Thanksgiving: a day of many traditions but one purpose

For most Americans, the origin of Thanksgiving conjures up images of black-frocked pilgrims sharing a bounty of turkey, corn and other gifts of food from their new-found Indian friends, not far from their landing at Plymouth Rock.

There is some historical evidence for this, but just like individual families across America, different regions of the country have their own Thanksgiving traditions — and origins.

It turns out that Texas has two, and neither is anywhere close to a sandy shore.

El Paso has staked a claim to holding the first Thanksgiving in North America.

For more than 20 years, El Paso citizens have commemorated a day of thanksgiving celebrated by Spanish explorer Juan de Oñate and his expedition on

STATE SENATOR'S OP ED

CARLOS I. URESTI

April 30, 1598.

According to the Texas Almanac, Oñate, whose father discovered and developed the mines in Zacatecas, Mexico, was en route to some new lands granted by the viceroy of New Spain. After much hardship, Oñate ordered a day of thanksgiving for the survival of his expedition near the present day Chamizal National Memorial. The Almanac says the feast included game and fish supplied by natives of the region.

An important event in the history of North America, the trek marked the beginning of Spanish colonization of the American Southwest.

There is a second claim for the first Thanksgiving in Texas, earlier than the one for Oñate but not as historically secure.

In 1959 the Texas Society of Daughters of the American Colonists erected a marker declaring the first feast of Thanksgiving was held in May 1541 by Francisco Vázquez de Coronado in Palo Duro Canyon in the Texas Panhandle.

However, according to the Almanac, later research indicated that grapes and pecans were gathered for the feast, and neither grow in the canyon. Also, this "Thanksgiving" may have really been a Feast of the Ascension and held much further south, on the forks of the Brazos River.

But whether you are from Texas or Massachusetts or somewhere in between, the origins of Thanksgiving are less important than all the things we have to be thankful for — our families, our prosperity and opportunity, the spirit and dedication of those who serve our country in the cause of liberty, and the freedom we have to speak, worship and believe as we choose.

I want to wish everyone a happy Thanksgiving. Whatever local or family traditions you follow, don't let the day pass without acknowledging the real reason behind it. For all that we have, for the loyalty of friends, for the love of family and the very gift of life, there are plenty of thanks to go around.

SENATOR URESTI represents Senate District 19, which includes Crockett County. It is the largest legislative district in the nation, spanning 23 Texas counties.

Thanksgiving and Monopoly

The earliest Thanksgiving I remember was sitting in the very back of my parent's station wagon on my way to Weatherford to spend the holiday with my grandparents.

Yes, I sat in the very back with the luggage. This was before car seats were actually used.

That six hour drive to eat Granny's turkey, dressing and mashed potatoes was always something to look forward to.

It was at my husband's first Thanksgiving with my family that he learned we are a football family.

While eating our turkey and dressing, my husband leans over to me and asks "Do you all not turn off the TV while eating?"

I replied calmly "No, Dallas is playing."

I had to explain to him that unlike his family, we didn't have a ranch to go hunting on, so we watched football.

Even though I now live on a ranch, I still watch football on Thanksgiving.

One of our favorite traditions, besides watching football and gorging ourselves on the massive feast, was playing Monopoly with my cousins.

All four of us would huddle around the dining room table, spread out the board and buckle down.

A lot of times it was usually the older ones versus the younger ones. I was one of the younger ones.

The thing is we just couldn't play Monopoly. Oh no, we took our Monopoly playing seriously, especially the younger ones.

My cousin, who I teamed with, was ruthless. She was also the quiet one, until the Monopoly

WHAT'S ON MY MIND

board came out.

First, she would buy up all the property, as much as she could.

Then, it was time to start adding the houses until she got enough for hotels.

It was then time to start the bargaining. She would use her winning ways of persuasion to buy up everyone else's property, until she finally owned everything on the board.

As far as I can remember, when we partnered up all I did was count the Monopoly money.

The funny thing is she made the game interesting because you never knew what she was going to do. Afterwards, we would all laugh at her "ruthless" Monopoly playing.

As time passes and family members have to move on, we aren't able to spend every Thanksgiving together anymore.

That doesn't stop the tradition of everyone telling the story about our Monopoly games.

No matter how far or wide we are that is one tradition we all will remember to the end.

Every family has their fun Thanksgiving traditions. Even though I won't be playing Monopoly with my cousins this year, I bet my family will be talking about it.

I hope everyone out there will get to celebrate this Thanksgiving with that special, funny or quirky tradition your family has.

MELISSA PERNER is the editor and publisher of The Ozona Stockman. Anyone want to play Monopoly?

