Lions rally back in the 4th for win

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

The Ozona Lions rallied late in the fourth quarter for their first 7AAA district win and their second win of the season on a rainy 46 degree windy Friday night here, as they nipped the Coahoma Bulldogs,

Neither the Bulldogs nor the constant slow pelting rain and wind could stop the Ozona Lion offense, especially in the second half.

The Lions are now preparing for the season finale in Sonora Friday night. "Sonora makes you play a total game. They provide no open doors, and the Lions must take advantage of every opportunity. The rivalry between the Lions and Broncos is important from a psylogical end. Season statistics go out the window with this game," Head Ozona football Coach Jim Green

Both teams will enter this game with a victory. Sonora defeated Colorado City 21-13 Friday and are 6-3 for the year. The Broncos have lost to Eldorado, Crane and Ballin-

The well coached Jerry Hopkins Bronco team will have a slight weight advantage over the Lions, but this should not be a deciding factor in the game, Green said.

Providing punch for the Sonora offense will be 150-pound junior running back Steve Love, 165 pound senior fullback David Martinez and 155 pound senior wingback, Esau Ramirez. Guiding the offense is Bronco quarterback, Mickey Sharp. Jim Cooper, a 205 pound right tackle, is an excellent blocker and anchors the Sonora defensive unit.

"We'll run the shotgun offense explained. The Lions only attempted 12 passes against Coahoma Friday due to the adverse weather con-

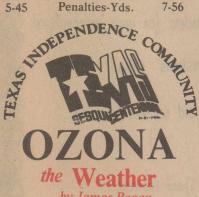

The first quarter provided much excitement for the sparse crowd. Ozona received the opening kickoff and the wind and rain in their faces. Two incomplete passes and a six yard loss spelled the end of the first

Coahoma received the ball for the first time on their own 33 yard line. Quarterback Brian Calaway and tight end Gary Vaughn seemingly moved the ball at will, picking up eight or nine yards with each carry. On a fourth down, Vaughn scored from the one yard line, to give Coahoma a six point lead at the 6:13 mark of the first quarter. The PAT was not good.

Ozona lost no time in evening the score. James Sanchez outran all Coahoma defenders on an 80 yard kickoff return. The PAT by Abel Lara was not good, and this left the score knotted at 6-6 with 5:59 left in the first quarter. Coahoma started its last scoring drive of the half late in the second quarter. Key runs by senior Bulldog tailback Dale Hodnett sparked the Coahoma offense. A controversial pass interference call with less than a minute to go gave the Bulldogs new life. Coahoma scored on a fourth down on a Hodnett dash, to cap a 77 yard drive and give the Bulldogs a 12-6 lead, with five seconds remaining in the first half. The PAT was not

A surprise onsides kick by Coahoma opened the second half of play. Coahoma recovered the ball, but was unable to capitalize on the situation.

Ozona then opened up its bag of tricks and blocked the next Coahoma punt. The Lions received the ball in excellent field position on their own 43 yard line. An interception of a Fierro pass by Bulldog Monte Huckabee ended the third quarter

Neither team was able to move the ball until early in the fourth quarter when Fierro saw a crack in the Bulldog defense and dashed 57 yards for a touchdown to knot the score at 12-12. The PAT, at the 11:04 mark of the last quarter, was not good by

A quarterback sack by Butch Gonzales and an interception by Roger Flores of an errant Calaway pass opened the door for the final Lion score.

Fierro tossed a nine yard pass to Jaime Castellanos to put the Lions ahead 18-12, with 2:35 left in the game. The PAT was not good.

