CC joins area colleges in new partnership

Clarendon College has joined Amarillo College and Frank Phillips College in forming a partnership that is unique in the state of Texas and is aimed at making students' lives easier.

The presidents from each college - Dr. Phil Shirley of CC, Dr. Paul Matney of AC, and Dr. Jud Hicks of FPC - signed a Memorandum of Understanding last Wednesday in Amarillo launching the partnership.

The three colleges will begin instituting policies that ease and improve transferability between the institutions; align programs and program offerings; and provide greater overall options for students.

Representatives from each school met later the same day to begin the process of working together to benefit students and will meet again in January to continue the process.

"I think this is a huge leap forward," Clarendon College President Phil Shirley said. "Anytime that you can come together and agree that the student is number one, you have put yourself in a position to help the student the most."

Dates are also being scheduled in the early spring for each school's representatives to visit the other colleges in order to be better informed about each college's programs and course offerings.

Randall receives 10-year sentence

A Clarendon woman received a ten-year sentence when the district court met here last Tuesday, November 29.

A contested revocation resulted in the maximum sentence of April Randall.

District Attorney Luke Inman prosecuted the case for the State of Texas with the Honorable Judge Stuart Messer presiding.

Randall, 25, pleaded true to allegations listed in the State's Motion to Adjudicate Guilt of Defendant. After the plea of true, a punishment hearing was held where the State called one witness.

The State called Marci Mills, a probation officer with the 100th Judicial District Community Supervision Corrections Department.

Mills testified that Randall had committed two other misdemeanor offenses which she had been convicted of after being placed on probation in the 100th Judicial District.

After all the testimony and evidence was presented, Randall was convicted and sentenced to ten years in the Institutional Division of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice.

On November 16, 2010, Randall originally pleaded guilty to the third degree felony offense of retaliation that occurred on July 17, 2010.

This criminal case stems from a criminal jury trial in which Randall's husband, Michael Randall, was convicted and sentenced by a Donley County jury on a sexual assault of a child, according to Inman.

"Victims and witnesses that come forward and testify in criminal proceedings must be protected," said Inman. "The Donley County Sheriff's Office was able to diffuse a hostile situation quickly and protect an eyewitness from April Randall shortly after the jury trial against her husband concluded."

According to Inman, Randall accosted a testifying witness at the Dollar General after Randall's husband was sentenced to 13 years in the Institutional Division of the TDCJ.

The State filed the motion to adjudicate on March 31, 2011, alleging one violation of community supervision.

Randall is also required to pay $437 in court costs to Donley County.

Merchants to donate to Senior Citizens

Shopping at home next Friday will benefit the community even more when several Clarendon merchants donate part of their sales to the Donley County Senior Citizens Center.

So far six local businesses have signed up for a special promotion to help raise funds for the senior citizens.

"We always give money to projects at the school and the college, but this is a chance to help those who have served our community for years," said Terri Floyd at Every Nook & Cranny. "They've done their part for Clarendon, and now we can give back to them."

Floyd said other communities are not as fortunate to have such a good senior center, and she hopes people will participate and help the merchants in this endeavor.

"We're lucky to have a good facility, and they have a great leader in Mary Shields," Floyd said.

Shields said she was excited when Floyd approached her with merchants' idea.

"It's excellent and wonderful," Shields said. "We really appreciate the businesses, and I certainly intend to do most of my Christmas shopping at home. The value of these local businesses is often overlooked. They are so valuable to our community."

Senior citizens centers are constantly in need of funds, but recent government regulations have put even more burden on these organizations. New dietary guidelines banning fried foods and canned foods means the local center needs about $5,000 in new equipment to prepare its daily meals.

"We also are looking at a new expense of $800 to $1,000 per month to deliver milk to everyone on Meals on Wheels," Shields said.

The government now requires that milk be included with each meal even if the client does not want the milk, she said.

A complete list of merchants participating in next Friday's fundraiser is not yet ready, but so far the businesses include: Every Nook & Cranny, Stavenhagen Video, Mike's Pharmacy, Country Bloomers & Gifts, Henson's, and Sayes. Look in next week's Enterprise for more information.

Why isn't everyone in the streets

By Larry Klayman

The tea party has morphed into a Hollywood production of "Silence of the Lambs," while Occupy Wall Streeters are in the streets fighting, in mostly a non-violent way, for their leftist causes.

