Improvements For School Playgrounds

Another step in the current Tahoka school campus improvement has been completed with the installation last week of new playground equipment at the Elementary and Grade schools. The new equipment was bought by the school board.

At the new elementary building, two new merry-go-rounds, two 16-foot platform slides, and horizontal bars have been installed.

At the old grade school building, new jungle gym and horizontal bars and also an outdoor basketball court have been installed. The school already has a merry-go-round, see-saws, and swings.

Last Spring, two new concrete tennis courts were constructed on the High School campus, and facilities have been installed for a better rounded program of softball.

During the past summer, lawns in front of the three school buildings were sodded to grass. A sprinkler system and power mower were bought to better care for the lawns and football turf.

This winter, under sponsorship of Tahoka Garden Club, a long range school campus landscaping program will get underway. In fact, plans have already been drawn and a part of the money raised to carry out the program.

J. M. Small, secretary of the Tahoka school district, points out that possibly more has been done in the last year toward improving the school grounds than in any other like period in the history of the school.

During the past summer, all buildings were thoroughly repaired, and, where needed, the buildings have been repainted inside and outside.

Front of the Agriculture building was almost completely rebuilt and new windows installed. The Negro school has been reconditioned, and indoor rest rooms installed.

Mr. Small states that all members of the school board and the school administrators are taking a great deal of interest in the improvement program and are proud of the accomplishments so far. Small thinks the improvements made so far have been at a minimum expense to the district.

He says Tahoka school district is in better shape financially than it has been in a long time, and the board is operating on a pay-as-you-go system.

Small's latest financial statement shows all the school funds operating "in the black." This includes the lunchroom and athletic funds, which do not depend on tax monies.

Band Attends Fair Festival

Tahoka High School's 60-piece band was due home late Thursday from Dallas, where the organization had been invited to participate in the State Fair of Texas Music Festival Day.

Wednesday night, the band appeared along with 4,000 other musicians in 47 bands from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas in a gigantic massed band concert in the Cotton Bowl.

The concert was directed by Paul Lavalle, famous conductor of the Cities Service Band of America, and broadcast over the NBC network.

The band also presented a concert on the Fair grounds in the afternoon.

Maestro Lavalle said there are now 8,000,000 high school and college students playing brass instruments, "and this is the highest figure in history. And the hottest thing in the musical world today is 'the old-fashioned band with a modern flavor.'"

The band went to Dallas in two chartered buses, accompanied by its director, Willard Edgett, and several parents of the band members.

Tahoka band was selected for the honor after having won the highest honor possible, sweepstakes, in the Texas Interscholastic League competition at West Texas State College last spring.

Circus Lion Claws O'Donnell Child

A little O'Donnell girl was seriously injured by one of the Cole and Walters Circus lions in that city Sunday morning when she got too close to a wild animal cage.

Velda Summers, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Summers of O'Donnell, had gone to the circus grounds at about 9 a. m. Sunday to see the animals. It is believed she was peering into the dark cage, got too close to the bars, and the lion slashed at her through the bars.

She was badly scratched on the right ear, throat, top of her head, and across the shoulder. Dr. Joe Lehman, who attended the girl, said she was not critically injured.

The circus showed in O'Donnell Sunday afternoon, and in Tahoka to almost a capacity house Monday night.

Bulldogs Defeat O'Donnell, Play At Tulia Tonight

Tahoka's next home football game, with Abilene B team, has been changed to next Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Tahoka will open its District 6-AA conference season with the Slaton Tigers in Slaton on Thursday night, Oct. 30, also changed from Friday to avoid a conflict with annual Hallowe'en events.

Tahoka Bulldogs journey to Tulia today for a non-conference game with the District 4-AA Hornets, a game that promises to be a toss-up. A number of fans will follow the team, but the Tahoka band will not be present due to its trip this week to the State Fair of Texas.

Tulia should have the nod as favorite, having won over Spur 13 to 0 and Muleshoe 31 to 6, while losing to Denver City 7 to 57 and to Dumas 6 to 33.

Tahoka has won over Sundown 14 to 12, Seagraves 18 to 7, and O'Donnell 19 to 0, while losing to Denver City 0 to 53 and to Seminole 0 to 27.

Eagles' Feathers Plucked O'Donnell's high-flying Eagles came to Tahoka last Friday night with the boast they expected to "barbecue" the Bulldogs, but left Kelley Stadium littered with Eagle feathers when the Bulldogs tore into them for a 19 to 0 victory.

Tahoka scored twice in the first quarter, once in the third, had another called back by a penalty.

blocked an O'Donnell punt, intercepted four passes, and hopped on three of their fumbles to almost completely stymie the visitors. In fact, O'Donnell made only one serious threat, that in the third quarter, when on five successive first downs the Eagles carried the ball on 20 plays from their own 33 to the Tahoka 9, where the ball went over on downs. Other than that on drive, the Eagles never got past the Tahoka 42 yard line.

