STOCK MEN END SESSION AT ROSWELL

Cattlemen Will Meet Next Year At Silver City and Sheepmen Will Convene At Albuquerque For 1936 Convention.

The New Mexico Cattle Growers and the New Mexico Wool Growers associations closed their annual sessions in Roswell this week. The latter adjourned yesterday after a business meeting.

Monday night in a business session, Lee S. Evans of Marquez, was unanimously re-elected president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers association. The four vice-presidents elected were: A. D. Brownfield of Florida; Joe J. Lane of Roswell; J. V. Taylor of Carrizozo, and Tom Jackson of Las Vegas. A committee appointed by President Evans to confer with the state land commissioner regarding public lands, included: Albert Mitchell, Roy; Tom Clayton, Separ; G. W. Evans, Magdalena; Joe Lane, Roswell, and Floyd W. Lee of San Mateo. Silver City was unanimously selected as the 1936 convention city.

In resolutions passed by the cattlemen, opposition was registered to the Capper-Hope-Wearing bill before congress on the ground that it would curtail free marketing of livestock. Extension of time on grazing permits in Old Mexico was urged on account of the drought. Opposition was voiced to permitting cattle purchased under the drought program re-entering commercial channels in competition with future production. The cattlemen asked that the marketing agreement be re-submitted to the secretary of agriculture under the AAA. The association declared for a six cents per pound tariff on green hides. It was urged that all containers of canned beef be labeled in letters of sufficient size to determine the country of the origin of the beef and it was further charged that a large amount of canned beef was imported into the United States annually.

A program of advertising and demonstrating the desirability of beef on the menu was endorsed. A resolution was adopted urging the extension of the federal land loan beyond the $50,000 limitation, so that all loans may be made in accordance with security offered. The association went on record as opposing pooling of processing taxes for purposes other than the payment of direct benefits under the AAA. Due to the increasing larceny of horses and cattle district attorneys were urged to prosecute such cases with due diligence and no more suspended sentences were recommended.

In a joint session Tuesday night both the cattle and sheep growers association endorsed the New (Continued on last page, col. 2)

Foundation for New Concrete Building On Main Street Started

Contractors Clayton & Clayton have begun the foundation for a new business building on Main street, just west of the new Nobby Cleaner building. The structure is being erected by Joe Combs of Carlsbad and will be twenty-five by seventy feet and will be reinforced concrete with stucco front and plastered walls.

It is not known at this time who will occupy the new structure, it was said yesterday. This is the third new building to be started in the 300 block of Main street within the past month.

Zinn Must Pay Cost Of His Trial

SANTA FE—Supreme Court Justice A. L. Zinn Friday stood reprimanded and faced with the necessity of paying $423.49, the result of a decision by his fellow court justices in charges of professional misconduct against him—the charges arising from his work as special assistant tax attorney in McKinley county a year before he ascended to the bench.

Found by the state board of bar commissioners to have violated the code of ethics, the question of punishment was left to the court which late Thursday returned those findings. The $423.49 represents the cost of the investigation and hearing.

Paving Suit Of Carlsbad Is In Supreme Court

Claim Case Now Before Court Is As Important As Gold Decision; Suit Involves Special Assessment of $360.00.

Termed by W. A. Keleher, appearing as a "friend of the court" as of equal importance so far as New Mexico is concerned with the famous "gold clause case" in the U. S. supreme court, the New Mexico supreme court at Santa Fe had under advisement Monday the suit of J. D. Ackerman of Colorado against the city of Carlsbad, a mandamus action appealed from the district court of James B. McGhee.

The case involves a special assessment for paving bonds in Carlsbad of approximately $360,000 in which Ackerman sought a permanent writ of mandamus to compel payment of the bonds in numerical order.

An alternative writ of mandamus was issued in the district court and this writ later quashed and the permanent writ denied from which Ackerman appealed to the supreme court.

Attorneys said the case involves an interpretation of many other paving bond or other improvement issues covered by special assessment and in view of the importance of the case the supreme court set aside its customary rule of one hour to a side for argument and doubled the time.

Attorneys for Ackerman argued the city ordinance of Carlsbad providing for the bond issue in 1929 provided that whenever sufficient money had been collected for payment of a bond, it was obligatory on the city treasurer to call the bond, in numerical order, and pay it off.

This practice, they contended, was followed while bonds numbered from 1 to 76 were retired, and then when the city found it was not collecting the money to retire all the bonds, it ceased paying on either principal or interest.

They contended that Ackerman, holding bonds numbered from 77 to 104, inclusive, is entitled to receive payment of the amount collected by Carlsbad for payment of principal to date.

This contention was also argued by Myles P. Tallmadge of Denver who said he represented certain holders of low-numbered bonds of an Albuquerque paving district.

Cotton Contracts Signed Total 150

All cotton contracts are supposed to be completed and in the county agent's office this week. One hundred and fifty contracts have been completed and sent to the state office. Contracts for new contract signers will be delayed due to the fact that no forms are available at this time.

According to new rules and regulations to plant contract signers will be required to plant at least 50% of their allotted acreage in cotton before their contract will be honored. It is not known exactly what the requirements for the acreage of the Bankhead act will be.

All cotton producers who have planted cotton on land that has a previous cotton history will receive two bales of tax free certificates. This does not apply to new land or to land that has been signed under contract, but just to small farmers that have no records to secure tax exemption free certificates on past history.

MODERNISTIC BEAUTY SHOPPE NOW OPEN

Mrs. Beatrice Woelk has opened the Modernistic Beauty Shoppe, in the Gilbert and Collins building. Mrs. Woelk only recently finished equipping the new shop and has added all new fixtures and equipment. Mrs. Woelk will be assisted by Mrs. Blanche Ryland, formerly of Santa Fe. Mrs. Ryland has had seven or eight years experience in beauty culture and beauty shop operation and can give you the kind of service you want. See the announcement of the Modernistic Shoppe in this issue for details.

