First Baptist Church of Wilson to celebrate 100th Anniversary

by JUANELL JONES

October 18, 2014 will mark the passage of a century for First Baptist Church of Wilson. More than 200 current and former Lynn County residents will begin gathering in Wilson this coming Saturday afternoon to initiate a weekend of reminiscence and worshiping to honor the 100 years of the First Baptist Church's service to the community. Anyone who has ever attended an activity at FBC or has been befriended by its members is urged to take part, according to event organizers.

Anniversary events will begin in the main auditorium from 4-6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 18 with a worship service, memorial and reminiscing with guest speakers and visiting dignitaries. Current and former members will share their talents with special music, and a media slide show will be presented. From 6-9 p.m. everyone is invited to gather in the Fellowship Hall to visit with friends and to view a pictorial history of

First Baptist Church. In addition, historical documents will be on display and the 2014 Church Directory will be available for sale.

On Sunday morning, Oct. 19, choir practice is at 9 a.m., Sunday School will be held at 10 a.m., and a celebratory morning worship service will begin at 11 a.m. that will include special music, a puppet ministry presentation, and special message.

Billy Parmer is the current pastor of FBC Wilson, serving since 2004, and he is the longest serving pastor in the history of the church. He is the 30th pastor to serve during the past 100 years.

"Thank you to all the members of FBC Wilson for allowing me to serve you and serve with you, and thank you to all that have come before to make this ministry possible," said Parmer in the 2014 Church Directory observing the church's 100th anniversary. "Thank you for allowing a fellow 'dirty, rotten, filthy rebellious sinner against God' to join you as we continue to learn about God's grace and preach God's grace. This preacher has no clue what the future holds and

Resigning

County Agent Bryan Reynolds resigning after 20 years here

by JUANELL JONES

Lynn County Agent Bryan Reynolds, with the Texas Agri-Life Extension Service, is resigning his position here on Friday, ending a 20-year service to Lynn County through the extension service. Lynn County Commissioners reluctantly accepted Reynolds' resignation at their regular session Monday morning at the county courthouse, and County Judge Mike Braddock expressed the county's appreciation for Reynolds' years of service.

"I started here 20 years ago on Oct. 17," said Reynolds, addressing commissioners and other county officials present at the meeting. "It has been exciting, and a lot of your kids have grown up with me. I just appreciate all the opportunities that I have had here. It's been great, and I will say that this county's support of the extension service is second to none," he added. "I was not looking to leave this job, but the opportunity came along and after sleepless nights and lots of prayer, I am taking the new job. But I'm not leaving Tahoka, and now I will get to be that volunteer 4-H leader that can deal misery to Wendy [Scott, the other county agent here]," he added with a laugh.

Reynolds is leaving to accept a position as gin manager at Farmer's Coop Gin in Tahoka. He will begin his duties there Monday.

In other business at Monday morning's session, commissioners considered proposals from two firms for independent auditors for the county, but took no action, and also discussed (without action) possible changes to the county handbook regarding per diem rates. Commissioners approved the purchase of motor graders for Pct. 2 and Pct. 4, after discussing trade-in costs and finance issues with Lance Wells, representing Warren Caterpillar. Purchase cost is $67,692 (with trade-in) for a motor grader for Pct. 2, and $71,506 (with trade-in) for Pct. 4.

Monthly bills were approved, and commissioners approved a contract between the Sheriff's Dept. regarding uniforms and firearms.

Judge Braddock led the meeting, with commissioners Keith Wied, John Hawthorne, Don Blair and Danny Martin present, and other county officials.

COUNTY ATTORNEY RACE TO BE DECIDED:

Early voting starts here Monday

One local race will be decided in the Nov. 4 General and Special Election, with early voting starting Monday, Oct. 20 and continuing through Oct. 31. The ballot will include a place for voters to write in a name for their choice of Lynn County Attorney, as two candidates are running locally as write-in candidates. County Attorney James Craig and challenger Rebekah Filley are both seeking the seat.

