ROBERT LEE HENRY SPEAKS AT CROCKETT

Hon. Robert Lee Henry of Waco, candidate for the United States senate, spoke at the court house in Crockett on Wednesday evening of last week, according to appointment. He was introduced by Captain N. H. Phillips, who had intimately known the speaker for many years. Captain Phillips formerly lived in Mr. Henry's congressional district and he well remembered some of the campaigns he had gone through when Mr. Henry was always the nominee. Congressman Henry served for twenty years in the national house of representatives, a period of ten consecutive terms. In his first race for congress he was opposed by Hon. Cullen Thomas, who is now his opponent in the race for United States senator. He was afterward opposed by equally as strong men, but never suffered defeat in his congressional district. Captain Phillips, in his introductory remarks, said that no mistake would be made should Bob Henry receive the nomination and election for United States senator.

Mr. Henry reviewed briefly his record in congress, declaring that the records were open for the most searching investigation. On account of the limited time and the question covering such a wide scope, he did not go into the tariff question. He said that inasmuch as the 18th amendment (the prohibition amendment) is now the law of the land, he is in favor of its being strengthened by such legislation as the Volstead act and would oppose any amendment that would weaken the law. He said he was not in favor of refunding the war debts of the European countries, but that he was in favor of collecting these debts and applying them to the payment of the soldiers' bonus. He favored an amendment to the Esch-Cummings transportation act, affecting the interstate commerce laws, which would restore to the railroad commissions of the different states their former authority in the matter of regulating freight rates and shipments. He said the farmers and merchants were now greatly depressed by the high freight rates and that further relief would have to come through congressional enactment, as the railroad commissions of the different states had been shorn of much of their authority. He deplored the present tendency toward the setting up of a centralized government at Washington and advocated a return to the democratic doctrine of states' rights and a government by and for the people. He believed his twenty years' experience in congress would aid him in furthering in the senate the things he advocated, as he was familiar with the working details and knew personally many of the senators.

He said he was in favor of amending the regional banking laws until adequate relief could be given the farmer and stock-raiser. He favored a return to old-time principles of economy in government and the abolition of all unnecessary offices and commissions. He claimed to be nothing but a plain, old-fashioned democrat, standing on the same principles of economy in government on which the party was founded.

He said that he had never entertained a private view on a public question, and that as the Dallas News, Father Crane and Senator Culberson had injected the Ku Klux question into the campaign, making it a public question, they found him without a private view. "Yes, I am a klansman," he said. "Let me say to you, my fellow citizens," he continued, "that the great foundation sill of Americanism underneath the tenets and principles of the klan abundantly justifies its organization and perpetuation. What this country needs is a real klansman and several of them in the United States senate. They were never more needed than now. The spirit of Americanism is being revived and the people everywhere are demanding 100 per cent Americanism in all walks of life and would rejoice to see it exemplified in the selection of a United States senator from Texas. After the civil war we had some glorious klansmen in the United States senate. We had one from Waco. Richard Coke was sent from the office of governor to the United States senate. He was a klansman of old. General Sam Bell Maxey, an old-time klansman, became a senator from Texas. Virginia elected Major John Warwick Daniel as her klansman from the Old Dominion. The Tar Heel state elected her favorite klansman, old Zeb Vance, to adorn a seat in the United States senate. Tennessee was proud to use the services of Governor Isham G. Harris and General William B. Bate as old-time klansmen, to lead the fight in the United States senate for Anglo-Saxon civilization and white supremacy in the south." The speaker was frequently interrupted with applause, the audience seeming to be with him all the way through. It was evident that he made a most favorable impression on his hearers.

A NEW ENTERPRISE FOR THIS COUNTY

Mr. S. M. Monzingo informs us that there has been a meeting called of the members of the Farm Bureau Sweet Potato Growers' association, at the court house of Crockett, 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon, June 10, for the purpose of electing officers and directors for the county association.

After the officers have been elected, application for a charter will be made immediately and work will begin in locating and building curing plants right away.

