ROOSEVELT STARTS WEST.

LEAVES WASHINGTON UNDER HEAVY GUARD.

Unusual Precautions are Taken For President's Safety.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—President Roosevelt at 9:05 this morning started on his Western trip. The Pennsylvania station and platforms were crowded with people, anxious to extend to the chief magistrate their good wishes for a safe and successful journey. Notable precautions were taken to insure the safety of the President. The police arrangements were under the personal supervision of Commissioner West and Chief Sylvester. Uniformed officers, headquarters detectives, plain clothes men and secret service operatives surrounded the President and covered every point. The most notable incident connected with the President's departure arose out of the presence of Baron Spee von Sternberg, the German minister. He was the only member of the diplomatic corps who went to the depot to see the President off, and the President greeted him most cordially, telling him he greatly appreciated the courtesy.

During that chat the President asked the Baron whether he would be here in June when he returned and upon receiving an affirmative reply the President said: "That is good, we will have some long rides together."

The Baron told the President that his horses were in India and would not be here for sometime. Instantly the President gave orders that during his absence his riding horse and that of Mrs. Roosevelt should be placed at the disposal of Baron and Mrs. von Sternberg.

"I should be very much pleased," said he to the Baron, "if you and the Baroness would ride them while I am away." As the train moved out the President called, "Goodbye Baron, I appreciate your coming very much."

A DAY AT MILLETT.

A little party of Cotulla people drove over to Millett Sunday morning to attend the quarterly meeting. The personnel being Mr. T. R. Keck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Philipe, Miss Lula Philipe and Miss Nannie Harrison. The morning was magnificent for such a drive, a typical spring day.

We were divinely entertained enroute by the songs of the joyous birds, and the silent communion of the myriads of flowers, preparing our minds and hearts for the spiritual feast we were to enjoy on our arrival.

After listening to a soul inspiring sermon (by Rev. Johnson) on Christian charity and love towards God, we felt like exclaiming with the Psalmist, "How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace."

We were royally entertained at the spacious and hospitable home of Mr. Henry Earnest, where we enjoyed most bountifully a material application of the morning's discourse.

It was with deep regret at the day's decline, that we bade our adieus and started homeward. Associations and experiences like these come not every day, but leave a trace of the divine lifting our souls higher. Every turn of journey homeward was fraught with joy, all nature in her gorgeous robes seemed to be whispering God's Love, and today,

As I tossed on my couch impatiently,

As with grim disease I strove, I raised my lattice wearily And looked on the skies above, A gentle zephyr kissed my brow, And whispered God is love.

I heard the rhythm of a babbling brook On thro' the meadow move.

listened eagerly to its silvery chant,

As it murmured God is love, I saw the tender buds of spring Burst forth in the silent grove And as they left their prison, earth,

They seemed to repeat, God is love.

I drank from the sweets of the fragrant flowers, As into one melody wove The ambient air this sweet refrain

"All things bespeak God is Love."

From the shady bough of a tree near by, I espied a peaceful dove, And its cooing voice in loving praise

Was echoing God is Love.

A little child in sweet innocence As tho' this lesson would prove, As it ran gaily by, sang triumphantly

"All things tell us God is Love."

Then I turned on my couch contentedly, As with grim disease I strove, And praise Him that even thro' suffering

We can feel the strength of His Love.

Messrs. J. H. Davis and E. A. Keck returned yesterday from the meeting of the Southwest Texas Onion Growers Association, held at San Antonio on 2nd inst. The Record man saw Mr. Keck shortly after his arrival and he said: "The general opinion is that onions are going to bring a good price, although it is mostly guess work now. There was a good representation from every onion district at the Association and everybody had a pleasant time. The Association have agreed to let Campbell & Eckhart, commission merchants of San Antonio, handle the crop. Their proposition is either to buy onions f. o. b. cars, or ship for producer for 10 per cent commission. I don't think we will have any trouble at all disposing of the crop."

All are invited to hear him at the Baptist church at 11 a. m. and at the Presbyterian church at 8 p. m. Bishop E. E. Hoss, L. L. D. (Methodist) says, "He advocates Sunday reform in a new way. All thinkers should hear him".

CRUM HAS QUALIFIED

AS COLLECTOR OF THE PORT OF CHARLESTON.

Charleston, S. C., March 31.—W. D. Crum took charge of the custom house this morning as collector of the port, having taken the oath of office last night. There was no incident of interest in connection with his assuming the office, except the immediate tender of resignation by the chief inspector of customs which had been placed in the hands of the deputy collector to take effect upon the colored official's entrance to authority.

There has been some talk of possible application to the courts for a restraining order against Crum's exercising the duties of office, on the ground that the president may not fill vacancies except with the advice and consent of the senate where the senate has opportunity to pass upon nominations, as was the case with the Crum appointment. It is understood the matter has been brought to the notice of the mayor and it is said he has referred to to corporation counsel for consideration and report, but it is not thought anything will be done about it.

INSPECTION LAW KNOCKED OUT.

Among the bills introduced in Legislature that became laws this week was one exempting La Salle, Dimmitt, and a number of other counties in West Texas from the operation of the hide and animal inspection law.

This law will take effect ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature.

A Nor'wester blew up yesterday morning early and prevailed nearly all day. Sand was mixed up in the atmosphere considerably during the forenoon and it was disagreeable.

Lands along the river front that have been selling for $5.00 cannot be bought now for less than $7.50, and then on condition that it shall be cleared and improved at once. Now's the time to buy you a farm, don't wait any longer.

While digging a place for the home plate of a baseball diamond at Victoria the other day some boys unearthed a number of pieces of Mexican coin. Some of them were as old as 1820, but most of them were of 1853 issue. The ground is now being dug up there for a radius of half a mile from the spot.

