OFFERS HER HOME TO 13TH CAVALRY

Mrs. J. O. Ross of 710 Hadley Avenue, Houston, Texas, wishes to entertain all the members of the 13th Texas Cavalry during the coming reunion of Confederate Veterans in Houston. The 13th was her father's regiment. Mrs. Ross has written a letter to her friend in Crockett, Mrs. C. N. Corry, in which she asks that all members of the 13th Texas Cavalry of Confederate Veterans be advised of her desire to entertain them in her Houston home. An extract from the letter, which was written following her return from a visit north, reads as follows:

"I came home sooner than I might aid in some way in the entertainment of our dear old Veterans who will be with us next month. I feel first obligated to have as our guests our precious father's old comrades of the 13th Texas Cavalry, and I'm going to ask you and David to assist me in finding some of them in Houston county that I might communicate with them at once. While Uncle Jim lived, he kept up with them. I'm also writing the girls to see if they know of the residences of any. I want to reserve all of my house-room for them, and cannot extend other invitations until later. Houston will be taxed to her capacity for rooms. I am chairman of the reception committee for the cavalry branch. My father's regiment was obtained throughout east Texas. There was a doctor at Trinity or Lovelady who was a very active member. It may be that Albert Aldrich could give you some names, as Mr. Coll Aldrich, I think, was a member."

Ginners' Report.

There were 1,694 bales of cotton ginned in Houston county from the crop of 1920 as compared with 21 bales ginned to September 1, 1919, according to the report of E. B. Hale, cotton census agent.

Some Postscripts.

According to a French scientist who made tests it is the lash of a whip which strikes a horse the most severely, not the snapper on the end.

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

The Courier desires to thank those of its subscribers who have so constructively worked to help build up its circulation. During the last few years a steady stream of subscriptions has reached this office, ninety per cent of which have come through other subscribers. The Courier appreciates the fact that its subscribers are busy people and have little time to devote to anything but the immediate duties of the hour. But whenever one of them takes the time to obtain for the Crockett Courier one new reader, he adds immeasurably to the success of his county newspaper.

A subscriber called during the last week to say that in his opinion Crockett is not paying enough for cotton. It is a fact that cotton is not bringing its worth anywhere, a fact which the people of Crockett very much regret. If the people of Crockett had their way about it, or had anything to do with fixing the price of cotton, cotton would be bringing its full value today, not only in Crockett but elsewhere. Every dollar paid out in Crockett for cotton means that many more dollars to be spent in Crockett. All want to see the farmer get all he can for his cotton and cotton seed, for it affects the general prosperity of all.

Among the number calling to renew or subscribe or sending in their renewals and subscriptions since last issue are the following:

POLL TAX RECEIPT NOT NECESSARY TO VOTE IN NOVEMBER

Austin, Texas, Sept. 13.—All qualified voters may participate in the general elections to be held in November. This applies equally to women and to men, according to a lengthy ruling given out by the attorney general of the State here Monday afternoon.

The department holds that all male inhabitants, possessing the qualifications necessary to entitle them to vote, still are liable for the payment of the poll tax.

TOM WATSON WINS IN GEORGIA RACE

Outspoken Critic of Wilson's Administration and League Victor Over Smith.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 9.—Thomas E. Watson continued to maintain a clear majority of county unit votes over the three other candidates for the United States senate on the face of incomplete, unofficial returns from 123 of the 155 Georgia counties compiled Thursday by the Atlanta Journal. Senator Hoke Smith, incumbent, was running third according to these returns.

On the face of the same returns, the Journal forecast the renomination of the eight Georgia congressmen who had opposition. The gubernatorial race was a neck and neck affair with former United States Senator Thomas W. Hardwick two votes ahead of Clifford Walker.

It was indicated that the official count would be necessary to determine the outcome definitely.

Senator Hoke Smith was decisively beaten for a third term as senator, according to these figures, which indicated he was running third with Governor Hugh Dorsey second. John R. Cooper, Macon attorney, who favored modification of the Volstead act, failed to carry a single county, according to the Constitution.