Coahoma had one last chance to win the game, but a strong Lion defense forced Calaway to throw the

"The whole defensive unit contributed to our win," Green said. Chuy Hernandez blocked a punt, Flores intercepted the ball. Fierro, Lara, Blas Vargas, Peter Shacklette and Don Gutierrez and Isais Flores all played well. James Sanchez made the "hit of the week"

"We started stunting in the second half, and were able to shut down the Bulldog offense," Green

Fierro had 11 carries for 98 yards; Hernandez carried the ball four times for 31 yards, and Butch Gonzales rushed four times for 20

In the limited aerial attack, both Jaime Castellanos and Brad Thompson caught two passes for 29 yards. "I was pleased that our regular offense moved the ball the way they did. They used the clock well. Our specialty teams kept us out of the hole. This was a total team effort,"

Hundreds of fish confirmed killed . . . . .

Fish kill on the Pecos River

These large bass are an example of the many fish destroyed last week when a chemical toxicant was put into the Pecos River. Fish were killed on a 25 mile stretch of the river. These were photographed on the B. B. Ingham, Jr. Ranch West of Ozona.

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

At least 200 fish were killed by a chemical toxicant on a 25 mile stretch of the Pecos River last week.

The fish were first discovered by Jay Munsell. He reported his findings to adjoining rancher B. B. Ingham and Game Warden Don Jackson of Sheffield. The affected area began at a midway point between Iraan and Sheffield and reached the upper portion of the Armond Hoover Ranch, said Ing-

Jack Ralph of San Angelo, chemist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, journeyed to the area in western Crockett County early Thursday to join the investigation team. The dead fish were found as far west as the Roger Dudley Ranch and as far east as the 290 bridge on the Pecos. It was not known if all this contamination area was related to one incident. A railroad commissioner from Fort Stockton also came to the area and talked with Jackson.

Chemist Jack Ralph said it was inconclusive as to whether this incident was accidental or intentional. "I feel we are following a cold trail. It was probabily some kind of toxicant, which was carried at least 25 miles downstream."

Austin state officials have been contacted to do some chemical analysis on the water samples Ralph gathered. These analyses will cost at least $1,500. We have to look for everything, since we have no idea what we are looking for.

Ralph said there have been only two incidents like this during the last six years. Last year there was a fish ago a major incident occurred at Red Bluff reservoir. "The "total disregard for the beautiful body of water (Pecos River) is absolutely appalling. Fresh water is so precious, and it is totally incomprehensible that this could

Jackson reported that the fish kill had not reached the Cy Banner Ranch as of Sunday. Jackson and Texas Water Quality Board member Ken James continued the investigation Tuesday. "It was probably acid of some type washed out of a truck being cleaned at a low water crossing or possible discharge from a plant,

B. B. Ingham Jr., one of the this fish kill, said it was the worst he had ever seen. "It killed our game fish, channel and yellow catfish, black bass, and perch and minnows as well as those we want to be rid of, shad and carp. He found 30 dead catfish ranging in size from 5-25 pounds in one spot.

The odor from the dead fish floating on the surface of the Pecos River is quickly diminishing. Coons and cranes are making the most of this unexpected feast, Mrs. B. B. Ingham said.

Junior High teams to finals with perfect records

Both Ozona Junior High football teams enter their season finale in Sonora this week with perfect

The 8th Grade team is 6-0 and has scored 214 points in six games with only 14 points scored against them. The 7th Grade Cubs are 7-0 and have given up only 12 points in the last seven games, while having scored 206 points.

Don Payne, junior high athletic director and coach, has been assisted by Glenn Graham, who coaches the offensive and defensive line, and John Curry, who coaches the secondary and receivers.

Payne attributes the outstanding undefeated records to the "group of kids on the team. They have put out a lot of effort, and they really like to play football. We are extremely lucky to have so much talent on both

Though the 7th Grade team lost 14 members due to the no pass, no play provision of House Bill 72, most of the starters on the team passed their classes. "We hated to lose any, as it really hurts our workouts, but those that we counted on passed.'

Payne, who has coached on the junior high level since coming here six years ago, feels that HB 72 punishes the entire team. "Junior high is a continuing adjustment to a new way of life. There are new grading systems, rotating teachers and the normal adjustments of growing up faced by adolescents. Payne advocates a one week penalty instead of the harsh six weeks penalty, which can punish a student for an entire sports season.

