Mrs. George Waverly Davis.
"And we wept that one so lovely should have a life so brief; so gentle and so beautiful, should perish with the flowers."
Death is always sad—sad is the vacant chair, sad the home with out the music of the loved voice—but peculiarly and especially desolate is the family when the most sacred of all earthly ties is severed—that of wife and mother. The beloved companion, the untiring, helpful spirit of the true wife—the lovely, loving mother, unremitting in her devoted care of the two little ones, is gone—gone forever from this scene of earthly activity, yet she remains a beautiful memory, an inspiration in the unselfishness of her life, to us is left to grieve.
She had been with us only a few short months, but in that time had endeared herself to all who had come within the magic circle of her pure and gentle life. We deeply deplore our loss, in the church work, in friendship's bond.

We bow our heads in reverent sympathy with the husband, parents and brother and commend them to the loving care of our Heavenly Father, who alone can give peace and comfort to the troubled heart. We will dedicate a memorial page to her in the books of each society.

Special Primary Election Proclamation.

We the undersigned members of the democratic executive committee of this, the Thirteenth Senatorial District of Texas, do hereby call a special democratic primary election to be held in the counties of Anderson, Cherokee, Houston, Angelina and Trinity, on Saturday, the 8th day of October, A. D. 1910, for the purpose of nominating a democratic candidate for Senator for this district, to be voted for at a special election to be hereafter called by the governor of Texas for the purpose of electing a successor to Hon. C. C. Stokes, lately deceased, and for the past six years the honored representative of this district in the state of Texas. It is ordered that the test printed on the official ballot for said election shall read as follows: "I am a white man and a democrat, and hereby pledge my support to the nominee of this primary election."

As there is no provision under the law for levying an assessment against candidates in a special election sufficient to provide compensation for clerks, judges and others holding such election, this committee hereby appeals to the democratic voters of the several counties and precincts to perform such services as may be necessary to the proper holding of this election without charge therefor.

All matters of detail in connection with the holding of this election will be managed by the permanent chairman of this committee, Hon. I. A. Daniel of Crockett, Texas, assisted by the secretary of the committee, Dr. R. B. Bledsoe of Lufkin, Texas.

Witness our hands in called session at Lufkin, Texas, this the 17th day of August, 1910.

I. A. Daniel, chairman, representing Houston county; R. B. Bledsoe, secretary, representing Angelina county; C. M. McKinnon, committeeman from Trinity county; M. J. Whitman, committeeman from Cherokee county; G. R. Fowler, (W. H. Bonner, proxy), committeeman from Anderson county.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED.

Some Crockett People Have Learned How to Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them. And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys.

J. F. Leathers, of Crockett, Texas, says: "A soreness across my kidneys made me miserable, and when I heard that an acquaintance had been cured of a similar trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills, I began using the remedy. One box fixed me up in good shape. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at Sweet's Drug store, and I take pleasure in giving them my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by Murchison-Beasley Drug Co.

Nite, deceased, the unknown heirs of Lucy Nite, deceased, the unknown heirs of John C. Oliver, deceased, the unknown heirs of Griffin A. Bynum, deceased, the unknown heirs of Wm. A. Bynum deceased, Jacob Bowdoin and R. L. Bowdoin and J. J. Bynum are defendants, the cause of action being alleged as follows:

Suit to remove cloud from plaintiff's title to the following described tract or parcel of land, to-wit:

Situated in Houston County, Texas, about 11 miles west from the city of Crockett, being a part of the J. R. Burleson survey, same being the Wm. A. Bynum 160 acre tract out of said Burleson survey, and being the north half of a 320-acre tract out of said Burleson survey known as the Oliver tract, all of which is a part of the J. R. Burleson 1048 acre survey, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the N. W. corner of the S. half of said 320 acre tract, a red oak 14 in. brs — 36 E. 5 vrs. Thence N. 35 W. with the Fernando del Valle 11 league line, at 645 1-2 vrs., corner on the Box or J. R. Smith 185 acre tract. Thence N. 55 W. with the S. bdy line of said Box or Smith survey 1500 vrs to the S. E. corner of same. Thence S. 35 E. with said Oliver E. B. line at 645 1-2 vrs to the N. E. corner of the S. 1-2 of said Oliver 320 acre tract. Thence S. 55 W. with the division line of the 320 acre tract at 1500 varas to the place of beginning, containing 160 acres of land.

That plaintiff claims title to said land under a chain of title as set out in said original petition. Plaintiff also alleges that he and those through whom he claims title to said land have had peaceable and adverse possession of the same, cultivating, using and enjoying the same under title and color of title from the sovereignty of the soil, for a period of more than three years, next, before the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiff also alleges that he and those under whom he claims title to said land have had peaceable and adverse possession of the same, cultivating, using and enjoying the same under deeds duly registered and paying all taxes due thereon for a period of more than five years, next, before the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiff also alleges that he and those under whom he claims title to said land, claiming to have a good and perfect title thereto have had peaceable and adverse possession of the same for a period of more than ten years, next, before the commencement of this suit, cultivating, using and enjoying the same and in addition to his title as set out in his petition he claims title to said land under and by virtue of the statute of limitation of three years, the statute of limitation of five years and the statute of limitation for ten years;

That the loss of deeds and records and the pretended claim set up by defendants, the nature of which is unknown to plaintiff, creates a cloud upon the title of plaintiff to said land which he seeks to have removed by this suit.

You are further commanded to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week for eight successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in a newspaper published in your county; but if no newspaper is published in said county, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness J. B. Stanton, clerk of the District Court of Houston County.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, in the city of Crockett this the 8th day of August, A. D. 1910.

