New Motor Vehicle Laws Change Various County Fees, Rules

Recent various bills enacted by the 68th Texas Legislature in their regular session in 1983 have extensive effects on motor vehicle laws for the State of Texas. According to local tax assessor/collector Kathleen Hayes, registration fees have been altered and other fees concerned with under motor vehicle title and registration laws have been changed or amended. Some of the bills which will directly affect Bailey County have been pointed out specifically by Hayes and the Journal will outline them in the following paragraphs.

In House Bill 306, which is a bill creating and providing funding for a motor cycle operator training course, the motorcycle registration fee will now be $6.05, which includes the 30 cents reflectorization fee. Seventy-five cents of this fee will be deposited by the Department for Use by DPS for the training course. The effective date for this act is September 1, 1983.

Under HB 455, legislation provides a five day grace period for the continued operation of a motor vehicle in Texas after the expiration of the vehicle's

Farmer's Market Planned Again

Due to the good response by the community, a Farmer's Market will be held again this Saturday, August 27, at the old Thornton Chevrolet used car lot on American Boulevard. The market will begin at 8:00 a.m. and will continue until noon, or until all of the produce is sold.

Last Saturday's Farmer's Market included locally grown black-eyed peas, cantaloupes, jalapeno peppers, green chiles, watermelons, squash, etc. The produce offered will vary according to what is ready to be harvested. Cont. Page 6, Col. 5 registration. This act is also effective September 1, 1983.

Another bill, which might be of interest locally, is HB 897, which exempts manufactured housing from the Registration Law. Under this bill, no registration of any type, including one trip permits, intransit license plates or dealer license plates/cardboard tags, is required for the movement of manufactured housing on the highways. This bill also increases the oversize permit fee from $5 to $10 and will take effect September 1, 1983. The 72 hour permit fee was increased from $10 to $25 by Senate Bill 222 and provides for the issuance of a 144 hour permit for a fee of $50. The effective date of this act is August 29, 1983.

Under Senate Bill 288, various fees prescribed under the motor vehicle title and registration laws were amended or changed. Some of the changes include the elimination of $10 parade license plate registration fee. These plates will now

South Part Of County Gets Tuesday Rains

Teasing rains popped up in the Bailey County area for the second time this week on Tuesday evening, as a front originated in New Mexico and left a little moisture on dry crop lands. The rains were spotted and not wide-spread, although they left some good amounts in the areas where they fell.

In far southwestern Bailey County, Mrs. Conrad Williams, who lives near Stegall reported about 8/10 of an inch of rain in the general Stegall area. Mrs. Williams also said that she had a report of about 1/2 inch being received 4 to 5 miles southwest of Muleshoe.

In the Three Way area, Superintendent of Schools Dan Parker told the Journal that bus drivers for the

New Budget Not 'Cut To The Bone'

Muleshoe I.S.D. moved one step closer to the final adoption of a school budget for the 1983-84 school year with the completion of the Budget Hearing held on August 22. The final adoption of the budget and the setting of the 1983 tax rate are set for a special meeting to be held on August 30. The superintendent of schools, John Fuller, submitted a final budget proposal to the local board and interested citizens at the hearing. Fuller pointed out to the audience that the school trustees have had a busy month in preparation of the budget. The Board had met to review the budget proposals on August 1, August 4, August 8, and August 19.

The final proposal submitted was slightly larger than the original proposal considered by the board in earlier weeks. The increase was in the area of renovation and computer literacy programs. Fuller stated that he hoped that the board would consider continuing the renovation program even though it was significantly reduced ($450,000 budgeted in 1982-83 as compared to a proposal of $90,000 in 1983-84). While making several points as to advantages and disadvantages to continuing the renovation program, it was pointed out that the Muleshoe I.S.D. does not currently have any bonded indebtedness; and therefore does not pay interest money toward construction and renovation. While it is definitely a disadvantage to wait on some needed construction and renovation, it is also a wise use of the tax payers dollar. Fuller also pointed out that the renovation program could not continue at the same level as last year as a large portion of the district's reserves was utilized. It was noted that reserve funds serve a very positive function in the school budget. $13,600 earned in investments made by the district is equivalent to one cent in the tax rate.

Crop Insurance Reduces '84 Production Risks

One way of thinking through the crop insurance decision is to look at the expected cash flows per planted acre of wheat for the 1984 crop, explained Dr. James Ahrenholz, Extension management economist at Texas A&M University, College Station.

