School District Retires Bonds 17 Years Before Due

Bonds issued to build the old Tahoka school buildings, the last one not due until 1960, have been paid off, Carl Griffing, secretary and tax collector of the school district, announces.

Paying off bonds before they are due has cut the Tahoka district's indebtedness considerably and effected a tremendous saving in interest on the bonds.

Following the erection of the new grade school building in 1935, the district had $170,000 in bonds outstanding, but in only eight years the school board has cut this indebtedness to $123,000, a total of $47,000 in bonds having been retired in this period. In addition to this, the board expects to retire another $2,500 in bonds this spring.

Retirement of the bonds was made possible to a large extent through delinquent tax collections. On the other hand, saving in interest has made possible the release of other funds for school operating expenses.

The school board began the practice of taking up bonds whenever it was financially able to do so following the 1935 building program, and each board since that time has continued the practice, until the local school district is now declared to be in better financial condition, possibly, than nearly any district in the state that does not have oil.

Though the salary schedule for teachers is not as high as some schools, the board and Supt. W. T. Hanes have built up a system that is recognized among West Texas school men as one of the best.

The present board is headed by Prentice Walker, as president.

J. H. Bulman Jr. Gunshot Victim

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tankersley returned Thursday from Jonesboro, where they had been called Sunday afternoon by the accidental death of her nephew, J. H. Bulman Jr., who met instant death when a gun he was carrying was dropped and discharged, sending a bullet through his heart.

Mrs. Tankersley states that the young man accompanied by his father, J. H. (John) Bulman Sr., grandfather, Lee Carter of Wichita Falls, and his younger brother, Edwin, were on the river preparing to set out some fishing lines. J. H. Jr. was carrying a sawed-off .22 target in his belt. When he stooped over to pick up a worm the gun fell and shot him. As he fell back, he exclaimed, "I am shot," and was dead.

Funeral services were held in the Jonesboro High School auditorium Monday afternoon, J. H. being a senior student there.

The football coach and the former pastor of the Jonesboro Baptist Church were the speakers for the funeral ceremonies.

J. H. was captain of the basketball team, and the boys acted as pallbearers, and the basketball girls were flower girls. Burial followed in Odd Fellow cemetery in Hamilton.

Young Bulman was a native of Lynn county, having been born at West Point on Sept. 2, 1925. He had attended school there and in Tahoka while his father was deputy sheriff here. The family moved to Jonesboro three or four years ago.

Survivors are the parents and younger brother of Jonesboro, Guy of the Army Air Forces of Fort Worth, and Raymond, who was somewhere in the Pacific area and could not be reached.

Mrs. Harlan Dikes, a cousin, went down with the Tankersleys but returned Monday night.

Sgt. Charles Florence, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Florence of Draw, is now stationed at Camp Edwards in Massachusetts, according to a brief communication sent to the News.

The credits may be taken currently or after the war. They amount to 40 percent of the tax for married persons, 25 percent for single persons, and 2 percent for each dependent. They may be taken currently and will be based on (a) payments of premiums on life insurance policies in force on September 1, 1942; (b) payments of old debts; (c) net purchase of War Bonds.

J. K. Woosley Tells Of Life In England

J. K. (Jake) Woosley of the Army Air Forces is home on furlough after spending six and one-half months in England. He arrived here Sunday and will leave this week end for Richmond (Va.) Air Base, where he will be stationed on "limited service."

J. K. has been suffering from an infection in his feet, and after spending some time in a hospital in England, he was sent home to recuperate. His old outfit in England took part in the African invasion, and J. K. would have been with them but for the fact that he had been hospitalized. He arrived in Halifax, Nova Scotia, December 9, and was sent to White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, from which place he proceeded to Tahoka.

Woosley had been in the service only eleven months. After two and one-half months training in four different fields, he went to England and was stationed at a field from which United States bombers took off for missions over Europe. He thinks the American planes are doing terrific damage to German-held territory and Germany itself, but doesn't think the British give us just credit for the damage we do.

In fact, like most American boys, he doesn't like England and the British. He says there's no place like the good old U. S. A., and no state like Texas.

England's climate lives up to its (Cont'd. on last page)

Alvin White Writes From North Africa

A. L. White reports that he had a letter from his son Alvin last Saturday, the first time he had heard from Alvin in four or five months, stating that he was in North Africa.

Alvin did not reveal the place where he was located nor whether he had engaged in any fighting or not but he did say that he had been fooled about one thing. He had thought that North Africa was a desert country but he believed it was the wettest country in the world.

He said that he went into town and took dinner with a French family on Christmas day. He did not indicate how long he had been in North Africa.

Army Men Give Rotary Program

There were two very interesting numbers on the Rotary program Thursday. One was the information given by J. K. Woosley, mostly in answer to questions about England and the English, J. K. having recently spent several months there as a member of the ground crew of the Air Forces of the United States and having been sent back to this country for a few months, at least, on account of the condition of his health. Although he is not enamored of the English personally, he declares that they have plenty of courage and nerve. They pay no attention to the bombings to which England is subjected now and then, he says.

The other number was a slight-of-hand performance by Private Ash of the South Plains Army Flying Field, Lubbock. He was introduced by George Berry, an attorney and prominent in Texas American Legion circles, who made a few remarks on his own account respecting steps that are being taken in advance to take care of the American soldiers who shall return from the current war.

Pvt. Ash certainly staged a good show, his tricks being just as puzzling to the ordinary on-looker as those of the late Houdini.

A number of visitors were present, including Rev. H. H. Hollowell of O'Donnell.

Lieut. Don Turner Goes To Hereford

Lieut. Donald Turner, formerly county agent of Lynn county, and former captain of the Tahoka company of the Texas Defense Guard, is stationed at the Hereford Internment Camp. He writes as follows:

"Well, at last a few minutes time to write. I have really been on the go since getting in the Army. I spent almost a week at headquarters in Dallas, then two weeks at Camp Walters, and now I am assigned to the Hereford Internment Camp."

"We have a very nice camp here; everything new; only four officers here so far, but will eventually have about 60 officers and several hundred enlisted men. I think I will like my assignment fine."

"How's the Defense Guard coming? I sure do miss the gang."

Don also orders The News and all back issues sent to his address.

