MISS WHERRY INSPECTS THE ARTESIA OILERS CAMP MARY WHITE IN THE SACRAMENTOS SUNDAY SCORE 13-2

Miss Pauline Wherry, regional director of the Girl Scouts, with headquarters at Dallas, Texas, visited the Artesia scout council and scout officers here Thursday, while en route to Camp Mary White in the Sacramentos. Members of the Roswell Scout council accompanying Miss Wherry to Artesia include Mesdames Mary Wood, G. L. Reese, Jr., and D. J. Schreengost. After discussing matters pertaining to plans and purposes of the organization with the local council and officers, Miss Wherry left for the white ranch and after a brief sojourn at the ranch resumed her journey to Camp Mary White, where she made an inspection tour of the camp site. Camp Mary White, which is located up Bear canyon, northwest of weed is in many respects the most unique camp of its kind in America, according to a report brought back to Roswell by Miss Wherry.

The Artesia Oilers were victorious Sunday when they slugged Roswell pitchers for thirteen hits and thirteen runs. Pertie held the Artesia Oilers scoreless the last four innings of the game although they hit him hard when he first relieved Butler. N. Kyie pitching for the Oilers struck out 10 allowing 8 hits and 2 runs. He carries the necessary stuff in that right arm to do the work at the proper time. Cotton is still carrying the club record of twenty-five times at bat this season without stringing out.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Rev. Sinclair delivered a splendid address on the subject of "True Devotion" at the Memorial services at the Methodist church at eleven o'clock on Monday. Taking his text from the incident of the three young men risking their lives to get a drink of water for King David, he enlarged upon the theme applying it to various relations of life. Following the address the Legion Auxiliary placed wreaths upon the graves of World War veterans and flowers upon the graves of the old soldiers.

She is resting well after regaining consciousness today at noon.—Carlsbad Current-Argus.

CROPS AND RANGES ARE HOLDING UP VERY WELL DESPITE DRY WEATHER

Cotton Not Showing Usual Growth—Artesian Wells Continue to Supply Normal Amount of Water—Ranges Are Dry.

Crop conditions over the valley are fair to middling and practically all crops are standing up well under the weather conditions. Cotton is not showing the growth usual to this season of the year, although good stands have been obtained on most farms. Experienced cotton growers have expressed little uneasiness as to the condition of the plant. Dry winds, it is believed will enable the young stalks to take deep root, which will be a great aid in withstanding a period of dry weather.

The water supply in the artesian wells is holding up well and has not been perceptibly lowered in the principal areas. The water supply in the Pecos river, which furnishes irrigation for the Carlsbad project is getting rather low and will not last much longer, unless rain falls. The waters of the Pecos in the Hope community has shown an appreciable increase for the current year over the past five or six seasons and is still fairly plentiful.

The first cutting of alfalfa hay has been practically finished. The crop was rather light in the majority of sections. The cutting did not measure up to standard in the matter of production of choice hay. The ranges are very dry, but no stockmen have suffered seriously yet. Some cattle will be moved into the salt grass region. Ranchers dependent on wells for water supply are expected to weather the dry spell in a fairly good shape. Rain within ten days or two weeks will put the cattle industry back to normal conditions.

GASSER IGNITES NEAR SANFORD, TEXAS

A huge gas well in the town of Sanford, Texas exploded Friday, killing four workmen and injuring eight more. The cause of the explosion is not known, workers were withdrawing casing from the well and it was thought that the scraping of the metal against the sides of the hole caused the blaze. The well continued to shoot flames high in the air, before the fire was finally extinguished, Saturday by Tex Thornton with a charge of nitro. The fire endangered the entire town, several of the frame buildings closest to the well were moved back to a zone of safety.

Thornton, the well shooter, is the hero of Sanford. He donned a fire proof suit and pushed close to the burning well, first to determine whether any bodies were near the hole. Two charges of nitro glycerin were necessary before the flames could finally be conquered.

Tex Thornton, shooter of the Panhandle district is often called into service for this kind of work. He is well known to many of the early operators of the Artesia field, and was called to shoot a number of wells here when the first operations were underway.

Cotton Mart On Upward Trend Due to Dry Weather

Cotton Contracts Are Being Made For Around 17 Cts May Proves Unfavorable For Growing—June May Show Reaction.

Due to the continued dry weather over the southwest, the cotton market has made continued gains over a period of the past few weeks. Unfavorable weather conditions during the month of May together with the Mississippi floods has caused the market to take a decided bullish turn, despite the fact that declines have been made at intervals. Many look for a reaction in the market should growing conditions show up favorable for the month of June. Rain fall over portions of West Texas, last night may cause a slight decline.

A number of farmers are contracting a few bales of cotton at this time, at an average price of 17 cents or better, although twenty cent cotton before the close of the fall is not improbable.

The following report which carries an optimistic note was sent out from the New York market, Tuesday:

The cotton market was active and firm today, prices making new high ground for the movement on complaints of continued dry, hot weather in western Texas, and the strong showing of the Liverpool and New Orleans markets over the local holidays. October contracts sold up to 17.25c, a net advance of 40 points, and closed at 17.25c, the general market closing steady at net advances of 35 to 38 points.

The opening was firm, at an advance of 13 to 1-8 points, in response to the over-holiday strength abroad and reports there had been no relief from droughty conditions in West Texas. The initial advance met considerable realizing and after showing net gains of about 17 to 22 points the market reacted several points under the selling, combined with local selling for a reaction. The latter was probably encouraged by rumors of rains in Texas and the forecast for showers in southeastern portions of West Texas. Offerings were very well absorbed on moderate set-backs, however, and the market firmed up again after publication of the detailed weather reports for the day. The latter showed showers at only two or three points in Texas, with very high temperatures at many stations over the three-day adjournment, while there were further rains where supposedly not wanted in Oklahoma.

This started covering or rebuying by early sellers, with comparatively few offerings and the market reached the highest levels of the day in late trading. July sold up to 16.48c December to 17.46 and January to 17.52, net advances of 36 to 40 points. The close was only a few points off from the best under profit (Continued on last page, column 5)

ARTESIA FISHERS GO TO BLACK RIVER WHEN SEASON OPENS MON.

Artesia approached the deserted village class Monday when practically all of the business houses closed in observance of Memorial Day and the motorists took to the highways. Black river appeared to be the center of attraction, this being the date of the opening of the fishing season on that stream. All the fish in the river were well fed and a few were caught. Among the number to try their luck at this time were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kimbrough and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Richards, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Blocker, Mr. Stevenson, J. C. Floore, Mr. Davis, John Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mount, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Vandagriff, Messrs. Hugh Kidney, Marvin McCree and Misses Hazel Bynum and Lois Hnulik, Oscar Gilbert, Myron Bruning, Johnnie Michael, Mr. Everett, J. C. Floore Jr., Max Coll, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cox, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nellis and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. Phillips and possibly others, whose names we did not learn.

