Uncle Sam Says

Small business firms can take a wise tip from many of their customers who have built a reserve nestegg of Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan for buying Savings Bonds. The Bond-A-Month Plan at local banks where the corner druggist, the grocer and the butcher maintain checking accounts is equally effective in providing a growing reserve for a business. For example, suppose you own a business which nets a $1,000 a month. By investing $200 a month in Savings Bonds through your bank's Bond-A-Month Plan you would have a $2,400 reserve in one year's time.

Three Texas Cities Included In National Food Conservation Survey

A national survey to learn what city families are eating in 1948 is being started by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in about 70 cities throughout the country. Austin, Huntsville and Marshall have been selected as some of the cities, in which a cross-section of families will be visited.

The purpose of such a survey of home consumption of specific foods, explains Dr. Hazel K. Stiebeling, chief of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, is to obtain current facts and figures needed for estimating potential use of city families of food produced by farmers, and for developing programs to expand the consumption and improve the nutrition of consumers.

The survey, to be made by the Bureau, is one of the research projects being carried out under the Federal Research and Marketing Act. It is the first survey on a nationwide scale since 1942, and it will show what has happened by the diets of city families in the last six years.

In each of the 70 cities, a representative of the Bureau will gather the facts on home consumption of specific foods, sometime between now and the end of June. Arrangements will be made with from 20 to 80 families to give information about the kinds and quantities of food they are using, and about family size and other factors that affect their choice of foods.

Cooperation is entirely voluntary, and all information is strictly confidential. No record is made of the names of persons who take part. Food facts from many families are combined to provide a picture of food use by city families of the nation as a whole and classified by family types and income.

Since families eat differently at times of year, the survey made in 70 cities this spring is to be rounded out with information obtained in four cities at each season. To supply this information, several hundred families in Birmingham, Buffalo, San Francisco, and St. Paul-Minneapolis incorporated during the winter and are again cooperating this spring.

Natural Resources Bring in One-Third Of State Revenue

Production taxes on five natural resources will account for more than one-third of all taxes and license fees collected by the Texas State Government during the current fiscal year.

The five natural resources are oil, gas, sulphur, carbon black and cement. Production taxes on these resources will total $102,416,039 in the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, according to an estimate made by the Texas Research Institute in an analytical study of the taxation of natural resources in Texas. Results of the study were published this week by the Institute, a statistical agency sponsored by the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Total State taxes collected this year are estimated at $294,138,972. Production taxes on the five natural resources amount to 34.82 per cent of this sum.

"During the last 10 years State tax collections as a whole have increased by 170 per cent," the Institute's study points out. "During these same 10 years revenue from production taxes on these natural resources has increased by more than 468 per cent."

Text of the brochure setting forth results of the Institute's study is supplemented by a number of charts and tables.

"State tax revenues are rising steadily without any increase in tax rates," the statistical agency reports. "This year the State will collect taxes and license fees totaling $294,138,992 as compared

Higher Subsistence Benefits

World War II veterans in education and training programs are urged not to write or contact the Veterans Administration Offices asking how to qualify for increased subsistence benefits due to recent changes authorized by Congress in rates, ceilings and number of dependents.

The higher rates will be paid automatically to those GI Bill Trainees whose existing applications with VA contain the information needed to certify them for increases, VA said.

Adjustments for disabled veterans training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) and qualified to receive additional benefits also will be automatic.

When additional information is needed from veterans training under the GI Bill, the veteran will receive a form from VA asking for the necessary data. The first of these forms are already in the mails, VA said.

Veterans-trainees are urged to fill in the forms completely and return them promptly to VA. Adjustments will be made on the basis of the completed form.

The first adjustments that can possibly be made will be in the June subsistence allowances payable on or shortly after July. It is more likely that most of the initial payments at the higher rates will not be made before the July subsistence checks are sent out about August 1, VA said. The increased benefits are retroactive to April 1 in most of the cases.

More than half of the 14,870,000 World War II veterans have applied for some form of training since the inception of the vocational rehabilitation and education and training programs administered by Veterans Administration.

