JAMES S. McCALL IS A CANDIDATE FOR THE CO. ASSESSOR'S OFFICE

We have received the following political announcement from James S. McCall of Carlsbad:

I take this opportunity of announcing my candidacy for the office of County Assessor of Eddy County, New Mexico, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

I have always been a democrat and adhered to the principles, rules and resolutions governing the party organization. Have never held nor been a candidate for a public office.

After graduating from the College of Law of the University of Arizona I returned to Carlsbad for the purpose of engaging in the practice of law and establishing a home and for the past three years my time and efforts have been devoted to these two lines.

It is my intention to see as many of the voters as possible before the primary is held but to see all of you in so short a period of time is practically impossible. To those of you whom I do not have the pleasure of meeting personally I respectfully request that you make inquiry of those who know me as to my general fitness and qualification.

Very respectfully, JAMES S. McCALL. BUSINESS COLLEGE SECRETARY HERE

P. M. Oxford of Roswell, secretary of the Roswell Business College, is spending a few days in Artesia in the interest of the college and will be glad to meet any prospective student, who may wish to take a business course.

NOW IS THE TIME

We can make a flying start this year on growing trees, flowers and lawns, if we begin now. Proper care after the trees or shrubs have been planted is the essential thing, as has been remarked before.

This community has not measured up to its opportunities in this particular phase of civic pride, still in the last four or five years Artesia has made wonderful strides in the matter of beautifying the town. There are lots of towns that would give most anything to be as far advanced in this respect as we are. Beautiful trees, attractive lawns and gardens are not grown in a few months. It takes time with trees especially. And attractive surroundings are oftentimes one of the deciding factors in locating a new comer in the community.

THE VALLEY FARM POPULATION

Herbert W. Yeo, state engineer believes that farm population and farm production of the upper valley can increase without increasing the acreage in the artesian basin. Mr. Yeo a recent visitor at Roswell, is quoted as saying that intensive cultivation is the key to continued prosperity of the Pecos valley.

Mr. Yeo believes: That the principal feature of a program to assure the future prosperity of the basin includes the proper drilling and casing of all new wells; the repair or plugging of wells not under control; the prevention of waste in irrigation; the limitation of the irrigated area, and the intensity of cultivation," he declared.

The use of shallow or sheet water and of drainage water is reducing the draught on the artesian basin, and the continued development of water from these sources will prove a boon to the artesian basin.

Notice where they are talking of organizing a jack-ass club in the middle west. This should be a popular organization.

DEMOCRACY, ITS STRENGTH AND WEAKNESS

We believe that the voter, who votes for an entirely new city administration, merely for the sake of having a change, without regard to the accomplishments or efficiency of the present administration will be making a serious mistake. Voting for a particular individual merely for the sake of having somebody new in either state, county or city affairs may be good politics, but poor business.

It is more or less of a sacrifice on the part of those who will serve us on the city council during the next few years to come. The pay, small as it is would not be an inducement for a business man to accept. Men who accept a place on the city ticket will be performing a duty to the community that must be filled by someone. In this event and due to the fact that the city operations must be based on its ability to finance any and all improvements, we should lay aside personalities and choose practical men, who will take an interest in the city affairs, just as they do their own business.

We are in favor of inaugurating improvements as rapidly as will be consistent with good business judgment and in keeping with the financial condition of the community. We know as every other mature individual must know, who has given our city or county administration any thought that improvements cost money. Paving, sewer systems, municipal auditoriums and such the like must be paid for. Don't overlook the fact that tax payers will foot the bill, eventually if not now. There is no individual or set of individuals who possess the magic wand to hand us these good things on the silver platter without any obligation on our part. It just simply isn't done in business and it isn't done in politics. We have heard candidates for state and county office grow over enthusiastic and make many high sounding promises without regard to how the bill will be paid. When they do of course they are inviting trouble both for themselves and their constituents.

We are not throwing anything at any particular individual who may wish to have his name placed on the city ballot, because we do not know yet who may run and who may not, nor are we trying to pour cold water on any proposed municipal project, because we have never heard any individual discuss an improvement that he may have in mind, so don't get your back up.

We merely want to call your attention to these facts before you go to the polls. The city finances are in good shape now and we for one, would like to see them stay that way; at the same time make improvements as the demand may justify.

BUNK

The nation-wide prohibition poll now being conducted by the Literary Digest is generally regarded as so much bunk. About the only useful function of the poll to the Digest or to the public is that it will likely enlarge the subscription list of the Digest. The majority of the local people treated the recent prohibition poll just as they have treated the previous political polls, they threw the card in the waste basket.

Prohibition has been a political issue for the past thirty years. Some have capitalized it sufficiently to keep it in the foreground, shoving other important issues aside. Others have led us to believe that the pro issue is the only issue. As a matter of fact temperance or intemperance involves a moral question and can best be solved when temperance is taught in the home as it should be rather than trying to legislate people to do the right thing.

SPEAKING OF BRIDGE

We heard a woman say that her neighbor "played for blood when she sat in a bridge game, but we'll say she plays for stockings, for she told us she won eight pair of silk ones one winter.—Inland Oil Index.