THE DELINQUENT TAX LAW

So far we have not been able to see the justice of the provisions of the new delinquent law, wherein the county must pay the state a ten per cent penalty on taxes unpaid after May 31st. The new law offers the individual tax payer little inducement, except when viewed from the standpoint of the entire county and this many tax payers may decline to do. In our case, unless the taxes have come in more rapidly in the last few days than was generally anticipated, the law will cost Eddy county some $10,000, which means an increased burden for the taxpayer, since the general levy will have to be raised.

Unless the provisions of the law operate in a different manner than we think, it will be a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul, the state will grow richer at the county's expense. If a ten per cent penalty is necessary to collect back taxes, why not give it to the county.

PROSPERITY

The increasing standards of living, the automobile and other commodities now regarded among the necessities of life, makes us pause to wonder at times, whether or not we are as prosperous as we think. One fellow wonders how his neighbor is getting by, but somehow the neighbor manages to do it and things roll merrily along as usual.

Back in 1909 when the auto was first coming into popularity, the county's more conservative financiers frowned on the autoist idea, which was apparently spreading over the entire nation. They figured that the whole county would go to the dogs financially, if the ordinary fellow tried to buy and maintain an auto, yet the auto has been sold in increasing numbers, but the bank deposits continue to show a healthy growth.

Likewise installment buying has become popular and apparently we have not reached the limit. That too has baffled the statisticians and financiers, as to how it is done without bringing financial disaster to the people in general, yet it is done. They have bought many articles and have had their use while paying for them.

Nobody appears to be able to give a satisfactory answer to the problem which modern business presents. It is generally agreed, however that optimistic spirit of the American people has been an important factor in maintaining a stable condition.

LET'S GROW TREES

Of all the natural resources of the United States, the most vital, according to Mr. Hoover, is land—soil, the stuff from which the future must eat. The loss of land by needless soil erosion is the greatest extravagance of the age. Man plows a hillside, grows crops of corn, cotton or tobacco, and after a very few crops the field is ruined. In this way the American nation has already ruined the possible home sites of millions of men.

The American Magazine, in its June issue, hazards the prediction that the whole science of agriculture will shortly change from the growing of short-lived crops to the growing of trees which will provide long-lived crops. Dr. J. Russell Smith of Columbia University, the greatest living authority on economic geography explains the idea in a revolutionary interview.

"It is merely an accident of history," he says, "that agriculture started with annual plants—grasses, wheat, rice and corn—instead of with trees—date, olive, acorn and others. People can live just as well on acorns and walnuts and similar foods, as on the seeds of wild grass-

STOCKINGS

The comforts of former grandmother days included knitting and darning stockings. But grandmothers are too young to be tied down nowadays, and woman has let up on wielding darning needles. It now takes huge factories to supply enough socks and hose for nearly a quarter billion American legs—particularly in view of the fact that even grandmother's skirts are shorter and her hose longer than they used to be while stenographers and girls wearing long beautiful rayon hose that goes up over the knees with enough material left over to "roll" successfully.

Stockings were first worn by the northern tribes of Europe because of the cold climate. Ancient people who dwelled in the southland had little use for special leg coverings because the warm temperature and their loose, flowing robes gave them all the protection they needed.

Before the days of stockings the soldiers and slaves of the old world who lived in bleak northern climates, used to protect their legs with crude coverings made of cloth and leather.

The art of knitting is believed to have originated in Scotland. William Lee presented Queen Elizabeth her first pair of knitted stockings in 1589.

Men's hose and trousers were originally one-piece combination affairs extending from foot to waist. Loose breeches with separate stockings did not appear until the eighteenth century.

Rayon mixed with silk produces a stocking of excellent wearing qualities; rayon combined with wool mixed has unusual attractiveness; rayon added to cotton hose gives the latter a touch of distinction that has a striking appeal.

It was estimated that during 1925 more than 15,000,000 pairs of rayon or rayon-mixed hose were made.

"Clock" in men's and women's hosiery has been a distinct success in style. Machine clocking was developed after years of experiment and has brought this mark of quality within reach of every pocket-book. In former years it was accomplished only by hand needle work.

We need now a whole series of new crop trees, making food for men and his domestic animals, and at the same time holding and conserving the precious soils with their roots.

The United States is rich in native trees of great promise waiting to be improved. The acorn can be made to rival corn as pig feed and cow feed. The honey-locust bean may rival wheat. The persimmon and avocado are among the most nutritious fruits known.

A million dollars invested during the next twenty years in constructive research and experiments on tree-crop agriculture would probably revolutionize the science of farming. There is a remarkable opportunity for some person to create a world-famous institution and render inestimable service to mankind.

NUT TREES YIELD CROP AND TIMBER

Nut culture, one of the most recent additions to commercial horticulture, not only makes an important financial contribution, but embraces a territory possessing soil and climatic conditions in general beyond the range of successful fruit and vegetable culture, says Professor Rigney of the New Mexico A. & M. College.

Consumption of nuts on this continent long antedated that of a majority of such fruits as are now of leading importance in the United States. They were among the staple foods of the Indians whereas, with minor exceptions, all orchard fruits have been introduced from foreign countries.

Concerning the territory occupied by the three chief varieties of nut trees, the pecan, the walnut and the almond, the pecan is confined mainly to an area forming an enormous gap north of the citrus area and either below the altitude or south of latitudes to which deciduous fruits are best suited. The Persian walnut intermingles considerably with the citrus orchards in southern California and with those of other fruits farther north, particularly in the Pacific Northwest, where its range overlaps that of both deciduous and small fruits. The almond adapts itself to soils rather too dry for most fruits, altho it requires a proper amount of moisture.

Wherever pecans or walnuts are adapted to the same conditions as are orchard fruits, it is often practicable to use fruit trees as fillers in the nut grove. The fruit trees being shorter lived and maturing earlier, will be bearing and bringing in returns while the nut trees are attaining maturity which usually requires from eight to ten years.

Pecans thrive best at altitudes lower than those required by most deciduous fruits. Persian walnuts and almonds enjoy a considerable range of altitude fully equal to deciduous fruits in this respect. Both pecans and walnuts require richer soils, more moisture, greater space for development and, as a rule, more time to reach bearing age than do deciduous fruits. Nut trees may be used for shade or ornamentation and may be planted to produce both nuts and timber.

Approximately $50,000,000 of nuts were consumed in this country during 1919, the last year for which census data are available. About $20,000,000 of this amount were shelled and unshelled nuts imported into this country. The species of major importance, so far as monetary value of domestic crops is concerned, were as follows: Persian walnuts, first; pecan, second; almond, third.

New Mexico has many acres so situated that walnut growing offers great possibilities and the development of the industry would hinder very little, if any, the present employment of the land. There are a few places where the English walnut could not fruit well, but where the black walnut could be grown to advantage as a timber crop, and walnut timber is getting more valuable every year and harder to obtain.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By E. R. Waite

J. Hobman, editor of the London (England) Westminster Gazette, says:

THAT it is a mistake for readers of newspapers to think that advertisements only represent so much revenue for the proprietors. Of course they do that as a very important primary function. But in so doing they put a journal beyond the need of hidden subsidies from political parties or business interests and in that way make for the cleanness of journalism.

