers.

I went to see her because she is one of the women working on instruments for machines used in the Army and Navy of the United States.

WPA Grant Of $16,000 Made For West Texas College

CANYON, Tex., July 28 — The date on which work will begin on campus sidewalks and roads at West Texas State college, using the recently approved $16,000 WPA grant has not been determined.

"Sidewalks will be completed wherever they are needed on the campus," President Hill said.

The garages will include ones for Randall, Cousins and Staff, Ford halls and the Pueblos, according to Dr. Hill. The incinerators will be provided for all of the major campus buildings.

An itemized list of the improvements include: Re-topping of 19,800 square yards of old pavement on the campus grounds. Construction of 6,300 linear feet of curbing.

Construction of 9,663 square yards of new paving with caliche base and asphalt topping.

Construction of 912 square feet of asphalt sidewalk and 8,502 square feet of concrete sidewalk. Demolition of three buildings.

Erection of two garages of frame and stucco, one concession booth, toilets, picnic ovens, eight incinerators and five tennis courts.

Sidewalks will be laid to the Pueblos on the south side of the campus, and another will connect the education building with the athletic field. The paving will include the street north from Cousins Hall.

Connally Measure Would Increase Old Age Pay

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28

—Tom Connally, senior Senator from Texas, has introduced a bill to increase the Federal Government's share in old age assistance payments. The bill has been referred to the Senate Committee on Finance, of which Senator Connally is a top-ranking member.

Dr. A. J. Altmeper, chairman of the Social Security Board, testifying before a Senate Committee on Monday, approved and endorsed the Connally bill and stated that it represented the views of the Board.

In 1939, the Connally amendment to the Social Security Act, providing for the payment of two dollars by the Federal Government to each one dollar by the State governments, passed the Senate, but was eliminated in the Conference Committee due to objections from the Social Security Board.

The present bill has been worked out by the joint efforts of Senator Connally and the Social Security Board members. The bill does not carry a flat rate to be paid by the Federal Government, but provides a mathematical formula for payments to be made in reverse ratio to the state's per capita income per person. Thus, the State, with higher average individual incomes, is more able to pay its share of the pension, and the less the Federal Government will contribute while the poorer the state, the more the Federal Government will contribute.

Under the present law, there is considerable discrepancy in the amount paid to the aged in the various states; this bill would bring about a more equal pay to the old age pensioner throughout the nation.

Heretofore in Texas, monthly old age pension payments have been a little less than $14. On that basis, under the Connally bill, the combined monthly payment would be $22.50. Under recent enactments of the Legislature of Texas, if funds are available, the monthly payments would amount to $18.50. Under the terms of the Connally bill, with the same state contribution, the monthly payments would amount to $27.25 to each old age pensioner.

Storage Rates Set For 1941 Loan Cotton

COLLEGE STATION, July 30—The maximum warehousing rates for 1941 loan cotton are 17 1/2 cents a bale per month for warehouses that do not operate compress facilities and 15 cents a bale per month for warehouses operating compress facilities, B. F. Vance, administrative officer of the state AAA, has announced.

In addition to these charges, Vance said, warehouses may not collect more than 25 cents per bale service charge for receiving, sampling and delivering, and 10 cents a bale for each service of re-weighing and re-sampling. As customary in past loan programs, the cotton producer will also pay a fee of 15 cents a bale for classing which is done by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

At the time service is authorized by the person having title to the warehouse receipts, compression charges will be made at rates specified in the warehouseman's published tariff rate of July 1, 1941. Delivery charges for cotton on which compression charges are not collected, may also be made by warehouses that operate compress facilities, the AAA official said, but no delivery charge will be made if the cotton is delivered direct to a consuming mill within 50 miles of the warehouse plant. Fire insurance for the full market value of the cotton will be carried by the warehouseman and if his established tariff provides for rates lower than the maximum rates, the lower rates will apply. In the event cotton AAA committees authorize it, warehouses may make out loan papers for an agreed fee.

Storage and fire insurance rates for 1938 loan cotton will be continued under the existing warehouse contracts with a maximum rate of 12 1/2 cents per bale. The maximum rate for 1940 loan cotton is 15 cents per bale per July 31, 1941, when a 12 1/2 cents per bale storage will be in effect.

NYA Youths Employed On Army Projects

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 4 —

Approximately two thousand boys and girls are employed on NYA projects in Texas sponsored by the United States Army, State NYA Administrator J. C. Kellam said today. Of this number, 1,346 are boys and 638 are girls.

This work, which is non-military in nature, includes the young assisting in machine, metal, electrical and automotive shops, and acting as helpers in bricklaying, carpentering, painting, steamfitting, refrigeration, laundries, warehouses, clerical work and hospital work. By means of these NYA projects, regular Army personnel are left free to devote their full time to strictly military duties.

In Camps Wolters, Mineral Wells, Bowie, Brownwood, and Hulen, Palacios; and at Forts Brown, Brownsville; Ringgold, Rio Grande City; McIntosh, Laredo; Sam Houston, San Antonio; Bliss, El Paso; Russell, Marfa, and Crockett, Galveston, 675 boys and 202 girls assist in the repair shops, warehouses and offices.

One hundred boys are obtaining work experience in the construction, repair and maintenance of airplanes and airplane engines at an NYA Resident Center sponsored by the U. S. Army Air Corps and operating at Duncan Field Air Depot, San Antonio. At Camp Normoye, near San Antonio, 95 boys are receiving work experience as automobile mechanics, helpers and seven girls work as clerical assistants.

Related information and training classes conducted by teachers furnished by the local school systems.

and the State Board for Vocational Education are held on many NYA projects sponsored by the Army for the youth employed on these projects. These youths are likewise registered with the local offices of the Texas State Employment Service, which assists in placing them in private employment following the work experience gained on the projects.

Other NYA youths are assigned to projects at Kelly, Ellington and Hensley Fields, the San Angelo Basic Flying School; San Antonio Arsenal; San Antonio Hospital Depot; Wm. Beaumont Hospital, Galveston; First Military Area, San Antonio; Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston Military districts; Army Field Office, Jasper; Selective Service Boards at Houston, Taylor and Conroe, and Army and Navy Recruiting Stations in 14 Texas cities.

Manchukuo's population on Oct. 1, 1939, was 38,301,963, according to a recent Japanese census.

