

Mr. Muleshoe . . .

By J. M. FORBES

One of our reporters got out the newspaper file and made a story about the business and industrial happenings of the past twelve months. It is a very, very interesting review of the record and will surprise you what all we did here in the year of 1950. It reminds me that in a way your local paper is a week by week history of you and your neighbors, your community. Turn to it and read it. Then make a mental guess as to whether we are better off than we were a year ago. We are better off than we were a year ago because of the progress that we have made in the year to come. Personally, we know of at least two pretty sizeable enterprises that are "in the bag" for Muleshoe. At least one will have a not inconsiderable payroll in the years to come, and that's something we can use.

Shh! Don't breathe a word of it but the city council is still working on a plan for paving our streets. This council is very prejudiced in the matter, since our home and office both now are on unpaved streets. We will back a paving program to the limit, personally and through the columns of this paper. And one business man reminded me that if we do intend to pave this year we better decide on it soon because paving materials may become scarcer and harder to get as time goes on.

The two cowboys met on a side street here in Muleshoe. "I don't like your hat," said one to the other. "What would you like to do about it?" the other puncher teasingly inquired. For answer the first hombre jerked off the other's hat and pumped a shot from his pistol neatly through the brim. The other grabbed off the first cowboy's hat, sailed it into the air and pumped six shots into the crown, each hole an equal space from its neighbor and forming a perfect circle. A bystander rushed around the corner, found the sheriff, who said, "I thought I heard some popping around there. Come on and let's have a cup of coffee. Then we will drop around there and see what other fun the boys plan on having."

How will that be to show your effete eastern and Yankee shipmates, Lovelady?

Local readers will understand the above story was written by request of Air Sailor Kenneth Lovelady, here on leave Christmas. He said his friends from the east and the north already think Texans grow horns and any little thing we could put in the paper might help him accentuate the impression. Anything to oblige, Kenneth. There's nothing too good for our boys in the Armed Services. Maybe some of the other lads need a little pioneer day atmosphere to help put over the line they're handing out. (We only hope old Hugh and old Buck will see the joke before they head this way with the handcuffs.)

Round Table Talk Held At Rotary

Every man in the Muleshoe Rotary club got a chance to say his piece when a program featuring a round robin discussion was held at the regular meeting Tuesday. Arnold Morris, in charge of the program for the day, gave each member a list containing three questions:

1. What I think of Rotary as a Club.
2. How and why I think Rotary benefits me personally.
3. My ideas of how to build a good club into a still better club for the benefit of the community and the country as a whole.

Some fine suggestions were heard and some good thoughts were advanced for the good of the community and the country. A committee, composed of Bob Gregory, B. Z. Beatty, and B. H. Morgan has been named to consult with representatives of the Jay-Cees and the Lions regarding the systemizing of solicitation in Muleshoe. Purse are made up here annually for many worthy causes and it is felt that some central agency should authorize or recommend those which are good, and turn thumbs down on those deemed unworthy.

IN THE PICTURES—Top left, O. C. Thomson (left) and SCS technician examine mixture of rye and Austrian winter peas on irrigated land, in legume rotation. Rye and peas yielded 16 bushels per acre.

Bottom left, fescue on Thomson farm. Six-acre field produced 2,000 pounds of combine-run seed. Thomson planted red clover and alfalfa with the grass, and plans to pasture it next year.

Top right, Hairy vetch in Canadian five-point wheat of Thomson farm. Vetch turned voluntary crop each year since 1946, is allowed to seed after wheat harvested, then burned under for organic matter.

At bottom right, this vetch volunteered from previous planting. Like other legumes it takes nitrogen from the air and deposits it in soil, and when plowed under both nitrogen and humus are added.

R. L. McAnally In 5-Car Crash

R. L. McAnally sustained a broken hip and other injuries and was taken to the Green Hospital and Clinic for treatment as the result of an auto crash involving five motor vehicles Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of U. S. Highway 84 and farm-to-market road 214.

A 1946 Dodge 1½ ton truck, driven by Henry Clardy, negro, of Lubbock, struck the right rear of a Transcon van, which had just completed a turn to the north off U. S. Highway 84, and careened across the street and struck the pick-up in which Mr. McAnally was sitting in front of the Cross Roads Cafe.

The pick-up was rammed into another car, a 1938 Plymouth, and the truck again swerved to the north side of the street and hit another automobile parked in front of the E. R. Hart Warehouse.

The Plymouth and the other car were not seriously damaged and were undisturbed. The truck driven by Clardy was owned by S. J. Kelley of Lubbock. Drivers of the Transcon van were Virgil Davis and Del McClelland, both of Oklahoma City.

At the last report this morning, Mr. McAnally was resting well, and his condition was not regarded as serious.

Last year, 1950, probably saw more expansion and business improvements than any other year in the history of Muleshoe. Several hundred thousand dollars were invested for the industrial and business expansion of the town.

