City Clean-Up Underway, Open Containers Being Hauled Away

A city wide clean-up of the town is underway. Mayor W. B. LeVeque signed a proclamation declaring this week as "Clean-Up" week in Muleshoe after Dr. W. F. Birdsong, City Health Officer declared in a statement to the city that weeds, garbage and trash were creating a health hazard.

City-manned trucks began an operation Tuesday morning which involved the work of three men, a truck and a loader. After moving along five alleys within the city, the truck was loaded with 50-gallon barrels filled with garbage.

City dwellers were previously warned that any such container they wished to keep should be emptied and taken from the alley.

The city personnel working with the clean-up operation has quite a story to tell about the open containers.

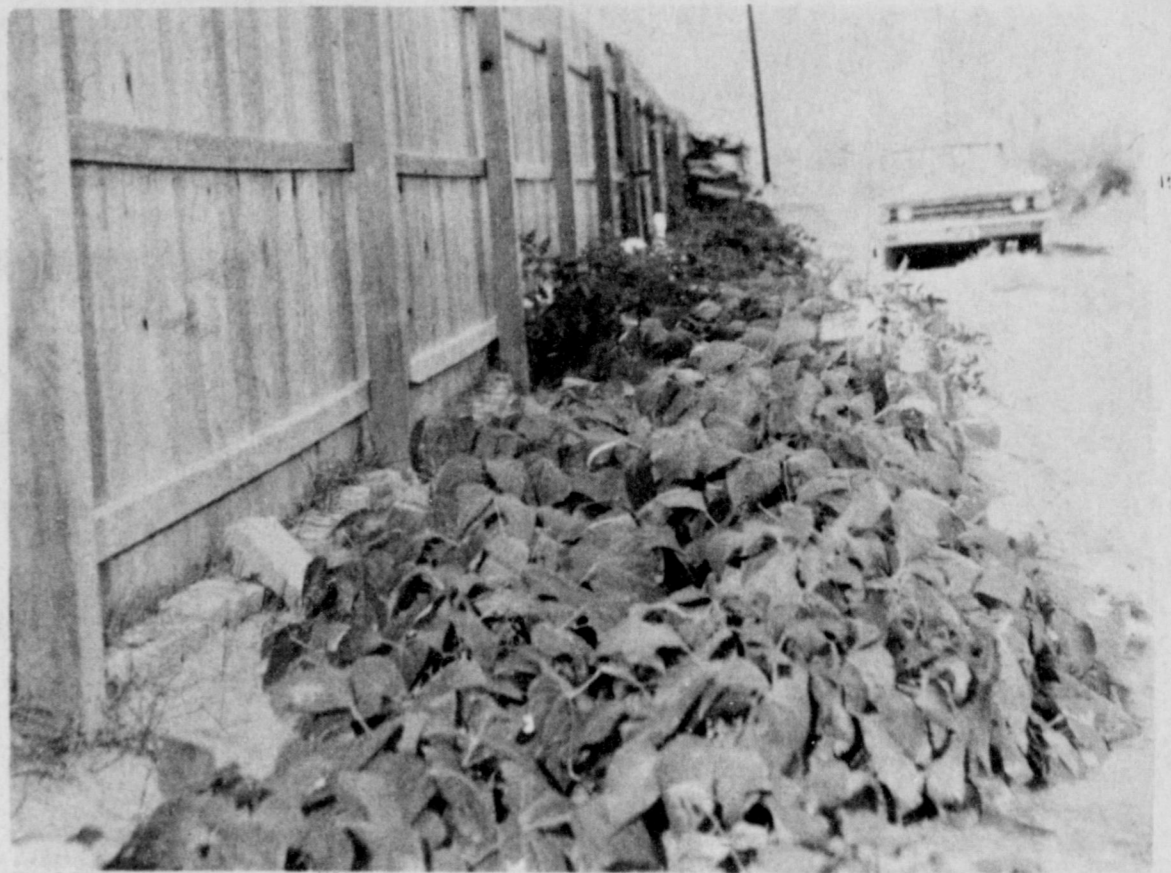

"Many of them," they said, "had been sitting open along the alleys since the city passed an ordinance requiring the use of regulation garbage containers."

"It is not only shocking but sickening. Some of the barrels were filled with roaches, flies, maggots and other harmful and germ carrying insects of this nature," they said.

Earnest Martin said they expected it to take much more time than anticipated to rid the city of this one hazard.

A tour of the town shows that many of the alleys have been cleaned since the start of the effort Monday, while

ALLEY BEAUTY--Alleys do not have to be unattractive. This scene is outside the fence behind the Cecil Davis home. Two regulation garbage cans stand near the back fence gate and tomatoes, green beans and flowers are thriving along the fence. A rick of wood for the home fireplace is stacked to the west of the gate, then more flowers in full bloom grow to the property line.

TREE TOP TALL--This scene is a weeded alley in the Richland Hills Addition where city employees find it hard to make their way through the eight-foot tall weeds to pick up garbage. The weeds are almost as tall as the tree shown in the distant background. Such places as this made it necessary for a clean-up week to be launched.

Southwestern Public Service Expected to Ask Rate Increase

Southwestern Public Service is expected to ask the City Council for an increase in electric power rates in a forthcoming meeting with the group. The increased rate proposal is said to be a general one throughout the Texas area served by Southwestern Public Service.