Tahoka's offense looked much better than in previous games, with the first real blocking of the five game season, but it was the defense that starred in this game. Billy Tong, defensive back, intercepted three passes and covered one fumble. Richard Havens, Roswell Bartley, Joe Brooks, John Foster, Billy Stice, Milfred Rattiff, Duane McMillan, John Curry, Steve Slover, and the whole defensive lineup played excellent football. Almost every boy in uniform saw at least some action. Havens did some fine punting, one for 50 yards, and one for 45.

On offense, Charley Schulz was the star ball carrier, while Gordon Smith looked good at quarterback, and Kenneth Early and I. V. J. Melton turned in some nice gains. Others seeing backfield action included Charley Hyles, though still crippled, J. B. Ables, Jimmy Bragg.

Among others seeing action were Richard Carter, Don Reed, Willie Lee Jimmy Whorton, Bobby Lehman, George Self, Jimmy Williams, and Roy Sherrod, all of whom also looked good.

"BUY DEFENSE BONDS TO REPLACE OLD TRACTORS," SAYS 'MAID OF COTTON'

Tractors, cotton and thrift are woven together in the fabric of American life, according to Miss Pat Mullarkey, Dallas, Tex., 1952 Maid of Cotton. Today, there are a million tractors on Southern cotton farms and 25,000 are added annually, sparking the trend to cotton mechanization. These tractors will last about 10 years. By putting the annual depreciation of the tractor, 10 per cent of the purchase price, into U. S. Defense Bonds each year, the thrifty cotton farmer can pay cash for a new tractor when he needs it. So, the young lady in the made-of-cotton costume reminds the cotton farmer: "Save for your new tractor the easy Defense Bond Way."

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

(Under Republican Rule)

I am an 80-years-old business-managed tax paying cotton farmer. I have been around for a long time. I can remember some thirty years ago when Republican rule was in evidence. I remember Harding, Coolidge and Hoover Especially well.

When cotton was selling for 5c a pound.
When potatoes were 3c a pound.
When corn brought only 10c a bushel.
When livestock was selling for 5c a pound.
When a bank went broke—brother you were broke.
When no farmer had rural electrical service.
When bankers and Chamber of Commerce were fighting those benefits.
When Social Security was unheard of.
When the Valley had thousand of visitors. But they all came on freight trains—hunting jobs.
When you could get a room at any hotel for 50c a night. But no one had fifty cents.
When we were told to sell apples—but we had no apples.
When Chicken dinners were 20c. But no one had 20c.
When we were promised a chicken in every pot. But we didn't even have a pot to put it in.
When we were promised a car in every garage—but we didn't even have a garage.
When Prosperity was "just around the corner" (How did he know the Democrats would win in '32.)
When farmers didn't have 90 per cent parity for crops.
When Jack rabbits were known as Hoover Hogs.

DON'T LET THEM TAKE IT AWAY

Don't be a sucker; I heard a lot of you complaining that you want a change. If a Republican is elected, you'll get a change but you won't have any change in your pocket.

You can't live on promises, we tried it.
Don't let them change our production lines to soup lines.
Don't let them force you to change that farm tractor for an Ox team.
Don't let them make you change that Cadillac for a one horse shay.
Don't let them make you change that TV set for a magic lantern.
Don't let the Mortgage Bankers take your home and farm again.
Don't let them hide Tea Pot Dome behind a Mink coat.
Don't let them put another DULLES in Our State Department.
Don't let them turn your Bank Account into Bankruptcy.
Don't let them turn the clock of progress back a half Century.
Don't let them tell you that a cheap dollar won't still buy more than No. 5SSSS.
Don't let them make you believe that it is immoral for the farmer and laboring man to have a decent standard of living.

A farm building burns somewhere in the United States every fifteen minutes. Many of these fires could be prevented if rural residents would take the time to seek out and remove fire hazards from their premises.

Mrs. C. H. Cain, who has spent several months in Florida and Ohio, is here visiting friends and looking after her business interests.

Winter-Proofing Houses Possible

The time has come for families living in older houses to make plans for winter-proofing their homes, especially where there are young children and older people, according to Ronald Sherrill, local lumber and building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Any home which has not been carefully checked for heat loss in recent years can be made more healthful and comfortable and heating bills can be reduced during the period of lower temperatures which lies ahead," Mr. Sherrill said.

"In addition to making sure that the heating plant is in good operating condition, there are four other ways to maintain more even and comfortable temperatures in cold weather:

"Be sure that the ceiling or attic floor and exterior walls are properly insulated.

"Have well-fitted storm doors and windows or double glazing on every outside opening.

"Make certain that every door and window frame is well caulked.

"Install weather-stripping on all doors and windows.

"Stopping heat loss with these precautions reduces air movement on cold days, thus preventing drafts and keeping floors warmer, in addition to saving fuel."

