1300 lbs of explosives found in Ozona barn

Discovery of approximately 1,300 pounds of high explosives at a barn in Ozona May 14 led to the controlled detonation of the material Thursday afternoon. The explosion was heard throughout Ozona.

After being notified of the find by local citizens Wednesday afternoon, Fire Marshal Steve Kenley examined the explosives.

Primer cord, dynamite and ammonium nitrate stored in a building owned by Bobby Mayfield, B & D Construction Company, were in a deteriorating condition with nitro beginning to settle out of the dynamite, said Kenley. After unsuccessful attempts to locate Mayfield, the fire marshal used his state given authority to "correct hazardous conditions".

Bomb Technician Ken Land of the San Angelo Fire Department engineered the removal and detonation of the explosives Thursday. Land had everyone out of the immediate area while preparing the material for removal, said Kenley.

The dynamite, primer cord and ammonium nitrate were transported through town in a sand-filled county dump truck with Land at the wheel as Sheriff's Department personnel cleared the way.

"About an hour" was required to set up the explosives for detonation at the dump, said Kenley. The material was laid out in a triangular pattern of five piles 100 feet apart for the explosion.

"We owe a lot to the bomb tech," said Kenley, who also praised the Ozona Fire Department, Sheriff's Department and County Road Supervisor Eddie Moore for their "excellent cooperation".

The decision to remove the materials was acted upon after consultation with Judge A. O. Fields and County Attorney Tom Cameron.

after 30 years Doris Haire to retire from Energas

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

After almost 32 years, Doris Haire has decided to retire from Energas and pursue some leisure time activities. David Harris of Seminole has been selected to manage the Ozona office.

Haire's last day at the Energas office will be May 23, but his formal retirement will not begin until July 1. "I have a five week vacation, starting May 26," Haire explained.

When Haire first started working for Energas (formerly called Pioneer Gas Co.) on November 8, 1954, the fledgling company served 700 Crockett County customers. The company has doubled in size and presently serves 1,400 customers, down slightly from a peak of 1,500 during the oil boom.

"We have expanded by main extensions, increased our gas suppliers and spent a lot of money to keep up with the growing demand," said Haire recently.

Energas, which serves approximately 70,000 customers in Texas and Louisiana, has continued to grow slowly but steadily through the years. The company recently moved its headquarters from Amarillo to Dallas and presently employs about 865 persons. Energas encourages all employees to participate and be a part of the community, said the Lion's Club president and fire chief.

Federal government restrictions on gas usage during the past few years will continue, and persons will continue to need to practice conservation, Haire said. "We are allowed to take only so much during a 24 hour period. Any gas over-runs require special approval."

The Ozona native and his wife, Georgia, were both working here when their daughter, Marsha Haire Ingram, was born. "I was working for Phillips following graduation from high school. I didn't want to take my daughter out of the Ozona schools, so I went to work for Energas, and have managed the company for about 23 years."

Ozona has changed since the 1950's. The change "has been considerable, due to the oil and gas situation. The overall environment of the town has diversified. People are no longer totally dependent on ranching." The company has grown to include consumer goods, such as gas grills, Haire said.

Donna Hightower, Larry Hensley and Haire have manned the three person office for many years. "I plan to continue my community involvement, at least for a while. I have served as fire chief off and on for 20 years, been Lion's Club president for seven or eight years and also been active in various fund raisers and the Chamber of Commerce."

"I don't know what I will do after I retire. I like to fish, do yard work and have some leisure time," said the Church of Christ member.

The company, under Haire's 23 years of management, has matured, and breakdowns in the system now are rare.

Harris, who will assume management of the local office in mid-June, plans to continue "selling service to our customers. We work for the public, not individuals, said the 18-year veteran of the Seminole office.

Though Ozona has a smaller population, Harris says he is "looking forward to moving here. I want to be a benefit to the community and continue the trend of involvement set by Haire. Haire has already set me up as a Lion's Club member."

Harris, his wife Lynn, and their two sons, Clay 15, and Trey 14, are active in the Seminole 4-H Club, particularly the horse events. "We have 10 horses, and spend all our time with the animals and our sons," Mrs. Harris has her own business, a monogram shop, in Seminole, and hopes to continue her work here.

DPS files suit for $600,000

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

The $600,000 confiscated in Crockett County May 11 from a 1986 Ford Taurus stopped on I-10 for a speeding violation has been deposited in an Austin bank.

Department of Public Safety Trooper Cliff Babbitt discovered the cash when two Mexican nationals allowed him to search the vehicle.

The money was turned over to the DPS Narcotics Division in Austin following its transfer from Crockett County. According to DPS information service officer Mike Cox, the money was counted May 12 and deposited in an Austin bank.

The DPS has filed suit with the U. S. District Court in Lubbock requesting that the cash be awarded to that law enforcement agency, Cox said.

The U. S. District Court in San Angelo spokesperson said the complaint has been filed. The San Angelo office is awaiting action by the U. S. District Court in Lubbock regarding disposition of the monies. "When the proper form is received from Lubbock, our office will arrest the property and advertise in the newspaper for someone to come forward and claim the cash," said the San Angelo spokesperson.

Local officials are looking into the possibility of claiming a portion of the confiscated monies.

According to the San Angelo U. S. Court spokesperson, disposition of cash cases sometimes takes up to six months.

Cox said the disposition of the funds "lies in the Federal Court's ballpark now."

More than $1.25 million has been seized during three investigations by DPS officers since January 1986, said Cox. Webb County DPS officers seized $400,000 and East Texas officers confiscated $270,000 earlier this year.

The two men in the vehicle stopped here committed no crime in transporting the money, Cox said. "They were delivering the money to someone in El Paso, but didn't know to whom it belonged. The men hadn't committed any crime, other than speeding.

"There is an awful lot of cash in the underground economy. It benefits no one except those who shouldn't benefit," Cox said.

The men were allowed to continue their trip from Miami to El Paso following conclusion of the initial investigation.