There is still a chance for anyone wishing to market their sweet potatoes through this association to become a member, by signing one of the contracts and delivering same to S. M. Monzingo or Mr. R. R. Morrison, county agent.

Important Mission.

Mr. S. M. Monzingo left Tuesday afternoon on the Sunshine Special for Longview where he is a delegate for Houston county, representing the cane growers. He is very enthusiastic on this proposition, because he feels that he will secure for Houston county a large syrup blending and packing plant, which means that ribbon cane syrup will be made into a commercial product that can be handled in a systematic way.

EARL B. MAYFIELD TO SPEAK AT CROCKETT

Hon. Earl B. Mayfield, railroad commissioner and candidate for the United States senate, will address the voters of Houston county tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, June 9, at 3 o'clock, in Crockett. Commissioner Mayfield is a gifted young orator and statesman and will no doubt bring a message of interest to our people. It has been truthfully said that the affairs of our country were never in a more distressed condition. Never was there a time when we needed the most efficient representation at Washington as now. We produce more than we consume, as a nation. Foreign trade must be restored, transportation rates must be adjusted and other problems of government must be solved. We are urged to keep our minds on these great issues and elect a United States senator of understanding, with a national grasp of the situation and the ability to further such remedial legislation as falls within the range of economic adjustment and statesmanly policy. Former Congressman Henry has been here and delivered his message. Commissioner Mayfield is coming Friday afternoon and the Hon. Clarence Ousley and the other candidates may come later. Our people owe it to these candidates to hear the message they bring, and a large attendance is now urged at Friday afternoon's speaking.

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

This week the Courier has twice the number of renewals that we had last week, which we hope is a sign of returning prosperity. Callers at this office report that the rain last week just suited them, which may have had something to do with it. However, the rain of this week is not so pleasing, but we never do have things just like we want them—or seldom have and seldom will.

Among the number calling to renew or subscribe or sending in their renewals and subscriptions since last issue are the following:

S. M. Hallmark, Loraine, Tex.
S. M. Cook, Haynesville, La.
J. E. Bean, Grapeland Rt. 3.
J. F. Murray, Crockett Rt. 2.
W. A. Hurt, Crockett Rt. 2.
Miss Leota C. Duren, Huntsville.
Donald McDonald, Denton.

Bridge Party and Dance.

Mrs. D. F. Arledge entertained with a bridge party and dance Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. Neal Hall of Amarillo, who is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. B. Deal. A buffet luncheon was served early in the evening, card playing and dancing following. About ten couples, including Dr. and Mrs. Deal, were present to share in the pleasures so graciously provided for the evening by the hostess, who had the assistance of Mrs. J. P. Hall.

Oil Mill Sold.

The Houston County Oil Mill and Manufacturing Company's plant and property at Crockett were sold Tuesday morning at public sale at the court house door in Crockett. The sale followed foreclosure on a deed of trust held by the First National Bank of Crockett. The only bid was by H. F. Moore, president of the First National Bank. His bid was for $60,000 and the property was sold to him. The sale was to satisfy a debt owing by the oil mill to the bank for $85,000, to secure which a deed of trust had been given on the mill. The Houston County Oil Mill and Manufacturing Company is capitalized at more than $100,000 and the mill in normal times is a valuable piece of property. Oil mills have been "hard hit" during the last few years and the mill at Crockett was no exception. The mill at Crockett is considered to be worth more than $100,000.

SOME NEWS OF THE CROCKETT OIL FIELD

Bailing was resumed in the well of the Porter Oil Company at Crockett on Friday of last week, as stated in advance by the Courier, and continued until first of this week, when swabbing was again resumed to. Being unable to control the water, the well was again shut down Tuesday and another job of cementing done, former cementing having been insufficient to shut out the water. The well will remain shut down until Friday of next week, June 16, when bailing will be again started. Mr. George L. Porter, the operator, is confident that he has the water shut off this time and that the well will be brought in after a few days of bailing, which will not be until after the 16th inst., when the cement will be dry. In the meantime he has the best wishes of our people for the successful development of a real oil well. Oil and gas indications are plentiful.

