Mrs Brainard One of Four Delegates to Atlantic City

Will Represent the State Federation at the Biennial Session — The Artesia Delegates Have Very Pleasant Trip.

Mrs. G. R. Brainard, president of the Artesia Woman's Club, was one of the four delegates elected to represent the State Federation at the Biennial, which will be held at Atlantic City, New Jersey, early next June. Mrs. Frank Joyce, of Carlisbad was elected president of the Third District, and Mrs. C. L. Taylor, of Springer, who had been vice president at large, was chosen to fill the office of president of the State Federation for the next two years. Mrs. Grace T. Bear, of Roswell, retiring president, will attend the Biennial in the capacity of Federation director, an office conferred upon the retiring president at this convention.

The convention last week was perhaps the most successful of the State Federation, in point of attendance, at least. The club women were splendidly entertained by the Santa Fe people, who did everything in their power to make their stay (Continued on last page, column 3)

ROSWELL EMPLOYS MISS H. HARRISON FOR PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Miss Hillary Harrison, now of Roswell has been engaged by the business men of Roswell to write a series of articles about Roswell and the Pecos Valley. Miss Harrison is widely known to the newspaper readers of south and east Texas, having been engaged by some of the larger Texas dailies to write special features for their columns.

Miss Harrison became interested in the Pecos Valley several years ago and since that time has been a consistent booster for the things worth while. Members of the Rotary club will remember a poem of Miss Harrison's own composition, read before the club on her first visit here a year ago.

Her services to the business men of Roswell and to the Valley in general as a publicity expert comes at an opportune time when conditions are looking up and prospects are bright for the future of the oil development.

C. BERT SMITH ELECTED 7TH CONSECUTIVE TIME GRAND SEC'Y. I. O. O. F.

Is Chosen for Place in 1919, Held Position Since That Time—The Artesia Lodge Is Well Represented at Encampment.

One of the most successful assemblies ever held by the New Mexico Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. came to a close Thursday after a two day session at Albuquerque. Both the local and Grand Lodge was well represented. A full representation also attended for the I. O. O. F. sister organization, the Rebekahs.

One of the high spots in the assembly was the election of C. Bert Smith to the position of Grand Secretary for the seventh consecutive time. The selection of Mr. Smith to this position is one of the highest tributes paid by the Grand Lodge and indicates the esteem which the fellow members of this organization hold for Mr. Smith. He was selected for this position in 1919, when E. A. Hannah, another Artesian was served (Continued on last page, column 3)

LOSES WORLD'S CHAMPION RECORD

Big Hill, of the Cottonwood community says he lost the world's championship cotton picking record to his wife last Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hill beat him four pounds after an hour's contest and after Big Hill's neighbors became uneasy because they thought he was sweating too much and might over exert himself.

It was agreed before the contest started that the loser would donate $10.00 to the orphan's home. Tuesday he came into town to see the doctor and says that if this contest does not affect his heart too much he may try picking cotton again some day.

R. V. YOUNG RESIGNS AS MANAGER FOR THE BIG JO LUMBER COMPANY

After practically thirteen years of successful management in the hands of Mr. Young here, he resigns as local manager of the Big Jo Lumber Company, same to take effect about November the fifteenth. He will be succeeded by Mr. I. C. Huff, of Hooker, Oklahoma. R. V. will still be connected with the company in a high capacity, and will work hand in hand with Mr. Huff, but will devote quite a bit of his time to the company's outside business and to his personal business other than that pertaining to the company.

FITE WELL NEAR HOPE STRIKES 45 FEET OF SAND AT 505 FT. DEPTH

A sand carrying a rainbow of oil has been picked up in the Fite No. 1 well of the Hope Development Co., in Sec. 4-18-23 at a depth of 505 feet. After drilling through several hundred feet of hard lime which showed considerable crevicing, the drill entered the sand which has now been drilled a depth of 45 feet. This break in the formation is looked on with favor by officials of the company who, however, do not expect any real oil showing before 750 feet. The Fite will be carried to 3000 feet which assures the Hope area of a real test. It is understood that another well will be started on an anticline near Hope that has been favorably recommended by several geologists.

CASING HEAD GASOLINE PLANT MAY BE A NEW INDUSTRY FOR OIL FIELD

Surveys Made by Three Major Companies the Past Week—8000 Gals. of Gas Now Available for a Plant.

The possibility of the installation of a casing head gasoline plant for the Artesia oil field is one of the latest developments here this week. Surveys of the field have been made by three of the larger companies interested in the project. The Ohio Oil Co., the Continental Oil Co., and the Phillips Petroleum Co., of Bartlesville, Oklahoma. The latter company has had a representative in the field in the person of M. T. Kirk.

According to estimates there will be approximately 8000 gallons of casing head gas available from the present operations and as development increases the supply of gas of course would increase. A plant to cost around $300,000, operators state would fill the present need.

From the present indications the Phillips Petroleum Co. will likely start work on the plant soon. Negotiations are under way with the (Continued on last page, column 2)

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR COMING OF THE ROSWELL HIGH ON FRI.

Football fans are in store for a big treat Friday when the Roswell team meets the local high school squad on the West Main Street field. Roswell has their usual strong team, being undefeated so far. They tied with Clovis last Friday. Artesia has won two out of three games this season, having lost the game at Lamesa Saturday.

Considerable interest is being displayed in the coming game by the local merchants, who are planning on closing for the game. In this way the clerks and merchants can see the game, and the High School can look forward to a larger attendance. Tickets are on sale this week.

COTTON SEED MILL OPERATES AT ROSWELL

The Roswell cotton seed mill, an organization of Roswell citizens, started operations Tuesday after several months of building and preparations. The approximate cost of the mill will run around $80,000 and will be capable of using 30 tons of seed per day.

NEW LUNCH COUNTER IS OPENED IN THE CITY CAFE BUILDING

The building recently occupied by the City Cafe has been remodeled and a partition run through the center of the structure. A quick lunch counter will be operated on one side and the other part of the building will probably be occupied by a gent's furnishing establishment.

The entire building will be under management of Mr. Milton, proprietor of May's Coffee Shop.

JOE ANDERSON DIES TUESDAY AFTERNOON AFTER 4 WEEKS ILLNESS

The Third Member of the Anderson Family to Die Within a Year—Leaves a Widow and Four Children.

