THS Students Qualify For Literary Regional

Seven members of the THS Speech Team won medals at the District Literary meet held last Monday and Tuesday at Roosevelt High School. Students placing first, second or third won gold, silver and bronze medals respectively and the chance to compete at the class AAA regional meet to be held Saturday, April 17, at Texas Tech.

WHEN THE weather people tell us that "conditions will not be favorable for outside activities" at this time of year we know we're in for a bad day. March and April are months that we could mostly do without, since that's when we have the choking dirt storms and winds unfit for humans to get out in.

Brad Tooley over at the Slatonite said once that he could tell how hard the wind was blowing because when it reached a certain velocity, his storehouse blew down. I can do the same with my fence; every time it gets over 60 mph in gusts, a section of fence blows down. It has to be repaired at least once a year.

Maybe it's not true that a guy in a submarine at the bottom of White River Lake couldn't keep the dust from blowing in during such days as we had April 2, but dirt sure does seem to get into everything, and make living not so pleasant for a few hours.

There are some good things about dust storms however. If you hunt Indian artifacts, the big winds uncover them. If you are in a business selling air cleaners for cars or shampoo for people, you're going to do well after the storms.

And this week, when a couple of people asked me when I was going to pay them, I told them the big wind storm last week blew all the unpaid bills out of our office.

Spring sports out here are for courageous folks who like to demonstrate they have a lot of sand in their craw. In a 440 relay the other day, one kid headed east ran his 110 yards in 5 seconds, but he knocked out his teammate trying to make a handoff at 40 mph (and the boy headed west on his lap of the race was still out there Monday).

I drove to Amarillo last Friday during the murderous wind and dirt storm. At a meeting up there I was wearing a name tag, and someone asked me where Tahoka is. I told them that when I left home, it was 30 miles south of Lubbock, moving east at about 50 miles per hour.

BOY SCOUT LEADER to troop: "Remember, men, if you're lost in the woods at night, get your bearings from the sky. A glow will indicate the nearest shopping center."

General Telephone Co.'s district manager fielded criticism of the company's service in Tahoka at a meeting of the city council Monday night and promised to give details next month on what the company is doing to improve things and what they expect to accomplish.

O.D. Hearn of Brownfield appeared before the council to announce that a new service office will be opened in Tahoka around June 1 to serve both Tahoka and Wilson.

Hearn said that when the office is opened at Marrier Furniture in Tahoka that customers will have a place to make contact for service needs, for minor repairs of phone units, to pick up and deposit telephones and to pay bills. He said the office would be open during the same hours the store is open, including Saturdays.

"I think this will be an advantage to the citizens here," he said.

Councilman Jim Solomon then told Hearn that "this new office is a nice thing, but it's not going to solve our problems. Until whoever makes those decisions for GTE decides to spend enough to bring our service up to speed, we're not going to be any better off...I doubt that we're any better off than we were in 1961...many people wouldn't mind paying more money for good service, but not for substandard service."

Hearn then said he would like to appear at next month's meeting of the council to detail all the plans of the company for Tahoka and what the company expects the results to be from those plans. "Those things over which we have control will be what I will address at the next meeting," he said.

Solomon's reference to 1961 came after Mayor Mel Leslie showed a letter to the city he said he ran across that day in which the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce criticized General Telephone for poor service and offered to produce witnesses from business persons regarding the quality of service. The letter was dated in 1961, and signed by E.L. Short.

The city council installed one new member, Tom Cooper, and two incumbents who also won new terms in the recent city election, Solomon and Richard White.

A budget calling for total expenditures about the same as the current year was adopted for the coming year. Carl Reynolds, city manager, earlier had assured the council that no tax increases will be needed to meet the proposed budget. No persons appeared at a public hearing on the budget, which calls for general fund expenditures of $270,116 and revenue from various sources, including anticipated tax collections of about $150,000.

Solomon was appointed mayor pro tem, the council authorized an audit of finances, and approved routine payments to contractors on street improvements and other improvements.

It was voted unanimously to lease a new garbage truck at a cost of $44,600 after trade-in of the old truck.

Consulting engineer A.C. Bowden presented some proposals designed to alleviate drainage conditions on Country Club road, and the city officials decided to present these proposals to the county since both governing groups apparently have responsibility for the road. Bowden suggested concrete work at intersections of the road with four streets and alleys north of U.S. 380.