"Suppose the producer expects a yield of 20 bushels and a harvest price of $3.50 a bushel. This would bring expected cash receipts of $70 an acre," he said.

The expected cash operating expenses for this producer might be $40 an acre, the economist noted. These are the preharvest expenses, including seed, fertilizer and fuel, and the harvest expenses.

Other cash obligations against this wheat crop might be debt service on land or machinery and possibly some portion of the family living expenses, he said. "Most often, these aren't thought of in a per acre manner, but they are cash outlays that cannot be ignored," Ahrenholz said.

"For example, let's say they amount to $20 an acre. This leaves a $10 net cash flow per acre. This isn't calculated as a profit, but as a $10 expected positive net cash flow."

ASCS Reserve Percentages, Dates Corrected

In the ASCS news story in Sunday, August 21 issue of the Journal, some dates and percentages were included which were incorrect. The corrected items are listed below.

In the paragraph which referred to farmers participating in the acreage reduction program - those farmers may divert an additional ten to twenty percent of their wheat base and receive PIK equal to 75 PERCENT - not 15 percent - of the established yield times the acres diverted.

In the last paragraph of the ASCS news story concerning farmer owned reserves, the dates are incorrect for reserve IV and V Corn. The correct statement should be as follows: Reserve IV and V Corn was Cont. Page 6, Col. 3

Wednesday, Aug. 24, is the final date for cotton producers to submit bids in USDA's reopened cotton bid program. Reports from ASCS field offices indicate steady activity, especially in West Texas.

As a result of National Cotton Council-supported legislation, USDA reopened its bid program for a 16-day period and has been soliciting bids from producers who have more cotton in the CCC loan than due them as payments-in-kind.

Hightower Pushes For Aid In Drought Stricken Areas

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block's refusal to act on relief requests from drought-stricken West Texas ranchers has caused the worst economic crisis for that area in 30 years, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower charged at a news conference Wednesday in the U.S. Capitol.

Accompanied by Texas Farmers Union president Mike Moeller and two ranchers from the drought area, Hightower urged the Department of Agriculture to implement three steps to keep hardpressed farmers and ranchers from bankruptcy, including one action Hightower said would actually save taxpayers money.

Hightower's three recommendations included federal disaster payments to drought area cotton farmers whose crops did not come up due to the lack of moisture in the ground, activation of the Emergency Feed Grain Program to give cattle, goat and sheep ranchers a subsidy of up to three cents a pound on the purchase of feed to maintain livestock which normally would be grazing on the now parched range land, and release to the ranchers of 17.5 million bushels of deteriorating corn in storage in West Texas since the 1980 Russian grain embargo. The 17.5 million bushels represents only the poorer quality corn in storage, Hightower said, and is less than half of the 43 million bushels being stored at an annual cost to the government of $5 million. "USDA has assured the

Ammonia Gives Hay Boost In Quality

Giving poor quality hay a "shot of ammonia" can make it a better product.

Treating hay with anhydrous ammonia—called hay ammoniation—will increase its protein level, digestibility and intake and thereby boost animal performance, says a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The operation is relatively low-cost since anhydrous ammonia is readily available, notes Don Dorsett. However, in addition to the cost of the anhydrous ammonia, plastic sheeting is needed to cover the hay. Still, the cost runs about $6.50 to $7 per ton of hay, and the results can be fantastic, says the specialist.

The procedure involves covering hay with plastic sheeting, sealing it with dirt or rocks, and then applying the anhydrous ammonia with a hose inserted under the plastic. The amount of anhydrous ammonia should be 2-3 percent of the weight of the hay being treated, or 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per ton of hay.

Keep the hay covered for 21 days after treatment and make sure it airs out for two to three days before feeding, advised Dorsett.

He cautions producers to treat hay only in open, well ventilated areas since anhydrous ammonia is toxic and will accumulate in the top of closed barns and buildings. Ammonia can also corrode copper, zinc and brass.

Tests involving hay ammoniation have shown that crude protein levels were more than doubled while dry matter digestibility increased from 6 to 12 percent. And feeding studies have shown an increase in forage intake of 15-20 percent and increased digestibility and daily weight gains in livestock.

Legumes Good Cover On Set Aside Acres

With proper management, legumes planted as a cover and soil improvement crop on 1983 set-aside acres can provide nitrogen for next year's crops.

