EDDY CO.'S BUDGET CUT 10 PERCENT

Eddy Commissioners Are Represented At Meet in Roswell With Tax Commission When Budget Is Approved.

A reduction of approximately ten percent in the tax levy for Eddy county general fund expenses and a reduction of approximately $8,000 in required revenues for the county was tentatively approved late Friday by Byron O. Beall, chief tax commissioner, at a meeting held at Roswell.

Beall met with G. R. Brainard, chairman of the board of county commissioners; Joe Lusk, a commissioner; R. A. "Rude" Wilcox, county clerk, and Dwight Lee, sheriff.

Required revenue in the 1935-36 fiscal year will be approximately $49,000 as compared with $57,000 in the past year, Mr. Brainard said.

Reductions in required revenues in different funds were not available. Figures were taken to Santa Fe by Beall, Mr. Brainard said, and the approved budget will not likely be received until late this week.

A requested increase in the school budget in the county of $25,000 has been requested, however, the commissioners have nothing to do either with the school budgets or city budgets.

The budget for the City of Artesia has been approved by the state tax commission, it was learned here Monday. The budget, approved as written, represents a slight reduction over the last year's budget. The budget is approximately $20,000 for all departments.

G. R. Brainard, chairman of the board of county commissioners, said yesterday the budget had been approved by the state tax commission but the budget data had not been returned from Santa Fe. The new budget, he said, would permit a probable reduction of about five percent in the county taxes, but the reduction would be offset by the increase in school taxes.

At a meeting in Carlsbad yesterday the commissioners discussed the appointment of a county agent with Mr. Hollinger of State College. No definite action was taken, however, the commissioners will meet again Monday, at which time an agent appointment will likely be made.

Miss Beatrice Howell Dies At A Carlsbad Hospital Sunday Morn

Miss Beatrice Howell, aged 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Howell of Lakewood, died at a Carlsbad hospital early Sunday, following an operation for appendicitis on September 3rd. The condition of Miss Howell had been critical for several days and her death was not unexpected.

Funeral services were held at Carlsbad Tuesday morning and the body was brought here for interment in the Woodbine cemetery. The members of the immediate family surviving the deceased are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howell and a brother, Herbert Howell of Artesia.

Court House Loan and Grant Is Filed

An application for a loan and grant of $136,000 for the construction of a central and west wing sections to the Eddy county court house was filed in Santa Fe with the public works administration September 4th by George L. Reese, Jr., district attorney, and Joe Lusk, county commissioner, from the Carlsbad district.

A loan of approximately $75,000 and a grant of more than $61,000 is sought in the application. September 4th was the final day for the filing of PWA applications in Santa Fe. The applications must reach Washington not later than September 16.

A special bond election has been called here to vote on bonds of $75,000 for the construction of the court house which will be held September 17th in connection with the special state election when several amendments to the state constitution will be voted on.

Large Black Bear Is Found Dead On Upper Cottonwood

A large black bear was reported to have been found dead in the pasture of the Basel farm in the Upper Cottonwood section Friday. The bear had evidently migrated from the hills and is said to have spent several days foraging in the Cottonwood settlement before he met his death and had killed several turkeys and chickens as well as invaded watermelon and corn patches. He is also said to have frightened school children on one or two occasions.

The black bear, one of the largest ever seen in this vicinity, measured about six and a half feet. He was rather poor, indicating the range where had been was not in a good condition. Last year about this time or shortly after, two or three bears from the hills visited the Cottonwood section, evidently driven out of the brush by the drought. However, the bears last year did not damage crops. Ranchers and farmers say other bears may follow this year later in the season.

INCREASED ENROLLMENT AT COTTONWOOD SCHOOL

Mrs. Roy Phillips has been elected as a teacher in the Cottonwood school, succeeding I. H. Burgess, who resigned to accept the principalship of the Mayhill school.

Motorists Asked To Have Inspection Made To Comply With Law

Members of the state police force here Saturday called attention of the motorists to the periodic inspection of the brakes, lights and steering gear. Three times a year your car should be inspected for defective brakes, lights and steering gear to comply with the provisions of the new law. The white sticker which will be affixed on your windshield following the inspection, is good for the next four months, beginning with September 1st, 1935. A red sticker was used during the second four months ending with August. See the announcement of the authorized testing stations in this issue.

STALEY TO ACT AS PRORATION UMPIRE OF DIST.

Compromise Reached By Operators; Maljamar to Produce 10,000 to 12,000 Barrels Monthly; Eddy County 70,000 to 80,000.

Oil operators of the Maljamar and Eddy county oil fields attending a proration meeting at Santa Fe Friday, reached a compromise agreement on the output of these districts. The session was attended by about twelve operators.

Glenn Staley, proration umpire of the Hobbs pool, will serve the local districts in the same capacity. The Maljamar pool in western Lea county will be permitted to produce from 12,000 to 15,000 barrels monthly, the former figure being the minimum and the latter the maximum. The remaining productive districts were placed in one division, the production of this division will be based on market demand, which will run from 70,000 to 80,000 barrels per month, according to the present demand.

The agreement reached Friday contained some of the provisions reached in a proration meeting held here several weeks ago, as which included the agreement, which included the provision that a well with a potential of twenty-five barrels daily or under would be permitted to produce to capacity, while those over twenty-five barrels daily would be permitted to produce twenty-five barrels plus a percentage of the remaining production.

The present proration agreement will run from September 1, 1935, for a period of six months.

TWO DAYS ON PHEASANTS

Building Activity Is In Evidence At New Town of Sacramento

Much building activity is in evidence at the new town of Sacramento at the site of the Sacramento Methodist summer assembly grounds, four miles west of Weed. A new Methodist church building is under construction. The walls of the building have been erected and workmen have started putting on the roof. When completed the structure will be the most pretentious church building in the Sacramento area. The assembly dining hall, which will seat 120 people will be doubled in size and a second story added to the present building, according to plans announced recently by the board. Plans have also been made to erect a number of cottages between now and the assembly opening next summer.

The post office at Sacramento has also been made permanent with mail service daily, since the establishment of a mail route from here to Sacramento, it was announced recently.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CAPITOL

Improvements on the grounds at the state house in Santa Fe are almost completed. The grounds have been landscaped, the old driveways torn up and the space planted to grass.

For the first time in years the grounds are blanketed with a covering of green. All ugly bare spots have been re-seeded and the grass is now high enough in most of the beds to mow.

The state house grounds are rapidly becoming a show place, a vivid contrast to the unkempt appearance of a year ago.

HOPE TO START COTTON PROGRAM EARLY THIS YEAR

Hope that the 1936 cotton program will be started much earlier than was the 1935 program was expressed in a letter received by W. D. Bales, chairman of the county cotton committee, yesterday at Carlsbad from Frederic A. Coffey, retiring state committee chairman.