Students now have no study halls. They must attend classes for six hours a day, and then the seventh period is P.E. If they wish to participate in athletics, this means an additional two hour workout, Payne explained. This is an "extremely heavy load for most students.

The students that passed are punished, as their program suffers. "It is sad that those that don't pass one subject can't even attend practices. Some will drop out of athletics altogether.'

Athletics allows students to have fun and makes school more interesting. Every student needs to participate in extracurricular ac-

One of Payne's main goals is "To instill a love for the sport, whatever sport. I like this age group. I have so much control over the players' molding. It is so satisfying to watch them progress from the first practice to the final game of the season.'

The 8th Graders will contribute greatly to the varsity athletic program. "They will contribute greatly in anything that they do, as they have an abundance of talent." The standouts on the 8th Grade team include quarterback Chris Denman, linebacker and guard Mark Fierro, and a super talented backfield that includes Roger Martinez. Lalo Rodriquez and George Ybarra. "We would be lucky to have one person as talented as those three are individually. Since those play so well, it makes the other team members work that much harder.

Sports provide students with a lifetime of happy memories. Most students remember the sports activities when they get older, not a math lecture.

The 7th Grade team is "blessed with both size and speed. This is unusual for Ozona is usually the smallest team on the field."

Both teams have enjoyed community support. This "really helps the team. The more fans that are present at the game, the harder the team tries.'

Payne has been offered opportunities to coach older students, but he really enjoys the junior high age group. He says nowdays it is harder for team members to learn the game. 'We played football when I was growing up after school. Today's students enjoy television and electronic games. We really have to start out with the basics and emphasize the fundamentals."

Bachelor Payne does crop dusting in the summer. He grew up in Tulia and graduated from Angelo State University in 1979 with a major in

"I really love Ozona," he says.

November 9 Arts and Crafts Guild Christmas Fair

The Crockett County Arts and Crafts Guild is sponsoring its Second Annual Christmas Fair Saturday, November 9, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The fair will be held in the County 4-H Show Barn at the rodeo grounds. This is a family-oriented event which will provide Ozona residents and out-of-town visitors with an opportunity to view the many talents of our artists and craftsmen, enjoy some good food and do some very special Christmas shopping.

There will be over forty participants involved in the fair this year. Some of the many different arts and crafts offered for sale include ceramics, needlework, oil and watercolor paintings, Christmas decorations and woodcraft.

In addition to arts and crafts booths, there will be a food booth offering barbecue and hot dogs. A refreshment booth sponsored by Ozona Girl Scouts will have both hot and cold drinks available. Many baked goods and homemade candies will also be available at individual

Several community service booths are tentatively planned. Door prizes will be given away periodically throughout the day. Door prizes are donated by the participating artists and craftsmen. Winners will be announced over the public address system and can pick up their prize any time during the day.

Crockett County Arts and Crafts Guild is a civic organization formed to promote arts and crafts in Crockett County. Membership has steadily grown since the Guild was started in August of 1984. The annual Christmas Fair is the Guild's major communitywide fund raising activity for the year. Guild proceeds from the fair are put back into the local community by way of donations.

A sample of the many arts and crafts exhibited this year include woodcrafts, magnets, handcrafted jewelry, plaster craft, ceramics, metal art, wooden clocks and planters, stained glass, toys, yarn crafts, pottery, cross-stitch, baby apparel, western and landscape oil paintings, pillows, wreaths, country crafts, watercolors and wildlife photo-

Saturday promises to be a festive day, and everyone is welcome to attend. The Guild members have been busy this week in preparation for the fair. Eliminating the dust problem incurred last year is a

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore and Melissa

"I hope to deepen the commitment of those involved in the church to the Lord and His work," Mr. Ralph Moore, new Ozona Church of Christ minister, said recently. "Believing in God is not an insurance to relieve all our problems, but it is an important key to helping us understand our problems.