Study ordered on pipeline construction

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

A federal judge has ordered that an environmental impact study be made to determine the potential effects of the All American interstate pipeline across the environmentally sensitive Edwards Aquifer recharge zone. The study must be completed before construction on the 42-inch line from Los Angeles to Webster on the Texas Gulf Coast can resume.

A settlement was reached recently in Federal District Court in Austin in two lawsuits against the Federal Bureau of Land Management filed by the State of Texas and by Travis, Hays and Gillespie Counties. Terms of the settlement, signed by Judge James Nowlin, indicate that All American Pipeline Company has agreed to halt construction, commission and pay for a complete environmental impact study and research and suggest alternate pipeline routes. The settlement also allows the Bureau of Land Management the right to direct the route as indicated by the findings of the environmental impact study.

All American, a subsidiary of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, is constructing the $900 million project which had reached Crockett and Sutton Counties before being halted. Environmental impact studies have been conducted in California, Arizona and New Mexico during the proposed pipeline route. If the pipeline is completed, the 1,768 mile route will be the longest in the United States and the only one running from California to the Gulf Coast.

Work had been progressing on schedule, but opponents of the pipeline cited environmental objections to the current route several months ago. The Edwards Aquifer provides drinking water for much of San Antonio and Central Texas. Hayes and Travis County officials successfully challenged the pipeline, viewing it as a potential threat to the aquifer.

The pipeline project, when completed, would pump an average of 300,000 barrels of crude oil, with a maximum of 450,000 barrels, per day from California to the Gulf Coast.

Crockett County residents viewed the pipeline as a boon to the sluggish local economy. One alternate route being considered by All American would by-pass Ozona and add approximately 22 miles to the route, going from McCamey to Bell County, north of Austin and then southeast to the coast. A second alternate route, including Crockett County, would go south of McCamey to Zavala County, north of the Rio Grande and then east to the coast.

R. B. Potasnick of Cape Girardeau, MO had subcontracted to lay the pipeline from McCamey to south of Austin. At one time, more than 50 pipeline officials and workers were living in Crockett County working on the pipeline.

Because of opposition to the project, another pipeline, the Pacific Texas Project, may postpone construction on its $1.6 billion 42-inch line from Los Angeles to Midland.

One Junction geologist, Pete Rose, in testifying before the U. S. Senate subcommittee on environmental affairs in March said that a one minute leak downline from a pumping station, at a flow of 350,000 barrels per day, would create a spill of more than 100,000 gallons of oil. All American officials have repeatedly stated that the odds are 40-1 against a leak occurring during the lifeline of the pipeline, explaining that special monitoring devices would shut down pumping mechanisms should a leak occur.

Some think placing horse chestnuts in the water will stupefy the fish.

The Christian and Christ's Church

Charles Huffman, Pastor
Faith Lutheran Church

"Me and Jesus, we got a good thing goin';
Me and Jesus, we got it all worked out.
Me and Jesus, we got a good thing goin';
We don't need anybody to tell us what it's all about!"

Do you remember that song? It was popular on the Country & Western radio stations about 10 years ago. Leaving the terrible grammar aside, what do you think of its message? It expresses a popular attitude, doesn't it? Folks want a personal relationship with Jesus that leaves everybody else out of it.

They're turned off by what they call "organized religion". They resent any kind of authority (other than their own private opinion) which would tell them what to believe or how to live. They think they're individualists, which is like saying there's an individual finger that's not attached to a hand. Actually, they are nothing more than rebellious children, lacking in spiritual discernment or maturity. They profess to love Jesus, while they despise His Church.

How many of you husbands would appreciate the loyalty of a "friend" who, while claiming sincere love for you, openly despised and reviled your wife? Would you tolerate that kind of "friendship"? I wouldn't. My wife is one flesh with me. An attack on her would be an attack on me. Do you think that Christ is any less loyal to His bride, the Church? (Rev. 19:7-8). The Holy Christian Church is His most cherished treasure. It is Christ's pearl of great price for which He gave His own life. So intimately does He commune with her that He regards persecution of her as persecution of Himself (Acts 9:1-5). Christ is the Head of the Church which is His body (Ephesians 1:22-23). Christ refuses to be found outside of His Church. To His Church He has given all authority in heaven and on earth (Matt. 28:16-19). The very means of salvation, God's saving Gospel and Sacraments, belong to Christ's Church. Outside of the Church there is no salvation. Jesus Christ will tolerate no attempt to divorce Him from His bride. Those who will not listen to Christ's Church will not listen to Christ (Luke 10:16).

Ah, but who speaks for the Church? Does the Pope at Rome? After all, he claims to be the Vicar of Christ. Or how about the World Council of Churches? Or perhaps one of the television religious personalities? With the millions of Christians all over the world, there is no consensus (or so it seems) on who is the voice of Christ in His Church today. With the various competing and contradictory claims - each claiming to be the true voice of the Church - it is understandable that some people give up on finding an authoritative word of Christ and say:

"We don't need anybody to tell us what it's all about!"

But Jesus Christ does speak and act through His Church on earth even today. And there is a real - not an imaginary - Church of Jesus Christ which is called together by the Holy Spirit in one faith, mind, and understanding (Ephesians 4:3-5). This Church can be found. It can be identified. It can be listened to. It can be recognized as the very bride of Christ. How?

Stated simply, "The Church is the assembly of saints in which the Gospel is taught purely and the sacraments are administered rightly" (Augsburg Confession). The pure Gospel and rightly administered sacraments identify Christ's Church. That assembly or congregation of Christians which has the pure Gospel does indeed speak for and represent Christ Himself. When this Church speaks, God's children should listen. When this Church acts, God's people should recognize it as Christ Himself acting. Christ absolves the penitent sinner (Mark 1:15, John 20:21-22). Christ baptizes people into His Church (Matt. 28:19-20, Acts 2:38). Christ gives us to eat and drink of His body and blood (Matt. 26:26-28, Mark 14:22-24, Luke 22:19-20, 1 Cor. 11:23-25). Christ preaches through the pure doctrine proclaimed from the pulpit (Mark 16:15-16, Romans 10:13-17).