Gloria Perez appeared before the council regarding her opposition of a snow cone stand at a site north of the school property. City officials had heard some opposition from residents of the area, but after having the city zoning codes researched by an attorney, decided the city really has no basis for any involvement in the issue.

SWPS manager Harold Roberts appeared to request to the city to delay for 120 days any action on rate increase requests. This was granted.

Tahoka Man Hurt In Wreck

A Tahoka man was seriously injured last Friday morning as two vehicles collided at the intersection of Lockwood and Ave. L in Tahoka during a dust storm.

Robert Lambert, driver of one of the vehicles involved, was reported in critical condition in Lubbock Methodist Hospital Wednesday morning. Lambert is a retired farmer.

Driver of the other vehicle reportedly was Mrs. Pat Hinds, who was treated for injuries and then released from Lynn County Hospital. No further details of the accident were available, as no report was on file at Tahoka Police Dept.

Police during the week issued three tickets for running red light, three for exhibition of acceleration, and one each for illegal turn and no drivers license.

Adam Rodriguez Sanchez, 28, was arrested in Conroe Tuesday on a warrant from Lynn County, and was to be returned to jail here Wednesday. He is charged with See WRECK, Page 3

Bingo Fails In Close Vote; Recount Possible

Bingo, the hottest issue in last Saturday's elections in Lynn County, failed by just 8 votes in county commissioners precinct 3, the only precinct in the county which was voting on whether to legalize bingo by charitable organizations.

A petition had been presented in that precinct to legalize the games under a new state law which restricts bingo to charitable groups. Most of the signers of the petition in the precinct, which includes O'Donnell and that portion of Tahoka in which the Catholic Church is located, were members of Catholic Churches in O'Donnell and Tahoka.

On Tuesday, Rev. Rodney Howell, priest of the two churches, indicated to county officials that he would ask for a recount of the ballots, since the result was so close, 229 for legalization and 237 against.

There were school board and city races in Wilson, Tahoka, New Home and O'Donnell, with some races contested. One race in which there was no contest was for directors of the Lynn County Hospital District, with all three unopposed. Tom Freitag received 358 votes, Roger Doss 374 and Larry Hagood 416.

In the Tahoka city election, all were unopposed. Incumbents Jim Solomon and Richard White had 361 and 399 votes respectively, and Tom Cooper was elected with 358 votes.

Tahoka school board had one of two incumbents re-elected, as Bob Haney Jr. received 298 votes. Robert Smith was elected with 225

Jim Marcus Accepts Post At Crane High

His wife, Allie, is secretary at Tubbs Elementary School. They are Methodists and have a son, Mike, who lives in Morgan City, La., and a daughter, Sherry Norman, of Midland.

Absentee Vote Starts Monday

Absentee voting in the Democratic Primary election in Lynn County will begin Monday in the office of the County Clerk. Those wishing to vote absentee must bring their voter registration certificate with them, said C.W. Roberts, clerk.

The primary will be May 1. There are several contested county races as well as the state races on the ballot.

Fun, Food Festival Seeks More Help

More participants in all areas of the April 17 Fun and Food Festival in Tahoka are being sought, with some good talent, booths and auction items already lined up, according to representatives of the Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary.

Auxiliary members said this week that proceeds from the event would be used toward purchase of several items needed by Lynn County Hospital, including a stomach pump and some respiratory equipment. These are items which the hospital itself has not been able to purchase.

Last year, in the first Fun and Food Festival, $5,572 was raised for a heart monitor, which was purchased for the hospital.

Talent already lined up for this year includes dancers and Chamberette members, Shondy Gardenhire, J.W. Inklebarger, Myrtle White, Kim, White, Glo Hays and Don Dawes.

The event once more will be in the Lynn County Show Barn, with admission tickets priced at 50 cents, qualifying the ticket holder for door prize drawings. Activities will begin at 4 p.m. and continue through 9 p.m.

In the O'Donnell area, persons interested in performing, having booths, donating items for auction or whatever are asked to contact Roddy Doss or Mary Phelps. In Wilson area the contacts are Jo Ann Cook and Joyce Kahlich, and in New Home Judy Gandy and Barbara White. In Tahoka, Nadine Dunlap, Grace Huffaker or Dean Bartley.

Auction items donated so far include paintings and other art work, afghans, quilts, baked goods and a chain saw.