Mr. Coffey asked the continued cooperation of the farmers of the county and at the same time thanked county farmers, committeemen, and members of the secretarial force for their cooperation with him.

He pleaded for efforts to make a more efficient adjustment program. Coffey resigned to take up some advance investigation work in college.

Certificates Are Now Available Cotton Farmers

520 Certificates Issued to Eddy County Farmers; Forms for Transfer To Be Available Soon In County Agent's Office.

The Eddy county allotment, consisting of 8,338,636 pounds of tax exemption certificates, has been practically all issued to producers. Of this amount 5,266,866 pounds were issued to 280 applications in the Carlsbad district, and 3,071,770 pounds were allotted to 240 applications in the Artesia district.

Forms for transfer and sale of these certificates will be available in the county agent's office in the near future. The assistant in cotton adjustment wishes to emphasize the fact that no certificates may be transferred or sold except upon approval of the assistant in cotton adjustment. Producers who are tenants and wish to transfer to producers who are tenants on the same farm may make such a transfer at the county agent's office by merely endorsing his certificate in favor of the tenant to whom it is being transferred, provided that he received the legal value of his certificate, which has been set by the secretary of agriculture at 5 cents per pound. Any certificate being sold by one producer to a producer operating another farm, will be cancelled by the assistant in cotton adjustment and a new certificate of the same number of pounds will be issued to the purchaser at the same time, provided the legal value has been paid to the seller in the presence of the assistant in cotton adjustment. Any producer desiring to sell or purchase certificates should seek information at the gins or county agent's office regarding rules and regulations pertaining to certificate transfers and sales.

The allotment to those producers who applied for Bankhead certificates on the basis of cotton history of 1933 and 1934 will be issued out of the state reserve and is expected to be available in the near future. The national cotton certificate pool opened in Washington on September 4th. This pool is established for the purpose of handling surplus certificates. It is believed that Eddy county will have sufficient certificates available to care for its own needs by transfer and sales within the

Betty Reed Severely Burned Sunday From Flaming Distillate Can

Miss Betty Reed, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reed of the Cottonwood, was severely burned Sunday morning when her clothes accidentally caught fire from a can of burning distillate. She probably owes her life to her brother, Jack Reed, who extinguished the flames by tearing the clothing from the body of Betty after she had run a short distance.

She sustained burns about the back by the flaming dress and the flames singed the hair on the back of her neck. She was rushed here for treatment, but on being unable to locate a physician quickly Mr. and Mrs. Reed carried her on to Carlsbad where she received first aid.

Fortunately the burns, although painful, will not prove serious and Betty is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily.

Other committee members include: W. E. Kerr, superintendent of the city schools; E. C. Hawkins, superintendent of the Hope schools; G. R. Spencer, county superintendent, and Esther L. Cohen, social service worker.

Applications for aid will be filed with the superintendent of each community and the number of applications granted will depend on the number of families on relief, it was said.

BIG WELL IS FINISHED IN NEW POOL

Amerada Gets Producer Rated At 16,704 Barrels Daily In the Monument Districts; Many Other Completions Made.

The position of the Monument district in Lea county was further strengthened this week with the completion of the biggest well of the area, one that rivals the best the Hobbs pool has been able to produce. Two miles south of the discovery well, the Amerada Petroleum Corp., drilled in its Andrews No. 1, sec. 12-20-36, at 3,900 feet. After acid treatment of 3500 gallons the well flowed 671 barrels of oil the first hour and 722 barrels the second hour, for an average hourly production of approximately 696 barrels. At this figure the production of the new well is rated at about 16,704 barrels per day. The gas flow is said to be 14,500,000 feet.

The Atlantic Oil Co., also completed a small well in its State No. 1-D, sec. 20-21-36, at 3931 feet. At a depth of 3931 feet, the State No. 1-D, is said to have made thirty barrels of oil per hour thru tubing with 750,000 feet of gas. The Continental Oil Co., has completed a large well in the Hobbs district, this being the Grimes No. 4 in sec. 28-18-38, at a depth of 4225 feet. The initial production of the well was gauged at 5437 barrels with 1,000,000 feet of gas. Other finished wells include one for R. H. Henderson, the Langley No. 1, sec. 8-23-37, drilled to 3485 feet and plugged back to 3468 feet. On a test the well is said to have flowed sixteen barrels of oil in six hours.

The Humble Oil and Refining Co., State 5-B, sec. 29-21-36, drilled to 3,900 feet and on an initial production gauge made ninety-one barrels of oil an hour and 1,000,000 feet of gas thru tubing.

The Ohio Oil Co., also finished its Maxwell No. 1, sec. 16-22-36, at a depth of 3860 feet and on an initial proration gauge the well tested 400 barrels of oil a day and 200,000 feet of gas. The Sun Oil Co., also completed its Weir No. 2, sec. 35-19-36, at a depth of 3936 feet, after acid treatment the test flowed at the rate of eighty-five barrels per hour thru tubing.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Voters of New Mexico will be called on the decide important issues on September 17th, when they vote on the five proposed constitutional amendments. Study should be made of these amendments, so that an intelligent vote may be registered. Remember that regardless of the results, September 18th, will be too late to do anything about it.

We propose to discuss briefly these amendments. You will probably vote as you please, but some thoughts brought out in the discussion may interest you.

Amendment No. 1 proposes to exempt the homestead owner up to the sum of $2,500. This proposal is designed to lift the burden of taxation from the home owner, except on bond issues or special levies. This amendment is generally regarded as a break for the home owners. For if other classes of citizens are entitled to an exemption, the home owner may as well be included. If the amendment carries, it will probably necessitate raising other forms of taxation revenue.

Amendment No. 2 proposes the appointment of a board of education with the power to appoint a state superintendent of public instruction. The purpose of this amendment is to attempt to take the schools out of politics. This proposal sounds good on the surface, but whether the schools are kept out of politics will depend on the chief executive in the future years for the chief executive wields the "big stick."

Amendment No. 3 would permit land exchanges between the state and the United States. Sponsors of this amendment claim that it would permit the state to consolidate its lands while the federal government would be permitted to block its lands in the forest reserves. We are told this amendment would allow the state to get its lands in such shape to be able to collect revenues from the lands, whereas under the present arrangement much of the state owned area brings little or no revenue. Opponents of the proposal say that the state has already had opportunity to select the best lands and that any further trading would only result in a detriment to the state. Opponents also say that the state could collect revenues from its lands by a special act and that amendment 3 is unnecessary.

Amendment No. 4 relates to the speeding of criminal trials and would permit second trial for the same offense or a higher degree of offense than that which the accused was tried in the first instance.