OIL AFFAIRS

This country is building a great mechanized army. The very soul of that army will be oil—gasoline to propel it, and lubricants to grease the intricate mechanisms. So one of the extremely important questions of the time is this: Have we the motor fuel we need and will there be enough left over for our civilian demands after military requirements are met?

That vital question was recently answered by the Texas Commission. It is estimated that gasoline for the Army's 250,000 motor vehicles — tanks, blitz bugs, trucks, etc. — may total 1,000,000,000 gallons a year. That's a lot of gas — yet, says the Commission, America's refineries can turn out that billion gallons in less than two weeks, leaving 50 weeks to produce for the air force, the Navy and the civilian population.

POWER POLITICS

You don't have to be an authority on international power politics to figure out why the Vichy government invited Japan to occupy and "protect" French Indo-China. The Machiavellian hand of Hitler can be clearly seen in this potentially explosive move. The Vichy government is completely a pawn of the Nazis. And Hitler, who is now fighting the two-front war which he always said he would avoid, may profit materially from trouble in the Pacific. So long as the Japanese saboteurs remain in power and pursue their imperial policy, it will be necessary to keep much of the American Navy in the Pacific, and it will also be necessary to divert much of our Army and military supplies to our Pacific possessions. It is altogether likely that what Hitler would like to see is a full-dress war between Japan and the United States, in order to keep us from giving maximum aid to Britain.

The government's reaction to Japan's move into Indo-China was precisely what was expected. We have long been criticized for permitting oil exports to the Japanese — and it is an ironical fact that while we have been giving our moral support and some material support to China, we have also been supplying Japan with most of the gasoline that has made the war against China possible. President Roosevelt, queried at a press conference, said frankly that the government had permitted oil exports in the belief that if we shut off these vital supplies, Japan would at once attempt to seize Indo-China and other rich areas, and so cause a Pacific war of the first magnitude. In other words, the government was trying to localize conflict. That policy has now proven a failure. A start toward an embargo on all commerce with Japan has been made, and Britain and her possessions have followed suit.

From now on, a Treasury liense will be needed to take any Japanese assets out of this country, or to send anything of any kind to Japan. As an Axis dispatch said, "The assets 'freezing' order put the Treasury in a position to turn the economic screws on Japan. Just how hard they will be applied may depend on future events in the Far East."

It is difficult to exaggerate the importance of the economic whip we hold over Hirohito's empire. Japan buys the bulk of many vital supplies from us. On top of that, we have long been Japan's best customer. Many experts believe that if Japan loses the American market, she will be in a desperate economic position. So far as we are concerned, our sales to Japan are but a drop in the bucket compared with our total trade. We buy nothing from Japan we cannot do without. Mrs. America may have to forego silk stockings in the future, and use substitutes such as nylon, but that can hardly be considered a great hardship.

From the purely military point of view, Japan has quite a job on her hands. The war in China seems far from conclusion as yet, and involves a tremendous drain on Japanese resources — men as well as materials. Britain is no weakling in the Far East, and the Churchill government is taking as tough a line with Japan now as we are. In the event of actual hostilities, full naval collaboration between England and the United States would undoubtedly be immediately effected. Some think that this country should base ships at the great Singapore base now. There is little doubt that Britain would give enthusiastic permission if the right to do this were requested.

There is also talk to the effect that Hitler would like to persuade Japan to attack Asiatic Russia. That too would be a tough assignment. Russia is powerful in the East, and the Japanese Army isn't regarded too highly by the military experts. However, those who know the Japanese character think it very possible that the Japanese war lords may have finally decided to shoot the works, even if that eventually involved national suicide, and the reduction of Japan to the status of a third-class power.

More than 20 operations are now performed in bringing a big gun to bear on its target. So the electrical industry is today playing a big part in the manufacture of these guns by making the motors, controls, and calculating devices needed in this work.

All motion pictures entering Switzerland are now subject to military censorship.

KEEP HIM THAT WAY!

I failed to tell her I loved her. And how much she meant to me. I failed to be the friend to her that I had intended to be.

There were letters I should have written. Kind words I could have said. That might have brought a little joy. To the miserable life she led.

I thought of her so many times. And my thoughts were sweet and true. But I didn't tell her I loved her. With a love that would endure.

Now that she has passed away I can but wonder why. I give no bouquets to the living. But wait until they die.

SOUTHERN WILDLIFE

Hung Fly

Uh, oh! It's hung over there on that old log. Mighty good place for a big bass, and you don't want to create too much disturbance for fear of removing the old mossback for good. O. K., and quietly wade within rod-reaching distance of the fly. Then draw your line and leader back thru the guides until the tip of your rod comes in contact with the hung lure. If you keep the line taut, you usually can release the hook by pushing against it with the rod tip.

Fireflies for Bass

Once I jokingly proposed to a fishing companion that we try baiting with fireflies for night bass fishing. Now comes along a new fly that's treated with phosphorus! Somebody has put out a landing net that weighs a fish as it lifts him from the water. And there is a dope which, they say, you can rub on dry flies to make them float, and on you fish to keep away flies and midges.

Unusual Fish

The hogfish is a queer fellow. He is related to the flounder family. When the hogfish feels he detects the presence of an enemy, it instantly changes color to match that of its feeding ground. Color changing is done so quickly that the naked eye never catches the transformation until it is complete.

The riband fish is also an outstanding creature of the deep. It comes from the greatest depths of the sea which are its natural home. Volcanic disturbances spew this fish from its environment, and it is thrown upon the shore. Shaped like a ribbon, the riband's body is so thin as to be almost transparent. The color of burnished silver in the water it gives off a sheen of great beauty and depth.

Saltwater Racketeers

It is time to wake up! An article in the July issue of "The Southern Sportsman" published in Austin, Texas, goes over the salt water fishing problem completely. To sportsmen who believed that the ocean was a vast storehouse to be drawn on indefinitely, the extraordinary report fishing for the past two years has been a severe shock. And nothing is being done about it. Shrimp netters kill not thousands, but millions of small fish in the inland bay regions. There should be a law to keep them out of inland waters. Commercial fishermen bottle up great hordes of fish in the passes as they go, and from the ocean and their retreats in the bays and lagoons. By stretching nets, bottling them up, in these passes they can slay countless tons of fish. Something should be done about it! Don't wait for "George to do it." Write your state representative and senator. Let's get some action before it is too late. George is tired!

Will It Rot!