Miss Jack Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Ward, underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday at the St. Francis hospital in Carlsbad and is recuperating nicely, according to an early report.

MacKay Talks On Modern Education

Tells Rotary Club Days Of Horse and Buggy College Have Passed.

Donald Mackay of Portales, president of the Eastern New Mexico Junior College, addressed the members of the Artesia Rotary club Tuesday noon on the subject of "Problems of Education." The speaker called attention to the fact that the process of education like most everything else, is constantly changing. The old horse and buggy college is outmoded and no longer are the three R's considered the basis of an education. One significant event in the change in the process of education is that modern teaching methods are centered around the child whereas under the old regime the school was centered around the teacher.

One of the problems of the present-day school is the transient youth, who may be tramping the streets or the highways. The average age of the transient youth today is thirteen and a half years. One function the present-day school is trying to perform is to keep the pupil in school longer and thus take the youth out of the industrial competition. The average age of the student today has been advanced several years because students remain in school longer.

The speaker said education today consisted of teaching the youth how to earn his bread and butter as well as the cultural side. He also called attention to the fact that because pupils were remaining longer in the high schools and more had gone to college, has created a new problem, that of financing the students. He said this problem was being partly solved by federal aid and predicted federal aid would play an even larger part in the expanded educational program.

C. W. Marshall, principal of the high school, was the only visitor at the luncheon aside from the speaker. Supt. W. E. Kerr presided at the program in the absence of President Charles Morgan, who is in Ponca City, Oklahoma, attending a convention. Further plans were also made for the Rotary Ann meeting to be held at the roof garden next Tuesday evening.

Joyce-Fruit Co., of Carlsbad Is Robbed Of $700 Friday Night

Thieves took $700 in cash from a safe in the vault adjoining the office of the Joyce-Fruit store at Carlsbad Friday night, according to the Daily Current-Argus.

Entrance to the building was gained through a skylight over the beauty parlor on a balcony at the rear of the clothing department.

Burglars then knocked the knob from the safe. A hacksaw was used to cut two iron bars in the ceiling and below the skylight. The bars were bent back and the thieves dropped to the balcony.

Officers had no clue to the identity of the thieves, they said. This was the third time the Joyce-Fruit Carlsbad store has been robbed since October, 1932.

CORE TESTS AT RED BLUFF

The core tests for the Red Bluff dam, just below the state line, have been completed with the exception of a small section near the Pecos river, and an inspection will be made this week, it was learned. If approved, work on filling the trench will start.

ONCE TALENTED MUSICIAN DIES MONDAY NIGHT

Asthma Attack Is Fatal To T. E. Quinlin, Who Came Here in 1903 To File On A Claim South Of Dayton.

T. E. Quinlin, aged 74, pioneer Artesia resident of this section, died at his home in north Artesia Monday night from an attack of asthma. Mr. Quinlin was ill only a short time.

Only the high spots of Mr. Quinlin's history are known. He was at one time a talented musician and oil painter. Born in Boston, Massachusetts, he taught music for twenty years before joining the Imperial Bell Ringers, a traveling musical troupe, which played in all the principal American cities.

Moved Here in 1903

In 1903, shortly after the first artesian well was drilled in here, Mr. Quinlin passed through Artesia en route from El Paso, Texas, to Roswell where the Imperial Bell Ringers rendered a concert. So impressed was Mr. Quinlin with the possibilities of this section that he filed on a piece of land south of Dayton at this time and later when the troupe disbanded in San Francisco, California, he returned to the valley to improve his claim. Soon after coming here he suffered the loss of three fingers on his left hand while working around a well rig. The loss of the fingers incapacitated any further efforts in a musical career and he was compelled to seek other means of livelihood. He has lived here and at Dayton during his thirty-two years of residence in this section.

At the time of his death he lived alone in an adobe house in north Artesia. Only two relatives survive the deceased, a brother, Thomas Quinlin, and a niece, Mrs. Joseph Linehan, both of Boston, Massachusetts.

The body was shipped to Boston yesterday where burial will be made. No funeral services were held here.

Miller Is Awarded $1,000 Damages In Carlsbad Inn Fire

Jury Deliberates 6 Hours Before Reaching Final Verdict; Hardin Case Is Scheduled For Monday, April 15th.

One thousand dollars damages were assessed against W. A. Moore, owner of the Carlsbad Inn, by a district court jury at Carlsbad Friday night for the death of Felix Miller, Eddy county rancher, in the fire which destroyed the hotel the morning of December 23.

The damages were awarded to Clayton Miller of Carlsbad, administrator of his father's estate. Jurors deliberated six hours before reaching a verdict.

Damages of $50,000 were asked in Miller's petition. It was the last case which Judge James B. McGhee, judge of this district, will hear until April 15th. George W. Hay, district judge at Silver City, heard several civil non-jury cases in which McGhee was disqualified, Monday.

Will Terry Seeks $425.00 Damages Injury To Stock

Will Terry of Hobbs has instituted suit against the Stanolind Oil Company claiming damages to his cattle from drinking water into which oil, acids and other refuse from oil wells had been discharged, says the Lovington Leader.

In his complaint Terry alleges that the oil company was aware of the fact that he used the land upon which its wells have been drilled exclusively as pasture lands for his cattle; that the oil, acid and other refuse from these wells were permitted to run out and spread over the ground; and that his cattle were poisoned from drinking the water thus contaminated. Coats Loses His Appeal In State Supreme Court Conviction of Fred Coats on charges of voluntary manslaughter appealed from the district court of Eddy county, was affirmed by the state supreme court in a decision handed down at Santa Fe Tuesday. Coats was convicted of firing shots which caused the death of Sam A. Johnson at the Seven Rivers Filling Station about two years ago and appealed on the grounds the trial court had not sufficiently instructed the jury regarding self-defense nor on the doctrine of defense of habitation.