"One of our fondest childhood hopes has been realized," said a friend the other day. "When mother used to comb our hair, we wished we didn't have any." Fort Summer Review.

BIG BUSINESS KNOWS THE VALUE OF THRIFT

By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.

During the month of April special campaign for the elimination of waste will be conducted by many of the large industrial and utility corporations of the United States.

The point which will occur to most of us when we learn of this campaign is that no concern is so large, so powerful or so prosperous that it does not need to be thrifty. Some of the points brought out in explanation of the campaign are stated as follows:

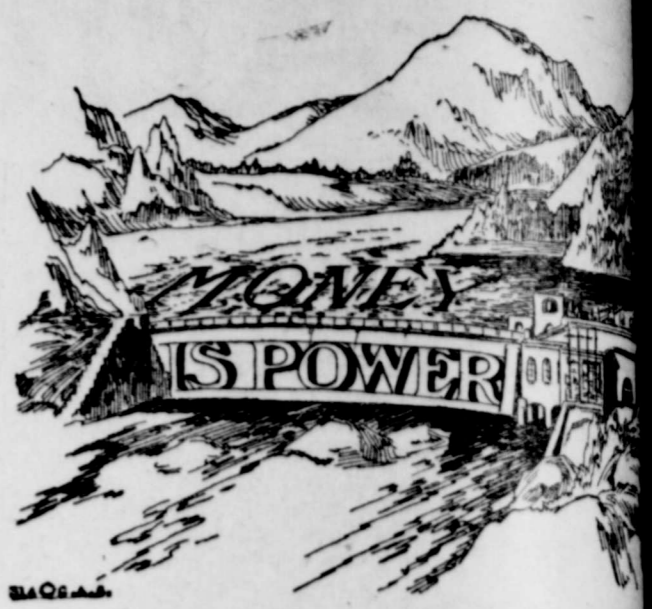

"The subject of 'Waste Elimination and Prevention' is receiving each year more concentrated study by the industries and the utilities, for it is realized that the wastes of to-day will, if prevented, go to the making of profits tomorrow."

"Losses are more apt to occur in the common-place items often overlooked but the total of which is frequently in excess of those from large and more extensive ones."

Competition, especially from foreign made goods, is becoming steadily more keen and we want to continue to hold our own by producing, as we have done in the past, apparatus embodying quality and good workmanship and with minimum waste."

Employees of the various plants will be encouraged to make suggestions to the company of methods of eliminating waste and cash awards will be given to the workers who offer such suggestions. Exhibits which include tools and materials daily used and broken, lost or spoiled will be shown in the plants. Placards will be put up around the factories reminding the workers that lights and gas fires should be turned down if too high or turned out if not in use. Attention also will be called to poorly oiled machines which increase repair bills as well as to the careless throwing of materials in rubbish cans. It is pointed out that in one plant alone is costs $10,000 a year simply to sort out the scrap that has been carelessly deposited by workers.

Thrift means very much more than merely saving money by the individual. Big business knows this. Our great corporations have learned that waste of the smallest item is to be avoided. It is indeed a great lesson in thrift that all of us can learn from the examples set by these gigantic corporations.

The first meeting is being paid for by the Penney Co. The second in a series of meetings to cover the eastern, western sections of the organization being held in five meetings. The 1,396 J. C. The first vice-president of the Penney Co., will be chairman at Los Angeles the second in a series of meetings to cover the eastern, western sections of the organization being held in five meetings. The 1,396 J. C. Penney is in attendance at the convention, an increase of over the number who attended the sessions of last year. Sheep, poultry and pigeon manures make excellent fertilizer for the garden. They are very strong, however, and should be used sparingly. Pulverized sheep manure is handled commercially by seedmen and dealers in garden supplies. Sheep, poultry and pigeon manures lose their value rapidly if exposed to the weather. Lime should not be used as an absorbent in the poultry house as it liberates the nitrogen of the poultry manure.

The sow needs plenty of good feed while nursing her pigs. Corn or ground barley should be the main feed, supplemented by shorts or middlings, tankage or fish meal, or old-process linseed meal. The corn may be fed on the ear or shelled. Other feeds may be given dry or in slop. When a change of feed is necessary, it should be made gradually. A simple mineral mixture should be available at all times in a box or self-feeder.

For spraying a few peach trees in the yard or home orchard, a bucket spray pump will do the work. It should be made of brass or some other metal that will not corrode, and have a 4-foot extension rod and at least 15 feet of hose. If the trees are to be dusted, a hand duster consisting of a cylinder with piston rod for making an air blast, can be used, although a larger hand duster, in which a fan is operated by cogs or belt from a crank, is more satisfactory and durable.

Purebred hogs raised for breeding purposes should be handled somewhat differently than hogs raised for fattening for market. Breeding hogs should be fed with the idea in mind of growing a good frame that will support the body for several years rather than one whose usefulness

Things WORTH KNOWING

Dehorning, castrating and spraying of beef cattle should be done in cool weather to avoid infection of wounds by flies.