More of the nitrogen available from these crops can be returned to the soil only if it can be preserved through the fall and winter months.

"Careful management to slow down the decomposition and preserve the nitrogen supply can reduce next year's fertilizer bill," says Dr. Carl Gray, soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A heavy crop of legumes such as peas, guar or clover can supply enough nitrogen for the following cotton crop if it is properly managed. Such a crop can also reduce nitrogen needs on dryland grain sorghum and corn by one-half to two-thirds, Gray points out.

For instance, much of the upper Gulf Coast area was planted in cowpeas. A good crop of cowpeas with a dry matter yield of about 5,000 pounds per acre will contain 125 pounds of nitrogen per acre, notes the soil chemist. An average crop would contain at least 75 pounds of nitrogen per acre. This adds up to $15 to $25 worth of nitrogen per acre which can be returned to the soil if it can be preserved for the next crop.

Plowing under green, succulent peas will cause immediate decomposition, with a good chance that part of the nitrogen will be lost during the fall and winter, Gray says. An alternative is to allow peas to mature so that they will not decompose as fast and thus delay possible losses of nitrogen. The dry tops can be shredded during late summer or fall but should not be incorporated into the soil until land preparation for the next crop, he says.

corn and sorghum producers associations that it would not release that grain on the local market, which would unfairly depress the price," Hightower explained, "so it's just sitting there and deteriorating. We have visited with Carl King of the Texas Corn Growers Association and Elbert Harp of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and they are very supportive of our proposal to release that corn as long as it's not for resale but only goes to the ranchers in the drought area to keep their own livestock alive. And releasing the corn would save the taxpayers the cost of storing it."

On July 15, Block refused a request by Hightower and Gov. Mark White to implement the Emergency Feed Grain Program, but said he "would keep a close watch on the situation and if the drought expands and becomes more serious, we will again consider the need..."

At Wednesday's news conference in Washington, Hightower displayed a bag of West Texas dust collected that morning in Martin County.

"It doesn't get any more serious than this," Hightower said, "or any dryer. And this area is bigger than the state of Pennsylvania. How much does it have to expand to get Secretary Block's attention? Since Gov. White and I first called it to Block's attention on June 21, dozens of ranchers have gone out of business because they simply couldn't afford to feed their livestock, and the survivors have been forced to liquidate 50-60 percent of their cattle and 70 percent or more of their sheep. Timely action could have prevented that. If Secretary Block is willing to act now, he can prevent the total devastation of the ranching industry in that area."

BAD DEBTS (What Tax Benefits?)
Sometimes business people are surprised when the IRS disallows their ordinary deduction for a bad debt. While a business bad debt is fully deductible as an ordinary deduction, a non-business bad debt is treated as a short-term capital loss and has only limited deductibility.

So, how can you tell the difference? First, try answering the two-part question below.

A) A stockholder lends money to his corporation, then the company goes bankrupt. Which kind of bad debt? Business? or Non-Business?
B) Dad makes a loan to son so a new business can be set up. The new business fails and Junior can't repay dad. Business bad debt? or Non-Business?

Each of these losses is a non-business bad debt and is accordingly deductible only as a short-term capital loss. As such, they are combined with other capital gains and losses for special treatment. If this is the only capital gain or loss transaction for the year, only $3,000 can be deducted. The excess, if any, is carried forward to later years for similar treatment.

A business bad debt is one that arises in connection with activities that are considered part of your trade or business, like unpaid charges for goods or services.

Since the stockholder in Case A was not in the business of making loans, his loss resulted from a bad investment and is therefore non-business in nature.

While the son, in Case B, may have had business bad losses from not being able to collect from his customers or clients in the new business, the one that dad suffered was non-business and therefore treated as a short-term capital loss.

You may want to know the tax consequences before you make a loan in the event you are not repaid.

Miss Sharon Kay Kelton and John Frank Tabor were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 20 in St. Luke's United Methodist Church in Lubbock. Judge Robert C. Wright read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelton of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Tabor of Levelland. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Aric Wood of Needmore and Mrs. Sarah Kelton of Muleshoe. The groom's grandmother is Mrs. Erma Johnson of Slaton.

Vows were exchanged before a brass arch candelabra decorated with greenery and pink silk flowers. Trinity candelabras were placed on each side with a unity candelabra in the center. Raspberry bows decorated the candelabras and family pews.