Joe Anderson, well known to all of the old timers of this section died at the home of Pearly George Tuesday afternoon at 3:15, after an illness of about four weeks. Mr. Anderson's death resulted from infection, which developed blood poisoning and later a severe siege of pneumonia taking away his life. He came to Artesia sometime ago and ran a butcher shop in the oil field for several weeks. While handling a piece of ice, he had the misfortune to drop it on his foot, the foot became infected, causing blood poisoning to set in.

Mr. Anderson was born at Llamo, Texas 37 years ago. When his parents moved to New Mexico 22 years ago he came with them and has lived in the mountain section west of here and in Artesia practically all of this time. (Continued on last page, column 5)

A MEXICAN YOUTH IS KILLED WHEN FORD CAR OVERTURNS TUES.

Tuesday morning while driving near Atoka, Balenten Velasquer, a young Mexican boy 23 years of age upset a Ford. Velasquer, who was driving alone at the time of the accident was evidently trying the speed of the car, but nobody knows just how the accident occurred. Chester Rogers, who was the first one to reach the scene of the accident, found Velasquer lying near the overturned car, which apparently made one or two complete flips. It is presumed that the body of the Mexican was crushed when the car made the first turn.

Velasquer was rushed to his home, where he received medical attention from Dr. Stroup. He lived only about an hour after the accident. Further details are not learned as we go to press.

9:45 PASSENGER TRAIN CRASHES INTO FORD COUPE OF DOSTALICK

Accident at Main Street Crossing Tuesday A. M. Injures One Man and Demolishes Rear Wheel and Fender of Car.

Artesia's first fatal grade crossing accident was narrowly averted, Tuesday morning when the Ford coupe of T. J. Dostalick was hit by the 9:45 passenger train. Mr. Dostalick was coming into Artesia from East Main street and evidently did not see the incoming passenger in time to avert a crash. Seeing that a collision was imminent, Mr. Dostalick turned his car diagonally across the track in the direction of the passenger station, instead of going straight across. If a straight crossing had been made, however, the engine would not have hit the coupe, witnesses declare.

The passenger locomotive struck the car just before the rear wheels were out of danger and completely demolished the left rear wheel, turning the car almost completely around. The force of the blow threw Mr. Dostalick out at the left door, the door by a strange coincidence, coming open, but nobody seems to know just how it happened. Mr. Dostalick struck the pavement and in some manner his body rolled in front of the car to the right and he was (Continued on last page, column 1)

Favorable weather has caused a line of waiting cotton wagons on the yard. 35 per cent of this year's crop has been ginned, according to estimates.

SEES NEED FOR UNIVERSAL COTTON TRADING RULES

Standardization of cotton trading rules and contracts in the world's cotton markets would iron out many of the difficulties now experienced by American shippers and place the world cotton business on a more uniform basis, Dr. A. B. Cox, department of agriculture economist declared today following a year's study of European cotton markets.

"Much time and money are lost in international cotton trade through the need to arbitrate disputes arising out of differences in trading rules, contracts and practices in the various markets," Dr. Cox said. "No two cotton markets are alike in methods of calculating cotton tare and net weights, in the wording of contracts, and as regards length of staple on which the contract is based. It is difficult for the smaller firms, and especially those just getting into the business, to compete successfully because of the difficulty of getting this information."

Dr. Cox's recommendation for the elimination of these difficulties is to encourage the movement for the standardization of rules, practices and staple length description. These reforms he thinks will be greatly promoted by the cooperation of the European cotton trade with American shippers.

Discussing the present European textile situation, Dr. Cox said that textile production in England has been very much reduced since the war on account of decreased buying power of India and China, but is now increasing. Italy, on the other hand, is taking more American cotton, to meet the demand for lower grade products. Production costs, also, in Italy are much lower than in England because of cheap labor.

The German mills, he said, made money up to June, when production began to outrun sales. Switzerland has about the same situation as in England, the demand for high class goods for embroidery and laces have declined, while the cost of production is high. Spain is manufacturing mainly for home needs.

France is almost back to pre-war production, having taken nearly 1,000,000 bales of American cotton this year. Costs of production in France are low because of cheap money. Belgian mills have also made money. Mills in both France and Belgium show a considerable improvement since the war, much modern machinery having been installed and many new manufacturing methods adopted.

Dr. Cox's European trip was primarily to make an analysis of the markets at Liverpool, Bremen, Havre, Milan, Barcelona, Ghent, Rotterdam, Antwerp, and Manchester. A detailed report of his studies of market movements, contracts, hedging, cotton financing, weight settlements, and the like, is now being prepared or formal publication by the Department of Agriculture.

REDUCING PUBLIC OVERHEAD

At a conference of county auditors recently, there was uniform expression of sentiment that there could be no material tax reduction unless people are educated to do without some of governmental embellishments they are now paying for but can ill afford.

In this sphere of influence the county official as a citizen can be of even greater service than in the discharge of his official duties.

If he joins in the clamor for adding on this public service and that public service, which first requires the enactment of a law, he is participating in a species of paternalism which will ultimately destroy local and general government.

Unless the alarming increase in demands for public services and expenditures—largely for nonessentials and all more or less socialistic—is curbed, there will be increased tax delinquencies and foreclosures.

Neither community progress nor enduring prosperity for the individual can be purchased at the expense of the well-being of the home owning citizen.

There must be greater efficiency and economy in conducting county and city government and officials must be held more and more responsible by the voters for whole-hearted cooperation and teamwork in eliminating waste and extravagance.

Sale—Sale of all protected game taken in the state prohibited.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

LET'S PROTECT OUR GAME

With the deer and turkey season approaching, an appeal is sent out by real sportsmen to use discretion in bagging all kinds of wild game. The New Mexico game and fish situation has reached its most critical point and unless public sentiment is awakened and organized, the woods, fields and streams will be depleted of wild life before many years," such was the consensus of opinion of the Santa Fe Game Protective Association, which met jointly with members of the state game and fish commission at the court house in Santa Fe Thursday night.

An expert fish and game survey of the state was recommended at the meeting, another recommendation made was that the non resident fish license be raised and the resident license be reduced. Small bird refuges should be created as in the eastern states.

The nearest deer hunting place to Artesia is the mountains, some 85 miles west of here. While we are interested in the protection of all kinds of game to be found in New Mexico, we are more interested in the preservation of the small birds found on the ranches nearby, more particularly the quail. Continued droughts and close hunting by the local sportsmen for the past few years threatens to make the quail an extinct specie for the Valley, unless the sportsmen are willing to let up on this sort of hunting for awhile. We now have a splendid opportunity of restocking the Valley, if the hunters will use good judgment and not try to bag all of the birds at one trip.