Sudan grass is admirable suited for use as a soiling crop. It makes a large yield and is very palatable to livestock in the green state.

Three litters every two years is a satisfactory average for a good sow. This plan probably meets the requirements of most farmers and shows the best net profits in the end.

For dairy cows, hominy feed is comparable with corn meal in nearly all respects and is thought to be equal in feeding value pound for pound. It is not so likely to heat and mold as is the corn meal.

If Bordeaux mixture is used often and in quantity, it is more convenient to keep on hand concentrated stock preparations of copper-sulphate solution and milk of lime in separate containers. These stock preparations will keep indefinitely if the water that evaporates is replaced.

Keep young chickens away from turkeys and from areas occupied by turkeys if you want to avoid losses by gapes. Turkeys commonly harbor gape worms even though they show no sign of gapes. Adult chickens are practically immune and do not carry the parasites. Chicks are highly susceptible. The worms are deadly to chicks.

Sheep, poultry and pigeon manures make excellent fertilizer for the garden. They are very strong, however, and should be used sparingly. Pulverized sheep manure is handled commercially by seedmen and dealers in garden supplies. Sheep, poultry and pigeon manures lose their value rapidly if exposed to the weather. FIVE GIANT FISH TRAPS PUT IN LAKE EAST DEXTER

Five giant carp and buffalo traps have been placed in Lake Van, east of Dexter by the state game and fish department in the hopes of eliminating undesirable species of fish from this lake, it was announced recently.

Carp and buffalo, during their spawning season, move from one portion of a body of water to another. These traps are equipped with large "wings" which will direct the fish into the traps.

Lake Van is one of the most desirable areas for the propagation of game fish in eastern New Mexico, but has been practically worthless because of the great numbers of "rough" fish in its waters.

The state game department, under an agreement with the Lake Van Rod and Gun club, has made arrangements for the opening of a portion of this lake to the general public.

ends at the age of 8 or 9 months. To accomplish this, breeding hogs should be given a higher percentage of protein and mineral feeds and should have the run of good pasture whenever available. Corn should make up about one-fourth of the ration, the balance consisting of shorts or middlings, a little fish meal or tankage, and pasture. Skim milk or buttermilk is good if it is available. Oats may be fed in a self-feeder or scattered thinly on a feeding floor, but should never be fed by pouring in piles or in a trough. Light-weight oats should never be fed, as they are too bulky.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

(Delayed)

The annual church supper and business meeting of the Presbyterian church was held at the church last Wednesday evening, March 26th. The Ladies Aid under the presidency of Mrs. J. H. Jackson served a delicious chicken supper to over one hundred people. This was followed by the annual meeting. The Presbyterian church year ends with the last day of March and all over the denomination similar meetings are held at this time.

The various reports of the organizations showed continued activity and splendid advance all along the line. Mrs. M. R. Bruning reported for the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Rex Wheatley for the Women's Missionary Society, Miriam Coll for the Junior Christian Endeavor, Jeanne Wheatley for the Intermediate Christian Endeavor, V. L. Gates for the Sabbath school, C. E. Bildstone for the deacons and S. W. Gilbert for the session. Since the adoption of the envelope system of church finance substantial progress has been made in the church reaching to a more New Testament standard of giving. J. H. Jackson and Dr. C. Russell were re-elected as elders for a three year term and S. D. Gates and C. E. Bildstone as deacons for a similar term.

The debate on the question of women being eligible for the offices of elders and pastors in the Presbyterian church was won by the negative side though only by one vote. J. H. Jackson spoke for the negative while S. W. Gilbert upheld the affirmative. Miss Grace Sinclair rendered a fine monologue, entitled, "Her Morning Mail." The Junior choir also gave a special anthem. The Presbyterian church goes forward into a new year with great hopefulness.

Hall Pierce of Carlsbad, rector of the Episcopal church officiating. Following the nuptials a family dinner was served, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Gates and Mrs. W. H. Withington, being included in the company.

Mrs. George Blakenay of Carlsbad was an out-of-town guest and the usual light refreshments were served.

WOMAN'S CLUB RECITAL

The program of the club yesterday afternoon was a recital given by Mrs. Fred Cole, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Henson and the Misses Florence Oakes and Virginia Egbert. The program was given at the Episcopal church at half past two o'clock and the building was filled with club members and guests who listened with much pleasure to the program by these talented young musicians. Mrs. Cole, who has a well-trained soprano voice of very pleasing quality, gave a varied selection of vocal numbers, ranging from the light and airy to a difficult aria from Verdi's "Aida." The Misses Oakes and Egbert rendered an attractive violin duet, to the accompaniment of Mrs. Henson, who played throughout the program and also sang with Mrs. Cole in one selection. The program was one of unusual merit throughout.