It is open for readers to see for themselves where the bulk of the revenue is derived from which enables newspaper proprietors to give them more value in newsprint and articles than is represented by the coin paid for the paper.

The function of bringing seller and buyer together is a valuable social amenity and extends the size of the world. As an editorial writer I marvel at the literary and artistic presentation of advertising matter in these days. This matter adds considerably to the attractiveness of every well displayed journal.

It is to be hoped that the watchword "Truth in Advertising" will be maintained for the credit of trade and of Journalism. Truth is both the right and the best policy.

How to Play BRIDGE

A new series of lessons by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright 1926, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 32

The object of all sound bidding should be to obtain the best bid for the combined hands, that is, the best bid for twenty-six cards rather than for thirteen. That principle seems plain and easy to understand and yet how difficult for the average player to apply. He seems to think of his own hand only and of what he would like to bid with his thirteen cards. Some players not only disregard their partner's bids but at times really seem to resent them as an attempt to play the hand. If any readers of this article have taken such a position in the past, they should strive to overcome it. Each bid by you or your partner should be made with the object of giving information to one another so that the final bid, whatever it may be, will be the best bid for the combined hands. Only cooperation of combined hands will produce the best results. Apply this principle to the following hands and compare results with the analysis that will be given in the next article.

Score, A-B, 0; Y-Z, 10, rubber game. Z dealt, bid one no-trump, A bid two hearts and Y and B passed. If Z bid two no-trump, what should A bid with the foregoing hand?

Problem No. 43

Spades—K, 10

: Z :

Score, Y-Z a game in and no score on the second game. If Z bid one no-trump and A doubled, what should Y bid with the foregoing hand?

Problem No. 41
Hearts—Q, J, 10, 6
Clubs—Q, 10, 9, 8
Diamonds—5
Spades—K, 10, 7, 4

Score, rubber game, A-B, 10; Y-Z, 0. If Z dealt, bid one no-trump and A bid three diamonds, what should Y bid with the foregoing hand?

Problem No. 38
Hearts—A, Q, J, 7, 4
Clubs—A, 7, 5
Diamonds—A, 10, 8, 7, 6
Spades—none

No score, first game. If Z dealt, bid one no-trump, A bid two spades and Y passed, what should B bid with the foregoing hand?

Problem No. 39
Hearts—K, 9, 7, 6, 4, 3
Clubs—K, 10, 8, 6, 2

Answer to Problem No. 37

Hearts—9
Clubs—A, 8
Diamonds—A, 10
Spades—Q, 10

Hearts—7
Clubs—Q, J, 10, 9, 3
Diamonds—9

Hearts—A, K, J, 6, 4
Clubs—5
Diamonds—K
Spades—none

Diamonds are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y-Z so play the hand that they can win all of the tricks against any defense? Z should lead the king of diamonds and overtake in Y's hand with the ace. A should discard the five of hearts and B follow suit. Y should now lead the ten of diamonds. B should discard a club, Z a heart and A a club. Y should now lead the ace of clubs. B and Z follow suit and A is forced to discard either a spade or a heart. If the former, Y's spades are good. If the latter Z's hearts are good.

In either event Y-Z must win all of the tricks. This problem is a fine illustration of the "squeeze" play; that is, the play that forces an opponent to discard to his disadvantage. In this example, it is the "backward squeeze," so-called because the hand "squeezed," or forced to discard, plays after or back of the hand forcing the discards. In the usual "squeeze" play the discard is forced before the opponents' hand or hands play. Opportunities for this type of play come up very frequently so be on the lookout for them.

TON FARMERS TO PLANT 16,000 ACRES IN COTTON

It is now believed that the cotton farmers will plant about 16,000 acres to cotton this year, and the extension service bureau will publish its crop report ready for publication. A number of farmers are devoting small acreages to beet, as an experiment. The fact that it is just thirty years since an attempt was made to grow sugar beet industry a paying one in the lower Pecos valley, but with brilliant success, because of the small acreage under cultivation, and the fact that the factory built here was of 200 tons capacity, while experts claim that a factory of less than a thousand tons capacity is not a paying proposition. While there was only 7,000 acres under cultivation thirty years ago from Carlsbad to Barstow, Texas, there are now over a hundred thousand acres available for sugar beet planting.—Carlsbad Current-Argus.

GAME WARDEN SEES PROMISING FISHING SEASON JUST AHEAD

Promise of a better fishing season than ever before in the history of the state was made here Saturday by State Game and Fish Warden Edgar L. Perry in speaking of the opening of the season Monday.

A great number of fishermen, a greater number of fish and above all ideal weather and water conditions formed the foundation for the chief's prediction.

"License sales to date have been much heavier than in former years," Perry said. "So we expect a much greater number of fishermen to pack up and hit the trail Monday for the lakes and streams. During the past year we have planted more than 2,000,000 fingerling trout which ought to be in good form for catching by this time.

"Flood waters have gone on down and the rivers are not so high as they have been in the past. They're clear, too.

"In the past," he said, "the 'fry' size was planted but experiment has proved that they are too small to take care of themselves in the open water and approximately 85 percent of them die. The fingerling size are much more hardy and only about 15 percent is lost after planting."

In connection with this, Perry stated that within the week he had visited the Santa Fe dam in company with Mayor Ed Safford and other officials and that many of the 15,000 fingerlings which were planted there within the past two months could be seen swimming in the shallows. "They seemed to have grown an inch or two just since we planted them," he said.

The game warden called attention to the reduction in the non-resident fishing license fee made by the last legislature and stated that this was done with the intention of causing the tourist to fish here rather than continue on to Colorado, Wyoming or Arizona where the licenses were previously cheaper.

"They will stop to fish and spend still more, far more at hotels and dining stations than they spend for sport. If they are satisfied, they stay longer and come back the next year."

FOREST FIRES NEAR LAS VEGAS

Within forty miles of Las Vegas, N. M. four forest fires are raging under a high wind, two have been brought under control and another is practically extinguished.

TAX REDUCTION AND FLOOD RELIEF TO BE FIRST IN NEXT SESSION CONGRESS

WASHINGTON.—Tax reduction and flood relief and control legislation will be given the right of way at the next session of congress, Speaker Longworth declared after a conference with President Coolidge.

Pending further studies by house committees, the speaker would make no definite prediction on the extent either of tax reduction or of flood relief legislation.

Lighthouse Illumination

Most of the American lighthouses guarding ships against coastal rocks have now run the complete gamut of lighting in the last 200 years. They began with fish oil and then proceeded through sperm oil, rapeseed or colza oil, lard oil, vaporized kerosene with incandescent mantles and finally electricity upon which main dependence is put nowadays.

Why Plants Seek Light

Why plants in window boxes turn toward the light is due to the irregular development of the growing tissues of the plants in the absence of uniform lighting. The plants should be turned often to keep them straight.