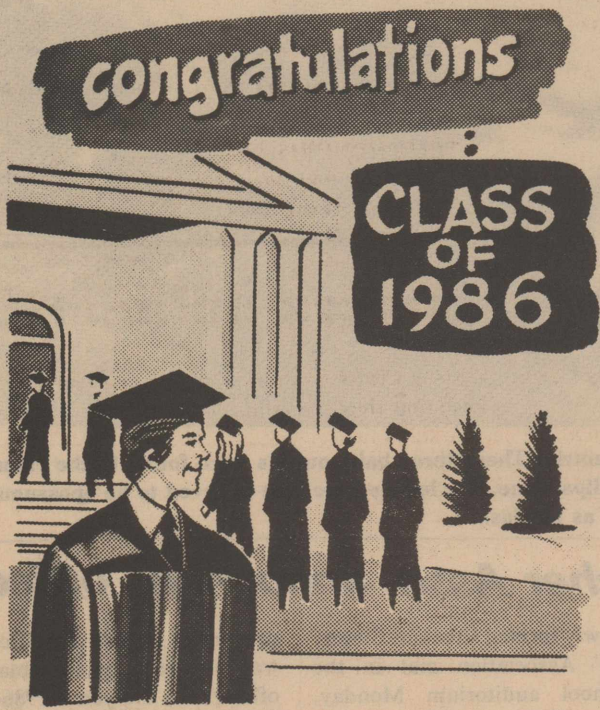

The Church is not a religious social club or a clique of activists. The Church is a divine creation. Not an ideal for which we must strive, but a divine reality existing right now, on this earth, wherever God's pure and saving doctrine is proclaimed and best-owed in the sacraments of Christ (Matt. 16:16, 18, 1 Cor. 11:26-27). This Church's lifeblood is this pure doctrine and rightly administered sacraments. Wherever this lifeblood is polluted, it is done by the enemies of the Church. Unfortunately, even many of God's people do not know who their spiritual enemies are.

The Church is not located by looking at the propaganda of religious bureaucracies. It is found where Christ and His Spirit are found. It is found where the genuine and true biblical Gospel is proclaimed and the sacraments instituted by Christ Himself are faithfully administered. For through these means of God's grace the Church is created. Through these means the Church acts in Christ's stead. Do not despise this Church. For Christ loves His bride and will never be found apart from her.

"Let us not stay away from our worship services, as some are regularly doing, but let us encourage one another, all the more because you see the day coming nearer. If we choose to go on sinning (3rd Commandment) after we have learned the truth, there is no more sacrifice for our sins, only a terrible waiting for judgement and a fire that will be eager to devour the enemies. Anyone who violates the Law of Moses dies without pity on the testimony of two or three witnesses. How much worse a punishment do you think he will deserve who tramples on God's Son, treats as an unholy thing the blood of the covenant that made Him holy, and insults the Spirit of grace?" - Hebrews 10:25-29

Your achievements are a credit to your school and community. Congratulations.

Boy scouts win race for blood donors

Members of the local Boy Scout troop signed up the most donors for last week's bloodmobile visit. The Scouts brought in 28 of the 65 pints donated. Knights of Columbus had 26 donors and the Lions' Club 11. A challenge by the Lions' Club to the Knights and others in the community to bring in as many donors as possible increased the number of donors this time.

Losing organizations will give $1.00 per pint donated to a favorite charity selected by the Scouts.

Myrtle Post Garden Club

On May 19 the Myrtle Post Garden Club held their monthly meeting at the Crockett County National Bank Building. Hostesses for the covered dish supper were the executive officers.

Old business reported upon included the plant sale held May 10 which was a definite success, and the treasurer's report. A large pot plant was donated by Marge Smith for the Senior Citizen's Center which is preparing for an open house soon.

New business discussed was a change of meeting dates and times.

After discussion and proper vote, it was decided that the club will revert back to meeting during the growing season from February through October each year. Also, the dates were changed to the second Monday in each month. The summer program was planned with the programs as follows: June 9 - plant clinic for problem plants; July 14 - basic workshop on flower arrangements to begin at 6:00 p.m.; and August 11 - pilgrimage in Crockett County by Sarah Hignight. Books on flower arranging will be available through the club at the next meeting.

Sarah Hignight presented the program on the Texas Bluebonnet. She related the tale from Comanche folklore as to the origination of the bluebonnet. Projects done by junior high students on the Texas Bluebonnet and Texas wildflowers were displayed in conjunction with her program.

Members present were Marge Smith, Ann Clinton, Joycelyn Graves, Grace Williams, Beth Smith, Leta Powell, Clara B. Freeman, Mozelle Houston, Sarah Hignight and one guest, Cynthia Hodges.

Pandale Pannings

by Jonny Johnson

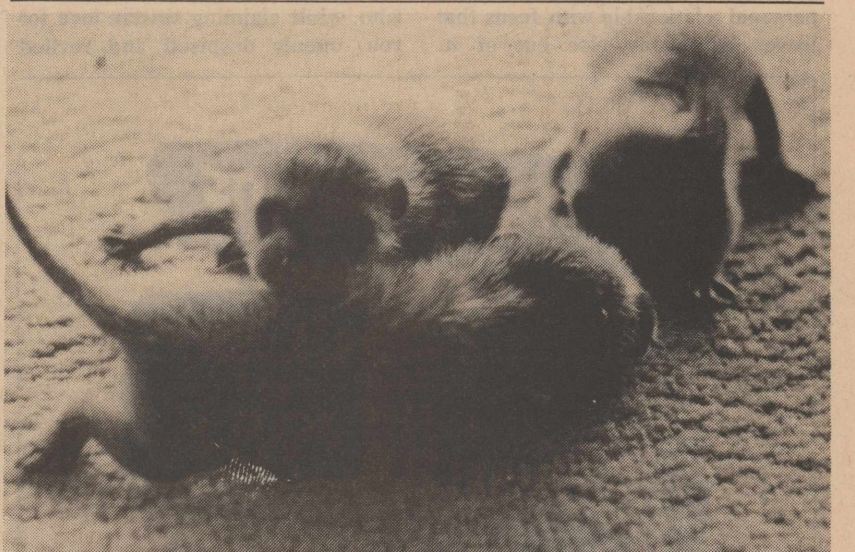

We visited with Sue and Larry Arledge and Bill Carson for a while the other night. The Arledges said the house was coming along nicely. They still lack some inside finish work. That always seems to take forever.