This Just-In

Every time my friend who works in TV comes to my house with all his techno-gadgets he makes me feel like a cave dweller in the dark ages. So when he came by the last time I made sure the TV was turned to a video cattle sale.

"Pretty impressive the way we're using the latest technology, isn't it?" I asked.

"Not bad, but I can see how you could make it a whole lot better."

"How's that?" I asked, realizing too late I was in for more belittlement.

"It's called embedded advertising and it's all the rage in Hollywood."

"You want to make auctions better by having commercials?" I asked in horror.

"No, no. That's the beauty of product placement. People don't know they're watching an ad because the message is below the viewer's conscious perception. For example, you might see George Clooney holding a Coke can or Betty White wearing a PETA pin. The visual stimuli are so subtle the viewers don't even know they're being manipulated. It's also known as embedded advertising."

"It doesn't work on me cause I'm not joining PETA!"

"You see that windmill in the background there?" my friend said, ignoring me as he pointed to the TV. "You could put a toll free phone number on it to call for NFR tickets. Or you could have the Goodyear or Met Life blimp pass slowly by in the background."

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

Next I went to my computer and went to the Livestock Marketing Association's website where each week they show the sales of over 50 auction markets. What do you think of that?" I proudly asked my friend.

"Wow! I had no idea auction markets were so progressive. And here too I see many places for product placement," he said as I tuned into an auction in progress.

"The middle of that ring should have a logo on the floor, and see that guy in the ring? He could be wearing a shirt with 'Wrangler' written on it."

"Would the shirt be free?" I asked, becoming more interested by the minute in this new form of advertising.

"I can't understand the chant of the auctioneer either," said my friend. "He should slow it down and work the names of advertisers into his chant. Such as, 90 cents, Dodge who'll give me 91 cents, Chevrolet, 92 cents Ford. Sold to Harris, try their new pot roast."

"Catchy. I see how that could be a whole new source of income for auctioneers. And during the dead space they could also read commercials," I said sarcastically.

Ignoring me, he said, "The front panels of the ring should have signs on them."

"But then how would the buyers see the cattle?"

"Yes, I see where that might be a problem. I notice in many of these auctions they show the crowd. See that guy in the front row when he crosses his legs and exposes the bottom of his boot? That's valuable ad space I'm sure Justin would buy." (For more on Justin Boots see the title of this essay.) "You know," continued my Hollywood friend, "embedded advertising cannot only be used in TV and movies, but you too could make this a new source of revenue by incorporating it into your writing."

"Heaven knows I could use the extra cash," I said. "But if you think I'm going to prostitute myself by mentioning COKE or PEPSI just to make an extra BUCK (knives) so that I can make my next payment on my BUICK automobile, well then, you can think again mister. I'm not that DESPERATE (Housewives this Fall on ABC.)"

Board sets state budget growth limit for next biennium

AUSTIN — Lt. Gov. David Dewhurst and House Speaker Joe Straus, in a joint announcement on Nov. 15, said the Legislative Budget Board had adopted an 8.92 percent estimated growth rate for the 2012-13 fiscal biennium.

The 10-member Legislative Budget Board, on which Dewhurst and Straus both serve, is a permanent joint committee of the Texas Legislature that develops budget and policy recommendations for legislative appropriations for all state agencies and performs fiscal analyses of proposed legislation.

The growth limit is designated for state tax revenues not dedicated in the Texas Constitution. The constitutional spending limit is based on the spending limit of the previous biennium and the economic forecast from the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Dewhurst, who presides over the Senate, said, "I believe Texans understand and appreciate that government agencies have to tighten their belts, just like small businesses and families are doing across our state, and do more with less."

Straus, R-San Antonio, said, "The cuts we are making are essential to address Texas' budget challenges to ensure we are fiscally responsible with taxpayer funds."

State agencies have been under a governor's directive to cut spending in light of the projected budget deficit, which has been estimated between $8 billion and $24 billion.

Certain agencies, however, have the authority to move funds to help with the budget crunch.

The State Board of Education on Nov. 19 voted to increase the amount of funding it will pour into the state budget to $1.9 billion over the 2012-2013 biennium, thanks a boost from the General Land Office.

In September, the SBOE agreed to a payout of about $1.58 billion from the Permanent School Fund, a $20 billion endowment fund that supports the state's public schools. On

Nov. 18, Land Commissioner Jerry Patterson told the SBOE that he will ask the School Land Board to transfer $500 million from the Real Estate Special Fund Account to the Permanent School Fund. (The General Land Office manages the Permanent School Funds' land and mineral holdings.)

The transfer, about $300 million larger than anticipated, allowed the SBOE to increase its payout from $1.58 billion for the next biennium.

Money from the Permanent School Fund, which flows through the "Available School Fund," is required to be spent on textbooks and educational programs.

