Music Glass.

I will teach a class in music on Piano, Guitar or Mandolin at my father's residence on Elm street. For term call on or address:
Miss GEORGIA GARRETT,
Graham, Texas.

Graham still has the brakes on too tight. Flush times wouldn't do much good unless the brakes were removed.

He was just spending fifteen cents for a drink and had wiped his mouth with his coat sleeve when the idea of "hard times" struck him. "How long," said he, "will this panic last?" and then he went on to explain the pressure of hard times until the time came to take another drink—and the philosopher standing near—concluded that times would always be hard for that man.

We will take a pinch of snuff that is the quietest local option question ever had.

Teacher's Institute.

The first Institute of the scholastic year was held at the court house in Graham last Friday and Saturday. The attendance was rather small but the program was quite interesting, and those who attended were all certainly profited thereby.

It is a pity that all the teachers in the county cannot or will not attend these institutes. The law makes it the duty of the county judge to hold them, and by implication, clearly the duty of the teachers to attend. The entertainment Saturday night was well attended and very much enjoyed.

Wheat Wanted.

We will pay 50 cents per bushel for good wheat delivered at the Graham Mill on subscription to the LEADER. Many of our subscribers are in arrears with us and we give them this opportunity to settle if they have any disposition to pay what they owe us. THE LEADER.

San Timmons left last week for Louisville, Ky., to attend lectures at the Louisville medical college. He is preparing himself for the medical practice and has been studying under Dr. Gallaher for some time.

Weatherford College.

Send your sons and daughters to Weatherford College. Session opens Sept. 4th with eleven professors. Three hundred in attendance last year. Young ladies board with the president and family. Military Department for young men. No connection with Public Schools. Healthy locality. Cheap rates. Write for Catalogue or further information to:

John M. Norman and family returned home from Mississippi last week and John is again at his post of duty in the Beckham National Bank.

Miss Mary E. Graves began school at Olney last Monday.

To Parents.

We earnestly request the parents of Graham to keep their children away from our gin. An accident might happen to them at any time. Our employees are too busy to watch over them and keep out of dangerous places, so keep them away.

Bolknep.

Bolknep has experienced within the last month, a sort of exodus so to speak; and her citizens are just returning to their accustomed haunts. The families of Whiteley Bros. have just returned from an extended visit to Collin Co. For Mr. J. E. Whiteley this was a very expensive trip as he lost both horses by death.

Mrs. Rains who has been quite sick at neighbor Fugett's, is now improving.

Eld. Barnhart and family have returned from an extended visit to friends in Wise Co. On Sat. last he started with his daughter, Miss Ida for the "Deaf and Dumb" school at Austin where she will attend the coming year.

Prof. Compton and son Paul returned on Sat. from Chicago. Mrs. Compton is visiting Mrs. Capt. Hollis, (nee Miss Hill), of near Throckmorton.

Uncle Alfred Bennett and wife are visiting his son, Rev. N. B. Bennett of Roby.

Rev. E. S. Tucker preached here last Friday night to a good sized congregation. His family are still visiting on Keechi?

We hear but little said about the coming election nevertheless every body ought to be acting, and so vote as to protect their boys.

Sept. 4, 1893. PRESIDO.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Cough and Croup is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe find it just the thing and under its use find speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free at The R. G. Graham Drug Co. Large size 50c and $1.00.

Mrs. Joe Ford presented her husband a fine girl baby since our last issue.

G. B. Jewell is able to be down at his store.

The debate between the Baptist and Christian brethren at Casceville is now in full blast, and a great many Graham brethren are attending. We predict a most signal victory for both sides—that is nearly always the case with religious debates.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Colford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuritis and Bismuthum, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Buckler's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Sparger, Calaba, O., had five large FEVERS on his legs doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Buckler's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by The R. G. Graham Drug Co.

Center Ridge Dots.

"All quiet along the Poconoc ridge" the farmers around the ridge are gathering corn and talking about the hard times elsewhere. They are thankful they have plenty of beef, bread, butter and eggs. We have a new corner in our neighborhood. It is a Miss Bray, Prof. Glover from Miss. is teaching a very interesting and successful writing and singing school at this place. There are 38 in attendance. Mr. Editor and all the other good people are invited to attend next Friday evening at close of school.

FRIEND.

Struck by Lightning.