The business meeting followed, the most important item being the election of delegates and alternates to the District meeting, which will be held in Portales Saturday, the 19th. In addition to the president, Mrs. H. A. Stroup, Mrs. G. U. McCrary and Mrs. C. R. Blocker were chosen delegates. A double list of alternates was chosen to provide for any contingency. These were Mesdames J. M. Story, M. W. Evans, F. G. Hartell, Earl Darst, Neville Muncy and Henson. At present the prospects seem favorable for a good representation from Artesia. Plans for the building of a club house were discussed at length and the prospects for a club home, also looks favorable. Interesting reports were given by Mrs. Blocker, chairman of the committee, cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in the tree planting campaign, also by Mrs. Green and Mrs. Deane, of the Girl Scout committee. Mrs. Story, chairman of the committee that conducted the successful Yard and Garden contest last year, will head the committee again this year. ## GUSHER SPRAYS CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Spraying oil over its derrick top, Oklahoma's largest gusher Tuesday night still roared defiance to scores of men working to control its flow of petroleum and gas.

A slight shift in a strong wind Monday night diverted the spray from the direction of Oklahoma City. For several hours the oil from the gusher, the Mary Sudik No. 1 of the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Co., threatened to send a spray over the southern part of this city.

The well has been running wild since last Wednesday when it first blew in a gasser. Gradually, traces of oil began to appear in the column of gas until its oil production now is estimated by oil operators at more than 2,000 barrels an hour.

Until Tuesday a north wind hurled the gas and oil spray from the gusher far to the south, the oil to sweep down on the city. Housewives in Oklahoma City had to close their windows and drying clothes from all fires within a radius of two miles from the well.

The drugs and the bitters are so popular in our modern days upon fresh green and our regulators and Where they resorted to our gardens and abundance derive health and good nature. necessary, if we are to keep alert and strong and well.

The first spring vegetables supply all these and more—asparagus, cress, lettuce, radishes, early cabbage, beet tops, spinach, green onions, are all splendid sources of minerals. Rhubarb, too, is excellent—serve it simply stewed or baked for breakfast and make it into some delicious tempting dessert for dinner. As for the vegetables, here are several new and especially appetizing ways for preparing them.

Asparagus in Brown Sauce: Shred 4 slices of breakfast bacon, and fry until crisp. Wash and cook one bunch of asparagus in salt water until tender. Drain a cupful of the liquid from the asparagus onto the bacon. Add ½ small onion diced very fine, 2 tablespoonsful of vinegar, ½ teaspoonful of salt and ½ teaspoonful of paprika. Mix well and add the asparagus carefully. Cover skillet long enough to heat the asparagus thoroughly. Serve hot.

Spring Lunch Sandwich: Three slices of wholewheat bread are required for each sandwich. Butter one slice and on it spread a layer of cream cheese and cover generously with grated carrot. Place a second slice of bread and spread with chopped water cress which has been mixed generously with mayonnaise. Butter the third slice and place it buttered side down. Serve on a plate garnished with red radishes.

Spring Vegetable Shortcake: Make large round baking powder biscuits and bake lightly, then split, butter well and spread the lower halves with creamed asparagus tips, creamed peas, or carrots and peas creamed together, or any other delicate green vegetable dressed in cream sauce. Put the tops on the biscuits, crust down, butter and spread with the creamed vegetable. Sprinkle with paprika and serve hot.

A Dry Skin Needs Food

By DORIS HALE
DuBarry Beauty Consultant

SOME skins lose much of their natural oil as soon as cold weather starts. The little oil glands—so tiny they can't be seen except with a powerful microscope—become frightened at the first touch of winter, and stop working.

If you neglect your face when the oil glands slow up in their functioning, it gets tight and drawn through lack of lubrication. Fine lines form, especially around the eyes and mouth. The skin often cracks and peels, and becomes rough and unattractive in texture. Sometimes the damage is rather serious, and the face never quite regains its normal smoothness and softness. But before this happens to you, apply a good skin food—one that contains oils similar to those of the skin.

Always use a good cleansing cream on your face before applying skin food, and wipe off with it all of the surplus dried skin and dirt. Then remove any remaining traces of the cleansing cream with pads of cotton saturated with a refreshing skin lotion. Use an upward motion of both hands to do all this, because you want to coax any little tired, sagging muscles into pleasing, upward curves.

Now, with your cushiony finger tips lightly spread skin food all over your face. Leave it on all night if your skin is very dry. But if this is a daytime treatment, the skin food should not be removed until most of it has been absorbed. When you wipe off the surplus, use upward strokes of the cleansing tissues wrapped about both of your hands.

A woman recently asked me, "Why do you always say, 'use both hands?' I've never become accustomed to using my left hand for anything like this, and it seems very awkward."

Using both hands is awkward at first, perhaps, but so much better than the old way, once you've become accustomed to it. An expert always uses both of her hands when she gives a facial treatment. Two hands are much better than one, for they give an equal stroke to every part of your face. You'll be surprised how much more efficient this method is, and your whole face will get a treatment that is almost professional instead of the awkward dabbing with one hand which most of us do.

A Northern Teacher in the South

NEXT station's Pennelton, ma'am."

Marion Caruthers looked up, nodded to the porter, quickly stuffed the magazine she was reading into her grip and put on her coat and hat. A moment later she was standing on the platform watching the train pull out.