ETHICS CODE CHANGE IS PROPOSED

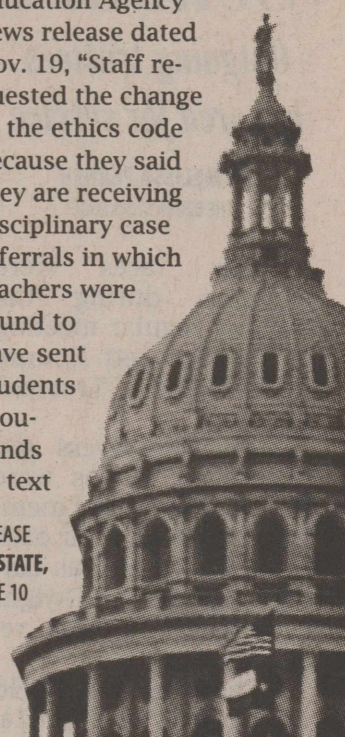

Teachers must refrain from inappropriately communicating with students through the use of social media under the requirements of an updated Educators' Code of Ethics endorsed by the State Board of Education on Nov. 19.

Rules proposed by State Board for Educator Certification must come to the State Board of Education for review before they become effective.

According to a Texas Education Agency news release dated Nov. 19, "Staff requested the change to the ethics code because they said they are receiving disciplinary case referrals in which teachers were found to have sent students thousands of text

Rebecca Rebelez Martinez

Rebeca Martinez, age 89, died peacefully Saturday, Nov. 20, 2010, at our local Crockett County Care Center of Ozona surrounded by the love and comfort of her family members, friends, and caring staff.

"Mama" or "Mami," as she was lovingly known by her family and townspeople alike, was born on July 3, 1921 in Ozona to Senovio Rebelez and Doro-tea Tovar Rebelez.

She was married in Ozona to Rodolfo B. Martinez on May 31, 1941 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. During their lifetime together they had six children. Mama spent her lifetime faithfully dedicating to her children, their families, and her extended group of family and friends. Mama enjoyed many things in life but above all these her unwavering faith and service to her church brought her as much joy as the love of her children and grandchildren. Another passion of hers was gardening, which was easy to see when passing by her home.

Mama was active in her community through organizations such as Las Guadalupanas. She was also involved with the Cursillo and was a lifetime member of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. In addition, she was a self-made entrepreneur who outfitted women with some of the trendiest fashions and accessories, but many will always remember "Rebeca's Hamburger Stand" where she enjoyed serving the best hamburgers to local patrons along with "raspas" from her little "cuartito."

Preceding her in death are her parents and husband all of Ozona along with an infant daughter, Odelia; daughter, Minerva Delgado of Garland, Texas and son, Christoval "BB" Martinez of Ozona. She was also preceded in death by brothers and sisters Andrea Rebelez Ortiz of Santa Clara, Calif., Senovio Tovar Rebelez of San Jose, Calif., Eudelia Rebelez Rodriguez and Concepcion "Chonita" Rebelez San Miguel both of Ozona and Juanita Rebelez Tijerina of San Angelo, all born in Ozona.

Survivors also include 18 grandchildren Dan Delgado, Wilma Beauchamp-Jensen, Johnny Delgado, Lisa Veasey; Wilda Ramos, Roger Martinez, Rudy Martinez III; Kristina Guerra, Chris Martinez, Lonnie Martinez; Annette Cervantez, Edwina Garza, Debra Badillo, Emily Cervantez, Amy Porras, Bobby Cervantez; Valerie Sanchez, and Vicky Lynn Flores. In addition, Mama is survived by 47 great-grandchildren, 28 great-great grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews.

Funeral services was Tuesday, Nov. 22, 2010 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church with graveside service at Lima Cedar Hill Cemetery in Ozona. Arrangements are by Preddy Funeral Home.

Mama lived a long and fruitful life. She planted the seeds and laid the foundation for her heirs and anyone whose life she touched to do the same through faith and perseverance. We entrust her into God's loving hands and give our deepest thanks and heartfelt gratitude to the many persons near and far, local community, and community of faith for showing her such gracious love and compassion and for the many prayers and blessings bestowed to her and us all.

James Cleo Thompson Jr.

James Cleo Thompson Jr. (Jimmie) went to heaven on Nov. 19, 2010 after a courageous battle with bladder cancer. He was born in Dallas on Aug. 25, 1930 to Christine Chandler Thompson and James Cleo Thompson, Sr. He attended Highland Park High School where he lettered in football and played in the state championship games in 1945 and 1947. In 1946, he played in the state semifinal game.

