Rain curtails Saturday events

Rain curtailed Super 2nd Saturday activities in Haskell Saturday.

The Haskell Bass Club's fajita cookoff was postponed and the swimming party and style show were cancelled.

Several of the planned events did go off as scheduled, including the dedication of the gazebo at the park.

Council to get new estimate

The City Council will get estimates on the cost of design and construction of a new city hall from another engineer.

Councilmen agreed last Thursday to instruct the city administrator to request the information from Abilene engineer Ken Martin.

The city had earlier been given an approximate cost of $400,000 for construction, design, equipping and land acquisition by another Abilene engineer, Terry Crozier.

Eye screening clinic today

Haskell area citizens will be able to get a free glaucoma check today at the Frist National Bank community room.

Personnel of the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness will perform eye screenings between 9 and 11:30 a.m.

City to apply for state grant

The city of Haskell will submit application to the Department of Commerce for a $250,000 grant to pave 33 blocks of streets and make other improvements.

The City Council instructed the city administrator to prepare the grant application last Thursday following the second of two public hearings to discuss community development needs.

Haskell has received similar grants in previous years.

Gazebo dedicated

City tax rebate declines slightly

The City of Haskell received a check from the State Comptroller for $18,086.93 this week as its share of sales taxes collected here during the month of June. (June tax collections were for June sales, as well as second-quarter sales by firms which file quarterly returns.)

Although this month's check to the city was 4 percent below the $18,852.06 received for the same period last year, receipts so far this year are 3.5 percent above those for the first eight months of 1991.

For the year, Haskell has now received $104,152.00, compared to $100,641.39 for the same period in 1990.

Other Haskell County cities receiving checks this week were Rule, $2,443.35; Rochester, $1,025.27; Weinert, $350.47; and O'Brien, $239.07.

For the year, Rule has received $14,813.49, Rochester has received $4,795.75, Weinert has received $1,751.20 and O'Brien has received $1,423.63.

Every Haskell County city shows an increase in sales taxes this year over 1990. Together, they have received $126,936.07. Last year for the same period, the receipts totaled $117,958.79. This represents an increase of 7.61 percent.

Merchants collect the 6.25-percent state sales tax and the 1-percent city tax and send them to the State Comptroller's office. The state retains its share and returns the cities' shares to the cities.

City election judge named

Golda Colbert has been named election judge for the special Aug. 24 city election in Haskell.

Alternate judge is Pam McDonald.

750 expected to answer first school bell Monday

Approximately 750 students are expected to answer the bell for the beginning of the 1991-92 school term Monday morning.

Superintendent Bill Stewart said the school expects about 470 students in the elementary school (PK-6) and about 280 in the secondary school (7-12).

The faculty will include 57 teachers. New teachers will include John Foster, high school science teacher and coach; Cecelia Aragon, speech teacher; Livicia Anderson, and Debbie Miller, special education teachers in the elementary school; and Judy Burson, second-grade teacher.

In addition, Susan Blanks will work full time as school nurse and Tammie Crosson will be a special education aide.

The school year will be 180 days this year, five more than in the past. The extra school days necessitated the earlier start of the school year. Teachers will continue to work 183 days.

A major addition to the physical plant of the schools will be the new elementary addition, a 9,000-square-foot building to the west of the elementary school. The new facility will include a library, a computer lab and five classrooms.

Other projects completed during the summer include the renovation of a building by the cafeteria to serve the Life in a Functional Environment (LIFE) program for special education students.

Carpeting of the elementary school building was completed during the summer and ceiling fans were installed. Many of the rooms were painted, including the inside and outside of the gym.

Nearing completion is the new football stadium to replace the stadium destroyed in the April tornado. Installation of the seats in the stadium is expected to begin within a week or so. The public address system should be in place soon. The lights and scoreboard already have been erected.

Stewart said that teachers and students will have first-class facilities for the new school term.

Council accepting site proposals

The Haskell City Council is accepting proposals for the site location of the new city hall.

All proposals should be submitted in writing by 7 p.m. Aug. 22.

The final decision on the site will be made at the Sept. 10 council meeting.

The council will determine the best site based on the following criteria:

1. Proximity to downtown area,
2. Size (minimum of 140 feet by 140 feet),
3. Cost,
4. Accessibility,
5. Cost of preparation of site prior to construction.

The site must be free of environmental hazards. The final selection will be contingent on suitable soil testing to meet standards for the foundation. The city will be responsible for the soil testing.