How Apples "Breathe"

Growing apples "breathe," taking in oxygen and breathing out carbon dioxide. The rate of this breathing is to be measured at Cambridge this year.

SWIMMING PARTY

The bride came on to visit her parents for a short time and Mr. Shinaut was to come over and return home with her. But a change in arrangements for Mr. Shinaut's father, who has been very ill, prevented the son from coming. The young couple met while Mrs. Shinaut was teaching at Tornillo, Texas, near El Paso. Many friends join in congratulations and best wishes for a happy future.

Slaves Were Shaved

A clean-shaven face in the East was originally a sign of servitude. Old pictures show kings and conquerors heavily bearded and with long hair, while their slaves and captives are clean-shaven and close-cropped. The Greeks and the Romans later discarded "face fungus," as it gave their enemies a hand-hold in the close fighting, which was, of course, the rule in those days.

Butt of the Joke

One of the agriculture study classes in the Sclpio schools had been studying sheep, and one of the test questions required that four breeds or kinds of sheep be named. One boy could recall three kinds, but not the fourth. Finally, in desperation, he added, "hydraulic ram."

NEWSPAPERS ADS ARE ENDORSED BY THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

SAN FRANCISCO.—Increasing use of paid advertising in newspapers on the part of Presbyterian churches throughout the country was reported this morning to the Presbyterian general assembly by Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge, stated clerk, presenting the annual report of the publicity department.

"Ministers who wisely use display ads in home papers," said the report, "find that advertising is an investment that yields sure results. By prudent advertising, religion extends its field and multiplies its usefulness to the community, its helpfulness to mankind. Printer's ink is a great auxiliary to the pulpit, a powerful medium for the Gospel. Advertising has persuaded millions into smoking, motoring, golfing, stock market and motion picture habits. Wise in its generation will be the united church which through advertising fully persuades the people to devote more thought, time, talent, to the Christian religion."

EL PASO'S MEANEST THIEF

EL PASO.—Police are looking for the "meanest thief." He broke into the El Paso Children's home Saturday morning and stole the new dresses and suits of clothes which had been provided for fifteen small orphan girls and boys in readiness for a summer outing in a camp nearby. He took clothing and money belonging to the matron, Mrs. Kathleen Drury. Then he stole a saving bank containing 29 cents belonging to Edith Mantell, six-year-old orphan girl.

Open Star Sandwiches

Cut bread with star shaped cutter and spread thickly with softened cream cheese and garnish with quartered steamed prunes, radiating from a dot of jelly placed in the center. These open sandwiches are tasty and attractive served with afternoon tea.

Toasted Rolled Sandwiches

Cut bread in thin slices and spread with pimento cheese. Roll and hold in place with toothpick. Place in oven and toast lightly. When ready to serve remove toothpick, as the sandwiches will remain rolled after toasting.

Graham Watercrust Sandwich

Butter thin slices of graham or whole-wheat bread, first preparing the butter by creaming it until very soft, then adding a half teaspoonful of lemon juice and a table-spoonful of finely chopped water-cress to each cupful of butter. Put the slices together in sandwich form, then cut with a small fancy cutter.

Savory Sandwich

Put one-half pound of boiled ham, two peppers and three hard boiled eggs through the food chopper, moisten with mayonnaise until thin enough to spread. This filling is delicious on either white or graham bread.

Piccadilly Sandwiches

Slice white bread in quarter-inch slices and spread with softened butter. Chop very fine enough cold chicken to make one cupful and add to it one cupful of finely chopped cold boiled ham, six olives chopped, three table-spoonfuls of stiff mayonnaise, and a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Mix lightly, spread between the bread slices, trim and serve garnished with watercress or tiny sweet gherkins.

Tuna Salad Sandwiches

Use one cupful of tuna with one-half cupful of diced celery, and moisten with one-quarter cupful of mayonnaise. Place lettuce leaf on buttered slices of bread and spread with tuna and celery mixture.

Brown Bread Walnut Sandwiches
Use Boston brown bread cut as thin as possible and buttered thickly. Sprinkle with English walnuts chopped not too fine and a very little salt. Put together in pairs, roll lightly, and cut in triangles or in half circles if the bread has been made in a round mold.

Bacon and Prune Canapes

Cut rounds of bread, spread with butter. Steam prunes, stone them and wrap each prune with a very thin slice of bacon. Place on bread and set in hot oven until bread browns and bacon crisps.

Peek-a-Boo Sandwiches

Cut white bread in fancy shapes and with a thimble cut holes in the top layer. Spread the bottom layer of bread with butter and jam or jelly. Place cellophane layer on top allowing the jelly to show through.

NOTED EDUCATOR HERE IS INTERESTED IN N. M.

C. B. Milville, registrar of Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts, and family, have spent several days here and will visit El Paso, Santa Fe and Taos and return to Carlsbad for an extended visit and study of the basket makers and other archaeological ruins in the Guadalupe mountains.

Mr. Milville is acquainted with Dr. Rufus C. Bumpus, of the American Association of Museums, and indicated that the latter is an alumnus of Clark University.

"When we planned our trip from Massachusetts, we anticipated that our visit through New Mexico would be the least interesting on our journey; but to the contrary we now have been in your state several weeks and find it so extremely interesting historically and otherwise that we find ourselves in difficulty when we think of leaving." Such was the expression of Dr. Milville when interviewed here Friday and he added that the citizens of New England were thoroughly uninformed of the attractiveness of the great southwest. At his request the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce has forwarded a large quantity of literature devoted to the great Sunshine State for use by the Journal of Economic Geology at Clark University, at Worcester, Massachusetts.—Carlsbad Current-Argus.

SON OF PAT GARRETT DIES IN OLD MEXICO

Pat Garrett, whose death in Leticia City was announced the latter part of last week, was the son of the late Sheriff Pat Garrett, who killed "Billy the Kid," famous south western outlaw, in 1881.

Mr. Garrett had been in the Leticia, Mexico district for a number of years employed in the legal department of one of the larger oil companies. He had been ill for two years and when it was found necessary to operate last week, the company for which Mr. Garrett worked ordered him sent to Mexico City where he could obtain better medical attention. He died before being operated on. Two brothers were with him at the time of his death.

The body will be forwarded to Las Cruces, where it will be buried beside the grave of the former sheriff, Mr. Garrett's father.

JUNE 7TH IS THE LAST DAY VETS CAN FILE COMPENSATION CLAIMS

The attention of every disabled world war veteran is directed to an announcement made Saturday morning by General F. T. Hines, director of the Veterans Bureau emphasizing the fact that June 7th, 1927, is the last date on which evidence showing service connection of disease or injury may be filed with the Veterans Bureau if the veteran wishes to claim compensation for disease or injury under the provisions of the section 206 of the World War Veterans' Act. This Act was passed June 7th, 1924, and while the veterans have had three years in which to take this important action, many of them have not yet done so and it is not anticipated that there will ever be any further extension of this period.