FIERCE FOREST FIRES

TOWNS AND VILLAGES SWEEP BY THE FLAMES.

PEOPLE FLEE FOR SAFETY

Half of Town Destroyed and Remaining Section Threatened—Many Reported Missing.

Missoula, Mont.—Mercilessly and relentlessly the forest fires in Western Montana and Idaho are sweeping over a vast area, driving hundreds of fugitives before them, destroying small settlements and wiping out of existence millions of dollars worth of property.

The situation is serious. As to Wallace, Idaho, it is believed that nearly half of the city will be saved. Communication with Wallace to the west has been possible. It is known that the entire east half of the town above Seventh street has been burned.

West of that a hard fight is being made and with an improvement in the water supply there is some chance that the flames may be driven back.

Thirteen lives are reported lost. Property loss, $1,000,000. Fire still burning.

Elsewhere in the fire zone, the situation has gone from bad to worse. The most serious incident was reported late Saturday from the St. Coe country, where 180 men engaged in the forestry service are missing and it is feared they have been burned to death.

When the fire approached the camp, where there were 200 men, two of the fighters took a horse and, riding the animal to death, rode from the camp and ordered a rescue party, which penetrated the fire to Bird Creek.

Eighteen of the men were found in the water, where they had gone for safety, and they were unharmed.

From the remaining 180 men no word has been received.

A relief train, well equipped with pack animals, has been ordered, carrying provisions and hospital supplies, and will endeavor to get through the fire. About a thousand refugees were brought into Missoula Sunday. There is much distress among them, but their wants are being supplied by Missoula people and they have been given temporary homes. The first of the trains came in over the Northern Pacific's Coeur d'Alene branch and brought the patients who had been in the hospital at Wallace and as many refugees as could find places on the small train.

There were 250 on this train, and a second train at noon brought as many more. These people came from the small towns along the line.

Another train with 200 people on board is expected over the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway.

A dense pall of smoke hangs all over Eastern Montana. In Missoula it was as dark as midnight at 5 o'clock Sunday evening, the dense smoke being given a lurid hue, which had all the semblance of the flow of fire, which was probably due to the sun.

Negroes Indorse Roosevelt.

New York.—The support of the negro electorate of the United States for a possible third term was pledged in behalf of Colonel Roosevelt Saturday by the 100 delegates of the National Negro Business Men's League, in convention. The indorsement of the former president came after he had addressed the delegates on the opportunities for advancement open to the negro race in this country, and as the climax of an earnest and eloquent eulogy of his conduct in office made by Bishop Clinton.

Accidentally Killed.

Overton, Tex.—George Perry, a prominent and progressive farmer living in the Red Land community, north of Overton, accidentally shot and killed himself Saturday. He and a companion were hunting and he in some way struck the hammer of the gun on a log, causing it to discharge the full load in his side. He lived only a few moments.

Galveston, Tex.—Up to and including Saturday there has been received in Galveston a total of 32,256 bales of new cotton. This date last year there had been received but 6025 bales.

NATURE'S SIGNALS.

The first indication of kidney disorder is often backache. Then comes pain in the hips and sides, lameness, soreness and urinary troubles. These are the warnings—nature's signals for help. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used at the first sign.

Mrs. W. R. Cody, 402 15th St., Lewiston, Idaho, says: "I had a bad case of dropsy and bloated 40 lbs. in weight. My ankles swelled and I had to wear shoes two sizes larger than usual. I was nervous, restless and much run down. After using Doan's Kidney Pills I came down to natural weight and my kidneys became normal."

KEEP BABY'S SKIN CLEAR

Few parents realize how many estimable lives have been embittered and social and business success prevented by serious skin affections which so often result from the neglect of minor eruptions in infancy and childhood. #### A Specialist.

"I don't see you on the messenger force any more, Jimmy," said the lad with the envelope in his hand.
"No; I've got a good job with a dog-fancier," replied Jimmy, as he puffed a cigarette.
"Wid a dog-fancier? What do you do—feed the dogs?"
"Naw! When a lady comes in and buys a pet dog I teach 'er 'ow to whistle."

"That isn't a cottage. It's the First Episcopal church."—Life.

Gussie, in Fancy Costume, Astonished the Doorkeeper for a Moment.

Gussie was knock-kneed, angular and round-shouldered. He had a terrible squint, and a mouth like a steam roller. All the same, he reckoned on making something of a hit at the fancy dress ball, and his costume was as elegant as his figure was unlovely.

With fast beating heart he stepped jauntily from his automobile outside the town hall, where the ball was being held. The hall porter stepped backward at the unsightly apparition.

"Great Christopher Columbus!" he gasped, as he regarded Gussie.

"No, no, my good man!" chirped Gussie, as he tripped through the portals. "Chawles the First, my dear fellow—Chawles the First!"—London Answers.

Looking Ahead.

A Mother living near here, has planted ten grafted trees from The Paper Shell Pecan Nursery, of Lafayette, La. She says she will send her little children to College. Each tree then will be producing between $40 and $60 per year in nuts.

A Sage's Summer.

Solomon sighed.
"Think of the number of plants I have to remember to water while they are all away for the summer," he cried.

Herewith he doubted his title to wisdom.

An Operatic Expletive.

"Bifferton is awfully gone on grand opera, isn't he?"
"I should say he is! Why, he even swears by Gadsdill!"

Sign of Recovery.

"If when the devil is sick a monk he will be," said Rose Stahl sagely. "then the devil gets well in double quick time. Witness that young 'devil' with the ladies, my kid cousin. Last winter he was ill, so ill he didn't have any sense of humor left nor any sense either. I was staying at the same hotel, and when I went in to look after him he virtuously remarked that his room was no place for a 'Chorus Lady' and promptly shooed me out. (A few years ago I spanked that kid.) Then he got scared and sent for a doctor and the doctor sent for a trained nurse. For several days I got bulletins of his progress from the chambermaid. The fourth morning she set my mind completely at rest.