Yesterday evening a courier came into town post haste and reported that Duran Brown, who lives at Indian Mound, had been struck by lightning while out in the field with a team gathering corn and was dying. Two physicians went out as fast as they could. Dr. Gallaher stated to THE LEADER reporter this morning that when he left last night the patient had regained consciousness and was getting along all right. He said the lightning struck Mr. Brown on the head scorching him some and rendering him unconscious for about four hours. It was a narrow escape.

From Elizaville.

We will endeavor to write you a "squib" from our little village. Everything quiet, however, except politics. Our populist friends take a good deal of pleasure in saying "I told you so" but I guess we'll laugh on us for the present. One thing we believe some politicians will, about the next election, be enquiring "Who struck Billy Patterson" if we don't get relief from the present congress, but I guess there are enough politicians without your correspondent. The atmosphere in "our dignis" is being disturbed somewhat and from the information at hand we inclined to attribute the disturbance to a fiery little imp commonly known as cupid. However we will await developments before venturing an opinion. T. P. Donnell is off for Dallas and other points this week in the interests of the M. & M. Co. Dr. LeGrand of your town was in our village Monday night. The protracted meeting conducted by Rev. R. N. Smith of Graham closed Sunday night. Rev. W. M. Goode of South Bend preached Sunday at 11 o'clock. Misses Cole and Noel who have been visiting J. J. Daws and other families in Throckmorton have returned to their homes in Ia. Since their departure we think some of the boys could very readily locate an "aching void."

When the coal mines are being operated, just up the river from we expect to develop into a small sized city. We will write you however when it takes place.

Deputy Sheriff B. B. Garrett went to Archer Sunday, taking Capt. J. H. Brown, whom he arrested on a capias from Archer county charging Capt. Brown with swindling.

The "sun may move," as Rev. John Jasper says, but if the Democratic party don't get together in Texas, and that, quickly, it will "move out of power" in this State in 1894. Even thus early the populists believe they can "read their titles clear" to the political flesh pots. The Democrats have always been noted for doing the right thing "last," anyway.—Leoncelst.

Correspondence.

I daresay that your stand in favor of Prohibition affords real pleasure to many fathers in Young County, but I want to assure you in my own behalf of my great pleasure and to sincerely thank you for it.

We should all work for the best interests of our families. No man will question that every move in that direction must be for the right. Is there a father in Young County who will claim that his family needs saloons? Does he need a saloon? Does his son need a saloon? Does not the man who favors the saloon business know that every man who enters in on a downward grade—and that it is a very dangerous step for any young man to take?

The saloon is a school for vice. I make the statement without any fear of contradiction. The lessons there are not for anything that is good for every reason is marking the pathway to destruction. Now if a saloon is not good for a family, is it for the county? The county is inhabited by just as many families and as those families conduct themselves will the county be rated for morality and decorum. We can bring Young county up to a high standard, and let us do it! Every man in the county will be benefited. Every church in the county will have more consistent members. Families that now know a drunken father or drunken son, will see them straightened up and cleaned up, and living a life of sobriety and morality. It can be done, and will be done if you close up the saloons. The answer to all this may be that they will get the whiskey some other way. That may be true to a certain extent, but after you have voted against the saloon, or if you are not a voter, worked against it, you will have a clear conscience and it can be said of you that you did your duty and did all you could—that you worked for the best interest of your family—for the best interest of your county.

No man or woman should be ashamed to speak out for what he or she believes to be right. Have the moral courage to work from now till the election for what you believe to be right; say, what you know to be right—closing the saloons.

The whiskey traffic is the greatest robbery we have in this county. Monopolies and trusts may rob us of our money and our homes, but the whiskey traffic robs us of everything—takes our manhood away, destroys our happiness and our independence, and our own self-respect.

Will we have it in our county? Will every man, woman and child will rise and with one accord answer No! No! With God's help we will do all we can to prevent it.—The Supreme Court of the United States has said: "The statistics of every State show a greater amount of crime and misery attributable to the use of ardent spirits obtained from these retail liquor saloons than from any other source."

A distinguished journal says: "The open saloon is the universal public enemy."

The Kentucky annual conference of the M. E. Church South, at a late meeting, adopted the following report:

"Every year demonstrates with greater force the inveterate enmity between the Kingdom of Christ and the liquor traffic, and every utterance of the Methodist Church more clearly announces its uncompromising hostility to it."

The Iowa Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church last year adopted the following:

"While it is not the province of the church to dictate to any man how he shall vote, yet the Presbytery declares that no political party has the right to expect the support of Christian men so long as that party stands committed to the license policy, or refuses to put itself on record against the saloon."

