Bill Baggett presents C. H. Sinclair with a plaque and Reggie Quiett watch, honoring his years of service as Gene Perry, Earl Acton

C. H. Sinclair retires from SCS after 33 years

C. H. Sinclair retired January 3 after 33 years of working for the Soil Conservation Service. He has served 16 years in the Ozona field office as district conservationist working with the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District to provide technical assistance to local ranchers.

District directors and their wives were present Thursday afternoon to present Sinclair with a plaque to show their appreciation. Bill Baggett, chairman of the board, made the presentation. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Acton, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Couch, Bud Hoover, Dick Kirby and Reggie Quiett.

Sinclair was honored by the area office with a dinner in San Angelo during December.

He began his career with the SCS in the Bowie field office as a soil conservationist where he worked for 11 years. He was then transferred to the Graham field office where he served as district conservationist for six years before he was transferred to Ozona in January of 1970.

Sinclair says he has enjoyed his time in the Ozona field office as much or more than any other field office he has served. He feels that the ranchers of Crockett County are above average in their range management and have applied a tremendous amount of rangeland conservation. He hopes the trend of sound conservation will continue.

A replacement for Sinclair has not yet been named, but the position will be filled in the very near future.

Sinclair's plans after retirement include to eventually move back to his livestock farm near Mount Pleasant. The Crockett District Board has enjoyed working with Sinclair and wishes him and his wife all the best.

Stuart announces candidacy

B. W. Stuart has filed for re-election as Precinct 2 commissioner subject to the May Democratic Primary. Stuart is seeking election to a third term of office.

B. W. Stuart

"I enjoy what I do and will continue to work with all phases of the county, not just Precinct 2," said Stuart in announcing his candidacy. He is dedicated to being a full-time commissioner and has lived in the same precinct for 50 years.

In addition to duties in his precinct, Stuart works with the ASCS concerning all the dams in the county, works closely with the Road Department regarding equipment, is in charge of keeping the dump ground in compliance with state standards and is presently assisting with plans for enlargement of the cemetery.

The dump ground received a 100 percent okay report after the last inspection, said Stuart.

Citizens are welcome to call him any time regarding county matters, says Stuart who plans to continue serving as in the past if re-elected.

"I will appreciate your vote," says the commissioner to his constituents.

Accident claims Sonora man

McKinnon was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Raymond Davee.

Investigating officer Neil Lovorn reported that the vehicle was traveling north on FM 2083 at a high rate of speed, crossed back and forth over the roadway several times before going up a dirt embankment, then rolled over several times.

The vehicle caught fire and caused a pasture fire, also.

The Crockett County EMS, Ozona Fire Department and Sheriff's Department personnel were at the scene with Trooper Lovorn.

McKinnon was retired from the U. S. Air Force and was an employee of Brooks Drilling Company in Sonora.

Marshall new Care Center activities director

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Joanne Marshall, who started January 2 as Crockett County Care Center activities director, enjoys working with people of all ages.

The former Clayton Village Drug employee says, "it's fun to share something with people. If you listen, you can learn a lot from the elderly."

Nursing home residents are still people. "Some of them have more energy than I do. I want to help make the residents as happy as they can be. I don't want them to sit there and be bored."

Volunteer help makes some of the programs possible. "They have helped me a lot in my new job," Mrs. Marshall explained. "I definitely want and need volunteers. I am open to any suggestions, craft ideas or group presentations anyone might have."

Future plans of the activities director include further training courses in Abilene, some time this semester. Mrs. Marshall also enjoys coaching girls' softball team during the summer.

"My predecessor, Ann McCartney did such a good job. It will be hard to fill her shoes, but I am going to try."

The Marshalls moved to Ozona six and one half years ago from Crane. Her husband, Howard Jr., is employed by J. Cleo Thompson. They have four children, Joe, a 19-year-old married student at Central Texas Commercial College in Brownwood; Mark, an 18-year-old senior at Ozona High School; Angie, a 12-year-old seventh grader; and Matthew, a 10-year-old fifth grader.