"Sure, ma'am," said Maggie, "an' I think he do be gettin' along very well. The nurse was sittin' on his lap this mornin'!"

There is in every man's heart, as in a desk, a secret drawer; the only thing is to find the spring and open it.—Anon.

The number of people killed and injured by the railroad companies of the United States, according to the accident bulletin just issued by the interstate commerce commission for the quarterly period ending March 31, was 1100 killed and 21,232 injured.

Three former officials, formerly high in the management of the Illinois Central Railway, were arrested at Chicago Saturday in connection with the alleged huge frauds by which the railroad company claims to have been defrauded of $1,500,000. The men arrested were Frank B. Harriman, former general manager of the road; Charles T. Ewing, former manager of lines north of the Ohio River; John M. Taylor, former general storekeeper of the road.

The first lot of gulf coast rice to be marketed for the season of 1910 was purchased by M. M. Dickenson for the Texas Mills from Taylor Heberner, a rice farmer of Bay City. The consignment of 400 sacks is now en route to Houston and will be used by the Texas Mills for their regular trade. The price paid has not been made public.

Thirty-five per cent of the weather bureau stations in Texas reported rain Friday, the amounts varying from a trace to an inch. Abilene had a rain of one inch and good showers have been reported from Sherman, Nacogdoches, Wharton and Cuero, in each case amounting to more than 0.50 inch. A number of other stations reported less amounts.

The attorney general's department Wednesday approved and the controller registered $100,000 city of Galveston seawall improvement bonds, the proceeds from which are to be used on the present seawall to make it meet the original engineering requirements so that the spray from high waves may be thrown back into the gulf.

In a pistol duel, which took place at Hot Springs, Ark., Wednesday within the shadow of the court house between Sheriff Jake Houpt and his brother and deputy, Sid Houpt, on one side, and Oscar and George Chitwood, mountaineers of Ragweed Valley, Lincoln township, on the other, Sheriff Houpt was mortally wounded, and George Chitwood was shot and killed.

Strong opposition to the proposed plan of John Hays Hammond, Daniel J. Sully and other cotton men to establish a chain of cotton warehouses developed Wednesday at the opening session of the Alabama Farmers' Progressive and Co-operative Union at Montgomery, Ala.

Confederate Reunion in session at McGregor, Tex., selected Beaumont for next year's meeting, to be held the first Thursday and Friday in October. Mrs. Kate Gerald Weaver, daughter of Colonel G. B. Gerald of Waco, addressed the Daughters of the Confederacy on the duty of the state to provide adequate homes for confederate veterans and widows.

Oscar J. Rountree, a former ranger, was shot and fatally wounded Friday at San Antonio. D. B. Chapin of Chapin was arrested charged with the crime. "The captains and the kings depart," and the reign of King Cotton is over. Douglas H. Johnson, chief of the 80,000 members of the Chickasaw tribe, answered "I don't remember" before the special congressional investigation committee at Sulphur, Ok., Tuesday, when asked how it was that he was able to deposit the $75,000 to his personal credit a few days after McMurray had received $750,000 as attorney fees. Johnson had testified that he always had approved of what are known as the present McMurray contracts, which provide for the sale of $30,000,000 worth of land belonging to the Indians and which would allow McMurray 10 per cent, or $3,000,000 in fees.

Much shouting and applause, coming principally from the prohibitionists, followed the adoption in the house on Wednesday of the resolution censuring the state democratic convention held in Galveston last week for assuming the responsibility to dictate to the thirty-first legislature in third called session that it act on fire insurance legislation and adjourn. The Looney compromise substitute resolution, although introduced by a prohibitionist, died by the decisive vote of 71 to 34 and the original resolution, introduced by Messrs. Fuller, Humphrey and eleven other members, was adopted by a vote of 61 to 43.

Mr. Mark Lowd, chief engineer of the Stone-Webster Engineering Corporation, announced Saturday that the work of laying the big steel rails on the Galveston-Houston Interurban Railway would begin within the next two weeks. ### FOREIGN.

The court of criminal appeals of London upon application by counsel representing Dr. Crippen Saturday granted a rule of nisi calling on the London Daily Chronicle to show cause why a writ of attachment should not be issued for contempt of court. The alleged contempt consists of a story printed August 5, suggesting that Crippen poisoned his wife. The article declared Crippen had confessed or admitted to Inspector Dew, who arrested him upon arrival in Canadian waters, that he had killed his wife. Counsel for Crippen produced a cablegram from Crippen denying he had ever made such a confession.

Five and a half miles of the Panama canal were opened to navigation for the sand and rock fleet for the Atlantic division last week, according to the issue of the Canal Record. By a remarkable stroke of fortune, which seemed to have followed, the almost unknown and inexperienced aviator on the first two days of his flight, Moissant and his mechanic, Albert Fileux, escaped unhurt. But the machine came heavily to the ground, alighting in a narrow space banked high around with earth and piles of broken bricks.

English Singing Birds

Reprinted from an article by Theodore Roosevelt in The Outlook, by special arrangement with The Outlook, of which Theodore Roosevelt is Contributing Editor. Copyright, 1910, by The Outlook Company. All Rights Reserved.