Jeff Peeler, local manager of SWPS said the rate increase request would be upcoming.

Sought is an increase amounting to 7.62 percent average for residential and commercial customers alike. The proposed new rates would raise the company's rate of return on investment from 5.65 per cent to 5.98 per cent.

For the average residential user, the proposed rate would mean an increase in the monthly "light bill" of from 77 cents to $1.16.

The rate hike request is the first general one by SWPS Co. since 1951 when a blanket 10 per cent hike was made.

SWPS Co. officials anticipate that the rate increase now proposed would produce $1,874,000 in additional revenues throughout Texas. Including areas other than Texas served by the company, the additional revenue is estimated at $2,400,000 of which $1,179,229 would go for taxes.

Company spokesmen detailed the proposed new rates for electrical power.

For residential service in homes which are not electrically heated or do not heat water electrically the new rate schedule is as follows:

6.50 cents per kwh for the first 50 kwh used each month.

4.30 cents for the next 50 kwh used each month.

2.15 cents per kwh for the next 900 kwh used each month.

1.70 cents per kwh for all additional kwh used each month.

The 1.70 cents bottom step on the rate schedule for regular residential service is the lowest rate for this type of service the company has ever offered. This additional block recognizes the trend toward increased use of electric service in modern day living and offers to the customer the benefits accruing to the company when it is able to utilize larger, more efficient equipment.

The new commercial rates call for the following schedule:

6.50 cents per kwh for the first 100 kwh used each month.

4.20 cents per kwh for the next 900 kwh used each month.

2.15 cents per kwh for the next 6000 kwh used each month.

1.30 cents per kwh for the next 6000 kwh used each month.

.80 cents (eight-tenths of one per cent) per kwh for all additional kwh used each month.

When the commercial customer's demand (the number of kilowatts the company must have available to serve his load) exceeds 10 kw, then the 4.20 cents block of the rate will be extended 38 kwh for each kw of demand above 10 kw. The demand feature of the rate affects only a small percentage of the commercial customers.

Through the years, the company has introduced every position. Cont. on Page 3, Col. 1

The letter came from Racine, Wisconsin, which reads in part:

"Several Rotarians, including myself, are anxious to have a shot at Sandhill Cranes and understand that your area would make some good hunting. The birds seem to do considerable damage on both farms and ranches and we are anxious to protect these crops. Understand that the season opens November 4. If you could give us any suggestions and a name of a guide in your area and a place to hunt, it certainly would be appreciated."

Honorary Citizen Dies In Homeland Combat Duty

At Christmas time last year, two Vietnamese servicemen came here with Lt. Don Watson and were houseguests in the C. A. Watson home during their leave time before going back to their home land.

A group of businessmen congregated at Harvey Bass Appliance store where these young men were presented plaques as honorary citizens of Muleshoe.

Today, Lt. Van Dink Tung is dead, a casualty of the Vietnam war.

The servicemen were in training with Watson at Fort Benning, Ga. and spent Christmas here. Since their departure, the Watson's have written to them regularly.

Monday, the Watsons received the following letter from Major B. Channers:

"Dear Mr. Watson: I am returning your letter to Lt. Tung. He was killed two weeks ago while on active duty operation. His death was a great loss to those Americans who knew him. Lt. Tung has served in the Vietnam war for the past several years. He leaves

Howards Attend Cannon Fly-In

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Watson were among approximately 200 civilian pilots who were invited by the Commander, 27th Tactical Fighter Wing to attend a Fly-In at Cannon Air Base Saturday, September 23.

In the invitation, the commander said "Private flying is an enjoyable activity for us all. It is seldom, however, that we have the opportunity to engage ible economy in its operations, the most efficient generating equipment available has been installed and an automatic load dispatching system which utilizes the most economical equipment under all load conditions has been placed in operation.

An annual payroll saving of more than $1,000,000 has resulted from not replacing employees who have terminated and through redeployment of existing employees.

While these efforts have had some effect on rising costs, continuing price escalation of materials and supplies has made some rate relief necessary.

Gas for making electricity, for example, has increased in price from 7.25 cents per mcf to 19.21 cents in the 16 years since the last general rate increase. Steel for substations is 27 cents a pound today, compared to 15 cents in 1951. Copper wire has gone from 38 cents a pound to 57 cents. Hourly wage scales have increased more than 90 per cent, meters are 26 per cent higher and taxes have increased by almost 200 per cent.

"We have fought the battle of spiraling costs with efficiencies and internal economies for as long as we can and still offer to our customers the dependable service they deserve.

"Although we are asking for a rate increase, there are pluses for our customers in this new rate structure if they will utilize them by living better electrically. No other source of energy available has held the price line for so long as the electric industry. Total electric living is practical now, as the growing preference for it indicates. Ours is a service which costs less for each unit, the more units that you use, and this type of economy is still available in these new rates," SWPS officials said.

"The itinerary for the civilian pilots proved to be very interesting," Watson said. An escort officer pointed out installations of interest at Cannon during the tours.

Landing and coffee time began at 7:20 and concluded one hour later. A tour of the base followed and the opening address was given by Col. Hansen at the theater.

Military Flight Orientation conducted at the theater was presented by Captain Derrick, Major King and Mr. Walter Conner, FFA.

others and vacant lots still remain in the same grown-up condition.

