Ozona men arrested for stealing livestock

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Four Ozona men have been arrested for allegedly stealing livestock from a local ranch.

Angel Tambunga Fierro, 59, Guillermo Fierro, 61, Polo Fuentes Sanchez Jr., 53 and Joe John Macias, 44, were arrested on Friday, Sept. 28, and all charged with engaging in organized criminal activity. The charge is a second-degree felony punishable by up to 20 years in prison and $10,000 in fines.

The four men allegedly stole goats from Larry Williams' property, according to an affidavit for arrest filed by Kenneth Wadsworth, special ranger with the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

On Sept. 19, Wadsworth met with Williams who stated that Rego Hernandez had told Williams he had helped round up some goats for Sanchez on the Miller place, which is owned by Williams, the affidavit stated.

Hernandez stated they had rounded up about 150 head and sold them to Angel Fierro. Hernandez asked Williams if Sanchez had permission to gather the goats and Williams stated Sanchez did not have permission, the affidavit stated.

Ozona starts district play next week

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The Ozona Lions topped off homecoming Friday with a 48-28 victory over Rocksprings.

Junior Kobe Rodriguez was all over the field for the Lions scoring six touchdowns, including a 96-yard kickoff return. He also had 115 yards rushing on 10 carries and two catches for 79 yards.

Quarterback Jadon Perez scored two touchdowns. Perez had 81 yards rushing on 12 carries and was 3-6 for 101 yards passing.

Chance Johnson got a two-point conversion. The senior had 61 yards rushing on six carries.

Freshman Alec Lara rushed for 22 yards on four carries.

Senior Aiden Fierro also had a catch for 22 yards.

Offensively, the Lions had 279 yards rushing, 101 yards passing and 15 first downs.

"Overall, we are pleased with our game. We got much better and moved the ball well.

We had a big game on offense, but we gave up too much defensively. We have to get better there. It was a good win," said Coach Kyle Freeman.

Ozona (2-3) is coming off a tough non-district schedule. The Lions are on a bye this week.

"Our opponents we have played up to this week had a combined record of 17-3," Freeman said. "We look to heal some bumps and bruises this week."

Ozona will start district play against McCamey (2-4) at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 14 at Lion Stadium.

A ranger named 'Joaquin'

Had his life been a song, it would have been Big John. If a folk tale, Paul Bunyan. If a military hero, pick your favorite, and he'd have a lot of Joaquin Jackson in him.

And this veteran lawman charged with peace-keeping over a vast West Texas expanse bigger than some states was perhaps as colorful as Judge Roy Bean. (Bean, a Justice of the Peace with a courtroom in his saloon, is remembered for law "west of the Pecos.")

Jackson resigned at the age of 57. Political correctness was taking a foothold, and he didn't like what he saw coming. A Texas Ranger from 1966-1993, he decided to open a private investigation office in Alpine, where he lived until his death this summer at age 80.

By all accounts—many of which were shared following his July memorial service in Alpine—he was as square a shooter as ever lived, although he never fired a fatal shot. He even befriended prisoners. Once, hearing Johnny Rodriguez singing from his cell, Joaquin arranged for him to meet music promoter Happy Shahan. Soon, Rodriguez was a sensation, named country music's vocalist of the year in 1973.

The "lawman's lawman," Jackson was a beloved figure, vividly remembered for public service though 23 years removed from it. Some 500 people, many of them law figures, gathered in his memory.

A couple of notables—Governor Rick Perry and renowned Houston attorney Dick DeGuerin—spoke, as did the preacher at the local cowboy church.

Edward DeWees III, Joaquin's third cousin, idolized his kin. He named his dog "Ranger," and when he opened his San Antonio "dream store" a few years ago, the name honored his esteemed cousin: "Ranger Firearms." To promote the store, Jackson drove to San Antonio to tape radio commercials.

It was DeWees who first understood why there were two small holes dug next to the grave of Shirley Jackson, Joaquin's widow, who died three years ago.

One was to hold his remains; the other, the remains of Will, his spirited Schnauzer who died earlier this year after a lifetime of devotion. One vessel—Joaquin's cigar humidifier—held a figurine of a little white dog. The other held Will's collar and a fancy blue bandanna.

IDLE AMERICAN

Jackson so embodied the spirit of Texas—where words meant bonds and handshakes sealed them—he played in numerous movies with such well-known actors as Tommy Lee Jones (Good Old Boys), Clint Eastwood (A Perfect World) and Robert Duvall (Wild Horses.)

Standing a full 6-5 and further defined by a mustache above his upper lip that became well salted to match hair above that had started out a deep black, Joaquin was a striking figure throughout his life. One fellow who knew him well said, "Joaquin would charge hell with a handbucket." He embodied a quote which has no attribution: "The knot is what binds us and forms the noose we cannot slip."

He served during an era when much had to be taken into one's own hands. He did so admirably.