We have no report from the other wells, which are enumerated in their order of depth as follows: The Weldon well, the Porter Springs well, the Driskill well and the Grapeland well. Derricks without rigs are up at Augusta and Crockett.

No Reflection Intended.

It has been brought to the Courier's attention, almost two weeks after the fire in Thompson & Sons' store, that a member of the Crockett Electric Light & Ice Company has found objection to that part of the Courier's report regarding the origin of the fire. The Courier's report read as follows: "The origin of the fire is undecided, but the opinion seems to be that it was from defective electric wiring." It will be observed that the report did not attempt to give the cause of the fire, but did give the opinion prevailing as to the cause, after interviewing a number of both interested and disinterested parties. Further investigation this week confirms our belief that the report was correct. We wish to add, however, that no reflection on the electric light company was intended by either those who ventured the opinion or by the Courier editor who gathered it, and we regret, as a matter of course, that any such construction should have been placed on it.

Annual Reunion.

The Confederate veterans held their annual reunion at Grapeland Thursday. They report a big dinner and a big time. The veterans, their families and their friends were addressed by Hon. Robt. Lee Henry, candidate for United States senator.

PROTECTION IS THE WORD.

The bankers of Texas in their state convention went on record for protection. Their argument is that so long as the tariff is a policy of the government they want to see all products of the southwest, including agricultural, mineral and all other things, given protection equal to that afforded the products of other sections of the country. That is the doctrine pure and simple of the American people. When General Hancock was nominated for president by the democrats he declared that the tariff was a local question, but the idea of protection has grown until now it is a national question. And the argument of the bankers is about the most honest and candid plea that has ever been offered. One argument put forth in congress is that since ninety per cent of all the business transacted in the United States is purely domestic, there is no reason why we should not put up the bars and keep the rest of the world out altogether. But nothing is more certain in legislative matters than the fact that this congress is going to pass a protection bill, the stoutest ever enacted in these United States. They no longer call it a tariff, but declare that it is protection, protection to all the people whether they have anything to protect or not. In other days the east led in all tariff matters, but the leadership for protection has been transferred to the mountains and plains of the west. Senator McCumber from North Dakota has charge of the tariff bill, and all the republicans from that far western section are for protection, and the enthusiasm and zeal with which they are whooping it up is a wonder. All the democrats can hope to do is to make speeches and record a minority vote. Many of the senators, however, on both sides, are paying very little attention to the debates, as it is hard to maintain a quorum. Many roll calls on amendments offered by a few democrats show a bare quorum, just enough republicans present to be sure of voting them down.

If the measure is half as bad as the democrats say it is, the sooner it can be submitted to the people the better for the whole country, because it can be made one of the issues in the fall election, and the voters can then render a verdict upon it, and if they reject it, congress may revise it next year. If it is as good as the republicans say it is, we need it this very minute.

About one hundred years ago Henry Clay said that the question of free trade and protection would never be settled until it was settled in favor of protection. From the way the boys are now clamoring for protection on something or other from every state in the Union, it would appear that Henry Clay knew what he was talking about. The thing, as we see it, is driving rapidly to a time when the politicians will be vying with each other as to who is the greatest protectionist in the land, the same as prohibition and woman suffrage, for instance.

THE WAY OF THE FARMER IS HARD.

Congressman Thomas U. Sissons, of Mississippi, discussed recently in the House of Representatives the importance of cheaper money for the farmer. He favors an amendment to the Farm Loan Law increasing the purposes for which a farmer may borrow money, at a low rate of interest, for a long period. In other words, he says that a farmer should have the same right to borrow money to save his farm that he has to buy it with.