That's what we call it—rot! Once we put our nice bamboo casting rod in an air tight case. The rod was wet. We forgot to dry it upon reaching home. Next time we wanted to go fishing the rod practically disappeared in our hands upon taking it out of the case. So—never put a rod away damp or in a damp case. Dry it thoroughly. Your aluminum rod case is not necessarily watertight at the end. It is well to lubricate ferrules by rubbing them through your hair or on the side of your nose before assembling the rod.

YOUR NAME?

Among the fifty commonest English names, Price is of Welsh origin, and comes from the joining of elements in the patronymic "Ap Rice" (son of Rice). Wales, "Ap" denoted "son of," equivalent to the Irish "O" or the Scottish "Mac." "Rice" or "Rhys," was a common Welsh personal name meaning "a hero; a strong man." The first letter of "Ap Rice" was dropped. The common surname, Fowey, or Gordon in Brevickshire. One interpretation of the name is that it is a Gaelic word "gurdaine," signifying a hero; a strong man. However, a more probable derivation is from "gourdaine" or "gurd" a word formed of "gour" (hill) and "dun" (hill). Gordons have distinguished themselves on the field of battle from earliest times. Charles George Gordon, English soldier, was known as "Chinese Gordon" for the part he played in the Chinese wars. George Henry Gordon was an American soldier of Civil War fame.

McADAMS

The Scottish form for "son of Adam," this family name is one of many derived from Adam, a name found in the Old Testament and of Hebrew origin. Meaning "red," or "earthly," Adam is of great antiquity, and exists in England and Scotland. In England, the "son of Adam" becomes Adamson instead of McAdams. Many of the McAdams in Scotland adopted the spelling of "McCade," or "McCady." The name McAdams will exist as long as there are macadamized roads. The macadam process was named for its discoverer, John Loudon McAdam, a Scottish improver of roads.

HOLDERMAN

In England a few centuries ago, a "holder" was one who held land or other property under another; a tenant. The term has survived as a surname, being most commonly found as Holder, the suffix "man" being dropped by many families. It is still found frequently, however, not only as Holderman, but as Holdeman, Holman, etc. Charles Frederick Holder (1851-1915) was an American author and biologist.

LAMBERT

Of Old English origin, Lambert comes from "Land-beorht," which signified "bright, fair or excellent land." Another interpretation of the name is that it designated "one who tended a flock of lambs." John Lambert was an English parliamentary general. Daniel Lambert, one of the largest men in history, weighed 739 pounds.

"All right. I'll ask my wife if I can give it to you."

Total work requirements of all government procurement agencies in the fiscal year beginning July 1 has been estimated at 239,000,000 pounds by Donald M. Nelson, OPM director of purchases.

But now the scar-mouthed man spoke suddenly; from his position at one side he had dared flick his eyes to the door. "Walk, look out! Don't turn! Watch this buzzard, but wheel back and stand by me!"

Into the front of the bar two men had come; they came striding back the length of the room; their spurs ringing brokenly. Roper did not see their guns come out. But suddenly the weapons of both of them appeared in their hands smoothly and easily, from no place.

The two men were Lee Harnish and Tex Long.

Tex Long's 45 clocked in the palm of his hand as it came to full cock. He said, "Howdy, Bill. A spig girl just brought us word. Dave Shannon and Hat Critk Tommy are up the street. And Dry Camp Pierce." "Gosh," Lee Harnish said, "we've been hunting you for two months! You want us to blast these Indians, boss?"

Bill Roper drew a deep breath, and at that he could not even appreciate that here, at last, were the leaders he needed for his great raid. All he could think of was that he had been deprived from death; and he knew that life was good.

CHAPTER XIV

The tribute implied by the re-gathering of the wild bunch leaders was one of the most extraordinary things that had ever happened in Bill Roper's life. There was not much of their story. Driven out of Texas on the heels of Roper's victory, for a while they had gone their separate ways. But gradually they had drifted together again, in the Indian nations, at Dodge, in the northern cow camps. With Cleve Tanner broken in Texas, and the roots cut from under Ben Thorpe's organization by the loss of his breeding grounds, the outlaw riders found themselves unwilling to leave their work unattended. So at last they had come looking for Roper—and had found him.

The first thing was to get them out of there. He named a rendezvous a lonely shanty on Fork Creek.

Roper himself was the last to ride out of Miles City. Seasoned riders thought these men might be, with names now famous the length of the country. But Roper had broken youngsters still. No one of them could be trusted not to get a skinful of liquor, and go gunning for Lasham's men on his own hook.

Roper was relieved, therefore, upon riding into the Fork Creek rendezvous in the dreary February twilight, to find his Texas men already waiting for him there. They were eating and drinking down their own as Roper came into the little cabin, in stamping the snow off his boots.

Lee Harnish looked sheepish. "Say, I forgot something. I got a letter for you here."

Roper took the worn envelope and stood turning it over in his hands. The date showed it to be three weeks old—the great age, everything considered. But what look held him, so that for a full minute he dared not break the seal, was that the letter was from Jody Gordon.

Roper ripped open the envelope. The whole note covered no more than a half page, but as he folded it and put it into a pocket, his hands were shaking in a way that would have cost him his life if he had been walking into a gunfight then. There was no "howdy" in it.

With a visible effort, Roper pulled himself together. Briefly he told them what his new wild bunch had done.

"We haven't even scratched the surface," he finished. "Unless we hit Walk Lasham quick and hard, and reach his roots back into Texas; and all the work we did down there will go for nothing."

"Me," Tex Long said. "I aim to swing with you, and try to finish up what we begun. But, way I see it, the layout up here is terrible bad, for our style of work."

"There isn't a profit in the way I figured," Roper admitted. "I've been taking a peep up along the Canadian border; I figure it's an easy crime. If you ain't willing to come on and take one more crack at Thorpe and Lasham—"

"There's no one beyond the border needing any stock," Dry Camp Pierce said gloomily.

"Dry Camp," Bill Roper said, "I'm thinking of the tribes."

"There was a moment's silence," Roper said. "Come, all of war paint." Tex Long said, "how the devil."

"I've talked to Iron Dog."

Every one of them, each in his own way, looked as if he was at that. Iron Dog was a famous warrior chief of the Gros Ventre Sioux. Ragged and starving, his decimated band driven far out of their home country, he had been the last of the stubbornly resisting force which had once made his name. But though he was broken and helpless now, remnants of his leadership re-opponed by his sweetheart, Jody Gordon, and her father, Roper's successful raids against Thorpe's Texas holdings wiped him out of the state. Roper then left for Thorpe's Montana ranches. Jody told her father's life was in danger; mained; his influence extended over many bands, and more than one tribe.

