Community Chest Is Organized Here

A slate of directors for Tahoka and another for outlying areas of Tahoka were approved Thursday night of last week when a group of interested citizens met in the City-Legion building to discuss the organization of a Community Chest in Tahoka.

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the directors on Monday, April 13, at 7:30 p. m. at the Southwestern Public Service Office Reddy Room.

Dr. Gerald Wood has served as chairman as a Chamber of Commerce committee to study the organization set-up.

The purpose of a Community Chest is to combine the now existing drives into one drive. The organizations included will be the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross and Salvation Army. However, this does not mean that the amount of the individual's contributions to these organizations should be reduced. Citizens will still be giving to the four organizations, but through one agency and only one drive each year.

Contributions will not have to be given at one time, but may be paid annually, semi-annually, or quarterly. This may be done by cash, check or bank draft.

This, the committee believes, will relieve the citizens of the burden of three, four or five solicitations each year.

All of the people working with the Community Chest are volunteers, and the committee states that "your cooperation as a citizen is needed to make the Chest work."

Directors named Monday night in Tahoka are Steven Thompson, Harry Lee Short, Leighton Knox, Don Browning, Warren Embree, Binie White, Wayne Waters, Urban Brown, Granvel Ayer, Herman Renfro, Johnny Wells and Dr. Gerald Wood.

Directors of the surrounding area are Lynn West, Tommy Sterling, Roy LeMond, and Reuben McIlroy.

Jaycees Start Fund For Stice

Tahoka Jaycees on Wednesday started a fund to help Freddie Stice, 19, patient in John Sealy Hospital at Galveston, who was almost electrocuted in a highline accident a few weeks ago.

Stice has had to have an arm amputated, several skin grafts on a leg, and faces a long period of hospitalization. He is a young married man reared here, and had been employed by Seth Lewis Construction Co.

Jaycees have started a "Freddie Stice Fund" at First National Bank, where anyone who desires may make a deposit to help him take care of his bills. Or, change may be dropped in jars at local stores, or checks given to any Jaycee.

At Tuesday night's meeting, the Jaycees also voted to take over the concessions stand operation at the coming rodeo.

Plans were also discussed for a fly-in breakfast and dedication ceremonies at Tahoka Airport in celebration of the new paved airstrip.

Charles Osborne is the new Jaycee president.

THE TAHOKA HIGH SCHOOL BAND is shown here in brand new uniforms of royal blue and white. The concert band, under direction of Vic Kyler, has appeared once in the new attire at the UIL contests in Levelland. The white plastic shields on jacket front are removable and will be worn for special occasions. Under Mr. Kyler's leadership, the band has become one of the outstanding units for its size in the area. With the new band hall, practice rooms, etc. in the high school building under construction and with younger talent in junior bands, the future looks bright for accelerated interest and growth in the music program of the school.

Lubbock Lawyer, Levelland Doctor Buy Mrs. W. B. Slaton's Bank Stock

Purchase of controlling interest in the First National Bank of Tahoka by a Levelland doctor and a Lubbock lawyer was officially announced today by A. Charles Verner, president of the institution.

Dr. C. M. Phillips of Levelland and his son-in-law, James S. Moore of Lubbock, an attorney, have purchased the interest of Mrs. W. B. Slaton of Lubbock and her daughter, Mrs. Earl (Lucille) Lenthenstrom of Seattle, Wash.

Mr. Verner stated there are no plans for any change in policy or personnel of the bank. Other executive officers are F. B. (Pete) Hegi and Warren Embree, vice presidents, who are also stockholders along with L. O. Sparks and W. H. Eudy.

Dr. Phillips has been elected a director and chairman of the board and Mr. Moore a director and vice-president of the bank.

Mr. Moore told The News that plans for the new drive-in bank at the site of the old Shook building, recently dismantled, were going forward.

Dr. Phillips is a long-time resident of West Texas, having moved to Lubbock in 1911 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Phillips, Sr., and has a number of friends in Tahoka.

Dr. Phillips is a graduate of the University of Texas and also of the Medical School at Galveston. He began practicing medicine in Levelland in 1931 with Dr. John Dupre, and they built the Phillips-Dupre Hospital there. Following his military activation in 1940, Dr. Phillips served in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army in the European theatre of operations, where he commanded the Normandy Base Section. Upon discharge from service in 1946, the then Col. Phillips returned to Levelland to continue his practice.

He retired from active practice two years ago and now devotes his time to public service and business interests. He is a past president of the University of Texas Dads Club, University of Texas Medical Branch Ex-Students Association, and a former member of the State Board of Medical Examiners.

James S. Moore is an attorney in Lubbock with the firm of Moore and Armstrong. He is a graduate of Texas A&M and the University of Texas Law School. Reared on a farm south of Arlington, he served as a representative from Fort Worth in the Texas Legislature from 1964 until 1967, when he moved to Lubbock to practice law. Mr. Moore is chairman of the board of Wolforth State Bank.