By April 1, 1948, almost 8,100,000 applications were received by VA. Most of them, 7,200,000, were from veterans seeking education or training under the GI Bill. Almost 880,000 disabled veterans asked for training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16).

Questions and Answers

Q. I am a World War II veteran and have been totally disabled for a few months. At the end of my sixth month of total disability, will I have to continue paying my National Service Life Insurance premiums or is a waiver granted automatically?

A. No automatic waiver of premiums is ever granted. A veteran must be totally disabled for six months before he may apply for a waiver of premiums. You are entitled to file a claim for refund of those premiums you paid from the date on which the waiver became effective.

Q. Who is entitled to the compensation or pension check received prior to the death of a veteran?

A. The check or checks received prior to the veteran's death become a part of his estate.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a guaranteed loan under the provisions of the GI Bill?

A. No. Benefits of the GI Bill (Public Law 346) are for World War II veterans only.

Q. What is the largest amount I can borrow under the provisions of the GI Bill and still have the loan guaranteed?

A. There is no limit to the amount which can be borrowed under the GI Bill. The limitation by law is on the amount of the government guaranty and not on the amount of the loan.

Q. May I work while I am enrolled for rehabilitation and training under Public Law 16?

A. A disabled veteran, while pursuing vocational rehabilitation training should not engage in employment except with approval of the training officer, and in cases of serious disability, only as approved by medical authority.

Q. I am a World War II veteran and plan to go to school under the GI Bill for the first time next fall. When should I arrange for my entrance into school?

A. You should arrange for your entrance into college or other institution of learning at the earliest possible moment.

Q. What benefits, other than subsistence allowance, is a veteran entitled to while pursuing a course of instruction under the GI Bill?

A. Veterans Administration

Strict Measures Are Advised In Control Of Polio

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in some sections of the State.

Strict sanitary measures should be observed in all communities. Eliminate rats, mosquitoes, and houseflies, and destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to secure approved garbage collection systems and safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should maintain standards approved by the State Department of Health, which includes maintenance of proper chlorine level.

Only approved milk should be used, and raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use, and protected from flies, filth, and insects. All food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided, and they should not visit in homes where there is illness. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theaters be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed

Government and Railroads
The American railroads are being put increasingly on the spot. They had tough times during the depression years of the Thirties. Some of them went bankrupt and remain that way, despite the tremendous volume of wartime business. Times are good on the railroads now, too. They are hauling all the freight they can haul. Well, then, asks the public, if business is so good, why can't the railroads keep on granting wage increases?

Folks coming to our town ride the Missouri Pacific. Although it went bankrupt in 1933, this railroad now has on order $35 million worth of new cars and locomotives. That's an example of how a bankrupt railroad has to pay out money. And that's not all. Its gross revenues were up 54 per cent in 1947 as compared with 1929, and net income was up 40 per cent. But here's the catch. Its taxes have gone up 173 per cent!

Government Trouble
As a matter of fact, payrolls and payroll taxes took more than half the gross revenues of the railroads in 1946. At the same time, the rate of return for stockholders, based on property valuation, has dwindled to around 3 per cent. Not more than 3 1/2 per cent is the estimate by the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1947, and this does not include wage increases. That's mighty poor investment!

Everybody seems to be unhappy about the railroads. The various unions are usually ready to complain about wages. Yet management finds wage increases coming, with no profits to absorb them. And sometimes the public gets sore. Pretty soon somebody gets the bright idea. We'll just let the government take the railroads over, and that'll settle everything. They just think it will. That's what the trouble is now. Government trouble.

Some On The Rocks
In my opinion, the extensive government regulations are fundamentally to blame for the railroads' failure to make ends meet despite the greatest volume of business they ever had in peace time. American railroads are probably regulated by government more than any other major industry. In years when railroads see that profits are too small, or even non-existent as in 1946, they may petition the government for rate increases.