Joaquin will be remembered for service rendered across the years, not just for a few words on a headstone. A new program to train students in the fight against terrorism is on the drawing boards at Sul Ross State University. It will bear the name "Joaquin Jackson."

His is a name worthy of Googling. Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, one of Texas' foremost historians, elevated Joaquin to legendary status in his writings about Texas. Webb respected him immensely.

Someone mentioned the "one riot, one Ranger" line, saying, "For a really big riot, we'd be best served if the Ranger was Joaquin." Jackson's photo adorns the cover of a 1994 Texas Monthly magazine. And the article therein provides vivid details.

two bunches of cigars, two bottled libations, his ever-present alarm clock, a wooden cross, a bullet collection, a package of "Natural American Spirit" cigarettes and

The time period leading up to Christmas is my favorite time of year, but as for the big day itself, Santa Claus seems to have lost our address. There are fewer packages under the tree with each passing year and my wife has taken to wrapping boxes and placing them under the tree so there is something to unwrap Christmas morning. "Oh boy, look what I got, a big box from Amazon with nothing in it!"

The "Santa Season" seems to get earlier every year with department store Santas and my wife's Christmas decorations now arriving in September. And that's all right by me. My favorite decoration is a traditional nativity scene, probably because it's a barn scene and there are lots of animals, like the donkey that Mary rode into town on. Even though I have never owned one, I love donkeys, probably because my Aunt Charto, who wasn't really my aunt but helped raise me, had a big collection of porcelain donkeys that I couldn't keep my young hands off of. I broke more donkey ears and legs than any muleskinner who ever lived!

Donkeys pop up regularly in our art, religion and literature, including the wise Benjamin, the smart and loyal donkey in Animal Farm. Donkeys are Biblical characters too, appearing frequently in the good book, whereas cats aren't mentioned once. As it should be.

I think I've raised nearly every kind of domestic livestock there is, but never a with a donkey was in college when one was used to help halter break the show calves. We tied a haltered show calf to the donkey and after two days it was so tired and sore of being jerked around by that donkey, the calf was halter broke.

That donkey also had a calming influence on the calves, but maybe it was just because they were thirsty and hungry because that donkey gave them just enough rope to get within two inches of food and water and no closer.

That donkey had an evil soul.

In discussing donkeys I'd be remiss if I didn't mention that donkeys can also be very dangerous and should carry a warning label. Did you know that worldwide the forty million donkeys on earth kill more people every year than plane crashes? They can be deadly with both their back and front feet and you should never walk directly behind one unless you want to meet your maker.

Miners used to find out how intelligent donkeys were when they'd go to their mine and leave their donkeys hobbled or tied on a long leash back at camp. Upon their return they'd find all their food was gone and their donkey had gas and a lifelong craving for beans and bacon.

Some friends of mine learned this lesson the hard way on a hunting trip when they packed into the High Sierras with a donkey who carried their food, sleeping bags and tent. After a long day of hunting they arrived back at camp only to find someone had stolen their big bag of flour. It didn't take much investigation to find the thief because their donkey was bloated, lying on his back, stiff as a board with his four legs straight up in the air. The donkey's face looked like some Hollywood dope fiend who fell face-first into a big bowl of cocaine. The flour filled the donkey's nostrils and was caked to his dead lips.

My hunting friend speculated, "You see Lee, after that darned donkey ate the whole bag of flour he must have been very thirsty. I figure he took on a big slug of water and then blew up like a balloon because it was self-rising flour." Which brings us back full circle to our Biblical theme, for as my friend eulogized the dead donkey he said, "He too hath risen." www.LeePittsbooks.com

State opts out of federal refugee resettlement program

AUSTIN — Texas has acted on its threat to withdraw from the federal refugee resettlement program, Gov. Greg Abbott said on Sept. 30.

Texas had demanded enhanced FBI screening of individuals "from terrorist-based nations" and expressed resistance to the federal government's request that the Lone Star State increase by 25 percent the number of refugees to be resettled. An estimated 7,000 refugees have taken up residence in Texas in the past year.

The federal government did not respond to a Sept. 21 letter from the state refugee coordinator with the Texas Department of Human Services. The letter gave notice that the state would no longer participate in the program if the state's concerns were not addressed.

Despite state-level termination of participation in the program, private entities and local governmental bodies in

NEW MONUMENT AT CAPITOL

Work crews installed the main elements of the new Texas African American Historical Monument on the south grounds of the state Capitol on Sept. 27.

An official unveiling of the panoramic monument created by sculptor Ed Dwight will take place later this year. The monument was approved by the State Preservation Board, which has authority over the Capitol grounds.

State Rep. Helen Giddings, D-DeSoto, chair of the Legislative Black Caucus, said, "After many years of hard work bringing the Texas African American Historical Monument to the Capitol grounds, the stories of struggle and triumph of African-American Texans will be properly consecrated at our state's Capitol. We are thrilled that the monument which means so much to so many is one step closer to coming to fruition."