It is a difficult question to settle by law the limitations, bounds, purposes and amounts of money which can safely be loaned on land, and the danger is that congress may go too far in that direction. However, Congressman Sisson made some truthful remarks in his argument, which should be taken into consideration in dealing with the present situation of the farmer. The following excerpts from his speech apply generally to the farmers of our country:

"During the days of high-priced farm products many farmers incurred debts that were not perhaps for agricultural purposes. Some of these farmers, having for the first time in life money or credit sufficient with which, we will say, to buy a Ford car, went in debt and bought one, furnishing for the very first time an opportunity for his hard-working life companion to break the dull monotony of life by taking a little trip to some near-by town or city. Perhaps it was bad business judgment upon the part of the farmer to incur this indebtedness for the pleasure of his hard-working wife and children. I do not think so. I know something of the ceaseless drudgery that is hers. I know that her work day never ends. Her cares are many. She never complains. I know, for I was raised in the country far from the railroad, and I have never forgotten how these God-fearing country mothers sacrifice and toil and complain not. I know that her opportunities for contact with the world are few, and I do not begrudge her this little pleasure. No; and I want this good farmer to know that this government will not deny him a loan to save his farm, even if for once in his life, he did make a business mistake. Much has been spoken and written of the tendency of the country boy and girl to leave the farm and to cast their lot among strangers in the cities and towns of the country. Yes; and this tendency is going to increase unless something is done to lighten the burden and increase the pleasures of the good country women. These good women are the very salt of the earth. They are the mothers of the men and women worth while. We must make life for them contented and happy, relieve it somewhat of its isolation and its hardships, and the country boy and country girl will view country life in a much different way. This nation must depend upon the country boy and country girl for its real men and women. The country has furnished, and will furnish, the men and women who will make our nation great; for—

Ill fares the land to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay;
Princes and lords may flourish or may fade;
A breath can make them, as a breath has made;
But a bold peasantry, their country's pride,
When once destroyed, can never be supplied.

"It is a deep conviction with me that my country is no stronger than its agriculture; that its peace, its prosperity, depend upon the prosperity of the farmer, because there is the source of all life, all strength, all happiness. If I serve the farmer, I serve the whole people. If I fail to serve him, I fail to serve all the people. If I hurt him, I hurt all the people. If I destroy him, I destroy the government. If I save him, I save the government. If we are able to erect a permanent haven of liberty on these shores of ours, if we are to build that temple high, on solid foundation, all the governmental agencies must take always into consideration the fact that we must not cripple agriculture, because it is the foundation on which the whole structure stands. No congressman, whether he lives in the city or in the country, who has the right idea of strength of government who has the proper love for his wife and children and friends and neighbors, would in any wise willfully cripple agriculture. Where there is an injustice in the law that operates against the farmer we ought at once to correct that defect and teach him and his family that this government is his friend. You must not talk about the terrible tendency of the boy and girl to leave the farm unless you can increase some of their pleasures and their hopes and aspirations on the farm. There is the beginning and the end of the strength of this great Republic."

THEY ARE STILL PLURAL.

We are glad to see Senator John Sharp Williams comes out like a brave man that he is, and make the declaration that the United States are plural. They were created plural and remained plural as long as our public men revered the Constitution and true scholarship.

"The United States are plural and not singular. We are one government composed of many states, and the states are plural even after they are united under one federal government," says this old-fashioned democrat, statesman and scholar. But why discuss a question of scholarship upon which every statesman and every scholar agreed for one hundred years? Of the fifty-five men chosen to write the Constitution of the United States, Judge Alton B. Parker, in a speech at William and Mary College, said: "It was a wonderful body of men. Never since that day has a body of like numbers been their superiors in ability, courage, industry and patriotism."

The great document which they wrote, the masterpiece of all ages, so pronounced by Lord Bryce, was a Union of States, and while there were differences of opinions as to the sovereignty of the states, there never was any difference as to the grammatical construction of the two words, United States, until men came to the front who were either ignorant of the history and meaning of the Constitution, or who were lacking in that profound respect for it worthy of its authors. The grammatical construction was not a mere custom, conforming to certain peculiar views of a few men, but it was used to express a form of government for which there were no precedents. Each of these states had its own constitution, made its own laws, and reserved certain powers which the federal government could not encroach upon. And as Senator Williams says "the states are plural even after they were united under one federal government."

MUSCLE SHOALS OFFERS TURNED DOWN BY BODY

Counter Plan Suggested to Every Bidder; Ford Was Nearest to Winning.

