Stock Show is a winner!!!

Congratulations to all the 4-H and FFA students who participated in the 83rd edition of the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show. Approximately 388 animals were exhibited during the annual event held at the Friona Community Center. The show consisted of 23 rabbits, 3 heifers, 178 barrows, 68 goats, 80 lambs, and 36 steers.

A few scheduling changes were made for this year's show and everything seemed to run smoothly. In fact, show officials said there is no reason why the show cannot continue to grow in the future. Thanks to all of the Ag teachers, 4-H leaders, and parents for providing an opportunity for kids to get involved with agriculture at the ground level. For complete results, please see the special section.

Texas Weekly Fuel Update and Outlook

Texas gas prices have fallen 3.0 cents in the past week, averaging $2.23 per gallon, according to GasBuddy's daily survey of 13,114 stations. Gas prices in Texas are 2.6 cents per gallon higher than a month ago and stand 29.0 cents per gallon higher than a year ago.

According to GasBuddy price reports, the cheapest station in Texas is priced at $1.99 while the most expensive is $3.59 per gallon. The cheapest price in the entire country stands at $1.89 while the most expensive is $5.74 per gallon. The national average price of gasoline has fallen 2.0 cents per gallon in the last week, averaging $2.55 per gallon. The national average is down 0.8 cents per gallon from a month ago and stands 30.4 cents per gallon higher than a year ago.

"With oil prices sagging lately, the door has been opened for a notable decline in U.S. gasoline prices, and that's exactly what has happened, with more declines likely coming ahead of us before the fun is over," said Patrick DeHaan, head of petroleum analysis for GasBuddy. "The Midwest has been the largest beneficiary of seasonal effects thus far with prices in several areas there declining upwards of 10-15 cents per gallon. The rest of the country will follow lower for the time being as demand for gasoline remains abysmal and the fuel being produced today will have to eventually be purged from the system over the next few months as refiners begin the transition to summer gasoline."

GasBuddy is the authoritative voice for gas prices and the only source for station-level data spanning nearly two decades. Unlike AAA's once daily survey covering credit card transactions at 100,000 stations and the Lundberg Survey, updated once every two weeks based on 7,000 gas stations, GasBuddy's survey updates 288 times every day from the most diverse list of sources covering nearly 150,000 stations nationwide, the most comprehensive and up-to-date in the country. GasBuddy data is accessible at <http://FuelInsights.GasBuddy.com>.

Farmhouse to Your House

Is God Your Priority?

By Teena Hughs

I am trying, once again, to read through the Bible in a year. One of my favorites is the i Worship Daily Devotional Bible. You read several chapters of Scripture; then you read a devotional.

One day the Scriptures were Genesis 21:1 - 23:20. These verses relate God telling Abraham to sacrifice his beloved son Isaac.

This is difficult for us to envision. Abraham had waited until he was 100 years old for the birth of his son that God had been promising, and now God wanted Abraham to sacrifice him. It is not something we would ever picture God doing. Can you put yourself in Abraham's place and try to imagine what he must have been going through?

"This scene shocks us with its blunt and sobering truth: God will have no rivals. He must possess our souls, and He will ruthlessly take us to places where He can unveil what we value most. If the great treasure of our hearts is not Himself, then God will demonstrate that He is all we need by making sure that He is all we have.

"Ironically, it is in these darkest moments--if we are at all perceptive--that we discover that He is what we hunger for most and that nothing else can ever truly satisfy. Then we can sing without hesitation: 'Take my heart, it is Thine own; it shall be Thy royal throne.'

"What will it mean for you to make your heart God's royal throne? Take time to assess any activities or even relationships that may threaten to replace God as the top priority in your life. Offer these to God as an act of obedient sacrifice."

In Abraham's situation, God was ALL he had, ALL he could depend on, and sure enough, God used a ram whose horns were caught in a bush as the substitute sacrifice for Isaac.

In our lives, during the good seasons, during the difficult seasons, God is ALL we have, He is ALL we can depend on. However, we won't know that unless He is our number one priority.

As we pray, I hope we will pray the prayer at the conclusion of the devotional: "Make me willing, O great King of my soul, to turn my back on anything and everything that threatens to displace you from the throne of my life."

Psalm 149-Surprising Praise

By Brett Hoyle, Pastor, First Baptist Church

"Praise the Lord!" is the opening and closing phrase in Psalm 149, which is how most English Bible versions translate the Hebrew phrase "Hallelujah." There truly is so much to praise the Lord for, and there are many ways that we are able to give God praise. This Psalm affirms the scriptural validity of praising God through songs, new songs, dancing, music, in the midst of a congregation, and through personal praise. These ideas are not new to Psalm 149, nor are they surprising to one familiar with the Psalms, but what does come across as surprising is the final three verses.