"I don't hold with dealing with red niggers, much," Dave Shannon said. "These bucks are forced out of their ranges without any deal made whereby they get fed." Roper said, "Half of them are in as pitiful a state of starvation as you ever saw. A big part of the blame for this is on Walk Lasham. Now I aim to square the deal."

"I already made up a rendezvous with Iron Dog, before I knew you were in on this," Bill Roper told them now. "Inside of a month Iron Dog will be camped on the Milk River with anyway seven or eight bands."

"Seven or eight bands?" Tex Long shouted at him. "My God, there'll be worse than a thousand Indians on the Milk!"

"A thousand, hell!" Roper bucked. "If there aren't that many buck warriors alone, I'll eat the beef myself. The men in this little cabin were not easily surprised, and less easily shocked or awed; but their usually unpreparing faces now gave them away."

"God Almighty!" Dave Shannon said. It was almost a prayer.

"He's done it now," Hat Critk Tommy said slowly. "You know

"Now I aim to square the deal."

"What happens when you throw that many loose Indians together? You got a war on your hands, by God! They come whopping down on Montana—they'll tear the country wide open! The whole frontier will go up in a bust of smoke. Nothing'll ever stop 'em, once they get together like that."

"One thing will."

"What will?"

"Grub," said Roper.

"That might be so," Dave Shannon admitted. "I never yet see an Indian go to war on a full stomach."

A tensid had come into that dark cabin; they were realizing now that they stood in the shadow of events of a magnitude they had not dreamed. In the quiet, Bill Roper's hands kept creasing and recreasing the letter from Jody Gordon. A faint dampness showed on his forehead, but his fingers acted cold and awkward.

"There's five of us here," Tex Long said. "You expect us to just suddenly feed every Indian in creation?"

"I've got twenty-seven riders waiting to throw in with us at the first word."

"Twenty-seven riders? Where?"

"All over Montana. What do you think I did all winter? Holed up like a she-bear?"

Silence again, while they all studied Roper.

"How many you figure to move?" Tex Long asked at last.

Roper's voice was so low they could hardly hear his words. "Between twenty and thirty thousand head."

"Lew threw his hat against the roof poles in a gesture of complete impatience. "Dead of winter," he said; "maybe having to fight part of the time; why, thirty-four cowboy cowboys drive—"

"We don't have to handle this stock like fat beef," Roper reminded him. "We don't have to pull up for quicksand, or stampedede losses, or high water. If a hundred head get swept down a river, what the hell! Some different Indians will get hold of 'em downstream. Working that way, hard and fast, thirty cowboy camp move every thing in Montana."

"We're terrible short of time," Tex Long said.

"I know it; in another couple of left her home to ride 500 miles to warn him. Walk Lasham, manager of Roper's holdings in Montana, was Roper sitting alone and unarmed in a room one day. Gun in hand, Lasham prepared to kill his hated antagonist.

months their chuck wagons will be heading out, and the deep grass will be full of their riders. We have to move and move quick."

"It might be," Dry Camp Pierce declared himself. "It just could be done." A hard gleam was coming into the old rustler's wary eyes.

"And if it can—great God! There's never been nothing like this!"

The others had seemed to have had the breath knocked out of them by the unheard-of scope, the bold daring, the headlong all-or-nothing character of the plan.

"This is bigger than the Texas raids," Tex Long said wonderingly. "This is bigger than anything has ever been!"

Suddenly Dave Shannon smacked his thigh with his huge hand. "By God, I believe I'll put 'em!"

Over the pack of outlawed youngsters had come a wave of that fanatic enthusiasm which sometimes sways men as they face the impossible. But Roper, strangely, was unable to share it. The great raid he had planned all winter now seemed futile—a plan senseless and cold.

"Bill," said Lee Harnish, "what's the matter with you? You got chills and fever, or something?"

Roper spoke to Harnish alone, as if he had forgotten the others. "That letter was from Jody Gordon," he said.

"Bad news, son?"

"I don't know. She wants me to come to Ogallala."

"When?"

"Now—right away."

"What for? Does she say?"

"She says she needs me; she says she needs me bad, and right away. I guess she does, all right. If she didn't, I don't believe she'd ever write to me."

The faces of the wild bunch riders were expressionless, noncommittal. Roper knew they wouldn't have much to say. They were youngsters still—all except Pierce; but their faces were carved lean and hard by long riding, and a lot of that riding had been for him.

"You got your shining shins?"

"Catch up your ponies."

"We pulling out? Tonight yet?"

"You bet your life we are. Ought to make Red Horse Springs by midnight."

"And after that," Harnish said slowly, "what is it, Bill? Is it Ogallala?"

Once more the silence, while they looked at Roper.

"It's the raid," Roper said.

CHAPTER XV

Low Gordon came stumbling across the corral of his little Miles City house, his spurs ringing at every stride. His big hands, rope-hard and thickened at the knuckles, and his head, set at his sides, but his face had the look of a man beset.

Opening the back door of the house he sent a great roar through the walls—"Jody! Jody, where are you?"

She answered him, and Lew Gordon went to find her.

"What's the meaning of this?" was his greeting as his daughter came running to him through the house. "You were supposed to stay in Ogallala!"

Jody threw her arms about his neck and pulled his head down to kiss him; but Lew Gordon was not to be put off.

"That horse wrangler just brought me word that you was here," he said. "There's a pretty kettle of soap, when some horse wrangler comes about when a man's daughter is at than he knows himself."

"Dad, will you please sit down? I tell you, I want to talk to you!"

"Oh, all right!" Lew Gordon flopped into a chair, jabbed his spurs into the floor at long range, and tore off another huge mouthful of beef.

"There are two pieces of bad news," Jody said now. "First thing, Ben Thorpe has cut under us in the bidding for the government contracts, at Dodge."

A spark leaped into Lew Gordon's eyes under the pressure of the last two years he had turned edgy and garrulous, as if his mind had become hasty on the trigger, now that his hands were big. "I might have known that!"

"Those infernal—"

"The loss of those contracts is going to hurt," Jody said; "I've brought the books up into fair shape, and I lose to me as if King-Gordon is starting the worst year in history. If he loses go on piling up the way they are—"

Jody Gordon came and sat on the end of her father's chair. "There was a man rode up to Ogallala from Dodge City," she said. "He brought some very peculiar news, and I don't like it at all."