The Southern Pacific has the best road-bed of any railroad in the State, yet that road comes to the front with the most disasters. This is undoubtedly due to fast running. The terrible catastrophe at Lacaste last week was horrible in the extreme and recalled to memory the terrible event only a short time ago at Maxon Springs.

The list of 800 trusts recently published in the Congressional Record by the Hon. Chas. E. Littlefield, of Maine, the redoubtable trust buster from the Pine Tree State, must have hit the trusts a swat on the nose that they felt. The New York Sun, which is the recognized organ of Pierpont Morgan and the trusts generally, has been letting out a howl about this list that reverberates from Tadmor in the Wilderness of Yuba Dam. The sun could not deny the accuracy of the list and the only defense it could make was to make fun of the "butterfly" signature of the honorable gentleman from Maine. The list is accurate and is worth having and preserving.

They are supposed to represent the sentiments of the party in the sections from which they hail and those sentiments will be given to the leaders of the party and those leaders are supposed to govern themselves accordingly.

THE PRICKLY PEAR.

Derided, contemned, despised, and cursed in all the different languages in common use on the frontier, the prickly pear bristles defiance to its calumniators, and asks only an impartial hearing, without its array of stings, thorns, barbs, furze and non-touchable peculiarities, it would long ago had disappeared from the face of the earth. All herbivorous animals are fond of its succulent leaves, and eat it readily when its thorns are burned off, or removed. Many an old cow, yes, many herds in seasons of drough, have been carried through the winter on its leaves alone, but the mode now is to chop it up and mix it with cotton seed meal and it makes a splendid feed, it has become such a popular feed that near numbers of small towns where people feed it to their milch cows, it has become an article of sale. How would that have had struck an old Texan twenty years ago! Coyotes, when hard up for a meal, dine on its fig-shaped fruit, woodrats use it as a daily ration, the bristle-backed musk-hog, (gavelin), finds nourishment in its roots, and the Mexican's make a sort of cheese out of the ripe fruit that tastes like something between chewing gum and leather preserves, having a bright red color and a gritty underpinning, they

I have been suffering from constipation ever since I was a child. I could never ride in a carriage or go into a crowded place without getting a headache and a sick stomach. I heard about Ripans Tablets from an old man of mine who was taking them for catarrh of the stomach. He had found such relief from their use that he advised me to take them too, and I have had such relief from their use that I have never since had a headache or a sick stomach. I have been completely cured by their use. I am twenty one years old. You are welcome to use this testimonial.

Marlin

32 Cal. High Pressure Smokeless IN MODEL 1893

WE are prepared to furnish our full line of Marlin rifles, solid and take down, for the new 32 Caliber HIGH PRESSURE SMOKELESS cartridge. This size uses a 165 grain bullet and has a velocity of over 2,000 feet per second, making it the most powerful cartridge made for an American rifle, with the exception of the .30-40 U. S. Army. It is sufficiently deadly for any game known in North America.

Another great advantage is that the barrels are bored and rifled but not chambered directly the same as in the regular 32-40 Marlin, one turn in four inches. This makes the use of black powder and lead bullets as safe, factory and convenient as in a regular black powder rifle.

This size is the first high pressure rifle developed in this country for a caliber larger than .30, and the first to use a slow enough twist to give best results with black powder ammunition.

Price same as .30-30 MARLIN. 120 page cat. list of rifles, shotguns, ammunition, etc., cover in 5 colors, mailed for three stamps.

COUNT UP

If you stop to figure out where the true economy in paint buying comes, you'll soon see that the best paint is cheapest. Two-thirds the cost of painting is the labor. It costs just as much to put on poor paint as it does good paint—more in fact because the poor paint doesn't work so easily. But the poor paint won't last as long; it makes you repaint sooner. Even the apparent saving in cost per gallon is eaten up by the fact that it takes more gallons of the low priced paint. The truest economy is good prepared paint. The truest prepared paint is THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT.

The weather has been warm all the week and farmers have taken advantage of it. The cold weather last month was the cause of many having to plant over, but nearly all have done this now, and everything is favorable for a good crop.

An accident befell the oldest little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Henrichson last Sunday morning. She was playing in the yard, and while running tripped and fell, her head striking the end of a spike in a corner block of the gallery. A terrible gash was cut in the little one's forehead, and she was rendered unconscious for a few minutes. Dr. Williams was summoned and on examination found the wound not to be serious. He sewed up the gash and in a few hours she was fully recovered from the shock.

Miss Bee Thomas paid us a pleasant call Thursday afternoon. She was just in receipt of a letter from her brother, Atha, who is at Terlingua, Brewster county, clerking in a store of a mining company. He enclosed the where-with for the advancement of his subscription, and specially instructed Miss Bee to notify us to keep the news from the "beloved free state of La Salle" coming every week. He is pleased with that country and is enjoying good health, but all through his letter crops out indications that he is homesick, and states that he will likely return this fall and go to raising onions.

It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at C. McGarity's.

Wm. G. Johnson, who has held a commission for the past three years as Inspector for the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, covering the territory from San Antonio to Laredo, tendered his resignation last week. T. H. (Club) Poole has been appointed by the Association to fill the vacancy. Mr. Johnson's reasons for resigning, we understand, was on account of his stock interests requiring most of his time, thus he could not properly look after the Association's interests over such a large territory. He made the Association a good inspector, and while they may have others as good, they will never have a better one. Mr. Poole, who was appointed is in every way capable for the position. He knows almost every brand from the Colorado to the Rio Grande and is a thorough cowman. He was selected from among 43 applicants, all of whom were good cattlemen and had a pocketful of recommendations.
