Lyntegar's Annual Meeting Held Here

Co-op Is Showing Rapid Growth

Tuesday was a red-letter day for Lyntegar, an R. E. A. project with headquarters here and serving members in seven counties.

All the counties were represented in a meeting in the English Theatre Tuesday afternoon, at which time the body was addressed by Miss Kathryn Harris representing the national headquarters in Washington.

Miss Harris discussed some of the problems confronting R. E. A. organizations everywhere and stressed the fact that members of the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative are responsible for its successful operation and expansion. Her address was listened to attentively by the members present, who almost filled the theatre, and they roundly applauded at the close of her address.

John Heck, president of the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, presided and himself made some very pertinent remarks.

Garland Pennington, as superintendent of the project, was present and assisted in many ways.

Lyntegar, one of the older REA projects, has shown a steady growth and its lines now extend throughout large sections of Lynn, Terry, Garza, Hockley, Borden, Dawson, and Martin counties. There are now 1887 customers and 660 miles of high-line.

The boomtown of Sundown, in Hockley county's oil field, and in Lyntegar's territory, has brought about 250 customers in that immediate area. This has made necessary the building of a new Lyntegar sub-station six miles south of Levelland and other improvements and extensions totaling $30,142, for which contract was let some time ago to Reinhard & Donovan, Oklahoma City.

The only important business presented to the body was the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The board of directors consists of a president and six other directors.

J. H. Chapman Of Grassland Dies

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon in the Grassland Methodist church for J. H. Chapman, 67, who died suddenly at his home near Grassland Tuesday morning. Rev. D. W. Reed of Grassland and Rev. Jesse Young of Draw jointly conducted the last rites, and interment followed in Grassland cemetery.

Mr. Chapman had left his home and gone to the field for some chicken feed a little after 8:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, and when he had not returned about 9:15, his daughter, Doyce, became uneasy and went to the field to see about him. She found him dead in his car. Death was attributed to a heart ailment, from which he had been suffering for some time. He had apparently been in unusually good health for a week or two preceding his death, however.

James Hardy Chapman was born in Shelby county, near Timpon, on October 14, 1873. In 1901, he was married to Mary Etta Thomas in Timpon and from this marriage three daughters were born. His first wife died, and in 1911 he was married to Leona Wheeler at Timpon, who also preceded him in death. Of his second marriage there are four sons and two daughters. In December, 1920, he moved with his family to Lynn county, where he has resided since. He was a Christian and a member of the Methodist church.

Besides his children, Mr. Chapman is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Mitchell of Lufkin, Mrs. Alma Smith of Timpon, and Mrs. Lou Hanks of Paducah. His daughters by his first marriage are Mrs. Ezra Wheeler of Center, Mrs. E. M. Norman and Mrs. L. B. Burk of Post; his children by his second marriage are Mrs. Mike Cross of Post and Doyce Chapman of Grassland, Forest Chapman of Post, Rudford, Furman, and Claude W. Chapman of Grassland.

Four Volunteers Leave For Army

Four Lynn county volunteers left Thursday in response to a call for trainees in the selective draft service. They went from Tahoka to Lubbock and thence to Fort Bliss, El Paso. After a few days at Fort Bliss they will be assigned to training camps at other places.

The four who left Thursday are: Santos Dias, Lynn county order No. 751, and Santiago Dias, order No. 306, brothers working on the Reagan farm in the Joe Bailey community; Hilbert Fred Conrad, a minor son of Henry F. Conrad, Rt. 2, O'Donnell; and Robert Glenn Medlin, order No. 334, Wilson, Rt. 1.

On Thursday of last week, Buddy Jolly of Tahoka, order No. 213, who had volunteered for service, was sent from Tahoka direct to Fort Bliss.

Mrs. Mourfield Funeral Held

Ill since September and confined to a hospital bed for 42 days Mrs. A. A. Mourfield departed this life at 11:20 P. M., Tuesday, age 60 years and eleven days.

Laura Elizabeth Coffman was born at Crawford, McLennan county March 21, 1881. She was married to A. A. Mourfield in Hamilton county, April 30, 1903. She moved with her husband and son, to Tahoka in August, 1925 from New Mexico.

The husband and their only child, Estes Mourfield, three brothers and one sister survive.

Though confined to a wheel chair since she was left a cripple by infantile paralysis at the age of three years, Mrs. Mourfield was well-known wherever she lived as an excellent housekeeper, a good neighbor and a radiant Christian character.

Mrs. Mourfield became a member of the Baptist Church in 1907 and until the last few months was a regular attendant of the services of the church and Sunday School.

Funeral services were held in the Tahoka Baptist church at 1:30 P. M. Thursday by the pastor, Rev. George A. Dale, after which the body was interred in Tahoka cemetery, under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home.

The sunny presence of Mrs. Mourfield will be greatly missed in Tahoka and the News joins many other friends in extending sincere sympathy to her companion of 38 years, her son, and to the other relatives.

Mrs. W. W. Balch Dies In Sweetwater

Mrs. W. W. Balch, 69, mother of Truman, Bill, and Arthur Balch of New Home, died at her home in Sweetwater on Wednesday morning of last week and was buried Thursday afternoon, according to information given The News.

Surviving are the husband and eight children and other relatives. She and her husband had been living in Sweetwater the past eleven years. Prior to that they resided in this county many years.

Ben R. Middleton Died On Sunday

In the presence of a large congregation of relatives and friends, funeral services were conducted at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Harris funeral home for Mr. Ben R. Middleton, almost 85 years of age, who died at his residence here at 8:25 o'clock Sunday night. Death resulted from heart trouble.

The services were conducted by Elder M. V. Showalter of Abilene, who is serving as minister for the Church of Christ here.

Following the services, the body was taken to O'Donnell, where it was laid to rest.

MISS JESSIE HOGUE

News To Sponsor Cooking School

The Lynn County News has contracted with Southern Newspaper Features of Dallas, Texas for a Happy Kitchen Cooking School to be held in this city on May 22, 23 and 24 with Miss Jessie Hogue, noted Southern Home Economist and Food Authority in charge.

The lecture staff of Southern Newspaper Features has talked to over one million housewives in the past several years in conducting Cooking Schools in many cities. This will be the same school that has been presented in Dallas, San Angelo, Amarillo, Big Spring, Corpus Christi. Incidentally Tahoka is one of the smallest Texas towns to secure this noted cooking school.

The Happy Kitchen Cooking School will include many new cooking secrets, budgeting, short cuts to economy, marketing, proper kitchen equipment, how to plan meals, new recipes and household hints, new and attractive ways to serve foods and in addition, many other phases of home-making will be discussed.

Miss Hogue is a native of Texas. She has spent years in preparation and study of foods and home problems. She will give actual demonstrations, at each session of the Cooking School and will be glad to answer any questions, the Question Box being one of the features of the school.

Miss Hogue is one of the outstanding Cooking School lecturers in her profession on the platform today. She has presented her lectures to thousands of housewives and is looking forward with pleasure to her visit to Tahoka when she arrives for the Happy Kitchen Cooking School.

Mrs. Alice Fortenberry and children are planning to visit the F. M. Billman family at De Leon this week end. J. W. is expecting to be inducted into the army on the next call.

Trustee Elections Set For Saturday

Lynn county school districts are this Saturday holding their annual trustee elections, and every qualified voter is being urged to go to the polls in their respective districts on that day and vote their choice in this important election. Each trustee is elected for a period of three years.

Following are names filed for the posts in various districts of Lynn county, according to County Judge Chester Connolly:

County board of trustees: J. K. Applewhite, trustee-at-large. From precinct 8: B. D. Ballew.

Tahoka: Wynne Collier, Truett Smith, Oscar Roberts, E. W. Shawn, F. M. McBeth, and E. R. Edwards. There are three to be elected to succeed Henry Maasen, L. C. Haney and H. B. McCord. Holdovers are Prentice Walker, John Slover, Vic Botkin, and L. D. Howell.