Does Your Wife Buy Your Clothes? It's Just as Well She Does

WHEN you buy a new suit do you take your wife along to help you select it? The opinions of men on this subject vary greatly, according to

E. R. Born.

Edgar R. Born, Fashion Director of the Born Tailors Guild. "I haven't bought a thing for myself since I was married, one man will say. 'When I want shirts, collars, ties—in fact anything except suits and overcoat, my wife selects them by herself. For the others we go together.'"

And here's the other extreme: "No, sir! My wife hasn't a word to say about what I wear. She can get what she wants for herself and the children, but nobody's going to tell me what I shall wear."

You probably couldn't change either man in his conviction, but here are the facts on woman as a purchaser of men's clothes: She is used to shopping, both for values and styles. It takes a persuasive salesperson to sell a woman something she doesn't want.

Men, on the other hand, dislike prolonging the shopping expedition and will take almost anything offered. They are not as keen for values nor as observant of details. The man who has plenty of money to spend does not like to dicker about prices, and the man who must watch the pennies is almost sure to pass up quality and workmanship in favor of low prices. A woman can tell at a glance whether the buttonholes are hand-made, if the material is of good quality, or shirt seams reinforced. She knows which colors fade and how to tell pure linen. The man who takes his wife along when he goes shopping benefits by her marketing experience.

(Received too Late for Publication Last Week)

Walter Coates was a business visitor to Artesia Monday.

Dr. Puckett was called to Pinon Monday on a professional visit.

Mrs. Noel L. Johnson is spending a few days in Artesia this week.

Mrs. T. V. Coffin and daughters drove to Artesia Sunday afternoon.

Miss Hazel Belle Johnson spent Monday in Artesia visiting her friend, Miss Crane.

Rev. A. L. Means, of Weed, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday and preached a good sermon.

Continuous rains have hindered the work of the farmers, but they have been very beneficial to the stockmen.

Two additional teachers for the Hope school will be needed as soon as all pupils from the county enter for their regular work.

Stockmen have been busy dipping cattle for the past week. Sheepmen are preparing to deliver a number of lambs, which they contracted earlier in the year.

EIGHT YEARS OF ROAD BUILDING COSTS N. M. OVER EIGHT MILLIONS

On August 31, 1925, there was a balance of federal aid funds, available for new highway projects in New Mexico, of $1,795,842.37. A bulletin of the Taxpayer's Association of New Mexico calls attention to this balance in summarizing the status of federal aid highway construction as of August 31, 1925. The figures are taken from "Public Roads," a publication of the U. S. bureau of public roads.

During the fiscal year 1917-1925 a period of nine years, 1,081.3 miles of highway were completed at a total cost of $8,717,999.18, of which the federal government contributed $4,914,070.61. The average cost per mile was about $3,000.

Since June 30, 1925, there have been completed 134.7 miles at a total cost of $1,473,170.37, of which the federal government contributed $987,112.81. The average cost per mile was nearly $11,000.

At the present time there are projects under construction amounting to 259.9 miles at an estimated cost of $2,847,896.13, of which the federal government will contribute $1,835,025.39. The average estimate cost per mile is about $11,000.

Projects have been approved for the construction of 29.8 miles of highway to cost $405,214.35 of which the federal government will contribute $253,070.82. The average cost per mile will be about $13,500.

The total number of miles involved in these figures is 1505.7, built or to be built, at a total cost of $13,444,280.03—the average expenditure for each mile being a little less than $9,000.

Of the total of $13,444,280.03, when expended the federal government will have contributed $7,989,279.63 and the state and its counties the remainder of $5,455,000.40. To match the $1,795,842.37 of federal funds still available, the state and its counties will have to raise approximately $1,000,000 during the next two or three years. With these funds, an additional 250 miles will be constructed.

CLIPPING BUREAU AT BARTLET, TEX. SENDS OUT CARDS

Modern ways of gyping the public are still found by the grafter, who wishes to earn easy money. The latest graft called to our attention by Judge S. E. Ferree, no doubt will interest many people of Artesia, as many are reported to have received a card from a clipping bureau at Bartlett, Texas, stating that the bureau had in their possession a clipping about the person addressed, which would be of interest and upon receipt of 25 cents the clipping would be promptly sent.

A similar incident is reported at Deming where about fifty people received cards stating that the Bartlett, Texas clipping bureau had clippings of interest to the people addressed. Upon comparing notes it was found that the clipping bureau had sent to the local paper for several sample copies. Clippings, of course, were cut out of the local paper and if the necessary remittance of "two bits" had been forwarded the addressee would have received the mention about which he had previously read.

A number of people around Artesia are reported to have received the cards from the clipping bureau, but how many were answered we do not know. After discussing the incident with Judge Ferree we remembered that the Advocate had also received a request for sample copies about a month ago and the funny part of the story is that the instigators evidently did not take time to see who published the paper and so the editor received a card along with the others.

Dispatch by Telephone

The recent oil boom has increased business on a part of the Southern Kansas division of the Missouri Pacific Railroad to such an extent that the telephone is now to take the place of the telegraph as a means of communication. It was found that the existing telegraph system was insufficient to handle the greater amount of business and a new telephone line has accordingly been constructed between Coffeyville and Arkansas City.

AL. G. JONES CIRCUS AT ROSWELL OCT. 29 AND CARLSBAD OCT. 30

The announcement of Al. G. Barnes four ring circus appears in this issue. The coming of this organization is welcome news, as the Al. G. Barnes Circus is one that always presents a clean wholesome and entertaining program.

This year, according to announcements, the circus has been greatly enlarged, and in addition to the all new spectacle of Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne with the enormous cast, selected from the 1080 employees, other new features are: 180 horses in one big act, The Fez-Ton Tribe of Arabs from the Sahara Desert—their first visit to America—The Canton Troupe of Chinese Circus Artists, The Imperial Midget Family from Bavaria, Joe Martin (himself), The Giant Gorilla Man, Lotus, the only performing hippopotamus in the world, and the Famous Exclusive Al. G. Barnes Feature—40 Dancing Horses and 40 Dancing Girls, and Al. G. Barnes appears in person at each performance.

Owing to the enormous size of the circus this year, the management announces that no street parade will be given in any city visited, however, in place of the omitted procession, a mammoth Open Air Free Exhibition will take place on the show grounds at 1:00 and 7:00 p. m., immediately preceding the opening of the doors to the circus, and the largest traveling managerie in the world, comprising over 400 rare animals from all quarters of the earth.