Several other uncontested county offices are also on the ballot, as well as District Judge Carter T. Schildknecht for the 106th Judicial District (unopposed), and other statewide races, including Governor and Lt. Governor, and the Commissioner of Agriculture. The seats for U.S. Senator and Dist. 19 U.S. Representative are both contested races as well.

Making a difference ... NHS volunteers paint a house

Twelve members of the Tahoka National Honor Society spent a day painting a house for a local resident for "Make a Difference Day" on Sept. 30.

Each year for the past several years, the Tahoka High School NHS group has selected a community member's home to do minor repair and paint as a service project.

"This summer I was contacted by a local resident," said Rachel Lehman, NHS adviser. "She knew our group had completed these projects in the past and asked if we could paint her parents' home. I told her we would be glad to."

Tahoka NHS is part of the Volunteer Center of Lubbock. They receive grant money each semester to use for service projects.

"We used grant money for paint and supplies," Lehman said. "The members supplied the manual labor."

The project took about six hours to complete. "It was fun, and it felt good to give back," said senior Dillon Trevino.

"The students enjoy this project each year," Lehman said. "The couple was very gracious, and the students understand exactly what it feels like to help someone in need."

"She was really happy," said NHS president Sonya Gonzales. "It felt good helping and knowing that we made a difference."

Making a Difference ... On Sept. 30, these Tahoka High School National Honor Society members spent Making a Difference Day by painting and doing minor repairs for a resident in Tahoka. Hale Center Owls crush Tahoka in district opener

The first district game for Tahoka at Hale Center last Friday was not good for Tahoka, as the Owls flew by the Bulldogs 48-6, showing a strong defense and a passing attack that netted four touchdowns.

This week, Tahoka will continue district play, hosting Floydada, which last week beat Olton 24-19 to go 3-3 for the season and 1-0 in district 2-AA. Tahoka now is 2-4 and 0-1 in district.

First score of last Friday's game came midway of the first quarter when Hale Center QB D.J. Dunn passed 13 yards to Dalton Needham, a combination that worked for two more touchdowns before halftime.

Also in the first half, Anthony Borjas scored for the Owls after intercepting a Tahoka pass. The halftime score was 35-0.

Hale Center added its final two scores in the third quarter, and Tahoka finally got on the scoreboard with just 1:32 left in the game, when QB Roman Parmer went in from 2 yards out.

Tahoka had just 92 yards rushing, led by Dillon Trevino, who gained 76 yards in 18 carries, an average of 4.2 per carry. Parmer gained 22 in 10 efforts and Grant Tekell gained 17 in 5 carries.

Hadley Reynolds completed 1 of 2 passes for 23 yards, and Parmer connected on 3 of 13 for 23.

Dunn of Hale Center completed 10 of 18 passes for 131 yards and two touchdowns, but had two passes intercepted. Intercepting passes for Tahoka were Dominique Herrera and Jordan Arriazola.

BELIEVE NOTHING that you hear and only half of what you see (or read?). I heard that somewhere in the past, or read it, so this raises a puzzle: I read that half of what you read can't be trusted, so how much of that statement can I believe?

Anyway, the quote about believing nothing you hear and only half of what you see is attributed to both Edgar Allan Poe and Benjamin Franklin, so whoever said it first, it was before television and national politicians, both of which now go to great lengths to mislead the public.

Somewhat related to all this is the fact that I have been writing for newspapers for years, and I've been accused (jokingly, I hope) of never letting the facts stand in the way of a good story.

Have I ever just flat-out lied to the public? Well, that might depend on your definition of lying, sort of like Bill Clinton saying, "That depends on your definition of sex." I have made up some whoppers, just to entertain, but I tried to make them so ridiculous that nobody would take them seriously.

I have, however, been responsible for some mistakes in print, some typographical and some just plain dumb. And once you've done this and it is printed for every subscriber to read, you can't deny it.

Every newspaper makes mistakes, and many readers gleefully like to point them out, just to show they are smarter than those stupid writers and editors.