Under section 206 of the World War Veterans' Act, as amended, unless the disease or injury with which the veteran is suffering can be connected with the service under the presumption provisions of section 200 of the Act, or there is an official record of the injury or disease during service or at the time of separation from active service, it is incumbent upon the veteran to submit evidence showing service connection of the disease or injury with which he is suffering on, or before, June 7, 1927.

The Veterans Bureau through all of its field stations, the Red Cross and the various veterans' organizations have made every effort to see that every veteran has been advised of his privileges and rights under the legislation governing the operations of the bureau and the veterans bureau has no discretion in a question of this sort if the veteran fails to comply with the requirements of the law in filing his claim. The New Mexico regional office is located at 219 Korber building, Albuquerque, and shall be glad to furnish any information relative to compensation claims.

PROFITABLE AGE TO BREED GILTS

The majority of gilts used for breeding purposes are bred in the late fall of the same year they were born, farrowing the following spring at approximately one year of age. What influence does this early conception, pregnancy, and motherhood have on the ultimate development of the animal thus handled? Does the bearing of young at this early age effect the later development of the sow or does it affect the size and vigor of the first litter born?

The general consensus of opinion and observation among swine producers would say that breeding gilts no older than six months of age is too young. Mumford of the Missouri station conducted an experiment to determine the influence of early breeding on gilts and their offspring. This work covered a period of more than 12 years during which time one group of gilts and their offspring were bred as soon as they came in heat; other sows and their offspring were bred for the first time at about eighteen months of age while still others were bred for the first time at thirty months of age. All pigs and sows throughout the experiment were liberally fed on well-balanced rations.

It was found that immature gilts bred at five months of age and twice a year thereafter developed into smaller animals at maturity than if they had not been bred until later. This decreased size is the result of the heavy drain on the sow during the lactation period rather than due to pregnancy.

Mumford says, "The diminished size of mature sows bred at such an early age has no very important practical significance in the production of swine for market, since the difference in size at maturity between animals bred at a very young age and those bred at a later age, is not significant."

Concerning the effect of early breeding on the pigs of young mothers, Mumford concludes that the main difference that might occur would come because of the failure of young mothers to supply a sufficient amount of milk for the most rapid growth of the pigs. This effect is not commercially very significant. The pigs from very young sows will require about ten days longer to reach 250 lbs. weight than will pigs from more mature mothers.

The foregoing discussion has to do with sows and pigs that were well fed. The results would not be the same where gilts are bred at a very early age and this followed by scant feeding.

Big Cause for Clover Failure

Creage Declining Because of Spread of Anthracnose in South.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

For some years the acreage in red clover has been declining quite as much in the southern and southeastern parts of the clover belt as elsewhere. The area in question includes Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. The anthracnose disease, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, is the chief cause for red clover failure in these states. This disease is described in Farmer's Bulletin 1510, issued by the department. The bulletin also reports on some experiments with red clover seed from different sources when sown in infected territory and calls specific attention to the only remedy—the use of seed produced by plants resistant to anthracnose disease.

Attack of Anthracnose.

Anthracnose may attack the clover plants either in the seedling stage when they are fully matured. It injures the crown of the plant which, between July and early September, causes heaviest losses in seedlings and which may practically destroy a stand of clover. Many of the cases of so-called winter injury to clover are due to a severe thinning of the stand during the summer or to the death of plants during the winter as a result of the earlier injuries caused by the disease.

Best means of combating clover anthracnose is by the development and use of strains of clover resistant to attacks; a method advocated years ago by the Tennessee agricultural experiment station. At present there is only one distinct strain known to be highly resistant, says the department, though there appears no reason why other highly resistant strains could not be developed locally throughout the infected area. The resistant strain known was developed several years ago by the Tennessee station. Under climatic conditions of Tennessee and neighboring states it is capable of maintaining a very clover stand in spite of attacks of anthracnose. It does not, however, live up to such advantage when grown in northern states. The behavior of this strain demonstrates the damage to be gained by developing and using clover which has become acclimated and suited to the local conditions under which it is to be grown. The seed supply of this Tennessee strain is very limited at present, however.

Develop Resistant Strains.

Highly resistant strains can be developed by farmers themselves if they will take the trouble to save seed from plants that survive and mature in a leased field. The very fact that the plants are able to live and mature in spite of the presence of anthracnose indicates their resistance to its attacks. Organized efforts should be made by local state authorities to stimulate production of resistant seed and a demand for such seed. As long as seed of unknown origin is used the department advises planting in late summer or early fall wherever experience has not shown to be impracticable. Seeding at this time will give the clover plants a chance to escape the early attacks of the disease and produce a hay crop even though there may be no second growth.

Copies of this bulletin may be obtained as long as the supply lasts by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Everything to Be Said for Pushing Pig Along

There is everything to be said for pushing a pig to quick maturity. A pig that is reached early in its existence needs more meal is required to produce a pound of flesh. The pig, like all other growing or producing animals, requires a maintenance ration that cannot be used for growth or production, and the longer it lives the more it absorbs in maintenance—and attendant expense. If it is allowed to grow in a so-called store condition it will have needed the most salable size by the time it is fit for slaughter; and lastly the benefit of rapid turnover is sacrificed.

Farm Hints

It pays to keep cherry trees from growing too high; height makes it difficult to harvest the fruit.

When corn is 75 cents per bushel farmers can afford to pay as high as $2 to $30 a ton for shorts to feed to hogs.

... shows that will produce litters next spring should have plenty of exercise. They should be in good flesh but not fat at farrowing time.

... alfalfa or clover hay in an open basket where hens can get the tops. They are a first-class substitute for green feeds during winter.

... old apple trees may be pruned earlier than young ones, for the stimulating effect of heavy pruning is not objectionable with them, but large scaffold limbs should be removed where necessary.

Diseases That Dye

Skins of Sufferers

Yellow fever and scarlet fever have gained their names because the skins of sufferers become yellow or red respectively. But there are many other complaints of which the outward symptom is a change in the color of the patient—jaundice, for instance, which turns not only the skin, but even the whites of the eyes, to a yellow hue, and leprosy, in which the sufferer becomes silvery in color.

In the East there have been several epidemics of a mysterious and deadly disease called kala azar, words which mean "black sickness." The natives have given it this name because a curious darkening of the skin follows an attack. When an epidemic is at its height the deaths reach 96 per cent of those attacked.

Big Help

"Boss," said the seedy-looking individual, "could you help a fellow—"
"I am broke and can't give you a nickel," lied the victim as he started to hurry on.

"I don't want money. I was just going to ask you to help a fellow figure out a couple of words in a crossword puzzle he's stumped by. But," he added, with withering sarcasm, "I made the mistake of stopping a guy whose head is as empty as he says his pockets are."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Usual Thing

Harry Thaw at a supper party in New York philosophized about a show girl whose extravagance had ruined a young man.

"Well, you see," said Mr. Thaw, "the young fellow had money to burn and of course—it always happens so—he met his match."