O'Donnell: W. H. Harris, W. E. Singleton, Johnnie Ellis, E. D. Hobdy, two to be elected.

Three Lakes: Amos McMillan, Burns Ellis, Ed Crouch, J. Q. Cox, and Wash Hickerson.

New Moore: H. L. Webb, Ed Blair, Albert Lee Nelson, Olan Blair, Lon Light, Jack Rogers, B. M. Cathey, Alton Snyder, two to be elected.

Tahoka Wins County Meet, O'Donnell Track

All City Officials Are Re-elected

City Marshal W. M. Lee was re-elected in the only contested race in the city election here Tuesday, with a vote of 208. His opponent, Sam Holland, received 86 votes.

Mayor Deen Nowlin, and three aldermen, T. J. Bovell, A. J. Mullins and W. O. Thomas were re-elected without opposition.

Mayor Nowlin received 292 votes, and Bovell, Mullins and Thomas received 282, 277, and 281 respectively.

The present City Council adopted a program of extensive city improvements, which have not yet been carried to completion, and their unanimous election might be considered a vote of confidence for the continuance of the program.

Band To Attend Abilene Contests

Because of conflicts in dates, the band will compete in Region 2 contests in Abilene on April 25, rather than in Region 1 in Amarillo this weekend as announced in last week's paper, and the local contest announced for Wednesday will be given Friday night.

The dates of this weekend contests conflict with the district Interscholastic League meet in Lubbock, so the Tahoka Band was transferred to the Abilene Region.

The local concert, announced next week for Wednesday night, April 2, conflicted with the invitation track meet slated for that night. Everyone is invited to attend Friday night.

Annual Meeting Of Co-op April 24

Annual meeting of the Farmers' Co-op Association will be held at the gin plants here on April 24. Manager Claude Donaldson has announced.

Arrangements are being completed for appearance on the program of leaders in the co-op movement, as well as by local members. The program will open at 10 o'clock in the morning. In the afternoon will be the business session.

Officers and directors are B. J. Emanuel, president, G. L. Cobb, vice president, E. J. Cooper, secretary, Terry Noble, G. W. Hickerson, J. A. Roberts, and G. A. Henry.

Mattresses Available To Many Families

Families eligible to receive cotton mattresses from AAA under its 1941 program are again warned that applications must be filed now in order that all orders may be filled, according to C. A. Lawrence of the local AAA office. The final date for acceptance of these applications is April 30th.

Any rural family is eligible provided its 1940 gross income was $500 or under.

Tahoka Wins Invitation Meet

With seven teams competing, Tahoka won a highly competitive invitation track meet here Wednesday night, even out-pointing O'Donnell, to which team she lost in the county meet last Friday. O'Donnell, second place winner, barely nosed out Floydada for 1-6 of one point. Other teams competing were Post, New Home, Shallowater, and Andrews.

Coach Leo Jackson, who sponsored the meet, is taking his team to the district meet in Lubbock this week end.

Thursday night's meet indicated that at least two Tahoka track men, "Cotton" Davis in field events, and Gary in the mile, will be in the running for district honors.

Total Points: Tahoka	52 1-3
O'Donnell	39 2-3
Floydada	39 1/2
Shallowater	7, Post 5, New Home 4 1/2, Andrews 1 1/2

"Cotton" Davis of Tahoka was high point man with 17 points.

Workers May Register Soon

J. H. Bond, Director of the Texas State Employment Service urges that all workers in rural and remote communities register at once at the local office of the Service, with chance of employment in the defense program.

Mr. Bond pointed out, that in this registration, to insure needed workers to carry on the defense program, farm labor is just as important as industrial labor. Moreover, he said that many workers also have some mechanical training.

Lynn county workers may register in Tahoka on Wednesday afternoons from 1:00 to 3:00 o'clock in the courthouse.

DR. BEESON RELEASED FROM LOCAL CLINIC THURSDAY

Dr. Sam P. Beeson who had been a patient in a local clinic while recovering from injuries suffered in a car wreck near Tahoka in which his wife was killed some two weeks ago was carried to Post in a Harris Ambulance Thursday afternoon where he boarded the train for Houston enroute to his home at Weidon.

Wilson Boxers Coming Thursday

Coach Leo Jackson's Tahoka boxing team will be pitted against Coach Buck Paschall's Wilson fighters in the Tahoka gymnasium on next Thursday night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

There will be at least fourteen scraps scheduled for three rounds each, and Coach Jackson is attempting to get a return engagement between Tech McLaurin of O'Donnell and Dale Odam of Lubbock, as well as between C. G. Welcher of Tahoka and Pat Mitchell of Texas Tech.

Wilson recently had an elimination tournament, and is said to have some boxers who might spring some upsets against Tahoka's star outfit. Admission fees will be only 25 cents for this event.

New Lynn Tops Rural Division

Tahoka High was winner of the all-round Lynn county Interscholastic League championship, contests of the annual county meet having ended last Saturday. The track meet and a few other events had been postponed from the previous week end because of unfavorable weather for outdoor events. O'Donnell, however, nosed out Tahoka in the track meet, but the grand total of points was Tahoka, 160 1/2, O'Donnell, 148.

In the rural school division, New Lynn ran away with top honors after taking a commanding lead in literary events, Tahoka 7th Grade and Tahoka Grade School won first and second, respectively in the Ward school division, and New Home won the all-round championship in the Class B division.

Post Is Planning Rodeo In June

POST—Prize money amounting to $1,300 has been posted by the Post Stampede, Inc., for Post's first "big time" non-professional rodeo to be held here June 6-7. It was announced Monday by officials of the association.

Four feature events, calf roping, wild cow milking, saddle bronc riding and steer riding, have been planned, said G. W. Connell, president of the association. Prizes for these events are as follows:

Prizes for the 2-day calf roping event total $240. First money for each day $45; second, $35; third, $25; fourth, $15. Total day money $120.

Wild cow milking, prizes total $240, as follows: first money for each day, $45; second, $35; third, $25; fourth, $15. Total day money $120.

Saddle bronc riding, total prizes $170. First money each day $35; second, $25; third, $15; fourth, $10. Total day money $85.

Steer riding, total prizes $170. First money each day $35; second, $25; third, $15; fourth, $10. Total day money $85.

A grand prize, $115.00 saddle, for best average in roping, including both calves and cows, is being offered by the association. Second best average in these events will be a prize of $30.

Other prizes include: $25 for best average on bronc riding, $15 second prize.

In the cow-girl's sponsor contest a $115.00 saddle is being offered as top prize. There will also be several other prizes in this contest.

Special prizes totaling $60 will be offered in events being planned for

E. I. Hill Jr. In New Printing Supervisor Job At Washington

Some of the people of Tahoka who have met E. I. Hill, Jr. may be interested in the following information contained in a letter recently received by the editor.

"I have been sent by the Government Printing Office", he states, "to the Defense Savings organization to represent the G. P. O. and to supervise the printing involved."

"You will see some of it about May 1 in the form of a poster in the post office—Defense Savings Stamps and Stamp Albums, Defense Bonds, etc., on sale at the post office."

"I am working with Mr. Harold N. Graves, Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury, and Mr. E. S. Sloan, the Executive Director, as well as Mr. Harford Powell, Director of Information. Mr. Powell is former editor of Collier's Magazine."

"I am to see Mr. Daniel Bell, Under Secretary of the Treasury, tomorrow for his final O. K. for the stamp albums. There will be 30,000,000 of them for a beginning."

E. I. has been working in the Government Printing Office in Washington for more than ten years, during which time he has had some promotions, and has become unusually well acquainted with the work of the Government departments and has naturally had occasion to become acquainted with some of the "big" men in Washington.

Incidentally, he thinks President Roosevelt is about the greatest man that ever went to Washington—he might safely say, The Greatest.

county contestants.

Besides the four main events there will be other special features, including bare-back riding, stunts, and other events which are being planned, to make up a full 2-hour performance for each show, declared Phil S. Bouchier, manager.