The first of these final three verses says "Let the high praises of God be in their throats and two-edged swords in their hands" and from there the focus is on God's vengeance and judgments on His enemies. Modern sensitivities lead us to step back as such abrasive sounding verses, but when you consider what is says about God's character leads to further praise. Namely, God is just and is the final judge. One can praise God that the wicked will be held accountable by God for their sin, and that in the end, God will reign. In fact, meditating on God's judgment leads one to see his love, grace and mercy even more because each person deserves God's judgment, yet God gives forgiveness to all who come to Christ in repentance and faith. Praise God for His justice, and praise God for Jesus, who bore the judgment of our sin on the cross!

Plowing in the Dark

By Jeff Procter, Minister, 6th Street Church of Christ

In the summers during high school, I plowed a lot of layout ground to keep the weeds at bay. We had enough rain to keep me busy. On one particularly large field, I needed to extend my driving time. Plowing in the dark has its challenges, mainly my imagination. The lights on the old tractor could only show you what was just in front of you and the plow just behind you and depending on the breeze add a little dirt in the mix and you couldn't see very well. You had to stay focused. So I plowed and plowed and when the diesel got low I stopped it was well after midnight and very dark. A little frustrated because I knew I hadn't done very much I headed to the pickup really fast, did I mention it was dark. The next day I headed back to continue my pursuit of weed control and I learned I had done quite a bit more than previously thought. In fact, I had nearly finished.

I think we have some plowing in the dark in our lives, as well. Jobs that seem too big, journeys that seem a bit pointless at the time. Yet we keep going faith demands such and when the dawn finally comes we see God has walked us a lot further than we had imagined. Darkness has a way of making us focus or get distracted. I was pretty sure, two mountain lions, a bear and 300 coyotes followed me around that night and I could only see just around the tractor. The hardest part after turning off the tractor was getting the courage to step into the darkness and go to the pickup. Yet the feeling of accomplishment come day break made me thankful for continuing on when I didn't want to go another round.

As we near the second month of this new year. I challenge you to face your fears. I don't know what they are, but I am sure darkness is part of the equation. Know that God has brought you to this point and He will see you through this too. So when darkness surrounds, focus, pray and keep plowing. Have a blessed day.

Governor requests presidential disaster declaration

AUSTIN — Gov. Greg Abbott on Jan. 13 asked for a presidential disaster declaration for three counties that sustained widespread damage attributed to severe thunderstorms, straight-line winds, hail and tornadoes.

The stormy weather on Oct. 20-21 hit Cameron, Dallas and Erath counties. Abbott's request includes public assistance and hazard mitigation.

"The State of Texas is committed to ensuring the people of Cameron, Dallas and Erath counties have the resources they need to continue rebuilding the public infrastructure," Abbott said. "With the help of our federal partners, these communities can rebuild quickly and gain access to important recovery resources. I ask that the president swiftly grant this request in order to expedite valuable support to these counties."

If Abbott's request is granted, local jurisdictions will be eligible for federal reimbursement for the cost of disaster-related debris removal, emergency measures to protect life and property and permanent repair work to damaged or destroyed infrastructure such as roads, bridges, water treatment facilities, parks and publicly owned property.

Proclamation extended

Gov. Abbott on Jan. 14 extended the disaster proclamation he originally signed on Aug. 23, 2017, and amended several times thereafter, pertaining to 60 counties affected by Hurricane Harvey.

Texas law authorizes the use of all available resources of state government and of political subdivisions that are reasonably necessary to cope with the disaster.

Miller hails trade deal

When President Donald Trump signed the "Phase One" trade agreement with China on Jan. 15, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Sid Miller called it "huge, Texas-sized news."

The agreement calls for China to increase its purchase of U.S.-produced goods by $200 billion, including the import of agricultural products by $40 billion to $50 billion over the next two years.

U.S. negotiators agreed to cut tariffs in half on goods from China, from 15% down to 7.5%.

Goal: donor protection

Texas Attorney General Paxton on Jan. 14 joined the attorneys general of 23 states in an agreement with PayPal Charitable Fund Inc., the charitable arm of PayPal.

In the agreement, the states seek to ensure donors are given clear information and disclosures on where their money goes when making charitable contributions through the company's online payment platform.

Previously, the platform aggregated and distributed funds to the donors' chosen charities without collecting fees; however, charities that maintained a PayPal account received contributions more quickly than others. That fact was not disclosed to donors, nor was the fact that sometimes contributions were redirected away from the donor's selected charity and given to a different organization with similar purposes.

"Texans are generous people who selflessly give to countless charities and causes. They deserve to know exactly where their contributions go and how they are handled," Paxton said. "The agreement reached today marks a recognition of the responsibilities charitable funds have to donors, and we are grateful for the new PayPal Charitable Fund provisions that will better inform all who choose to give to charity through the online platform."

Agency set record again

During calendar year 2019 the Texas Railroad Commission processed a record 11,654 new drilling permits.

The Lone Star State's oil and gas industry regulating agency announced its staff also set a record in taking just two days on average to process standard drilling permits, one day below the Legislative requirement.

Also, according to a Jan. 13 news release, the agency processed permits at this faster-than-required rate for two years in a row, beginning in calendar year 2018.