The Wooster, Ohio, Baptist Association at its annual meeting last year passed the following without a dissenting voice:

"Resolved, That the liquor traffic is at present protected by law, and that said traffic is one of the greatest enemies of our free institutions and the foe of our common Christianity, and that, therefore, we declare it is a sin and act to vote for further legislation by any system of tax or license."

The United Brethren in Christ in Ohio adopted the following:

"We believe the liquor traffic now tolerated and encouraged, by this government, generates more poverty, crime, domestic suffering, Sabbath desecration and general lawlessness than any other evil which now afflicts society, and should in no way be encouraged by Christian people."

I appeal to our neighbors and friends if it is not our bonnden duty to put our shoulders to the wheel, and see to it that there is no saloon in Young county. Let every wife in the county send her husband to the polls to vote against the saloon! Let every sweetheart and sister and mother send those near and dear to them to the polls to vote and work against the saloons. If we do our full duty now all will be well—peace, happiness and plenty will be ours. P. R. HUNT.

DE MARY WALKER still persists that the wrong man was hanged in the Almy case. But as the man himself made no objections at the time, and has not said a word since, perhaps there are more vital questions before the country for consideration just now.

An experiment of educating dogs for the saving on the beach is a somewhat doubtful one. It requires a nice judgment of real danger than the canine mind is equal to, and misdirected zeal in such matters may easily produce a tragedy as shocking as a genuine rescue is fascinating.

It was a pretty fight that the lady members of the world's fair had. The shrieks that rose above the other side of the battle would have drowned that emitted by freedom when Kosciusko fell. Comment now is superfluous. The ladies themselves attended to it fully and without delay.

A WHITE man in Montana married a colored woman, and the match was not approved by society. A delegation of neighbors called, tarred the groom black, kalsomined the bride alabaster and departed satisfied. Yet the inharmonious of hue would seem to the unbiased to be as pronounced as ever.

Two Deputy Marshals Mortally and Seven of the Gang Fatally Wounded—Six Hangings in Old South Carolina.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Gladstone's long home rule fight has ended. The bill passed this morning at 1 o'clock by a vote of 301 to 267. It was hurried to the house of lords, which gave it the first reading and adjourned. The galleries of the house were filled long before the bill opened. A large number of ladies were present, and Gladstone with his bare head passed through the crowd and entered the house it was noticed that his face was very pale. A number of Irish priests followed the crowd in front of the house lifted their hats as the prime minister passed them. The prime minister was loudly cheered by his followers as he entered the house and walked to his seat. Scenes in the house of the house were exciting. When the announcement was made that the house had passed the bill the crowd went wild. They cheered, shouted, sang, embraced one another, smashed hats and did other absurd things to show their appreciation of the action. Gladstone's carriage, containing the prime minister and his wife, emerged at ten minutes after 11. It was stopped twice, notwithstanding the presence of the police. The coachman was enabled to proceed after a long wait. Gladstone's carriage was left their position and started after the carriage, which was again stopped and detained while the crowd cheered and sang "The Conquering Hero Comes." Gladstone was greatly touched by the fervor of the people.

what the process is whereby the gold is robbed of its precious stones. This is worked daily and the pebbles are extracted just as is done at the mines.

The Midway Plaisance captures every body nowadays, but somehow visitors are getting to be a little cautious about what they see and hear.

link on the part of some who are over-sensitive or over-zealous to the effect that the exhibit is a disgrace to the fair.

In the Cairo theater there is a dusky beauty in a peacock blue skirt with a white sash. The skirt hangs upon the hips, and any man with gambling instincts would lay ten to one the moment she began to dance.

The past business is one of the most interesting exhibits in the fair. It is a perpetual demand upon them for free admission.

In the Algerian theater there are several novelties. Most of the women are in attire that might be taken for gaudy house gowns.

She Loved Him. A marriage was performed in Peoria, Ill., the other day between an American girl and a Chinaman. It was a runaway match from Chicago.

Rate Must Be Chloroformed. The rats and stray cats and dogs in Central park, New York, got so bad that the authorities had to employ a professional rat catcher to exterminate them.

Coffee Feeds the Brain. An eminent medical authority, in a recent number of the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, maintains that coffee is a real brain food.

Church Statisticians. The Congregationalists and the United Presbyterian church publish figures showing how the membership in each body stands as regards the proportion between male and female.