Eight Taken In Raid On Gambling Game

Six Negroes and two Mexicans were copped by the Sheriff's force Saturday night for staging a gambling game in the "flats," according to Deputy Sheriff Arthur Hodge.

The eight men were placed in jail. The two Mexicans and four of the Negroes pleaded guilty and paid fines for gaming, and the Mexicans also entered pleas of guilty to charges of drunkenness and paid off. Two of the Negroes were still in jail at last reports.

Temperature Low Of 1 Degree Sets Four-Year Record

Lynn county has experienced the coldest weather this week that it has had in several years. The mercury dropped one night to within one degree of zero.

It started Saturday afternoon when a breeze came gently out of the north with clouds soon over-casting the sky, but it gave little hint of the intensely cold weather that was to follow. By Sunday morning, the temperature had dropped down to 20, and it never rose above 33 all day long. Monday morning it was down to 17, and the highest point reached during the day was 18. By nightfall it was back down to 11, and Tuesday morning it stood at 1 above. It rose to 31 that day and was down to 15 Wednesday morning. Since then the weather has been moderating.

The lowest temperature this winter preceding this spell was reached on December 7, when the mercury sank down to 15.

In January of 1942, the lowest temperature reached was 9 above zero, but this low mark was reached on two dates in that month, on January 5 and January 8. A low of 9 degrees was also registered on February 18.

In the winter of 1940-41, as strange as it may seem, the lowest temperature of the winter was registered in November, the mercury registering a low of 16 degrees on November 13 and November 14 and a low of 19 on November 15.

It has been a number of years, at least four, since the temperature has gone down as low as 1 degree above zero, until this week.

Negroes Escape Burning House

A Negro shack on the Howard Draper farm occupied by Leonard Collins, wife and four children, was completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon.

The Collins were making a mattress and when Leonard struck a match to light a cigarette the cotton caught fire and in a flash spread over the house. One of the children received a burned hand, but all managed to escape without serious injury. The Negroes lost all their furniture and all clothing they were not wearing.

Neighbors ran to the scene of the fire, but because of the severe cold and wind the fire could not be brought under control.

"Boots" King Wins Army Commission

Flight Officer C. B. (Boots) King, one of the four King boys in the Armed Forces, is visiting relatives here and his wife at O'Donnell this week. He will leave this week end for Bowman Field, Kentucky, where he will be with the Troop Carrier Command.

"Boots" has just been commissioned a flight officer, a new commission in the Army equivalent to second lieutenant. He has been training the last few months at the Dalhart Glider School, and he flies a big troop transport glider.

Other King boys in the service are: Lieut. Lee King, Harlingen, instructor in the Army Air Forces; Corp. Bill King, Dalhart Glider School instrument instructor; and Seaman First Class Jack King with the U. S. Navy somewhere in the Pacific.

Hog Cholera Prevention Methods Are Explained By Lynn County Agents

By J. C. Smith, County Agent

Farmers of Lynn county are rapidly completing plans to meet their 1943 agricultural goals that have been set by the Secretary of Agriculture and the USDA War Boards. However, some of the farmers' efforts are being sabotaged. The saboteur is hog cholera.

Cholera has been reported from two sections of the county. Farmers who have had experience with hog cholera know what an outbreak of cholera can mean. If precautions are not taken, an entire herd can be (Cont'd. on last page)

Whooping Cough Fatal To Child

Little Carol Ann Slover, two-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Slover, died of whooping cough in the Lubbock General Hospital Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Funeral services were conducted at the Harris Funeral Home Thursday afternoon by Rev. H. A. Nicholls, pastor of the Methodist Church, and the frail little body was laid to rest in the Tahoka cemetery.

Born on November 14, 1942, little Carol Ann was just two months and five days old. Surviving her are the parents and three brothers, Jackie Floyd, Steve Lynn and Jerry Lee Slover. Also surviving are a number of uncles, aunts and other relatives.

The parents have the deepest sympathy of many friends in this great bereavement which they have suffered.

Farm Meeting Monday Night

Farmers of this area are invited to attend a farm meeting in the Tahoka high school auditorium at 8 o'clock Monday night, at which the farm program and soil conservation will be discussed, according to Tom Seay, vocational agriculture teacher.

County Agent J. C. Smith and H. E. Mather of the Soil Conservation Service will be the speakers.

Gagnat Employees Buying War Bonds

Not only are Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gagnat heavy investors in War Bonds, but the entire force of employees of the Gagnat Hardware & Furniture store, thirteen in number, have signed a pledge to invest ten per cent of their salaries in War Bonds and stamps.

There are probably other concerns in town whose employees are likewise investing ten per cent of their salaries in bonds and stamps, but this is only the second in which the employees have signed pledges to do so in so far as The News is informed. Farmers Co-op Association recently made known the fact that its employees were investing ten per cent of their salaries in this manner.

Lynn county and Tahoka in particular went far over the top last year in the purchase of bonds and stamps, exceeding the quota by many thousands of dollars.

J. B. Thompson Is Back In States From Pacific War Zone

J. B. Thompson of the United States Army, who has been seeing active service in some of the Solomon Islands, is now back in the United States, and is in a hospital in Oakland, California, according to his sister, Mrs. John Curry. He is said to be sick from malaria and asthma. It is expected that he will be given a furlough so as to make a visit with home folks when he is released from the hospital.

His father, J. B. Thompson of Grassland, recently had a letter from him written in November. He was then on one of the Solomon Islands. He was later brought back to the States and just recently entered the hospital.

Staff Sgt. Lisemby Now In England

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lisemby of New Home received a letter Monday from their son, Staff Sgt. Frank Lisemby Jr., stating that he is safe and well in England.

Staff Sgt. Lisemby is in the Air Forces, and you can bet your ears that he will do his part in showing the Nazis where to head in. He has been in the Army since May, 1941, having enlisted about seven months before the Japs committed the crime and blunder of attacking the United States at Pearl Harbor.

Tahoka Residences Change Ownership

Dr. K. R. Durham a few days ago purchased from Arthur Raborn the former George Hogan home, occupied by Dr. J. W. Sinclair.

Dr. Sinclair, in turn, has purchased the former residence of E. S. Evans, now of Fort Worth.