Sale of the stock ended 57 years of the Slatons' association with the bank. The late W. B. Slaton came here in 1907 as a bank clerk, served many years as cashier, became president and major stockholder on death of A. L. Lockwood and wife. Following a stroke in 1956, Mr. Slaton retired and Mr. Verner joined the bank, becoming president some time after Mr. Slaton's death in August 1961. When Mr. Verner moved to executive vice president of the First National Bank of Lubbock early this year, Mr. Hegi moved up to executive vice president, and Mr. Embree, who had been president of the bank at Bovina, came here as an active vice president.

Four Lynn county school districts elected new trustees in voting last Saturday, and O'Donnell voters turned "thumbs down" on a proposed $275,000 bond issue for plant improvements.

In Tahoka district, Martin White and James F. (Sonny) Roberts were elected new members of the board from a field of five candidates. They will succeed Maurice Huffaker, long a board member and formerly chairman, and Glen Renfro, neither of whom was a candidate for re-election. A near-record 528 votes were cast.

Four Blasts Mean Tornado Warning

Fire Chief Pat Patterson is reminding Tahoka citizens that four long blasts of the siren is a warning of an approaching tornado or a warning of conditions favorable to tornadoes.

He said, however, that local persons should not be unduly alarmed over reports of thunderstorms, etc. because local units will be stationed to watch the clouds.

There are at least six cars, including sheriff's and deputies' cars, police cars and the Fire Department station wagon that are attuned to the same radio frequency to report to one another their findings. At the report of bad clouds, these cars take stations along the highways and in various communities to spot tornadoes or possible tornadoes.

When the condition warrants, the siren will be blown to warn residents to take cover.

City Elections Held Tuesday

Tahoka elected three new aldermen in the annual city election Tuesday when 414 voters went to the polls.

From a field of seven candidates, Alton Cain, R. W. (Randy) Rutherford, and W. T. Kidwell were elected to office. Cain received 288, Rutherford 275, and Kidwell 270 votes. Trailing these three were W. A. Reddell with 130 votes, Mrs. Sue Inman 108, Leslie Paris 84, and Froylan D. Salinas 44.

Retiring members of the council are H. W. (Sam) Edwards, James F. (Sonny) Roberts, and J. E. (Emory) Nance, who were not candidates for re-election. Holdovers are Mayor Meldon Leslie, Jack Jaquess, and Charles Oliver.

In light voting at Wilson, Victor Steinhauser was re-elected, receiving 35 votes, and Harold Key, who received 27 votes, was elected to the other spot on the City Council. Billy Rhoads, a present member of the City Council, received 18, and Zollie L. Moore 20. Holdovers are Mayor Clarence Church, A. N. Crowson, D. J. Hutcherson, and Clarence Nelson.

There was light voting at O'Donnell, where L. J. Hask received 38 votes to be re-elected mayor, although there was a mild write-in vote of 9 for Cleve Bairrington for the office. Hollis Swinney and Ralph Knight received 46 and 44 votes, respectively, for aldermen unopposed.

New Home, recently organized as a town, did not have an election.

Nance Brothers Hurt In Accident

J. E. and Bill Nance, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Nance, were injured in an automobile accident Saturday night about nine miles north of Denton, where the boys are students at North Texas State University.

Their lives, and the lives of five other boys, were saved by another student, who pulled the seven unconscious victims from the car as it was being destroyed by fire.

J. E. received fractured ribs and a punctured lung, but was expected to be released from the hospital in a few days, according to his father. Bill received lacerations of the leg and foot and is in a cast because of severed tendons. He was released Wednesday.

Mrs. Nance is with the boys in Denton, who was accompanied by Mr. Nance on Sunday.

The accident occurred on a four-lane divided highway during a heavy rainstorm. Mr. Nance said the highway patrol stated that another automobile stopped directly in front of the Nance car to pick up hitch hikers. The rain and slick highway prevented J. E., the driver, from seeing the car or stopping in time.

Seven of the eight boys in the Nance car were knocked unconscious. Both cars were demolished by fire, but one of the boys was able to get everyone out.

Wednesday with Rev. David Hamblin, pastor, and Rev. Wesley Daniel, pastor of Seagraves Methodist Church, officiating.

On Thursday afternoon at 2:30 funeral services were held in the Brock Methodist Church near Weatherford and burial was in Brock Cemetery. White Funeral Home directed the O'Donnell service.

Mr. Thomas had been a patient in the hospital for 11 days preceding his death. Born Aug. 1, 1880 in Parker county, Texas, he came to Lynn county in 1917 from his native county.

A farmer in the western portion of Lynn county for about 40 years, Mr. Thomas retired and moved to O'Donnell about six years ago. He was married to Miss Cora Barnett on Feb. 19, 1953 in Weatherford. "Uncle Buddy", as he was known to his friends, was a member of the O'Donnell Methodist Church.

Now, before the grazing season begins, is the time to make an appraisal of the condition and amount of pasture so that a proper stocking rate can be determined.

In determining stocking rates there are three basic considerations that must be kept in mind if the grass is to remain in vigorous and productive condition. These are (1) when should grazing commence; (2) how much growth should be removed; and (3) how much litter should remain through the winter for soil protection.

When to start grazing will depend to some extent on the species of grass, but in any case no grazing should be done until the grass has reached the early booting stage. Doing this allows the grass to get established and off to a vigorous start. Then after grazing is begun, livestock numbers should be controlled so that no more than 50 percent of the current season's growth is removed.