Washington, May 27.—Bidders competing for development by private enterprise of the government $106,000,000 war initiated projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., were given their answers Saturday by the house military committee in the form of a counter proposal framed by the committeemen.

None of the offers submitted by the bidders and forwarded to congress by Secretary Weeks for final decision was found acceptable. That made by Henry Ford came closest to winning the award in that it was made the basis on which the committee acted in a way, it was explained, which will leave its decision subject to acceptance by any person or interest willing to meet its terms and which will permit it, at the same time to support its counter proposal before the house when the subject of Muscle Shoals is acted on in that body.

No time was lost by the bidders in calling for their answers. W. B. Mayo, chief engineer of Mr. Ford, was the first to receive a copy of the committee's plans. He, representatives of the Alabama Power company, Frederick Engstrom and Charles Parsons, makers of the other bids, were asked to advise the committee early next week whether they would accept the proposal. Mr. Mayo said he would confer with Mr. Ford in Detroit before giving an answer and left here for that purpose shortly afterward.

Some committee members were represented as being confident that the plan worked out by the committee would be accepted by Mr. Ford despite the elimination of the Gorgas, Ala., steam plant from the properties to be disposed of with Muscle Shoals. Others, however, apparently lacked the confidence their colleagues evidenced in this regard and called attention to the repeated declarations of Mr. Mayo and other witnesses for Mr. Ford that Mr. Ford's offer had to be accepted "as a whole and not in part."

Care was exercised by the committeemen to keep the details of their plan a secret until the bidders had received it, including Mr. Ford in Detroit. It was understood, however, that the plan was in effect the Ford modified offer and differed only in the language added by the committee, replacing in many paragraphs that which was struck out in order to insert committee amendments.

In brief, the committee alterations were represented as being chiefly important with respect to the Ford offer in that they eliminated the Gorgas plant, required a paid up cash capital of $10,000,000 or more for the operating company to be created for developing the shoals, made compulsory the yearly production of finished commercial fertilizers on the basis of 40,000 tons of fixed nitrogen and specified the manner of appointment of the directing board of seven members whose duty would be to examine the company's books and prevent the sale of fertilizers at profits exceeding 8 per cent of cost of production.

The provision of the Ford proposal fixing 100 years as the lease period for the Wilson dam and other projects not purchased outright by the Detroit manufacturer remained unchanged in the committee draft, it was understood, as well as the provisions relating to the financial phases of the proposed transaction. In this connection it was recalled that Secretary Weeks' one recommendation to congress made when he transmitted the Ford offer there was in opposition to the 100-year lease.

The bill drafted by former Representative Lloyd of Missouri and introduced in the senate by Senator Norris of Nebraska at request of J. H. Levering, Los Angeles engineer, was introduced in the house today by Representative Morin, republican, Pennsylvania, and proposes semi-governmental ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals.

A Busy Time in East Texas.

The East Texas crops are beginning to move now. The berry crop is at its height and those sections that specialize in berries are busy. The berry crop has been a good one, and the prices have been good. In a few days now the tomato crop will begin moving in car and train lots and the outlook here is good, too. And then later the peach crop will move. With the right kind of co-operation East Texas can be made the greatest food producing section of the United States. No country adapts itself to such crops better, and it is up to the people to make the business go.—Palestine Herald.

PRODUCERS OF RIBBON CANE SYRUP TO ORGANIZE

Dallas, Texas, May 27.—Delegates from fifteen counties in southeast Texas met at Teneha on May 9 and delegates from eighteen counties in northeast Texas met at Mt. Pleasant on May 11 to consider the advisability of organizing a syrup growers' association.

H. S. Paine of the bureau of chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture attended both meetings and discussed the marketing of syrup.

G. H. Alford, secretary of the farm bureau; H. H. Williamson, state agent of county agent work; M. E. Mays, marketing specialist of extension service; D. R. Bolin, marketing specialist of state warehouse and markets department; A. W. Buchanan and J. E. Stanford, district agents; Miss Helen Higgins, state agent, and several county agents, among them R. R. Morrison of Crockett, attended the meetings and took a leading part in the discussions.