A grand parade to precede opening of the first performance is being planned. A number of prizes are to be offered parade entrants.

The rodeo will be staged at the Post high school athletic field where lights are available for night shows. Seating arrangement, including a permanent grandstand for 2,000 people and portable "bleachers" for 1,600 will be provided for this year's show.

May 1, five weeks preceding the rodeo, was set as date at which time everyone will be asked to don western regalia to help advertise the big two day entertainment.

The association, "The Post Stampede, Inc." is being capitalized for $3,500.

Phil S. Bouchier, Post's hard-riding postmaster, is manager of the rodeo.

Advice Is Given On Sale Of Equities

"If you sell your 1940 cotton loan equity, be sure to get all its worth," was the advice Fred M. McGinty, chairman of the Lynn county AAA committee, issued to cotton producers today.

"The relatively high domestic demand for cotton resulting from the defense program and the recent substantial increase in the price of spot cotton have made it possible for cotton producers to dispose of their 1940 cotton equities at substantial profits," the chairman declared.

Reports have reached the county office, however, that certain abuses have developed in the disposal of the equities, particularly in the use of Commodity Credit Corporation Form R, which is provided by the CCC to be used to record the transfer of the producer's interest in the loan to the buyer.

"In some instances," McGinty said, "producers are not receiving the full value of their equities and buyers are purchasing the equities without properly executing the form. The buyers then carry the forms for weeks, awaiting a rise in the market price, and then transfer the forms to a third party without actually ever possessing the cotton."

Common abuses are: Failure to date the document at the time of the sale, failure to insert in the form the exact amount the producer receives for his equity, failure of the first purchaser to sign the document, and failure to leave with the producer the green carbon copy which he should have.

Producers desiring to sell their equities in loan cotton should investigate to make certain they are receiving full value; also, they should be certain that Form R is filled out properly and that they are given their copy.

DINNER PARTY GIVEN TO FACULTY IN SUPT. AND MRS. W. T. HANES NEW HOME

By Ruby Nell Smith
Supt. and Mrs. W. T. Hanes entertained the local faculty with a dinner party Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock in their new home.

Spring flowers were used in decorating the house and center of the tables-for-four. Bridge and forty-two were played following the dinner.

A three course dinner was served to Misses Lucille Hall, Georgia Taylor, Ineva Headrick, Willie Pearl Dockray, Elizabeth McErwin, Lucille Wright, Nellie Mc Leroy, Ruby Nell Smith and Maurine McNatt, Mmes Pauline Walker, Stella Duke and Rafe Richardson, Mr. Lee Doison, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Browning, Leo Jackson, Hope Haynes, John Hamblen, A. L. Pace, A. R. Bostick, John Kirkwood, Roy Finch, Fontaine Wyatt, Deck Dunagan, and L. F. Craft.

Rev and Mrs. A. W. Shewmake recently returned from Dallas, where they had been attending their daughter, Mrs. L. L. Cross, who has been ill for many months, during which time she has undergone five operations, one of the spine and four of the head. She underwent a head operation just a few weeks ago, which seemed to be effective. She had been released from the hospital and the surgeons thought that she would likely have no further trouble when the Shewmakes left there last week.

CARD OF THANKS . . .

I wish to thank all of those who helped to elect me to the office of city marshal for their vote and influence, and to express my feeling of good will and friendship for my opponent and those who supported him.—W. M. Lee.

Claude Conway returned last week end from Abilene, where he has been employed as a barber for a few weeks. Following a brief visit to the Veterans' Hospital in Amarillo within a few days, he expects to go to work again in a barber shop here.

Way "Build-up" Helps Will Interest Women

The cause of a woman's periodic suffering from headache, irritability, cramp-like pain, may be functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, a condition that is often helped by CARDUI.

Principal way CARDUI helps is by stimulating appetite and the flow of gastric juices. Thus it may aid digestion; help build up a woman's strength, energy and nerve-force; so increase physical resistance to periodic discomfort.

It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time." Your confidence in CARDUI is invited by its 50 years of popularity.

If our country should actively enter the war and send troops to fight, and of those troops 153,836 were killed on the field of battle, our grief would be two-fold, for we would think, "How unnecessary was their death! Is there nothing we can do to avoid such horrible death?"

Yet their death cannot be more horrible, more painful, or more unnecessary than the death of that many women in 1939, and a similar number yearly, from the dread cancer. And the soldiers have died for a cause, whether their goal is reached or not, while the women died from lack of early treatment. For with modern knowledge a very great percent of cancer can be cured if treatment is started early enough.

The President of this country has recognized this great scourge, and has designated April as a month when emphasis will be placed on its dangers. The First Lady is head of the National Advisory Board of the Women's Field Army of the Society for the Control of Cancer which is sponsoring the drive.

The most important point stressed for women's protection is a regular yearly examination—a thorough examination by a competent physician. Every woman should study the symptoms of the disease thoroughly, and if she herself shows any of the symptoms at any time, she should report them to her doctor at once.

Literature is easily obtained. Your physician probably can give you pamphlets which will explain some of the symptoms, or you can get them from your county health nurse.

Draw Elects New Superintendent

Durwood Dodson, principal of the Draw-Redwine rural high school for the past four years, recently was elected superintendent of the schools for next year. The News is informed. He will succeed R. K. Green. All other teachers in the schools were re-elected.

Mr. Dodson is a graduate of East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce. He has been active in community affairs and is well known in Lynn county school circles.

Mr. Green, who was largely responsible for building up an excellent rural high school at Draw, has not announced his plans for the future.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM FOR POSTMASTER AT WILSON

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an open competitive examination to fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in Wilson, Texas, in accordance with an Act of Congress approved June 25, 1933.

The examination will be held at the post office in Tahoka, and applications must be filed on or before April 11.

For further information, inquire of A. O. Weaver at the Tahoka post office.

Mrs. H. L. Roddy fell at her home Saturday and sustained a bad sprain of the ankle, and has since been on crutches.

Middleton Dies . . .

Deceased had been a member of the Christian Church since early manhood and had long been a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

He had resided in Lynn county since 1920 and for the past several years in Tahoka. He was highly respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends here and throughout the county.

He left surviving him his aged companion, six sons and four daughters, twenty-five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The sons are G. C. Middleton of Plainview, C. C. Middleton of Haskell, J. T., D. B., and R. M. Middleton of O'Donnell, and F. M. Middleton of Tahoka, Petty community. The daughters are Mrs. Kitty McCracken of Tahoka and Mrs. Elmer Rice of Wilson. A number of them were present at the time of his death, and all of them together with their families attended the funeral.

Mr. Middleton was born at Mt. Calm, Texas, on April 23, 1856, and was therefore almost 85 years of age. He was married in 1886 at Mt. Calm to Miss Elmedy Allen. He and family came to Haskell county many years ago and later he and family moved to the state of Colorado, where they resided three years. Then they came to Lynn county.

Back in the pioneer days of West Texas, he was a cowboy for a time, and in 1885 he made a trip up the Chisholm trail.

He helped to blaze the way for civilization in the West and to make this country what it is today. Many relatives and friends are grieved at his passing.

MRS. BUSBY HONORED

"Grandmother" Busby, mother of E. C. Busby of the Draw community celebrated her eighty-third birthday Tuesday night, April 1. A service was brought to her by the Draw Methodist church, Rev. Jesse Young, pastor. Seventeen were present at the service.

Several nice gifts were presented Mrs. Busby, who has been unable to walk the past two years as the result of two broken hips.

We all wish Grandmother many more birthdays.—Contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer St. Clair of Lamesa visited her mother, Mrs. S. N. McDaniel, and attended church here last Sunday. They report that the First Baptist Church in Lamesa, where they worship, is being improved preparatory to the construction of a new church edifice on the lot. This is to be one of the largest and best church buildings on the plains. Homer is the new president of the Lamesa chamber of commerce.

Many Attending Winter Knight Case

The trial of Winter Knight in a Federal court in Fort Worth for mail fraud in connection with alleged false reports sent the Sinclair Oil Company was not expected to be concluded until the end of this week, relatives of the defendant here said.

