Good Voter Turnout Reported For Constitutional Amendment Election

A total of 844 voters marked ballots in the Nov. 8 Constitutional Amendment Election in Lynn County, which County Clerk Susan Tipton reports is an excellent turnout for an amendment election. Voters here carried Proposition 2 which upholds a ban on gay marriage in Texas, with Lynn County voters carrying 757-50 in favor of the amendment. County voters were in favor of propositions 2, 3, 4, 6 and 7, voting against the other four propositions.

Statewide, all the propositions passed except 5 and 9, according to unofficial election results posted on the Secretary of State's website Wednesday morning.

Propositions that passed here included Prop. 3, by a count of 421-287, which clarifies that certain economic development programs do not constitute a debt; Prop. 4, 650-115, which authorizes the denial of bail to a criminal defendant who violates a condition of the defendant's release pending trial; Prop. 6, 436-287, for increasing the size of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct from 11 to 13 members by including one additional public member and one constitutional county court judge in the membership; and Prop. 7, 395-326, in favor of authorizing new options for reverse mortgage agreements for senior homeowners, including line-of-credit advances.

Propositions 1, 5, 8 and 9 failed in Lynn County, with the following results: Prop. 1, 423-290 against creating a Texas rail relocation/improvement fund in the state treasury that would authorize grants of state revenue for construction of railroad facilities, underpasses and overpasses; Prop. 5, 387-326 against allowing the legislature to define rates of interest for commercial loans; Prop. 8, 367-316 against land title ownership issues regarding acreage in Upshur and Smith counties in Texas; and Prop. 9, 360-346 against providing for a staggered six-year term for a board member of a regional mobility authority.

Not too sure about this ... Shirley Jolly looks a little unsure about getting a flu shot at the Lynn County Health Fair held last Friday, sponsored by Lynn County Hospital District. Health officials administered 120 flu shots that day. Here, Lisha Vega is administering the shot. Attendance of 344 was reported at the adult health fair. The hospital is sponsoring a Children's Health Fair at Tahoka Elementary Gym this Friday. (LCN PHOTO)

"THAT PLANT out in front is as dead as a doornail," said one of my daughters at the office the other day. Her sister responded to that with "It's not really dead; it's just dormant." And I responded with a couple of questions of my own: "How dead is a doornail? And just what is a doornail anyway?"

Now and then I hear some familiar phrase like that and wonder how it originated. Sometimes I am able to find out, and sometimes not. On my computer, Grolier's Encyclopedia didn't recognize the term. I tried calling Kent Porter, manager of Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., but he was out doing something more profitable than talking to newspaper columnists with weird things on their minds.

I did reach J.P. Stice at Main St. Express, which also sells building materials (and other things designed to keep men away from tennis courts and golf courses) and he answered the question of "What is a doornail?" just like everyone else I had asked: "I have no idea." He added that "I've sold doors, and I've sold nails, but never knowingly sold a doornail."

I asked him if those little dowel things that drop into the hinges might be doornails. We both decided that it was possible, but unlikely, and even so, why would that part of a door be any deader than anything else?

A couple of dictionaries and the World Book shed a little light on the subject, but nothing about the origin of the phrase. The dictionaries defined a doornail as a "nail with a large head," and one expanded it to add "used to stud a door for decoration or reinforcement."

I don't know how you stud a door, and having read a little bit about horses, I'm afraid to ask. Anyway, one of the sources noted the phrase "dead as a doornail," explaining that this means "entirely dead."

As opposed to partially dead, like many 9 to 5 workers around mid-afternoon? Probably the phrase just originated when someone arbitrarily chose a doornail as something with no life about it. And there was nothing that could be done to it to give it life.

I have a chainsaw like that. Dead as a doornail, no matter what you do to it.

Loss At Slaton Closes Out Bulldogs Season

The Tahoka Bulldogs wound up a 3-7 football season with a 28-0 loss at Slaton last Friday, closing out a season in which the team successfully broke a two-year losing streak and played tough in every game.

Three of the seven losses for the team in Coach Steve Heryford's first year were by a single point.

Slaton scored one touchdown in each quarter, while Tahoka's offense was derailed by the Tigers' defense and by six turnovers.

Ja-Vaen Tillman gained 80 yards rushing for Tahoka, and QB Patrick Dotson passed for 155 yards as Tahoka had more yards from scrimmage than Slaton. Colby Gardner caught three passes for 52 yards, while Troy Price caught two for 39 yards. Price also gained 30 yards on two rushing efforts. Zach Tillman caught two passes for 38 yards.

On defense, Damon Moore continued to lead the team with 13 unassisted tackles and four assists. Others doing good work on defense included Josh Valdez, Jeremy Antu, Kyle Preston, Lance Murphy and Nathan Garcia.