Persons receiving Supplemental Security Income or Medicare are automatically eligible for the surplus commodities. ## Good Morning by Linda Moore

Small towns are fun -- if you let them be. Just last week we were surprised when people started telling us how sorry they were to hear that we had sold the paper. A sale was all news to us. Where that one got started, we'll never know!

If any Ozona business has sold recently, it sure hasn't been this one.

In fact, The Crockett County News had its first anniversary last week. Scotty opened downtown in the old Smith Building (the one with the missing anvil) as an office supply and print shop January 4, 1985. The first issue of The News was published June 26, and we're proud to say the business has been growing, ever since.

We're happy to be here in Scotty's home town to report your news and meet your advertising, office supply and printing needs. We're easy to find in our new location in the Village Shopping Center since we had a sign painted on the window last month.

Thanks for the interest and support which have made this first anniversary possible.

Templo Siloe to have speakers

Mary and Lorraine Eppley of Millerstown, Pennsylvania will be in Ozona January 9 to hold a 7:00 p.m. meeting at Templo Siloe. All are invited to attend says Eduvigen Diaz, pastor.

The Eppley Sisters have been in gospel work a number of years ministering all over the U.S.A. and Canada and in 28 foreign countries. They have served in Brazil, South America and in seven islands of the West Indies. They have had four major missions in Great Britain and Europe and have worked as far east as Israel.

At the Thursday meeting, the sisters will play the cathedral chimes, vibra-harp, accordians, piano and organ. They will share from other lands, preach the gospel and pray for the sick.

Chalmers reports a busy hunting season

Milder fall and winter weather, fatter deer harvested, fewer hunters and increased individual hunter success were the results of the 1985 hunting season that ended January 5, according to local Game Warden Rod Chalmers.

"Last year there were many bitter cold days. This year there were more huntable days, with much milder weather. Many of the bucks taken this year had much bigger racks because of the good spring and summer grasses, Chalmers explained. "Both the quality and quantity of deer increased over last season."

According to preliminary hunting reports received by the game warden, there were approximately four bucks killed for every one doe. "The public is getting educated about the need to harvest the surplus doe. Many ranchers now see the need to kill some doe to help maintain the correct deer density.

"I would like to see more doe killed. There were many deer, for instance, on the V.I. Pierce Ranch. For the first time in several years, the ranch was leased. Those deer harvested on that ranch had reached maturity. This helps keep the population explosion down so that the remaining deer have something to eat. We need to cut back on the number of buck killed. This would better manage the whitetail deer population in Crockett County.

"The remaining deer here are in good body condition. Last season, there was a 75 per cent fawn crop and this year, it has swelled to over 100 per cent, Chalmers said. "The total deer population has increased dramatically here since the 1928 die off. The pastures are still in good shape, though it is starting to get dry."

Crockett County ranges could be headed for trouble, with this large number of deer, due to the past two good fawn crops. "Ranchers are increasing the number of goats and sheep gradually now, after the recent sell offs, and the deer, sheep and goats all compete for the same grasses. If we have a wet spring, we can avoid any trouble with overgrazing."

This was an up and down season, according to reports Chalmers received from ranchers interested in day hunting leases. After the opening weekend, many ranchers saw very little hunting activity until after Thanksgiving. "As the weather got colder, there was a dramatic increase in the number of hunters. The two local cold storage lockers hung up double the number of deer on opening day this season. This was due in part to the much milder, warmer weather, and the overall increase in success of the hunters here.

"The hunter provides a safety valve between a balanced deer population and a big deer die off due to starvation.

"Since we have removed the threat of predators on deer by lions and coyotes and eliminated the screwworm problem, nothing but hunters limit the deer population."

Chalmers also reported a large number of turkey killed. "There are an increased number of turkey now available in Crockett County. There have not been a great number of javelinas killed here, however." The spring turkey season starts April 12-27. Hunters are restricted to two gobblers, and each gobbler must be tagged with the 'spring only tag' or the 'spring/fall tag'. If a hunter has killed two gobblers during the fall season, he is restricted to one gobbler for the coming spring season."