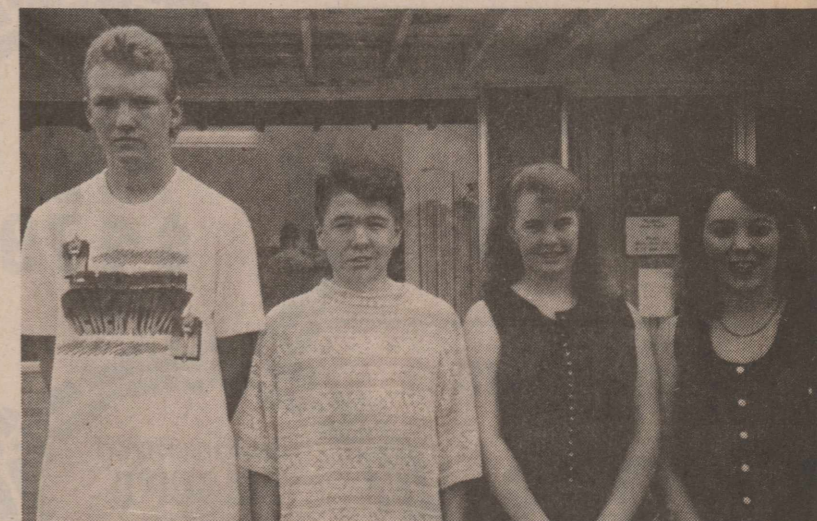

Upon closing, the seller must furnish the city a deed to the property free from any encumbrances.

School lunch prices given

Lunch prices in Haskell school cafeterias this year will be $1.35 for elementary students and $1.60 for high school students. Breakfast prices will be 50 cents.

Reduced lunch prices will be 40 cents and reduced breakfast prices 30 cents.

Adults will pay $1.75 for lunch and 75 cents for breakfast.

Volunteers

These volunteers are participating in the MDA door-to-door canvass in Haskell. They are, from left, Brad Lane, Truett Standefer, Susan Jarred and Cynthia Halliburton.

Local MDA unit asking for funds

A house-to-house canvass to raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) began in Haskell this week.

Judy Standefer, chairman of the local unit of MDA, said the organization has a goal of $5,000, some of which was raised in the recent jail and bail promotion.

Funds are needed, Mrs. Standefer said, to assist local muscular dystrophy patients. A motorized wheel chair, for instance, cost $5,000, she said. "Just one dollar from everyone in Haskell County would enable us to reach our goal."

Mrs. Standefer thanked local citizens for their assistance in the past and called on them to continue their support.

Amendments Ok'd

Haskell County voters favored both proposed constitutional amendments in Saturday's election, and Haskell school district voters okayed two of the three propositions on the school ballot.

Voters approved the first amendment by a 254-193 margin and the second one by 271-177.

In school voting, propositions 1 and 2 carried in the Haskell district by votes of 199-52 and 213-37, respectively.

Proposition 3 was defeated, 220-28.

Statewide, amendment No. 1 was adopted, while No. 2 was defeated.

Haskell County pair attend national program

Mindy Ballard of Rochester and Kim Gilly of Haskell were among more than 3,700 young people from around the country who examined their rights and responsibilities as citizens as they experienced an exciting 4-H program this summer at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md.

Citizenship Washington Focus (CWF) had the theme, "200 Years of Rights and Responsibilities" to celebrate the Bill of Rights, and developed an issue-oriented program encouraging 4-H members to become involved in citizenship projects upon their return home. Mindy and Kim and 25 other 4-H'ers from Texas attended CWF July 27-Aug. 2.

The program, which ran weekly from June 2 to Aug. 3, helped young people, ages 15 to 19, better understand how government functions at all levels and how to effectively use local government processes to address issues. Delegates to CWF debated current issues, experienced government in action, and explored historical sites to increase their understanding and appreciation of their American heritage and their role as citizens of the world.

"Young people attending CWF had the opportunity to better understand the privileges associated with U.S. citizenship through visits to congressional representatives, workshop and education field trips," said Richard Sauer, president of the National 4-H Council. "Our goal was to have Mindy Ballard and Kim Gilly accept responsibility to make their community a better place to live and therefore become what President Bush refers to as 'a point of light.'"

During educational visits to federal agencies and other organizations, CWF participants met with officials to determine what those agencies' responsibilities are in addressing current issues and how they deal with those issues.

The two 4-H'ers from Haskell County also met with U.S. Rep. Charles W. Stenholm on Wednesday, July 31.