Whitmire proposes training Legislation proposed by state Sen. John Whitmire, D-Houston, would require Texas schools to educate students on how to interact with law enforcement when stopped for a traffic violation or detained.

Whitmire, who is dean of the Senate and serves as chair of the Senate Committee on Criminal Justice, said on Sept. 29 his bill would require the State Board of Education to set rules for a new curriculum section for ninth-grade students on law enforcement duties and interaction. The bill, he said, is part of an effort to combat escalated situations between officers and civilians.

"There is no home team or visiting team. We must all come together to develop the best strategies to improve relations and trust between law enforcement and the communities they serve. Increased training and education for both peace officers

Crockett County Ag Business Day Monday

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The Crockett County Ag Business Day will take place from 12:30-5 p.m. Oct. 10 at the Crockett County Civic Center. With today's economy and agriculture production cost, sound business and financial decisions are a must. The Crockett County AgriLife Extension Office has invited a group of very savvy experts to cover some topics that are very important when making business and financial decisions to ensure a safe and prosperous future. Topics to be covered:

- "Future Farm Bill Outlook" by Dr. Joe Outlaw, extension economist.
- "Rainfall Insurance, is it for me?" by Craig Leonard, Cauthorn and Griffin Ranch Insurance.
- "Beef and Market Outlook" by Dr. David Anderson, extension economist

- "CWD in whitetail deer, how will this affect my hunting operation?" by Dr. John Tomecek, extension wildlife specialist.
- "Texas Congress, Ag Policy Update" by State Rep. Andrew Murr, R-Junction.

Registration and meal will be served at noon. Cost is $10 and includes lunch. For more information, or to RSVP, call the Crockett County AgriLife Extension Office at (325) 392-2721.

Flu shot kickoff Friday

The Family Health Center of Ozona will have their annual Drive-Thru Flu Shot Kickoff from 7:45 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 7, at the EMS Building.

Cost for a flu shot, without insurance, is $25. The clinic will bill insurance and Medicare. Medicaid does not pay for flu shots. Children 12 years and older may get shots through the drive-thru if they are accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Any company that pays for flu shots for their employees need to contact Jackie Necessary at the clinic so that she can get consent forms to the company and staff, as well as discuss billing.

The Texas Department of State Health Services urges everyone six months old and older to get vaccinated.

Flu vaccination is particularly important for pregnant women, young children, older adults and people with chronic health conditions, because people in those groups are at a greater risk of severe complications if they do get the flu.

For more information, call the clinic at (325) 392-3788.

'Friend to Friend' women's health program Oct. 17

The Crockett County AgriLife Extension Agency will host a "Friend to Friend" women's health program at 5:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 17, at the Crockett Room.

This event will help women learn about breast and cervical cancer and how early detection can provide the best protection for these two cancers. A health professional will share information on mammograms and Pap tests and guidelines for when to get these screenings. Information will be available for women who may need financial assistance in accessing these two screenings. Breast and cervical cancers are most curable when they are detected early. Mammograms help in the early detection of breast cancer, and Pap tests are used in the early detection of cervical cancer. These two cancer screenings can save lives. For women who think they cannot afford the cost of the screenings, resources are available to help cover the cost.

Door prizes and food will be provided.

For more information, call the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service in Crockett County at (325) 392-2721.

Cholesterol and Heart Disease, a misunderstood relationship

Cholesterol is vital for hormone production; digestion; brain and central nervous system functions, and for memory functions. The brain comprises just 2 percent of the body's weight but it contains 25 percent of the body's cholesterol. "The vital connections between nerve endings in the brain, which help to conduct the electrical impulses that make movement, sensation, thinking, learning, and remembering possible, are largely made up of cholesterol," according to Dr. Malcolm Kendrick, Scottish doctor, author, speaker and skeptic.

Our bodies use cholesterol to manufacture bile acids. Without these bile salts, our body could not absorb fatty acids or fat soluble vitamins (A, D, E and K), risking life threatening deficiencies.

Every cell of the human body is protected by a 'skin' or membrane made largely of cholesterol, fat and protein. It is porous, not solid, to allow nutrients and hormones to pass into the cell while holding toxins and waste at bay. If cholesterol were somehow removed from its cell's membranes, they would simply disintegrate and the host would die.

Dr. Ancel Keys, MSc, PhD (1904 - 2004) launched his infamous "Seven Countries Study" (SCS) in the late 1950s, researching cholesterol and dietary fat's relationship with coronary heart disease in Greece, Italy, Spain, South Africa, Japan, and Finland. It should be noted that there were actually 22 countries involved in his study but he "cherry picked" only the countries whose data sup-

Hence A was supposed to cause C through B. For this to even get off the starting blocks, A and C have to be related (plot one against the other and there has to be a clear relationship); A and B have to be related and B and C have to be related," according to Dr. Malcolm Kendrick.