She—Not at all. But I'd be furious with myself if I agreed to.

One Drawback

She—Your idea of wanting to marry me.

Results

Bertie—Did you get anything with your father's radio?
Billie—Yes, I got a lickin' for foolin' with it.

A Confession by George Welton

Lee Bewley, one of the head clerks of the Welton Grocery, was strolling through a pasture near Artesia recently with his sweetie.

Lee was spreading on the mayonnaise about how much he loved her and how he would face death for her, when suddenly a vicious bull came charging toward them.

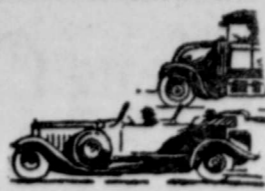

Not appreciating the male cow's attitude Lee took to the timber.

Upon reaching safety the sweetie said: "Why Lee I thought you said you would face death for me."

"I admit I said that," replied Lee, "But that bull wasn't dead."

WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MOTORCADE TO HEAD THIS WAY

ABILENE, Tex.—An extended caravan of motor cars filled with summer vacationists, cars that wend their way through picturesque resort sections of the Davis mountains, and that thread through eastern New Mexico's scenic wonderland, is the vision of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce toward which all staff members are now directing their attention.

The proposed motorcade will take place during the first ten days of July, assembling at some convenient point from which it will travel via Fort Stockton to Alpine for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Big Bend District Convention there on July 4. Thence by easy stages, the caravan will proceed to Marfa and Fort Davis. Passing down Limpia canyon, via Balmorhea, party will motor into El Paso, where a day and two nights will be spent. Thence, by Alamogordo, the motorcade will travel to Clouderoft for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce New Mexico District Convention. From Clouderoft, the caravan will drive to the Mesalero Indian Reservation, through Lincoln National Forest, down the valley of the Ruidoso River, in the White mountains, to Roswell. From Roswell, the motorcade will go to Carlsbad where the famed Carlsbad Caverns will be visited. Social affairs and entertainments will be planned for the motorcade party in various towns on the route. The travelers will be honor guests at these events, and arrangements will be made for them in advance.

The trip will be under personal supervision of the president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and of two past presidents and their wives. Special plans will be made for unaccompanied ladies and girls. Expenses will be held to a minimum as the trip will be as economical as possible. Individuals and towns interested in the proposed motorcade have been requested to notify the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Stamford headquarters of their desires in the matter.

ROMERO AGAIN FOUND GUILTY

LAS VEGAS.—J. Lino Romero, former county clerk of San Miguel county, was found guilty of embezzlement of funds of his office, by a jury in district court here, Saturday night.

The verdict followed a hearing of the case before a jury after District Attorney Chester A. Hunker had refused the proposal of the defense counsel for a statement of facts before the court without the calling of witnesses.

It was the second embezzlement charge to be heard against Romero. He was previously convicted on another charge of embezzlement and sentenced to the state penitentiary. He was pardoned by Governor Dillon before serving a day of his sentence.

LEAFLETS ON KINDERGARTEN

This year our state took a forward step by enacting a progressive law providing that kindergartens shall be established when the parents of thirty-five children between the ages of four and six petition them.

The best is none too good for the children of New Mexico and since educational experts agree that the kindergarten pays for itself by preventing retardation and making better citizens, it behooves us to obtain this advantage for our children.

Miss Birdie F. Adams of Silver City, will gladly furnish leaflets on the subject and blank petitions upon request.

WELCOME CHANGES FOR THE BREAKFAST MENU

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of cooking articles by six of the country's best-known cooks.)

Bacon, eggs, toast, cereal. Mighty good for breakfast, but don't we sometimes get tired of them?

MARGARET ALLEN HALL
Hot breads are always welcome, and they don't take very long to prepare. And waffles make a big hit, although they require a little more work on the part of the cook. However, it's worth it, when we see the look of pure joy on the faces of the youngsters while they eat.

Berry Muffins

Blueberries, huckleberries, raspberries—any berries in season—are delicious in muffins. Miss Margaret Allen Hall, nutrition specialist at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics, gives her favorite muffin recipe.

- 1 cup fresh berries
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 teaspoons baking powder

Sift the dry ingredients together. Cream the butter and sugar. Add the milk and the dry ingredients alternately. At the last, fold in the berries.

Always flour berries before putting them into the batter. This keeps them from going to the bottom.

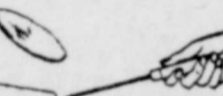

It's always best to have a hot oven for muffins and biscuits. If you cook with a modern long-chimney oil stove, turn the flame until yellow tips appear, about 1/2 inches high above the blue area. This flame pre-heats quickly.

Golden Corn Muffins

Corn muffins, crisp and golden crusted, are delicious. This is how Miss Hall makes them.

- 1/2 cup cornmeal
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 1 cup milk
- 1 egg
- 4 teaspoons baking powder

Sift the dry ingredients together. Beat the egg, add the milk and stir in the dry ingredients. Then add the melted butter. Turn into muffin tins and bake in a hot oven twenty-five to thirty minutes.

New Pancakes

Pancakes? Of course! Every family likes them, sour milk, and buckwheat. But have you ever tried rye pancakes? Delicious. The following recipe is contributed by Miss Lucy G. Allen, principal of the Boston School of Cookery.

Mix one cup each of rye meal and bread flour, one-fourth cup of sugar, two teaspoons of cream of tartar, one teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of salt, and one-half teaspoon of grated nutmeg.

Add one well-beaten egg and one cup of milk. Beat well and drop by spoonfuls into deep fat. Drain on soft paper and serve hot with maple or any good sweet syrup.

Rice Griddle Cakes

Rice griddle cakes have made a name for themselves down south. And there's no reason why folks everywhere should not like them. Miss Rosa Michaels, New Orleans cooking expert, gives her recipe for them.

- 1 cup boiled rice
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup flour
- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoons shortening
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder

Mix rice, milk, melted shortening, salt and well beaten egg. Sift the dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Mix thoroughly and bake on hot greased griddle.

Hot Waffles!

And where can you find a dish more enticing than waffles, served with rich maple syrup, corn syrup, or molasses? The following recipe is also Miss Michaels':

- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 3 eggs
- 1 1/2 teaspoons shortening
- 1 teaspoon salt

Sift dry ingredients; add milk to the yolks of eggs. Beat thoroughly and add to dry ingredients, now the melted shortening and mix in the beaten whites of the eggs. Bake well in hot waffle irons. Some of the modern devices require no grease in the baking. Serve at once.

Many women set the table the night before, and have all cooking utensils needed for breakfast laid out, to save time in the morning. This avoids much needless early morning confusion.

Oil stove users will be glad to know of a wick cleaner which fits over wicks, and removes all char and unevenness at a simple turning. Very inexpensive and saves hands.

Whiter Clothes

Did you know that clothes rinsed in hard water require very little bleaching, and are whiter than when rinsed in soft water?

(Watch for another interesting cooking column next week.)