Orland Signal Vol. Sable, a 7-year old Jersey cow in the herd of Chester Elliff, Tullis, Texas has broken another Jersey record. She has just completed a 305-day production record of 16,130 pounds of milk and 1,052 pounds of butterfat—more fat than any Jersey in this country has ever produced in 305 days. She was the 365 day National butterfat champion in 1949 with a production of 1,223 pounds of fat and now she's the 305 day record holder also. The average Texas dairy cow produces about 140 pounds of butterfat during a lactation period. It pays to keep the good ones.

Billy Bairrington Hospital Patient

A-3c Billy J. Bairrington, formerly of Tahoka, is a patient in Fitzsimmons Army Hospital in Denver, Colo. He was hospitalized because of an old back injury and possibly ruptured disc, and a type of arthritis in the back and legs known as "traumatic arthritis." He writes that surgery will possibly be necessary to cure the ailment.

Billie Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleave Bairrington of Wells and is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Minor of Tahoka. His wife and baby boy, James Maxey, who was born on August 28, are currently living with her parents at Wink.

He joined the Air Force last May 15, took his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, and was then sent to Frances E. Warren AFB in Cheyenne, Wyoming, for training as a communications specialist. He was hospitalized July 30, four days after entering the school, and was sent to Fitzsimmons on October 9.

For friends who wish to write him, his address is: A-3c Billy J.

Lights Will Aide Egg Production

COLLEGE STATION. — Egg prices have steadily climbed since the summer slump in egg production started weeks ago. It is a situation that happens just about every year, says W. J. Moore, poultry husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service but good flock management can help overcome some of the trouble.

A practice that will pay dividends during the fall and winter is the use of lights in the laying house. For maximum production, a hen needs 12 to 14 hours of light each day, says Moore.

He recommends that lights be used from about the middle of September until spring. The light, he adds, must fall on the birds, feeders and waterers for best results. It makes no difference whether morning or evening lights are used; however, the more common practice is to use morning lights because of convenience.

In using morning lights, the recommended procedure is to turn the lights on about 30 minutes before daylight in the fall of the year as the days begin to get short, and to turn them on a little earlier each morning as the days get shorter.

When evening lights are used, the lights are turned on in the late-afternoon before dark and are allowed to burn until the birds receive their 12 to 14 hours of light per day. Moore cautions poultrymen to dim the evening lights for a few minutes before turning them off so the hens will have time to get on the roosts. Large light bulbs are not necessary. Moore recommends the use of two 25 to 40 watt bulbs each 400 feet of floor space.

Sharp Speaks At Rotary Club

Using the subject "What Do You Like About Tahoka", Jim H. Sharp, Tahoka Methodist pastor, delivered a thought-provoking talk before the Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

He urged all citizens to look for the good things in their town and to back its institutions with action instead of criticism. He said he liked his present home town because of its friendliness, because of its honest and progressive business institutions, its good school system manned by teachers of character, and because of all its churches, regardless of denomination.

The speaker was introduced by Joe Bob Billman. Junior Rotarians for the month of October are Richard Havens and Earl Bartley.

Televisions Will Be Here Soon, Radio KCBT Man Says

It now appears that Tahoka will have television service by early next year.

At least, that's the opinion of Joe Bryant, Kubbok radio and television executive.

Bryant is president of Bryant Radio and Television, Inc., which recently received a TV grant from the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

Construction work on his company's television station—KCBT-TV—has already been started. Completion of such a station usually requires five to six months, which means that KCBT-TV may be able to begin operations by April of 1953.

According to station engineers, KCBT-TV should provide excellent coverage in the Tahoka area. The station will have a radiated power of approximately 100 kilowatts, which means that it will be more than three times as powerful as TV stations now in operation at Fort Worth and Dallas.

Engineers say that KCBT-TV will give consistent, reliable coverage for a minimum radius of 53 miles from Lubbock. Beyond that distance, coverage will depend on several factors—such as the receiving antenna and set and the amount of electrical disturbance in the receiving location. In many cases, KCBT-TV is expected to provide satisfactory coverage up to 90 miles or more.

Tahoka is approximately 30 airline miles from Lubbock. The new Lubbock station will feature the latest RCA equipment throughout its studios, which will have more than 13,000 square feet of floor space. The transmitting tower will be 786 feet high, and will be located adjacent to the new studios on a 30-acre plot on the southern outskirts of Lubbock.

It is believed that nation-wide television network service will be available to KCBT-TV by the time construction of the station is completed. Lubbock will be tied to the network by means of micro-wave interconnection.

New Home Wins Over Spade 39-21

New Home Leopards played their best game of the season last Friday night at Spade to win a 39 to 21 decision, giving the Lynn county six-man team three victories against two defeats for the season.

New Home was behind 12 to 21 at the half, but put on a strong second half drive to hold Spade scoreless while rolling up 27 points in the last two periods.