"Miss Caruthers?" said a pleasant voice, and Marion saw before her a middle-aged man with bare head.

"I'm Thompson, the principal of the school where you're going to teach."

"How nice of you to meet me," she said. "I'm awfully glad you're the principal because I know I'll like you."

"You're very young, Miss Caruthers," he mused, glancing up and down her trim little figure.

"Yes, this is my first school," she admitted.

"I hope you'll like it; we do. We'll just get home in time for dinner," he continued.

"Dinner?" she gasped. "Why, up home we always have dinner at six o'clock."

"We're just ordinary folks down here. Guess you'll have to make allowances."

Mrs. Thompson met Marion at the door and gave her a warm welcome.

"So glad to see you, dear. Are you very tired? How do you like our country? Dinner's just ready. I'll show you your room so you can take off your things."

When Mrs. Thompson came back down stairs she and her husband had a hurried word in the hall.

"Isn't she attractive!" said Mrs. Thompson. "What lovely eyes and such a quick infectious smile."

"Yes, but I'm afraid she's too young to manage children in a country high school. Had absolutely no experience."

Their comments were cut short by the entrance of Marion and they all hurried into the dining room.

"Biscuits?" said Marion quizzically at the dinner table. "Up North we have bread—bake Wednesdays and Saturdays."

"I'm sorry we have none," said the professor quietly.

"And you serve string beans with pork," Marion went on in amazement. "I never saw that before."

By the time the meal was over Mrs. Thompson felt that her well-cooked dinner had fallen short of the mark.

The following day school began and Marion was busy all the rest of the week getting things organized in her classroom.

At the first parent-teachers' meeting she nearly had an open tilt with one or two of the mothers. She just could not make them see. And, worst of all, she had a feeling that they did not understand her. There was only one person in Pennelton who did and he was John Hamilton, the Latin professor.

Fall slipped into winter and the students at Pennelton county high pegged away. Marion had enjoyed the holidays immensely. Professor Hamilton's mother had invited her over for dinner, after which they had gone on a straw ride and had supper at a distant inn. It was a jolly crowd. Then there were two dances and Marion had made a decided hit each night. Still she did not feel that she was one of them. There was always a slight coolness about these people that was apt to freeze suddenly right in the middle of a conversation, and without a woman's notice. Southern people were nice, but queer—so queer. No doubt about that.

And now spring had come again and soon Marion would be going back home, and for some peculiar reason she was not sure that she was glad. She had made a success of her teaching and Professor Thompson had been unstinted in his praise of her work.

The parent-teachers decided to give a parting banquet in honor of themselves and to commemorate a most successful year's work. Marion put on her best evening dress and looked her stunniest as she sat beside Professor Thompson at the long table.

Mrs. Burton rose and began to make a speech.

"This banquet," she said, "is in honor of Miss Caruthers. Everything on the table has been prepared by a northern woman we coaxed over from Delton and the recipes all came out of a northern cook book. We wanted just once to do something down South as they do it up North, and—"

"Oh, forgive me," interrupted Marion, jumping up. "I see it all now, but I never realized how tactless it was. That's what's been the matter. What a little beast I've been! Would it help to make amends now if I tell you I love the South and the people and the cooking and everything, and I did so want them to love me. If you ever hear me say up North again I hope you'll run me out of the county. That's what I deserve, anyway."

Flushed and breathless, she dropped into her chair again.

"Yes, I'm certain Miss Caruthers feels every word she's said about liking the South and all that," said Professor Hamilton, rising. "because she—she's going to marry me!"

"Jack, you—I never—"

But the rest was lost in a round of applause and the banquet table was almost upset as the crowd rushed forward to congratulate the happy couple, while Professor Hamilton congratulated himself on his brilliant coup d'etat.

ONE HUNDRED TWO CRAPPIE ARE PLANTED IN DEXTER HATCHERY

The brood fish supply in the Dexter fish hatchery, New Mexico's first and only warm water hatchery, has been materially increased within the past few days and a most successful year at the hatchery is expected.

M. Stevenson yesterday placed in the hatchery 102 crappie taken from a lake near Springer. Mr. Stevenson started from Springer, 300 miles away, with 102 fish and arrived with just that number.

A total of 59 large brood bass have been placed in the hatchery within the past few days and there are more yet to come. It was announced today.

The state game and fish department is doing everything possible for the sportsmen of New Mexico and with the proper cooperation from those who hunt and fish, New Mexico will be one of the leading wild life states of the west.

Today begins a new year on the calendar of the state game department. Fishing licenses expired at midnight last night and those who fish now must purchase a new license.—Roswell Record, Tuesday.

WINS PRIZE

Herbert Moeller, struggling student instructor of the University of Illinois, has just been awarded first prize in the nationwide coal slogan prize contest staged by the National Retail Coal Merchants Association.

His wealth producing acrostical slogan, COAL—Comfort of American Life, received the verdict over 172,670 others passed on by the seven nationally known judges, chairmaned by Dr. Julius Klein. Thirty-eight other winners came from 25 states and one from Canada.