Right now I am going to confess being responsible for a really dumb photo caption in last week's paper, an error that likely was noticed only by Tahoka High School football fans. On the football page was a photo from the Tahoka-Plains game a couple of weeks ago, only I identified it as a scene from the Tahoka-Ralls game a week earlier. And the lead-in line on the caption said "Dogs Chasing Rabbit," referring to Bulldogs and Ralls Jack-rabbits.

If the Dogs were chasing a Rabbit in Tahoka that night, they must have chased him about 40 miles, because a week earlier they had played at Ralls, and No. 19 carrying the ball in the picture was a Plains Cowboy.

I don't know why I got confused, and was thinking about Rabbits instead of Cowboys. It was just a hare-brained error.

'Box Tops For Education' collection underway this week

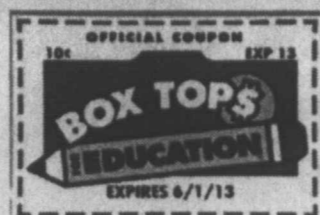

Tahoka Elementary is collecting "Box Tops For Education" the week of Oct. 15-22, with Liz Tew chairing the collection efforts.

"We are asking all area citizens to collect the Box Tops For Education logo off of any grocery items that show the logo on their product, and to turn them in to the school," said Tew. "Just cut off the logo (the entire container is not needed) from the product, and turn it in to your favorite student or teacher, or to the school office, or to me," she added.

Students in pre-kindergarten through 5th grade are participating in the Box Tops For Education collection, and the top class collecting will get a class party, according to Tew.

"For every box top we collect, the school will get 10-cents that will go into the Box Tops special fund to be used to purchase extra needs that may not be in the school budget. In the past, the funds have been used to purchase a color scanner for use in the teachers' lounge, a classroom set of kindergarten graduation gowns, and a tablecloth for the awards table for the annual elementary awards program.

"Although we are collecting the box tops for the week of Oct. 15-22, please continue collecting the Box Tops For Education logos throughout the year, as we will have another collection week later this school year," explained Tew.

Wheel chairs reported stolen

Tahoka Police Dept. Friday were advised of the theft of two wheel chairs, reported by Jose Valdez, who said one of them was taken from the front yard of his residence on Ave. M. Investigation was continuing.

Also on Friday, police arrested a man and a woman "passed out asleep" in a vehicle stopped in the middle of the road in the 1600-block of the east access road of U.S. 87. The two Tahoka residents were jailed on charges of public intoxication.

Lynn County jail was holding 38 inmates early this week, with 20 of those held for Ector County, two for Dawson and one for Gaines County. Among those recently jailed were persons charged with driving while license invalid or suspended, order of the court, and public intoxication.

tion for voters to consider, which is a state constitutional amendment that would authorize annual disbursements from the Economic Stabilization Fund, commonly known as the Rainy Day Fund, to the state highway fund. The amendment would authorize the comptroller to redirect half of the oil and natural gas production tax revenue from the Rainy Day Fund to the state highway fund. The Rainy Day Fund revenue to be transferred into the state highway fund may only be used for constructing, maintaining and acquiring rights-of-way for public roadways other than toll roads.

Early voting will be conducted at the Lynn County Clerk's Office at the county courthouse in Tahoka during regular business hours, M-F 8:30-12 noon, and 1-5 p.m. Voters must bring their voter registration card and photo ID to cast a ballot.

National Walk 2 School Day ... Tahoka PTO celebrated National Walk 2 School Day last Wednesday, October 8, asking any students who wanted to participate to meet at the Tahoka Mini Park and have a "walking school bus" make its way to the school. They are pictured here about two blocks away from the school. About 40 children met at the mini park for the walk. Other students also walked from their homes to school in celebration of that day.

has no doubt into Whose Hands we will place our future," he added.