Like most Americans interested in birds and books, I know a good deal about English birds as they appear in books. I know the lark of Shakespeare and Shelley and the Ettrick Shepherd; I know the Inghingale of Milton and Keats; I know Wordsworth's cuckoo; I know mavis and merle singing in the merry green wood of the old ballads; I know Jenny Wren and Cock Robin of the nursery books. Therefore I have always much desired to hear the birds in real life; and the opportunity offered last June. As I could snatch but a few hours from a very exacting round of pleasures and duties, it was necessary for me to be with some companion who could identify both song and singer. In Sir Edward Grey, a keen lover of outdoor life in all its phases, and a delightful companion, who knows the songs and ways of English birds as very few do know them, I found the best possible guide.

We left London on the morning of June 9, 24 hours before I sailed from Southampton. Getting off the train at Basingstoke, we drove to the pretty, smiling valley of the Itchen. Here we tramped for three or four hours, then again drove, this time to the edge of the New Forest, where we first took tea at an inn, and then tramped through the forest to an inn on its other side, at Brockenhurst. At the conclusion of our walk my companion made a list of the birds we had seen, putting an asterisk opposite those which we had heard sing. There were 41 of the former and 23 of the latter, as follows:

*Thrush, *Blackbird, *Lark, *Yellow Hammer, *Robin, *Wren, *Golden Crested Wren, *Goldfinch, *Greenfinch, *Pied Wagtail, Sparrow, *Duncock (Hedge Accentor), *Mistle Thrush, *Starling, *Rook, *Jackdaw, *Black Cap, *Garden Warbler, *Willow Warbler, *Chiff Chaff, *Wood Warbler, *Tree Creeper, *Reed Bunting, *Sedge Warbler, *Coot, *Water Hen, *Little Grebe (Dabchick), *Tufted Duck, *Wood Pigeon, *Stock Dove, *Turtle Dove, *Pewee, *Tit (Coal Tit), *Cuckoo, *Nightjar, *Swallow, *Martin, *Swift, *Pheasant, *Partridge.

The bird that most impressed me on my walk was the blackbird. I had already heard nightingales in abundance near Lake Como, and had also listened to larks, but I had never heard either the blackbird, the song thrush, or the black cap warbler; and while I knew all three were good singers, I did not know what really beautiful singers they were. Blackbirds were very abundant, and they played a prominent part in the chorus which we heard throughout the day on every hand, though perhaps loudest the following morning at dawn. In its habits and manners, the blackbird strikingly resembles our American robin, and indeed looks exactly like a robin, with a yellow bill and coal-black plumage. It hops everywhere over the lawns, just as our robin does, and it lives in nests in the gardens in the same fashion. Its song has a general resemblance to that of our robin, but many of the notes are far more musical, more like those of our wood thrush.

Indeed there were individuals among those we heard certain of whose notes seemed to me almost to equal in point of melody the chiming of the wood thrush; and the highest possible praise for any song bird is to liken its song to that of the wood thrush or hermit thrush. I certainly do not think that the blackbird has received full justice in the books. I knew that it was a singer, but I really had no idea how fine a singer he was. I suppose one of his troubles has been his name, just as with our own cat bird. When he appears in the ballads as the merle, bracketed with his cousin, the mavis, the song thrush, it is far easier to recognize him as the master singer that he is. It is a fine thing for England to have such an asset of the countryside, a bird so common, so much in evidence, so fearless, and such a really beautiful singer.

The most musical singer we heard was the black cap warbler. To my ear its song seemed more musical than that of the nightingale. It was astonishingly powerful for so small a bird; in volume and continuity it does not come up to the songs of the thrushes and of certain other birds, but in quality, as an isolated bit of melody, it can hardly be surpassed. Among the minor singers the robin was noticeable. We all know this pretty little bird from the books, and I was prepared to find him as friendly and attractive as he proved to be, but I had not realized how well he sang.

It was not a loud song, but very musical and attractive, and the bird is said to sing practically all through the year. The song of the wren interested me much, because it was not in the least like that of our house wrens, but, on the contrary, like that of our winter wren. The theme is the same as the winter wren's, but the song did not seem to me to be so brilliantly musical as that of the tiny singer of the north woods. The sedge warbler sang in the thick reeds a mocking ventriloquial lay, which reminded me at times of the less pronounced parts of our yellow breasted chat's song. The cuckoo's cry was singularly attractive and musical, far more so than the rolling, many times repeated, note of our rain-crow.

Ten days later, at Sagamore Hill, I was among my own birds, and was much interested as I listened to and looked at them in remembering the notes and actions of the birds I had seen in England. On the evening of the first day I sat in my rocking chair on the broad veranda, looking across the sound towards the glory of the sunset. The thickly grassed hillside sloped down in front of me to a belt of forest from which rose the golden, leisurely chiming of the wood thrushes, chanting their vespers; through the still air came the warble of vireo and tanager; and after night-fall we heard the flight song of an oven bird from the same belt of timber. Overhead an oriole sang in the weeping elm, now and then breaking his song to scold like an overgrown wren. Song sparrows and cat birds sang in the shrubbery; one robin had built its nest over the front, and one over the back door, and there was a chipmunk's nest in the wisteria vine by the porch. During the next 24 hours I saw and heard, either right around the house or while walking down to bathe through the woods, the following 42 birds:

I sent the companion of my English walk John Burroughs' "Birds and Poets." John Burroughs' life work is beginning to have its full effect in many different lines. When he first wrote there were few men of letters in our country who knew nature at first hand. Now there are many who delight in our birds, who know their songs, who keenly love all that belongs to out-of-doors life. For instance, Madison Cawein and Ernest McGaffey have for a number of years written of our woods and fields, of the birds and the flowers, as only those can write who join to love of nature the gift of observation and the gift of description. Mr. Cawein is a Kentuckian; and another Kentuckian, Miss Julia Stockton Dinsmore, in the little volume of poems which she has just published, includes many which describe with beauty and charm the sights and sounds so dear to all of us who know American country life. Miss Dinsmore knows Kentucky, and the gulf coast of Louisiana, and the great plains of North Dakota; and she knows also the regions that lie outside of what can be seen with material vision. For years in our family we have had some of her poems in the scrap book cut from newspapers when we knew nothing about her except the initials signed in the verses. Only one who sees with the eyes of the spirit as well as the eyes of the body could have written the "Threnody," curiously attractive in its simplicity and pathos, with which the little book opens. It contains many poems that make a similar appeal. The writer knows bluebird and robin, redbird and field lark and whippoorwill, just as she knows southern rivers and western plains; she knows rushing winds and running waters and the sights and sounds of lonely places; and moreover, she knows and almost tells those hidden things of the heart which never find complete utterance.

PROFITABLE DAIRYING

Judgment in Feeding

To accomplish the most profitable results from the dairy herd judgment must always be used in selecting and preparing the feeds which comprise the ration. It is not a new idea that cheap feeds are oftentimes more stimulating to great results than are those feeds which sell for high prices. There was a time when the feeder of the corn belt was misled into believing that there were certain feeds that if fed in small amounts had the power of producing great results. Consequently he was led to purchase in large amounts patent stock foods which cost him anywhere from $100 to $200 per ton. Ten years ago there were thousands of tons of such feed sold annually, but greatly to the credit of the present-day farmer and feeder, there is being very little of this food sold at the present time. The farmer realizes that all foodstuffs are made up of the same kinds of nutrients; namely, protein, carbohydrates, fat and mineral matter. The only difference between any of these feeds is in the proportion of these different nutrients. When the patent stock foods were analyzed it was found that they contained less protein, or the most expensive feeding nutrient, than did oil meal, cottonseed meal, gluten feed and many of the commercial foodstuffs upon the market that are sold for the purpose of forming a balanced ration when fed with corn. The chief value of the stock foods rested, of course, in their stimulating and appetizing power. In other words, these foods had the power of adding palatability to the ration, but the intelligent, successful feeder of today finds it possible to so mix his ration as to make it sufficiently palatable without the use of these condiments costing eight or ten cents per pound.

New Tile Silo at Iowa State College.

Six Points to Consider in Feeding.

Besides the consideration of quality and quantity, there are six essential points to be considered in formulating rations for the herd. They must be palatable so that the cow will eat in large amounts and waste very little of the feed. They must contain a sufficient amount of digestible nutrients and for this reason concentrates must be fed in addition to hay, straw and grass. They must be inexpensive in order to insure a profit. There must be a sufficient amount of variety in order that the feeder may change his ration from time to time and keep the cow always ready for her next meal. There must be a certain amount of succulence summer and winter if the ration is to accomplish the best results.

The Silo.

One of the chief sources of all of these points is the silo. There is no feed more palatable, more easily digested, affording more of a variety and costing as small an amount in the corn belt as does corn silage and I am confident that the time is close at hand when silos on the farm will be as plentiful as corn cribs are at the present time. It has other advantages in that it is useful in feeding other farm animals. It supplies in the winter time the succulence of the June pastures. It is convenient in that the feeder is not compelled to go to the cornfield and pick the dry cornstalks out of the snow on cold, frosty mornings. Experiments prove that milk and butter fat can be produced for at least one-third less cost where corn silage is used than where the cow must subsist wholly on dry feed. The farmer of the corn belt, has during the past year, demonstrated that he is aware of the fact that silage is one of the very best and cheapest feeds that can be supplied to farm animals. In Iowa there are to be found up to this year in the neighborhood of 1,200 silos on farms, and during the present year there have been sold and erected on other Iowa farms in the neighborhood of 1,200 more and likely it is that during the coming year the number of silos in this state will be again doubled. The chief objection to the silo at the present time, and, in fact, the only objection that the writer has heard for some time, is that the first cost is a considerable expense—which is true. However, if one stops to compare the actual cost of storage space of foods for farm animals it is readily found that the silo is the cheapest structure that can be built upon the farm.

Capacity of the Silo.

It is a well-known fact that 400 cubic feet of barn space is required for the storage of one ton of clover hay; 50 cubic feet of silo space will suffice for the storage of one ton of silage; therefore it requires eight times as much storage space in the hay mow to store one ton of feed as it does in the silo. However, corn silage contains 80 per cent. of water and for this reason the silo will not contain as great an amount of dry matter in comparison, but we do find that one cubic foot of silo space contains as much dry matter as two cubic feet in the hay mow, and reduced to terms of digestible feeding nutrients, which in reality is the standpoint from which all foodstuffs should be figured, we find that one cubic foot of silage space will hold as many digestible feeding nutrients as two and one-third cubic feet of space in the hay mow. In consequence, if we were to build a hay mow that would hold as much feed as a 100-ton silo, it would be necessary to build a barn with a storage space for 800 tons of hay, or if we were to supply the same storage capacity as is found in a 100-ton silo for the storage of dry matter, a barn with a capacity of 200 tons of hay would be necessary. Figuring further, if we were to build a barn with the capacity for holding digestible feeding nutrients in amounts as great as could be stored in a 100-ton silo, it would be necessary to build a barn with the capacity to hold 233 1-3 tons of clover hay. This winter in particular demonstrates more clearly than most winters the value of a silo and the feeding nutrients that can be saved through its use. It was estimated that in the middle of January there was remaining in the cornfields of the corn belt from 20 to 25 per cent. of this last year's crop which could not be harvested on account of the severe snowy weather. As a result of this, much of this year's crop of corn was ruined and wasted. One of the largest corn raisers in Iowa who is also a dairyman and milks from 60 to 75 cows, had all of his corn crop under shelter where it could not be wasted in view of the fact that over 50 acres of his corn went at once into his enormous silos and was in good condition to afford the greatest amount of feeding nutrients in the most palatable and digestible form. The remainder of his corn was cut up at once and put into shocks to be shredded and the better portion of the shredded fodder used to supply dry matter for the cows in conjunction with the silage, and those portions which might be termed as waste were used as bedding to absorb the nitrogenous waste from the animals and returned again to the field during the late winter or early spring in the form of fertilizing constituents for the upbuilding of the fields from which the crop itself was taken.