In 1948, he entered Southern Methodist University, where he studied engineering and geology. Jimmie was a member of the famous SMU Football Team of the early 1950s. During part of the 1951 season, his team ranked number one in the nation.

After graduation, he planned to enter SMU Law School, but his life changed dramatically. On June 14, 1952, he married Dorothy Kuntz. Theirs was one of the very first weddings performed in the Perkins Chapel on the SMU Campus. That same summer they went to work in Crane, Texas, where he and his father had acquired three small rundown oil leases. Jimmie went there to restore them and put them back in production. His fascination with the people, business, and values of the oil and gas industry began at this time in life. His intention to go on to law school was over. His future was set. Soon more and more leases were acquired. At that time, Jimmie and his father formed a company named Thompson Petroleum Corporation, which continues to actively pursue the oil and gas business.

And at the time of his death, Thompson was considered one of the most respected and successful independent oil and gas producers in the nation, with operations mainly in West Texas and New Mexico. In almost six decades of his career, he was one of the first operators to use new technologies for the discovery, development, and production of numerous fields, in the Permian Basin. People knew him as an old wildcatter who still believed a handshake sealed a deal. His love and enthusiasm for the oil industry had no boundaries. Jimmie also entered the cattle and ranching business with operations in Hood and Crockett counties of Texas and Conejos County, Colorado, known as "Double T" Ranches.

Jimmie Thompson received numerous awards in the petroleum industry including being named "Chief Roughneck" in 2001, the most prestigious and coveted award from the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA). The Texas Alliance of Energy Producers awarded him the Chairman's Award for Exemplary Service and the Distinguished Service Award. In 2005, was named a "Dallas Oil Legend" by the Texas Alliance of Energy Producers. In 1998 he received Hard Hatters Award.

Thompson was a Legion of Honor member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers. In addition, he had served on the Natural Gas Committee of the IPAA and on the advisory committee for the U.S. Department of Energy National Petroleum Council. In May 2010, the Midland Wildcatters Committee honored Thompson and his company with a reception at the Midland Petroleum Club.

Additionally, in 1991 he received an honorary Doctor of Letters Degree from Howard Payne University. In 2000, he was named as SMU Distinguished Alumni. In 2002, Thompson received the SMU Dedman School of Law Honorary Alumnus Award. He was named a Highland Park High School Distinguished Alumni in 2003.

Thompson contributed time, expertise, insight, and financial support to a variety of educational institutions so that others could be given opportunities that he was given. He had served on the Board of Trustees for SMU, the board of the Howard J.

Academy of Freedom, and the board of SMU's Maguire Institute of Oil and Gas. And was currently on the executive board of SMU Dedman School of Law. In memory of his father in 1984, he established the J. Cleo Thompson Law School Chair and in 1990 he endowed Thompson Law Scholarships Program which awarded over 100 three-year full law school scholarships since its inception. Also, the Thompson family dedicated the Thompson academic complex to Howard Payne University in 1996.

Since 1974 Jimmie Thompson was Chairman of Trustees of the Hatton W. Sumner's Foundation which has given over 875 full scholarships to date for law and government studies at 12 colleges and universities, in addition to program grants totaling over $55.2 million dollars. He was a member of the President's Associates and the Hilltop Society at SMU, as well as the Letterman's Club and a Thoroughbred Member of the Mustang Club.

Other boards on which he has served are the Dallas Petroleum Club, Highland Park United Methodist Church, Texas Capital Bank Shares, and the National Center for Policy Analysis. Since 1979, Thompson served as Chairman of the Crockett National Bank of Ozona, Weatherford, and San Angelo, Texas.

He generously supported Baylor University Medical Center and the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center as a "Friend" Sustainer and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. For many years Thompson supported and sponsored countless Little League teams and girls softball teams throughout the West Texas area. In 2005 he helped the Odessa YMCA meet its expansion project. The result was the J. Cleo Thompson Family Center, which provides exercise facilities for all members.

Jimmie Thompson served his industry and his community as a dedicated and highly effective leader. His achievements and his integrity exemplify the oil and gas industry of this nation.

Considering the length of time served in the industry and the hundreds of contacts made through partners, employees, their families, and the civic and educational activities, Jimmie Thompson reached countless numbers of individuals whose lives have been positively affected by his unique talent and character.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy of 58 years of marriage; two daughters, Christy Thompson and Linda Gordon; and son-in-law Gary Gordon; brother-in-law, Louis Kuntz and his wife Barbara of Fullerton, California; his beloved collie, Hank; and Carmen and Mario Lopez who have been faithful household employees for the last 41 years. He is also proudly survived by the many employees who have benefited by his leadership and example for many years.