The supreme court, in a decision written by Chief Justice Daniel K. Sadler, and concurred in by all other members of the court, ruled there had been sufficient instruction on these matters.

Health Levy May Make Taxes High

The state tax commission has before it a problem—more acute, it was said, than at any time.

The problem is where is the money coming from? In 28 of the state's 31 counties, the full 20 mills allowed by the constitution is being assessed. Now comes the question of health, for there must be one mill levied for health purposes, to raise $48,000 for the 10 health districts in the state, and other costs. Added to that are court budgets, now coming in which show an increased need.

Under the 20-mill limit, there has been a division of five mills each to the state and county, six to the schools and four to municipalities. The state this year is empowered in the appropriation bill to increase its share half a mill, going to five and a half. This means that the extra half mill must come out of some one of the other divisions. Since the state gets the money first, there was said here that little could be done by the other divisions except cut costs.

Last year, health work was given a 15 per cent increase with money taken from the schools and other sources. Now, the new district health expense is to be met.

The first court budget received was that of the first judicial district which called for one mill levy for court purposes.

WALLS OF NEW THEATER PRACTICALLY FINISHED

The brick work on the new Majestic Theater building at the corner of Main and Roselawn is expected to be finished this week. The steel girders are in place ready for the roof. Workmen found it necessary to reinforce the walls of the Star Grocery building in order to support the extra weight. Finishing the interior will consume much more time than the erection of the walls, but the progress of the construction is already ahead of schedule.

Dog Is Prisoner In Old City Jail After Biting Child

For the first time in the history of Artesia, a dog has been incarcerated in the old city jail. City officials say they have had lots of different kinds of prisoners, but never a dog before. The animal, a German police dog, belonging to Mrs. Myrtle Fore of Las Vegas, was placed in the old city "jug" after he had bitten the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Forsee.

REBUILDING RURAL LINES

The Mountain States Telephone Co., this week has a crew of four men rebuilding company lines serving the rural areas south and southeast of town. New poles and new wires are being placed over the routes of the old lines. The line serving the residents of the Cottonwood may also be improved. However, this is not a company-owned line.

Area Darkened By Dust Cloud Out Of North

Lights Used As Darkness Envelopes Section; The Department of Agriculture Will Act To Stop Erosion From Dust.

Dust clouds blown by a light north wind swept over eastern New Mexico yesterday from Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas and obscured the sun, making it the darkest day seen here in several years. Old timers said the visibility was the poorest in history. Estimates said the dust cloud extended upward four or five miles. The dust yesterday, however, was not as disagreeable as some local storms witnessed here and as far as known no damage was done.

Yellow dust settled over the sidewalks and buildings. Practically every business house in town found it necessary to use lights to transact business. Visibility was low over the principal transcontinental air route through the state but was said to be clearing late yesterday.

U. S. Drive Starts WASHINGTON — Secretary Wallace yesterday ordered unification of all federal soil erosion control activities under the direction of Rexford G. Tugwell, under-secretary of agriculture, as the start of a concerted drive on the menace of drought and dust storms.

Department officials said more than 50,000,000 acres of land have been destroyed for crop production purposes by wind and water erosion. Another 125,000,000 acres has lost all or more of its top soil and about 100,000,000 acres more rapidly is approaching that condition.

Approximately 75 per cent of all farm land used for clean-tilled crops is subject to soil erosion and damage estimated at more than $400,000,000 per year results, it was said.

PIONEER RANCH WOMAN DEAD

It was learned here last week that Mrs. G. W. McGonagill, aged 97, widow of the late George McGonagill, who operated the old Apple ranch in Lea county, died at her ranch home near Lovington. Mrs. McGonagill moved to the ranch near Lovington in 1898. Later the McGonagills moved to Midland, but came back to the Lea county ranch and had operated it for several years.

Corn-Hog Papers Must Be In April 1

J. M. Edwards, field representative for the state board of review of the corn-hog section, met with the committeemen of the Eddy County Corn-Hog association to discuss problems concerning 1935 contract applications. He was very favorably impressed by the showing that has been made and feels as though the farmers are doing their part for the advancement and welfare of the corn-hog adjustment act.

Nearly all the signers of 1934 corn-hog contracts have made application for a 1935 contract. Approximately 15 persons have made applications for 1935 contracts who did not sign up in 1934.

The corn-hog committeemen wish to inform all growers that April 1st is the final date that applications for 1935 corn-hog contracts will be accepted; therefore, anyone who expects to sign a contract this year must sign up his application before April 1st.

OIL PLAY IS OVER BROAD AREA IN N.M.

Wildcats Started Indicate Play Coming Westward Over the State Line; A Number of New Wells Have Been Drilled In.

The staking of locations in widely scattered points over eastern New Mexico within the past week or ten days indicates the oil play is coming eastward over the Texas line and farther into the interior of this state. If the present pace of activity is maintained, the latter part of 1935 will be New Mexico's greatest era of oil development.

In Eddy county, Yates-Dooley are rigging on their Commerce No. 1 in the NE SW sec. 8-20-37, five miles southeast of Lakewood, and it is reported that drilling will start soon on the Gibson et al., Quillin No. 1, sec. 15-19-31, a location announced in 1931, but later abandoned. In addition to the location on the W. E. McClay permit in the center of SE 1/4 sec. 33-18-30, field reports say another location may be made in the Globe area southeast of Lakewood soon, as well as a location for a deep test west of the Pecos river and west of Lakewood.

A reported location has been made in the southeastern portion of Lea county by N. G. Penrose et al., on the Continental acreage in sec. 17-22-37, but the drilling contract has not been completed. Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth, Texas, publisher, is reputed to have made a location on the Maddix permit in sec. 3-24-37.