Quail season, which started No-

ember 2, ends February 23. "Quail are spotty and hard to find. It varies greatly ranch to ranch." Trapping season is now in progress until January 31. There have been so many trappers' licenses requested this year that there are no more available, Chalmers reported. Trappers may capture any fur bearing animals, such as badgers, beavers, fox, weasel, mink, muskrat, civet cat, ringtail, nutria, opossum, otter, raccoon and skunk. Coyotes and bobcats are not fur bearing animals, according to Chalmers.

The winter dove season started January 4 and will continue until January 13. Hunters are limited to 12 doves per day, but can have 24 in their possession. "There are enough doves in this county to fill the daily bag limit easily."

Despite stiffer penalties for hunting violations, there was a slight increase in the number of persons arrested for various hunting irregularities. Approximately 70 persons were arrested for flagrant hunting violations, which included using a .22 rifle, hunting from a vehicle on a public road and spotlighting. There were 25 additional arrests for miscellaneous hunting violations that involved incorrect tagging or licensing procedures.

"During hunting season we could have 10 game wardens in Crockett County and they all would stay busy. People are starting to realize the role of law enforcement in relation to conservation. In addition to these fines, we now have a civil penalty. Persons convicted of illegally poaching deer received a bill from the

YOU MAY BE LOSING ENERGY DOLLARS OUT YOUR CHIMNEY!

Close Your Fireplace Damper When You're Not Using It.

Many people leave their fireplace damper open all year long, so it's always ready when they want to build a fire. An open damper lets winter heat and summer air conditioning escape through your chimney. As conditioned air rises out of your home, your electric bill rises, too. So, be sure to close the damper in your fireplace when you're not using it.

A glass fireplace cover can also help you save energy and money this winter. With your damper closed and with an airtight glass screen in front of your fireplace when it's not in use, you can help prevent ENERGY DOLLARS from escaping through your chimney.

Lions bow out at Reagan County

By T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Lions took part in the Reagan County Basketball Tournament Thursday and Friday, January 2 and 3. After coming off a defeat from the hands of Fort Stockton, the Lions hoped to bounce back and do well in the tournament. They did neither. "We've hit some sort of slump," Coach John Curry commented Saturday after losing both games in the tournament. "It happens to everybody, and hopefully we will climb out of it before district starts."

The first game against Greenwood proved to be very low scoring. Greenwood gained the upper hand in the first quarter, taking a 9-4 lead. They held a four point lead at halftime.

Scoring leaders, Steve Sanchez and Bret Thompson, led the Lions' rally in the third quarter to tie the score at 25 all. The Lions did not have very many steals, but they kept their turnovers down to a minimum of 11.

Even though Scott Denman had four of his nine points in the final quarter, the Lions came up two points short, losing 35-37.

Other Lion leaders included Harvey Fierro with two steals and Denman with eight rebounds. Sanchez followed with six.

Ozونا met great misfortune in their next game of the tournament against Stanton. Even though the Lions led in the first quarter, they soon lost the lead and were down by nine at halftime.

The Lions continued their coldness from the floor and had numerous turnovers.

Stanton piled up the points in the last two quarters. Even with their 14-point revivment in the fourth quarter led by scoring leaders Harvey Fierro, Steve Sanchez and Mike Morrow, the Lions could not come close enough to do any damage, losing 47-66.

Morrow led with 11 rebounds, coming after him was Bret Thompson with eight.

Lady Lions whip Ballinger, 53-41

By T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Lady Lions started the district season off right by whipping Ballinger 53-41. The Lady Lions controlled the tempo of the game and were able to work their offense well and sink their shots. "We were all on cloud nine after our win," said Coach Rhonda Yarborough, "and the thing about it is that we really did play well."

Ozونا surprised Ballinger in the first quarter, jumping out to a four point lead at the end of the quarter. In the second quarter, Ozona stretched their lead out to 12 points.

Zelda Munoz, scoring leader with 14 points, had four of them in the third quarter. The Lady Lions were held to only six points in the quarter, but Ballinger could not capitalize on any of their free throw attempts.

Even though Ozona had 21 turnovers, Ballinger never could make anything of them. The Lady Lions controlled the boards well with Munoz leading in rebounding with nine.