However, studies since have proven that none of Keys' hypotheses hold true. Dr. Kendrick's study shows that, "A and C are not related. There is no logic that A and B could be related - because of the problem of fat and cholesterol being found in the same foods."

Kendrick's own two - seven country studies proved no association between cholesterol and saturated fat, and heart disease; let alone a causation.

Even so, when Keys published his SCS, it sent a 'tidal wave' based on his ill-conceived conclusions around the world that eventually cost millions their lives or at least their quality of life.

Based on Keys' study, however, the pharmaceutical industry latched onto the hypothesis and fabricated a chemical compound (statins) that controlled the amount of cholesterol in the blood ported his beliefs.

Keys' SCS claimed that "saturated fat consumption (A) caused heart disease (C) not directly, but by raising cholesterol (B).

stream. They conspired with physicians and medical authorities to advise patients to keep their total cholesterol below 200 mg/dl, when the average blood/cholesterol level was between 240 and 250 mg/dl. They did this because they saw an opportunity to monetize it and bolster sales with their statin drugs and, vuela... they now bank over $30 billion annually from statin sales alone.

Cholesterol is critical for bones and for all the roles performed by vitamin D, a hormone that is known for its part in calcium and phosphorus metabolism, and therefore, bone health. The words to explain the significance of cholesterol to the human body are impossible to conceive. Let it suffice to say that if you had no cholesterol in your body, you would die.

Hormone production is accomplished by cholesterol. Specifically, the sex hormones; the human reproductive system is dependent on cholesterol. Not only would we die without it, our species would die out.

In light of all the above, it should stand to reason that as significant as serum cholesterol is to our wellbeing, it must be allowed to operate without impunity throughout our body, except in the very rare instances when cholesterol malfunction is scientifically indicated by your health care provider and intervention is beneficial.

Here's to your health.

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

Blood pressure checks today

BY BRENDA NEWTON
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

Wow, now that was a bonfire. I don't know who did the fireworks, but they were beautiful and added so much to the excitement of homecoming. Thank you whoever you were. You guys don't forget to get a costume ready for Oct. 24 at bingo. It will be fun if you join in.

Accolade Home Care is also visiting with us to check blood pressure and sugar. They are coming at 2:30 p.m. and staying for the prayer group at 3 p.m. on the first Wednesday of each month. The next visit will be today, Oct. 5. Accolade also provides home care for those in need. You can contact them at (325) 659-6919 or accoladehomecare.com on the computer.

Lisa Valencia is the one to call for Area Agency on Aging and that number is (325) 233-5704. If you need help with insurance or supplemental insurance call Alicia Henry with Esperanza. She is not affiliated with any insurance company so she can guide you to the places you need to go, and tell you the things you need to know. That number is (325) 949-6227.

Then there is Mary Landa with 2-1-1 Texas. If you need information on any of the things that concern us older generation, dial 2-1-1 and you will get a message asking you to choose English or Spanish, choose one of these and then choose option 1. This will get you to Mary and she can pass you to the person that can help you. Lisa Valencia told me that Concho Valley Community Action Agency still has a little bit of money for utility bills left. Get in touch with them as soon as possible. Call Lisa to help you get in touch.

Intrepid Healthcare Services will be in town Oct. 19 and will be checking blood pressure and screening blood sugar at Ozona Senior Apartments from 11:15 a.m.-noon and Crockett County Senior Center from 1:30-2:30 p.m. Intrepid will be coming every third week of each month to provide these services. Mark these dates on your calendar and take advantage of these free screenings. Fasting for two hours before the tests gives you the best results.

This month's Bingo Social will be on Oct. 24. This one is going to be really fun. Since it is Halloween time, we are going to have a costume contest.

Be thinking about putting a costume on and coming and laughing and having fun and maybe winning a $25 prize for the best costume. We are giving away two prizes.

WALKING ON GREEN GRASS

I remember one time while out walking in the pasture looking for some sheep when all of a sudden I stopped and looked down. I was actually standing in green grass. I couldn't believe but there it was. Just a few weeks earlier it had been bare ground or small amounts of dried burnt grass. I had been too busy to notice the change. I looked around and everything was green. I bowed my head and asked God to forgive me for not giving enough thanks for answering my prayers, (Psalm 107:1). I also looked back over my life and realized how much God had blessed me, (Psalm 107:2). Maybe you can't tell by looking at the outside but on the inside there is a joy and peace in my heart. There is also assurance and calmness because of my new relationship to Christ Jesus, (Romans 6:3-11). I didn't have that before I accepted Christ as my personal Lord and Savior, (John 1:12&13). I also thought about all the years I have tried to live in a way that honors Him and how

He has blessed me time and time again, (Psalm 107:4-9). A good marriage with many happy and joyful years and the children God gave us, (Psalm 127:3) and the list of blessings goes on and on. I hope and pray I will not forget God's many wonderful blessings, (Psalm 107:43).