Witnesses from Lynn county include Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gaignat, County Judge Chester Connolly, Mayor Deen Nowlin, A. F. Pitts, Oscar Roberts, John Evans, all character witnesses for the defense and Loyd R. McCormick, Walter May, J. T. Johnson, W. C. Carver, T. D. Lishman, Garland and "Red" Curtis, and Rush Dudgeon, who were witnesses for the prosecution but are said to be subject to call as character witnesses for the defense later.

Mr. Knight is represented by Judge G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock and Herman Bailey of Dallas. Clyde O. Eastus, United States District Attorney, is prosecutor.

Mrs. Lockhart and Leroy Knight are also attending the trial.

Raleigh Harter Hurt In Wreck

In the story of the car wreck in which Mrs. Beeson was killed, published in this paper last week, it was stated that Raleigh Harter, driver of the truck which figured in the collision, was practically unhurt.

That was the first report, but it developed later, according to his mother, Mrs. H. C. Harter of this county, that he was rather seriously injured. His neck was dislocated and three ribs were torn loose from the backbone, she states. He is being treated at a Clinic in Big Spring but is not confined to his room, but was not able, she says, to immediately resume his duties as driver of the mail truck which runs between Big Spring and Lubbock.

WAYSIDE H. D. CLUB MET

"In selecting a waffle iron, one should look for these qualities", Miss Maurine McNatt told the women of the Wayside H. D. Club when they met with Mrs. C. L. Patterson Thursday, March 27, with five members and one visitor present.

"First, the outside of the iron should be made of an un tarnishable material, and the waffle plate should be of cast aluminum. Stainless steel will warp. It should have an adjustable hinge; the hinge and cord should be protected.

"The division plates should match perfectly and should not be at the handle. The waffle knobs spaced far apart make a waffle which is moister than those spaced closely. It should have a built-in spill tray. It should have wattage from 500 to 1000.

"A waffle iron should be brushed and wiped with a damp cloth." The next meeting will be with Mrs. Floyd Reece April 10.

WHEAT IS FINE

Jim Wetzel made a business trip to Paducah last week, and he reports that the wheat crop in Floyd and neighboring counties is the finest he has ever seen.

Little wheat is sowed in this county except small patches for grazing purposes, and these are showing up well.

EVANS CAFE CLOSES

L. C. Evans, who operated a cafe here for several months on the west side of the square, closed his business on Thursday of last week and left for Kilgore in the oil fields of East Texas, where it is understood he intended to open a cafe.

Mary Margaret Tunnell, daughter of Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell of Tahoka, made the fall semester honor roll at Texas Technological College with an average grade of A.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herman of Borger spent the week end in the home of her grandfather, C. E. Ganaway, of the New Home community, who is seriously ill.

Congratulations . . .

To Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams on the birth of an eight and one-fourth pound daughter last Thursday at the home of his parents near Tahoka. The little girl has been named Betsey Ruth.

To Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elom Everett of O'Donnell on the birth of a son, Bobby Roy, March 31.

O'DANIEL LAYS ON THE LASH

Governor O'Daniel unmercifully castigated legislators two years ago who did not agree with him and he got by with it. The people vindicated him at the polls last year. He started out this year with a conciliatory attitude toward members of the legislature.

But recently he abandoned that attitude and again took up the lash. For the past two Sundays he has been undertaking to lash the legislators into line for the support of his program of legislation whether they believe it to be wise or unwise. However the people may feel about this matter, they should keep the record straight in their own minds and thinking.

At the beginning of the session, as is known to everybody who reads the news from Austin, Governor O'Daniel denounced the appropriation of money from the general revenue fund when the money is not in sight with which to cover the appropriation, and he submitted a bill which would require a certificate showing that the money is in the treasury before any appropriation is made.

There was then and still is a deficit of about $26,000,000 in the general revenue fund. In other words there was and still is about 26 million dollars less than nothing in this fund. Governor O'Daniel well knew that this deficit existed when he made his recommendation and submitted his bill.

He also submitted a bill providing for a transactions tax which, it is claimed, would have provided seventy to eighty million dollars a year. This was virtually the same proposal that he made at the beginning of his first term. It found practically no support among the legislators. It is such an astounding proposal that it has received very little support among the present legislators. It soon became apparent that no such measure is likely to pass.

Then the Governor submitted a bill proposing that about $27,000,000 be appropriated out of an empty treasury—i. e., out of a treasury that is already $26,000,000 in the hole—for the payment of larger pensions to the aged and to meet other social security demands.

This was a complete reversal of the position he took at the beginning of the session.

Legislators might have been willing to appropriate comparatively small sums out of a depleted treasury to meet an immediate need, but the appropriation of $27,000,000 out of an empty treasury evidently seemed to them to be the height of folly.

Accordingly a majority of the members of the lower house administered to the proposal a stunning blow.

And that is when Governor O'Daniel got up on his dew-claws.

According to press reports, he made a spirited attack on the legislators who voted against the measure in his radio broadcast of Sunday, March 23. Then on last Sunday, he made a more vicious attack upon them.

We have not taken the trouble to find out how our own legislator voted on this matter. It may be that he voted with the Governor and did not therefore come under the Governor's lash. We have no information whatever on this point.

But we have always taken the position, and still take the position that the legislators have the same right to their opinion that the Governor has to his. And it is possible that their position is the sound one and his the foolish.

He is no paragon of wisdom. Many of the legislators are far more capable and wise in the matter of statecraft than he is.

Neither does he have any monopoly on the virtue of honesty. There are other honest men in Austin, and in the legislature.

We think that the legislators should go right along doing what they believe to be right and wise, and then boldly and courageously carry their cause to the people, if and when that becomes necessary.

In the meantime, we wonder if the Governor is fishing for a third term.

We think Governor Lee O'Daniel and the lower house of the legislature are to be commended for their positive stand in favor of suppressing strikes that may be started or fomented in Texas for the purpose of hindering the National Defense program. We have an idea that the state senate will likewise act on the pending measure at an early date.

We are beginning to wonder if the C. I. O. is bigger than the United States Government.

PENSIONS

E. I. Hill of The Tahoka News objects to giving every man and woman over 65 years of age—rich or poor—a pension. And we do too. Why not just give every man and woman over 60 years of age a pension of $40.00 or $50.00 a month—who pay no income tax. Just make the income tax the dividing line and save all this trouble of sending out inspectors to find out who is deserving of a pension. No trouble would be accounted for the reason, every county seat in the nation will have a record as to who did or did not pay an income tax. This would eliminate half of the expense and give only the deserving a pension and at the same time eliminate the rich who need no pension. Well, Federal pensions are coming, anyway. President Roosevelt has asked for it, and our President ALWAYS gets what he goes after. Are you on?—Claude News.

Well, your suggestion is some better. Mr. Waggoner, than just throwing the whole thing wide open to everybody. Your plan at least would cut off the wealthy from the free feed trough. But there are plenty of people who neither pay an income tax nor need a pension. They are able to make their own way in life, or have a living already made. Why should the Government pay them anything? Furthermore, if your money theory is correct, why stop at $40 or $50 per month? Why not set the printing presses to running turning out paper money and pay to everybody past 45 or 50 years of age two or three hundred dollars per month? That should enable all of us to ride high, wide, and handsome.

Old Benito Mussolini entered this war like a roaring lion. It seems he is about to be driven out of it like a bedraggled old cur. He has had his ears chewed off in Northern Africa, in Eastern Africa, in Albania, and now on the Mediterranean. We are sorry for his soldiers and his sailors whom he has sent into the jaws of death, but as for old Muss himself, he has not yet gotten half of what is coming to him.

We don't know all about the legal aspects of our action in seizing those German and Italian ships in our ports, but Cordell Hull says that such action was both legal and necessary, and we have great confidence in the integrity and judgment of Cordell Hull. Germany and Italy have entered protests but we guess they will get no comfort from the answer that will be given them.