These may be granted or they may not. Some relief was granted by railroads early this year. But these prospects were at once swallowed in wage increases, and additional increases are being asked even though many railroads are already on the rocks. If things go on for another decade in this manner, we shall see a great and important industry fold up completely.

The future of our industry depends much upon the future of our railroads. Yet, unless railroad credit can be restored, unless the lines are permitted to earn enough money to pay fair dividends and attract new investment, to keep equipment and properties in good condition, then it will not be possible to keep paying good wages to employees. In this critical period, wage increases may be the burden that breaks the railroads. If the railroads are crippled, or if government ownership comes, the public will pay and pay and pay.

Mrs. T. R. Odell Guest Speaker At PTA Meeting

The South Ward P. T. A. met Thursday May 13 at 3 p. m. for their last meeting of this school term.

Mrs. Lillian Townsend introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. T. R. Odell, who gave some very good qualifications of a leader. To be a leader, one must be interested in human beings. A leader must believe in oneself to have others believe in you. You should never look up to anyone, and never look down on anyone. Have a realistic mind. Be one who can have a viewpoint in this changing world. Get rid of fear, and don't worry as a leader. Be a happy person and have a sense of humor. It takes a determined mind to do the things you want to do. We need experience to grow. A leader should have a co-operative and open mind. Let others have a chance to express themselves. Mrs. Odell said that all this would apply to followers as well as to a leader. In all things a leader and followers should work together. Everyone should give praise to those who do a job well for the welfare of our youth, the purpose of working together makes a better P-T. A.

At the conclusion of her very interesting speech Mrs. Odell installed South Ward P-T. A. officers for 1948-1949. The new officers for the coming year are:

- President, Mrs. Curtis Pennington.
- Vice President, Mrs. David Strickland.
- Secretary, Mrs. Bill Nellums.
- Treasurer, Mrs. B. B. Pitman.
- Parliamentarian, Mrs. S. H. Vaughter.
- Reporter, Mrs. Laton Robertson.

Last Summers Dress Easily Made Stylish

The dress you thought too long last summer may be still too short for the current style, but there are ways of making it longer and more stylish, too. "Study the styles in newspaper ads and fashion magazines to see how materials are combined in dresses and you'll be surprised to see how many ways you can make your last summer's dress look like new," advises Louise Newman, county home demonstration agent.

She says you'll find eyelet embroidered pique used in many ways. A skirt can be lengthened from 2 to 6 inches by using one or more bands of the pique.

Bands of contrasting color, bias plaids or striped material will not only lengthen the skirt, but bring life and color to a discarded dress. A yoke added to the top of a skirt is a good way to get the "new look" in length and hip style, too, says the specialist.

A bias fold or a "petticoat ruffle" added to the bottom of a full skirt can add 2 inches and fit into the current styles as well.

Miss Newman suggests that all dresses made this summer have a good hem, and all new clothing bought or ready made have a generous hem in addition to being the proper length. This proper length depends upon the woman and her height for there is no definite number of inches from the floor for all women to follow. Many stylists say from 11 to 13 inches is within the fashion, but Miss Newman says the very tall, slender woman might wear her skirt 13 1-2 inches.

Looking Ahead

Need for Unity

The United Nations is a young organization. It was formed about two years ago and now comprises 55 nations. During the past year, it is said, the different divisions have held a total of 1,911 meetings. The chief avowed purposes are to bring peace to the world and to prevent starvation as an aftermath of the war. Great sums of money have been used to provide food for peoples that are considered destitute.

At first it was thought that 1946 would be the critical year. Now, we are approaching the winter of 1947. Some reports say there will be more hunger this winter than last. From various countries in Europe the reports show no improvement.

Certain objectives. It would seem there is enough power and strength in 55 nations to help this muddled world get somewhere. And surely enough money has been spent to help those hungry nations to begin feeding themselves. The answer is not hard to find. The United Nations has not demonstrated real unity of purpose. Even the leaders among the 55 nations have worked at cross purposes. Each nation has been intent upon achieving certain objectives of its own. This is as true of the "Big Four" as it is of the smaller nations.