Other new wells announced include two for western Lea county. The Jeffers Oil Co., Etx No. 1, sec. 17-21-32, and the Jeffers Oil Co., Jimenez No. 1, sec. 11-20-33. Others are the Atlantic Oil Co., State 2-C, sec. 5-21-36, and the Amerada Oil Co., State 1-F, sec. 36-19-36. A location has also been reported in Quay county by the Quay County Development Co., in sec. 19-9n-33e.

Wells completed or ready for completion in the southeastern area are: The Atlantic Oil Co., State 1-C, sec. 5-21-36, drilled to 3894 feet. Before placing 700 quarts of nitro in the hole for a shot, the well flowed at the rate of 145 barrels daily. Cleaning out operations are now underway. The Noble Drilling Co., Townsite No. 1, sec. 34-18-38, in the Hobbs district, was drilled to 4215 feet and after treating with 2,000 gallons of acid, flowed 135 barrels per hour thru tubing with 3,000,000 feet of gas. The Repollo Oil Co., Gloyd No. 2, sec. 12-25-36, was drilled to 3325 feet. After treating with 2,000 gallons of acid the Gloyd was estimated to be flowing 200 barrels of fluid per hour, which was seventy-three percent water.

Pioneer Eddy Co. Rancher Passes

Tom A. Gray, aged 79, pioneer rancher of Eddy county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Maud Rickman of Carlsbad, Saturday afternoon, after a long illness. Gray came to Eddy county in 1885, turning his cattle through and turning them on the range near Lookout. Mr. Gray first ranched in the Rocky Arroyo, later moving to Carlsbad, then known as Eddy. After living in Carlsbad a few years, where he built the first home, which is still standing, he moved to Pope Crossing and for the past twenty-five years had lived at the mouth of Big Canyon. He is survived by five children. His wife died six months ago.

GRAFT IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS? YES, IN PRIVATE ONES, TOO

The popular suspicion that public affairs are spotted here and there with graft is no doubt justified in part; but it's just as safe a bet that there's no more of the sub-rosa in public affairs than there is in private ones. Think it over a bit and see if you don't agree.

Did you ever hear of a couple of salesmen ganging up on a hard customer? Or a farmer trying to get a higher bid out of a hog-buyer by telling him of a better offer from another quarter? Or a couple of neighbors getting together to fool an insurance adjuster?

Perhaps you know it's rather common practice to try to fool the assessor on the value of your property—or did you think you were the only one?

Maybe you have heard of some attempts at sharp practice in the recent corn-hog and cotton sign-up.

Sometimes you hear of children being told by parents to falsify to their age when buying theater or circus admissions; or railroad fares.

Ages of horses and cows are not always correctly given when a sale is involved. Eggs not entirely fresh used to be sold to the grocers without hurting the seller's conscience, hardened to the practice.

Doctors, it is said, sometimes have little agreements among themselves regarding a wealthy client; lawyers ditto. Merchants sometimes incorrectly describe the merits of their goods.

In fact, I can think of "graft" possibilities in all lines but the newspaper business, and I'll let you do the thinking on that.

Yes, there's doubtless a little graft here and there in public affairs because public affairs are run by people just like you and me.—Press, Osage, Iowa.

SAD BUT TRUE

It is unfortunate, but nevertheless true, that one man can destroy the good efforts of millions of others. In the past ten days we have witnessed almost a crisis in the gnarling armament race of Europe, built around Herr Hitler of Germany. Treaties, efforts to promote world peace and labors to build good will and friendship among nations of the world have all been thrown aside by Hitler, for the supposed glory and honor of the Fatherland.

WE LIVE LONGER; HOW MUCH BETTER?

The average life of mankind in the time of Queen Elizabeth was twenty years. Today the average is fifty-eight years for man and sixty-one for woman, who is biologically more important. Recent discoveries in medicine are leading to astonishing results, and give a prospect that the life of man will soon reach the Biblical promise of three score and ten.—Drs. W. J. and C. H. Mayo.

Intelligence is what you get from home. Common sense you must develop yourself. Learning is what you obtain in school. Knowledge is what the world hands you. Judgment comes only with the years. Experience is a bitter medicine administered by life itself, and must be taken with a bit of conscience. Wisdom is a phantom often chased but seldom overtaken. Success or failure are a matter of opinion. Reputation is the golden scale. Contentment the minimal objective.

We know of men, says the New Richmond News, who are paying from $2 to $5 a quart for mighty inferior hard liquor who come into this establishment and haggle over the price of a wee bit of superior quality printing. Aren't folks funny?

Over at Chanute last week a man who had never smoked a cigaret, drunk a glass of beer or worn a necktie, died at the age of 101. It's a little difficult to decide if the esteemed citizen really did live to a ripe old age, or if it just seemed that way.

ABIRAM BROWN DIES

Abiram Brown, aged 88, father of C. O. Brown, local Santa Fe agent, died at his home in Kingman, Kansas, last Friday after a long illness. Mr. Brown had been in failing health for several months and his death was not unexpected.

The elder Mr. Brown came to Kansas in 1878 and was well-known in that section. He was a Civil war veteran and a soldier in the Union army.

C. O. Brown was at the bedside of his father when the end came and remained for the funeral services Sunday, returning home Monday. A daughter, Mrs. N. H. Kilmer, is the only surviving relative in addition to Mr. Brown.

LARGER FARM ACREAGE IS IN PROSPECT 1935

The crop reporting board of the United States Department of Agriculture makes the following report on the indicated acreage for harvest in 1935 of certain crops upon which approximately 46,000 farmers in all parts of the country made reports to the department on or about March 1 regarding their planting intentions for the 1935 season.

The reported planting intentions have been analyzed and interpreted to a potential harvest-acreage base assuming that the growers' planting intentions for 1935 will bear somewhat similar relationship to the acreage eventually harvested as has prevailed in the past. In other words, the adjustments may be said to allow for average influence of difficulties at planting time, loss of planted acreage from various causes and similar exigencies.