Calvin was telling them that I was a collector of things. Said I never threw away anything, like old newspapers, empty tissue rolls, etc. but on the other hand, his bits, spurs, branding irons, antique tools, Western books are a valuable collection. I read once that priceless antiques are the junk you threw away yesterday. I guess I took it literally.

Our son, Kerry, his wife, Carolyn, and our granddaughter, Kendra, of Guymon, OK have been visiting with us. Daughter and son-in-law Dana and John Cowen and their children all spent the weekend with us at the ranch. We had a nice visit.

That was really a cold front that came through.

It's A nutria! These three baby nutrias were found in the chimney at the Dean Phillips home. The babies were first believed to be opossums, but later identified as nutrias.

Retirement takes Mrs. Huff back home

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Though Mrs. Warda Huff may be filled with a twinge of regret following her retirement from the Ozona Public School Cafeteria May 29, she plans on resuming her life with her husband, Vance, in her hometown of Brady near where her mother lives.

Students have not changed much in the 22 years Mrs. Huff has worked in the high school cafeteria. "I started out as a substitute, worked as a meat cook for several years and took over the management of the program when Mrs. Allie Armentrout retired 20 years ago."

More quick foods, such as burritos, corn dogs and chicken nuggets are on the 1986 menus than on the earlier cafeteria menus. "The state determines, as it always has, what is served on a Type A lunch," explained the overseer. "We must serve two ounces of meat, 3/4 cup of fruit or vegetable, bread and milk."

"We must go along with what the students like. This especially is hard to do when it comes to vegetables. The students like very few vegetables, corn, green beans, and that's about it. Pinto beans and hamburgers are served once each week, as mandated by the state. There have been 1,000 pounds of dried pinto beans served, and the students are tired of them."

Other menu items rotate once every six weeks. Hamburgers, pizza and corn dogs are the favorites of students. "The students prefer fast finger foods that can be carried out of the cafeteria."

Preparations of the noon meal start at 7:00 a.m. The high school cafeteria staff includes Nelda Montya, Mary Capps, Mary Lou Knox, Colleen Everett and fix-it man Tom Morrow.

"The kids haven't changed. When I started, some liked what was served and some didn't. It's still that way," said Mrs. Huff. Due to lack of demand by high school students, no breakfast is served.

"I decided it was time to retire. I didn't want to spend my whole life here. I wanted to let someone else have the job...I have thoroughly enjoyed the job and would have been lost without it."

The lunch program has grown since Mrs. Huff first started working in 1964. "We started out serving 400 students, but the second year, we served an average of 800 students daily." The number of students presently served has remained at between 650-750 this year. The larger number was served during the fall semester.

Prices on lunches have remained fairly stable. In 1964, elementary age students paid 35 cents; students paid 60 cents; and adult tickets cost $1.00. Present lunchroom fees are: 85 cents for elementary age students; $1.00 for junior high and high school students and $1.40 for adults.

Retirement may mean a slower pace for Mrs. Huff, but no rocking chair. Reading, crocheting and keeping track of her growing family will "keep me busy". Her family includes her son and daughter-in-law, David and Karen (Sewell) Huff, and their children, Jeffrey and Lance, all of Coleman; Donald and Kim Huff and their children, Khara and Trenton of Houston; Joel and Lucille (Childress) Huff and their children, Melissa, Abby and Philip of Lederach, PA, and Gerald and Brenda Huff and their children, Heather and Heath of Midland.

Record life's most precious moments with color photographs from

CAMERAS TWO PHOTOGRAPHY

We will be at both the Junior High and High School graduation exercises. Let us photograph the family with the graduate after the ceremony.

Graduation Day Reflections

Neatly combed hair and spotless shirts.
Bright colored dresses and ruffled skirts.
Eager eyes shining when we first arrived!
How exciting! Kindergarten when we were five!

Our grade school teachers dried our tears,
Calmed our hearts and erased our fears.
They taught us what was wrong and right,
And swatted our rears if we chose to fight.

Readin', writing' and 'rithmetic.
But we caught on so very quick.
How proud we were when we did succeed.
"Listen, Mother! I can READ!"

Intermediate school. Independent were we,
But still we were safe as safe can be.
We learned our "times" and our division,
Through lots of love and supervision.

We entered Junior High and found new faces.
And some, not so new, were wearing braces.
We cherished the memories of classmates gone,
But welcomed new ones into our hearts and home.

High school! We made it at last!
It was tough going but we still had a blast!
We had caring teachers who offered us knowledge
To prepare us for life and for college.

At times it seemed that the years went slow.
But in retrospect...how swiftly they did go!
We thank our parents and our teachers too,
For enduring us as we endured you.

So many memories our minds have in store.
We stand on a threshold opening a new door.
We look to the past years and may shed a tear,
But our future looks WONDERFUL...at least from here!

Throughout the years we've played and we've learned.
We feel this graduation day we've truly earned.
For we know that there has been no class so great
As will be OUR CLASS when we graduate!

-- Sandra Hancock Stark

James Cox, special education teacher

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Ozona High School special education teacher James Cox has received more than just the Masters of Art in education degree from Angelo State University May 16. From the 14 students the 18 year Air Force veteran works with at OHS, he has learned patience.

The former military officer returned to school following retirement from the Air Force and received his Bachelor of Arts in physical education with a minor in sociology in 1982 from ASU.

Cox started teaching at OHS in 1984, while still a student at ASU.

Mainstreaming students with learning disabilities provides a plus for all involved. "They learn more, because they experience more. All learning is based on experiences. The more you experience, the more you learn."