This factor is very important.

We must keep in mind that the grass plant can grow only if it has an adequate leaf surface. We like to think of the leaves as a factory. They take sunlight, air and water and convert these basic elements into forage. This is the reason that it is vitally important to take no more than 50 percent of the growth. If more than this amount is taken the grass does not have sufficient leaf surface to manufacture additional growth.

Overgrazing will always cause the grass to decline in vigor and if continued for a prolonged period the grass will die. Moreover, by grazing properly the grass can develop a deep root system. This will enable it to survive drought and severe winters. The grass stores food in its roots which it uses to produce initial growth in the spring.

If proper use is practiced, a deep root system is developed and grazing can be continued through the winter without harming the grass.

However, for soil protection at least 2,000 pounds of litter per

Rabies Shots Will Be Given Again On Next Monday

Because of such a large turnout of Tahoka citizens bringing their dogs to City Hall Monday afternoon to receive rabies vaccinations, Dr. Byrd of Lubbock will return to Tahoka next Monday afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. to vaccinate those who were turned away.

City Police had issued a warning that all dogs not tagged with City licenses would be picked up beginning Tuesday. However, because the visiting veterinarian ran out of serum, picking up of untagged dogs will not be started until after next Monday.

Rabies shots were given from about 3:00 p. m. until 6:00 p. m. this week.

City Police express their appreciation to all citizens who responded and say they hope that all those who were unable to receive the shots for their pets will return Monday afternoon.

Pointers Given On Lawn Care

College Station — For an attractive lawn this summer, homeowners should review and plan lawn care, reports J. Neil Pratt, area Extension agronomist with Texas A&M University.

Proper fertilization, watering and mowing are important, he says.

Fertilization should continue through the growing season, Pratt said. Start when grass begins to grow using a complete fertilizer. Pratt suggests one having equal amounts of nitrogen, phosphate and potassium for this first application. Apply at the rate of two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

During the growing season apply nitrogen every eight to 10 weeks at the rate of one to two pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet. Pratt points out that nitrogen is the key element in turf growth. It produces the deep green color home-owners desire.

When watering the lawn, Pratt believes you should soak the soil to a depth of six inches.

"This encourages a deep root system that will utilize plant nutrients more efficiently and be more resistant to diseases," Pratt said. "Light sprinkling produces shallow, weak root systems that encourage weed infestation and disease."

Mowing should be frequent with a small amount of plant growth removed with each cutting. Pratt recommends mowing only one inch off St. Augustine lawns at each mowing. St. Augustine should be cut at a height of two inches and Bermuda at 1 1/4 inches.

"Lawn mowers should be sharp," he said. "The blade should cut the leaves, not shredding or crushing tips. The machine should be in good running condition and have adequate safety devices. Stones, sticks and other objects should be removed so they won't dull the blade or be thrown dangerously by power mowers."

FACTS ABOUT STROKE

FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT STROKE, ASK YOUR HEART ASSOCIATION

Plants Take Food Through Leaves

Fertilizer applied to the leaves of plants is sometimes more effective than when spread in the root zone in the conventional manner, says County Agricultural Agent Bill Griffin.

Though it is possible to supply only a small portion of the total nutrition needed by the plant in this manner, he adds, if a foliar fertilizer spray is applied at precisely the correct time, outstanding results can be obtained.

Research conducted to correct specific nutrient deficiencies and to provide nutrients at critical growth periods have proven beneficial. Almost all crops respond to a foliar spray of nitrogen, and show a slight response to phosphorus and potassium, according to Griffin. He also says that crops in many areas of the state respond to foliar application of certain micronutrients, like iron and zinc.

He continues that probably the greatest value of foliar feeding plants would be with crops where certain deficiencies can be corrected easily by spray treatments, where spraying is already an established practice, where total leaf areas are large, and where there is a great demand for nutrients at a certain time; such as during flowering and fruiting.

Precautions for foliar applications that Griffin lists include limiting the fertilizer salt content to two percent, because leaves can be damaged by high salt concentrations. He also advises that certain plants, especially strawberries, should not receive foliar sprays during the heavy blooming period.

For detailed information on the use of foliar fertilization, contact Griffin for a copy of L-353, "Foliar Feeding of Plants."

There has been some discussion as to whether the total acreage planted to cotton on the High Plains might not be reduced under the revised Cooley Bill as passed by the Senate and due for consideration in the House about April 9th.

We don't believe the bill would reduce cotton acres at all in this area.

The bill does not change the 16 million acre national allotment, but designates about two-thirds of those acres as "domestic" acres, calculated to be the acreage necessary to satisfy domestic demand for raw cotton. The present release and reapportionment program is left intact. The loan price would be at 30 cents Middling Inch at average location, and the farmer who planted only his domestic allotment (about two-thirds of total allotment) would receive additional income through direct PIK certificates on his normal yield from domestic acres. The bill specifies that this payment could not exceed 4.5 cents per pound, but the Secretary of Agriculture has indicated that the payment in 1964 would likely be 3.5 cents.