"That renegade Colorado outfit think they're going to—?" Lew Gordon began.

"This was a Bill Roper man," Jody said.

Low Gordon checked as suddenly as if he had been struck across the face.

Since last October the price of crude cottonseed oil at southern mills has risen from about 4.4 cents to 11.5 cents, says Administrator Leon Henderson of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply. A ceiling considerably below present prices is being considered.

Needy people of Dundee, Scotland, will be permitted to buy kye at reduced prices from the Dundee plant.

Texas Longhorn Emblem To Fly With the R. A. F.

Texas Longhorn — athletic emblem of the University of Texas—will see service over Germany this fall.

University officials this week granted permission of three Texas members of the Royal Canadian Air Force to use the Longhorn as the insignia on their fighting planes.

"We are three Texans in the R. O. A. F.," a letter to University officials, signed Harry, Gunn and Apple — the Flying Texans, read: "After much debate and elimination we have selected, with your permission, the charging Longhorn steer — which has always symbolized the spirit of Tex-

"We would greatly appreciate it if you would send us the different types of decals and stickers using a full and three-quarter view of the steer. From these we hope to have our full insignia made up; a charging Texas Longhorn crashing through the ringed star insignia of the U. S. Air Corps, with the motto of the R. O. A. F. between the star's uppermost points, and the word TEXAS, centered below."

"The decals are on the way to the young Texans' training base in Canada, officials here said.

"Owing to Hitler your fish will be littler," reads a sign in a London fish store.

SAFETY

"How fast can I stop this car or truck of mine?" is a question that every motorist should ask himself.

The safety of yourself and your fellowmen does not depend on how fast you can drive, but how fast you can stop if an emergency should arise. Good brakes are important and should be checked at regular intervals to make sure they are as safe as it is possible for them to be. If you haven't had them checked recently we will be glad to check them for you if you will drive into our service department. There is no charge for this inspection, so why not make it a point to drive by and get them checked?

Garment Quota Is Completed

Women of Muleshoe have been working diligently throughout the summer months sewing for the Red Cross.

Believing the quota for Bailey county already made in garments the women were breathing easily. But the supervisors were so saving in their cutting the garments that several bolts of material were left after the quota was made so the women are again busy sewing for Red Cross.

Tuesday 11 women met in the Home Economics room and sewed all day. There are several garments yet to make, and the women met again the first of this week for an all-day sewing.

No More Low License Numbers

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 4 — The Highway Commission has issued an order that in registering passenger cars for the registration year 1942, and in successive years, no license plates will be numbered below 5,000, and further that the issuance of special series of license plates known as the "State Official Plates" will be discontinued.

This order means that in the future there will be no low license numbers issued by the Highway Department.

Between 1934 and 1940, the aircraft industry spent $76,800,000 for plants and equipment, and $23,250,000 for development-wise investments that are paying a dividend in national security today!

NEW OIL that gives car engines GOOD OLD OIL-PLATING far Outlasts 5 other big brands in Desert War of Endurance

Oil-Plated engine proves good for more than Double the Mileage averaged by rivals in Daring Death-Test... Certified

Plenty of good old pre-streamline cars with OIL-PLATED engines still pass your house quietly... pass newer cars on the road... pass oil-inspection many a time without needing a quart. That's because inner engine parts have been kept OIL-PLATED by the strong magnet-like action that won't let OIL-PLATING quickly drain down. Even all night, OIL-PLATING stays up to its topmost point—on guard against wear in advance! Yet this famous OIL-PLATING—based on the Conoco Germ Processed oil patent—is merely one factor in today's great success of the new

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
—Lasted 5,683 miles longer than next-best oil tested in Death Valley

Conoco Nth oil invited itself straight up against 5 other representative oils in an all-out test to the death... unbiased... Certified. The graveyard was cruel Death Valley—so hot you can't sweat, 6 everyday coupe were used—all alike. Each got one 5-quart fill of some one competing oil—locked in by the Official Referee. Then under strictly equal conditions all cars sped without added oil, till engines cracked up.

Real difference—from a Real source

Two modern synthetics are in new Conoco Nth oil. Now think of modern vitamin synthetics, replacing some of Nature's life-givers lost in modern food processing. Similarly, the latest oil refining methods destroy some of Nature's life-givers. But today full life is brought back—more than generously—by the two Conoco synthetics.

One of these will make Conoco Nth motor oil keep your engine OIL-PLATED. The other will check the effect of foul leftovers caused by every engine's normal firing. This component of all oil troubles is now checked—inhibited—by Thiabend

IMPARTIAL

Latest available oil of each competitive brand bought retail by Referee. New stock coupons all alike; broken-in alike; handled alike. Engines to had been taken apart for Referee—to assure same conditions for all oils. Same route for all. One fill of oil per car. None added. Engines under lock—under scrutiny—every mile.

inhibitor... Conoco Patent 2,218,132. But why technicalities?—when you know the Certified Economy record of Conoco Nth in Death Valley. You'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil, nor make your car carry any other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at the recommended intervals. But knowing that one fill of Conoco Nth oil outlasted the other Death-Tested oils—by 74% all the way up to 161%—you can figure on a long time between quarts of Conoco Nth oil. Change today—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Battering America's oil with Synthetics

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

Muleshoe Library News
One of the greatest love stories of the day is "Lost Sunrise," by Kathleen Norris. This writer needs no introduction to the reading public. Dozens of her stories have been read by the American public, and each one seems to be better than the last. "Lost Sunrise" is particularly the story of Gwen Washburnton, compelled to marry the man did not love. It is not at all that you think it would be. So you have to read it for yourself. You may get the book at the Muleshoe Library. You may also get other excellent books, many of the new, for books are received almost every week. There are books of all kinds for young people as well as old, including fiction and non-fiction. If you have a card, it. If you do not have one, it today. Visit your library—Library committee.