"For each step forward, there are three back, so a teacher has to be patient. Whatever problems the students have, they can learn," said the two-year OHS teacher.

"I hope the students have learned confidence, that they can achieve," Cox said.

The Crockett County Public School's special education program started several years ago in the Intermediate School, said Primary School special education teacher Darolyn Webster.

Most students in the program "have low self esteem. I want to make them feel better about themselves. They tug at my heart. I started 10 years ago as a remedial reading teacher here," said Mrs. Webster.

The program started in the intermediate school, expanded first to the Primary School, then to the junior high school and finally to the high school.

These students "know they are different. They know when they are being segregated. When they see others do something, they try harder. Other students then try to help those having trouble," said the petite Primary School teacher.

Learning disabled children have average or above average intelligence, but can't perform at the expected levels. "If we can get help for the student early enough, and the child can be mainstreamed, the child can learn to cope with his problems," said Mrs. Webster.

Others working in the special education department headed by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Ted Cotton include: Beverly Evans, speech therapist; Tommie Galan, speech and special education aide at the Primary School; Kathy Grendahl, teacher; Judy Reagor and Jeannie Thompson, aides at the Intermediate School; Don Stark, teacher, and Alicia Perez at the Ozona Junior High; and James Cox, teacher, and Yvette Martinez, aide, Ozona High School.

The future Angelo State University student plans to study nursing following graduation. "I have enjoyed the very close friendships that I have gained the past four years. I have enjoyed least losing several of those well-loved friends. High school has taught me to be more patient and understanding."

The 1986 Prom Queen enjoys reading, writing poetry, collecting rainbows and playing the flute during her spare hours.

JOHN TOM STOKES

Senior Class vice president John Tom Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stokes, feels Ozona High School has helped him develop "enough maturity to make it through life".

The future refrigeration and solar energy Universal Technical Institute major moved to Ozona from San Angelo when he was six years old. Born February 13, 1968 in San Angelo, the young outdoorsman enjoys fishing, hunting, camping out and "having a good time around all of my friends".

Varsity football, range judging, welding and learning auto mechanics have kept Stokes busy during and after school. "I like being around a lot of people my own age and growing up with the same people most of my life," said Stokes.

BRAD THOMPSON

National Honor Society member and cum laude student Brad Thompson plans on majoring in some field of engineering at the University of Texas in Austin this fall.

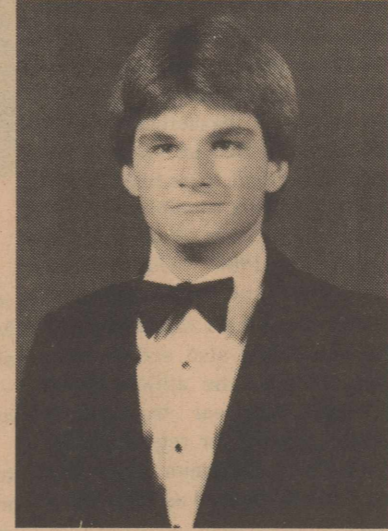

Born August 11, 1968 in Salem, Ohio to Mr. and Mrs. William David Thompson, the Senior Student Council representative moved to Ozona from Elkton, Ohio before the start of his junior year.

The student/athlete played basketball and football all four years,

High school has helped the honor roll student gain a "very valuable education, good friends and a better attitude toward people and life. Aside from playing basketball after school, the transplanted Ohioan also likes to listen to music.

BRET THOMPSON

Two year Ozona resident Bret Thompson, like his twin brother Brad, made his presence known on both the basketball court and the football field.

Aside from lettering in football and basketball during his four year high school career, the 18-year-old also likes "to work on cars and play softball".

ELLIE TIJERINA

Three-year National Honor Society member and cum laude student Ellie Tijerina has sampled a bit of everything during her high school years.

Born December 2, 1967, the native Ozonan is the daughter of Luis C. Tijerina. Future plans are diversified, as she hopes to "attend Central Texas Commercial College in Brownwood upon graduation and major in computerized accounting. At the festival, Ellie received superior ratings in dictation, poetry reading and on the written test her sophomore year and an excellent rating for her poetry reading her junior year. Aside from serving as bellringer her junior year, the teenager also placed third in the district U.I.L. feature writing contest in 1985.

The young woman feels she has received "an education and plenty of knowledge. I've enjoyed the faculty and being with my friends. The only thing I didn't really enjoy was my senior year, but only because of the new laws. We lost many privileges. I also miss my friends that I lost due to accidents."

After school hours are spent "making friends, being with friends and listening to music".

BLAS VARGAS

Though college bound, Ozona native Blas Vargas admits indecision as to what college he will attend following graduation.

Born May 13, 1967 to Mr. and Mrs. Blas Vargas, the student/athlete served as football captain for the 1986 season. The four-year football player also tried his hand for two years on the basketball court and ran track one year.

Vargas, who was elected class favorite two years, attended a leadership conference and was head of two leadership committees. The accomplished athlete also served as vice president of the VICA club and vice president of the FFA.

From high school, "I have learned a lot of new things and met new people. I have enjoyed playing sports..."

Leisure time activities include lifting weights, riding around, being with friends, working on cars, biking, fishing and hunting.

MELISSA VARGAS

Unlike many of her classmates, native born Melissa Vargas enjoys living "nowhere else but Ozona." Here, the senior has "gained more (new) friends and an education to pull me through the up-coming years."

Born October 23, 1967 to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Vargas, the future cosmetologist plans to attend Jean's College of Beauty in San Angelo to finish her studies.

The active teenager has been on the basketball team during her freshman and sophomore years, and ran track her freshman and junior years. Sports also occupy her after school hours. Melissa plays softball, basketball, runs track, rides horses, dances, lifts weights and runs.

"I have enjoyed being with my friends and classmates and being able to play sports," said the two-year journalism student and present Lion's Roar ad manager.

FRANCISCO VASQUEZ

Future mechanical technician Francisco Vasquez tries to combine work with fun when he repairs cars.

