Sidelights From Washington

BY GEORGE MAHON

In the early days of the war nearly all combat airplanes were covered with camouflage paint. The practice has now been abandoned on most planes. The Japanese which are used in bombing Japan carry no camouflage. The camouflage would add weight and wind resistance and reduce the speed of the plane by eight miles per hour. Pilots prefer the extra speed.

It is hard to devise a camouflage that is suitable for all types of weather conditions; the natural aluminum is about as good as any, especially for daytime flying.

James Byrnes, new Secretary of State, and Fred Vinson, soon to become Secretary of the Treasury, are former members of Congress and are sure to understand the Congressional viewpoint and know how to get along with Congress in matters of foreign policy and in tax matters — problems with which they will deal as members of the Cabinet.

The Fair Employment Practices Committee, the so-called FEPC, is rapidly becoming the number one source of discord, bitterness, and disunity in Congress. Certain elements in Congress are trying to force passage of a bill which would make the FEPC permanent, continuing it after the war and giving it extraordinary power to compel employment without regard to race or color and without consideration of the wishes of employers or employees. I join with those who take the position that the present FEPC should be abolished and the permanent bill defeated, feeling that such a committee endangers our freedom, creates unnecessary frictions, and bids fair to produce an intolerable racial situation. Despite our efforts to the contrary, however, continuation of the FEPC for another year was provided for by Congress last week. The bill to set up the permanent FEPC is temporarily blocked, but the end of the controversy is not in sight.

The House of Representatives has agreed to recess for several weeks, and I plan to be back in the District within a few days. My office in the Federal Building in Lubbock will be open, but I hope to spend the greater portion of my time visiting among the people of the District, informing myself of local conditions and seeking to be of service wherever possible.

Final preparations have been made to stage "The Old Settlers Reunion and Rodeo" at Seymour, Texas, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 26th, 27th and 28th. Seymour features the Largest Original Amateur Rodeo in the Southwest annually from 1896 to 1945.

A good many applications have already been received for the Sponsors Contest, and this is going to be a colorful event. A hand stamped, hand made saddle will be first prize for the young ladies to compete for.

You will see more Brodes and Brahma Bulls ridden at the Seymour Rodeo, in one performance than at any other show in Texas.

In one of the finest Bermuda grass arenas in the State. No heat — no dust, and illuminated with powerful floodlights. There will be night shows only starting at 8:30 with elimination contests during the day.

Added attractions will be Sponsors' Dance, Square Dances, Old Fiddlers Contest, Clowns, Bands, and a Mammoth Colorful street parade each evening preceding the main attraction. Old Settlers' Picnic with a Special invitation to all Old Timers to attend. 35 acres of camp grounds, with all modern conveniences, electric lights, city water, tables and benches, barbecue pits and stoves are free to the public to bring their chuck wagons and make themselves at home.

ing enemy islands across the Pacific. Their offensive power was well proved in the second Battle of the Philippine Sea when a small group of escort carriers turned back a vastly superior force of Japanese battleships, cruisers and destroyers attempting to break up the landings on Leyte.

Five Types of Planes Now On Carriers

Addition of the speedy and versatile Chance Vought Corsair (F4U-1) fighter plane to the complement of the Navy's aircraft carriers increases the number of plane types now employed in carrier service to five.

The Navy's first-line carrier planes now include three fighter types—the Corsair, the Grumman Hellcat (F6F-5), and the Eastern Aircraft Wildcat (FM-2); one dive bomber — the Curtiss Hell-diver (SB2C); and one torpedo bomber — the Eastern Aircraft Avenger (TBM).

This distribution of types allows for a number of combinations of striking power, depending on the missions required of the individual carrier or the carrier groups. The large Fast Carrier Task Forces commanded by Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, USN, and John S. McCain, USN, carry both Hell-divers and Corsairs, either of which can be used as a fighter or fighter bomber. They are also equipped with a sizeable force of dive bombers and torpedo bombers. The latter, combined with the fighter bombers, is the striking arm which the Navy has used to make its deepest penetrations into enemy waters—including the recent attack on Jap shipping off the China coast, and on the Japanese homeland.

The light, converted-cruiser type carriers of the Independence class carry a hard-hitting combination of fighter bombers—Hellcats and Corsairs—plus a squadron of Avengers. These ships and aircraft furnish an added punch to the Fast Carrier Forces.