Free throws played a significant part in the final period, with both teams sinking theirs. Ballinger pulled within nine with 2:15 in the game, but Vanessa Miller sank four of her six points, and Lydia Pena sank two in the next couple of minutes to put the icing on the cake.

The Lady Lions were 71 percent shooting from the free throw line, sinking seven of them at crucial times in the fourth quarter. June Reagor had 11 points for the night, Stacy Lay and Vickie Reagor succeeded her with five apiece. Lay and J. Reagor had eight and seven rebounds respectively.

"I would never make any predictions, but if we play as well against Sonora and Coahoma, we will be in the hunt," commented Coach Yarborough on this week's games.

The J.V. Lady Lions did not meet good times as the varsity squad did, but the girls stayed up with Ballinger until the final quarter when they experienced a dry spell.

Ozونا stormed out to a three point lead at the end of the first quarter and continued to hold it throughout the second quarter. Although the girls did have 23 turnovers, they countered that with 23 steals. Cathy Moran led with six while Stacie Winkley had four.

Ozونا lost the lead in the third quarter and found themselves down by five at the end of the period.

The J.V. Lady Lions stayed right behind Ballinger in the fourth quarter, until halfway through the quarter when they went cold and bad passes gave Ballinger the opportunity to blow the game open, winning 49-35.

Scoring leaders for Ozona included Regina Cervantez with 13 points, Kris Corley with eight, and Moran with five.

Both teams will host Coahoma this coming Friday. Games start at 6:30.

Harvey Fierro named to All-West Texas team

By T. C. Tucker

The San Angelo Standard Times released the names of the players for the All-West Texas football team January 3. Only one Ozona player was chosen for this team, which is chosen by the Standard Times sports staff. Senior Harvey Fierro was chosen as defensive back for the squad. "I was surprised to be chosen," said Fierro. "I'm just happy to be on the team."

His six interceptions, 57 tackles and 48 assists for the 1985 season aided in putting the spotlight on Fierro. He also served as receiver for the offensive line, quarterback for two games, was punter and returned

A Preacher's Pondering

Ralph O. Moore

Minister

Ozona Church of Christ

It was a long hike back into the hills of the Tennessee countryside, but the journey was worth it just to see the old grist mill. Decay had taken its toll on the structure over the years, and the mill stood battered and in need of repair.

The old wheel was still there, but it didn't turn as it once did. The flume that carried water from the mill pond had rotted away, and the water that once channeled its way down that flume to turn the wheel now trickled aimlessly in a ditch that erosion had dug.

I could picture the activity of days gone-by. The swish of the clear water, the hum of the wheel, the grinding of the grain, the voices of workmen, and the neighing of horses as they pulled wagons to and from the mill. All this was gone. The mill was abandoned to the silence of that remote country setting.

It could have been different. The water was still there, the flume could be repaired, the wheel restored. The meal that had once come forth could be produced again, but lost power is hard to regain.

A few years ago I stood in an old cathedral in England, and, from its hoisted pulpit, viewed its cavernous auditorium. The rector told me that thousands once lined the pews to worship, but the multitude had dwindled to a meager company of twenty or so.

It could have been different. The Word of God that had once been loved and respected there was still available. Perhaps those souls tattered by sin could be regained. Maybe families that had fallen to other interests could be brought back to stand in the Word of God. The old cathedral stood silent, a monument to lost power.

Grist mills and churches have this in common: the power (whether water to turn a wheel or the Word of God to save a soul) must be channeled. In order to do that, flumes or lives must be kept in order. Boards or hearts must be tended. Workers or worshippers must not allow decay to rob their product or praise. Lost power is difficult to regain.

There is a tragedy in losing power. It was neglect that decayed the mill and emptied the cathedral. Day by day concerns for maintaining power were diverted to other matters. Water cannot be carried by a flume that leaks, nor can the gospel be proclaimed by a skeptical cleric. Wheels cannot be turned by drops of water, nor can congregations be moved by myths.