Those Yugoslavians seem to have thrown a monkey wrench into Adolf Hitler's machinery. It is evident that he must now start a war in the Balkans or stand still in his tracks. He can't afford to stand still. He may fight, and he may win, but we bet he wishes he had gone a little slower in Yugoslavia.

Queen OF THE Silver Screen?
 It's HARD to tell...but EASY to pick a winning oil

HOLLYWOOD KNOWS there is no royal road to finding future movie stars, no sure-fire plan for picking tomorrow's box office favorites. But when you want a top-ranking performer among lubricants, you don't have to make expensive "tests"... you need not depend on mere surface appearance. This is why:

Phillips, the great independent of the petroleum industry, with a well-earned reputation for giving greater value, makes this straightforward statement: If you want our best oil, remember we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer.

Every time a new 1,000-mile mark clicks up on your speedometer, play safe with your motor by draining and refilling with fresh lubricant. And play fair with your budget by asking for Phillips 66 Motor Oil at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

We have no intention of converting this column into one of continued stories, but we left that young fellow Joseph in a bad fix last week—a slave down in Egypt, a servant in the house of Capt. Potiphar.

It is not recorded that Joseph ever tried to escape. There were good reasons for his not attempting to do so. To the west of Egypt lay the dreary stretches of the Lybian Desert. To the south, up the Nile River for a thousand miles, there was nothing except the Nile and the Egyptians; beyond that were only kinky-headed Ethiopians. To the east lay the vast Arabian Desert, inhabited only by untamed Arabs and other war-like tribes, and further north, toward Canaan, were the blood-thirsty Ishmaelites. To the northeast of Egypt, nearer the coast, were the fierce Philistines; and then, back at home, were Joseph's wicked, jealous brothers.

So, they needed no Fugitive Slave laws and no Dred Scott decisions to keep Joseph in bondage. Besides, in Captain Potiphar's mansion, Joseph was living in the finest house he had ever seen perhaps, with the exception of Pharaoh's Palace and possibly a few other public buildings in the Egyptian capital, which probably at that time was Memphis.

And so Joseph had the good sense to undertake to make the best possible of a bad situation. It was just in his nature to be friendly and industrious anyway. It was not long until he had made friends of the whole army of servants about the place and of Captain and Mrs. Potiphar themselves. So, they soon began to give Joseph promotions, and in the course of time the Captain made Joseph "overseer over his house" and custodian of all his goods and finally the superintendent of all his property of every kind. "And Joseph was a goodly person and well favored."

And then it was that Joseph got into trouble. He evidently was a handsome fellow and Mrs. Potiphar became infatuated with him. She tried to "vamp" him. But he rebuffed her. With all her alluring arts and her dark Egyptian beauty she persisted in her efforts to entice him. Most youths doubtless would have yielded to her charms. But young Joseph had ideas of virtue and honor of his own. He flatly told her that he could not betray the confidence of his master, her husband, and asked, "How then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?"

But day after day she persisted in her dark designs, and day after day he rebuffed her. At last, one day, when he went into the house in the regular performance of his duties and when no others were inside, she followed him, caught him by the garment, and when he again refused, she tore the garment from him as he fled, and then cried out to the men on the outside that this hateful Hebrew had tried to violate her virtue.

When Captain Potiphar came in that night, she made a similar report to him and showed to him Joseph's garment left in her possession. Convinced and furious, Captain Potiphar promptly threw the young fellow into jail, a dark dungeon where criminals and others who had offended against him or the king were imprisoned.

By the way, Mrs. Potiphar was not the last of her line. She still has kinfolks living in the world today.

Did Joseph languish and pine away there in that jail? Not a bit of it. He promptly made a friend of the jailer, and the jailer made a "trusty" of him. More than that, pretty soon he made Joseph overseer of all the prisoners. So while this jailer was off attending all the races and boxing contests and barbecues and other places of amusement—we don't believe they had baseball nor football nor motion picture shows in Egypt; at that time—but while this jailer was out seeing everything there was to be seen, Joseph was looking after the prisoners.

Joseph was something of a seer too. Pharaoh's butler and his baker had offended the king in some way—perhaps he suspected that they were scheming to put poison into his tea or wine, his bacon, or his beans, or something—and so, Hitler-like, he threw them down into the dungeon with Joseph.

One night the butler had a strange dream, which he told to Joseph. Then Joseph proceeded to interpret the dream, and the interpretation pleased the butler very much, for Joseph told him that the dream meant that within three days he was to be taken out of prison and restored to his position as cup-bearer for the king.

Then the baker also had a dream and he asked Joseph to interpret it. Joseph told him that his dream meant that within three days Pharaoh would have him lifted up by the head and hanged to a tree and that the vultures would come and eat his flesh from his bones.

And, as Joseph had foretold, the butler was restored to his job and the baker was hanged.

But, when Joseph interpreted the butler's dream, he exacted a promise from that gentleman that when restored to his former position he would make entreaty to the king in Joseph's behalf.

But when the butler got pardoned and was reinstated in the king's graces, he promptly forgot all about Joseph and never said a word to the king about his benefactor. He had about as much gratitude in him as a leech.

So, they kept Joseph in the 'og house two years longer—that is, either in the dungeon or as a trusty looking after the other prisoners. He probably never would have gotten out, looking at it from the human standpoint, if Pharaoh himself hadn't taken to dreaming.

He got to dreaming about the cows and the corn. You remember about it—that strange dream about the seven lank, lean old long-horns eating up the seven sleek, fat prize-winners, and about the seven thin, blasted ears of corn devouring the seven rank, good ears. Only, this was not Indian corn, such as they raise over in Terry county, for America had not been discovered at that time. It doubtless was wheat, which the Englishmen called corn at the time they translated the Bible for his Majesty King James.

Those dreams troubled Pharaoh. Of course he was not superstitious, but he couldn't get those dreams off his mind. He couldn't imagine what they meant, if anything. Finally he called in all the magicians and the soothsayers and the clairvoyants and the fortune tellers of Egypt and told them his dreams but none of them could give him an interpretation thereof.

Then, all of a sudden, that Butler remembered about Joseph and how he had interpreted a dream for him. He told old Pharaoh all about it, and Pharaoh sent for the fellow. They hurried down to the dungeon and brought him up. Joseph begged for a razor, got himself a clean shave, doubtless took a bath, put on his clean clothes, and all tidied up, for he was going to stand before the king!

And they brought Joseph up to the throne room.

And Joseph did stand before the king.

And the king on his throne sat at the feet, as it were, of a real man, upon whom was the grace and the wisdom of God!

And Pharaoh, perplexed and perturbed, told unto this humble Hebrew the strange dreams that he had had, which all the magicians of Egypt were unable to interpret, "and I understand that you can interpret dreams," he said, or words to that effect.

And Joseph calmly answered, "It is not in me; God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace."

And when Pharaoh had finished, Joseph proceeded to tell Pharaoh the meaning of his dreams, stating that they meant there were to be seven years of abundant crops and of plenty throughout all the land of Egypt, which were to be followed by seven years of famine.

And then he proceeded to give to the astounded king some very wise and timely advice.

"Let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt," he said. "And let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seven plentiful years. And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities. And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land perish not through the famine."

Thus, three thousand years ago, Joseph suggested the first national agricultural program recorded in history.

Pharaoh and all his official advisers and helpers were astounded. Then Pharaoh said to them, in substance, Did you ever hear anything like that? Can we find such wisdom in any other man in all Egypt? Why, the very Spirit of God is in him!

And they all agreed.

Then Pharaoh said to Joseph: Since your God has showed to you all these things, there is no man in Egypt so discreet and wise as you. Therefore I am going to appoint you Prime Minister of Egypt and impose upon you the responsibility of administering this program you have outlined, and your word shall be law among all the people of Egypt. Only I on my throne shall have more authority than you.

And as official confirmation of the appointment, "Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain about his neck; and he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, Bow the knee; and he made him ruler over all the land of Egypt."