Moore is moving to Ozona from Odessa, where he served as pulpit minister of the Sherwood Church of Christ for the past three years.

A minister for the last 17 years, he attended the Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock. Moore has a bachelor's degree from Lubbock Christian College and has a master's degree in education from Texas Tech

"I went to the ministry because I have a deep feeling about God, His word, and I want to help others," explained the nine-year Navy vete-

While in the Navy, Moore and his family were able to see the world. An electronics and radar field specialist, he flew into the centers of hurricanes and took electronic pictures of the storms. This work was based at Port Areka and in Florida. Moore' also served in Vietnam.

Following his honorable discharge from the Navy, Moore went to work for AT&T and also worked for the U. S. Civil Service. "I have also taught school in Lorenzo," he said.

When he started his graduate studies at Texas Tech, Moore began preaching at a small church. He continued his ministry work while working as an educational representative for Bell and Howell. "I went to high schools and conducted career seminars. Bell & Howell recruits and trains a large number of prospective electric and computer science engineers.

Moore feels his varied background enables him to understand people's problems. "I don't live in an ivory tower. There are so many problems, and the world is so fast paced. I hope to deepen the commitment of those involved in the local church here to the Lord and his work.

Moore and his wife, Nancy, have lived in many places, but are very impressed with the cleanliness, friendliness of Ozona. "We have lived in both larger cities and smaller towns. I have worked with the Odessa Police Department as a chaplain. I really hope to get involved in the community.'

Moore also has extensive experience in the radio and talk show field. "I had a talk show in Odessa, Washington State and Florida, and feel this is an effective way to reach

'I am available to anyone who needs my help. The office will be open every morning and some afternoons. I am really looking forward to the ministry here.

Deputy Wilson part of Ranger ceremony

Chief Deputy Jim Wilson of Ozona was in San Antonio October 27 to participate in a ceremony at the Texas Ranger Museum.

The Former Texas Rangers Association became a part of the Texas Sesquicentennial celebration when it received an official 150th anniversary flag for the Texas Ranger Museum. The flag was presented in an informal outdoor ceremony by Sharon Eisenmenger, regional program officer for the Texas Sesquicentennial Commission.

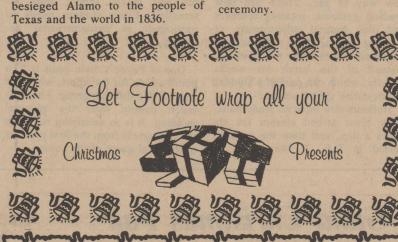

Special Texas Ranger Jerome Preiss hoisted the white flag with the sesquicentennial logo - the name Texas in red, white and blue forming a waving Texas flag on a white field as Wilson read Col. William Barrett Travis' letter written from the besieged Alamo to the people of Mrs. Eisenmenger paid tribute to "the values that have made Texas the most wonderful place in the world to live - courage, commitment, honor, truth and justice" - values exemplified by the record of the Texas Rangers.

Dr. Felix Almaraz Jr., chairman of the San Antonio Sesquicentennial Committee's historical perspective committee, told the audience that the only requirements to be a Ranger in the 19th century were marksmanship, horsemanship and a certain commitment.

'There were Rangers named Smith and Jones, but also ones named Cantu, Rodriguez and Gonzalez," he said.

Berry new general manager at Buttery Motor Company

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Richard Berry of Lubbock became general manager of Buttery Motor Company this week.

As general manager, Berry will be in charge of all operations at the automobile dealership. "We hope to get the outside spruced up and make this dealership something of which the community will be proud. There are no changes anticipated staffwise. I also hope to get the service department rejuvenated. We plan to offer some specials and eventually would like to get the dealership in a position to send cars within a 300-mile radius."

Berry feels that today's consumers are more aware of what they want for transportation. The modern consumer is more "price conscious and more aware of special handling packages. They know about as much about a car as the dealer does.'