The figures are to be considered only as indicative of the probable acreage for harvest judging by plans now reported by growers. They are offered primarily to assist growers generally in making such further changes in their planting plans as may appear desirable. The acreage actually harvested in 1935 may turn out to be larger or smaller than the indicated acreages here shown, by reason of weather conditions, price changes, labor supply, financial conditions, developments in the department's program for crop acreage adjustment and the effect of the intentions report itself upon farmers' actions.

NEW MEXICO: Because of drought during 1934 the acreage harvested of practically all crops was the smallest in years. Early intentions of farmers indicate a substantial increase over last year's harvested acreage and near an average of the last few years.

189,677 GERMANS REPORTED STERILIZED

BERLIN—Estimates that 189,677 Germans have been deprived of reproductive powers through operations decreed by Nazis were at hand Sunday concurrently with the opening of a large exhibition showing the wonders of life.

The exposition itself, which brought to thousands graphic displays, charts and models designed to encourage the Hitlerite ideal of better individual health and sound offspring, formed a climax to the Nazis eugenics and racial welfare drive.

RAINS IN DROUTH AREA

The panhandle of Texas received from a quarter to an inch of rain Friday and Saturday to partly break a long drouth and give temporary relief to the sections from the severe dust storms. Lubbock was in the center of the heaviest rains.

...and it's even Better than it Looks!

At first sight, America named the Silver Streak Pontiac the most beautiful thing on wheels. But even that high praise tells only half of Pontiac's story. Get in, drive, and you'll discover that this low-priced car is even better than it looks. It's an unusually safe car with solid steel "Turret-Top" Bodies by Fisher and triple-sealed hydraulic brakes.

It's a marvel on the road—smooth, lively, easy to handle and easy on gas and oil. And, as such super-fine features as silver-alloy bearings and a completely sealed chassis prove, Pontiac asks no odds of any car at any price when it comes to quality and dependability. A look, a ride and you'll decide—the car makes the price phenomenal.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." (Matt. 6:24).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The conceptions of mortal, erring thought must give way to the ideal of all that is perfect and eternal. Through many generations human beliefs will be attaining diviner conceptions, and the immortal and perfect model of God's creation will finally be seen as the only true conception of being."

J. L. Truett, postmaster, addressed the junior high school last Thursday morning at eleven o'clock on the activities and duties of the postoffice. He explained the functions of the postal department and various ways in which the public could assist in creating better relations between the department and the public.

Following Mr. Truett's address and a musical number by the Junior high glee club, Fred Cole presented the trophy cups to the winning teams in the class basketball tournament recently conducted among the junior high school classes. The cup for the winner of the girls' tournament was presented to the 8-B team and the cup for the winner of the boys' tournament was presented to the 8-A team.

A special sportsmanship cup was presented to Betty Nell Lanning and Curtis Bolton, captains of the sixth grade teams, as these two teams were both awarded this honor.

CARLSBAD RESERVOIR LOW

The Carlsbad irrigation project again faces a shortage of water at the beginning of the irrigation season. L. E. Foster, project superintendent, has estimated 20,000 acre feet of water is in storage in both Lake McMillan and Lake Avalon, which will be available for irrigation. In order to conserve the moisture, the Carlsbad project has been divided into two districts. The upper half will be irrigated between the 1st and 10th of April, while the lower half will receive water April 10th to 20th.

their proper place of training for service in their proper unit in these services. Give the Lord an opportunity of developing you in His work. The B. A. U. took the efficiency banner last Sunday night. Some other unit should take it next Sunday night.

7:30 Song service and sermon. On Wednesday night at seven-thirty at the church the regular mid-week prayer service will be held. Last Wednesday night thirty-one were present, which is an increase of seven over the Wednesday night preceding. Such an increase in attendance and interest is a splendid and favorable sign as to the spiritual welfare of the church. May we constantly pray for the success of our work as a church and take time for this special united communion of prayer on Wednesday nights.

The second week in April, Monday night, April 8th, at seven o'clock, a Sunday school study course in the book, "Building A Standard Sunday School," will begin, taught by the pastor. Every officer and teacher of the Sunday school should certainly plan to take this course, and all others who are interested in our Sunday school work in the church. Make your plans to that end now!

Broad Powers May Be Given To District Grazing Committee

Broad powers will be vested in the district grazing committee supervising use of the public domain if the plan drawn up by the state advisory board of Albuquerque is adopted by Secretary of Interior Ickes.

This committee would be empowered to determine eligibility of every applicant under the Taylor act. It would determine extent of the use to which he is entitled and would determine the carrying capacity and seasonal use of all or any part of the public domain within the district.

The district committee would be made up of seven members, six of whom must qualify as experienced livestock growers for seven preceding years and must hold preferential permits in the district.

The seventh member would be a resident of the district and a representative of wild life and recreational resources. Each member would serve for one year.

The state committee would have the power to remove from office any member of the district committee deemed unqualified or who failed to discharge the duties of his office.

A tentative draft of specific regulations governing administration of the Taylor act was completed Monday by C. M. Botts, chairman of the state advisory board.

After approval by the individual board members, the regulations were presented to the Cattle and Wool Growers' joint meeting in Roswell Tuesday.

Will Go To Ickes
If sanctioned by these organizations the regulations will be presented to Secretary Ickes.

The regulations provide for the setting up of a state committee on public cooperation. The membership will consist of the land commissioner, a representative from the secretary of interior, Cattle Growers' and Wool Growers' Associations; State Game Department; State Game Protective Association; University of New Mexico; State College; Southwestern Conservation League and the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The committee will hold regular meetings on the first Tuesday in January, April, July and October. The annual meeting will be in April.

The proportion of cattle and sheep growers on the committee would be established by setting up zones.