Amendment No. 5 also relates to the speeding of criminal trials. This amendment provides for trial of persons accused of crime upon information filed by the district attorney or his deputies. A grand jury of twelve may indict a person accused of crime when eight vote for conviction.

We have not heard any objections voiced to either of the last two amendments. These proposals appear to be worthy and will in all probability be approved by the voters.

THE RURAL PRESS

There are some 15,500 newspapers and periodicals published in this country. The greatest proportion of them are small-town weeklies, dailies and semi-weeklies, and magazines whose principal appeal is to the rural dweller.

The importance, the influence, and the worth of these publications can hardly be exaggerated. They are, as the San Francisco Argonaut has written, "the chief influence in the thought habits of our rural population of fifty-four million." And the character of their comment, both in news and editorial departments, well repays those who peruse them.

As a result, the recent contest held by the magazine "Country Home" to pick the best country newspaper correspondent in the United States, was of much more importance and interest than contests usually are. The winner, a woman, lives in a Missouri town which has a population of twenty-seven, and is fifteen miles from the nearest railroad. For forty-four years she has been local correspondent for a rural paper in her county.

Urban editors, on reading excerpts from her correspondence, have been amazed by its quality. It does not deal with crimes and misdemeanors. Instead it tells of the crops, of the trials, tribulations and achievements of farm people who rarely make the metropolitan headlines, but who, happily, are more numerous and more vital to the nation than our gangsters, our political and business renegades, and our ex-show-girl divorcees.

Most interesting of all, this woman's correspondence, fine as it is, is not greatly different from that of other rural correspondents. Winners of lesser prizes in the contest show the same qualities—the same command of clear and vivid English. The country newspaper, little known as it is to the city dweller, is one of the finest, most permanent, and most deservedly successful influences in our American life. Last, but not least, it is the outstanding guardian of the nation in upholding our American ideals.

ANOTHER POLITICAL CLIQUE DEVELOPED

It appears the New Mexico Educational association has gone into politics in a big way. The association is attempting to tell the voters how to vote on the proposed amendments, September 17th, and has been flooding the newspapers with propaganda for this or that amendment.

Among other things the association is against the homestead exemption amendment and strong for the amendment that proposes the appointment of the state superintendent instead of his election.

A good many observers believe the association will profit more by devoting its time to the educational problems rather than the political problems of the state. The political activity of the association has gradually increased and it would be no surprise to see this organization entering into the lesser sub-divisions of the state and trying to dictate matters of petty politics.

The association has also been strong for more taxation, regardless of how just the proposed taxation might be. Oil operators remember how this organization tried to keep the severance tax saddled on the industry.

If we were real fashionable and up-to-date we might be printing a tabloid daily instead of issuing a paper once a week and in that case it might be a degeneration. At least this is what one New Mexico weekly, the Alamogordo News, thought of a contemporary that made the change, stating that the contemporary had gone from a first-class weekly to a fourth-class daily. There is one source of financial remuneration that might tempt a publisher and this is due to the advertising policies of some of the larger companies, particularly the tobacco companies that advertise in a daily only.

A man consulted his physician for a general run-down condition. The doctor told him he was suffering from alcoholism. He told the doctor he wouldn't dare tell his wife that, and asked for some big word to tell her that would obscure the meaning. The doctor refused to give him any other name. On his way home he tried to think of a big word to tell his wife. He passed a music store and saw the word "Syncopation" in the window, and decided to tell his wife that was the disease he had. When he told her, she was terribly alarmed and consulted the dictionary as to its meaning. She read the definition, "Erratic leaping from bar to bar."

A traveling salesman visited a small town, and sold the proprietor of its general store an order of jewelry.

When the jewelry arrived it was not as represented, and the merchant returned it. But the wholesale house, nevertheless, attempted to collect the bill, and drew a sight draft on the merchant through the local bank, which returned the draft unhonored.

The wholesalers then wrote to the postmaster inquiring about the financial standing of the merchant, and the postmaster replied laconically that it was "O. K."

By return mail the wholesalers requested him to "hand the enclosed account to the leading lawyer of the place for collection."

This is the reply they received: "The undersigned is the merchant on whom you attempt to palm off your worthless goods."

"The undersigned is president and owner of the bank to which you sent your sight draft."

"The undersigned is the postmaster to whom you wrote, and the undersigned is the lawyer whose service you sought to obtain for your nefarious business."

Roosevelt Says Business To Get Breathing Spell

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's promise of a legislative "breathing spell" for business Saturday met with both acclaim and criticism.

Republicans said it was just a "campaign promise." Democrats welcomed it as a favorable move for the New Deal.

Observers, viewing the widely varied comment, expressed one opinion that a balanced budget—untouched in Mr. Roosevelt's statement to Roy Howard, publisher—would be a leading issue in the coming election campaign.

One Republican, Senator McNary of Oregon, said the New Deal "breathing spell will permit retrenchment of expenditures and will aid business materially."

"The country will welcome a breathing spell which will do much to restore confidence," he said. "I have advocated it for months."

It was Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the republican national committee, who said: "The president has opened the 1936 campaign with a new set of assurances and promises."

Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio, a democrat, declared: "My information . . . indicates that business is all set to go if uncertainty, doubt and fear can be removed from the situation. I am happy indeed that the president has given this assurance."

Senator Black (D-Ala) described the statement as "a wonderfully clear explanation of his program, its original aims and its execution. It should be a call to those engaged in business to cooperate in further national progress."

To Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury in the Hoover administration, the statement "evades rather than meets the issue."

"If there is to be an early and general recovery," he said, "the country must also know how much longer Mr. Roosevelt intends to continue his efforts to squander our way to prosperity . . ."

SPEAKS ON AMENDMENTS

W. B. McCrory was the principal speaker at the luncheon program of the Artesia Rotary club Tuesday and discussed the five proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on September 17th. Mr. McCrory gave both views on each amendment as they have been discussed by the New Mexico press and also discussed briefly the origin of two of the amendments.

Two members who have spent some time in California were given a "hand" on being received back into the club. The members were C. J. Dexter and Ray Bartlett.

Gil Amis and Tom Burnham of Roswell were the only two visitors present.

The new policy follows the sentencing of a defendant to six months in the state prison by Judge M. A. Otero, Jr.

Fall Ordered To Leave His Ranch

ALAMOGORDO—Citations were to be served Tuesday on A. B. Fall and members of his family, asking immediate possession of the home on the Fall ranch, recently sold by the Petroleum Securities Corp., to the Palomas Land & Cattle Co.

The suit, filed with the third judicial district court Tuesday, alleged the Falls have been illegal occupants of the ranch since August 15th, when notice to vacate was given. At that time Fall said he would fight the removal notice, because the ranch home and approximately one hundred acres of farm land surrounding it had not been included in the mortgage which was foreclosed by the Do-hey controlled securities corporation on May 20, 1930.