In announcing the winners, Harry Turner of Topeka, Kansas, contest chairman, stated that the contest reached an unbelievable magnitude due to the fullest cooperation on the part of the entire coal industry.

The slogan contest is the initial step of an extensive program mapped out by the coal industry, the next being a summer selling campaign which will soon be under way, advanced principally by newspaper advertising.

DALLAS LADY GLAD TO PRAISE FAMED KONJOLA

Neuritis And Stomach Troubles Soon Banished By Power Of New Medicine.

"I never had the least idea Konjola would help me as it did," said Mrs. E. M. Fitzgerald, 4533 Worth Street, Dallas. "My stomach gave me a great deal of pain and trouble. Gas accumulated in my stomach after meals and the pressure against the heart cavity caused that organ to beat wildly. Neuritis attacked my side and my right arm and shoulder. These pains were often so severe that I could not do my housework. I did not sleep at night and became very nervous.

MRS. E. M. FITZGERALD

"Konjola is fast bringing me back to health again. My stomach is in excellent shape and I can eat almost anything without distress. The neuritis pains are gone, my sleep is normal once again, and my nervous condition has greatly improved. I shall always recommend Konjola to anyone suffering as I did."

Konjola works with the important functional organs of the body, drives the poisons from the system and regulates the organs of digestion and elimination. In this way glorious and abundant relief is brought about. It is recommended that Konjola be taken from six to eight weeks for the best results.

Konjola is sold in Artesia at Palace Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

PLAYERS GO INTO THE SEMI-FINALS IN FOUR BALL GOLF TOURNEY

The four ball golf tourney, which is now well underway at the local golf course, has attracted unusual interest and Sunday the local course was a mecca for a number of followers of "cow pasture pool." Thirty-six entrants have qualified and have finished the second round, placing eighteen into the semi-finals. Linell with a qualification score of 82 and Whitson with a score of 150 were defeated one up by Michael 86, and Otts 138. H. G. Scoggins with a score of 86 and Damewood with 139 defeated Bartlett 86, and Corbin 115, two up. Kimbrough 87, and Bigler 115, defeated Welch 88, and Cole 113, two up. Spencer 88, and Miller 109, defeated H. Terry 89, and John Richards 108, four up. Bruce 92, and Watson 106, defeated Bird 90, and Van Horn 106, five up. W. Morgan 92, and Crozier 104, defeated Hamann 92, and A. Richards 104, five up. Bildstone 94, and Coll 103, defeated John Gates 94, and Ward 103, one up. P. Terry 95, and Shipp 102, were defeated by Henson 96 and Richard Wheatley 101, two up. Wells 99, and Schoonmaker 96, went down before Feather 98 and Gates 99, combination one up.

Heard About The Links

Mark Corbin—"Bartlett and I could have defeated our opponents if Ray had remained steady. He seemed to get rattled."
Ray Bartlett—"If Mark Corbin had not blown up completely, we could have defeated our opponents easily."
H. G. Scoggins—"Damewood and I will meet Kimbrough and Bigler in the next round, and I am sure they will be easily defeated unless Kimbrough wears his boots. In that case, I give up."
Frank Miller—"I am a determined man and have made up my mind to play in the finals. Just watch Spencer and me."
Virgil Wells—"We did not want to beat our opponents very much so entered the matched games unprepared. 'Schoonie' and I waited too long to start playing our regular form."
V. L. Gates—"Landis is a good golf player and I thought he was a good boy until he made three or four bum shots in a row. I learned a lot at that time."
Landis Feather—"The cold wind prevented me from playing as good as usual. Just wait until I play on a warm day."
Paul Terry—"Henson and Wheatley beat us but I can plow more acres of salt grass than both of them put together any day in the week. I think Bert Ship would be better behind a plow than a golf club."
Albert Richards—"I never could shoot a good ball when anyone was talking. Morgan and Crozier chattered continually during our match which got Hamann and I rattled."
Willis Morgan—"A certain school teacher told me she was betting on me so I just had to win. The results show what inspiration will do for a fellow playing golf."
C. E. Bildstone—"Alf Coll was my partner and believe me, he can handle a mid-iron as good as an irrigating shovel and that means a lot."
Howard Whitson—"Bill Linell says I have wonderful prospects of making a great golf player, but to date I have not developed many of my golf talents."
Paris Damewood—"I work at night so therefore, I cannot see as well in the day time as our opponents can. However, we went through the first round O. K."
F. B. Van Horn—"My trouble is that I try to dig up too many rocks on the golf course. Prof. Bird says I get golf and geology mixed."

Paul Otts—"Joe Hamann says I am the worst golf player in the

CENSUS WILL CHANGE APPORTIONMENT OF THE U. S. CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Important changes in the membership of the house will automatically follow the fifteenth decennial census, the taking of which started yesterday.

A reapportionment of representatives in conformity with the growth and shifting of the nation's population will be made for the first time in 20 years and will become effective with the congress elected in 1932.