Watson, who has long been an outspoken critic of the Wilson administration and the league of nations covenant, has had a picturesque career in Georgia. Before he ceased the practice of law, he had built up a reputation as a brilliant criminal lawyer; he is the author of numerous histories and novels and at one time published a monthly magazine and a weekly paper. These were barred from the mails under the espionage act during the war, but he since has established another weekly. For years Watson, who is 64 years old, has been admitted to be a power in Georgia politics and in the present campaign almost every large newspaper in the State, with the exception of Hearst's Atlanta Georgian, fought him, as did numerous posts of the American Legion. Numbers of former service men from over the State supported Watson, however, according to communications published by his friends.

Asks How About G. O. P. Plan to Assess Coal Dealers?

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Governor James M. Cox, in Chicago for the day to rest between speeches, directed to Will H. Mays, chairman of the republican national committee, some questions concerning the republican national campaign fund. The inquiries concerned the "quotas" which the democratic presidential candidate had previously charged were fixed by the republican campaign managers.

On the witness stand before the senatorial investigating committee, Mr. Hays had professed ignorance concerning these "quotas."

"As I am passing through the city of Chicago I will leave Mr. Hays with a few leads to follow in obtaining information about these quotas of which he professes ignorance," said the governor at the Congress hotel, where he gave an audience to newspaper men at 4 p. m. "I will ask Mr. Hays what he knows about a quota of $80,000 which a number of coal men, principally operators, were asked to raise for the republican campaign fund at a meeting held in Chicago on the ninth floor of the Auditorium hotel early this summer. I will ask him if Mr. J. K. Doring did not present the proposition for the raising of the quota. If the circumstance is not fresh in Mr. Hays' memory I will suggest that he refresh his memory by conferring with C. M. Moderwell, George McArthur, E. C. Fyke, Robert H. Zollar, James F. Forestar of Duquoin, and Rice Miller of Hillsboro."

The candidate made the statement orally, reading the names he gave from a slip of paper and spelling them so that there would be no mistake made in transcribing them. After reading the names of Mr. Forestar and Mr. Miller, he again referred to the slip and added the names of the towns from which they came.

Then he continued: "There were some democrats present at the meeting and they demurred at the proposal made. But the meeting was held and the quota of $80,000 was asked for the republican campaign fund. The men named can be called as witnesses before the senatorial investigating committee if Mr. Hays wants his memory refreshed."

"Was there a representative of the republican national committee present at the meeting?" was asked of the governor.

"The meeting was held and the funds were certainly not asked for the city council," was the reply.

Railroad in Arkansas Suspends Operations.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 6.—The Memphis, Dallas & Gulf railroad, which extends from Little Rock to Ashdown, Ark., has suspended operations indefinitely, it was announced Monday night by J. W. Bishop of Nashville, Ark., general attorney for the road. Mr. Bishop said all train crews have quit work as a result of a 10 per cent reduction in wages which became effective September 1.

Mr. Bishop says that the road has been operated at a heavy loss and that with the end of federal guarantees, the wage reduction was necessary.

Officials have filed a petition in bankruptcy for the road. This case will be heard in United States district court at Fort Smith, Ark., next Friday.

Officials of the road have been ordered to appear before the Arkansas corporation commission Friday with regard to an order issued instructing the road to maintain its schedule of August 31. On September 1 the road announced that hereafter only three mixed trains per week would be operated each way.

Water fowl and other migratory birds are to be trapped, marked with leg bands, released and traced by a United States government bureau to study their routes, speed and motives of travels.

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN AIRPLANE

ROOSEVELT WAS PREPARING TO MAKE FLIGHT TO TULSA, OKLAHOMA.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 8.—Lientenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt had a narrow escape from death here at noon Wednesday while preparing for an airplane flight, which was to take him to Vinita, Okla., and to Tulsa to fill speaking dates.

Colonel Roosevelt was entering the front seat of the plane, a Curtiss Oriole, in which Bert Chandler, candidate for congress from the First Oklahoma district, was sitting, while Paul Meng, the pilot, gave the propeller blade a twist. The throttle was too high and the big machine tore wildly down the field. Colonel Roosevelt jumped from the fuselage and landed free of the rudders.

The plane struck a high place in the ground and up-ended, burying its nose in the ground. Chandler was severely shaken up and bruised, but not seriously hurt. The pilot had made a flying leap for the rear fuselage and was hanging on with his hands attempting to pull himself into the car when the machine turned turtle.