Best Fall Business Since 1930 Is Seen May Get Control Of All the Grazing Land On Domain

WASHINGTON—The best fall business since 1930 was forecast Sunday by the American Federation of Labor.

At the same time, the federation, in its monthly business survey, told industry that labor must share in increased earnings to make permanent any gain.

"After a five months waiting period, business was starting strongly upward again," the survey said.

"Prospects for the remaining months of 1935 are brighter for the business executive; prospective gains in business must be shared with worker in the form of jobs and wage increases if we are to have a balanced and permanent recovery.

"The last four months of 1935 may well bring the highest level of industrial operations and earnings for any similar period since 1929."

BUS REGULATIONS

SANTA FE—The recent congress passed much needed legislation to regulate interstate bus traffic. Heretofore there were no federal laws providing for uniform regulation of this traffic. Each state did the best it could, but efforts of the states were handicapped.

The federal act takes effect in October, unless the time is extended. The bill provides an extension may be made until April, 1936. The corporation commission has announced that any common carriers or contract carriers wishing to do an interstate business will be given a hearing on September 9th or September 24th, so that action may be taken by the state before the federal law goes into effect.

After those dates such applications will go directly before the I. C. C. Present interstate carriers are not affected.

Texas Gin Case Is Reset For Sept. 23

SHERMAN, Texas — Federal Judge Randolph Bryant announced Monday that the suit of D. C. Wallace and the Texas Cotton Ginners Association vs. W. A. Thomas et al., involving the constitutionality of the Bankhead Cotton Control Act, has been reset for September 23 at Tyler.

Originally set for hearing on its merits September 11 at Sherman, the case was reset by Judge Bryant after a conference with Ralph W. Malone of Dallas, and attorneys representing ginners.

The judge said plaintiffs planned to file a supplemental bill at the Tyler hearing asking some form of relief from expenses they alleged were incurred in complying with the Bankhead act.

A preliminary injunction granted July 19 against enforcement of the act never became effective because the ginners failed to post a $100,000 bond.

NO ACTS OF CARELESSNESS IN THE FLORIDA DISTASTER

MIAMI, Florida—Three separate investigators Tuesday night agreed no human culpability figured in the storm last week that brought death to 400 persons in the Florida Keys but veterans organizations insist their dead comrades could have been saved.

State Attorney G. A. Worley, after four days spent quizzing weather bureau officials, veterans camp officers, FERA heads and Keys residents, announced: "No evidence has been found indicating culpable negligence on the part of any persons, and there will be no indictments or recommendation of indictments in my report of investigation of the Key storm disaster."

Huey Long Dies From Assassin's Bullet Tuesday

Senator Huey P. Long was shot and fatally wounded in the abdomen Sunday night in the state house at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and his assassin, Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., Baton Rouge specialist, was riddled by more than a score of bullets and killed.

Long was able to walk down the steps from the first floor to the basement of the Louisiana capitol and was taken to a Baton Rouge hospital where physicians at first said his condition was not critical. The bullet, fired from a .32 automatic, entered the right side of his abdomen and ranged through his body, emerging from the back side. The United States senator was leaving the Louisiana house of representatives when shot.

Long died after a third blood transfusion had been made to save his life. Death came at 3:10 (MST) Tuesday morning. While the Louisiana senator was sinking, funeral services were conducted for Dr. Weiss, the assassin, at the St. Joseph Catholic church in Baton Rouge and the services were attended by hundreds of friends, including practically every physician in Baton Rouge. Undertakers said there were thirty bullet holes in Weiss' body.

The shooting was the result of political charges. One of the first acts of the house of representatives was the passage of a bill aimed at Judge B. H. Pavy, father-in-law of Dr. Weiss, political foe of Long.

AMERICANS ORDERED TO LEAVE ETHIOPIA

ADDIS ABABA—United States legation officials said Tuesday Americans who remained in Ethiopia did so against the advice of the state department.

The government assured Cornelius Van Engert, United States charge d'affaires, that all Americans in Ethiopia who wished to leave were free to go.

Nevertheless, most of the Americans were staying. Italian officials expressed astonishment at the decision of Emperor Haile Selassie not to permit Italy to send troops to Addis Ababa as a legation guard. The emperor gave no reasons for his decision.

The Italians contended his refusal was unfair, since the British were allowed to bring in 129 Sikhs only a few days ago to reinforce their legation guard.

Summer Heat

Too many cautions cannot be printed against sunburn. No matter how much is said or written, no matter what one's past experience may have been, the majority of people show unreasonable haste in acquiring a sunburn.

"I'm going to be tanned like an Indian," they say, forgetting that the Indian's red-brown skin is natural. Children are in danger, because they don't know there is any danger. In the summer, they have all day for play. The release from school is tempting, with so many things to do. If parents aren't mindful and watching, the first day or two in the summer sun may bring a serious burn. Then a week of suffering, often confined to bed.

And it isn't always as simple as that. Burn from the sun is no different from any burn. It isn't confined to a sore skin. Poisons, or body toxins, are formed. The child may be feverish and nauseated. In attempting to throw off the poisons, the kidneys may be injured. Sometimes severe prostration results.

In all cases of sunburn, it is advisable to place a child in a physician's care. Wise treatment will prevent the complications. But the greatest wisdom is shown at the beginning. Take the sunburn gradually, a little each day. "Give the skin a chance to tan painlessly."

Britain Demands League Rules Be Kept By Nations

Great Britain gave warning to the world, through her foreign secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, that the League of Nations must enforce a peaceful settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

He said that League failure would wreck the "main bridge" binding England to the continent. Great Britain, stated the diplomat, will back the League covenant "in its entirety."

He suggested that advanced peoples should lend helping hands to "backward nations."

The eagerly debated question of Great Britain's position in the imbroglio between Italy and Ethiopia is officially no longer a question.

Great Britain stands firmly for the maintenance of the principles of the League of Nations.

This stand was expressed directly and flatly to the League of Nations assembled by Sir Samuel Hoare, the British foreign secretary.

Those who heard Sir Samuel interpreted his speech as a friendly warning to Premier Mussolini of Italy that Great Britain would be opposed to an unprovoked war against Ethiopia.

Meanwhile, Italian preparations for war went steadily ahead as 50,000 more men were called to the colors in a draft believed to be the last necessary to complete mobilization this month of 1,000,000 men.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Martin and her cousin, Miss Helen Grace Gray of Cross Plains, Texas, spent Saturday and Sunday in El Paso. Miss Gray, who has been visiting here for a few weeks, returned to her home from there. Mr. and Mrs. Martin spent Monday and Tuesday in Las Cruces, returning here Tuesday evening.