The regulations provide for submission of a wild life management plan by the game department to the state committee which, if adopted, will be binding on the district administration.

District committee powers would include: Recommendations to the secretary of interior on permits for improvements on lands.

To settle differences between permittees on use of lands.

The American Legion Auxiliary celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of the organization of the local unit with a birthday party at the hut Monday night. Cutting Opposes Federal Oil & Gas Leasing Measure

WASHINGTON—Senator Cutting (R-NM) said Friday a study of the general oil and gas leasing bills introduced by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), and Representative Greever, (D-Wyo.) seemed to indicate "a deliberate purpose, presumably upon the part of the Interior Department to make it difficult if not impossible for the citizenry of small means to secure any share whatsoever from discovery and production of oil upon public lands."

Cutting added he believed the general leasing act of 1920, with amendments already adopted has proven fairly workable and satisfactory.

"Senator O'Mahoney's bill prohibits issuance of new oil prospecting permits or extensions of existing permits after July 1," said Cutting. "Aside from doubt as to enactment of the bill before that date, I am strongly opposed to prohibition of extensions of existing permits, and have it in mind to offer an amendment granting a general and automatic two-year extension on all permits, thereby giving permittees at least one further chance to realize some benefit from their permits."

Cutting said he expected the bill would encounter a great deal of opposition.

A WELCOME PASSENGER

Chevrolet Workers To Visit Plant At Baltimore Md.

Twenty-four workers, each the veteran in point of service of one of the twenty-four manufacturing and assembly plants of the Chevrolet Motor Company, will be honored with a trip to Baltimore for a pre-opening inspection of the new Chevrolet assembly plant in that city. The workers, whose average age is 71, were chosen according to the number of years they have been in the service of Chevrolet. Following a tour of the new plant, the group will make side-trips to points of historic interest in the vicinity of Baltimore, including Mount Vernon and the Capitol at Washington.

The delegation of Chevrolet employees assembled in Baltimore March 19, coming from plants at Oakland, California; Kansas City, St. Louis, Missouri; Indianapolis, Indiana; Atlanta, Georgia; Norwood, Ohio; Tarrytown, New York; Bloomfield, New Jersey; Janesville, Wisconsin, and Detroit, Saginaw, Bay City, and Flint, Michigan. During their stay in Baltimore, they will be guests of Chevrolet and city officials.

The new Baltimore assembly plant, which will supplement the present facilities of Chevrolet's other nine assembly plants, is the first major plant construction in the automotive industry since 1929. Assembly operations will begin in Baltimore early in April and it is estimated that the new development will have a yearly production of 80,000 passenger cars and trucks.

Inspecting an automobile plant before the start of operations will not be a new experience to many of the Chevrolet workers making the trip. Some of them started with Chevrolet when the company was in its infancy and low-priced transportation was still in its experimental stage. Others have been on their jobs since their home plants were opened by Chevrolet. They represent the major operations that combine to form the finished product. The foundry, the transmission shop, gear and axle plants, body plants, and plants manufacturing brakes, small parts, knee-action units, wheels and motors are all represented by this group of delegates from the upper age bracket of employees chosen to receive this special recognition for long service.

Cutting Asks Senate To Drop the Chavez Contest Proceedings

WASHINGTON—Efforts of former Representative Dennis Chavez to unseat Senator Cutting (R-NM) brought a move Monday by Cutting for dismissal of the contest proceedings which he characterized as a "fishing expedition."

In a motion filed with the senate elections committee, Cutting said the allegations made by Chavez are "so misleading, erroneous and false as to fail to state ground for a contest on which the senate can proceed."

The senator continued Chavez could have had any relief necessary under New Mexico statutes without bringing the contest before the senate.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the elections committee said he had issued a call for a meeting of the full committee Saturday morning to consider the case and to hear arguments on Cutting's motion to dismiss.

Chavez immediately notified his attorneys of Cutting's action and told them to come to Washington at once.

SCENIC "WEST SIDE" ROAD TO BE COMPLETED WITHIN NEXT MONTH

The High Rolls-Shelton ranch road, various links of which have been constructed during the past eight or ten years, will be completed inside thirty days, it is announced. The last short link is being located by Engineer Myers of the regional office this week, after which it will be constituted. Running as it does on the west side of the summit, high up in the famous Sacramento mountains, for a distance of some thirty miles, it will be one of the most picturesque highways in New Mexico. Part of the time the Sacramento valley, White Sands, and the San Andreas and Organ mountain ranges will be in sight on the west. After leaving the Shelton ranch the road runs over the summit into the Sacramento river valley, thence up to the head of the valley over a divide into Water canyon down into Penasco canyon, thence up to the divide between that canyon and Carr canyon, thence down Carr canyon to High Rolls. One could go on down to Mayhill and up to Cloudcroft and any direction from there he wants to go—Mesalero, High Rolls, etc. It will undoubtedly prove a very popular loop drive.—Alamogordo News.

JAMES GIMBEL was to play opposite Hansen!

Swiftly spread the news through Zenith that the great Swedish star had insisted on having him, and it created a sensation, Nora Hansen and James Gimbel! A magic combine, this, recalling the halcyon days when films were voiceless.

But, with bombshell suddenness, sound came; in the first frenzy, Hollywood and its public alike went heart and soul for the theatrical tones of any ham who had ever spoken lines. With Gimbel's initial talking picture, his voice was found lacking the dulcet purr of the new favorites, and audiences turned away.

Nora Hansen fared better. Surrounded by an aura of glamor and mystery, press agent-women, she remained sacred to her public. Two more silent pictures she made while studying English, and then her first talkie was released. The rest is history.

All this came to every one's mind and lips with word of Gimbel's selection. But there were a few for whom the thing held deeper meaning—who remembered the hints of something beyond professional interest between Hansen and her co-star in the old days.