Private graveside services at Sparkman Hillcrest will be followed by a memorial service at Highland Park Methodist Church on Monday, Nov. 22, 2010.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be sent to the Research Program of Dr. Ganesh Raj for Bladder Cancer, Department of Urology at UTSW Medical Center, 5323 Harry Hines, Dallas, Texas 75390.

LOOKING FORWARD

It is that special time of the year again and we are looking forward to the holidays. Christmas used to be my favorite holiday but now it may be Thanksgiving. One reason is all the family tries to get together and the other is all the good food. We have been calling on the phone and each family member has a special dish they make and when you put them all together, WOW! What a meal. I try to find the time to think and reflect about all the wonderful blessings that I have received and enjoy. Like the wonderful county that I live and all the freedoms it provides, especially the freedom of worship or religion. Another blessing is the provisions of life that this country provides, (food, jobs, housing, etc). Then there is my family and that is a "biggie". One special and very important reason I am able to enjoy the season is because I came to know Jesus Christ as my personal Lord and Savior, (John 1:12). That has changed my whole perspective in life, (Romans 5:8-11). God has blessed this country in many ways for many years, May we not forget to thank Him for those blessings, (Psalm 50:14, 95:2-7, 100:4, 116:17). Let us set one extra place at the Thanksgiving table this year and may it be for remembrance of whose hands all these blessings flow. See you in Church next Sunday.

presented by Daniel Lombrana and Nathaniel Valdez of the Ozona Middle School Student Senate and banners from the high school.

"I appreciate everybody in all that you have done. I had a good time. It was an awesome experience," said Hale, who has served on the board since 2000. "You serve on the school board because you want to. Do this with your heart."

Fierro, who has served on the board since 1994, thanked local attorney and former board member Orlando De Hoyos, who was also in attendance, for asking her to run for her first term.

"To my predecessor, I wish you the best of luck in this chair," she said.

After reorganizing, the board went into executive/closed session for around 90 minutes to hear Dora Aiguier's Level III Grievance. When the board convened back into open session, no motion was made on the grievance.

The board did approve the resignation of first grade teacher Brandi Crawford.

In his report, Superintendent Chris duBois said there is still a little bit of cleaning up left to do at the new Ozona Elementary School, which includes construction leftovers, small detailed areas and finishing up the technology in the building.

He also said that he is still looking for some safety barriers for the front of the building that will prevent any vehicles or accidents from running into the school, but ones that match architecture and design of the structure.

Childress said the board needs to explore the possibility of additional parking and current parking issues at the new building as well, due to the east parking lot being very tight for vehicles and the north part of the property possibly being turned into a parking lot.

duBois said the district's enrollment was down to 752 students, but that attendance rates were up.

The board approved the district's emergency operation plan, pandemic plan and food safety plan.

They also approved the minutes from the Oct. 27 regular meeting, the special meeting canvass of votes on Nov. 10 and an audit request to undesignated construction funds.

The board will hold a workshop at 5:30 p.m. Dec. 15 to discuss heating and air conditioning units in the district, followed by their regular meeting at 6:30 p.m. all at the Administration Building.

Thanksgiving spirit in Ozona

"In everything give thanks; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus," - 1 Thessalonians 5:18

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The spirit of Thanksgiving filled the Parish Hall of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church during the annual community service.

Each year, the Ozona Ministerial Alliance sponsors the event, which featured music and message from members of several Ozona churches.

"This gives us a chance to get together and converse," said Robert Flores. "God is here to welcome our thankful hearts."

In his Thanksgiving message, Father Nilo Nalugon spoke about Zell Kravinsky, a Philadelphia man who gave away his fortune and donated a kidney to a complete stranger.

Nalugon said Kravinsky's story reminded him of what one of Nalugon's seminary professors told him about life: "all is gift."

"All he has is a gift," Nalugon said. "Celebrating the goodness of God in our lives. Everything we have, our family, our faith, our friends, our community, is a gift that comes from God's goodness."

Nalugon asked those present to remember Kravinsky's sacrifice and goodness and gift giving to others.

"Every one of us, no matter how poor we seem, we can make for the betterment of all," Nalugon said. "We are blessed in some way to give God's touch."

Thanksgiving is about trust and about faith, he said. Nalugon also said that everyone should pause this Thanksgiving and be reminded to trust in God.

"Thanksgiving Day, and every day for that matter, celebrate our trust and belief in a good God," he said.

Members of OLPH Catholic Church and the Ozona High School Guitar Class provided music for the event, singing "He Has Made Me Glad," "All in All," "Give Thanks," "Thou Art Worthy" and a special song by the OHS Class called "Drifter."