There is one distinct advantage in corn silage which is not enumerated in its feeding analysis. That is the moisture or succulence which it contains. The American feeder has not realized in the past the great value of succulence added to the ration of his farm animals. It is a common saying that animals fed largely for a long time on dry corn become burnt out, and true it is that their digestive apparatus has become more or less impaired. This result is overcome by the feeding of succulent foods, which fact has been recognized by feeders of the older countries for many years. Rations for dairy animals as well as for other farm animals in Scotland, England, Ireland and other countries across the water are made up largely of beets, mangoes and carrots.

Prominence of the Silo.

In the eastern sections of the United States, or more truly in the dairy districts, there is seldom a farm without one or more silos, and the day is rapidly coming when the man without a silo will have a difficult time in making a profitable competition with the one who resorts to the use of the silo. This is true of all farm products and especially is it true of dairy products if the consumer has been led to the point where he is paying extremely large prices. As a matter of fact, he is paying for dairy products almost as much as he can afford to pay and the dairy farmer should begin to realize that he is receiving extremely large prices for the commodities which he is producing. It is a shame and a disgrace for the farmer in the corn belt to be compelled to say that he cannot afford to produce butter for an average price of from 25 to 30 cents a pound the year through, or milk averaging when it reaches the consumer more than five cents a quart. This statement is in view of the fact that farmers in older countries are doing this very thing on land which rents annually for as much as a large portion of the land in the corn belt sells for. It is possible to make great profits out of the dairy business at the present prevailing prices of both dairy products and food stuffs, but it is

SELECTION OF FOODS.

Many housekeepers who pride themselves on their knowledge of the cuts of meat and can tell at a glance the hardy old farmyard veteran from the juicy young broiler, fall down completely when choosing fruits and vegetables. Berries which looked well in the market prove flat, stale and unprofitable. Melons and cucumbers outwardly attractive were only skin deep in good looks. Oranges and grapefruit are frequently overripe and peaches green. The wise selection of fruit is not learned in a day nor with one lesson. For the beginner there are a few points, which if observed will make the chances better of getting what one pays for and teach one how to tell the good from the bad.

The two chief tests are weight and fragrance. Ripe fruit has a fresh, sweet odor which is easily recognized. Fragrance is the best test to give to berries, as those without that delicate aroma should be regarded with suspicion. This is also true of lemons, oranges, peaches, pears, and especially of cantelopes.

When buying oranges, grapefruit and melons, weight is the important item; if light in weight, beware of them, they will either be pithy or unripe. If melons are spongy to the touch they are either unripe or stale. Cucumbers should never be purchased if spongy.

In selecting muskmelons the sweetest ones have a rough rind. The smooth streaks which divide the fruit into sections should be yellowish.

W E SCATTER seeds with care—less hand. And dream we ne'er shall see them more; But for a thousand years their fruit appears In weeds that mar the land, or healthful store."

EMERGENCY SALAD.

The ingredients for a salad are usually at hand, the vegetables left from dinner; if they have been served with a sauce, this can be washed off before putting away. Remnants of fruit that are not enough to serve as a fruit course make a delicious salad. Fruit is nice served with a heavy sirup, a French dressing or a mayonnaise. When serving a French dressing on fruit it is well to use lemon instead of vinegar, and whipped cream may be added just before serving.

Cold cooked string beans make a most satisfying salad with a little onion and a French dressing, all heaped daintily on crisp leaves of lettuce. For a beet salad cut enough cold cooked beets into dice to make three cupfuls, put into a salad bowl, add five tablespoonfuls of olive oil, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of red pepper. Arrange on a bed of lettuce on a cold dish; pour the dressing over it and serve.

Celery and hard cooked eggs with a dressing make a wholesome salad.

Cucumber Salad.

Select even-sized cucumbers and cut a thick slice from each lengthwise without peeling them, scoop out the seeds and pulp and put aside; peel one or two tomatoes and cut up, drain off the juice and fill the cucumber shells with the red and white bits, lay each on a lettuce leaf, pour over a French dressing and serve very cold.

Stewed Bermuda Onions.

Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and lay in six peeled Bermuda onions. Sprinkle with two teaspoonfuls each of salt and sugar. Cover with a cupful of stock and simmer until tender, adding boiling water as needed. Serve with the sauce poured around the onions.

Serve With Orange Sauce:

Beat the yolks of six eggs, add one and a half cupfuls of sugar, the juice of two oranges and cook over hot water. Cool and add a cupful of whipped cream, which may be reserved from the above dish.

Bathing the Eyes.

For weak or inflamed eyes a bath of boric acid, a teaspoonful to a pint of boiled water, is very soothing. Either hot or cold salted water is a good wash for the eyes.

SPECIAL SESSION OF THE # LEGISLATURE

WHAT THEY ARE DOING

Legislature Begins in Earnest.