George and Ed Hicks, owners of Hicks Tractor Company purchased the dealership for Ford tractors and Ferguson implements from the Rocky Motor Company in January and moved into a new building constructed for them on the Clovis highway where they expanded their storage and repair facilities.

Gil Wollard began construction of a new building late in February which is now the home of the post office and the Dixie Lee Shoppe. The Post Office and Dixie Lee Shop moved into their new locations around June 1.

In the first part of March, Rufus Gilbreath, local seed dealer, announced that he had purchased the old alfalfa mill and was going to construct a new elevator to aid him in the expansion of his large seed business. The elevator was completed last fall in time to handle part of 1950's grain harvest.

A new business, The Workman Lumber Company, owned by Otto Workman of Muleshoe and T. J. Workman of Clovis, was established in April and by the latter part of the year had expanded into one of the leading lumber yards of the city.

The Southwestern Public Service Company held open house for their newly remodeled and redecorated office in April. This project was a part of the expansion program planned by Southwestern Public Service for 1950.

The King Bros. Seed Company late last spring began construction of a new 640,000 bushel warehouse, bringing their storage capacity to approximately 900,000 bushels. This structure was completed in the fall.

In the latter part of April, construction began on the new $75,000 Bailey County Electric Cooperative, and was completed in the latter part of September. Formal opening of the new building was November 15.

In the first part of 1950, work was started on a new plant for the First Baptist Church. The building, now nearing completion will soon be ready to move into.

Also in April of last year, D. E. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Howie Cox opened their drive-in theatre with the first film "Once More My Darling", playing to a full capacity crowd.

The Double R Motor Company was also formed in April when Charles Riley purchased the interest of Homer Millsap in the Millsap and Roberson Garage. This firm has also made several extensive improvements.

When the Dixie Lee Shoppe completed their move in June, all new fixtures were installed and several new lines of merchandise was added. Mrs. Hattie Jennings is owner of the firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron West moved their small cafe into the old post office building in June with all new fixtures and the building was completely remodeled.

Johnson-Pool Tire and Appliance, owned by Randy Johnson and Myron Pool, II, moved their business into a new location on main street, adding several thousand dollars of new fixtures and thousands of dollars of merchandise to have one of the most modern appliance stores in the Panhandle-South Plains region.

Goss Conoco Service held their formal opening on July 1 after starting construction of their ultra-modern station in April. The station is owned by R. R. (Bud) Holton and is managed by C. W. Goss.

The graduating class of 1950 had the honor to be the first to receive their diplomas in the new $350,000 school plant, which was moved into its new quarters in April. The station is owned by R. R. (Bud) Holton and is managed by C. W. Goss.

The money had been withdrawn earlier this week from an Abilene bank "to pay bills and buy some stuff," Teal said he customarily stopped about three days each week at the court in connection with business here.

Teal said the masked pair met him at the door of his cabin as he prepared to leave for a downtown cafe about 5:30 a. m. He said one of the men shoved a pistol at him and told him to "get your hands up and move back."

He said the men spoke only once more when one of them ordered him to "get on the bed" after he had been forced back into the room. The robbery was accomplished in a matter of minutes, he said.

The men, working in the beam of a flashlight reflected from a wall of the room, trussed him to the bed with a light rope, one arm to a knob at each side of the top, his feet to the footboard panel, a handkerchief was knotted around his head covering his mouth.

The money—70 $100 bills, some $50 bills and others of smaller denominations—was removed from his trousers pockets where most of it was rolled in rubber bands. Then the men walked rapidly from the room. No threats were voiced, Teal related.

The sheriff's office was notified of the hijacking about 9:15 a. m. by Ollie Jones, proprietor of the tourist court after Teal had worked free of the rope and reached the door of the cabin to call for help.

Chews Through Rope

Teal said he struggled with his bonds after the holdup men left, finally managing to work the gag loose and chew through rope binding one of his hands. His calls for help during the nearly four hours following the robbery went unnoticed.

Jones later told officers he had seen the men enter the cabin, but supposed they were friends of Teal and forgot the matter. He said a car probably belonging to the men was parked in front of the place, but he could provide no description.

Descriptions Incomplete

Sheriff Hugh Freeman said no area-wide alert for the men had been broadcast pending more definite descriptions. Lubbock officers were not notified of the incident, he said, but he was in Lubbock when informed of the robbery by a deputy and was accompanied to Muleshoe by Texas Rangers from Lubbock.

Teal said both his assailants were about five-foot-nine inches tall and wore trousers and jackets. One wore a hat, the other a cap. He was certain of seeing a gun in the hand of only one of the men.

Teal said the men apparently were being careful not to speak, and in the panic of the incident he was unable to tell what kind of masks they were wearing.

The well-to-do farmer, who lists his residence as Abilene, said he had arrived in Muleshoe with about $8,600, but had spent "right at $250."