Roosevelt was calm and smiling over the incident. A few minutes later Roosevelt and Chandler entered a big Bristol plane from Tulsa and immediately flew for Vinita, where Raymond Robins preceded him Wednesday morning and was speaking.

Unfavorable Weather Injures Cotton Crop.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Decidedly unfavorable weather for cotton prevailed during the last week and except in restricted areas, the crop made only poor progress, or deteriorated, according to the national weather and crop bulletin of the bureau issued Wednesday. Temperature averaged near normal in most of the belt except that it was rather cool for the season in the northwest portion. There was much cloudy weather, however, and while rainfall was mostly light or moderate in the north central portion of the belt, heavy to excessive rains fell in many eastern and western districts.

CONVENTION CLOSES PAT NEFF ACCEPTS

Platform is Progressive Along All Lines—Gets Neff's Full Approval.

George M. Bailey in Houston Post. Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 8.—The calmest and serenest political convention ever staged in Texas droned through a sultry day and came to an end at sunset with the acceptance of the nomination for governor by Pat Neff.

Beginning in the morning, it was a wait for the report of the platform committee. The unanimous election of Frank Davis of San Antonio as chairman of the executive committee took up a little of the time, and after that the convention listened to a well-phrased speech by Governor Hobby, which elicited frequent applause.

Then the monotony of speech making was varied with some pregnant reminders of the money necessity of the national campaign. S. J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls, chairman of the State finance committee, made an earnest plea for support of the national campaign, and he stressed the necessity for immediate action and subscribed $1000. Lynch Davidson, lieutenant governor nominee, subscribed $1000. Mr. Kemp pledged $5000 for Wichita county, and it was followed by Miss Florence Stirling of Houston, who pledged $5000 for Harris county. These subscriptions and pledges were loudly applauded. Dallas county pledged $6000, Travis county $5000, and then followed other subscriptions and county pledges until the figures stood at a total of $40,000.

It is expected to raise more than $100,000 during the present month, and it is believed as the campaign progresses the Texas contributions will exceed $200,000, which is not considered an excessive sum for a great State like Texas.

In the afternoon session General Crane was called and made a speech that stirred the convention. His sharp thrusts at the recent enemy, made in characteristic Crane style, were greatly relished and evoked many outbursts of applause.

Late in the afternoon Chairman Henderson of the platform committee took the stand, much to the relief of the delegates, who were beginning to fear another day's session.

The reading of the lengthy document was listened to intently and generously applauded, as the various pledges and recommendations were made. A genuine demonstration that bore evidence of deep feeling came when Henderson read the plank demanding the submission of an amendment to the constitution which would make it possible for the legislature to deny suffrage to aliens not fully naturalized. This strikes at the right of aliens to vote upon declaration of intention to become citizens, so long the rule in Texas.

It will be remembered that during the war many aliens who had declared their intention to become citizens, but had not taken out their final papers, claimed exemption from military service because they were not naturalized citizens and were duly exempted on that ground.

Last year, when the suffrage amendment was submitted, these aliens who had escaped military service by reason of being aliens went to the polls and voted against granting suffrage to the native women of Texas who rendered every service of which they were capable during the war.

The women of Texas have not forgotten this, and since they are voters now and always 100 per cent Americans, they are demanding that only full citizens, natives and those aliens who are fully naturalized, may enjoy suffrage.

THREATEN GENERAL NATIONALIZATION

OPPOSITION FROM TECHNICAL STAFFS EMBARRASS AND HINDER PLANS.

Rome, Sept. 8.—The greatest efforts are being made to reach a solution before Saturday of the situation created by the metal workers taking over the plants.

The employers in metal factories seized by workmen in the present contest over conditions in the industry were given until Saturday, in a resolution adopted Tuesday by the socialist members of the general confederation of labor, in which to comply with the workers' demands. A rapid movement toward the general nationalization was threatened should the employers decline to yield.

Meanwhile the unions are making all preparations such as inventories in the works and distribution of raw materials to demonstrate that the working class, as it is put, are "capable of self government."

A Genoa dispatch to the Giornale d'Italia says that in the entire industrial zone in that city the names of the works have been changed, placards on the facades of the plants calling them "communist soviet works." In one plant, besides red and black flags, the walls are decorated with photographs of Lenine, Juarez and Marx. One hundred men form a "red guard," governed with the same disciplinary rule as the Italian army.