Talks with various producers around the 23-county area reveal that, already being equipped to produce cotton on their total allotment, most could not afford to either leave out or switch to another crop on one-third of their allotment. To do so in a large majority of cases would leave tractors, strippers, trailers, irrigation equipment and even manpower to operate at less than maximum capacity. Farmers realize that reducing efficiency in this way is a costly process.

Also, we asked John J. Seibert, Area Extension Farm Management Specialist, to draw up several examples of how the program would affect net income under varied conditions. These examples show that only a farmer with an allotment of below maybe thirty acres might expect any significant gain in income by electing to divert a third of his acreage. And, in the case of allotments of 15 acres or less the producer qualifies automatically for the bonus payment without reducing planted acreage. Since less than three percent of High Plains allotments fall in the 15 to 30 acre size category, any reduction in that range would be infinitesimal.

Seibert used average yields and average operating costs in his calculations without making allowances for the increased efficiency which normally accrues to the greater number of acres planted. Even so, net income in most instances came out greater for the farmer who planted his total allotment.

In addition to this the bill provides that the Secretary may authorize an increase of up to 10 percent of a farmer's total allotment for export at world price. There is, of course, no certainty that this would be permitted by the Secretary, but if it were it would tend to increase rather than decrease the total acreage planted to cotton on the High Plains. And, there has been hope that this extra production might also be allowed to go into new and non-textile uses such as cotton bagging or paper making. This possibility could really be a boon to the High Plains where large volume, low quality cotton can probably be produced as cheaply as anywhere in the United States.

In making decisions as to whether legislation is either "good" or "bad" it would be foolish not to consider the alternative. In this instance the alternative to passage of legislation to reduce the huge cotton surpluses is likely a forced, across the board cut in cotton acreage of 20 or 25 percent. It is impossible to predict with any degree of certainty the total acreage that would be planted to cotton under this legislation, but looking at the alternative it appears we would be taking a very small risk indeed.

Gordon McLendon Senate Candidate

Gordon McLendon gave special attention to civil rights and other domestic issues this week in his fast-moving campaign for the Democratic U. S. Senatorial nomination in the May 2 Primary.

The Dallas radio executive emphasized his support of equal voting and educational rights for all, but elaborated on his opposition to provisions of the pending civil rights bill which he contends would deprive members of all ethnic groups of the rights of trial by jury, private property and civil liberties.

"In its present form the so-called civil rights bill poses the greatest threat to our constitutional liberties since the Supreme Court overthrew an almost identical act in 1883," McLendon declared.

He asserted that increased job opportunities, a problem which figures in both the civil rights debate and the administration's "war on poverty," can be assured only by freeing business from bureaucratic restraints to promote business expansion.

McLendon said Texas has found a satisfactory solution to the problem of medical care for the aged by implementing the Kerr-Mills law and the Texas-65 program, both based on the principle of voluntary health insurance.

Reiterating his opposition to federal aid and control over schools, McLendon advocated encouragement of a "realistic tax exemption for families supporting students in higher education." McLendon pointed out that his opponent, incumbent Senator Ralph Yarborough, helped defeat an amendment which would have written a $1200 college exemption into the new tax bill.

"Cap" Rowe Tells Of Trip To North

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. "Cap" Rowe returned Monday from a three-week trip to Carrington, North Dakota, to visit their daughter and husband, Betsy and Orville Varhaug.

Cap says that country was covered with deep snow and a cold wave was on. Easter Sunday morning the thermometer was 12 degrees below zero, but two days before it was 20 below. The "hottest" day was 10 above zero.

But, people went about everyday living in normal manner, and one night all the neighbors gathered in for a little party in their honor.

He says most houses have a vestibule entrance, many pile hay around the bottom of the house to cut the wind and cold, and most people sleep upstairs, where it's easier to keep the house warm.

The Varhaugs raise wheat and flax. They have good barns, and Orville also keeps milk cows.

The Rowes crossed 14 states on this trip, and en route home they came through Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, and his old home state of Arkansas.

In Mississippi, Cap says he saw a sight he will probably never see again — a man breaking young mules. They also came by Oxford, Miss., and he says he tried to enroll "Ma" in "Old Miss" but they wouldn't take her.

Bill Waldrip Home, Wins Commendation

Billy Bob Waldrip, 31, left Wednesday following a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Waldrip, and other relatives.

His Commanding Officer, J. H. Stover Jr., presented him a very complimentary letter which will go into his record in appreciation for outstanding performance of duty at the Bethesda Command, for industrious, astute and diligent efforts in his work and for his leadership and excellent attitude.

now before Congress, would force all wage-earners and their employers to pay substantially higher payroll taxes to provide hospitalization and other limited health care to millions of the elderly who are financially able to take care of themselves. This is morally wrong.

The worker earning $100 a week, who would be compelled to pay at least 16% more payroll taxes, would pay as much tax toward the program as the $1,000-a-week executive. Thus, the bulk of the tax load would fall on those least able to pay. This is morally wrong.

Lynn County's Population Estimate Is 12,425

Lynn county population has increased approximately 1,500 since the official U. S. Census of 1960, according to an estimate made as a result of a survey by the Population Research Center of the University of Texas.

The county had a population of 10,914 in 1960, and the University agency now estimates Lynn's population at 12,425.