Abilene sources said Teal also owned a wholesale hay firm in Abilene.

Tuesday night, a masked bandit, armed with two guns, forced his way into the kitchen of a combination residence and newsstand in Sundown and fled with food from a table. Officers said there was no indication whatsoever that there was any connection between the two incidents.

O. C. Thomson Not Bothered About Wind Or Rain Carrying Away Soil

By J. A. Perrin

SCS Technician, Littlefield In Southwestern Crop & Stock

O. C. Thomson isn't worried about the wind blowing away his soil. Nor will the rains wash it away. He has his land all tied down with plant cover of one kind or another, and his irrigation well gives him enough water to insure the productivity of his soil will not go down because he uses legumes and other soil improving crops, as well as fertilizers.

Thomson believes the soil-improving crops and fertilizers pay him good returns. This year his Canadian five-point wheat per acre following soil-improving crops of alfalfa and vetch. The crop where he used only fertilizers yielded 38 bushels.

Many wheat farmers on the High Plains didn't make a wheat crop this year because of dry weather during the growing season. Thomson said that before he started using soil-improving crops and fertilizers, his wheat yielded about 15 bushels on the average.

Thomson has been farming about 13 miles west of Muleshoe, in the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District, about 10 years. Most of this time he has had dairy

Lambert Cleaners Have New Home

Lambert's Cleaners are in a new home this week, following their move last week end from the Moeller building where the have operated since the business was established five years ago. Mrs. Woodie Lambert are proprietors of the business.

The cleaning shop is now established in the Gupton building, in the room formerly occupied by Cox Radio and Electric Co. The 30x80 foot room has been remade to fit the needs of the cleaning plant.

A modern lobby and receiving desk has been set up by the Lamberts, and they will have one of the most attractive shops in this section. The additional space they have acquired gave opportunity for better arrangement of machinery used in the plant, creating better working conditions for all. A new system for checking garments brought in also was set up in the new place.

A tile boiler room was built at the rear of the building to house that important part of the plant.

The Lamberts and all employees join in inviting the public to come in and look the new place over.

Others employed at Lambert's include Mrs. C. D. Julian, Mrs. Bob Prather, Mrs. Jim Lane, Bill Lambert, Junior Lambert, and Bill Fudge.

Babson Discusses

Small Stockholders

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 5—Various organizations have been formed to protect the small stockholders. The two most active are the B. C. Forbes Group and Independent Investors, Inc., of New York City. The basic difficulty with them all is that the members are so widely scattered geographically that it is very difficult to get them together for action.

All Combined Against You

Your best help should come from your local bank. It has your money and exists upon the deposits of local merchants, nearby farmers and small stockholders. Most banks will do what they can for you and make no charge. Naturally, you don't dare go to a lawyer. Roger W. Babsonyer fear he will charge for saying, "Howdy"; while your poor minister never saw a stock or bond. As a result of this condition, there are many companies, whose stock was bought

Roger W. Babsonyer fear he will charge for saying, "Howdy"; while your poor minister never saw a stock or bond. As a result of this condition, there are many companies, whose stock was bought by readers like you, which have gone completely bust.

You can cuss Franklin Roosevelt for many things, but he certainly tried to protect small stockholders. His difficulty was that he left the solution to theoretical bureaucrats who made the "Prospectuses" so long and complicated that very few investors can make "heads or tails" out of them. Yet, if you have been "stuck" by a stock salesman, you should write the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D. C. It will cost you nothing; you will get a reply; and they may help you get your money back.

Importance Of Records

Another suggestion is that you write the New York Stock Exchange, Broad Street, New York City. This is an honest organization which is now very anxious to have friends. If you can prove that one of its member firms or any employee thereof has definitely wronged you, a committee of the Exchange will call the member firm before it and force the firm to make up your loss. You will not need to employ any lawyer or go to New York if you have followed these three rules:

(1) Insist that all your dealings in stocks be in writing. Before giving a salesman an order, make him write you all he has said. Never listen to a stock salesman on the telephone.
 (2) When buying any stock, have the salesman give you a receipt stating of whom he bought the stock, and what he paid for it, and what his commission is for making the sale.
 (3) Save all these papers and put them in the envelope with the stock certificate, which envelope you—of course—will keep in your safe deposit box. The very fact that you take such precautions, after telling the salesman that you are to do so, will surely cause him to be honest with you and perhaps withdraw the offering.

The above is no criticism of stock salesmen as a class. Most of them represent good firms and are honest. But you cannot afford to let anyone Everyone Should Be A Stockholder. The fact that I urge the above three rules, should not keep you from buying stocks. Your bank checking accounts now pay no interest; while savings accounts pay very little. Yet, you can buy safe stocks paying over 6%. Your local banker should be able to supply you a list of stocks which have paid some dividend for over 50 years. Rich people buy such stocks; they don't leave money in savings banks. Yet, the small investor needs 6% much more than do rich people. Diversify very widely by distributing your money over a very large number of stocks—otherwise employ honest and long-established investment advisors.