Instead of taking strong actions in support of conservative principles, most of my tea-party friends are apparently drinking the Kool-Aid of political commentators like Glenn Beck (who is dead wrong on this one), historically self-serving, hypocritical and self-proclaimed values conservative Bill O'Reilly (who reportedly had Fox News pay $8 million to settle his own sexual harassment case years ago), Sean Hannity and a host of others in what has become the so-called conservative voice on this issue. Their disdain for the left has perverted their thinking as they do "Hail Marys," apparently believing that a political messiah will descend to lead We the People to the promised land as the nation continues its downward spiral. "Well," as President Reagan used to say at the beginning of eloquent sentences expressing his truly great thoughts, these commentators are not leading us to the Promised Land, but instead the Land of Oz. Their wizardry in boosting the ratings of Fox News or GBTV by lashing out and whipping up hatred toward the Occupy Wall Street crowd may make for "good" television, but it is not serving the interests of the country during this dire period.

Last Thursday, Congress passed another piece of phony debt-reduction legislation, as Republicans again sold out the tea partiers. And, if you think the Republican Party is going to produce a candidate that can defeat President Barack Hussein Obama, then think again. Even were this so, what makes tea partiers think that a Republican president will pull the nation out of its nosedive? Indeed, it was a Republican president, George W. Bush, and his power-hungry and constitutionally bereft vice president, Dick Cheney, who, after eight years of scandal during the Clinton era, contributed mightily to sending America into its economic and strategic crash, both domestically and internationally. Then along came the "mullah in chief," Barack Hussein Obama, to put his socialist, radical-Muslim-loving icing on, and to finish off, the stale cake.

As we enter into the Thanksgiving holiday, the only turkeys who should have their necks on the chopping block are our so-called "fearless establishment leaders."

The volatile and bizarre Republican primary presidential race and polls help underscore why I am more than pessimistic that anyone will emerge to challenge Obama and his minions who can truly play a role in restoring our nation to greatness. Just look who is atop the polls this week - none other than Newt Gingrich and Herman Cain, having seemingly self-destructed over his weak defense of sexual harassment allegations by a host of "Gloria Allred inspired" women. Herman's response to the allegations reminded me of a scene in Woody Allen's first film, "Take the Money and Run," where the main character, Fielding Mellish, as a fragile young boy, steps on his own glasses and breaks them before the bullies could get there to do the job.

Just recently, unsurprisingly, it was revealed that Mr. Newt was in effect a lobbyist for Freddie Mac from 1999 to 2008, raking in a whopping $1.6 million dollars. As you may recall, Freddie Mac, along with Fannie Mae, are the two quasi-governmental stogie agencies that contributed mightily to the housing mortgage bust and the world's resulting economic depression.

The rest of the GOP field are a bunch of political pygmies, save for Mitt Romney. While Mr. Mitt is a good-looking distinguished guy who looks like a president, unfortunately his always-shifting stances and positions, his leftist past and his wooden-like personality make his election as president less than certain, no matter what low confidence the American people have in Obama's handling of the economy.

So there you have it. There is no political messiah that can lead this nation back from the current state of self-destruction. And, even if there were, We the People - after decades of poor leadership save for President Reagan - cannot afford to sit back in our proverbial rocking chairs and wait for a real leader to emerge someday.

So why are Beck, O'Reilly, Hannity and others carping at the left for their Occupy Wall Street movement, when we conservatives also should be in the streets using peaceful civil disobedience to further our cherished goals - goals that were conceived of and inspired by God through our Founding Fathers?

Moses told the Egyptian pharaohs that their time was up and, exited stage left to the "streets of the Sinai" with his flock, later finding God's Promised Land. And, Jesus, the son of God, died for our sins, leading His flock, mostly Jews who gravitated to him, to a new world and spiritual order.

Are we revolutionaries like Moses or Jesus, or are we Fielding Mellishes, who step on our own glasses before the establishment bullies crush us, too?

Are we turkeys to be carved up by the establishment, or will we get up from the chopping block and represent with our own civil disobedience - in the streets - our own proper interests?

Clarence Thomas makes an impression

By Dr. Mark W. Hendrickson

On Tuesday, November 15, Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas visited Grove City College. I had a choice to make - whether to meet him or attend to the tons of work I had to finish before several looming deadlines.

I don't share our society's fascination with famous people. I never go out of my way to meet them, and when I do meet them, I don't ask them for their autographs like some starry-eyed teenager. The father of a close friend once told me that every man, regardless of how important a position he may hold, puts his pants on one leg at a time. A person and the position that he or she holds are two different things, and the office does not automatically confer greatness.