When Berry first entered the automobile business in 1968, most customers were primarily concerned with what color the car was, not how well it would handle. Berry first worked for Pollard Ford in Lubbock and then opened his own company, "The Enterprise", also in Lubbock

There is presently a slump in the market. "It takes a good economy and good people to motivate people to buy a car.

"Most cars on the lot are loaded with all the options. This is because most consumers want those options," Berry explained. "You can still order a car exactly as you prefer. American car manufacturers are now trying to compete with the Japanese and European imports, on both the midsize and compact size automo-

Building a successful marriage

Let me add a final key - Christ-centered. I believe that a marriage which is Christ-centered will not fail!

My wife, Kay, and I have been married for 21 years. Some of those years were very rocky because Christ was not the center of our individual lives or our marriage. As our lives and our marriage have become more and more Christ-centered, there

By Rev. Jim Gray First Baptist Church

In Ephesians 5, verses 22 through 25, Paul gives us some guidelines on building a successful marriage. Wives are told to submit to their husbands. This is not a very popular message in today's society, but it is God's way nonetheless. Husbands are told to love their wives (just as Christ loved the Church and gave Himself for it). This is a self-less love that is seldom practiced, but it is also God's way. God's way is the only solid foundation upon which to build a successful marriage.

Over the years, I have gleaned from various sources some "keys" for maintaining a successful marriage. They are communication, compatibility and confrontation.

COMMUNICATION

•First, talk to God; we call this prayer. Prayer for your mate and for your marriage.

•Share needs, goals, ideas, emotions and expectations with each

••Listening is just as important as speaking. We listed to God when we read His word. Study the Bible together.

•Set aside time each day to talk. •Silence is no good! Once you stop talking, you can't solve anything. •Try to keep a sense of humor.

COMPATABILITY

•Try to find common interests. ·Accept each other's individuality (don't expect your mate to be just •Support his or her interests (a particular activity may not be your 'cup of tea'', but be supportive).

CONFRONTATION

•You may be reading this part first to find out what this crazy guy is talking about, but we must confront problems!

•Learn to argue constructively working toward resolution.

•Realize that arguments are not signs of failure. Every couple argues from time to time. They have different backgrounds, experiences and values which keep them from always seeing eye-to-eye.

•"Fight by rules." Keep the argument on the issue. Don't call each other names. And don't open closets and bring out skeletons.

•Be willing to compromise.

Meador gives first aid hints

Doug Meador said recently at a and emergency numbers. county extension program.

"Keep knives away from children. Wash scrapes and Keeping minor cuts with soap and then bandage. If the cut is deep, go to the emergency room for prompt treatment. If a finger is amputated, apply direct pressure, not a tourniquet.

"More persons are killed by bee stings than by snakes or by any other insect," Meador said. Those who are allergic to insect stings should always carry medicine. The black widow spider can cause systematic failure in the body, while the brown recluse will cause blisters, and sometimes ulcers that can require surgery. "If possible, identify the insect and bring it with you to the emergency room."

Any animal bite must be reported to local authorities. The bitten area needs to be washed thoroughly.

"If a person is bitten by a snake, kill the snake if possible. This will assist medical personel in giving the correct diagnosis. Use a restraining strap, not a tourniquet. Stay calm and go to the hospital immediately. "I have been bitten twice by snakes and am still alive," Meador said.

When a person has a nose bleed, he should lean forward and not swallow the blood. "Pinch the nostril together. If this doesn't work, pull the lip down. Stay calm and quiet. If the bleeding persists, go to the hospital.

"Call the emergency number if you break your arm. Do not move the arm," the EMT advised.

Shannon Hospital in San Angelo serves as the poison control center for this area. "Medicines, plants and cleaning fluids should be kept out of inquisitive small children's reach. Dry lye should be brushed off first. Know how many pills are in each bottle. Take the bottle with you to the emergency room. Do not induce vomiting when petroleum or acid based products have been swallowed, Meador said.