Clay Bennett closed a deal for the Boyd Smith home and Boyd Smith has purchased the residence of A. J. Minor.

A number of other recent sales have been mentioned heretofore in The News.

ENGLISHES IN FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. English left Monday night for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they expect to spend several weeks resting in the lower altitude and warmer climate, they having had strenuous work this fall and winter at the theatres.

They were accompanied as far as Dallas by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Small and two sons, and daughter, Mrs. Raymond Hatch of Lamesa, where they expect to spend two or three days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Small will manage the two theatres here while Mr. and Mrs. English are away.

Arthur Hodge has purchased from Rev. George A. Dale, the former Milt Finch residence just east of the Baptist parsonage, and he and family will move into it as soon as it is vacated. It is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Baker.

Mrs. Mattie McMillan who recently moved to Tahoka from Wells, is reported to be sick

Mrs. H. Draper Breaks Arms

While standing upon a barrel and driving a nail into a wall at her home seven miles south of Tahoka last Saturday, Mrs. Howard Draper lost her balance and fell, breaking both forearms and sustaining cuts and bruises on the face.

She was brought to the Tahoka Clinic for treatment and remained there until Wednesday afternoon, when she was released. She did not return immediately to her home, however, but is resting in the home of her friend, Mrs. Boyd Driver, in Tahoka while further recovering.

Want Ad Brings Bulldog Home

Last week Ward Eakin inserted a little classified ad in The News announcing the loss of a fine bulldog. When bulldogs disappear, they are rarely ever found. But that little ad did the work.

Earl Morris, who lives near the county line between Gordon and Southland, read the ad. The dog had showed up at his house and he immediately notified the owner.

Mr. Eakin got his dog back promptly and is a nappy man. He is very grateful to Earl Morris for his kindness and is very sure that a want ad in the Lynn County News will pay.

SGT. WEATHERS MOVED

Sgt. David G. Weathers, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Weathers, has been moved from Pendleton Field, Oregon, to the Army Air Base at Pueblo, Colorado.

Sgt. Weathers expects to be home soon on a furlough.

Congratulations . . .

To Mr. and Mrs. John Chappa on Tuesday, January 5, a daughter weighing 8½ pounds. The little lady has been given the beautiful name of Mary Susanna.

To Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Duckett of Levelland on birth of a son, weighing 7 pounds 10 ounces on January 14 at a Lubbock hospital. The Duckettes formerly lived near Grassland.

To Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gardenhire, IDonnell, on birth of a son weighing 8 pounds 6 ounces Saturday at a Lubbock hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sikes on the birth of a daughter weighing 8 pounds Saturday at 10:05 p. m. in a Lubbock hospital. The father is at Lubbock Army Flying School.

Odds and Ends . . .

Most people, perhaps, who reside in the North or who were reared in the North believe that it is race prejudice on the part of the white people of the South that has prompted them to prescribe the payment of a poll tax as a qualification for voting and to bar the Negroes from participation in the Democratic primaries.

Even some Southern people of the younger generation seem to entertain this belief.

Such is not the case at all. These steps were taken solely in the interest of clean politics and good government. They were reform measures designed to wrest the control of politics and of government, especially local government, out of the hands of crooked politicians. And in this respect they have had a very salutary effect.

Practically all of the men now residing in Texas who resided here in the 1890's and in the early years of the present century and who were old enough to vote at that time know that this is the truth. They are familiar with the political conditions that existed in Texas at that time which made it highly desirable for reform measures of some kind to be adopted which would curb the rottenness in politics which then prevailed. It was part of a movement in fact in the interest of popular government and not in opposition to it.

Previous to the 'nineties there was no such thing as a party primary election. Nominations for public office were made by conventions. Conventions were run of course by politicians. A few men pulled the wires and manipulated conventions. Of course there were honest politicians and dishonest ones. The dishonest ones could always be controlled by some special interest seeking favors from the State or fearing adverse action by the State. The big corporations were in politics up to their necks. It was claimed that they often controlled conventions and dictated the nominations, secretly if not openly. Sometimes county conventions split wide open and sent opposing delegations to the state convention.

Sometimes the state convention split. This was notably the case in the Hogg-Clark campaign, possibly the hottest that was ever fought in Texas.

Whichever side won, the other side would frequently charge trickery and corruption, whether it existed or not. Too often it did exist. Thoughtful and patriotic men began to feel that a better method than that could be found for nominating candidates for public office. This was true not only in Texas but in almost every other state.

So, the primary election system was proposed, and sentiment in favor of it swept the country. It hit Texas. Democratic leaders, most of whom were honest and had really grown sick of the rottenness and chicanery which they saw practiced in almost every convention, began to provide for county primary elections, in which county and local candidates for office were nominated, and the choice of the people as to state and district candidates expressed.

But there was no uniformity as to when these various county primary elections should be held. The Democratic executive committee in McLennan county, for instance, might order its election for Saturday, May 1, whereas the executive committee in Bell county might order its election for May 8, Navarro county May 15, Hill county May 22, etc. In the state, there would be a batch of counties holding elections on one Saturday, another batch on the following Saturday, and so for a period of five or six weeks. Under this system, politics really grew hot; and they grew steadily hotter as the campaign progressed. For example, if Bill Brown, candidate for Congress, carried Bell county this Saturday over his opponent Tom Jones, and Tom Jones carried Falls county the next Saturday over Bill Brown, you can imagine how hot the campaign would become the next week in McLennan county, if that county were scheduled to hold its election on the succeeding Saturday. Or, if one candidate for governor carried one batch of counties and another candidate another batch on the same day, the campaign would wax hotter and hotter as succeeding election days approached.

Now, the Negroes had not been participating in Democratic conventions. They had gone regularly since Reconstruction days into the Republican conventions in Texas but not into the Democratic conventions, for reasons which every intelligent person in the nation is thoroughly able to understand.

But by a Constitutional amendment adopted in Reconstruction days, the Negro had been given the ballot. Therefore when the Democratic party began holding party primary elections, there was no law that barred him, and no party rule at first that barred him, from participation in the Democratic party primaries. So he entered these primaries, a little timidly perhaps at first, but boldly after he found that he could safely do so.