The escort carriers, widely known as "baby flattops," carry the sturdy little Wildcats for fighter protection and their big sisters the Avengers for bombardment and patrol work. This team has proved to be an invaluable addition to the close air support which carrier aircraft now furnishes amphibious troops invading

Maritime Service Seeks West Texas Recruits

Country Needs Still More Ed Fats...And We're the Folks to Save them!

Between the good news about the war these days, careful readers of the paper will see grave words about a serious national shortage that has a direct bearing on military and civilian production schedules. Our domestic supplies of fats and oils will be approximately one and one-half billion pounds less than last year. Yet thousands of tons of fats are still needed to help make countless essentials for the battle- and home-fronts.

So, let's save not only the big amounts from frying and roasting, but also meat trimmings, plate scraps, and scrapings. Melt them down once a week and add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Skim soups and gravies. Scrape every pan. Every drop is important.

When your salvage can is full, take it to your butcher, and get 2 red points and up to 4¢ for each pound. If you have any difficulty, call your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent.

Lieut. Thos. R. Odell, Jr. and Dorothy Janice Baillio Wed Saturday in Liberty, Texas

Miss Dorothy Janice Baillio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Baillio of Liberty, became the bride of Lt. Thomas Raymond Odell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Odell, Sr., of Haskell, Saturday at 8:00 p. m. in the First Methodist church in Liberty.

Rev. R. C. Terry, pastor of the First Methodist church, College Station, former Methodist minister at Liberty, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and smilax, softly illumined by candelabra holding gleaming white tapers.

Miss Miriam Partlow sang the pre-nuptial solo, Jocelyn's "Because", accompanied by Miss Robbie Telford. Miss Partlow played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of angel white satin styled with a sweeping train, long tapering sleeves and heart-shaped neckline. Her veil of ivory illusion was held in place by a tiara of shimmering illusion and orange blossoms. She wore as her only ornament a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white gladioli and carnations, showered with stephanotis.

Miss Betty Baillio attended her sister as maid of honor and Miss Joyce Calhoun and Mrs. A. E. Kourie were bridesmaids. All three wore identical gowns of blue marquisette with matching braided halos, and carried bouquets of yellow gladioli.

Mr. Odell served his son as best man. Ushers were R. G. Partlow

Tom Calhoun and Lt. H. W. Fairbrother, Jr.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Baillio, was attired in light blue with harmonizing accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother chose dark sheer with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The reception rooms were decorated with arrangements of white summer flowers. The lace-covered table was centered with the bride's bouquet, with the crystal punch bowl and three-tiered wedding cake at each end.

Miss Bobbie Rich presided at the bride's book. Miss June Steuwer served the cake, and Miss Ellen Partlow was at the punch bowl. Others in the house party were Mrs. Samuel McKinney, Jr., Mrs. H. W. Fairbrother, Jr., Miss Rose Partlow and Miss Patricia Devine.

The bride attended Texas State College for Women and is a 1944 graduate of Sam Houston State Teachers' College. She has been employed in Houston for a year and a half.

The groom attended North Texas State Teachers' College and has recently returned from the Pacific theater of operations after 17 months service with the Marine Air Corps.

The couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home in El Centro, Calif., where the groom is to be stationed. For travel, the bride chose a chiffon wool suit in light grey with red alligator accessories and an orchid corsage. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Odell of Haskell, Mrs. T. D. Lowrey, Fort Worth; Mrs. Homer Thomas and sons Weldon and Wayne, San Antonio; Miss Lelia Bond, San Antonio; Miss Mabel Douglass, Miss Nancy Wade, Sergeant and Mrs. Spencer Swearingin, Miss Mary Ann McLeod, Mrs. H. B. Murry, Miss Betty McCoy, and Mr. and Mrs. William Potter, all of Houston.

Meeting opened with a prayer by Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Reynolds then gave us a very interesting lesson from the book of Ephesians. We spent a pleasant hour in discussion on these three last chapters and we resolved to put on the whole armour of God that we may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil, knowing that whatsoever good thing any one doeth, the same shall they receive of the Lord. We had a special prayer for three of our dear friends that are very ill at present and we were happy indeed to have one of our former members with us, Mrs. J. Sides, now of Houston.