The University contributes the principal factor in growth to an influx of Latin-American farm laborers.

Three formulas were used in estimating the population of this county, along with the other 253 counties of the state of Texas.

The formulas are very involved, but basically the three methods used are:

1. Number of scholastics, births and deaths, all compared to those in the 1960 census. Under this formula, Lynn county should have 12,600 people, a five percent growth since 1960.

2. This method is based on comparison of number of births and deaths alone for 1963 and for 1960. This formula would give Lynn 12,999 people, a growth of 5.8 percent.

3. This method is based principally on number of passenger car registrations for the years 1960 and 1963, which would give the county a population of 11,584, or a growth of two percent.

The analysis points out that each method has its faults but that the first is more nearly reliable in most counties of the state.

An average of the three methods used results in an arrival at the 12,425 figure, which itself could be a little high in Lynn county's case.

Lynn county reached its previous population peak in 1960, when the official U. S. census showed the county had 12,373 people. Since that time, the population had decreased slightly until farmers began demanding more labor.

By 10-year periods, Lynn's population according to U. S. census figures has been:

1890	9	1930	12,372
1890	24	1940	11,931
1900	17	1950	11,090
1910	1,713	1960	10,914
1920	4,751	1964 est.	12,425

Savings Bonds Sales Increase

Savings bonds sales had reached $79,349, or 34.8 percent of the quota for 1964 of $230,000 up until March 1, County Chairman F. B. Hegi of the Savings Bonds committee announces.

Lynn was second in the district percentage-wise in U. S. Savings Bonds sales, being exceeded only by Kent County, which already had 88.6 percent of its $20,000 quota. The county is also tenth in the state.

Bob Brummal of Lubbock, District 4 chairman, has recently announced Mr. Hegi as the new Lynn County Savings Bonds Chairman, succeeding Charles Verner, who has been named Lubbock county chairman since becoming executive vice president of the First National Bank in that city.

Lynn Citizens' Personal Income Tax $2 Million

(Special to The News)
New York—Residents of Lynn county will benefit from the recent reduction in tax rates—but not on this April 15th.

Just at a time when the record-breaking tax cut is showing up in their weekly paychecks, they must sit down and calculate their returns on the basis of last year's rates.

Their contribution to the Federal coffers, therefore, will still be heavy. Washington is counting on its being greater than last year's, when personal tax returns from the local area came to approximately $1,969,000, including what was collected via withholding.

The finding is based on the report of the Internal Revenue Service for the State of Texas as a whole, together with unofficial figures on earnings and income groupings locally.

They show that Lynn county residents contributed 0.11 percent of the total collected in the state, which was $1,807,975,000.

Because incomes rose in most sections of the country during the past year, the presumption is that the current returns will be proportionately higher.

In Lynn county, on the strength of incomplete reports showing the change in personal income in 1963, the local contribution this year should be about $2,091,000, an increase of $102,000.

The Administration counts on a great expansion of the economy in the forthcoming months. It believes that the stimulus provided by the huge tax cut will carry the country to new high ground in terms of production, employment and income.

This confidence is indicated in the budget figures for fiscal 1965. They assume that the individual tax returns in the coming year will not only restore the amount lost by the cut but will produce $1 billion in additional revenue.

It would mean that individual incomes, nationally, would have to rise from the 1963 figure of $463 billion to a new high of $492 billion.

Total income in Lynn county will have to increase by 6.3 percent this year if local taxpayers are to meet their share of this rise.

Ten Men Complete First Aid Course

Ten Tahoka men completed an advanced Red Cross First Aid course given here in March by Pat Patterson, one of Lynn county's two qualified instructors.

A standard course, requiring a minimum of 10 hours, was offered in February, and may be offered again in the near future. Anyone interested in taking the course should contact Mr. Patterson, who says the Red Cross recommends one person to a family be instructed in First Aid.

Mr. Patterson attended an instructor's school in Amarillo in January, held in conjunction with Southwestern Public Service Company.

Following the standard course in February, Mr. Patterson held an advanced course in March, which required a minimum of 16 hours. Those completing the advanced course are Lynn Seales, Bill Cathcart, Charlie Boswell, Borden Davis, Dan Curry, Granvel Ayer, Billy Jack Dunlap, J. T. Miller, Alton Kelley and Evon Wilson. These men have received their three-year cards, which will be renewed by refresher courses at the end of that period.

These men previously completed the standard course, as did Edgar Hammonds, Jr., H. B. McCord, Jr., E. L. Short, Roy Harvick and Wiley Lee Curry.

There is no charge for the course and anyone 15 years old, having completed the ninth grade in school, and older may enroll.

The National Safety Council reported that in 1963 there was one death every five minutes as a result of an accident. One disabling injury occurred every 30 seconds. Vehicle accidents were responsible for 45 percent of the deaths and disabling injuries during that year.

VISITS WITH MOTHER

Mrs. H. L. Miller of New Home spent the Easter holidays visiting her mother, Mrs. J. W. Moore, at Gustine, Comanche county, who is improving from a broken hip and arm, complicated by a diabetic condition. During the vacation, Supt. Miller went to Oklahoma to see after his ranch.