Booths so far have been reserved by the Rodeo Assn. (chili), Chamber and Chamberettes, nachos; Phebe K. Warner Study Club, desserts; Hospital Auxiliary, beans and cornbread; hospital directors and friends, fish; Assembly of God Church, fried pies; Church of Christ, basketball throw; and 4-H Club, drinks.

Ricky Yowell 12.

At O'Donnell, a record 332 votes were cast as Mayor Truett Hodnett, unopposed, was re-elected with 229 votes. Stanley Robison was elected to the city council with 216 votes and Michael Mensch was elected with 214 votes. Rosa Gutierrez had 101 votes and Joe Morales 78 votes to the other full term. Incumbent Jay Dee House had 208, and Zane Curry received 136 and Ray Morales 73.

In a two-man race for the unexpired term of Tommy Lawson, who had resigned, J.E. Nance Jr. was elected with 274 votes to Jimmy Woodard's 181.

Ray Ehlers and Tommy Bednarz were elected to the Wilson school board with 74 and 69 votes, followed by Woody Follis with 67, Rex Little 61 and Lowen Young 29.

In the Wilson city election, Don Morton was elected mayor with 81 votes, and Victor Steinhauer and Werner Klaus were elected to the city council with 44 and 39 votes respectively.

Violet Stone and Virginia Gatzki each received 35 votes for the third available seat on the city council and Mrs. Stone later withdrew, giving the seat to Mrs. Gatzki. It was the first tie vote in the history of Wilson city elections, and Mrs. Gatzki will be the first woman council member, according to Wilson officials.

DPS To Issue Citations For No Insurance

State troopers will begin issuing citations to drivers who fail to show proof of insurance when such information is requested.

The law, which became effective Jan. 1, 1982, requires all drivers to carry minimum liability coverage for bodily injury of $10,000 per person ($20,000 for two or more persons) and property damage of $5,000. Drivers who fail to carry the required coverage risk being fined from $75 to $200 for the first offense and from $200 to $1,000 for subsequent violations. In addition, a conviction under the new law will result in the suspension of the violator's driver license and motor vehicle registration unless the violator established and maintains proof of financial responsibility for five years from the conviction date.

"People who get SSI are responsible for reporting certain events, and ignorance of the law is no excuse," a social security spokesman said.

The aged and disabled people with low incomes who collect supplemental security income (SSI) must report any changes in their earnings and in their family makeup. The size of their SSI checks depends on how much income the family has and on several other factors. SSI clients are required to call the social security office if there are any changes in their pay, in the salaries of a spouse, or the wages of parents of a disabled child.

"Failure to report could cause the SSI check to be made out for the wrong amount, causing inconvenience and hardship," the spokesman said. If the checks were too big, the excess amounts will be held out of future checks.

People receiving Supplemental Security Income should call the social security office whenever there is any change in their family status or family income. Reporting changes will prevent future checks from being cut due to overpayment collections.

"Excess payments may be held out of future SSI checks even if the overpaid persons claim they did not know they were supposed to report. It is their responsibility to know," the spokesman said. The reporting rules are very carefully explained to everyone applying for SSI.

Any one with any questions about SSI should call their nearest social security office.

During a family crisis, remember family unity, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

It's normal for families to feel closer and desire a higher level of togetherness with other family members during a crisis, the specialist explains.

At such times, people work harder at getting along and value the support and sympathy that is shared, she adds.

An air conditioner can improve the performance of your furnace.

An air conditioner?

A very special air conditioner called the add-on heat pump. It cools in summer and heats in winter. And it works with whatever kind of furnace you have.

The add-on heat pump will improve the performance of your furnace by keeping it off completely during a good portion of the winter. The add-on heat pump can satisfy your home's heating requirements more economically when temperatures are above 30° or so. That's about 80% of our area's normal heating season.

Then, when summer comes, the heat pump becomes a cool pump, efficiently air conditioning the home. So, when you're in the market for air conditioning, look into the add-on heat pump.

HAMSTEAKS WITH GOLDEN SAUCE
The secret is in the sauce! It's a savory blend of syrup from the pineapple can, mustard, pineapple-apricot jam and a dash of vinegar. A little can of Dole pineapple transforms just two slices of ham into a one-skillet dinner.

Golden Sauce is made right in the pan, after the hamsteaks are browned in butter. Juicy chunks of pineapple and the sweet and tart sauce simply simmer together for a meal in minutes.

FCIC & ASCS Providing Service

The Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC) and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), both agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, are providing cooperative services to farm producers, says F.W. "Ted" Crouch Jr., Field Operations Office for FCIC.