Another thing, all investors—large and small—should sit down tonight and write their Congressman how excessive corporate taxes are hurting everybody. Certainly, the present double taxation on dividends is absolutely unfair. The idea of "paying as we go" for war does not seem logical, because if World War III comes it will be fought for our grandchildren and their children, as well as for us. As for inflation, we, of course, should avoid it in time of peace; but the nation has always had it as the result of war and we still survive. A great need of the U. S. today is the encouragement of thrift and small investors.

Political plums are not raised from seed but they are quite often the result of a bit of clever grafting.

4,145 Men Listed For Texas March Draft Call

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 2—A call for induction of 4,145 men for March was received by state Selective Service headquarters today, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, director of Selective Service for Texas, announced.

The call, Texas' part of a national quota of 80,000 compares with a state quota of 4,137 for February and 4,142 for January. The March call brings the number of men called for since the beginning of the conflict in Korea to 23,912.

Local board quotas for the March call will not be made up until the latter part of January or the early part of February, the state Selective Service director said. Quotas and calls section of state headquarters must figure local board quotas, giving credit for enlistments from each area.

The men called up for the March quota will be furnished for the Army, as well as those for January and February. All those called up in 1950 were furnished for the Army. So far only the Army has requested manpower under the Selective Service Act.

General Wakefield expressed confidence that "Texas will be able to fill the March quota. So far we haven't failed the country," he said.

OUR OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE

Arthur Laguer, president of Rotary International, says that Community Service is the most tangible, and perhaps the most satisfying of all our opportunities for service; because in it the fruit of our effort can be so clearly seen. Community Service is a living, pulsating example of the Rotary ideal in action. It is the training field upon which we learn the teamwork and qualities of leadership which are needed if we are to accomplish our objectives.

HE'S FLYING A B-26 BOMBER NOW

Coach Woodie Green Writes Home Folks From His Base At Langley Field, Va.

The Journal has received a letter from Captain Durwood S. Green, Head Football Coach Woodie Green to you from his station at Langley Field, Va. Capt. Green entered the service shortly after the end of the football season. He has been coach here two years, and his contract has two years to run.

The Journal editor imagines he would like to receive a card or some communication from his old friends here, whom he misses very much, so here is the way to address him or his family:

Capt. Durwood S. Green, 4400 Combat Crew Training, Langley Field, Va.

It was a standing joke here when it was learned he was being called in, that "they don't make planes big enough for Coach Green to be juggled around in." He is a big fellow, but he's got a sizeable plane to fly, a B-26, and he's doing it, but we'll let you read the letter, yourself!

Dear Scoop (ye editor):

I have been up here two weeks and I surely miss contact with all of the events going on in Bailey County. Please send me The Muleshoe Journal to keep up posted on everything.

I have the Muleshoe Mules football tag on my car and I am coming in for considerable kidding from the fellows in our squadron as to the name and location of Muleshoe. I have just about got them educated. Don't be surprised if some Boston boys don't show up down there to look the country over.

PRODUCTIVE POWER SHOW PLANNED BY WESTINGHOUSE

The Southwestern Public Service Co. has arranged with Westinghouse Electric Corporation for a Lubbock presentation of their widely acclaimed "Productive Power Show."

The show has attracted wide attention in many cities throughout the east and middle west. The show will be held in Lubbock February 5.

I would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year even if I am a few days late. Best regards!

Woodie.

Friendship—Four Thousand Miles Apart
 Never quite got the hang of how to play chess myself, but I'll say this for the game—it started one of the strongest friendships I know of: between Dad Wilson in our town and a fellow in Sudbury, England.
 From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often little friendly things—like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for tolerance and understanding... between people of different nations, between folks here at home!

Miss Virginia L. Powers Becomes Bride Of Mr. Al Ewing Jennings

Mr. and Mrs. Al Ewing Jennings

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Virginia Lucille Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Powers of Prue, Okla., and Mr. Al Ewing Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finis E. Jennings of Lazbuddie on Saturday, December 30, 1950, at 10 o'clock a. m. in the home of the groom's parents with Rev. Silas Dixon performing the impressive single ring ceremony.

The vows were read before the fireplace altar formed by palms and baskets of white gladiolus and carnations, flanked on either side by tiered candelabra and greenery with wedding bells tied with a huge white satin bow, suspended from the center of the greenery arch over the mantle.

The bride was lovely in a dress of electric blue satin, made ballerina length. Her pale blue veil edged in matching lace, was attached to a dutch bonnet headpiece banded with blue velvet ribbon the velvet and forget-me-not rosettes on either side.