I decided to set aside everything to meet Justice Thomas. This man has bravely and heroically defended the U.S. Constitution for the last two decades, and for this alone, he has earned my gratitude. It would have been selfish of me not to have taken a couple of hours out of my schedule to express my appreciation to him for his valiant efforts - especially since I would probably never have another opportunity to do so.

I arrived early at a private luncheon for the Grove City faculty and Justice Thomas. He arrived early, too, and since I was the only one there at the moment, he came up to me and we introduced ourselves. That was the beginning of an uplifting, inspiring day for me.

I can attest that Clarence Thomas is a warm, down-to-earth, personable man. The first question he asked me, when I told him that I taught economics, was whether I was familiar with the work of Ludwig von Mises. When I replied that I had earned my doctorate under Hans Sennholz, who had earned his under Mises, we were off to the races.

Besides economics, we compared notes about our upbringing. I had read part of Justice Thomas' autobiography and was amazed at some of the uncanny parallels in our lives. Both of us were raised not by our fathers but by older, stern male relatives who practiced "tough love" and even kicked us out of the house during our rebellious, angry, cheap-wine-drinking, socialist-leaning college years. As young men, we both had our Christian awakenings. I should mention that my youth was not nearly as challenging as his, because he had to deal with the cruel racism that permeated the Deep South when he was a boy - an awful burden that he has transcended, largely through the Christian grace of forgiving those who had done wrong.

Justice Thomas is one of the most amazing people I have ever met. Indeed, I am groping for words that do full justice to the impact that Justice Thomas had on those of us who listened to him in the intimate setting of small classrooms and other occasions. I wish you could have seen the way our students' faces lit up while listening to him. We have very mature, attentive students at Grove City College, but I have never seen them as rapt as when Justice Thomas was speaking with them. He shared wisdom, personal vignettes, historical perspective, and helpful insights, but there was another level of communication going on that transcended his words:

It may sound corny to say this in this cynical day and age, but we were blown away by the sheer goodness and virtue of this man. I truly found Clarence Thomas to be the epitome of humility, integrity, public service, and faithfulness - both to God and to the solemn responsibilities of his important office. In regard to the latter, Justice Thomas was always discreet, carefully withholding his personal opinions whenever a question was asked about an issue that the Supreme Court would be adjudicating. He reiterated that his job was not to make rules for the rest of us - to presume to judge whether a law or application of a law was good or bad, wise or imprudent - but simply to determine whether it was constitutional.

Before meeting Justice Thomas, I respected him immensely. After meeting him, my admiration grew exponentially. Again, call me corny, but I was affected in a spiritual way - like I was a better person for having been in the presence of this good man. I don't feel that way often.

Godspeed, Justice Thomas. And thank you not only for what you are doing but also for who you are.

Incontrovertible truth about deficit

Winton Churchill once said, "The truth is incontrovertible. Malice may attack it, ignorance may deride it, but in the end, there it is." Here's the incontrovertible truth about budget deficits: spending is (still) out of control.

The national debt is now more than $15 trillion. The budget deficit for this fiscal year alone will be more than $1 trillion. This mountain of debt is a growing obstacle to economic recovery and is literally crushing our children's futures. But for many in Washington, it's still business as usual.

The same budget gimmicks and accounting tricks are being used to frustrate earnest attempts to rein in spending. We cannot restore financial responsibility to Washington until we put an end to dishonest budgeting. That is why I have joined 20 Senators as a cosponsor of the Honest Budget Act, which will outlaw no fewer than nine commonly used tricks to hide unnecessary spending. Here are a couple examples of the badly needed reforms that our Honest Budget Act would make:

- Take down the Christmas tree. This isn't to spoil the holiday season, but to halt adding tens of billions of dollars in pet spending projects to emergency spending bills. Congress sometimes needs to make special appropriations to cover the costs of unanticipated military operations or natural disaster assistance. These bills should be limited to true emergencies only.
- Outlaw the budgetary shell games. Like the capitol comment

by sen. kay bailey hutchison slight of hand practiced with three walnut shells and one pea, one of the budget games played most often is shifting funds - from one year to another, from one account to another to frustrate accurate counting. What it all adds up to is more deficit spending.

In total, these and other such gimmicks included in HBA have resulted in $350 billion in unnecessary spending since 2005 - all of it added to the national debt on which we - and our children - will be paying interest for decades to come. The nine common sense reforms in our bill would require accurate accounting and put an end to the budgetary game-playing, and prevent additional hundreds of billions of dollars of unnecessary and unauthorized spending.