Program support and fellowships for 15 college-age, 4-H alumni who helped conduct the program were provided by American Coalition for Traffic Safety, Colgate-Palmolive Company, Farmland Industries Inc., Friends of National 4-H Council, Georgia 4-H Foundation, Iowa 4-H Foundation, National Safety Council, Norman Mindrum Scholarship Fund, Reader's Digest Foundation and Tennessee 4-H Foundation.

CWF is one of the largest of the national citizenship education programs. It is planned and conducted by the Cooperative Extension System of the state land-grant universities and the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The program is arranged and supported by the National 4-H Council, a not-for-profit organization that develops youth potential by acquiring and applying resources in partnerships. Four-H is the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension System of the state land-grant universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Fact or Fiction?

What we were told on April 25, 1991

The second proposal, the one calling for a half-cent sales tax increase to offset a decrease in property taxes, would bring the city approximately $70,000 a year, based on current sales tax receipts, while reducing the city's receipts from property taxes by as much as 50 percent. (Haskell Free Press April 25)

What we were told on Aug. 8, 1991

City ad valorem taxes (property taxes) will be reduced next year, even with the construction of a new city hall, City Administrator said Tuesday. Bakers said taxes will be decreased 4 percent. (Haskell Free Press Aug. 8)

Council offers free rent to chamber

To utilize the existing City Hall, the Haskell City Council has offered the downstairs offices to the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

"The board of the Chamber of Commerce is favorably considering this proposal," said Bob Baker, city administrator. "Not only would the building give the chamber a permanent home, but it also would be rent free."

Since the chamber also serves as a tourist center, Baker said the city has funds that can be made available for that purpose.

"By the chamber and council working together, we can maximize the impact of local funding for both the citizens and the town," Baker said.

Baker also said the paper work to have the City Hall declared a historical building has begun.

"We don't foresee any problems with getting the historical marker," the administrator said. "The building meets the age requirements, the inside structure design is very close to the original, and we have the 1926 blueprints."

With the historical designation, matching state funds will be available for the restoration of the building's original design, Baker said.

The second floor of the City Hall originally housed the firemen's dormitory, complete with a slide-down pole. Currently, the second floor is home to Pearl Lusk, widow of the long-time fire department supervisor, Satch Lusk. The council has a long-standing agreement that provides the second floor as home for the Lusks.

"If or when Mrs. Lusk's plans change, and only then, we will look into the possibility of making the second floor into a firemen's museum," Baker said. "There is no firemen's museum in this region."

Indian band prepares

By Brooke Baker

With a fanfare of trumpets (literally speaking), the Indian marching band has begun summer practice.

This year, Band Director Joe Waldrop has deviated from the military style of marching, which received unfavorable scores from UIL judges, to the corp style that is more widespread in this district.

The half-time show will include music that is sure to set many feet in the bleachers to tapping, bold new patterns and maneuvers, plus a few surprises that are better left seen than told about.

With the addition of a talented trombone player from Norway, Jonas Grue, the brass section is louder (if that is possible) and better than ever.

The school year swiftly approaches, and with it comes the longed-for football games. This season, it will be far more entertaining to watch the half-time performance than to run the concession stand gauntlet.

Thomas reunion has 55

Descendents of the late Clifford and Annie Thomas met Saturday, Aug. 10, at the Haskell Civic Center for their annual family reunion with 55 present. All the children were here for the occasion.

Julie Thomas Horn of Atlanta, Ga., granddaughter of John and Ethel Thomas, came the farthest distance.

Todd Scheffel of Lubbock, grandson of Lewis and Joyce Thomas, was the youngest and Ethel Thomas was the oldest person attending.

John and Ethel Thomas had the largest number of their family present with 20.

Everyone enjoyed a delicious home-cooked noon meal. The afternoon was spent viewing home movies of the families, taking pictures and reminiscing.

Mrs. Helen Vance of Plano was a special guest, and was accompanied by Mrs. Marie Cole of Plano.