Janice Kelton, sister in law of the bride, of Muleshoe provided the following selections: "Sunrise Sunset", "Truly" and "The Wedding Song". She was accompanied by Mrs. Beverly Eubanks who also played the traditional wedding processional and recessional.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white gown of organza. The fitted bodice was accented with Venise lace, seed pearls, tiny iridescents and featured a scoop neckline. The long fitted sleeves were also scalloped at the wrists. The natural waist was encompassed by a band of lace and fell to a full skirt. The hemline was finished with a flounce of lace and swept to the back in a chapel length train.

To complete her ensemble the bride wore a Juliet cap of embroidered lace and pearls. The double layered illusion was gathered in the back and fell to fingertip length.

The bride carried a white lace fan covered with white silk roses, pink and raspberry lillies and small pink daisies. Streamers of raspberry and pink were intermingled throughout the bouquet.

The bride presented her mother with a rose as she approached the altar and one to the groom's grandmother at the close of the ceremony.

Miss Becki Reed of Denver, Colo. served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Debbie Griggs of Lubbock and Karen Kelton of Muleshoe, sister of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore formal dresses of silk taffeta in raspberry pink. The fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline. The three quarter length puffy sleeves were accented with pleats and were gathered at the elbows with a silk rose. The natural waistline was encompassed with a self pleated cummerbund and the skirts fell to floor length.

The maid of honor carried a cascade of silk pink carnations and white roses. Streamers in shades of pink accented the bouquet. The bridesmaids carried a smaller cascade of silk roses and carnations.

Kristi Kelton, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She was gownned in a dress of pink silk organza. It featured a neckline styled with a wide ruffle. The full sleeves were also of organza and ended at the wrists with a ruffle of the same material. The waistline had a wide satin ribbon sash and a wide ruffle was at the bottom of the dress. The ruffle was caught up to the waistline in a bustle effect in the back. Kristi carried a white wicker basket filled with pink and raspberry silk flowers. She dropped pink and raspberry love knots as she walked down the aisle.

Wedding guests were registered by Mrs. Donna Bownds, sister of the bride. The registration table was decorated with a silk rosebud vase and a pink plum pen.

Ushers were Jim Bob Darnell, Gary McCord, Bruce Boyd, Clint Averett, all of Lubbock, Ron Lewis of Ft. Worth and Jamie Edwards of Stowell.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace tablecloth. The centerpiece was a three tiered wedding cake decorated with raspberry pink roses and a fountain flowing pink colored water was placed beneath the cake. A coffee urn and punch bowl were placed at opposite ends of the table. The groom's table featured a chocolate sheet cake in the shape of wedding bells and was decorated in beige icing.

The couple will make their home in Lubbock following a trip to Lakeway, near Austin. For traveling the bride chose a blue chiffon dress and her corsage of pink silk roses was lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and Texas Tech University. She is employed by Southwestern Bell as a Directory Sales Representative.

Tabor is a graduate of Levelland High School, Texas Tech University and South Texas School of Law in Houston. He is engaged in the practice of law with the firm of Brown, Harding, Ferguson and Brown.

Creative Woman

By Sheryl Borden

On August 30 and September 3, "The Creative Woman" show will feature cooking magic with spices and herbs with Evelyn Davis, former Extension Home Economist in Tucumcari, and a demonstration on making terry bibs for children by Ruth Ashley of Melrose.

Ms. Davis will begin by telling a little about the history of herbs, the difference between herbs and spices and aromatic sceds, and the difference between robust herbs and fine herbs. Drying and storage of seasonings will also be covered.

Mrs. Ashley will demonstrate how to make terry bibs for babies. The bibs retail for around $6.00 in specialty shops and can be made for around one to three dollars, depending on the cost of the towel and trim.

The topics to be presented on the show on September 1 include appetizers, monogramming on napped fabrics, and ways to make oatmeal appealing to children.

Kaye McCown and Ann Silva from the Bernina Sewing Center in Albuquerque will show and tell how to do monogramming on towels or any other type of napped fabric. This method differs slightly from other monogramming techniques demonstrated.

Jan Newquist, Home Economist with the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in Albuquerque will discuss appetizers and will talk about considerations such as color, texture, calories, temperature and will suggest we limit the number of appetizers we serve at social functions and explain why.