W. E. Renfrow, Sheriff, Bailey County, Texas, Muleshoe, Texas, July 9th, 1941.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Bailey. WHEREAS on the 19th day of May A. D. 1941, The State of Texas, and County of Bailey, Plaintiff, and the Muleshoe Independent School District of Bailey County, Texas, and the City of Muleshoe, a political subdivision of Bailey County, Texas, Impleaded Taxing Units recovered a judgment in the District Court of Bailey County (for the 64th Judicial District of Texas) No. 1220 on the docket of said court, against R. K. Lathy for the aggregate sum of Seventy Six and 16 100 Dollars for delinquent taxes, interest, penalties and accrued costs on the same, with interest on said sum at the rate of 6 percent per annum from date of judgment together with all costs of suit. Said judgment directs that a foreclosure of plaintiff's lien together with lien of the taxing units which were parties to this suit and established their claims thereto for the amount of said taxes, interest, penalties and accrued costs as apportioned to each tract and or lots of land as described in said order of sale.

By virtue of an order of sale, issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Bailey County, Texas, on the 8th day of July, 1941, as directed by the terms of said judgment.

As Sheriff of said Bailey County, I have seized, levied upon and will, on the first Tuesday in September, 1941, same being the 2nd day of September, 1941, at the courthouse door of said Bailey County, between the hours of 2 o'clock P. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. of said day, proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder all the right title and interest in and to the following described real estate levied upon the 9th day of July, 1941, as the property of R. K. Lathy.

Description: Lots 13 and 14, in Block Number 2, Original Town of Muleshoe, Texas. Amount apportioned against said tract: $78.16.

subject, however, to the right of redemption of the defendants, or any one interested therein, may have, and further rights the defendants, or any one interested therein may be entitled to under the provisions of law. Said sale will be made by me to satisfy the above described judgment and foreclosing the lien provided by law for the taxes, interest, penalty and costs. The proceeds of said sale to be applied to the satisfaction thereof. Said sale will be made subject to the defendant's right to redeem the said property by complying with the provisions of law in such cases made and provided.

W. E. Renfrow, Sheriff, Bailey County, Texas, Muleshoe, Texas, July 9th, 1941.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF BAILEY COUNTY - GREETING: YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon Wm. Thacker, his unknown heirs and legal representatives, and Mrs. Nancy Thacker, her unknown heirs and legal representatives, who resides in Caddo County, Oklahoma, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for two consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper in an adjoining county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court, 64th Judicial District of Bailey County, Texas, to be held at the courthouse thereof, in the City of Muleshoe, Texas, on the 1st. Monday in December, A. D. 1941, then and there to appear and defend the suit filed in said court on the 29th day of July, 1941, in cause numbered 1325, wherein the Muleshoe Independent School District, of said State, are plaintiffs and Wm. Thacker, his unknown heirs and legal representatives, are defendants, her unknown heirs and legal representatives who resides in Caddo County, Oklahoma, are defendants, and said plaintiffs have impleaded taxing units in said State, to appear in said cause and for each to file its claim for delinquent taxes against the property, or any part thereof, described in the petition of said plaintiff. The cause of action being alleged as follows:

That said suit was brought by the plaintiffs for the collection of delinquent taxes for the years 1939 to 1940, inclusive, for the following amounts, exclusive of interest, penalties and costs, to-wit: $88.00 for State taxes and $... for County and District taxes, together with interest, penalties and costs allowed by law.

That certain taxing units have intervened in this suit and filed claims for taxes on all or part of the property described in plaintiffs' petition, as follows: Name of Intervening Taxing Unit: City of Muleshoe, $59.75. State and County, $81.68.

Said taxes are due upon the following described lands or lots: Lots 18-22 Inc. Block 23, O. T. Muleshoe, Texas, Lot 3, Block 4, O. T. Muleshoe, Texas.

Plaintiffs allege a prior and constitutional lien upon said land for said taxes, interest, penalties and all costs allowed by law, and pray for the foreclosure of said lien and sale of said lands for the satisfaction of the same.

Each party to said suit shall take notice of, and plead and answer to, all claims and pleadings now on file and hereafter filed in said cause by all other parties therein.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you before said court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

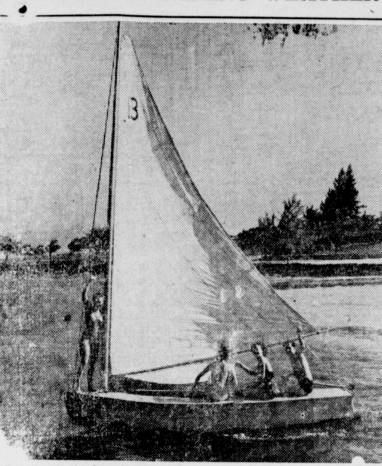

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court in the City of Muleshoe, Texas, this the 29th day of July, A. D. 1941. (SEAL) M. G. Bass, Clerk of the District Court. Bailey County, Texas. By Lela Barron, Deputy. Issued this the 29th day of July, A. D. 1941. M. G. Bass, Clerk of the District Court. Bailey County, Texas.

THDA Theme Is In Keeping With Defense

COLLEGE STATION Aug. 6.—"Nutrition in Defense" has been chosen as the theme for the annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association to be held in Beaumont, September 3-5, the president, Mrs. A. J. Brown, of Nederland, has informed Helen H. Swift, Extension Service sociologist who works with rural women's organizations.

CAREFREE SAILING WEATHER

Sailing is the favorite year-round sport in Nassau. A sail to one of the numerous coves about Nassau for a picnic lunch or for swim from the boat is great sport, for there are abundant harbors and coves and always fresh sailing breeze.

Members of the association will discuss plans for making their Good Neighbor program reach the largest number of people "so that they will be eager to produce and eat food that will make strong Americans for a strong America." Mrs. Brown and others in the Texas delegation who conferred this spring with Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard will report to the association on their talk with the secretary regarding the place of home demonstration club women in the national nutrition program.

Biennial election of the association's officers is scheduled for the September meeting, Miss Swift says. Candidates for the various offices, who were endorsed by their districts in the spring, included Mrs. W. C. Kennedy of Bailey County and Mrs. J. M. Hamilton of Taylor county for president; Mrs. C. A. Caffee of Floyd county and Mrs. Leon Sullivan of Ellis county for vice-president-at-large; Mrs. E. R. Rea of Hamilton county and Mrs. J. Y. Welch of Rusk county for secretary, and Mrs. Curtis Roach of Ochiltree county for treasurer.

In addition to the business sessions, the convention program will include a get-acquainted reception, a banquet, and trips to points of interest in and around Beaumont. One special feature planned by the Jefferson county hostesses is a fish fry on the Gulf.

The watermelon crop in Nacogdoches county is expected to net farmers more than $100,000. Most of the melons are bought by truckers direct from the fields, and farmers are being paid in cash.