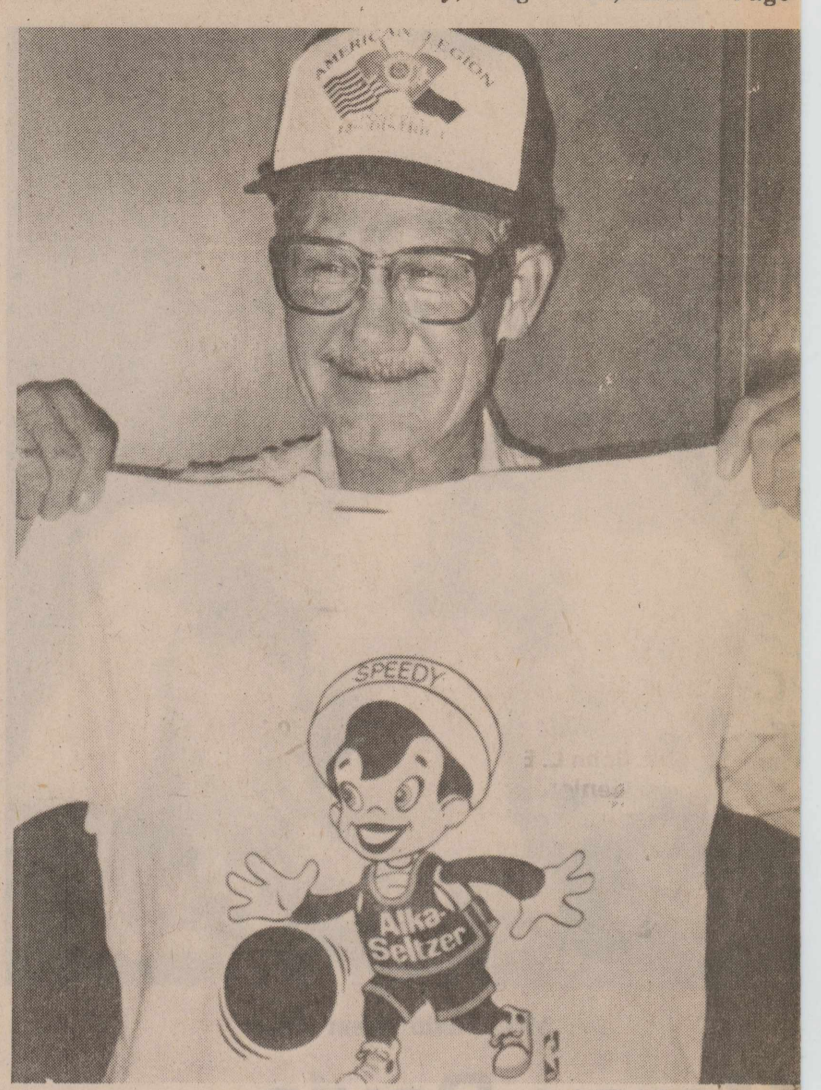

Families came from Pasadena, Dallas, Waco, Deer Park, Anderson, Plano, Cotton Center, Sundown, Wichita Falls, Atlanta, Ga., and Haskell.

After having enjoyed an evening meal together, the group visited in different family homes.

Sunday morning, some family members enjoyed breakfast together before departing for their homes.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

VACATION HOMES

Did you know that you can earn tax-free income on your summer cabin? The rules are complex, but, basically, here's how they work.

If you rent your vacation home less than 15 days a year, you don't have to report the income. You can deduct mortgage interest and property tax as itemized deductions, but you can't deduct any other expense.

If you rent your second home for more than 14 days and you also use it personally more than 14 days, the rent you collect is taxable. However, you can expense a portion of your housing costs, such as mortgage interest, property tax, repairs, and utilities, against the rental income. Total rental expenses cannot exceed rental income.

The rules change if you own property primarily for investment rather than pleasure. You're in the rental business if you rent the property for more than 14 days and your personal use is insignificant (less than the greater of: 14 days or 10 percent of the number of rental days). You can deduct expenses, including interest, property taxes, insurance, utilities, repairs, and depreciation. Substantiate that ownership is primarily for investment purposes by actively seeking renters through advertising or listing with a rental agent.

Vacation homes are not limited to real estate. Boats and motor homes equipped with sleeping, eating and bathroom facilities also qualify.

Remember that rental real estate is a passive investment. The maximum rental loss you can deduct against salary and portfolio income (from stocks and bonds) is $25,000. This $25,000 loss deduction begins to phase out once your adjusted gross income reaches $100,000; it's gone completely once income reaches $150,000.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $60.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

Miss Marcy Michelle Davis became the bride of David Brent Baker during a candlelight ceremony held on Saturday, Aug. 10, at First Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Chattanooga, Tenn.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown designed with a mermaid silhouette. The Victorian crown collar of Brussels lace was highlighted with hanging teardrop pearl lavaliers. A fitted bodice of English illusion was heavily encrusted with swirled designs of seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

Juliet sleeves featured seed pearls, iridescent sequins, lily-pointe cuffs and satin buttons. The full floor length skirt was accented with satin bows, Brussels lace motifs and an upswept pannier. The neckline was encircled with scalloped Brussels lace, flowing into a cathedral-length train. Her multi-layered veil of ivory illusion was held by a headband of hanging teardrop pearls, Austrian crystal beading, pearl filament sprays and accented with a large pouf sprinkled with pearls. The bride's colors were candlelight and gold.