In the women's section of the Ansaldo works, the dispatch says, a notice has been posted recommending the greatest seriousness to the workers and threatening that those offending against the public morals will publicly be put to shame.

From the Westinghouse works at Vado, on the Gulf of Genoa, a powerful searchlight illuminates the entire western Riviera and Genoa to prevent any surprise movement on the part of the authorities.

Ignorance Hinders Plans.

Metal workers, who have occupied factories throughout Italy are embarrassed by the opposition they have encountered from the technical and administrative staffs of plants that have been taken over, according to newspapers here. The men have no adequate direction and expert advice in carrying on the work of the different factories and are declared to have made advances to technical employees, asking them to make common cause with the workmen. The Engineers association has flatly refused to consider this suggestion. The general situation throughout Italy is reported to be without change. At Leghorn railwaymen have turned over to metal workers occupying the plant of the Italian Metal-lurgic society several trucks of raw material which have been lying at the Torretia station. Workmen who have been occupying the Gambare Steel works in that city returned to their normal program, there being no quarrel between them and their employers. They took over the plant, it is said, merely as an evidence of their solidarity with the metal workers in other parts of the country.

Disastrous waste of raw material in factories at Turin is reported in a dispatch from that city to the Giornale d'Italia. Much of this waste is due to the desire of the men to convince the public that the plants are working to full capacity, which is impossible due to the lack of expert superintendence. At automobile plants there the improvised directors are said to be incompetent and it is asserted that the men have become discouraged by the decrease in output and daily are absenting themselves in increasing numbers. The Giornale d'Italia estimates that only 20 per cent of the men occupying factories are working.

English unions, it is reported, have sent a communication to the Italian Confederation of Labor, asking news of the metal workers movement and expressing a desire to work in common accord with the confederation in extending the conflict.

A tri-weekly passenger and freight airplane service that has been established between London and Amsterdam requires about one-sixth the time of the regular railroad and steamboat schedule.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT NOW CONSCRIPTING

ALL MEN BETWEEN THE AGES
OF 14 AND 50 YEARS CALLED TO COLORS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—Military reverses of the bolsheviki armies have caused the soviet government to institute conscription in every section of the country, according to word reaching the state department through Baltic channels.

All men between the ages of 14 and 50 who can be spared from other duties are being called to the colors and trained, in the hope of bolstering up the waning fortunes of the red armies. The scheme for compulsory recruiting was agreed upon at the third international gathering of communists.

The severity of the measures employed in the soviet areas, it is reported, has given rise to much discontent. Civilians are angered, and the soldiers themselves are said to be dissatisfied. Desertions are many in spite of drastic repressive and disciplinary measures.

Reserve Forces Called.

The reserve forces are being mustered into active service. Petrograd and Karelia, to the north along the Finnish border, have been stripped of second line forces. Field artillery batteries and two infantry regiments have been sent against Poland. One cause for complaint among the present forces in the field is said to be that the soldiers stationed in cities under bolsheviki rule are enabled to obtain loot in their searches made under orders.

General Wrangel's anti-bolsheviki army in South Russia is said to be giving the Moscow dictators much concern. The text of a special order to the ninth army, issued by Trotsky, directs that Wrangel must be destroyed "at all costs."

The soviets are experiencing trouble also in the distribution of grain. Authorities are taking charge of the grain warehouses and have stationed sentries at the mills to prevent peasants from stealing or seizing goods. Peasants are forbidden to grind their produce, under penalty of capital punishment, until after the autumn plantings. Grain is to be distributed "in accordance with fixed class distinctions."

Opposition Is Developing.

Opposition to the dictatorship of the Moscow communist regime is developing among the membership of the third international, in session at Moscow.

Information indicates that the complaint of domination has been of a marked character among the delegates who purport to represent other countries than Russia, and that out of a total of eighteen members of the new executive committee of the international only five are Russians.

The program of the Russian communist party is one of world revolution in the directing center of an international revolutionary movement whose purpose is to establish a "world soviet republic."

Washington Weeklies Raise Subscription to $4 a Year.