ASCS has announced an April 16 deadline for sign-up in the 1982 acreage reduction programs for wheat, barley and oats. Producers who have already reported planted acreage for All-Risk Crop Insurance can revise their acreage report by April 16 if they participate in the ASCS acreage reduction program.

According to the provisions of the new Farm Bill, ASCS disaster payments will not be available on acreage eligible for All-Risk Crop Insurance (including All-Risk Insurance issued by a private insurance company and reinsured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation).

All-Risk Crop Insurance may now be available through an individual agreement with the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. on cropland that was previously considered uninsurable. The request for coverage should be made through the local agent or service office before the sales closing date for the crop. The sales closing date for cotton and grain sorghum is April 15.

In addition, FCIC has initiated an Individual Yield Coverage (IYC) program, which ultimately will permit policyholders to purchase insurance coverage based solely on their production records. An IYC participant must have verifiable acreage yield records for at least the three most recent consecutively-planted crop years. Recorded yields may be used for up to 10 years, if available.

Crouch further states, "Those producers who were insured on a spring-planted crop for the 1981 crop year, but cancelled their insurance, may reinstate their All-Risk coverage and maintain any premium discount they may have earned for good experience if they do so before April 15."

Want to cut food costs? Consider purchasing generic products—products without a trademark, says Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist.

Generic foods usually cost 44 percent less than brand-name products and 15 percent less than store-label items, she adds.

Many consumers find little quality difference in selling generics including canned fruit, coffee creamers, chlorine bleach and paper towels.

SHOP TAHOKA FIRST

LUBBOCK, Friday, April 2, 1982

Thanks to the Agricultural Council of Arkansas (ACA), USDA has reversed itself on a ruling that would have required producers to plant at least one acre of a given crop in 1982 in order to protect their acreage base for that crop in 1983.

Now USDA has agreed that it will be possible for farmers to protect their bases for cotton, feed grains and wheat without planting in 1982. All that is required is that the zero planting be "properly reported" to the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office. And, as before, 1982 crop bases will be protected if a farmer plants only a part of his 1982 base, provided he devotes the required acreage to conservation uses and complies with other program provisions.

The change in the way zero plantings will be treated came as a result of complaints from producers in the Arkansas Delta where the planting date is much nearer than on the High Plains. Producer objections to being required to plant a single acre were relayed to Washington along with a request for relief by ACA Executive Vice President Cecil Williams, Jr.

On the Plains, says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the important thing at this point is that producers sign up to participate in the acreage reduction program before the deadline on April 16.

"I can't imagine a situation which would make it unwise for a cotton producer to sign up in the program," Johnson continued, "since sign up is not a firm commitment and the actual decision to reduce or not to reduce acreage can be delayed until the final date for certifying acreage, probably around August 1."

In answer to another question on the acreage reduction program, Johnson replied, "Yes, it is possible to create a farm acreage base or expand an existing base."

The Agriculture and Food Act of 1981 states that the acreage base shall be the acreage planted to cotton, feed grains, wheat or rice for harvest in the crop year immediately preceding the year for which the determination is made, or at the discretion of the Secretary, the average acreage planted to such crops for harvest in the two crop years immediately preceding the year for which the determination is made.

According to Williams, indications from top officials in Washington are that for 1983 the Secretary will choose to use the average acreage planted for harvest in 1981 and 1982.

Johnson, however, cautions that it may be too early to speculate on the regulations that may or may not be used to set 1983 acreage bases. And, he adds, farmers as always should rely on the county ASCS offices for the last word on how various provisions of the law and administrative rulings will affect their individual farms.

Grapes, Wine Rotary Subject

Wine usage and grape production were topics discussed last Thursday by Dr. Richard Wright at the Rotary meeting.

Dr. Wright last year planted a 100-acre vineyard on his farm east of New Home. He said the vines should reach full production in their fourth year, two years from this fall. Grapes require minimum irrigation water and are said to do very well in this area. He plants cotton between the vine rows.

He explained the various types of wine produced from grape juice. White wines are pure grape juice fermented, and require minimum aging.

Red wines are made from the juice, pulp, skin and seeds, and must be aged for a considerable time.

Wines are intended principally for drinking in moderate amount with foods, but are "swigged down by some alcoholics."

He has eight varieties planted here, with the hope they will not all mature at the same time.