It is my hope that in some way the United Nations may find unity of purpose and intention. The most I can get out of this present situation, however, is an important lesson for our own country.

No Cross Purposes
 In America we have found a good measure of unity, historically speaking. Though we are made up of states and other kinds of groups, we have shown appreciation for the same fundamentals of democratic living.

What is true of the United Nations as a whole is true of nations individually. If we are going to continue to be a prosperous and healthy republic, we too must have unity of purpose. Workers, managers, industrialists, farmers, educators — we must all keep our purposes controlled in the direction of full unity.

If one group wants to destroy the capitalist, and another wants to destroy labor unions, these are at cross purposes. If one group wants to eliminate private ownership of property, and another group wants to preserve Constitutional government, these also are working at cross purposes. If we have everybody working at cross purposes, then conditions in our country will grow worse rather than better.

Three Goals
 It is imperative that the entire nation be united on fundamentals. It is necessary that all groups work for certain goals. Right now, I would like to suggest three goals we can all achieve together. First, economy in government spending so rigid the public can see that money is being saved. Second, a program of maximum productivity that can attract the enthusiasm of capital, management, labor, and agriculture. Third, a rededication of all our groups to preserve individual freedom for the entire nation.

With this kind of unity right now, in 1947, no one need fear for the future prosperity and well-being of our nation.

Asks About Spiritual Progress

A visiting church leader, from another country, observes that the United States has made "much progress in scientific and material things," and asks a question: "How much progress have you made spiritually?"

The visitor was taking cognizance of the tendency in the United States to measure progress on the basis of material accomplishment. Perhaps he was also cognizant of the tendency, even visible in the activity of religious leaders, to measure spiritual progress by the number of members or the amount of cash raised and expended.

Obviously, it is impossible for the visiting churchman, or for those in this country, to assess the spiritual state of the individuals who make up our population. In fact, if one judged by the lamentations of some ecclesiastical leaders, one would conclude that no spiritual progress whatever is in sight and that the people of this country are travelling faster than ever on the road to perdition.

More for People

One of the reasons why taxation has increased is due to the recognition by government of additional obligations to people.

This is illustrated by the fact that in 1913, local, state and federal expenses for what is now known as social security were $21,000,000, or one-tenth of one per cent of the national income. Expenditures for the same purpose now amount to more than six per cent of the national income.

In fact, Arthur J. Altmeyer, Federal Social Security Commissioner, reports that this country now spends for social welfare and social security, including benefits to veterans, more than for any other purpose except national defense.

When War Loses Its Fear

We call attention to some statements made by General Omar N. Bradley, in urging strong defenses for the United States, and we think they should be seriously studied by every loyal American.

General Bradley is afraid that war "loses some of its fear to

Veterans News

Most of the 45,000 World War II veterans taking institutional on-farm training under federal veterans' training programs in Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi may qualify for increased subsistence benefits due to the changes in ceilings, rates and number of dependent, the Veterans Administration reported.

The increases were authorized by Public Law 512, signed May 4, 1948, by President Truman. The law raises pay ceilings, establishes new criteria for computing income from productive labor, and provides for partial increases in subsistence allowances for part-time school training and for combination school and of training programs such as institutional on-farm training.

Under the new ceilings for GI Bill farm trainees, earned income plus subsistence may not exceed $210 a month for a veteran without dependent, $270 for a veteran

G. C. Johnson of Foster was in town Saturday and reports he has about 40 acres of feed up to a good stand, but has not planted cotton yet.

W. D. Garren of Van Horn is here visiting old friends. He is an old timer, having spent many years in Haskell.

District Attorney R. C. Crane passed through here Wednesday on his return from district court at Throckmorton. The term of court lasted only two days. The Grand Jury was in session only one day, and no indictments were returned.

The Free Press has printed several thousand copies of the program for the Texas Cowboy Reunion, and these are available for sending to persons you think might be interested in the big event.

with one dependent, and $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent. Previous limits were $175 for a veteran without dependents and $200 for a veteran with one or more dependents.