Brewster, Wash., Sept. 13.—The first annual convention of the Okanogan county editors met here and formed an organization with D. L. Gillespie of Brewster as chairman and Mrs. DeVos of Omak as secretary and treasurer. The secretary was instructed to notify each editor of the adopted scale for job and advertising prices. Each paper in the county has approved the raising of weekly papers to $4 a year. The convention emphasized co-operation in every detail.

According to British engineers, by utilizing the available water supply Mesopotamia could irrigate 7,000,000 acres for winter crops and from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000 for summer ones.

WIDE OPEN VOTING INDICATED REPORT

SUFFRAGE VIRTUALLY SETTLED IN OPINION ON RATIFICATION.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 9.—It was virtually settled in the attorney general's office today that the opinion to Governor Hobby with reference to suffrage will give the important advice that both men and women are entitled to vote in the November election without payment of poll tax under the terms of the recently ratified nineteenth or woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. This would throw wide open the doors for voting.

Under the terms of the nineteenth amendment there can be no discrimination by the states between the sexes in the matter of voting. The nineteenth amendment enfranchises the women at once and the opinion is to hold they can vote in the coming elections. Male voters are charged a poll tax in Texas. Women are not assessed a poll tax. The opinion will say that such is discrimination, and that the only way to remove it is to allow male voters to vote on the same terms with the women, and that is without the payment of poll tax.

The Texas constitution says male voters must pay a poll tax on or before Feb. 1 of each year. That time has passed, hence the legislature might not be able to extend a constitutional privilege by statutory enactment in an effort to lay a poll tax on women before Nov. 1 and open payments for men during the same period. The constitution says men can not pay them after Feb. 1 and, in order not to discriminate, neither could women.

There may be a special session of the legislature to see what can be done in the premises. If the opinion stands without legislative limitation of some kind the general election in November will see thousands of voters participate, men and women, who did not pay their poll tax. This is not relished in some quarters in Texas, so state house gossip goes.

A reply has been received in the attorney general's department from Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, to the wire inquiry as to whether the nineteenth amendment stands finally ratified. Mr. Colby makes no mention of the recent rescission by the Tennessee legislature of the ratification by the thirty-sixth and last state to approve and thus effect ratification. He merely recites his affirmative action and the basis therefor, apparently leaving to the courts the matter of fixing the exact status of affairs. His telegram follows:

"Your telegram Sept. 3 on receipt from the governor of Tennessee that state had ratified proposed nineteenth amendment to the federal constitution, I issued the announcement provided for by section 205, revised statutes of the United States, the notification received from the governor of Tennessee being the thirty-sixth notice of ratification submitted to the department."

Efforts to Divide Friends of Progress Useless.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 11.—Prohibition, the great silent topic of the campaign, came openly into the presidential campaign here Saturday night at the meeting of Governor Cox of Ohio, the democratic presidential candidate.

The governor, after an introduction to a large crowd, in which his sponsor, George C. Cotterill, democratic candidate for United States senator, denounced assertions that the candidate was a "wet," made the following declaration:

"As a progressive in government I know when an event has passed by and becomes a part of yesterday. The reactionary rarely does. The friends of world peace and the friends of progress will win this election and any attempt to divide them on any question not an issue will be unavailing."

HARDING'S AND COX'S VIEWS ON LABOR.

There is but little difference, of a substantive kind, between the labor views of Senator Harding and of Governor Cox, as those gentlemen expressed them in their Labor Day speeches. Unless the fact that Senator Harding expressly approved, and even applauded, the labor section of the transportation act, while Governor Cox made no reference to it, can be thought to constitute such a difference, there is none whatever. And that this does not constitute such a difference is made clear by the fact that, while approving the application of it, Senator Harding declared himself opposed to the principle of compulsory arbitration. Since Senator Harding thus disclaimed any desire to have a larger use made of that principle, his support of the labor section of the transportation act could be converted into an issue only by a declaration from Governor Cox that he favors the repeal of that provision of the transportation act. Such a declaration would create an issue, and one of considerable importance; but until Governor Cox shall make it, the statement that there is no difference, of a substantive kind, in their views of the labor question will be justified.