But now, they asked, wasn't there more than met the eye in the star's demand for Gimbel? To Fiberg, the producer, who had tried dissuasion, she had said:

"For five years you gift me my actors—nine or ten different ones—and I do not like any of dem. Now I shall haff de man I want. You 'tink he is—what-you-call-it—'trough.' Well, I show you he is still de best screen lover of all."

Never in all her career, had Hollywood's eagerest gossips been able to couple Nora Hansen's name with another's. Until recently, Gimbel, too, had been free of entanglements. A year before, however, he had unexpectedly married his newest leading lady.

Toward the actor Hansen displayed a rare warmth of manner, while he, in turn, seemed to regain the dash and zest of former years.

Then gradually, as the numerous love scenes were rehearsed and shot, a change began to appear in Gimbel's mood.

Suddenly, as the last week of production started, Gimbel went to Fiberg with a surprise request.

"I want a two-day leave of absence," he announced; "I'd rather not tell you why, but it's very necessary."

To the producer's ears had come the current rumors, and now he stared quizzically at Gimbel. After a moment's silence, he said:

"Maybe you know it, and maybe you don't; but I was against putting you in this picture—and it looks like my hunch was right. They tell me you're costing me plenty for retakes and overtime wages. Now you want to tie everything up and take a vacation?" The actor frowned with a touch of impatience.

"Just allow me these next two days," he repeated, "and I promise you'll have no further cause for complaint."

Fiberg started to voice a sharp refusal, checked himself, and gave a contemptuous snort.

"All right," he said disgustedly; "get out—and take Hansen with you!"

"A splendid idea!" he exclaimed. "I'll do that!"

A brief notice informed the cast and crew that shooting would be discontinued for two days. Immediately gossip buzzed afresh, and a hundred theories of the cause were offered. All guessing, however, soon ended. At ten that evening, a news broadcast announced that Nora Hansen and James Gimbel, unaccompanied, had been seen arriving an hour before at Big Buffalo lake, a mountain resort fifty miles from Los Angeles.

Seated at home, Fiberg heard the item and came close to apoplexy. All too well he knew the public's distinction between spicy rumor and bald scandal. Frantically he phoned to Mile-Hi Lodge, the lake's one large hotel, told his name, and demanded to speak with Gimbel. After a brief wait, the actor's voice spoke in his ear, sounding excited.

"Where's Hansen?" Fiberg queried at once.

"In my suite; why?" "You're fired!" he shouted; "fired—do you hear me? And if you don't get her back here in two hours, I'll have you arrested—I'll—"

A ringing laugh from the other end cut him off. When it was somewhat under control, Gimbel stammered mirthfully:

"Listen, you big stiff—it's a boy—an eight-pound boy!"

"Been expecting it for two weeks—ever since my wife came up here to dodge the publicity—but we just arrived in time. And listen—Nora says the darned kid looks like me!"

TRACK PRACTICE STARTED

Coach R. W. Barton started the practice season last week for the track and field men at the Artesia high school. So far little interest has been manifested in the track work, due probably to the spring football practice. Ten candidates reported for the first practice, but the number will likely be augmented as the season gets under way.

From Pig to Man

There are at least six diseases which man may catch from hogs. One that is usually quite serious is undulant fever, also called brucellosis. This is a disease that also affects goats and cows, but the pig variety of brucellosis is the most dangerous to man. Then there is the pork tape worm that is got through eating mealy pork. Although common in Mexico this worm is not found often in the United States. Moreover we are protected from it by meat inspection if we buy meat with the government stamp on it. The disease we catch most commonly from pigs, however, is trichinosis and against this disease meat inspection is no protection. This point deserves emphasis. It is not commonly known that microscopic examination for trichinella spiralis was abandoned in 1907; partly no doubt because even with such an examination it is impossible to be sure that the meat is not infested.

The trichinella spiralis is a worm that lives its brief adult life in the hog's intestine. Mr. Worm is one sixteenth of an inch long and his wife almost twice as long as he is. When she has been an adult for about ten days Mrs. Worm gives birth to 1,000 or more babies each one two hundred and fiftieth of an inch in length. These babies get into the blood stream and thence to the muscles. Having grown to ten times their original size they curl up each into a larva. The larval cysts are so small and so much the same color as muscle that when you look at your pork you cannot possibly see them without a microscope. If you eat them uncoked the larvae come out of their cysts in your intestine and in two or three days are adult worms. About two weeks after the pork is eaten thousands and thousands of new babies are in your blood and burrowing into your muscles. Whether you live or die depends on how many thousands there are. Unless the doctor knows you have been eating raw sausage or undone pork he will not be likely to know what is wrong. He may think you have rheumatism or influenza or even typhoid fever. There is only one way of guarding against trichinosis: if you eat pork, be sure that it is well cooked.

CONVERTIBLES GET SPRING CALL

There is an early demand for convertibles this year, according to sales officials of the Hudson Motor Car Company who report that even this far north sales have begun on this sport type of car. One of the early birds to take advantage of the first spring sunshine is Patricia Ellis, Detroit film star, who has appeared in several prominent Warner Brothers pictures, such as "The St. Louis Kid" in which she played with James Cagney. Miss Ellis has left with her convertible for Hollywood to start work on the Warner Brothers picture "Hold 'Em Yale", shortly to appear. Miss Ellis is the only girl appearing in this picture.

The Time to Sell Peanuts is When People are on the Way to the Circus-- and right now they're on their way to the Big Business Tops

There is a whale of a lot of difference between the buying mood of people today as compared with a year ago. They're out to spend some money, and they are having more money to spend.

It may have been good business sense for a merchant to have retrenched in his advertising activities when people were not spending any more money than was absolutely necessary.

But such a retrenchment policy at this time is false economy. Truly, there is now no more profitable investment or expenditure a merchant or business can make than to get back into an advertising program—not necessarily an expensive one, but some sort-of advertising at least.