Darrell Fletcher ran the Spade boys ragged, scoring five touchdowns, one a 70 yard punt return and the others on runs of from 30 to 50 yards. Tilman Carly scored the other New Home TD from five yards out.

Coach Bill Stephenson says the New Home boys turned in the best blocking performance of the season, Big Bob Smith being especially effective in showing key blocks for the ball carriers.

In the Three Way game two weeks ago, New Home lost two of its players, possibly for the season. Jim Gannaway received a broken collar bone and Gary Dean got a fractured leg.

This Friday night, New Home entertains the team from Smyer under the lights at New Home.

Dale Thuren was telling a News man this week some of the advantages some farmers are finding in defoliating cotton. He believes this quick method of preparing cotton for gathering is "just the thing" to save the farmer labor, time, and expense. It also permits him to market his cotton earlier.

Last week, one farmer had a field of 120 acres defoliated by plane at a cost of $2.70 per acre. On Monday, five days later, the farmer started his mechanical stripper in operation. The very first bale turned out 570 pounds of lint from 2150 pounds of Macha seed cotton.

The field is making approximately a quarter bale to the acre. Therefore, his defoliation cost is $10.80 per bale, and the farmer figures it cost him about $2.50 per bale to operate the stripper, or a total cost of only $13.30 per bale for defoliating and gathering, not including of course his investment in the boll puller.

Using hand labor, this pulling, if he could have secured the hands, would have cost possibly $45 or $50 per bale. Thus, the farmer got his cotton pulled $30 to $35 cheaper than by using laborers, and he will have his harvest on the 120 acres finished this week.

Dale thinks that in many cases farmers can save money and time and dispense with the worry over getting hands by using the defoliation and mechanical bollpuller method. Also the farmer may get his cotton on the market before the break in grade and staple caused by a killing freeze.

Rest Is Needed By Dairy Cows

COLLEGE STATION. — The dairy cow is a complicated piece of machinery and like all machines will wear out if not properly maintained. She needs a six to eight weeks rest between lactation periods and a good ration during the dry period.

The dry cow has three important jobs to do during this rest period, says A. M. Meekma, assistant dairy husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. She must recover from a heavy milk producing period, build a calf and store up reserves for the next lactation period. How well she does these jobs depends upon the length of the dry period and the amounts and kinds of feed she receives.

During heavy peak production, a good cow will deplete her body reserves of nutrients and minerals, says Meekma. Unless she is given sufficient rest and proper care, these body reserves may not be rebuilt and production during the next lactation period will be lowered. The health and condition of the calf will also be affected.

The problem of feeding the dry cow is practically solved if she has access to good pasture. If pasture isn't available, hay and silage should be fed liberally, says

Meekma. The amount of grain to feed will depend upon the condition of the cow, but generally it is practical to feed the same grain mix to the dry cow as is fed to the milking herd.

The pay-off comes, says Meekma, with more production—often as much as 25 per cent more—during the next lactation period. It is Meekma's belief that every dollar spent for taking care of the dairy cow during the dry period is a wise investment and a necessity if a high herd production record is to be maintained.

The senior group is the smallest class with 196 members. There are 29 special students, three post graduates and the total includes 142 transfers. Thirty-two states are represented in the enrollment, and ten foreign countries. These countries are Alaska, Canada, Hawaii, India, Ireland, Japan, Korea, Mexico, South Africa and Spain.

This college enrollment figure does not include the 238 demonstration school students or the 187 enrolled in the correspondence division.

On Thursday night of this week, as The News went to press, the Seventh and Eighth grade team was scheduled to play at Peet. Next Tuesday night, the Seventh grade is scheduled to play New Home here, and the Eighth and Ninth grades will combine to play Brownfield here.

Raines, Don Fritz, and Quarter-back Benny Clark, carried the brunt of the attack, with Cooley, Doss, and Mahurin also getting in on the ball-toting. 245-pound center, G. Moore, J. Jackson, and J. Thompson were outstanding in the line.

Tahoka Scores Early
O'Donnell received the short kick-off, and Moore, Cooley and Fritz brought the ball to Tahoka's 47, where Cooley fumbled and Steve Slover recovered for Tahoka. Ables, Schulz, and Melton carried to the O'Donnell 36, where Melton fumbled and O'Donnell recovered. Clark and Fritz carried to midfield, but on a Clark fumble, Tong recovered for Tahoka on the O'Donnell 48.

Two plays later, Schulz went through right tackle, cut and twisted 41 yards downfield to the O'Donnell 4. Here, O'Donnell was penalized to the one yard line, but Tahoka then drew a penalty back to the 6, but Kenneth Early crashed through the line to score and then bucked the line again for the conversion. Score, Tahoka 7, O'Donnell 0.

Hobby brought Willie Lee's kickoff from the 30 to the 36, but Clark lost 17 to the 19 when he went back to pass and was swarmed by the fast charging Bulldogs. Two plays later, Clark raced out to the 33, but fumbled and Ratliff recovered for Tahoka.