The differences between the two deliverances are differences of emphasis, and in this respect the differences are notable. Governor Cox concerns himself almost exclusively with the rights of labor, while Senator Harding concerns himself with both the rights and duties of labor, and so manifests a more lively consciousness of the rights of the public than does Governor Cox. Governor Cox is not more earnest than Senator Harding in asserting the right of workmen to organize, to bargain collectively, to be represented in wage negotiations by men of their own choosing, and in their right to be liberally paid. But Senator Harding, unlike Governor Cox, finds occasion to say that the laborer's right to liberal wages is not greater than his duty "to give to his task the highest degree of efficiency." Doubtless Governor Cox would subscribe to that idea, but the absence of reference to it in his deliverances on the subject of labor suggests that he is more disposed than Senator Harding to flatter the workmen. It is probably because it regards him as a more partisan exponent of the ideas and principles which both profess that labor shows a preference for the candidacy of Governor Cox. Unless this is so, labor would find it difficult to give reasons for its preference for Governor Cox, since it could not find in the speeches of the two candidates evidence that one would favor any legislation which the other would oppose. Doubtless labor is not without reason for thinking that Governor Cox would administer all legislation affecting it with more sympathy for it than would Senator Harding, and this, together with the fact that the republican party has shown less indulgence than the democratic party for labor, doubtless gives ample warrant for labor's preference for the Cox candidacy.—Galveston News.

WHERE BUSINESS IS ALWAYS GOOD*EDITORIALS BY*DR. R. T. MILNER*WHAT THE FORMER A. & M. PRESIDENT WRITES IN THE RUSK COUNTY NEWS.

If we could but enlist the great mass of our people in a wise and just campaign for a remunerative price for cotton which would mean hundreds of millions of dollars to our people, as we can enlist them in a political campaign, the battle could easily be won. Now in a few days ten hundred delegates will meet in a convention to rejoice over a political victory, and we have no objections to that, but where are the forces strong enough to assemble that many people together to fight for the rights of the women and children who produce a large portion of the cotton? Some day there will come light into the minds of the people, and with that light energy and courage will come, and then, and then only, will the farmers assert their rights and be able to maintain them. Men have never asserted their rights until they learned what they were and so it is in business. There are farmers right now, thousands of them, yes, and merchants and bankers also, who are densely ignorant of the value of cotton. The awakening hour will come when ignorance shall no longer obscure the light, and then, like a giant, the South will lay hold of the situation and never stop until justice shall be done, even to the most ignorant cotton raising negro in the bottoms.

We have heard many pathetic stories about child labor in the factories, and it was a barbarous system that required little children to work and toil in the sweat shops. But did it ever occur to the public that thousands of children in the South are forced to work under worse conditions? In the dew of the spring, throughout the hot summer months and reaching far into the cold winter, little children are forced to toil in the cotton patches or starve. There is no way to prevent this terrible condition. But it is all the more pathetic when we recall the fact that this child labor in the cotton patches has never been very remunerative. They have not been compensated as the children were in the factories. And now while the cotton factories are more prosperous than ever before, the labor that was required to produce cotton is not promising sufficient compensation to purchase the necessary clothing to keep them warm during the winter months. There is great injustice in our present economic programme.

We must confess with all candor that this cotton crop is the most prodigious failure and the vastest disappointment that has confronted the cotton farmer in a year or two. Our cotton farmers, and they constitute a very large majority of the farmers of the South, are not unlike the gold miners and the oil hunters. The thing is fascinating. It can promise more and turn out less than any legitimate business in the world. Cotton will grow and bloom and put on squares until a bale to the acre looks almost a cocksure thing and in less than two weeks it will be stripped naked and where wealth and fortune seemed almost inevitable, poverty and ruin will stare the grower right in his face. Cotton farming is a deceiving thing, and this fact is more and more to be realized as the years, with their millions of worms and weevils, pass by. All this reminds us that a change in our plans is bound to take place mighty soon.

That fellow Tom Love will get something from Cox yet unless the Democratic candidate keeps a close eye on things.

Mill Idle as Farmers Hold Seed for Prices.

Luling, Texas, Sept. 11.—After having all machinery in shape for the season and making extensive plans for the season's run, those in charge of the Luling oil mill are facing a period of idleness on account of the low price of seed. Farmers here are consistently refusing to sell their seed at the low prices offered and although the mill has been buying seed for more than a month they have not yet secured a sufficient quantity for one day's crush.

By using the circulating brine system refrigerator motor truck bodies have been perfected in which less than ten per cent of the loading space is required for the refrigeration apparatus.