RADIO WAVE LENGTHS TO BE ASSIGNED JUNE 15 INSTEAD OF JUNE 1

WASHINGTON.—An order postponing for fifteen days the new re-allocation of radio wave positions among broadcasting stations was issued Saturday by the Federal Radio commission.

The postponement, which is from June 1 to June 15, followed conferences Friday in which the commission heard the protests of broadcasting station in New York and other places against the lack of time allowed for putting in the new schedules as well as against the individual assignment of wave lengths.

Station WGES at Chicago, was authorized to explain Thursday, June 2, its objection to taking a 1240 kilocycle wave for transmission. The station asks permission to use 920 kilocycles, which has been assigned to two important stations in New York and to station KOA at Denver.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL NOTES

About seventy pupils have signified their intention of enrolling in the Daily Vacation Bible school which opens next Monday morning at 9 a. m. The kindergarten and primary grades will meet at the Methodist church while the junior grades will meet in the Presbyterian church. The curriculum material issued by the Standard Publishing Company of Cincinnati will be used. It is inter-denominational and written from the proper pedagogical approach. The summer school of religion is a tried and proved institution. It meets the needs of the child when he is most accessible and open to the teachings of the Bible. It meets the needs of the church for more time in which to carry out its program of religious education. It meets the needs of the community at large which reaps a great benefit when the children are gathered from off the streets where they are prone to mischief, and when they are happily and usefully employed in learning not only the Bible but the basic principles of good citizenship, and worth while handicrafts.

WELLS DISCUSSES THE SALT DEPOSITS OF EASTERN NEW MEXICO

At the annual meeting of the New Mexico branch of the American mining congress, held at the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, P. H. Argall of the Ozark Mining company of Magdalena acted as chairman; President E. H. Wells delivered the address of welcome and introduced the members; and J. M. Sully of the Nevada Consolidated Copper mines, outlined the functions and field of the American Mining Congress in regard to standardization and education.

Dean P. S. Donnell of the engineering department of the U. N. M. spoke on the Middle Rio Grande conservancy district. The immense amount of water that is lost annually by evaporation was discussed, along with flood protection, distribution and tilt control. Ninety per cent of this acreage has water within four feet of the surface. Most of the preliminary problems are about completed.

President Wells spoke on the "Geology of the recently discovered mineral resources of New Mexico. Most notable of these subjects were "the geology of the Pecos mines of American Metals Co., near Valley Ranch;" "The Molybdenum deposits near Questa," and "The salt deposits in eastern New Mexico."

These latter deposits are thick enough to be workable in the future. J. M. Sully gave an illustrated talk on the drainage problem at Santa Rita. The meeting closed after an open discussion on the work of the New Bureau of Mines, which is rapidly rounding into shape under the guidance of E. H. Wells.

ANOTHER BAD OIL FIRE

The Panhandle Oil field experienced another bad fire, Saturday when the McIlroy Oil Company's No. 2, located seven miles east of Borger, the largest gusher in that area, ignited. The well was under partial control before the day was over, after setting fire to one 55,000 barrel storage tank. Steam boilers were hauled from all sections of the field, which were used in snuffing out the smaller fires and cooled the ground for a charge of T. N. T. Tuesday night, which was exploded under the direction of Tex Thornton, expert shooter.

BULL CIRCLE ORGANIZED

Indicative of the greater interest which the farmers and dairymen of Roosevelt county are taking in better dairy cattle is shown in the plans which are now being carried forward with the assistance of County Agent Ralph R. Will and the Portales Chamber of Commerce, looking toward the organization of the first if which is hoped will be a large number of bull circles in this county.

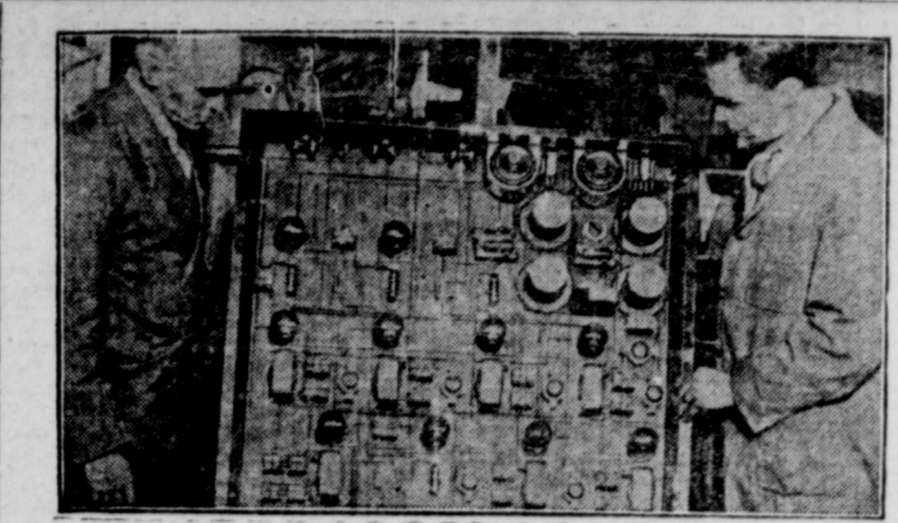

Bull circles, according to expressions gathered from a number of the leading farmers, stockmen and dairymen, would encourage the dairying industry, improve the quality and quantity of production very materially. Through the methods to be followed by the circle it would be possible to permit the placing of first class dairy bulls in the different communities of the county at a low cost to individual members of the circle. The tentative plans for organization of the circle call for organization of five blocks with a bull for each block. The blocks would change bulls every two years. It is expected that there will be at least sixty cows to each block with a total of 300 in the five blocks.

In the purchasing plans it is the aim that each of the blocks purchase a bull, thus securing a variety of breeds. One block would own a Jersey, another a Hereford, while the others would probably decide on different breeds, thereby giving the members of the circle the use of a number of types.

Mr. Will who has charge of the organization has expressed the opinion that the first organization will be completed within the next few weeks.—Portales News.

Region of Intense Heat

The climate of Death valley, Calif., is due in a measure to its configuration. It consists of a long, narrow parallel valley, considerably below sea level. The Promont mountains shut out from it the moist winds of the Pacific, so that in August there is less than one-half of 1 per cent of moisture in the atmosphere

MISS HELEN MANN TO RECEIVE DEGREE FROM SIMMONS UNIVERSITY

The following item with reference to the graduation of Miss Helen Mann of Artesia, has been received from the department of journalism, Simmons University, Abilene, Texas.

Miss Helen Mann of Artesia, New Mexico, received her B. M. Degree at the 35th Commencement of Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, on June 2, 1927. Judge W. H. Atwell of Dallas, Texas, was the commencement speaker.

Helen was one of the 115 seniors who received their degrees this year in the largest class in the history of Simmons. She was a popular young lady at Simmons, was one of the fifty cowgirls that formed the "Pep Squad" and Helen did her part in pepping things up. She was a member of the Mary E. Society, a member of the Choral Club in 1926 and University Quartet accompanist in 1926. Helen did her major work in piano, spending many hours on a piano stool. She stayed at the Fine Arts practice rooms so much that she became almost a part of the building. Helen did not do all of her only two and one half years. In that time she made many friends and showed talent and skill in her work. We predict for Helen a brilliant future as a pianist if she continues her work.