Leaders in Washington remain divided over starkly different visions about the proper role of government in a free society and about the best approach for re-energizing our economy. This ongoing debate about the size, scope, and proper role of the federal government may not be resolved until the national elections in 2012. But the Honest Budget Act advances principles that Republicans, Democrats, and Independents can agree on: accountability, honesty, and transparency in spending taxpayers' money.

These common sense reforms are long overdue. Congress should enact the Honest Budget Act

Electrical safety tips from SWEPCO for holiday season

"The year's largest and most festive holiday season is upon us. In addition to the cheer, sharing and family togetherness, safety should be considered when decorating the house," says Scott McCloud, AEP Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO) communications consultant in Shreveport, La. "Electrical safety is especially important during the Christmas season due to decorative lights draped through trees and around homes."

LED (light-emitting diode) string lighting uses about 90 percent less energy than standard incandescent string lights, which means the cost to light a typical Christmas tree with LEDs is about $1 per season. LED holiday lights are a bit more expensive than incandescent, but usually pay for themselves with the first year's energy savings. LED lights generate much less heat and are cool to the touch, and may last up to 10 years.

SWEPCO recommends the following safety tips for your home this holiday season.

- Use only Christmas lights and extension cords that are safety-certified by a recognized testing agency such as Underwriters Laboratory (UL). Check your tree lights and outdoor lights for damage each year before you use them. Discard lights with frayed wires, loose connections and broken or cracked sockets.

- Follow the manufacturer's instructions for using tree lights. All lights should be fastened securely to the tree, but never with conductive wire. Bulbs should not come into direct contact with needles or branches on natural trees. Though they don't emit much heat, it could eventually be enough to dry out the tree limbs.

- Select lights appropriately and never use indoor lights outside because they are not designed to be waterproof and could short circuit. Outdoor lights, on the other hand, are usually hotter than indoor and could pose a hazard if placed on a tree.

- Don't overload wall outlets or extension cords.

- Remind children never to touch lights or outlets.

Reminder: Let the buyer beware

The old phrase "caveat emptor," or let the buyer beware, remains as true today as it ever was.

Recent news reports indicate that chicken jerky dog treats imported from China and sold at several American stores are tainted, and have resulted in several pet deaths. That's sad for those who have lost their pets or have seen them become ill. But it's also ominous news considering that China has announced intentions to enter the vaccine market and make cheaper inoculations available worldwide. Cheaper yes, but safer?

Meanwhile, also this week,

Donley County Sheriff's Office along with other law enforcement agencies announced a campaign to make Americans aware of the dangers of buying counterfeit goods. Often sold on websites, these items range from handbags and replica football jerseys to boots and toys. But it's not just a crime, it's also a safety issue, considering most of these counterfeit items are not inspected and would not meet safety standards if they were.

There are definitely good deals to be found out there, but we urge shoppers to exercise caution when seeking bargains.

Trusting reputable names and local companies that are accountable to the community is certainly a better option than throwing caution to the wind and taking risks in order to pinch pennies.

Remember trade at home and you will know who you are dealing with. It would also be a lot easier to return an item if it didn't work.

Howardwick residents receive freezing rain, sleet, snow

Those weather-guessers had everyone convinced we should hibernate for the weekend with rain, freezing rain, sleet, and snow in the daily forecast with cold, cold weather.

It did rain Saturday morning, about 1/3 inch, and of course we had wind, but it was not necessary to hibernate. I wonder how many events were cancelled or not attended because of the forecast. They are predicting snow and extremely cold weather during the week, we shall see.

December 7, 1941, "the date that will live in infamy" - an often quoted line from Franklin D Roosevelt's speech by radio to the American public after the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese. We say "Remember Pearl Harbor," and I wonder what we should remember? Don't trust anyone? That is a good one and should apply to friends and enemies alike.

4-H youth compete in Amarillo

AMARILLO - More than 300 youth from 22 Panhandle counties participated in three contests targeting healthy lifestyles in the past month. 4-H youth gathered at the Clarendon College campus in Pampa for Nutrition Quiz Bowl and at Bushland High School for the Panhandle District 4-H Food Show and Food Challenge.

For Food Show competition, youth prepared a dish, served it to a panel of judges and answered questions in an interview format, said Brandon Dukes, Texas AgriLife Extension Service 4-H and youth specialist. 4-H is the youth program of AgriLife Extension.