Men who operate the garbage trucks point out that the weed problem in the alleys are bad in all sections of town from the easterly part to Richland Hills and from north to south. Some of the alleys are barely passable due to about eight-foot weeds obscuring what should be the alley way.

Although there are alleys over town which are kept clean by the property owners, one place was especially memory-worthy to these men who know the alleys as well as the streets. That is the alley behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Davis home, 1906 West Avenue H, Richland Hills Addition.

The citizens are urged to continue the clean-up campaign and free the city of weeds and garbage. An ordinance is to be brought before the City Council at their upcoming meeting to enforce the clearing of property which is not done willfully by the property owner.

The Sandhills Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses fishing this week, we suppose.)

Dear editor:
I was fishing the other afternoon and thought I'd hooked a good one, even when it broke the surface glinting in the sunshine. Looked like at least a three-pound gaspergon, but when I got it to the bank I discovered it was only a copy of the Fort Worth Star Telegram and I lost my bait besides. There are days like that.

I re-baited and let the paper dry out and looked it over and ran into an article that made me forget all about my cork.

According to it, science is moving in on fishing. It's working on a system where you ride along in a boat, locate a school of fish by radar, then pull them in with a vacuum-cleaner-type suction pipe. In thirty minutes a man can have a boat full and be back on the job on his tractor or in his office or wherever he works.

I estimate this will save 15 million man-hours of fishing a year, and it got me to thinking of other areas.

Take golf. As I understand it, from what I've seen on television when no western was on, the object of the game is to sink a ball in a minimum number of strokes, but like it is you drive the ball through the air and when it lands it bounces around not telling where. Why not connect the holes up with pipes on the ground and drive through them, making a hole-in-one at every green and thus saving maybe 50 million man-hours of golf a year?

Or dominoes. Why put dots on just one side? Put them on both and a game could be played in 30 seconds. The same could be done with bridge cards, although I haven't worked out anything yet with checkers. Baseball? Magnetize the ball and the outfielders' gloves and finish a game in 30 minutes with 27 flies caught by both sides. All games would end in a tie, the national standings would always be the same and the newspapers would never have to re-set any type.

By failing to utilize science in all games and sports, I figure the United States is wasting 14 billion man-hours a year, delaying the average man's entry into a rest home by 15 or 20 years. I turn the problem over to Congress.

After finishing reading the paper, I resumed fishing and about sundown pulled in four 2-pounders and came home. There's nothing better than a copy of the Fort Worth Star Telegram to wrap fish in.
Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Stewardess Starts a Fan Club

NEW YORK (AP) — It's not only teen-agers who start fan clubs.

Miss Bonnie Blue Wright from Wilmington, Del., a 23-year-old stewardess with strawberry blonde hair and gray eyes, has started one—for Hawaiian singer Don Ho.

Has she ever done anything like this before, or talked with anyone who started a fan club? No, she says, "I don't know what I'm getting into."

"But Don's the type that people want to do things for. Also, he's a fabulous entertainer."

Miss Wright first heard Don Ho when the charter airline for which she works sent her on some shuttle flights between Honolulu and New Zealand.

"I went to see his show practically every night and I was invited by a friend to a couple of his parties, I said to him, 'It's a shame the East Coast doesn't know about you. What can I do? How about if I form a fan club for you?'"

"He said he thought the idea was just great."

Thirty stewardesses have become members of the fan club so far, and they intend to get their friends together and stage big welcome scenes whenever Ho arrives at an airport. They're currently revving up for his first New York engagement.

"He's not rock 'n' roll," his fan club president asserts. "I think he stems from rhythm and blues. But all ages like him. My grandmother goes around humming his song, 'Tiny Bubbles.'"

He'll Do

Business Man (to lad seeking employment)—Weren't you here two weeks ago, and didn't I tell you then that I wanted an older boy?

Yes, sir! That's why I've come back.

W.S.C.S. Meets

Doris Wedel read the "Prayer Circle, City of Dreams," in a regular business meeting.

A discussion was held concerning the Sub-District meeting which will be in Muleshoe October 5. Registering will start at 9:30 a.m.

The group joined in singing "We've a Story to Tell the Nation." Mrs. Murrah read a chapter on racial problems and ended the program with the song, "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Velma Gwyn introduced the study of Japan. The Circle responded with "In a Changing Japan."

The benediction was given by Velma Gwyn.

Those present were Donna Shaw, Doris Wedel, Elizabeth Peery, Fern Davis, Anna Hill, Mattie Griffin, and hostess Mrs. Virgie Shaw.

Coffee, punch and cake was served as refreshments.

Next meeting date for the Circle will be October 10 with Velma Gwyn as hostess.

Just Depends

A man was on his way to visit some friends during summer vacation. The way led through a swamp.

"Say," he asked, "is it true that an alligator won't hurt you if you carry a torch?"

The guide thought a moment. "Depends on how fast you carry it, I reckon."

DAILY BREAD—Along with her favorite recipe, Mrs. Chapman points to the plaque her daughter cross-stitched which she is proud to have hanging in her kitchen.