She carried a lovely bouquet of pink carnations and silver fashioned hearts on a white bible. For something new she wore pearls a gift of the groom; something old and borrowed was an heirloom pin which had been in the family for over a hundred years, belonging now to an aunt of the groom; something blue was her bridal gown and a lucky coin was worn in her shoe. Her only attendant was her sister Mrs. C. F. Knight who was attired in a navy two piece dress, with a red carnation corsage. The groom was attended by his father, Mr. Finis E. Jennings.

Preceding the ceremony, candles were lighted by the groom's sister,

Health Authorities Point Out That Pain Doesn't Always Accompany Inflammation

Pain is usually associated with inflammation, but there are also pains which do not go along with the redness, the hotness and the swelling that make up inflammation. These two different types account for the different names you find in disease, such as neuritis and neuralgia.

Neuritis is the name for an inflammation of the nerves and neuralgia is the name for pain in the nerves. One of the most common examples of neuralgia, perhaps, is that very distressing facial pain known as tic douloureux in which the nerve spasmodically contracts in pain but shows no other change in its structure or function. With neuritis, on the other hand there are changes present which interfere with the structure and function of the nerve. Since pain may be considered a short circuit in the nerve pathways, the pains of the "algia" disease may, perhaps, come under the heading of those short circuits where you still can use the "appliance" whereas those pains of the "itises" are the kind or short circuits that put the particular part on the blink.

Nostalgia may be considered as one of the algias that doesn't develop into an itis; you may ache with homesickness, since that's what nostalgia means, but you aren't likely to develop an inflammation with it.

Appendicitis, the inflammation of that small tube-like thing that hangs off the large intestine on the lower right side, may lead to peritonitis, inflammation of that film-like tissue that lines the whole abdomen. Peritonitis may come about from the rupture of the appendix, spreading the diseased material through the abdominal cavity, but if the appendix gets too swollen without breaking open, sometimes the material from it may seep into the abdominal cavity anyway and cause peritonitis without an actual rupture.

Colitis is the inflammation of the large intestine, and gastritis is the inflammation of the stomach. Pain in the colon, the large intestine, is not called colalgia but is called colic and is not confined to infants. Pain in the stomach, without inflammation, could probably be called gastralgia but even in medical lore is called stomach ache.

Colic, ulcer pain and joint disease pains usually hurt more at night, awakening the sleeper. Labor pains, too, seem to start at night usually, and serve as an example that pain heralds the changes taking place in your body, though in this special case it is not an unexpected change.

An interesting comparison has been made between labor pains and the pain associated with the passing of a kidney stone with women who have suffered both stating that the kidney stone pain, which man may share, is more intense and more severe than pain of childbirth.

Other pains of the body seem to put in more of a daytime appearance. One of the surest ways to start the day off wrong is to pop out of bed in the morning and discover you have sinus pain due to congestion built up in the sinuses, those caverns back around your nose, during the night. During the day's activities such pains as aching arches, sciatica, eye strain and stomach ache have a way of coming on, some preferring special seasons such as the spring and fall appearance of peptic ulcer, and the change of weather aches of arthritis.

The time pain appears, the activity that precedes pain, and any special season or climate that is associated with pain are all important in your report to your doctor.

"Through blizzard after blizzard my car performed better!"

"I was one of those selected to test new Conoco Super Motor Oil in my own car before it was put on the market. Through blizzard after blizzard, I travelled in Northern Colorado and Wyoming. BUT THOSE WERE THE TWO BEST WINTERS I EVER HAD ON THE ROAD! New Conoco Super improved the operation of my car. And at the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was virtually as good as at the beginning."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Hubbard and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of crankcase drains showed that this great new oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with Oil-Plating, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to winter-grade Conoco Super Motor Oil.

O. C. Thomson—

The level benches were designed to hold all the rainfall as well as to enable the operator to apply quickly and efficiently the amount of irrigation water that is needed.

Thomson liked the idea and leveled some of his land. This worked so well that he now has leveled all but 40 acres of the farm.

In the summer of 1950 a hard rain caused runoff waters to pour from a road ditch into Thomson's field that had been leveled. The level borders broke in places, but the water was spread out and did little damage. Thomson says that such runoff, before the leveling, would have cut a gully in the land, now, however, a lot of it was held and it soaked into the soil.

Starts Rotation With Legume
Thomson first planted alfalfa on 10 acres of the thinnest land on the place. The alfalfa produced grazing for the cows and some hay. Thomson followed that crop with hegari, which produced about eight tons of bundle feed to the acre. That was a lot of feed, so Thomson decided to plant more. He could see that the alfalfa did something to the land that made the following crop do much better.

Since that time, Thomson has planted a soil-improving alfalfa, vetch or Austrian winterpeas on all his crop land. He plants about a third of his land each year in some kind of soil improving crop.

In 1950 Thomson harvested 4,000 pounds of hegari grain off land that had been in irrigated improved pasture grasses and legumes the year before. On an adjoining field, where no legumes had been planted, the hegari yielded 3,000 pounds.