Tahoka drew a 15-yard holding penalty back to the 48, three plays made nothing; then, on a fourth down, desperation pass, Smith dropped back and threw a long one down the middle to I. V. J. Melton, who snatched the ball on the 20 and dashed over for Tahoka's second TD. Tahoka was offside on the conversion attempt, and the score was 13 to 0.

No Score in Second

O'Donnell's Raines made 7 but Clark lost 4 on two plays up to the O'Donnell 45, and then kicked to Tahoka's 19. Schulz took the ball but fumbled it and Ratliff recovered for him on the 23. Tahoka drew 5 yards for offside, and Schulz ran the ball out 13 yards to the 31, but a 15-yard clipping penalty set the ball back to Tahoka's 16. Smith passed to Havens 19 yards for a first, but Tahoka bogged down on the 40 and kicked.

Cooley made three from the O'Donnell 39, and then Tahoka drew a 15 yard penalty for roughing the passer. But four plays later, the visitors were back on their own 47 to punt, when McMillan broke through the line to block the visitor's punt and then covered it himself on the O'Donnell 25.

Schulz and Ables carried to the 17 on three tries, a pass was incomplete and the ball went over. Moore and Fritz made 3 yards on as many plays, and O'Donnell kicked 33 yards to Tahoka's 45, where Havens gathered in the piskin and carried it to the O'Donnell 33. Smith's pass to Slover was good for 13 to the O'Donnell 20, Smith lost 7 when he faded to pass again, then completed one to Melton for a touchdown but the play was called back and Tahoka was penalized 5 yards for backfield in motion. Another pass to Melton was good for 11, but the ball went over on downs. O'Donnell had made 8 yards on two plays as the half ended.

Bulldogs Score Again
Opening the second half, Smith took the kick-off on Tahoka's 20 and on the prettiest run of the night, along with some good blocking, almost got away for a touchdown. When an O'Donnell boy tackled him on the O'Donnell 23, the ball squirted out of his hands but Ables was on hand to recover it for Tahoka on the 26.

Three plays netted only two yards, and on fourth down, Smith passed to Havens for the third Ta-hoka touchdown. Ables failed on the conversion attempt. Score 19 to 0.

It was now that O'Donnell came to life and put on its scoring threat, rolling up five first downs with Mahurin, Raines, Doss, Moore, and Fritz each grinding off short yardage to carry the ball to the Tahoka 9, where it went over on downs.

After two running plays, Havens got off an even 50 yard punt to the O'Donnell 38. A pass to Doss was good for 9, and Fritz made it a first on the 49.

Reserves See Action
Three plays later, Tong intercepted an O'Donnell pass on the Tahoka 28. Schulz and Melton carried to the 50, Schulz going 15 yards on one run, then Early made 29 over left tackle, but Tahoka bogged down on the 27.

Tahoka Reserves stopped O'Donnell in the next series, but O'Donnell stopped them on the 50, from which point Havens kicked out of bounds on the O'Donnell 10. The Eagles still couldn't go, and got off a short kick to their own 35. Early and Melton made 7, but two passes by Bragg were incomplete.

Another 15-yard penalty and a 12-yard pass to Doss and a 5-yard penalty on Tahoka put the ball on Tahoka's 49. Here, O'Donnell tried two long passes, and Don Reed intercepted the second on Tahoka's 26. Three plays later, Havens got off a 45 yard punt. Raines made a first on a 11 yard run to the 41, but two plays later, Tong intercepted another O'Donnell pass on the Tahoka 49, and Tahoka had time for only one play before the game ended.

Speaking of passes, it is interesting to note that in five games Tahoka has intercepted 13 enemy passes and has had only two intercepted by its opponents. The Bulldogs have covered 15 enemy fumbles, and have lost the ball on 11 fumbles of their own.

Light Oil Show In Draw Tester

Very slight shows of oil and gas were reported early this week in the C. M. Ashley of Dallas No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Co tester three miles east of Draw in the two well-O'Donnell Mississippian field.

A five hour test from 8,560-

8,628 feet had gas at the surface in four hours. Recovery was 188 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut drilling mud and 5,580 feet of salt water. Operators planned to drill another 300 feet deeper and test the Mississippian. The test was in the Pennsylvanian.

Location is 660 feet from east and south lines of the south half of the northwest quarter of Section 431, Block 9, EL&RR survey.

RY NEWS WANT ADS FOR RESULTS

Odds AND Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

In view of the fact that a new and revised version of the Bible is being introduced to the English speaking world this month, we tried to show last week how that the Old Testament Scriptures, the first five books of which were written nearly 1,500 years before the birth of Christ, were not only Divinely Inspired but were also Divinely Preserved for many centuries in the Hebrew language in which they were written and eventually in the Greek language into which they were translated nearly 1,200 years later. This first translation of the Old Testament Scriptures into the Greek language, which translations came to be known as the Septuagint, was the child of Necessity from the Jewish standpoint, but little did those Jewish translators at the time suspect that in the course of time it would be translated into practically all of the languages of the Gentile nations and become the Bible of the civilized peoples of the world.