All children have heard of E.T., Gardfield the Cat and Strawberry Shortcake. Nina Swan, Director of Consumer Relations with the National Oats Co. from Cedar Rapids, Iowa will use these three characters to enhance the appeal of oatmeal for breakfast for children.

"The Creative Woman" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs at 12:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays and at 2:00 p.m. on Saturdays on KENW-TV, Channel 3. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines. KINDERGARTEN GRADUATES...Eight kindergarten students from the Methodist Church Day Care Center graduated in ceremonies held Tuesday, Aug. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the center. (L-R) Carissa Buie, Kimberlee Vaughn, John Watson and Larry Wauson.

Nursing Program Exists At Wayland Baptist

Recent research has projected that by the year 1990, 10 percent of all personal-consumption expenses in this country will go to medical care.

Thus, in the health care industry in general -- and specifically in the field of nursing -- a persistent need for new people will exist. Statewide projections indicate that thousands of additional nurses will be needed through the remainder of the 1980's alone.

It is with that need in mind that the Vocational Nursing Program exists at Wayland Baptist University's International Occupational Center.

The one-year (three-semester) program is under the direction of Mrs. Donna Womble, IOC director of nursing education. Her extensive background includes 20 years of varied nursing instruction and direct experience in both the public and private sectors. Womble obtained her registered nurse (RN) degree from Iowa Lutheran Hospital in Des Moines, Iowa and has taken additional training at Drake University, Amarillo College and North Texas State University.

She is assisted in the program at IOC by Mrs. Faye Dickens, instructor and clinical director, whose impressive background includes 10 years in her present capacity as a full-time instructor at IOC. Dickens gained her graduate of nursing degree from the University of Tennessee.

IOC's Vocational Nursing program is aimed at persons who plan to become a licensed vocational nurse (LVN). It consists of both classroom and laboratory activities, and successful completion entitles the graduate to a Certificate of Proficiency and enables him or her to take the State Board Examination. Upon passing the exam, the student will then be issued a license, with credentials to practice as an LVN.

As with all courses of study at the IOC, the vocational nursing program offers instruction in the evenings as well as during regular daytime schedules. Evening classes make it possible for employed persons to seek either new or additional training and in most cases meet one time per week for three hours. Regular daytime classes meet two to three times per week for a total of three hours.

All course work leads to the two-year associate of technology (A.Tn.) degree, a 60-66 semester hour course of study that includes 18 hours of business foundations work.

Options in the curriculum allow for the designing of a program for persons wishing to continue their study toward a baccalaureate -- the bachelor of science in occupational education (BSOE) -- degree.

Men and women interested in more information about the vocational nursing program at the IOC may call (806) 296-5521.

Crop Insurance

insurance. Therefore, if the crop production and price expectations were met, and this wheat producer had carried crop insurance, his net cash flow would be less than $10 by the cost of insurance, the economist explained.

"One of the primary considerations of the wheat producer's choice to insure is the financial ability of his operation to withstand a crop loss," Ahrenholz said. What, the producer must ask, are the financial consequences to his business of a lower than expected crop yield?

This producer might ask what would happen if his yield across the entire farm unit was lowered to 10 bushels. Keeping the expected price the same, this would provide $35 an acre cash receipts, less about $60 an acre for expenses and obligations, or a negative $25 cash flow an acre, without crop insurance.

"A question this producer must face is whether his business is in a financial position to withstand this situation," the Extension economist stressed.

The Federal or Multiple Peril Crop Insurance program offers three levels of coverage and three price election options to the wheat producer. Coverage levels are 50, 65, or 75 percent of the area yield or the individual yield coverage established for the insurance unit. Price selections for the 1984 wheat crop are $2.50, $3.50 or $4 a bushel.

"Using the yield established for his insurance unit and the premiums established for the level of coverage and price election combination, the wheat producer can now examine the net cash flow results of various harvested yields with insurance. This requires some calculating, but a part of risk management is understanding the consequences to business of crop losses with or without crop insurance," Ahrenholz said.

"The crop insurance decision is unique for each wheat producer, depending to a great extent upon the financial ability of that producer to withstand a crop loss."

School Budget

harm the educational program in any way.