Haskell Camp Fire Executive Completes Leadership Course

(Special to the Haskell Free Press)

CAMP FIRE EXECUTIVE—A special group leadership course at Texas State College for Women, Denton, which will produce leaders to direct 10000 additional Camp Fire Girls, was completed July 17, by Mrs. Fred Stockdale, who recently was named executive of the West Texas Area Council of Camp Fire Girls.

Wife of District Attorney Fred Stockdale and mother of three children—Fred Jr., 11; Linda, 9, and Johnny, 6—she has engaged in Camp Fire work since her sophomore year at TSCW and has established a reputation as an artist in metal work and applied design. Last year she taught in the Haskell High School and for three years was publicity chairman for 24 county district of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The recently-completed three-week course, covering all phases of group work and recreational leadership, was directed by Misses Harriet Dively and Margaret Rockwell, National Camp Fire Girls associate field secretaries, and is the first to be held in the Southwest. Miss Dively, with headquarters in Dallas, has charge of the Texas-Oklahoma-New Mexico region.

Headquarters of the West Texas Area Council are in Stamford and counties included are Jones, Haskell, Stonewall, Knox and Shackelford. Others are expected to be added soon.

A Fort Worth girl whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Eitel, live at 1812 College Avenue in that city, Mrs. Stockdale headed handicraft work at the first camp for Camp Fire Girls in that area. This was in 1929, at Camp Civil-imports—is expected to be about 5,100,000 tons. There thus is an overall shortage of nearly 3,000,000 tons. The civilian supply includes allotments for bakeries, hotels, candy manufacturers and other industrial users.

Officials estimated that the world supply is around 8,000,000 tons short of the world demand, so that the United States is not alone on short rations.

Officials explained that it should be possible to get by on a smaller last quarter allotment because the canning season will be out of the way by then.

The distribution problem is complicated by a number of factors, including transportation difficulties and very short reserve stocks.

This shortage in reserves and liberality of some local ration boards earlier in the year in issuing rationing sugar also make it impossible, officials said, for many civilians to obtain sugar for canning at the present time.

Farm Ownership Is Goal Of P. C. A.

Complete ownership of production credit association by farmers and ranchers within the next two or three years was the main topic at the annual district conference of officers and directors of our association meeting in Abilene, on July 6 and 7, 1945.

The Stamford Production Credit Association was represented at this meeting by: J. B. Pumphrey, Pres.; Old Glory; J. F. McCulloch, Vice-Pres.; Stamford; C. G. Burson, Haskell; Lagater Henley, Guthrie, Clark Forbis, Afton, Directors; and J. L. Hill, Jr., Sec.-Treas., Stamford.

Mr. Pumphrey said that the 36 Texas associations have built a total of $6,723,629 in reserves and member-owned capital in 11 years, a good part of it in the past two years. "At the start in 1934 we were without cash or credit, and the government supplied a substantial part of the backlog capital needed to obtain a dependable source of loan funds from the investing public on terms that fit our needs."

He said it was intended that as the system became more strongly established and the associations built up their own reserves from earnings, the government capital would be retired. "In those days it looked like it might take 20 years or more for farmers and ranchers to achieve full ownership, but we have been making continued progress and already two associations in Texas have reached the goal. The 36 Texas associations now have in reserves and member capital about 75 per cent of the amount they need to be fully owned by farmers and ranchers."

The Stamford association has $299,062.00 in reserves and member capital. The association needs about $20,000.00 more to provide a strong farmer-rancher owned organization.

Plans were laid at the conference looking toward the following four big objectives:

1. Outright ownership of production credit association by farmers and ranchers.
2. Developing strong associations with ample backlog capital and reserves to assure a dependable source of funds from the investing public through the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank on terms that meet the requirements of agriculture in any sort of times.
3. Shaping association affairs to help finance members' replacements and improvements so that farm and ranch families can make a better living and greater financial progress.
4. Assisting returning war veterans in every way possible in getting started again on their farms and ranches "with the aid and counsel of experienced farm and ranch directors and a strong farmer-rancher credit organization."

Plans Complete For Area Boy Scout Camp

Plans are now complete for the Annual Chisholm Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America Senior Exploration to the Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, New Mexico, according to E. W. Berry, Council Chairman of Camping and Activities. The Senior Exploration will begin on July 26 and will end on August 9 and will be under the leadership of Robert N. Eastus, Jr., Field Executive of the Council and four experienced Scoutmasters.