Grain Production. The United States produces 2220 pounds of grain to each inhabitant; Denmark, 2000; Canada, 1500; Russia, 1200; Roumania, 1150; Spain, 1100; France, 990; Sweden, 980; Argentine Republic, 850; Australia, 760; Germany, 700; Belgium, 600; Portugal, 550; Ireland, 500; Scotland, 490; England, 360.

What Steam Does. In the manufacture of Great Britain alone the power which steam exerts is estimated to be equal to the manual labor of 4,000,000,000 of men, or more than double the number of males supposed to inhabit the globe.

The Fairy. In various times and places the panny has been styled by the following epithets: Herb-trinity (from its three colors), love-and-Idle, kiss-me-early, jump-up-and-kiss-me and three-faces-under-a-hood.

Chimp Enough. It is said to cost less to send the product of an acre of wheat from Dakota to England than it does to manufacture a score of land in England so that it will grow good wheat.

An Heirloom. A lady in Dalton, Ga., owns a gold bracelet of great antiquity, and within a circle of diamonds of the brightest water is a look of George Washington's hair.

Four to One. Assuming the working age to be from 20 to 30 years, and counting only country live on the labor of every 100 workmen.

For Summer Cookery. Royal Baking Powder will be found the greatest of helps. With least labor and trouble it makes bread, biscuit and cake of finest flavor, light, sweet, appetizing and assuredly digestible and wholesome.

Don't Kiss Cats and Dogs. It is said that an Italian savant, having noticed with some disgust the habit that many ladies have of kissing their pets and dogs, has made a careful examination of the saliva of these animals.

It is so cowardly to talk about a man like his back as it is to throw stones at his house in the dark.

Stonehill county has a $16,000 jail which she is using for a hotel, and it is said that the cells make fine guest chambers.

A great storm swept the Atlantic coast last Tuesday causing great loss of life and property. A great many vessels were wrecked by the fury of the winds and waves.

The wants of the "administration" seem to be the biggest thing in the eyes of our congressmen. The wants of the people are of secondary importance.

We have come to the "parting of the ways" as Bland says. The time has come for Democrats to be Democrats—stand on the platform of the people and repudiate the protection democrat and the gold standard democrat—they are nothing but republicans sailing under a false name anyway.

Cleveland's message had been received by the people one year before David B. Hill of New York had been president of the United States today.

Democratic congressmen are waiting for immediate action on the silver question to the satisfaction of the people.

Some of the people have been talking about the value of the silver dollar at a value which will be maintained, but how about the future? And what is to become of the silver bullion already bought by the government and deposited in the vaults of the treasury?

Platforms are meaningless, it seems as far as Congress is concerned but we are glad to say that all of our Texas congressmen stood by silver except Crain, Paschal and Gresham. These three deserted the standard and went squarely against the will of the people of Texas.

Let's all quit talking politics and get to work for their breakers ahead and don't you forget it.

The boys and girls who go to other States for their education usually return more or less imbued with ideas not entirely congenial to the ideas of the Southern States. In our State University, advertised in this issue, they may secure all the advantages offered by a first class institution, side by side with those among whom their life will be passed. A boy or girl comes back from a foreign school a stranger in Texas—they return from the University with hundreds of friends in all parts of the State.

A Great Success. The Galveston-Dallas Weekly News stands pre-eminent as a journalistic success. It does nothing by halves. It believes that whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well. It is ever on the alert for matter that will interest, instruct and benefit its readers.

Last spring the editor of The Weekly News organized a Columbian class, known to its youthful readers as "Mr. Big Hat's Summer School," the object of which was to awaken in the mind of the young an interest in the early history of America and its discoverer. The scheme has proven wonderfully successful and hundreds of children have been led to investigate with renewed interest, historical works bearing upon the subject; and their well written letters to The Weekly News bear unmistakable evidence of great benefit and mental improvement to themselves.

The Weekly News also contains an exceedingly interesting department for its lady readers. The articles on fashions, housekeeping and general miscellany are unsurpassed in interest to intelligent lady readers everywhere, and to farmers' wives in particular, who enjoy a good, practical, homelike paper. To the farmers themselves The Weekly News devotes a great deal of space, giving many valuable and timely articles on practical agriculture in the south, a page of interesting "news notes," all the leading political and general news of the world, and well written editorials on all the leading questions of the day.