The Word of God is the power toward salvation (Rom. 1:16; 1 Cor. 1:18). That Word must be delivered and digested. Individuals, or churches, cannot allow their souls to be robbed of the joy in receiving the Word and rot in sinful slumbering. Our lives must be inspected constantly for flaws, and repairs made to keep us fit for handling the Word of Truth.

Lost power, you see, is hard to regain.

People once believed that agates could render them invisible.

TEXAS AND ITS EMBLEMS

The State Flag - The rich heritage of our state is reflected in our flag, first adopted by the Third Congress of the Republic on January 25, 1839. It is the only flag of the United States that was once recognized by foreign governments as being the flag of a sovereign nation. The Texas flag consists of a single white star in a perpendicular field of blue, with two horizontal fields - white on top and red below. The nickname of Texas, "Lone Star State", is derived from our flag.

The State Seal - Also reflecting the symbolic Lone Star is our official seal, "a star of five points, encircled by olive and live oak branches, and the words, 'The State of Texas'".

The State Motto - Our state has officially adopted the motto, "Friendship", in recognition of the fact that our state's name stems from the word "tejas", a Caddo Indian word meaning "friends" or "allies".

The State Holidays - Our state observes two official state holidays: Independence Day, March 2; and San Jacinto Day, April 21. In addition, there are several special observations.

The State Flower, Bird, and Tree - In 1901 the Twenty-seventh Legislature officially recognized the Bluebonnet as the state flower. Then in 1927 the Fortieth Legislature proclaimed the Mockingbird to be the state bird. The Pecan Tree was also officially chosen to be the state tree, some say it was selected because Gov. James S. Hogg requested that one be planted at his grave.

The State Song - "Texas, Our Texas", the official state song, was composed by William J. Marsh and Gladys Y. Wright of Fort Worth. It was adopted by the Legislature in 1919 as the result of a statewide contest. Many people think that state. The Texas Attorney General determines what is owed by the deer poacher. The poacher is required to pay this restocking fee, which is funneled into various wildlife programs," Chalmers explained. If the fee is not remitted, the poacher is summoned to civil court in Austin and is sued by the State of Texas for his violation.

"The Eyes of Texas" is the state song, but it is the official song of The University of Texas.

Chalmers was assisted this season by Don Jackson, a game warden from Sheffield, as well as those from Odessa, Midland and various other locales.

The deer that are killed by poachers are taken to town. The Chamber of Commerce, the Catholic Church and various other concerned individuals then submit a list of the local needy persons. The 21 this year were donated to various persons on that list. Rifles are returned to the violators following disposition of their cases.

"I don't really get angry at the poachers. I really get angry when a father will instruct his young son or daughter how to hunt illegally. For each step forward, some hunters take three steps backward. I don't understand why people do it year after year."

Chalmers and his wife, Marilyn, and daughters Martha, 3, and Crista, a 10-year-old fourth grader, moved to Ozona 18 months ago from Laredo.

OHS to sponsor clinic on strength and fitness

Ozona High School is sponsoring a strength and fitness clinic Saturday, January 11, in the high school auditorium. Conducting the clinic will be Dr. Greg Shepard, strength coach for the professional Utah Jazz basketball team.

In addition to being strength coach for the Jazz, Shepard is president of Bigger Faster, Stronger, inc. (BFS). This organization holds some 80 clinics per year across the nation.

Results of these clinics have been something just short of amazing. One miraculous achievement came with the Jazz's Mark Eaton. The Jazz signed Eaton although he had never started a high school nor a college game. Eaton graduated from U.C.L.A. having logged less than a minute of playing time his junior and senior years. In just two years of work with Shepard and BFS, Eaton came from a very weak 7 foot, 4 inch, 285 pound question mark to the NBA's leading defensive rebounder and shot blocker and a runner-up in the defensive player-of-the-year award.

Shepard's program is beneficial to all age groups. Coach Jim Green and the Ozona coaching staff hope that the youth and others of Ozona will take advantage of this clinic. Students from the 7th grade up will be eligible to attend. There is no charge for the Ozona students. Students from other schools have been invited to attend for a fee of $3.00. Adult admission is $5.00.