COMMISSION BLOCKS REVISION OF WESTERN RATES ON LIVESTOCK

WASHINGTON.—A revision of livestock rates between western producing points and the Chicago packing plants, which railroads proposed to make effective yesterday, has been blocked by an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission held the proposed revision would result in a substantial increase on most of the traffic affected and ordered the western railroads to maintain their present schedules until January 1, pending an investigation to determine the reasonability of the new rates.

Illustrating the effect of the schedules which it suspended the commission said that the livestock rates from St. Paul to Chicago on the present basis is 30 1-2 cents per 100 pounds, while the proposed rate would be 33 cents; from Sioux Falls to Chicago, a present rate of 38 1-2 cents per 100 would become 39 1-2; while from Omaha the present rate of 36 cents would become 38 1-2 cents.

The illustrations were said to represent the effect of the schedules from all contiguous territory to the points mentioned.

FIRST BALE OF COTTON SOLD AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON.—America's first bale of cotton of the 1927 growth netted its owners $1,350 when sold at auction on the floor of the Houston cotton exchange and board of trade Tuesday. The ownership of the bale passed to J. M. Edel, Houston cotton man.

The bale, which arrived Monday, was officially accepted Tuesday morning as the first bale of the season. Official acceptance was withheld Monday because no affidavits sustaining the claim that the cotton was of 1927 growth were forthcoming. The affidavits arrived Tuesday.

The bale weighed 540 pounds and was produced by M. Chapas Montalvo, a Mexican farmer of San Manuel community in Hidalgo county. Another bale, which was en route to Houston Monday from Starr county, was diverted to Galveston owing to the earlier arrival of the Montalvo bale.

Last year's first bale reached Houston on June 19.

The opinion was handed down at the request of J. F. Curns, special attorney for the state tax commission.

Powerful air control of this type prevents dust and other explosions in mines, besides protecting the health of workmen.

MISSISSIPPI FLOODS RECEDING--TOWNS ARE NOW OUT OF DANGER

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Relief in the form of lessening waters through the great crevasse at McCrea, Louisiana, was announced Monday for the flooded district of southern Louisiana.

The relief is coming through a natural phenomenon according to Dr. I. M. Cline, meteorologist for the local weather bureau.

"Just what has happened cannot be discovered just now," Dr. Cline said. "The crevasse is 2,500 feet wide but as the gap spreads the flow of water decreases. There is a terrific eddy at this point.

"That eddy furnished the devastating current which broke through the levee a week ago. It is possible that now this same eddy, digging at the bottom of the river, has thrown up a great sand bar where the levee once stood."

Dr. Cline said that whatever the cause the great mass of flood water was now pouring by the crevasse instead of pouring over the already inundated acres. He said the flow had diminished to such an extent that Morganza now is safe.

Gun Silencers Used on Railroad Engines

Oil-electric locomotives for railroad yard use in cities would wake up the neighborhood all night long were it not for gun silencers. These devices, invented for use on firearms for war service, so that gunners might fire silently, have found a new and growing use.

The silencers, unlike automobile exhaust mufflers, do not reduce noise by placing obstructions in the path of the discharged gases, but by passing the exhaust through the peculiarly constructed silencing chamber. Oil-electric engines, designed especially for railroad switching service, generate their power aboard without emitting the smoke and noise.

COMMISSION BLOCKS REVISION OF WESTERN RATES ON LIVESTOCK

WASHINGTON.—A revision of livestock rates between western producing points and the Chicago packing plants, which railroads proposed to make effective yesterday, has been blocked by an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission held the proposed revision would result in a substantial increase on most of the traffic affected and ordered the western railroads to maintain their present schedules until January 1, pending an investigation to determine the reasonability of the new rates.

Illustrating the effect of the schedules which it suspended the commission said that the livestock rates from St. Paul to Chicago on the present basis is 30 1-2 cents per 100 pounds, while the proposed rate would be 33 cents; from Sioux Falls to Chicago, a present rate of 38 1-2 cents per 100 would become 39 1-2; while from Omaha the present rate of 36 cents would become 38 1-2 cents.

The illustrations were said to represent the effect of the schedules from all contiguous territory to the points mentioned.

FIRST BALE OF COTTON SOLD AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON.—America's first bale of cotton of the 1927 growth netted its owners $1,350 when sold at auction on the floor of the Houston cotton exchange and board of trade Tuesday. The ownership of the bale passed to J. M. Edel, Houston cotton man.

The bale, which arrived Monday, was officially accepted Tuesday morning as the first bale of the season. Official acceptance was withheld Monday because no affidavits sustaining the claim that the cotton was of 1927 growth were forthcoming. The affidavits arrived Tuesday.

The bale weighed 540 pounds and was produced by M. Chapas Montalvo, a Mexican farmer of San Manuel community in Hidalgo county. Another bale, which was en route to Houston Monday from Starr county, was diverted to Galveston owing to the earlier arrival of the Montalvo bale.

Last year's first bale reached Houston on June 19.

Fan Protects Miners

The largest coal mine fan in the world with a capacity for pumping 22 tons of air per minute, or 1,500 tons per hour, has been built for use in South Africa. It has a blowing capacity of 700,000 cubic feet of air every minute and requires 650 horsepower of electricity. Powerful air control of this type prevents dust and other explosions in mines, besides protecting the health of workmen.

MISSISSIPPI FLOODS RECEDING--TOWNS ARE NOW OUT OF DANGER

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Relief in the form of lessening waters through the great crevasse at McCrea, Louisiana, was announced Monday for the flooded district of southern Louisiana.

The relief is coming through a natural phenomenon according to Dr. I. M. Cline, meteorologist for the local weather bureau.

"Just what has happened cannot be discovered just now," Dr. Cline said. "The crevasse is 2,500 feet wide but as the gap spreads the flow of water decreases. There is a terrific eddy at this point.

"That eddy furnished the devastating current which broke through the levee a week ago. It is possible that now this same eddy, digging at the bottom of the river, has thrown up a great sand bar where the levee once stood."

Dr. Cline said that whatever the cause the great mass of flood water was now pouring over the crevasse instead of pouring over the already inundated acres. He said the flow had diminished to such an extent that Morganza now is safe.

Gun Silencers Used

on Railroad Engines

Oil-electric locomotives for railroad yard use in cities would wake up the neighborhood all night long were it not for gun silencers. These devices, invented for use on firearms for war service, so that gunners might fire silently, have found a new and growing use.

The silencers, unlike automobile exhaust mufflers, do not reduce noise by placing obstructions in the path of the discharged gases, but by passing the exhaust through the peculiarly constructed silencing chamber. Oil-electric engines, designed especially for railroad switching service, generate their power aboard without emitting the smoke and noise.