No intelligent farmer in Texas can afford to be without The Weekly News. It cost but one dollar a year, or less than two cents a week. Here, you old "church-going" man, the time is near at hand when you will be compelled to look out either for or against the best breeding sallow—Iron-

What Next?

The Democratic House of Representatives at Washington split wide open on the Wilson bill or rather on the Bland amendment to the Wilson bill on the 28th ult., 110 Democrats voting against free silver and 101 for it as expr used in the Bland amendment providing for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. Nearly all the republicans voted with the "old" standard democrats for unconditional repeal of the Sherman act.

It is known to be the desire of the administration that congress adjourn and go home just as soon as the Sherman act is repealed, and the Senate will probably follow suit and pass the Wilson bill at an early date.

The question is "what next?" The following is the full text of the Wilson act.

Be it enacted, etc., that so much of the approved bill of July 14, 1890, entitled "An act directing the purchase of silver bullion and issue of treasury notes thereon and for other purposes," as directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase from time to time silver bullion to the aggregate amount of 4,500,000 ounces, or so much thereof as may be offered in each month at the price thereof not exceeding $1 for 371.2 grains of pure silver, and to issue in payment for such purchases treasury notes of the United States, being the same is hereby repealed; but this repeal shall not impair or in any manner affect the legal tender quality of the standard silver dollar heretofore coined; and the faith and credit of the United States are hereby pledged to maintain the parity of the standard gold and silver coins of the United States at the present legal ratio or such other ratio as may be established by law.

It will be seen that the effects of this legislation will be to stop the coinage of silver entirely and pledge the "faith and credit" of the United States to maintain a parity between silver and gold.

How this parity can be maintained without equal coinage rights we fail to see. It is plain enough that the value of the silver dollar already coined will be maintained, but how about the future? And what is to become of the silver bullion already bought by the government and deposited in the vaults of the treasury?

Platforms are meaningless, it seems as far as Congress is concerned but we are glad to say that all of our Texas congressmen stood by silver except Crain, Paschal and Gresham. These three deserted the standard and went squarely against the will of the people of Texas.

THE SOUTHERN HOME COMPANION.—With the September number the Southern Home Companion enters on the second year of its publication and celebrates the event by announcing the most remarkable premium offer ever made in the South. The principle premiums are two Fall Courses, four years, Scholarships, one of them including board as well as tuition, &c., in Pilsner's Studio of Music, New Orleans, the finest and best equipped conservatory in the South. In this number appears the first three chapters of a new serial story, "An Experiment in Friendship," by Christian Newman. The characters already introduced, one of them very mysteriously, have evidently begun the "experiment." Elizabeth Lyle Saxon, in her War Time Reminiscences, gives a graphic account of incidents, curious, humorous and pathetic. There is also the usual interesting variety of short stories, poetry and miscellany. Ten cents a number, $1.00 a year. The Companion, 182 Common Street, New Orleans.

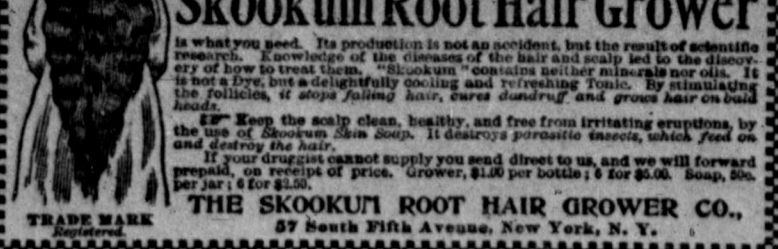

Those gentry liquor dealers spin not only their webs, yet the threads from their diamonds dazzle and their pocketbooks need hoops of steel to prevent their bursting. Thus the poor man buys first of all an inherently costly article, in the next place he drops a neat contribution into Uncle Sam's collection plate, then he helps to build up that potent factor in politics known as the liquor interest, and, lastly, he clothes the man at the corner in purple and fine linen, and sends him to Saratoga in the summer.—Catholic Review.

The Austin Evening News prints an interview with the old alcalde on the Austin dam elephant. Then the old man tells how he has always been hunted by office. "I don't want the office, nor did I ever ask for it. I never asked for an office in my life. The people have called on me and asked me to accept office, and I have done so, because I believe it to be patriotic duty of any man to serve the people to whom they voluntarily ask him to do so, if he is not called upon to make too great a sacrifice of his private interests."