And no sooner was the first such election held than designing politicians and many candidates eager for office began to use him as a tool. They began to furnish sums of money, small in some instances but large in others, to certain real or reputed Negro leaders to swing the Negro vote in their favor. How the Negro leader used this money was nobody's business. He usually spent part of it for whiskey, which he distributed among his friends and represented to them that it was "Smith" whiskey or "Jones" whiskey as the case might be, and the understanding was that the recipients were to cast their votes for candidate Smith or candidate Jones or whoever it was who furnished the whiskey. Of course the Negro leader pocketed a large portion of the coin himself.

These Negro moochers became notorious. There was one of them in every rural Negro community, and in the cities and towns their number was legion. Many candidates refused to cater to them, and thereby they lost the Negro vote. Many others, with consciences hurting them, felt they must cater to the colored moochers or give up all hope of election.

Sometimes the corporations were accused of using the Negroes to elect the corporation favorites. Always, when the saloons were in jeopardy they used the Negro vote.

This writer has seen the Negroes crowded around polling places in Temple late in the afternoon on some election day like flies around a lasses barrel. They were being voted in mass by some little group of unscrupulous white politicians. It was the same all over Texas where Negroes lived. Usually, meetings of the Negroes would be held on the night before the election, where "refreshments" would be served and a ticket made out for them to vote on the next day.

"Old Dawson" and his son Jim, who ran a Negro dive and saloon in Temple was the bell-wether of the colored gents in that city. "Old Alf" was the moocher out in the rural community where he lived, near our boyhood home. "Sin-Killer Griffin" was one of the colored leaders in the state. He divided his time between religion and politics. He was a great evangelist, a regular "sin-killer," in protracted meeting time, but he turned politician every election year.

"Gooseneck Bill" of Galveston was the most notable state leader. He was a Republican, but he served effectively whatever particular interest might feel its need of his services.

And so, by reason of the ballot in the hands of two or three hundred thousand Negroes in Texas and their unscrupulous white bosses, politics in this state came to stink to heaven.

Honest white men devised two remedies. One of these was the requirement of a poll tax receipt as a pre-requisite for voting. The Negro was not disfranchised. A requirement was merely erected which it was known he would not take the trouble to comply with.

Another happy thought was this: That a party primary election is not such an election as was contemplated in the Federal Constitution; that it is only a means by which a party may name its candidates, and that the party could regulate its own affairs and determine who might participate and who might not participate in its primaries as it chose to do without violating the Federal Constitution. So, the state Democratic executive committee began barring the Negro from voting in Democratic primaries.

These two measures did the work. They uprooted and destroyed much of the corruption in politics practiced in this state and made for cleaner politics and better government.

And now, Republican and Democratic congressmen alike in the North and a few in the South are planning to tear down these bars which we have erected to keep the big bad wolf out of our political structure.

We did not erect these bars because of any prejudice we had against the Negro. We erected them to keep corrupt and designing white politicians from using the Negro to carry out their foul purposes.

And we want the Federal Government to let us alone as we work out these racial problems to the best advantage of both races here in our state.

WILSON NEWS

By Mrs. Frank Fletcher, Reporter

Mrs. Fritz Nieman has purchased the W. A. Eppes house and moved into it last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shaw moved to their farm in the Morgan community last week. Their daughter, Mrs. Jerene Swann, has gone to be with her husband who is in the Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McLaughlin moved to the farm formerly occupied by the Shaws, and the Arthur Glickshorn has moved to the farm left vacant by the McLaughlins.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Gryder, Thomas and Addie Jane went to Rotan Friday afternoon, returning Saturday. They visited Mrs. Gryder's mother, Mrs. Alice Miller, and a sister of Mrs. Gryder.

Frank Fletcher left Tuesday for Borger, after all his family were on the up and well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Dickerson and family left last week for East Texas where they will visit relatives for about two weeks.

Annette Anthony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Anthony, has been ill.

Miss Marjorie Crosby, student at Tech, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Crosby.

Harold Key of the U. S. Army left this week after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Key. Other visitors in the Key home over the week end were their daughters, Miss Marjorie Key and Rob Elaine Key.

Rev. W. H. Jackson has been suffering with his back after lifting some too-heavy sacks.

Mary Watson, who is employed at Lubbock Army Flying School, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. L. A. Watson.

Lourine Currey of Clovis, New Mexico, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Currey, last week.

Baptists Present Service Flag in special services at the Baptist Church Sunday morning, the service flag was presented and a program with the theme, "God Bless Our Boys," was rendered.

The program was as follows: Song, "America," led by Frank Fletcher; prayer; duet, "When the Lights Come On Again All Over the World," Myra Swann and Freida Lemon; song, "The Star Spangled Banner," Salutes to the United States Flag, the Christian Flag, and the Bible; Presentation of Service Flag, H. G. Anthony; trio, "Bless Our Boys, O Thou Jehovah," Myra Swann, Freida Lemon and Mary Ella Jackson; sermon, "Good Soldiers," Rev. W. H. Jackson.

Homan Edwards Solos Twin-Motor

Homan Edwards, who is in training at the Maraha Twin Motor Flying Field near Tucson, Arizona, called his cousin, Mrs. Dude Holland, over the telephone Monday night and in the conversation told her that on that day he had made his first solo flight in a twin-motor plane.

Homan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Edwards of Tahoka and a brother of the late Wells Edwards, who was killed in an airplane accident near San Antonio several weeks ago. Homan is said to be very enthusiastic about flying and was greatly elated at his success. He had served in the Army a number of years, having been stationed in the Philippines for a long time before the war broke out. A few months ago he transferred to the Air Forces.

BRILES PROMOTED

Camp Haan, Calif., January 18.—Pvt. Otis P. Briles, Tahoka, Rt. 1, has been promoted to the grade of Technician 5th Grade, Col. Clare H. Armstrong, commandant of the 86th Coast Artillery (Anti-Aircraft), has announced.

Southland News

(By Mrs. Marvin Truelock)

About 35 gathered at the local Methodist Church at the appointed time for a social. Three of the older S. S. classes conducted a quiz. Mrs. Lonnie Collinsworth gave the devotional and Wilma Wheeler entertained with a piano solo. Refreshments of sandwiches and cookies were served. Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Armstrong expressed their appreciation for the generous potpourri, which was a surprise to them.