The circus performance starts promptly at 2:00 and 8:00 p. m. Ample parking space for autos is reserved on the show grounds and a City ticket office, where numbered reserved chairs may be obtained at same price charged on the show grounds, is maintained in each city.

Latest Modes in Evening Dresses

Interesting Designs Made in Paris Show Many Variations.

In the great volume of entertaining fashion news from Paris the summer evening costume is presented in a burst of color and beauty, observes a fashion writer in the New York Times. One hears much about the all-day frock, about evening sports clothes, about everything that tends to simplify the mode of dress for dinner and the dance. There are fads and facts among a large element in the world where fashions count. But there are still those in conventional society who enjoy the privilege of wearing the gown to fit the occasion, and who encourage the art of the best designers.

Those who define the styles and set the pace are doing glorious things this season. The leading creators have succeeded in intriguing the fancy of women of affluence and a love of fine raiment with the most important and artistic things that have been offered in many a year. These are being flashed before admiring audiences in fashion centers, both at the swaggers resorts abroad and on this side. From every indication the watering places at which the ultrasmart will foregather this year will form a mise en scene for fashion pageants of uncommon significance and splendor.

The "season" in London and the various public and private affairs at Paris have given the summer styles an impetus that will carry on at Deauville, Le Tourquet and the Lido.

On this side a gay season is expected. The returning travelers from Europe who have had this year an unprecedented feast of beautiful designs and fine fabrics will bring back the last word in style.

The Exposition of Decorative Arts has been, of course, a rare opportunity for the world at large, the influence of which is already apparent in the models presented by prominent houses in New York. The prevailing models are forecast by some illustrious examples in evening gowns by many of the leading Paris creators. These are of as many different types as there are individuals in the artistic world. It is evident that the simplicity phase is changing; that more complex designs are in vogue, influencing to a greater or less degree all of the gowns, wraps and ensembles for midsummer.

Beaded or Embroidered.

The "slinky" one-piece frock is seen now only in the heavily beaded or embroidered patterns for which some women have a particular fondness. The flare or circular movement is seen in everything from the bias cut in a gown or coat of heavy satin or cloth to the swirling skirts and fluttering draperies of the sheerest lace frock. This effect is attained in the circular cut of the fabric by godets, inset panels, or by the addition of smaller pieces of the goods; sometimes of lace. There must be in dresses of this type no appearance of plainness.

A variant of the trimmed code is apparent in the use of plaiting, which increases in popularity as the season advances and which is arranged in many different ways on gowns of soft or very thin material. This accentuates sharply the frilly appearance which is now so much liked, and some chic models from well-known couturiers are done in this manner.

Among the conservatives Worth employs plaiting in his composition; usually in long lines, from shoulder to hem or from the waistline downward. Douillet goes in for finely plaited flounces, using them across or up and down a frock as best suits the model, but usually lavishly. In this feature this artist is quite imparial, introducing small insets, long panels and skirts of fine plaiting, or trimmed with several plaited ruffles set on at even spaces.

Curiously enough the designs from this house of recognized art include some exceedingly handsome evening gowns of the directly opposite type, straight in line and trimmed in flat effects with silk roses and deep-knotted fringe in long curves.

This scheme is delightfully illustrated in white and silver lame over flesh color, the fringe of white silk and the roses faintly rose tinted and tipped with silver and rhinestones.

In a unique and somewhat startling dance frock designed for Beauville the bodice is entirely plain, in mauve satin made surplice with front and back, with bands of pale-green ribbon to finish the edge and crossing, suspender fashion, to the normal waistline, which has a soft belt of mauve. Over a straight narrow petticoat of satin matching the bodice is gathered a full tunic overskirt of tulle in the two shades, pointed front and back, very bouffant and edged with a narrow ruching of the tulle. The novelty of this dress is apparent, but it is a model which might nevertheless be easily and effectively copied in simple materials for a far less tax than is imposed along with the label of a prominent establishment at Paris.

Chiffon Is Used.

In one of these plaited gowns that is unusual, chiffon, shading from pale pink to cerise, is used; two flounces forming the skirt. Another flounce is used for the sleeveless, decollete bodice, and each is ironed out for a space of five or six inches across the bottom to give the frilly appearance. A frilly little danced frock of pink chiffon has coral chiffon finely plaited to form a deep-pointed flounce around the neck and inset panels on the skirt.

An ingenious designer, whose models are often plain and of rich material, presents one particularly fascinating gown of crepe chiffon in petunia pink embroidered across the decollete bodice in a floral pattern of beads and pink-tinted pearls. In order to give a piquant effect a plaited fan of tulle is added at one side of the tunic.

Plaiting, as a relief from the severely plain lines that have been so long in vogue, has completely won public fancy, and most of the creators are making use of plaiting in some manner.

The plaited flounce in soft material, the lovely crepes and chiffons that form fluttering borders, or the ironed-out frill of the more crisp tulle and gauzes are seen on some of the latest Paris models. The tint-plaited ruffles sewn in rows around the skirt of a dance frock are immensely popular among the younger women.

Some charming dresses for the debutante element are made of tulle, with full-gathered skirts that are trimmed with many rows of narrow plaiting, applied in straight lines, festooned or pointed.

Will Be Reproduced.

One of the most beautiful evening gowns brought over this season will have many reproductions because of its becomingness. It comes from the Chanel atelier, a two-piece dress that has the effect of being all in one, of white chiffon and crystal beads. The sleeveless low-cut bodice is trimmed lengthwise with stripes of the crystal passementerie, and the skirt below the hips is a succession of ruffles of the chiffon, each of which is edged with loops and drops of crystal, like a sparkling cascade.

Madeline Vionnet has created a stunning evening gown of white crepe satin, which is altogether covered with white silk fringe applied in diagonal lines to form points in front and back.

Callot does some of the most adorable ball dresses seen this year. One youthful model which is especially charming for one of slender figure is of tulle, the skirt beruffled from belt to hem with the same goods. Other intriguing models are trimmed in deep points of passementerie. One, of ivory satin, with plain very low-fitted bodice which shows a decided tendency toward the "pinched" waistline has the crossed straps of the satin. Attached to the bodice is the circular skirt which is embroidered with diagonal lines of silver and crystal beads, forming a diamond-shaped pattern. The bottom of the flaring skirt is cut in points and edged with the beads.

Each model of the new type is authentic as to style, and there are so many, differing widely, that every woman of fashion, whatever her profession, may find something suitable and modish.