Austin, Tex.—The work of the fourth called session commenced in earnest Monday and the general hope in administration circles is that the solons will show close application to the problems confronting them with consequent progress. The desire of the executive is that much will be accomplished this week. The car shed, "spider" and bill of lading bills may be pushed this week and sent to final passage after certain amendments are adopted. It is understood that some of the conflicting interests have almost agreed on the changes in the three bills, which will give them clear sailing and with only a minimum of opposition. If this should be the case the bills will move with rapidity. But there are three other matters under the governor's call, and they promise to produce the serious drawback to a harmonious session.

In Session One Minute.

Austin, Tex.—The senate was in session exactly one minute Saturday, according to the official clock. No quorum was present, and the senate straightaway adjourned until 10:00 o'clock Monday morning after Senator Mayfield moved a call of the senate, which failed. The following senators were present: Terrell of Bowie, Mayfield, Paulus Peeler, Brachfield, Greer and Ratliff.

House Favors Moller Bill.

The Moller bill of lading bill, amended so that three provisions making railroads responsible for forged bills of lading, provisions which were stricken out by the house during the third called session of the legislature and amended so as not to affect express companies, was reported favorably by the house committee on common carriers Saturday, following a short hearing.

Yantis to Represent House.

Austin, Tex.—Representative R. R. Yantis of Henderson County has been appointed by Speaker Marshall to represent the house of representatives at the Dallas State Fair on Oct. 17, which is "Industrial education day." Mr. Yantis will deliver an address on that day on "Industrial Education." He will represent the Texas Press Association also.

Both Houses Had Quorum.

Austin, Tex.—There is little to say about the fourth called session, which convened Thursday, except that it got off on time and there was a quorum present. Several bills were introduced in both branches and there is plenty to work on for some days. It will accomplish nothing this week beyond committee sessions. The senate, not being able to adjourn over three days, adjourned to Saturday at 4 p. m., when it will adjourn to Monday morning. The speaker has taken a straw vote and thinks the house will have no quorum this week.

Naturally there is no suggestion that other legislation will be forthcoming this early in the session, but that may be later speculation.

Nine Bills in the House.

Austin, Tex.—Nine bills were introduced in the house on the opening day of the fourth called session of the legislature Thursday, as follows:

By Ray—Repealing the existing fire rating board law.

By Ray, Davis and Others—Declaring illegal formations of trusts by fire insurance companies.

By Stephenson, Byrne and Others—Car shed bill, same as introduced during the third called session.

By Terrell of Cherokee, Davis and Others—Securing claims for damages against railroads.

By O'Bryan—Appropriating $35,000 per diem of members of the thirty-first legislature for the fourth called session.

By O'Bryan—Appropriating $20,000 for the contingent expenses of the fourth called session of the thirty-first legislature.

By Self, Rayburn and Others—Providing for working short-term convicts on public roads.

By Moller, Byrne and Cureton—Prohibiting compressing of cotton in such manner as to allow "spiders" or ends of ties and bands to protrude, and providing a forfeit of from $50 to $250 for each violation.

By Moller, Marshall, Gilmore and Others—Bill of lading bill, same as bill introduced in third called session.

Governor's Message.

Austin, Tex.—Governor Campbell's proclamation reconvening the thirty-first legislature in fourth called session, beginning at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning, was read before the house and the senate Wednesday night. The message follows:

I, T. M. Campbell, governor of the state of Texas, by virtue of authority vested in me by the constitution, do hereby call a special session of the thirty-first legislature to convene in the city of Austin, Tex., beginning at 8:30 o'clock a. m., Thursday, Aug. 18, A. D., 1910, for the following purposes and for legislation on the following subjects, to-wit:

Secure Railroad Claims.

1. Legislation amending articles 4549 and 4590 of chapter 11, title 94, 3, the revised statutes of the state of Texas, and to prescribe the conditions upon which the purchaser or purchasers and associates, if any, of the property and franchises of a railroad company may become owners of its charter or may organize a new corporation and governing, regulating and limiting the stocks and bonds of such new corporation and the old corporation after the sale of its property and franchises, and providing for the protection of holders of claims against the old corporation.

Penitentiary Reform.

2. Legislation providing for a board of prison commissioners, superintendents of prisons and other officers and employes, and for the care, management, discipline and method of employment of convicts confined in the state penitentiaries; providing for the working of convicts on state account.

Bill of Lading Law.

3. The enactment of adequate laws defining "bill of lading" and defining the word "carriers." Providing that it shall be the duty of common carriers and their officers and agents, to issue negotiable bills of lading and straight or non-negotiable bills of lading at the request of the shipper, between certain places to be prescribed by the law, and defining negotiable or order bills of lading and non-negotiable or straight bills of lading and prescribing the necessary requirements for all bills of lading; to make all negotiable bills of lading negotiable by indorsement and delivery in the same manner as bills of exchange and promissory notes and prohibiting the placing upon negotiable bills of lading any terms which would in any manner limit their negotiability.

The "Spider" Act.

4. Legislation requiring persons, firms, corporations and associations of persons engaged in compressing cotton in this State to so bind and tie all bales of cotton so that no bales of cotton, baled or rebaled, shall be delivered to any railroad company or common carrier unless the same is free from "spiders," exposed ends of bands or any exposed or any protruding part of the ties, bands, buckles or splices used in tying of baling such bale of cotton, and to provide penalties and methods of enforcement of the laws enacted on this subject.

Erection of Car Sheds.

5. Legislation requiring the erection and maintenance of buildings for the protection from rain, wind and inclement weather, of employes engaged in repairing railroad cars and other railroad equipment, and providing penalties for violations, and regulating suits for such penalties, and such further legislation upon this subject as may be appropriate and necessary to provide proper protection to employes engaged in such work.

Fire Insurance Law.