"The Railroad Commission's technological solutions enable operators to quickly apply for and receive drilling permits," said Wei Wang, executive director of the agency. "Nearly 99 percent of operators apply for drilling permits online. This allows our staff to thoroughly and quickly review each application to ensure operators meet all drilling permit requirements."

Texas leads the nation in oil and gas production, with the Permian Basin in West Texas ranking as the nation's top energy production region. In the last 12 months Texas operators reported 1.438 billion barrels of oil produced and almost 10 trillion cubic feet of gas.

The U.S. Geological Survey estimates the Permian Basin contains 66 billion barrels of oil, nearly 300 trillion cubic feet of natural gas and 21 billion barrels of natural gas liquids in the Midland and Delaware Basins.

"Texas will continue to be the nation's leader in energy production," Wang said. "The Railroad Commission's efficient, timely permit review processes are essential to the continued development of the state's energy resources and ultimately support Texas' economic prosperity."

Biscuits and Gravy and Bacon

Following along the lines of breakfast foods, Clint chose to share his family's biscuits and gravy recipe. As a bonus he has included a couple of ways to cook bacon. Of course, you don't have to serve this only in the morning; it makes a hearty and delicious supper as well.

Biscuits and gravy are traditionally known as Southern cuisine and often are associated with Appalachia cooking from the late 1800s. The term "sawmill" gravy derives from the lumber mining towns that so often served biscuits and sausage gravy as a hearty yet inexpensive staple. However, it is possible that biscuits and gravy were served as far back as the Revolutionary War.

Biscuits were not always the light and flaky version that we are accustomed to today. They tended to be hard and dry. Not until 1877 when baking powder and soda became commercially available, did biscuits become the soft version we enjoy. Biscuits were considered a delicacy up until the Civil War and were often served only on Sundays. In 1883 White Lily flour became available and homemade biscuits began to be served all days of the week.

Biscuits and gravy were known as a meal of the poor because it was a quick and affordable way to scratch together a meal. Biscuits were usually made from flour, baking powder, salt, and either milk or water. In 1952 Colonel Sanders introduced the Southern Biscuit to the nation through his new venture, Kentucky Fried Chicken. In recent years, biscuits and gravy have become even more popular and can be found even in high end restaurants.

One last interesting fact is that a "biscuit" in England refers to a crunchy cookie, while in the U.S, a biscuit is a quick rising soft bread.

Biscuits and Gravy and Bacon

Biscuits

Ingredients:
2 cups flour, lightly packed
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 to 1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1 cup buttermilk

Mix dry ingredients, then blend in shortening until shortening is in tiny pieces. Stir in buttermilk until just blended, don't overmix.

Turn out on floured waxed paper. Pat lightly into oval shape about 1 inch high. Cut with biscuit cutter and place in 12" x 15" pan that has 2 tablespoons oil in it.

Bake for 14 to 16 minutes at 450°.

Gravy

Ingredients:
1/4 cup butter (1/2 stick)
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 to 3 cups milk

Mix flour and butter in skillet and brown to a golden brown color over medium heat. Add 2 cups of milk and stir until it thickens, then add extra milk if gravy is too thick.

Bacon

Bacon can be prepared in a variety of ways. You can buy it pre-cooked and just warm it in the microwave. You can also cook it in a pan and use the grease left in place of the butter for making the gravy. I like to cook the bacon in a microwave using a tray that catches the grease. I usually cook six slices at a time. I will cook them on high for two minutes, turn them over, and cook them for two more minutes. Then I cook them in 30 second increments until I get the desired crispness. I like to crunch the bacon in pieces and layer it on top of the gravy and add pepper.

Chieftain Choices is February 7th

Chieftain Choices 2020 will be held on Friday, February 7 from 8:00 am - 12:00 pm at Friona High School. This event includes a college fair, a career fair, a health fair, a speaker, as well as an opportunity for our 8th graders to come over and see what Friona High school has to offer. Each 8th grader has to choose a po-

Thank Texas School Board Members during January's School Board Recognition Month

Governor Greg Abbott has declared January School Board Recognition Month to honor the more than 7,200 locally elected trustees in Texas.

These unpaid volunteers work closely with the community to support the success of public education, oversee the district superintendent, and attend trainings to encourage constant growth, all to ensure students have the best schools possible. The Texas Association of School Boards (TASB) is joining the celebration by encouraging the community to show appreciation to these men and women.

"In communities across the state, dedicated school board members willingly step forward to tackle serious issues and deal with financial uncertainties while receiving no pay in order to provide excellent educational experiences for all children," said James B. Crow, TASB executive director. "We urge every community to thank and support local board members. Join us in applauding their service to our students, our communities, and this state," said Crow.

"Though many may not realize it, school boards play a crucial role in ensuring our precious children receive the best education possible by working with parents, education professionals, and community members to create successful learning environments," said Governor Abbott in his proclamation.

The Friona Independent School District teachers, staff, and students salute the district's Board of Trustees for their loyal service to the district and the community.