Little Vernon Walker has scarlet fever.

Mrs. Joe Adkins returned last week from Brownlee, Texas.

Mr. Harry Fairbanks, of Roswell, was a Cottonwood visitor Tuesday.

Buster Knowles left last week for Alamogordo, where he will attend school.

Mrs. H. A. Denton had a sister from Fort Worth, Texas, visiting her last week.

Mrs. J. A. Blakeney and little daughter, Bernice, and "Uncle Tom" Blakeney spent Sunday of last week visiting relatives and friends on Cottonwood.

J. G. Hedgecoxe has been taken from Roswell to Hot Springs, New Mexico, where it is hoped he will recover from a severe attack of rheumatism.

We have had unsettled weather for nearly a week. We have had so many showers and light rains that cotton picking is most difficult. However, Tuesday and Wednesday were fairly sunny days. We only hope to have many more of them.

The Cottonwood Woman's Club held its regular meeting with Mrs. Earle Hedgecoxe. The splendid program prepared by the program committee was not given on account of so many absences. The program will be rendered Thursday when the club will meet with Mrs. Jesse Funk.

A great number of Cottonwood people took in the Cotton Carnival at Roswell, last week. Among some who were there were: Walter and Dave Hill and families, Mrs. Hollingsworth and daughter, Mrs. West, Bob Floyd and Glen O'Bannon, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Powell and Charlie Powell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hardcastle, Oscar and Clarence Pearson and families, Miss Ruth McFadden, Mrs. J. I. Funk, and Mrs. C. Nelson.

DO YOU WANT A "B" OR "C" LAMP?

By ERWIN GREER
(President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago)

Haven't I bought lamps ever since Edison invented them? Don't I know? Did I have to tell them every time I bought a house lamp whether it was for the cellar or library? Bunk!

But is it? There is nothing in buying a home lamp that can serve as a guide for the purchase of a motor car lamp. Lamps for home lighting are stocked for certain station voltage that are uniform in given communities. So you can be reasonably sure of getting the right lamp whatever you ask for.

But with motor car bulbs it is entirely different. Every car manufacturer builds into his car a miniature central station of his own choosing; it may be a six-volt plant. Or the manufacturer may connect each lamp socket to two separate wires. In this case the lamp will have to have a double contact base; or he may use the frame of the car for a return, thus necessitating only one wire for each socket. This lamp must have a single contact base. Now, let's see if the salesman who sells you the lamp knows his business. If he does he will ask you these questions:

What is the voltage of your battery?

Double or single contact?

Candlepower?

Do you want a B or C lamp?

The Mazda B lamp is the older form in which the filament burns in a vacuum. The C lamp produces a whiter light and is filled with nitrogen gas. The latter has not yet been generally adopted by manufacturers, but it's use is increasing rapidly. So, in making your renewal you should insist on this C lamp because it burns less current and gives a better and whiter light.

"What's the number of cells in your battery?" the dealer asks. "Six," you reply. "Right," says the dealer, "six cells is twelve volts." And he hands you a twelve volt lamp. The light you get has all the illuminating qualities of a glow worm, but not the brilliant flood of light you desired.

Why? You have a twelve-volt battery all right but the twelve-volt current is only used for the starting motor, the lighting current using only three cells, or six-volts. Consequently the resistance of the filament in the twelve-volt lamp is too great and the lamp cannot give the light it would if it was attached to the proper voltage.

RED CROSS YEAR
A RELIEF RECORD

Huge Relief Work After Midwest Tornado the Greatest in American Annals.

DISASTERS DROP IN 1925

Ranged From Fire to Earthquake and Covered Wide Area at Home and Abroad.

Virtual completion of the largest peace-time project of post-disaster rehabilitation ever known has been accomplished by the American Red Cross in less than a year, as a part of its relief work in the more than 90 disasters in which it served in the past year.

This great program was undertaken following the tornado which struck five mid-western States last spring, killing 796 people, injuring 2,239 more, and causing inestimable property loss. It left a huge area of devastation in its wake, presenting a real problem. The Red Cross, however, went to work on the heels of the storm, caring for the injured, sheltering and feeding whole communities, and helping every individual sufferer from the destruction back to normal.

The magnitude of the problem is indicated by comparison of its huge casualty list with that of the entire preceding year, whose combined losses were 735 dead and not quite 2,000 injured, as a result of the record number of 192 catastrophes.

The story of the Red Cross service in the past year, recounted by the report, ranges from fires heading the list of destructive forces with 29 disasters, to mine explosions, tornadoes, typhoons, floods and earthquakes.

The Santa Barbara earthquake was among the outstanding events recorded in the report. The Red Cross had completed its relief organization on the scene within a few hours of the disaster, and in addition had launched a program designed to permanently restore every person affected by it, to his former status once more.

The Red Cross service in the period following the wreck of the Navy airship "Shenandoah" was typical of its promptness and effectiveness. Service in this instance was afforded by Red Cross chapters in the vicinity of the wreck, and by representatives of the national organization. It demonstrates graphically the value of each of the more than 3,000 chapters of the society which are at work in virtually every part of the country, in the facility they afford the national organization in emergencies.

There were 61 domestic disaster operations reported in which the Red Cross rendered service either through chapter or national staff personnel during the year. In 34 of these the national organization appropriated a total of $3,047,256.49, the greater portion of which was received as direct contributions for the relief of specified disasters. The relief operations following the northern Ohio tornado of June, 1924, were brought to a close in May, 1925, after an arrangement had been made with the Lorain chapter to provide expert services to the families of any tornado sufferers who required such assistance in the next two years. In this single disaster the relief work, as finally accounted, reached a total of $1,019,751.23.

The mid-western tornado of this year, covering a strip of territory 400 miles long involved an expenditure up to June 30 of $774,000, while the total amount turned in to the fund through the agency of the Red Cross was $2,645,000. In addition to this sum specifically collected for the purpose, the Red Cross had expended from its regular reserves $124,000.

In all these disasters, Red Cross workers have been impressed by the spirit of determination and hopefulness shown by the people. Once they recovered from their grief and bewilderment, they began at once to rebuild, materially and otherwise, and always on a better scale where possible. Another significant feature of these occurrences, as noted in the report of the Red Cross, was the promptness with which the local chapters organized emergency relief before help could be received from outside sources. A direct effect of their example has been to stimulate disaster relief preparedness among chapters all over the country.