Miss Vena Gault, sister of Mrs. Howard Stroup, and her friend, Wilson Cochran of Mercer, Pennsylvania, were overnight visitors of her sister and husband Thursday. Mrs. M. F. Gault, mother of Mrs. Stroup, and little daughter Helen who have been visiting in the Stroup home for several days, returned to their home in Tucuman, Friday. They drove over with Miss Gault and Mr. Cochran.

GOLDEN PHANTOMS

HIDDEN "STONES OF THE SKY"

THE late Charles F. Lummis, famous roamer and chronicler of the Southwest, relates in one of his articles that the Indians knew how to hide springs of water so well that they were found only by accident. He bolstered this statement with an account of the experience of the Hon. Amado Chavez of San Mateo, N. M., who found that a small space of ground near some ancient ruins seemed springy under his horse's tread. He had this strange spot dug into, and excavations revealed a layer of cedar bark at some distance beneath the surface. Below this were pine logs laid close together, then more bark, and these layers were repeated for a depth of several feet. When the last of this material had been removed, a little spring was found. With such success in concealing a spring, it is only natural that a mine shaft could be hidden equally as well by the wily natives. So, somewhere in New Mexico there is said to be a turquoise mine which was hidden by its primitive workers, and would never have been found in the ordinary run of matters. The "Stones of the Sky" were precious to the aborigines—so precious that they tried to conceal their source.

However, fate decreed that a cave which was conveniently located should be enlarged as a storage place for ranch supplies. The cave was not deep enough in its natural state, but a charge of dynamite would attend to that without much trouble. So it was planned, and so it was accomplished, but when the rancher looked in to see the results of the shot, he was surprised to find that a tunnel extended back into the darkness. The tunnel led into the ancient turquoise working. There were smoky marks on the walls where torches had leaned. Stone tools had been left lying about, and a shaft led up to the top of the hill, although no trace of it could be found from the outside. It proved to have been covered in much the same way as Amado Chavez' spring—with fallen trees and earth, and the growth of centuries had covered the spot equally with the rest of the hilltop.

One of the most famous turquoise mines in the United States is the Mount Chalchihuitl (Aztec for turquoise), which also is located in New Mexico. It was worked by the Indians for themselves long ages ago, and later under the harsh Spanish rule after the Conquest. At one time twenty of the tribesmen were killed in a cave-in, and this is said to be one of the many events which led up to the rebellion of 1680, in which all the Spaniards were driven back to Mexico.

After the reconquest by de Vargas in 1692, an effort was made to reopen this mine, but the Indians refused to enter the old workings. It was not until 1855, when other such mines had been found and the hostile Indians who kept white men from their locations driven away, that Mount Chalchihuitl was again allowed to produce its stones of the sky.

In Arizona, George Simmons, riding through the Crescent mountains in the Mojave desert, saw a small artificial mound. It was too large for a grave, and its peculiar location made it seem like something worth examining. So Simmons got off his horse and went over to the strange mound, and began to dig in its center.

He dug into what proved to be a fortune for himself. The mound marked the hidden shaft of a turquoise mine, worked long ago by the Indians and then concealed from the encroaching white men.

Since Simmons could not afford to patent the ground at the time, he kept his find a secret for years. He built a stockade around the place, and kept an armed guard on duty day and night. Many persons attempted to follow him to the source of the gems, but they soon found that this was dangerous business. Simmons went on the old principle of "finders keepers."

It is said that he used to come to Denver with a traveling bag full of fine turquoises. That they were valuable is shown by the fact that he sold one 32-carat stone in New York for $1,000.

It seemed impossible for Simmons to get money enough in the United States to patent and develop his mine, so at last he went to London. He put a value of $700,000 on the property, although it was easily worth three times as much, and floated it with English funds. Without doubt, the mine that Simmons found was one of those which were worked by the Indians in pre-discovery days, and often later were taken over by the Spaniards. Some of these mines were worked up to the end of Mexican independence, but all of them had been abandoned before the American occupation.

Mr. Van Horn reports that the shipments of refined potash from the refinery have increased, in fact, more potash is moving now than at any like period in the history of the company. Due to the extremely low price of potash, little if any profit is being realized from the present shipments.

Culinary Jingles by Marcia Camp

I've travelled the whole world over And partaken of heathen fare, I've dined off dishes exotic And nibbled at viandas rare. But even schite thus repasting, This was my heart's deep dream, "Oh, for a wedge of American pie, Oh, for some home-made ice cream!"

IF A VOTE were to be taken to determine the most popular of all American desserts, pie and ice cream would probably be close rivals for supremacy. If pie came out on top, it would probably be because that is generally home-made and regarded as a fundamental test of culinary skill, while ice cream is most frequently ordered casually from the corner drug store.

Even after the mechanical refrigerator came along, homemakers went on buying instead of making ice cream. What they bought was always creamy, whatever other faults it might have. What they made by the old recipes, was far too likely to be a mass of tiny ice crystals, no matter how many expensive ingredients they put into it.

And then along came marlow! Marlow is ice cream made with marshmallows, and they have the creamy texture of the nicest commercial ice cream you ever tasted. You know the incredible velvety smoothness of melted marshmallows? Well, the marlows have just enough of that smoothness; but the flavor disappears entirely! Nobody would ever suspect that you had used marshmallows in your ice cream unless you chose to enlighten them. The marshmallows are the only mystery about marlows. Once the secret is out, anybody can make them, and make them perfectly. Even for the most gala occasion, the homemaker can set about making a marlow with perfect composure and no fear of failure. All she need concern herself about is the recipe itself, which can be made the day before. From the moment a marlow is placed in the freezing trays of the mechanical refrigerator it can take care of itself until the moment of serving. Or, if you prefer, use an ice cream freezer and omit agitating. An ordinary mold will do, in an ice-salt pack, if you see it has a good cover, sealed with adhesive tape. When the recipe selected is Festival Marlow, any hostess may be confident of an appropriate climax to the most elaborate dinner.

- FESTIVAL MARLOW 3 tb raisins 1 tb orange marmalade 2 tb figs 10 marshmallows 2 tb candied cherries 12 blanched almonds 1/2 cup water 1/2 cup candied pineapple 1/2 tsp vanilla 1/2 pint whipping cream. Finely chop the raisins, figs and candied cherries, and cook them until tender with the water. Add the pineapple, marmalade and marshmallows and steam them until the marshmallows are entirely melted. Add the almonds, chopped fine, and the vanilla, and cook. When the mixture is cold and slightly stiffened, combine with the stiffly beaten cream, pour into refrigerator trays, and freeze without stirring.

Health Column

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

Sick and Sick to Death

Everyone who is sick is not sick to death. This fact has given a good deal of thought to those charged with looking after the public health. Our statistics tell us with fair accuracy which diseases kill the people and at what age people are most likely to die from each disease. What of the diseases that make us sick without killing us? At what ages are we most likely to be stricken with these? At what age does a given sickness become more dangerous and how much more dangerous does it become?