The questions concerned the preparation skills needed to make their dish, the food safety concerns in preparation and storage of their dish, the nutrients in the product, and how the nutrients affect their bodies, Dukes said.

The four first place senior 4-H members, ages 14-19, will advance to state competition at Texas 4-H Roundup on the Texas Tech University campus in Lubbock in June.

Local winners were: Shelby O'Keefe, Donley County, won first place in the Open Party Theme, a non-state qualifying category.

Other placings in the Food Show were: Juniors (ages 9-10) - Soup (Hot or Cold) 3. Charlotte Craft, Donley County; and Cupeake - 2. Elizabeth Craft, Donley County.

Throughout this process, 4-H members are applying the knowledge and skills gained through participation in the 4-H foods and nutrition project, demonstrating their culinary and food safety skills, and continuing to learn about making healthier food choices, he said.

AgriLife Extension recognizes 4-H members and volunteers

AMARILLO - Twenty-seven 4-H members and 23 volunteer leaders from the Panhandle area were honored for their outstanding contributions to the 4-H program at the 54th annual Gold Star Banquet for District 1 on December 3 at the Alumni Banquet Facility of West Texas A&M University in Canyon.

To qualify for the Gold Star Award, the highest 4-H honor at the county level, a 4-H member must be at least 15 years old, have completed three years of club work, be an active member and complete a record book, said Brandon Dukes, Texas AgriLife Extension Service 4-H specialist. 4-H is the youth program of AgriLife Extension.

"The award is intended to stimulate winners to higher achievement and to encourage other young people to participate in the county 4-H program," Dukes said.

In addition, he said, the banquet is used as a forum to recognize volunteer leaders who pitch in whenever and where ever they are needed, such as participating in committees, providing leadership and helping build self-confidence throughout the 4-H program.

"Volunteers are the key to our 4-H program," Dukes said. "We value them greatly. This is our one opportunity during the year to salute them and recognize volunteers from each county in front of their peers."

The following Gold Star Award recipients were among those recognized by Danny Nusser, AgriLife Extension district administrator, and Dukes: Donley County - John Pigg and Tylee Williams.

Donley County's Laura Hommel was also recognized for her volunteer efforts.

Drug-Coated Ballons May Enhance Metal Stents

According to the results of research presented at a recent meeting of the American Heart Association's Scientific Sessions 2011, a drug coated balloon inserted into existing coronary (heart vessel) stents to keep implanted metal stents open may prove to be beneficial and even desirable in certain patient care situations. The problem with metal stents, which were first implanted in the late 1980s, is that over time they tend to allow the vessel to clog and become narrow, causing scar tissue to develop, which slows blood flow through the heart (a condition called in-stent narrowing). Earlier stents that carried drugs were first approved in 2003 by the FDA, since they reportedly worked better than bare-metal stents.

However, with experience heart specialists found that drug-eluting stents could also sometimes cause blood clots and narrowing of coronary vessels. Those conducting research with drug-eluting balloons and implanted stents indicate that one advantage of drug-coated balloons is, that the balloon coating is biodegradable and decomposes in 24 hours.

Clarendon Church of Christ HARD-HEADED AND HARD-HEARTED

I like to read the Old Testament as it shows the history of man and his dealings with God. Both seem to not change. God doesn't change in principle. He is love (1John 4:8). He doesn't lie (Titus 1:2). He is righteous (Psalm 11:7). Yet man has always had the propensity to mess up a good thing.

You read Genesis and you see how quickly Adam and Eve got themselves thrown out of the Garden of Eden. Read Exodus and you see God's people complaining against Him before they are even out of Egypt as they leave for Caanan. Several times God allowed His people to be taken into captivity because of their idol worship. Our own country was founded on Biblical principles and over the years we have abandoned God. Why? Hard-hearted and selfish people have turned nations of God's people away from Him.

In Ezekiel 2, God decides to send Ezekiel to the Israelites in Babylonian captivity. He is going to preach to them and try to turn their hearts back to God. (Ezekiel 2:4) "For they are impudent and stubborn children. I am sending you to them, and you shall say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: God further tells Ezekiel in chapter 3:4-6 that someone might think if Ezekiel had been sent earlier that they would have listened to him. God explains that it wouldn't have mattered. Why? (Ezekiel 3:7) "But the house of Israel will not listen to you, because they will not listen to Me; for all the house of Israel are impudent and hard-hearted."