Editor: We have been denied the right to vote on city hall. This is not the American way.

Sisters receive awards

Darlene Stokes and Theresa Vest, former residents of Haskell, were presented outstanding awards in the Snyder school system for the 1990-91 school year.

Mrs. Stokes was the leader of the team of teachers presented "Outstanding Team of the Year" award at Snyder Junior High. The teachers were divided into teams, several from each subject area. These teams conferred with students and sometimes their parents. The objective of the team concept was to discover and help students that were having problems in any subject area. They were also to jointly try to find a way to help the student overcome his problems.

Mrs. Stokes has taught eighth grade math in Snyder for three years. During this time, she was a member of the attendance committee and TCTA building representative. Prior to this, she has taught at Lamesa, where she received "Outstanding Teacher of the Year" award at the high school; at Ira, Texas, and also at Elkhart, Texas.

Mrs. Vest was given "Outstanding Teacher of the Year" award at Snyder Junior High. Mrs. Vest has taught eighth grade mathematics at Snyder Junior High for 12 years. During this time, she has served on numerous committees. She is presently on the Campus Improvement Team, and head of the Math Department in junior high. In 1990, she was in "Who's Who Among American Teachers." Prior to this, she taught math and speech in Colorado City.

Mrs. Stokes and Mrs. Vest are the daughters of Mary and Chester Abbott of Haskell.

The wedding was performed by Dr. Darwin Scott, minister of the First Baptist Church of Littlefield.

Prelude and wedding music was provided by Dr. J. G. Martin, pianist, and Andy Fambrough, trumpeteer.

Maid of honor was Susan Arney of Beaumont, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Penny Cain of Carthage, sister-in-law of the bride; Mindy O'Connor of Stephenville, sister of the groom; and Susan Allen of Abilene. Flower girl was Jennifer Smith of Haskell, niece of the groom, and ringbearer was Jay Smith of Abilene, nephew of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding dress an original design by Phyllis from the House of Bianchi. The short-sleeved bodice was completely covered with Venetian lace. The white summer satin dress had a portrait neckline. The droop waist fell into a full skirt and chapel train, edged with tiny seed pearls. The wreath of matching Venetian lace with satin roses at the crown held a full train of white imported English illusion that was also edged with seed pearls.

National School Lunch Program/School Breakfast Program

The Paint Creek school serves meals each school day. Children may buy lunch for $1.00 and breakfast for 35¢. Children also may get meals free or at a reduced price.

If you now get food stamps or AFDC for your children, your children can get free meals. If your total household income is the same or less than the amounts on the Income Chart below, your children can get free meals or reduced price meals. A foster child may get free or reduced price meals regardless of your income. The reduced price is 40¢ for lunch and 20¢ for breakfast.

To get free or reduced price meals for your children, you must complete an application and return it to the school. We cannot approve an application that is not complete.

HOW TO APPLY: If you now get food stamps or AFDC for the children you are applying for, the application must have the children's names, a food stamp or AFDC case number for each child, and the signature of an adult household member. If you are applying for a foster child, the application must have the child's name, the child's "personal use" income, and an adult signature. If you do not list a food stamp or AFDC case number for all the children you are applying for, then the application must have the children's names, the names of all household members, the amount of income each person got last month and where it came from, the signature of an adult household member and that adult's social security number or the word "none" if the adult does not have a social security number.

For each add'l member add	+4,181	+349	+81

VERIFICATION: Your eligibility may be checked at any time during the school year. School officials may ask you to send papers showing that your children should get free or reduced price meals.

FAIR HEARING: You may talk to school officials if you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the results of verification. You also may ask for a fair hearing. You may do this by calling or writing: Jerry J. Morgan, Route 2, Box 190, Haskell Texas, 79521; 817-864-2471.

REPORTING CHANGES: If your children get free or reduced price meals because of your income, you must tell the school if your household size decreases or your income increases by more than $50 per month or $600 per year. If your children get meals because they get food stamps or AFDC, you must tell the school when you are not getting AFDC or food stamps for them. You may then fill out another application giving income information.

CONFIDENTIALTY: School officials use the information on the application only to decide if your children should get free or reduced price meals.