Still less did they suspect that it would become the means by which the Messiah, whom they confidently expected to come some time in the future to become their political deliverer and king, would be identified and recognized in the person of the Son of a virgin named Mary who lived at Nazareth in Galilee.

And still less yet did they suspect that this Septuagint together with the story of the birth, life, death and resurrection of Mary's son would in time become the basis of a new religion, to be known as the Christian religion, which would grow and spread until it should become the most vital and powerful spiritual force the world has ever known. Unwittingly, those learned Jewish translators were serving the world in a greater way than they suspected and were unwittingly also carrying out the purposes of the great Jehovah, the God of Abraham, and Moses, and David, and all the prophets.

That story as to how the Septuagint came to be written, is a most interesting one, although it seems to have come about in a perfectly natural way. There was no fan-fare about it—no attempt to be sensational. The translators sounded no trumpet before them announcing what an achievement they were about to undertake. And nobody shot any fireworks when they had completed the job. It was really the Jew's keen business sense that prompted the translation of the Scriptures into Greek.

For confirmation of the story as I shall give it, I refer any doubting Thomases to "The World Book," Vol. 2, page 725, and Vol. 10, page 6,499; to "Peloubet's Bible Dictionary," page 804; and to "Biblical Backgrounds," pages 441-2, by Dr. McKee Adams, professor in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, from which Volume I shall quote at some length, for his comments on the origin of the Septuagint are the most illuminating I have seen. Here it is.

"The Publication of the Septuagint is one of the world's fascinating stories. The scene of this great accomplishment was in Alexandria during the reign of Philadelphus (285-247 B. C.). It was obviously the outgrowth of the Jewish dispersion to Alexandria, the principal center of Jewish life in Egypt, and the second Jewish city in the world. Here they became established in business, lived in restricted quarters presided over by their own ethnarch and assembly, amenable to their own laws, and unmolested in their religious, cultural, political, and business activities.

"The Jews were given a more influential position in Alexandria than anywhere else in the Roman world. On the other hand, their exceptional treatment in Alexandria did not isolate them from Gentile contacts and influence. They were constantly menaced by the culture of the Gentile world. In some respects they were compelled to conform to the exigencies of the situation, particularly in the matter of language, though as a rule change or conformity was voluntary.

"But the adoption of the Greek language, the world's common medium of speech, was a necessity if the Jews were to carry on successful competition in the marts. Suddenly transformed into a commercial people, they had to abandon the Hebrew or Aramaic language for the tongue of the nations. The practical outcome was the death of Hebrew to the dispersed Jew. The most important aspect of this transition was the demand of the expatriated Jew for a translation of the Hebrew Scriptures in a language which he could understand. This was the immediate background of the Septuagint.

"The publication of the Greek Version was the most significant event in the history of Alexandria. It became the Greek Bible not only for Alexandrian Jews but for the whole of the Western Dispersion. It was the sole Bible of early Hebrew Christians, as shown in the extant quotations from Paul and other New Testament writers. Though subsequently abandoned by the Jews, on the grounds that the Christians used the Septuagint to prove that Jesus was the Jewish Messiah, the Greek Version accomplished its mission as the great single preparatory force for the introduction of Christianity into the Graeco-Roman world."

From this Septuagint, all the present-day Versions of the Bible have come—at least all of the English-language Versions.

But the number of Bibles of any Version remained few in number as long as they had to be written out on scrolls in long hand.

For more than 1,500 years after the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ, the Christian Church survived and gained countless converts without any Bible in the hands of the common people, yea, without a Bible perhaps in many a Christian Church. That is another of the marvels of all time. It is doubtless true that most churches did possess a Bible in the form of papyrus scrolls. The Roman Catholic Church used the Vulgate, a translation of the Septuagint into Latin by Jerome about 385-405 A. D. Independent church bodies probably used the Septuagint itself and the New Testament books written in Greek as their Bible, but since all copies had to be hand-written, there probably was never more than one for any local church. No wonder there was a long period of Dark Ages.

Then at length there occurred in Germany an event regarded as unimportant at the time but it has proved to be one of the greatest events in all history. One Johann Gutenberg invented the first successful printing press. Born in 1400 A. D., he was just about 50 years of age when he contrived the art of printing from movable type. The press, of course, was a small outfit and we guess he could have carried his supply of type around in a printer's apron, but his little press from the very start turned out a neat job of printing. The first book he ever printed was a Bible, in the German language, of course, for he was a German himself and lived at Mainz, Germany. The printing of that Bible was completed in 1452, or there-

OCT-12-18 THIS IS OIL PROGRESS WEEK

Progress 1952

Texas have a natural interest in the oil industry, which is so important in our State, and in the progress made since Oil Progress Week was last observed.