The Ladies Aid of the Southland Lutheran Church had their regular monthly devotional and social meeting at the parsonage in Wilson on Sunday afternoon, January 10, with Mrs. E. Herber serving as hostess. Following scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Herber and a reading by Mrs. C. W. Gindorf, officers were elected. Mrs. Wallace Becker and Mrs. Walter Stolle were re-elected president and secretary, Mrs. Joel Neugebam, vice president, and Mrs. Herman Kiesel, treasurer, the latter taking the place of Mrs. Albert Krause, who is moving to Crosbyton. Thirteen of the twenty members were present and one visitor. Coffee, cake, and sandwiches were served in the basement of the church.

Pvt. and Mrs. Sid Smallwood of LAFS spent last Sunday with his parents, the G. N. Smallwoods.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey McNeely were Ensign and Mrs. Pharr, the latter being remembered here as Julia Johnson.

Mrs. W. T. Melton, a recent bride, had her first dinner guests last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Melton and daughter Wanda and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cummings and his parents, all of Post.

Staff Sgt. Herman E. Irwin and Tech. Sgt. Lewis Cabron of Dallas visited in the H. C. White and John Irwin homes Friday night. They were en route to Roswell, N. M.

Norbert Sokoll returned last week after spending two weeks with his uncle at Schulenburg, near Austin.

Rev. and Mrs. O. E. McGaw left Thursday to spend a week with her parents at Levelland, while Mrs. McGaw is gaining strength.

Thursday visitors of the Ed. Lieskes were his brother Lee and wife of Cisco and Mrs. Lieske's brother, John Stewart and wife of Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mathis and granddaughter of Sundown moved last week to the farm owned by Mrs. S. B. Edwards.

The Sunbeam Band will meet each Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 at the Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ted King of Midland and Mrs. Eugene Johnson of Lubbock visited their many friends in Southland Tuesday night, which happened to be the date set for a study hour of the members of the Eastern Star at the home of their Worthy Matron, Doll Halre.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Donahoe and son moved Monday to a farm near Ralls.

Pvt. Cleo Bland of Santa Barbara, Calif., was at the post of embarkation before the authorities discovered his game leg, which had never properly healed from a break when he was a boy. He was given his medical discharge December 26 and then visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bland of Pleasant Valley, two weeks before returning to his home in Big Spring.

Ocean Cummings' mother, Mrs. Bob Cummings, recently received her first letter from her son in the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hoard have decided to move to Elida, New Mexico, their four children extending their visit there with their grandparents until the parents return.

Mrs. J. H. McCoy accidentally fell and severely injured her right wrist in Cobb's Department Store one day recently. The injuries are healing after having been given surgical and medical treatment at the Tahoka Clinic.

Tahoka "Sea Bees" Want Home News

The News has a letter from Tahoka's gifts to the "Sea Bees," A. H. McGonagill and W. V. McElroy from "Somewhere in the Northwest," and these two boys are really buzzing because they are not getting the old home paper regularly. In fact, they seem to be nearly as hot over missing The News as they are over not getting a shot at the Japs.

McGonagill ends his letter with: "We both are enjoying good health, getting plenty to eat, and are full of fight. Give our best regards to everybody."

Almost every word from boys in foreign service reveals their hunger for news and letters from the folks back at home.

Lloyd R. McCormick Wins Two Medals

Pvt. Lloyd R. McCormick Jr. is a happy Marine, according to a letter which his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. McCormick of New Home received from him Tuesday. He has been in the Marines only six weeks and yet he has already received two medals for marksmanship, one with a rifle, the other with a pistol.

Pvt. Lloyd is in training at San Diego. He enlisted in the Marines on December 5 but did not go out until the next week. If they ever land Lloyd on Guadalcanal, New Guinea, the Philippines, or any other old place, we would advise those Japs to keep out of his rifle range.

Mrs. Paul Cook, the former Miss Margaret Greathouse, left last Friday for San Antonio to be with her husband, who is in training at one of the flying fields there. Paul has been there since sometime in September, 1942.

S. L. Smith Raises Exactly Bale Per

S. L. Smith of New Home called at The News office Saturday to renew his subscription and stated that he had just finished gathering his cotton crop the day before.

Mr. Smith says that he had exactly 108½ acres of land in cotton, according to Government measure, and that he gathered exactly 108½ bales. He thought that was a remarkable coincidence. It was a cotton crop not to be sneezed at too. But there was much cotton in Lynn county that made a bale per acre last year.

Mrs. L. I. Reeves, who, with her husband, moved to San Pablo, Calif., last October, was here this week on business. The Reeves formerly operated a store at Grassland, and she was completing the sale of their home at Grassland to J. C. Walker.

Mrs. Earl Wilson has accepted a position in the office of Lubbock General Hospital. Her husband is in the Army, stationed at Lubbock Army Flying School.

Collision Results In Drunk Charge

A young white man was arrested and placed in jail Saturday night on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor after the car he was driving had collided with a Mexican truck parked in front of a Mexican cafe in the building formerly occupied by Calvery's hatchery.

No one was in the truck at the time, it is said. The impact knocked it a distance of twelve or fifteen feet, according to Deputy Sheriff Arthur Hodge, and greatly damaged it. The car was practically demolished but the driver was not seriously hurt, receiving only some flesh wounds on the face and possibly some bruises. No physician was available at the time.

The accused made bond and was released from jail Sunday.

Mrs. Jane Bennett was adjudged to be of unsound mind by a jury in the county court Tuesday, and will be taken to the State Hospital at Big Spring for treatment. She has been in bad mental condition several years, it is said. Her husband, H. W. Bennett, died a number of years ago. She is the daughter-in-law of G. B. Bennett, who has been very seriously ill for the past two or three weeks.

Tech. Cpl. J. D. Watson visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Watson recently while enroute from Camp Carson, Colorado, to Camp Bowie, Texas. He has been in the service since May, 1942.

Two New Home Men Are Burned

Sam Chandler and J. H. Kornegay became the victims of a near-serious accident at the Farmers Cooperative Gin at New Home on last Friday when escaping butane gas in the engine room ignited. The two men sustained first degree and second degree burns on the hands and face, according to Dr. J. W. Sinclair, who treated the injuries.