Rev. S. P. Benbrook, a learned minister of the Christian church said last Sunday at Palestine: The liquor bill of America for '92 was $1,500,000,000; while the cost of the government was only a trifle more than $4,000,000. The speaker also stated that there were 4,000,000 christian voters in the United States and these are personally responsible for the destruction of 25,000 lives annually.

ODD FORMS OF LOVE M'KING. The Way Courtship is Carried on Among the Insect Tribes. Courtship among insects is often a very elaborate affair. A male spider seeks the female among the grass, for some time with his antics. It is said that he twirls around and around, crosses his legs, erects his body, and makes a many dance to excite her admiration.

One species of spider is said to have a novel way of making love, the sexes communicating by means of strands of web stretching from one retreat to the other—a sort of telephone, so to speak. Glow worms, according to some naturalists, use their luminaries as love signals. The females of one species seek the males among the grass, while the males, attracted by the light, dance attendance around them.

Concerning fashions the sticklebacks occasionally resort to harsh treatment, at least among the males, while the males, attracted by the light, dance attendance around them. Concerning fashions the sticklebacks occasionally resort to harsh treatment, at least among the males, while the males, attracted by the light, dance attendance around them.

Some of the old Cornish miners are adepts in economy. Richard Tangre, the English engineer, in his autobiography says that he compared with these peasants the farmers of New England are extravagant. One man when once asked what his daily work was replied: "Ten hours at the engine and eight at digging." The rest of the day I have to waste.

There is a young married couple in Chicago who are conversing from their first acquaintance. It wasn't a bad quarrel, but the husband became quite quarrelsome for a time. They were in the country and she grazed over the green fields in delight until a herd of small animals caught her eyes, which, she said, she had never seen before. "Oh," she cried, "aren't they lovely? Such nice fat sheep! Aren't they lovely! I wish I could have a few of those sheep!" "Yes, darling," responded the husband, "they are, but I have a great deal of time shearing them. They are pigs."

At one time a case of trespassing upon the land of a neighbor, which had well nigh resulted in the annulment of a marriage, came before the supreme court of Vermont. The counsel for the plaintiff argued that the case was one of trespass, and that the defendant was liable for a fine. The counsel for the defendant argued that the case was one of trespass, and that the defendant was liable for a fine.

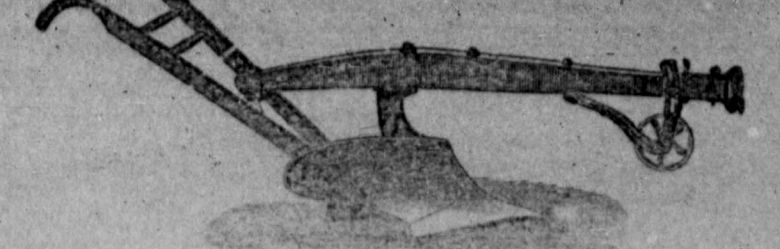

Apropos of the difficulty even their fair owners experience in locating ladies' pockets, an English paper tells a story told by a lady who was in a new frock, took a hapless the other day, and, on alighting, hunted vainly for the entrance to the pocket where she had carelessly placed her purse. The quest was so arduous and prolonged that at last her chariot driver, who was not a man of renown, remarked from his perch: "Now, then, mark, when you see a fine lady's carriage of your kind, will you pay me up?"

Not a dime museum. Queer Western Nationality. Queer ideas sometimes get about and drift around among the people for years. For example, a belief prevails among a number of persons in Spokane that the government, or the state, or the city, or some modern Monte Cristo has a standing offer of $500 to anyone who will go over the falls in a barrel. In Oregon a belief long prevailed in some minds that the government would pay $100 to the person who would plant an American flag on Mount Hood. A number made the attempt and ran up the stars and stripes, but a cold and unparliamentary government invariably failed to respond with the gold coin so severely earned. By some incident or accident an impression got extant that the Washington word's fair commission was seeking native-born triplets to exhibit at the Columbian Exposition, and as a result the commission received many letters of inquiry, a number of them saying they could not provide triplets, but if twins were wanted the demand could be readily met. Still others became deluded with the belief that the commission was seeking far and wide for a badger. Letters on file with the commission indicate that a good many people thought the Washington exhibition was to partake of the nature of a dime museum. It is surprising, though, how anyone could seriously imagine the commission could make use of an animal so common as the badger. There are many queer things in the realm of nature, but there are queerer things in the realm of the imagination.

And now the Vernon Texas, says hurrah for Nugent.