Persons in Ozona need to learn the Hymlich maneuver, which will dislodge material from a choking person's throat. Also learn CPR to aid heart attack victims.

Burns should be immersed in cold water and then wrapped in sterile dressings, he said. For facial, genital, hands and feet burns, see a doctor. Chemical burns should be flushed with water. If the eyes are involved, flush with water for a minimum of 15 minutes. Electrical burns should be treated by a physician.

To treat someone who is unconscious, tilt the head back and attempt, if trained, CPR.

The leading causes of death in children are vehicle accidents, drowning, and fire arms. Meador advises parents to always buckle their seatbelts, teach their children to swim at an early age, and keep guns away from children.

Always keep razors out of reach of small children. Close the toilet seats, as this is a cause of many accidental deaths by drowning of infants and small children.

kids busy

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Children of all ages learned to combat the "I'm bored, I have nothing to do" syndrome with concrete suggestions from Katharine Russell, Rev. Ken Harrison and Jan North at the "Families Working Together" county extension meeting at the Civic Center last week

'Use common sense when dealing with boredom, Mrs. Russell, a kindergarten teacher here for many years, said. "If you keep busy, you won't get bored. You'll feel better if you help someone else.'

Some suggestions recommended include games, cards, write letters, get homework done early, join 4-H or some other group, visit the library, make a special friend of an elderly person (they get lonely, too), practice a sport, watch TV read a good book, write a story, work on a hobby, have a project or play with a pet.

Leisure time should be well used. "Try things you don't like. Develop your creative ability. Start a collection (coins, stamps, rocks, nails, miniature cars). Hobbies make you feel happy and give you an 'I did it' feeling.'

The kindergarten teacher then suggested a formula to create success in the home. "Be consistant. Children want to please their parents, so spend time with them. Let children know what we expect from them.

High school library expands

The high school library will use the space now being occupied by the public library as a "much needed" reference room, Sherry York, high school librarian, said

"We will move our reference books, magazines, microfiche (magazines on microfilm) into the other room. The room currently housing the magazines and microfilm is crowded and will be used as a career room.'

The program moved to the civic center kitchen for some pointers on letting children help with the cooking. Mrs. North, a home economics teacher, had ten rules for children. They were: 1. Wash hands before working with food; 2. Get all things out you need -- ask an adult if you have to. 3. Wash fruits and vegetables; 4. Use a cutting board for cutting and chopping food -- not the kitchen counter top; 5. Turn pot handles in over stove to prevent spills and burns; 6. Ask parents' permission to use knives, stoves, oven; 7. Use a wooden spoon when stirring on a tove top -metal burns; 8. Set a timer, so things will not over or under cook: 9. Turn off the stove when done; and 10. Clean up your

Rev. Harrison tackled the problem of chores. Everyone has chores. "The hardest thing is to get started. Do not let chores build up. Write down a list of chores that need to be done weekly, monthly, daily. Parents like the attitude, 'I'm willing to do more than you ask.' " Have a chore schedule.

Miss Jackson stresses parental involvement

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Though she was looking for a job teaching older children, Vickie Jackson took the only job she could find -teaching first graders at Ozona Primary School -- and "I love it, every minute of it," Miss Jackson said, her excitement bubbling over.

"Watching my students learn can't be beat," exclaimed the recent Angelo State University graduate.

Miss Jackson was unsure she wanted to enter the teaching profession, despite the fact that her mother had taught first grade in San Angelo for 20 years. Following her high school graduation, she attended ASU, only to drop out later.

"I worked the night shift at Ricardo's for more than four and one-half years," Miss Jackson finally decided to return to school and finish getting her education certification. While attending ASU, she continued working at Ricardo's.