OHS, OMS MATH AND SCIENCE NEWS

Parent meeting Thursday

BY JASON DAVIS
OZONA HIGH SCHOOL

The extracurricular Mathematics, Robotics, and Computer Science clubs will be in a rebuilding year.

Nathan Harris has moved from fifth grade mathematics into teaching middle school robotics in the afternoon.

He worked hard over the summer to prepare to teach some high school classes as well. He passed his Technology Education 6-12 teacher certification test at the start of the school year, and now he is certified to teach some CTE classes. CTE (Career and Technical Education) are vocational classes that are geared towards students work outside of high school. The information and structure of the classes should emulate conditions and work practices similar to those students will encounter on the job.

Mr. Harris is currently teaching Algebra II, Robotics and Automation, and Business Information Management in the mornings at the high school.

Mr. Davis is now fully at the high school teaching BIM (Business Information Management), Algebra II, Precalculus, AP Calculus, and Computer Science at the high school.

Computer Science practice runs every Thursday from 6:30-8:45 p.m. in the bottom floor of the high school library building. Saturday practice is offered sparingly.

Mr. Harris is available after school at OMS to students wanting to practice for TMSCA, UIL, and Robotics. The main practice day for these events is on Tuesday from 3:50-5 p.m.

I am mentoring Mr. Harris, so we are working together to give the students an opportunity to learn and compete without a year lapse. Coach Ramon and Mr. Graves are also helping out with TMSCA mathematics events. Please contact any of us for questions or comments on the program.

Upcoming events include a middle school Rankin TMSCA meet (before UIL district) and a robotics practice meet at San Angelo in early November.

Changes from last year include not participating in Robotics Invention contest, the number of arena teams for high school and middle school have been reduced to three (instead of four), the number of participants we will take for each team will be two or three maximum, and TMSCA, UIL Computer Science, and Robotics at high school will be sponsored this year.

I am having a parent meeting for high school kids and parents who are involved in these programs at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 6, to discuss practices and the plan for this school year. Middle school parents are welcome to come (but don't bring middle school children). The meeting will take place in the business lab of the high school library building. If you are a parent of a child participating in TCEA Robotics, UIL Computer Science or TMSCA please try to be there.

One of the topics we will discuss at the meeting is getting funding for our activities outside of the school's budget. One way I learned to do this is using a website called donorschoose.org. My teacher page is at the following link: <https://www.donorschoose.org/teacher/3664410>.

Our next big project is to build a computer. I had the students in my computer programming class send me design examples (from PC Parts Picker), and now we are trying to raise funds to get the parts to build it. The students will build the computer, and it will be the computer used for the 2016-17 UIL Computer Science team.

Donor's Choose is unique to fundraising because it is very efficient. A lot of the fundraising done in town is through selling food, and the school keeps up to 50 percent of the sales. With Donor's Choose the project receives all of the funding, and it also has weeks where the funding is matched. A project could end up only needing half of the funds donated to achieve the goal because of this.

Please email me at Jason.davis@ozonaschools.net for any questions. Thank you.

OHS Cross-Country run at Round Rock Meet

The OHS Cross-Country Teams ran the McNeil Meet Saturday, Oct. 2, in Round Rock.

The meet had more than 500 boys and 430 girls running.

"It was a great race for us. We are still battling some injuries, but we are getting better as we move closer to district," said Coach John Esparza. "The course has been changed so it was a good experience for all of our runners, not just our new kids. We continue to have kids finish in the top five percent of each race, so we are very optimistic for the upcoming races. As always we would like to thank all the family and friends that traveled to Round Rock for support. Special thanks to our former teammates that made the trip."

The Lions placed 15th overall and second in Class 2A.

Deadline to register for Nov. 8 General Election is Tuesday

Deadline to register to vote in Nov. 8 General Election is Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Crockett County Voters can register at the Crockett County Tax Office located in the courthouse annex.

Texans may access a registration form to print, sign and mail at VoteTexas.gov. They may also request a postage paid registration form by calling 1-800-252-VOTE.

Early voting runs Oct. 24-Nov. 4. Election Day is Nov. 8.

The last day to apply for a ballot by mail is Oct. 28. Crockett County Voters can request ballots by mail through the Crockett County Clerk's Office, also located in the courthouse annex. For more information, call (325) 392-2022.

The Office of the Texas Secretary of State reminds voters who do not possess and cannot reasonably obtain a form of approved photo ID that they now have additional options when voting in person.

Currently, Texas voters who do not possess and cannot reasonably obtain one of the seven forms of approved photo ID have additional options when casting their ballots. As provided by court order, if a voter does not possess and is not reasonably able to obtain one of the seven forms of approved photo ID, the voter may vote by (1) signing a declaration at the polls explaining why the voter is reasonably unable to obtain one of the seven forms of approved photo ID, and (2) providing one of various forms of supporting documentation.