To such questions we have had no answer because most kinds of sickness are not reported to the health department. Yet if we are to know how to use most effectively our small funds for preventing sickness these questions must be answered.

The Public Health Service has studied sickness in its relation to death in 9,000 families. It is beginning to answer some of our questions. At all times in our lives we are about equally liable to diseases of the respiratory system. But we are more and more likely to die from these diseases as we get older. The same thing is true of accidents. But with disease of the heart and blood vessels, of the kidneys, and of the nervous system it is different. In these cases the likelihood of sickness increases slowly from childhood to middle age, rapidly thereafter. The danger of the sickness being fatal also increases rapidly after middle age. Further study will show us why this is and then we hope we shall see more clearly what social measures will most effectively prolong health which is sometimes as important socially as prolonging life.

The surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service has recently been allotted $3,450,000 for such studies. He has promised that, if possible, New Mexico will be included in the research. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Duncan have moved to Hobbs, where Mr. Duncan has employment. Mrs. Duncan left this week to join her husband, who preceded her a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan have been residents of the Oil Field for several years and have made many friends who will regret to learn of their departure.

Funeral for Huey Long Held Today

BATON ROUGE, Louisiana—Dynamic, fervid Huey P. Long, toppled from the peak of power by an assassin's bullet lies still in death amid the monuments of his lengthy political reign over Louisiana's affairs.

This stunned capital city, scene of his unprecedented rise to domination in an American state, of his legislative coups that made him a dictator, of his use of the militia to enforce his will, turned out to pay homage at his bier and gave him a leader's burial. The rotunda of the ornate $5,000,000 state capitol, which he built to a height of thirty-three stories when governor, was chosen as the place for his body to lie in state, surrounded by a guard of honor of national guardsmen and twenty-four of his beloved Louisiana State University cadets, from 1:00 p. m. (CST) yesterday until time for the funeral at 4:00 p. m. today.

He will be buried on the state house lawn, in the slim, graceful shadows of the capitol. Services will be in charge of the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, a leader in Senator Long's country-wide "share our wealth" movement. The clergyman was close by when Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., Baton Rouge physician, mortally wounded the senator and was riddled with bullets by Long's body guards.

Children Take Naturally to Electricity MAKE IT SAFE FOR THEM!

Youngsters are astonishingly quick to grasp the workings of appliances.

The older generation marvels at the wonders of electricity but are a bit skeptical and often careful. Youngsters accept it as a matter of course. To them light has always come from lamp bulbs; switches, when turned on, do interesting things to the appliances on the other end. Children's curiosity makes them eager to play with these fascinating things. They tackle them without the slightest fear. Mothers think of this safety feature when they are buying. They instinctively sense how vitally important it is to have safe appliances. But they do not quite realize the just as vital necessity of having the wiring and the cords safe.

The Electrical Inspection Bureau of our community is actively carrying on educational work to stress this necessity. Permanent wiring is pretty well under control because most of this is inspected by the Bureau to insure safety before the power company will turn on the current. If you have had your wiring done by a licensed electrician who used approved material and you have a certificate of inspection from your inspection bureau, your house is safely wired. But if the work has been done by a free lance unauthorized worker or by a handy man, the safety of your wiring is questionable, your family and your property are not protected.

would wish and your fire insurance may be cancelled should fire be traced to faulty wiring. Have you loose sockets or receptacles that spark and sputter? Is your wiring old? Is your lighting inefficient when one or more appliances are in use? If there is any question about the safety of the wiring in your home, why not call your Local Inspection Bureau and ask for an inspector to check it? Have him look over the appliance and lamp cords to see if they are in good condition and have him show you how you can identify safe cords because just recently a means of identifying safe cord has been perfected. You will note in the illustration that the cord on the ironer has a little label on it. This label signifies that the cord is approved for safety. The Bureau urges that every mother make sure that every lamp or appliance cord in use in her home carries this identification and that the cord is in good condition. The label reads: "Underwriters' Laboratories' Inspected Cord." This label is applied every five feet. Reliable merchants sell only appliances and portable lamps equipped with approved labeled cord. Insist on cord bearing this label of approval and if you have the slightest doubt about your wiring, call the Bureau and ask to have an inspector come to inspect your wiring.

Oil Magnate Dies In California Home

LOS ANGELES—Edward L. Doheny, multi-millionaire midas of the oil industry, is dead. The 79-year-old ruler of an oil empire which once spread over portions of the entire Western Hemisphere, died at his palatial Beverly Hills town house Sunday night.

A chronic invalid for many months, his death was the result of a complication of ailments accentuated by his advanced age.

As a man who left a fortune in excess of $100,000,000, and whose philanthropies rolled into the hundreds of thousands, Doheny was one of the most picturesque figures in the history of oil.

Members of the immediate Doheny family—his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Leigh Battson, and his five grandchildren—were at the bedside when the end came.

While virtually in retirement for some time, Doheny was president of the Petroleum Securities Corporation, his major holding, at the time of his death.

His fortune which a few years ago was estimated at around $300,000,000 had dwindled, yet friends said the oil king could not say within a sum of $6,000,000 the actual total of his wealth.

The story of Doheny is studded with peak accomplishments and not a few marked disappointments. He won fame as the discoverer of vast oil resources, and notoriety as one of the key figures in oil reserve scandals of the Harding administration.

Attention centered on Doheny in connection with a senate probe of leases involving the Elk Hills and Teapot Dome naval reserves, which had been granted by Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior.

Chickens Type of Weather Insurance

Chickens serve as a type of weather insurance, says W. M. Ginn of the New Mexico State College.

During drouth periods, providing the drouth does not last too many years, the farm flock often furnishes the only source of cash income. The farmer's wife has often been able to tide the family over some severe economic strain with her flock of laying hens. Many times has the money obtained from sales of eggs, fryers, etc., mean the sole source of income for school books and other essentials that require a cash outlay.

The great majority of the eggs sold in the country come from the small farms, the large commercial flocks supplying only a small fraction of the total. In the United States, 90 percent of the farms carry some poultry. These flocks furnish food for the family and bring in a little cash the year round. This small amount of cash is particularly welcome during bad seasons when there is no other cash income and the family pocket-book is under a severe strain.

Farm women everywhere could wisely devote a little more care to their home flocks. By this is meant not only seeing that their flocks are fed, watered and sheltered, as intelligent care does not stop at that point. Balanced rations with plenty of green feed, houses that are kept clean and sanitary, and are properly built so that the fowls are not too crowded, exposed to drafts, etc., and plenty of clean water in sanitary drinking fountains. The fowls will more than pay for the little extra time spent in attending to their good health and comfort.