Born in Monocou, Coah., Mexico to Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Vasquez, the 18-year-old plans to attend Universal Technical Institute in Houston following graduation.

"I have enjoyed being with friends during my senior year," said the mechanically oriented youth. After school hours are spent listening to music and hunting.

CARMEN VILLARREAL

Senior Carmen Villarreal plans to finish her cosmetology studies at Jean's Beauty School in San Angelo in the fall following graduation.

The Lion's Roar editor and year-book staff member participated in tennis during her sophomore year. High school has provided a variety of interest to Linda. "I have enjoyed being with all my friends, although I hated having to do all the work that was necessary."

The former San Antonio resident has "learned how to make new friends and also gained a good education that will help me in later years."

KIM WILLIAMS

Golf and English teacher Chesta Stuart has provided senior Kim Williams with pleasant memories of Ozona High School, both in the classroom and in the athletic arena.

Born May 16, 1968 in Corpus Christi to Jim and Charlotte Williams, the future cosmetologist plans to finish her studies at a San Angelo beauty college.

The four-year Ozona High School golf team member was a district medalist in 1985. The 18-year-old was a member of the district winning golf team for four years. Kim also showed her versatility on the basketball court for four years.

The Ozona Lions' mascot during the 1983-84 year, Kim enjoys "water skiing, watching soap operas, listening to music, being with friends and cruising. "Here I have gained an education I can use."

Ozona bands spring variety on audience

Parents, children, faculty and administrators enjoyed a variety of music during the 1986 spring band concert May 20 in the Ozona High School Auditorium.

The 46-member 6th grade band started the early evening program with the rousing music of "Down the Field March" by Sandy Feldstein and John O'Reilly. A remembrance of the 1920's came to life during the performance of Jacques Offenbach's "Can Can", arranged by Balent. Contemporary country music made its presence known with the John Sommers' rendition of the familiar "Thank God I'm a Country Boy". The 6th graders closed their portion of the concert with Eric Osterling's "Ceremonial Procession".

Section leaders for the 6th grade band include: Todd Suddeth, Ami Sewell, Katie Sellers, Tricia Maldonado, Martin Llanos, Marandy Keith, Cullen Curry and John Babb.

The Ozona Junior High Cub 93 member band then took the stage to first present a familiar glimpse of the classics with Giozchino Rossini's "William Tell Overture". A rocking look forward zoomed the audience into the not too distant past with "Girls Just Want to Have Fun" by Robert Hazard. The threatening suspense of James Bond movies came to life with the performance of "For Your Eyes Only" by Bill Conti. Another distant land, "Africa", by David Paich and Jeff Porcaro beckoned the traveling spirit of the listening audience. The drums and cymbals beat their own tune of "Percussion Picante" by Eric Osterling. Closing the diversified program by the 7th and 8th grade Cub Band was the familiar "That's All Folks" by Andrew Balent.

Section leaders for the Ozona Junior High Cub Band are: Rebecca Babb, Bruce Beasley, Danny DeHoyos, Amy Graham, Selena Galindo, Estella Hernandez, Stacie McDaniel, Gilbert Rico, Mary Turnley, Daniel Vasquez, George Ybarra and Michael Ybarra. First division solo/ensemble contest entrants include Kelly Porter, Daniel Vasquez and Mary Turnley.

The Ozona High School Lion Band then took the audience on a journey to a place far away with their opening number, "Fanfare From E. T." by John Williams. The actual purpose of a band cocked its head with the "Citadel Concert March" by Frank Erickson.

A soul searching "Keeping the Faith" by Billy Joel again changed the pace of the spring evening concert. A second contemporary composer, Lionel Richie, made his appearance with the tune, "Truly". The 1986 anthem of the year, "Born in the USA" by Bruce Springsteen rocked its way into the hearts of the many in the audience. A softer, but still rousing classical number, "Sarabanda and Gavotta" by Archangelo Corelli provided a brief quiet moment.

The wild, wild west and cowboys riding the range rustled to life during the medley, "They Went Thataway" ("How the West Was Won", "Shenandoah", "Maverick", "Lone Ranger", "Blazing Saddles", "Magnificent Seven" and "High Noon") by Paul Jennings. The cowboys had saddled their horses and closed the concert with a brief passing look at America that had come and gone.

Section leaders for the OHS Lions' Band include: Mark Sellers, Greg Underwood, Isais Flores, Michael Glaze, Bret Hood, Isabel Benitez, Richard Vargas, Amy Scoggins, Chantele Pesson, Missy Ybarra and Melody Stark. Those earning a first division rating in the U.I.L. solo/ensemble contest include Melody Stark, Leticia Longoria, Rosie Gonzales, Sandra Ramirez, Chantele Pesson, Richard Borrego, Santiago Onofre, Steven Villarreal, Opie DeHoyos, Norma Vasquez, Diane Sanchez, Bret Hood, Bryan Harms, Gary Perez, Michael Glaze, Rita Rios, Angel Henderson, Victor Villarreal, Mark Sellers, Joe Perez, Valdo Galindo and Trebie West.

The band was complemented this year by the industrious work of Drum Major Melody Stark, twirlers Sandra Ramirez, Judy Flores, Peggy Knox and Jennifer Probst. Also contributing to the beauty of the halftime performances during the 1985 football season were Front Line members Tonya Carter, Amy Jones, Eileen Moran, Lori Hohertz, Janet Diaz, Suzy King, Annalu Lopez and Frances Moran.

The bands are under the direction of Kelly Glaze and Eric Wharton.

Gary Davis served as master of ceremonies for the concert.

Brock Jones III advances to state level for Star Farmer award

Brock Jones III has advanced to the state level in competition for the Future Farmers of America Lone Star Farmer award.

Ozona High School senior Jones received regional awards for his sheep proficiency project during Future Farmers of America ceremonies May 15-16 at Angelo State University.

According to FFA teacher Richard Bridges, these awards pave the way for Jones to receive the Lone Star Farmer certificate, which is the highest degree awarded at the state level in the program.