Supporting documentation can be a certified birth certificate (must be an original), a valid voter registration certificate, a copy or original of one of the following: current utility bill, bank statement, government check, or paycheck, or other government document that shows the voter's name and an address, although government documents which include a photo must be original and cannot be copies. If a voter meets these requirements and is otherwise eligible to vote, the voter will be able to cast a regular ballot in the election.

The seven forms of approved photo ID are:

- Texas driver license issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS)

- Texas Election Identification Certificate issued by DPS
- Texas personal identification card issued by DPS
- Texas license to carry a handgun issued by DPS
- United States military identification card containing the person's photograph
- United States citizenship certificate containing the person's photograph
- United States passport

With the exception of the U.S. citizenship certificate, the approved photo ID must be current or have expired no more than four years before being presented for voter qualification at the polling place.

Voters with a disability may continue to apply with the county registrar for a permanent exemption to showing approved photo ID (which now may be expired no more than four years) at the polls. Also, voters who (1) have a consistent religious objections to being photographed or (2) do not present one of the seven forms of approved photo ID because of certain natural disasters as declared by the President of the United States or the Texas Governor, may continue apply for a temporary exemption to showing approved photo ID at the polls.

Voters with questions about how to cast a ballot in these elections can call 1-800-252-VOTE or visit www.votetexas.gov.

mother Mary Alice, and father Bob, who all live here in the district.

What qualifies you for the position you are running for?

During my freshman term in Congress, I have been able to utilize my background as a CIA officer to take a leadership role on National Security and Cyber Security. In addition, my other primary objective is to be the "Gold Standard" in constituent relations, constantly visiting all 29 counties in the district, and continuously pushing and completing projects across the district.

Do you support the Affordable Care Act? If not, what would you replace it with?

No, there is no one-solution-fits-all to healthcare. I support the Better Way plan proposed by the speaker, which provides more choices and lower costs to consumers, removes the bureaucracy that slows down the development and production of medical devices and medicines, protects Medicare for seniors and for future generations.

How would you as a congressman foster government transparency and accountability?

Restoring the trust with the American people is one of the most important priorities for any elected official. As a member of the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform (OGR), and chairing the Subcommittee on Information Technology, I have held and been part of hearings looking at government transparency and accountability. Being a victim of the OPM data breach myself, I looked into areas where the government has been vulnerable to attacks, in order to find a solution.

I have voted to censure IRS Commissioner John Koskinen for his lack of full transparency in the targeting of conservative groups. I've been vocal about Sec. Clinton's disregard for protecting sensitive and classified information. During FBI Director James Comey's hearing before OGR, I reprimanded the agency and the commissioner for their neglect to provide accountability for these actions that threaten the lives of our brave men and women overseas and endanger the country, and set a dangerous precedence to those who fail to protect our nation's intelligence. I have also questioned the Social Security Agency and Department of Education for not taking action to ensure the protection of the personal information of students and seniors. I pride myself in fighting for those who are unable to fight for themselves due to bureaucratic red tape and lack of government and agency transparency.

What is one thing that distinguishes you from your opponent?

I have been a tireless advocate for the 23rd District since day one, and constantly visit all 29 counties in the District. I've been active in constituent relations, protected our veterans, had five bills signed into law and 10 bills pass off the House Floor.

What are your thoughts about what is happening along the Texas border? How would you reform immigration?

It is no secret that our immigration system is broken. Our immigration policy is enormously complicated and reforming it will require more than just one piece of legislation. We need to have permanent solutions to these problems not temporary solutions. Let's fix our broken visa system. Legal immigrants are a valuable part of our nation and its economy, and any changes to our immigration policy should come from Congress.

We must also recognize that the separation between the border and immigration issue. We secure the border, stopping the bad guys from coming in, and this requires communication among local and federal law enforcement agencies, and utilizing technology to help our brave border agents do their job. I've said from the beginning that a wall from sea to shining sea is the least effective and most expensive way to secure the border. In urban areas, a wall makes sense. In rural areas, we need more personnel and technology to address the issue. We should be building bridges, working with our Mexican neighbors to address the issues that cause the border crossing and the illegal narcotics. I look forward to working with my colleagues from both sides of the aisle to fix our broken immigration system and work for stronger border security.

If you're elected, how would you make yourself available to the public for questions, suggestion, complaints, etc.?

I will continue to constantly visit all 29 counties, host tele-town halls, be innovative in holding town halls, such as the DC2DQ trip, which we recently completed for a second year in a row, and continue to practice the "Gold Standard" in constituent relations.

What is the greatest threat to Texas' future, and how would you address it?

The lack of quality education in Texas worries me. As a computer science major at Texas A&M, I wish more kids would enroll into STEM education. The computing and coding industry is lacking workers but only very few students graduate in that field. Children enrolled in STEM courses today are tomorrow's cybersecurity experts who will protect our infrastructure from debilitating cyberattacks. They are the physicians and scientists who will develop innovative medical treatments that save soldiers' lives. They are the engineers who will build jets that fly faster, higher and farther. Prioritizing STEM education initiatives will cultivate our nation's leadership in science and technology.