A great inauguration ceremony it was that they pulled off in old Memphis that day!

And Pharaoh concluded this inaugural address made to Joseph on that day with these words: "I am Pharaoh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Egypt."

More than that, Pharaoh hunted out the queenliest woman in Egypt to be Joseph's wife, Asenath, daughter of the priest of On, a city near Memphis. Her father was the chief priest of such religious worship as the Egyptians engaged in, the worship of the great sun god, but Asenath in time doubtless became a worshiper of the only true God, Jehovah, and she became the mother of two children of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasseh, the progenitors of two of the tribes of Israel.

The manner in which Joseph administered the New Deal in Egypt and the circumstances under which he became the benefactor of the wicked brothers who had sold him into slavery constitute another story, a story as thrilling as any to be found in all history or even in modern fiction.

And then it was that Joseph got into trouble. He evidently was a handsome fellow and Mrs. Potiphar became infatuated with him. She tried to "vamp" him. But he rebuffed her. With all her alluring arts and her dark Egyptian beauty she persisted in her efforts to entice him. Most youths doubtless would have yielded to her charms. But young Joseph had ideas of virtue and honor of his own. He flatly told her that he could not betray the confidence of his master, her husband, and asked, "How then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?"

But day after day she persisted in her dark designs, and day after day he rebuffed her. At last, one day, when he went into the house in the regular performance of his duties and when no others were inside, she followed him, caught him by the garment, and when he again refused, she tore the garment from him as he fled, and then cried out to the men on the outside that this hateful Hebrew had tried to violate her virtue.

When Captain Potiphar came in that night, she made a similar report to him and showed to him Joseph's garment left in her possession. Convinced and furious, Captain Potiphar promptly threw the young fellow into jail, a dark dungeon where criminals and others who had offended against him or the king were imprisoned.

By the way, Mrs. Potiphar was not the last of her line. She still has kinfolks living in the world today.

Did Joseph languish and pine away there in that jail? Not a bit of it. He promptly made a friend of the jailer, and the jailer made a "trusty" of him. More than that, pretty soon he made Joseph overseer of all the prisoners. So while this jailer was off attending all the races and boxing contests and barbecues and other places of amusement—we don't believe they had baseball nor football nor motion picture shows in Egypt; at that time—but while this jailer was out seeing everything there was to be seen, Joseph was looking after the prisoners.

Joseph was something of a seer too. Pharaoh's butler and his baker had offended the king in some way—perhaps he suspected that they were scheming to put poison into his tea or wine, his bacon, or his beans, or something—and so, Hitler-like, he threw them down into the dungeon with Joseph.

One night the butler had a strange dream, which he told to Joseph. Then Joseph proceeded to interpret the dream, and the interpretation pleased the butler very much, for Joseph told him that the dream meant that within three days he was to be taken out of prison and restored to his position as cup-bearer for the king.

Then the baker also had a dream and he asked Joseph to interpret it. Joseph told him that his dream meant that within three days Pharaoh would have him lifted up by the head and hanged to a tree and that the vultures would come and eat his flesh from his bones.

And, as Joseph had foretold, the butler was restored to his job and the baker was hanged.

But, when Joseph interpreted the butler's dream, he exacted a promise from that gentleman that when restored to his former position he would make entreaty to the king in Joseph's behalf.

But when the butler got pardoned and was reinstated in the king's graces, he promptly forgot all about Joseph and never said a word to the king about his benefactor. He had about as much gratitude in him as a leech.

So, they kept Joseph in the 'og house two years longer—that is, either in the dungeon or as a trusty looking after the other prisoners. He probably never would have gotten out, looking at it from the human standpoint, if Pharaoh himself hadn't taken to dreaming.

He got to dreaming about the cows and the corn. You remember about it—that strange dream about the seven lank, lean old long-horns eating up the seven sleek, fat prize-winners, and about the seven thin, blasted ears of corn devouring the seven rank, good ears. Only, this was not Indian corn, such as they raise over in Terry county, for America had not been discovered at that time. It doubtless was wheat, which the Englishmen called corn at the time they translated the Bible for his Majesty King James.

Those dreams troubled Pharaoh. Of course he was not superstitious, but he couldn't get those dreams off his mind. He couldn't imagine what they meant, if anything. Finally he called in all the magicians and the soothsayers and the clairvoyants and the fortune tellers of Egypt and told them his dreams but none of them could give him an interpretation thereof.

Then, all of a sudden, that Butler remembered about Joseph and how he had interpreted a dream for him. He told old Pharaoh all about it, and Pharaoh sent for the fellow. They hurried down to the dungeon and brought him up. Joseph begged for a razor, got himself a clean shave, doubtless took a bath, put on his clean clothes, and all tidied up, for he was going to stand before the king!

And they brought Joseph up to the throne room.

And Joseph did stand before the king.

And the king on his throne sat at the feet, as it were, of a real man, upon whom was the grace and the wisdom of God!

And Pharaoh, perplexed and perturbed, told unto this humble Hebrew the strange dreams that he had had, which all the magicians of Egypt were unable to interpret, "and I understand that you can interpret dreams," he said, or words to that effect.

And Joseph calmly answered, "It is not in me; God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace."

And when Pharaoh had finished, Joseph proceeded to tell Pharaoh the meaning of his dreams, stating that they meant there were to be seven years of abundant crops and of plenty throughout all the land of Egypt, which were to be followed by seven years of famine.

And then he proceeded to give to the astounded king some very wise and timely advice.

"Let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt," he said. "And let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seven plentiful years. And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities. And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land perish not through the famine."

Thus, three thousand years ago, Joseph suggested the first national agricultural program recorded in history.

Pharaoh and all his official advisers and helpers were astounded. Then Pharaoh said to them, in substance, Did you ever hear anything like that? Can we find such wisdom in any other man in all Egypt? Why, the very Spirit of God is in him!

And they all agreed.

Then Pharaoh said to Joseph: Since your God has showed to you all these things, there is no man in Egypt so discreet and wise as you. Therefore I am going to appoint you Prime Minister of Egypt and impose upon you the responsibility of administering this program you have outlined, and your word shall be law among all the people of Egypt. Only I on my throne shall have more authority than you.

And as official confirmation of the appointment, "Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain about his neck; and he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, Bow the knee; and he made him ruler over all the land of Egypt."

A great inauguration ceremony it was that they pulled off in old Memphis that day!

And Pharaoh concluded this inaugural address made to Joseph on that day with these words: "I am Pharaoh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Egypt."

More than that, Pharaoh hunted out the queenliest woman in Egypt to be Joseph's wife, Asenath, daughter of the priest of On, a city near Memphis. Her father was the chief priest of such religious worship as the Egyptians engaged in, the worship of the great sun god, but Asenath in time doubtless became a worshiper of the only true God, Jehovah, and she became the mother of two children of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasseh, the progenitors of two of the tribes of Israel.

The manner in which Joseph administered the New Deal in Egypt and the circumstances under which he became the benefactor of the wicked brothers who had sold him into slavery constitute another story, a story as thrilling as any to be

MM Simplicity Is a Money Making Factor

Cultivator Facts for Your Benefit

Simplicity of Assembly—Only three slip pins are needed to mount each gang. A 2-row cultivator can be made into a 4-row cultivator by merely adding two outside gangs.

Simplicity of Construction—The individual cultivator gangs are supported through the parallel links by a heavy 2 1/2" square pipe which is attached flexibly to the tractor. Note the wide use of steel construction.

Quick Action—Power lift raises or lowers gangs quickly at row ends. 2 and 4-row power lift cultivator and 2-row hand lift cultivator are available.

Easy Row Spacing Adjustment is accomplished by merely sliding gangs along gang frame pipe as desired.

A Gentle Laxative Good For Children

Most any child who takes this tasty laxative once will welcome it the next time he's constipated and it has him headachy, cross, listless, with bad breath, coated tongue or little appetite.