The Lone Star Farmer must meet high standards of leadership and involvement in FFA. The Area II competition reaches to El Paso, and has the most participants of anywhere in the nation, Bridges said.

The local FFA chapter had 13 persons attend the awards program. Jones has gone up the ladder of achievement in the FFA Chapter at OHS. The first level of competition, Greenhand, represents outstanding effort by first year students. Chapter Farmer is the second level of competition, and Lone Star Farmer, the third; followed by the final national level American Farmer designation. Jones' eventual aim in 1987 will be American Farmer.

Jones also received an award from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers. He was awarded as "an outstanding member in agriculture, showing outstanding areas of leadership in sheep and goat production."

Rachel's reviews

By Rachel O. Hall

Several 4-H clothing members modeled their recent clothing creations Thursday, May 15, at the Care Center. 4-H members included: Leesa Haire, Terri Harms, Martha Mayfield, Tanya Ramos, Gina Snyder, Steffy Sutton, JoLynn Vannoy, Whitney Vannoy, Myra Wilson and Tess Worthington.

Shorts are tall on fashion for spring/summer '86, and home-sewers have an abundance of pattern styles from which to choose. Whatever your fashion preference or figure type, pattern companies have the shorts style for you.

Look for an array of lengths offered in shorts patterns, but note that styles tend to be longer and fuller than in seasons past. You'll see special emphasis on jumpsuit-styled shorts with or without a top underneath and cropped tops to show off waistline detail.

New from Simplicity is 7501, misses', men's and boy's easy-to-sew jams. Offered in three lengths, from mid-thigh to mid-calf, the jams have side pockets and back patch pockets. This is an ideal pattern for using one of the large wild prints so prevalent in the summer collections. It's a hot look.

If you love to work with knits, try Simplicity 7513, a misses' top and pull-on shorts sized for stretch knits only. Perfect for a t-shirt or sweat-shirt knit, this set has a very carefree look.

For a stylish, halter-styled jumpsuit, opt for the shorts version of McCall's 2534, an easy-fitting jumpsuit with back bodice elastic and elasticized waist. Perfect for cotton, linen or seersucker, it's a nice summertime piece.

One of the newest looks is wearing a drapey skirt over a shorts set, and McCall's 2512 executes this concept beautifully. Make the shorts jumpsuit and skirt all in the same fabric or do some pattern mixing with different fabrics in the same color scheme to add interest. It's a tasteful combination.

The conservative look continues to be evident this season as well, and Butterick 3821 is a classic example of the look. Try the above-the-knee, cuffed shorts and V-necked, short-sleeved shirt in a matching lightweight linen for a very classic appeal.

Shorts are a mainstay in spring and summertime fashion, and you'll look terrific in a pair of shorts suited especially for you!

Accidents injure four

Two accidents with injuries were investigated by DPS troopers from Ozona during the week. Three members of a Crane family were brought to Crockett County Hospital by EMS ambulance after their 1984 Chevrolet Suburban overturned Sunday. The accident occurred on Hwy. 137 one-half mile north of Hwy. 163 at 5:30 p.m. according to investigating officer Richard Barton.

Driver Lendwood Tarpley, his wife Sibyl, and son Lendwood Jr. received incapacitating injuries when the vehicle ran off the right side of the road and Tarpley overcorrected.

Reports indicate that the vehicle then crossed the roadway, swapped ends and ran off the left side of the road before rolling over. Substantial damage to the vehicle resulted.

A truck loaded with 45,000 pounds of oranges overturned 10 miles west of Sonora on I-10 May 19.

Driver and owner of the 1979 vehicle, Martin Guitierrez of Lytle, was reported in stable condition in Hudspeth Memorial Hospital with head injuries.

The truck was en route to San Antonio at the time of the 1:15 a.m. accident.

Phillips receives award

Hope Phillips of San Antonio has received the highest award an employee of Delta Air Lines can receive, the Customer Service Award. The recognition was given Miss Phillips for a good deed she performed recently above and beyond the call of duty.

Upon learning from Delta's Jacksonville, FL office that a car wreck in Kerrville had killed all members of a family except a seven-year-old boy, the marketing secretary for Delta met the boy's teacher, whom he had requested to see, in San Antonio and personally escorted her to the Kerrville hospital where the boy was recuperating. She also spent time that weekend visiting the boy.

Delta's Jacksonville office pitched in with a fundraiser to help pay the teacher's plane fare.

Miss Phillips, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Phillips of Ozona, has been with Delta in San Antonio 1 1/2 years.

Heritage Land Program registration

Pointing to the importance of recognizing and remembering the pioneer farm and ranch families in Texas, Sen. Bill Sims of San Angelo has invited long-time farming families to participate in the Texas Department of Agriculture's 1986 Family Land Heritage Program.

Registration for the program, which recognizes families who have had land in agricultural production for 100 years or more, is now open and will extend through July 15, Sen. Sims said.

Since the program was established in 1974 to honor pioneering families, 1,902 such families have been recognized.

The basic requirements of the program include continuous agricultural production on the farm or ranch for 100 years, land ownership within the family, complete operation or supervision of the farm/ranch production by family members who are Texas residents, and a size of at least 10 acres with a minimum income of $50 from farm or ranch products. If the farm or ranch is smaller than 10 acres, sales must total $250 per year.

"These families are living, productive symbols of our family farm unit. We celebrate their past achievements, and acknowledge the importance that such family farms hold for us in the future," he said.

This year's certified registrants will be honored at a state ceremony at the LBJ Library on October 15, 1986. Honorees will receive a certificate with an official sign/marker to be placed on the recipients' gate or home designating their property as a "Century Farm" or "Century Ranch". Property owners of 150 years or more will be awarded a special Sesquicentennial certificate. Additionally, a Family Land Heritage Registry will later be published and distributed to all honorees.