Here are a few quick facts:

New Wells—During the twelve months ending August 31, 1952, the Texas oil industry drilled 17,000 new wells, at a cost of over $700 million. Most of the heavy expense of drilling these new wells was paid from earnings plowed back into the development of the State's oil resources.

Transportation—The total mileage of Texas' trunk pipe lines for oil and finished products is over 29,000. This low-cost transportation system is a major factor in the maintenance of the low prices you pay for petroleum products.

Production—Production has reached a record level. Texas currently is producing about 46 per cent of all the crude oil produced in the U. S. In the year ending August 31, Texas production totaled about 1,015 million barrels. There are now 133,800 producing oil wells in Texas.

Reserves—Proved oil reserves in Texas of 18 billion barrels represented 57 per cent of the U. S. total at the beginning of 1952. During 1951, the last year for which figures are available, proved reserves increased two billion barrels. These are developed oil reserves and the figure is important: developed reserves supply our needs currently and provide reserve capacity that is immediately available when we need it.

Refining—The Texas refineries will have a big year. They now employ, in round numbers, 46,000 Texans, and process about 28% of all the oil refined in the U. S. The daily refining capacity of all Texas refineries exceeds 2,000,000 barrels. A program to expand and improve these facilities has been general throughout the industry.

Taxes—The Texas oil industry continues to be the largest tax-payer in the State. Through the year ending August 31, gross production taxes alone on Texas oil and natural gas amounted to more than $137 million; in addition, the industry pays large amounts in other taxes.

HUMBLE

TEXAS OPERATIONS
Twelve Months Ending August 31, 1952

Average Production, in barrels daily 330,100
Employees in Texas, August 31 17,775

Humble Pipe Line Co. operates 1,893 miles of trunk lines for oil and finished products, which had transported a daily average of 722,600 barrels in the year ending August 31.

In brief, the Texas oil industry during the past year continued to do its part in meeting the demand for oil. It has expanded pipelines to provide low-cost transportation. It has improved facilities for making more and better petroleum products for your use. Today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three gallons in 1925; and the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

Odds & Ends

about forty years before Columbus discovered America. The printing of other books followed, and the art of printing soon spread to Italy, France, and England.

Then came another one of the world's greatest events, the discovery of America by Columbus in 1492. That was an event that sure-enough set the world on fire. At least it kindled a burning desire in the heart of many a young man to explore and exploit the new land that Columbus discovered. Stories of the explorers set the little old printing presses to running in many a city and town in Europe. Furthermore the art of printing afforded men the opportunity to air their opinions regarding politics, religion, and what-have-you.

The first New Testament printed in English was a translation made by William Tyndale, 1525-26—just a few years after Cortez had over-run Mexico, killing Indians by the thousands and supplanting their pagan worship with his brand of Christianity, Roman Catholicism.

The first whole Bible printed in English, was the Miles Coverdale Translation in 1535. The English people made out with that version until 1611, when 47 to 54 Clergymen and Scholars of the Church of England gave us the King James Version.

That King James Version has indeed been a blessing to the world. The New Testament portion of the new Version of the entire Bible that is now being issued was completed some six years ago, and I have had a copy of it for about five years. I like it for its accuracy and clearness. I like it for its correct use of English according to the standards of the present day. For example, it never refers to the Father as "which" but as "who"—Our Father who art in heaven. The relative pronoun "which" is used in many places in the King James version where the more respectful and reverent "Who" should be used and is used in the new Revised version. I could name many little defects like that in the King James version which the new version corrects.

On the other hand, the new version makes some changes which I regret. Take John 3:16, for instance. It makes a slight change, without changing the sense, in that familiar and much beloved passage of Scripture. I can see no good in changing the phraseology of a familiar Scripture unless the change makes for clarity or force.

We may find far more serious objections when the full text of the whole Revised Bible comes into our hands but we are sure that we will find that many obsolete words have been eliminated and many inaccurate expressions changed.

Now I am going to back-track a little. There was one very important translation of the Bible into English made by John Wycliffe away back in 1381, long before the printing press was invented and I am sure that this translation was never printed. It was also long before the English Catholic Church had been rent in twain and the Church of England established, an event which was consummated in 1535. The Vulgate with its several revisions was the standard Bible of the Catholic Church, and it was this version, therefore, that John Wycliffe translated into English in 1381, more than 150 years before the Church of England was established 70 years before Gutenberg invented the printing press. It was only a hand-written scroll, therefore, and the number of copies necessarily very limited. Nevertheless it had much influence in shaping the religious beliefs of the English people of that day and of future generations. John Wycliffe, who made the translation, was in fact a great scholar and a man of great character. So great was his impress upon the religious thought of the people of his country and neighboring countries that he came to be called "The Morning Star of the Reformation," of which Martin Luther much later became the torch bearer and chief exponent, even though that was 138 years before Luther nailed his ninety-five theses on the door of All Saints' Church in Wittenberg, Germany. Wycliffe's renunciation and repudiation of the doctrines and practices of the Roman Catholic Church therefore preceded Luther's renunciation by that many years. The story of his early life is rather obscure, but he was born about 1320 and as a young man he studied at old Oxford University. He became a great scholar and in 1360 became Master of Balliol College, one of the many colleges appurtenant to the great University. He attained considerable fame in University circles for his scholarship, and held a number of rectories—or as we would say, he pastored a number of churches.