The delegates from the different counties were producers of ribbon cane syrup, and after several hours discussion, at each meeting, decided to organize a marketing association on the Texas Farm Bureau plan. The sign up is to be finished on or before August 1.

The delegates from each county will secure and furnish to the delegates at the next meeting, to be held at Longview on June 7, an estimate of the probable number of gallons of syrup that will be signed up in his county. The United States Bureau of Chemistry will secure and supply data relative to the cost of equipping plants of different capacities and the farm bureau will secure data on the size and number of plants necessary to handle syrup and also data on freight rates.

The necessary information will be in hand when the organization committee meets at Longview on June 7 to enable them to decide on the number and size of plants necessary to properly handle the 1922 production.

S. M. Monzingo is the member of the organization committee for Houston county.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Theford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's. E. S.

DEATH TOLL HIGH DURING YEAR AT GRADE CROSSINGS

Austin, Texas, May 27.—Seventy-eight persons were killed in railroad grade crossing accidents in 1921, and 257 injured, according to reports to the state railroad commission announced today in connection with the four months "careful crossing" campaign of the American Railway association.

The railroad commission, in a statement addressed "to the people of Texas," declared that reports on file show that many of the accidents which have occurred at railroad crossings, particularly since the use of the automobile has become common, are due to the carelessness and inattention of the drivers of vehicles. The automobile casualty list on grade crossings is nearly 90 per cent of the total number of accidents and killings.

The railroad commission's report shows the following number, and kind of railroad crossing accidents for 1921, together with the number killed and injured:

Automobile accidents, number 136; 78 killed, 189 injured. Bicycle accidents, number 3; 1 killed, 2 injured. Street car accidents, number 3; 1 killed, 2 injured. Wagon accidents, number 30; 7 killed, 21 injured. Buggy accidents, number 8; 5 killed, 3 injured. Hack accidents, number 1; 0 killed, 1 injured. Tractor engine accidents 1; 0 killed, 1 injured. Pedestrian accidents, number 20, 10 killed, 10 injured. Employment accidents, number 1; 0 killed, 1 injured. Miscellaneous accidents, 0 killed, 1 injured. Total number accidents 360; killed 103, injured 257.

"We ask the people of the State to give co-operation to the American Railway association in their laudable campaign for education along the lines suggested, and adopt as their slogan "Cross Crossings Cautiously," the commission declared.

$365 IN PRIZES FOR BEST RHYMES

A new contest is just being started which will interest everyone who reads this paper. Anyone can enter this Contest—anyone can win! All it is necessary to do is to write a 4-line rhyme on Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder, using only the words which appear on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back).

Isn't that easy? Everyone likes to make rhymes and here is a chance to spend a fascinating hour or two writing rhymes on this popular Baking Powder and perhaps winning a substantial prize for your efforts.

27 CASH PRIZES

For the rhyme selected as best a prize of $100 will be given; for the second, third and fourth best rhymes prizes of $75, $50, and $25, respectively will be given. And besides these prizes there will be 23 prizes of $5 each for the next 23 best rhymes. With such a long list of prizes as these, it would be a pity not to try your hand.

Here's a 4-line rhyme as example:
Biscuits, muffins, pie or cake,
With Dr. Price's Powder bake,
The Price's Co., guarantees
No alum in the cans to be.

As Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder sells for only 25 cents a 13 oz. can, some rhymes could play up the great economy of this pure and wholesome baking powder.

All rhymes must be received by July 1, 1922. Only words appearing on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back) may be used. These words may be used as often as desired, but no other words will be allowed. If you haven't a can of Dr. Price's, you can see one free at almost any grocer's. It is not a requirement that you purchase a can in order to be eligible in this Contest.

Anyone may enter the Contest, but only one rhyme from each person will be considered. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Write plainly on only one side of a sheet of paper and be sure to give your name and address. Send your rhyme before July 1st to Price Baking Powder Factory, 1005 Independence Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

He Didn't Die in Vain.