The services of the American Red Cross are performed invariably in the name of the American people. On the effectiveness of this representation during the past year, it will launch the ninth annual roll call this year on November 11, to continue until Thanksgiving, November 26, during which support through membership will be invited for 1926.

COURT VALUES THE DRY FARM LANDS AT $1.50 IN TORRANCE COUNTY

Judge Edwin Mechem of the district court fixed the valuation of dry farm lands in Torrance county at $1.50 an acre in his decision at Estancia Monday in a suit brought by S. B. Orin and the county commissioners against the state tax commission and County Assessor Cristobal Madril seeking a reproduction in the assessment of these lands which were on the tax rolls at $5, $6 and $7.50 an acre, according to districts.

The defendants agreed to a reduction, leaving the amount up to the judge.

The effect of the decision, according to Chief Tax Commissioner J. E. Owens, is to take from 1 1/2 to 2 million dollars off the tax rolls of Torrance county, necessitates increasing the tax rate and probably to delay the collection of taxes in that county.

The tax commission refused to agree to a reduction to $1.50 in negotiations with Fred H. Ayres, attorney for the defendants, looking to settlement of the case, prior to Judge Mechem's decision, thinking this figure too low, according to Mr. Owens. Assistant Attorney General James N. Bujac appeared for the tax commission.

RED CROSS GIVES ASSISTANCE TO THE AMERICAN LEGION

At the recent National Convention of the American Legion at Omaha, October 5 to 9, Commander James A. Drain of that organization spoke enthusiastically of the assistance given the Legion by the American Red Cross in the work for ex-service men since the close of the great World War.

Introducing Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American National Red Cross and one of the principal speakers at the legion convention, Commander Drain said in part:

"The American Legion and the American Red Cross have a special affinity for each other. In a very large measure touching our rehabilitation service, the two have been working hand in hand and in full partnership. The American Legion owes the American Red Cross a debt which it can never repay except through service to others, because you will know, men and women of the Legion, that for three years previous to this year, but for the generosity of the American Red Cross, it would not have been possible for the American Legion to properly carry on its rehabilitation work."

Prolonged applause followed Commander Drain's remarks.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Society held its business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Dan Eipper last Thursday afternoon, and despite the rain there was an unusually good attendance. A "kitchen shower" was a feature of the program and yielded many nice things for the church kitchen. The most valuable article contributed was a fine oil stove, the gift of Mesdames Eipper and Dixon. The next meeting will be in November, at which time the missionary study will be commenced. The text for the study will be "From Beyond the Border," with Mrs. Cowan for leader.

WOMAN'S CLUB RECEPTION

The Woman's Club began its year's work with a reception, which was held in the Club room, the I. O. O. F. hall, last Saturday afternoon.

The room was beautifully decorated for the occasion with fall flowers. In the receiving line were the officers of the club, Mesdames Brainard, Graham, Albert Richards, Stroup and Hartell. A short, but delightful program, was given. It included an address of welcome by the president, Mrs. Brainard, and response by Mrs. Allinger, instrumental music by Miss Bass of Carlsbad, an artist upon the piano, humorous readings by Mrs. Hartell, vocal solos by Mrs. John Lanning and aesthetic dancing by Miss Elizabeth Bass, of Carlsbad, who is also an artist in her line and gave a beautiful exhibition of her art. The program was supplemented by the delegates from the State Convention, Mesdames Brainard, Hightower, Wilson, Hartell and Stroup, who gave some songs imitating those heard at Santa Fe.

During the social hour following the program punch was served by the committee and was enjoyed by a number of visitors as well as the members.

The next regular meeting of the Club will be on Wednesday, the 21st, at which time the Literary department will give the program, the review of several short stories, and the delegates will give their report from the state convention.

WORKER'S COUNCIL SUPPER

The Worker's Council of the Methodist Sunday school held its monthly supper in the Sunday school room on last Friday evening instead of Thursday on account of Stunt night at the high school. A number of business matters connected with the Sunday school were considered following an unusually fine supper, which was served by Mesdames Kinder, Ketter and Peemster, who were assisted by Mrs. Eipper. Several musical numbers were given, among them a cornet solo by Wayne Hornbaker, with Mrs. Ragsdale at the piano. The hostesses at the November meeting will be Mesdames Ragsdale, Bullock and Dixon.

BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. E. J. Brooks entertained an additional table at the regular meeting of the Second Bridge Club on Tuesday afternoon, the special guests were Mesdames Frank Brooks, Earl Bigler, Mrs. S. D. Gates and Mrs. Alvin Johnston, of California. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

A Missionary Conference of the Roswell district of the M. E. Church, South, is in session at the local church today. Delegates are here from various points of the Pecos Valley. Dinner will be served at the church for the delegates and members and a very good program has been arranged. The Conference closes with the afternoon session.

P. T. A. MEETING

A very interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association was held in the Central building yesterday afternoon. Two pretty songs were furnished by the two fourth grades, taught by Mrs. Howell Gage and Miss Rittman. The subject of study for the afternoon was "Supervised Home Study of Children." Mrs. R. O. Cowan discussed the subject from the viewpoint of the parent and Miss Sue Soerens from the angle of the teacher, both bringing out helpful ideas.

Two vacancies in the list of officers was filled. Prof. Reid was chosen first vice president, the office held by Prof. Palm, and Mrs. E. T. Jernigan was selected for the office of treasurer in place of Mrs. Will Henderson, who moved to Carlsbad some time ago. The attendance was very good, especially of teachers, and the outlook for a successful year seems very promising.

At 6:00 p. m. he was guest of honor at a dinner in the private dining room at the Franciscan.

The committee of Rebekahs escorted Mrs. Thompson in an auto trip in the afternoon. In the evening, Mrs. George C. Scheer, wife of the Odd Fellows grand master for New Mexico, entertained Mrs. Thompson and prominent Rebekahs of the state at dinner at her home.

At 7 o'clock the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs gathered in the Odd Fellows hall for a general meeting and listened to an address by the grand sire. Mr. Thompson announced himself as pleased with the growth and

You Are Responsible to the Children

Why should a child be sick? Why do children, the most beautiful expression of natural law, come into this world perfect in form and capable of attaining the highest in mind and body, become sick, crippled, or die?

Why is it necessary to remove tonsils and adenoids; place unsightly glasses on the eyes and torturing braces on the bodies of God's most beautiful creation? Why should a child become anything but a perfect specimen of adult humanity except that something interferes with natural law; with the proper functioning of the vital organs of the body?