JOSHUA FREITAG

Freitag Chosen To Represent USA In Puerto Rico

Tahoka High School sophomore Joshua Freitag has been chosen to represent the USA and Tahoka as a member of an elite baseball team traveling to Puerto Rico this summer. As a member of Coast to Coast Baseball he will compete in the Island Challenge Baseball Series (June 21-27, 2006) against top amateur teams.

Freitag showcased his skills for the Coast to Coast staff at a recent tryout held at Wayland Baptist University. At the tryout he was evaluated in four areas: hitting, fielding, arm strength and speed. Each year Coast to Coast sees between 1000-1500 players at a series of nationwide tryouts. Additionally, the organization evaluates hundreds of applications from players unable to attend a tryout event. From this pool approximately 300 roster spots, comprising of 20-25 teams, are filled with players seeking to play at one of the game's highest levels.

Coast to Coast Baseball is a national baseball and youth development program based in Marietta, Ohio. The 6-year-old program has taken over 700 players from 42 different states to compete in Germany, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Australia and Puerto Rico. Geared toward serious players interested in pursuing a career beyond high school, Coast to Coast's goal is to provide amateur ballplayers with outstanding instruction by top coaches who have played or coached at the collegiate or professional level, and competition against some of the world's best international talent.

In addition to his love for baseball, Freitag is ranked first in his class, is a member of the Tahoka 3-D Band, and plays football, basketball and tennis for THS. He is a member of St. John Lutheran Church in Wilson where he plays the keyboard and is a member of the youth group and puppet team. He hopes to attend either Texas Tech University or the University of Texas where he would like to play baseball and major in Business.

Joshua is the son of Donald and Tonda Freitag and has two siblings, Benjamin and Sarah. In order to maintain his amateur status, Freitag will be seeking to raise his share of the team's cost. Persons interested in making a donation can contact the Freitag family at (806) 998-4928.

Free Red Raider Basketball Clinic Offered Here

Texas Tech Red Raiders will conduct a basketball clinic for Tahoka Elementary and Middle School students on Saturday, Nov. 12 in the Tahoka High School Gymnasium. Girls and boys in 5th-6th grades may participate from 9-10 a.m., and girls and boys in 7th-8th grades may participate from 10-11 a.m.

They go through drills with the students on the gym floor and play some games with the students. They show off a little bit by slam dunking every now and then! They will autograph basketballs, shoes, shirts, arms, and maybe even dirty socks. The Red Raiders are excellent role models for our students to see. In the past couple of years that Tahoka has hosted this program, we have met the captain of the Red Raider team and many of the top players. It has been a lot of fun to follow these players as they take their team into the playoffs," said Glo Hays, Middle School Principal.

During this program, everybody is welcome to sit in the stands and watch the clinic. Only 5th and 6th grade students will be allowed on the gym floor from 9:00-10:00, and only 7th and 8th grade students will be allowed on the gym floor from 10:00-11:00.

Please call Glo Hays at 561-4538 for additional information. In order to insure adequate equipment, students should fill out forms available at Tahoka ISD, and return to Ms. Hays by Friday, Nov. 11.

If your bank doesn't know your name ... Forget theirs.

In times like these, you need to know who your banker is today. And who he'll be tomorrow.

You need a banker who knows who you are. With one of those big, out-of-state holding company banks, it might be kind of tough to find a banker who remembers your face, let alone your name.

Truth is, as fast as those out-of-state banks change, it might be kind of tough for you to remember their name. You don't have that problem when you bank with neighbors.

We live here and raise our families here ... and chances are, we know each other already.

Leopards On the Prowl For Playoff Berth in 2005-06 Season

With the 2005-06 basketball season fast approaching, the New Home Leopards are anxious to get the ball bouncing, according to Head Coach Shawn Harrison. The Leopards are looking to return to the playoffs after failing to get out of a tough district last season.

"The Leopards finished strong last season going 4-1 in the second half of district but fell short of reaching the playoffs. However, the Leopards beat both teams that advanced to the playoffs a year ago," said the coach.

The Leopards will have a veteran team with the return of three starters and six letter winners. Leading the way for the Leopards is a pair of seniors who have several years of varsity experience. The point will be manned by 5'8" Blaine Paul. Blaine has started for two years, and was an All-District performer during his junior season. Blaine will be called upon to produce more points this year. Another returning starter with three years of varsity experience is 6'3" Ryan Wied. "Ryan plays a dual role for the Leopards. Not only does Ryan play out on the floor, but he has the ability to go inside and post up as well. Ryan's ability to break down a defense with penetration will give him more scoring opportunities this season," said Coach Harrison.

The Leopards also return their leading scorer from the 2004-05 season in junior District Newcomer of the Year David Nevarez. David, a 5'9" guard is the Leopards' best three-point shooter, the coach says. "David has the ability to extend a defense, which opens passing lanes and driving lanes for other players. David will be asked to step up his defense and become a tough on the ball defender," said Harrison.