A Kiona, Washington, paper tells us that a rancher and hunter caught a coyote in a steel trap. He thought he would have some fun with him, the unfortunate victim not having suffered enough from the trap to deserve a speedy death. The paper graphically recounts what followed:

He telephoned several neighbors to be on hand to witness the destruction.

Moore tied a stick of dynamite to the animal's tail, lighted the fuse and turned him loose.

Then Moore and his friends were shocked to see the creature disappear under-neath the hen house. No amount of yelling and revolver firing would dislodge it.

About three seconds elapsed when there was a great puff of dust and a roar, while the air was filled with feathers, pieces of fur, boards, straw, and eggs from an 800 size incubator which was in the hen house.

When the atmosphere had cleared there was no trace of the hen house and its valued contents. Moore looked behind him to see his neighbors beating a hasty retreat.—Dumb Animals.

Whiskey Still Captured and Negro Arrested.

Local officers went out to the negro settlement Friday night and took into custody Oscar Hart, colored. Hart was arrested at his home and was just in the act of running off a little home brew when the officers interfered. They destroyed about ten gallons of sour mash and a small quantity of whiskey.

Hart was brought to town and placed in the calaboose and the still was left on the sidewalk in front of Smith & Ryan's drug store, but next morning the evidence had been destroyed and Hart had made his escape from his cell by prizing loose the iron bars.

Some time Saturday he returned to his home and sent the officers word he would be there when they wanted him.—Grapeland Messenger.

Country Gentleman recently ran a remarkable series of stories about a score of different country merchants who have built up businesses of $100,000.00 to $500,000.00 a year in little country towns of a few thousand people. The only difference between these men and ordinary storekeepers was the way they used advertising. These men succeeded because they believed in themselves and their neighbors. They felt that their customers would buy the goods from them just as easily as from big stores so they went after the business, told people about it, advertised and were rewarded with constantly growing sales.

AS THE ERITOR SEES IT.

A pessimist keeps himself in a continual turmoil and blames other people for it.

It accomplishes him nothing. It gives other people the blues. It throws a wet blanket over enthusiasm.

It is detrimental to the community.

Swallow your pessimism, or spit it out.

The war failed to insure the future peace of the world. So did the treaty of Versailles. So did the league of nations. So did the Washington conference.

And the Genoa conference is traveling the same road. Somebody is spoiling for another scrap.

Every time a notorious criminal goes to jail a lot of mushy mushies begin to coddle him. Excuses are sought, maudlin sentiment is created, and in the end the culprit is often turned loose by a yellow or purchased jury.

That is one reason why the country is debauched with crime.

If we can't keep the criminals in jail, why not substitute the mushy mushies and corrupt jurors?

That, at least, would be some consolation.

LAST LETTER OF MRS. GEO. A. MANGUM TO HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

The following letter to her husband and children was written by Mrs. Geo. A. Mangum as the last message to loved ones. The letter was written in the Baptist sanitarium at Houston preceding an operation which fell short of its mission, that of saving her life:

"I am thankful for our Father, God, Lord and Jesus Christ. I am thankful for his great love and tender mercy. I am thankful he sent his only begotten son, that those who believe in him should not perish but have everlasting life. I am thankful for this beautiful world, the running brook, the lovely trees, the beautiful flowers, and the song of birds that gladdens the sign of the moon; the heart of the earth is the Lord's and the fallness thereof. We love Him because He first loved us, for my trust is in Him. I do not fear, I leave my life in His hands, His will be done. I am thankful for my old sweet Hubby. Many times I have failed to demonstrate my love, for I was always true blue. Misfortunes and reverses seem to come, although this has made my life closer to my Saviour, and he has never one moment failed me. I am thankful for my rose in God's garden beyond the skies. God understands and does all for the best. I live in hopes of walking in that garden with my loved ones. I am thankful for my only son—brave, manly, tender-hearted and sweet, for he is going to be a great man in God's Kingdom some day I feel. I am thankful for my three sweet, smart tender hearted little girls, always so willing to do for mother. I love them all alike—cheer up. I am thankful for such a dear, sweet, sacrificing Christian mother and father, and a Christian home for such dear sweet sisters. God bless them all. I am thankful for all my many, many dear kind friends. I love them all. I am thankful for our pastors' inspiring sermons, so uplifting, so full of spiritual food. God bless them and their families. I am thankful for our great physician, Dr. J. A. Hill, so faithful, tender, noble and true; millions of stars in his crown. God bless him that he may never know a headache or sorrow. I am thankful for the nurses who are so perfectly wonderful to administer to my comfort; bless their hearts, to so help the suffering humanity. I am thankful for my dear relatives here that have shown so much sympathy and given so much comfort. I am thankful for big Bud and dear little Sis who have stood true blue. God bless every one; I pray that each and every one may be reunited in the paradise of God in that mansion above. I am thankful for all the consecrated Christians at home, who have been an inspiration in my life, for I love my home, family, church, and relatives and friends. Pray for me as I go through the valley of death, the Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want."