A leak is supposed to have been the cause of the explosion, though no details of the affair were learned by The News.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY FOR MISS FORRESTER

To announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, O'Bea, to J. A. Biggerstaff of the U. S. Navy, Mrs. R. C. Forrester entertained a few friends with a Valentine party in her home last Friday evening.

The guests, met at the door by Mrs. Forrester, were ushered into the candle-light reception suite which was made gay with red, white and blue carnations and bright red hearts. The Valentine motif and patriotic scheme was used in games and refreshments.

After registering in a guest book in charge of Mrs. Eloise Roberts Carroll, the guests played games and enjoyed instrumental and vocal music rendered by Mrs. Marjorie Wells Kemp and a high school girls trio, Misses Dorothy Lee Carmack, Patricia Hill and Mary Beth Fenton, who sang popular songs.

A "Valentine Exchange" brought to light a Valentine with cleverly worded acrostic which directed guests to search for further information which was found in heart-shaped locks with keys on the deck of a lighted ship on the buffet. The opened lock revealed the wording, "O'Bea-Arthur. Date: A Military Secret."

At a lace-covered table, Mrs. Jim Burleson poured hot coffee from a silver service and served individual red, white and blue cakes, each bearing a blue "V". Other table decorations was a bowl of carnations in patriotic colors on blue reflectors and border of old time candy hearts. Though a definite date has not been set for the wedding, it is expected that the couple will be wed during Mr. Biggerstaff's first furlough which is planned for late January or early February.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jackson of Stamford, formerly of Tahoka, were here from Thursday until Tuesday visiting their daughters, Mrs. C. B. Evans and Mrs. Ed Hamilton and their new grand-daughter, Vickie Hamilton.

Eldon Carroll of Lubbock Army Flying School was here the first of the week visiting his wife and other relatives.

Second Ingle Twin Died Thursday

Little Dayton Ingle, second of the twin sons born to Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Ingle December 2, passed away at a Lubbock hospital at 4 o'clock Thursday. Although he had been confined to the hospital all his life, it was thought that he was doing well until Wednesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at Harris Funeral Home this afternoon (Friday) at 3:30 by Rev. Geo. A. Dale.

The babe is survived by the parents and two little sisters.

BAPTIST DEDICATION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The program of the Dedication Service to be held in the Baptist Church here on Sunday, Jan. 31, has been prepared and announced, as shown below, and the public generally as well as the members of the Baptist Church is invited to attend.

Sunday School will open at 10:00 a. m. as usual, but will close in time for the entire membership of the school to assemble in the main auditorium before the Dedication services begin at 10:45.

The Dedication program will open at 10:45, sharp, with Rev. J. Lowell Ponder, District Missionary, presiding, and the first period of 15 minutes will be devoted to a devotional service.

At 11:00, address by Rev. Lowell Ponder, followed by a Love Offering for Pastor and Mrs. Dale.

At 11:15, Some Inside Working of the Church, by E. I. Hill.

11:30, Introduction of Finance Committee, its report, and ceremonies of burning the cancelled notes, by W. B. Edwards.

11:45, Dedication Prayer, by Rev. Geo. A. Dale.

11:50, Special Music, by the Rhythms, now at Fort Worth Seminary.

Sermon by Rev. B. N. Shepherd of Hobbs, New Mexico.

12:20, Adjournment.

Miss Berta Hill, daughter of the editor and a resident of Tahoka for a number of years, underwent a very serious operation in Seton Hospital in Austin last Friday. Latest reports received here indicated that her condition was satisfactory. She has been employed several years by the State Welfare Commission and is stationed at Navasota.

Lonnie King, who has been employed at the Farmers Co-op Gin the past few years, left with his wife and two children on Wednesday of last week for Perryton in the North Panhandle to make their home.

METHODIST CHURCH

January and February are the months in our church to make preparation for the "Week of Dedication," Feb. 28 to March 7. By reading the Bible regularly, meditate, pray and attend public services of the church on Sundays. Lay speakers will speak at the morning services, Sunday, Feb. 21, shall be observed as Layman's Day and shall be made to feature in the preparation for the Week of Dedication. That week will be observed throughout Methodism.

Tuesday night, Jan. 26, will be the regular monthly meeting of the stewards. Let all reports be made out and ready to hand over to the secretary-treasurer, W. M. Mathis, when we get to the meeting, which will save much time. The past month had a fine report financially, a large sum sent to the Waco Home, local finances in full, and many additions to the membership of the church. Some 70 percent of the Conference collections have been paid to date. Let's get the remainder by Feb. 7, when Dr. O. P. Clark will be here to hold our first quarterly conference. Some of the neighboring churches have reported a 100 per cent collection on the conference col-

TOM HALE GIVEN SHOWER BY WEST POINTERS

Tom Hale's neighbors and friends of the West Point community had a bushel of fun last Saturday night, and he had a whale of a good time too. They gave him a shower—it was more than a shower, it was a down-pour; and it came unexpectedly too.

It happened this way. Tom had been growling, good-naturedly, every time a shower was given to anybody in the community, declaring that "Nobody never gave him no shower." So the ladies, God bless 'em, decided they would just give Tom a real shower. And they all went shopping. Then, about night-fall, they all got together, taking their men folks along too, and they drove to Tom's residence and went pouring in. Tom thought at first it was a "42" party—and it was. But it was more than that. When those women got through presenting their gifts—

Well, you know what a bride gets when she is showered. You know what a young mother gets. You know what a fellow gets at his Golden Wedding anniversary. Well, when those women got through with Tom he had it all. And everybody had a good time—they sure did.

And there was music, too, good music. With Mrs. Marjorie Wells Kemp accompanying on the piano, Jarrell Cox favored the gay party with a number of splendid vocal selections, such as "Me and My Gal," and so forth.

And everybody had brought refreshments, and these were served as a grand finale of the happy event.

W. C. Carver and family left Tuesday for California, to visit their son, Norman Carver, who is in the Navy.

Mrs. Edd Hamilton and little daughter Vickie were brought home Wednesday from the Lamesa Hospital, where the little lady was born.

Mrs. Alice Fred, mother of Mrs. Frank Akin, is a patient in the Tahoka Clinic, suffering from erysipelas.