Hagaman had said deed recorded on or about the 17th day of April, 1919, and one day prior to the filing of plaintiff's deed; that said deed from defendant Shaklee to defendant Hattie E. Hagaman was without consideration and at the time of said conveyance the said Hattie E. Hagaman had full knowledge and actual and constructive notice of the former conveyance by the said Shaklee and wife to plaintiff, and that said conveyance was made by the said Shaklee to said defendant, Hattie E. Hagaman, for the purpose of defrauding plaintiff out of said land. That subsequently thereto, on to wit, the 13th of June, 1919, the said Hattie E. Hagaman and husband, V. G. #### Having a Good Time.

Three young men from north of Crockett, who had had too much to drink, decided in Crockett Saturday night that riding in a buggy was too tame an affair for them, so they took their horses loose from the buggy, put rope halters on them, mounted them horseback, two on one horse and one on the other, and proceeded with a whoop and a yell to explore the southwestern part of town. One of the young men was overtaken and arrested by Sheriff Spence, but the other two made a safe getaway. It is said that they will be arrested when they return to town.

Visitor Entertained.

The visit of a fellow class and school mate, Mr. Charles D. Whitman of Waco, Senior at A. & M. College, was the inspiration for a series of dinner parties given in his honor the past week. Mr. Whitman's visit was inspiration for a large swimming party and sunrise breakfast on Friday morning at the Country Club lake, which was attended by about ten couples of merry swimmers. After the early morning plunge the boys built fires and Messrs. McConnell, Denny and Whitman proved to be excellent cooks and soon all were enjoying the crisp bacon, fried eggs, and steaming coffee. Mr. Frank Wootters entertained the college bunch with a beautiful dinner on Monday evening. Participant.

Luncheon for Visitor.

Honoring Mr. Charles D. Whitman, Senior of A. & M. College, and the visitor of Messrs. E. McConnell and W. H. The spacious rooms had been tastefully decorated with vases of cut flowers, which lent a decidedly summer atmosphere to the occasion. After the jolly crowd of guests had assembled they were ushered to the dining room where a delicious and beautifully appointed buffet luncheon was served. Couples sauntered to the inviting lawn, others to the vine covered porch, and others to the cozy nooks of the house to partake of the food dainties. It was then jolliality and good times until the following guests bid the charming hostess and honor-guest a pleasant good-night: Misses Leita Cunyus, Delha Mildred Wootters, Gladys Harrison, Mary Spence, Nodelle Jordan, Ruth Warfield, Queenie Sams, Leona Thomas, Lucia Painter, Hattie Stokes, Marian Dupree, Beth Lundy and Kate Jensen; Messrs. A store has character, as well as an individual, or a town, or a church, or a club. The character of an individual or town or church or club is largely a matter of pride; but the character of a store is a matter of pride plus profit. A store of character is ever reaching out for the acquaintance of strangers, that they may come to know and value its character and its superior merchandising facilities. There are various means employed to secure this result, but that which has been and is employed to the greatest extent and to the greatest satisfaction is newspaper advertising.

The committee on advertising of the National Editorial Association, realizing the need of a more uniform and higher advertising rate if the papers of this country are to absorb even a part of the ever-increasing cost of doing business, and composed of a number of men of experience from widely selected parts of the country, made an exhaustive study of advertising problems, and recommended the following rates: For newspapers of 500 or less circulation, 20 cents; for newspapers of 1,000 or less circulation, 25 cents; for newspapers of 1,500 or less circulation, 30 cents; for newspapers of 2,000 or less circulation, 35 cents; for newspapers of 2,500 or less circulation, 40 cents.

GOV'T OPERATION OUT OF POLITICS

Party Leaders Convinced by Results of National Canvass of Editors.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Inner circles of both political parties here are greatly interested in the results of a national poll on the question of government operation among over 5,000 newspaper editors throughout the country. With 86 per cent of these editors, regardless of political faith, giving it as their impartial opinion that the public is more than ever opposed to the government going into business in competition with its citizens, observers here see little chance that either political party will find it a profitable campaign issue.