"Substance" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 15th.

The golden text is: "Ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance." (Hebr. 10:34).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible:

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." (Heb. 11:1)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book:

"When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error."

Famous Low Cost Partners Prove Tonic For High Priced Ailments

Red-ink conscious? Zeros before the eyes? Budget-troubles? Appetite and pocket-book doing a saw-saw? Then the tonic you need can be provided by those two famous cost-cutters: chopped meat and rice! Adept at the low-cost game, these price-less partners will cut the bill and fill it too!

Casserole

2 cups boiled rice
2 cups chopped meat
3 eggs
1 cup milk
Celery salt
2 tbsps. fat
2 tbsps. catsup
Salt; pepper

Season the meat and pile it in center of a greased casserole. Mix eggs, milk, rice, fat, and seasoning to taste. Pour over the meat and bake in moderate oven (350°F) until done—about twenty-five minutes. Serves six.

Ragout With Tomatoes

2 lbs. chuck steak
4 cups canned tomatoes
1 large onion
1 clove garlic (if you like it)
10 whole cloves
2 tbsps. salt
Pepper

4 cups hot boiled rice (allow 1 cup each serving)

Be sure meat is cut in small pieces, about two inches across. Sear in a deep kettle. Then to meat add tomatoes, onion, garlic (if used; gives good flavor), cloves and salt and simmer or cook at low heat until meat is tender—about two hours. You may cook rice ahead of time and reheat, or start it boiling about twenty minutes before meat is done.

To serve, put hot rice in center of large platter and pile meat and gravy around being sure to remove garlic clove first; or serve individual plates with mound of rice in center of each. Six servings.

Baked Rice-Beef Hash

1 cup cooked rice
1 cup cooked beef
1 cup milk
2 tbsps. butter
1 teasp. salt
Pepper
1 egg

Put chopped beef, cooked rice, milk, butter and seasonings into stew pan. Stir for a minute, then add a well-beaten egg. Turn the hash into a greased baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven (350°F) about 20 minutes. Add minced onion to ingredients if desired. Four servings.

Porcupines in Soup

½ cup uncooked rice
1 tbsp. grated onion
1½ lbs. ground beef
1 can tomato soup
1 teasp. salt
½ soup can of water
½ teasp. pepper
2 tbsps. chopped green pepper
Wash rice well, mix meat, rice and seasoning. Shape into small balls and drop into tomato soup to which the water, onion and green pepper have been added. Cook slowly for 40 minutes; to serve, lift out balls and pour tomato sauce over them. Ten balls—five or six servings. When done the grains of rice will protrude from the sides of the meat balls, giving appearance of quills—hence the name "porcupines."

Meat Layer-Pie with Rice

4 cups cooked rice
1 onion
½ teasp. pepper
1 lb. Cooked meat
2 cups tomatoes (fresh or canned)

½ teasp. salt
1 tsp. fat
Chop meat. Melt fat, add sliced onion, cook until slightly browned, then add tomato and seasoning and heat through. Grease a baking dish, put in a layer of rice, then a layer of meat and sauce, then a layer of rice. Dot top with fat, butter or thin strips of bacon and bake in moderate oven (350°F) for about thirty minutes. Six servings.

Properly cooked rice is snowy-white, distinct grains. Be sure to "fluff" rice after boiling, by draining in colander, covered with cloth and steaming over hot water. Do not overcook; boil only until a grain pressed between fingers is soft, not mushy.

Eddy County Farm News

The terracing project has been completed on the G. R. Brainard farm. This project consisted of a twenty-acre tract which sloped in three directions. By means of a surveyor's level the exact slope of the land was determined and borders were constructed on the necessary contours in order to give the required slope for water to run without washing the soil. In order to level the borders a road grader was used at a cost of $15 per day. The total cost of terracing this land and putting it in condition for proper irrigation averaged about $1.50 per acre. A preliminary survey has been made by the county agent on the farm of Leslie Martin where another terracing project is to be completed. No doubt many other tracts of land in the county could be made much more productive with just a little scientific information regarding terracing.

Archie Vance, who is acting county agent, will be glad to confer with anyone desiring to do terracing work.

250 Hunt Florida Hurricane Victims

MIAMI, Florida—Two hundred fifty picked men, well hardened to tragedy, beat back and forth across Florida's Keys Monday seeking more victims of last Monday night's hurricane as FERA began discussing reconstruction plans. Funeral pyres, scattered through the islets that felt the storm's full blast, carried forward the work of destruction begun by the storm and its accompanying tidal wave, and Sheriff D. C. Coleman, heading operations, hoped to have the grim work done by the week-end.

Conrad Van Hynning, FERA administrator, announced he would seek $200,000 to $400,000 for partial rehabilitation and repair of storm damage in the Keys and other areas. Civilian rehabilitation in the Keys, he said, will be handled by the Red Cross.

Van Hynning conferred with Aubrey Williams, personal representative of Federal Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins and President Roosevelt, whose investigation of circumstances of the disaster that took more than 400 lives, most of them war veterans working in three rehabilitation camps, brought him the conclusion that it was "an act of God."

Most observers, after studying the Red Cross list of missing and checking the number of bodies found, placed the figure between 450 and 500.

Taft, California; Barbara Glasscock expects to leave soon for Albuquerque where she will attend the State University; Romo Lois Wathen, Salina Junior College, Salina, California, and Betsy Parks, Curtis Cox, Raynel and Raymond Jones, Arizona State Teacher's College, Flagstaff, Arizona.

Cotton Forecast 11,489,000 Bales

WASHINGTON—An 11,489,000-bale cotton crop this year was predicted Tuesday by the Department of Agriculture, representing a reduction of 309,000 bales from the estimate a month ago.

The department said the drop was due largely to insect damage and continued dry weather.

Most of the reduction was predicted for Texas, where the forecast was 384,000 bales less than a month ago. A decline of 59,000 bales was shown for Oklahoma, only moderate changes were indicated for other states.

Declining to comment for publication, high farm officials apparently were pleased with the indicated smaller crop.

The price dropped somewhat when the August 1 estimate exceeded most private reports by several hundred thousand bales.

The Bankhead allotment for the nation this year is 10,500,000 bales. Producers must pay a ginning tax of six cents a pound on all cotton ginned in excess of the Bankhead crop-production control allotments.

The indicated crop this year is 1,853,000 bales more than the 1934 production. However, it is 3,177,000 bales less than the average production in the five-year period, 1928 to 1932.

Eastern New Mex. State Fair Opens at Roswell October 2

ROSWELL—The parade on the opening morning of the Eastern New Mexico State Fair to be held here October 2, 3, 4 and 5, will select the queen of the fair in an unusual way. The coronation ceremonies will take place at the fair grounds on the last night of the fair. This is only one of many unusual features in this opening spectacle.