In 1948 the board of supervisors of the Blackwater Valley recognized Mr. Thomson's progressiveness by naming him the leading conservation farmer in the district. He was the board's entrant in the Fort Worth Press "Save the Soil and Save Texas Program."

Thomson sold his dairy cows in 1949 but he is now planning to go into a livestock program. He is getting his land ready. His experience with improved pastures of grasses and legumes for dairy cows convinced him that such a pasture is a big asset on a livestock farm. Last year he planted six acres of tall fescue grass. It did so well that it attracted the attention of farmers for miles around. In June, 1950, Thomson harvested 2,000 lbs. of uncleaned seed from the six acres. He planted red clover and alfalfa with the fescue and now the pasture is ready to graze with a mixture of grasses and legumes.

Green purchasing the Muleshoe Ice and Produce and since that time extensive remodeling and improvements have been made.

Heathington Lumber Company also completed a remodeling program involving several thousand dollars and now have a completely new office and increased yard space, as well as an added line of building materials.

On December 1, Piggly Wiggly began construction of an addition to their supermarket which will give them several hundred feet of added floor space when completed.

On December 9, C & H Chevrolet Company held open house of their new $35,000 plant, equal to any of those in the larger cities. The new building gives them a larger parts department, service department, show rooms, and office space.

Martin Oliver moved his pump and irrigation supply company into the new building located at the intersection of the Friona and Plainview highways.

City Motor Company started the construction of a new super service station on the Plainview Highway in December, which will give them more complete shop facilities and complete automotive service.

The West Texas Gas Company, moved from their location on the west side of the court house into their new building next to the post office built by Houston Hart.

Last but not least, was the move of The Muleshoe Journal into the building vacated by the Soil Conservation Service. This move gives them additional office, storage, and shop space.

A review of the business and industrial expansion in Muleshoe for the year 1950 reveals it to be one of the most progressive of any town on the South Plains or Panhandle area.

School Week

WSCS Epiphany Observance Held

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. Arnold Morris for the observance of Epiphany in our church calendar.

The meeting opened with the reading of the Bible story of the three wise men by Mrs. Finley Pierson, accompanied by soft music "Sweet Hour of Prayer", played by Mrs. I. F. Wilman. Mrs. H. C. Holt led in prayer. The beautiful story of "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke was brought to us by Mrs. Ray Edwards.

The program was concluded with a stewardship program, "My Gift At Epiphany". This was brought by three ladies dressed as wise men, representing stewardship of: Personality, Mrs. H. C. Holt; Education, Mrs. O. N. Jennings; Tithe, Mrs. C. R. Farrell.

When the wise men returned from visiting the Christ, we are told they "went back by a different way." Mrs. Pierson asked as we return to life's routine after our observance of Epiphany, that ours may be a different way—a way of new light on an old task, new awareness of the divine possibilities within us, and every other human being in God's world. Grandmother Lucy Layne dismissed us with a prayer.

Mrs. Arnold Morris and Mrs. Buddy Blackman served a lovely refreshment plate to those attending: Mesdames H. C. Holt, H. W. Hanks, H. M. Shofner, I. W. Haney, O. R. Gregory, I. F. Wilman, O. N. Jennings, H. O. Barbour, Beulah Carles, Jay Weyer, C. Farrell, R. Edwards, F. E. Pierson, two visitors, Mrs. Benny Chapman and Mrs. J. C. Wollard of Colorado City, and the hostesses.

He stated the department was very fortunate in having purchased a fair supply of instruments before the allocation of essential materials.

TIMELY WARNING

Now that all the leaves have been raked and those that haven't benefited from this kind of treatment have blown away, the youngsters are in for a season of falls and accidents that have the same net result as those of the summer, even though they spring from somewhat different causes.

It's a good idea to warn your bundle of youthful energy and enthusiasm to have a wholesome respect for the slippery qualities of ice, whether caused by a frozen puddle on the sidewalk or by a frozen pond.

It's also highly desirable to explain to him that the big-time college and pro football players carry out their activities on gridiron whose turf has been carefully screened and treated, and to acquaint him with the hazards of engaging in this manly pastime on a lot or field which may have such accident-hazards as a piece of broken glass, an old tin can, or a thorny bush.

All too often, tomorrow's college halfback has no hesitancy in making a thrilling end-run across a lot in such condition that it would throw an adult gridiron star into a frenzy of fear.

And, if your young All-American-to-be does come home with an assortment of cuts and scratches, don't let it worry you unduly. Give him the same treatment millions of mothers use successfully each year. Cleanse the wound and cover it with an adhesive bandage—one of those ready-to-use dressings with the gauze pad already attached to the adhesive tape—and the chances are you'll never hear of it again—until he plays football again, that is.

Services Sunday For Bovina Youth

Funeral services for Charles A. Ross, Jr., 21 year old Bovina youth, were conducted in Bovina Sunday. Young Ross plunged to his death last Wednesday from the fifth floor window in a Chicago hospital where he had been under treatment. He had been hospitalized for about six weeks, receiving treatment, it was said, for stomach ulcers.