REAPPLICATION: You may apply for meals anytime during the school year. If you are not eligible now but have a change, like a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, become unemployed or get food stamps or AFDC for your children, complete an application then.

In the operation of the child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age, sex, disability, political belief, or religion. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

We will let you know when your application is approved or denied.

56 attend school reunion

Ex-students and families traveled from several Texas cities to attend the 24th annual Sayles-Centerpoint School Reunion held Aug. 3-4 in Haskell.

The reunion was organized when a group of ex-students of the two schools met to attend the memorial service of a loved one from Sayles.

Rex Felker, ex-student, of Sayles suggested the rural school reunion. Buck Bland from Centerpoint suggested a Sayles-Centerpoint reunion.

Rex, Buck, Roy Wiseman, Ruth Melton Taylor and Albert Hannsz, along with Clyde Bland, Alvis Bird, Duke Jeter, O'Netta Johnson and Rachel Elmore Ball, organized the first reunion.

There were more than 250 registered for the first reunion. Ex-students and teachers came from several states and one came from Iran.

Every year they come bringing baskets of food for Saturday night, good fellowship, games of dominoes. Memories of school days, families of the communities and teachers, pictures, old and new, were enjoyed.

On Sunday, ex-students and family members were greeted and registered by Dassa Jeter and Avis Pennington. There were 56 ex-students and family members registered on Sunday. Several came by on Saturday night.

The two rural schools had outstanding boys' basketball teams for several years. In 1930 when Opal Martin Richey from Haskell came to teach school at Sayles, she organized a girls' basketball team. There were nine girls on the team and for three years they wore their black satin, two-piece ball suits with gold ties, the school colors. She and Ben carried the girls on a flatbed trailer behind their car to many games. O'Brien had the only rural indoor court and all the ball tournaments were played there.

On Sunday, seven of the Sayles girls were here for the reunion: Letha Lindley Lightfoot of Floydada, Rachel Elmore Ball of Breckenridge, Gatha Lindley Crain of Wichita Falls, Ruby Bland Melton of Haskell, Avis Bird Pennington of Haskell, Emma Wiseman Bland of Haskell and Doris Felker Hannsz of Haskell.

Sorry, Centerpoint had to forget the games. Only three players were here--the Gene McClellan girls, O'Netta, Muriel and Joyce. We missed you---Hazel, Pear, Pauline, Rena Sue and the Gregory girls.

A catered lunch was served by Mrs. Lacey. The meal was delicious, especially the dessert, everyone wanted the recipe. Pete Slatton of Wichita Falls, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Elmore on the piano, led the group in gospel songs.

Mrs. Elmore also gave two comical skits. Jack Harris and Ed Melton, ex-students of Sayles, were on the program.

A memorial service for seven ex-students and family members was by Doris Hannsz. Their names were added to the memorial prayer book. So many names, including Rex, Roy, Albert, Buck and Ruth who organized the reunion, are in the prayer book.

School roll call was answered with the Sayles school having the most ex-students. Clyde Bland was the oldest ex-student present; Marcus Mathis of Centerpoint the youngest. The Wiseman family had the largest number attending.

The 25th reunion will be held the first Sunday in August in 1991 with Ed Melton, president; Avis Pennington, vice president; and Doris Hannsz, secretary-treasurer.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

Notes From The Rolling Plains

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

Within the vast region known as the Southwest, ancient Indian cultures prescribe that the tracks of the chaparral be drawn in the sand in front of the homes of the deceased. Drawn in the sand to confuse the souls of the dead in its attempt to return and haunt the lives of the living. The roadrunner, with its characteristic tracks of two toes forward and two toes back, is woven into the folklore of Anglo, Mexican, and Native American alike. Often called Piasano (fellow countryman), Chaparral, and a host of other names, the roadrunner is one of the most misunderstood birds in Texas. In the early 1900's the U.S. government actually placed a bounty on the head of this interesting bird because of a popular belief that the roadrunner preyed on the young of bobwhite quail. Later research showed that the chaparral chose instead to prey on grasshoppers, mice, tarantulas, and a myriad of other likely tidbits. The bounty was eliminated as a consequence of this research and today is protected by federal law. To this day, even 70 to 80 years following the findings of this dietary study, many ranchers and dog gooders continue to destroy the roadrunner when the chance arises. In over 12 years of photographing the life ways of the roadrunner I have come to appreciate the spunk of this hyperactive native of our state. Often hearing tales of the voracity at which the piasano steals the eggs of mockingbirds and the like, I can only chuckle at the old misconceptions that continue to linger, even in these so called enlightened times. Only recently did I watch a roadrunner, on two different occasions, driven from a china berry tree by the owners of a cardinal and mockingbird nest. The chaparral were simply calling to their mates but the much smaller and apparently more aggressive mockingbird and cardinal literally drove the roadster from the site of the tree! Without a doubt the chaparral has captured the fancy of mankind for centuries as attested by the etched form of the running cuckoo in Comanche rock art along the head waters of the Brazos river.