In 1913, Miss Emma Nicholson, the first teacher at a one room school building in the fledgling, thinly-settled community of Wilson, saw the religious needs of her pupils and undertook the task of organizing a Sunday School, and a revival was held soon afterwards. The First Baptist Church of Wilson was organized on Oct. 18, 1914 with 16 members, following this revival. The first pastor, called on Nov. 15, 1914, was J.E. Nicholson, brother of Miss Nicholson.

The church's first house of worship was built on the southwest corner of 13th and Dickson, and FBC of Wilson used this building from February 1916 to February 1926. The church grew from 16 members to around 200 in less than ten years, and FBC entered into a building program and moved into a new brick basement, with the first service held Feb. 21, 1926, and the church continued to grow.

The church sponsored their first Vacation Bible School in June of 1945, under the leadership of pastor Lloyd T. Gentry, and plans continued for building a new church auditorium. January 16, 1949, the first services were held in the new auditorium. Bro. E.V. Brooks was pastor at the time.

In 1950 the church voted to build a cabin for the young people to use in the summer youth programs, and the cabin was built at Plains Baptist Assembly near Floydada. The women's missionary society recommended that the church enter into a program of building and maintaining a Mexican Mission, and the church voted to build a mission in the early 1950s.

In February 1953, Mrs. L. Lumsden and son, William G. Lumsden, offered a gift to the church in the form of a Memorial Bell Tower, and during this construction a new cry room was added and a pastor's study was built. On Dec. 13, 1953, the Lonnie Lumsden Memorial Tower and Chimes was dedicated. The first church bulletin printed in color was in 1965. Fans were installed in the sanctuary in 1985, and a Community Easter Sunrise Service was held in the high school auditorium. A new chime system was installed in 1991, when Bro. Ira Shelton was pastor. Bro. Kenneth Platte was called to serve in August of 1993, and he and Billy Parmer went on a mission trip to Mexico. He resigned in 1998, and Tom Griffin served from July 4, 1999 until June 2002. Bro. Billy Parmer was called in September of 2004 and continues to serve.

"Our mission goes on at FBC, as we reach out to our community and beyond. On Wednesday evenings we have a large group of children and youth, as well as a growing group of adults. We have food, fellowship, prayer requests, praises and Bible study, and average about 45 youth and children, with good leaders to lead them. Although we have a small community we are reaching people," said a church representative in the anniversary directory.

Perhaps the best statement of what a church means to its community was written by a former member, Mrs. L. Lumsden, in a church history written in 1964. "We know that a church is not a building, though it be of brick or stone, but is made of men, women, boys and girls who have given their hearts to God, and stand on the foundation of Jesus Christ. I have not mentioned the number of souls won to Christ under the leadership of the pastors and consecrated workers of this church - only God knows - and the numbers that have been taught God's Word, trained in Christian services and given to missions. Yes, the church means more than this building. It has shared our joys and sorrows, led us to Christ, loved us into service, reproved us in wrong doings, encouraged us in adversity, prayed for us in sorrow and in sickness, buried our dead, and comforted us as no other institution could."

BILLY PARMER, PASTOR
First Baptist Church of Wilson

Tahoka 3-D Band to compete in UIL Marching Contest Saturday in Lubbock

This Saturday, October 18, at the Lubbock Lowrey Field, the Tahoka 3-D Band will compete at the Region 16 UIL Marching Contest at 4:15 p.m. People are encouraged to come earlier and enjoy some fine bands: Lockney at 3 p.m., Abernathy at 3:15 p.m., Sundown at 3:30 p.m., there will be a judges break at 3:45 p.m., followed by Farwell at 4:00 p.m., and then the Tahoka 3-D Band at 4:15 p.m. There is a nominal admission fee for all UIL contests. The Tahoka 3-D Band's music is the soaring and haunting melodies of the world famous Bizet's opera "Carmen." It is about passion, seduction, betrayal, and even murder, much like a modern day soap opera," said Band Director Carroll Rhodes. "Tahoka has a reputation for supporting their band better by their attendance than any other school around Lubbock," added the director, who believes the fan support makes a big difference. "Come and show by your presence your backing of these outstanding young musicians," said Director Rhodes.