Group Medical—

79 counties received an average cost to participating families of slightly less than $2 per month.

The Group Medical Care Program makes it possible for physicians, particularly in rural areas, to give essential medical care to needy farm families at the time it is needed. It also enables the participating families to safeguard their health and receive attention at a cost they can afford to pay.

This plan, according to Mr. McDermott has been in operation in some counties in this region for four years. It is now operating in about 800 counties throughout the United States, serving approximately 800,000 farm families.

Mr. McDermott said that leading health authorities generally believe that this program is saving materially in the present National Defense Program by protecting the health of many persons who usually are least able to take advantage of medical assistance.

Dr. D. D. Lancaster M. D., chairman of the local committee of the county society said today that the Group Medical Care Program for FSA families in Bailey county has been in operation since 1938 and that on the whole the doctors and families have been satisfied and very much pleased with the way in which the plan has operated. No one other than FSA borrowers are eligible to participate in the co-operative program.

Eighty-seven percent of FSA borrowers are cooperating in the Bailey county cooperative medical society. The membership fees for this medical and group hospital service is $21.00 for a family of two and increases $2.00 per person, the total not to exceed $33.00 per family per year.

Group meetings are being held over Bailey county on the following dates for the purpose of setting up the program for the fiscal year 1941-42.

The schedule of meetings:

Fairview school house: 8:30 Monday, Aug. 4.

Muleshoe courthouse: 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 5.

NURSE AND YOUTH LEAVE PLAINS FOR ENGLAND

LEVELLAND, July 27 — A five-foot nurse and a red haired young business man left the Panhandle today for Canada to help the British.

Miss Ruby Agee, 30 years old, quit her nursing job at a Levelland hospital last week. R. E. McCaskill, Jr., 24, sold his butane gas business. They pooled $120 to go to Detroit and then to Windsor, Canada, where McCaskill said friends are arranging passage to England and jobs when they get there.

Last Tuesday evening a number of the boys gathered at the Legion home and organized a band with 15 pieces. Several others will be added. There is material here for a wonderful band.

Mrs. Carleta Gupton Strait was buried here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Hurley cemetery. H. H. Carley, Ray Griffiths, Arnold Morris, Byron Griffiths, A. W. Coker and Mills Barfield were pallbearers. Mrs. Strait, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gupton, passed away July 31.

Silas Beller and family returned from a pleasant trip to Rocky Ford, Colo., where they visited relatives. Mrs. Beller's brother and niece, Mrs. Massey, came home with them for a visit.

Taylor White is leading the choir at the Baptist revival in Sudan this week.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From files of Aug. 6, 1931)

There were 1.77 inches of rainfall at Muleshoe Sunday night as a part of the general rain that covered practically the entire Panhandle area. Practically every section of Bailey county received rain, some sections as much as three inches. Farmers coming into town Monday from all directions, declare all row crops are now practically assured.

An increase in the maximum size and weight of parcel post packages which is expected to increase receipts of the Muleshoe post office, was announced Monday by Mrs. B. W. Carley, postmaster. In the past, 50 pounds was the maximum, but under the new ruling, 70 pounds—may be mailed.

Lloyd Roberts, wife and baby of Stroud, Okla., were here last weekend visiting in the home of Mrs. Roberts' sister, Mrs. M. P. Smith.

Miss Lucille Determan of Amarillo is here this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Determan east of town.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Cecil Harvey and Lester Garth have taken over management of the Phillips "66" service station, located on Main street in Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McHorse moved to Coleman the first of the week where he will go into the grocery business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook, and daughter, Margaret Anne, left Tuesday for Palestine, Tex., where Mr. Cook will attend to business. They will also visit the Texas Centennial at Dallas.

Ray C. Moore left Sunday for Hamilton, Tex., to visit with homefolks. On his return he will be accompanied by his sister who will visit here.

Glenn Rocky, who has been in Cincinnati, Ohio, for the past several weeks, returned to Muleshoe the latter part of last week.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. What is the reason for buying a Defense Bond?

A. To keep America free. To show your faith and pride in your country. To warn foreign dictators that the United States is the strongest country in the world.

Q. But if I do not have enough money to buy a Defense Bond, what can I do?

A. Buy Defense Postal Stamps, on sale almost everywhere. Your post office, bank, department store or druggist has them, or can get them for you at 10 cents upward. Save enough Stamps to exchange for a Defense Bond.

Q. Walking into a costly and exclusive restaurant, a seed-looking individual asked for a glass of water. Swallowing it with one gulp, he then took a package of sandwiches out of his pocket and began eating them. The horrified waitress summoned the manager, who approached the man with an air of stern distaste.

"See here," he said, "this isn't—"

"Who are you?" interrupted the sandwich eater.

"I, sir, am the manager."

"Fine. I was just going to send for you. Why isn't the orchestra playing?"

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

Typical of Washington is the way many of its tax measures designed to raise added revenues for defense, which seemed to be going along as smoothly as could be expected, have come a cropper in the last week or so. And the reason for all this is as obvious as the nose on your face.

The progress of the new tax bill was upset by the injection into the House Ways and Means Committee of highly controversial material coming directly from the Administration as "must" legislative items.

Included among the "musts" listed by the Administration were even stiffer levies on industry, which was already heavily taxed and in line to be taxed still more heavily under the terms of the original measure. It is believed by many who credit to know that these steps would have a disastrous effect upon many business concerns, included in that category being some of the most enterprising.

Actually, the gist of the matter is this: Extensive hearings had been held in committee on the proposed new tax legislation. Experts from many fields had the opportunity to present their case. Then suddenly, after the bill had been drafted on the basis of all this discussion, the White House "musts" were tossed into the situation like eggs into a revolving fan.

In other words, the introduction of the tax "musts" was a last minute thought — or lack of it. Meanwhile, the taxpayer awaits a decision and wonders what his fate will be.

A Congressional committee, in reporting a new army appropriation bill is quoted as declaring that among those who deserve Congressional thanks are "our peerless industrialists and those of their work forces who have responded magnificently" to the needs of defense.

This startled one Southern editor to the extent that he sat down and wrote the following comment:

"One can almost see the embattled business leaders rising warily to inquire, 'Who dat sed who dat?' One can forgive them for the matter of fact. But it may be a good sign. There may actually be a change of heart high in administration centers."