Other items of interest included the fact that the school district does have $7,000 set aside for possible purchase of some micro-computers and a fund set aside for the development of a computer literacy program. Also the budget includes funds for the purchase of band uniforms since it has been over ten years since uniforms were purchased. Also, the Gifted and Talented program continues to be of interest since funding for this special program continues to be a part of the budget. Also, approximately $500,000 dollars in Federal program gives an opportunity for compensatory education.

Some decision concerning the tax rate was made. It was pointed out that while some neighboring school districts are experiencing 8% up to 19% increases above the effective tax rate (the tax rate that generates approximately the same amount of tax revenue as last year), Muleshoe trustees can adopt the proposed budget with only a 3% increase in the effective rate. However, it will still require approximately $64,701 dollars of the district's reserves to fund the budget (even with the 3% increase).

In summary, Fuller stated that the biggest decision the Board had to make was whether or not to continue the renovation program or to plan for another bond issue at a later date. "Either plan will meet the needs of the district. It will be up to our community as to how fast they feel we can move forward our renovation program," he said.

Other changes under SB 288 show that assigned number fee was increased from $1 to $2, and, title application fee was increased from $3 to $10. A transfer registration receipt increased from 50 cents to $2.50 and delinquent transfer penalties increased from $5 to $10. All of these changes are covered under the one act (SB 288) and is effective September 1, 1983.

Although all the changes in legislation affecting motor vehicles are not covered in this article, the ones that are particularly important to area residents are included. school had reported rain in the amount of 1-1/4 inches in that area, with some spots receiving heavier rains. Parker stated that four or five miles west of Three Way about 8/10 inch had fallen, and said that from all accounts, the rains were fairly general to that area and in the Maple area. "This is the first good rains we have had at the school this year," Parker said.

A check with the Claunch Gin revealed no rain had fallen in the Dula or Enochs areas. To the west from Muleshoe on FM1760, a resident reported winds and dust, but no rain. Mrs. Bill Millen also said that no rains were received in the Y-L area. Lazbudding was not on the receiving end of the rains, either, according to Mrs. Jerry Don Glover who said that mostly wind and splatters were all that occurred in that area.

Muleshoe proper recorded 32/100 inch of rain on Tuesday night, along with quite an electrical display. Residents were out of power for over an hour after an outage occurred between Sudan and Muleshoe on the huge power lines. Power was restored to part of the town within 15 minutes except for the east and part of the south edge of town where power was out for about two hours.

Warehouse

Fees Proposed

USDA has proposed user fees to be paid by cotton warehouses, but the charges may not be levied this year if Congress approves the appropriations bill when it returns from its Labor Day recess. The bill contains $355,000 for cotton warehouse inspection programs. Fees tentatively are scheduled to go into effect Oct. 1.

If charged, fees would be made up of three parts: (1) a base fee of $200 which would be levied against every licensed cotton warehouse regardless of volume; (2) a volume-based assessment of three cents per bale for each bale handled during the preceding 12 months, and (3) an assessment based on the number of bales stored and the length of storage time.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres has a few widely scattered remarks this week.

Dear editor: Human nature is still one of the funniest subjects to study, even if Russia has tried to abolish it and Congress has never mastered it.

For example, people got all excited and the newspapers and television networks went wild over a baseball player's sticky bat, yet nobody pays much attention any more to a politician's sticky fingers. Ain't no umpire's rule on pine tar there.

Speaking of politicians, five Presidential candidates are already running hard and raising money but not a one of them, if elected, has a ranch to fly to on weekends. They expect Air Force One to sit around Washington on weekends getting rusty?

Or take bridges. A national survey claims thousands and thousands of bridges in this country are badly in need of repairs, some of them even unsafe.

Have you considered what a problem this can be to politicians? How are they going to be able to say, when asked a question they don't want to answer, "I'll cross that bridge when I come to it," when they can't cross it even then?

I've spent hours trying to figure out how anybody can cross a bridge before he gets to it, but have given up and put it down as unsolvable, like the Mideast, Central America, the national deficit and the nuclear arms race.

Speaking of the arms race, one trouble with a nuclear weapons freeze is, how do we know, if an international freeze is agreed on, Russia won't come up with an automatic defroster?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

City, County Law Agencies Continue Active Schedule

Muleshoe Police Department has had its share of the law enforcement action over the past week or so, ranging from traffic violations to various criminal mischief happenings.

On August 11, city officers arrested Alejandro Navarro on two failure to appear warrants. He was brought before Judge Huckaby and paid $100 on his fine and was to return later and pay the remaining balance.