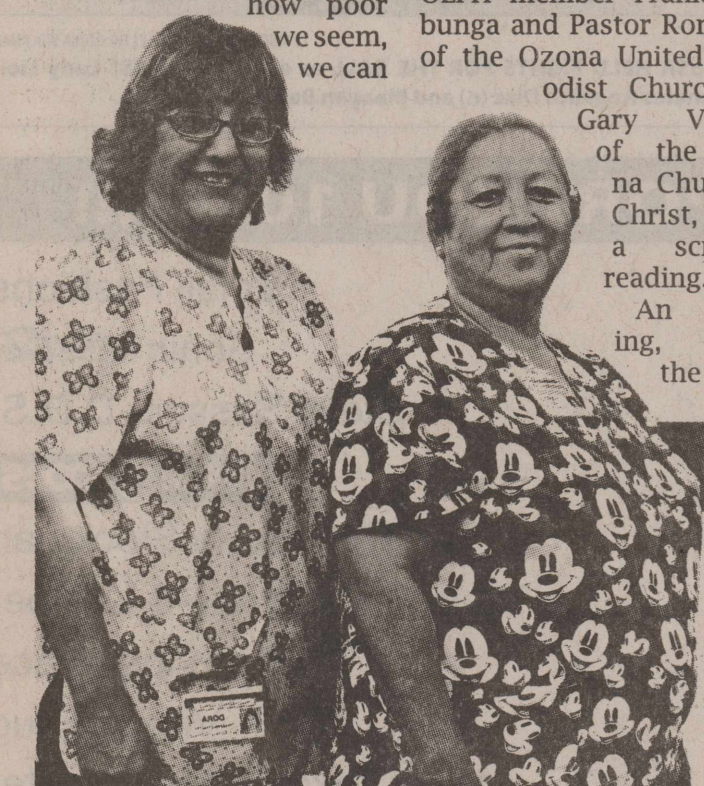

Welcomes were made by OLPH member Frank Tambunga and Pastor Ron Shott of the Ozona United Methodist Church. Dr.

Gary Vannoy, of the Ozona Church of Christ, gave a scripture reading.

An offering, which the ministerial alliance uses to help those traveling through Ozona, was also taken by those who attended.

Anyone interested in donating to the Ozona Ministerial Alliance can contact Shott at the Ozona United Methodist Church at 392-3060.

that we have been working on. We weren't able to stop #14 in the 7A game, who scored the majority of their points because we were out of position. This is something that we are working on to improve overall with both teams," said Coach Dedra Rohan. "Kim Borrego did a great job and all of our scoring in the 7A game. We need everyone else on the team to help pitch in and score some points. Nereyda Vega, Alondra Rodriguez and Daisy Cantu did a good job in scoring some points in the 7B game, but again, everyone else needs to pitch in and contribute some points as well. If we can settle down and play the game like we practice, then we should do well."

DIAGNOSTIC EXCELLENCE

Big-city medical care in Sonora— at Hudspeth Memorial.

When you need a diagnostic procedure, consider the Hudspeth advantage

Hudspeth Memorial's new facilities include the most advanced MRI in West Texas, a new 64-slice CT scanner, digital mammography, ultrasound, and cardiac stress testing—all resources that would be the pride of a large urban medical center.

Hudspeth's MRI (above) is a next-generation breakthrough. The first open-bore MRI means 60% of examinations are done with your head outside the magnet. Examining time is shorter, images sharper, patient experience better.

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

BY LYNN ENGLISH
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

This Monday is a wonderful day. After an early morning shower, the air smells fresh and clean. It is nice that we all are looking forward to a wonderful Thanksgiving. If you are going out of town for the Holiday, please be safe.

This week, Betty and Bob Hartley will be celebrating their 59th wedding anniversary. Congratulations Bob and Betty.

Last week we had a visit from Brownwood. Her name was Jewel Fish. She lived in Ozona in the 1950s with her family and has many happy memories of Ozona. Jewel plans to move back to Ozona Jan. 1, 2011. She will be living in the Ozona Senior Apartments.

The Crockett County Senior Center will be closed for Thanksgiving Thursday and Friday. Helping Hands will also be closed Thursday and Friday for Thanksgiving. In last week's column I wrote that Helping Hands would be opened just one day, but I learned today they will be closed.

Our next Senior Bingo Social will be 6:30 p.m. Nov. 30 at the Senior Center. Mark your calendar.

Any of you who would like to play dominoes are welcome to come and play any morning or afternoon that you would like to play.

The bridge ladies will be playing Monday at 1:30 p.m. These players have fun at their game.

We continue to have our regular activities: square dancing, exercise class, bridge, bingo, home health, pool, canasta and puzzles. We also have a collection of books, magazines and two computers that are on the internet for seniors to use.