REDWINE PASTOR RESIGNS

Rev. W. P. Brian, pastor of the Redwine Baptist Church for the past several years, has tendered his resignation and will conduct his last services for the church next Sunday, according to information given to The News. The church had greatly prospered under his ministry.

Rev. Mr. Brian plans to enter the Southwestern Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth next semester, it is stated, and he has been called as pastor of a full-time church, which he expects to serve while pursuing his studies in the Seminary.

Rev. Collins Webb, pastor of the Baptist Church at New Home, who recently underwent a major operation, was able to return to his work last week. He had been a patient in a Lubbock hospital.

Let's do that too, can't we? A hearty welcome awaits you at all of our services Sunday, Jan. 24.

Fred Mathews Gets Alaska "Fever"

Fred Mathews has been corresponding with a friend in Alaska, who writes like a West Texas real estate man of a quarter century ago. He enlarges on the fertility of the soil in some of the Alaska valleys and presents the proof that the climate is most genial and salubrious or something of the kind. As evidence of these facts, Fred brought in some pictures a couple of weeks ago showing the old man and the kids out in the garden preparing to raise all kinds of garden truck of giant proportions. Fred has the Alaska Fever.

But we are not so sure that Mrs. Mathews is very enthusiastic about the country. On the coldest day of the week, when we were all shivering in our overcoats as we hovered over the stove, she brought in a bunch of Alaska pictures which their friend had sent them, showing the family car almost completely covered with snow and ice and icicles ten feet long hanging from the eaves of the house. It made one cold merely to look at the picture. Mrs. Mathews did not indicate that they were figuring on leaving for Alaska any time within the next few weeks.

The child of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell McClendon of O'Donnell underwent tonsillectomy at the Tahoka Clinic Tuesday. It was taken home the next day.

Physicians report many cases of whooping cough in town. Among the number is the three-months-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White.

Claude Johnson left on Thursday of last week for Fort Bliss. He was inducted into the Army on the preceding Thursday but was given a week's furlough before leaving.

Griffith Buys O Frank George

Frank George this week deal selling the Tahoka Bakery to J. W. Griffith, who has already taken charge.

Mr. George has not announced plans for the future further than that he expects to be here weeks at least.

The George's have been here past three or four years and made hosts of friends since. They have taken an active part in civic affairs, Mr. George being a prominent member of the Rotary Club. They will be missed in business and social life of the town.

'Growth' Will Enter District Contests

The Growth has received a letter from Mr. DeWitt Reddick, director of the Interscholastic League Press Conference, inviting the school paper to take part in the sectional contest in journalism. The first and second place papers in each division will be eligible to select two members of their staff for competition in the State Meet.

The school paper will be classed with the papers from high schools with an enrollment of less than 500 but with 200 or more enrollment last year, and a copy of each issue of the paper must be submitted to the state office.

Five things will be stressed in the grading of the papers: news coverage, the quality of the writing in news stories and editorials, head-

Sub Debs Attend Slumber Party

"Ah! Sleep at last!" With these words, eight members of the Sub-Deb Club laid their weary heads down to rest for four hours early Saturday morning. You see, these girls were having a slumber party at Alice Roberts' home. (The neighbors had a slumberless night, too.) After the show, the girls presented Mrs. C. A. Stewart, the club's former sponsor, with a rose blanket. The rest of the night and early part of the morning was spent in a farewell serenade to Mrs. Stewart and conducting an amateur program.

For their assembly program, which will be presented February 3, the Sub-Debs are presenting a program entirely different from last year's "Memory Program."

The club is meeting every Monday and Wednesday to practice this program and they plan to help the Red Cross in making surgical dressings.

Girls Basketball Team Wins Game

Tahoka girls gained another victory Friday night as they defeated the Post team in the high school gym. The final score was 15 to 12. Both teams started out as if they meant business, the scores being 6 and 6 at the half, but the Tahoka girls overcame this tie and were leading 12 to 8 at the third quarter.

Ruby Greer and Virginia Roddy played exceptionally well, and it was through their close guarding that the Post girls did not score any more points than they did.

Mary MacDonald, main string guard, was switched to forward and was high point girl for the Tahoka team.

Tahoka's starting line-up was: Guards, Mary MacDonald, Ruby Greer, Virginia Roddy; forwards, Beth Shepherd, Billie Greer, and Kate McMillan.

Her hobbies are writing letters, reading, and studying the Bible. Her ambition is to become a business executive.

Revised Schedule Second Semester

A revised schedule has been made for the school routine since the election of new teachers this semester.

The teachers and their subjects are: Mrs. Pauline Walker, typing and bookkeeping; Miss O'Vell Warren, Seventh grade arithmetic, biology, Seventh grade health and general science; Mr. Hope Haynes, geometry and algebra; Coach Avon Powell, Texas history, History II and III, civics and boys basketball; Miss Ruby Perry, journalism, chemistry, language arts 7A, music, and girls' basketball; Mr. Tom Seay, vocational agriculture; Miss Lucille Wright, home economics; Miss Ineva Headrick, English III and IV and speech; Miss Lauraine Leavitt, English I and II, and language arts 7B; Mrs. John Kirkwood, junior business, Spanish and social science; Mr. B. T. Smith, mathematics and pre-flight course.

This and That . . .

(By Eva Woods)
 You have all heard the story of a boxer who was fighting a losing battle until he saw and heard some of his friends rooting for him. After that, he pitched in and beat the sox off of his opponent.

The basketball season is coming on. In fact, it is here. I am sure our Bulldogs would fight much better if they could see and hear a few familiar faces and voices at their games.

Let us all remember to be good sports at these games and refrain from booing and yelling when our opponents get free shots. Let us all remember to practice the Golden Rule and "Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them To Do Unto You."

And last, but not least, is the person who is determined to succeed—and he does! Which all goes to show you that if you are determined enough, "The wise shall inherit glory; but shame shall be the promotion of fools." (Prov. 3)

Our basket of roses goes to Charles Reid this week, and he is really a keen guy, worth knowing, even if he does try to make people think he is "hard-boiled" and tough.