19. Sheppard Hits Tariff Slated for Safety Pins.

Washington, May 27.—An increase of 100 per cent in the tariff on safety pins, which he said was a republican attempt to levy a tribute for the American manufacturer upon an implement first of use with infants when they were born, was attacked by Senator Sheppard for the democratic organization, with a motion to cut the tariff one-half to the rates under the Underwood law.

Hairpins and common pins also were included under the tribute laid for the money barons and profiteers, as Senator Sheppard expressed it.

"What fatuity possesses these seven million majority bloated men?" asked the Texas senator. "Do they not know there is an Aldrich and a Payne who brooked the justice of the almighty to keep their tariff state in Washington, and will they fail to prof-

ate?"
The committee reduced the rate to valorem, but defered amendment.

A Good Reputation plus a Better Price - $10.90

THE new low mark of $10.90 for the 30 x 3 1/2 size "Usco" created something of a sensation. Naturally, the first impulsive remark was on the "wonderful price."

Even more to the point are the comments of today.

People are getting more used to the $10.90 price—but the "Usco" value is still a cause for wonder.

With thousands of $10.90 "Uscos" running today, every locality has had a chance to check up on the surprising tire value.

Let all these "Usco" Tires now serving their owners so well remind you of this—

Whatever the price of "Usco," it has got to deliver big value because it has always done so.

Hitt The Boll Weevil Before He Hits You!

The Machine With the Pans and Brushes
DON'T BUY A SUBSTITUTE

Which is Best? To Invest $15 NOW in a Hitt Boll Weevil Catcher—Or to Run the Risk of Pasturing Weevils on High Priced 1922 Cotton?

We make the Hitt Boll Weevil Catcher and over 5,000 in successful use in Texas alone proves that this machine with the pans and brushes—EASILY ATTACHED TO ANY CULTIVATOR—will stop the boll weevil.

Why? Because as you work your crop it brushes the boll weevil off into the pans, where coal oil and water finishes him in short order. It takes off the punctured squares without damage to the plant or sound squares and stimulates the cotton to BETTER GROWTH by brushing through it. Therefore we say to every REAL cotton farmer of Texas that we KNOW it is better to buy a Hitt Boll Weevil Catcher for every cultivator RIGHT NOW, and INSURE against the boll weevil rather than HOPE he won't show up. Start using the machine as soon as the cotton begins to square. Then you'll KEEP IT CLEAN until laid by—and all without any extra labor cost. We believe in economy. But do not take unnecessary chances with your whole crop investment to save a few dollars—so we say, Mr. Farmer, don't gamble with the boll weevil. Use our machines as a safe instead of sorry.

Hitt Boll Weevil Machine Co., Dallas, Texas.
I wish to advise you that I have used three of your Boll Weevil Catchers and have found them satisfactory, in the way I used them, and they can be used profitably by any man that will constantly use them. I made, on the average land, 12 bales more cotton as a result of the use of these machines. In my opinion, a man can make more cotton by using these machines in any year than he can without, for they stimulate the growth of the cotton.—(Signed) FRANK DOHERTY, Austin, Texas, Feb. 23, 1922.