Those who wish to apply may obtain an application from County Judge, A. O. Fields, Mrs. P.L. Childress, Jr., County Historical Commission chairperson, the nearest TDA district office or by writing to: Family Land Heritage Program, Texas Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Sanchez wins third at state meet

By T. C. Tucker

Danny Sanchez rounded the corner, turning into the home-stretch, and in fourth place. Ten minutes later, he stood on the elevated platform, a third place medal hanging from his neck.

"I'm satisfied," said Sanchez of his 9:38 two mile run, 18 seconds off his regional time. The winning time: 9:25, a new AAA division record.

Sanchez, who felt awed by the entire atmosphere of the state meet, burst out to a first place lead for the first two laps in the race. Then Joey Chapman took the lead and Sanchez fell back to third.

"I thought that I was going to win it," he said.

For the next few laps, Sanchez stayed right behind both first and second place persons. But then Chapman broke away and Sanchez was stuck behind second place.

As the last lap neared, Sanchez had fallen back to fourth; first and second were secured by their holders.

"I thought that I was going to lose it," said Sanchez. But he kicked, exposing a burst of speed. Sanchez lacked 20 yards getting by second place.

"I'm extremely proud of it," Sanchez said of his third place finish. He said that his coaches on the far turn and his parents on the home-stretch turn really helped him a lot.

As to next year, Sanchez feels that with hard work he can reach state level in both the mile and two mile runs. He beat the AA division's time during his race at state and set two personal records.

Third grade classes experience star gazing

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Though the rhyme "twinkle, twinkle little star", brings back memories of childhood, amateur star gazers led by Peter and Paul Shacklette learned that planets, not stars do most of the twinkling in the dark, clear skies.

Two third grade classes and several adults traveled seven miles north of Ozona May 16 to hear how the Greek gods discovered and charted their way by Polaris, the Orion bull and Venus (the evening star).

Most junior and adult astronomers easily envisioned the Big Dipper shining brightly in the star-filled night sky. Craters on the half moon were glimpsed through two fought over pairs of binoculars. The bright half moon which lighted the way also restricted the number of star formations seen.

Within 20 minutes of the initial sightings, southeastern clouds rushed across the sky and obscured the clear view. Suddenly, the stars, moon and brightness were covered by low, cumulus clouds, and the star gazing had to be halted.

Third grade students making the spring outing included: Juan Trujillo, Victor Villa, Anthony Sanchez, Manuelita Quiroz, Stephen Perez, O. J. Ortiz, James Nelson, Doug Meador, Priscilla Martinez, Jesse Mailloux, Christine Hodges, Connie Fielder, and Eva Elizondo, from Bill Williams' class; Hiram Carrizales, Jose Estarva, Luis Flores, Rene Gonzales, Shane Hester, Michael Mitchell and Randy Munoz, from Mrs. Walter Spiller's class.

Adults accompanying the amateur astronomers included: Bill Williams, organizer of the project; Mrs. Lupe Sanchez, Armando Carrizales, Patsy Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spiller, Gary Buck Mitchell, Paul and Peter Shacklette, master astronomy teachers; Rosalind Williams, Cynthia Hodges and Candace Williams.

Time to control casebearer

Insecticide application for control of the pecan nut casebearer in Ozona should be made on May 25 plus or minus three days.

Control measures should be applied to control the small casebearer larvae just after the larvae hatch and before they begin to tunnel into the nutlets (two days after hatch).

There will be some difference in the time that casebearer hatch between pecan varieties. To determine the exact time to control casebearer, the nutlet may be inspected daily for eggs and the first casebearer damaged nutlet. When the first damaged nutlet is observed, control measures should be applied.

Homeowners can use Zolone, Malathion, or Carbaryl (Sevin R) for control. Commercial producers may use Guthion R, Carbaryl, Malathion, Phosalone (Zolone R). Follow the directions on the label for mixing and applying the spray treatment.

Zinc should be applied to the foliage of pecan trees when applying an insecticide for casebearer control. Regular zinc applications are needed for good development of pecans and terminal growth.

The May 25 date was predicted by the pecan nut casebearer model. Temperature data was accumulated for the county starting in late March and ending in mid May. From that point, historical weather data for May was used to predict the date when larvae begin entering nutlets. This level of accuracy is, in general, close enough to time insecticide application for effective control.

Ranchers Roundup new look

The 1986 International Rancher's Roundup has put on a new face. According to Drs. Dwight Guynn and Tom Troxel of Uvalde, coordinators of this year's meeting, many changes have been made in this annual educational event.

The IRR has been shortened by one day and will be held later in the summer, August 18-21, than past IRR meetings. The Y-O Hilton in Kerrville will be the official IRR headquarters, but some activities will be held at the Inn of the Hills.

"We are designing this year's IRR to be the best ever," said Guynn. "We are striving for the best information that is practical and applicable for ranchers. This year's IRR in Kerrville will have the luxury of the Y-O Hilton and the Inn of the Hills as a backdrop for a meeting that ranchers will never forget."

The meeting is sponsored annually by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to provide ranchers an opportunity to learn the latest management styles, techniques and technology. In addition, a special selection of ranchers have been scheduled on the program to tell what they have found most important in making their ranches successful. "IRR coordinators make a special effort to insure that ranchers with proven, successful methods are a major part of the program," Guynn said.

The theme for this year's meeting will be "Resource Management for Ranching Success." Guynn said, "We realize that agriculture in general and ranching in particular, is suffering some hard times. The IRR is aimed at addressing that exact issue by showing ranchers what is being done by innovators in ranching to maintain profitability."

Past meetings have included speakers from New Zealand, South Africa, Hawaii and Mexico, as well as many parts of the state. This year's IRR speakers will include, among others, James Innes, a rancher from Haldon Station, Central South Island, New Zealand. Innes will discuss new Genepool cattle breeding programs, Merino sheep operations "down under", and the New Zealand red deer farming operations.

Others who have been asked to speak include two of the owners of Tom Brothers Ranch, Campbellton; Claudia Ball, owner-operator of Hudspeth River Ranches in West Texas; Robin Giles, a Kendall County rancher; and Geoff Nielson, the New Zealand-born manager of Twin Creeks Ranch near Devine.