Under the terms of the reapportionment bill passed last year, the census bureau estimates that seventeen widely scattered states will lose an aggregate of 23 members of the house and that eleven states will gain by the same number.

It is expected that the representatives of the larger cities will be increased, and since these are usually regarded as opposed to prohibition a careful watch is being kept for the effect of the reapportionment upon the liquor issue.

In the bitter contest that preceded the passage of the reapportionment bill by the house, members of the metropolitan areas charged that representatives of rural districts were attempting to defeat the measure in an effort to prevent an increase in the size of the house wet bloc. The wets hailed the passage of the bill as a victory.

Although the constitution provides for reapportionment every 10 years, the last took place in 1911 on the basis of the 1910 census. The law passed last year provides that in the future a reapportionment be made by every fifth congress, with congress retaining, to meet emergencies, the prerogative of changing representatives at any time.

The census bureau estimates that the states to gain in representation are Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, N. Carolina, Oklahoma and Washington, one each; California, six; Michigan 4; Ohio, 3; and New Jersey and Texas 2 each.

The states which probably will lose representation are: Alabama, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, N. Dakota, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont, and Virginia, one each; Missouri 3; Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky and Mississippi, two each.

NEW MEXICO HUNTERS GET MORE GAME

SANTA FE—More game is bagged in New Mexico than Pennsylvania (aside from squirrels and smaller game); three times as much in this state as in Wyoming, said State Game Warden Edgar L. Perry Monday, and he has compiled figures to prove it. These are considered representative states in their respective sections, he added.

Either New Mexico has better marksmen or there is more game in proportion to the number of pinrods, as the kill is higher per hunter here than elsewhere.

WUNSCH SPEAKS TO THE LIONS CLUB

W. A. Wunsch, county agricultural agent for Eddy county was the principal speaker at the regular luncheon of the Artesia Lions club last Friday. He explained the need of the cooperation of the business men in the success of the program outlined by his department assisted by the Chamber of Commerce. An experiment farm is to be developed and cultivated near Artesia in an effort to determine the best methods and the best class of seeds for local crops. There is also a contest to be staged in cotton production, which has already received many entries from the local farmers. Mr. Wunsch also announced that the county agent or his staff would be glad to assist any person, who desired any assistance in combating insects, plant or tree diseases, which they may encounter in the cultivation of their flowers, lawns or trees.

L. N. Kremer, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce was also a guest of the club and reported on the success of the cleanup program of the past week. He received the endorsement of the club for staging a more strenuous clean up campaign in ridding Artesia of unsightly vacant lots and junk lots.
 Miss Catherine Clarke, a former pianist for the local club was also a visitor and has consented to serve the organization as pianist for the next term.

After the regular routine of business and reports of committees, the golf enthusiasts of the club decided to challenge any organization in the city to a golf match. The organizations mentioned at this time included: Rotary club, American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, lodges, Womens' club, bridge clubs or Sunday school classes. Just any of them.

 well as by motor to cooperate with the department of agriculture in its campaign against throwing away lighted cigarettes and cigars, the cause of more fires than any other single item except lightning. This has the endorsement of the state highway department.

Experimentation by the forest service has shown that lighted cigarettes thrown from automobiles and even from airplanes, continue to burn after hitting the ground. A little self control, extinguishing your butts before throwing them out of the car or plane, will help to preserve the 9,481,831 acres of forest in New Mexico, containing over 11 billion feet board measure of saw timber.
 (This includes only the national forest timber.) It is easier to put an ash tray in the car, or to stop on the butt on the floor of the car and clean it out later, than to fight a forest fire.

There were over a half million visitors to the Lincoln National Forest in 1929. The supervisor, O. Fred Arthur, credits good roads for much of the increase over the preceding year. Reports from the other national forests also show a steady growth in the number of tourists and campers to avail themselves of the recreational advantages made accessible by more and better roads. An increase of tourists is expected during the coming season. This makes all the more important a campaign against fires caused by carelessness.
 Preserve our great natural playgrounds.

The forest service built 122 miles of roads in the eight national forests during the past fiscal year, which the state highway department will help to maintain. A joint conference of the state highway department with the forest service recently drew up a program of work for the present year. This includes improvement of the Las Vegas-Holman Hill-Taos road, the Hondo-Mescalero road, and the Elk-Mayhill road.

It is hoped that all New Mexicans will join in the fight against the destruction of our playgrounds by fires caused by careless smokers.

STEADY IMPROVEMENT BEING MADE ON NATL.
 FOREST ROADS IN STATE

SANTA FE—With the steady improvement of roads through the extensive eight national forests in New Mexico, their popularity is rapidly growing. This growth in the number of tourists, campers and pic-nickers has increased greatly the danger of fires and their damage to both forests and roads, a service bulletin comments.

This factor and the increase of air travel, necessitates a continual campaign against carelessness to which most forest fires are attributable.
 The conservation of our national forests is of major importance to the people of New Mexico, not only from the point of view of saving lumber and the natural water reservoirs, but also because the forests constitute one of the state's assets as a tourist attraction. There is a growing appreciation of the importance of the tourist business to the development of the sunshine state, and this should lead to hearty endorsement by every citizen of the safety first campaign.