He was a 1946 graduate of Bovina high school where he was prominent in athletics. He was attending NMMI at Roswell when he became ill.

Texas Climbs From Very Low To Almost Top Among States In School Matters

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 9—One-half cent less of each state tax dollar went to support Texas' public schools last year than in 1939-40 despite the tremendous strides made in the school system since the Gilmer-Aikin laws went into effect.

"Not only has Texas climbed from very low on the national ladder to near the top in public school education in the first year under the Gilmer-Aikin program, but the state accomplished what amounted to a near-revolution in education without taking a bigger bite out of each tax dollar," Dr. Mortimer Brown, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, pointed out here today.

"In 1939-40 the public school support totaled 30.31 cents of each state dollar expended. During the last school year the schools' share of that dollar was 29.67, or exactly .54 of a cent less.

"At the same time, enrollment greatly increased, the number of teachers employed went much higher and the average daily attendance skyrocketed.

"The average daily attendance jumped in one year 35,708 under the new school program. Too, it is pertinent to point out that every child in Texas is guaranteed the opportunity of having 175 days of actual instruction per year.

There are now 49,628 classroom teachers in Texas schools, Dr. Brown pointed out. That is 4,225 more than in 1939-40.

"That makes for better education of our children," Dr. Brown commented. "Classes are now smaller, allowing for more individual instruction.

"Too, there were only 156 supervisors, counsellors and special services personnel, such as nurses, available in 1939-40. Now there are 2,181.

Takes Less Of Tax Dollar

Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Teachers Association, commented that until the Gilmer-Aikin program gave Texas a position near the top in the national education field, a proportionate share of the state dollar was not going to the schools.

"We are delighted to find that the vastly-improved school system, and I believe everyone will agree that our schools are far superior to those of such a short time ago as 1948-49, is taking less of the state dollar," he said.

The total cost of state government during the 1949-50 fiscal year was $527,252,453. Of that amount, $156,430,559 went to the vast network of schools.

A total of $145,350,068 was used by the per capita apportionment, the supplementing foundation program and for administration, Tennyson reported.

Textbook costs and distribution accounted for $3,410,723. The free lunch program cost $3,758,361. The State Commission for the blind used $117,006. Vocational education cost $3,794,401, of which $2,018,657 was federal funds, Tennyson said.

Not Necessary To Retire To Get SS Benefits

It is not necessary to be wholly or permanently "retired" to get retirement payments under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security office. The numbers of people coming into his office cannot make it possible for insured people 65 and over to collect retirement benefits while still earning up to $50.00 per month on covered jobs. The old limit of $14.99 was fused on this point prompted him to make the explanation.

"Actually," Hutton pointed out, changed on last September 1. The $50 limit does not apply to people age 75 or over.

"The law is simply that a person between 65 and 75 years of age cannot collect benefits for any month in which he earns more than $50 from work covered by Social Security. No amount of earnings or income from other sources will affect his right to benefits. Insured people age 75 or over can collect even though working full time on jobs covered by Social Security, or for that matter, any jobs."

"Another point we'd like to get across," Hutton continued, "is that anyone now age 65 or over very likely is insured if he has worked as much as a year and a half, at any time back to January 1937, on Social Security covered jobs."

Hutton invites residents of this area who are eligible for benefits under the new law to get in touch with his office, located at 1311 Texas Avenue in Lubbock.

Morton A Member Baylor Council

WACO, Jan. 9—Clifford Morton, Baylor University student from Muleshoe, is one of four new student council members to take the oath of office for the new year, Frank Boydston of Oklahoma City, president, has announced.

Other new members are C. A. Roberts of Fort Worth; Byron White of Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Barney Burnette of Atlanta, Ga. The representatives were chosen in a campus-wide election held before the Christmas holidays.

This quarter, the council plans to establish a scholarship fund, issue basketball tickets, and complete the cafe-inspection project it began in the fall.

Morton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morton, Star Route 1, Muleshoe. He is a freshman in Baylor specializing in pre-medical work.

Texas Polio Cases Rise In 1950

AUSTIN, Jan. 8—Texas wound up 1950 by setting a grim new record in polio incidence—2778 cases for the year.

Never before in state history have so many cases been reported during a 12-month period. Eight cases occurred during the last week in December.

That in itself is significant, for not a single week passed that didn't see at least one case of the so-called hot weather disease being diagnosed in some part of the State.

The total 1949 incidence of the dread disease reached 2355 cases, establishing a record up to that time. But there were 53 weeks in 1949 instead of the normal 52, and that figure includes cases occurring all 53 weeks.

Two hundred and three counties out of the state's 254 were involved in the 1949 outbreak. That's comparable to the 201 counties which experience W. Cox in 1950.