The Leopards will have three other players with experience that will fight for the other two starting positions. 5'6" senior Leo Torres, 6'0" junior Daniel Ford, and 6'0" junior Tyler Nieren have the ability and will all be called upon to play major roles for the Leopards. Rounding out the Leopards line up will be 5'9" senior Kyler Livingston and 6'0" senior Matthew Hymes.

"Numbers always play a factor in an athletic program. The New Home boys basketball program is blessed with great numbers. I am expecting 31 young men to participate during the upcoming season. With these numbers the Leopards will be trying to fill two JV schedules this season. The Leopards have six juniors who will be fighting for a possible place on varsity. They are Guy Warren, Adam Fiscal, Zack Gibbins, Tanner Conroy, Kelvin Doggett, and Freddy Tello," said Coach Harrison.

The Leopards have a large class of sophomores. They include Nick Ramirez, Josh Neiman, Damien Rodriguez, Fabian Vitolas, Billy Kirk, Jordan Clem, Trevor White, Cody Paris, Israel Gonzales, Mark Overman, James Torres, and Nathan Willis.

Several freshmen will round out the Leopards squad. They include David Alvarado, Jett Rodgers, Hector Fiscal, Joel Torres, Caul Blakely,

Dotson, Tillman, Moore Leaders In Grid Statistics

Quarterback Patrick Dotson, running back Ja-Vaen Tillman and defensive back Damon Moore were leaders for the Tahoka Bulldogs in the football season just ended, and two of those three will be back next season.

Dotson, who played in just nine games, passed for a whopping 1207 yards and 10 touchdowns. He completed 70 of 154 attempts and had 11 intercepted. Dotson, a senior, also gained 296 yards rushing during the season and scored three touchdowns on runs.

Tillman scored seven touchdowns while rushing for 961 yards in 177 carries during the year, and average of 5.4 yards per carry. He likely would have easily made 1,000 yards had he not missed the Falls game because of an injury. He also kicked seven extra points and ran for one 2-point conversion, giving him a total 63 points for the year, leading the team in that category. He also passed for two touchdowns and caught one TD pass. He is just a junior on Coach Steve Heryford's team.

Also a junior is Damon Moore, the leading tackler on the team with 93 solo tackles and 40 assists during the season. He also served well on offense, at quarterback and running back, and average 8 yards per carry while rushing for 491 yards and four touchdowns. He also ran for three 2-point conversions and completed 21 of 42 passes for 320 yards and two touchdowns.

Senior flanker Troy Price had the best yards-per-carry average of 8.7, gaining 122 yards on 14 carries. Still, his top contribution was catching 18 passes for 613 yards and eight touchdowns. Colby Gardner caught the most passes, 30, gaining 404 yards and scoring two touchdowns on receptions. Senior Zach Tillman caught 21 passes during the season for 375 yards and four touchdowns. Senior linebacker Jeremy Antu was credited with 41 solo tackles and 22 assists during the year. Junior Josh Valdez had 27 solo tackles and 21 assists, and junior Matt McLelland had 29 solo tackles and 10 assists. Kyle Preston, a junior, had 32 individual tackles and 17 assists. Others high on the defensive statistics list included juniors Josh Hawthorne and Lance Murphy, senior Gardner and sophomores Devin Lester and Josh Freitag.

Volunteers Help Wilson Students Learn About Safety Issues

Wilson Elementary students have spent the week learning about thinking safely and making good decisions, with a little help from volunteers from Wilson VFD, Garza County EMS and Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. They addressed topics such as fire safety, drug awareness, using 911, and making overall good decisions.

Students created posters about saying no to drugs and those posters are currently displayed throughout the elementary school. Winning posters were chosen and the winners were given prizes.

Students were evacuated from the building for a fire drill on Friday and after they were all safely out of the building, they were taken to the back of the campus, where they were met by the Wilson Fire Department, Post Garza EMS, and the Lynn County Sheriff. The students enjoyed listening to what each department did and were able to listen to the sirens, and even talk on the loudspeaker of the police car. Some students were able to get a first-hand look at the inside of the ambulance and see how different pieces of equipment were used.

The students left with a bag of goodies from each station as well as a further understanding of what each one does in an emergency.

"Wilson School would like to thank these volunteers for coming out and teaching our students more about safety and how to make good decisions," said a school official.

Message From:
Rev. Jeff Bayley, Pastor, First United Methodist, Tahoka
"I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise."
Luke 23:43
Tell me, what has the thief on the cross done to warrant help? He has wasted his life. Who is he to beg for forgiveness? He publicly scoffed at Jesus. What right does he have to pray? "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom?" Do you really want to know? The same right you have to pray.
You see, that is you and me on the cross. Naked, desolate, hopeless, and estranged. That is us. That is us asking...
We don't boast. We don't produce our list. Any sacrifice appears silly when placed before God on a cross...
We, like the thief, have one more prayer. And, we, like the thief, pray. And we, like the thief, hear the voice of grace.
Peace and Mercy, Jeff Bayley