ROAST DOVE

6 Doves, cleaned and dressed
1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
1/4 cup onion, chopped
Butter or margarine
2 cups cooked wild rice or brown rice
1/2 cup mushrooms
Paprika

Method

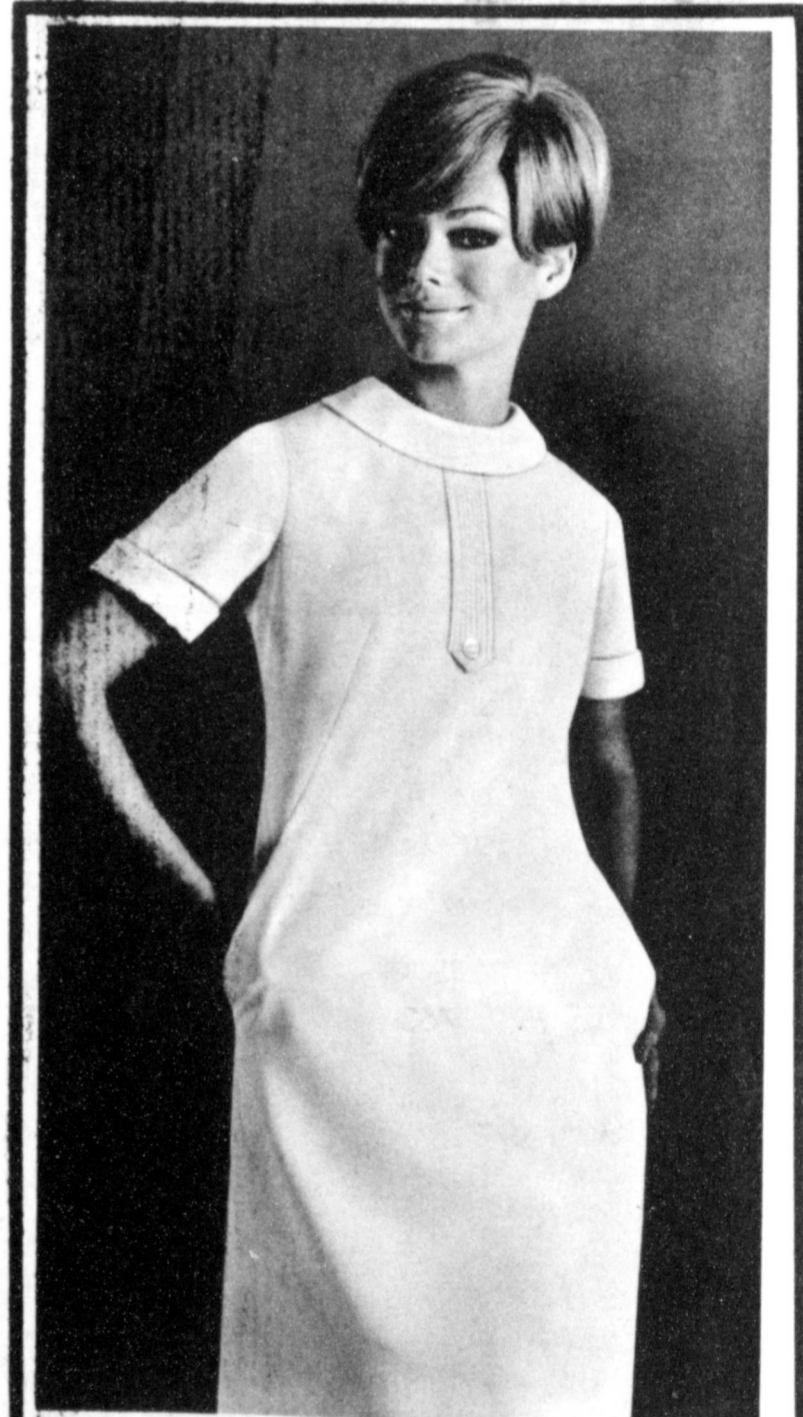

Split Doves—cook green peppers and onion in butter until tender, add rice, olives, mushrooms and paprika to taste. Add more butter if necessary to make mixture moist. Stuff the Doves, place in an uncovered roasting pan—roast 300 degrees for one hour, baste often with butter in hot water.

Done Enough

Elmer, age 13, was puzzled over the girl problem and discussed it with his pal Joe.

"I've walked to school with her three times," he told Joe. "and carried her books. I bought her an ice-cream soda twice. Now do you think I ought to kiss her?"

"Now, you don't need to," Joe decided after a moment of deep thought. "You have done enough for that girl already."

Much interest is being shown in the revival being held at the local Methodist church this week. Rev. Lloyd Mahew of Levelland, is the visiting preacher for the meeting.

Class officers for high school grades this year have had recent meetings and made plans with the members of the class for this year's activities.

Officers for the senior class are Glenn Salyer, president; Mike Richardson, vice-president; Sheryl Medlin, secretary; Joyce Sowder, treasurer; Linda McCamish, reporter. Junior class officers are Patricia Grusendorf, president; Rodney Claunch, vice-president; Elaine Tiller, secretary and treasurer; Linda Richardson, reporter. Sophomore class L. D. Holt, president; Tom Newton, vice-president; Iva Clawson, secretary; Judy Snitker, trea-

Vice-president of each class is also student council representative for the class.

The senior class is very happy to have a new pupil added to their class, Phillip Fleming. Also Becky Fleming, a sophomore, Charis, a seventh grader, Sam, fourth grader and Clifford, a first grader.