The counties of Coleman, Harris, Jefferson, McCulloch, Nueces, Tarrant, and Tom Green each reported a single case of polio the last week of the year. A Veterans Administration hospital had one case as the year ended bringing the total for the week to 8 from all sources.

The disease reached its peak on August 12, when 131 Texans fell ill. That marked the greatest single week incidence ever to be reported.

At that time State Health Officer George W. Cox ruefully predicted that 3000 cases would be diagnosed before the year ended. He missed his estimate by 222.

Twenty-eight counties had 20 or more cases; ten had more than 50 cases; six had more than 100 cases; and three counties—Dallas, Harris, and Tarrant—had more than 200 cases each. Those three areas represent the most populous regions in Texas.

Early in the polio season, Dr. Cox pledged the facilities "of the entire State Department of Health" to local communities in combatting polio. The health agency's laboratory and field personnel, working in cooperation with civic organizations and local health units, were credited with keeping the epidemic from reaching even greater proportions.

State health department death records show 201 polio deaths through the first 11 months of 1950, and 192 deaths from that cause during all of 1949. Complete death figures are not yet available for December, a department spokesman said.

TO SAVANNAH, GA.

Pvt. Orlo Farrell, who is in the Air Force, left Saturday, January 6, for Savannah, Ga., where he was transferred from Denver, Colo. He was here two weeks visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Farrell, other relatives and friends.

Jack Heald Will Show At Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 10—Several additional entries have been received from Bailey county exhibitors for the 1951 Houston Fat Stock Show, January 31 through February 11, in Sam Houston Coliseum, President W. A. Lee announced.

Mr. Lee predicted that total entries for the 19th annual exposition would pass the more than 8000 exhibited in 1950. He also predicted that 493,000-total number of persons who viewed the 1950 show would also be passed.

Ticket orders should be directed to Rodeo Ticket Director, P. O. Box 2371, Houston, Texas.

He added that tickets are now available to the World Championship Rodeo, which will be headlined by William "Hopalong Cassidy" Boyd, Western motion picture, television and radio star, with Eddy Arnold, nationally-known ballad singer, and his Oklahoma Wranglers.

The new livestock entries include: Jack Heald, Muleshoe, three pigs.

15 County Units Are Participating In Program Of High Plains Water Ass'n.

LITTLEFIELD, Jan. 5.—Reactivation of one county organization and formation of another brings to 15 the number of units participating in the program of the High Plains Water Conservation and Users association, the group's office here reports.

The Deaf Smith County Water Conservation Association, at an enthusiastic meeting attended by 200 underground water users, was recently reorganized in Hereford. Tom McFarland, manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, is president. Other officers are John D. Alken, vice president; Claude Ricketts, treasurer; and Bruce Miller secretary.

The new unit is the Hockley County Water Conservation Association, which is headed by Burnett Roberts and Bert Eads of Levelland, both active in the Hockley County Farm Bureau.

Inactive for more than a year, the Deaf Smith group said it was reorganizing to be ready to meet any future challenges against local control of underground water. Officers warned of "the constant threat of forces in Austin and elsewhere seeking to gain control of our underground water."

The Hockley group, Roberts said, "Wants to carry its share of the burden in this constant fight to safeguard our water rights. The law says the water belongs to the man who owns the land; we want to keep it that way."

Bailey County Group Aids
Associate members of the High Plains association are in 14 counties, Hockley, Lamb, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Swisher, Bailey, Dallam, Floyd, Castro, Hale, Farmer, Lubbock, Briscoe and Randall, plus the Petersburg association, which takes in a small area bordering on three counties.

Here are three special ways it does more work and spares your muscles.

Hydraulic Traction Booster—automatically increases weight on drive wheels as the load increases. Makes possible more actual drawbar pull.

Two-Clutch Power Control—auxiliary hand clutch halts forward travel without interrupting power flow to power take-off.

Power Shift Wheel Spacing—instantly adjusts rear wheel tread with engine power. Stop in soon and see the WD with its new three-bottom mounted plow.

DRIVE SAFE CAR!

Seeing is Believing

... and this lady sees a smile in the mirror-like bottom of her pots and pans because she cooks the modern way—the clean way—electrically. Electric cooking is clean because electricity is clean. No flame . . . No fumes . . . No soot . . . just the clean, radiant heat of electricity . . . pan-hugging heat that goes right into the shiny pots and pans and gets the cooking job done quickly. Seeing is believing . . . so see the electric ranges on display at your local electric appliance dealer. See the modern method of cookery . . . the clean way of cookery. Of course, it's electric.

CLEAN ELECTRIC COOKING IS ECONOMICAL, TOO. YOU CAN COOK THIS MODERN WAY FOR ABOUT 10 CENTS A DAY—FROM $1.25 TO $1.25 A MONTH FOR THE FAMILY OF FOUR. BE MODERN. GO ELECTRIC.

Of course—it's Electric!