WHAT IF—
 Short and Alice had a fight? Mrs. Wharton pulled Big Red's hair in bookkeeping? Jo Ann Owens had red hair? Football season lasted nine months? Mrs. Stewart had a sense of humor? Everything we wished came true? Everyone agreed with each other? Winston Redwine flunked typing?

Have you noticed that Dortha Jean Brown wears her clothes well?

Courtesy must run in the Harvick family. Look at Dub and Red. There are few students in THE who had rather receive credit than give credit.

Congratulations to the four girls Marcelene Stephens, Dorothy Nell Johnson, Ruth Fenton and Geraldine Frazier, who were voted into the Sub Deb Club.

Ils Mae Schaffner wears blue well, don't you think? We like her new sweater.

It seems that the new "glamour boy" around THE is none other than Clois Leavitt. At least Dora Ruth Fenton and Joy Carter think so.

Who is the most attractive young man in the Seventh grade? You grade? You don't know? Well, I will tell you, it is George Maurice Small.

A lot of students came to school with heavy heads and swollen eyes! Could it be Basketball or Book-keeping?

All students of THE hate to see Mrs. Charles Stewart leave, especially the Juniors and the journalism class.

Elgin Harper, who is in the Panama Canal Zone, in the Anti-Aircraft corps of the Army, recently was promoted to private first class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harper.

New Faces . . .

Blonde hair and green eyes would describe Ellen Galyen, a new student who enrolled in Tahoka high school this week. She is an ex-student of Tahoka high school, however, she is also a previous student of Tahoka grade school.

Ellen is classified as a Freshman, and she is taking Home Ec., English, and Algebra. She also hopes to take typing.

She is basketball fan, and also likes popular music.

"Now I really feel at home," black haired, brown eyed, Myrtle Moore stated last Monday when she entered Tahoka high for a second time, as she has been to this school before.

Before entering T. H. S. she was a student at Wilson, where she was quite active in sports and music circles.

She has entered classes in English, History, Home Ec. and Algebra. She is a sophomore and wants to meet new friends.

MRS. WALKER BACK

We will find out how much the bookkeeping class knows now, because Mrs. Pauline Walker has started teaching bookkeeping and typing. Mrs. Walker will teach for two weeks, until someone is found to take her place.

PERDUE COMPLETES COURSE

Santa Monica, Calif., Jan. 18.—Private M. D. Perdue, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Perdue, Wilson, Texas, has graduated from an intensive course in aviation mechanics at Douglas Aircraft Factory School, Santa Monica, Calif., and now is prepared to blast the Axis. This is one of the many schools in the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command which trains the specialist technicians who maintain our fighter and bomber planes in perfect combat condition. He is now eligible to become crew chief on a bomber and to win a rating as corporal or sergeant.

Mrs. J. O. King reports that her son-in-law, Bailey Pendleton, who was formerly employed at Piggly-Wiggly here, is now taking training as a Diesel engine mechanic in the Navy. His wife, the former Betty King, is employed in Lubbock during his absence.

Mrs. T. Cowan and children visited with her father and mother at Snyder Sunday.

NATURAL GAS SO EASY TO USE SO IMPORTANT TO SAVE

We realize Natural Gas is so easy to use that it is sometimes wasted unintentionally.

In the territory we serve the demand for this fine fuel has greatly increased, due to one phase or another of the war effort.

In normal times, we could obtain materials needed to increase the capacity of our facilities so that we could meet all demands. Today, that is impossible. That's why we are asking you to help by reducing your use of natural gas to the minimum on very cold days.

Here's How You Can Help

1. Shut off parts of the house not in use.
2. Do not keep your rooms too warm. Train yourselves to become accustomed to lower temperature.
3. Refrain from using the range even for room heating.
4. Keep your heating equipment in top-notch condition.
5. Install insulation, storm sash, weather stripping, and caulking if possible.
6. Use a low blue flame for cooking, cook vegetables in as small an amount of water as possible, cook more one dish meals, and keep burners clean.

reputation—cold, damp and foggy much of the time. The English brogue and customs are hard to understand, and he thinks their food is terrible. He doesn't like mutton, fish and horse meat all the time. However, after they had been there a while, the American soldiers were put on a good old American diet.

The women are very nice to the Americans, the men snobbish. Another thing that J. K. doesn't much like is the fact that the British call all Americans "Yanks" and Jake is too much of a Southerner to like that. He declares that the English people have not yet gotten over the Revolutionary war. The American boys, nevertheless put on a big celebration on July 4th.

Though J. K. has had a lot of hard luck with his feet, he is a staunch booster for his outfit, the Army Air Force.

"You folks don't realize what a morale-builder those letters and packages from home are. A man far away from home, in a foreign country, certainly appreciates hearing anything from anyone at home," he told The News.

Hog Cholera . . .

wiped out over night. A herd may be protected from cholera by two systems of immunization. The serum-alone treatment is made by merely injecting the serum into the hog. The serum can be purchased from any reliable druggist, and may be used to treat healthy hogs or to treat those that are in the early stages of the disease. This treatment ordinarily can be expected to immunize the herd from two to six weeks.

To permanently immunize the herd, it is necessary to administer hog cholera virus as well as the serum. The virus enters the system of the hog and causes a reaction which results in establishing an immunity similar to that which is produced in hogs that recover from a natural attack of the disease. The serum prevents death or serious sickness which otherwise would be caused by the virus, and through the combined action of these two agents the hogs acquire immunity against cholera.

If the herd is to be treated, the serum and virus should be administered by a competent person; failure to properly administer the serum and virus might result in disaster.

The County Agent will be glad to give whatever assistance he can in individual cases, and persons concerned should feel free to call on him for advice and information on hog cholera as well as all other agricultural problems.

Lt. Townes Writes Cold North Weather

Lieut. Charles B. Townes, postal officer for the 45th Division, Pine Camp, N. Y., writes friends in Tahoka that the cold weather up there is pretty rough on Southern boys. Charles has been sending Postmaster Happy Smith many comic cartoons, pictures and newspaper clippings to illustrate the kind of weather and the Army boys' reaction to it.

However, Charles expects to be moved to a Southern camp in the near future.

A P. S. to one letter from Charles reveals that "My basketball team lost three games in a row. I am afraid the athletic council will not renew my coaching contract."