Of course the editor in question expressed that hope before the above-mentioned tax bill changes were suggested by the Administration. If he has had the opportunity to observe the short-note attempt to reverse carefully studied legislation, one wonders whether his comment on the general situation would have been quite so optimistic!

Washington Sidelights: You've all heard of sectionalism in politics. It is frequently a dangerous force, destructive of what is good for the nation as a whole. But in the following Congressional exchange among two members (who shall be identified here only as Congressmen A, B, & C) it was merely comic. The subject is location of new defense plants:

Rep. A.: "I respectfully submit that, outside of California, there is not a single plant west of the Mississippi River. It seems that the Mississippi River is the dividing line."

Rep. B.: "The gentleman is in error because many of them go to Chicago."

Rep. C.: "Chicago is not west of the Mississippi River, may I inform the gentleman. . . ."

With all the talks about "gasless Sundays" that is now being heard, this might be a good time to remember the wry comment being credited here to newspapers in one foreign city that is under totalitarian domination. These ism-fearing newspapers are reported as saying that the height of luxury in this country is to "spill a drop of oil and wipe away the spot with gasoline."

Unexpectedly meeting a friend, a Scotsman invited him to dinner the following Sunday.

"Just press the button with your elbow," he said "and I'll come down to let you in."

"What do you mean — with my elbow?" asked his friend.

"Heavens," cried the Scotsman, "you're not coming empty-handed, are you?"

The first bale of the 1941 cotton crop in the nation was brought in from the farm of Arcadio Salinas in Starr county, Texas. County Agricultural Agent, Charles King said the 85-acre Salinas farm had not made a crop in four years. He attributed this year's early yield to heavy rains in the last six months.

49 Chapels To Be Constructed In 11 Texas Army Camps

AUSTIN, Tex., July 30 — Erection of 49 regimental chapels in 11 Texas Army Camps under a program now being carried out by the Constructing Quartermasters, was praised by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel in a communication to the Chief of Chaplains of the U. S. Army, Washington, D. C.

The chapels, which will be available to Protestants, Catholics, and Jews alike, will cost approximately $1,000,000 when completed. Each chapel will have a movable altar, so constructed as to be adaptable for use by the several religious groups. A series of doors and panels in the altars will provide the essential requirements for each kind of service.

The religious program as planned by the U. S. Army to reach every man in the service seems to be of the highest importance.

While no attempt is being made to force religious observance upon any man, it is significant that the tradition of a God-fearing American Army is being maintained in sharp contrast to the materialism of the totalitarian states. This activity will doubtless receive the approbation of American citizens generally and will bring great satisfaction to the hearts of mothers and fathers of our soldiers.

Fort Bliss Cavalry Set For Louisiana After Maneuvers

EL PASO, Tex. — With the army's greatest cavalry maneuver drawing to a close, Ft. Bliss officials are preparing for the movement of 18,000 Ft. Bliss troops to Louisiana early next month for the army's greatest maneuver.

The Ft. Bliss troops will be part of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's third army, which will number 250,000 men. Opposing the third army in Louisiana will be the second army with an equal number of troops.

Gen. Krueger, watching the Cavalry maneuvers northeast of Newman, warned that the cavalrymen would find tougher going in Louisiana than on the desert.

In a "critique" Gen. Krueger pointed out that both horse and motorized units of the cavalry have been moving too slowly during the Ft. Bliss maneuvers.

Gen. Krueger, watching armored scout cars bog down in hundreds of ruts had turned generally and into mud, told officers that mobility of the cavalry should be maintained despite the mud. He urged troops whose motorized units bog down to get out on foot and find new trails for their vehicles.

The second phase of the cavalry maneuvers ended last week when the 1st and 56th cavalry brigades, representing the reds, theoretically annihilated the 2nd brigade, representing the blues. During the simulation the Blues temporarily seized a section of railroad above Newman, but were driven off. Anti-aircraft units were converted into field artillery during the battle.

Nutrition One Of Most Important Defense Phases

"Nutrition, or Better Diets for a Stronger People," has become one of the most important sectors of the "Food for Defense" campaign of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Miss Eunice Florence, home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Bailey county.

With a nutrition unit to be organized in every county in the nation, the FSA is pledged to take its part in the program, and will work in Bailey county in cooperation with other agencies.

Regional staff members of the FSA in this region have outlined the special part of FSA in the program as including:

1. To increase the consumption of vegetables.
2. To change and improve old and inherited food habits.
3. To induce the production and use of more eggs, milk and vegetables and other "protective" foods.
4. To supplement diets with foods to which farm families are accustomed but which are not used with best effects.
5. To work not only for production but distribution, education and bridging the gap between low incomes and needs.
6. To link diet necessities with fundamental needs like longer tenure of land which will develop pastures, diversification, soil enrichment and improvement of living conditions generally.

"Farm Security borrower-families" Miss Florence said, "will be urged to grow bigger fall gardens. Every effort will be made to enrich the diets of the low-income families in our program."

"Although this campaign has become a national movement," Miss Florence continued, "we feel that a special obligation rests upon the FSA."

Miss Florence said FSA employees will work to see that diets of FSA families measure up to the nutritional "gold standard," which includes one pint of milk a day for an adult and more for a child; a serving of meat; one egg; two vegetables, one of which should be green or yellow; two fruits, one of which shall be rich in Vitamin C, found abundantly in citrus fruits and tomatoes; some butter, breads, flour and cereal, most preferably all whole wheat grain or enriched.

Forty miles of continuous cotton cord, hand-tied with more than 181,000 knots were required to manufacture a gigantic net used by one American company working on defense. The huge net will be used to hold "blimp envelopes" or gas bags, during their original inflation preparatory to flying.

Crowds at the 1939 horse show in Dublin were the largest in years.

TU STUDENT BUILDS ORGAN TO DONATE TO CHURCH

AUSTIN, Tex., July 28 — University of Texas student turned his talent — organ building — to the task of helping a small church in his home town.

Otto Hofmann, a fine arts student from Kyle, near Austin, spent the finishing touches on a huge pipe organ which he is donating to the Little German Baptist church at Kyle.

Parts for the organ Hofmann acquired as "payment" for mending old organs. When completed the instrument he is making in his spare time will have approximately 800 pipes.

Hofmann has been studying the science of sound for the five years under Dr. C. F. Bo. University physics professor a sound expert.

In one year's time, starting virtually "from scratch," the American aircraft industry has built nearly 7,000 military planes. Estimates for 1941 show about 18,000 planes will be turned out.