The 44' tall swamp tree slide on Skull Island at Six Flags Over Texas is built around what once was a fire escape at a dormitory at the University of Texas. Guests climb the spiral staircase around the outside of the tree and slide down the long corkscrew-type slide inside.

Citizen Warns Of Danger In Driving Along "Drunk Row"

Warren Smith says he recently had brought home to him the danger of driving on U. S. 87 along "drunk row" south of Lubbock.

A week ago Tuesday, his son, Wayne, and wife, Bonnie, were returning to their home in Lubbock from Tahoka. As they were passing a liquor store, two young men in a car made an illegal left hand turn into the path of the Smiths' car.

Bonnie received a fractured arm, Wayne had severe bruises, and their car was a total wreck. The Highway Patrol gave a ticket to the young man driving the other car, but this did not save the Smiths' pain, anguish, and loss of their car and a few days off the job.

Warren thinks this news item may help keep others from being run over by drunks or those desperate for a drink. Wayne expects to take farm-to-market roads from here on en route to and from Lubbock. The Smiths also think officers need to get a little rougher on the liquor store customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClellan and two children of Ruidoso, N. M., where they operate a commercial printing plant, spent last week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McClellan.

PRINTERS' INK-BLOTS

Some of you remember Tom (Skyjude) Kellis, colorful editor of the O'Donnell Index long before "Smitty" ever came west. "Skyjude" had an older brother, even more colorful, W. F. (Bill) Kellis, editor of the Sterling City News-Record. Here's a sample of his writing of about 35 years ago we found among some old papers, which is fitting to this season of the year:

When you hear the range bulls bellowing in the morning and see the wild cows scattered over the range; when you hear the old ewe calling her lamb that is straying among the blossoming tallow weeds; when you hear the mockingbird singing "Shuffle, shuffle, shuffle; deal, deal, deal; watch-egot, watchegot, watchegot; two pair, two pair, two pair; sucker, sucker, sucker," you may be sure that winter has went and spring has come even if it didn't thunder in February.

We might add that when the mesquites bud out, spring has come.

One of our favorite present-day columnists is George Dolan, who writes "This Is West Texas" in the Star-Telegram. We liked the following from one of his recent columns; and we might explain Ace Reid is the man who draws the popular cow-pasture cartoons, his dad is an old-time rancher, and Chuck Richey is the model for one of the scrawny characters in Ace's cartoons.

Here's George Dolan talking: The city survived that visit last week by Chuck Richey and the Reids, Ace and Ol' Man Ace, but people who came in contact with them are still talking about it.

Richey, a bronc-buster and all-purpose ranch hand, described a stout Englishman he met not long ago. "He looked like a covered wagon with the stays broke," said Richey. "The seat of his pants was so droopy it drug out his tracks."

Richey, a lean man who wears a size 6 1/2 hat, got to talking about his first marriage. His wife, he explained, was awful bad about running off from home. One day, Richey went to Vernon for a rodeo. He wanted his wife to be there when he returned, so he locked her in the storm cellar. He got in the bronc-riding money at the rodeo and, forgetting about his wife's being in the cellar, stayed three days. During the time, there was a heavy rain. When Richey got back home, his wife was waist-deep in rain water and madder'n a drenched hen.

He let her out and she screamed: "You lizard-headed so-and-so, this is it!"

And she left. "That's the last I saw of her," said Richey.

"If that's the last you saw of her," someone asked, "didn't you get divorced?"

"The rate she was goin' when she left," Richey said, "I'm satisfied she run herself to death."

Reminds The Printer of a hap-penstance here about 35 years ago. If kinfolks of the principals are still around, we hope they won't mind us telling the story.

A man we'll call "Red" lived out about old South Ward. Red's wife, Lucy, came to town every time he did. In fact, she spent a lot of time in town. One day Red was over at Pete Coleman's Anchor Filling Station, and Pete says, "Red, where's Lucy? I haven't seen her in a week or two."

"Well, if you want to know the truth," Red replied, "Lucy's at home washing and cooking and keeping house like she's supposed to; I've broken her from staying in town."