We have a projector with stand and a screen and have recently added a wonderful keyboard. Also for your enjoyment, we have a Wii game and five different stimulating games. We are anxious for these games to be used.

Our activities are for adults only.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS

BY SHANON BIGGERSTAFF
CHAMBER EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

"Wool Growers opened 105 years ago," said Max Schroeder current Manager. "We are a stockholder owned company that stores and sales wool. With the decline and changes in the industry, and the economy, we no longer store mohair."

"Back in the 1980s Ozona and San Angelo stored a million and half pounds each, a year, and Sanderson stored up to 3 million. Now the Angelo location is closed and between Ozona and Sanderson we store 100,000 lbs. a year," said Max.

There are still ranchers in Crockett County that still raise sheep and sale their wool. Wool Growers holds a wool sale twice a year. The wool from Crockett County generally goes to San Angelo. The majority of the better 12-month wool stays in the U.S. and is purchased by the government and the rest is exported to China, Europe and abroad.

"We really appreciate our customers who have stuck with us throughout the years. We have diversified our business and now offer a number of products and services," said Max.

Wool Growers Central Storage services the hunters that come to Crockett County by offering feed, blinds, ammunition, archery and cooking equipment.

They also carry sporting good items such as Dutch ovens, camping and fishing accessories. You will find dog food, livestock pharmaceuticals, ranch tack, PVC plumbing, herbicides, pesticides, and fertilizers.

"We have even added a new line of janitorial supplies. If we don't have what you need in stock, we can order it."

There is also a Tire Shop at Wool Growers Central Storage, open the same hours as the store.

The Tire Shop sells and repairs all brands of off-road and highway tires.

The Chamber of Commerce has selected Wool

Growers Central Storage as our Business of the Month.

We would like to recognize their success and their on-going efforts to expand their business, and their ability to recognize and meet the needs of the consumer.

Wool Growers Central Storage is open Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and on Saturdays from 7 a.m. to noon.

Stop in and visit with Max Schroeder the Manager, Greg Hopper the Assistant Manager, J.L. Perez, Perfecto Quinoz of the Tire Shop and Janet Thompson the Office Manager.

Thanksgiving dinner costs $46.52 To feed 10 Texans

BY GENE L. HALL
TEXAS FARM BUREAU PUBLIC RELATIONS

If you're the family chef at Thanksgiving, you should be able to feed 10 hungry Texans a traditional holiday meal for about $46.52, according to the special 2010 Thanksgiving Meal Report of Texas Farm Bureau's (TFB) Grocery Price Watch survey.

"At only $4.65 per person, you can serve your family a healthy, traditional Thanksgiving meal. That's an inexpensive way to share the holidays with loved ones," said TFB President Kenneth Dierschke.

The Thanksgiving Meal Report found the cost of 10 holiday staples-including turkey, stuffing, sweet potatoes and cranberry sauce-to feed a family of 10 people. Compared with 11 products in American Farm Bureau Federation's (AFBF) Thanksgiving Dinner Price Survey, a Texas Thanksgiving will cost $3.05 more than AFBF's basket, which totals $43.47.

"Texans will pay a little more this Thanksgiving in part because of our much loved pecan pie," Dierschke said.

TFB's survey included this Texas favorite over the traditional pumpkin pie, which was used in the nationwide survey. Texans will pay a premium for their dessert as the price of pecans has been pushed higher by recent international demand, particularly from China.

Both TFB and AFBF's Thanksgiving surveys noted higher prices of milk and whipping cream, as well. This reflects a nationwide trend of higher prices for most dairy products. As the country inches out of an economic slump, consumers are more likely to purchase these staples.

Taken in conjunction with the fourth quarter Grocery Price Watch survey, several of the items in both the Thanksgiving Meal Report and quarterly data indicate Texans will pay slightly more for food throughout this holiday season. Results from the quarterly survey of 16 common food products show an annual increase from $50.72 in 2009 to $52.43 in 2010.

"There are several factors that impact food prices, including global supply and demand, regulations and production costs," Dierschke said. "However, particularly during the holidays, it is important for all of us to remember the farmers who work tirelessly 365 days a year to ensure all Americans can enjoy the most affordable and abundant food supply possible."

Thanksgiving Meal Report and Grocery Price Watch prices were reported by 19 and 22 volunteer shoppers, respectively, at grocery stores statewide from Oct. 28 through Nov. 10.

TFB has released its Grocery Price Watch survey of basic food staples quarterly since March 2009.