It sounds pointless, doesn't it? If God knows they are too hard-hearted to listen, why send anybody to them? Because, God loves all people and wants them to be saved. So how does God approach hard-hearted people? With someone who is hard-headed! (Ezekiel 3:8-11) "Behold, I have made your face strong against their faces, and your forehead strong against their foreheads. "Like adamant stone, harder than flint, I have made your forehead; do not be afraid of them, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house." Moreover He said to me: "Son of man, receive into your heart all My words that I speak to you, and hear with your ears. "And go, get to the captives, to the children of your people, and speak to them and tell them, "Thus says the Lord GOD, whether they hear, or whether they refuse."

God sends a prophet, teacher, preacher, etc. to spread His word while knowing it will be refused. He does it because He is love. He does it because He is righteous. He prepared Ezekiel for this task by helping him have this hard-headed mindset. He basically tells Ezekiel that you can't take rejection personally, as people have rejected God for thousands of years.

Our country is made up of a majority of hard-hearted people who live unrighteously. You can see its effects everywhere. We have more kids born out of wed-lock than in. There are less people attending worship or reading a Bible. Our government is made up of mostly God-less self-seeking people, who will sell their votes to continue abortion, homosexual rights, supporting those who won't work, etc. in return for our votes. For hopes of getting something in return, we continue to vote for them and ignore what the consequences of our actions are.

What's the point of the article? As long as there are hard-hearted people against God, there will (hopefully) always be some hard-headed preachers who will continue to point out sin and teach the love of God. Being mad at a preacher for teaching God's word is like being angry at the cops for showing up at your door because you broke the law. They have no choice and neither does your preacher.

My prayer is our nation's heart will soften towards God again. We all must do some soul-searching and try to make needed corrections in our lives. Paul tells us in Romans 3:23 that we all sin. What do we do about it? That is the key. Do we continue to rebel against God and strike out at anyone who points out the mistakes? Or, do we swallow our pride and make the necessary adjustments that God demands in our lives?

Let us all be humble and submit to God, and give your preacher a break!

'Twas the night before their 50th wedding anniversary and as we begin to reminisce, Fifty is a lot of years and not one do we want to miss.

*Their memories are many and ready to share
In hopes to show just how much we love & care.*

The young couple married at Martin Baptist Church December 15, 1961

*The Cole Family Farm life had just begun.
And Momma in her finest and Daddy in his John Deere cap,
Are passing the time that has gone by in a snap.*

Their honeymoon was spent in Lubbock, but something was raising a clatter, Bob had to get home to get the cotton out of the fields that was the matter.

*The years to follow have all been the same mad dash,
Have to get the cows fed and take care of the cotton so there will be some cash.*

*From hand move pipe, side roll & the pivots that are used now,
The animals have been many, dogs, cats, horse, raccoon, pigs, chickens, cow & sow.
When surveying the pictures from year to year,
You can almost hear them calling each other by pet names from Honey to "yes, dear".*

*Momma worked in the house and garden so lively and quick,
She was thankful that for her, Bob was the man God picked.
More rapid than eagles the friendships they came,
And we wish we could mention each of you by name!!*

*Now children, they came one, two, three and four!
After that, peace and quiet it wasn't anymore!!*

*From the cloth diapers to the cell phones calls,
They are the parents that had a bit of it all.*

*They taught their children to spread their wings and fly,
When met with an obstacle to their knees they would pray & cry,*

*So many times, they helped to plot the course and away we flew,
Always knowing that Mom & Dad would always be there too!*

*Grandchildren, oh yes! One of Mimi & Papa's greatest joys,
They always have time to sit and watch the children play with toys.
The Grandchildren each have a special place in their heart, Classy, beautiful, talented, fun, athletic & don't forget smart!*

*And then, in a twinkling 50 years have gone by in a poof!
The love that still binds them we will shout from the roof!
As we thought about this big day coming around,
Do we plan a BIG PARTY or send them OUT BOUND?*

*To abide by their wishes and stay in their good graces,
We decided to send them to other places!
They will be packing their Suitcases and Passports too,
Exploring new country and maybe sailing the ocean blue.*

To all their friends and family who want to help them celebrate and be merry, Send them a card, some flowers, a pie or a cobbler (Dad likes cherry)

Your friendship is a beautiful gift to them tied with a wonderful bow!

If you see them wish them a Happy 50th and anything else you want them to know!

Happy 50th Wedding Anniversary to Bob & Gay Cole!!

Broncos defeat Paducah Dragons

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Broncos stepped up their game against the Paducah Dragons at home Tuesday night defeating them 69-33. The win was huge for the Broncos as they were coming off of two previous losses.