"The New Mexico State Board of Nurse Examiners will hold their ex-

 Albuquerque, New Mexico, on May 4th, 1930. The board will meet on May 11th, 1930, to approve applica-this will probably be the only meet-

INSIDE INFORMATION

Very sweet foods have a tendency to blunt the appetite for other foods that supply materials the body needs.
 It is best to serve sweets in small quantities, toward the end of a meal.

Thousand Island dressing is a mayonnaise to which are added, chopped highly flavored materials, such as pickles, olives, radishes, celery, green peppers, capers, grated cheese, hard cooked egg and onion. Any combination may be used.

"Apartment" cuts of pork are now in demand by the housewife. The preferred market hog is small and thin enough to yield small cuts, and yet big and fat enough to dress a satisfactory percentage and produce attractive meat. Two hundred pounds is now considered a desirable market weight.

Hang garments by the straight of the goods and by their bands where possible. Sheets and other large pieces should be placed from a fourth to a half over the line and fastened securely in three or four places Group similar garments together. Remove clothes from the line in a systematic manner and, to save time later, fold straight pieces before placing them in the basket.

SCRUBS EAT THEIR HEADS OFF

"One day at the National Dairy Show, a city-bred chap and his best girl came along to see the exhibit on dairy herd improvement association work. I judged that he was a city bred chap from some of the remarks he made, and that she was his best girl from some of the remarks they both made.

These young folks became very much interested in one of the pictures that showed some scrub cows pasturing in a beautiful field of clover. The cows were headless and the picture was entitled: "They ate their heads off."

After studying the picture for some time, the young man remarked: "I don't get that. I don't see how cows can eat their heads off."

"Oh," replied the young lady, "don't you understand that? It means that they don't produce enough milk to pay for their feed."

"Well," remarked the young man,
 "that is pretty good, isn't it?" And they passed on.

When they were gone, one of the department specialists remarked:
 "That young man had better freeze on to that young lady—he need her."

Cows that eat their heads off should be fed neither up nor down; they should be put out. A very good way to avoid the danger of a surplus of dairy products in this country is to dispose of low-producing cows.—The Farm Journal.

CENSUS ENUMERATORS ARE BUSY COUNTING NOSES IN EDDY COUNTY

United States Census enumerators, recently appointed for Eddy county, met at the court house in Carlsbad Saturday and received final instructions on the various phases of the census enumeration before starting to work yesterday. C. R. Ferrin of Roswell, assistant supervisor, conducted a round table discussion for the benefit of those engaged in the work. It is estimated that a month will be required to finish the enumeration of Eddy county. Information gathered in the county will be sent to the office of the district supervisor in Roswell and the count will be made public a few days after it is received there.

What was your age at first marriage? will be one of the principal questions the married ladies of Artesia must answer. This question might be embarrassing to some if made public, however, residents may rest assured that all answers will be held confidential.

The count will include everybody living in the community on April 1. Babies born after April 1, will not be counted. Students, attending any school will be counted in the community where their parents reside. If you dislike the idea of counting any particular community your home, it won't do any good to move now. Your name will be enumerated in the community where you resided on April 1.

We were able to secure the names of the enumerators in nine of the eleven districts of Eddy county. Mrs. T. S. Cox, is the enumerator for the city of Artesia and will make the count of the people living in the city limits. Ola S. Morris, is the enumerator of all of precinct 6, except Artesia. Mrs. Elsie Kissinger, Dayton and the Oil Field. Mrs. Stanley W. Blocker, Lakewood and Seven Rivers. J. P. Bates Hope, and surrounding vicinity. Mrs. James S. McCall, city of Carlsbad. Other enumerators appointed include Tom H. King, Mrs. E. B. Kilgore, William H. Stagner, Ralph L. Edgerton, Myrtle Jones and T. S. Cox.

CITY DADS — DOCTORS DON'T OBSERVE THE GARBAGE ORDINANCE

George Frisch, water superintendent, has just made a survey of the city, to determine how many of the residents were observing the city garbage ordinance. Only twenty residents have a suitable garbage receptacle that meets with the requirements of the ordinance. In his report this morning, Mr. Frisch states that if all the flies, swarming around the open garbage cans in Artesia were made into one big fly, that fly would be large enough to pick up the Artesia hotel and fly away with it.

Mr. Frisch states that so far only one city dad has observed the ordinance with a suitable receptacle and no Artesia doctors has yet seen fit to comply with the city ordinance and even the city nurse is in the class of offenders.

RECEIVES 100 ELMS

One hundred Chinese elms were received the first of the week by the H. A. Porter nursery and will be distributed under the direction of the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion. Wunsch, county agent, as best adapted for quick growth in this section. The American Legion will give 50 of the 100 trees away. The Legion hopes to place as many trees on First street as possible. Others who may want to plant trees and yet do not feel able to purchase them can avail themselves of the Legion's generosity. Further information can be secured by communication with either, Mrs. C. R. Blocker, chairman of the civic committee or the American Legion.