Fill up on safety this Thanksgiving

BY TELA MANGE
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

DPS is urging Texas motorists to put safety first on the menu while traveling this Thanksgiving weekend. "Texans should focus on arriving safely at their destinations and make sure this Thanksgiving is about making memories—not dealing with tragedy," said David Baker, assistant director in charge of Highway Patrol. "Impaired and reckless drivers are a given and motorists should take this into account and drive defensively." To help target drunk drivers, speeders and seat belt violators, DPS and many other law enforcement agencies will be out in force in an attempt to save lives and keep the roads and highways safer. During the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend last year, DPS troopers arrested 449 drunk drivers and wrote more than 10,000 speeding tickets. In addition, 820 seat belt and child restraint citations were issued. DPS offers these tips for a happy holiday on the roadways:

- Don't drive drowsy; pull over or switch drivers if you need to.
- Slow down—especially in bad weather, construction areas and heavy traffic.
- Don't drink and drive; get a designated driver.
- Buckle up everyone in the vehicle.
- Keep cell phone chatter to a minimum, and don't text while driving.
- Make sure your vehicle is properly maintained.
- Don't give into road rage. Drive with courtesy; it's contagious.

DPS is also a participant in Operation CARE—Combined Accident Reduction Effort—a nationwide effort by police agencies to reduce fatalities during holidays.

Texas DPS graduates 39 from Training Academy

BY TELA MANGE
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

The DPS Training Academy graduated 39 recruits this morning. The recruits are now Texas Highway Patrol troopers. The troopers began the 18-week training academy in July. Instruction covered more than 100 subjects, including counter-terrorism, traffic and criminal law, arrest and control procedures, accident reconstruction, first aid and Spanish. They also received extensive use of force, communication skills, firearms, driving, criminal interdiction, cultural diversity and physical fitness training. In about three weeks, the troopers will move to their new duty stations. They will spend the first six months in on-the-job training with a senior trooper. Steven C. McCraw, director of the DPS, told the graduates that he has high expectations for their performance. "You are joining an elite group today, and I expect you to conduct yourself with the utmost integrity," he said. "Welcome to the best law enforcement agency in the United States." Eighteen of the recruits have honorably served in the U.S. military and 22 of them have college degrees. Anyone interested in becoming a state trooper can call the toll-free line, 1-866-TXTROOP (898-7667), or visit the DPS Web site, www.joindps.com, for more information.

Commission's monthly report released Nov. 19. Texas' total non-farm employment was up by 47,900 jobs in October representing the addition of 172,800 jobs in the last year.

NEW APPLIANCE REBATE IS SCHEDULED
Texas Comptroller Susan Combs on Nov. 19 announced a new rebate program for certain energy efficient appliances. The program, which will begin Dec. 20, lets Texans who want to save money on appliances apply for mail-in rebates on those purchases. About $10 million in rebates is available for the purchase of certain "Energy Star" appliances such as air-source heat pumps, central air conditioners, clothes washers, dishwashers, freezers, refrigerators, room air conditioners and water heaters.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE STAYS PUT
The Lone Star State's unemployment rate remained at 8.1 percent in October and continued to trend below the U.S. unemployment rate of 9.6 percent for October, according to the Texas Workforce messages. Sometimes the content of the messages was not inappropriate on their face but the volume of messages and time of day the messages were sent indicated that the educator was 'grooming' the student for a future sexual relationship. A school district employee commits a second-degree felony under Penal Code Section 21.12 if the employee engages in sexual contact with a student who is not their spouse, the Texas Education Agency stated.

ORDER RESTRICTING OUTDOOR BURNING

The Commissioners' Court finds that circumstances present in all or part of the unincorporated area of the county create a public safety hazard that would be exacerbated by outdoor burning; and NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED by the Commissioners' Court of Crockett County, Texas, that outdoor burning is restricted in Crockett County for 30 days from the date of adoption of this Order, unless the restrictions are terminated earlier based on a determination made by the Texas Forest Service or this Court. This Order is adopted pursuant to Local Government Code 352.081, and other applicable statutes. This Order does NOT prohibit outdoor burning activities related to public health and safety that are authorized by the Texas Natural Resources Commission for: (1) firefighter training; (2) public utility, natural gas pipeline or mining operations; (3) planting or harvesting or agricultural crops; or (4) burns that are conducted by an approved Prescribed Burning Association, Natural Resource Conservation Service, the and/or Texas A&M Agricultural Experiment Station, or prescribed burn manager certified under Section 153.048, Natural Resources Code, and meet the standards of Section 153.047, Natural Resources Code.

All burns shall be reported to the Crockett County Sheriff's Office (325) 392-2661 and the Fire Chief (325) 392-2626 prior to commencing, together with the name of the landowner, location involved and expert to be on hand.

This Order does NOT prohibit outdoor cooking in a properly contained area which is attended at all times.

In accordance with the Local Government Code 352.081 (h), a violation of this Order is a Class C misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $500.