Public Notice

On July 22, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for approval of two new optional services, Exchange Connection Service and Customer Alerting Enablement. Exchange Connection Service will permit a customer of the Telephone Company to provide voice messaging service, telephone answering service, or other services to itself or to patrons of the customer. Customer Alerting Enablement will permit residence and business lines to receive an alerting tone (intermittent dial tone) transmitted by an Exchange Connection Service customer. The proposed effective date for this offering is September 23, and will be available statewide where facilities permit.

The calling party's telephone number and other originating network call information will be delivered to the Exchange Connection Service customer when the calling number and the called number are served by the same switch. Additionally, the caller's telephone number and other originating network call information may be recorded and stored by the Exchange Connection Service customer. Customers may be able to identify the caller before the call is answered. All Exchange Connection Service customers will be required to sign a non-disclosure agreement prior to being provided service. In the agreement the customer agrees not to disclose the calling party's telephone number unless the customer has written permission from the calling party.

The Telephone Company estimates these new services will increase its annual revenues during the first year by approximately $1.2 million. Providers of voice messaging service and telephone answering services and their subscribers are the types of customers likely to be affected by approval of these services.

Exchange Connection Service is provided to customers in two parts: Local Serving Arrangement, which provides access to the exchange network; and Optional Service Features. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph
Thomas

Moeller, Thomas marry July 20

Tiffany René Moeller and Joseph Matthew Thomas were united in marriage July 20 at East Side Baptist Church in Haskell. The Rev. Paul Cheatham performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Moeller and the granddaughter of Mrs. Alma Terrell of Haskell. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thomas of Haskell. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kammenga of Kingsville, Ontario, Canada, Mrs. Ann Wilson of Abilene and Mr. Adell Thomas of Haskell.

Julie Roach, friend of the bride from College Station, registered guests in the foyer of the church.

The registry table was draped with a country blue cotton cloth adorned with a hand embroidery lace overlay. Ember Josselet, cousin of the bride, greeted guests and distributed thank you scrolls from the bride and groom.

Pre-wedding music on the organ was played by Mrs. Nelda Lane.

Brass candelabras entwined with silk English ivy were featured at the altar and were lighted by Mik Everett, cousin of the bride. Marking the pews were dusty rose bows decorated with hurricane lamps with bouquets of English ivy, baby's breath, alstermaria and accented with a touch of blue.

Soloists was Karen Munoz, friend of the bride from Stephenville, who sang "In His Eyes" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied at the piano by Mary Ann Martinez of Munday.

Tara Moeller served her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Trina Watson of San Angelo, Suzie Stanford and Laurie Hester of Stephenville. Flower girl was Jillian Thomas, cousin of the groom, of Haskell.

Steven Klose of College Station was best man. Groomsmen were Billy Thomas, brother of the groom of Morton, Keith Medford and Danny Griffith of Haskell. Ringbearer was Josh Thomas, nephew of the groom of Morton. Ushers were Monty Moeller, brother of the bride of Bowie, Seth Pace of Austin and Mik Everett of Haskell.

The groom seated his mother. She wore a periwinkle blue crepe dress featuring a pleated front bodice, shirred waist and cuffs, and pleated skirt. An antique lace collar complemented the ensemble.

The mother of the bride was seated by her son, Monty Moeller of Bowie. She wore a tea-length peach crepe dress from Miss Elliette. The three-quarter length sleeves and slightly draped bodice were sprinkled with self-colored pearls. The dress had a bateau neckline and a slightly full skirt that was encircled at the waist with peach Venician lace.

Both mothers wore corsages of rubrum lilies with seed pearls. Grandmothers wore corsages of minuet roses and baby's breath.

Entering with her father, the bride was given in marriage by her parents. She chose an Alfred Angelo original, a traditional gown of white taffeta designed by Tina Michell. The Sabrina neckline plunged to a deep V in the back, finished with scalloped Venise lace. The large puff sleeves were covered with Venise lace medallions. Re-embroidered Alencon lace covered the front bodice to the waist line and extended on to the skirt sprinkled with seed pearls and sequins. The waistline in back held a large taffeta double pouf bustle and the full skirt flowed to a semi-cathedral train. Her Venise forehead band accented with rose petal and lily of the valley, sprinkled with seed pearls and sequins, held the large pouf of silk illusion. Her silk illusion veil flowed to finger tip.