Ensuring access to educational opportunities will strengthen and grow the economy, drive technological advancement and innovation across every industry, and allow citizens to overcome socioeconomic challenges that are influenced by education inequality.

The 23rd District stretches from El Paso to San Antonio and includes military, agriculture, veterans, oil and gas production, rural towns and major cities. How do you plan to address the diversity of this district?

Each county and their needs are different, so I listen to every problem that I come across for each county, city, and small town. I have worked closely with local officials, community leader, and federal agencies to successfully completed projects in all 29 counties and will continue to do so.

I am a 1980 graduate of Alpine High School, a 1982 graduate of Sul Ross State University and a 1985 graduate of The University of Texas School of Law. My wife, Maria Elena, and I have been married for 26 years and we are proud parents of our 11-year old son, Nicolás Miguel.

What qualifies you for the position you are running for?

Growing up along the border in West Texas, and through my early work as a local prosecutor, I developed close relationships with residents and law enforcement officials across our region. I served as an advocate for our entire region in the Texas Legislature because of my deep appreciation of the unique needs of our communities. During my term serving in Congress, I used my experience and relationships to work effectively with both political parties and I focused on the needs of people in the district instead of participating in the partisan gridlock. I am eager to return to Congress because Washington needs more people with small town values to help end the gridlock and deal with the challenges of a changing world.

Do you support the Affordable Care Act? If not, what would you replace it with?

The Affordable Care Act is imperfect, but it has provided coverage for pre-existing conditions and allowed children to stay on their family's insurance until the age of 26. I would work to improve the law by reducing the regulatory burden on businesses, simplifying the processes for employers, and improving affordability by extending the small business tax credit to more employers and thus allowing more businesses to participate and enlarging the pool of insured.

How would you as a congressman foster government transparency and accountability?

I would lead by example. Local media and local people must have access to their congressman. I would not avoid local reporters or constituents. Federal agencies must also be held to the same standard. It is not acceptable that an agency such as the Veterans Administration can manipulate data about wait times, schedules and appointments. Individuals who knowingly participate in fraud of this type must not be allowed to continue working for the federal government. I support efforts to bring better internal oversight of agencies through quality assurance.

What is one thing that distinguishes you from your opponent?

I cast every vote for the best interests of the district, even if it went against the wishes of my own party. Because of my voting record, I was named the single most bipartisan member of my freshman class in Congress. In contrast, Will Hurd votes with his party about 96 percent of the time, even when it hurts the district he was elected to represent. His voting record is further to the right than Senator Ted Cruz, for example.

He voted to turn Medicare into a voucher system so that our elderly would have to negotiate their own health care with insurance providers. He suggested raising the retirement age for Social Security. He also voted to eliminate funding for the Amtrak line that runs from San Antonio to El Paso and voted to create three "forward operating bases" with holding facilities and helipads in the canyons of Big Bend National Park.

What are your thoughts about what is happening along the Texas border? How would you reform immigration?

To improve the economic development and security along the Texas border, we need investment and local input - not a border wall or impractical militarization. It is the primary job of the U.S. government to secure our borders and keep our communities safe, and the first priority of that effort should be to fill the remaining vacancies of Customs and Border Protection positions, so that they have the resources they need to do their jobs effectively. I support comprehensive immigration reform that will help us figure out who is here and where they are, provide increased resources for border patrol, additional immigration judges to clear the backlog in our courts, and offer a path to citizenship for those who meet certain conditions.

If you're elected, how would you make yourself available to the public for questions, suggestion, complaints, etc.?

I have always been proud of my office's track record of constituent services and I greatly enjoyed taking every opportunity to meet directly with our residents throughout the district. To receive input from the community, my office will continue to host town halls and casework fairs in cities across the 23rd, as well as always keeping the lines of communication open with quick responses to phone calls, letters, and email correspondence. In addition, I also rely heavily on social media. Meeting and learning from the people in the community has always been my favorite part of the job of serving as your congressman.

What is the greatest threat to Texas' future, and how would you address it?

The greatest threat to the future of our state is our failure to prioritize education. If we want to sustain the growing Texas economy and give our kids the chance to secure the best job opportunities of the 21st century, we must focus more investment to support early childhood education, improve K-12 public schools, and look for new ways to make college more affordable to all qualified students who want to attend.

The 23rd District stretches from El Paso to San Antonio and includes military, agriculture, veterans, oil and gas production, rural towns and major cities. How do you plan to address the diversity of this district?

I will address the diversity of this district by always working to improve the lives of all who live and work in Texas' 23rd, and never at the expense of one group or industry over another. I am very fortunate to have grown up in Alpine with a family and community that understood and appreciated the values of hard work and common sense. During my time serving on the House Armed Services and House Agriculture Committees, I found that there is almost always a pathway forward on tough issues if people are willing to sit at the table, and if Congress puts the needs of the American people before their own job security.