Post player Cole Ward worked hard inside to lead the Broncos with 18 points and guard Cody Wood hustled up 15 points from the field, which included one shot from the three-point line. Ward and Adam Topper also posted 11 rebounds. They received good help from Trajen Johnson and Tyler Burch inside, and Burch was four for four from the free throw line.

The Broncos led early and never relinquished their lead over the Dragons. At the break, they held a 22-point advantage and breezed to the easy win. Overall coach Brandt Lockhart liked what he saw.

"We did a good job playing pressure defense," Lockhart said. "I was pleased with our effort."

Scoring: Ward 18, Wood 15, Topper 8, Mitchell Parry 6, Johnson 5, Burch 4, Wes Williams 4, Diego Santos 4, Jonah Sell 3, and Jayson Pigg 2.

The Broncos also finished second in the River Road Tournament held last week. They took on Sunray in the opening round and defeated them, 52-37. Diego Santos had a big game from the outside and pumped in 17 points. Adam Topper and Cole Ward were strong underneath and accounted for 14, and 12 points. Jonah Sell and Wes Williams added two points each.

The win put the Broncos up against Berger and they stayed determined and got the 54-49 win to put them in the Championship game. Again the threesome of Ward (17), Topper (13), and Santos (10) helped to lead their team to the narrow win. Cody Wood connected on five and Trajen Johnson helped with two.

The Broncos took on Pampa in the final round but were defeated 42-70 for second place. Wood was on fire for the Broncos and had 16 points while Ward helped with 14. Topper and Santos had eight and four points, respectively.

"We played well for the most part in the tournament," Lockhart said. "We had a bad third quarter against Pampa."

The Broncos will participate in the Greenbelt Tournament this weekend and will take on Booker at home December 13 at 8:00 p.m.

Briley Chadwick carries the ball for the Hedley Junior High Lady Owls during the game against Shamrock on Monday. The score was Hedley 39, Shamrock 13.

Lady Broncos outplay the Lady Dragons

Nothing by hustle and intensity was on the minds of the Lady Broncos at home Tuesday night when they took on and easily defeated Paducah 65-33. Junior guard Jentry Shadle hit six three-pointers to lead the ladies on the scoreboard with 21.

Trevela Dronzek helped from the three-point line with two threes, and Phara Berry and Marqueda Gaines each added one.

The Lady Broncos came out on fire and took a commanding lead in the first quarter of play. They held a 26-point lead at the break and never looked back. Shadle, Dronzek, and McKayla Cartwright all finished in double figures. Coach Molly Weatherred was pleased with the hustle of her players. "I thought we did a good job of controlling the pace of the game and we shot the ball really well."

Scoring: Shadle 21, Cartwright 11, Dronzek 10, Anna Cenicerros 6, Gaines 4, Ryann Starnes 4, Berry 3, Deborah Howard 2, Camra Smith 2, and Lydia Howard 2.

Lady Colts beat Memphis

The seventh grade Lady Colts hosted Memphis Monday night and cruised to a 31-16 win. Several Lady Colts contributed to the win over the Lady Whirlwinds on the court and on the scoreboard. Great hustle on defense and intense offense helped to lead the ladies to the big win. Brianna Butler was unstoppable with 14 points as she lead her team in the victory.

Scoring: Butler 14, Hannah Howard 8, Berkeley Alexander 5, MaRae Hall 2, and Jensen Hatley 2. The eighth grade Lady Colts hustled until the end, but came up short at 24-29. The game stayed close in the first half of play, but the ladies struggled somewhat in the third quarter and that proved to be the difference in the game. Inside player Damarra Brown led her team on the board with nine points. "I am proud the effort from both teams," coach Shanna Shelton said. "They kept fighting and never gave up."

Scoring: Brown 9, Abby Durham 6, Sterling King 3, Brooke Martin 2, Emilie Thompson 2, and Tessa Buckhaults 2. The ladies will take on San Jacinto at home December 12 beginning at 5:00 pm.

Colts get big win over Memphis

The seventh grade Colts sent the Whirlwinds back to Memphis with a huge win at home Monday night. The Colts won by 20 points with the 43-23 final.

Clarendon played with intensity and determination on both ends of the court as they easily handled the Whirlwinds. They took a commanding lead into the break after holding their opponent to only four points in the first half of play. After a slow scoring third quarter, the Colts turned up the heat in the final period and extended their lead to get the win. Keandre Cortez finished in double figures with 11 points.