In the opinion of party leaders this sort of a canvass among newspaper editors is the best possible index of public opinion. They recall a similar questionnaire sent out a year ago in connection with the proposition that the government take over the railroads permanently. Replies at that time from approximately the same number of editors showed 83 per cent against the principle of government operation. They recall also that within ten days from publication of the result of the former questionnaire the sentiment for return of the railroads to their owners had definitely crystallized.

Comparison of present results in detail with those of a year ago convinces the political student not only that these editors have been accurate in their judgment, but that party considerations played no part in forming it. From Democratic and supposedly radical Texas, for example, the present questionnaire brought replies from editors of 244 papers, only three of which are Republican. Yet the percentage against government operation was 92, which, exactly the same as that given by 200 editors from Republican Michigan, among whom were representatives of only three Democratic papers. Other states that pair percentages significantly are Massachusetts and Nevada, with 100; Connecticut and South Carolina, with 97; Maine and West Virginia, with 96; Kentucky and New York, with 91; Missouri and Pennsylvania, with 89; Ohio and Oklahoma, with 87.

Bolsheviki Styles Are Snappy; Diamond in One Ear.

Zurich, Switzerland, Sept. 11.—Naturally the society people of the old regime in Petrograd have been completely exterminated. They have been replaced by a parvenu elite of bolsheviki leaders.

Lenine and the other men at the top try to set an example to the rest; they live in the utmost simplicity and unostentation. But their new power and prominence has gone to the heads of many. They have seized the palaces of the nobility, where they give brilliant soirees. They traverse the muddy streets in princely motor cars, and wear pearls and diamonds. They even have a fashion of their own. Just at present it is the vogue in these new higher circles of Petrograd to go about in high laced boots, riding breeches and a Russian smock. While it is a fashion in some other countries to wear a monocle, a bolsheviki beau will wear a single diamond in one ear.

Social usages in these circles resemble quite strikingly those among our parvenu war profiteers. It should be said in passing that family life in bolsheviki Russia has suffered severely. Children are taken away to be brought up and educated in public institutions. There is little formal marriage, even normal registration before the soviet authorities being omitted.

PROMISES RETURN TO SOBER BUSINESS

Declares Purpose is to Re-establish Co-operation Throughout Nation.

Marion, O., Sept. 11.—"An end of governmental meddling and bungling" in the financial world and a "return to an era of sober business" was promised by Senator Harding Saturday in addresses to several delegations of business men of Illinois and Indiana.

Charging the democratic administration with waste in the conduct of its fiscal affairs and dictatorial intrusion in its relations with private enterprise, the republican nominee declared it was his purpose to wipe out many wartime government restrictions and to re-establish co-operation between government and business. In reorganization of the government's financial system, he said, he would seek the advice of the nation's ablest administrators.

Proposed Remedies.

Revision of taxation and of the tariff, curtailment of profiteering, establishment of a federal budget system, reorganization of the postal service and promotion of a merchant marine were among the remedies he named. He declared a "conspiracy of perfect accord" between the administration and the democratic nominee was seeking to perpetuate the war powers exercised by the executive over private business.

The senator also touched on the league, declaring a discrepancy between the English and French texts of the covenant would have led to complications which in the practical working of the league would have meant entire abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine.

REVOLT BREAKS IN ITALIAN CITY

Socialist Outbreak Occurs in Trieste; Machine Guns Are Used.

Trieste, Sept. 11.—Following a day of rioting, in which well armed rioters challenged government troops, a socialist revolt was believed Saturday night to have been successfully put down.

The trouble started when the socialists erected barricades in the streets and mounted machine guns and challenged the Italian troops and naval forces.

The fighting was sharp while it lasted. The socialists, emboldened by their arms and supply of ammunition, dared the government forces to advance on their barricades. Both sides began firing and several volleys were exchanged. The government forces then trained artillery on the barricades and the civil governor demanded the immediate withdrawal of the socialists from the streets, threatening to tear them to pieces with the big guns if the order was not complied with.

The socialists after a parley decided to withdraw, and late Saturday night it was believed the worst trouble was over. A number of the socialists were wounded. They were being cared for Saturday night at an improvised hospital in a church.

Financial Difficulties Create New Tax Schedule.

Vienna.—In its effort to find a solution of its financial difficulties the municipality of Vienna is resorting to taxations not approached in any country during the war. As a first step it has raised the deposit of gas consumers from between 100 and 300 crowns to 8000 crowns per