Syrup of Black-Draught is a tasty liquid companion to the famous BLACK-DRAUGHT. The principal ingredient is the same in both products; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

The Syrup's flavor appeals to most children, and, given by the usual directions, its action is usually gentle, but thorough. Remember Syrup of Black-Draught next time. Two sizes: 50c and 25c.

Move Is Started For Air Field Near Here

A move was started Thursday at the Rotary Club meeting preparatory to the filing of an application for the location of an advance pilot training field near Tahoka. If an option can be secured on desirable tracts of land.

It is said that such a field, at which about 500 pilots will be stationed, will be located somewhere on the South Plains, outside the immediate Lubbock area, in the very near future. Applications for the field are being filed by Brownfield, Seagraves, Lamesa, Odessa, and Plainview, and it is not entirely improbable that Tahoka has the kind of site the Government is looking for.

Working on the project is a committee composed of Mayor Deem Nowlin, Truett Smith, Kenneth Reid, Prentice Walker, and Conway Clingan, from the Rotary Club, and Lee King.

Action on the proposition came Thursday after Reid and King had appeared on the Rotary Club program in interest of making application for the project. They had already been working on the proposition and gave the Rotary Club an insight into the necessary procedure and all the facts they had been able to get on the proposed air field. Since Tahoka is located on the Big Spring and Lubbock airplane radio beam, they think Tahoka likely of receiving favorable attention from its application if an option can be received on a section of land for the base and two quarter section tracts for auxiliary landing fields.

Supt. W. T. Hanes proposed the sponsoring of a citizenship recognition day in Tahoka for all the new voters in Lynn county late in May, at which time young folks coming of age would be specially honored and instructed in the duties of citizenship.

County Agent Don Turner announced the second annual Farmer-Business Man banquet, to be held in the form of a barbecue this year, on the night of Thursday, April 17, and the Rotary Club voted to dispense with its regular meeting on that day and to attend the Farmer meeting in a body.

GALLAGHER'S CHANCES THOUGHT BETTER

The condition of Winfield Gallagher remains serious, Mrs. Gallagher informed the News Thursday, but physician at Big Spring, where he is under treatment, said that his determination to get well made chances of recovery greater.

Mr. Gallagher was moved to a Big Spring Hospital Saturday from Ranger, because the nature of his illness was such that specialists there are better able to treat him. He was stricken with paralysis last week in Cisco, and although the paralysis is gone, and he is conscious at most times, his condition is very grave.

NEW HOME CHURCH COMPLETED

The New Home Methodist church will be finished by Sunday morning and opening services will be held at 11:00 o'clock, with Rev. Ben Hardy as speaker. An afternoon service will be held at 3:00 o'clock, and night services begin at 7:30. Rev. J. R. Wood is pastor. Everyone is urged to attend.

The church is also announcing the opening of a revival meeting, starting Sunday and extending through Easter Sunday. The pastor will do the preaching.

MRS. HAYS LIKES PLAINS

Mrs. M. E. Hayes of Wells was a pleasant caller in the News office. She had returned on the previous Wednesday from a three months' visit with three of her daughters in the Donna section. Meses. Florence Waldrip, A. P. Cause, W. A. Ledbetter, and with several granddaughters. She said that the sun shone all day only thirteen times while she was there and that she had seen so much water that it was a treat to come back to the Plains.

Mrs. E. J. Cooper and her granddaughter, Peggy Ann Nowlin, plan to leave today for Pine Bluff, Arkansas, to visit Mrs. Cooper's daughter.

Claude Donaldson, Kelly Hill, Curtis Stevens and Hercul Roberts attended a district sales meeting of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company in Lubbock Wednesday night.

BAPTISTS TO ORGANIZE MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

A movement was started here Sunday for the organization of a Men's Brotherhood in the local church.

A general arrangement committee, consisting of John Roberts, L. D. Howell, and E. I. Hill was appointed by the Board of Deacons to provide for a meeting of the men of the church on Monday night, April 21, at which time organization is to be effected.

A banquet, or at least refreshments, will be served at that time and a visiting speaker will be heard. Truett Smith will act as toastmaster.

A committee on nominations to make recommendation of permanent officers consists of H. P. Caveness, E. J. Cooper, and Garland Pennington.

Every adult male member of the church will be urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. King of Portales, New Mexico, came down and spent the week end with his parents and the Prestons here. They were accompanied to Tahoka by Miss Margaret Preston, who has been visiting with them the past several weeks. Mr. King is farming near Portales and is well pleased with the country.

W. S. Boyett, minister of the Brownfield Church of Christ, and C. B. Middleton, minister of the Church of Christ in Sheridan, Wyoming, accompanied by their wives, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Long Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Newton and Mrs. Bryan of Sherman accompanied Rev. Dale to Tahoka Thursday for the funeral of Mrs. A. A. Mourfield. They returned immediately to Sherman where Rev. Dale is conducting a two week's revival.

Mrs. S. N. McDaniel left Tuesday for McAllen where she will spend some time visiting her daughter Mrs. J. Anson Coughran and family. She expects to visit at San Antonio and other points in that section while away.

Mrs. George Birdwell of Lubbock spent the week-end here with Mrs. H. C. Harter and her little son Jimmy, who is residing with Mrs. Harter, his grandmother.

H. L. McMillan arrived Sunday morning from Cleveland, Oklahoma where he has been employed and expects to remain here with his family for several weeks.

Mack's Food Store Closed Saturday

Leon McPherson, who has been operating Mack's Food Store on the south side of the square for the past several months, has closed the store and will remove the stock of goods to Levelland, where his brother, J. B. McPherson, is operating a store.

Leon is an aggressive young business man but he found competition here so keen that it was difficult for him to get a real foothold. It can be truthfully said that Tahoka is blessed with an abundance of progressive and up-to-the-minute grocery stores, with prices that can't be beat, and they have attracted quite a bit of business to Tahoka that otherwise might have gone elsewhere.

Gayle Magourik, who has had charge of the market in Mack's Food Store, has gone back to Lubbock.

Mr. McPherson will probably remove to Levelland.

BAPTIST W. M. U.

At a benefit Silver Tea in the home of Mrs. Jim Burleson Monday evening Mrs. L. Lumsden of Wilson, District W. M. U. President explained the origin, purpose, and some of the present and future plans of the Margaret Fund Committee. Through this committee the education and the happiness and well-being of the children of the Baptist Missionaries on all fields are looked after while the parents are in service.

A love offering was made and refreshments were served to members of the four circles and the Y. W. A. of the local W. M. U. and to Mrs. Lumsden and Mrs. Frank Fletcher, both of Wilson.

LOCAL PEOPLE ON KFYO

Those listening to the series of programs on "Food and Feed for the Farm Family" will hear Beth Shepherd, 4-H Club member of Grassland and Miss McNatt over K. F. Y. O. on April 7, at 1:40 P. M. in a discussion on gardening in this section.

Last week in reporting the fact that Dewell Cheatham was now employed by Douglas Aircraft in California, The News stated that his wife had recently joined him there. The fact is, her mother, Mrs. Tinsley, says, she went to California with him in January. The News is glad to correct this statement. We still make mistakes.

A. B. Sanders of Donna has been given a 3-year contract to again head the Donna schools. The contract included an increase in salary and other considerations, it was reported. Sanders was principal of the Tahoka schools about 14 years ago and is well known here.

W. D. McMillan of Crosbyton was here this first of the week visiting in the home of his brother H. L. McMillan.

"Build-Up" Important Protector of Women

A weak, undernourished condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get a foothold; thus leads to much of woman's suffering from headaches, nervousness, and other periodic discomfort.

CARDUI's principal help for such distress comes from the way it usually stimulates appetite; increases flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion; helps build energy, strength, physical resistance to periodic pain for many.

Another way, many women find help for periodic distress: Take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

Mrs. Watley will be better known as Miss Sylvia Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Jenkins of this county.

VISIT IN CORSICANA

Messrs B. J. Mabry and O. J. Warren left for Corsicana early Tuesday where their wives were visiting. They were accompanied by Nelson Mabry, Jackie, and Miss Alleen Warren.