Any additional comments to voters:

Early voting begins on Oct. 24. It would be an honor and a privilege to once again be your voice in Washington to help ensure Congress is working for you and your families, and not for themselves.

Commissioners approve Care Center Administrator

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The Crockett County Commissioners' Court held a special called meeting on Sept. 27.

The commissioners approved the hiring of Dewayne Atwood as the new Care Center Administrator with the recommendation from the Crockett County Care Center, Health and Emergency Services Board that his salary be $80,000 a year.

Atwood comes to Ozona from Fort Worth. He is a 1998 graduate of Angelo State University and received his nursing home administrator license in 2003.

He is originally from Pat Rock. He has worked in Eden, Big Spring, Clarksville, Wichita Falls and Athens, Texas.

The commissioners also recommended giving a letter of abatement from the county attorney's office to George and Molly Morgan to move a storage building off of county property near the construction site of the new clinic.

Also, the commissioners approved a Memorandum of Understanding between Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service and Crockett County pertaining to information technology services, and approved Oct. 17 as the date to award bids for County Roads 304, 310 and 105 as part of the TxDOT Transportation Infrastructure Fund Grant.

The next regular meeting will be 9 a.m. Oct. 10 at the courthouse annex. The meeting is open to the public.

and our students will help foster positive relations and interactions," Whitmire said.

WOLENS NAMED TO POST
Texas House Speaker Joe Straus on Sept. 26 appointed former state Rep. Steve Wolens of Dallas to the Texas Ethics Commission, with a four-year term to expire in November 2019.

It is the speaker's responsibility to appoint two of the commission's eight members, one nominated by Republican members of the House and one by Democratic members of the House. The lieutenant governor appoints two members and the governor appoints four members.

Wolens, a Dallas attorney who served as a Texas House member from 1981 to 2005, including a stint as chair of the powerful House State Affairs Committee, succeeds Paul Hobby, whose term expired. The speaker's other appointee is Republican Chase Untermyer of Houston, whose term will expire in 2017.

In announcing the appointment, Straus acknowledged Wolens's authorship of landmark legislation on ethics, antitrust laws, electric deregulation, and partnerships and limited liability corporations.

FLU SHOT TIME ARRIVES
The Texas Department of State Health Services on Sept. 29 urged that every Texan six months old and older get vaccinated against influenza.

"I'm asking people to get immunized now because it takes about two weeks for the flu vaccine to become fully effective," said DSHS Commissioner John Hellerstedt.

According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the vaccination is particularly important for pregnant women, young children, older adults and people with chronic health conditions because people in those groups are at a greater risk of severe complications if they do get the flu.

Symptoms usually start abruptly and include fever, body aches, chills, a dry cough, sore throat, runny nose, headaches and extreme fatigue. The symptoms can last a week or longer.

Tips for protecting against the flu are at TexasFlu.org.

DISTRICT PROFILES AVAILABLE

Texas Education Commissioner Mike Morath on Sept. 26 announced that "2015 Snapshot: School District Profiles" is available on the Texas Education Agency website.

"Snapshot" contains a profile of each public school district and charter school.

Tables on topics such as district size, wealth, tax rate and more can be accessed.

Wadsworth then met with Angel Fierro who stated that in May he was contacted by Sanchez to help haul some goats from the Williams Ranch.

Angel Fierro stated that he, his brothers, Guillermo (Willie) Fierro, Frederico (Lico) Fierro and Macias hauled 167 goats to Producers Livestock Auction in San Angelo, the affidavit stated. As payment for hauling, Angel Fierro stated Sanchez told him to put 50 goats in Angel Fierro's name.

On Sept. 20, Wadsworth was contacted by Angel Fierro who stated he wanted to meet with Wadsworth at the DPS Office in Ozona, the affidavit stated.

Angel Fierro told Wadsworth at that meeting that "he had not told the whole truth" and admitted there had been more than 400 head of goats taken from the Williams

Ranch, the affidavit stated.

Angel Fierro stated when he sold the goats he put them under the names of his wife, children and his dog.

Angel Fierro also told Wadsworth his brother Guillermo Fierro stated again he thought the goats were given to Sanchez by Williams, the affidavit stated.

Wadsworth also interviewed Guillermo Fierro, Macias and Sanchez. Each person interviewed admitted to cashing checks for the proceeds from the sales of the goats stolen, the affidavit said.

During his interview, Sanchez admitted he had acquired the goats from Williams' Ranch without permission from Williams, the affidavit stated.

Sanchez also stated that Angel Fierro, Guillermo Fierro and Macias were out there when the goats were taken. Sanchez stated all proceeds from the sale of the goats were divided amongst the four men, the affidavit stated.

Angel Fierro and Guillermo Fierro are out on bond, while Macias and Sanchez were transported to Upton County after their arrests, according to the Crockett County Sheriff's Office.

The Crockett County Sheriff's Office and Texas Ranger Tod Reed also assisted with the investigation.