Mrs. J. C. Snitker, special reading teacher at the local school invites parents and patrons of the school to visit her room and if they would like, a class. She is very proud of her equipment she has to work with, says it is some of the latest and is such an aid to the work. She has 25 pupils. So many of our children quit school because of being poor readers, and this work, coming under Title I, has been put in our schools to try to avoid this problem.

The FHA held its first meeting of the year Tuesday night, at the lunchroom. The president, Joyce Sowder, conducted the meeting. The program opened with the regular FHA rituals. For the program Harold Flemings, high school English teacher, spoke to the girls on Morals and Manners.

SPACE PROGRAM

This year has seen a considerable discussion about the objectives and management of our Space Program. The tragic accident, in late January, in which Astronauts Grissom, White and Chaffee died in an Apollo ground test, coupled with the deficit-spending situation brought on by irresponsible federal fiscal managers, has served to rekindle vocal opposition to our space efforts.

I am not in sympathy with these space skeptics, because I believe very strongly in the value of space exploration to the continued growth and survival of the United States. And, although I have long advocated a close look at government spending with the aim of eliminating all non-essential expenditures, I have not felt--as some of my colleagues have--that our space programs should be a primary target for drastic cuts.

Not only would abandonment or curtailment of our space program make a mockery of individual sacrifices made by men like Grissom, White and Chaffee; but it would also short-change this nation scientifically and militarily.

As you know, we have a two-sided space program--with military uses developed by the Department of Defense and peaceful uses developed by NASA. Of course, there is much overlap because equipment--a camera, for example--developed by NASA may turn out to be valuable in satisfying Defense requirements. In addition, and equally important, there is free interchange of technical information, management methods, and even people between NASA and the Defense Department.

As a member of the Armed Services Committee here in the Senate, and being concerned about the military posture of the United States, I am especially interested in assuring that the United States has the ability to operate effective defense units in outer space.

As a matter of fact, there is strong reason for believing that observation from space is the most significant development in man's space experience. Historians may look back and agree that observation satellites are among the most important machines ever created by man.

Not only can these satellites help us watch crop and forest growth, to forecast weather, to improve our maps, and to assist navigation; but they also can tell us how many missiles an enemy has. They can "see" from orbital altitudes of some 200 miles, objects as small as garbage can lids. By 1970 we can expect to be able to literally "look into" the ocean, obviously a big advantage to the fishing industry--and to the detection of enemy submarines. In fact, it is difficult to imagine a technical development with more military importance than the ability to see into the oceans.

One of the more significant space surprises of recent years is that a comparison of "photographs" made in several different parts of the electromagnetic spectrum yields far more information about the situation on the ground than any single camera ever would. The ordinary camera shows small objects, but other sensors, such as infrared, complement our knowledge by showing temperature, reflectivity, and color of the objects. Altogether these "photos" reveal a truly astounding amount of information; the type of construction materials in buildings and water content of soils, location of missile silos with grass growing over the top, the health of plants, porosity of rock, and the contamination of water.

Another key development for tomorrow is the ability to transmit large quantities of information rapidly to the ground. In military operations today, film must be ejected from the satellite in a small reentry vehicle which in turn must be retrieved by aircraft. An obvious objective is to drastically shorten this operation by putting equipment in the satellite to transmit the "photos" to the ground as soon as they are taken. The Air Force's first attempts at such a system will probably be made with the Manned Orbiting Laboratory which has received a substantial increase in support this year, but will still not fly until 1969.

Orbital space stations, such as the Manned Laboratory, will provide far more information about the earth and man's activities on earth than we have ever known before. The basic value of this mass of satellite information is that it will take the guesswork out of many of man's most important activities. This capability will be worth billions of dollars as it stimulates more efficient use of resources everywhere on earth.

Militarily, equally ambitious hopes seem to be in order. Within a decade, it should be possible to keep an accurate record of not only the inventory but the disposition of all the military forces of all nations, with this record updated several times a day.

Through the benefits I have just outlined, both military and commercial, our expenditures for space exploration are paying off. I will continue to strongly support our nation's space program.

Jack Young Appointed To Law Enforcement Post

House Speaker Ben Barnes today announced the appointment of the Commission on Law Enforcement. This Commission consists of five members appointed by the Speaker to investigate current police methods, evaluate the impact of recent state and federal court decisions on these methods, and to prepare a manual for law enforcement officers which will give the individual officer practical guidance for his actions and which may be used as a teaching guide. Appointed to the Commission were the following:

Carol S. Vance, Chairman, of Houston is an Army veteran with a B. A. and LLB from the University of Texas. Vance served as Assistant District Attorney of Harris County from 1958 to 1966 before becoming District Attorney. He is on the Board of Directors for the National District Attorney's Association and is Chairman of the Criminal Law Section of the State Bar of Texas.

Jack Young, a Korean war veteran from Muleshoe, who holds a BA from Texas Technological University and an LLB from the University of Texas, served as County Attorney of Bailey County from 1957 through 1960 and has been District Attorney for the 15th Judicial District since 1961. He is currently President of the Texas District and County Attorney Association.

Nola White, of Beaumont, is a graduate of Mississippi State University and the University of Texas School of Law. White has been a practicing attorney in Beaumont for 35 years, has served for the last five years as Assistant District Attorney of Jefferson County, and is currently Special Assistant Attorney General in charge of organizing Attorney General Crawford Martin's new Crime Prevention Division.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir of Austin, who has been with the Department of Public Safety since his graduation from East Texas State in 1940, leaving the department only to serve in the Army during World War II, has served as Assistant Director of that agency since 1962. Speir is now President of the Texas Police Association.