On August 16, Shafer Bell Station reported that a customer had left the station without paying for $20 worth of gas that he had purchased. A license plate was obtained, but no arrest has been made. Target Gas also reported on August 16, a customer leaving without paying the full amount due for his gas. The alleged customer took $11 worth of gas and only paid for $10 worth, promising to return with the $1 due. However, the customer did not return and the license plates were from Ohio.

Charles Joseph Wales was arrested on a warrant from Clovis on August 15 for false imprisonment (felony). Bond was set by JP Jack Bates at $2500.

The suspect made bond and was released. Luis Rivera was arrested on August 17 on charges of alleged DWI and no liability insurance, after officers observed his erratic driving. He was booked into the county jail pending bond.

On August 17 Benedito Vega Torres was arrested on a charge of alleged public intoxication, after officers discovered him allegedly passed out behind the wheel of his auto. He was taken to jail and booked, pending bond. Federico Medrano Herrera was arrested on August 17 on charges of alleged public intoxication. He was placed in jail, pending bond. Also arrested in the same incident was Manuel Bustillos who was charged with no drivers license and public intoxication. His bond was set at $125.

City officers were called on August 17, when Keith R. Shepard failed to have his motorcycle returned as promised. Shepard allegedly had given his permission to a party to make a quick trip to the store on his Honda. Two hours later, the party had not returned. However, the cycle was later located in Clovis and Shepard was to file charges on the suspect.

On August 19, Hilma Rojas reported a criminal mischief to local police, stating that eggs had been thrown into and onto the side of a pickup. No suspects were named. On the same date, Mike Richardson also reported a criminal mischief occurrence in which eggs were thrown from the alley onto his car. No suspects were named in this incident either.

Margaret Knowlton was arrested on warrants for issuance of bad checks and was taken into custody in Eules, Texas. Her bond was set at $600. Jesse Gloria was arrested on August 20 on charges of alleged DWI and resisting arrest. No sobriety tests were given, and the suspect was jailed pending bond. Raymundo Suarez was arrested on August 20 on alleged charges of DWI after city officers stopped him because of driving erratically. Suarez could not perform any sobriety tests and was placed in the county jail pending bond.

Martin Gloria was arrested on August 22 in the lobby of the police department, after officers were dispatched there on a drunk call. Gloria allegedly wanted to spend the night in jail and visit his brother. He was taken to jail and booked pending bond.

On August 20, employees at the Target Gas reported a customer leaving without paying for $21.41 worth of gas. The employee at the store said that the customer had tried to cash a two party check, which is against store policy. The customer then left saying that he would return with the money, but failed to do so. On August 20, James Samuel Ott was arrested on a charge of alleged public intoxication after officers observed his behavior. No coordination tests were performed and the suspect was placed in jail, pending bond.

In the Bailey County Sheriff's office, Deputies and DPS troopers also handled a number of cases during the past week. On August 14, David Lynn Parmer was arrested by DPS on charges of alleged DWI and resisting arrest. His bond was set at $500 each on each count and he was released after making bond. Esmeralda Estrada was arrested on August 15 on justice of the peace warrants for no liability and failure to appear by the local police.

On August 17, Luis Rivera was arrested by the Muleshoe Police on an alleged charge of DWI. He was fined $250 plus court costs and given one year probation. Benedito Torres was arrested by the MPD on August 17 for public intoxication. He was booked into county jail and later released on $75 bond. Also, on August 17, Medrano Herrera was arrested on an alleged public intoxication charge. He was also booked into the county jail and later released on $75 bond.

Larry Duane Pederson was arrested on August 18 on an alleged charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. The case however was dismissed by the county attorney. On August 20, Reymundo Suarez was arrested on an alleged charge of DWI. He was placed in the county jail with bond set at $500. On August 21, Lillie Nino was arrested on charges of alleged DWI. She was placed in the county jail, with bond set at $500. On August 22, Martin Gloria was arrested on charges of

VLB-To Provide Improved Vets Insurance Policy

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro announced the Veterans Land Board will provide an improved group credit life insurance program to veterans who have obtained loans through the Veterans Land Program.

The Veterans Land Board in its August 15 meeting awarded a contract to Pruco Life Insurance of Texas for the group credit life insurance policy for the Veterans Land Program.