"I love kids and I wanted to have a people oriented job. These first graders take their books home. They are so excited about learning,

"I have learned they don't know a lot of things that I thought they would. I have to remember to speak on their level. They can read! I have helped them discover the joy of

A firm believer in parental involvement, Miss Jackson also hopes parents start reading to their children "as soon as they come home from the hospital. The best way to develop language skills is to hear it correctly at an early age."

First grade is also a good time to hold children back, if they do not have a good basis in reading, math and other fundamentals. It is a beginning point for many things. They must have this beginning foundation. First graders don't yet feel the pressure of competing, and so can be held back without feeling social stigmas.'

The San Angelo native had been coming to Ozona for several years to see friends. "I like it here. The kids know each other, and the parents know each other. Teachers here have been so helpful, and Mr. Spiller (Primary School principal) has helped me so much.

Miss Jackson urges parents to be involved in the learning process. 'Help them with their homework. Listen to them read. In school, they only get to read one page per day for five to ten minutes per day.

Miss Jackson has one brother, a computer specialist who lives in Dallas. She is a member of Ozona First Baptist Church and is active in the Baptist Women's organization.

WTU winter rates provide break for customers

The price of electricity for residential and commercial customers of West Texas Utilities Co. will decrease slightly in November as the company's winter rates go into

Beginning with November billings, base rates will be reduced by 3/4-cent per kilowatt-hour. Residential base rated will drop from 3.97 per kilowatt-hour to 3.22, while commercial base rates will drop from 4.18 to 3.43 cents per KWh.

Result of the base rate decrease and slight adjustment in the fuel cost factor will be an 8.2 percent reduction in costs for residential customers. For example, a customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours will be charged $6.56 less than for the same amount under the summer rates.

The summer-winter rate differential for the two classes of customers was established by the Public Utility Commission of Texas during negotiations in WTU's rate case during the fall of 1984. Seasonal rate differentials have been used by many companies for many years. The main reason is that the cost of providing service is higher during the peak usage season, or summer months when air-conditioners are in

Dear Editor:

I am very disappointed that the Ozona senior football players weren't even recognized in any way for their effort and work that they put forth this season.

Maybe Ozona is 2-7 this year, but they gave it their best shot, win or lose, and I for one think our seniors should have been recognized some-

I am proud of them and hope they show Ozona and go out Friday and beat Sonora. Go Lions!!!

We get letters.....

Judge Brock Jones and was written by John L. Hill, Jr., Chief Justice of The Supreme Court of Texas.

Dear Judge Jones:

The last session of the Legislature enacted House Bill 1658 which codified the various statutes relating to the administration of justice in this state. This act also placed additional responsibilities on all judges in the area of managing the dockets of our courts, and mandated this Court to promulgate rules of administration to assist in the implementation of these management procedures.

I have appointed a special task force composed of members from the Supreme Court Advisory Committee, the State Bar Committee on Administrative Judicial Districts to develop plans and procedures for this purpose

House Bill 1658 authorizes each district and county court at law judge to appoint a court coordinator to aid in administration matters. Section 6.004(b) of this same act provides that..."upon approval by the commissioners court of the positions and compensation, the commissioners court of the county shall provide the necessary funding through the county's budget process." I realize that some courts, primarily those dealing with criminal cases, present-

The following letter is shared by ly have court coordinators. However, many do not. In addition, many counties have already commenced their budgeting process for the next

> Because of these factors, I urge you to submit a request for funding for these positions to your county commissioners court at the earliest possible time, if you have not done so already. Please let me know if I can be of help to you in your request.

> With kindest personal regards, I Sincerely,

> A copy of Hill's letter was sent to Judge A. O. Fields along with a message from District Judge Brock Jones commending local government for responding.

Dear Judge Fields:

Chief Justice

I am enclosing a copy of Chief Justice Hill's letter with regard to the establishment of a state-wide system of Court Administration so that we may better serve the people

You, your commissioners courts, and the citizens of your county responded to this need more than a year ago when I requested, and when you provided, funding for the establishment of an Office of Court