The trip is planned to accommodate forty eight Senior Scouts, who must be at least 15 years of age and First Class in rank. These Senior Scouts will be organized into two provisional Troops, with experienced adult leadership related to each one.

The exploration will include 12 full days in the mountains at the Philmont Scout Ranch and activities include horseback riding, trail picking, hiking, gold panning, fishing and exploration.

Transportation will be by cattle truck arranged for comfort and will be completely bonded and insured. The Chisholm Trail Council will provide adequate insurance for each person participating in the Exploration.

Philmont Scout Ranch is located in Northeastern New Mexico and covers 200 square miles of mountain land. There is an abundance of wild life and opportunity for mountain exploration. The cost of the Exploration for each Senior Scout will be $36.00.

Since the number for this trip is limited to forty eight seniors, all Senior Scouts are urged to have their registrations into the Council as soon as possible.

At any rate they've seen enough of the ocean already, and hope for just this one more crossing between Marseille and Manhattan."

Lt. Akins—

(Continued from Page 1) Stalag 1 — Capt. Jack Harris in July, 1944, and Lt. Alton Wreyford in September of that year. "That made it a little easier on all of us", Lt. Akins said. "There were also a number of other Texans at this camp, and we organized a Texas Club," he related. Although it was "pretty rough" at the time, Lt. Akins said the captive officers were fairly well treated with the exception of food furnished them. Food parcels sent by the Red Cross, and the assistance provided through the YMCA were 'life-savers' to the prisoners, he declared.

The Americans were unable to learn much of the progress of the war, although some news did leak in from the outside. They learned of the invasion of the Philippines, the fight for Iwo Jima and Okinawa, but only through German broadcasts of Tokyo bulletins. In late summer of 1944, the Americans believed the war with Germany was about to end, Lt. Akins said. Late in April this year, guards at Stalag Luft 1 were gradually replaced by the Volkstrum, and as the Russians neared the camp, most of the German guards deserted. On May 1, Russians liberated the camp without opposition, Lt. Akins said. However, it was 14 days before arrangements could be completed to remove the Americans to France, he said. In Paris, Lt. Akins met Pfc. Ed Bledsoe of Haskell and Capt. Thomas Lee Donohoo of Abilene, both of whom had been liberated from the Germans. They became separated before reaching embarkation points and were not together again until getting back to the United States.

At the end of his 60-day furlough, Lt. Akins will report at Miami Beach, Fla. Although all his papers have not come through, he believes he is eligible for discharge under the point system, but declares he is not sure he wants to leave the service. Lt. Akins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Akins of Haskell. A younger brother, Lt. Odus Akins, former Flight Officer, and veteran pilot in campaigns over France and Germany is on his way back to the States.

Woodson Radio Shop Moves To New Building

Woodson Radio & Electric Co. Parks Woodson, owner, moved this week to their newly-completed building one-half block west of the square on the Haskell-Rule highway. The modern new building, 30x100 feet, is constructed of faced brick and tile. Adding to the attractiveness of the front of the building is the use of glass blocks above the awning, and vitrolite green and suntan panels on the lower columns and below show windows. The entire building, including display rooms, office, and electric and radio repair departments, is air conditioned. The building will be lighted with overhead fluorescent fixtures to be installed during the next few days together with a large neon and fluorescent, outdoor sign. Major portion of the front of the building will be used as display room for radios, electrical appliances, air conditioning units, washing machines and other merchandise. Attractive show cases and display fixtures are being installed. Radio and electrical repair department occupies a special section of the building, and in the rear is the battery charging and repair department, with special drive-in facilities available for servicing automobile radios. As a special convenience to the public, a space of 35x140 feet adjacent to the east side of the building will be levelled and graded for use as a parking space. Additional parking space in front of the building has been provided by narrowing the front sidewalk to give more street room for automobiles. The Woodson Radio & Electric is one of the oldest establishments of its kind in this section, having been established by the present owner in 1927. The new and larger location location will permit better and more convenient service to their patrons, Mr. Woodson declared, and will also provide needed room for post-war enlargement of the concern. Lines handled by the concern include Philco Radios and Refrigerators, Maytag Washing Machines, Premier Vacuum Cleaners, Parmak Electric Fans, Mathes Coolers, and numerous other electrical appliances.