Dr. W. F. Fry, instructor at the Texas Tech the past few years and for many years head of the Bible Department in old Simmons College, Abilene, is reported to be seriously ill at his home in Lubbock. He has spoken in Tahoka a number of times and has some warm friends here who will regret to learn of his critical condition.

Edith Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Robertson of Tahoka, made the fall semester honor roll at Texas Technological College with an average grade of A-.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Cooper plan to leave today for Collin County where they will visit Mrs. Cooper's parents.

Draw Methodists Hold Homecoming

The Draw-Redwine churches enjoyed the day together at Draw Sunday, the occasion being "Homecoming Day" for former members of Draw Methodist Church, according to Rev. Jesse Young, the progressive pastor.

"Some of my former members of the Draw Church were present to enjoy fellowship with friends," Brother Young stated.

"Rev. Ben Hardy of Tahoka," he continued, "brought a very timely and soul-stirring message Sunday morning on 'Work'."

"Lunch was served in the church for all, and some said, they never saw so much good to eat."

"In the afternoon Rev. W. L.

Proper Pruning Of Shrubs Necessary

Permanent beauty in shrub planting depends upon proper pruning. Improper pruning of shrubs and trees make it necessary to replant every few years or to tolerate an ugly unsightly planting. Pruning when incorrectly done, may be as bad if not worse, than not pruning at all.

Several of the Tenant Purchase families, and other families living in Tahoka have already done their pruning. I am sure many more plan to do some pruning soon.

Pruning is done for the following reasons:

1. To remove dead, diseased, or injured branches.
2. To control the shape of the plant.
3. To regenerate old plants.
4. To influence flowering and fruiting.
5. To maintain balance between stems and roots in transplanting.

When you prune, remove all dead, diseased, injured wood. Be sure not to cut away the trees or shrubs to such an extent that it will ruin the natural shape and beauty of the tree or shrub as several have already done in Lynn County. The beauty of trees and shrubs are ruined more by improper pruning than anything else.

We enjoy trees and shrubs from the standpoint of beauty more than anything else. Then if we spoil the beauty of our trees and shrubs by improper pruning we have destroyed one of the purposes of trees and shrubs.

(Billie) Porterfield of Blackwell, Texas, a former member of the Draw Church, who surrendered to preach while living here, brought a message that will long be remembered by all present on "The Way in Which the Christian Follows Christ."

The Church was organized in March, 1907, by Rev. J. O. Gore, with four members, Brother Young states. They were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Waller, Miss Emily Waller, and Mrs. Kattie LeMond. Miss Emily Waller is the only charter member living, and was present.

The Church has had twenty pastors, and five preachers have gone out from the body and are making good: Rev. G. P. McCollum of the First Church, Gainesville; Rev. Claud LeMond, Pollett; Rev. W. L. Porterfield, Blackwell; Rev. Burven Caswell, Aztec, N. M.; and Rev. John Sewell, serving in Louisiana.

The Redwine Church (Baptist) has sent out three preachers and two girls for special missionary work. "God has honored these communities in calling their sons and daughters into this high calling," he observed.

Draw and Redwine are close neighbors and really constitute a single community, and it is indeed remarkable that this one rural community should have sent forth into the big world eight of her sons as ministers of the gospel. We doubt if that record can be duplicated by a like community anywhere in Texas.

It has been suggested that the Draw Church shall make this Homecoming an annual affair, and that a time be set soon for the next one.

MIDWAY CLUB STUDIES ELECTRIC MIXERS

"In buying an electric mixer, these are some of the things you would look for," stated Miss Maurine McNatt, home demonstration agent, in the home of Mrs. Henry Warren March 28.

"It doesn't matter a great deal what material the mixer is made of, or what finish it has, because all of them are good. You do want to look out for these points, however.

"It should have an automatic speed control, with full power on all speeds, that is, when the speed is cut down to one or two it should still have full speed power; which means that it will not choke down, although it is at low speed.

"A detachable motor will enable the user to carry the beater to the stove, a table, or any work surface. This will also save dish washing, since the food which is being prepared would not necessarily need to be placed in the mixing bowl.

"The revolving platform is best, however; most all mixers now have this feature.—Reporter.

REV. DALE IS CONDUCTING REVIVAL IN SHERMAN

Rev. George A. Dale left Monday morning for Sherman, where he was scheduled to conduct a two weeks revival meeting at the North Park Baptist Church in that city.

Announcement was made Sunday that County Attorney Virgil Crawford of Brownfield will fill the pulpit here next Sunday at both the morning and evening services. He is said to be a most capable and interesting speaker.

On the following Sunday, Rev. Hubert Foust, pastor at Southland, will preach at both hours.

COY FIELDS' BROTHER IN BOMBARDMENT DEPT.

Lieutenant Leo Fielder, late of Kelly Field, San Antonio, was here Sunday visiting his brother, Coy Fielder, before leaving for Tacoma, Washington, where he has been assigned to the bombardment detachment in the aviation service.

Lieutenant Fielder was reared at Hamlin. He took his aviation training in the Army Air Corps at Kelly Field. He is now a well-trained aviator, prepared to do effective work in possibly the most important department of military service.

VISITING IN EAST TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris are visiting relatives and friends in Sulphur Springs, Naples, Gladewater, and other points in East Texas and will not be home until some time next week, according to word received from them by W. O. Robertson.

They left Sunday for Rolf, Oklahoma, to look after business matters following the recent death of Mrs. Harris' brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Keiso, and it will be necessary for them to make another visit to Rolf before returning home.

Jellied Cheese Salad Broadcast by Mary Lee Taylor April 3, 1941

- 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 1/2 cups grated American cheese (1 1/2 lb.)
- 1/4 cup Pet Milk
- 1/4 cup bottled mayonnaise
- 3 tablespoons salad oil
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced, stuffed olives
- 1/4 cup shredded raw carrot

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Let stand while preparing the following mix together: grated cheese and milk. Cook over boiling water until cheese melts and mixture is smooth. Remove from heat and gradually stir in gelatin mixture. Let stand. Put mayonnaise in bowl. Stir in salad oil. Add vinegar, salt and pepper and mix thoroughly. Stir into gelatin mixture. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Meanwhile rub an 8 1/2-inch ring mold with salad oil. Arrange 1/4 cup sliced olives in circle in bottom of mold. Fold into chilled gelatin mixture remaining 1/4 cup olives and the shredded carrot. Continue chilling until almost firm. Put into prepared mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and fill center with shredded lettuce or other salad greens, if desired. Serves 6.

*Processed cheese of the pasteurized variety may be used if it is finely diced.

All the old members of the board were re-elected without opposition with the exception of the member from Hockley county, Bert Eads, who had an opponent in the person of Walter Miller of that county. Tellers reported that Eads received 52 votes and Miller 38. All the other members were given 90 votes each.
The re-elected board consists of John Heck of Wilson, J. F. Maxey of Garza county, James F. Daniel of Terry county, Bert Eads of Hockley county, C. M. Burton of Dawson county, Frank Harris representing south Dawson and Martin counties, A. R. Hensley representing south Lynn and Borden counties.
The president and other officers of the body are elected by the board of directors and at a meeting of the board in the Lyntegar offices following the general meeting in the theatre John Heck was re-elected president; C. M. Burton, vice president; and A. R. Hensley, secretary-treasurer. Garland Pennington is superintendent.

Following the distribution of some prizes at the meeting in the theatre, a picture pertaining to the State Fair, Dallas, was presented to the crowd with the compliments of Mr. English, and this was followed by a picture furnished by the Washington organization setting forth life on a typical farm before the coming of electricity and since. Its title was "Power and the Land."

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble attended the annual stockholders meeting of the Gin Service and Supply Co. in Houston on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. They represented the Farmers' Co-op of Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Barksdale of Canyon visited their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hanes here last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Thomas left Tuesday morning for a few days visit with relatives at Ponder in Denton county and at other places.