Merchants and businesses have lost customers over the last few years—old customers who have been "badly hit" in a financial way; former customers who have moved away; past patrons who have switched to other stores and sources of supply.

And if Mr. Merchant permits this condition to continue, he will soon awaken to the disastrous fact that his business has been undermined by more alert and energetic competition. It is a hundred times more difficult and expensive to revive an UNDERMINED BUSINESS than to keep a going business going along.

Here before you is the opportune time and the business opportunity to get that sales volume back to normal, and to increase it.

And advertising in The Advocate is the most productive and economical method of advertising to Artesia people. Any local merchant who practices any other form of local advertising is spending two and three times to bring in the same SALES DOLLAR which Advocate space could bring in for one-half or one-third less.

Colorado Citizens Flee From Dust

SPRINGFIELD, Colorado — Mountainous columns of powdered soil still smothered southeastern Colorado and nearby portions of Kansas and Oklahoma Sunday, burying wheat fields and pasture lands and farm machinery.

It was the twelfth consecutive day of howling gales and blinding dust for the residents of Baca and Prowers counties in Colorado.

No longer do they find the storm a phenomenon. It has become a roaring menace to their existence, rapidly erasing the slight means of subsistence they had salvaged from four successive years of extreme drought.

An exodus of residents has been started, Kenneth Welch, Baca county relief administrator, said.

At least 100 families in the past week have asked federal funds with which to seek refuge elsewhere.

The First State Bank of Pritchett, center of Baca county's once prosperous livestock raising district, closed its doors Friday as a result of the storms, it became known here Sunday.

Directors announced the bank was solvent and would pay out in full, but could not continue business in the face of drought and the ruin spread by the dust barrage.

"Dust pneumonia," caused by dust irritation of lungs, is no longer considered an immediate threat to lives by doctors of this area. However, they regard infection from soil particles as partly responsible for six recent deaths.

Care Of Land Controls Erosion

This is the season of soil movement; in fact, almost every spring in New Mexico is dry, and the loose dry soil moves with spring winds, says G. R. Quesberry of the New Mexico State College. Few farmers appreciate the amount that is actually lost. Muddy water moving off of fields usually makes gullies and depressions that are readily noticeable but when the wind takes away even one-eighth of an inch of surface soil, 36 tons, few will notice it. Waters in New Mexico move a small amount of soil when compared with the winds. This spring millions of tons of soil were transported from cultivated New Mexico fields.

It is much easier to prevent than to correct the conditions that now prevail. Farms with practically no signs of blow may be seen adjacent to other completely denuded farms. Over-grazing and severe winter pasturing are some of the factors that contribute to blow.

Road sides adjoining cultivated farms should be planted. Weeds, with the possible exception of Russian thistle, should be left along the road side. A strip, not less than 100 feet in width, of untilled land should be left around every field. If this land does not have sod it should be planted to some fibrous rooted crop and left unmolested for the succeeding windy season. Wheat, rye, or sudan grass can be planted along the roadside.

Group action by farmers in any community will largely control wind erosion.

The title of "meanest men" can be bestowed, police say, upon Ed Fryauf and Paul Goldschmidt of Davenport, Iowa, who stole an old-age pension check and bought beer with it.

County Board Endorses Resolutions For Employing The Rural Teachers

At a meeting of the county board of education last week at Carlsbad, recommendations were made with reference to the employment of teachers for 1935-36. The regulations promulgated to cooperate with the national recovery program, were embodied in resolutions, the gist of which were as follows: The county board has the authority to employ local teachers but the local school directors will be permitted to select their own teachers, subject to the following regulations: It is recommended that no married woman be employed who has a husband employed at a wage sufficient to support his family up to the average American standard. That under no circumstances shall a husband and wife be employed in the same school.

The board also recommended that special attention be given to selecting teachers qualified for their positions. Teachers trained in primary work should be employed in primary grades. Teachers trained in intermediate work for intermediate grades and trained rural teachers for the one-room school. If the county board does not wish to employ a teacher nominated by the local trustees, the county superintendent shall notify the local board to make another selection. If teachers are not employed by local board by the third Tuesday in July, or if the board has not made a selection suitable to the board, the county board shall employ a teacher of their own selection. After the teacher or teachers have been selected, the county board shall set the amount of pay.

In conclusion, the resolutions say

Judgments were ordered against George A. Fesler in two cases. One was in the suit filed by L. A. Swigart, and ordered the foreclosure of a mortgage for a debt of $10,706.85. In the other, in a suit filed by Morrison and Pardue, a Loving firm, foreclosure of a chattel mortgage was ordered for a debt of $736.73. Answers had not been filed by the defendant during the 30-day period allowed by law and judgment was ordered by reason of the default.

Hay awarded Glenn O'Bannon damages of $275, and Frank Howard damages of $225, alleged to have been incurred in quashing a writ of indictment secured against them by R. L. Scott. Scott was not represented in court. R. A. Wilcox, county clerk, testified that he had not replied to notices of the suit.

The Dowling-Moody company was upheld in its suit against J. W. Hyatt over a $10 garnishment. The Dowling-Moody company had previously won judgment in the court of Frank H. Richards, justice of the peace. Richards was upheld in his contention that the debt was incurred for necessities of life and that Hyatt could not claim an exemption from his wages.

The Borrower's Best Credential

It used to be a common practice by many borrowers to renew their loans over and over again. They paid the interest but, as they were "good for it," did not seem to think it was necessary to be in a hurry to pay the principal.

Today this practice is recognized as unsound and contrary to safe banking principles. Banks are no longer permitted to extend loans indefinitely.

A "clean slate"—all old obligations wiped off—is a borrower's best credential when seeking further credit. The most welcome borrower today is the man who not only can pay, but does pay his loans at regular intervals.
