

SEC'TY ICKES TAKES COMMAND NATIONS PUB. WORK PROGRAM

WASHINGTON — Secretary Ickes took command of the administration's $3,300,000,000 public works program Monday and immediately ordered a speeding up to the operations by which it is planned to give jobs to millions of the unemployed.

As he assumed the office of public works administrator, the secretary announced in a formal statement that the administration would push forward with the full program and would not curtail it until "gains in industry and employment" have been "secured and consolidated."

While Ickes was outlining the board general principles on which the public works administration will operate, he was applying pressure on his still incomplete organization to get the construction fund flowing into the channels of trade.

A subcommittee was endeavoring to complete in time for approval by the cabinet board Tuesday recommendations for the first batch of public works projects under the $400,000,000 federal program.

Ickes was rounding out his staff and was expected to name N. M. Daitz, now assistant administrator, as his chief executive in charge of the program.

TO ELIMINATE CHILD LABOR UNDER CODE

WASHINGTON — Banning of child labor in the cleaning industry will be included in the code which representatives of the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners considered here Monday for submission to the national recovery administration, about August 1.

U. S. GOVERNMENT JOINS IN A SEARCH FOR FOUR KIDNAPERS

The federal government Tuesday threw its power and resources into the search for kidnaped citizens and new legislation was suggested to curb the wave of aduicty facing the country.
Three persons, all prominent in their communities, were missing. Two were definitely known to have been victims of kidnapers and authorities were searching for the other on the theory he also was an abductor's victim. A fourth was at his home, released after seizure by three escaped convicts.
The missing were:
John J. (Buck) O'Connell, 24, nephew of prominent Albany (N. Y.) politicians. The abductors asked $250,000 ransom. Kidnaped last Friday.
August Luor, aged and invalid banker of Alton, Illinois, no ransom demand received. Kidnaped Monday night.

John Factor, Chicago market speculator, and reputed millionaire. Missing since July 1 when he reportedly was abducted by two carloads of armed hoodlums. The family said it had not contacted the kidnapers but other sources reported ransom demands from $75,000 to $100,000.
John C. Lyle, a Crawfordville, Georgia, rural mail carrier was released Monday night after being abducted by a trio of fleeing Georgia convicts.
Federal operatives from the department of justice already are working on the O'Connell and Factor cases and it appeared likely they would give aid in the other investigations.

POSSIBILITIES FOR COTTON

The United States department of agriculture sees possibilities for increasing the domestic use of cotton by about a million bales by the use of cotton in bags and bagging for agricultural purposes, in curing concrete, for nets in power laundries, etc. About 225,000 bales could be used in cotton fabrics to be used in baling raw cotton. If flour mills would put up their entire output for both wholesale and retail trade in new cotton containers they could use an additional 165,000 bales, and if all refined sugar were put up in cotton bags, the sugar industry could use 100,000 bales of cotton more than it does now.—Missouri Farm Bureau News.

A five day Boy Scout water camp will be held at Dexter starting July 24th and one at Carlsbad starting August 21st according to tentative arrangements, P. V. Thorson, area scout executive, announced at Roswell. There may be one at Santa Rosa also but this is not yet certain.

Water camps were held last year at Dexter, Hagerman and Santa Rosa and proved very successful. Special camps are being planned, Mr. Thorson said, for the Spanish and the Negro troops in Roswell. He said that several troops over the area would have troop camps this summer.

Mr. Thorson said that plans were being made for a camp between Christmas and New Year's day next winter for advanced Scouts. He said it would be held at the campsite in the Sacramento mountains if the roads were not blocked by snow. If impossible to get to the mountain camp, it will be held somewhere in the hills west of Roswell, he said.

SEE HORSE'S RETURN UNSOUGHT, IMPOSSIBLE

WASHINGTON—A return to horses not only is unsought, but impossible, in the opinion of experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They report a decline in the numbers of horses and colts in every state except Rhode Island and Delaware.

Further, they say, it takes four years to raise horses of working age and there is not enough breeding stock in the country today to stop the decline in the next decade. They believe that the recent activity in buying animals has been due to redistribution, rather than production.

CATCHING SNAKES IS NOW NEW INDUSTRY

A new industry is springing up in the Pecos valley and there is a wide field of endeavor—in fact the possibilities are almost unlimited and no capital is required.

Snake charmers, says the Roswell Dispatch, and snake show operators in Chicago have forwarded to L. B. Lynch, Roswell, an order for a minimum of 150 pounds of snakes a week. They will take up to 3,000 pounds. Lynch is obligated to furnish 150 pounds or approximately 100 snakes a week to hold the contract.

Good prices are being paid for these snakes and because of the large number of the reptiles in southeastern New Mexico the opportunities for the unemployed are almost unlimited.

Fame of the Pecos valley rattle snake has spread to Chicago and snakes are said to be taking well with the great many visitors to the Century of Progress in Chicago.

Managers of the snake department of the world fair have set the sky as the limit for snakes. The only thing now to do is to go forth and capture all snakes possible.

WORLD CONFERENCE
TO ADJOURN JULY 26

LONDON—The steering committee of the world economic conference Monday decided tentatively that the parley would be adjourned on or about July 26, it was said in well informed quarters.

The committee found unbroken the deadlock over the question whether monetary matters should be discussed.

The monetary commission of the conference however at a meeting later Monday voted 23 to 15 to retain all the original questions on the agenda for treatment in the further work of the congress.

The vote by the monetary group was seen as a defeat for France and her gold allies but the strength of the opposing minority was enough to indicate the size of the difficulty which has arisen over the future program.

The steering committee which is composed of the leaders of the conference agreed to eliminate subsidies and commercial policy—including tariffs and quotas—from the further deliberations. This vote agreed with the gold bloc's desires.

When Spending
Is Economy

If someone told you that for a few cents each day your household work could be cut in two, that even the most irksome of household tasks—dish washing—could be made pleasant, you would be inclined to pinch yourself to make sure you were awake.

And yet—it is no dream.

The back-breaking broom and wash tub can be banished. At the end of the day you will not be too fagged out to enjoy the evening with your family; to entertain; your eyes will not close over your book. One can spend energy and health as well as money.

"True economy," to quote a well-known publicist, "is spending without extravagance, and saving without stinting."

TELLS HOW SHE LOST
15 LBS. OF FAT

Rheumatism Gone Too

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter:

"I started taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 pounds), at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less, which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." (Miss) E. L. P.

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yes—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all drug stores—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c.