6. To enact a law repealing the law enacted by the thirty-first legislature at its first called session, known as chapter 18, and entitled "an act providing conditions upon which fire insurance companies shall transact business in this state, and providing for the regulation and control of rates of premium on fire insurance and to prevent discrimination therein and to create a fire insurance rating board and to provide penalties for violations of this act.

7. To consider and act upon such other matters as may hereafter be presented by me, pursuant to section 40, article 3, of the constitution of the state of Texas. In testimony whereof I have set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Texas to be affixed at Austin, Tex., this, the 17th day of August, A. D. 1910.

T. M. CAMPBELL,
Governor of Texas.

By the governor, W. B. Townsend, secretary of state.

INFECTION IN THE PRISON

Peculiarly Favorable Field There for the Spread of the Scourge of Tuberculosis.

Only twenty-one prisons in fifteen states and territories have provided special places for the treatment of their tuberculous prisoners. These institutions can accommodate, however, only 800 patients. In three-fourths of the major prisons and in practically all the jails of the country the tuberculous prisoner is allowed freely to infect his fellow prisoners, very few restrictions being placed upon his habits. When the congested mode of prison life is considered, the danger of infection becomes greater than in the general population. New York and Massachusetts are the only states where any systematic attempt has been made to transfer all tuberculous prisoners to one central institution. The largest prison tuberculosis hospital is in Manila, where accommodations for 200 prisoners are provided. The next largest is Clinton prison hospital in New York, which provides for 150.

LOTS OF THEM.

The Englishman—Your country is fine, old chap; but it's too deucedly new. Why, you haven't any fairy tales or—

The American—Haven't we? Well, you just come with me and look at some of the tablets on our monuments.

"Yonder is a beach camera fender," said the first bathing girl. "They are disgusting, I think."

"This one is particularly disgusting," declared the second bathing girl. "After I had posed all morning for his benefit, he ate his lunch from that box."

Hard to Convince.

Little Tommy (eldest of the family, at dinner)—Mamma, why don't you help me before Ethel?

Mamma—Ladies must always come first.

Tommy (triumphantly)—Then why was I born before Ethel?—Tit-Bits.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of W. C. Little. In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Thinking of Curtain Lectures.

Mrs. Peck—I see the Maine Agricultural college proposes to establish lectures especially for country pastors.

Mr. Peck—What's the matter, ain't none of the parsons up there married?

The entire nature of man is the garden which is given him to cultivate.—W. E. Gladstone.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't tangle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

In order to maintain strength and keep the body in a healthy condition these things are absolutely necessary—keep the digestion normal—the bowels free from constipation—the liver and kidneys active. T. G. McConnico and Miss Oryx Moore were very quietly married at the home of the Baptist pastor, Rev. L. T. Grumbles, on Thursday evening of last week, the ceremony being performed by Mr. Grumbles. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Moore of this city and is popular and pretty. The bridegroom, Mr. McConnico, is assistant manager for Swift & Co. in this city and has made many friends among our people since coming to Crockett. His former home was in Corsicana. Mr. and Mrs. McConnico are now at home at the B. E. Hail residence, where they are receiving the congratulations and best wishes of their friends.

The Courier is authorized to announce the name of Judge W. J. Townsend, Jr., of Angelina county as a candidate to succeed the late Senator Stokes, subject to the action of a special democratic primary. Judge Townsend has served his county as county attorney and county judge, always being elected by a large majority and retiring from both offices of his own motion and without defeat. While having been thus honored by the people of his home county, he is comparatively a young man, but married. He is a graduate of the law department of the state university, comes from one of the oldest families of his county and is well equipped for the office of state senator.

Waived Examination.

Eight men implicated in the recent negro killings in Anderson county were brought to Crockett Sunday night to stand examination before Justice of the Peace Callier for killing a negro in Houston county at the same time the negroes were killed in Anderson county. The men were in charge of Sheriff Lacy and Deputy Joe Lacy and Rangers Andrews and Avriett. When the men were arraigned in justice court Monday morning, they waived examination through their attorney, N. B. Morris of Palestine. The state's side was looked after by District Attorney Tom Harris. The names of the men here Monday morning and implicated in the Houston county killing are Jim Spurger,

B. J. Jenkins, Isham Garner, Morgan Henry, Andrew Kirkwood, Henry Shipper and G. W. Bailey. Another, Curtis Spurger, was brought along, but he is implicated only in the Anderson county killings. The prisoners were returned to the Anderson county jail on the noon train by Sheriff Lacy and the two rangers.

New Brick Building.

Excavations have begun for the erection of a brick building on the lot adjoining the Telephone building, owned by J. S. Cook. The new building will be erected by Mr. Cook and the Courier is informed that the building is already leased. It is being constructed to meet the demand for more business houses. The structure will be 48 feet wide and 80 feet long, practically covering two business lots, and will have a partition running lengthwise through the center, but the Courier is not advised as to whether it will be occupied by one or two firms. The house will have a modern plate-glass front and will be modern in every other respect.

Died.

Christine Edna, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus. Patrick. Born Dec. 6, 1909. Died Aug. 12, 1910, at the home of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cook.

Just at dawn Friday morning Christine bid farewell to this beautiful world, and went to dwell in a mansion not made with hands where sickness and death never enter and loved ones meet to part no more. Weep not, dear papa and mama and grand parents, for little Christine, although her beautiful face and bright, brown eyes are gone from us. She is not dead but sleepeth. Prepare to meet her in that home above where all is sweetness and love. How peaceful her slumbers, how happy her waking, for death is only a dream.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Watson at the home of Mr. T. R. Cook Friday afternoon and then little Christine was laid to rest in the White cemetery. A Friend.