Ralph Brite is a graduate of Southwest Texas State and the University of Texas Law School. He has formerly been City Attorney of San Antonio (1954) and is a former President of the San Antonio Bar Association. Brite is President-elect of the Texas State Bar Association.

In making the appointments, Speaker Ben Barnes stated, "One phase I will ask the Commission to explore will be the feasibility of a statewide police academy designed to offer training for policemen from our municipalities. This would provide standardization in law enforcement training. I have tremendous confidence in the abilities of the men who will serve on our Commission on Law Enforcement. They are willing to devote the necessary time and energy to this particular study, and I feel certain they will render a great public service to the law enforcement agencies of this state as well as to all citizens of Texas."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Austin, Tex.--Constitutional Revision Commission is busy revising or rewriting the basic document which has governed Texas since 1876.

Before it could start, it rounded out its membership by naming five senators.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith refused to name the Senators. He says the Commission was not legally authorized. It was created by a simple House resolution and the Senate did not concur.

Senators chosen by the Commission itself were A. M. Aikin of Paris, Gray Hazlewood of Amarillo, J. P. Word of Meridian, Don Kennard of Fort Worth and Henry Grover of Houston.

Gov. John Connally opened the Commission's meeting by urging its members "to make some very profound recommendations about the structure of Texas government without removing fundamental safeguards."

Connally said the commission should "eliminate those portions (of the Constitution) which are outmoded and no longer applicable."

Commission Chairman Robert Storey, a Dallas attorney, said the 25-member commission, which will report to the 61st Legislature in 1969, should try to write a brand new constitution.

Recommendations of the Commission must go first to the Legislature. If two-thirds of the lawmakers agree that the proposed revision is worth submitting to voters, a state-wide election will be required before any changes can go into effect.

Larry Temple, executive assistant to Governor Connally, said the drafting committee, San Antonio Mayor W. W. McAllister was named vice-chairman.

Legal or not, the group will devote 14 months to the project. Eight committees were named to study various parts of the Constitution--executive, legislative, judicial, political subdivisions, bill of rights, education, revenue and taxation, and drafting. HURRICANE ACTION -- All available federal aid will be sought by Governor Connally for Rio Grande Valley and Texas coastal areas ravaged by Hurricane Beulah.

Small Business Administration early declared SBA relief loans were available to firms in the hurricane-devastated sections.

State Insurance Board dispatched experts to the Valley to help interpret the fine print of policies. Insurance companies, which paid out $120,000,000 in Hurricane Carla losses six years ago, moved to implement "catastrophe plans" for speeding claims handling.

Board officials advised that Texas insurance policies do not cover losses due solely to flood waters or wave damage, although some do provide coverage against wind-driven rains, as well as wind damage.

Source of controversy surrounding Carla policies mainly involved losses caused by both wind and water and assessment of that portion attributable to hurricane winds.

Railroad Commission delayed setting oil allowable for October pending a survey of how Hurricane Beulah affected Gulf Coast refining capacity.

GOOD WATER FOR BAD--A new federal government policy demanding commitment of water in order to control state stream pollution may leave Texas no water for its cities, industry and agriculture.

Governor Connally told a conference on regional planning and development that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers wants the state to guarantee release of 1,400,000 acre feet of water per year into the Red River for the next century so as to upgrade quality.

A head-on clash between the state and federal government arose over a contract for the Cooper Dam and Reservoir in Northeast Texas. Corps of Engineers demanded that the state allocate 63,370 acre feet of water a year from Lake Texarkana to control Red River pollution.

At the time the contract was signed, Texas Water Development Board informed President Johnson that the state faces potential permanent loss of 192,000 acre feet from the Red River area below Lake Texoma and possible ultimate loss of 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 acre feet from all Texas waters to federal jurisdiction if the Corps policy stands. Board claimed the policy would further invalidate any planned major redistribution of the state's surface water supply proposed in its $3,600,000,000 water plan.

"If that policy stands," Connally said, "there will be no water left for cities, industries or agriculture. If the water quality controls that Texas is asked to guarantee are put into effect, all present and prospective dams on the San Antonio area."

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has been asked to rule on validity of the Cooper Reservoir contract because of the provision giving federal agencies the right to release Sulphur River water for water quality control. He is expected to rule that the Water Development Board had no authority to sign it. Nobody seems quite sure what will happen after that.

Executive Director of the WDB, Joe G. Moore Jr., says conflict over the stream-flushing requirement will have to be settled at top state-national levels.

MUNICIPAL RIGHTS DIVISION--Texas Water Rights Commission, in effect, reversed a district court decision when it approved 18 applications for Rio Grande Valley water rights.

In bypassing the decision of Judge J. H. Starley of Pecos (in Edinburg's 93rd District Court), the Commission assured water supplies for most Rio Grande Valley cities for populations double those of 1965.

Starley had allocated water on the basis of acreage. Commission allocated it on the basis of population.

Even with the Board's decision, irrigation rights still are unsettled in the now famous Rio Grande Valley water dispute.

"Only when the suit is final," says Commission Executive Director Frank Booth, "will irrigation rights be established. Municipalities, however, always will get the water first, and irrigation will be subordinate to that."