Parents may do all that is known to them to do, and still be ignorant of the fact that a child may fall, striking on the shoulder with enough force to subluxate vertebrae in the lower part of the neck between the shoulders.

Such subluxations, neglected, impinge, or press upon nerves leading to the organs and tissues and interfere with their function; the vitality of the tissue becomes impaired, resistance is lowered and disease is the result.

Thus children become victims of croup, whooping cough, asthma, heart conditions and malnutrition.

A hard "sit down" while at play may pass unnoticed, yet the child may have fallen heavily enough to have injured the coccyx (the last bone in the spine) causing it to be directed inward, while the bone is still in a semi-cartilaginous state. As time advances this bone becomes entirely ossified and serves to irritate, causing chronic constipation, bladder trouble, and, frequently in the case of young girls, results in distressing difficulties in adult life. Do not be guilty of such negligence.

Give unto your blessed kiddies the privilege to get well and stay well, capable of expressing the highest gift of the Creator, good health, strong virile manhood and womanhood. Keep the backbone straight.

Chiropractic adjustment is advisable in all acute as well as chronic diseases, and is not limited to Rheumatism, Neuritis, and Chronic Disorders of the Stomach and Heart—but is a most efficient agent in Typhoid Fever, Scarlet Fever, Pneumonia, Measles, Incipient Tuberculosis, Diseases of the Eyes, Ears, Nose, Throat, etc., etc.

CHANGES AT EDDY HOSPITAL

The Eddy county hospital has added two additional nurses to its staff, having secured the services of Misses Annie Mae Mote and Alpha Ishee, both of El Paso, Texas. Miss Mote has been in charge of the operating room of the City-County Hospital of El Paso, where she has demonstrated her proficiency in that capacity. Miss Ishee, also, is from the same institution, where she has been engaged as ward nurse.

The Eddy County Hospital considers itself fortunate in having engaged these young ladies, for their extensive experience in hospital service stamps them as highly accomplished in their profession.

With Mrs. Virginia Futch, the head nurse, who is also a nurse of extensive experience in operating room service, it is felt that the staff of the Eddy County Hospital ranks very high and supplies a long felt need. Every member of the staff is a graduate nurse and a registered nurse. Misses Mote and Ishee will be assigned to duty on October 18.

The hospital is going ahead with its reorganization and general improvements are now in progress.—Current.

GIRL IS HIGH MAN IN STOCK JUDGING

Eleanor Gill, the only girl among the nine stock judging teams, is "high man" in the stock judging group at the annual state club contest at the New Mexico A. & M. College.

Miss Gill is a member of a pig club at Amistad, Union county, and made a good record last year at the stock judging contest. This time she carried off the blue ribbon and the honor of winning over 25 boys. It is no small honor, either, to be a better judge of stock than some boys present at the contest.

PATCH OF NUT BROWN HUE

Two girls gay met a boy one day,
His legs were briar scratched.
His clothes were of blue, but a nut-brown hue
Marked the place his pants were patched.
They laughed with joy at the blue clad boy
And his patch of nut-brown hue.

"Why don't you patch with color to match?"
They said "Why not with blue?"
Don't be coy, my blue-clad boy,
"Speak up," and they laughed with glee;
When he hung his head as he bashfully said:
"That ain't no patch, that's me."

Another "Bull" Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Ziegfeld Folies and screen star, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

The Wise Guy and The Clown

A constant reader of my "Bull" Durham Ads writes in and says: "If there was another smoking Tobacco the equal of "Bull" Durham a lot of us would quit you no matter how much it cost. But alas there is no equal at any price as we have all found out at various times. So we must hasten to turn the pages and groan, whenever we encounter the CLOWN Ads of Will Rogers, who is trying to discredit the worth of the WORLD'S FAVORITE TOBACCO."

See that Bird wrote this whole Ad for me himself. He knocked me but he boosted "Bull" Durham. He fell right into my hands. Its only by the wisdom of our smart people that us CLOWNS and Fools are allowed to ride in Limousines. They say "The Lord protects the foolish," so, I am nestling right under his wing. So thanks Mr. Smart Man, write us another Ad. It will only cost you two cents

ALFALFA SEED CROP LITTLE LARGER THAN LAST YEAR

Alfalfa seed production is estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture to be about 48,000,000 lbs., compared with 46,000,000 lbs. last year. The 5 per cent increase is due to an increase in acreage as yields averaged about the same as last year, being higher in some states and lower in others. Three hundred twenty growers whose aggregate production last year amounted to 3,700,000 lbs., or about 8 per cent of the total crop of the United States, indicated that their acreage cut for seed this year exceeded that of last year by 5 per cent. Yields in many sections were reduced by dry, hot weather during the summer but in other sections weather conditions were more favorable than last year. Injury from frost was even less than last year, when most of the crop was harvested before killing frosts.

The production in central and northern states or districts, with few exceptions, was larger than last year while in states to the south the crop was smaller. The larger production in Utah, Montana, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and probably in the Dakotas and Kansas more than offsets the decreased production in Idaho, Texas, New Mexico, and probably Arizona and California.

Harvesting of the crop began about the same time as last year and proceeded in most sections without much interruption from rains. Initial harvesting operations were more or less general on the following dates: July 10, southern Arizona; July 28, western Texas; August 10-12, eastern New Mexico and southwestern Kansas; August 14, western Oklahoma; Aug. 23, northwestern Kansas and northern California; September 5, central California; September 8-12, Utah, eastern Montana, and southern Idaho; and September 18, Dakotas and Minnesota.

Growers in all of the leading states except Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, and Idaho reported the quality of the 1925 crop to be better than that of the 1924 crop due largely to the fact that weather conditions prior to and at harvest were in general more favorable.

Prices offered to growers on September 29 were about the same as or somewhat lower than last year in important producing districts. They ranged from $13.35 in northwestern Kansas and $14 in western Colorado to $16 in southern Arizona and $18 in Montana, all per 100 lbs., basis clean. In the heaviest producing district (Millard Co., Utah) $15.50 was offered on October 6 for No. 1 seed f. o. b. railroad point.

Although spring sales of alfalfa seed were reported to be larger than last year in a majority of states and late summer or fall demand was fair, the carryover was believed to be considerably larger than a year ago.