The clinic starts at 9:00 a.m. and runs until 4:30 p.m. Since there is only a 30 minute lunch break, Green requests participants be prepared to eat at the school. Individuals may bring a sack lunch or purchase tea and a fajita from the Ozona Booster Club for $2.00.

- The clinic will involve:
- Instructional Motivation
  - Goal setting
  - Nutrition
  - Weight Lifting Techniques
  - Power Weight Training
  - Speedwork
  - Agility
  - Flexibility
  - Endurance

Lectures by Shepard, films and demonstrations will make up the program. Since the audience does become involved, everyone is asked to come in workout gear such as sweat suits. The clinic is for both males and females. The Ozona coaching staff urges any student that plans to participate in any athletics to be in attendance, and all students are invited. Coach Green hopes that many parents will join their youngsters in attendance so they can gain a concept of what their youngsters are learning.

Coach Green anticipates 300 people attending and urges locals to be early for best seating.

Border Patrol apprehensions

A 27 percent increase in apprehensions of illegal aliens during December compared to one year ago is reported in the Del Rio sector.

Rod Saucier reported 4,535 deportable aliens apprehended last month. December is traditionally a light month, and apprehensions are expected to increase in February and March says the Del Rio officer.

Fifty-three of the aliens were from countries other than Mexico with 27 from El Salvador.

Reports indicate that 91 smugglers were apprehended smuggling 473 aliens. The aliens were paying from $300 to $500 per person.

Rachel's reviews

By Rachel O. Hall

One of your New Year's resolutions may have been to lose a few pounds or become more physically fit. If so, then an upcoming 12 week "Fit For Life" weight control series may be of interest to you.

The "Fit For Life" series is researched based and deals primarily with diet and exercise. Topics covered in the series include: measurement of initial, midpoint, and final body fat, flexibility, and cardiovascular fitness; controlling eating cues; snacking and eating binges; proper exercise methods; low calorie meals; nutrition myths, stress management, positive self-concept, slimming with appropriate clothes, eating out and fad diets.

The "Fit For Life" Weight Control series is inexpensive, when compared to many commercial programs. Classes will be held once a week, for one hour. Specific times (morning, noon, or evening) are flexible. The series is not an exercise program, rather it concentrates on personalizing an individual's total diet and exercise plan. Classes will begin the first week of February.

There will be a $25.00 registration fee - $15.00 will be returned at the conclusion of the series. A physician's release is required. Call the County Extension Office at 392-2721 for a registration form and details.

The agency, which was first organized on April 5, 1983, served its first meal on July 18, 1983. The program halted on October 31, 1985, following its inability to meet various state regulations regarding proper kitchen facilities.

Target date for resuming meals is February 1.

Efforts are now being directed at securing a triple sink, stove and refrigerator. The agency, which has raised $1,500, needs an additional $1,100 to purchase these items.

This program enables some to stay out of nursing homes, Mrs. Reavis explained. "It is much cheaper to keep them at home than have them in a nursing home. This daily meal allows the elderly better health at home and also allows more quality to their lives at home. Some are so lonely following the death of their spouse. The program allows the mental agility of having to interact with those bringing the meal."

During 1985, the program spent $4,000, and the county provided another $2,000 to keep it going. "We are going to see if the county can provide any assistance this year," Mrs. Reavis said.

Helping hands has not yet signed any contracts with government agencies.

When the program resumes, Mela Flores, the cook, and Juanita Delgado, the volunteer coordinator, will be the only paid employees for the agency.

Pandale Pannings

by Jonny Johnson

Hope everyone has a happy new year. I'm looking forward to a bright and very happy '86.

The last weekend of hunting season brought out a crowd.

The Arledge ranch had hunters from the Dallas area.

C&H had hunters from Dallas area at Tent City. GECO had Don Meeks of Wylie, Jim Mauldin of Houston and their guests were TEMACO people from various places.

The Beckhams of Sonora were down.

Game Management was full up this last week.

Night road hunters were out in number as was evidenced along the road.

I enjoyed the holidays being with loved ones and friends.

Dana Cowen, her children and I went to Rankin last weekend to visit with my other grandchildren from Andrews.

I am ready to settle down to normal (whatever that is) and get back to work.