Scoring: Cortez 11, Riley Shadle 8, Taylon Knorpp 8, Chance

Lockhart 7, Clay Koetting 7, and Marshal Johnson 2.

The eighth grade Colts fell short and lost 14-32. Despite playing hard, the Colts could never get anything going and could not recover from their deficit. Memphis controlled the game from the onset and carried the momentum until the end.

Scoring: Bryce Hatley 4, Caleb Cobb 4, Jr Ceniceris 2, and Justice Burton 2.

Both Colt teams will play at home Monday, December 12, against San Jacinto.

JV girls second in Amarillo tournament

The Lady Broncos junior varsity need only two more points to grab their first tournament championship of the season, but were denied as they took a one-point loss to the Arbor Academy Lady Lions at 34-35 last weekend in Amarillo.

The ladies clobbered Randall High in the opening round, winning 37-13. The ladies jumped out big in the opening quarter and led by 16 at the break. They continued to dominate and got the win. Taylor Gaines came on strong and finished in double figures with 10 to lead the team in scoring.

Scoring: Gaines 10, Camra Smith 7, Phara Berry 5, Maci White 5, Elizabeth O'Rear 4, Savannah Topper 4, and Jacy Hill 2.

They took on Happy in the second round and coasted to a 45-31 win. Clarendon dominated Happy from the tip-off and controlled the momentum of the game until the buzzer. Haley Ferguson pumped in 13 points and Topper added 11 to help secure the win.

Scoring: Ferguson 13, Topper 11, Gaines 8, Berry 5, McKayla King 2, Hill 2, Skyler White 2, and Gail Mata 2.

The win against Happy put the ladies in the Championship game with the host team. The Lady Broncos were down by 11 points at the break and cut that deficit to only eight at the end of three. A strong fourth quarter effort allowed the ladies to outscore the Lions in the final period, but fell short at the buzzer.

Scoring: Berry 10, Gaines 9, Smith 7, Ferguson 3, Topper 2, Mata 2, and M. White 2.

The ladies will take on Booker at home December 13 at 5:00 p.m.

The Bronco JV also participated in the Arbor Academy tournament and finished second in the tournament. They defeated Randall in the first round and defeated Borger in the second round.

No scores were available at press time.

Texas drought is setting records

This year's drought has touched every county in Texas to some degree, and has set many records, the Texas Water Development Board reports.

According to the Texas state climatologist, Dr. John Nielsen-Gammon, we are in the worst one-year drought on record since at least 1895. Twelve-month rainfall was the driest on record across much of the state, and many areas received less than 25 percent of their normal 12-month precipitation.

The drought has helped set economic records, as well. Agricultural losses hit a record $5.2 billion, according to the Texas AgriLife Extension, and wildfires have cost the state $250 million, another record according to the Insurance Council of Texas.

TxDOT targeting drunk drivers

AUSTIN, TX - With the holiday season upon us, the Texas Department of Transportation is pulling out all of the stops to remind motorists not to get behind the wheel if they've been drinking and to find a sober ride home or call a cab.

Throughout the month of December, convenience stores, bars and restaurants, gas stations - even movie theaters- in major Texas markets will carry TxDOT's campaign messages, urging Texans to celebrate responsibly.

Santa's reindeer will adorn bar coasters, pint glasses, bathroom mirror decals, digital signs over bathroom urinals, street posters, and gas pump nozzles. The reindeer's message will read, "Don't drive if you're tipsy, buzzed or Blitzen. Call a cab or get a sober ride home."

Santa himself is getting in on the action this year, with a brand new interactive "31 Days of Holiday Cheer" calendar. Each day unlocks games, recipes, tips, and videos to make the season merry and bright, all with the reminder to keep the holidays happy and plan a sober ride. Facebook users can engage with the new content at www.facebook.com/SantaInTexas.

"The holidays can mean many things to Texans, including family dinners, office Christmas parties and New Year's Eve festivities. As we celebrate the season, we're encouraging motorists to keep the holidays merry and to plan a sober ride home," said Carol Rawson, TxDOT Traffic Operations Director. "That's why, throughout the month of December, 'don't drink and drive' reminders will be popping up online as well as at locations where alcohol is served or purchased."

This year's campaign is supported by new Driver Awareness and Attitudes survey results, which indicate that fewer Texas motorists are drinking and driving.

In 2010 there were 3,024 fatalities on Texas roads, 1,102 were the result of alcohol-related crashes. This makes alcohol a factor in 36.4% of the traffic fatalities in Texas.