He and Bobby Stone went to California last year and visited wineries and growers of grapes to get advice on varieties and propagation. He hopes this new crop will be a profitable adjunct to cotton production.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

David Gibson, O.D.

OPTOMETRIST

THE IMPACT-RESISTANT LENS

Every eyeglass and sunglass approved by the Food and Drug Administration must be impact-resistant. It must be able to withstand the impact of a 5/8" steel ball dropped from a height of 50 inches.

But if you're wearing impact-resistant eyeglasses or sunglasses, that doesn't mean they're shatter-proof or break-proof. You may have greater protection now than you had before the FDA regulation went into effect. But you still have to protect your eyes and your glasses from accidents.

A lot depends on the care you give your glasses. Dropping them can sometimes loosen the lens. And if you have scratched your glasses, you have weakened them. They will be easier to break or shatter.

It's important to have your glasses checked regularly. You optometrist will make sure they are in good condition. If needed, he can recommend quality lenses that meet the highest standards of impact-resistance. And he can check your eyes to make sure your glasses are giving you the best possible vision.

Promoters Of Las Vegas Trips Indicted

A federal grand jury at Dallas last week returned a nine-count indictment charging Don Cronn, Cailan H. Joyce, and Dianne Bowen with mail fraud, wire fraud, and conspiracy in connection with the sale of Las Vegas vacation packages under the names of World Travel, Inc., and Passport to Pleasure Vacations of Texas, Inc.

The indictment charges that employees of World Travel and Passport to Pleasure made misrepresentations concerning the value of the vacation packages during telephone solicitations for the purpose of inducing people to reveal the name and account number of their major credit card.

Unsuspecting "customers" were told that they could receive the vacation packages for approval without obligation, but that credit card account numbers were required to guarantee return of the certificate. Once the credit card account number was obtained, customers' accounts were billed almost immediately. In many cases, the account was billed for multiple purchases not authorized by the account holder. Complaints were received from all over the United States.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Mike Heiskell stated that several banks suffered substantial losses as a result of the unauthorized charges to individual credit card accounts. Cronn was indicted on all nine counts of the indictment. Postal Inspector in Charge DeWayne C. Strader stated that conviction on all nine counts could result in a maximum prison sentence of 45 years and fines of $18,000. Joyce and Bowen, who were each indicted on one count of conspiracy, face a maximum sentence of 5 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

UNITED STATES POSTAGE $6.63

The stamp on a letter is only a small part of the cost of doing business by mail. You have to include the cost of secretarial time, materials, mail handling and overhead. That adds up to something like $6.63! You can do a lot of business with long distance for that amount, take care of orders faster, and save time and energy as well.

Plus you never have to lick stamps.

New Senior Companion Program Set

Persons 60 years or older who are interested in serving 20 hours a week are invited to participate in a new "Senior Companion" program which will be directed through the Community Action Center on U.S. 87 bypass at S. 3rd St. in Tahoka.

Sue Simon and Cindy Reaves of the South Plains Community Action Assn. in Levelland explained that the program will provide "meaningful part time volunteer opportunities for low income older persons to render supportive person to person services to adults with exceptional needs in health, education, welfare and socialization."

Senior companions will work with older persons discharged from acute care hospitals or in hospice care. Among activities such companions will provide are reading to recipients, shopping with them, walking and talking with them, writing letters for them, arranging transportation to doctors or grocery stores, assisting with meals, reminding them to take medication and putting them in contact with legal aid, nutrition programs or other health services.

Those who serve as senior companions will receive some non-taxable pay, a stipend, which will not affect in any way their social security or welfare status. They also will get a transportation allowance, and will be trained to do the work.

Anyone interested in more details is asked to contact the Community Action Center in Tahoka, in person or by phoning 998-5094.

Also, any persons wishing to be recipients of such senior companion service should contact the center.

Sixth Grade Events

Shuttle: T.C. Spruiell, Michael Isbell, Rusty Lawson and Bryon Norwood placed fourth.

Awards will be presented to the boys at a banquet which will be held May 21 at Oakwood Baptist Church. All those placing in first, second or third, in grades fourth and up, will advance to the State RA track meet to be held in Waco on April 24-10.

You wouldn't "think" of putting "tap" water in your "steam" iron but, you "will" drink and "cook" with it. Happiness is "knowing" your drinking and cooking water is "pure" and "Clean" free of all "impurities." Our home water distillers makes it that way.