Imports for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, were 4,782,500 lbs., compared with 12,818,400 lbs. a year ago, 8,784,000 lbs. two years ago, and 5,600,000 lbs., average annual imports for the past 15 years. Imports July 1 to September 30 of this year amounted to 74,000 lbs., compared with 2,961,400 lbs. last year, 2,848,700 lbs. two years ago, and 3,591,800 lbs. three years ago for the same period. In the last few years Argentina, Canada, France and South Africa have contributed most of our alfalfa imports. Argentina apparently has comparatively little 1925 crop seed to offer and France's surplus probably will be consumed largely in other European countries. The acreage in France was much larger than last year and than normal. Yields in the Provence district (France) are reported to be better than elsewhere. Italy has nearly a normal crop but Hungary and Czechoslovakia have crops much below normal.

RAMAGE WELL EXTENDS FIELD

fishing job. With the bridge drilled out the well started filling rapidly with fluid and is now standing with 2000 feet of oil in the hole this accompanied with an increasing gas pressure. Tubing will be run immediately and from all indication the new producer will be good for around 75 barrels when put on the pump.

Whether the Ramage is an extension to the pool in section 21 or section 4 cannot be determined at this time, but it is the belief of many operators that it means the opening of an entirely separate area, one that may extend in almost any direction. The drilling of other tests in the neighborhood of the Ramage will tell the tale as little geology can be worked out at this time. The completion of the well, however, means that the productive area has not been entirely defined and many other pools will probably be opened to the north and northeast. They seem to be the most favorable directions as the areas to the east and south have showed very little, the majority of tests in these directions having been abandoned. While production may be found somewhere on the west side, no one seems anxious to drill that territory west of the oil field road. Two light wells, the Picher and the Simpson have not off-set the Howard and the Sandburg.

In Sec. 17-1-28 the V. K. F. Oil Co. have completed their No. 4 and 5, the former being a good producer and the latter, which is located on the east side being good for around 50 barrels. The top pay in this hole showed fourteen feet of sand with the 2100 foot sand being thin and streaked with lime. A 290 quarts shot broke this sufficiently to allow the fluid to fill the hole 500 feet after the shot which was run from 2036 to 2185 feet, considerable anchor being used.

In Sec. 4-18-28, the Danciger Oil & Refining Co. have completed a 100 barrel producer in their No. 2 Kase-man which was shot with 120 quarts from 2183 to 2210 feet. The Danciger interests are rapidly becoming one of the largest producers in the local field, having been very successful with all tests drilled.

Today will see the completion of two more producers in Sec. 21-18-28, these being the No. 3 of the Dome Oil Co. and the No. 7 of Snowden-McSweeney & McNutt, these being off-sets both started about the same time and completed within a few hours of each other. The Dome, according to Frank Jackson picked up the pay at 2091 this extending to 2129 feet. A 160 quart shot will be used. The Snowden-McSweeney & McNutt found the sand at approximately the same level.

In the NE 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of Sec. 28-18-28, the Ohio Oil Co., are completing their No. 5 on the Tommie-Allen lease, the sand being found at 2096 feet. Numerous minor troubles have delayed the completion of the No. 2 well of the Williams Petroleum Co., in Sec. 17-18-28, which encountered the top sand over a week ago.

A wild rumor that percolated out of Roswell last Saturday caused many of the local oil men to make a useless trip through the Mesalero Sands to the Cap Rock. The Wyatt well had been reported as having picked up a sand carrying considerable oil at 500 feet. They found the hole to be 60 feet deep with the rig shut down. These rumors have caused many unnecessary trips. When the Snowden-McSweeney well on the Twin Hills anticline entered the salt, numerous reports circulated that the well had picked up the sand. Many long drives through the cactus resulted. Oil men would do well to carefully check information of this kind.

HEALTH DEPT. EXAMINES SCHOOL CHILDREN HERE

Children who had not been vaccinated or were vaccinated over six years ago numbered 165 or 31.6 per cent of the total examined. In other words nearly one-third of the pupils examined were not protected against smallpox infection. Notification slips covering findings were delivered to the various teachers to be sent to 503 parents or guardians.

The most serious defects noted were those of underweight, vision, teeth, tonsils and posture. Many of the children have as many as four and five of the defects noted.

UNDERWEIGHT—This ran from 5 lbs. to 15 and 20 lbs.; where children are over 10 per cent less than the normal weight the condition begins to be serious.

TEETH—From 1 to 9 teeth; the seriousness of the defects found in each child's mouth can be easily estimated by a dental examination.

TONSILS—The conditions in these cases ran from a slight enlargement of the tonsils to cases where the throat was almost occluded by the tonsils. In some cases an operation is not indicated; in others it could be deferred for several months; in still others surgical removal of enlarged and infected tonsils is indicated without delay.

POSTURE—In the majority of cases this was dropping of the right shoulder when standing erect thus tending to an abnormal curvature of the spine to the right.

About 10 per cent of the cases were a stooping forward when standing which would become permanent if not corrected.

MUNOZ NO. 17 IN THE SAN JUAN BASIN IS IN THE LIMELIGHT NOW

The Farmington oil area received a considerable boost last week, according to reports, when the Munoz No. 17, which was slated for a deep test in an effort to find the Pennsylvania sand in the San Juan basin, came in a gusher at 750 feet. Estimates that the well will make 5000 barrels a day from 750 feet is discredited by operators here, although the well may likely rank as the state's best producer.

Reports from the field say that the new producer made 1,250 barrels in a six hour test run. Officials in charge of the work in the field are now reported as seeking permission from the headquarters of the Continental Oil Company and the Munoz interests to turn the well into one of the 55,000 barrel storage tanks which were installed this summer.

The well is located on the Rattlesnake structure in section 2-29N-19W, 30 miles west of Farmington. The oil is of the same high gravity that has marked the production in the fields of the San Juan Basin.

Operators planned on carrying the No. 17 well to the Pennsylvania sands which are believed to lie at about 5,000 feet in that area. The Dakota sand, to which all of the other wells on the structure have been drilled, was encountered at 710 feet. Twenty-inch casing was set at that depth and a six-inch hole was "rat tailed" about 40 feet into the sand. The well blew out about 200 feet into the air when it came in.

Recent tests on the government gauge made by the Bureau of Mines representative at Shiprock gives the production at 1800 barrels daily. Considering the shallow depth of the well and the gravity of the oil, reported to be 68, the Munoz No. 17 is the leading producer of the state so far.

Mrs. M. E. Mason leaves this afternoon for Las Cruces via Roswell, to attend the State W. C. T. U. Convention.

Miss Nelle G. Mason was in Carlsbad on Tuesday of this week, as a witness in some court cases previously reported by her.