The bride's bouquet was a cascading bouquet of rubrum lilies, minuet roses, mauve miniature carnations, white snowflake poms, baby's breath and plumosia fern accented with sprays of seed pearls.

For something old, the bride wore a string of pearls belonging to her great-grandmother Josselet; something new was her dress. Something borrowed was a gold bracelet belonging to her great-grandmother Weise; something blue was her garter and a six-pence was placed in her shoe for good luck.

The bride's attendants were attired in tea-length dusty rose Moire taffeta fabric dresses with off-the-shoulder bouffant sleeve and a drop waist which was accented with a large bow. They carried bouquets of alstermaria, silk English ivy and baby's breath accented with a touch of blue.

The flower girl wore a dusty rose taffeta dress with bouffant sleeve and carried a heart-shaped grapevine basket filled with fresh rose petals.

The groom was attired in a white full formal tuxedo with matching vest and satin tie. Groomsmen, ushers, ringbearer and father of the bride were attired in soft Gray Parisian full dress tuxedos accented with dusty rose cummerbund and bow tie. The groom and his party wore boutonnières of minuet roses with baby's breath and plumosia fern.

The parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church's fellowship hall immediately following the wedding ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth with white lace overlay. The bride's bouquet adorned the table. Table appointments were of crystal and brass. The bride's cake was a waterfall of three free standing layers with a cascade of rubrum lilies, roses and fern. Serving at the bride's table were Robyne Stewart of Munday and Mindy O'Conner of Stephenville.

The groom's table was covered with a cloth of blue satin and appointed with brass serving pieces. An arrangement of cotton centered the table. The cake was chocolate mocha with white chocolate dipped strawberries adorning the top of the cake. Also provided for the guests at the wedding tables was an assortment of nuts. Serving at the groom's table was Sheila Griffith and Sharla Jetton of Haskell.

The bride and groom threw the bouquet and garter to the single guests at the reception. Birdseed bags were passed out by the groom's cousins, Eden and Jillian Thomas of Haskell.

The bride and groom are graduates of Haskell High School. The bride is a senior and plans to complete her education at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. The groom is a self-employed farmer.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, they are making their home in Haskell.

The rehearsal dinner, given by the parents of the groom, was held at East Side Baptist Church fellowship hall. Country decor highlighted the room as a dinner buffet was served.

The bride and groom were honored with a gift shower at the First National Bank Community Room on June 23 and with an old-fashioned pounding and barbecue on May 25 at the Sons of Hermann Lodge of Haskell.

A lingerie shower, given by Robyne Stewart and Laurie Hester, was held in the home of Jerry and Wanda Hester on June 19.

The bride, her wedding party, female relatives and friends were honored with a luncheon in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church. Hostesses were Paula Everett, the bride's aunt, and Alma Terrell, grandmother of the bride.

Council to change meeting nights

Beginning in September, the regular meetings of the Haskell City Council will be on the second and fourth Tuesday nights of each month.

Tuesday has been a longtime meeting night for the council, but during the summer the meetings were scheduled to Thursday nights.

Public Notice

On April 9, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to request that the optional feature "Call Transfer Disconnect" be available to all PLEXAR I customers by including the feature in Southwestern Bell's PLEXAR I tariff. Currently, this optional feature is available only on a customer requested basis.

Call Transfer Disconnect (CTD) is an optional feature that allows PLEXAR I customers the ability to transfer a call to another telephone number within or outside their PLEXAR I system, hang up, and permit the two remaining parties to continue with the call. The PLEXAR I user is then free to place or accept another call. CTD is not intended to be used to avoid toll charges. Therefore, CTD will not be available to PLEXAR I customers subscribing to optional Extended Metropolitan Service or Extended Area Calling Service.

If the company's application is approved, the monthly rate for CTD will be $4.00 for each PLEXAR I station line. Prior to the June 19, 1991, interim rate approval, Southwestern Bell was billing customers who receive the service $1.50 for each station line equipped with this feature. In addition, under Southwestern Bell's proposed tariff, every line within the PLEXAR I system must be equipped with this feature. The nonrecurring charge for the additional lines which must be equipped with CTD will be waived for existing CTD customers. The tariffed monthly rate will apply to all existing and future CTD customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.