Old Timers Day on Friday, October 4, is another big day at the fair when men and women who have been in New Mexico thirty years or longer are guests of honor. The morning parade of horses, buggies, hacks, chuck wagons carrying the Old Timers, many of whom are dressed as they were when they came to the territory, is a colorful affair. Automobiles are barred from this parade. At noon the Old Timers are guests at a barbecue.

Exhibits both in the livestock department and the products division promise to surpass by far the record set last year. Many counties from all portions of the state are planning exhibits and the New Mexico Crop Improvement Association has been allotted three times as much space as they had last year.

A rodeo each afternoon and special entertainment features day and night provide a full program of amusement for the four days.

Allen To Carry On 768 Migratory Birds Protected Under A Treaty

NEW ORLEANS—The powerful "dictatorship" created by Huey Long was inherited by his trusted lieutenant, Governor O. K. Allen, whose ability to keep it alive was uncertain.

Even as Allen, life-time chum of the assassinated ruler of Louisiana politics, announced Tuesday, he would accept the principles of his dead leader and "carry on," demands went up from the opposition for a new form of government.

The governor made his announcement before a crowd of leaders in the Long political machine who crowded his office and assured him of their support.

"Long has left us but we must go on," Governor Allen, affected by grief, said as he clasped the hands of intimate friends.

"We're with you, Governor," they replied.

And thus was wafted into form the policy of the administration of Governor O. K. Allen to follow in the footsteps of the man to whom he owed his office as things were moving swiftly through Louisiana.

The legislature that Long had Allen call into session to enact laws against "encroachments" in Louisiana by the Roosevelt administration quietly advanced that program toward final enactment tomorrow with George Wallace, assistant attorney-general, and one of Long's first aides, steering the measures through.

The Rev. Gerald K. Smith of Shreveport, Sen. Long's national "Share Our Wealth" club organizer, announced that representatives of the Louisiana clubs had accepted the leadership of Governor Allen in that movement and had pledged their loyalty to him in his efforts to carry on the wealth redistribution program sponsored by Long.

Allen To Carry On 768 Migratory Birds Protected Under A Treaty

In order that sportsmen may become accurately informed as to the status of the migratory birds protected by the treaty act with Great Britain, the following is submitted for their information:

Approximately 768 migratory birds ranging from ducks and mourning doves to humming birds are protected under the provisions of this act. The constitutionality of the treaty act of July 3, 1918, was sustained by the U. S. supreme court in their decision rendered April 19, 1920. Very few sportsmen realize that unless the biological survey, the migratory bird board, and the president of the United States write a regulation and declare open seasons on migratory waterfowl, doves, band-tailed pigeons, etc., each year, it would be unlawful at any time to shoot any of the 768 different migratory birds protected by the treaty. In other words a state game department before establishing any season on doves, waterfowl and band-tailed pigeons, should first see if the federal government is going to declare a season and allow the hunting of any migratory birds protected by the treaty. Those who are interested in knowing the names of the 768 migratory birds protected by the treaty can secure a list by writing to the Biological Survey at Washington, D. C., and ask for copies of Form BI-430a.

The migratory bird treaty act gives the biological survey authority to enforce its provisions, police powers to arrest, to take evidence, to confiscate guns to be held until after trials, and Section 2 provides that a state may only permit what the federal law does not prohibit.

There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types — the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine — an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful . . . three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupes and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

School Promotions

It is becoming increasingly more difficult to justify the annual promotion scheme used by most school systems. Educators recognize the faults and they're looking around for a substitute.

Parents can help at home by not placing so much emphasis upon the importance of promotion. Making it appear to be a "life and death" matter is dangerous. It becomes the horrible monster of the nightmare. Something terrible to be feared. No child can be happy or do good work with such a mental hazard. He comes to think of promotion as a means of escaping a parent's wrath or some dreadful mark of inferiority for life.

After all, the annual promotion is just another tradition, merely a custom inherited from the past. We shouldn't let it mean so much if we would be fair to the child. June may close the school year, but let it go at that. It's the beginning of the summer vacation. In September go on as though there had been no break. Education never stops, whether school is open or closed. Let each child go as fast as he can. Help him to do his best. But let's stop making him feel that promotion is the ONE great objective of education and life.

FT. WORTH CHEMIST MAKES FLOUR FROM COTTONSEED

FORT WORTH, Texas—A young Texas chemist, C. W. McMath, believes he has solved a problem that has kept cotton research men busy for three decades—development of a palatable cottonseed flour.

The chemist, a graduate of Texas A. & M. College, tackled the problem in 1929. T. J. Harrell, past president of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' association urged him to undertake the work. McMath completed two advance scholarships before coming to a mill here in 1932.

He spent six months learning practical operations. Then he retired to his laboratory. Eight months later he had a palatable test tube of flour. He then sought to solve the proposition of commercial production, which necessitated revising his entire procedure. Nearly a year passed before that barrier was surmounted.

The chemist turned machinist, evolving designs for machinery new and radical to the industry. Experts scoffed at the idea, but McMath had the equipment built and installed. Recently the machinery roared into action and cottonseed flour became a reality.

The product, light tan in color and smooth in texture, has been approved by the American Medical association's committee on food. McMath says practical feeding tests have shown that it is rich in proteins, phosphorus and vitamins "B" and "C".

In the making of bread, cake and pastry, the flour is blended with wheat flour. The baked foods have a dark brown appearance and a nut-like taste.

STATE PLANNING BOARD TO EXIST IN NAME ONLY

SANTA FE—Frank Vesely, chairman of the State Planning Board, disclosed Tuesday that the planning group, for want of funds, would exist in the future "in name only."

State WPA headquarters refused to sanction a WPA project for the board, which numbers among its employes trained engineers and draftsmen, among others, and WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins refused to allow a special project for paying higher wages.

Vesely said the board members would hold probably a final meeting on September 18th.

county. This supposition is based upon the fact that the 1934 national pool will soon return unsold certificates to this county amounting to 91,650 pounds. A total of 59,890 pounds of 1934 certificates have been submitted to Washington for re-issue in 1935 form. This will make a total of 151,540 pounds which will be a surplus carried over from last year.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration wishes to impress the producers with the necessity of keeping accurate gin records and sale slips so as to be sure to have adequate records upon which the government will be able to make adjustment payments under the new loan and payment plan. The necessary forms for which payments of differences between the average price of twelve cents will be disbursed, are being prepared. In other words, a producer who desires to market his crop is advised to compile a careful record which will include a description of the cotton sold; the buyer to whom the cotton was sold; date of sales; names of the parties, including tenants who have an interest in the cotton sold. The producer should receive from the buyer a sales certificate which contains the date of the sale and the gross weight of the bale or bales sold.