"This is a dramatic improvement in our insurance program which Texas veterans will be happy to see," commented board member Jack Rains of Houston. "This continues our policy of running the Veterans Land Program like a business."

Of the seven bids submitted, the board felt Pruco provided rates that benefited most veterans. The new rates will lower premiums as much as 65 percent for many age groups who participate in the insurance program. For the first time ever, veterans over the age of 65 will be able to obtain coverage.

The current average age of all contract holders presently participating in the optional insurance program is 53.9 years of age. Veterans under the age of 49 will get a decrease in their present rate. Participating veterans can expect to be provided with competitive rates with potential premium reductions based on actual claim experience.

"The benefits derived from this coverage will allow us to continue operating on a sound, business-like basis without any additional cost to the taxpayer," stated Veterans Land Board Chairman Mauro. "This policy will not only attract more veterans to the program but also encourage participation by lending institutions and sellers."

In other action by the board, a non-refundable fee

4-H Council Officers Named

Officers of the Texas 4-H Council for 1983-84 were elected at a recent state council workshop.

Shayne Katzefy of George West, Live Oak County, is president of the 30-member council.

Other officers include Mandy Mikulenc of Granger, Williamson County, first vice president; Michael Hampton of Mineola, Wood County, second vice president; Lisa Kuykendall of Llano, Llano County, secretary; and Roger Mike-ska of Temple, Bell County, public relations officer.

The Texas 4-H Council serves as the program de-holders of the forfeited tracts failed to comply with a July 22 deadline to bring payments to a current basis for reinstatement and the tracts were ordered for sale.

"If we are going to continue to offer generous terms and low interest rates to our Texas veterans, we must maintain a strong delinquency collection policy. If we want to continue to close loans within 90 days, veterans will have to make their payments on time," Mauro stated.

velopment committee charged with planning programs of interest to older 4-H members, says Iris Kalich of San Angelo, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. 4-H is the youth program of the Extension Service.

RRC Sets Texas Oil Production Rates

The Railroad Commission today set the Texas oil production rate for September 1983 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 79th month in a row. The Commission first went to the ceiling level in April 1972.

Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Buddy Temple and Jim Nugent directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in September totaling 2,441,632 barrels per day, a decrease of 10,035 barrels daily when compared with August buyer requests. September 1982 nominations totaled 2,464,552 barrels daily.

Next month's permissible rate of output is calculated to average 2,868,566 barrels per day with actual production estimated at 2,355 million b/d. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in September 1982 was 2,393,216 barrels daily.

Wallace reported that September 1983 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 18,955,022 Mcf/d (thousand cubic feet per day). Gas nominations for August amounted to 19,251,969 Mcf/d. September 1982 gas nominations totaled 21,484,229 Mcf/d.

The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Friday, Sept. 16, at 9 a.m. at the Kiva Inn in Abilene.

ARMED FOR Self Protection

The cactus plant requires little for its growth and sustenance. It endures where soil is rugged and barren. It has a tough coat to protect it from blowing sand and other elements. The thistles protect it from being eaten.

We need to... be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God...
Attend church and receive strength for each week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Attention, all football widows. If you are a Monday night football widow, Duncan Ceramics may have an answer for you. You can go to Duncan Ceramics and work -- with an added incentive to be there. Persons registering for Monday night work this fall will be eligible to be the winner of at least $5 in greenware or firing, in drawings to be conducted each Monday.

Glenda Duncan, owner and operator of Duncan Ceramics at 1114 West American Blvd., said she decided to hold the Monday night workshops for all women who are not devoted football fans.

She and her husband, Sidney, and children, Michael, 12; Kevin, nine and Stacy, six, moved to Muleshoe from Slaton a year and a half ago. He is a control room operator at Tolk Station for Southwestern Public Service Co.

In January, they purchased the former B&W Fun Shop and moved from the south first street location to their present location on West American. Mrs. Duncan is constantly adding molds, paints, classes and other items to her line at the shop.

One item to be featured in her shop is a large "M" with the work 'mules' encribed across it. The "M" can be painted in alternating black and white colors and any number or name can be added. Remember the "M" when you consider your favorite football player from the Muleshoe Mules.

Several classes are currently scheduled, including classes in both dry brush painting and the new pastel chalk painting.

Make your plans now -- for a lot of fun in the fall -- and a way to have the satisfaction of doing your own items for both gifts and to enhance your home.