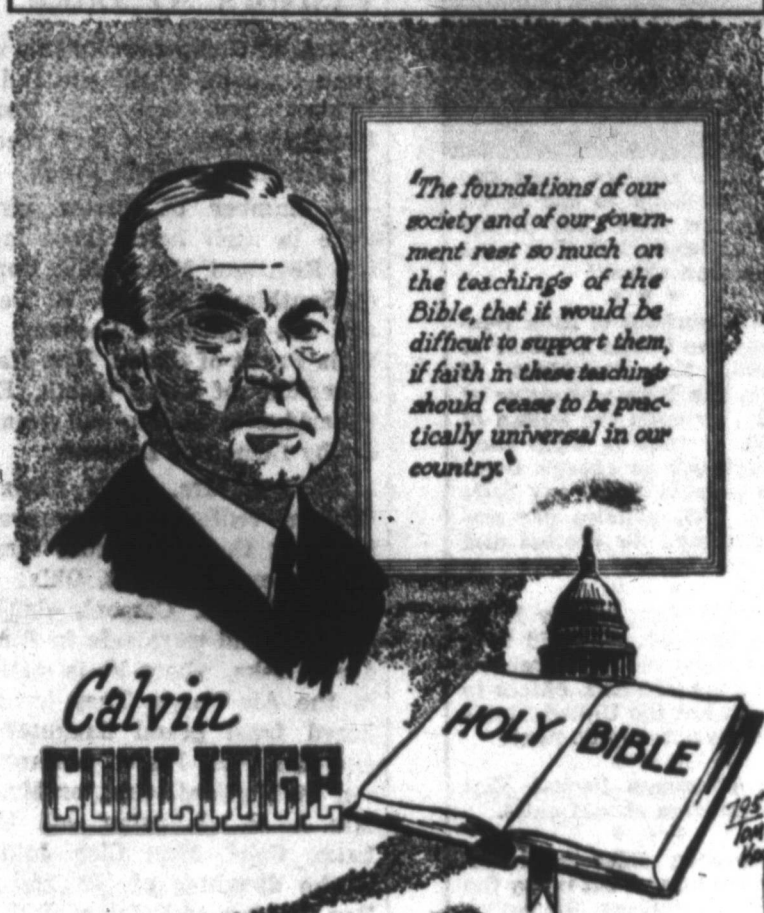

"After that little shower, I was pushed to get my cotton planted before the moisture played out. One day a part on the planter broke, I hitched the team, ran to the house, and Lucy asked, 'Where you going?' I told her to town. She said, 'I'm going, too.' I had all I could stand and told her 'This is one time you ain't a-goin.'"

"Lucy began to hawl, told me I didn't love her no more, and ran out the back door."

"About two minutes, a Negro woman living out behind our house came running in and says, 'Mr. Red, Miss Lucy has fallen in the cistern.'"

"I went out to look, and sure-nuff there she was standing waist deep down in the water, still hawling and having a fit. But, I noticed both ends of the well rope were down in the cistern. I pulled the rope and bucket out, told the

Faith in the Bible's Teaching Essential to Our National Welfare

"The foundations of our society and of our government rest so much on the teachings of the Bible, that it would be difficult to support them, if faith in these teachings should cease to be practically universal in our country."

We're opposed to the proposed compulsory Federal medicare plan for several reasons, including the cost and the further loss of individual freedom to a bunch of Washington bureaucrats who have yet to prove they can operate anything cheaper than it can be operated on a local basis. We believe most people are getting tired of these compulsory programs which they have to pay double for in the long run.

We know Medicare would turn out about like England's or Sweden's or Russia's compulsory socialized medicine programs. We have received the following review of just what a patient has to go through with in England to get a toothache stopped — and Negro woman I was going to town and if Lucy was not still in the cistern when I got back I would whip that Negro with a wet rope. I'm now the boss at home, and Lucy don't hanker to come to town very often."

At least, that's the story "Red" told, as we heard it.

Noticed both ends of the well rope were down in the cistern. I pulled the rope and bucket out, told the we're afraid we'd have to commit suicide rather than go through the ordeal. Here's what "medicare" is like in the field of dentistry in England:

Each area in Britain has an Executive Council and Dental Estimates Board administering dental service in their areas, and directly responsible to the Ministry of Health.

The dentist-patient transaction is as follows:

1. Patient selects dentist from a list in the post office and asks dentist to take him. Dentist may refuse.
2. Dentist fills out a government form, signed by patient and dentist. Patient keeps part of this form as a guarantee of service.
3. Dentist examines patient. Fills out form stating condition of mouth, recommended treatment and treatment that patient wants.
4. Form is sent to Dental Estimates Board for approval. Board will send area Dental Officer to examine patient if more than conservative treatment is recommended.
5. If approved, form is returned to dentist. Board may alter the recommendations.

6. After treatment, patient signs form stating he is satisfied treatment is complete.

7. Dentist sends this form to the Dental Estimates Board and is paid by the local Executive Council on fee-for-service basis.

Many oldtimers were a bit shocked at the sale by Mrs. Slaton of her stock in the First National Bank after the family had been a major factor in the life of the town and county for 57 years. We join other friends in wishing her the best.

The Printer had a long session with one of the new major stockholders, James Moore, and we are convinced the bank stock is in good hands. Moore and Dr. Phillips are both civic-minded, highly-regarded, and assure Tahoka the bank will continue to be of ultimate service to the area and that the present policies and personnel will be retained. Other stockholders are likewise confident and are keeping their stock.

America lost a great man in the passing of General Douglas Mac-

Arthur. Considered a controversial figure by some, he was recognized as a great general and one of the few leaders in our country who really understood the Oriental mind.

Lt. Col. Truett Cooper, reared here, knew the General personally. During the invasion of the Philippines, Truett was the General's "eyes" and attended daily briefings held by the General. Truett flew a Piper Cub over enemy territory each day before the Leyte landings and also during the march on Manila, and personally reported his findings to the General.

Mrs. Eugene F. Hauck, the former Barbara Wells, writes from 702 La Plata Drive, Farmington, N. M., that she enjoys The News. She says Kevin and Marie Coffman, also formerly of Tahoka, borrow her paper as soon as she is through with it, and also enjoy hearing from old friends.

Gas was first commercially produced and consumed in Texas at Corsicana in 1901.