Another provision of the new law gives additional increases to veterans training as employees on other persons' farms. Only wages for the standard work week, exclusive of overtime pay, are considered earned income in computing subsistence under the raised ceilings. Previously, veterans included pay for all regularly scheduled overtime work in reporting their earned incomes.

Veterans taking institutional on-farm training under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 may be paid subsistence increases for that time they devote to institutional school training. The increases are based on the percentage of a full-time course of institutional training that their school work represents. No increases will be allowed for veterans whose institutional school work is not the equivalent of at least one-fourth of a full-time course.

The first adjustments will probably be in the August 1 checks, retroactive to April 1.

There is no doubt of this statement or his further assertion that "the immoral companionship of prosperity and war" has blinded some people to the realization that "all war ultimately is a process of destruction."

Getting Better

There are some people in Haskell County who wonder whether the world is getting better and whether human beings are making progress, despite the many improvements of the modern age.

It is not possible to secure statistics to measure the progress of mankind in some lines, but medical men assert that 2,000 years ago, the average length of life was twenty-five years. Today, they say it is sixty-five years. This looks as if progress has been made along medical lines.

We believe that it can be established beyond a doubt, that the average standard of living has also moved upward throughout the world. Nor have we much doubt but that the same can be said for education, economic activities and the social relationships that exist between human beings.

Attention!

At the suggestion of a number of citizens, the City Council has gone to considerable expense to properly mark the streets on the business section for uniform parking and we earnestly request that the public co-operate by properly parking between the white lines. It will make room available for others to park. We have had several favorable comments from out-of-town visitors regarding our parking arrangements.

We appreciate the cooperation that has been given by the public and we ask that you continue to show this fine spirit of co-operation.

A minimum fine has been set by the City Council for violators who do not park properly between the lines and the traffic officers have been instructed to enforce the ordinance.

Grass and Trash Fires on Increase

AUSTIN—Trash and grass fires are on the increase, warned Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner.

"With hot, dry weather upon us, even more losses from fire will be suffered in Texas unless precautions are taken with these two types of fire," he stated.

He stressed that both fires are extremely dangerous in warm weather as they spread twice as fast and have more to feed on. After urging Texans to strictly follow city ordinances where no type of burning is permitted and a system of city garbage pick-up is used, he said that in other communities trash and rubbish should be burned in a covered metal or wire container or an incinerator.

Uncle Sam Says

Your Uncle Sam is indebted to a newspaper editorial for pointing out one of the most vital qualities of United States Savings Bonds. Under the caption INDESTRUCTIBLE BONDS, this editorial declares: "A resident of the suburbs reported the disappearance of $12,000 in cash and $7,000 in United States Savings Bonds from his home. If he should never see the cash or bonds again, he would be out $19,000. For the bonds will be of no value to the thief, and on application will be released to the owner. The misfortune that befell the suburbanite is a timely reminder that surplus cash can be put to work with security, and with assured availability to the owner in time of need, by using it for the purchase of United States Savings Bonds."

Fire, possibly from a cigarette broke out, short-circuiting the starter and backing the car right through the garage doors. Farm Facts 1. How much head room is needed for broilers raised in batteries? 2. What qualities should the boar selected for the breeding herd have? 3. Why should cows be dried off 60 days before calving? 1. Head room depends, of course, upon the age of the chick. We recommend 11 inches of head room for starting chicks and 14 inches for broilers from six to 12 weeks of age. Broilers should not be left in batteries after they reach 12 weeks. 2. The major factors to consider in selection of the herd boar are: a. Individuality, or outward appearance. b. Ancestry, or the inherited ability to produce strong, healthy and desirable offspring. c. Performance record, or the test of production. 3. It is during this period that the unborn calf gains 2 1/2 of weight. Proper conditions during this dry period create milk production. The Research Farm of the Babcock Company show that 100 lb condition (over the weight calf) during this 60-day period will mean approximately 10 extra milk after freshening.