WELFARE BENEFITS INCREASE--More than 240,000 needy Texans will get small raises in their welfare checks effective October 1. Burton G. Hackney, Commissioner of State Department of Public Welfare, says old age assistance recipients will receive $4 a month more and those eligible for aid to the permanently and totally disabled $5 more.

New maximum OAA grants will be $104 a month and disability top grants, $79 a month. Increases will benefit 228,567 on OAA rolls and 11,450 on disabled rolls. Legislature this year made raises possible by increasing appropriations for OAA by $6,500,000 and aid to the disabled by $1,000,000.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES--House Bill 78 of the 60th Legislature, which would repeal certain fees for attorneys and physicians under court appointment, is unconstitutional, says Attorney General Martin.

It is void he says, because the title of the bill did not conform to the body of the bill, and the Constitution requires that both say essentially the same thing.

In other opinions Martin held that: State Water Quality Board has authority to enforce water control standards adopted last June by its predecessor agency, the State Water Pollution Control Board; Law setting fees for county clerks and recorders did not repeal provisions for state apportionment of funds to county officers salary funds for services rendered. Four years is the limit for deficiency determination and suit to collect state sales tax; State is required to pay filing and recording fees on tax liens.

BOARD APPROVES TRACTS--Texas School Land Board has approved several tracts for sealed bid oil and gas leasing on November 7 with the standard one-sixth royalty and annual rental requirements. Oil and gas lease sale will include 163 tracts of 146,000 acres in the Gulf of Mexico, 222 bay tracts of 119,000 acres, 53 upland tracts of 20,000 acres in West Texas and 42 riverbed tracts of 3,500 acres.

Board also will offer for sulphur leasing one 50-acre tract in Brazoria County and 23 upland tracts in Reeves and Culberson counties.

APPOINTMENTS -- Representative Bill Rapp of Raymondville, Charles F. Finell of Holliday, Gerhardt Schulle of San Marcos, Toney Dramer of San Antonio and Bill Pickett of Karnes City were named by Speaker Ben Barnes to House Interim Committee on Importation and Grading of Eggs.

Dr. H. R. Byers of Texas A & M University, Plainview

farmer, F. F. Calhoun, Southern Methodist University Law Professor Dr. Howard J. Taubentfeld; state Sen. J. F. Christi of El Paso and Dallas Engineer George M. Parker were appointed to the Water Development Board's Weather Modification Advisory Committee.

Reps. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, Fred Orr of DeSoto and David Crews of Conroe are new members of House Interim Committee on Uninsured Motorists.

Handicapped Employees

A leader in the state's effort to increase employment opportunities for the handicapped declared this week that there is no provision in Texas' workmen's compensation insurance policies or rates that penalizes an employer for hiring handicapped workers.

"Many employers have been misinformed by scuttlebutt rumors which float around even though they have no basis in fact," Laurence Melton of Dallas, chairman of the Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped, explained.

The veteran champion of the cause of the handicapped workers explained that an employer's workmen's compensation insurance rates are determined by two factors: the relative hazards in the company's work and its accident experience.

"Rate determinations are not affected by the physical condition of the workers hired by the employer unless the handicapped worker is placed on a job in which his handicap increases the risk of injury," Melton pointed out.

He urged mayor's committees and other community groups at the grass roots to make plans for full participation in National Employment of the Handicapped Week to be observed October 1 through 7.

Lorenzen, top driver, retires from auto racing.

eral investigators is plain, clear, and unequivocal. Evidently when the Attorney General speaks on this issue he speaks for himself and himself alone. To me, the federal investigators have utterly destroyed any basis for the Administration's position."

John P. Diuguid, counsel to the Association, told Price "From the experience of the membership' electronic surveillance 'devices are necessary, useful and effective investigative weapons particularly where organized crime cases are concerned.' The Association's statement called the Republican-sponsored Electronic Surveillance Control Act of 1967 'a major step' in the war on organized crime."

In a related matter, Rep. Louis C. Wyman (R., N.H.), also a Crime Task Force member, told the House that the National Association of States Attorneys General had also recently adopted a formal resolution supporting eavesdropping legislation conforming to Republican proposals. He urged the House to enact this legislation, cosponsored by Price and other Republicans, as a matter of priority and before the end of the current session.

Rep. Bob Price, a member of the House Republican Task Force on Crime, today released the text of a statement by the Association of Federal Investigators on electronic surveillance. "It is enormously significant that this Association supports legislation" which would give law enforcement a vital investigating tool under strict court control and that, at the same time, they "deplore the Attorney General's obstructionism towards federal investigations," Price said.

"Until now the only federal spokesman on this issue has been Attorney General Clark," Price said. "But now, a group of more than 1,000 federal career employees active in law enforcement has spoken out in direct opposition to his view. "The statement of the fed-

Lazbuddie News

by Mrs. C. A. Watson

Among those going to the Fair in Amarillo Friday were the Chuck Smith family, the Orville Burnett family and the Bill Jennings family.

Monday Lazbuddie students were on hand for the opening day at the Fair in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Burnett, Laura and Bart were in Hale Center Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Short.

Carroll Littlefield, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Littlefield, returned to Colorado State University at Ft. Collins where he is a major in Wild Life Management.

Freshmen of the Lazbuddie FHA were victims of pranks of which they accepted in good humor and they were not bad-looking at all, dressed in the strange wearing apparel during the initiation of the Homemaking department at their first meeting, September 18.