Litton Will Produce New Electronic Control Device

Some near-fantastic facts about Litton Industries and the aviation electronics product they will produce at the new plant in Lubbock were told Tahoka Rotarians at the club meeting last Thursday by Bob Wipple, public relations man for the firm.

The plant, now under construction, will manufacture a system for guidance and controls to be used in manned aircraft traveling at super-sonic speeds of up to 2,000 miles an hour.

Planes traveling at such high speed, he explained, can not be properly controlled by man with necessary accuracy. Electronic devices and computers will be manufactured at Lubbock to guide the plane to a desired spot and return from that spot to the place where it originated or to any other designated place.

Litton's new plant now under construction in northeast Lubbock at the intersection of Loop 289 and Quirt Avenue will have 41,000 square feet of floor space on a 57-acre tract of land. When it goes into production next January, there will be 600 employees, 430 of them skilled assembly workers and 170 office workers, foremen, engineers, etc. The plant will have an annual payroll of about $2.5 million.

Workers are now being trained at the Architecture and Computer building at Texas Tech, and the training program will be stepped up next month. Already, these first 60 workers are assembling component parts for the projected equipment.

However, many more workers will be needed, and applications for trainees are being taken at the down town office in Lubbock. Pay is $1.55 an hour while in training. There's no age limit, but prospective trainees must have nimble fingers and wits, good eyes. Middle-aged ladies adept at sewing may qualify.

Litton Industries has 95 plants around the world, some of them subsidiary companies, manufacturing a variety of products. The firm favors diffusion of these plants instead of concentration to take advantage of work force, and this is one reason Lubbock was selected for this plant. Subsidiary plants manufacture such things as calculators, cash registers, submarines, and one plant prints S&H green stamps, all in addition to electronic equipment.

The firm is carrying on research in many fields for example, it is surveying the ocean floors to possible sources of food and minerals for our exploding world population. It is studying means of operating a submarine with three or four men instead of the 100 or more now required.

Dr. Emil Prohl was in charge of the program and introduced the

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

The question that many people have long asked was answered quite definitely fairly recently. That question has been "to whom is the United States State Department responsible?"

There perhaps should no longer be any doubt. The U.S. State Dept. is in fact a subsidiary of the AFL-CIO. This was made graphically clear when the union refused to lead wheat.

C. W. Harder for Russia until assurances were given that at least 50% would go in ships under the American flag.

When the unions first refused to load the wheat, it was thought they were joining forces with the wide segment of American sentiment that the American people should not help bail out the Kremlin.

But such optimism died a-borning when it was learned the unions had no qualms about shipping to communists, as long as at least 50% went in American ships.

The Russians have refused to pay the higher freight rates involved with shipping under U.S. flag.

So the nation, and the entire world, was treated to the unedifying spectacle of a President of the United States saying to the unions, "please fellows, let's get this wheat for Russia."

Ernest Herring of Lubbock was announced as the "Rotarian of the month," by Charles Townes, who said Ernest is one of the most loyal attendants at club meetings, many times driving from Lubbock to Tahoka for the club.

Dr. Gerald Wood asked Rotarians to attend the meeting that night to organize a community chest.

E. L. Short announced the forthcoming Tahoka Rodeo, and the club voted to enter Montie McGinty, club sweetheart, in the queen contest.

Miss McGinty introduced the student guests for the month, Jim Wells and Jack Edwards, both local high school students who are active in athletics and other student affairs.

Ed Dentons Have Visitors At Lake

Mrs. Ed Denton wrote this week from Graham, where she and Mr. Denton are enjoying Possum Kingdom Lake, that they recently went fishing at Rock Creek.

A number of Easter visitors were in their home there including Rev. and Mrs. Eddie Fortson of Southland, Mrs. N. E. Denton and son Linval of Cockeyne, Mrs. Viola Pruitt of Slaton, Mrs. Maudie Etheridge of Lake Worth, Eddie Bobby Lemon of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cox of Graham visited Saturday evening to bring the news from Mrs. E. W. Lichey of Durant, Okla. that Mr. and Mrs. Carson's daughter and husband were safe in Anchorage, Alaska, where he is stationed in the Air Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baccus of Sudan had visitors from Lubbock, their daughter and family, as well as their son and grandson of Bonham.

Mrs. Denton said it is apparent they do not get lonesome at their camp. She stated they would be home in time to vote in May.

Former Tahokan Is Touring Europe

Miss Johnnie Mae Anderson of Houston, formerly of Tahoka, left Saturday for a two months vacation in Europe, according to her sister, Mrs. Charles Oliver.

Miss Anderson, who graduated from Tahoka High School, is employed as secretary to the vice president of Shell Oil Company in that city. She and a girl friend left for Amsterdam and will tour Europe, including Germany, England, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and other countries.

VISIT IN LOUISIANA

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Slover recently visited their son, Steve, at Lake Charles, La. They were impressed by the dogwood in full bloom in East Texas. On their return trip, they came through Woodville, where the Dogwood Festival was in progress. They met on the highway one of the pilgrimages on the Dogwood Trail and said the caravan consisted of everything from wagons and horseback riders and old cars to Cadillacs.

Mayor Meldon Leslie underwent surgery Monday in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He is reported to be doing fine.