In 1374, he was appointed on a commission to confer with representatives of Pope Gregory XI respecting some differences in doctrine and practices that had arisen in the Catholic Church. Instead of being closed the rift grew wider. Wycliffe became an open critic of the Papacy, which was indeed a heinous offense. He stoutly defended his position and went so far as to contend that every individual has access to God without the intervention of any priest, clergyman, or other church dignitary whatsoever. That each individual had the right to study the Bible for himself. That was in 1374 to 1377, and in the latter year Pope Gregory issued five bulls or papal charges against Wycliffe, charging him with heresy, demanding that the English Government should imprison him, and compel him to appear before the arch-bishops and the Pope for trial. The demand was refused and Wycliffe set free. By that time, he had decided that the people needed a Bible in their own language which they could read. He and other scholars proceeded to make a translation of the Catholic Vulgate, which differs from our Bible chiefly in the fact that it includes some so-called books—which we reject as Apocrypha—not genuine.

Wycliffe died in 1384 and was buried at Lutterworth, but 30 years later the Council of Constance decreed that his remains be burned, it was not until 1428, however, that the decree was carried out. In that year, under the command of Pope Martin V, his remains were dug up and burned and the ashes were scattered upon the waters of the River Swift—A fine Christian (?) act was that. It must have pleased the Lord greatly.

While Wycliffe was still living, "poor priests" were sent out on foot to preach the gospel and tell the message of the Bible to the people. After his death, his followers kept up their missionary work, and great numbers of people flocked to the services and thousands were converted. An enemy churchman, in derision, called them Lollards, and the name stuck. It is supposed to be a Dutch word, meaning to "sing softly" or mumble prayers and psalms; but a fling like that can leave no stigma on any man—it is a mark of honor, rather. For many years the Lollards were a numerous and influential sect in England, having their headquarters in London, Leicester, and western England. Wycliffe had in fact become virtually a Baptist on many points without knowing it, and his teachings contributed much to the spread of independent and non-Catholic church bodies throughout England and eventually to the great reformation movement fathered by Martin Luther 140 years later.

The Roman Catholic Church in most countries is still using the Vulgate translation, a version printed in the Latin language, which is no longer generally used in any country except in Catholic churches. Of course the congregations generally do not understand Latin and must therefore depend upon the priests for whatever religious instructions are given them. The Roman Catholic Hierarchy takes the position that the laity generally are not capable of understanding or interpreting the Scriptures for themselves and that this must be done for them therefore by Roman Catholic priests or other dignitaries of the church. So, they withhold the Bible from the Catholic laity. They have to do so, otherwise they would not have any Catholic Church long. Place the Bible in the hands of any worshiper of God and get him to really study it, and, like Wycliffe, and Martin Luther, and Tyndale, and Coverdale, and millions of others, he will soon repudiate Catholicism. And, if the truth were known by votaries of the Catholic Church, that is the main reason why they are prohibited from reading the Bible.

In closing I wish again to quote the World Book. In Vol. 2, page 725, in an article about the Bible, we find this language: "Long after Christendom spread to countries where no Latin was spoken, that language continued (Cont'd. On Page 4) to be used in the churches, and the earliest suggestions that the Bible should be translated into the vernacular, or tongue of the common people, met with violent opposition. Express the sacred truths which has stood supreme in the Church for centuries in the vulgar language of the people? It was not to be thought of! But in every enlightened country there were brave men who dared to fight against tradition to bring the Bible within reach of all."

Communists today are viciously trying to destroy the Bible. Roman Catholics are still trying to keep it out of the hands of the common people. Protestants are now offering to the people a version that is more readable and understandable. These new revisers may have made some mistakes. If so, we hope that they may soon be corrected, for the Bible is the greatest weapon in our hands today for the spread of Christianity, democracy, justice, and liberty throughout the world.

DISHPAN HANDS

DISHWASHER HANDS

There's a difference in hands that "do" dishes and hands that "dial" dishes. Hands that "do" dishes are often rough and red, chapped and creased and unattractive. Hands that "dial" dishes are soft and smooth, the nails are polished and pretty, and they always look beautiful and bright.

An automatic electric dishwasher — the way that lets you "dial" dishes — makes dishwashing a snap. Just scrape the dishes, stack them in the dishwasher and snap the dial.

For your hands' sake, don't "do" dishes, "dial" dishes.