Members of the Lazbuddie Church held their first quarterly conference at the Church Sunday, September 24, with Rev. W. A. Apling as guest speaker. Lunch was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Rev. Donald Davidson, former pastor of the Lazbuddie Church was guest speaker for the Methodist Church in Muleshoe for a special meeting held Monday. The talk consisted of information given concerning the King's Manor Home, Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graham attended the Graham reunion at Quannah Sunday. Sixty eight relatives were present for the occasion.

The eighth grade class of Lazbuddie heard a talk Thursday on Government and how it works. The speaker was Ted Weaver from Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Houston visited in Lubbock Sunday afternoon with their son and family, the Eugene Houstons.

The Lazbuddie FHA chapter held formal initiation of the Freshman girls into FHA Monday, September 18.

The ceremony was conducted with each Freshman being presented with a red rose.

Jackie Seaton presided over the business meeting which followed.

Refreshments were served to the girls and FHA Chapter parents. Mr. John Seaton and Mrs. Joe B. Jennings.

The following Freshman girls are now officially members of the "Lasting Rose Chapter" of FHA: Evelyn Darling, Delayne Steinbock, Raygens Trei-der, Johnnie Seaton, Leann Harlan, Debbie Jennings and Earnestine Templar.

To prove to these newcomers to the organization that FHA is not all 'candlelight and roses' they were surprised with a Kidnap Breakfast at 5:30 a.m. last Saturday after the Melrose football game Friday night.

Officers collected the sleepy girls from their slumber and Miss Ivy and the other girls had a breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon, blueberry muffins and orange juice prepared.

Miss Eva Dean Ivy and Fred Wilbanks attended the T.S.T.A. meeting in Amarillo, Tuesday, September 19.

The Lazbuddie Longhorns expect to have their hands full when they play Claude, September 29, 8 p.m. at Lazbuddie. Please come out and support your team.

The Lazbuddie seniors are selling magazines. If you have a favorite, please contact a senior, and he will make an immediate trip to your home.

MARINES AND RESERVES

The Marine Corps Commandant, Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., reported that the Marines could use more combat troops in Vietnam but that the White House had decided not to mobilize the reserve Fourth Marine Division and Air Wing.

Longhorn Stampede

The Lazbuddie Longhorns came through with an impressive victory over the Melrose Buffaloes this past week. Melrose, last year's New Mexico State Champs, and picked to win again this year, outweighed Lazbuddie 40 pounds per man.

Lazbuddie scored in the first period on a 45-yard touchdown pass from Steve Foster to Mike Casey. Melrose's quarterback, Lay, threw a touchdown pass to Jim Copeland early in the second period. Later in the second period, Frank Hinkson went over from 3-yards and Steinbock kicked the extras, ending the first half.

Beet Crop Payment To Total 90 Percent

The Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, Inc. was advised last week that the first payment for the 1967 crop of beets will be 90% of the actual realized net selling price for the 1966 crop.

Jay Boston, President of the Association, states that the relationship with Holly Sugar Corporation officials is presently one of working for the mutual interest of its growers and the factory. This cooperation between the two is essential and affords means for progress of both, Mr. Boston states.

The processor has further agreed that the first payment for the 1968 beet crop, when harvested, will be based on 90% of the final realized net sales price of the sugar processed from the 1967 crop.

Since the net selling price of the sugar from the 1966 beet crop now being sold is considerably higher than the net selling price of the sugar from the 1965 crop, we can expect the first payment on the 1967 beets to be harvested to be considerably higher than the first payment for the 1966 beet crop. This should save the growers some interest on money borrowed and will enable them to have the majority of the money from the crop much quicker than has been the case in the past.

The company has also offered a minimum guarantee provision in the 1968 beet growers contract of 83¢ over the average New York raw price less 3¢ bulk bin storage with certain limitations which the Board of Directors at its next meeting will consider. The guarantee, of course, would not be applicable in the event of a national emergency and government control of the price of sugar and would have a limitation in the event the average New York raw price exceeds by 105% the target price as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. Mr. Witherspoon, Executive Secretary of the growers association, states that although this provision sounds good and demonstrates the attitude on the part of the Holly Sugar Corporation to obtain the best net selling price possible for the sugar, that the limitation will need to be considered carefully by the Board before it is accepted. Mr. Boston states that with the two increases in the scale price of 1966 and 1967, and with the hauling allowance, the accelerated harvest, the larger first payment for the beet crop and particularly the increase in the net sale price of sugar, it appears that many farmers are evidencing a much greater interest in growing sugar beets.

Mr. Witherspoon states that the Board of the association has worked hard for its members.

Mr. Witherspoon also states that "the Texas-New Mexico association has acquired a distinct position of leadership among the old grower associations throughout the country. The President, Mr. Jay Boston, and the past Presidents, Mr. Shirley Garrison, Mr. Virgil Marsh and Mr. Austin Rose have all guided the association in this direction hopefully resulting in a fine agricultural industry for the area as envisioned by the late Lee Benefield, President of the association for many years, along with many other hard-working citizens successful in obtaining the industry for this area."

President Johnson expressed doubt in a recent news conference that any great acceleration of domestic oil shale development was likely in the present Middle East oil situation. The United States imports relatively little Arab oil.
